MY WIFE BRENDA REIGLE AND I BOUGHT A TIMESHARE THROUGH DIAMOND RESORTS INTERNATIONAL WHILE WE WERE VACATIONING AT MYSTIC DUNES RESORT IN FLORIDA. THIS TIMESHARE WAS SOLD TO US USING SALES TECHNIQUES INVOLVING PRESSURE, LIES, DECEPTION AND FALSE PROMISES. ATTACHED IS A DETAILED LETTER EXPLAINING WHAT MY WIFE AND I WENT THROUGH. WE DID NOT TRY AND CANCEL WITHIN THE 10 DAY "COOLING OFF" PERIOD BECAUSE WE DID NOT KNOW WE WERE BEING LIED TO UNTIL ABOUT A MONTH LATER. I IMMEDIATELY CALLED OUR SALESMAN AND TRIED TO CANCEL. I HAVE BEEN TRYING FOR ABOUT 8 MONTHS TO GET THE CONTRACT CANCELLED. THEY HAVE AGREED TO CANCEL BUT ONLY IF I PAY THE BALANCE IN FULL BY THE END OF MARCH 2016.

AFTER READING THE ATTORNEY GENERAL'S WEB SITE I NOTICE A N INJUNCTION WAS FILED AGAINST SEVERAL TRAVEL COMPANIES. CASE # 2015-CA-011413-0. I WOULD LIKE TO KNOW IF THE TIMESHARE COMPANY I AM DEALING WITH IS INCLUDED IN THIS INJUNCTION? IF SO, HOW DO I BECOME PART OF ANY LEGAL ACTION AGAINST THEM?

THANK YOU FOR YOUR TIME.

Diamond Resorts CEO or whom it may concern,

On April 2, 2015 while staying at Mystic Dunes Resort in Florida my wife and I attended a Diamond Resorts presentation. We met with Ron Duncan. Phone number 1-386-366-1009. Ron talked to us for about a half an hour. I stopped Ron at this point and explained to him that we did not want another timeshare. I explained that we already own a timeshare through Tahiti Village in Las Vegas. He continued with his presentation asking us to listen to the rest of the presentation. We left him continue on for a little while longer. I again explained to Ron that we did not want another timeshare. I told him the only way we could even consider this timeshare was if we could trade our Tahiti Village timeshare for the Diamond Resort timeshare. Again, Ron asked that we listen to the benefits and how great they are compared to the timeshare we own now. For about the next three hours we were presented with loads of information about the Diamond Resorts. After this, I again stressed that we could not even entertain the idea of the Diamond timeshare unless we could trade the Tahiti Village for the Diamond timeshare.

Ron seemed to get agitated and said he had to talk to his manager. Jorge L. Otero Phone Number 1-407-226-9679. When Ron came back he said the only way we could trade in the Tahiti Village timeshare was if the timeshare paid off. We told him we still owed one more payment. I then told him we did not want the Diamond timeshare because we could not trade the Tahiti Village timeshare. He left again to leave my wife and I talk. We agreed with each other that we could not afford to have both timeshares and if we could not trade the Tahiti Village then we were not interested in the Diamond timeshare.

Ron came back to our table again and stated that he talked to his manager and he could give us $6500 for our Tahiti Village timeshare toward a 2500 points Diamond timeshare which cost $15,000. We asked, why the change? He said earlier that we could not trade the timeshare if we still owed money on it. He said don't mention to anyone that you still owe money on it and pay it off as soon as you get home send in your deed when you get it and it will work out in the end.

Next we brought up the maintenance fee. We were concerned about the $800 per year that we would have to pay for the 2500 point system that he was trying to sell us. Our Tahiti Village timeshare only cost us $280 per year. He assured us that we could offset the $800 maintenance fee by using the programs within the timeshare. I told him my wife and I are not the kind of people who take advantage of programs like he was explaining. I stressed we could not afford the $800 per year plus the monthly payments they were asking for. I told Ron again that I did not want the timeshare, we did not take a lot of vacations, we had only one payment left on the Tahiti Village timeshare, and a $280 maintenance fee. Why would we trade with a maintenance fee that high? He seemed to be getting agitated again and then came up with another "SOLUTION" for us so we would buy. He said the maintenance fee would be lowered to $300 if we provide 10 names and addresses every year.

AT this point I thought the deal looked pretty good. $6500 for our timeshare taken off the $15000 dollar amount owed for the 2500 points, and only a $300 maintenance fee if we provide 10 names and addresses per year ($500 off) and a $50 promise to go to and owners update within 1 year. We agreed and were rushed to sign a bunch of papers and we gave our 10 names and addresses to cut our maintenance fees down to the $300.

A month after returning from Florida, our too good to be true deal started a financial problem for us. We received a bill in the mail for an $800 maintenance fee. As stated earlier we were told our maintenance fee was only going to be $300 if we gave the 10 names and addresses. I called the financial office for Diamond and explained to the woman on the phone what was explained to us when we bought the timeshare in relation to the maintenance fee. She asked me if I had it in writing. I said no. I told her the way it was explained to me I thought it was a common practice. She told me unless I had it in writing she could not honor subtracting the $500. These individual presentations should be videoed. I guarantee I will not talk to another timeshare without videoing the conversation.

I tried several times to contact Ron via his phone. After leaving several messages Ron finally called me back. I asked Ron why we received a bill for $800 instead of $300? He asked what I was talking about and I told him he explained to us that if we gave him 10 names he would drop our maintenance fee to $300. He said "No that is only if someone on that list buys". I told him "no that is not how you explained this to my wife and I". He said "well there was a lot of information given that day and we must have misunderstood him". I repeated to him the same thing I told him the day we bought this timeshare. Why would I trade a timeshare that I only pay $280 a year in maintenance fees for one with an $800 maintenance fee. I told him I wanted out of the contract due to being lied to. He told me that we should go to the owners update and talk with them about how we can lower the maintenance fee. I told him I am going to go but I want out of this timeshare due to being misinformed.

On July 19, 2015 at 1:00pm we went to an owners update meeting at Greensprings Resort in Virginia. We met with Eursla Jones-Giles Phone Number 1-757-220-9300 at the beginning of the update and we were asked how we liked being Diamond owners. We stated that we were not happy at all and explained a little about how we were lied to about the maintenance fees. She told us to go to the presentation and she would talk to us afterward.

After the presentation we met with Eursla again. She again asked why we were unhappy with and I told her the cheaper maintenance fees we were told we were going to receive we didn't receive. She didn't say much about the fee and kind of blew them off and told us she would explain how we can reduce our fees every year. Ok we will listen to what she has to say. Next, we took our deed along with us and told Eursla that Ron was to set up the plan so we could trade the Tahiti Village in for the 2500 point Diamond plan for $6500. Eursla took our deed and said she was going to check on it for us. She came back and said they were not giving us anything for the timeshare and they were just taking over the deed. "NO", that is not what we were promised. She said well you will not get anything for the Tahiti Village timeshare if you sign it over to us. I told her I am not giving something away for free that I paid $10,000 for. She agreed and said she wouldn't either. My wife and I told her we wanted out of the contract because this was a breach of a contract and that we were tired of being lied to. She said she couldn't do that but she could make our situation better and started explaining all these different programs that would lower maintenance fees and programs will that save us money through the year. The only catch was we had to buy more points. We had to agree or we would probably have to go bankrupt paying for both timeshares. We still will unless all these programs work or this contract gets terminated.

At this point we were stuck with two timeshares, and two maintenance fees. We really didn't have any choice but to upgrade our points. We were told if we buy the upgrade we would be able to sign over week every year for $1200 and have more programs which would save us money for the year. If this contract doesn't get terminated, I guess we will see how many lies we were told to get us to buy these extra points.

On 8-31-2015 @ 2:50pm we were contacted by Emily #757-348-7173. She asked how we were with our purchase of our timeshare. I told her the more I think about it the angrier I get that we were lied too. She asked what we were unhappy about. I explained to her my previous issues. She stated that I could have traded my timeshare and received a max amount of $5000 for it. Here we go again. If what she is saying is true then I was lied to by Eursla and scammed into buying more points. The 6500 points we bought were the points Ron was trying to get us to buy in Florida. I told her I am very tired of being lied to and I want out and asked her for information of someone I could talk to who has authority to cancel this contract. She stated that she would have Eursla call me back.

On 10-30-2015 I still have not heard back from Eursla. I tried calling her multiple times this day and was on hold for about 20 minutes both times without any answer. I tried calling again on 11-9-2015 and 11-10-2015. After not making contact with her I sent an e-mail to the address that was on her business card.

11-10-2015 I received a call from a Diamond employee and I was told that we had points that we were going to lose if we did not use them by December. I told this individual that I did not want to use anything related to Diamond, that I was trying to have the contract cancelled and gave her a brief description of what I was going through and I asked her if she could give me a number that I could call and submit my complaint and she gave me the number 1-877-374-2582.

On 11-11-2015, again I was unable to talk with Eursla. This time I talked with her supervisor Catherine. I explained my complaints to her. She stated that she could not find my contract and asked if I had already filed for cancellation. I said no, but I have been receiving bills. She said she would have to call me back.

On 11-16-2015, I still had not received a call back from Eursla or Catherine. I called and talked with Catherine and she told me that I needed to express my complaints to "Quality Assurance", and told me to call the main number for Diamond 1-877-374-2582. When I called the main number not one of the options where for quality assurance. I chose option one just so I could talk to someone and receive further direction. When I called this number they told me they could not help me and transferred me to 1-877-787-0906. When I called this second number I was told that they also could not help me and transferred me to the 2582 number. This time I was given number 1-877-978-3313. When I called this number the lady I talked to told me to call the 2582 number again. I told her I already talked to those individuals twice and I was tired of playing this game. She told me that I needed to call the 2582 number and dial extension two and ask for a manager immediately after talking to someone. I asked if there was a direct line, email, fax or someone I could contact to express my complaints and She told me I had to contact someone at the 2582 number. I asked about the 10600 address and she told me I could write that address but she doesn't know who I should address the letter to. She also told me to write an e-mail through the web site and someone would get back to me.

On 01-26-2015 I was contacted by Jessica Levine "specialist" at Diamond Resorts. I received the following e-mail:

Good morning Mr. Reigle:

We thank you for your patience.

We do regret if there were any misunderstandings during your purchase. We have spoken to sales and they have advised that on July 19th, 2015 when Sales sold to you, at that time Tahiti Village was not eligible for an upgrade. This is the reason why you were advised it was unable to be traded. Please understand that the contract does not mention this transaction as well, and does confirm this.

In addition, all information regarding your estimated maintenance fees are listed in the Purchase Agreement, Purchase Proposal and the Purchaser's Understanding and Acknowledgment of Timeshare Purchase. We are not certain who Emily is. The phone number that you provided goes to an automated system and says that you must be a Sprint PCS Customer. We are not sure who this number belongs to.

We apologize if you had to be moved when you arrived for your stay. This is not a normal happening and we do try to prevent it at all costs. We are happy that they did provide compensation for this inconvenience.

Based on the information that you have provided, we are unable to cancel your contract and provide a refund.

Please let me know if I can be of further assistance.

Respectfully,

Jessica Levine | Specialist | Diamond Resorts International® | Tel: 702.473.7645 ext. 77907 |
Fax: 702-240-2576

I was told in Florida, and I have a copy of the contract that we were able to trade our timeshare for $6,500 as stated earlier in this letter. As you can see in this e-mail it states that the trade was not eligible for the upgrade. At this point there was no talk of an upgrade. We were just verifying that it was being traded for what we were promised. Ms. Eursla told us that we were not being offered anything for our timeshare and we could sign it over to them, but they were not giving us anything for it. No mention of the trade relating to an upgrade. At no time was there any talk about an upgrade until she said she could help us out if we buy more points as stated earlier. This contract was cancelled conveniently the day after we signed a contract with the diamond in Virginia. Which I have documentation on.

Also, we were told both in Florida and Virginia that we could trade in our stay at Fort Wilderness and stays at state parks for points and be reimbursed the money. We submitted these in July and still have not received anything. Another reason we want this contract terminated. If we are one day late on a payment you are calling us, but you can take all the time you want returning money to us.

In conclusion we want this contract terminated and be released of any financial obligation including all money currently owed to Diamond and other financial institutions related to Diamond and this timeshare including our down payment and monthly payments made. Termination of this contract should be based on the fact that there was a breach in the contract. We would not be in this position if Ron Duncan wouldn't have lied to us about trading our Tahiti timeshare toward the Diamond Timeshare. Records from Tahiti Village show we used our Tahiti Village timeshare one time in seven years. Why would we want two timeshares? All the other lies we were told should also be included in the bases for terminating this contract. This is a perfect example of a scam. The verbal promises that were made to us are still a contract and should have been honored. We want completely out of the Diamond contract because of the very negative experience that we have had with Diamond. Even if Diamond agrees now to trade the timeshare we will not accept the deal. I do not want to be associated in any way with a company that conducts business in a manipulative way. We would like to resolve this without taking any legal action, but if we need to we are fully prepared to do so as we have been receiving guidance.

Thank you for your time,

Joseph L. Reigle

Attorney General Bondi's Office Shuts Down Another Travel Scam

TALLAHASSEE, Fla.—Attorney General Pam Bondi's Office has shut down another travel scam, obtaining temporary injunctions against several related travel companies and owners. This is the latest action taken to stop a total of six Florida travel companies accused of deceiving consumers. Last month, Attorney General Bondi's Office filed actions against three companies seeking similar relief.

According to the most recent complaint filed by Attorney General Bondi's Office, Reservation Services International knowingly allowed its two distributors, Map Destinations, LLC and Florida Beaches Destinations Club, LLC, which operated as Suite Journeys and Diamond Vacations International, to employ unscrupulous sales tactics to induce consumers into purchasing its vacation club memberships.

The complaint alleges that the travel companies lured potential customers into attending lengthy sales presentations with promises of free gifts or cruises that were laden with restrictive terms or not actually free. The companies also allegedly exaggerated the true savings, nature and value of the club memberships. Some consumers paid several thousands of dollars for these travel club memberships that the companies claimed offered deeply discounted wholesale pricing on hotels, condominiums, cruises, rental cars and vacation packages. Once purchased, consumers reported that they could obtain the same or better pricing on other free publicly available travel booking websites.

Based upon the attorney general's filed complaint, the court ordered the following relief:

- A temporary injunction against Reservation Services International;
- The appointment of a monitor to oversee the operations of Reservation Services International;
- A temporary injunction, asset freeze and appointment of a receiver against Map Destinations, LLC, St. Augustine, and Florida Beaches Destination Club, LLC, Daytona Beach; and
- A temporary injunction against related companies and certain individual owners.

Consumers who believe they are victims of these companies can submit a complaint to the Florida Attorney General's Office by clicking here.

Subject: RE: Fwd: Regarding your concerns

Good morning Mr. Reigle:

We thank you for your patience.

We do regret if there were any misunderstandings during your purchase. We have spoken to sales and they have advised that on July 19th, 2015 when Sales sold to you, at that time Tahiti Village was not eligible for an upgrade. This is the reason why you were advised it was unable to be traded. Please understand that the contract does not mention this transaction as well, and does confirm this.

In addition, all information regarding your estimated maintenance fees are listed in the Purchase Agreement, Purchase Proposal and the Purchaser's Understanding and Acknowledgment of Timeshare Purchase. We are not certain who Emily is. The phone number that you provided goes to an automated system and says that you must be a Sprint PCS Customer. We are not sure who this number belongs to.

We apologize if you had to be moved when you arrived for your stay. This is not a normal happening and we do try to prevent it at all costs. We are happy that they did provide compensation for this inconvenience.

Based on the information that you have provided, we are unable to cancel your contract and provide a refund.

Please let me know if I can be of further assistance.

Respectfully,

Ms. Levine,

I have another question can you clarify what the meant in your e-mail. "We have spoken to sales and they have advised that on July 19th, 2015 when Sales sold to you, at that time Tahiti Village was not eligible for an upgrade. This is the reason why you were advised it was unable to be traded. Please understand that the contract does not mention this transaction as well, and does confirm this."

If it means there was never a contract for a trade, that is WRONG. I have the contract number and the very first thing I said to Erla on July 19th, 2015 when we sat down to talk was if they could check on the status of our trade. I, in no way or form, asked for this trade to relate to an "upgrade". She told us she was our counselor and not there to sell us anything. We had our Tahiti Village deed in hand, and she took it to another room, came back and told us they were not giving us anything for the timeshare that we were just going to be signing it over to them. There was not ANY talk about the trade relating to an upgrade. Believe me we had no intention of spending more money on Diamond, until she told us the only way to use our timeshare was to upgrade that way we could trade our timeshare weeks and get money for them that way. Totally disregarding our contract that was wrote up on Florida. Like I said in an earlier e-mail I have the trade contract number and the documentation that there was a trade contract. Can you please look into this and get back to me. Funny this trade contract was canceled dated the day after we were in Virginia 7-20-2015. That is what it has on the paperwork I have.

Also, did you get a chance to send a copy of contract.

Thank you for your time,

Joe

Dear Sir/Madam:

On January 11, 2016, we mailed the enclosed letters to Diamond's corporate address in Las Vegas, NV, requesting relief from this timeshare contract because of our advanced ages, medical conditions, and reduced financial circumstances.

On February 26, 2016, we received the enclosed letter.

We certainly hope that Diamond's divisions speak to one another and that your collections office would not simply throw us into foreclosure without first considering our written request. We are willing to sign any paperwork needed to simply allow Diamond to take back this resort.

Please

According to the Assessment Billing and Collection Policy ("the ABC Policy") sent to you with your original invoice (a copy of which is attached for your convenience), your annual assessment was due January 1, 2016 and to date, we have not received your payment.

Currently, your right to make a reservation, or use the accommodations and facilities at the resort(s) will be denied. Any reservations presently held in your name will be cancelled, including those with exchange companies.

Your options within 30 days from the date of this Notice to remedy the default are:

Option 1. Immediately bring your account current (please call 1.877.374.2582 for a current balance prior to sending payment) or provide satisfactory evidence of prior payment of the assessment.

Write your contract number on the check to ensure proper application of payment and send your payment to the address listed below. You may also pay by check or credit card over the phone or online at DiamondResorts.com

To Who it may concern,

We purchased a Timeshare at Daytona Beach Regency in 1997. The salesperson kept talking to us for 4 to 5 hours. They said it would take about 30 to 60 mins. We finally agree to purchase a two bedroom, and was told we could take one week with the two bedroom or two weeks with a one bedroom each time. But we always had a hard time getting the week we wanted or the rooms that faced the pool. We were told we had to book 1 to 2 years in advance to get rooms facing the pool. And also pay all maintenance fees up front. When we first purchased the timeshare the maintenance fees were $400, now they are over $1100. They have really priced us out of being able to afford the timeshare.

We purchased our timeshare in 1997, I was 52 years old and my wife 42. We are now 70 and 60 years old and not able to use because of lots of medical problems and medication we are on prevents us from being exposed to the sun for any length of time.

Sincerely,

Questions/Comments

We agreed on a price and monthly payments in 3 transactions. At the end as we to sign the contract, I asked for all my notes, notes and my Receipts. They said they have kept them all together as on package, they said after I had signed all papers; they were put into package. So when I home, to maryland checked the papers, they deceived me and kept them. I tried from July to December 2015, they have not addressed this matter. Because of my age, I now believe this is what they've planed.

CEO DIAMOND RESORTS INTERNATIONAL 12/27/15

10600 WEST CHSRLESTON BOULEVARD

LAS VEGAS NV 89135

DIAMOND CEO,

WHEN I CAME OVER TO DIAMOND RESORTS, IN JUNE 2015. THE FIRST SALES MAN, SAID, AFTER PALMS HAD FILED BANKRUPTCY; DIAMOND PURCHED IT. HE TRIED TO PUT FEAR INTO MY HEART. ONE OF THE THINGS HE SAID, THE WHOLE BUILDING WILL BE TOTAL REMODLED. THE OWNERS WILL HAVE TO PAY FOR IT; BUT IF I SELL IT TO DIAMOND AND PUSCHARD DIAMOND' POINTS. I WANT HAVE TO PAY FOR AND INCREASE YEARLY FEE THE SALES PEOPLE AND PALMS DEDT. I REFUSED TO KEEP LISTING TO HIM AND WALKED OUT.

THEN MR. AZIZ SAW ME WHEN I GOT UP AND WALKED OUT. HE CAME AND CAUGHT UP WITH ME ON THE OUT SIDE AND AKDED WHAT WERE WRONG. HE, AND MR. HARMAUCH A SAMPLER MANAGER, WE TALKED FOR A GOOD WHILE. I HAD PAPERS I HAD SIGNED REFUSING TO COME OVER TO DIAMOND AND NOTES HE ALSO SIGNED IT. AFTER THEY GAVE ME MORE INFRO ABOUT THE SAMPLER TO KEEP THE OPEN AND TO BE ABLE TO SELL TO SELL TO DIAMOND MY UNIT AND BUY DIAMOND POINTS AT A LASTER TIME. I PURCHASED THE SAMPLER AT A YEARLY FEE OF $1024.OO.

AND IF I SELL TO DIAMOND AND BUY IT' POINTS IT WOULD ONLY ONE FEE FOR UP KEEP. HE ALSO HAD NOTES AND PAPERS I AGREED TO. I THEN ARGEED TO SELL TO DIAMOND AND BUY DIAMOND' POINTS. BECAUSE MY X WIFE NAME WERE ON THE DEED, HE AGEED TO AND WOULD GIVE A FORM FOR HER SIGN TAKING HER NAME OF THE DEED FROM UNIT I SOLD TO DIAMOND. EVERY THING WAS PUT ONLY IN MY NAME. I SOLD TO DIAMOND MY UNIT AND PURCHASED DIAMOND POINTS. WE BOTH SIGNED PAPERS AND WITH MORE NOTES ON THEM, AND THERE WAS ONLY ONE FEE ONLY 1024.OO. THAT WAS ALL I COULD AFFORD, AND THAT WHEM I SOLD TO DIAMOND AND PURCHASED DIAMOND' POINTS.

I ASKED FOR ALL MY PAPERS AND NOTES. THE SAMPLER MANGER GAVE ALL THE PAPERS TO MR. JAVIER OTERO AND TOLD HIM ABOUT THE WHOLE DEAL; AND THE NOTES AND THE FORM FOR THE X WIFE TO SIGN AND I WOULD MAIL THEM A COPY. AS WE TALKED HE SAID HE WOULD GIVE ME MY NOTES.

WHEN MR. OTERO HAD FINISHED ALL THE PAPERS, HE SAID, THEY WANTED TO KEEP THEM ALL TOGETHER, THE NOTES AND FORM FOR THE X TO SIGN. THEY DECEIVED ME AND DID AWAY WITH MY NOTES, WHICH THE BOTH OF US HAD SIGNED.

AFTER BACK HOME AND CHECKED MY PAPERS, WHILE IT WAS STILL IS MY MIND. AND I ALSO MADE SOME PERSONAL NOTES ON MY OWN!. ALL THE NOTES AND PAPERS WE ALL NOTED WERE TAKING OUT FROM THE CONTRACT PAPERS. ALL NOTES ABOUT THE SAMPLER AND NOTES DIAMOND BUYING MY UNIT AND ME COMING OT DIAMOND. IS THIS THIS THE POLICY OF DIAMOND? I SENT TO EMAIL TO THE SAMPLER MANAGER ABOUT AND CALLED THE FRONT DEST AND LEFT A VOICE MASSAGE. NO ONE HAD ANSWERED ME.

I WENT TO AZ IN AUGUST TO LEARN MORE ABOUT DIAMOND SYSTEM. IT TURNED INTO A CRAZY PITCH FOR THREE HOURS. THE FEMALE MANAGER WHO WAS OVER MEME; DID HER BEST TO FORCE ME TO BUY MORE OF BIAMOND POINTS. HER FACE TURNED RED AS FIRE; AND GOT UP AND LEFT THE ROOM IN A RAGE.

SEVERAL TIMES WE TALKED ABOUT MY DEAL WITH DIAMOND AND ABOUT THE X WIFE OVER AND OVER ABOUT THAT. AND THAT EVERY THING WERE IN MY NAME ONLY. I GOT UP TO WALK OUT AND LEAVE. THEM SHE PUT IN MY HAND A CERTICATE FOR 28000 POINTS, WITH MY X WIFE ON IT. THEN SNATCHED IT BACK OUT OF MY HAND. SAID, SHE IS GOING TO THE PALMS IN FLA. SHE CAME BACK AND SAID, THE SAMPLER MANAGER WILL CALL ME AND GET TAKING CARE OF. I WALKED OUT AND LEFT.

THAT WAS IN AUGUST 2015, AND AGAIN I HAVE NOT RECEIVED AN ANSWER NORE MY CERTIFICATE, FOR THE TWO DEALS I MADE WITH DIAMOND

TO THE CEO, IN JUNE I BECAME A DIAMOND OWNER. I HAVE SEVERAL CONTACTS WITH DIAMOND SINCE THEN. I HAVE NOT BEEN ABLE TO GET ANY THING DONE. THERE HAS BEEN A LOT OF BAD DEALING AND BAD INFRO WHICH WAS GIVEN TO ME; AND ON THAT INFROMATION, I BECAME A DIAMOND OWNER. I did not know it then, BUT I HAVE BEEN DECEIVED BY YOUR EMPLOYEES. NOW I NEED TO SPEAK WITH THE CEO ABOUT THESE PAYMENTS. THIS HAS BEEN A TIME IN MY LIFE THAT I HATE; I CAME OVER TO DIAMOND RESORTS INTERNATIONAL.

To whom it may concern: When I was in fla this June, some one put a $49.00 on my credit card, after I had checked out. I also Purchased Diamond and has nothing but confusing. I purchased timeshare and the Sampler. But the first sale person treated me so bad; I walked out and another person was watching and came to see what was wrong. All the note and paper work and the price it would coat me and the annual fee. The Sampler, Khalid Harmouch put into my package and them, to mr.Javier Otero. After I return to those papers was taken out. The price for annual fee was $1024 , that was all I could pay. There are more things that has happened there and in AZ. I called ane gave Linda Burton a full report and she would pass it on. papers my X wife would sign to remove her name; ann in AZ they tried to deceive about. Then said, they called the sampler manager who is going fix that. Nothing is going the we agreed before I left Fla. They have down I own $2312.03 annual fee. What is going on? Did I make a mistake in coming over to Diamond? Is this Diamonds policy ? If it is, I don't what no part of it. I have tried several time to get this taken care of. If you can't are wan't fix this, then give me back my money. I will go some where else. Why did this happened? Is this your policy Diamond are it is your employees. I can-not be apart of this kind of dealing. I will see if you will turn and do nothing about this. james harrell. Would you send me a copy of this, can I trust you to do that?

Dear Mr Harrell

Thank you for your email. Please be advised that as per your account you currently own:

- contract 14536900 - Mystic Dunes Dunes week 26 purchased on 01 July 2002
- contract 17177534 - 4000 points US Collection purchased on 29 June 2015

This means that you are billed for 2 types of membership; a week and points, which are billed separately. Please allow us to note that you have purchased your points as a separate product not a replacement product and therefore your week is still active and you remain responsible for the adequate charges. The Representative who you discussed your purchase with has offered you an example of fees basing his estimate on the previous years and these would be in the region mentioned in your email. This however would be for the points ownership only and the week fees would not be a part of that calculation.

Summarising, as per the previous advise offered, you remain responsible for 2 sets of fees relevant to 2 separate membership types you hold.

We hope this offers some clarification.

Kind regards

I purchased timeshare and the Sampler. But the first sale person treated me so bad; I walked out and another person was watching and came to see what was wrong. All the note and paper work and the price it would coat me and the annual fee. The Sampler, Khalid Harmouch put into my package and them, to mr.Javier Otero. After I return to those papers was taken out. The price for annual fee was $1024, that was all I could pay. There are more things that has happened there and in AZ. I called ane gave Linda Burton a full report and she would pass it on. papers my X wife would sign to remove her name; ann in AZ they tried to deceive about. Then said, they called the sampler manager who is going fix that. Nothing is going the we agreed before I left Fla. They have down I own $2312.03 annual fee. What is going on? Did I make a mistake in coming over to Diamond? Is this Diamonds policy? If it is, I don't what no part of it. I have tried several time to get this taken care of. If you can't are wan't fix this, then give me back my money. I will go some where else. Why did this happened? Is this your policy Diamond are it is your employees. I can-not be apart of this

To whom it may concern,

My name is Michael J. Lipps. I am an owner with Diamond Resorts International and I have been trying to get in touch with someone at their company headquarters to discuss my options for cancellation and refund.

After looking through the paperwork I've been given by Diamond employees and remembering the promises they told me during the meetings, it has come to my attention that what I was sold was based on lies. Many of the amenities and perks they told me I would receive have not come to be. They also made me upgrade a few times through my ownership, none of which have provided to be useful.

Each time I go to a Diamond Resort I am made to go to an update meeting that is supposed to last an hour or an hour and a half, but ends up lasting six hours. That alone should show that they are liars.

They then go on to tell me all these amazing things I will get by upgrading. Once I upgrade nothing they have told me comes true. Now I'm stuck with a useless timeshare full of lies.

Please read the extra two sheets – they are the first two letters I sent into Diamond.

As of today I still have not been able to get a respond. While I am not surprised, I am disappointed.

I read that your company can help people in my shoes. Please let me know what I need to do to get my timeshare contract cancelled and my money back.

Thank you,

To whom it may concern,

I wrote a letter and sent it into your office on March 3rd. Since then I have not gotten one single call, letter, or email from your office to help me with my ownership problems. All I've gotten so far are calls trying to make me pay my bills. I will not be paying your company any more money. Your company has lied to me and I am here to get back what I deserve. I want my contracts cancelled and my money back.

The money I have paid in is way more than I should have for what I've gotten. Your fees are highway robbery and you convince us owners to buy more just so you can ride around in your fancy cars and live your fancy lifestyles. There is no way that all the money I have spent in maintenance fees and all the money the other owners have paid is all going to keeping up the property. The money is going somewhere. You are stealing from your owners.

I originally visited your resort on a free vacation. I was convinced to buy at Mystic Dunes a odd year vacation. It was too hard to book so I never used it.

In 2010 I finally went to use the vacation and was convinced to buy another contract that gave me the even years too. They told me that I was grandfathered into this contract, but that is not true because I paid much more than my original purchase price. I'm still not sure what they mean by grandfathered in.

In 2014 at my 6 hour update meeting I was told I had to upgrade and join the Interval program. This was more money out of my pocket for no better vacations.

In 2015 I was told I didn't have enough points to vacation anywhere other than my home resort. They said if I wanted to vacation anywhere else I had to upgrade. Each of these meetings wasted 4-6 hours of my life and took a great chunk out of my wallet.

During my last upgrade they would not tell me how much my maintenance fees were. After all was said and done I got a bill for $2900!!!! That is not ok! That is highway robbery! If I knew this I never ever would have upgraded.

I am so disappointed with my Diamond ownership. My maintenance fees have tripled since I first bought in 2004. Booking is hard and I am not getting anything that was told to me.

Please get in touch with me to help me cancel my contracts and get my money back.

Thanks,

Michael J. Lipps

To whom it may concern

I bought my first Time share with Mystic Dunes in 2004. Because we won a 2 night 3 day vacation in Palm Beach it looked good they were building and we could see the Disney castle. But ~~we~~ couldn't use the time share for personal reasons. So finally in 2010 we used the time share. They said we had to go to a 90 min presentation which ended up to almost 6 hours and got talked into another contract. The maintenance fees were like $800.00 a year.

Since then every time we used the vacation it always ends up to between 4-6 hours for a presentation. They said I could pass it down to family members but I'm not passing down something that is increasing the money. This last time the maintenance fees rose to $2900.00 that is in my book robbery if everyone has to pay that much a year plus their mortgage fees, you people are robbing us. I know you have the keep up care for the resorts but it's nowhere near what you're making with interest. So I'm not paying you nothing I want out I need a copy of my cancelled deed and backpay for what I paid in. It's very disturbing that what you people are doing

Ms. Bondi,

Please find enclosed a complaint letter we have issued to Diamond Resorts International. It includes a request to have two contracts signed with them in a matter of five weeks cancelled, and all money paid in toward those contracts returned. They used predatory tactics to pressure us into making the purchases, when we are paid only $26,000 per year in Social Security. Based on the monthly loan payments and the current maintenance fee (provided there are no increases), we are now obligated to Diamond for 47.6% of our income each year. They also opened a credit card account and made a charge to it without our prior knowledge or consent, and then deceived us in regards to the amount charged to the account.

We feel that Diamond has created a dangerous and damaging situation. Although we have asked them to cancel the contracts and return our money, we wanted to send you a copy of the letter for your files so there is a formal record of our complaint. If they should refuse to cancel the contracts, we will be back in contact with your office about pursuing action against them. In the meantime, if you have any advice, or need any additional information, we would love to hear from you.

Sincerely,

Thomas and Irene Brissel

To Whom This May Concern:

In a matter of only five weeks, we were talked into signing two separate contracts with your company for points in your US Collection. When attempting to register and use a certificate for a free 2-day stay that we were given as a result of the second purchase, we were informed that we could not register the certificate because we do not make $50,000 per year.

During both meetings with your agents, we informed them we did not make $50,000 per year. In fact, we make only $26,000 per year, as we live on Social Security income. We were told it did not matter what our current income was, as the credit application would be based on the income we made prior to retirement. We told them we were not comfortable with this arrangement, and still they pushed. We do not know of any company that assigns credit based on a prior income. The entire point of a credit application is to ensure the purchaser has enough money to repay the balance. Now, because of the unethical and illegal actions of your agents, 47.6% of our income is allotted to you each year for the payments and maintenance fees on the two allotments of points.

Your agents preyed on us, we suspect because we are retired. They knew we could not afford the points, and particularly the second allotment, but they continued to push. They harassed and harangued us for hours until we were mentally worn down and agreed to the purchases solely so we could leave. We were targeted, abused, and treated beyond unfairly. We demand you cancel the contracts and refund everything you have taken from us. We will not live out our remaining days struggling to pay for our daily needs while you enjoy the profits. We hoped to have another two years or so of travel in us, as it is becoming difficult with Thomas's mobility issues and my Multiple Sclerosis, but your agents ripped that possibility away from us. Even if we somehow managed to give you nearly half of our income and avoid having our home and all of our possessions taken from us in the process, there would be no money left for vacations. We trust you can see where the problems lie in this arrangement.

We have sent copies of this letter to the Attorneys General of Nevada and Florida, because we want them to be aware of what is taking place at your sales sites. We also want there to be a formal record of our complaint, should they decide to pursue a case against you on our behalf. Of course, should you see to it to cancel our contracts and refund our money, including the $9,757 charged to a credit card without our knowledge, a credit card that was coincidentally opened in my name without my knowledge and consent, we will advise them an agreement has been reached and no further action is necessary. The choice is yours as to how this matter plays out and so as to allow you to make an informed decision, we will explain in further detail how we came to own two contracts with your company.

Vacations do not come easily for us. As one can imagine, it is not easy to save up money for such luxuries when your combined retirement income is only $26,000. We managed to save enough for a trip to Las Vegas, which we took in February 2016. We were enjoying our stay and thought ourselves lucky when we were approached by a representative who offered us tickets for a show and a free meal, if we took part in a presentation for Diamond Resorts. We did not suspect it was for a timeshare, and we were assured it was a 'no obligation' event. They just wanted to show us the facility, according to the solicitor. We made arrangements to be shuttled to the event the following morning and were asked to show our drivers licenses and a major credit card to hold our spots.

The following morning, we loaded up on the bus and were again asked to show our IDs. When we offloaded at the resort, we were herded into a conference room to wait for a sales representative, along with everyone else who had been on the bus. The man assigned to us was Robert Nesbitt. Robert took us into another room where we watched a video and listened to a man talk about Diamond as a company, as well as the specific resort we were at, the Cancun. Approximately 45 minutes later, that portion of the event ended and Robert returned to have us follow him to a cubicle, where he provided us with additional information.

We were still not certain why we were at the resort, and were taken aback when Robert for our income. At some point, a minimum income of $50,000 had been mentioned and we advised him we earn only $26,000 between our Social Security allotments. We specifically stated that we did not meet the minimum income requirement, but Robert did not seem to care. He asked what we made prior to retirement, but did not ask how long it had been since we worked or how much we had in savings and assets. He also did not inquire as to whether we could afford the payments at the current time. He simply said the approval would be based on our previous income, even though we told him we were not comfortable with that arrangement.

Robert then asked how many years we felt we could continue to vacation and we said we hoped we could salvage two more years. We explained that travel had become quite difficult because Thomas suffers from cardiac issues, COPD, and arthritis. In recent years, he's experienced issues with mobility in general and finds it difficult some days to even walk across the room. I suffer from Multiple Sclerosis, which currently causes significant concentration and cognitive impairments, among other issues. One day, it may very well take away my motor function, leaving me unable to even care for myself.

We told Robert we were not interested and he invited others into the conversation, and each presented an altered plan with lowered pricing. Each time we resisted, they revised. Meanwhile, I had to excuse myself to take several phone calls because my Aunt had passed away earlier that morning. We'd informed them of her death and expressed a desire to finish up and be out of there in a reasonable amount of time, but still, the event dragged on for more than four hours.

We felt that if we did not sign agree to a deal and sign the paperwork, we would never get out of there, and so we finally succumbed to the pressure. We believed Robert and his associates when they said we could write the purchase off on our taxes as a second mortgage and we loved the thought of taking low-cost vacations. We tend to travel by car, and saw the opportunity to use our membership for discounts at sister hotels, while using our points for larger, more elaborate resort stays. We were envisioning the vacations we would be able to take while we are still able to travel and relished the idea of saving money while taking them.

We agreed to a deal that involved payments of $194.12 per month and a maintenance fee of $840. This deal represented 12.2% of our yearly income and while it would be difficult to manage, we felt we could work it into our budget without too much difficulty, especially when we were assured we would have no problems having it refinanced to lower the interest payment because of our excellent credit scores. We were then pressured into purchasing a $49 weekend stay at a Diamond property, and promised a return of our money once we arrived at whatever resort we chose from a list of offerings. We were impressed when they paid for a cab to return us to Circus Circus, and even more so when Robert gave us money for a cab so we could return to the resort for breakfast the following morning. We felt appreciated. We never could have predicted what happened a few weeks later.

In March, I received a call for Thomas and I to take part in an Event of a Lifetime promotion. The caller explained that it would not use any of our points, and would cost only $250. We would receive 3 days and 2 nights at the Mystic Dunes Resort, as well as tickets to Epcot for one day and lunch at Emeril's Restaurant. I saw an opportunity to take our granddaughter to Epcot, and so I asked if she could go with us. The caller said it would not be a problem, but that we would have to pay a slightly higher fee, which I gladly agreed to do. The package represented a substantial savings, as the Epcot tickets alone are around $100 each. A week prior to the trip, I received a call to advise me that our granddaughter could not travel with us, because we had to attend a question and answer session designed for new owners. After several phone calls and conversations with various people, we were finally able to obtain permission for her to travel with us and were assured that childcare would be available while we took part in the meeting. Their idea of childcare differs greatly from ours, as we would discover once we were at the resort. We tried to reach Robert Nesbitt to touch base before we went to Orlando, but he did not answer. We left a message, but he did not call back.

Every interaction we had with employees at this resort was frustrating, beginning as soon as we arrived. The computers were down and we were told to go to building K and see a security guard about letting us into our room. We found the security guard but she had no idea what we were talking about she sent us back to the lobby. After waiting in line, we were finally given a number to give to the security officer, at which point we had to go track her down again so she could let us into our room. Thankfully the next day was smoother, but that is probably only because we spent the majority of the day away from the resort. We went to Emeril's and then Epcot. We did not return to our hotel until after the fireworks had gone off.

Our Q&A session was scheduled for our second full day, which happened to be Good Friday. We went to breakfast and were surprised to find that at a resort as large as Mystic Dunes, there was not a single breakfast offering that did not include meat. Like many others in the world, we do not eat meat on Good Friday and would have expected the staff at Mystic Dunes to be prepared for such a large and sacred holiday.

We were then shuttled to another building to take part in the Q&A and our granddaughter was led into a recreation area we were told was supervised. Although we did not particularly like leaving her with strangers, we knew attending the session was a condition of the deal we had purchased, and we were assured it would take no more than 120 minutes.

Our salesperson for this event was Pamela Parker. She began by reviewing what we had purchased in Las Vegas and then advised us the 2,500 points acquired there were not sufficient for even a week in a studio apartment in Las Vegas. This was certainly news to us, because we were under the impression that our 2,500 points would cover a full week at a large number of Diamond Resort properties. In reviewing the points tables for the properties, we realize that 2,500 will get us into very properties and the ones we can access are old, in undesirable locations, or can only be visited during the worst times of year for that particular area.

Pam then questioned how we had purchased the points at $4.50 per point, because according to her, they were going for around $8.00 per point. She seemed angered for us, which in turn made us angered. She said several times she didn't know how they [Robert] got away with selling us what they did, but it never should have happened. Pam left and brought another person in, but by this point, my head was beginning to spin and I was having a hard time focusing and staying still. Multiple Sclerosis is exacerbated by stress and it seems I had reached my breaking point.

At around 10:05, I had to step away to clear my head and I wanted to check on our granddaughter. I found her in the activity center with no supervision. I'd had enough. I left my husband there to deal with Pam and to try and figure out what was going on with our points and I took my granddaughter to Build-A-Bear for her birthday, as we'd promised her. After a while, Pam tracked me down with a stack of paperwork in her hand and told me I needed to sign. Because I saw Thomas had already signed the pages, I did as she asked and signed my name where indicated, then later returned to the office to finalize the deal.

I felt that since Thomas signed, he must have felt it was the best option, but I found out later that was not the case. He'd been essentially bullied into agreeing to another purchase, and not one that would replace and supersede the original purchase, but would be tacked on to it and would leave us paying out 47.6% of our income to Diamond for the next ten years. Thomas felt pressured. With me out of the room, the focus was turned to him and he was told that without the additional points, what we had was worthless. They told him we'd wasted our money, but they could help us by selling us enough points to make the venture worthwhile. They said everything that was promised in Las Vegas could be possible, but only if we purchased the additional points. I can only imagine how he felt as he faced these people who were telling him he'd made a mistake and the only way to fix it was to buy more. When they dropped the price from $8.00 per point to $3.15 per point, he gave in and signed. He was worn down and worried about wasting money for the 2,500 points and receiving nothing in return.

When I returned to the office, we were offered a free cruise as a gift, as well as another 2-night stay at select locations because the session had lasted so long. The way we understood it, a Barclay card had been opened in my name (while I was not in the office and had not consented to the card being opened) and a $5,000 payment was charged to that card. We do recall one of the people involved asking us if we'd tried to refinance our first purchase and we'd explained we were not able to do so because it is not real property and a bank will not touch it, thereby requiring us to take out a personal loan at a similarly high rate of interest. The representative assured us that with our credit scores we should not have any trouble refinancing.

On Wednesday, April 6, we called to register the certificate for the 2-night stay because we wanted to use it in conjunction with another trip we were planning. The person we spoke to when we called said we could not use it because we do not meet the minimum income requirement of $50,000. We were frustrated and upset because we'd told Robert and Pam that we did not meet the requirement, yet they still saw fit to sell us two allotments of points. We pulled out our contracts to review them in detail, at which we noticed several items of alarm:

- 1. The amount charged to the Barclay card was $9,575, not $5,000.*
- 2. The amount charged to the card was the down payment and not the full purchase price.*
- 3. The price for the 15,000 additional points was $47,250, not $5,000 as we were led to believe.*
- 4. The second contract did not replace the original contract, but was issued in addition to it.*
- 5. We are unable to pay the costs for the contracts, as they far exceed our budgetary constraints and result in there being very little money for our needs related to our everyday lives. We fear damage to our near-perfect credit ratings, as well as the loss of our home and possessions.*
- 6. The obligation to Diamond equates to 47.6% of our annual income, which is excessive in any situation.*

Annual Income	$26,000

	Monthly Loan Payment	Annual Loan Obligation (Pmt x 12)	Annual Maintenance Fee	Total Annual Obligation	Percentage of Total Income

We are absolutely astounded that Robert and Pam roped us into such a hugely unfavorable position. They took complete advantage of us and of our trust. We believed Robert when he told us of the vacations we would be able to take and we believed Pam when she said we'd been sold a bad deal. The cost of the second purchase was not fully revealed, nor was the fact that our second purchase was added on to the first, instead of replacing it. We CANNOT pay you nearly half of our income each year and we will not be forced to do so. We are standing up for our rights as consumers and fighting against the predatory and damaging tactics used by your agents. Even if you refuse to cancel the contracts and return our money, we will not be deterred. We will fight this to the very end, no matter what outside involvement is required or how long it takes. We are in the right and we will not be bullied by your company again.

In March, 2016, I stayed at Cypress Pointe in Orlando, Florida, a Diamond Resort Time Share. I was called on the second day to come to a meeting and review my Time Share Account. Ms. Carmen Thornton was the Diamond Representative I talked to. After an hour and a half, Ms. Thornton presented a new package of Diamond Resort Points to me. I told her I did not want to purchase any points. Ms. Thornton erased off the dollar amount from the proposal sheet, and asked me to sign for a no sale. She left and Charley Witherspoon came and sat down with me. He was aware I was not buying any Diamond Resort Points. He then offered a Master Card Charge. He said if I purchased items on this card it would earn money towards maintenance fees for Diamond resort. Nothing was ever discussed regarding a Diamond Resort Sample package for $2995.00. Three Weeks later I received a bill (enclosed) for a Diamond Resort Sample package, which I never purchased. The only thing I agreed to was the Diamond Resort Master Card. The Master Card arrived at my home, with the Account number and Card number the same. The Master Card was not activated!! Next I received a bill for $2995.00. I have no idea why I am receiving this bill, for something I never agreed to.

Calls have been made to Mr. Witherspoon on April 16, 2016, which the lady answering the phone said he was with a customer and would call back, April 17, 2016, April 18, 2016, with messages to return the call. He never responded.

I never signed anything for a Diamond Resorts Sample package. I do not want this package and want it removed immediately from Diamond Resorts Card Services, Master Card

Diamond Resorts is not recognizing that we timely filed a Rescission request to contract no. 17367402 based on when we received the contract papers. My account no. is 24351605 and their tracking no. is US-2016-0015987. We signed the contract in Miami Jan 6. Since we were a couple days from starting a week long cruise we asked them to mail the contract papers to our home. They agreed with no conditions. However the papers were not FedEx'd until the end of January just as Baltimore was hit with a 30 inch snow storm so the papers did not arrive until Jan 27 and my Rescission request was delivered February 5. This was in the 10 day period after the papers were received per Florida law and Diamond's contract so we are asking your assistance in getting them to adhere to Florida law and acknowledge my Rescission request was submitted timely and to act on it accordingly. I've attached background supporting materials.

I am filing this complaint to notify your office of the activities of this company so that it may be determined if law enforcement or legal action is warranted.

Michelle

Thanks for the prompt reply. I've attached documents as follows:

Doc 0048 shows Diamond mailed the documents on or about Jan 23 by FedEx. That day Baltimore was getting hit with what became a 30 inch snow storm as subsequent comments show. As a result FedEx was not able to deliver the documents until the afternoon of Jan 27 which I promptly reported to Diamond.

Doc 0049 shows Diamond received my notice the same day re the document delivery.

Doc 0050 is the FedEx report that my rescission request was delivered to Diamond on Feb 5, or nine days after we received the contract documents. That puts the request within the ten days from receiving the final documents per the contract language on page 9.

Let me know if you need any additional materials or information.

RE: RESCISSION OF TIMESHARE TRANSFER AND PURCHASE
VIA RCI ELITE REWARDS MASTER CARD # XXXX XXXX XXXX [REDACTED]

Dear Ladies and Gentlemen:

Please be advised that this firm represents Walter J. Kurtz and Patricia E. Kurtz.

On April 7, 2016 our clients attended a meeting in Tucson, Arizona held by Vacation Consulting Services representatives Joe Blasingim and Eddie Balderas in order to obtain information about selling their Diamond Resort timeshare at Los Abrigados, Sedona, AZ.

Brian J. Scroggs, et al

After sitting through several hours of the presentation, our clients executed documents believing that they sold their interest in the Diamond Resorts timeshare. Our review of the documents indicate that they in fact signed documents to purchase an interest in the Florida Vacation Villas Club by way of a RCI Elite Rewards Master Card issued to Walter J. Kurtz.

Enclosed, for your review, is a letter from Dr. Steve Cohen attesting to the fact that Walter J. Kurtz is legally blind and a letter from Dr. L. Roderick Anderson attesting to the fact that Walter J. Kurtz suffers from dementia. Walter J. Kurtz did not possess the legal capacity to execute any of the contracts.

This is a demand that the transaction be rescinded and the RCI Elite Rewards Master Card issued to Walter J. Kurtz be cancelled.

We appreciate a prompt response from you or your counsel.

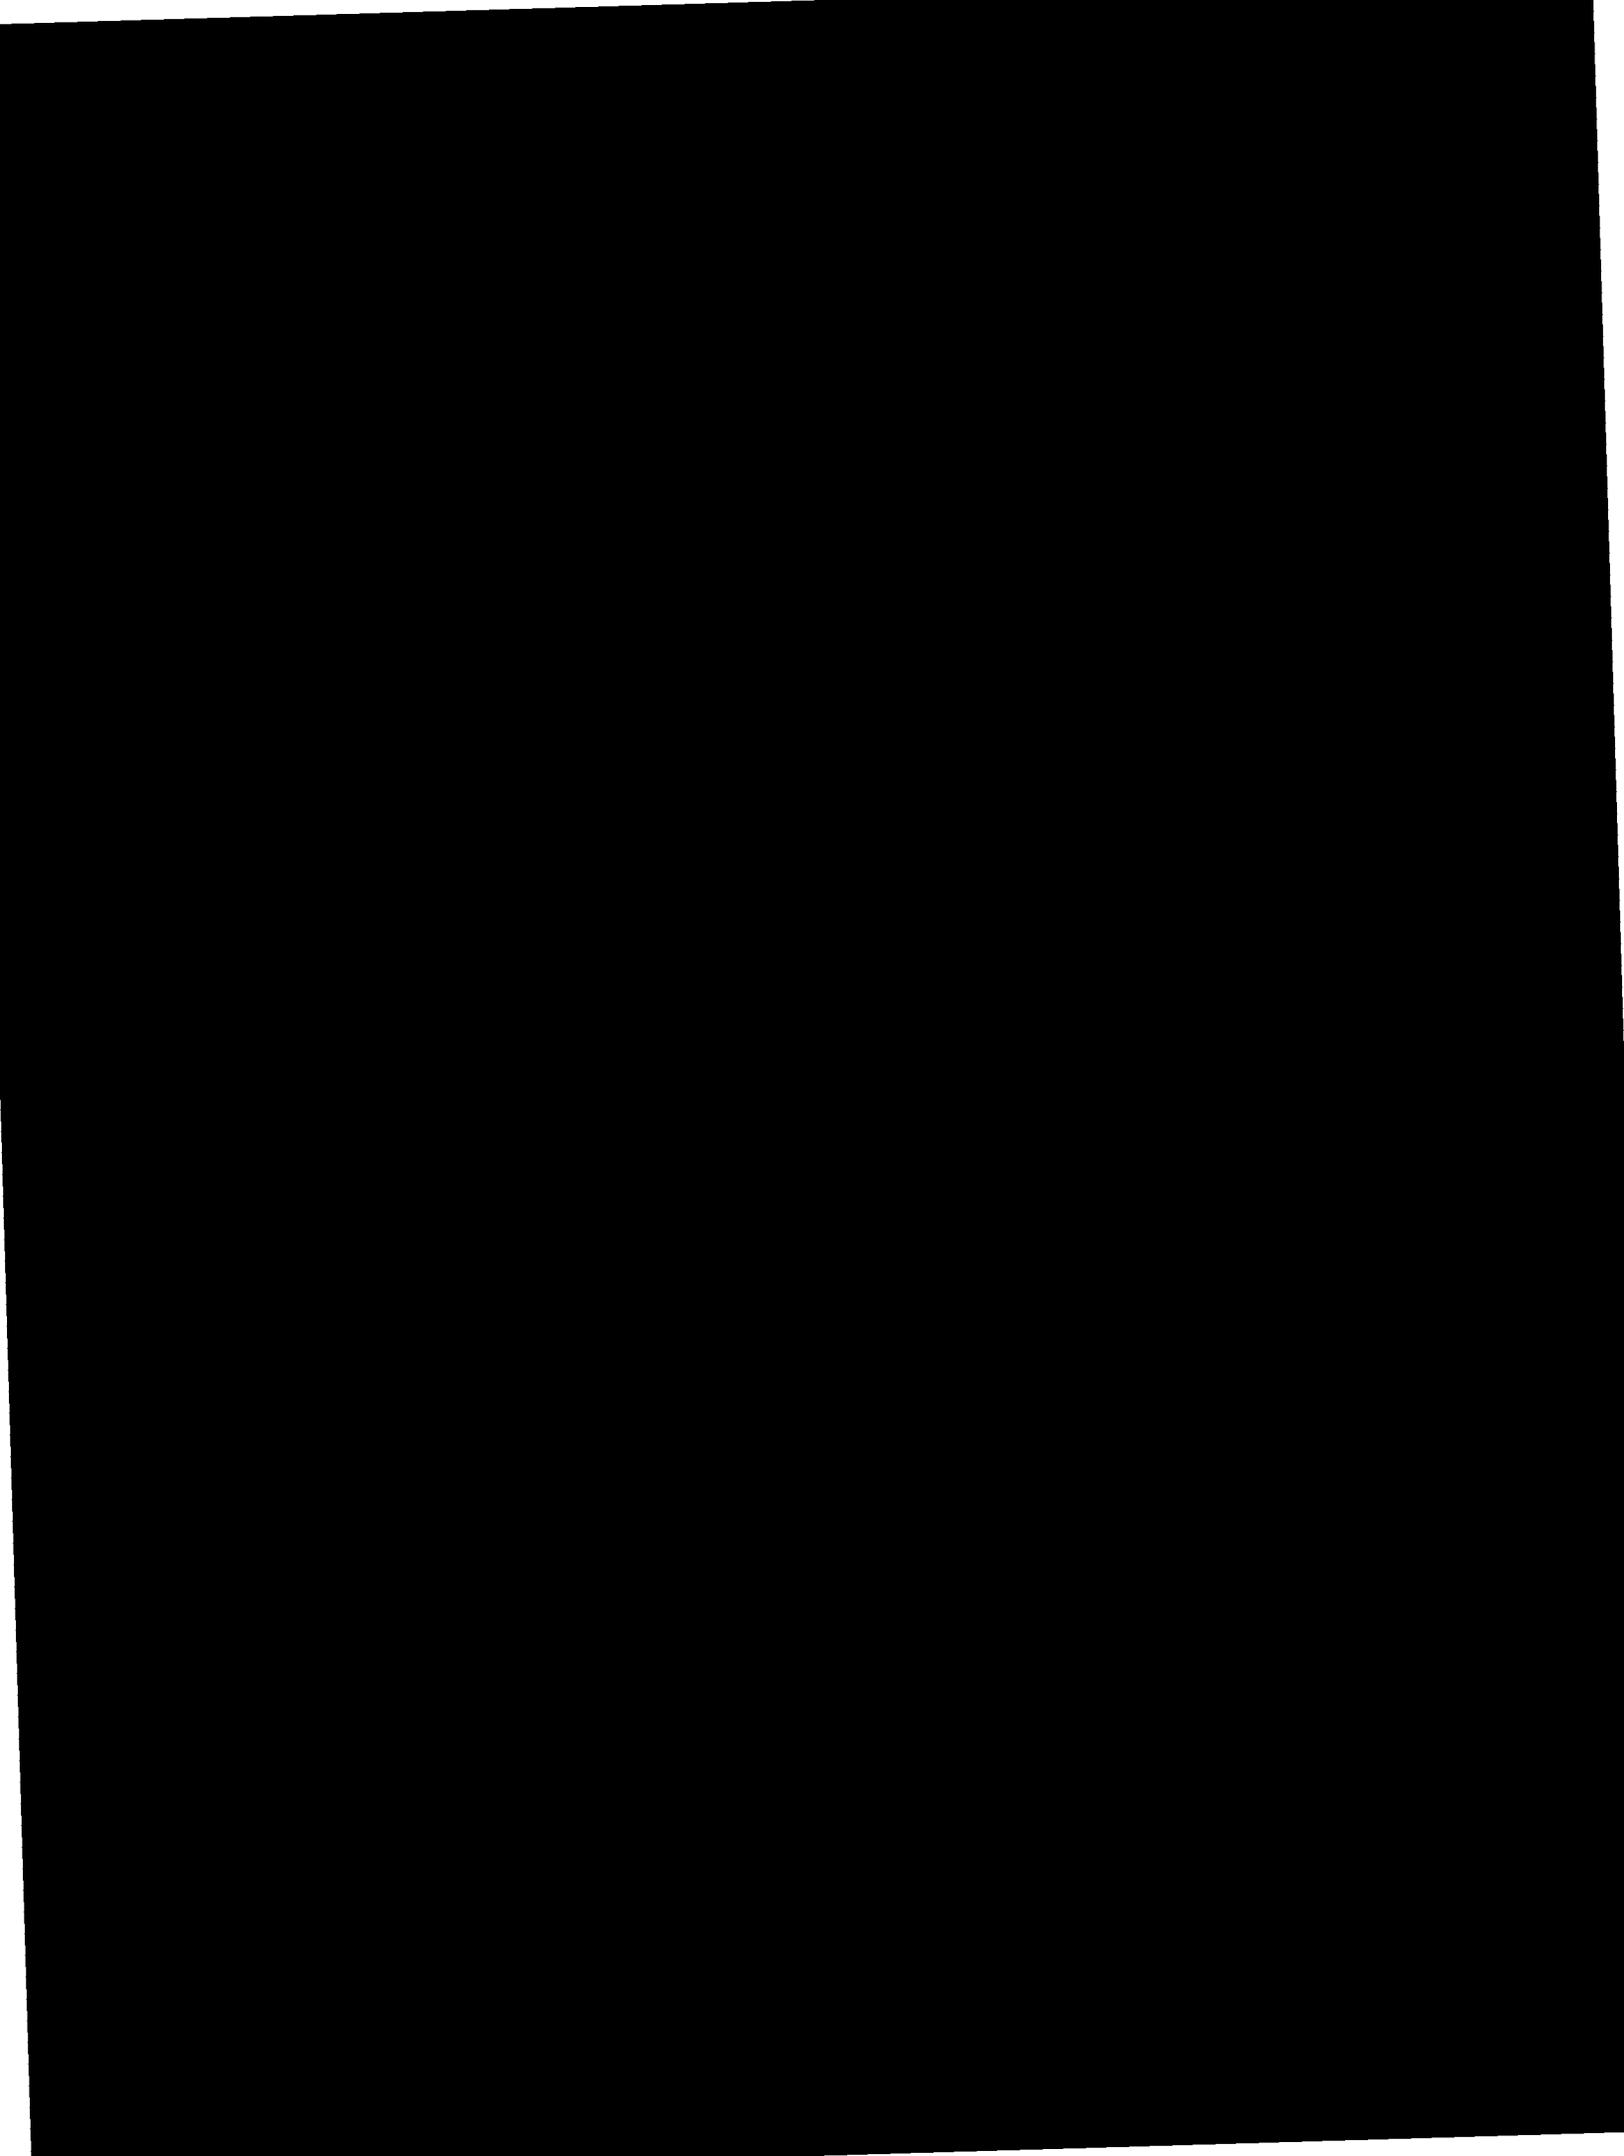

Sincerely,

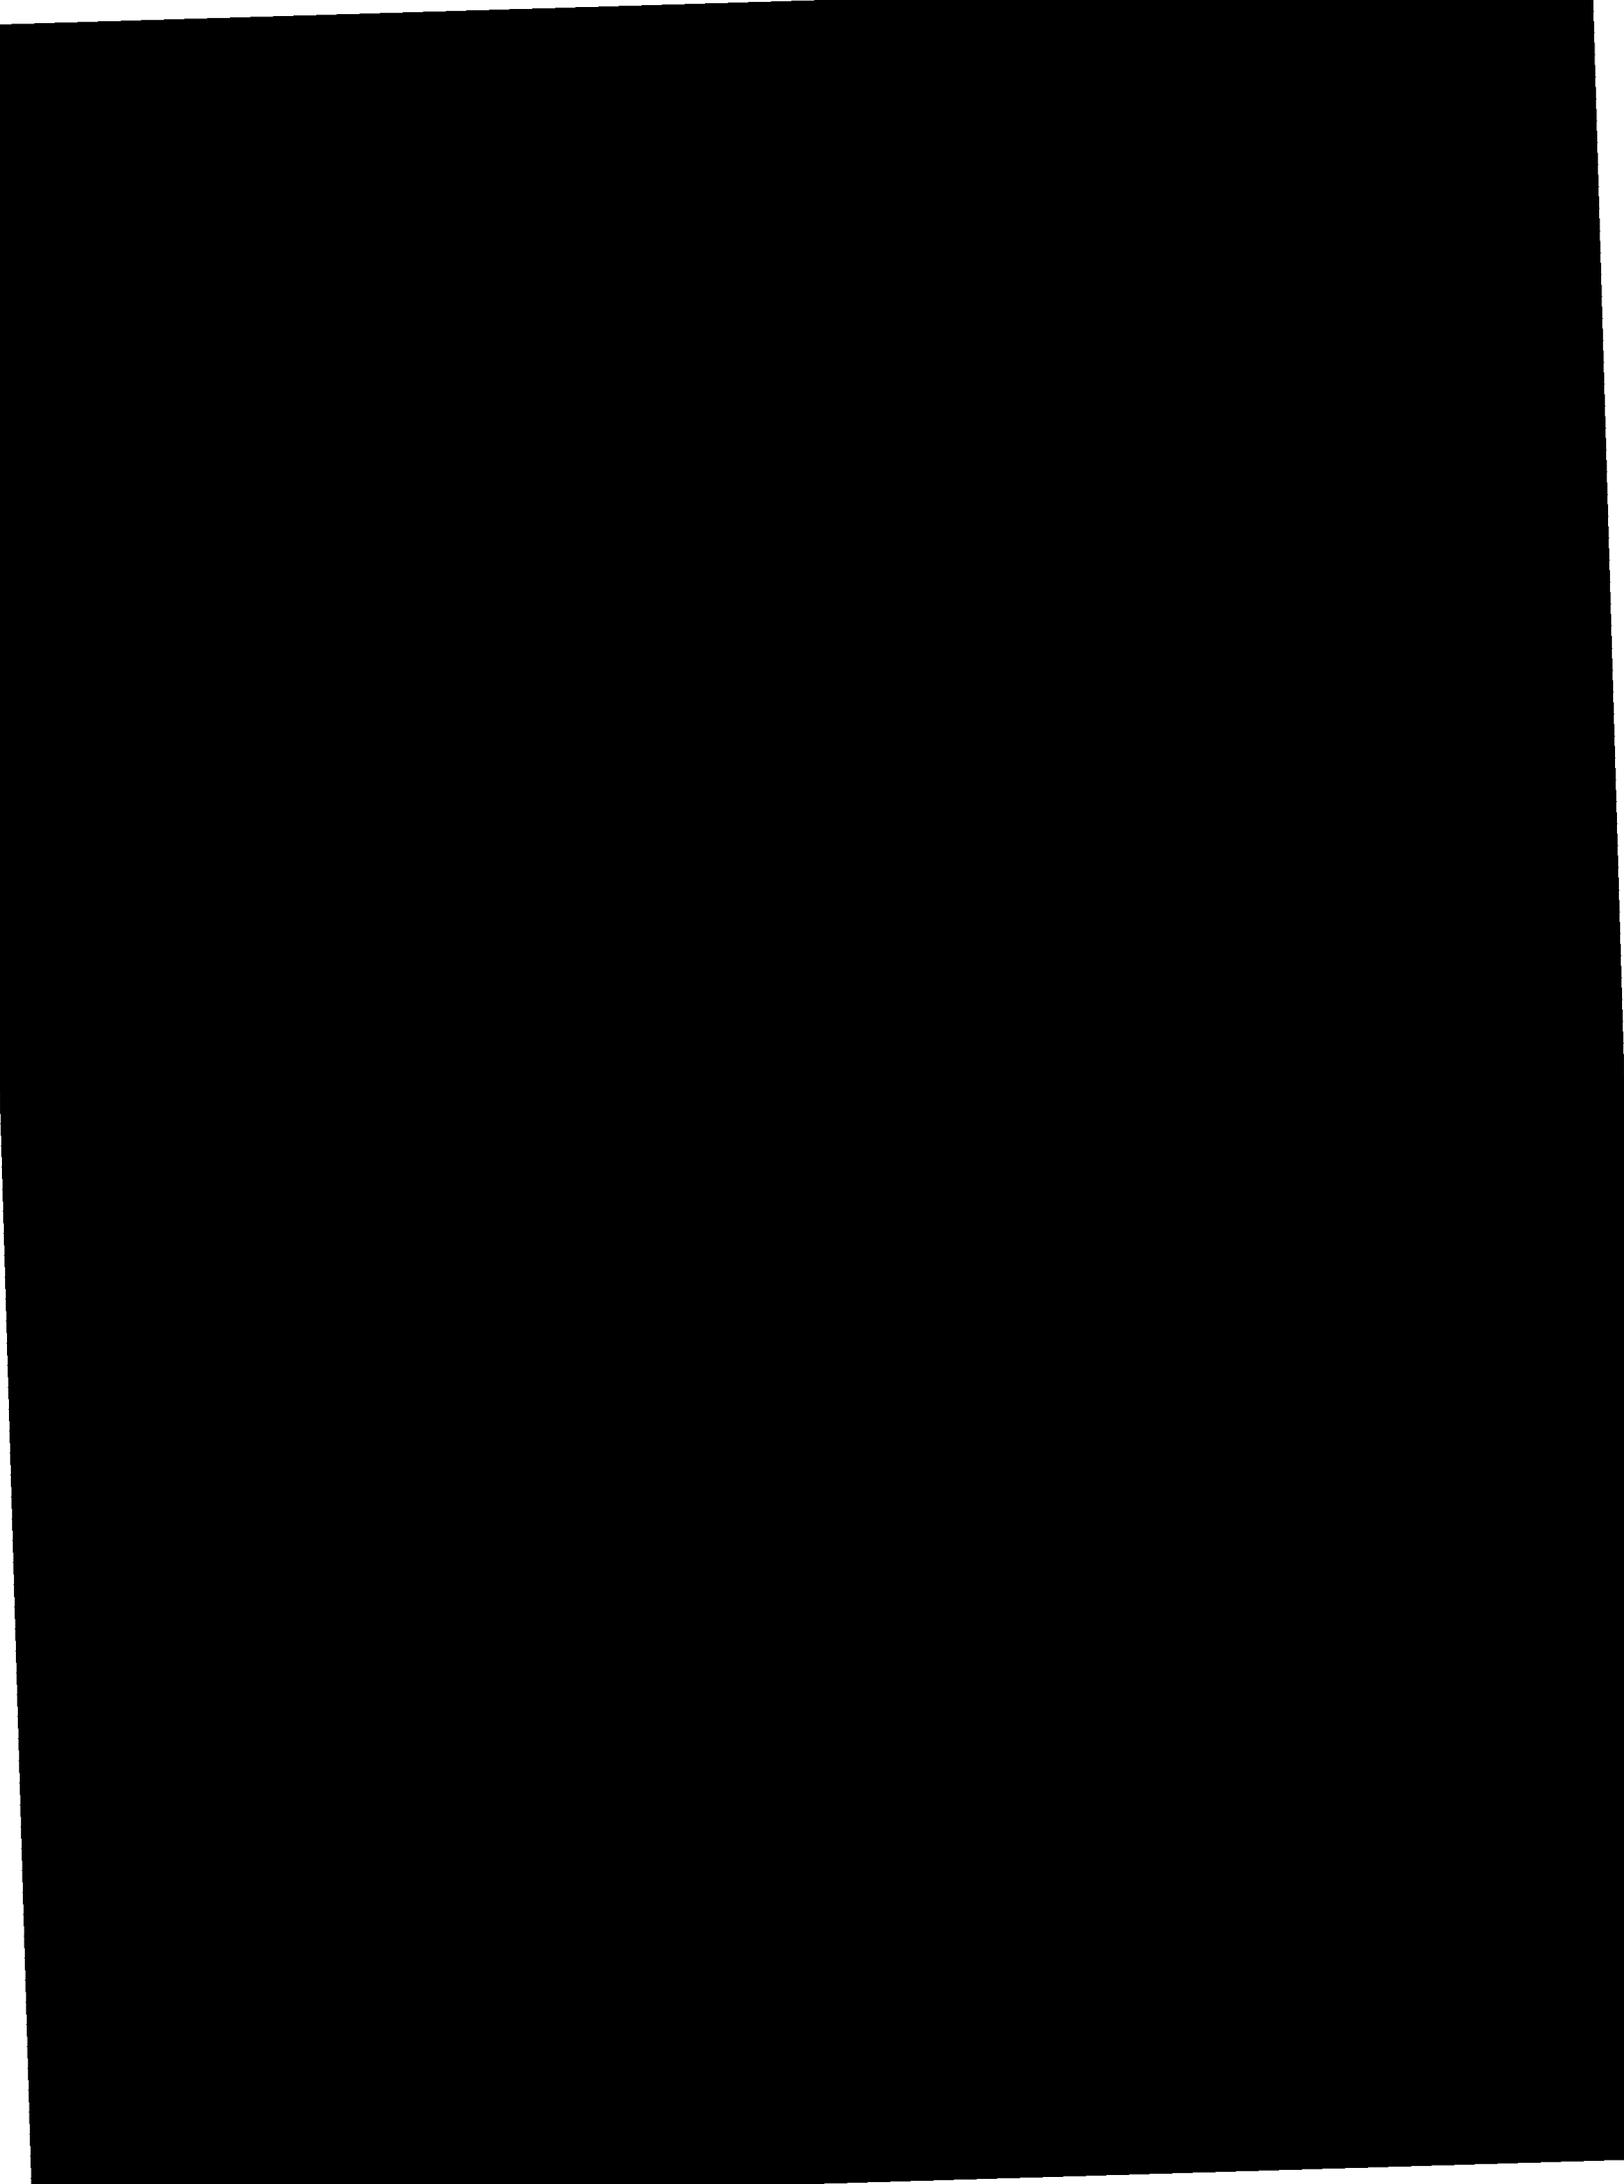

VALENTINE & VALENTINE, P.C.

Dear Sirs:

We are contacting your agency in efforts to first, make you aware that we and our family have experienced a great injustice as well as been given misinformation concerning the sale and or purchase of a timeshare, and secondly, to ask for your assistance to resolve the matter. Diamond and its "affiliates" or "sales team" knowingly misled us during multiple meetings and told us that an ownership with their company would afford us certain amenities that they have now proven that they are not able to provide. They further misrepresented the documents we signed by stating one thing and the documents outlined something else entirely. We have determined their actions are unjust and furthermore fraudulent.

During our ownership with Diamond we have spoken to numerous sales staff members but specifically recall David Dunn and Mark Barbi. Both of these gentlemen and others told us that we could lower costs by "upgrading" or enrolling into a "new program" etc. This is false as the maintenance fees only went up with every change that was made. It was emphasized that the value of Diamond properties is always going up and that it is an investment. Diamond told us we could refinance with our bank to secure a better interest rate, however after much research and disappointment, this is also false as no banking institution loans against timeshare as they stated they would. Banking institutions told me that they do not loan against timeshare because they hold no value and have no collateral. This is completely opposite from what Diamond told us. During the presentations the staff showed us graphs and potential rental and resale values, vacation bookings, etc. however, they would not allow us to keep any of this paperwork and took it from us and disposed of it. We were told if we didn't upgrade or enroll into a new program we could lose amenities and or the maintenance fees and yearly assessments would increase drastically. We were told that ownership with Polo Towers was switching to points and we absolutely needed to switch if we wished to continue using our membership. This time in particular the salesman came to our home. We weren't even on vacation and they came to our home! As if the hounding calls and room visits while you are on vacation aren't enough, now they just show up at my house. The rental idea was also a BIG selling point and it was discussed more than anything else during the presentations. The idea that we could simply rent the weeks and that the income from this would cover our costs seemed all too easy. When we then inquired about doing this we then learned there were fees to rent your timeshare that had to be paid up front and Diamond wasn't even renting them for us! We had to contact a rental company and pay fees for them to rent our points. This was never discussed and had we known there were fees and outside companies we would not have done any of this. We tried to rescind one of our contracts and instead of simply allowing us to turn it back in, we sat in another meeting for hours listening to how that turning it back in was a huge mistake and that we shouldn't do that. They made us feel stupid for even suggesting rescinding and never once offered a form for us to return it as they stated could be easily done. I was tired of the hassling and pressure I was being subjected to and feared that continuing to ask for the proper forms would only result in hours of continual badgering. We had already wasted an entire day in a meeting like that and wasn't about to waste a second. Plus our nerves and bodies couldn't handle any more of that kind of intense pressuring. Another point that is stressed during presentations is that with Diamond you have options to travel all over the world and you can easily schedule those places at the times you want. This is completely false as we have tried many times to schedule in places we want as far as a year in advance and were told the resorts we wanted were affiliates and that Diamond had no control over availability. How that makes any sense I do not know, but, if they can't guarantee the travel they tell you you need the additional points for and or you must be at a certain level for, this is fraud. We were told countless times that we needed just a few more thousand points to really gain all the benefits we wanted with booking the vacations where and when we wanted etc. Numerous salesman told us they would help us use these benefits but after the sale was over, they would not contact us and Diamond customer service had no clue what we were talking about and or could assist us. The maintenance fees kept increasing no matter where they said to switch ownership to or what collection we purchased in. It was simply a lie to get us to buy.

We are asking that you fully investigate their business, staff, and practices as we feel a complete cancellation of our contracts and refund of our money is due to us. Since we sent a letter to their corporate offices in April, we have only received billing statements, past due notices, and no resolution. We did stop payments and informed them we were doing so because of the misinformation and lies we experienced. They have since neglected to contact us with any resolution and often call 8 times or more a day for payment and when we state why we are not paying, they say there is nothing that can be done. We find this to be untrue as a simple search on google concerning the complaints against Diamond and or their ability to resolve such matters is clearly listed. We appreciate your consideration and assistance.

Sincerest Thanks,

William & Kiana Byrnes

To Whom It May Concern,

My wife and I would like to request your collaboration with a dispute that we have begun with Diamond Resorts. Their entire team has misrepresented information regarding our timeshare contract. Isn't that also known as fraud? We will provide a copy of a notice sent to them on May 27th, 2016, where we sought for our timeshare contract to be cancelled and that they return all the payments that were made during the past 25 years. We feel like they only want our money and do not care about providing or meeting the promises that they sell you at the meetings that they make sure you attend and do not miss. They forced us into changing to points from our fixed weeks agreement we had in place. Their reasoning was that everyone was doing it and that deeded timeshares would not be tradeable. While we were on fixed weeks from 1992 until 1998, our fees only went up about $50 from $325 to $376. And ever since we converted to points our fees started going up after we were told they had not gone up in years nor mentioned that they would. We are now paying $4,817.42 of maintenance fees and that's aside from the mortgage payment. We wouldn't mind paying the fees if they correlated with the service level that they could provide. But the truth is that they do not provide even the most minimal of service.

Their purpose in their meetings is to wear you down to where you give in to them. They lead you to believe that better booking power and ability to book flights and cruises are part of your benefits. But no better benefits result from these upgrades other than their benefit of making more money off of us. We have yet to vacation where we have desired. Diamond Resorts are never available.

We feel trapped with no way out. They have not answered to our request which is no surprise. Can you help us out?

To Whom It May Concern,

My wife and I purchased two fixed weeks, one in 1992 and another in 1998. We in turn were convinced to upgrade to points trading in our fixed weeks and purchasing additional points in 2007. And on two other occasions, 2014 and 2015, were told we need to increase our points to receive better benefits. We feel we were forced into something we really did not need.

When we went to the presentations for the two fixed weeks we were told the locations were ideal and we would not have issues trading them for other weeks at other resorts that were "just as nice". Trading became very difficult because there were no availabilities in the locations we choose to vacation. When we did trade to another destination we felt that destination was not as nice as what we purchased.

We converted to points because "things would be better and points are the way to go". That has proven not to be true as well. When Diamond is confronted with this they say "you have up to 13 months out to book vacations and you should do that". When I have looked there is nothing available for the places we wanted to stay, in the times of the year we can vacation due to having a child in school. We are limited to Spring break and Summer time.

We were given a bonus of 8,500 points in 2015 to use within a 12 month period, which we never had the time to use them and they have since expired. Unknown to us we paid amenities on those points. We own 29,000 points but paid amenities for 37,500. We were not told about this. Our amenities doubled in one year.

The tag team of sales representatives and the sales managers were not being straight up with us and painted a very rosy picture of how good all this would be for us. So we feel we were misled about timeshares in general and we feel trapped in them with no way out.

With that said:

1. We would like our current contract cancelled and are requesting a monetary refund for amenities and purchases of the past 25 years. Based on my calculations this amounts to over $100,000, $17,000 is still outstanding on the mortgage.
2. Payments have been stopped on the mortgage that was taken out last year for 8,500 points.
3. Also request you do no harm to our credit.
4. Would like resolution within 30 days.

Second of 2 time shares ^{complaints}. This one is with Diamond Resorts purchased on 2/16/2016, we are sandwiched between the two.

We have discovered both left out key documents with our signatures on them that we have never gotten. We are sending letters to both ^{today} time shares to cancel contracts. Since Fla laws say we have 10 days after receiving All documents and we ~~has~~ have NOT received All documents from either place. please call

Ronald Bonar

We were staying at Grande Villas, Orlando, FL (owned by Diamonds Resorts) and were invited to a presentation of their resort for 1½ hrs.

On Feb. 16th, we arrived at 12:00 pm and sales person talked to us for 1½ hours about traveling; then when we were ready to leave the sales pitch/ pressure started about going to Hawaii next Jan. & Feb. for only $4680. down and $19,470. Loan. We could stay 5 nights and 2 round trip air fare by buying 6500 points and Club combinations program get 8,740 CCOM points by booking our Bahamas timeshare week and turning it over to them. We said we could not afford $24,150. so they offered Diamond 4500 points and 8,740 Club combo points for $3,280 down + loan $13,591 = $16,871. We said we couldn't afford it, but she said it would include bonus points 3375 = 16,615 points and we could book next Nov/Dec for Jan/Feb, 2017 for only 2,000 pts/wk x 8 wks. = 16,000 points. We said we would think about it, but were told we had to say yes before we left. We said no, but the pressure mounted and they made the loan for 10 years for $216.94/month, but 13.99% ($216.94 x 120 months = $26,032.80 in payments) plus $3,280. down = $29,312.80 total.

Finally, they said we would be Club combo forever, but silver first 2 years only Club combo was 8740 points + 4500 points + 3375 bonus points = 13,240 points after first year (6 weeks in Hawaii). Each year; no problem getting in; they had all kinds of inventory in Hawaii in Jan. & Feb. By 6 pm, we finally gave in and they took us to the paper signing with no chance to read anything other than dark or large print and the closer said she would make copies of ALL pages & give them to us. By Feb. 19th, we changed our minds & took a letter to cancel contract (10 days in FL) to the closers office and gave it to the lady, but she glanced at it and said she'd have to get her floor manager who came in and put the super high pressure to not cancel. (We had already handed it to the paper signer/closer, but the manager picked it up and gave it back to us; absolutely no problem getting to Hawaii in Jan. & Feb. and we could afford $216.94/month. We left.

In March, when we got home a lady called us and said we needed to go for ½ week to a Diamond orientation/ training to learn more about the group, make reservations, and work with the system. We said we could do it as long as it was orientation/ training, 5/15 - 5/17 in Branson, MO, and it worked around our gardening.

We met with the manager on 5/16 and 5-10 minutes later we found out this was another sales pitch/pressure deal. This sales manager and his boss informed us what we were told in FL was not all true and we would have to buy more points at a higher price per point. 4,000 more points - $201.17/month for 120 months at 14.777% + $3,012 down. For a total of $27,152.40 plus another $648. Maintenance fee/year plus 4,000 1st year bonus only and permanent silver membership in order to use the CCOM after 1st 2 years per company rules. SO one or both groups of sales people were lying and also this group showed us a document saying "CCOM forever; silver 2 years". We searched every paper we had been given in FL and since and this document was not among them so we should have 10 days after we get all of the documents pertinent to 2/16 so we are cancelling 1st contract also under FL law. Either the "10 day law ALL documents" or because one or both parties of sales personnel were not telling us the real truth.

Ronald + Melody

Ron - I'm not 6'6' and 300 lbs. I can't just get up and leave. They won't let up until you sign their papers!!!

$$29,312.80 + $27,152/40 = $56,465.20$. We can't afford this. It is way out of our budget.
Plus $$1171. + $648 = $1,819$. Maintenance fees each year forever.

Both Exploria/ Summer Bay and Diamonds had pertinent documents missing from what we were given at signing and we still haven't been given either document. Is this just a coincident or does this happen on a regular basis?

In reference to the purchase that we made on 2/16/2016 - Contract # 17383179 -

We have 10 days from receiving "the last of all documents" in which to exercise our notice to rescind. We are acting on our rights as provided in our contract under Florida state law. We have NOT received ALL documents!!!

When we attended one of your training sessions on May 16, 2016 in Branson, MO at "The Suites at Fall Creek, Branson, MO, we found out it was just another selling session. We were shown a document* from the 2/16/2016 session that we have NEVER received.

On this document were "CCOM forever" and "Silver level for 2 years" and our signatures so our "10 day" still is in play and we are hereby "cancelling this contract". We expect a full refund of all monies with this purchase within 10 days including cancelling all credit card charges and refunds and returning the maintenance/ Club fee of $1,171.09. Sorry for any inconvenience, but your sales people were not honest and we can not afford two sales contracts of over $56,000.

Respectfully,

Ronald & Melody Bonar

*Your sales people in Branson just showed us this document several times, but didn't give it to us.

This Promissory Note ("Note") is given in connection with that certain Purchase and Security Agreement of even date herewith between the undersigned, RONALD CARL BONAR and MELODY DIANNE BONAR (hereinafter, whether one or more, referred to as "Maker"), whose address is 9524 Sunny Lane Versailles, Missouri 65084, and Diamond Resorts U.S. Collection Development, LLC, a Delaware limited liability company ("Diamond Resorts"), whose address and principal place of business is c/o Customer Service, Diamond Resorts Financial Services, Inc., 10600 West Charleston Boulevard, Las Vegas, Nevada 89135 (the "Agreement"). This Note will become effective upon the lapse of the cancellation period provided in the Agreement (provided that Maker does not exercise Maker's cancellation right) or, if later, the Closing described in the Agreement (the "Effective Date").

FOR VALUE RECEIVED, Maker promises to pay to the order of Diamond Resorts and any successor or assign thereof, including, without limitation, any subsequent holder hereof ("Holder"), at the address for Diamond Resorts set forth above or at such other place as Holder may from time to time designate in writing, in lawful money of the United States, the principal amount of Thirteen Thousand Five Hundred Ninety-One and 00/100 ($13,591.00), together with a monthly collection fee of Six ($6.00) and a monthly finance charge computed in the manner set forth below at a fixed annual rate of Thirteen and 99/100 (13.99%) (the "Annual Rate"). As set forth in the Truth in Lending Disclosure Statement provided to you, both the collection fee and the monthly finance charge are treated as finance charges, included in the computation of the Annual Percentage Rate, under the federal Truth in Lending Act. Maker shall pay Holder in 120 equal monthly installments of Two Hundred Ten and 94/100 Dollars ($210.94) each, with the first such installment being due and payable on _____ (the "First Payment Date"), and a like installment to be due and payable on or before the same day of each calendar month thereafter (the "Payment Date"). (Notwithstanding the foregoing: (1) if the First Payment Date is in the last three days of a calendar month and there is no day in a particular calendar month that corresponds to the First Payment Date, the Payment Date for such calendar month will be the first day of the subsequent month; and (2) if any Payment Date falls on a day that is not a business day, the Payment Date will be the next business day thereafter.) On the final Payment Date

(the "Maturity Date"), the entire principal balance due hereunder, together with any finance charges and other fees and charges, shall be immediately due and payable. Time is of the essence with respect to all of Maker's obligations hereunder.

If Maker has separately agreed to the terms of Holder's "SurePay Plan," an automatic payment plan whereby scheduled monthly payments of principal and interest payments on this Promissory Note and the collection fee are automatically deducted from Maker's bank account on each Payment Date, then immediately upon the occurrence of any of the following described events, Maker's participation in the SurePay Plan will terminate: (i) at any time prior to the Maturity Date, Maker elects to terminate his or her participation in the SurePay Plan; (ii) Maker closes the designated bank account; or (iii) on more than one occasion, a SurePay payment is not made when due for any reason (including Maker's failure to maintain a sufficient balance in the designated bank account to cover any required payment). In such event, the Interest Rate shall increase by Zero percent (0.00%) per annum and the monthly payment will increase to the level sufficient to repay all principal, interest and collection fees by the Maturity Date through equal monthly payments on each Payment Date. The increase in the Interest Rate shall be effective retroactively to the date of the last payment made under the SurePay Plan, and the increase in payment amount shall apply to the next payment due after the last such SurePay payment.

Each monthly installment shall be applied first to late charges, then to the collection fee, then to monthly finance charges and finally to unpaid principal. Each month, the monthly finance charge will be based on the scheduled principal balance (regardless of exactly when payments are actually received) and a monthly rate of finance charge equal to the Annual Rate divided by twelve (12). Maker may prepay the outstanding principal balance hereof, in whole or in part, at any time without premium or penalty. However, partial prepayments will not reduce finance charges and will not postpone the due date of any subsequent monthly installments or change the amount of such installments unless Holder otherwise agrees in writing. In the event this Note is prepaid in full, Holder will charge a monthly finance charge for that month equal to the scheduled principal balance at the beginning of the month, times the Annual Rate, times a fraction equal to the number of days from the immediately preceding Payment Date through the date of prepayment divided by the number of days in the year. Holder will not charge any collection fee for the month of prepayment and Holder will not charge any collection fees and monthly finance charges attributable to months following any prepayment in full.

This Promissory Note is given in partial payment for a membership in the Diamond Resorts U.S. Collection (the "Membership"). Payment of principal, finance charges and other charges hereunder is secured by a security interest established under the Purchase and Security Agreement (the "Agreement") of even date herewith by and between Diamond Resorts, as seller, and Maker, as purchaser. The terms and provisions of the Agreement are hereby fully incorporated herein by this reference.

If all or any part of the Membership or an interest therein is sold or otherwise transferred by Maker (whether such interest is legal or equitable, present or future, vested or contingent) without Holder's prior written consent (which consent may be withheld for any reason whatsoever), excluding (i) the creation of a lien or encumbrance subordinate to the Agreement; (ii) a transfer by devise, descent, or operation of law upon the death of a joint tenant; or (iii) the grant of any leasehold interest of one (1) week or less not containing an option to purchase the Membership, then Holder may, at Holder's option, except to the extent prohibited by law, declare all of the amounts secured by the Agreement to be immediately due and payable.

Upon the failure of Maker to make any payment required under this Promissory Note in accordance with the terms hereof or Maker's breach of any of the other covenants or agreements contained herein or in the Agreement, then and in such event, Holder, at Holder's option, subject to any right of reinstatement to which Maker is entitled under applicable law, may (i) declare, without further demand, all of the amounts owed hereunder to be immediately due and payable; and (ii) pursue all rights and remedies available to Holder under this Promissory Note and the Agreement by appropriate proceedings. To the extent permitted by law, Holder shall be entitled to collect in such proceedings all expenses of enforcement, including but not limited to reasonable attorneys' fees, publication costs, costs of judgment and other searches, and court costs. Failure of Holder to exercise its available rights and remedies hereunder or as provided by law with respect to any default by Maker shall not be deemed to constitute a waiver of such rights or remedies with respect to any subsequent default, whether the same or different in nature.

In the event that any amount due under this Promissory Note is paid more than ten (10) days after the date upon which such amount is due, then Holder shall be entitled to collect a late charge from Maker in an amount equal to the lesser of (i) Twenty-Five Dollars ($25.00) or (ii) ten percent (10%) of the overdue installment, provided that such amount does not exceed the maximum late charge permitted to be charged under the laws of the State of Nevada. To the extent permitted by law, Maker shall further be liable to Holder for any out-of-pocket costs incurred by Holder in the event that a check issued by Maker is dishonored for any reason.

During any time in which Maker is in default under this Promissory Note, finance charges may, at Holder's option, accrue on the actual outstanding balance on a simple interest basis at a default rate equal to the maximum lawful rate permitted to be charged by Holder under the laws of the State of Nevada. In the event that there is no such maximum lawful rate, then finance charges shall accrue on the actual outstanding balance on a simple interest basis during such period at a default rate of twenty-five percent (25%) per annum.

In the event that counsel is employed to collect all or any part of the indebtedness evidenced hereby, whether at maturity or following acceleration, to the extent permitted by law Maker agrees to pay Holder's reasonable attorneys' fees, whether suit be brought or not (including any fees associated with appeals or bankruptcy proceedings), and all other costs and expenses reasonably incurred in connection with Holder's collection efforts.

Maker and any endorser, guarantor, or surety, jointly and severally, hereby waive presentment, protest, demand, notice of protest, and dishonor of this Promissory Note, and expressly agree that this Promissory Note, or any payment hereunder, may be extended from time to time without in any way affecting the liability of Maker or any endorser, guarantor, or surety hereof. To the extent not prohibited by applicable law, Maker also waives any rights to any stay of execution and the benefit of all homestead and/or other exemption laws now or hereafter in effect.

This Promissory Note shall be the joint and several obligation of each person signing below and shall apply to and bind each of them and each of their respective heirs, successors, personal representatives, and assigns.

The validity, construction, and enforceability of, and the rights and obligations of Maker and Holder under, this Promissory Note shall be governed by, construed, and enforced in accordance with the laws of the State of Nevada.

In the event that any one or more of the provisions of this Promissory Note shall for any reason be held to be invalid or unenforceable, in whole or in part or in any respect, then such provision or provisions only shall be disregarded as though not contained herein and shall not affect any other provision of this Promissory Note, and the remaining provisions of this Promissory Note shall remain operative and in full force and effect and shall in no way be affected, prejudiced, or disturbed thereby.

It is the intent of Holder to comply fully with all interest and usury laws of the State of Nevada, as currently enacted or hereafter in effect. Notwithstanding any provision hereof to the contrary, in no event shall this Promissory Note require the payment or permit the collection of interest in excess of the maximum amount of interest permitted under the laws of the State of Nevada. In the event that the amount of interest contracted for, charged, or received under this Promissory Note exceeds the maximum amount of interest permitted under the laws of the State of Nevada, then the provisions of this paragraph shall govern and control, and neither

Maker nor any other person or entity now or hereafter liable for the payment hereof shall be obligated to pay the amount of such interest to the extent that it exceeds the maximum amount of interest permitted under the laws of the State of Nevada. Any such excess interest which may have been collected by Holder shall, at the option of Holder, either be applied as a credit against the unpaid principal balance hereof or be refunded to Maker, and the effective rate of interest shall be reduced to the maximum rate of interest permitted to be charged under the laws of the State of Nevada.

Except for any notice required under applicable law to be given in another manner, any notice that either party desires or is required to give the other party under this Promissory Note shall be in writing and shall be deemed to have been duly given upon the earlier to occur of (a) its actual receipt; (b) three (3) business days after being deposited in the United States mail as first class mail, postage prepaid; or (c) one (1) business day after being sent via overnight courier service such as Federal Express, addressed to the applicable party at the address therefor stated herein or at such other address as the receiving party has previously notified the giving party in the manner prescribed in this paragraph. If Maker consists of more than one (1) person, then notice to any of them shall be deemed to constitute notice to all of them.

FURTHER TERMS AND CONDITIONS

1. DEFINITIONS:

Unless the context suggests otherwise, capitalized terms shall have the meanings set forth in the Amended and Restated Declaration for Diamond Resorts U.S. Collection ("Declaration"), as may be amended or modified from time to time.

2. PAYMENT OF PURCHASE PRICE:

(a) Purchaser may pay for the Membership in cash or through credit from Seller, subject to Seller's credit approval ("Financing"). If Purchaser receives Financing from Seller, then Purchaser will be required to execute and deliver an installment Promissory Note (the "Note") payable to the order of Seller in the amount of the Unpaid Balance, and grant the first priority Seller Security Interest (defined below) that secures the payment of the Note and encumbers Purchaser's Membership, as well as certain other documents and instruments which Seller, in its sole discretion, deems reasonably necessary or appropriate to secure Purchaser's payment of the Note. Purchaser will be subject to all of the terms, provisions, and conditions described and set forth in all such documents and instruments.

(b) If Purchaser requests Financing, Seller may, but is not required to, agree to finance Purchaser's purchase. Purchaser promises that all personal financial and other information submitted to Seller is and will be accurate, and Purchaser authorizes Seller to make credit inquiries regarding Purchaser, whether through a consumer reporting agency or other means. Purchaser agrees to provide immediate written notice to Seller of any material adverse change in Purchaser's financial condition that occurs prior to Closing (as defined below). If Purchaser makes good faith efforts to obtain purchase money financing but is unable to qualify for Financing within 10 days following Seller's acceptance of this Agreement, Purchaser shall be entitled to terminate this Agreement and receive a refund of any and all payments made by Purchaser hereunder (without interest) or, at Purchaser's option, to consummate the transaction contemplated hereby by paying the entire Unpaid Balance in cash at Closing. If Purchaser is unable to qualify for Financing within such 10 day period, Seller shall provide written notice thereof to Purchaser, whereupon Purchaser shall promptly notify Seller whether Purchaser elects to terminate this Agreement or consummate the transaction as provided in the preceding sentence. If Purchaser fails to give any notice to Seller within 20 days after Purchaser's receipt of Seller's notice that Purchaser does not qualify for Financing, Seller may at any time thereafter terminate this Agreement and refund to Purchaser all payments made by Purchaser. Seller reserves the right, in its sole discretion, to sell or assign the Note and the Seller Security Interest to another person or entity, whether or not such person or entity is affiliated with Seller.

(c) If Purchaser is exchanging a fee simple timeshare interest in a timeshare resort ("Fee Timeshare Interest") as full or partial payment for the Membership, Purchaser agrees to execute and deliver to Seller, on the date hereof, (i) a deed or other appropriate instrument in form and substance satisfactory to Seller, in its sole discretion, pursuant to which all of Purchaser's right, title, and interest in and to the Fee Timeshare Interest is conveyed to Seller or a party designated by Seller, free and clear of any liens or encumbrances not expressly approved by Seller ("Deed-back"), and (ii) if Seller so requests, a declaration of annexation or other similar type of document subjecting the Fee Timeshare Interest to the Declaration ("Annexation Instrument"). Such Deed-back and Annexation Instrument may be recorded by Seller upon Closing. Pending Closing, Purchaser shall remain fully liable for all costs, expenses, and other obligations of any and every kind related to the Fee Timeshare Interest ("Fee Timeshare Interest Obligations"). If the transaction contemplated hereby fails to close for any reason whatsoever, the Deed-back and Annexation Instrument will be cancelled and returned to Purchaser, and Purchaser will remain fully liable for the Fee Timeshare Interest Obligations.

(d) In the event that the Note, this Agreement, or the Deed-back and Annexation Instrument (if applicable), or any other document or instrument which evidences or secures payment of the Purchase Price, is misplaced or has not been completely and validly executed by Purchaser for any reason whatsoever, Seller shall have the option, in its sole discretion, (i) to cancel this Agreement at any time prior to Closing; or (ii) to send Purchaser whatever document(s) and/or instrument(s) that Seller needs Purchaser to re-execute, along with instructions on how to do so. In the event that Seller elects to cancel this Agreement, Seller shall provide written notice thereof to Purchaser and cause any funds held on Purchaser's behalf, without interest, to be refunded by Escrow Agent (defined below), to Purchaser, in which event this Agreement shall be deemed terminated and of no further force or legal effect. In the event Seller sends Purchaser any document or instrument for re-execution, Purchaser shall promptly re-execute same, cause his or her signature to be notarized (to the extent indicated), and return such document(s) and/or instrument(s) to Seller in accordance with Seller's written instructions. Purchaser's failure to do so for any reason within 10 calendar days following Purchaser's receipt thereof shall constitute a default hereunder, entitling Seller to exercise its available rights and remedies pursuant to Section 14 below.

NOTICE

ANY HOLDER OF THIS CONSUMER CREDIT CONTRACT IS SUBJECT TO ALL CLAIMS AND DEFENSES WHICH THE DEBTOR COULD ASSERT AGAINST THE SELLER OF GOODS OR SERVICES OBTAINED PURSUANT HERETO OR WITH THE PROCEEDS HEREOF. RECOVERY HEREUNDER BY THE DEBTOR SHALL NOT EXCEED AMOUNTS PAID BY THE DEBTOR.

3. SELLER'S RIGHT TO ACCEPT OR REJECT THIS AGREEMENT:

It is understood that Seller can accept or reject this Agreement. If Seller rejects this Agreement, Purchaser is only entitled to a refund of any payments made by Purchaser, without interest. This Agreement becomes effective and legally binding only when executed by both Parties. If Seller accepts this Agreement, then Seller, subject to Section 2 above, agrees to sell the Membership to Purchaser, and Purchaser agrees to make all of the payments required to be made under this Agreement when due and otherwise to comply fully with all of the terms, provisions, and conditions hereof and of the Collection Instruments.

4. DEPOSITS:

Purchaser's initial deposit and any subsequent payments made by Purchaser to Seller prior to Closing shall be delivered to and held in escrow by First American Title Insurance Company, the address of which is 1160 Town Center Drive, Suite 100, Las Vegas, Nevada 89144 ("Escrow Agent"), pursuant to a Master Escrow Agreement by and between Seller and Escrow Agent, the terms, provisions, and conditions of which are incorporated by this reference. Any and all interest that accrues on Purchaser's deposit and subsequent payments shall, except to the extent prohibited by law, be payable to and inure to the sole benefit of Seller and not be credited toward the Purchase Price. Escrow Agent shall hold all such deposits and other amounts until presentation by Seller of written instructions to the effect that Closing has occurred. Seller shall have no right to use any of the funds held by Escrow Agent until such funds have been delivered to Seller in accordance with the provisions hereof.

5. VACATION OWNERSHIP PLAN:

(a) The Membership is a form of a "right-to-use" timeshare interest, and Purchaser will not receive a deed to any interest in real property.

(b) Purchaser acknowledges that notwithstanding any provision of this Agreement or the Collection Instruments, unless Purchaser is purchasing Specific Use Points, Purchaser will not have the guaranteed exclusive right to reserve, use, and occupy any particular Collection Accommodation. Purchaser acknowledges that the Membership is subject to the Collection Instruments as amended and/or supplemented from time to time.

(c) The Collection shall be perpetual unless terminated by the Members in the manner described in the Collection Instruments.

(d) Purchaser may be prohibited from making a reservation or using and occupying a Collection Accommodation unless Purchaser has timely paid any and all Assessments, Personal Charges and other amounts levied pursuant to the Collection Instruments and otherwise fully complied with all of the terms, provisions, and conditions of the Collection Instruments.

6. ASSOCIATION MEMBERSHIP AND TRANSFER:

Upon Closing, Purchaser will automatically become a Member of the Association. Purchaser agrees to be subject to and to comply fully with the Collection Instruments. If the number of a Member's annual allotment of Points falls below the Minimum Points.

Threshold for any reason, such as the partial transfer of Points or expiration of Term Points, the affected Membership will cease to be a valid Membership unless sufficient additional Points are acquired to meet the Minimum Points Threshold. The current Minimum Points Threshold for a valid Membership is 2,000 Points. Any purchase of additional Points will be governed by prices in effect at the time of purchase. Purchaser's right to sell or otherwise transfer his or her Membership and the resulting update to the Register of Members is subject to prior approval by the Association and certain other applicable requirements set forth in the Collection Instruments.

7. ASSESSMENTS:

(a) Purchaser understands and agrees that in accordance with the provisions of the Collection Instruments, the Association is empowered to levy and collect Assessments against each Membership for management and maintenance expenses. In addition to Assessments, Purchaser understands and agrees that he or she will be responsible for the timely payment to the Association of any Personal Charges or other charges that he or she incurs, all in accordance with the provisions of the Collection Instruments. Assessments shall be due and payable to the Association prior to Purchaser's use and occupancy of a Collection Accommodation in Purchaser's Initial Use Year, as set forth on Page 1 hereof. The amount of the Assessments each year may vary and will be determined as outlined in the Collection Instruments.

(b) The Association may enforce Purchaser's obligation to pay Assessments and Personal Charges in the manner set forth in this Agreement and in the Collection Instruments or as otherwise permitted by law. Purchaser may be prohibited from reserving, using, or occupying any Collection Accommodation or exercising any other rights, benefits, or privileges to which Purchaser would otherwise be entitled pursuant to the Collection Instruments, unless all Assessments and other amounts that Purchaser owes the Association or Seller have first been paid in full. Purchaser's failure for any reason to pay on a timely basis any and all Assessments could result in the enforcement of the Association Security Interest (defined below) by the Association and the loss of Purchaser's Membership. Purchaser's failure for any reason to use and occupy a Collection Accommodation shall not exempt Purchaser from his or her obligation to pay in full all Assessments levied against his or her Membership.

8. EXCHANGE PROGRAMS:

The Association has entered into an Affiliation Agreement (the "Affiliation Agreement") with Diamond Resorts International Club, Inc. ("DRIC"). Under the Affiliation Agreement, the Association and the Collection are affiliated with THE Club. Purchaser's membership in THE Club is automatic and is subject to the annual payment of fees that are imposed by DRIC, and are subject to change in DRIC's sole discretion. The Affiliation Agreement permits the annual membership fee for THE Club to be collected by the Association along with the Assessments. Purchaser should refer to the Association budget for more details. Under the Affiliation Agreement, membership in THE Club may not be transferred without the consent of DRIC and transfer by Purchaser of the Membership in the Collection does not, without the consent of DRIC, have the effect of transferring membership in THE Club. THE Club may, but is not obligated to, have a relationship with an external exchange program. At the current time, THE Club is affiliated with Interval International, Inc. ("Interval International") under which Interval International has agreed to offer its reciprocal exchange services to members of THE Club. Exchanges through external exchange programs may be subject to certain terms, conditions and the payment of fees that are imposed by the external exchange program. Seller makes no representations concerning THE Club, Interval International, or any other exchange programs that may become affiliated with the Collection, including but not limited to current or future services to be provided, the cost, continued availability, or success of exchange programs. Any representations made regarding THE Club or Interval International by DRIC or its agents or employees or within the literature, brochures, or videos prepared or provided by DRIC or Interval International are solely the representations of DRIC or Interval International, respectively, and should not be relied upon as being the representations of Seller.

9. CLOSING:

Except as otherwise provided by applicable law, for purposes of this Agreement, the term "Closing" shall mean that date when all of the following have occurred: (i) the cancellation period set forth in Section 21 has expired without Purchaser having exercised his or her rescission right; (ii) Purchaser and Seller have executed, as applicable, all documents necessary to effect transfer of the Membership to Purchaser including, but not limited to, this Agreement, and if applicable, the Note; (iii) Seller has received from Purchaser either (a) an executed Note for the Unpaid Balance, or (b) the Unpaid Balance in immediately available funds; and (iv) the Purchaser has been entered into the Register of Members. Except as otherwise expressly provided in any of the Collection Instruments to the contrary, Purchaser may not reserve, use, or occupy any Collection Accommodation or exercise any other rights, benefits, or privileges appurtenant to his or her Membership until Closing occurs. If Closing has not occurred within one year following the date of this Agreement because Purchaser has elected to rescind this Agreement pursuant to Section 21 below, then Seller will within 20 days thereof, order any funds held on Purchaser's behalf, without interest, to be refunded by Escrow Agent to Purchaser, in which event this Agreement shall be deemed terminated and of no further force or legal effect. Escrow Agent shall act as the closing agent for the purposes of collecting and disbursing all applicable funds and distributing and filing all applicable documents and instruments. Upon Closing, Seller shall deliver to Purchaser a Points Certificate evidencing the Purchaser's Membership and a fully executed copy of this Agreement.

10. TITLE AND TITLE INSURANCE:

All Collection Accommodations have been constructed and are available for use by Members pursuant to the Collection Instruments. Purchaser understands and acknowledges that the basis for the Membership is certain real property interests (called "Resort Interests") in various resorts, hotels and other vacation properties and that title to those interests is held in a trust (the "Trust") for the benefit of the Association and Members pursuant to a recorded Trust Agreement with First American Trust, FSB, a federal savings bank or another independent trustee ("Trustee"). Resort Interests are conveyed to the Trust subject to the Trust Agreement and Declaration and are otherwise not encumbered with blanket liens of any lender or lienholder or have a nondisturbance agreement in place which fully protects the use and enjoyment rights of each Member in the event of foreclosure. Further, in connection with each conveyance of Resort Interests to the Trust, Seller has caused First American Title Insurance Company to issue in favor of the Association, where available, an ALTA Owners Title Insurance Policy insuring the Trustee's ownership of the Resort Interests. Copies of such Owners Title Insurance Policies are available for inspection by Members at the offices of the Association.

11. SECURITY INTERESTS:

(a) Seller's Security Interest. If Seller is providing Financing to Purchaser in connection with the purchase of the Membership, then Purchaser, as debtor, hereby grants to Seller, as secured party, effective as of Closing, a purchase money security interest (the "Seller Security Interest") in the Membership and in all rights, benefits and privileges appurtenant thereto as established in the Collection Instruments and all rights, benefits and privileges accruing thereto in the future, all replacements and additions to the foregoing, and all proceeds thereof (collectively, the "Collateral") to secure Purchaser's performance under the Note, this Agreement, and the Collection Instruments. No waiver by Seller or any holder of this Agreement of any default or breach by Purchaser shall operate as a waiver of any other default or breach, whether of the same type or not, by Purchaser.

(b) Association's Security Interest. Purchaser, as debtor, hereby grants to Association, as secured party, effective as of Closing, a security interest (the "Association Security Interest") in the Collateral to secure Purchaser's timely payment of Assessments and Personal Charges and Purchaser's performance under the Collection Instruments. The Association Security Interest shall, at all times, be junior and subordinate to the Seller Security Interest.

(c) Financing Statements. Purchaser irrevocably authorizes Seller and the Association, at any time and from time to time, to file in any Uniform Commercial Code ("UCC") jurisdiction initial financing statements and any amendments thereto that provide any other information required by Part 5 of Article 9 of the UCC of the applicable jurisdiction for the sufficiency, or filing office acceptance of, any financing statement or amendment, including (i) Purchaser's name and address, and (ii) if Purchaser is not an individual, Purchaser's type of organization and any organizational identification number issued to Purchaser. Purchaser shall furnish any such information in writing to Seller or the Association, as the case may be, within five (5) days after Seller's or Association's request. Each person identified as Purchaser in this Agreement represents and warrants to Seller and the Association that on the date of this Agreement he or she is domiciled in the state identified below his or her signature on this Agreement. Each person identified as a Purchaser in this Agreement shall notify Seller and the Association in writing if he or she changes his or her state of domicile within 30 days after such change. Such notice shall identify the state of such person's new domicile and his or her residential address therein.

(d) Association as Third-Party Beneficiary. Solely for purposes of this Section 11, the Association is an intended third-party beneficiary of this Agreement and is entitled to enforce the Association Security Interest granted by Purchaser hereunder.

12. PURCHASER'S REPRESENTATIONS, WARRANTIES, AND ACKNOWLEDGMENTS:

(a) Purchaser represents and warrants that the persons signing this Agreement have the legal capacity and are duly authorized to do so. Purchaser represents and warrants that Purchaser is not, and shall not become, a person with whom Seller is restricted from doing business with under the regulations of the Department of Treasury Office of Foreign Asset Control ("OFAC"). Such representation shall include, but not be limited to, a the representation that Purchaser is not a person or entity and is not acting on behalf of a person or entity named on OFAC's Specifically Designated Nationals and Blocked Persons list and Purchaser is not a resident or national of any Embargoed Country, as defined by OFAC. Purchaser acknowledges that prior to signing this Agreement, Purchaser received the state timeshare disclosure documents, together with the attached exhibits, all of which are hereby incorporated by this reference, and Purchaser agrees to be strictly bound by, and to comply fully with, the terms, provisions, and conditions of such documents, as each may properly be amended or supplemented from time to time. In the event of any conflict between this Agreement and the state timeshare disclosures, the state timeshare disclosures shall control. Purchaser further acknowledges and represents that the Membership is being purchased for Purchaser's personal use and not for its investment potential or any possible rent returns, tax advantages, depreciation, or other financial advantages and that no representations of any nature whatsoever have been made by Seller or any of its salespersons or other agents to Purchaser concerning investment potential, rent returns, tax advantages, depreciation, or other financial advantages. Purchaser, including any person or entity related to Purchaser, does not own an interest in more than 10 Memberships in the Collection. Purchaser understands that Seller has no resale or rental program for non-Seller owned Memberships and acknowledges that neither Seller nor any of its sales agents, employees, or other representatives has indicated that Purchaser will be assisted in the resale or rental of his or her Membership in the future. Purchaser represents that Purchaser does not intend to use any Collection Accommodation as his or her principal residence. If Purchaser has received Financing, then Purchaser acknowledges receipt of a completed Truth-in-Lending Disclosure Statement prior to executing this Agreement. Purchaser hereby agrees to indemnify and hold Seller harmless from and against any and all loss, threat of loss, suits, claims, actions, liabilities, damages, obligations, demands, costs and expenses (including attorney's fees) arising out of or in connection with any breach by Purchaser's representations and warranties. All of Purchaser's acknowledgments, representations and warranties set forth herein shall survive Closing.

(b) Purchaser acknowledges and agrees that immediately following Closing, Seller shall have no further obligations or liabilities of any kind under this Agreement, or under any other document or instrument referred to in this Agreement, and Purchaser shall look solely to the Association and the Manager, together with any other entities that from time to time become obligated to Purchaser as provided in the Collection Instruments, for the fulfillment and satisfaction of any of Purchaser's rights, benefits, and privileges as a Member of the Collection, and not to Seller.

13. NO WARRANTIES:

EXCEPT AS OTHERWISE EXPRESSLY PROVIDED HEREIN, OR BY APPLICABLE LAW, SELLER MAKES NO WARRANTIES, EXPRESS OR IMPLIED, OF ANY TYPE WHATSOEVER REGARDING THE COLLECTION OR THE COLLECTION ACCOMMODATIONS, INCLUDING BUT NOT LIMITED TO WARRANTIES OF HABITABILITY, MERCHANTABILITY, OR FITNESS FOR A PARTICULAR PURPOSE. SELLER EXPRESSLY DISCLAIMS, AND PURCHASER IRREVOCABLY WAIVES, EACH OF THE FOREGOING WARRANTIES.

14. DEFAULT:

(a) Subject to any notice and right to cure provided below, Purchaser shall be in default under this Agreement if Purchaser fails to pay on time, keep any promise, or fulfill any agreement or obligation contained in the Note, this Agreement or any of the Collection Instruments. In the event of a default by Purchaser, Purchaser shall not be entitled to reserve, use, or occupy any Collection Accommodation, or to exercise any other rights, benefits, or privileges appurtenant to his or her Membership.

(b) Subject to any notice and right to cure provided below, Purchaser and Seller agree that: Purchaser's default on or before Closing shall entitle Seller to immediately terminate this Agreement and all of Purchaser's rights, benefits, and privileges hereunder. Upon such termination, Seller shall retain or cause Escrow Agent to deliver to Seller all sums of money previously paid by Purchaser hereunder as liquidated damages and not as a penalty.

(c) Upon Purchaser's failure to timely perform any of Purchaser's obligations under the Note, this Agreement or any of the Collection Instruments after Closing, Purchaser shall be in default hereunder, whereupon Seller (or its successor or assign) may enforce the Seller Security Interest against the Collateral in accordance with this Subparagraph. Upon the occurrence of any such failure, including the non-payment of any amounts due and owing by Purchaser under the Collection Instruments, Seller shall give Purchaser written notice and if Purchaser has not cured the applicable failure within 10 days after Seller gives such notice if Purchaser has failed to pay money, or within 30 days after Seller gives such notice if Purchaser has failed to perform or observe any other term of the Note, this Agreement or any of the Collection Instruments, Purchaser shall be in default under this Agreement and Seller (or its successor or assign) may (a) enforce the Seller Security Interest in accordance with Article 9 of the UCC; (b) provide written notice of termination of the Membership and terminate the Membership within 60 days of the date of the notice of termination and retain all amounts previously paid by Purchaser as liquidated damages and not as a penalty; or (c) pursue any other remedy available to Seller, at law or in equity, however, Seller hereby confirms that it will not seek any deficiency judgment against defaulting Purchaser beyond the forfeiture of the Membership.

(d) Notwithstanding the foregoing provisions of this Section 10 to the contrary, if, for any reason, Seller is unable or fails to comply with the material provisions of this Agreement, then the sole obligation of Seller shall be to refund or cause Escrow Agent to refund (whichever is applicable) to Purchaser all payments previously made by Purchaser hereunder, without interest. Upon such refunds being made, this Agreement shall be deemed canceled, and all rights and obligations hereunder shall immediately terminate. TO THE EXTENT PERMITTED BY APPLICABLE LAW, PURCHASER HEREBY WAIVES ANY AND ALL RIGHTS AND REMEDIES THAT MIGHT OTHERWISE BE AVAILABLE TO PURCHASER, AT LAW OR IN EQUITY.

15. NO OTHER AGREEMENTS OR REPRESENTATIONS:

Seller and Purchaser agree that this Agreement (including the documents and instruments incorporated by reference) embodies the entire agreement between them related to Purchaser's purchase and financing (if applicable) of the Membership and supersedes and replaces any and all prior negotiations, representations, agreements, and understandings, both oral and written, in connection therewith. No amendment to or modification of the terms of this Agreement shall be valid without the written approval of the legal counsel of Seller. Oral representations of Seller or Seller's agents should not be relied upon by Purchaser as correctly stating the representations of Seller. For correct representations, Purchaser should rely entirely on this Agreement and the documents and instruments contained by reference.

16. ASSIGNMENT AND SEVERABILITY:

This Agreement shall be binding upon and inure to the benefit of the Parties, their respective heirs, successors, assigns, and personal representatives. Purchaser's Membership cannot be sold, assigned, transferred, conveyed, or encumbered except in accordance with the terms, provisions, and conditions hereof and the Collection Instruments. Purchaser acknowledges that Seller has the right, in its sole discretion, to assign some or all of its rights and interests hereunder and, if applicable, under the Note. Purchaser may not assign any of his or her rights or interests hereunder, without the written consent of Seller, which consent may be withheld in Seller's sole and absolute discretion. The terms and provisions hereof shall be deemed independent and severable, and the invalidity of any one provision or portion thereof shall not affect the validity or enforceability of any other provision hereof.

17. CHOICE OF STATE LAW AND FORUM; WAIVER OF JURY TRIAL:

Except to the extent preempted by federal law, this Agreement shall be exclusively governed by and construed in accordance with the laws of Nevada without regard to its choice of law rules. Subject to Section 14 hereof, any legal action or proceeding arising out of or in any way relating to this Agreement which is not subject to the Arbitration provisions outlined below, shall only be brought in an appropriate court of competent jurisdiction on behalf of the Parties and their respective successors and assigns, hereby irrevocably submit to the jurisdiction of any such court and agree that venue properly lies solely in such courts to the exclusion of all other judicial and non-judicial forums. EXCEPT AS OTHERWISE PROVIDED BY APPLICABLE LAW, THE PARTIES, AND ANY OTHER PERSON CLAIMING RIGHTS OR OBLIGATIONS BY, THROUGH, OR UNDER THIS AGREEMENT SHALL BE DEEMED TO HAVE WAIVED ANY RIGHT THEY MAY HAVE UNDER ANY APPLICABLE LAW TO A TRIAL BY JURY IN CONNECTION WITH ANY SUIT OR LEGAL PROCEEDING THAT MAY BE COMMENCED BY OR AGAINST ANY OF THE FOREGOING PERSONS CONCERNING THE INTERPRETATION, CONSTRUCTION, VALIDITY, ENFORCEMENT, OR PERFORMANCE OF THIS AGREEMENT OR ANY OF THE COLLECTION INSTRUMENTS.

18. ARBITRATION PROVISION

(a) Opt-Out Right. IF PURCHASER DOES NOT WANT THIS ARBITRATION PROVISION TO APPLY, WITHIN 30 DAYS PURCHASER MUST SEND A SIGNED LETTER TO SELLER STATING THAT THE ARBITRATION PROVISION DOES NOT APPLY. OPTING OUT OF ARBITRATION WILL NOT AFFECT ANY OTHER PROVISION OF THIS AGREEMENT.

(b) Arbitration Terms Defined. In this Arbitration Provision, the term "Company Party" means Seller and/or the Association, their affiliates and the agents, representatives, members, employees, officers and/or directors of such entities, if and to the extent that any Claim is asserted by or against such entity or person. "Bound Parties" means each Company Party and Purchaser. "Claim" means any legal claim, dispute or controversy between any Company Party and Purchaser, including statutory, contract and tort disputes of all kinds and disputes involving requests for declaratory relief, injunctions or other equitable relief. However, "Claim" does not include any individual action brought by a Purchaser in small claims court or an equivalent court, unless such action is transferred, removed, or appealed to a different court, and does not include any dispute concerning the validity and effect of Section 18(h) below, the ban on class actions and certain other proceedings (the "Class Action Ban"). "Administrator" means the American Arbitration Association ("AAA"), 1633 Broadway, 10th Floor, New York, NY 10019, <http://www.adr.org>, or if Purchaser so elects in a notice given to Seller (which will serve as notice to each Company Party) within 20 days after a demand for arbitration, the National Arbitration Forum ("NAF"), P.O. Box 50191, Minneapolis, MN 55405, <http://www.arb-forum.com>.

(c) Arbitration of Claims. Unless Purchaser has exercised his or her opt-out right pursuant to Section 18(a), upon the election of Purchaser or any Company Party, any Claim between Purchaser and such Company Party shall be resolved by binding individual (and not class) arbitration. Any arbitration will be conducted in accordance with this Arbitration Provision and, to the extent consistent with this Arbitration Provision, the rules of the Administrator in effect at the time the Claim is filed. The neutral arbitrator shall be appointed within a specified period of time, which in no event shall be more than 60 days from the administrator's receipt of a written request from a Bound Party to arbitrate the Claim. To the extent this Arbitration Provision conflicts with any other agreement binding the Bound Parties, this Arbitration Provision shall govern.

(d) Fees: Location. Any Company Party to a Claim asserted by Purchaser in good faith or to any Claim asserted by such Company Party will bear all fees of the Administrator or arbitrator in connection with such Claim. The Company Party will also bear the reasonable fees and expenses of Purchaser's attorneys if any Claim initiated by Purchaser is resolved in Purchaser's favor. If a participatory arbitration hearing is requested, it will take place in the county where this Agreement was signed or, if the Administrator determines that such location would be unfair to Purchaser, at a location reasonably convenient to Purchaser.

(e) Governing Law. This Arbitration Provision shall be governed by the Federal Arbitration Act (the "FAA") and not state arbitration laws, provided that Nevada law shall govern to the extent that state law is relevant under the FAA in determining the enforceability of this Arbitration Provision. The arbitrator shall follow applicable substantive laws, statutes of limitations and privilege rules related to any Claim. The arbitrator shall award the remedies, if any, that would be available in an individual court proceeding if arbitration had not been elected. Upon the timely request of any Bound Party, the arbitrator shall write a brief explanation of the grounds for his or her decision.

(f) Appeal of Arbitrator's Decision. Any court with jurisdiction may enter judgment upon the arbitrator's award. The arbitrator's decision will be final and binding, except for any appeal right under the FAA.

(g) Jury Trial Waiver. IF A BOUND PARTY ELECTS TO ARBITRATE A CLAIM, NO BOUND PARTY WILL HAVE THE RIGHT TO PURSUE THAT CLAIM IN COURT OR HAVE A JURY DECIDE THE CLAIM.

(h) Class Action Ban. NO BOUND PARTY MAY PARTICIPATE IN A CLASS ACTION IN COURT OR IN CLASS-WIDE ARBITRATION, EITHER AS A REPRESENTATIVE, CLASS MEMBER OR OTHERWISE, WITH RESPECT TO ANY CLAIM. NO BOUND PARTY MAY PARTICIPATE IN A PRIVATE ATTORNEY GENERAL PROCEEDING IN COURT OR IN ARBITRATION, WITH RESPECT TO ANY CLAIM. NO CLAIMS INVOLVING THE BOUND PARTIES MAY BE JOINED OR CONSOLIDATED WITH CLAIMS BY OR AGAINST ANY OTHER PERSON. Notwithstanding any language in this Arbitration Provision to the contrary, any dispute about the validity or effect of the above Class Action Ban shall be resolved by a court and not an arbitrator or the Administrator.

(i) Survival: Severability. This Arbitration Provision shall survive repayment of all amounts owed under this Agreement or the Note, the cancellation of this Agreement, any bankruptcy and any assignment of Seller's rights under this Agreement and/or the Note. If any part of this Arbitration Provision is unenforceable (other than the Class Action Ban), the remainder of this Arbitration Provision shall still apply. If the Class Action Ban is held to be unenforceable, this Arbitration Provision (other than this sentence) and any other arbitration provision between the Bound Parties shall be null and void in such proceeding, provided that the Company Party shall have the right to appeal any holding that the Class Action Ban is unenforceable.

19. NOTICES:

Any notice that either party hereto desires or is required to give the other party under this Agreement shall be in writing and shall be deemed to have been duly given upon the earlier to occur of (a) its actual receipt; (b) 3 business days after being deposited in the United States mail as first class mail, postage prepaid; or (c) 1 business day after being sent via overnight courier service addressed to the applicable party at its address stated herein or at such other address as the receiving party has previously notified the giving party in the manner prescribed in this Section. If Purchaser consists of more than 1 person, then notice to any of them shall be deemed to constitute notice to all of them. Unless and until written notice of an alternative addressee and address is received by the other party, the last addressee and address as stated by written notice or as provided herein, shall be deemed to continue in effect for all purposes hereunder.

20. MISCELLANEOUS:

Purchaser is advised to read each and every paragraph very carefully. No term, provision, condition, restriction, agreement, covenant, or obligation contained herein shall be deemed to have been abrogated or waived by reason of any failure by a party hereto to enforce the same, irrespective of the number of violations or breaches thereof that may occur. The exercise of any right or remedy provided by law and/or the provisions of this Agreement shall not preclude the exercise of other consistent rights or remedies unless they are expressly precluded hereby. Purchaser hereby grants Seller the right, in its sole discretion, to correct any scrivener's, typographic, or clerical errors in connection with this Agreement or any documents or instruments related hereto, provided that no such correction adversely affects any rights, benefits, or privileges afforded to Purchaser or materially alters any duties or obligations of Purchaser. Any such corrections shall be initialed by an authorized representative of Seller and shall be legally binding upon Purchaser, together with its successors and assigns, even though not initialed or otherwise acknowledged by Purchaser. All Collection Accommodations have been constructed and are available for use by Members pursuant to the Collection Instruments. Under no circumstances whatsoever shall this Agreement or any portion hereof be recorded in the public records of any county or other jurisdiction. The captions used in this Agreement are for informational purposes only and do not amplify or limit in any way the provisions hereof.

21. STATE SPECIFIC PROVISIONS:

(b) Resale of Membership. Any resale of this timeshare interest must be accompanied by certain disclosures in accordance with section 721.065, Florida Statutes.

Points based on the deposit of a Qualifying Interest with THE Club may only be used for reservations at Club Resorts. Points may also be used for Club Benefits such as travel services, home and lifestyle, money matters, etc. You must use your Points in accordance with the Club Documents, which entitle you to make reservations at Club Resorts 10 months or less from the arrival date. If you cease to own your Qualifying Interest, points in this Program will no longer count towards loyalty status.

Also, a $104 banking fee will be required for each Qualifying Interest assigned to THE Club. A discounted administration fee of $84 for Silver, $64 for Gold and $54 for Platinum loyalty level Club members will be assessed. On behalf of Diamond Resorts International®, we welcome you as a Member of one of the most flexible and enjoyable vacation plans anywhere in the world. To help reassure your understanding, please review and initial each of the following items. Unless context suggests otherwise, capitalized terms used have the meaning given them in the Collection Instruments.

RB MB 1. I understand title or other beneficial interest to all the timeshare intervals included in Diamond Resorts U.S. Collection (the "Collection") will be held in Trust by an independent Trustee, which holds title on behalf of and for the benefit of all the Collection Members. Additionally, I understand that I will receive a Collection Membership Certificate and an Eagle 9 UCC Vacation Interest Insurance Policy within 6 to 8 weeks after closing. My Membership is intended to be perpetual in nature and can be passed to my heir.

RB MB 2. I understand that I am purchasing 4500 Points today at an aggregate purchase price of $16,300.00. My first year's maintenance fees on these Points is estimated to be 1,167.00 and if my first use year is within the current calendar year, it is estimated that I will be billed within 45 days of this purchase. My first use year begins 2016, when I will receive my first allocation of timeshare points ("Points").

RB MB 3. I may use my Points to reserve, use and occupy any available Collection Accommodation, up to my available Points allocation, according to the then-current Regulations. I may make a reservation at any Collection resort, in different-sized units, for different lengths of stays, for any time during the year. Unless indicated otherwise in THE Club® Points Directory, the minimum stay is 2 nights within the Collection and all reservations are subject to availability. _____

RB MB 4. Points are valid only in the year they are allotted, and if not used (or saved), will expire on December 31st of that year. I understand that if I do not use my Points, I may save them for use in the upcoming year by calling the reservation office. The earlier in the current year that I call, the higher number of Points I may save for the next year. If I call prior to June 30th, I can save up to 100% of them. If I call by August 31st, I can save up to 50%. If I call by October 31st, I can save up to 25%. If I call after October 31st, I cannot save any Points.

RB MB 5. I understand that I may also borrow Points from the upcoming year to use in the current year by calling the reservation office at any time. When I call, I must be current in my annual assessments (described below in paragraph 14) and I must pay all or a portion of my annual assessments for the upcoming year.

RB MB 6. I understand that my Collection Membership entitles me to an allotment on January 1st each year of that number of Points that I have purchased today.

RB MB 7. Diamond Resorts International Club, Inc. ("DRIC") has agreed to include Members of the Diamond Resorts U.S. Collection Members Association ("Association") in THE Club exchange program ("THE Club"). If I enroll as a member of THE Club®, I can use part or all of my annual allotment of Collection Points to reserve accommodations in any THE Club exchange resort.

RB MB 8. I have received and reviewed copies of THE Club Points Directory and THE Club Benefits Directory (together referenced "THE Club® Directory"), which describe THE Club current exchange resort destinations and their Points values. It also includes instructions for making a reservation and calculating the number of Points that I will need for each of my vacations. I understand that THE Club® Directory will be updated periodically, and that the resorts included in THE Club exchange may change without notice.

RB MB 9. As described in THE Club Directory, I may make a reservation as early as 13 months in advance of my desired vacation check-in date at any of the Home Collection resorts. I may make a reservation at any other THE Club® exchange resort as early as 10 months in advance of my desired vacation check-in date.

RB MB 10. I have received THE Club Benefits Directory, which describes the various types of Club member benefits such as travel, home and lifestyle, money matters and, depending on the number of points purchased, Loyalty tier benefits. These benefits currently include, but are not limited to, airline flights, cruises, discount cards, legal protection plans, and for Gold and Platinum members, access to Diamond Luxury Selection. I understand that these are incidental benefits, and their terms, may be changed, substituted, or terminated at any time without notice. Some benefits may not be available to all membership types.

RB MB 11. When I occupy the accommodations at THE Club exchange resorts, I will abide by THE Club exchange resorts rules and regulations, including the occupancy limits and check-in and check-out times set for the unit.

RB MB 12. If I cancel a confirmed reservation less than 91 days before my scheduled arrival date, I will lose some or all of the Points used to make that reservation. If I fail to occupy a unit that I reserved, I will not be refunded my Points used to make that reservation, unless I have also purchased the optional Reservation Protection Plan (RPP) service.

RB MB 13. I understand that all Collection resorts and THE Club exchange resort reservations are confirmed pursuant to the Collection and/or exchange rules on a "first-come, first-served" space-available basis and are not guaranteed.

RB MB 14. I understand that if I become a member of THE Club, I will automatically become a member of the Interval International exchange program ("II") at no extra cost to me. This membership is exclusively for the purpose of requesting an II exchange using Points and if I request an exchange through II, I will pay an exchange fee to II. I understand that THE Club® may change or cancel its affiliation agreement with II at any time.

RB MB 15. I acknowledge that I will be billed annually by the Association an assessment fee, which may be collected together with the membership fee and dues for THE Club. These fees are related to the operation of THE Club and the Collection and cover my share of the resort operation, maintenance and property taxes, which may be modified annually as determined DRIC or by the Association. I understand that I must be current on all fees in order to make reservations, to stay at either a Collection resort, THE Club exchange resort or Interval International resort, to save or borrow Points or to conduct any other transaction relating to my Points.

RD MB 16. I have acquired a Collection Membership for my own personal use and enjoyment. No representations of any nature concerning investment potential, refinancing, rental returns, tax advantages, appreciation/depreciation, or other possible financial benefits have been made by Seller or any of its agents. I understand that I may periodically rent or allow others to use my use rights, but that I may not use the Collection Accommodations for any commercial purposes, including but not limited to commercial renting activities. I understand that public advertising in print or online to seek renters is deemed a prohibited commercial use.

RB MB 17. I may sell my Membership rights, subject to a transfer fee. I acknowledge, however, that my membership in THE Club will terminate upon any transfer and the new owner will be obligated to purchase either a THE Club exchange membership from DRIC, or a Collection membership. No transfer fee or exchange purchase requirement will apply if my Membership passes to my heir upon my death.

RB MB 18. I understand that currently, the Seller nor the Developer offer a resale, buyback or rental program.

RB MB 19. I understand my Purchase and Security Agreement contains the entire agreement between Seller and me. I have not relied and may not rely upon any representations, whether oral or written, which are not set forth in the Purchase and Security Agreement. I further understand that if permitted by controlling state law, the Collection Instruments, THE Club Directory, THE Club Exchange Documents, the Interval International Document, the Regulations and the Privacy Policy may be delivered to me electronically in CD form. I understand that hard copies of such documents are available to me upon request.

RB MB 20. I understand that, if I fail for any reason to satisfy all of my financial obligations to Seller and the Association on a timely basis, I will be in default under my Purchase and Security Agreement and the Collection Instruments. If such default is not promptly cured, my Membership (ownership) may be terminated, whereupon I will forfeit all amounts previously paid to Seller and to the Association.

RD MB 21. By initialing here, I authorize Diamond Resorts International Marketing, Inc., and/or its affiliates and successors to text me or call my cell/telephone number listed below with a telephone dialing system regarding promotional offers,

FREQUENTLY ASKED QUESTIONS

1. Q. What is THE Club Combinations™?

A. THE Club Combinations allows qualifying members of THE Club* at Diamond Resorts International* to assign their non-affiliated ownership interest to THE Club in exchange for points.

2. Q. How do I exchange with THE Club Combinations?

A. Upon qualifying, you will complete THE Club Combinations Assurance Agreement and propose the inventory you would like to exchange. Diamond Resorts will then see if your ownership interest is qualified for THE Club Combinations program. Once qualified, you may exchange the qualifying, approved inventory by completing THE Club Combinations Exchange Online Form from your Member Account at DiamondResorts.com, or complete and return the attached Exchange Form. Please note: THE Club Combinations may require a 30-day waiting period (from the points date of purchase) before you may start taking advantage of the program.

3. Q. Do all resorts qualify for the THE Club Combinations?

A. Ownership interests must be affiliated with either Resort Condominiums International* ("RCI") or Interval International* ("II") and be pre-approved by Diamond Resorts International for inclusion in THE Club Combinations.

4. Q. How are the points values of my exchange ownership interest determined?

A. The points values used in exchange for qualifying timeshare interests have been established based upon the current seasonal designation and unit size at each resort, as designated by RCI or II.

5. Q. When are points allocated to my account for my exchanged ownership interest?

A. THE Club Combinations process may take up to 30 days to complete upon receipt of the completed Exchange Form. To start the process, follow these steps:

1. Contact your resort and book a reservation under the name of THE Club Combinations. Exchange forms received no less than six months, and no more than two years from arrival date, receive full points value.
2. You can either log on to your Member Account at DiamondResorts.com, mail, or fax THE Club Combinations exchange form to THE Club Combinations for verification.
3. Once you place your resort reservation and it is verified, the inventory administrative fee will be assessed by either a THE Club Combinations representative or a partner company of THE Club who will contact you. Please do not submit payment prior to the verification of your reservation.
4. Points are allocated to your account with THE Club once the administrative fee is paid.

6. Q. How much does it cost to exchange with THE Club Combinations?

A. In addition to your annual dues for THE Club, a non-refundable $99 administrative fee will be assessed for each ownership interest that is assigned to THE Club Combinations. Loyalty level Club members qualify for a discounted administrative fee.

7. Q. Will my points for THE Club Combinations have any restrictions different from my points in THE Club?

A. No, points from THE Club Combinations follow the same guidelines as outlined in THE Club Annual Global Reservations Directory. You may use points for making reservations within THE Club, as well as for Club member benefits such as travel, home and lifestyle, or money matters.

8. Q. Once I exchange with THE Club Combinations and assign my non-affiliated ownership interest to THE Club, do I still own my ownership interest?

A. Yes. You are simply assigning that year's use rights to THE Club at Diamond Resorts International. This process is the same as assigning your ownership interest to II or RCI.

9. Q. Can I/Diamond Resorts International cancel the Agreement?

A. Yes. You can cancel pursuant to the terms of the Agreement. Diamond also has the unilateral right to cancel/change this program without notice.

10. Q. Do I still remit maintenance fees for my exchanged ownership interest to my homeowner's association?

A. Yes. You are responsible for paying the annual maintenance and other fees required by your homeowner's association/resort, and must do so before you exchange through THE Club Combinations.

11. Q. May I exchange all-inclusive resorts with THE Club Combinations?

A. All-inclusive resorts may be exchanged when the depositing member pays their resort the all-inclusive fee for double occupancy in advance. Once the fee is paid, a letter from the resort is submitted to THE Club Combinations to finish the exchange process.

12. Q. What if my non-affiliated ownership interest has already been deposited with another exchange company?

A. You do not receive a points allocation for any ownership interest deposited with another exchange company.

13. Q. How do I get my Loyalty level status?

A. Your Loyalty level status is based upon the Collection points purchased plus THE Club Combinations declared points.

Re: Complaint No. CC-2016-05-012828/Ronald & Melody Bonar
(Diamond File No. 16-350)

Dear Ms. Griffith:

We are writing in response to your letter, dated May 25, 2016, regarding the above-referenced complaint on behalf of Diamond Resorts U.S. Collection Development, LLC, which is part of the Diamond Resorts International family of companies ("Diamond"). The purpose of this letter is to provide you with an update regarding our investigation and resolution of this matter.

A. Internal Investigation Findings

We have carefully reviewed the Bonars' complaint and our own records. We also have conducted an internal investigation of the matter and have reached our conclusions based on our review of the record. We respectfully disagree with many of the allegations in the Bonars' complaint.

On February 16, 2016, while staying at Cypress Pointe in Orlando, Florida, the Bonars decided to purchase 4,500 points in Diamond's US Collection. The sales agent assigned to the Bonars' February 2016 purchase was Sheryl Rotondi, the sales manager assigned to the transaction was Lina Dehneh, and the Quality Assurance officer was Enid Alicea.

While the Bonars allege they took a handwritten cancellation letter to Cypress Pointe on February 19, 2016, we note that the Bonars still had another seven days before the rescission period expired to mail their letter to Diamond. That the Bonars addressed the letter to the Rescission Coordinator at Diamond's Las Vegas, Nevada office supports the conclusion that they understood how to exercise their right of rescission but decided not to mail this letter to Diamond prior to expiration of the rescission period. Moreover, Diamond's records indicate that, shortly after February 19, 2016, the Bonars had several conversations with Diamond.

hospitality representatives during which they appeared satisfied with their purchase, including indicating they were making plans for reservations. During these conversations, the Bonars made no mention of wanting to cancel their purchase. Significantly, the Bonars used their ownership to book a 7-night stay at Grand Villas Resort in Orlando, Florida from February 20 to February 27, 2016. On May 5, 2016, the Bonars paid off their February 2016 purchase in full.

On May 16, 2016, while staying at The Suites at Fall Creek in Branson, Missouri, the Bonars decided to purchase an additional 4,000 points in Diamond's US Collection. The sales agent assigned to the Bonars' May 2016 purchase was James Hutchinson, the sales manager assigned to the transaction was Ryan Gist, and the Quality Assurance officer was Robert Shirley. In a letter postmarked May 19, 2016, the Bonars timely requested that Diamond cancel and refund their purchase. Diamond received this request on May 23, 2016, and approved the cancellation before it received a copy of the Bonars' complaint. The cancellation and refund was fully processed as of May 27, 2016.

B. Resolution

Please know that Diamond takes the concerns of its owners, members, and guests very seriously. Based upon the results of our internal investigation summarized above, Diamond submits that any issues with respect to the Bonars' May 2016 purchase were resolved through cancellation and refund prior to Diamond's receipt of the complaint. As for the Bonars' February 2016 purchase, Diamond submits that the complaint is without merit, and accordingly will not agree to release the Bonars from their binding contractual obligations at this time, but will continue to make available opportunities to meet their vacation needs.

We hope this additional information dispels and alleviates any concerns you may have regarding the above-referenced complaint.

Sincerely,

Barbara A. Kerchner

We received your envelope from Barbara Kerchner at Diamond Resorts. She did not address at all the registered letter we sent them on 5/23/16 to cancel contract # 17383179 dated 2/16/16 according to Florida Statute 721.07(6) which states we have "10 days from receiving LAST of ALL DOCUMENTS" to send intent to cancel letter which they received on 5/27/16. We have NEVER received this document, but the sales people in Branson, MO showed it to us at a training turned sales meeting on 5/16/16.

Diamond needs to cancel the contract and refund ALL monies they have received from us and refund all credit card charges, etc. OR their license to operate in MO & FL should be suspended!!

Thank you Carol for your help with this situation/ matter.

I talked to Barbara Kerchner on 6/17/16 about a cancellation of contract request & complaint to the MO Attorney General's office. She said to email you.

We sent a request on 5/23/16 to Diamonds and it was received on 5/27/16. We asked to cancel contract #17383179 dated 2/16/16 because we have not received all pertinent documents per the 10 day Florida law 721.07(6). We did not discover this until a training meeting turned into an entrapment sales meeting we attended in Branson on 5/16/16 where your salesman repeatedly showed us this document* we had signed on 2/16/16. Then saying we had to sign another contract to update to "silver forever" plus 4500 more points. $16,000 + $16,000. = $32,000. - we don't have this much money!!! We told Lina Dehnel this in Feb. also.

This document* that we have NEVER received has on it "CCOM forever" and "silver for 2 years" and our signatures: Ronald Bonar and Melody Bonar. This is a "pertinent" document* to show what we were to get or have as far as how long. It was used by the Branson sales people against us. .

We are also upset with what Lina Dehnel told us - We had told her we didn't have any money; we had just signed on 1/27/16 with Summer Bay/ Exploria resorts for almost $10,000., but she said, "Send them a letter to cancel that contract & date it 2/5/16 (even though it was 2/16/16) and they would cancel". We did what she said but they won't cancel and we still owe them $10,000. also!!! We can't afford both!! The closer promised us copies of ALL documents* signed on 2/16/16, but after the sales meeting in Branson we went to our room and looked at every document & this one the Branson salesman showed us wasn't among what we received, but we did find the document about our right to cancel based on 10 days after ALL documents whichever is later. We still haven't gotten this document*!! Also Lina said we could use our 4500 points plus CCOM points of 8740 from our Bahamas week plus the 3375 bonus points = 16,615 to call Diamonds in Dec. & book a 1 bedroom unit in Hawaii for 8 weeks for 16,000 points to stay the 1st 8 weeks of Jan. & Feb., 2017 and then 6-8 wks. every year after in Hawaii!! We became very doubtful we could do this.

Back to 2/19/16 - We decided we couldn't afford to do this with the Exploria not cancelled so we took a cancellation letter back into the cubical where we had signed everything and gave it to the lady. She read it and said she had to get Lina. Lina came in and reassured us over & over & over that the Exploria contract would be cancelled and said "no problem" getting into Hawaii next Jan. & Feb. 2017 for 8 weeks!! She did not tell us we had to mail our cancellation letter to Las Vegas!

A lady called us in March and said we needed to attend a "Training meeting" in Branson so she arranged that for 5/16/16. When we got there these salesman were well prepared for us - not to train, but to sell us more points. They pulled this document* out knowing we did not have a copy of it & that we had not been to an (estate meeting???) When we said we couldn't afford the 4500 points to reach 15,000 points or silver level, they asked us what we could afford. We thought and said 2000 points at $3.+/- point so they then pulled out a paper for 2000 points (how well planned), but for $8.+/- point & 2% higher interest so amount owed was still about the same!

The Orlando & Branson sales people lied to us about having everything we needed to go to Hawaii and not going without more points. We believe this document* that they had was not given to us intentionally!!!

When we read the document about cancelling within 10 days of receiving ALL documents we knew we had no chance but cancel all Diamonds contracts so we did!

PS Several years ago we went to a Diamonds presentation in Hawaii. It was pleasant, but these Orlando/ Branson sales pitches were nightmares and we would not recommend them to anybody!!! Are you aware what your sales people do? Please stop breaking the Florida statutes on timeshares 721.07(6).

Please cancel this contract #17383179 and return all our monies sent to you and the 3 credit card charges. Plus return our promissory note/ loan papers marked cancelled.

Florida Law - "You may cancel this contract without penalty or obligation within (10) calendar days after the date you sign this contract OR the date on which you receive the LAST of ALL DOCUMENTS, required to be given to you pursuant to Section 721.07(6) Florida Statutes, WHICHEVER IS LATER." (See Attachment)

We expect a full refund of all monies with this purchase within 10 days and a reply.

Thank you.

To Whom It May Concern:

I have recently acquired a cancellation for my Diamond timeshare contract after months of back and forth on account of their constant lies and misleading information. However, I feel that after the amount of money wasted, few vacations I was actually able to go on, and time spent constantly worrying I feel it is only fair that I receive a refund of some of my investment. No one has been able to help with this matter so I am now reaching out to you in the hopes that you can contact Diamond on my behalf and get some sort of response to my requests and complaints.

Everything concerning Diamond was a lie and misleading from the beginning, constantly being told of what I could do with my contract when in fact, I was not able to do anything I wanted or was told! So much money went into this contract with barely anything in return and I do not see how that is right! How can they get away with taking my money and blatantly lying to my face?

I sincerely hope you can help me with this case and if there is anything at all you may need from me to help move this forward, please let me know.

Thank you,

Marc A. Lawrence

To Whom It May Concern:

Almost two years ago my wife and I became timeshare owners at Starwood Harbor Side at Atlantis. After not being able to use our timeshare once and not being able to pay the outrageous fees, we asked to be cancelled completely as clients. They basically said they were not able to help us and that there is no way out of their contract. Well, after months and months of going back and forth, we were able to do just that! We are reaching out to you today in hopes that you could reach out to Starwood on our behalf in helping us acquire the refund we think we deserve.

It is very disheartening to put so much money into something we were told would be easy to use whenever we liked, and then go almost two years and never be able to utilize our timeshare because it never worked out for them. We were so excited to be timeshare owners at such an amazing place, but it has been lies and disappointing from the beginning.

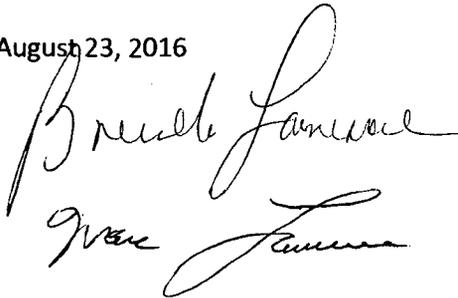

We feel we deserve something back from the unfair treatment we received and would greatly appreciate any and all help you may be able to give to our situation.

Thanks you for your time.

Sincerely,

Brenda and Marc Lawrence

To whom it may concern,

This is in reference to my timeshare purchase from Club Navigo, taken over by Diamond Resorts, Liki Tiki Village in Orlando, Florida, with Morrow Jackson (sales agent). I am writing to complain that I am not interested on continuing with my contract #BII/42605.1.

I have forwarded a letter requesting cancellation and a full monetary refund on July 12th, 2016. See attachment. I have been a member since June 16, 2005. The lack of communication from Diamond just adds on to the discontentment. It's been more than a month since the letter was sent and as of today, I have not received feedback or any type of acknowledgement. When we call them, no one seems to know about the letter. My mortgage has been paid in full and the last payment on the maintenance fees was made in January.

The problem with Diamond has been that since their takeover the maintenance fees have excessively increased. We've used the timeshare a couple of times and have had to attend a forced sales presentation at each stay, which always lasted way over the scheduled 90 minutes – declined both sale offers. We never upgraded. We stuck with our original Club Navigo agreement and it was never mentioned to us that our maintenance fees would increase. Our initial payments were $738.84 every 2 years, which was $368.92 per year to now, $705.25 per year, under Diamond's management. These increases do not make any sense. They're offering the same accommodations and no improvements to the facilities. The time we used the unit for the first time, in July 15, 2007, after our purchase, the conditions were disgusting. The unit had dirty carpets that turned socks black and the dead bolt lock would not work. There was not bed linen for our couch bed (We arrived late at night, so made do until next morning.) We had an upgrade meeting the next morning and registered a complaint. They insisted they would get it taken care of immediately. The only thing they did was clean the carpet, which we had to be gone from room for several hours. We kept asking about the lock being fixed and only promises were made to get it fixed, never happened. On checkout, we filed another complaint. I, Michael, refused to visit Liki Tiki Resort again until 2015, hoping since new management maybe things have changed.

Also, we were told we could will our membership to our child. They would get to continue the membership much cheaper than buying their own membership. Did not say someone would have to continue our membership financial obligations forever. I spoke to someone at Diamond recently who told me that it is not true that at the time of our death the contract had to pass down to our heirs. He said ask an attorney, in response, I asked if he could put that in writing and he said, "We don't do that, just check with an attorney." We have tried to get back in touch with them but have not been successful yet.

According to the:

"Section 6(e) of RESPA, 12 U.S.C. 2605(e), imposes requirements on a loan servicer whenever it receives a "qualified written request" (QWR) from the borrower (or the borrower's agent) ...

The servicer must acknowledge receipt of the QWR within twenty (20) days, unless the servicer takes the action requested by the QWR prior to the expiration of the 20-day period. 12 U.S.C. § 2605(e)(1)(A). Within sixty (60) days of receiving a QWR, the servicer must conduct an investigation and respond to the borrower in one of three ways... During the sixty (60) day period following the servicer's receipt of a QWR relating to a dispute regarding the borrower's payments, the servicer is prohibited from providing adverse information regarding the disputed payment(s) to any Consumer Reporting Agency.

Individual plaintiffs who prevail are entitled to actual damages plus statutory damages of up to $1,000 in cases where there is a pattern or practice of noncompliance."

A QWR has been sent to Diamond Resorts and more than 20 days have passed. No acknowledgement of receipt has been received, therefore, I am reporting their noncompliance with Section 6(e) of RESPA, 12 U.S.C. 2605(e). I believe you will look into this matter and assist me with my cancellation and refund requests.

Looking forward to your input.

Your sincerely,

I am very unhappy with my experience of ownership of your Liki Tiki Village in Orlando. Your takeover of management of the resort, with its increase in fees only adds to the dissatisfaction.

I was not satisfied with the time-share under its previous management.

The initial visit when the purchase was made was very good but have gone down hill since then. On my first visit after the purchase, the unit had dirty carpets that turned socks black and the dead bolt lock would not work. I complained to the 'desk' but since the resort was full they could not move me. They did not fix the dead bolt lock and an attempt to vacuum the carpet did not clean it.

I had to put up with the situation for the entire week stay. As a result I did not stay at that resort again, making future years reservations at other resorts incurring additional fees just to use what was purchased.

The original sale presentation did not mention increases in fees. They have increased several times and you have increased them again to be in line with 'your level of accommodations'.

Also the sales presentation said that the purchase COULD be passed on to a child on our death. It did not mention that the ownership would HAVE to be picked up by someone, including continuing maintenance fee obligations.

I request a complete contract cancellation.
I have stopped all future payments associated with this time-share.
I request that you do nothing to harm my credit.

I expect a full resolution of this matter within 30 days.

Sincerely,

To Whom It May Concern:

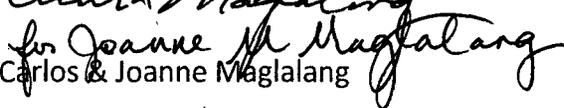

We are writing to you for assistance with our case against Diamond Resorts International. Throughout our ownership we have fallen victim to their fraudulence and have reached out to the company to terminate our ownership and asked for a refund of our last 2 upgrade purchases. However, their Hospitality Management Team continues to deny our case and claim that the deceptive sales tactics used on us are untrue. We are unhappy with their denial and feel they should take responsibility for their representatives who have lied to us on numerous occasions, made us believe we'd receive a better vacationing experience than we've gotten, and have pressured us into making purchases that weren't right for us.

Please review each of the attached documents, which give a snapshot of our experience with Diamond since we formally submitted our complaint in June. The first letter(s) explains the issues we've had with our Diamond ownership, including our Gold Key membership, which is now owned by Diamond. Next you'll see an email we received from Taylor Johnson of Diamond suggesting that we are able to relinquish our ownership without refund. When we emailed Taylor back, asking to send forth the paperwork to terminate our entire ownership, she responded that they were unable to terminate our entire ownership, despite what her previous email had stated. We also got an email from an Adria Brown during this time, giving us conflicting information from what Taylor had original sent us – denying our request. Attached you'll find our response to Adria's denial of our request. You'll also find a variety of letters we've sent to Diamond in response to the delinquency/default notices received in addition to a request to take us off of their call log, as the collection calls were getting so plentiful that we considered them harassment.

We think we've provided you with enough evidence for our case, but if you need anything else, please let us know.

We very much appreciate any and all assistance you can give us.

Thank you,

Carlos & Joanne Maglalang

To whom it may concern:

I am requesting cancellation of my contract (22933777), a full refund of all payments made to date, no collection for past due payments or late maintenance fees, and no harm to my credit. My reasons for this request are due to the misrepresentations and lies that were presented to me during the initial sales presentation and later during the sales presentation disguised as an owner's update. Additionally, the high pressure tactics used was harassment which I never want to experience again.

My reasons for cancellation include the following:

- The sales team misrepresented the value of our purchase by first selling us a Sampler package for $995. When we scheduled our vacation with this package we were able to book 2 vacations; a 7 day vacation in a 3 bedroom condo in Florida and another 4 day vacation in a 2 bedroom Williamsburg condo during the peak summer months. This representation of cost to value was deceptive giving us the impression that if we purchased points then we would have the same kind of vacations and booking power. Logically $9,000 more should buy you the same kind of vacation or more, but it didn't.
- We attended 3 presentations, at the first presentation we purchased the Sampler Package, the 2nd was required when we used the Sampler package and the 3rd was also required for us to use the remaining half of the Sampler Package. Each of these sales presentations were over 2-3 hours. High pressure sales tactics were used with 3 sales agents or supervisors to provide a better deal to get us to buy something.
- Sales agent lied to us by telling us our VA Beach – Ocean Beach Club property (2012) could be traded into the Diamond system for 5500 points. We were given a 1-800 # to call to make that transaction but when we tried to call later that year to do so we were told by the representative that it could not be done nor did they understand what I was trying to do.
- In 2013, when we attended the 3rd presentation and raised the issue of not being able to use our VA Beach for points and we were told that we didn't own enough points to participate. We needed to own 5000 points in order to use the VA Beach property in the Club Select. We purchased more points and yet when we tried the same number we were met with confusion and instructed to go to Interval International to bank our property which never crossed over to points with Diamond.
- At the 3rd presentation we were given an Interval International credit card as part of our application for the upgrade and told that our purchases would provide cash back to help pay for our maintenance fees. We agreed to the card and used it for our first year maintenance fees but discovered that they did not have a cash bonus program. We were lied to again.
- At each presentation we were told that the ownership in Diamond would be an investment and we would save money over the lifetime on our vacations and that these savings could be passed on to our family. An investment has the ability to grow in worth or selling power this was not an investment nor did it have any cash value growth and it did not save us any money over the life of the loan as we had to make monthly payments and annual large maintenance fees and yet could not take the vacation we were promised.

- The contract I signed stated I “purchased 2500 points in US Collection that will allow me to assign 1 qualified accommodation week, which I may deposit on an annual basis from today’s purchase”. We were lied to and have not been able to use our points in Club Select every year as we were led to believe. Matter of fact we have had to roll over the points from year to year with the hopes of having enough points the next year to have the week vacation as promised.
- We were led to believe that we could sell our time share but when we attempted to do so found that there was no value in it and could not even give it away. We found a resale website with many owners that were trying to sell their Diamond time shares and were trying to give them away.
- We called Diamond to try to find out how we could sell the first 2500 points that we had already paid off. We found out that our paid off contract had been consolidated into one account and we were told that we could not because we had a loan balance remaining on our second contract. This is another example of a deceptive practice designed to trap members from being able to sell what they own. The only option we had was to continue to pay off the remaining contract then we could relinquish the points and turn them back in and request our maintenance fee to be cancelled but there was no promise that they would comply.
- We paid off our first contract (16261584) by the second month on 17 September 2012. Instead of reflecting that it was paid in full on our credit report, Diamond reported to Experian credit bureau that we were 30 days delinquent. When I received military orders to be reassigned we attempted to refinance our home to a mortgage that was closer to a market rental rate. We discovered the reported delinquency and it ultimately cost us from being able to refinance our personal home and cost us thousands of dollars when we had to rent our home for less than the monthly mortgage payment. We wrote to Diamond in April 2014 with the evidence of our payoff history and requested the inaccuracy on our credit report to be corrected and expunged but it was not and the 30 day delinquency is still reflected on our report.

Although your records may show that we were able to transfer our points into Interval International it was only done out of pure frustration of the fact that we have been paying a lot of money and not being able to take the vacation we thought we were purchasing with Diamond. Please cancel our contract, return all of the money we have paid you, and do not place a negative report on our credit.

To whom it may concern:

I am requesting cancellation of my Gold Key contract (24090711), a full refund of all payments made to date, no collection for past due payments or late maintenance fees, and no harm to my credit. Additionally, the high pressure tactics used to try to get a payment when my loan payment was not even a week overdue was relentless and non-caring and evident of how Diamond treats their clients.

My reasons for cancellation include the following:

- We attended an owner's update which turned into a 3 hours sales presentation and high pressure sales tactics until we purchased an upgrade.
- Gold Key promised that if we provided a list of referrals we could receive a reduced maintenance fee. We provided several names and never received a discount.
- Maintenance fees have gone up every year and will continue to go up making a 1 bedroom, 1 week vacation cost more than the market value of a week vacation home rental.
- When we found out that Diamond bought out Gold Key we were very unhappy. We were already unhappy with the way Diamond lied to us and believe that our Gold Key Ocean Beach Club will be converted to points.
- Our maintenance fee has increased more now that Diamond has assumed the loan than it did in all the years Gold Key managed our time share.
- When Diamond assumed the loan we were unable to access the Gold Key account to see our payment history on our first loan with the Beach Quarters property that was paid in full. When we called to request this information we were informed that the account information had not been transferred to them yet. Only the current contract payment history was available. We had to contact the financial office several times to request our account information needed.
- Diamond has been harsh in trying to collect a late payment one week over due. On 11 June 2016 Naomi from Diamond Financial office called pressing to get a payment and threatened to put negative reports on our credit and continue to call and press for payments and turn us over to collections.

Email received from Taylor Johnson on 11 July 2016:

Dear Mr. and Mr.
Maglalang,

We are in receipt of your recent inquiry requesting a full refund and cancellation of your contract #16261584. We apologize for any credit errors that were done over two years ago, however we cannot offer a full refund on this contract. What we can offer as an exception is a relinquishment. This will cancel this account as requested with no monetary value in return. If this is an option for you than I will submit the request for the Mutual Release Agreement document to be mailed to your home address on file. Please note that there is also a $250 transfer fee associated with this relinquishment.

Please let me know if this is the route that you will like to go no later than Wednesday, July 13, 2016.

Email response on 14 July 2016:

Taylor,

Thank you for the email and offer, however, we are a bit confused with the contract number included. We submitted two letters to Diamond International requesting the cancellation and refund of our Gold Key contract #24090711 and our Diamond contract #22933777. The contract number you listed in the email is neither of those.

We would like to proceed with the Mutual Release Agreement documents for the two contracts referenced above, however, we are not comfortable paying the $250 transfer fee associated with the relinquishment. Is there a way to avoid this fee?

A prompt response is appreciated.

Email from Adria Brown on 15 July 2016:

Good Morning,

We appreciate you taking the time to express your concerns about your Membership with Diamond Resorts International®. Please allow us to elaborate on the points you brought to our attention. First, there is much information to be shared and discussed during a presentation. While presentations are usually scheduled for approximately 90 minutes, they can take longer if a guest expresses an interest and/or has questions.

We have Family or Friends Referral programs available to anyone that makes a purchase into Diamond Resorts International®. THE Club® dues are now represented by: THE Club® Base Collection and Point Collection. These fees cover the services required to operate and provide you with the benefits you enjoy as a Value tier member. Diamond does not assess your Maintenance fees annually; this fee is determined by your HOA (Home Owners Association). Per your Purchaser Acknowledgment form listed with your contractual agreement, you signed with the understanding that your assessment may be adjusted annually based on the needs of the resorts in your Collection. Since you are a part of the US Collection there are roughly 42+ resorts that you have access to, thus assessments are necessary for upkeep, management and property taxes.

Your Deeded inventory has been converted to points; you currently receive 7,475 points for the usage of your week. With this acquisition and the transfer of contracts this took a while and we apologize for the delay but this had no bearing on your Ownership.

Lastly, the State mandated rescission period was not adhered to with this purchase. This rescission period is for the protection of all consumers, thus you would have received a full return of all funds. Per the Fair Debt Collection Policy Act, Diamond Resort International® must report accurate information to your Credit Bureau. Failure to use the Vacation Ownership Points does not relieve you of your obligation to the Association. As such, you are obligated to pay dues each year. Failure to pay the Loan may result in an increased rate of finance charges to the maximum lawful rate under applicable law, as noted in your Truth In Lending Disclosure.

Based on the content of your information and the details noted in your contract, the sales staff did not commit an infraction, as the terms of your contract were clear at the time of signing. Respectfully you remain responsible for your maintenance fees and loan as invoiced. Thank you for taking the time to thoroughly review this response, please feel free to email me directly for any further inquiries.

Email response to Adria Brown, 19 July 2016:

Thank you for taking the time to respond to our email. At this time we are a little confused with conflicting emails we've received from you and Taylor Johnson, Hospitality Management Specialist at Diamond Resorts. In Taylor's response, he (or she?) states, "We apologize for any credit errors that were done over two years ago, however we cannot offer a full refund on this contract. What we can offer as an exception is a relinquishment. This will cancel this account as requested with no monetary value in return. If this is an option for you then I will submit the request for the Mutual Release Agreement document to be mailed to your home address on file. Please note that there is also a $250 transfer fee associated with this relinquishment."

At this time I'm wondering why, if you're both working in the same department, we're receiving such conflicting results.

To clarify, we want EVERYTHING cancelled. This includes everything we bought with Diamond and everything we have with Gold Key (which is owned by Diamond). We have provided our reasons and clearly, judging by Taylor's email, we CAN deed them back. We would like to proceed with this option immediately.

We know that your company is switching hands soon and we are assuming that due to this, you're trying to keep owners stuck in their situation so your company seems more appealing and worth more to Apollo. If this is the case, please let us know and we'll start reaching out directly to Apollo. Until the merger is completed, however, we assume that Diamond is who we should continue to work with regarding this matter.

Can you please advise us how to proceed to receive cancellation as quickly as possible?

Thank you,
Joanne & Carlos Maglalang

To Whom It May Concern:

Please allow this letter act as our formal request to stop all incoming calls from your company, Diamond Resorts International. Since we began our dispute a month ago, we have been harassed daily over the phone by your Financial Services Department. These individuals are calling upwards of 4-5 times per day right now and we are fearful of what the future might hold. We spoke with one representative who said they could put our calls on hold for 5 days, but that we had to write a letter into your office to request all calls to cease. Please abide by this request and also have someone in your Owner Care Department reach out to us via email or postal mail to proceed with our cancellation and refund request.

Thank you,

Carlos & Joanne Maglalang

Diamond Resorts Financial Services, Inc.:

Today we received a letter from your office, referenced above and dated June 15, 2016. The letter states that our account is due for our June 5, 2016 payment. At this point in time we are unwilling to make payments to your company because we have been lied to and manipulated by your representatives. At no point in time throughout our entire ownership do we feel that your representatives have been honest and trustworthy. As our ownership continues we only continue to unveil lies that have been told to us to get us to purchase. We are disappointed and are working on a letter to send out to your headquarters regarding our issues. At this time we are looking for your company to cancel our ownership as a whole and give us back the money we have invested since day one.

Please be patient as we submit our letter.

Thank you,

Carlos & Joanne Maglalang

August 18, 2016

Diamond Resorts Financial Services, Inc.:

We received another notice from your office, referenced above and dated August 4, 2016. This Notice of Mortgage Acceleration on Contract is much more forceful than the others we've received and we do not feel this is necessary. As you know by reviewing our account, we've already been in touch with your Hospitality Management Specialists with regards to issues we've had with our ownership. We have also requested that our ownership be cancelled because it was sold to us on false pretenses. The lies told are too plentiful for us to continue this relationship. Please pass this information along to the appropriate person and do not accelerate your action on the past due amount, as suggested in your letter. We're trying the best we can to settle this dispute amicably.

Thank you,

Diamond never called me to make arrangements and they sent me a certified letter in April 2016 for default date February 26, 2016 Deceitful should have current date. Diamond Resort International has also gotten rid of deceitful agents from Palms Country Club and Golf Resort and replaced with New Agents. Diamond Resort International has not called or offered me a reinstatement or payment arrangement when I was Not in Foreclosure yet when I made $100 payments a week and called Diamond to ask can we set up payment arrangement for $100 weekly and Thomas who I last talked to in May 2016 before transferred to foreclosure department, when I made $100 payment said no I have to pay in full. Thomas at the time said I only owed $1000 and to call financial area and try to get payment arrangement gave number for foreclosure department but never got thru. I also contacted the title company First American Title and talked to Sonia Hernandez 702-304-7515 and explained I have been making payments and asking for payment arrangements and Diamond Resort not willing to work with me keep saying they want payment in full and would email and send response to Sonia who told me to keep her informed of my situation because Diamond Resort 702-804-8600 should be willing to work with me since I am trying to pay and want to keep my property. Sonia said she will send email to foreclosure department at Diamond Resort International and ask them to call me and emailed me Diamond email and number but Diamond never called me. Sonia Hernandez from title company would try and help me and try to contact Diamond and be intercessor but Diamond not willing to work with me. Then Diamond Resort International send me a letter like they want to make payment arrangements with me and the phone number listed on the letter is disconnected and I told Sonia Hernandez at the Title company First American who also tried the number and found it to be disconnected also and I emailed Sonia Hernandez all information I would send to Diamond Resort International showing I am trying to make payments and asked for payment arrangements to no avail. Diamond Resort International did set up a payment arrangement with a friend of mine who owed $1500 and she pays $200.00 a month 2016. So why is Diamond not trying work with me? June 20, 2016 I sent in a certified check for #200 for maintenance bill and Diamond sent check back to me and I enclosed a letter asking Diamond Resort International who bought Palms Country Club and Golf Resort in Kissimmee FL to apply payments I have been making on my loan I finance with Palms Country Club and Gold Resort to my maintenance payments since they are past due but would not.

I purchased a one bedroom with Mystic Dunes November 2006 Agent Pam Parker, Helen, and man from financial service told me they would take money I had previously paid when I had 3 bedroom lockout Unit with the Palm Country Club and Golf Resort 2001 and put towards one bedroom I just purchased at Mystic Dunes Resort in same New building I previously owned at Palms Country Club and Golf Resort otherwise I don't want to purchase one bedroom at Mystic Dunes Resort. Agents Pam Parker, Helen and man in financial services said the one bedroom I will purchase with them will be in the same unit I had previously owned as a 3 bedroom lockout in the In New Building. Agents Deceived and Mislaid me to believe Unit I purchased in November 2006 was going to be the same unit when I purchased one bedroom in 3 bedroom lock out it was not. Unit Agents sold me one bedroom was in the old building which is Much Smaller. I found this out when I went to stay for my week in 2006 with my mom elderly and sister and it was not enough room for us to comfortably fit into one bedroom Unit and small frig so nowhere to put all the food we bought and small bed very uncomfortable and my taxes were paid up to date and current. I complained and talked to Agents and they did nothing. Agents Mislaid and Deceived me I didn't give me fair amount of money from previous 3 bedroom lock out unit to transfer funds to New Purchase of one bedroom with Mystic Dunes Resort who purchased Palms Country Club and Golf Resort in November 2006 Even years.

I also called Diamond Resort International and asked for name of company I financed loan with and representative would not give me information said they don't have anymore.

Diamond bought property and got rid of fired Deceitful Agents that were deceiving/ misleading customer fraudulent deals.

Palms purchased by Mystic Dunes then bought by Diamon Resort International in Las Vegas NV.

Where does Palms Country Club come into play?

I am not on new point system they have been trying to force old customers to get on.

I was never told loan going into foreclosure until I called.

Notice received in April about default but has February date in it? Fraudulent and Deceitful business practice in deceiving me as customer. I asked that payments I made on loan Be credited to maintenance bill that is more delinquent in letter I wrote but Diamond has not done so and sent $200 certified check back. Is sent several emails and made calls to Sonia Hernandez at First American Title telling her Diamond won't answer my calls transfer me several time. Diamond does not call me when I finally get thru your someone asking several times for payment arrangement Diamond representative say no Only payment in full when .I called in May and made $100 payment with girl told her I want to make payments she transferred me to Thomas said Not in Foreclosure yet in May 2016 said I only owe $1000. Gave me 800 number representative said wring areas kept getting wrong around. Diamond even sent me a letter regarding arrangement with wrong number listed told Sonia I need some help. and deceive me property I purchased one bedroom should have been in same unit I owned previously as told by agents when I purchased it would be But Deceitful Fraude company unit was in Old Building out dated furniture much smaller.

Please help me foreclosure Sale Date is soon and I have tried everything I know to do. I only fell behind due to being laid off in Decemeber 2013 then car accident but still sent in what money I could.

Hello,

My request was for a payment arrangement per your representative before loan was ever in foreclosure in April 2016 when I made a $100.00 payment and also in May 2016.

But your company keeps refusing to provide me.

I also sent a letter asking that those payments made be applied to my maintenance bill and also enclosed a Certified check for $200.00 to be applied to June payment.

When I talked with your team leader also 7/20/16 I asked him to send me a copy of the 2016 maintenance bill that just came due and I never received so I know how much it is and the 3014 bill he said was pass due.

Please provide immediately.

REFERENCE: The Palms Country Club and Resort
Membership # 56-849196300
Contract # 2274112

ATT: Attorney General Pam Bondi,

My name is Maribel Coates and I reside at 1226 Limit Street in Leavenworth, Kansas. We bought into timeshare when the Palms Country Club and Resort was Diamond Resort about 12 years ago, and we paid about $18,000.00 dollars, with interest, and it is paid in full. We are writing to you to see if you can help us get our money back that we have paid into Diamond Resort or The Palms Country Club and Resort. They are a scam. They have been bought out 3 different times by 3 different owners, due to problems. When we first bought into our timeshare we were paying about $700.00 dollars in maintenance. Today we are paying about $1800.00 dollars with no upgrades or changes to our unit. We have week 19 and there's been 3 different times we didn't use it, so we lost our maintenance fees for that year. And every time we go the rooms are dirty. Last year when we went some maintenance person used the toilet and left a BM yes, ma'am. A bowl movement in the toilet, we made a big deal, because we arrived around 9pm to find that, and we were tired. All the fees we pay should be shown and nothing has improved since we first bought it. We've been in foreclosure twice. I just recently paid our fees to get out of foreclosure. Every time we go to The Palms Country Club they make us go to an hour meeting to try to resell us a unit. I am tired of their scam to keep making us pay more. When we first bought timeshare it was supposed to be something we can leave our kids. They told us we can use it anywhere we go without telling us that we would have to pay an extra fee to interval in order to use our timeshare that we pay high maintenance fees already. It is in the contract but they do not tell you that you have to pay more fees on top of what you already paying when they are trying to sell you timeshare. We were scammed or deceived into this deal. They told us we can leave this to our children, and I am afraid to leave anything like this to my children when the fees keep going up and they keep trying to re-sell, same condo. In order for me to sell my timeshare we have to pay someone to do it. It's not like a regular mortgage or home where you can get a realtor and sell and then they get a percentage. I am trying to make it formal and short. This has caused us a lot of stress instead of having a peaceful family vacation throughout the years. We want back what we paid for it, because they have not upgraded, because units have been dirty every time we go, I no longer want to invest in this. They have robbed us with our maintenance fees. If you call the 1800 number they will sell you a week for about $450.00 dollars. I am tired of paying so someone else can get a free ride. If they charge us to cut the grass usually in residential places they have a fee of no more than $200.00 dollars yearly for maintenance that is $400.00 every two years. Diamond Resort or The Palms Country Club although they have supposedly changed owners they are still operating it the same way by harassing us, trying to resell us a unit that is bought and paid for in full. Enclosed are copies of our contract and let me know if there is something else I can send you.

Thank you,

1. Unit Weeks. Each Unit committed to the Vacation Ownership Plan is divided into fifty-two (52) Annual Unit Weeks. Each respective Annual Unit Week may be further divided into two Biennial Unit Weeks, one of which shall be an Odd Biennial Unit Week and the other of which shall be an Even Biennial Unit Week. Unit Week #1 is the seven (7) days commencing on the first Sunday in a calendar year, and Unit Week #2 is the seven (7) days succeeding. Additional weeks up to and including Unit Week #52 are computed in a like manner. Any excess days not otherwise assigned shall be retained by Seller pursuant to the Declaration. Unit Weeks run from 10:00 a.m. on the first day of the week designated by Seller to 10:00 a.m. on the same day of the week in the following week; provided however that use of the Unit Week(s) to be purchased shall be limited to those check-in and check-out times established from time to time pursuant to the Condominium Documents. Occupancy of a Timeshare Unit is governed by the Declaration, the Bylaws, and the Condominium Rules and Regulations. The Vacation Ownership Plan shall be perpetual unless sooner terminated by the Unit Week Owners as specified in Article XVII of the Declaration. Purchaser should refer to the Public Offering Statement for a full explanation of the Vacation Ownership Plan.
2. Occupancy. The period of occupancy for the Unit Week(s) to be purchased shall begin and end on a Sunday. Purchaser shall be entitled to occupy a Timeshare Unit (of the same Unit type in which Purchaser's Unit Week is situated) during those days associated with Purchaser's Unit Week, provided that Purchaser confirms with the Association or Management Company (as applicable) Purchaser's intent to do the same at least sixty (60) days prior to the first day of Purchaser's Unit Week (the "Confirmation Date"). In the event Purchaser does not confirm use of Purchaser's Unit Week on or before the Confirmation Date, Purchaser will not be assured of occupancy of a Timeshare Unit during such period and instead shall have the right, on a first-come, first served basis, to compete with other Owners who did not confirm use of their Unit Weeks, for reservation of any available Unit Week (in any Unit type) not more than fifty-nine (59) days prior to the requested check-in date; subject to a priority right in favor of the Association or Management Company (as applicable) to reserve available Unit Weeks during such fifty-nine (59) day period for maintenance purposes. Purchaser's right to reserve an available Unit Week not more than fifty-nine (59) days in advance shall expire on the one year anniversary of the Confirmation Date. Notwithstanding the specific Timeshare Unit in which Purchaser's Unit Week is owned, subject to the foregoing restrictions, Purchaser understands and acknowledges that all Timeshare Units shall be available for use and occupancy by all Owners of Unit Weeks in the Condominium. The Association or Management Company (as applicable) shall assign specific Timeshare Units to Owners at the time of check-in. All Timeshare Units may have been previously occupied.
3. Purchaser's Primary Contact and Attorney-in-Fact. By execution of this Agreement, Purchaser hereby designates the person set forth above as Purchaser's Primary Contact and Attorney-in-Fact ("Primary Contact") for purposes of making reservations and receiving notices on behalf of Purchaser, and Purchaser acknowledges that Purchaser may be required to pay an administrative fee to change the designation of the Primary Contact. Seller and the Association each reserve the right to change the Primary Contact for their respective purposes should either such party determine that circumstances warrant it. Pursuant to Section 721.84, Florida Statutes, Purchaser hereby appoints the Primary Contact and all successors thereto as Purchaser's agent and attorney-in-fact for the purposes of accepting any notices and service of process in the event a legal proceeding is commenced against Purchaser to foreclose a mortgage lien for non-payment under the Promissory Note and Mortgage or to foreclose an assessment lien for non-payment of Common Expenses or ad valorem taxes pursuant to the Declaration. By execution of this Agreement, the Primary Contact agrees, understands and accepts the appointment as set forth above. Purchaser represents to the Primary Contact that Purchaser's address for mail or other notices shall be as indicated above and Purchaser hereby agrees to notify the Primary Contact of any change to such address.
4. Assessments and Other Expenses. Beginning with the year of Purchaser's First Occupancy as set forth in Section I. above, and until closing, Purchaser will be responsible for reimbursing Seller for its share of Common Expenses and ad valorem taxes attributable to the Unit Week(s). From and after the closing, Purchaser will be responsible for a share of Common Expenses as provided in the Declaration. Common Expenses for each Unit type in the current year are as set forth in the Public Offering Statement. Purchaser also shall be responsible for Ad Valorem Taxes levied annually on the Unit Week(s) to be purchased and any special assessments levied by The Palms Country Club and Resort Condominium Association, Inc.
5. Closing. The estimated date of closing is February 4, 2005. The closing will be at the time and place designated by Seller. For purchases financed by the Developer, the mortgage, note and deed may be held in escrow by the closing agent until such time as the Condominium Documents are recorded in the public records and until Purchaser has timely made at least three (3) scheduled note installment payments (the "Note Payments"), at which time the mortgage and deed will be recorded and the closing completed. Any Note Payments made by Purchaser prior to closing shall constitute additional deposits hereunder and be subject to the default and cancellation provisions contained herein. All payments made by Purchaser pursuant to this Agreement shall be applied first to the Initial Deposit, then to any Additional Deposit and then to the Note Payments.
6. Completion. The estimated date of completion of construction of each accommodation or facility in the phase in which the Unit Week(s) to be purchased is located is April 29, 2003; provided that Seller shall complete construction of such accommodations or facilities within two (2) years from the date of this Agreement barring only events beyond the control of Seller such as acts of God, inability to obtain materials, or any other event constituting impossibility of performance. However, if alternate assurances are obtained from the Division, then at Seller's election and sole discretion, closing may take place prior to completion of construction of the accommodations or facilities contained in the phase of the Condominium in which the Unit Week(s) to be purchased is located, as permitted by Section 721.08(5)(b), Florida Statutes.
7. Modifications and Changes. Seller may make changes in the Condominium Documents provided those changes do not decrease Purchaser's percentage share in the Common Elements, change Purchaser's voting rights, or increase Purchaser's percentage share of Common Expenses, except as provided in the Declaration. The Timeshare Unit(s) shall be substantially similar to the plans described in Exhibit "A" to the Declaration. Seller may substitute materials, furnishings, furniture, appliances, and fixtures which are of substantially similar quality to those represented to Purchaser.
8. Ad Valorem Taxes. Purchaser shall pay Ad Valorem Taxes as they may be assessed from time to time.

For the purpose of ad valorem assessment, taxation, and special assessments, the managing entity will be considered the taxpayer as your agent pursuant to Section 192.037, Florida Statutes.

9. Title Insurance. After closing, Seller shall obtain and deliver to Purchaser at Purchaser's expense, an owner's title insurance policy insuring Purchaser's title to the Unit Week(s) to be purchased, subject only to the conditions of title set forth in this Agreement (the "Policy"). Purchaser may, by notifying Seller in writing during the cancellation period, obtain the Policy from such other insurer as Purchaser elects. If Seller cannot deliver insurable title, for any reason other than actions of Purchaser, Seller shall refund to Purchaser all monies paid under this Agreement and neither party shall have any further rights or obligations under this Agreement.
10. Closing Costs; Total Financial Obligation of Purchaser. Purchaser shall pay at closing 3% of the total purchase price of the Unit Week plus $56.00 as a closing charge which shall be applied toward the payment of the costs for recording the special warranty deed, documentary stamp tax on the special warranty deed, the document preparation fee, the title examination fee, the titlework, the premium for the owner's title insurance policy, recording the purchase money mortgage (if any), recording the note and mortgage modification agreement (if any), and applicable intangible and documentary stamp taxes on the purchase money note and mortgage (if any), and the premium for the mortgagee's title insurance policy (if any).

The total financial obligation of Purchaser in connection with the purchase of a Unit Week includes: the purchase price; finance charges as set forth in the Disclosure Statement (if applicable); annual assessments for Common Expenses; Ad Valorem Taxes; exchange company fees as provided in Paragraph 13; closing costs as set forth above; and special assessments (if any).

If Purchaser seeks mortgage financing from Developer, a mortgage application will be completed and submitted as part of this Agreement. Purchaser agrees to cooperate with all urther rights or obligations in connection with this Agreement, or Purchaser shall have the right to seek other remedies then available to Purchaser, including without limitation, the right of specific performance by Seller. Seller reserves the right to terminate this Agreement by refunding the deposit paid under this Agreement within one hundred eighty (180) days after the date the first purchaser signed a contract to purchase a Unit Week in the phase of the Condominium that contains the Unit(s) containing the Unit Week(s) to be purchased if Developer does not pre-sell fifty percent (50%) of the total number of Unit Weeks in that phase. If any litigation arises out of this Agreement, the prevailing party shall be entitled to recover from the other its reasonable attorneys' fees and costs, including but not limited to those incurred in connection with all bankruptcy or probate proceedings.

13. Refund. If Purchaser cancels this Agreement during the 10-day cancellation period, Seller will refund to Purchaser the total amount of all payments made by Purchaser under this Agreement; provided, however, that pursuant to Section 721.06(1)(i), Florida Statutes, Seller may reduce such refund by the specific value of any contract benefits Purchaser has actually received under this Agreement prior to the effective date of the cancellation as determined in the Contract Benefit Agreement, if applicable. The refund shall be made within 20 days after receipt of notice of cancellation, or within 5 days after receipt of funds from Purchaser's cleared check, whichever is later. A notice of cancellation must be sent to the Seller at the address on page 1 of this Agreement.

14. External Exchange Program. Seller has executed an agreement with Interval International ("II") providing an external exchange program for Unit Week Owners at the Condominium. Under the agreement, II has appointed Seller as II's limited agent for the sole purpose of enrolling applicants to become members in II's external exchange program. No other relationship exists between II and Seller. Seller makes no representations as to II, and all representations in the brochures and literature of II are representations of II and not of Seller. II's responsibility for representations concerning the II external exchange program is limited to those made in materials supplied by II. Membership in the exchange program is at the option and expense of Purchaser.

15. Closing and Title. Seller owns the accommodations of the Vacation Ownership Plan in fee simple absolute. At closing, Seller shall deliver to Purchaser a special warranty deed conveying fee title to the Unit Week(s) to be purchased, free and clear of all liens, claims, and encumbrances, except for the Declaration, conditions, restrictions, covenants, reservations, limitations, zoning, and easements and other documents of record affecting the Condominium Property (all of which shall not prevent the use of the accommodations as represented in the Public Offering Statement); purchase money mortgage (if any); taxes for the then current and subsequent years; and liens created by any action of or failure to act by Purchaser. On or before closing, Purchaser shall execute any necessary documents to close the transaction contemplated by this Agreement. All representations, duties, and obligations of the Purchaser shall survive the closing.

16. No Warranties.

Seller disclaims any and all warranties, express or implied, including, but not limited to, implied warranties of merchantability and fitness for a particular purpose in connection with the construction of the Units and the Common Elements and with respect to personal property in the accommodations or facilities. Purchaser assumes all risks and liabilities in connection with the use of the aforementioned property. Seller makes no warranties, express or implied, concerning the Units, personal property, or Common Elements, except as provided by Chapter 718, Florida Statutes.

17. Radon Gas. Levels of radon that exceed federal and state guidelines have been found in buildings in Florida. Additional information regarding radon and radon testing may be obtained from your county public health unit."

18. Deposits. One hundred percent (100%) of all funds and other property received from Purchaser prior to closing shall be held in escrow pursuant to the requirements of Section 721.08, Florida Statutes, unless an approved alternate assurance arrangement is used. The name and address of the escrow agent is Baker & Hostetter LLP, 200 S. Orange Avenue, Suite 2300, Orlando, Florida 32801. Purchaser is entitled to a receipt for the deposit on request. If Purchaser cancels this Agreement during the applicable cancellation period, Developer will refund to Purchaser the total amount of all payments made by the Purchaser under this Agreement, reduced by the proportion of any contract benefits the Purchaser has actually received under the Contract Benefits Agreement, if any, prior to the effective date of cancellation. Any interest generated by the funds deposited in the escrow account shall be paid to Developer, and shall not reduce the purchase price. All notices and claims of Purchaser with respect to this Paragraph shall be sent to Escrow Agent at the address set forth above and to Seller at the address set forth on page 1.

19. Governing Law. This Agreement shall be governed by, construed under, and enforced in accordance with the laws of the State of Florida. Jurisdiction and venue shall be proper only in Osceola County, Florida.

20. Jury Trial. The parties waive any right they may have to a jury trial in connection with any action in any way related to this Agreement.

21. Severability. If any provision of this Agreement is determined to be invalid and unenforceable under applicable law, the same shall be stricken from this Agreement and shall in no way affect the other provisions of this Agreement. This Agreement shall remain in full force and effect and shall be construed in all respects as if the invalid or unenforceable provision were omitted.

22. Purchaser's Representations. Purchaser represents that Purchaser is not purchasing the Unit Week(s) with the intent or desire to become a legal domiciliary of the State of Florida or any political subdivision thereof, and Purchaser waives, releases, and remises any such intent or desire. Purchaser also represents that the Unit described in Paragraph 1 is not intended to be and shall not at any time become the Purchaser's principal dwelling, which Purchaser shall maintain at all times at a location other than within the Condominium. Purchaser also represents to Developer and the title insurer, if any, that Purchaser has full authority and capacity to enter into this Agreement in the manner set forth in this Agreement. Purchaser represents that Purchaser is purchasing a Unit Week(s) for the personal use of Purchaser and Purchaser's family members and guests only, to hold for an indefinite time, and with no expectation of deriving any profit or tax advantage therefrom whether through income, appreciation, or otherwise and with no expectation that Purchaser will receive any assistance from Seller or Management Company in the rental of accommodations or the resale of Purchaser's Unit Week(s). Purchaser acknowledges that, if Purchaser is not a natural person, Purchaser is purchasing the Unit Week(s) solely for the personal use of its officers, directors, principals, employees, and guests. Seller declares, and Purchaser acknowledges, that no representations have been made to Purchaser regarding a Unit Week's potential for future profit, rental potential, tax advantages, depreciation, investment potential, or other monetary or financial advantage.

Purchaser understands that the Unit Week(s) to be purchased is/are subject to a Vacation Ownership Plan as described in Paragraph 1, and that by Purchaser's execution of this Agreement, Purchaser agrees to abide by the rules, regulations, and restrictions imposed on Purchaser by the Condominium Documents.

- (b) Any governmental police power not excluded by (a) above, except to the extent that a notice of the exercise thereof or a notice of a defect, lien or encumbrance resulting from a violation or alleged violation affecting the land has been recorded in the public records at Date of Policy.
2. Rights of eminent domain unless notice of the exercise thereof has been recorded in the public records at Date of Policy, but not excluding from coverage any taking which has occurred prior to Date of Policy which would be binding on the rights of a purchaser for value without knowledge.
3. Defects, liens, encumbrances, adverse claims or other matters:
 - (a) created, suffered, assumed or agreed to by the insured claimant;
 - (b) not known to the Company, not recorded in the public records at Date of Policy, but known to the insured claimant and not disclosed in writing to the Company by the insured claimant prior to the date the insured claimant became an insured under this policy;
 - (c) resulting in no loss or damage to the insured claimant;
 - (d) attaching or created subsequent to Date of Policy; or
 - (e) resulting in loss or damage which would not have been sustained if the insured claimant had paid value for the estate or interest insured by this policy.
4. Any claim, which arises out of the transaction vesting in the Insured the estate or interest insured by this policy, by reason of the operation of federal bankruptcy, State insolvency, or similar creditors' rights laws, that is based on:
 - (a) the transaction creating the estate or interest insured by this policy being deemed a fraudulent conveyance or fraudulent transfer; or
 - (b) the transaction creating the estate or interest insured by this policy being deemed a preferential transfer except where the preferential transfer results from the failure:
 - (i) to timely record the instrument of transfer; or
 - (ii) of such recordation to impart notice to a purchaser for value or a judgment or lien creditor.

CONDITIONS AND STIPULATIONS

1. DEFINITION OF TERMS

The following terms when used in this policy mean:

(a) "insured": the insured named in Schedule A, and, subject to any rights or defenses the Company would have had against the named insured, those who succeed to the interest of the named insured by operation of law as distinguished from purchase including, but not limited to, heirs, distributees, devisees, survivors, personal representatives, next of kin, or corporate or fiduciary successors.

(b) "insured claimant": an insured claiming loss or damage.

(c) "knowledge" or "known": actual knowledge, not constructive knowledge or notice which may be imputed to an insured by reason of the public records as defined in this policy or any other records which impart constructive notice of matters affecting the land.

(d) "land": the land described or referred to in Schedule [A], and improvements affixed thereto which by law constitute real property. The term "land" does not include any property beyond the lines of the area described or referred to in Schedule [A], nor any right, title, interest, estate or easement in abutting streets, roads, avenues, alleys, lanes, ways or waterways, but nothing herein shall modify or limit the extent to which a right of access to and from the land is insured by this policy.

(e) "mortgage": mortgage, deed of trust, trust deed, or other security instrument.

(f) "public records": records established under state statutes at Date of Policy for the purpose of imparting constructive notice of matters relating to real property to purchasers for value and without knowledge. With respect to Section 1 (a)(iv) of the Exclusions From Coverage, "public records" shall also include environmental protection liens filed in the records of the clerk of the United States district court for the district in which the land is located.

(g) "unmarketability of the title": an alleged or apparent matter affecting the title to the land, not excluded or excepted from coverage, which would entitle a purchaser of the estate or interest described in Schedule A to be released from the obligation to purchase by virtue of a contractual condition requiring the delivery of marketable title.

2. CONTINUATION OF INSURANCE AFTER CONVEYANCE OF TITLE

The coverage of this policy shall continue in force as of Date of Policy in favor of an insured only so long as the insured retains an estate or interest in the land, or holds an indebtedness secured by a purchase money mortgage given by a purchaser from the insured, or only so long as the insured shall have liability by reason of covenants of warranty made by the insured in any transfer or conveyance of the estate or interest. This policy shall not continue in force in favor of any purchaser from the insured of either (i) an estate or interest in the land, or (ii) an indebtedness secured by a purchase money mortgage given to the insured.

3. NOTICE OF CLAIM TO BE GIVEN BY INSURED CLAIMANT

The insured shall notify the Company promptly in writing (i) in case of any litigations as set forth in Section 4(a) below, (ii) in case knowledge shall come to an insured hereunder of any claim of title or interest which is adverse to the title to the estate or interest, as insured, and which might cause loss or damage for which the Company may be liable by virtue of this policy, or (iii) if title to the estate or interest, as insured, is rejected as unmarketable. If prompt notice shall not be given to the Company, then as to the insured all liability of the Company shall terminate with regard to the matter or matters for which prompt notice is required; provided, however, that failure to notify the Company shall in no case prejudice the rights of any insured under this policy unless the Company shall be prejudiced by the failure and then only to the extent of the prejudice.

4. DEFENSE AND PROSECUTION OF ACTIONS; DUTY OF INSURED CLAIMANT TO COOPERATE

(a) Upon written request by the insured and subject to the options contained in Section 6 of these Conditions and Stipulations, the Company, at its own cost and without unreasonable delay, shall provide for the defense of an insured in litigation in which any third party asserts a claim adverse to the title or interest as insured, but only as to those stated causes of action alleging a defect, lien or encumbrance or other matter insured against by this policy. The Company shall have the right to select counsel of its choice (subject to the right of the insured to object for reasonable cause) to represent the insured as to those stated causes of action and shall not be liable for and will not pay the fees of any other counsel. The Company will not pay any fees, costs or expenses incurred by the insured in the defense of those causes of action which allege matters not insured against by this policy.

(b) The Company shall have the right, at its own cost, to institute and prosecute any action or proceeding or to do any other act which in its opinion may be necessary or desirable to establish the title to the estate or interest, as insured, or to prevent or reduce loss or damage to the insured. The Company may take any appropriate action under the terms of this policy, whether or not it shall be liable hereunder, and shall not thereby concede liability or waive any provision of this policy. If the Company shall exercise its rights under this paragraph, it shall do so diligently.

(c) Whenever the Company shall have brought an action or interposed a defense as required or permitted by the provisions of this policy, the Company may pursue any litigation to final determination by a court of competent jurisdiction and expressly reserves the right, in its sole discretion, to appeal from any adverse judgment or order.

(d) In all cases where this policy permits or requires the Company to prosecute or provide for the defense of any action or proceeding, the insured shall secure to the Company the right to so prosecute or provide defense in the action or proceeding, and all appeals therein, and permit the Company to use, at its option, the name of the insured for this purpose. Whenever requested by the Company, the insured, at the Company's expense, shall give the Company all reasonable aid (i) in any action or proceeding, securing evidence, obtaining witnesses, prosecuting or defending the action or proceeding, or effecting settlement, and (ii) in any other lawful act which in the opinion of the Company may be necessary or desirable to establish the title to the estate or interest as insured. If the Company is prejudiced by the failure of the insured to furnish the required cooperation, the Company's obligations to the insured under the policy shall terminate, including any liability or obligation to defend, prosecute, or continue any litigation, with regard to the matter or matters requiring such cooperation.

5. PROOF OF LOSS OR DAMAGE

In addition to and after the notices required under Section 3 of these Conditions and Stipulations have been provided the Company, a proof of loss or damage signed and sworn to by the insured claimant shall be furnished to the Company within 90 days after the insured claimant shall ascertain the facts giving rise to the loss or damage. The proof of loss or damage shall describe the defect in, or lien or encumbrance on the title, or other matter insured against by this policy which constitutes the basis of loss or damage and shall state, to the extent possible, the basis of calculating the amount of the loss or damage. If the Company is prejudiced by the failure of the insured claimant to provide the required proof of loss or damage, the Company's obligations to the insured under the policy shall terminate, including any liability or obligation to defend, prosecute, or continue any litigation, with regard to the matter or matters requiring such proof of loss or damage.

In addition, the Insured claimant may reasonably be required to submit to examination under oath by any authorized representative of the Company and shall produce for examination, inspection and copying, at such reasonable times and places as may be designated by any authorized representative of the Company, all records, books, ledgers checks, correspondence and memoranda, whether bearing a date before or after Date of Policy, which reasonably pertain to the loss or damage. Further, if requested by any authorized representative of the Company, the insured claimant shall grant its permission, in writing, for any authorized representative of the Company to examine, inspect and copy all records, books, ledgers, checks, correspondence and memoranda in the custody or control of a third party, which reasonably pertain to the loss or damage. All information designated as confidential by the insured claimant provided to the Company pursuant to this Section shall not be disclosed to others unless, in the reasonable judgment of the Company, it is necessary in the administration of the claim. Failure of the insured claimant to submit for examination under oath, produce other reasonably requested information or grant permission to secure reasonably necessary information from third parties as required in this paragraph shall terminate any liability of the Company under this policy as to that claim.

6. OPTIONS TO PAY OR OTHERWISE SETTLE CLAIMS; TERMINATION OF LIABILITY

In case of a claim under this policy, the Company shall have the following additional options:

(a) To Pay or Tender Payment of the Amount of Insurance. To pay or tender payment of the amount of insurance under this policy together with any costs, attorneys' fees and expenses incurred by the insured claimant, which were authorized by the Company, up to the time of payment or tender of payment and which the Company is obligated to pay. Upon the exercise by the Company of this option, all liability and obligations to the insured under this policy, other than to make the payment required, shall terminate, including any liability or obligation to defend, prosecute, or continue any litigation, and the policy shall be surrendered to the Company for cancellation.

(b) To Pay or Otherwise Settle With Parties Other than the Insured or With the Insured Claimant.

(i) to pay or otherwise settle with other parties for or in the name of an insured claimant any claim insured against under this policy, together with any costs, attorneys' fees and expenses incurred by the insured claimant which were authorized by the Company up to the time of payment and which the Company is obligated to pay; or

(ii) to pay or otherwise settle with the insured claimant the loss or damage provided for under this policy, together with any costs, attorneys' fees and expenses incurred by the insured claimant which were authorized by the Company up to the time of payment and which the Company is obligated to pay.

Upon the exercise by the Company of either of the options provided for in paragraphs (b)(i) or (ii), the Company's obligations to the insured under this policy for the claimed loss or damage, other than the payments required to be made, shall terminate, including any liability or obligation to defend, prosecute or continue any litigation.

7. DETERMINATION, EXTENT OF LIABILITY AND COINSURANCE

This policy is a contract of indemnity against actual monetary loss or damage sustained or incurred by the insured claimant who has suffered loss or damage by reason of matters insured against by this policy and only to the extent herein described.

(a) The liability of the Company under this policy shall not exceed the least of:

(i) the Amount of Insurance stated in Schedule A; or,

(ii) the difference between the value of the insured estate or interest as insured and the value of the insured estate or interest subject to the defect, lien or encumbrance insured against by this policy.

(b) (This paragraph dealing with Coinsurance was removed from Florida policies.)

(c) The Company will pay only those costs, attorneys' fees and expenses incurred in accordance with Section 4 of these Conditions and Stipulations.

8. APPORTIONMENT

If the land described in Schedule [A] consists of two or more parcels which are not used as a single site, and a loss is established affecting one or more of the parcels but not all, the loss shall be computed and settled on a pro rata basis as if the amount of insurance under this policy was divided pro rata as to the value on Date of Policy of each separate parcel to the whole, exclusive of any improvements made subsequent to Date of Policy, unless a liability or value has otherwise been agreed upon as to each parcel by the Company and the insured at the time of the issuance of this policy and shown by an express statement or by an endorsement attached to this policy.

9. LIMITATION OF LIABILITY

(a) If the Company establishes the title, or removes the alleged defect, lien or encumbrance, or cures the lack of a right of access to or from the land, or cures the claim of unmarketability of title, all as insured, in a reasonably diligent manner by any method, including litigation and the completion of any appeals there from, it shall have fully performed its obligations with respect to that matter and shall not be liable for any loss or damage caused thereby.

(b) In the event of any litigation, including litigation by the Company or with the Company's consent, the Company shall have no liability for loss or damage until there has been a final determination by a court of competent jurisdiction, and disposition of all appeals there from, adverse to the title as insured.

(c) The Company shall not be liable for loss or damage to any insured for liability voluntarily assumed by the insured in settling any claim or suit without the prior written consent of the Company.

10. REDUCTION OF INSURANCE; REDUCTION OR TERMINATION OF LIABILITY

All payments under this policy, except payments made for costs, attorneys' fees and expenses, shall reduce the amount of the insurance pro tanto.

11. LIABILITY NONCUMULATIVE

It is expressly understood that the amount of insurance under this policy shall be reduced by any amount the Company may pay under any policy insuring a mortgage to which exception is taken in Schedule B or to which the insured has agreed, assumed, or taken subject, or which is hereafter executed by an insured and which is a charge or lien on the estate or interest described or referred to in Schedule A, and the amount so paid shall be deemed a payment under this policy to the insured owner.

12. PAYMENT OF LOSS

(a) No payment shall be made without producing this policy for endorsement of the payment unless the policy has been lost or destroyed, in which case proof of loss or destruction shall be furnished to the satisfaction of the Company.

(b) When liability and the extent of loss or damage has been definitely fixed in accordance with these Conditions and Stipulations, the loss or damage shall be payable within 30 days thereafter.

13. SUBROGATION UPON PAYMENT OR SETTLEMENT

(a) The Company's Right of Subrogation. Whenever the Company shall have settled and paid a claim under this policy, all right of subrogation shall vest in the Company unaffected by any act of the insured claimant. The Company shall be subrogated to and be entitled to all rights and remedies which the insured claimant would have had against any person or property in respect to the claim had this policy not been issued. If requested by the Company, the insured claimant shall transfer to the Company all rights and remedies against any person or property necessary in order to perfect this right of subrogation. The insured claimant shall permit the Company to sue, compromise or settle in the name of the insured claimant and to use the name of the insured claimant in any transaction or litigation involving these rights or remedies.

If a payment on account of a claim does not fully cover the loss of the insured claimant, the Company shall be subrogated to these rights and remedies in the proportion which the Company's payment bears to the whole amount of the loss. If loss should result from any act of the insured claimant, as stated above, that act shall not void this policy, but the Company, in that event, shall be required to pay only that part of any losses insured against by this policy which shall exceed the amount, if any, lost to

TOGETHER with a remainder over in fee simple as a tenant-in-common with all other Owners of time periods in the same Timeshare Unit on termination of the Vacation Ownership Plan, subject to the Condominium Documents.

TOGETHER with all the improvements now or hereafter erected on the property, and all easements, rights, appurtenances, rents, proceeds, royalties, mineral, oil and gas rights and profits, water, water rights, and water stock and all fixtures now or hereafter attached to the property, all of which, including replacements and additions thereto, shall be deemed to be and remain part of the property covered by this Mortgage and all of the foregoing, together with said property are herein referred to as the "Property". Borrower covenants that Borrower is lawfully seized of the estate hereby conveyed and the right to mortgage, grant and convey the Property, that the Property is unencumbered, and that Borrower will warrant and defend generally the title to the Property against all claims and demands whatsoever subject to any declarations, easements or restrictions listed in a schedule of exceptions to coverage in the title insurance policy issued on or prior to the date hereof and insuring Lender's interest under this Mortgage in the Property.

Borrower and Lender covenant and agree as follows:

1. Payment of Principal and Interest. Borrower shall promptly pay when due the principal and any interest on the indebtedness evidenced by the Note and late charges as provided in the Note, and the principal of and any interest on any Future Advances made within twenty (20) years from the date of this Mortgage and secured by this Mortgage provided that the aggregate amount of principal outstanding at any time shall not exceed an amount equal to five (5) times the principal amount originally secured hereby. 3. Hazard Insurance. So long as the Condominium Association maintains a "master" or "blanket" policy which keeps the improvements now existing or hereafter erected on the Property insured against loss by fire and other hazards included within the term "extended coverage" in an amount (as to Borrower's interest in the Property) equal to or greater than that required to pay sums secured by this Mortgage and which policy satisfies the terms of the Declaration, Borrower shall not be required to maintain any other hazard insurance on the Property. However, Borrower shall take such actions as may be reasonable to insure that the Condominium Association shall maintain such coverage and if, at any time, the Condominium Association does not maintain such hazard insurance coverage, upon the request of Lender, Borrower shall be obligated to maintain such Borrower covenants that Borrower is lawfully seized of the estate hereby conveyed and the right to mortgage, grant and convey the Property, that the Property is unencumbered, and that Borrower will warrant and defend generally the title to the Property against all claims and demands whatsoever subject to any declarations, easements or restrictions listed in a schedule of exceptions to coverage in the title insurance policy issued on or prior to the date hereof and insuring Lender's interest under this Mortgage in the Property.

1. Payment of Principal and Interest. Borrower shall promptly pay when due the principal and any interest on the indebtedness evidenced by the Note and late charges as provided in the Note, and the principal of and any interest on any Future Advances made within twenty (20) years from the date of this Mortgage and secured by this Mortgage provided that the aggregate amount of principal outstanding at any time shall not exceed an amount equal to five (5) times the principal amount originally secured hereby. Unless applicable law provides otherwise, all payments received by Lender shall be applied by Lender first, at the option of the Lender, in payment of any late charges, costs, expenses and attorney's fees due under the Note, then in payment of any interest payable on the Note, then to the principal of the Note, then to any interest and principal on any Future Advances, and then to any other amounts due and payable under the Note or this Mortgage.
2. Charges: Liens. Borrower shall promptly pay, when due, all condominium assessments imposed by the governing body of the Condominium Association. Borrower shall pay all taxes, assessments and other charges, fines and impositions attributable to the Property which may attain a priority over this Mortgage. Borrower shall promptly discharge any lien which has priority over this Mortgage; provided, however, that Borrower shall not be required to discharge any such lien so long as Borrower shall agree in writing to the payment of the obligation required by such lien in a manner acceptable to Lender and, if requested by Lender, immediately post with Lender an amount necessary to satisfy said obligation, or shall in good faith contest such lien by, or defend enforcement of such lien in, legal proceedings which operate to prevent the enforcement of the lien or forfeiture of the Property or any part thereof and, if requested by Lender, immediately post with Lender an amount necessary to satisfy said obligation.
3. Hazard Insurance. So long as the Condominium Association maintains a "master" or "blanket" policy which keeps the improvements now existing or hereafter erected on the Property insured against loss by fire and other hazards included within the term "extended coverage" in an amount (as to Borrower's interest in the Property) equal to or greater than that required to pay sums secured by this Mortgage and which policy satisfies the terms of the Declaration, Borrower shall not be required to maintain any other hazard insurance on the Property. However, Borrower shall take such actions as may be reasonable to insure that the Condominium Association shall maintain such coverage and if, at any time, the Condominium Association does not maintain such hazard insurance coverage, upon the request of Lender, Borrower shall be obligated to maintain such coverage. In the event of a distribution of hazard insurance proceeds in lieu of restoration or repair following a loss to the Property or Condominium, whether to a unit or to the common elements, any such proceeds payable to Borrower are hereby assigned to Lender and shall be paid to Lender for application to the sums secured by this Mortgage, with the excess, if any, thereafter paid to Borrower.
4. Preservation and Maintenance of Property. Borrower shall keep the Property in good repair and shall not commit waste or permit impairment or deterioration of the Property. Borrower shall perform all of Borrower's obligations under the Declaration, the by-laws and regulations of the Condominium Association and all constituent documents. Borrower shall take such actions as may be reasonable to insure that the Condominium Association maintains a public liability insurance policy acceptable in form, amount, and extent of coverage to Lender.
5. Protection of Lender's Security. If Borrower fails to perform the covenants and agreements contained in this mortgage, or if any action or proceeding is commenced which materially affects Lender's interest in the Property, including, but not limited to, eminent domain, insolvency, code enforcement, insurance, or arrangements or proceedings involving a bankrupt or decedent, then Lender at Lender's option, upon notice to Borrower may make such appearances, disburse such sums and take such actions as are necessary to protect Lender's interest, including, but not limited to, disbursement of funds to pay reasonable attorney's fees and to make repairs and entry upon the Property to make such repairs. If Lender has required mortgage insurance as a condition of making the loan secured by this Mortgage, Borrower shall pay the premiums required to maintain such insurance in effect until such time as the requirement for such insurance terminates in accordance with Borrower's and Lender's written agreement or applicable law. Borrower shall pay the amount of all mortgage insurance premiums, if any. Any amounts disbursed by Lender pursuant to this paragraph, with interest thereon, shall become additional indebtedness of Borrower secured by this Mortgage. Unless Borrower and Lender agree to other terms of payment, such amounts shall be payable upon notice from Lender to Borrower requesting payment hereof, and shall bear interest from the date of disbursement at the rate payable from time to time on outstanding principal under the Note unless payment of interest at such rate would be contrary to applicable law, in which event such amounts shall bear the interest at the highest rate permissible under applicable law. Nothing contained in this Mortgage, shall require Lender to incur any expense or take any action hereunder.

6. Inspection. Lender may make or cause to be made reasonable entries upon and inspections of the Property, provided that Lender shall give Borrower notice prior to any such inspection specifying reasonable cause therefor related to Lender's interest in the Property.
7. Condemnation. The proceeds of any award or claim for damages, direct or consequential, payable to Borrower in connection with any condemnation or other taking of all or any part of the Property, whether of the unit or the common elements, or for any conveyance in lieu of condemnation, are hereby assigned to Lender and shall be paid to Lender for application to the sums secured by this Mortgage, with the excess, if any, thereafter paid to the Borrower.
8. Borrower Not Released. Extension of time for payment or modification of amortization of the sums secured by this Mortgage, granted by Lender to any successor in interest to Borrower shall not operate to release, in any manner, the liability of the original Borrower and Borrower's successors in interest. Lender shall not be required to commence proceedings against such successor or to refuse to extend time for payment or otherwise to modify amortization of the sums secured by this Mortgage by reason of any demand made by the original Borrower or Borrower's successors in interest.
9. Forbearance by Lender. Any forbearance by Lender in exercising any right or remedy hereunder or otherwise afforded by applicable law, shall not be a waiver of or preclude the exercise of any such right or remedy. The procurement of insurance or the payment of taxes or other liens or charges by Lender shall not be a waiver of or preclude the exercise of any such right or remedy. The procurement of insurance or the payment of taxes or other liens or charges by Lender shall not be a waiver of Lender's right to accelerate the maturity of the indebtedness secured by this Mortgage.
10. Remedies Cumulative. All remedies provided in this Mortgage are distinct and cumulative to any other right or remedy under this Mortgage or afforded by law or equity, and may be exercised concurrently, independently or successively.
11. Successors and Assigns Bound; Joint and Several Liability. Subject to the terms and provisions of paragraph 20 below, the covenants and agreements herein contained shall bind and the rights hereunder shall inure to the respective successors and assigns of, Lender Borrower. All covenants and agreements of Borrower shall be joint several
12. Notice. Except for any notice required under applicable law to be given in another manner, (a) any notice to Borrower provided for in this Mortgage shall be given by mailing such notice by U.S. mail, postage prepaid; addressed to Borrower at Borrower's address as set forth in the Note or this Mortgage, or at such other address as Borrower may designate by notice to Lender as provided herein, and (b) any notice to Lender shall be given by certified mail, return receipt requested, to Lender's address stated herein or to such other address as Lender may designate by notice to Borrower as provided herein. 13. Severability. The provisions of this Agreement are severable. If any provision of this Agreement shall be held to be invalid or unenforceable in any respect, such provision shall be carried out and enforced only to the extent to which it shall be valid and enforceable, and any such invalidity or unenforceability shall not affect any other provisions of this Mortgage, all of which shall be fully carried out and enforced as if such invalid or unenforceable provision had not been set forth herein.

If Lender exercises such option to accelerate, Lender shall mail to Borrower notice of acceleration in accordance with paragraph 12 hereof. Upon acceleration or abandonment of the Property, Lender shall be entitled upon written notice, to enter upon, take possession of and manage the Property and to collect the rents of the Property, including those past due. All rents collected shall be applied first to payment of the costs of management of the Property and collection of rents, including, but not limited to, management fees, court costs and reasonable attorney' fees and then to the sums secured by this Mortgage. Alternatively, Lender may seek the appointment of a receiver to manage and collect rents from the Property. If a receiver is appointed, any income from rents from the Property shall be applied first to the costs of receivership, and then in the order set forth above.

23. Lender's Prior Consent. Borrower shall not, except after written notice to Lender and with Lender's prior consent, either partition or subdivide the Property or consent to: (i) the abandonment or termination of the Condominium or the unit week, except for abandonment or termination required by law in the case of substantial destruction by fire or other casualty or in the case of taking by condemnation or eminent domain; (ii) any amendment to any provision of the Declaration, by-laws or code of regulations of the Condominium Association or equivalent constituent documents of the Condominium which are for the express benefit of Lender; or (iii) any action which would have the effect of rendering the public liability insurance coverage maintained by the Condominium Association unacceptable to Lender.

24. Borrower's Representations and Warranties. As a material inducement to Lender to lend Borrower the Indebtedness evidenced by the Note, Borrower hereby represents and warrants to Lender the following: (i) the Property is not in any wise intended, whether as of the date hereof or at any time hereafter, to constitute any form of "homestead" under Florida law, and any such desire or intent is hereby waived, released and remised; and (ii) Borrower has not acquired the Property for any use or purpose other than for personal use as required by the Declaration.

The actual amount of the Developer guaranty to be paid by Developer will be equal to the amount necessary to pay the difference between the actual expenses less the sum of the amount of assessments collected from all Owners and Association income from other sources. In consideration of this guaranty, the Developer shall be excused from the payment of its share of the Common Expenses which otherwise would have been assessed against its unsold interests in the Condominium during the term of the guaranty. As a consequence of this exemption, the Developer shall pay any amount of Common Expenses incurred each budget year which exceed the total revenues for the Vacation Ownership Plan, including guaranteed assessments collected from Owners and Association income from other sources, for such budget year for so long as the guaranty remains in effect. An estimate of the amount the Developer will pay pursuant to the guaranty is reflected in the "Estimated Developer Guaranty Contribution" line-item of the Budget. The Developer reserves the right, but not the obligation, to extend and increase the amount of this guaranty for one or more periods of one year each after the expiration of the guaranty period on December 31, 2007, as permitted pursuant to Section 721.15(2), Florida Statutes.

The Association has entered into a management agreement with Tempus Resorts Management, Ltd. (the "Management Firm"), an entity affiliated with the Developer, pursuant to which various management services will be performed on behalf of the Association. Pursuant to the Management Agreement, the Management Firm shall be paid a fee equal to 10% of all money the Management Firm is required to collect pursuant to the Budget, special assessments, or specific charges levied against an Owner. Certain Board members are also officers of the Management Firm and its affiliates.

Note 5

Property taxes assessed against Unit Weeks will be billed separately by the Association. There is currently no timeshare property that is subject to tax assessment other than the individual Units and Unit Weeks.

Note 6

Certain amenities available for use by Owners are part of the Condominium and owned by Owners in undivided shares as more specifically described in the Declaration. Costs associated with operating and maintaining these amenities are reflected in the "Commonly Owned Amenities" line-item of the Budget. Other amenities have been made available for use by Owners pursuant to a Recreational Facilities Membership Agreement between the Developer and the Association. Pursuant to the Recreational Facilities Membership Agreement, Owners have been granted non-exclusive use rights and privileges in certain recreational facilities and amenities owned by the Developer or an affiliate of the Developer. As consideration for these use rights and

Purchased vacation club points at Daytona Beach FL. in October 2015. Was given information that was false. My wife and I were told company was soon going public and we would have the option after 2 years to turn in our points to Diamond. We would be building up equity because we were at the platinum level with the company.
We then purchase an additional amount of 4,000 points from the Daytona Beach location in March 2016 because we were told at that time that we could turn in points at $.30 (yearly) each to use for payment of maintenance or whatever we chose to do with the money.
In May 2016, we went to a owner's meeting in Las Vegas NV, the corporate office of Diamond Resorts, and were informed that the information given to us at Daytona Beach is not true.
My wife and I are senior citizens, on limited income. We were hoping to improve our net worth to help us be independent financially through our years.

What would you like the bus[redacted]s to do to settle your complaint?

Return money to us and take back the points we paid for.

Att: Citizen Attention

To Whom it May Concern:

This a shorten version of a letter addressed to Diamond Resorts International, 10600 West Charleston Blvd., Las Vegas, Nevada 89135-1014: to the attention of Shelby Knapp, Fraud Specialist, Re: Acct# 0025126210

I write this summary at the suggestion of your hospitality department when I stated that fraud was perpetrated on the above captioned account. I have owned time share points with Diamond Resort for many years and have attended other presentations. Your sales persons have been very precise and clear about cost and charges and have been very professional. I was under the impression we had a good relationship.

When I attended this sales presentation, on September 9, of this year, I made it very clear that my main interest was in obtaining information regarding the recent acquisition of your company. I was not interested in buying more points nor could we afford it. We were paying on the Sampler because we wanted to go to Hawaii next year and that was all we could afford. BIG mistake! When he started his pitch about saving us money (about $1750 maintenance and about $150 on the Sampler) we repeated the fact that we were not interested nor could we afford it, but he was very persistent and persuasive.

I am inclosing a copy of the work sheet where he states there would be no out of pocket expense that day, He expounded on the benefits of a new product. We could redeem unused points and receive a check issued to us for the unused points. We asked, at least 4 times, if the only amount we would be responsible for was $132.24 and he stated yes.. My husband specifically asked if there would be any hidden fees and he said no, we would only be responsible for $132.34. Eventually we accepted offer.

This is where the fraud starts. He offered a credit card to pay for the loan payments and at the same time earn points. He insisted we BOTH needed to apply even when I objected. When we were approved he charged the card for $8260.20. I questioned why, and why the discrepancy between the loan and the charged amount. He stated that was the amount head quarters had finally agreed upon. I asked if this was due to a pending payment due on the Sampler and he said probably but I could send an E-mail and make sure no further amounts would be deducted on the Sure Pay agreement. When I got home I did send an E-mail to cancel the Sure Pay pending payment and was told I did not owe it. We started to sign papers. Upon receiving the explanation of proposal I immediately questioned the disclosed amounts. He said those figures represented all prior transactions and amounts. I had no reason to doubt his word as they were plausible. So we signed.

A week ago I received a statement requesting the 1st payment of $132.34. When I call Diamond Resort I told them I had paid the loan off. I was informed that the loan had not been paid off and that I had actually committed to a purchase amount totaling $16,560, and they cited the explanation of proposal we had signed. They could not tell me where the credit card payment had gone and that I needed to contact the credit card bank. After several calls to the bank I was told that the payment was made to CS Daytona Bch/ Perennial Vacation Club. I stated I had never authorized any payment to them and that my receipt stated Diamond Resort. The bank employee called the phone listed on the transaction and put the call on a 3 way call. The called was answered as Diamond Resort but the employee refused to speak with us 3 times because the call was being recorded. I placed the credit card amount as disputed.

We never authorized any payment to any vendor except to pay off the loan. We opened the credit card specifically for this purpose and no other. Brad never mentioned a purchase amount of $16,560.00 or a down payment of $9000, and I wonder how this could have saved us any money. He specifically said no out of pocket expense, as stated on the work sheet. I am stating that he misappropriated the credit card payment and diverted it to an unauthorized vendor. I am stating he not only misrepresented what the amounts on the proposal sheet were, but that he lied about what they actually represented. I am stating that he deliberately omitted disclosing any facts or amounts. And we believed him so we signed.

I found out about this fraud only after receiving the request for payment on the loan from Diamond Resorts. I truly hope that logic will help when you consider the amount you are stating we are responsible for and committed to, and how it could have saved us money. Do you really think we would have signed for that amount after stating we were not interested or could afford it? It scares me to think that he can actually commit fraud and get away with it. This is not a trust worth employee. I trusted your organization and had never had reason to distrust it, or your sales personnel. Based on this trust I am shocked at what has happened

Sincerely,

Ana Atanasio

Reporting: Diamond Resorts International For Misrepresentation, Sales Deception, Unfair Business Practices And Timeshare Fraud.

Good morning, I am a resident of Texas and I'm writing to ask for your assistance, regarding my experience in purchasing a vacation timeshare at Diamond Resorts International, 10600 West Charleston Blvd. Las Vegas, Nevada 89135.

The timeshare company's corporate office is Diamond Resorts U.S. Collection Development LLC, 10600 West Charleston Blvd. Las Vegas, Nevada 89135.

I have been victimized by timeshare fraud and deceptive sales practices, I have no legal counsel regarding this complaint, and I am not asking your office to be my private attorney, but I would appreciate your assistance in getting this fraudulent contract canceled and my money returned.

Below you will find a copy of the letter I sent to both parties above and as of this date, there has been no resolution. Help from your office would be greatly appreciated. As you read the letter I sent to them, you will understand that the entire Diamond Resorts International sales process and experience was full of high-pressure, fraudulent and deceptive sales tactics.

However, even worse, later I discovered the sales presentation included lots of misrepresentation, sales deception, untruths, partial truths, and outright lies, all of which, were cleverly presented in such a way, that they could not be exposed or discovered until much later than the rescission period.

Diamond Resorts U.S. Collection Development LLC sells timeshare to consumers who reside in all fifty states and in filing this complaint with your office, I hope that not only can I be helped but that many other people can be spared the misrepresentation, sales deception, fraud and exploitation of Diamond Resorts International.

I authorize your office to send my complaint and supporting documents to all of the above business identified in this complaint. In case you need to know, there is NO court action pending, and I have NOT lost a lawsuit regarding this matter. The above complaint is true and accurate to the best of my knowledge. If your office can not help me would you, please forward my information to the office who can help me. Thank you for your time and help! Please Communicate With Me By My Email.

Sincerely,

Ricky Do

Diamond Resorts International
10600 West Charleston Blvd.
Las Vegas, Nevada 89135

Dear Diamond Resorts,

In August 2016 my fiancé and I were on vacation in Las Vegas, Nevada. We were approached by a man who asked if we would like to get a free meal to a Brazilian steakhouse and a show. He then asked if we were over 25 and married. We told him we were not married but he said not to worry about not being married.

He mentioned all we had to do was attend a presentation and that it wasn't anything illegal because there were cameras watching all the paperwork at the moment.

We informed him that we were only in Las Vegas for the night and had a tight schedule and that we had sightseeing to do. He reinforced us that it was only 2 hours of our time and we could go back to our schedule and have a meal for the night.

After we finally agreed to attend and signed up he asked to hold $20 and promised it would be refunded at the end of the presentation. However, before we attended the presentation we then realized that it was a timeshare presentation and agreed with each other that we could not afford anything they would offer and just wanted the free meal. We were promised that we would have a ride back to our hotel after the presentation.

During the presentation I was called out and put on the spotlight for not knowing the costs of a vacation in Rome in front of the rest of the crowd. This was very embarrassing and belittling and really put me on the spot. The man convinced me that it was smarter to invest in a vacation rather than throwing money one time for a hotel room I didn't know anything about.

After the presentation, a saleswoman by the name of Paitra Youngman began discussing the benefits of owning a timeshare and continued pressuring us into buying.

She offered us deals that she said was only available today and that if we left and came back to purchase a timeshare later than we would not receive a larger collection and more properties.

Paitra and another man treated us as a married couple and ran our credit and kept insisting our total income was more than I said it was. So they lied about our income to get our credit approved in the first place.

Before we knew it, they had two lines of credit opened for each of us through Barclay MasterCard when we were told they would only be credit applications and not that we were indebting ourselves to a down payment for a timeshare that we could not afford.

By now it was 2 hours past the time we allotted for this presentation and we were wanting to get out and back to our schedule before our last night in Vegas ended. It felt like we were highly pressured into buying a timeshare and were being rushed through the paperwork.

We were given no time to discuss the buying of a timeshare privately even though we continued to tell them we would like to think about it and that we did not want to make a decision like this on a spare of the moment.

We were then told our 6000 points would allow us to go anywhere we chose with more amenities than were actually available.

In addition, we were told that we could use points for airfare, travel, rentals when it actually we found out later that it wasn't enough.

We were also told now that with the package deal they put us in we would be able to go anywhere in the collection we wanted at any time at our choosing.

We were told to not worry about the high cost of the loan from Diamond Resorts because we would be able go to other banks and refinance for a lower interest rate. We found out later that that was not true.

We are constantly getting calls about scheduling a new member mandatory orientation that must be at one of their resorts.

We were told that we could easily pay for our maintenance fees, purchase price, and fees by renting out our timeshare.

We were told that the timeshare was a real estate investment and that we could rent it and make a big profit if we wished. We found out later that all of this was not true; that in actuality lie after lie was being told to us to scam us into making this purchase.

It was explained to us that we could resell the timeshare for a big profit.

We were told that our friends and family would be able to use the timeshare without additional fees when there indeed is a specific limit. This too was a lie.

We were told that the maintenance fees would increase but only by a couple dollars each year. Again we found out later all of this is untrue.

We have missing paperwork, specifically any copies of paperwork with opening the credit line applications. This is because they lie about our income!!!

They rushed us through all the paperwork very quickly and neglected to mention that we had the ability to rescind or cancel the timeshare contract. They did not allow us time to read the contract before signing and they just pointed to each section and told us that we had to place our initials or signatures on.

They made many, many oral promises that only later did we find out were not delivered in the paperwork.

We trusted your company to be a respected and ethical company and for your salespeople to be telling the truth. Now we have found that we were incorrect on both counts. To top it off our 20 dollars was not even returned to us.

There is no way that what your resort has done to us by using high-pressure, intimidation, misrepresentation, deception, and total out and out lies to trick us into buying this timeshare can be legal.

I will begin to report Diamond Resorts International to all the government agencies I can find on the internet to get this contract canceled immediately.

I want our timeshare canceled and all money that your company scammed us out of returned. What your company has done to us is simply not right and you should be ashamed of yourselves.

To whom this may concern,

I am writing this letter regarding a purchase made with Diamond Resorts International on April 10, 2016. The sales representative knew that I was disabled and on strong controlled medications the day I purchased and my girlfriend Caryn Lipton witnessed what I experienced for 4 ½ hours. I suffer from severe depression and four herniated disc in my lower lumber. I was taking medications such as Citalopram an antidepressant, Flexeril which is a muscle relaxer for pain, Norco and Tylenol #3 which are controlled pain medications. I was not in the greatest condition to make a life changing decision like the one I regrettably made.

I suffer from the following symptoms when I take Citalopram: drowsiness, dizziness, weakness anxiety, feeling shaky, sleep problems, vision changes, nausea, loss of appetite, diarrhea, constipation, dry mouth, cold symptoms such as stuffy nose, sneezing, sore throat, cough and increased sweating. Flexeril symptoms consist of Anxiety, restlessness, fever, sweating, twitching, nausea, vomiting, diarrhea, seeing or hearing things that are not there, Fast, pounding, or uneven heartbeat, Severe drowsiness, fainting, or confusion. Norco: anxiety, dizziness, drowsiness, Lightheadedness, nausea, vomiting, upset stomach, constipation, headache, and mood changes, blurred vision, ringing in your ears, and dry mouth. Tylenol #3: nausea, vomiting, upset stomach, constipation, headache, lightheadedness, dizziness, drowsiness, blurred vision, or dry mouth.

I did address my complaints directly with Diamond Resort International and spoke to a woman by the name of Meribeth. I inquired about cancelling my contract due to my condition and what occurred during the presentation. Since I was on an installment plan and the timeshare was recently purchased, she advised me to write a letter to Diamond Resorts regarding the information I shared with her and I would be assisted with the cancellation of my contract.

I sent a letter to Diamond Resorts in August explaining my reasons for cancellation and I received the following email from Ronald Jackson....

At the time when I purchased the timeshare, I was receiving temporary workers comp along with permanent social security disability. I thought at the time I was able to afford the timeshare and now that I am on a fixed income I can no longer afford the timeshare. I have not used the timeshare since due to my disability and I really need your assistance to terminate my contract with Diamond Resorts. I would really appreciate all the help I can get and if you need any further information please feel free to contact me.

Respectfully,

Re: Timeshare Contract #: 17597513

To whom this may concern,

My name is Dominique Atisso, my wife Rebecca Atisso and I recently purchased a timeshare with Diamond Resorts International this past June. I am highly disappointed with sales representative Savannah Morehouse. When we went to the presentation, the presenter made it clear that Diamond Resorts timeshares were better than the Bluegreen timeshare we already purchased. I did ask the presenter if there was any way they would be able to take our Bluegreen timeshare in exchange for a timeshare with Diamond. The presenter said the only way Diamond would acquire our Bluegreen timeshare was if it was paid off. The presenter said the timeshare was such a great deal, that selling it wouldn't need to be an option for us. We did, however, have the option to rent our timeshare to family and friends to help with our payments for the timeshare.

After I shared how badly my timeshare with Bluegreen Resorts affected my wife's and I's relationship, sales representative Savannah assured me that I would get all of her help with getting our financials into place. She told us she figured out our situation before we reported to the sales presentation as her specialty was to deal with clients who own other timeshares. She promised me the professional help of her good friend Lisa who was in the business of renting timeshares. She promised to have her friend help us rent my Bluegreen timeshare. She told us our membership perks won't go into effect until January 2017. We thought this would give us time to lighten our financial burden with our Bluegreen timeshare. We were provided with a tablet and had to wait two weeks for the contract to load to the tablet for us to review. For this reason we missed the opportunity to cancel our contract.....

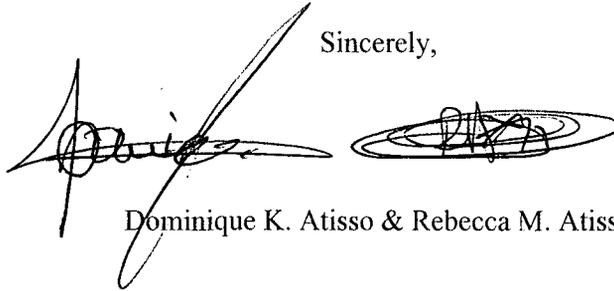

After the signing, I was in contact with Savannah via text messages in order to see her promises honored. I called Savannah's friend Lisa and was advised to call the office and ask for Adam or Leslie. When I called the office I spoke to Leslie who happened to be the husband of Lisa. Upon, I explained the reason for my call, Leslie made me understand that their office could not help us because they do not deal with clients owning such small amount of points like ourselves. I was very upset about this and contacted Savannah and she just stopped returning my calls and replying to my text messages.

We did not need to buy a second timeshare as we have been struggling with the first one we purchased with Bluegreen. However, we trusted the "highly experienced" Savannah Morehouse who promised to help us with her friend's services in renting our Bluegreen timeshare and also refinance our mortgage. We did not know that we will start to pay the mortgage payments before the points that were purchased will be put on our account. After receiving the first bill in the mail, I called Savannah and informed her of this and yet to hear back from her. We were really expecting to really get help as she promised but everything she said was a lie.

We want our contract cancelled immediately! We were misled and deceived by the sales representative Savannah. We have proof of text messages to Savannah if you need them because we were badly lied to. Send us the documentation confirming our contract was cancelled and a check for the monies we paid thus far for the timeshare.

Sincerely,

The image shows two handwritten signatures in black ink. The signature on the left is more fluid and cursive, while the one on the right is more structured and appears to be a name written in a slightly different style. Both are positioned above the printed names.

To Whom It May Concern:

My wife and I are currently in an uphill battle with Diamond Resorts International. If it wasn't bad enough that they've lied to us countless times throughout our 5-year ownership, now they're denying everything their representatives told us to convince us to buy, and are refusing to cancel and refund our purchase. At this time we feel like we've gone up the ladder at Diamond as far as we can on our own. We would like to formally ask for your assistance in this matter.

Attached you'll find a variety of documents that have been sent to and received from Diamond throughout the course of our dispute, which began on October 11, 2016. These documents include:

- Our initial letter of complaint sent to Diamond headquarters
- Email from Jessica Levine at DRI
- Our response to Jessica Levine disputing remarks made in her email
- Email to Diamond Resorts with regards to phone call we received with inaccurate information

Please read through each of these documents to get a better understanding of our case.

We have also received a large influx of calls from Diamond's Financial Services Department. We get about 1-2 calls a day, minimally, all trying to get us to pay our fees and threatening us with damaging our credit rating.

Please let us know what else we can provide to you to advance this case. Anything you can do to help would be much appreciated.

We look forward to working with you!

Diamond Resorts International
10600 West Charleston Boulevard
Las Vegas, NV 89135

To Whom It May Concern:

My wife and I are extremely disappointed in Diamond Resorts International. Initially we were excited about exploring what Diamond had to offer by visiting various locations throughout the country. We had hope for this ownership and trusted the words told by our sales representatives. Now we want nothing to do with Diamond. It's become increasingly apparent that your staff lies to owners/potential owners to make the sale. This is not morally or ethically right and quite frankly I don't know how you're still in business. Between the harassing calls, stretched truths, and inability to book, we find no need for our Diamond Resorts ownership and are hereby requesting that you cancel our ownership and refund our accounts of the monies we've paid to date, immediately.

Our first Diamond purchase was made in 2011 at your Williamsburg, Virginia location. We were pushed to upgrade twice in 2013 and 2014, both in Orlando, Florida. So far we've spent about $65,000 in our Diamond ownership, and that's only half of our total fees. Right now we're paying $5,892.30 per year in maintenance fees, which is actually more money than it would cost to book a yearly vacation at a Diamond Resorts if we weren't members. The vacations we get are not worth this dollar amount, nor is the lackluster customer service we've received.

Each time we've visited a Diamond Resort for a family vacation, we are forced to attend a sales meeting. These meetings are not optional, but are considered a "mandatory" part of our ownership. While there we are constantly harassed by Diamond sales people and continuously pressured into upgrading and purchasing more points. The kicker is that the extra points/upgrades never make a difference. Now we're paying more money out of pocket than ever, yet still receive awful service and horrible booking power. It is now apparent that we've been lied to and the truth was misrepresentative or convenience left out by your agents.

At one of those so called "owner's meetings" we had some real concerns about scheduling and the availability of locations that we had attempted to book. Often when we tried to book a vacation when and where we wanted, it was not available. At that meeting we were upset and feeling quite defeated for your lack of availability. All we wanted was for someone in customer service to give us a few answers and a little help. Instead, we were held for more than 2 hours in a room waiting to be heard when we finally talked with a few different people, none of whom were genuinely interested in our concerns, but all who attempted to convince us our problems would be resolved if we spent more money with Diamond by upgrading. It is truly a shame that your company cares more about selling points than customer service. We get it's your livelihood, but something's got to give. At that meeting we were offered a "special deal that no one has ever been given before" as long as we signed that day. That's not customer service and customers who have spent good money with your company should not be treated that way! Again, I have no idea how your company is still open. I'm sure at one point in time you treated your customers with respect and dignity to get you to where you are today, but that is not what we have experienced. Your agents are harsh, straight to the point, and relentless. Often times we felt bullied into making purchases because your agents made us feel that way. That just isn't right.

When we first purchased with Diamond our understanding of the maintenance fees was that they covered such things as housekeeping, etc. We understood and could justify the initial maintenance fee amount of $789.25 a year. Our annual fees are so high now that they could essentially cover the full cost of our stays if we booked them independent from our Diamond membership and paid out of pocket. That's right, we're paying $5892.30 a year in maintenance fees alone! I surely question the value of our 35,000 points, as they appear to be worthless to us.

We are disappointed that we can't rent our property, considering we were told we'd be able to with ease. I guess this was just a way for our agent to provide us with additional "financial protection" that wasn't accurate, like so many of their other claims. We also think it's strange that our original agent told us that we could sell back the ownership to Diamond if we decided we didn't want it anymore. This was how we were sure this was a "no risk" purchase. When we later asked about selling it back to Diamond, we were ignored. Apparently there is no such program. Finally, we think it's strange that we received copies of the contracts, but none of them had our signatures on them. Was a bait and switch tactic used on us?

This all being said, I have stopped all payments to Diamond Resorts. With this letter I am demanding cancellation of our contract and a full monetary refund of mortgage and maintenance fee payments from Diamond Resorts. I'm expecting a resolution within 30 days of your receipt of this request. If not resolved by Diamond Resorts within the next 30 days, I will pursue every legal and regulatory agency available to me to get this matter resolved to my satisfaction.

Sincerely,

Michael A. and Mary Kaye Mordenga

Subject: Regarding your letter dated October 11, 2016

To: "info@thevictorsgym.com" <info@thevictorsgym.com>

Dear Mr. and Mrs. Mordenga:

We thank you for contacting Diamond Resorts International® (Diamond). This email is in response to your letter dated October 11, 2016.

First and foremost, we regret to hear that you feel misled during your purchases. We have reviewed the contract and your concerns and we do not feel there was a misrepresentation.

You are not forced to attend the Sales presentations and you are not obligated to stay or make a purchase. This is solely your decision. If you are on a standard reservation, you will not have to attend a presentation. However, if you are on a Marketing stay or a stay that requires a presentation (it will state this on the certificate or on the contract), then this is a requirement and you must attend. Sales will try and make a sale if you attend. They will offer you different promotions that will only be good for that day. These same deals may not be available in the future.

We apologize if there was pressure during your Sales presentations. We will bring this to the attention of Sales to make certain that our Members are treated with the utmost respect.

While we understand that you can simply book a week a year on vacation websites, we cannot compare this to the Membership in which you have. As a member, you have access to Member Benefits; such as, flights, cruises, resorts and hotels, along with many more. In addition, you have access booking to Interval International using your points and THE Club® Select with points and cash at discounted rates. You maintain 35,000 points annually which will allow for several vacation throughout the year depending on where and when you book.

Prior to your most recent upgrade, you maintained 17,500 points and you were a Silver Member. You purchased 17,500 additional points in 2014, which put you at 32,500 points and brought you to a Gold Loyalty Level. This gives you longer deadlines for Member Benefits, as well as less of a cost to use for Member Benefits. In addition, you have access to some benefits that other Members do not. As such, these upgrades did make a difference. We encourage you to review your Member Benefits Directory online to review your benefits and compare them.

Diamond has over 350 locations for you to visit. As you are a Member of the US Collection, you can book the resorts in this Collection 13 months in advance of your check-in date, and all other resorts, including European Resorts at 10 months. We do request booking as soon in advance as possible to get what you are seeking, as availability is based on a first come, first service, space available basis and availability is never a guarantee. This is the key to locating availability. We do have many destinations around the world in which you may visit. Some of which are affiliated. This means, unfortunately, they are not managed by Diamond; we have no control over their availability, and a small amount of inventory available for our Members. However, you are still able to book these destinations, based on availability.

We are always happy to try and assist our Members with alternate locations. If you cannot find availability with THE Club®, you have access to the resorts with Interval International (II) and through THE Club® Select, which may have resorts in the area you are seeking. Just in case you have not heard of THE Club Select®, this can be located online by clicking on "Book with THE Club® Select" located under "My Reservations" to the left of the page. Simply click on the drop down and indicate where you would like to go and you can fill in specifics, as well. If the exact resort that you are requesting is not available, the system will provide you with alternates. You can do a blanket search by placing the first date you are willing to check-in in the first box and the last date you are willing to check-in in the last box. This will provide you a full search in between. Not only can you utilize your points for THE Club® Select, you may also use cash at a highly discounted rate. II and THE Club® Select are both deposit based programs; as such, if owners are not depositing weeks, those weeks/resorts will not be available. Please note, there is no exchange fee for THE Club® Select. These are both great resources for reservations. Please try these routes, as there may be a resort in the location you are seeking. In addition to these, you also have access to Resort and Hotel through your Member Benefits. You also have access to booking resorts 59 days or less for half points at participating resorts.

We are happy to see that you have been able to utilize your Membership every year. However, if you still require assistance booking, please let us know.

With that said, we see no justification to cancel and you will continue to be responsible for your contractual obligations.

Respectfully,

Jessica Levine | Specialist | Diamond Resorts International® | Tel: 702.473.7645 ext. 77907 | Fax: 702-240-2576

Ms. Levine,

In reviewing your response it seems that you're missing the point. You continue to tell us ways the ownership can work for us, but we've tried over and over again with no avail. Regardless of what the ownership can apparently provide, it hasn't. This isn't us assuming things without trying, this is experiencing talking.

You say that we're not forced to attend the Sales presentations and that we're not obligated to stay or make a purchase. That statement is laughable, it's so false! We were never once under the impression that we could say "no" to a sales presentation/update meeting or that we could leave the meeting until it was done. In fact, any time we tried to leave the meeting before purchasing, they'd bring in another representative and another manager to really drive the deal home. It's this kind of pressure that wore us down and encouraged us to purchase, even when the purchase wasn't right for us or our situation.

You say you're unable to compare our ownership to those on websites because we're given Member Benefits such as flights, cruises, resorts, and hotels. What you don't mention is how USELESS those benefits are! We've looked into booking each of those separately and consistently find that booking WITH the "perks" is actually more expensive than without. Thus, the "Member Benefits" are not beneficial at all!

You say that our Gold Loyalty Level and 32,500 points give us longer deadlines for Member Benefits and expands our booking potential, but we haven't found that to be the case at all. On paper it may make a difference, but in experience it does not. Regardless of the amount of points we have or our status among your workers, we still haven't been able to successfully book the vacations we want. We've tried booking far in advance and we've tried booking short notice, and nothing ever works. We're always required to either compromise where we want to go or when we want to go, which is not how we thought this ownership would pan out...particularly after upgrading.

The lack of care your representatives have for owners is insulting. We already explained this in our previous letter and you said that you'd bring it to the attention of the Sales staff. The problem is that the harm has already been done for us and we need some sort of compensation for dealing with this high-pressure treatment.

We notice in your response that you did not address our concerns regarding our lack of rental ability nor did you address the fact that our representative told us we could sell back the ownership to Diamond, thus implying it was a "no risk" purchase. When we tried we were told there's no such program. It's lies like these that make us want no part in your organization. Please address these concerns.

You also did not make clear why the contractual documents we received did not have our signatures on them. Was this a bait and switch tactic?

Ms. Levine, we hope that with this information you can understand why we will not be giving up on this fight and plan to move forward with our request.

We look forward to your response,

Michael & Mary Kaye Mordenga

I spoke with one of your collection representative this morning. She informed me that a "7-page email" from Hospitality Management detailing my case with a determination was sent to me. I informed her that I have not received anything of the sort; however, I would call Hospitality Management directly to discuss the matter. She gave me the case number and what she said was California phone number, however the area code is from Colorado. 720-473-7645. I call that number and got an answering machine that did not appear to have anything to do with Diamond. Again all I get is the runaround and no real answers. I've requested a full refund and cancellation of my contract agreement. I've given Diamond the appropriate amount of time to address my request and you have failed to do so. I will be taking my case to the appropriate federal agencies and you can deal with them on fraud charges.

Re: Account # 338259

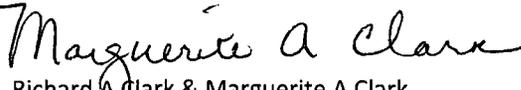

To Whom It May Concern;

We are forwarding you our consumer complaint for review and further assistance. We have provided all the documents that shows our communication with Diamond Resorts representative, Michelle Gross. She is very firm with her responses and is not empathizing with our complaint. It is all true. Diamond does mislead you into purchasing the timeshare with promises that it will go up in value and that we could rent to pay our fees. Their representatives are very pushy and aggressive. We have been held up for hours. They are not satisfied until you walk away with a new contract to your name. They will say anything to make a sale, including misrepresenting information. We have relied on the countless hours of their fabrications. Only to realize later that it was all part of their commission goals. Once you sign, it's your fault for being stupid. It's your fault for believing them and not taking the time at the already 5 hour meetings to go over every single line you are signing. This is all done with a purpose. The meeting is dragged until you sign, then, when they finally convince you, they fly through the signatures.

Diamond is responsible. Their representatives are responsible. We urge for your assistance. After going back and forth, we feel like we have hit a wall. It's not fair that we must remain responsible for an obligation that does not deliver any benefit. This needs to be investigated.

I'd also like to make you aware that a woman came to our house last night and delivered a paper from DRI. It asked to give DRI a call because they have been trying to reach us. This was an attempt to collect debt and we feel harassed. We did call, and left a voicemail stating firmly we were not paying because of our issues with DRI that need to be resolved. This is getting out of hand. It's ridiculous how they go out of their way to have someone come looking for you to collect payment but they cannot hire people to provide the services promised. Please assist in this quest to end our relationship with Diamond. It is only fair to ask for a refund since this was all caused by their fabrications.

Sincerely,

RE: Request to cancel membership

Dear Mr. and Mrs. Clark,

We have received and reviewed your follow up request to cancel your membership with us, including 2 contracts in the US Collection. You state you have been unable to secure inventory and you were advised that maintenance fees would not increase, and we would take you points back if you wished.

We have fully reviewed your claims and the Purchase Agreement associated with both contracts. Your claims of what was told to you at the time of sale and what you agreed to at the time of sale are different. You agreed that you would not accept and that you understood that we will not accept any type of verbal or written representation not included in the contract.

Your responsibility is to go over your documentation, to ensure that you understand your purchase. This is important, because it gives you the opportunity to address any issues you feel were miscommunicated. If you decide not to do this at the sales center, you still have the state mandated rescission period to do so in the comfort of your own space. You can then choose to cancel within rescission, or not. Forfeiting your right is your choice alone, and you must hold yourself accountable for that.

Our decision remains the same as previously stated. We did not find that this contract was misrepresented and we will not cancel and refund either contract based on your claims. You remain responsible for your membership and all contracts under your membership, as agreed to at the time of sale.

Diamond Resorts International® recognizes the importance of vacations to our lives, our relationships, and to our overall health and well-being. Design your own dream vacation with endless choice and flexibility. Stay happy. Stay healthy. Stay Vacationed.™

Dear Michelle,

We appreciate you taking your time to respond to our letter.

We are not very delighted with your response and feel that Diamond should take extra time to review our account. We have been lied from the start and scammed out of our hard earned money. We have no desire in continuing with a business whose sole purpose is to scam their members.

I have tried during different occasions at different times, in advance, to book, and it did not matter at which location/time, there's no availability. It is hard to believe that with so many resorts at so many locations, there's never any availability. It almost seems as if Diamond does not want their members to use their membership rights.

There are many reasons why we wish to end ties with Diamond. As consumers, we know we have rights and deserve to get the services we pay for. Diamond does not provide us with that.

There has been many lies and headaches with this timeshare purchase. This is not the investment we were told it would be. We have tried to rent because we felt we would be able to pay for our maintenance fees if we rented out our week. Then, were misled to upgrade and purchase more points to get into the "Trust." Otherwise, we could only make reservations at our home resort. We were liked to and found out at a later date the info we were given was not true.

We have called in the past to inquire about selling the timeshare back. We were told that Sunterra/Diamond were no longer buying weeks back.

During our upgrade in Williamsburg, we were told our maintenance fees would go down or stay the same because we bought into the trust. We have discovered that maintenance fees increase yearly.

It is not a matter of the fees going up, but a matter that we were told they'd go down or not increase at all. It is not a matter of availability of a first come, first serve basis, but a matter of being told we could travel at any time wherever we wanted. This is the problem. We would have no problem if Diamond delivered their promises as presented during the updates and purchases. The people that meet with you are the ones that make it look like the best thing ever, and it is not. Our problem is with the people that have lied to us to get us to sign a contract. It makes sense that they would like as I am sure they're making a plethora of commission from these $10K and $20K sales. They have been deceitful and dishonest.

Please get back to me.

Thank you,

RE: Request to cancel membership # 338259

Dear Richard A. Clark and Marguerite A. Clark,

Thank you for contacting Diamond Resorts International®. We received your letter dated August 23, 2016, requesting to cancel and refund membership 338259, which includes contract 16264949 in the US Collection, purchased at the Williamsburg Sales Center on July 04, 2012, and contract 17363286 in the US Collection, purchased at the Mystic Dunes Resort, December 26, 2015. You state in your letter that on many occasions you have tried to book a particular location and have been told there is no availability. You also state that your membership is no longer a value for you as the maintenance fees have increased over the years. You state that inventory at resorts managed by Diamond are offered on third party sites. For these reasons you request cancellation and refund of your membership.

We appreciate you bringing your concerns to our attention and allowing us to respond to them. I am sorry to hear that you no longer consider your vacation ownership to be a value for you and your family, and the difficulties you state you are having securing inventory. I want to assure you that we take all complaints seriously; we review them thoroughly and track all complaints for trends. We have reviewed your account.

Inventory is dispensed on a first come, first serve basis. If you are limited in the time you can travel and are specific about the resorts you want to visit, we always suggest booking as soon as possible. Why? Inventory is like anything else. The most popular areas at the most popular times will book first. We would never hold on to inventory that members want to book, just so hopefully later on, someone who wants to book the same time period can wait until a later date to book. You have the option to book resorts in your collection 13 months in advance and all other resorts 10 months in advance. I always advise our members to book as soon as possible if looking for inventory around the holidays and special dates. Additionally, resorts near beach areas will book quickly for inventory during the summer months. We will be glad to assist you with securing inventory.

You also state that your membership is no longer a value for you as the maintenance fees have increased over the years. I understand your frustration with the increase in costs of the maintenance fees over the years. We all agree that we do not want to see increases in any type of service our product that we use. It is a part of life, over time there will be increases, as salary increases, products increase, and so on. The increases in the US Collection have been minimal, considering the rate of inflation over the past few years. Your yearly invoice details any increases, including the percentage of the increase, and an explanation for it. Whether you use the product you purchased or not, you are responsible for it. Nonuse would not be a valid reason to cancel your membership.

Lastly, you state that inventory at resorts managed by Diamond are offered on third party sites. Let me start by re-assuring you that Club accommodations are available for the exclusive use of members. It helps to imagine all availability at all resorts in two separate pots - one big, one small. The big pot contains all of the accommodation set aside for the exclusive use of points members. The smaller pot contains unsold weeks owned by Diamond (also known as the developer). As new members join THE Club®, accommodation is transferred from the smaller pot to the larger pot and so on to ensure there is sufficient inventory for the member population. This process is overseen by the trustees FNTC Limited to ensure there is always sufficient availability. However, as the owner of the unsold weeks, Diamond is liable for the management fees on these weeks. As such, we use this small amount of weeks to militate against these payments by either renting those weeks or using them for marketing activity (e.g. to attract new members).

In the example of Groupon®, this is actually a jointing marketing/rental initiative and while there is no requirement to attend presentation, we will be offering these guests the opportunity to join THE Club® at some point during their stay. We have found program's like this to be an excellent way to showcase the membership experience to a wider audience of potential new members. In addition, if there is a surplus of unsold weeks, the developer occasionally deposits these weeks into THE Club® pot for a short period usually at discounted points values. In short there is no question of member accommodation being made available to non-members.

After reviewing your account and claims, we have no grounds in which to cancel your membership. As long as you have active loans associated with the contracts we will not be able to assist you with this request. We will be glad to assist you with your ownership, so that you and your family can get the most out of your purchase. Please feel free to contact me at any time for assistance.

RE: Request to cancel membership

Dear Mr. and Mrs. Clark,

We have received and reviewed your follow up request to cancel your membership with us, including 2 contracts in the US Collection. You state you have been unable to secure inventory and you were advised that maintenance fees would not increase, and we would take you points back if you wished.

We have fully reviewed your claims and the Purchase Agreement associated with both contracts. Your claims of what was told to you at the time of sale and what you agreed to at the time of sale are different. You agreed that you would not accept and that you understood that we will not accept any type of verbal or written representation not included in the contract.

Your responsibility is to go over your documentation, to ensure that you understand your purchase. This is important, because it gives you the opportunity to address any issues you feel were miscommunicated. If you decide not to do this at the sales center, you still have the state mandated rescission period to do so in the comfort of your own space. You can then choose to cancel within rescission, or not. Forfeiting your right is your choice alone, and you must hold yourself accountable for that.

Our decision remains the same as previously stated. We did not find that this contract was misrepresented and we will not cancel and refund either contract based on your claims. You remain responsible for your membership and all contracts under your membership, as agreed to at the time of sale.

Diamond Resorts International® recognizes the importance of vacations to our lives, our relationships, and to our overall health and well-being. Design your own dream vacation with endless choice and flexibility. Stay happy. Stay healthy. Stay Vacationed.™

Dear Michelle,

We appreciate you taking your time to respond to our letter.

We are not very delighted with your response and feel that Diamond should take extra time to review our account. We have been lied from the start and scammed out of our hard earned money. We have no desire in continuing with a business whose sole purpose is to scam their members.

I have tried during different occasions at different times, in advance, to book, and it did not matter at which location/time, there's no availability. It is hard to believe that with so many resorts at so many locations, there's never any availability. It almost seems as if Diamond does not want their members to use their membership rights.

There are many reasons why we wish to end ties with Diamond. As consumers, we know we have rights and deserve to get the services we pay for. Diamond does not provide us with that.

There has been many lies and headaches with this timeshare purchase. This is not the investment we were told it would be. We have tried to rent because we felt we would be able to pay for our maintenance fees if we rented out our week. Then, were misled to upgrade and purchase more points to get into the "Trust." Otherwise, we could only make reservations at our home resort. We were liked to and found out at a later date the info we were given was not true.

We have called in the past to inquire about selling the timeshare back. We were told that Sunterra/Diamond were no longer buying weeks back.

During our upgrade in Williamsburg, we were told our maintenance fees would go down or stay the same because we bought into the trust. We have discovered that maintenance fees increase yearly.

It is not a matter of the fees going up, but a matter that we were told they'd go down or not increase at all. It is not a matter of availability of a first come, first serve basis, but a matter of being told we could travel at any time wherever we wanted. This is the problem. We would have no problem if Diamond delivered their promises as presented during the updates and purchases. The people that meet with you are the ones that make it look like the best thing ever, and it is not. Our problem is with the people that have lied to us to get us to sign a contract. It makes sense that they would like as I am sure they're making a plethora of commission from these $10K and $20K sales. They have been deceitful and dishonest.

Please get back to me.

Thank you,

Richard A Clark & Marguerite A Clark

RE: Request to cancel membership # 338259

Dear Richard A. Clark and Marguerite A. Clark,

Thank you for contacting Diamond Resorts International®. We received your letter dated August 23, 2016, requesting to cancel and refund membership 338259, which includes contract 16264949 in the US Collection, purchased at the Williamsburg Sales Center on July 04, 2012, and contract 17363286 in the US Collection, purchased at the Mystic Dunes Resort, December 26, 2015. You state in your letter that on many occasions you have tried to book a particular location and have been told there is no availability. You also state that your membership is no longer a value for you as the maintenance fees have increased over the years. You state that inventory at resorts managed by Diamond are offered on third party sites. For these reasons you request cancellation and refund of your membership.

We appreciate you bringing your concerns to our attention and allowing us to respond to them. I am sorry to hear that you no longer consider your vacation ownership to be a value for you and your family, and the difficulties you state you are having securing inventory. I want to assure you that we take all complaints seriously; we review them thoroughly and track all complaints for trends. We have reviewed your account.

Inventory is dispensed on a first come, first serve basis. If you are limited in the time you can travel and are specific about the resorts you want to visit, we always suggest booking as soon as possible. Why? Inventory is like anything else. The most popular areas at the most popular times will book first. We would never hold on to inventory that members want to book, just so hopefully later on, someone who wants to book the same time period can wait until a later date to book. You have the option to book resorts in your collection 13 months in advance and all other resorts 10 months in advance. I always advise our members to book as soon as possible if looking for inventory around the holidays and special dates. Additionally, resorts near beach areas will book quickly for inventory during the summer months. We will be glad to assist you with securing inventory.

You also state that your membership is no longer a value for you as the maintenance fees have increased over the years. I understand your frustration with the increase in costs of the maintenance fees over the years. We all agree that we do not want to see increases in any type of service our product that we use. It is a part of life, over time there will be increases, as salary increases, products increase, and so on. The increases in the US Collection have been minimal, considering the rate of inflation over the past few years. Your yearly invoice details any increases, including the percentage of the increase, and an explanation for it. Whether you use the product you purchased or not, you are responsible for it. Nonuse would not be a valid reason to cancel your membership.

Lastly, you state that inventory at resorts managed by Diamond are offered on third party sites. Let me start by re-assuring you that Club accommodations are available for the exclusive use of members. It helps to imagine all availability at all resorts in two separate pots - one big, one small. The big pot contains all of the accommodation set aside for the exclusive use of points members. The smaller pot contains unsold weeks owned by Diamond (also known as the developer). As new members join THE Club®, accommodation is transferred from the smaller pot to the larger pot and so on to ensure there is sufficient inventory for the member population. This process is overseen by the trustees FNTC Limited to ensure there is always sufficient availability. However, as the owner of the unsold weeks, Diamond is liable for the management fees on these weeks. As such, we use this small amount of weeks to militate against these payments by either renting those weeks or using them for marketing activity (e.g. to attract new members).

In the example of Groupon®, this is actually a jointing marketing/rental initiative and while there is no requirement to attend presentation, we will be offering these guests the opportunity to join THE Club® at some point during their stay. We have found program's like this to be an excellent way to showcase the membership experience to a wider audience of potential new members. In addition, if there is a surplus of unsold weeks, the developer occasionally deposits these weeks into THE Club® pot for a short period usually at discounted points values. In short there is no question of member accommodation being made available to non-members.

After reviewing your account and claims, we have no grounds in which to cancel your membership. As long as you have active loans associated with the contracts we will not be able to assist you with this request. We will be glad to assist you with your ownership, so that you and your family can get the most out of your purchase. Please feel free to contact me at any time for assistance.

Re: Account # 338259

Dear DRI;

We have been members since 2003 when we purchased via Sunterra. At the time, we felt that the purchase of the week in Orlando was a good value and it would give us an affordable way to travel. However, since DRI had taken over Sunterra, we have become very unhappy with our purchase.

There have been many occasions when I had tried to book a week at a particular location, only to be told that it was not available. When we purchased our week at Orlando, I was told that resorts were exclusive only to members. It is my understanding, through some research on my own, that resorts that were suppose to be members only, have been resold on a third party rental market for extra profiteering. Therefore, offering non-members more availability than members who have paid steeply for their week. What was once sold as an exclusive membership is now just a hotel/apartment chain. This is not what we were told when we originally purchased and I feel is a breach of contract.

We have also come to the realization that DRI is no longer a value. I am able to book a trip to where I want to go and when I want to go for far less than what I am paying in Maintenance fees, Club fees, Interval fees, etc..... I can get much better deals through outside companies for far less!

Maintenance fees have risen exponentially through the 13 years of our membership. Upkeep at many of the resorts we have visited is lacking. It appears that ownership fees are not being returned to the properties for upkeep. It seems that costs are never ending but always spiraling upward.

We have take a few vacations using our points over the years. We have attended owner updates as well. I will never attend another owner update! Each time we go, it gets worse. Our time is valuable and I do not wish to waste it sitting in an office being told lie after lie! In Williamsburg, we were told that we had to purchase 4000 points to get us into the "Trust". We were told that our maintenance fees would be lower because more people were putting money in to the trust. We were also told that if we did not purchase more points, we could only use our week at our home resort. Our points would not be good anywhere else. Another lie and not what we were told when we originally purchased our timeshare week back in 2003! We were longer than the 90 minutes allotted. Finally, we purchased the 4000 points because we were afraid our investment would no longer be any good.

Last December 2015, we went to an owner update in Orlando, Fl. After a half hour, our salesperson, which is a poor actor by the way, stated that he had an emergency and someone else would come in to finish up our owners update. After a total of five hours, four salesmen and being told we were stupid, and we are not using our timeshare wisely, etc we gave in and purchased the points needed, though we did not want them. Just so we could get out of there! I am tired of the deception and high pressure sales tactics. What started out as "we aren't selling you more points" had turned into an intimidating and grueling morning!

Our decision to purchase a timeshare was based on false promises and misrepresentations by unscrupulous sales reps. Therefore, we Richard A & Marguerite A Clark would like to cancel our contract. We would like a monetary refund of all monies paid to Sunterra/Diamond Resort International. All future payments to DRI will be stopped.

We also request that there will be no harm to our credit and we request a WRITTEN resolution within 30 days of the receipt of this letter.

Sincerely,

Richard A Clark & Marguerite A Clark

RE: Regarding request to cancel membership 338259

Dear Richard A. Clark and Marguerite A. Clark,

We have received your follow up request to cancel your membership with Diamond Resorts International®, which includes two contracts. You state that you have not been able to secure inventory, that you were advised by the sales team that maintenance fees would go down, and that you could travel wherever you want and whenever you wanted without any advanced notice.

You state that you have not been able to secure inventory and that you were advised that you could travel wherever you want and whenever you wanted without any advanced notice. That is not how this or any other travel industry works. When you search for flights, hotels, or attempt to book a reservation, you will only have a choice from what is available. If you are attempting to book on short notice, you will have less availability to choose from versus booking well in advance. As stated previously, we will be glad to assist you with securing inventory. Keep in mind, and stated in your contract, we cannot confirm inventory. This just is not possible to do.

You state you were advised by the sales team that maintenance fees would go down. Your contract and supporting documents are clear, we provide an estimated amount for the purchase years maintenance fees, and we have no way of knowing what the following are future years invoicing will be.

We have responded several times to your request to have the above mentioned contract cancelled. Our position remains as previously stated. You had the opportunity to review your documents away from the sales environment and the chance to cancel this contract within the mandated rescission period.

Failure to use your Vacation Ownership Points will not relieve you of your obligation to the Association. As such, you are obligated to pay your dues each year. Failure to pay your Loan may result in an increased rate of finance charges to the maximum lawful rate under applicable law, as noted in your Truth in Lending Disclosure. Refusal to pay the fees assessed with this agreement will result in Default. Per the Fair Debt Collection Policy Act Diamond Resort International® must report accurate information to your Credit Bureau.

Based on the content of your information and the details noted in your contract, the terms of your contract were clear at the time of signing. Respectfully you remain responsible for your maintenance fees and loan as invoiced. I am sorry if our response is not what you intended or expected, but it is our final decision.

Diamond Resorts International® recognizes the importance of vacations to our lives, our relationships, and to our overall health and well-being. Design your own dream vacation with endless choice and flexibility. Stay happy. Stay healthy. Stay Vacationed.™

RE: Diamond Resorts International Timeshare

To whom this may concern,

My name is Myrna Penetrante. I am the spouse of deceased Retired Military (USN) Remegio Penetrante. I have had to deal with a lot of personal issues, medical issues and this timeshare I have with Diamond Resorts has taken a bigger toll in my life. I am in desperate need of terminating my account with Diamond Resorts International as it has become a burden to me financially...

The sales representative did not mention that the sales office was applying for a credit for me to use for the down payment. I did express to the sales representative that I was only seeking a release of my ownership due to medical problems. The salesman took it upon himself to apply for a credit card instead of assisting me with the release of my paid off timeshare.

The sales representative never mentioned there would be separate maintenance fees for the original timeshare purchase and the upgrade. I was not fully aware what the upgrade was as the salesman did not go over the information regarding the upgrade. I was also not made aware of the increase in maintenance fees.

Due to my medical conditions, I have difficulty traveling by myself. For this reason, I will not be using the timeshare anymore and the same applies for my family. Another reason why I want this contract cancelled is because I cannot afford the payments for the upgrade as I am on a limited, fixed income and I have to pay off the increased medical bills. Aside from this, I also have to pay for home care for myself. There is no way I can afford the monthly payments and the increasing maintenance fees.

I do have documentation confirming my health condition in which I will be attaching to this letter. I am seeking your assistance with resolving this matter because Diamond Resorts have not assisted me. I look forward to your response.

Respectfully,

Myrna D. Penetrante

Re: Acct# 0025126210
Att: Michael Flaskey, Vice President- Sales

Dear Mr. Flaskey,

I write this letter because I never received acknowledgement of a letter, dated 10/18/2016, addressed to Shelby Knapp, fraud specialist. In calling today I was told by two of your employees, Lora & Yvette, that my case had been forwarded to your legal department. I have never received any communication regarding my case nor have I been able to speak to Shelby. Your employees, Lora & Yvette were kind enough to listen to how distressing this has been for us.

We have received several calls and letters dunning us. Apparently no notation had been entered into the computer that this was a case under dispute. We not only pay our bills on time we pay them early. It is not pleasant to be aware that this is affecting our credit.

In reviewing our documents I cannot believe we signed them based on Brad's word that they were based on all prior transactions. We trusted him and our common sense went out the door. But, it was not from lack of asking questions but of receiving false information and deliberate omission of disclosure. There was no reason to believe this was the case as in all prior sales presentations with your sales people they were always clear, and they fully disclosed facts and what they were offering.

We are willing to take a polygraph test to expedite this matter if it should be necessary.

Sincerely,

Ana Atanasio

Att: Citizen Attention

To Whom it May Concern:

This is a shortened version of a letter addressed to Diamond Resorts International, 10600 West Charleston Blvd., Las Vegas, Nevada 89135-1014: to the attention of Shelby Knapp, Fraud Specialist, Re: Acct# 0025126210

I write this summary at the suggestion of your hospitality department when I stated that fraud was perpetrated on the above captioned account. I have owned time share points with Diamond Resort for many years and have attended other presentations. Your sales persons have been very precise and clear about cost and charges and have been very professional. I was under the impression we had a good relationship

When I attended this sales presentation, on September 9, of this year, I made it very clear that my main interest was in obtaining information regarding the recent acquisition of your company. I was not interested in buying more points nor could we afford it. We were paying on the Sampler because we wanted to go to Hawaii next year and that was all we could afford. BIG mistake! When he started his pitch about saving us money (about $1750 maintenance and about $150 on the Sampler) we repeated the fact that we were not interested nor could we afford it, but he was very persistent and persuasive.

I am inclosing a copy of the work sheet where he states there would be no out of pocket expense that day, He expounded on the benefits of a new product. We could redeem unused points and receive a check issued to us for the unused points. We asked, at least 4 times, if the only amount we would be responsible for was $132.24 and he stated yes.. My husband specifically asked if there would be any hidden fees and he said no, we would only be responsible for $132.34. Eventually we accepted offer.

This is where the fraud starts. He offered a credit card to pay for the loan payments and at the same time earn points. He insisted we BOTH needed to apply even when I objected. When we were approved he charged the card for $8260.20. I questioned why, and why the discrepancy between the loan and the charged amount. He stated that was the amount head quarters had finally agreed upon. I asked if this was due to a pending payment due on the Sampler and he said probably but I could send an E-mail and make sure no further amounts would be deducted on the Sure Pay agreement. When I got home I did send an E-mail to cancel the Sure Pay pending payment and was told I did not owe it. We started to sign papers. Upon receiving the explanation of proposal I immediately questioned the disclosed amounts. He said those figures represented all prior transactions and amounts. I had no reason to doubt his word as they were plausible. So we signed.

A week ago I received a statement requesting the 1st payment of $132.34. When I call Diamond Resort I told them I had paid the loan off. I was informed that the loan had not been paid off and that I had actually committed to a purchase amount totaling $16,560, and they cited the explanation of proposal we had signed. They could not tell me where the credit card payment had gone and that I needed to contact the credit card bank. After several calls to the bank I was told that the payment was made to CS Daytona Bch/ Perennial Vacation Club. I stated I had never authorized any payment to them and that my receipt stated Diamond Resort. The bank employee called the phone listed on the transaction and put the call on a 3 way call. The called was answered as Diamond Resort but the employee refused to speak with us 3 times because the call was being recorded. I placed the credit card amount as disputed.

We never authorized any payment to any vendor except to pay off the loan. We opened the credit card specifically for this purpose and no other. Brad never mentioned a purchase amount of $16,560.00 or a down payment of $9000, and I wonder how this could have saved us any money. He specifically said no out of pocket expense, as stated on the work sheet. I am stating that he misappropriated the credit card payment and diverted it to an unauthorized vendor. I am stating he not only misrepresented what the amounts on the proposal sheet were, but that he lied about what they actually represented. I am stating that he deliberately omitted disclosing any facts or amounts. And we believed him so we signed.

I found out about this fraud only after receiving the request for payment on the loan from Diamond Resorts. I truly hope that logic will help when you consider the amount you are stating we are responsible for and committed to, and how it could have saved us money. Do you really think we would have signed for that amount after stating we were not interested or could afford it? It scares me to think that he can actually commit fraud and get away with it. This is not a trust worthy employee. I trusted your organization and had never had reason to distrust it, or your sales personnel. Based on this trust I am shocked at what has happened

Dear Ms. Knapp,

I write this letter to acknowledge receiving your call today, and how wonderful it was to have received this call letting me know that the loan, and payment from the credit card company, were being reversed. I am sure you remember how emotional I sounded. There really are no words to describe our relief.

Yesterday I received the assessment statement for the maintenance due by January 1, 2017, for the year 2017. When I called they had no record of any payment forthcoming from the loan. This tells me that all of the presentation was a lie.

I am so sorry that Brad felt he had to be so deceitful in order to make a living. I have prayed for him and have forgiven him for the anguish he has caused us. We thank you and God for this just judgment.

To whom it may concern,

We've been going back and forth with Diamond Resorts International going on three months now and we've yet to see any results. Back in September we sent a letter to their corporate headquarters with regards to issues we've had with our ownership. We were assigned hospitality management specialist Jessica Levine to address our issues. Sadly, regardless of the amount of "evidence" we bring forth, she is rejecting our request for release and refund.

To get a better understanding of our case we have attached the first letter we sent into Diamond in addition to the emails we sent back to Ms. Levine with regards to her denial. In reading these letters and emails we hope you can understand the ways in which we have been lied to and taken advantage of by Diamond Resorts, which should allow the release and refund of our membership.

At this time we would very much appreciate it if you could reach out to Diamond Resorts International on our behalf to expedite this issue. We have stopped all payments into the company and we fear we will see credit damage if the case is not rectified soon.

If you have any questions, please feel free to contact us by email at paulgwenz@yahoo.com.

We appreciate your help.

To whom it may concern,

My wife, Kedma, and I are requesting the cancellation of our timeshare ownership with Diamond because we have not received what we signed up for. We are also requesting a refund of our payments for Diamond points up to now. We do not intend on making payments while this case is being investigated or until a proper resolution is provided.

We have attended member updates each time since we bought in 2011 after we were sold a sampler in Maui during our honeymoon, which we converted to points. We were told that prices for points would increase and were told that we needed to purchase "now" as a good investment against future increases. We were sold on the idea that it would be a good investment to pass our timeshare points down to our children and that it would be a better investment than spending money on vacations without getting anything in return. This was further explained by drawing up a 20-year vacation plan and comparing the costs of "normal" vacations against those of Diamond members. It seemed to us by what our rep was saying and writing down on the paper, that this was a no-brainer purchase. We have since found that our timeshare points are not something we can sell for even a 10th of what we've paid and that even passing them on may not even be possible in the future. The entire way we were sold this ownership was based on lies, inaccurate information, and falsified calculations.

We were told that the loan rate with Diamond could easily be refinanced at a lower rate, since we locked in at 15%. But what we found is that our debt with Diamond has made it impossible to refinance our house, though we have tried for the past five years with five different banks to do so. We also found out we can't refinance a timeshare because its unsecured debt. None of the "investment" ideas and strategies from the sales presentation were given to us, either.

We were encouraged to continue upgrading our points to get to Gold status in order to have better purchasing power for reservations and upgrades. The reality has been the inability to get into all but the biggest resorts where there are lots of rooms that are unsold. When we wanted to take a cruise we ended up having to postpone for more than 19 months because nothing was available with our points for the entire year I tried to make the reservation. We were also told we should take advantage of Gold status because of the price freeze. Come to find out, the only way to get the price freeze and continue with it was to buy even more points.

One of the major selling points for upgrading to Gold status was the ability to use some of our points to pay for maintenance fees. When we tried to do this we were told there was no such thing! We were lied to in the sales presentation and were strong-armed into buying more points than needed or what we could use. Trying to use extra points for flights or toward maintenance fees is either not possible or too complicated. Many times there were additional fees added which weren't made clear when we were sold the ownership. Our representative's omission of information cost us dearly.

At each member update, we were told that we would save money through different strategies. We were sold points if we changed from the Hawaii Collection to the U.S. collection because the maintenance fees would be cheaper. But they have continued to increase. We were sold more points with the promise of a lower interest rate on the loan. We were sold more points on the promise to incorporate points from Monarch. We were sold more points on the promise that our maintenance fees could be combined. But these did not all occur and even though the last loan was at a slightly lower interest rate, it made it impossible to refinance our house to try to get a reasonable interest rate for the loan.

The premises used to sell us points at each members' update was not the reality and it wasn't even an update, instead it was a hard driving sales pitch.

Because we have been lied to by Diamond, we are seeking a monetary refund for all points purchased, a request that our credit not be harmed, and a speedy resolution.

Sincerely,

Dear Ms. Levine,

Thank you so much for your email. We appreciate the time that went into that response and do believe that you're an honest, hard-working individual. That being said, we still are not pleased with the outcome and do intend on pushing forward with our original request for cancellation and refund.

In your email you say that we're not obligated to stay for the presentation or make a purchase, but this surely is not the impression we got. At times it was actually referred to as a "mandatory update meeting." If it weren't mandatory, we certainly wouldn't have gone. Once we got into these meetings we realize that it wasn't to update us on our current ownership at all, it was a forceful sales pitch. If ever we denied the upgrade and/or seemed like we didn't want to purchase additional points, we were pressured even harder. Managers would enter the room providing more incentives for our upgraded purchase. We did not feel comfortable as owners as we expected. Flaws in our current ownership were always unveiled in order to convince us to upgrade our ownership. If our current level was so bad, why were we sold it in the first place? The entire experience has become horrible. We definitely felt it was a "must" to attend and were made to feel bad if we didn't purchase. We're sorry to break this news to you, but the way you likely train your representatives and the way they actually conduct the meetings are opposite ends of the spectrum. Perhaps you could secretly record a sales meeting without telling your representatives to get a better understanding of what we're talking about.

We do understand that we signed contractual documents when we purchased the ownership, but a lot of what was told to us during the meeting wasn't covered in the contract. Now we realize this was probably done on purpose. Whether you know it or not, your sales representatives tend to stretch the truth in order to make the sale. They told us bookings would be easy and that we shouldn't have any trouble booking the resorts we wanted to go to, during the times we wanted to go. We even specifically discussed our intended vacations and our reps said it would be doable. We know in the contract it says "first come, first-served," but we really thought this was just a formality in the event that we couldn't get a reservation or two. We had no idea that we'd have so much trouble reserving units, particularly with our membership status. This ownership isn't worth anything if you can't use it, which is the trouble we've run into.

We were also told that the ownership would go up in value as the cost per point was being raised, especially after Diamond went public. We were told that if we didn't purchase at the frozen rate we were at when we went to an owners' update, we would be paying over $7 per point in the future to get to the Gold level in order to have more benefits. For example, we were sold points with the incentive of using them to offset maintenance fees, which you have now told us was changed after it was used to sell the points to us. That means we were lied to about a benefit that was taken away after the purchase. Also, the idea that the points would be more valuable was used to sell us more points at the updates. This hasn't been the case at all. If we had bought a vacation home instead of this ownership we'd be sitting pretty. Instead we have this useless timeshare that we can barely give away, let alone sell, even while the current per point price is over $7.

You state that there's an opportunity to refinance through the financial institution of our choice. Can you please name one that you know is willing to refinance a timeshare without putting our house down as collateral? When we talked to our bank, we were told banks/credit unions don't have and never have refinanced timeshares because they're unsecured debt.

The maintenance fee issue is a finicky one. We understand that the fees go up with increased number of points, but we were under the impression that maintenance fees would only go up as a last-resort situation. Even in that case, it would be minimal. This, however, hasn't been our experience.

You also insinuate that we haven't tried booking early enough in advance, which is why we can't find units. This is inaccurate. We've actually tried booking reservations at all different times, including right when they're available to book, and keep getting no where. I'm not sure if there's a glitch in your system or what the deal is, but it is not working out for us. It has been very frustrating.

We understand that you want to help us try to make this work, but we've honestly been doing that the past few years. We've tried everything we can to make this ownership right for us, including upgrading, but we've had no luck.

Right now we're too fed up to try any more. If you can't grant us the cancellation we deserve, we would like to ask that you please pass our case along to your supervisor.

Thank you, again, for your well thought through response. We are sorry you work for a company that likely doesn't represent your integrity as a person.

We look forward to your response.

Ms. Levine,

Yesterday I had a phone call with a rather forceful individual in your financial department. She was attempting to collect the debt on our disputed Diamond loan and I told her that I was working with you, as a case specialist, to come to an amicable resolution. For some reason she was trying to get me to say, verbatim, "I will not be making payments." I'm not sure if this is some other trick you have up your sleeves, but I never said those words. I told her I would be in touch with you to continue this dispute. Please make a note in my file that will take me OFF the mailing list and OFF the calling list.

With regards to your email, you state, "While we understand that it is pushed as a mandatory meeting, it is not." This statement alone admits to their/your fault. Clearly your representatives KNOW that it's not a mandatory meeting, yet they push it in that manner. This then sets precedence for them to KNOW they shouldn't give false information about the timeshare experience, but do anyway. Webster defines fraud as "the crime of using dishonest methods to take something valuable from another person." Your company is committing fraud against me to take my money through an "Owners' Update" that is not intended to be an update but a high pressure sales tactic. This is punishable by law and I do intend on following that course unless you're willing to grant cancellation and refund at this time.

The way in which we were sold WAS forceful. If you review any audio/video clips you may have from these meetings, you should be able to clearly recognize the unfair pressure tactics used against us. We never felt it was our choice whether or not to purchase/upgrade; we were told it was the only solution to our ownership problems, yet the purchase did not benefit us in the ways promised. You say that buying additional points helps with Member benefits, better locations, larger units, etc. This has NOT been our experience. Regardless of the number of points we have, availability for many locations is still extremely scarce, thus we're not even able to book a vacation to get the chance to experience the apparent benefits--yet another example of fraud.

The remainder of your email seems to just be confirming everything I know about Diamond...that you put specific verbiage in your contracts that is NOT discussed in person in order to cover your butts. This includes, but is not limited to, the fact that you "can add or remove any benefit" at any time and without notice--even when those "benefits" are used as the bait to close a sale and then taken away afterwards. You also state that "Much of the information is provided to you during the Sales presentation; however, not all information can be reviewed." This proves that your staff is omitting information on purpose to make the sale and simply hopes that the owners don't have the time or energy to read through all the contractual documents within the ridiculously small rescission period.

Again, Ms. Levine, I would appreciate a response by the end of the week concerning a cancellation and refund. If not, I will have to move forward to contact government agencies for assistance in what seems clear to me to be fraud on Diamond's part. Please know I will be including your contact information to these agencies and will give copies of this correspondence where you admit to fault.

To whom it may concern,

We are timeshare owners with Diamond Resorts International. We initially bought in believing the sales employees on the multiple benefits they explained we would be gaining by becoming owners. My then husband and I truly believed we were purchasing a great financial investment that would increase in value over time, making booking vacations easier and more affordable with even better amenities and benefits. Not one of these selling points ended up being true. The only investment this has been is our own, seeing as we have spent over $70,000 through out the years of our own money into this company, and still almost $26,000 in debt. Booking has always been extremely difficult, even after upgrading five times and reaching Silver Member status. We were sold on lies and false promises every single time.

We feel as if there is nothing else we can do, but to cut ties with Diamond Resorts completely. At the very beginning of this past October, we sent Diamond Resorts a letter stating our request for full cancellation of our contracts and ownership as well as a monetary refund. They responded back denying our request. We then responded back asking again for a cancellation, providing more reasons and complaints to justify our request. Every letter they send back shows how indifferent they are with our feelings and this whole matter which has affected our family greatly.

We are kindly asking for your assistance in this matter. We do not appreciate how we are being treated by Diamond, after being owners for over 20 years. It is our hope that you will be able to resolve this issue once and for all, and gain complete cancellation of our contracts. Please let us know if there is anything we can provide that may help. We are very appreciative of your time.

Sincerely,

Dear Anna R. Garcia and Eudaldo Verdecia,

We received your follow up request to cancel contract 17064258, stating that you were advised that this purchase would be an investment for you and your family and that your children could benefit from this.

I agree with this statement. The sales agent did not make any claims regarding as financial investment and your Purchase Agreement is very clear regarding claiming financial investment, as we have no way of predicting future value. No one has that ability.

A vacation ownership is an investment in family providing time together and once the loan is paid in full, can be transferred to your children or anyone else you would like to have it.

It is always your responsibility to make decisions that is best for you and your family. The agents cannot make you purchase. They do present options that may work for you, but, it is your decision with knowledge of your financial situation, who makes the decision to purchase.

Our position remains the same as previously state, we will not cancel this contract outside the state mandate rescission period and with an active loan. You remain responsible for this purchase as agreed to at the time of sale.

If I can be of assistance in another matter, please let me know.

Sincerely,

Michelle Gross

To whom it may concern,

I became a timeshare owner with Diamond Resorts International in 2005. I have family that were also owners with Diamond, so I had heard some about it and wanted to look into it myself and see what it really had to offer. With what they tell you in the initial sales presentation, who wouldn't want to buy? They explained what a financial investment this could be for me, something that would appreciate in value over time. Not to mention the four star accommodations I would be staying at with numerous additional benefits. It sounded wonderful and I was so excited to be a part of this company.

Well, unfortunately I have always believed the best in people and trust everything I am told. That has definitely been the case with Diamond. After purchasing, it became just how apparent I had been fooled. This was not an investment. I am now $55,000 in debt and have spent well over $80,000 in this company in the past eleven years I have owned. They explained how I could rent my timeshare out when I was not using it to help pay for fees. Well, any time I reached out to Diamond for help doing so, no one was ever able to explain the process to me. When I tried booking, no matter how much in advance it was, nothing was ever available. I agreed to upgrade multiple times because I believed the employees that were telling me how much more opportunities and benefits I would be gaining by having these points. But it never got any better. It is very disheartening to be associated with a company that is so manipulative and blatantly dishonest with their owners. Wanting to take vacations should not be this much of a burden.

I am telling you this because I am very hopeful that you will be able to assist me in receiving a complete contractual cancellation and monetary refund from Diamond Resorts International. I sent them a letter at the end of this past October stating my request for this cancellation and refund, which I have included. They sent back an email a month later denying my request because they did not see any misrepresentations and basically told me I could still upgrade to a higher loyalty level to help with my booking problems. I am ready to be rid of Diamond and cut any and all association. If there is anything else you may need from me that you feel could help me achieve this cancellation and refund, please let me know.

Thank you for your time,

To Whom It May Concern:

I am requesting a cancellation to my contract with you and in doing so please do not give me any negative or derogatory remarks against my credit. I have stopped payments to the timeshare and I am requesting a refund of monies sent. I was told that I could rent out my timeshare or that I could get better accommodations when upgrading, however, I do not find the accommodations were any better nor have I been able to rent the timeshare. And there is never any help in doing so. I feel that you have taken advantage of me over the years and I no longer wish to be paying for something that I am not able to take advantage of nor receive the accommodations that I was promised in the beginning.

Please make sure you resolve this matter within 30 days of receipt of this letter.

To whom it may concern,

My husband Jason became a timeshare owner with Diamond Resorts International in 2004. In the twelve years we have had an association with this company, we can honestly say most interactions have been quite disappointing. There were several enticing selling points at the initial purchase. It was explained that being self-employed we were told it could be a deductible business expense that our employees would benefit from as well. Our vacations would be cheaper and all around better and that it would be no problem to sell for more than we were paying if we ever wanted or could rent it out for profit or to help pay fees. It genuinely seemed like a win win! who wouldn't want to become owners with this company??

It has become very apparent that what we signed up for, and have already paid so much money towards, was not exactly what we were to be receiving. One year into owning there became constant pressure sales from Diamond employees for us to upgrade. We were being prompted with more points, more vacation time, easier booking, VIP status, the works. It honestly sounded great at the time so we took the upgrade. Come to find out, the main reasons we paid more money to upgrade, the very benefits these employees told us we would be gaining, were nowhere in sight. The manipulative and blatant lies we were told for years, it is extremely disheartening. Our next and final upgrade with Diamond was in 2012. We have invested about $50,000 (and honestly more) into this company. That is a compete joke and we cannot be a part of it any longer. It is not fair to us and it is not fair to our family.

At the end of this past October, we both sent individual letters to Diamond Resorts requesting the cancellation of our ownership in full. We have provided both letters which contain numerous reasons, concerns, and complaints to back up this request. We have also requested a monetary refund. We received an email from Jessica Levine at Diamond Resorts responding to our letter. In her response she barely acknowledged any of our complaints and basically stated they were not valid. She made us feel like our feelings didn't matter and we were out of luck. We sent her a follow up response explaining how we did not appreciate her belittling what we have dealt with over the past several years. The way these people treat their owners who have given them so much of our hard earned money is disgusting to say the least. We cannot believe the situation we have gotten ourselves into. They genuinely only care about getting money anyway they can from whoever they can.

They speak as if they cannot, will not go away. My question to them was this, "How can you morally and ethically sell someone a lie through a high sales presentation, tell us we are stupid for not investing, and then enforce on them a debt with your lies and destroy ones credit rating, continue to steal from hard working people and ruin a family's income, stealing even all of a person's retirement through lies with virtually having bought a cloud. If the Timeshare we purchased was of so great a value and would only increase in value over time as we were told, why would you not want it back or we could sell it for the inflated value it should of increased by like you said we could? Why does it not have any market value like you said it would? Why have we not been able to rent it out like you said we could? Why did you tell us that we could pass it down to our heirs but the truth is that you are going to enforce the continuance of growing maintenance fees onto our estate and our heirs without their consent?" They could not answer these questions only continued to ask for more money and threaten collection. Miss. Levine did NOT address all of our issues but played mostly on the booking availability. I neglected to let her know that we on occasion scrambled and gave points and time to ANYONE that was able to utilize the points from where they lived. Their either "use them or lose them" point system is very lame. One can roll the current years points over by June 30th to the following year but it becomes a summersault reaction, over and over because availability is so limited to the places we wanted to go and were told we could go "Anywhere at any time" Yet another lie. One then, in the end loses points that were purchased and monies paid into Maintenance fees. We feel they have definitely oversold their product but keep selling and selling and selling making ones investment worthless because of the availability and the climbing Maintenance fees. If I am not mistaken, I believe they also sell time to anyone through the Internet at discounts so they can get them to a timeshare presentation, lie to them, cause them to buy and through that gain more money while taking the time at the resorts away from the people that have already invested. They have also sold our information to other solicitors who frequently call with an outrageously discounted vacation offer. I'm sure for the same reasons that I just stated.

Our voices are not heard by them. I even discussed with them the fact that I have done several hours of Internet research and read their complaint forum. The complaints are congruent with ours. I asked them if they had ever viewed the complaint forum and said that I knew this was not the first time they had heard a story like ours. It is their common practice to lie, cheat, and steal. I also know through my research that they HAVE had people successfully cancel their contracts with Diamond and received a monetary refund through their Loss Mitigation Department but while we repeatedly requested to be in contact with that department, they only got us through to Hospitality Management. That is Miss. Levine and her response times to us through email take two weeks or more. We also requested repeatedly to be connected with someone with decision making power and while we were promised such over and over only Miss Levine contacted us with her vague, quick and arrogant response. Like we were nothing. One thing that leaves use fuming is that in our research, it is apparent that they totally know how to swindle elderly retired people out of their retirement and nest egg that they have laid up for themselves and their families leaving the elderly broke. Following is a few quotes we found online from a news article.

A version of this article appears in print on January 24, 2016, on page BU1 of the New York edition with the headline: Sand, Sun and the Hard Sell. This article was written by Gretchen Morgenson.

Interviews with timeshare owners, lawyers and other specialists in the arena, moreover, suggest that Diamond's sales practices can be especially forceful.

Jeff Weir is a Diamond timeshare owner and journalist who writes about the industry for RedWeek, an online timeshare site, and regularly attends sales presentations to keep tabs on tactics employed by timeshare companies.

"In my experience, Diamond is much more ambitious, aggressive and downright nasty in their sales presentations compared to Marriott and Westin," he said in an interview. "Diamond just has an amazing reputation of being tough on people."

In lawsuits and in interviews, customers complain not only of high-pressure sales, but also of sky-high maintenance fees and frustration at procedures that block club members from taking vacations where and when they want. Perhaps most distressing to owners is the fact that once you buy into a timeshare it is almost impossible to get out.

Larry Vicks, a retired engineer in upstate New York, is a disgruntled Diamond resort member who read the transcript of a Diamond conference call with Wall Street analysts and investors. "It made me laugh how they are making boatloads of money," he said in an interview. "The reason I'm laughing is that it's all at my expense."

"Every year the maintenance fees go up, up, up," Ms. Varkel said in an interview. "We were paying $300 a year in maintenance 15 years ago, and now it's gone up to $2,000 a year." Ms. Varkel said she had tried, unsuccessfully, to sell her ownership stake either to Diamond or elsewhere. "You can't give it away, not even to charity."

A Potential Liability

Owners of timeshares in desirable resorts with unusual attributes, like a private beach, can often sell their ownership interests on the secondary market. But in areas glutted with condos for sale or rent, selling a timeshare can be almost impossible. In these cases, timeshare ownership can become an almost perpetual liability.

A recent search on eBay, for example, showed more than 700 timeshare listings for sale. Many, from Pennsylvania to Hawaii to Florida, can be purchased for $1. In its financial filings, Diamond acknowledges that "generally, members of the clubs do not have the right to terminate their membership."

Rubén Peña's experience is a case in point. An engineering consultant with Pro Data Inc. in Jersey City, Mr. Peña has never been inside the Las Vegas timeshare he bought 15 years ago. After spending roughly $42,000 to buy and maintain the property over those years, Mr. Peña stopped paying his loan, which had an original interest rate approaching 17 percent, and maintenance fees. He bought the timeshare from a company called Pacific Monarch Resorts, which went bankrupt. Diamond now owns and manages the resort.

Pho "I wanted to deed back the property to Diamond and get my equity of about $27,000 out," Mr. Peña said in an interview. "But I got no response whatsoever."

Continue reading the main story

Before he stopped paying his loan in 2014, Mr. Peña was being charged $3,262 a year in interest, taxes and maintenance fees for his ownership interest in the timeshare. Expedia.com offers a week at the property for, at most, a little over $2,000

Diamond declined to comment on Mr. Peña. But the company said that one reason it doesn't buy back members' stakes is that it would create accounting problems related to how Diamond had booked the revenue.

These are only a few quotes. You can find the article online. It is called "The Timeshare Hard Sell Comes Roaring Back" If you have the time, I would encourage you to read this article.

Also, all of their phone calls are recorded and yet again in asking for email addresses of the people we wanted to speak with so we could have our own records, none were provided other than Miss Levine or Financial Services which was only to ask for money. We no longer wish to answer their calls. It's generally a computer generated call with a different person on the other end. Just as in the Sales Presentations where one gets bounced from person to person, it is the same on the phone. It is as if they are trying to snare you by causing you to have repeat yourself over and over and over. All recorded.

We are reaching out to you with the hopes that you may be able to help further assist us in receiving this cancellation and refund from Diamond Resorts International. We have allowed them to bully our family for too long, and will not tolerate it anymore. If there is anything you may need from us, such as our initial letter of complaints or our emails from Miss Levine, please let us know we will gladly provide them. We appreciate your time in this matter, and hope with your help we can get this issue resolved once and for all. We can be reached at either 208-659-2959 or 208-640-4702. Please help us and others. Thank you so very much.

Sincerely,

Re: Notice of Intent to File a Lien – Contract 16759054:

To: Diamond Resorts Management, Inc

CC: Office of Attorney General, State of Florida

We received a letter on December 24th 2016 (Christmas Eve), stating that we were due maintenance dues in the amount of $2756.77. If the amount is not paid in 30 days from 12/24 that a lien will be filed. We purchased this unit on May 22, 2012 for the amount of $9000:60. The unit was paid for in full. In addition to the purchase price, we also paid over $3000.00 in maintenance, taxes, and dues.

At the time of closing, we were assured a two week stay at any resort at any time during the year. The contract states "Season Pearl" with no definition to what Pearl season is. We were on vacation for two weeks at the time we signed this contract. In the contract it states, "Sales Agent is not affiliated with the Developer and shall not be liable for any of the representations made by the Developer in connection with the sale of the Unit Week or the Club". What this means to me is that the sales agent can lie and misrepresent what is being purchased with no recourse. This is fraudulent behavior in my opinion. Taking people off the beach to sign a contract in the middle of their vacation and tell them anything to get them to sign, knowing they will not read all ~100 pages of the contract (with no attorney present) is considered theft by deception in my opinion. I have asked the management of Diamond Resorts to sell this condo to mitigate their damages with no avail. When they sell this condo, there will be more than enough to pay the taxes and insurance.

Please help resolve this as we are not paying anything else on this condo.

Thank you.

Q/Timeshare

December 9, 2016

To Whom It May Concern:

We have been disputing our membership and have requested all contracts with Diamond Resorts International be cancelled. We have sought a resolve and or cancellation of our contracts as we were misled and deceived when purchasing the timeshare. We were told many things concerning the timeshare, including that it was and would be a great investment and would give us a profitable return. However, this was false information given in the sales presentations as we were only given some information concerning points, resale values, renting options, reservations and availability. The securities we were told and believed in these presentations affected our decision to purchase. The high pressure sales tactics and overall experience of the sales presentations also affected our decision to purchase as we were held in meetings for hours and told we were one of a few that hadn't upgraded to the point system and that this system would be very beneficial and give us a lot more flexibility. This information given was false and was only given to generate a sale as we have experienced when trying to make our first vacation plans.

We have stopped all payments on the contract and maintenance fees as we have made it very clear that we would like a resolution. We have made our statements very clear and have included our correspondences for your review.

We are asking that your agency aid us in resolving these issues. We have requested that Diamond 1) cancel our membership/ownership, 2) void all contracts and debts owed, 3) and refund our mortgage, maintenance and down payment fees. We have paid in over thousands for nothing and feel this is borderline extortion considering they advertise travel anytime anywhere and we have not been able to do so. Please contact us with any further questions.

Dear Sir,

We are requesting a contract cancellation based on the fact that we were misled during our meeting. We were told the meeting was an owner update regarding progress/changes at the resort. Had we known it was a sales pitch we would not have attended because we had family waiting for us. We were told the meeting would last 90 minutes and we were there 4+ hours; so long that our family came in to the sales office and asked at the desk how much longer we were going to be.

- 1) When our meeting started we were asked by Kasey how we had been using our timeshare week. We told her we hadn't used it much in the last several years because we now prefer cruises or all-inclusive vacations and that when we talked to RCI about trading our week for either of those they told us it was not a one-for-one trade and would only cover a small portion. Kasey informed us that that would no longer be the case with the point system and we would be able to trade for cruises and all-inclusives. We have since learned that is not the case.
- 2) Kasey assured us that we would be able to take our "dream vacation" to anywhere. We tried to book a simple vacation at the beach and was told nothing was available. We made our inquiry early in the year (Feb) and were looking for something in September in N. Carolina, S. Carolina, Georgia, Florida and Alabama to no avail.
- 3) Kasey told us that our maintenance fees would go up but that when you book your vacation mention that you want the maintenance fee refund and they would send a check refunding 1/2 the fees. She stated they don't offer it that you must ask. When trying to book we asked about this and of course the booking agent had no idea what we were talking about.

Based on these issues and the fact that we have not benefitted from your services we are requesting a monetary refund of $8,200 and at this time have stopped payments to the timeshare company and request that this does not harm our credit.

We would appreciate a resolution within 30 days of receipt of our request.

Regards,

Mark and Michele VanBuskirk

When our meeting started with Kasey she informed us that we were one of only a few people who hadn't transferred our timeshare week to the point system. She said invites were sent out for a meeting in Atlanta and asked if we attended. We responded that we knew nothing about it. She looked in our file and said that it was marked dormant or something to that affect and that is probably why we hadn't received the invite. She told us that our week was not enough points to get in the system and we would have to purchase additional points. She stated that since we didn't get invited to the meeting in Atlanta that it wasn't fair to us to not receive the same price that they received at that meeting a couple years ago and that she would talk to her supervisor and see if they would approve the price reduction.

During the meeting Kasey jotted down some tips/tricks to booking travel with the new point system. One of which was that you could get a maintenance fee refund when you booked your vacation if you asked for it that they would not just offer it you must ask. Other items were how to get the most out of your points (ex. pay a small upgrade fee instead of using points to upgrade). She informed us that when we were ready to book our vacation that we could call her and she would help us through the process the first time. This paper disappeared from our stack of papers sometime during our transfer from her office to the sales/finance office.

Jan.30th: we called Kasey to help with our first booking and left a message.

Feb 13th: we called Kasey again as we never got a response; at this time we received a text back saying that she was no longer working for Diamonds International and that she could not help us.

Feb 25th: We made a post on their facebook page stating our displeasure. They posted a comment that they would call us. They didn't call so we made another post. They asked for a contact phone number which we supplied and they stated they would contact us the next day. They called at 1:44 ET and when I answered they hung up.

Mar 2nd: we received a phone call from DI stating that we never booked our orientation (which we paid $49 for and was told that it would be refunded if we couldn't attend because we told Peter Bagnato that we didn't think we could because of holidays/baby arrival) and she would like to get it booked even though it expired. She said if we had interest she would talk to her boss to see if they would approve. After being on the phone for 45 minutes making the plans the phone disconnected. We called them back and they transferred us to sales and phone disconnected again. Called back and told them what had happened and they showed no record of us booking anything. Victor put us on hold to get permission to book, he then got back on the phone and told us it expired and we could not use it. We explained to him that someone from there called us to book it originally that we did not initiate the call. Victor tried to give us another "deal" that cost more money and we told him no thanks.

Also during this call a female agent told us that they now own a resort in Nags Head. We stated that we were not aware of that as it did not show on the list of resorts. She said that is why we want you to go to orientation; that is the type of information we share at the orientation. After we were disconnected and called back we asked about Nags Head and were then told that they do not own anything there.

We recently converted our week into points and purchased additional points because they sold us on the fact that it was going to be so much easier to plan and use our vacation time. We are trying to book our first vacation and are completely discouraged and disappointed in the process! UGH

Michele VanBuskirk So, it went from bad to worse. No one has contacted me to assist further with our vacation reservations but of course their marketing division called to schedule our "new member orientation" and after 45 minutes on the phone and thinking our reservation was complete the phone went dead. So we called back and no one has any information regarding our call or reservation, and we were cut off again.

October 12th, 2016

Dear Mark and Michele VanBuskirk,

We are in receipt of your letter dated July 26th, 2016 regarding your request for a cancellation and refund of your contract. Our account records indicate that you purchased 4500 points in the US Collection on September 6th, 2015 in Florida.

Our sales meetings can last a minimum of 90 to 120 minutes, however they can last longer if there is an intent to purchase or questions to be answered. Once you meet the minimum threshold, you are welcome to receive your gift and leave the presentation. I will now answer to your concerns in the order they were numbered in your letter.

- 1) With Diamond, you are able to pay for some cruises using all points or you are able to use the 20/20 program, which gives you the ability to pay for up to 20% of a cruise at a redemption rate of $0.20 per point. We do offer some all inclusive resorts that you can use your points towards to pay for accommodations, but you are still required to cover the cost of the all inclusive fees.
- 2) As stated in your contract, availability is on a first come, first serve basis and you retain a 13 month booking window for all properties in the US Collection and a 10 month booking window for all other properties. We recommend that you book as far in advance as possible, especially to those properties that we do not own or manage and are affiliated with us.
- 3) As stated in your contract, maintenance fees are required to be paid at the first of every year in their entirety. Platinum members have the ability to process fee reimbursement as of now, but this option is not available to any other Loyalty Tiers. In addition, as stated in your Purchase and Security Agreement, you agree that you will not rely on any verbal representation when determined whether or not to purchase with us.

Based on the information you have provided and the information noted in your contract, I did not find that the sales staff committed an infraction which adversely affected the functionality of your account. We respectfully deny your request for a cancellation and refund. Consequently, you remain responsible for your maintenance fees and any open and active loans as invoiced.

I regret I was unable to provide your desired resolution.

Respectfully yours,

Diamond Resorts International

Dear Shelby,

Allow me to reiterate. Had we known it was a sales meeting we would have not attended because we had family waiting for us. We were told it was an owner meeting to discuss updates and changes in resorts. This 90 min owner meeting turned into a 4 hour long sales pitch which even led our family to come in the sales office how much longer we were going to be. This messed up our entire day and plans.

You have not understood our position:

- 1) We had already talked to RCI about trading our week for cruises or all-inclusive vacations. RCI told us it was not a one-for-one trade and doing so would only cover a small portion. Kasey Hilyard informed us that what RCI had told us would NO LONGER be the case with the point system AND we WOULD BE ABLE to trade for cruises and all-inclusive vacations on a one-for-one trade. Which is not the case as RCI had already informed us and now, you have informed us again.
- 2) We took Kasey Hilyard's word that we would be able to take our "dream vacation" to anywhere. She did not mention this is a first come, first serve basis. So, in other words, this is a gamble or a matter of luck? Places like NC, SC, GA, FL and even AL have no availability. This is an absurdity and we will not be part of your game.
- 3) Kasey Hilyard made no mention of Platinum members. She assured us that we would be able to book and only if we mentioned the refund for the maintenance fees, we would receive the check covering ½ the fees. You had to ask for this supposedly. When we asked about it, the booking agent had no idea. Conveniently, all notes disappeared when we transferred from the office we were at to another office.

Shelby how else would we have decided to purchase had it not been based on what was presented to us verbally during the "owner meeting?" How else is once convinced and lured into agreeing to something if it's not by way of verbal communication, especially with regards to sales??? Of course Kasey Hilyard committed an infraction by telling us the total opposite of everything that has do with owning this timeshare. If you look at our letter, you will see that we contacted Diamond through Facebook to express our disappointment. No one ever got back with us. It's been lie after lie and a huge disappointment dealing with DI. Even now, this letter was sent in July and it's now October 20th.

We are requesting a monetary refund of $8,200 and our ownership cancelled. We hope that this does not take an additional 3 months for you to get back to me.

Dear Attorney General (Pam bondi?)

Enclosed is my communication with Diamond Resorts, and Isle of Bali 11 the former in Nevada, the later in Orlando (location is actually Kissimmee). To this date I have not received one written communication from them despite all the phone calls, dates, conversations. The only thing I have received is a bill with a late fee. The co owner and I have not received one piece of paper that we can sign to get this process done. We were promised as you note in the long letter that we would receive a paper that we were to sign, notarize and send back with $100. Nothing!!! This has been a particularly frustrating and laborious endeavor and I am appealing to you to look in to this matter and perhaps help us to get this transaction DONE!! I live in Rhode Island, the co owner Lynn Rowe lives in Florida. She has asked me to undertake this relinquishment process as she is in poor health. As noted in my long letter to Bali I am nearly 71 years old and on SSI and live in subsidized housing. We (the co-owner and I) were overjoyed to hear of the relinquishment program. It has been months!!! Please help us!!!

To whom it may concern, Isle of Bali11, Diamond International Resort
And others involved.

I am writing due to the lengthy amount of time it has taken to expedite a relinquishment process. My friend and I have owned 421AB ast Bali 11/Liki Tiki for a number of years. She has been ill for several years, and I have been diagnosed with a heart proble. I began the relinquishment process with the first phone call October 3,2016. I spoke with Zaira at the 463 number, explained our situation and she stated that the relinguishment program was available. She said that day that she would email the appropriate division to get the process started. She also explained that within 8 weeks or so we would get a paper to sign , notarize and send back with $100. After that we "should get our finished paperwork re: the relinquishment within 3 weeks. This was all discussed October 3,2016. Below is a timeline of the phone calls, who I spoke with what they said:

October 3,2016, as just noted above.

Ocotber 17, 2016- called to hear progress—spoke with Carmen- "probably another 2-4 weeks. Title and deed had to be done.

November 7,2016 Jasmine transferred me to "owner services" Spoke with Daniel (United Kingdom office) Stated that our request was accepted 10/18/16 and that it would be up to 45 days when process finished. Stated we should get the papers to sign by the end of that week (Nov. 7th)

December 5,2016 Called again to check progress. Spoke with Christine.She stated our request was sent to the title office 10/21/16. And it would be another 60 days until everything complete. I also inquired about the maintenance fee for 2017 and was told by Christine that we may disregard it as we were in the process of relinquishment.

December 28, 2016 Still no paperwork in the mail to us. Called and spoke with Miriam

AG-Fla

December 28, 2016 continued—Mariam stated that the title search was done on November 17, 2016. Once again I was told we may disregard the maintenance bill as we are in the state of relinquishing our units. “We should receive the paper work after New Year some time first or second week.

January 12, 2017—Still no paper work. Called and spoke with Susan. The paper work is at the title office and pending as of “December 29th”. She also reiterated that we are not obligated to pay the 2017 maintenance fee as we were in compliance and there was the record of my calls of inquiry.

Now, I’ve had three people tell me not to be concerned with the maintenance fee.. Among the ones mentioned timelines when or about when we should receive the paper work to sign and get back to you. We got the maintenance bill, and on top of that just this month January 21, I received yet another maintenance bill with a late fee.

Here’s the frustration. I’ve call several times, still no paper work in my hand. No communication at all from Diamond, or Bali regarding the process. This continued delay and many different answers have been very stressful, to the point I have even lost sleep over this.

I want to see in my mailbox within the week, the papers we have to sign and get back to you to finalize the relinquishment. Enough is enough. Unless you are training your staff give people the run around and fabricate tales of dates and processes.. If I do not receive these papers in my mailbox within one week I will forward a copy of this letter to the Attorney General of Florida, so he is made aware of the delays, the bills etc. etc. The fact that this process was not even acknowledged by Bali, or Diamond in writing to us certainly causes me much consternation and stress. This is a hardship relinquishment due to both of our health concerns. I am also almost 71 years old, live in subsidized housing and my only income is social security.

I would expect an immediate acknowledgement on paper, and the appropriate paper work to complete this transaction immediately.

On vacation in Jan. 1996, my wife and I went to a free breakfast where we purchased a timeshare from the Liki Tiki Resort for a 1 bedroom, yearly week of use. We used this regularly and had very few problems. Again, on vacation Jan. 1999, we were told they had some updates. This time we told them that we could not afford another timeshare. There salesman convinced us to purchase a bi-yearly week, with a double bedroom and attached single bedroom. We were able too split the bi-yearly as long as we used them in the two years allotted. The property maintenance and taxes was a single payment every two years for the bi-yearly week. Again, we had very few problems. On vacation in Nov. 2011, we were told of a new program that was available to use more resorts with more flexible weeks. It was called Club Navigo. We paid over $5000.00 to join the club and thought this was a onetime purchase.

Come to find out we had to pay yearly fee for the club but also have come to realize that we have been paying yearly for this bi-yearly week since then. We also have been paying yearly for the first week that was yearly use and that was what we agreed to for this unit. We called them in Nov. 2015 about paying yearly for the bi-yearly week and our use of this unit was still once every two years. Had some contact via e-mail and were told they would look into it. We did not pay for the bi-yearly because we already paid for the maintenance fees and taxes because it is a bi-yearly, odd year which we paid for in 2014.

We feel that we have been overcharged for this odd week unit since 2011 and they should reimburse us. I hope your office can contact this firm and find out why we are paying yearly for this unit. As far as the club, we feel paid too much upfront for this service which now has only three hundred and fifty resorts to choose from. We also have another timeshare week with Vacation Village and used this for points with RCI Vacation Group that has over thirtyfive hundred different resorts. We did not have to pay any upfront fees, only the yearly service fee with RCI. We feel the owners of Liki Tiki Resort have taken advantage of us, plus we were not informed that we could no longer go back to the original ownership. They are now foreclosing on this unit and feel that we should be able to go back to our original contracts of ownership.

We have included copies of the e-mails and contracts concerning this matter.

Ho Gilbert, I found my original contract and I am sending it to you. You will see that this IS a BIENNIAL contract. As I stated before I have always paid the taxes and maintenance fees every other year. I was told other wise by your customer service. If needed I can procure every check stub I have paid over the years, but this will incur a lot of time on my part and I do not feel this should be necessary. John A. reb

12-21-2014

To Whom This May Concern,

My wife and I have ownership of Liki Tiki for about 25 years. We have had a few issues in the past and they have been resolved. I do have some issues now.

First, our payment has always been due on January 1 of each year; and, as always, I received your letter in November. I just planned on paying the taxes and maintenance fees before January 1 as I have done the past 25 years. I did not open the letter until December on both units. Now I read that payment due time has been changed. I feel that the late charge should be waived this first time.

Second, when we were told of the points program on our visit in 2011 and all the benefits for joining it sounded good, at paying over $5000.00 it should be! The salesman at time said we could tie both of the different time shares we own into one program. On the statements that we received looks like we are paying for club fees and travel insurance for BOTH SEPERATELY. I do not know why this cannot be change into one club fee since it is based on points earned.

When I called the 407-239-5010 the person on the phone would not give me any information on payments since the one account is deemed late by your new payment due date. They gave me another number, 877-483-6787, no one answered the first time after about 8 rings. The second call I was hung up on. The third call was never answered again.

I do have another time share that I use with R.C.I. I have really good experiences with this group. The fees are way lower, many, many more places to trade for and they do not HANG UP ON ME nor did not charge me $5000.00.

I do hope someone will contact me with some positive answers from your company.

Sincerely,
John Reb e-mail: johnnyrebs2000@yahoo.com

NOTICE OF DEFAULT AND INTENT TO FORECLOSE

To: Obligor (see Exhibit "A" attached hereto for Obligor and their notice address)

This Notice is regarding that certain timeshare interest owned by Obligor in Liki Tiki Village II, a/k/a Isle of Bali II, a Condominium, located in Orange County, Florida, and more specifically described as follows:

Odd Unit Week No. 36, in Apartment No. 731EF, of Liki Tiki Village II, a/k/a Isle of Bali II, a Condominium, according to the Declaration of Condominium thereof recorded in Official Records Book 4964, Page 3145, of the Public Records of Orange County, Florida, and all amendments thereto, if any.

Pursuant to that certain Declaration of Condominium of Liki Tiki Village II, a/k/a Isle of Bali II, a Condominium recorded in Official Records Book 4964, Page 3145, Public Records of Orange County, Florida, and all amendments thereto (the "Declaration"), Obligor is liable for the payment of certain assessments, maintenance fees, and ad valorem property taxes (collectively, "Assessments, Fees and Taxes") and Isle of Bali II Condominium Association, Inc., a corporation not-for-profit under the laws of the State of Florida (the "Association") has a lien for such Assessments, Fees and Taxes pursuant to the terms of the Declaration and applicable Florida law.

The Obligor has failed to pay when due the Assessments, Fees, and Taxes as assessed or advanced and is thereby in default of the obligation to pay such amounts as and when due. Accordingly, the Association did cause a Claim of Lien to be recorded in the Public Records of Orange, Florida, thereby perfecting the lien of Assessments, Fees, and Taxes pursuant to the Declaration and sections 721.16 and 192.037 Florida Statutes. See Exhibit "A" attached hereto for the recording information for each Claim of Lien and the amount secured by each Claim of Lien and the per diem amount to account for further accrual of the amounts secured by the lien.

IMPORTANT: If you fail to cure the default as set forth in this notice or take other appropriate action with regard to this foreclosure matter, you risk losing ownership of your timeshare interest through the trustee foreclosure procedure established in section 721.855, Florida Statutes. You may choose to sign and send to the trustee the enclosed objection form, exercising your right to object to the use of the trustee foreclosure procedure. Upon the trustee's receipt of your signed objection form, the foreclosure of the lien with respect to the default specified in this notice shall be subject to the judicial foreclosure procedure only.

You have the right to cure your default in the manner set forth in this notice at any time before the trustee's sale of your timeshare interest. If you do not object to the use of the trustee foreclosure procedure, you will not be subject to a deficiency judgment even if the proceeds from the sale of your timeshare interest are insufficient to offset the amounts secured by the lien.

If you object to the use of the trustee foreclosure procedure, by signing the attached Notice of Election to Prevent Trustee Sale form, you could be subject to a deficiency judgment if the proceeds from the sale of your timeshare interest are insufficient to offset the amounts secured by the lien.

In order to be effective, the Notice of Election to Prevent Trustee Sale must be received by the Trustee at the address set forth below on or before the 30th day after the date of the Notice of Default and Intent to Foreclose.

You have a right to cure the default set forth herein by paying in full, on or before the 30th day after the date of this Notice, the following amounts: (1) all past due sums, (2) costs of collection (3) interest, as accrued to the date of payment, (4) per diem, as accrued to the date of payment, and (5) the foreclosure processing fee in the amount of $250, which amount will increase as the foreclosure proceeding progresses. Further, payment must be made by forwarding a cashier's check payable to the Bali II Condominium Association, Inc., and drawn on a state or national bank, a state or federal credit union, or a state or federal savings and loan association, or savings bank.

WARNING:

1. Personal checks will not be accepted. All personal checks will be returned to sender. The foreclosure of the subject timeshare will not cease.
2. Partial payments will not be accepted. Amounts have increased since the mailing of this Notice. Please contact Bali II Condominium Association, Inc., for the current cure figures. See Exhibit "A" for contact information.

To Whom It May Concern:

In reference to the organization Diamond Resorts International, Corporate Office: Las Vegas, Nevada, I wish to register the following:

On Saturday, February 11, my husband and I attended a presentation at their location called The Cove in Ormond Beach, Florida. The invitation stated that if we attended their presentation, we would be provided a complimentary 2 night stay at one of their resorts.

At the presentation itself, as we declined to enter into a purchase of their time share program, their representative Charley Witherspoon, made an offer of participating in what he called a Sampler Program for $30.00 a month for 18 months. He was very clear that the price for the Sampler was $30.00 a month for 18 months. With that we agreed to allow him to run a credit check. What he did without our prior knowledge or consent was open a Barclays Bank Credit card in the amount of $10,000.00 and proceeded to place a charge of $2,995.00.

I fully admit that I should not have trusted him and we should not have signed the paperwork he was zip lining in front of us after these discussions.

As I reviewed the paperwork in the evening, I found no information that detailed his verbal offer of $30.00 a month for 18 months. Remembering he mentioned Barclays Bank, I called the bank to see if there was any account that had been opened in one of our names. This is when I learned of the credit card that was opened without our prior knowledge or consent and of the charge for $2,995.00.

On Sunday, February 12, my husband and I went to their financial services office at the resort in Ormond Beach and asked for the additional paper work that we had signed, as not all the signed paperwork was given to us the day before at the end of the presentation. The vice president there at The Cove in Ormond Beach only agreed to give us the rest of the paperwork after I mentioned filing complaints with the State's Attorneys in both states.

According to the contract we were given, I have since followed the stipulation in the contract that allows us to request cancellation in writing to their corporate office in Las Vegas. I have spoken with the corporate office in Las Vegas, and they have said the charges will be reversed on the credit card, and I am currently monitoring to make sure this takes place. I have also closed the account at Barclays Bank that they opened without my prior knowledge or consent.

Please see attached copy of contract that states cancellation is allowed with 10 days from date of signing, copy of letter of cancellation and proof of cancellation letter sent on Monday, February 13 through UPS.

Sincerely,

Richard Harrison

Cindy Harrison

To Whom It May Concern:

In accordance with the attached agreement signed by your representative Charley Witherspoon of The Cove in Ormond Beach, FL, we are notifying you of our CANCELLATION of the attached agreement, plan #17705941S. The representative said one thing during the presentation about costs, but did something else entirely with our credit, including requesting a new card and placing a hold on, without ever mentioning this before he made this request.

The representatives were not direct or transparent, as stated in their own disclosure information.

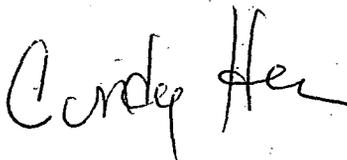

They only gave us copies of all paper work we signed after I mentioned that my daughter, who is an attorney, said we need to file a complaint with the State Attorney in both Florida and Nevada.

We therefore CANCEL the attached agreement in accordance with your terms of notifying you within the 10 calendar days after the date signed. Representatives at The Cove were also notified in writing that we would be sending our cancelation notification in writing to your offices in Las Vegas, Nevada as of Monday, February 13th, 2017.

Dear Sir or Madam:

I have now been trying to get out of my contract with Diamond Resorts International for three months. I have written multiple letters requesting to be released from my contract due to improprieties committed by Diamond and its employees.

Their representatives Brenda Boaz, Maria Alcaraz, and James C Bonder, made multiple promises to me in order to get a sale. All of their promises turned out to be empty, thus making my contracts a product of fraud.

In the latest letter from Diamond, Shelbey Knapp said that I cannot be released because they "have not determined that there was any misrepresentation regarding your purchases". I find this to be absurd, as I have provided her with a plethora of examples proving that I am indeed a victim of fraudulent inducement to contract.

I implore you to contact me if you need more information. I look forward to working with you in order to come to a resolution. Thank you.

Sincerely,

Leigh and Elizabeth Hopkins

Dear Sirs:

This letter is to inform you of our dissatisfaction with your company. This feeling was crystalized when we attempted to use our points in July of 2016 for a trip to California in November. We were considering lodging, air fare and car. I was informed that we needed to pay 2017 assessment fees before we would be able to use our points.

Our "gold mine" as described to us at a meeting in Sedona was clearly only a hype. We want immediately to cancel our contract with full monetary refund. We will no longer send in any payments to Diamond International. When we have spoken with your representatives over payments due, we have been treated with reporting to credit agencies. We do not accept these threats and demand that there be no harm to our credit. We are entitled to resolution of this issue within 30 days.

Sincerely,

Handwritten signature of Leigh and Elizabeth Hopkins in cursive script.

Reporting: Diamond Resorts International For Misrepresentation, Sales Deception, Unfair Business Practices And Timeshare Fraud.

Good morning, I am a resident of Kentucky, and I'm writing to ask for your assistance, regarding my experience in purchasing a vacation timeshare at Diamond Resorts International, 104 Ka'anapali Shores Lahaina, Hawaii 96761.

The timeshare company's corporate office is Diamond Resorts International, 10600 West Charleston Blvd. Las Vegas, Nevada 89135.

I have been victimized by timeshare fraud and deceptive sales practices, I have no legal counsel regarding this complaint, and I am not asking your office to be my private attorney, but I would appreciate your assistance in getting this fraudulent contract canceled and my money returned.

Below you will find a copy of the letter I sent to both parties above and as of this date, there has been no resolution. Help from your office would be greatly appreciated. As you read the letter I sent to them, you will understand that the entire Diamond Resorts International sales process and experience was full of high-pressure, fraudulent and deceptive sales tactics.

However, even worse, later I discovered the sales presentation included lots of misrepresentation, sales deception, untruths, partial truths, and outright lies, all of which, were cleverly presented in such a way, that they could not be exposed or discovered until much later than the rescission period.

Diamond Resorts International sells timeshare to consumers who reside in all fifty states and in filing this complaint with your office, I hope that not only can I be helped but that many other people can be spared the misrepresentation, sales deception, fraud and exploitation of Diamond Resorts International.

I authorize your office to send my complaint and supporting documents to all of the above business identified in this complaint. In case you need to know, there is NO court action pending, and I have NOT lost a lawsuit regarding this matter. The above complaint is true and accurate to the best of my knowledge. If your office can not help me would you, please forward my information to the office who can help me. Thank you for your time and help! Please Communicate With Me By My Email.

After saving the money for years, we were on vacation in Maui Hawaii for our anniversary.

We were talked into just going and listening to a 90-minute presentation at Diamond Resorts. When we got there, we made very clear that at our age, we could not afford any payments. I'm retired 65 years old and my husband will retire soon.

We realize now that was the wrong thing to let the timeshare salesman know because us retiring is one thing he used to talk us into buying this timeshare. Upon checking in we were told this would only take about 90 minutes. It turned out to be several hours.

After introducing himself to us he asked us to move to another area from where we were sitting then ask us for our ID's which I thought was strange, but he said it was formality and security purposes.

When he took our ID's he looked at our ages, my wife is 7 years older than me and Jeb looked at my wife and said, "Oh you're a cougar rocking the cradle." That statement was very embarrassing for her and totality out of line and inappropriate.

Then he said, "Well you only have a few good years left don't you want something like timeshare so you can go on vacation every year while you can enjoy life."

We began to listen and after a while we told him we could not afford this. He said how do you know I have not told any prices yet.

We said it didn't matter what the price was because we would soon be living on our retirement income and we could simply not take on a payment of any kind that we would be obligated to in our retirement years especially one that would be akin to a second mortgage.

He did not listen to us and then he took us to the top floor and showed us a condo facing the ocean and asked about our family. We told him we have 8 grandkids and he said that's ok you can bring them all just don't let the front desk see all of them because that was really to many to sleep in the rooms but people do it all the time.

He said that our friends and family could use it anytime and they would not be charged extra to do so.

He started telling us about Apollo was going to buy Diamond and if we purchased a timeshare it would be worth double after Apollo takes over.

He showed us some news article regarding the buyout. We told him again we could not afford this and he excused himself again and when he came back he said the boss (I guess that the person holding our ID's) just gave him permission to double our points and that meant we could stay an extra week in Hawaii next year.

He told us the offer is only good for right now, one time offer and any other time it would have to be bought at full price.

He said, "It's not a decision, It's a Choice, "and don't you want to make good choice for your family. This sounded good and it is what I would love to do but I said again and again we simply could not afford this at our age and to try and be nice and go ahead and get out of there we told him that we would think about it.

He said, "Wouldn't you want to do anything for your grandkids and bring them with you on vacation?" he asked. That made us feel so belittled, like we didn't love our family enough to do this for them.

I know the salespeople are trained to entice individuals like us and convince them that purchasing a timeshare is in our best interest. They make you feel financially prepared even though you know in your heart that you are not.

As he talked I think his name was Jeb. He would get up to go talk to his boss. We wanted to just leave but he had taken out ID's back to where he keeps going. Just around the corner to the office we think. My wife made a comment to Jeb she was nervous and he laughed.

He would always get off the subject and talk about something else like one time he showed us pictures of his girlfriend and tell us about her and how hot she was and she and her family uses his timeshares all the time. He had brother that uses another one of his timeshare all the time.

We found out that a line of credit was opened in our names but we were never told that this was taking place.

He kept repeating "Don't you both won't a unique opportunity that can help to improve you and your family's vacation experience as well as a smart investment?"

He told us that we would need to buy at a certain level so that we would be able to get good reservations and be able to book anywhere in the world we wanted to travel and through our points we would be able to purchase airline ticket and also could rent cars using the points.

He said we could sell this anytime and all we had to do was to call the resort and they would sell it for us, or give it to our kids and they could use it for a lifetime and then give it to their kids that it is forever.

He told us because of our special deal of buying today, that the maintenance fees would never go up regardless of how long we owned it or our kids decided to own it.

He told us when we got home that we could go to our bank and refinance the timeshare just like we would do with a regular home and by doing so we could get a lower interest rate.

And whatever we paid yearly in interest we would be able to take that amount off our taxes each year.

After so many hours of being there and bombarded from him with reasons we should every time we said no, we were finally worn down because so much was told to us that we finally found ourselves saying ok.

He assured us that we were buying at the right time because of the buy-out and that we would make a big profit by taking him up on this great investment.

At this point we were so mentally beat up that we just wanted to get our ID's and get out of there. We were not given time to look over the paper work and read it and we were never, never told we had 7 days to cancel.

What we were told is take these papers back to your hotel and put them away and enjoy your vacation you can look this over when you get home you have plenty of time.

They knew it was only our second day of a 10-day vacation that we had been saving for years to take. Well, I did just that and after I got home and looked it over I found things I did not like and things that we never told to us.

If I had looked it over while there and within the 7 days I would have canceled this timeshare immediately. But again we told that there was no hurry to look over the paperwork.

We are writing to inform your company that we want this contract canceled because of all the lies and again we say, we cannot afford it, just like we tried to explain in the first place. Please cancel this timeshare and return to us all money that we have had to pay into your company.

Re: Diamond Resorts International

Dear Attorney General Pam Bondi:

I am writing this letter because my husband and I have been forced to attain legal representation in an attempt to cancel our timeshare contract with Diamond Resorts International. Diamond Resorts sold us timeshare points under false pretenses and have refused to negotiate a refund or cancelation of our contract. They have also refused to allow us to redeem said points without additional costs to us.

On October 21, 2016 my husband and I attended a presentation by Diamond Resorts in exchange for a 4 day 3 night stay for $129. During our presentation with Oscar Perez, he explained to us the cost effectiveness of owning a timeshare over the length of 10 years stating we would save money in the long run. After 2 hours, we expressed our disinterest stating I travel for free with work, we only live 90 minutes from Orlando, and that I do not like to stay with my family (lifelong wheelchair users) in hotels that are not adequately handicap accessible. Javier Morales stated all Diamond Resorts meet ADA standards and I pointed out that we enjoy staying at the Liki Tiki Resort however the front reception is not ADA standard. We asked to be gifted out of the presentation so we could leave. Javier appeared very annoyed and left the room. Oscar then insisted we must accompany him on a tour of Mystic Dunes before we could leave to meet the requirements of the presentation. During our tour he told to us we could stay in the exact room he was showing us for $35 per night. This really interested us because that meant we could stay for a weekend and not have to drive back and to from our home. My husband stated that he could not read (due to a medical condition) so everything would have to be explained in detail for him to understand. Oscar then showed us how to book such room thru Club Select on his phone. We were presented with an offer that cost more than we had been led to believe. Javier ran our credit and came back with a much more appealing offer of $17,554 for 4,000 points and stated that with our credit we could get a very low rate thru the credit union. We accepted and Oscar stated that if we put our down payment on the Barclay Card we would get reward points toward our maintenance fee. Over the course of several hours, we signed and resigned paperwork with Oscar reading the highlights aloud so my husband could understand and ask any questions. About 6 hours later we finished the paperwork and were given a tablet and a $50 gift card.

In November 2016, I attempted to reserve a room at the Mystic Dunes for $35 per night via phone since I had attempted several times but could not reserve a room online as Oscar had shown us. Nicole at Diamond International gave me my account number to log on but then stated there was no way I could get a room for that rate. She stated I needed to check my legal documents for available rooms I could get, that Club Select are not Diamond properties and are all 7 night stays so I cannot book a room for just the weekend, and that standard club membership is check in Sunday with check out Friday for best rate. I expressed my displeasure about being lied to during the presentation and Nicole suggested I read my annual member benefits every year to keep up with the changes. I then pulled out our contract and read thru it in detail noting many terms to which Oscar had omitted from his explanation to us or that appeared contrary to his explanation. I left several messages for Oscar however none were returned. I then called corporate and spoke with Devan Anderson who stated that he was sorry for the inconvenience but he has never heard of Mystic Dunes marketing rooms for $35 per night except with a Marketing Package. Per Devan, I am eligible for a Marketing Package as of January 2017 once every 3 months beginning in March at select locations only but I would have to book them thru him directly. This was not the way Oscar had presented the timeshare to us. Also, I had recently received a bill from Barclay for the balance of my account which was higher than my down payment. I called Barclay and was transferred from Kim to Andrea to Jay to a supervisor who stated the additional $50 was processed by Diamond Marketing and I would have to speak with them regarding the charge. I spoke with a rep from marketing who stated $50 was our orientation deposit and was fully refundable. I was never informed of such going on my Barclay card but after requesting it be taken off several times without success I eventually gave up and paid the balance in full. I was also informed by Barclay that the down payment was not eligible for reward points which is another thing Oscar lied to us about. A few weeks later, I attempted to reserve a 5 night stay for April. I was told that I could not reserve a stay thru the middle of the week. I once again expressed my displeasure with Diamond Resorts however nothing was resolved.

Considering all the lies and deception, my husband and I decided we had made a mistake and that Oscar had definitely deceived us into purchasing the timeshare just to make a sale. In December 2016, I received a call from Diamond requesting I pick a day for our Orientation. I expressed my great displeasure with them and was told that a lot of my questions and concerns would be addressed at the New Member Orientation. On December 19, 2016 during orientation, I spoke with Noah Knipe about how we were lied to by Javier and Oscar and that we had lost faith with Diamond. Noah stated that Oscar was probably new and that we may have misunderstood the process of booking a resort. He then stated there was no way we could get a room for $35 nor should we have been offered a contract with only 4,000 points since you can't do much with it. He even asked if the sales rep had broken up a plan for us since we had so few points to use and that the smallest plan he offers members is 7,500 points. We asked Noah what were our options to get out of the contract since we felt we had been deceived. Noah stated we really couldn't get out of our contract since the grace period had ended after 10 days. Noah went on to advise us never to take a member update since it will raise our rates and to notify a tax consultant of our purchase to see if they can write off the timeshare for us. He even suggested that my husband charge his friend for the stay we had attempted to book in April to cover the out of pocket costs. We declined those recommendations so Noah took us thru the best ways to reserve a stay and make the most of the points we were stuck with. We stated that we were still very disappointed with Diamond and that my husband had recently been diagnosed with medical complications from past surgeries. Noah said he would see what he could do and left the room. Tim came in and apologized for all the trouble and confusion we have had and offered us a Sampler Package of 15,000 points that could be used immediately for $2,995, which would be kept in escrow and returned to us if we decided to not keep the Sampler after 18 months. After much discussion, we agreed stating this was probably the best way to turn a bad situation around with so few points and a contract we couldn't get out of. Tim completed the paperwork and assured us if we had any problems making a reservation to contact him or our personal vacation planner for assistance.

On January 25, 2017, I attempted to make 3 different reservations online thru Diamond. After several failed attempts online I called Diamond and was told I could not book a Sampler resort stay until I had paid the balance in full. I paid the balance and returned online only to find the weekends I was trying to reserve in February and March were not available in the Orlando area for several months until peak season in the middle of the summer (which would cost all of my points). I contacted Noah who told me I would have to ask for 20/20 rate which would cost me more money out of pocket. I did however find a resort in Tennessee for a week in March that I wanted but could not book. I called Diamond and spoke with Stacey again stating my profile wasn't working because it didn't show I paid in full. She corrected my profile but said I still could not book because there was no more room during the presentation I would have to attend during my stay. I called Tim stating I had already been on the phone for 4.5 hours that day and was no closer to getting a room then before I bought the timeshare. He apologized again and said there was no reason I could not stay just because of the presentation and that he would take care of it and call me back. About 20 minutes later he did call back to confirm dates and stated he was still working on it. Tim never called again. I waited 2 days before calling again and left several messages for him over the next 2 weeks. Upon recommendation from a friend I called Tim on my cell (Georgia number) again to which he did not answer and then immediately called from my home phone (Florida number) which was answered on the first ring. He stated he did not recognize my name or my number but upon further clarification he stated that someone else from Diamond was supposed to have called me back with the reservation. He said he would find out right away what happened and call me right back. He never did but I received a call from someone else stating that the presentation was in fact full and I could not reserve the resort with my Sampler points. He said I could reserve with my standard points for May or June 2017 (peak season again) once my yearly fees were paid in full. I said no thank you and I am contacting a lawyer.

Since then I have received multiple phone calls from Diamond attempting to sell me additional or alternative promotions to which I have vehemently declined. At this time, our lawyer has stated Diamond Resorts is known for including clauses in their contracts that make it impossible to get your money back from them which is why they insist you pay in full as quickly as possible. My husband and I have lost $20,549 to a company that was deliberately misleading and has not provided us with a single service in return.

We wish to file a formal complaint against Diamond Resorts International at this time. Please let us know if there is any further information we can provide.

Sincerely,

Emmitt G. and Cynthia L. Taylor

Diamond Resorts International

Las Vegas, Nevada 89135-1014

Dear Diamond Resorts International,

In November 2014, we went to Las Vegas, NV for a vacation. We were celebrating my husband's 70th birthday, We stayed at the Polo Towers Resort. Once we got all checked in, on our way to our suite, we were told that there was an owner update meeting and were told we had to attend to get the most from our timeshare.

They told us that there had been a lot of changes and wanted to inform us of these changes and tell us how to better use our timeshare points to our advantage. They offered an incentive gift of show tickets for attending. It was strongly emphasized that it was not a sales presentation, only informative. We were told it would only be 90 minutes.

We were there for over 4 hours!

The sales representative, Patricia Saxonis, and her manager went over our account and told us that the sales people in Hawaii had done the contract all wrong and that we should have never been enrolled in the Hawaii Collection, but needed to be in the U.S. Collection instead.

It would have to be all redone.

We said numerous times that we did not wish to purchase any more points, as we had done that while in Hawaii earlier that year. Patricia left to talk to her manager, and another sales person, her name Angela Eicke, they all came back to the table with her, insisted that for us to get the most benefit we should be at the Gold Level and it was only a small amount of points that were needed to get us there.

They showed us lots of hand drawn graphs, diagrams, and pictures showing how it would increase the benefits available to us considerably to go to the next Gold Level and that we would have preference to booking availability.

We wanted time to think about this, we felt high pressured. intimidated and overwhelmed.

We were told that the offer would only be good right then and that if we did not take advantage of the offer, the price would go up tomorrow. They offered to pay our Interval Exchange fees for us. After hours and much, much persuasion, they wore us down and we finally succumbed to the unbearable pressure and agreed to the points.

We could not afford the money they were asking and lacked the means for the $2000 additional down payment so they open two Barclay Band Visa accounts, one for each of us, to put the $2000 on. This in itself has put a horrible hardship on us as we told them it would at the time.

We were told about this, but were reluctant, Patricia said that we would get points on these cards, as they were reward cards. That we could use the rewards on these cards to put towards our Maintenance fees. But that was a lie. We later discovered that the initial charges were not eligible for reward points. LIE AFTER LIE AFTER LIE.

As part of the HIGH PRESSURE sales pitch, they told us many things that we latter learned were not true.

- 1) We were told that we would have a personal contact that we could work with when planning trips. That person was to help us use our points for any, and all vacations and travel. This was a lie. There was not a dedicated individual or contact, just whoever answered the phone. Always, I was on hold for a minimum of 30 minutes each, and every time, I would call Diamond Resorts.
- 2) We were told that we could use our point to purchase cruises. When I called to book, I found out that there were very limited cruises to choose from and that it would take a considerable amount of points as well as a lot cash. For the amount of cash required, I was able to book outside of the timeshare for less cash, still keeping points for hopefully later uses.
- 3) When I tried to purchase airline tickets, I was told the I could only use the point during a certain time frame and that I was outside of that frame, therefore, I would not be able to use my points. We were never told that. I was also told that it would be less expensive to book through the timeshare travel agents. That was absolutely a lie. The truth is, it was much more expensive.
- 4) We were told that the resorts were exclusive to members only. We saw that the resorts are available to the general public anytime, at very reasonable prices through various booking websites, but we still had to be maintenance fees as members.
- 5) We were told that the resort or representatives of the resort would resell our timeshare in the future if we so desired. Another LIE. We tried this, THEY REFUSED!
- 6) We were told we could write off the timeshare interest and/or the timeshare payments on our taxes since it was a mortgage. They promised that we would have a lot of tax advantages by becoming a timeshare owner.
- 7) We were told that we could refinance our timeshare with other banks and get a lower interest rate. This is not true, banks want a collateral, it would have to be a personal loan with higher interest.
- 8) We were told that our prices and terms of ownership/membership where something that later turned out to be another LIE.
- 8) We were told that we could easily rent the timeshare for a profit and could earn enough in rental income to pay the maintenance fees, purchase price and other costs.
- 10) We were told we could sell the timeshare at any time for a profit because timesharing is real estate, and it goes up in value. WRONG! Just another lie.
- 11) We were told that friends and family could use our timeshare in our place without any additional fees. NOT TRUE!
- 12) We were told that with what we were buying, we would be able to exchange resort locations at any time and go anywhere (with or without fees). A LIE.
- 13) They promised that we would always be able to vacation in a specific location, Las Vegas, NV. That we would get preferred treatment, we didn't. ANOTHER LIE! Many times there was no availability to us, however on travelocity there was availability to the public.
- 14) We were told that the maintenance fee would not increase. ANOTHER LIE! It has increased almost $1000.00

15) We were told that the timeshare was a real estate investment and any year we didn't want to use it, we could rent it and make a profit. DOESN'T HAPPEN. ANOTHER LIE!

16) They told us the deed/timeshare was a "trade-in" and/or had "built-in equity" that's why the price was so low for us, but we had to buy today. ANOTHER LIE. There is no built-in equity, because timeshare in a worthless product which you already knew when you were pitching your lies to us, using the high-pressure sales tactics that you used on us.

17) We were not given time to read over the contract. They just said sign here, sign here, etc. We felt very pushed and overwhelmed. After signing their contract, they handed us a bag with an eighty five page bound booklet in it. This booklet contains the requirements from the state of Nevada Law Regulating Timeshare Sales. On the cover in red letters the booklet says to not sign any documents until this booklet had been read. We received this booklet after signing. They did not even give us an opportunity to look through this bag and they acted as though it was not of any great importance.

18) They made oral promises that were not included in the paperwork and the written contract, including fees and obligations in the contract that, were never mentioned orally.

Buying this timeshare from your company has been the worst thing we have ever done because of the high-pressure, intimidation and the misrepresentation, deception and flat out lies that were told to us.

We are seniors and we don't believe that it is legal to use these scam tactics that your company let their salespeople use on us.

We demand this contract be canceled and the money you took from us returned. We want no association with a company that stoops to this low to try and scam people in the twilight years of their life and put terrible financial burdens on them that they can in no way afford.

Shame on you.

So I say again, CANCEL THIS CONTRACT and refund all of our money!

To whom it may concern,

4/05/2017

We are reaching out to your company today to inform you of the treatment we have endured as timeshare owners with Diamond Resorts International. We became owners initially in 2003 and can genuinely say we were quite pleased for several years until recently when we noticed several changes that were taking place within Diamond as well as the lies and misleading information we've been told for years. We realized we've been taken advantage of not only as owners, but as human beings. We knew several of the Diamond employees on a first name basis and considered them friends. It's disheartening to realize what this has all become.

Finally, enough was enough and we sent two letters, one from myself and one from my wife, to Diamond Resorts expressing our frustration and requests for full contractual cancellation as well as a refund of the money we have invested for years. This was on January 20th of this year and since then we have sent additional letters with no real response from Diamond that was in any way helpful or even showed they cared about us or the valid concerns and complaints we were expressing.

As we mentioned, we are reaching out to you today to inform you of our situation and ask for your assistance in receiving cancellation of all contracts to our name and a refund of the money we have paid into Diamond since 2003. We are including the letters we have sent to Diamond since this past January when we began this dispute. We also have a recording of an update presentation from May of 2016 with Jeremy at Diamond that shows just how misled we've been throughout our ownership and expresses how truly upset it has made us. If you provide an email address back we would be more than happy to provide this recording.

Please let us know if there is anything else you may need that could be beneficial in our case. Thank you so much for your time and consideration in this matter and we hope to hear back from you soon.

Sincerely,

Steve and Rosemary Pelak

Diamond Resorts International,

This letter is to inform you that we no longer desire any ties or contracts/memberships w/your corporation.

We are also requesting that DRI refunds all that we have invested since our initial ownership

We have ceased all payments to Diamond Resorts Financial Services.

Here are the reasons for the above decisions:

1. In the past two years we have noticed many changes which were/are NOT for the betterment of DRI. The staff attitude has become low class which is not acceptable.
2. The staff actually talk negatively regarding DRI right to us and tell us that DRI do not care about them anymore.
3. The rooms/units are never impeccable as they used to be. The knowledge of the concierge staff has diminished terribly.
4. The tactics used to draw us, even as platinum members, to a "update meeting" have flared us to heights we never dreamed would happen. The pushy & rude sales tactics are out of control. Even Stephen Clodbeck saw these tactics I'm talking about on "Undercover Boss".
5. DRI is JUST NOT what it was when we purchased. Not even close!
6. The straw that broke the camel's back was in May of 2016 when we were pushed & tempted three times to attend a update meeting at The Suites at Fall Creek in Branson, MO. When we checked in at the front desk we were asked if we would like to attend a update meeting. We said "no". The next morning we were called twice. On the second call my wife agreed for us to attend. I was not in agreement with her decision but I still went to the meeting. As we sat down for this meeting it became quite obvious that a "update" was not where this salesman was going with this meeting. He immediately started telling us that we needed more points. We immediately disagreed and told him "no". After about 45 minutes of listening to him he realized that we were not going to purchase any more points and he introduced us to another salesman. This salesman then started telling us that we needed to upgrade into a higher level of membership, adding more points due to our current membership would not allow our beneficiaries to opt out of ownership if/when we die & they would be forced to pay all charges/fees. This went on for about an hour. We were stunned & very upset! We both looked at each other and couldn't believe what we were being told. We still told the salesman that we would not be upgrading our membership. At that time this salesman told us that he would bring in a person to get us "checked out" & "signed off" that we could go about our vacation with our awaiting family. A very nice gentleman by the name of Randy Rippie sat down and introduced himself and asked if we needed anything from the snack area. He then started talking about another option to eliminate the responsibilities of the beneficiaries and opened a book to paragraph "# 17.2/Transferring or Gifting Points". We questioned him intensely if this was also for our current platinum membership and not only for "The Sampler". He assured us that this perained not only to "The Sampler" but also for our current platinum membership. He then circled paragraph # 17.2, dated it, & signed it stating that he guaranteed us that this was all legitimate and that our current platinum membership was included in this guarantee, that the beneficiaries would NOT be responsible for fees/charges if we were to die if we were to purchase "The Sampler". He stated that it was "the other option to eliminate the responsibilities of beneficiaries rather than upgrading our current platinum membership" and that he circled, dated, & signed it "as a confirmation that this was true & accurate". We discussed it & decided to purchase "The Sampler". We were then told that the contract would be mailed to us within two weeks & that all documents regarding the beneficiaries would be in the new contract. Randy Rippie thanked us and told us that he would get going on the documents for us to sign right away. We finally were "Checked out/Signed out" and were able to leave the "update meeting" which was not a "update meeting" at all. We were really looking forward to hearing about all the new changes and resort purchases, which was never discussed. The only purpose that DRI had in mind for this meeting was to sell us a new package/more points. We walked out of there very upset and did not enjoy the remainder of our vacation, in fact this meeting became the topic for the remaining time at this resort and on the way home and was very frustrating. After four weeks waiting on the new contract that had not been received I contacted Randy Rippie only for him to tell me to be a little more patient and that the contract would arrive soon. After another week, now five weeks from the purchase of "The Sampler", I called Randy Rippie again and urged him to contact the necessary people/department to have the new contract expedited. This time he stated that there was "nothing to worry about and that the beneficiaries would never have to take responsibility of our platinum membership if we were to pass away". On August 8, 2016, Randy Ripple texted me a phone number telling me to call this number to get help if I still needed it. He also texted me "but if you need more help send me a message". I texted him back letting him know that "I will need to talk to you. Please CALL me the day you return back to The Suites at Fall Creek at 314-882-5430". He texted back "Okay I'll be back on Sunday so I'll call you on Monday am". This was all texted on 8/8/16. I never received a call from Randy Rippie so I decided to wait a week hoping that he would get back with me. He never did. On August 15, 2016, I texted him regarding his not getting back with me. The next day, 8/16/16, he texted me a picture of "The Sampler Benefits Bylaws paragraph # 17.2." The same paragraph that we have which was circled, dated, & signed by Randy Rippie the day we purchased the sampler as a guarantee statement that this was also included in our current platinum membership. He also texted "the same bylaws are in our members rights and you will receive the new 2017 benefits book before the end of the year". We have never received this book! On Sept. 9, 2016, I drove down to Branson, MO, to speak face-to-face with Randy Rippie. I texted him to let him know that I was there. He texted me back to come see him the following day because he was not there at this time. When I approached him the following day he did not recognize me. I introduced myself & he acted surprised to see me. He guided me to a cubicle in a separate room off to the side. He again told me that there was nothing to worry about and that due to Appulo buying out DRI that things were taking longer than normal. He asked to be excused and that he was going to go talk to an associate of his regarding this. About 20 minutes went by so I decided to get up and walk out into the open area where the snack bar was. As I walked towards the snack bar I looked over to me right only to find Randy having coffee with a couple of gentlemen and laughing. When he saw me he waved and walked towards me. We sat back down and he told me to contact his supervisor, John Lawlor, on Monday. I was obvious that nothing was going to get resolved on this day with Randy Rippie. On Monday, Sept. 12, 2016, I contacted John Lawyor. John assured me that there was nothing to worry about and the everything that Randy Rippie had stated was true and correct regarding the beneficiaries not being responsible for charges/fees on our current platinum membership now that we had purchased "The Sampler". He told me that if I had my doubts that I should have contacted him much sooner. I explained to him that this was the first time that his name had been given to me. He became quite rude and irritated. After that conversation, I decided to make contact with DRI in Las Vegas, NV. I spoke with a lady by the name of JOY. She asked me how she could help. I explained to her the reason we were sold The Sampler package. She seemed stunned and immediately asked me to repeat myself, so I did. We spoke in depth for quite some time. She told me that she had been in sales with DRI for a number of years before her current position and had never heard of this and that this was not correct, and then asked me to hold on while she talked with her supervisor. I was on hold for quite some time. When she returned to the phone, she asked if she could return the call the next day and wanted to look into this much further. I agreed and we ended the call. The next day when she called back she immediately apologized and informed me that we had been victims of wrong doing. She informed me that a email had been sent out to the necessary people at The Suites at Fall Creek Resort in Branson, MO, telling them to send a "request to eliminate" The Sampler contract and refund us the purchase price of $ 2,995.00. I thanked her and she told me to contact her if I needed any further assistance. It took over a month for The Sampler to be eliminated from the computer system under our account. I took another two weeks for purchase price to be refunded to us.

7. We can in NO WAY, SHAPE, OR FORM, be part of a organization/corporation that forcefully sells bogus contracts to great members!!! Platinum members at that!!!
8. Now we wonder how many other members that this has been done to, and worse yet, not even realize that it has happened.
9. We are VERY saddened that Diamond Resorts International have allowed things like this to happen, especially to us. We looked forward so much going on vacation in the past, but to realize what we were a member of has taken every bit of that joy away from us and our family. I just pray that we can overcome our heartache and continue one day with the joy that we once had. Diamond Resorts International, you should be very ashamed of yourselves and repent at once!!!

We request that our credit not be harmed in any way and we also request that this all be resolved within 30 days from receiving this letter.

Regretfully,

Diamond Resorts International,

I am writing this letter to inform you that we no longer want any dealings with your corporation. This includes contracts, memberships, or any other ties to your corporation. We are also requesting that we are refunded all that we have invested into the corporation since our original sign-on date by Diamond Resorts International.

We have ceased all payments to Diamond Resorts Financial Services.

The reasoning behind this decision follows:

- There have been many changes that wasn't the standard when we bought into DRI.
- Staff is different. Staff used to be customer focused and professional. Again, not the standard as originally.
- Accommodations aren't as clean or maintained as they used to be.
- The manipulation, dishonesty, & poor tactics in the sales people have made me very angry so much that I do not want to be a part of this system any longer.
- Steve and I feel incredibly stupid that we fell into & were suckered into this time share corporation. When we invested hard earned dollars towards an investment, which was never to be what you promised, in addition thinking we had a legitimate vacation package to leave to our beneficiaries that they would be able to enjoy with their families and again not what was promised.
- I feel this whole system is a terrible money making scam on people.

Regretfully,

Diamond Resorts International,

1/18/2017

You will be seeing two letters coming from my family very soon, but considering how displeased and quite disgusted we are with your company, here is another one.

As you will see within your records, we initially became owners in 2003. Since then we have given in six different times to the flat out lies you people call "upgrades". In reality, what you are doing is stealing. It makes us sick to our stomachs going over the numbers of what we have paid into this company. And for what?? We sat in rooms with your employees for hours and hours listening to their rehearsed mumbo jumbo. They're brainwashed into believing what they're telling people is true. We wish we had seen through the bull a long time ago. Shame on us for trusting and believing in Diamond and the people who work there. Not anymore. You have pissed off one family that will not stop until we see the resolution we are demanding.

We want you people to realize how completely and utterly disgusted we are. We thought of Diamond Resorts as a home, a community. We knew people by their names and vice versa. We have family members that have been on vacations with us and sat through these presentations and saw first hand the treatment, the high pressure sales, the misleading information, and they have already said they would be more than happy to write up their own letters of what they experienced. We also have a recording of one of your salesman giving us all the reasons why we should buy into an upgraded package, and the measures and manipulations he goes through to sell us. We have no problem sending this recording to any company we can find through out the country who would find this useful in helping stop the way you treat people. Last but certainly not least, we have a text message conversation with another one of your salesmen, conning and manipulating us into a sampler package. We have solid proof of the sales tactics your company uses on people, and we do not agree with them.

We want our contracts and ownership CANCELLED in full. We want EVERY single penny back that was wasted on your lies. It's evident that you people have no regards for the concerns or feelings of others, and we will not stand for it any longer. We would like a written formal response to our requests as soon as possible.

To help keep you up to date, we have reached out to your company three separate times since January 16th with multiple letters. All of which stated our request for complete contractual cancellation and a refund of the money we have wasted over the past several years. Well, it seems in true Diamond fashion, the only time anyone has even reached out was to get payments from us. Not one email or letter has been sent to us in regards to our complaints, concerns, or requests. As if your manipulative sales tactics weren't enough, your genuine disregard for the feelings of your owners has been perfected as well.

I'm not sure what else we could say that hasn't already been said. We are genuinely so disappointed with this company. It's disheartening to give so much to a company and then feel completely taken advantage of. If only you knew the amount of times we would check into a Diamond resort for our vacation and overhear employees bad mouthing the very company they work for. We have even had some speak to us directly about how they have been treated and how dishonest of a company Diamond Resorts is. We wanted to believe more and better than that, but it seems we were proven wrong.

We want our contracts and ownership cancelled in FULL and a monetary refund. We would also greatly appreciate it if someone from Diamond Resorts International would reach out to us and respond to our letters in writing. You will continue to hear from us.

69 yr old widow who has been deceived and victimized since November 2010 thru May 2016 by Diamond Resorts International (DRI). When I was first approached, my husband had recently died and I was and continue to be on anti-depressants and anti-anxiety medications. I was unable to say no to these coercive sales people. Mostly, it was just me with one or two men aggressively cajoling me to buy.

I paid approximately $117,550 over time to purchase a total of 40,000 points.

In addition, I paid $11,543 in maintenance over this time period. The maintenance fees were never mentioned during the presentations. The last maintenance fee was $6,948 which I refused to pay and started the proceedings to extricate myself from this situation.

Why did I keep buying points? Because I was trying to make it "right". Each time I was told that I just needed more points to get the greatest benefit. From the first purchase of 4000 points for $15,000 that I made at the Ridge of Sedona Golf Resort, Village of Oak Creek, AZ, I thought I would be able to take a nice trip with my family. But 4000 was not enough to go where I wanted to go at the times when my family and I could go due to work and/or no occupancy to the places we wanted to visit. I later found out that I had no priority because I needed many more points.

An example of what I consider fraud happened in January 2015 at Scottsdale Village Mirage. I had to attend another "Update". At that time I was encouraged to purchase a Sampler. This was described as a trial program that allowed you 15,000 points for a designated period to experience what it is like to be a Gold or Platinum owner. The salesman finally convinced me to purchase the Sampler. So reluctantly I paid $2,695 for the Sampler. When I left the conference room, I had an absolutely sinking feeling. Immediately, I went back into the conference room and told them I didn't want the Sampler. He told me there was no right of rescission, cancellation or refund for the Sampler and showed me where it was on the contract I had signed. I never saw this nor was it ever mentioned. Later the only way I could keep from losing the $2,695 was to use it as the down payment for 5000 additional points at a total cost of $10,825. Sadly, I was in so deep.

In January 2016 I visited Mystic Dunes in Celebration, FL. Once again I was required to go to an Update. I first told a young man I absolutely did not want to buy even though he promised me that I would be able to vacation on the Gulf. When I convinced him I did not want to buy, an older heavy set man took over and continued to pressure me. I finally agreed to buy but when I got back home I rescinded my purchase. It was easier to do that than to fight them off in person.

When I was in Branson, MO and purchased 21,000 points (trying to get to the magic 40,000 points) for $55,750, it was because I was told that the points could be used for car rental and any hotel I wanted to stay in and for flights. Since my adult children and families are scattered all over the US, I thought this would really be great. When I tried to make these arrangements using my points, I was told that they no longer offered car rental and the hotel I wanted to stay in was not on their list. What list??? When I tried to make arrangements for a flight to visit my brother in Charlotte in October, 2016, I was told that I could only make flight reservations in the reservation flight window which is January to June.

I know I went along with them way too long but they always tried to explain how all my concerns would be solved if I would just buy more points. I was naive and being an RN I have always thought the best of people. This is all detailed in the attached.

RE: Contract Dispute

To Whom It May Concern,

I am writing to you under the provisions of Florida Deceptive and Unfair Practices Act, Stat. §§ 501.201 through 501.213, the Nevada Deceptive Trade Practices N.R.S. 598.0903, and Missouri Merchandising Practices Act Mo.Ann.Sta. § 407.020, each of which define and prohibit a wide scope of consumer fraud to include misrepresentation.

I am writing to request relief as outlined in these statutes.

The following is a summary of my involvement with DRI and a recounting of the unfair and deceptive trade practices used by representatives of your organization to entice me further and further into debt.

Statement of Wendelin Joan Evans:

I have such remorse for ever getting involved with Diamond Resorts International (DRI). Life could have been so much simpler, so much less stressful and so much less financially devastating. My single goal to get involved with DRI was to be able to take my adult children and grandchildren on vacations and be able to enjoy these vacations with them. It certainly has not worked out as I had hoped or envisioned or, more importantly, had been promised by DRI.

Let me first digress. In November 2010 - my first DRI purchase - I was 62 yrs. old, a widow and working at University of Missouri Sinclair School of Nursing as a clinical instructor. In 2007 when my husband went into congestive heart failure and subsequently died, I was unable to sleep and did not want to even get up out of bed. I started seeing a psychiatrist and due to depression, he prescribed Lexapro (escitalopram) 20mg daily – an anti-depressant. I have tried to quit taking this medication but have found that due to persistent depression, I must continue taking. In the fall of 2014 my primary care physician prescribed Klonopin (clonazepam) .5mg to take twice a day as needed for anxiety. This is in addition to the anti-depressant.

In the fall of 2015 I again talked with my primary care physician because of my increased depression and anxiety and difficulty sleeping. He started me on Deplin (L-methylfolate) which is a derivative of folate (vitamin B9) that is used in the treatment of depression. All three of these medications I continue taking to this day.

In November 2010 I was visiting my sister over Thanksgiving break from the University of Missouri. My sister lives in Sedona, AZ. We were planning to go hiking and stopped in a snack shop in Village of Oak Creek (VOC). VOC also happens to be where the Ridge on Sedona Golf Resort is located – a DRI property. There was a young man in the snack shop who asked us if we wanted to take a ride in a Pink Jeep – an off-road tour into Sedona’s outback. I had always wanted to do this so I asked how much it would cost. He responded that “it would cost me nothing” because all I had to do was listen to a short presentation – “no pressure and that was it.” This would be my first timeshare presentation so I had no idea what to expect.

The next day following the Pink Jeep Ride we met in a large conference room at the Golf Resort. I absolutely had no intentions of buying a timeshare but, of course, I was committed to the presentation only. The salesperson was a pleasant woman that my sister had previously met in Sedona so it did not feel as contentious as the other sales presentations that I would soon experience. I still didn’t have any plans to buy but she continued to tell me all the amazing benefits, vacations opportunities while showing me glossy pictures of beautiful beaches I could visit. That is when I started thinking how nice it would be if I could take my adult children and grandchildren on vacations and DRI seemed like the way I could do it. I was quite nervous at the thought of spending $15,000 but I thought I could make it work. In addition, I was still working and lacked flexibility in my schedule to take off whenever I wanted. Little did I know till later when I started trying to book vacations that I realized that I did not even have enough points to go to these places I most wanted to visit.

Prior to the next time that I bought points, I took my son, my daughter-in-law and the 2 granddaughters to Disney World in Orlando by way of the Dream Holiday which was given as a “gift” for buying the points. This was in January 2012 and was during Christmas break. We had a wonderful time and this was the only time that I was not required to attend an Update. As you can see it was over a year before I could get away on a trip. As a working widow, I did not have the flexibility to just leave anytime. In addition, I did not want to travel by myself. In fact, I lost points in 2012 because I could not find the time or/and the place to vacation. That is why I went to Cabo St. Lucas with Interval International.

The next time I went to a DRI property was July 2014. Once again I scheduled my vacation in Sedona and stayed at the Ridge on Sedona Golf Resort. By then I realized how limited my travels would be with only 4000 points. The need for a certain number of points to provide choices was never shared with me during the initial presentation. I simply thought that spending $15,000 would get me and my family where I wanted to go. Because I knew that I did not have enough points to travel where I wanted and really didn't have the time and flexibility to travel, I decided I must not purchase any more points because they did not work with my situation. Upon arrival at the Ridge I was told that I must attend an "Update". I was told this would be a short meeting but instead it lasted for 4 hrs. And I missed my golf tee time.

When I got to the conference room, I was assigned to a male customer representative from Iran. During this presentation I was by myself and the pressure was much greater than the first time around because from the get-go I had decided not to purchase any additional points and I made that clear. For that reason I believe they pushed harder. I began to feel more anxious as the pressure from the salesman increased. There was a second man involved who backed him up and told me how I needed to buy more points and how much it would increase my benefits. Finally, I agreed but this time I only purchased 2500 points. I was so exhausted from this grilling that I went back to my room and went to bed. I experienced a great deal of anxiety and knew that I should not have agreed to buy the points but even more important was for me to get out of the situation.

In January 2015 during my Christmas break from the University of Missouri I checked in to the Scottsdale Villa Mirage - Diamond Resorts located in Scottsdale, AZ. I was once again by myself. Again, I was told that I had to go to another "Update". I was determined not to buy points and felt angry that I even had to attend. During the presentation I had successfully said "no" to the first female saleswoman and she left but apparently sent the second salesperson – a male – to talk with me. I explained to him how unhappy I was with DRI. I had not been able to schedule a vacation with my kids to Wolf Lodge in Kansas City, Missouri or Traverse City Michigan or Orange Beach, in Alabama. In addition, I explained I was a widow and didn't want to travel alone and was still working making it difficult to plan trips especially when DRI never had availability for the places I wanted to go. The salesman continued to push and finally convinced me to purchase the Sampler. This was described as a trial program that allowed you 15,000 points for a designated period to experience what it is like being a Gold or Platinum owner. He said that this would allow me access to these places and I would be able to see the great benefits of additional points. That has never happened but he did convince me it would. So I paid $2,695 for the Sampler. When I left the conference room, I had an absolutely sinking feeling. Immediately, I went back into the conference room and told them I didn't want the Sampler. They told me there was no right of rescission, cancellation or refund for the Sampler and showed me where it was on the contract I had signed. At the time of purchase, this was not explained to me. I had no idea this was in the contract and much of my effort was just trying to hold myself together during their push to get me to buy. I really didn't want to buy it but I was so anxious that all I wanted to do was get out of the uncomfortable situation. However, they assured me I wouldn't lose the money but rather it would be rolled into a future purchase of DRI points. Oh, great. So to keep from losing this money I would need to buy more points.

On March 3, 2015 I made another purchase via phone. Why would I do this? Now I realized that I could not get my $2,695 back. So instead of just losing the $2695, I ended up using it as the down payment for 5000 additional points at a total cost of $10,825. Obviously, I did not understand the Sampler from the get-go. Of course, I had not had time to use my Sampler points because I was back teaching so the Sampler did me no good. Since I had not used the Sampler, Thomas Kwok from the DRI home office called to see if I wanted to convert my Sampler into 5000 points. I really wanted to cry and was in a panic. Lose $2,695 or spend an additional $8,130 for 5000 points.

No, I did not want to do that and I explained once again all the reasons why not – I was a widow and did not want to travel alone, I was working and could not leave during the school year, I had been unable to get into any of the resorts I wanted. In the end I purchased the points to keep from losing the money. I was overwhelmed with anxiety and wondered how I could ever find value in what I had purchased.

In July 2015 I took my son, daughter-in-law and 2 granddaughters to Branson, MO. We stayed at the Suites of Fall Creek which was the least desirable DRI property I had stayed in to date. Once again I was required to attend an “Update”. I told them I had no interest in going to an update but, of course, I had no choice. They put me in a room with a male sales rep and I told him I did not want an update. I told him I was angry because he was only going to try to sell me more points and I had as many points as I was going to purchase. He left the room and in a few minutes a woman by the name of Kim Wilson entered and asked me to follow her to her office. She seemed kind and interested in my complaints. I explained to her about my concerns. Then she told me that she used to work at Wyndham Timeshares and that DRI was a better company. She talked a lot about herself and how successful she has been in this industry. This meeting went on for approximately 4 hrs. She spent part of her time reassuring me that I had made a good purchase buying DRI points. She also explained to me all the ways I could use my points that I had never heard of before. She said I could stay at any hotel of my choosing. It did not have to be a DRI property and I was only to turn in the receipt for my stay and DRI would reimburse me. I could also schedule flights and it need not be to a DRI property. I would only need to submit my bill and this, too, would be reimbursed. She also said that car rental would also be reimbursed. She seemed kind, sincere and informative which made me really start trusting her. I had never heard about any of this. Finally, I thought that I might really be able to use my points. She explained that unless I had at least 30,000 points, I really didn’t have much opportunity to go to the places I was most interested. Then she explained that the real goal was to have 50,000 points. It finally dawned on me that what she was saying was that the most popular properties were not even available unless you had a certain level of points. At that point I had only 9,000 points. She convinced me that I needed 21,000 more points to open opportunities and gain the amazing benefits I was looking for. All of a sudden I was agreeing to spend $55,750 which would give me a total of 30,000 points. Because of the benefits she promised me, I was not as anxious as I had been during previous purchases. She gave me her number and told me to call her anytime I had problems getting anything done. (She did call me a week later to see how I was doing but, of course, I was getting ready to begin teaching again in August so I did not have time to try out all the benefits. I tried to call her 2 times but was never able to get ahold of her.) One thing she did that was very odd is without even asking my permission, she opened a Diamond Resorts

International® MasterCard® - BarclayCard for me. I know she didn't ask me because I always put everything on my Southwest cards to accumulate air miles. She left the room and brought out a receipt charging my new credit card with $10,000 which was the down payment for the $55,750 purchase. Was that even legal? Also, when your representative signed me up for the Barclay's credit card to finance the purchase, you violated the Truth in Lending Act by not informing me of pertinent details of the cost of such credit. We are in the process of disputing the entire Barclay's account, as we also disputing our contract with you. I should have asked about it at the time but I didn't. The anxious feeling was beginning to return. Was everything she told me really true? I was so depressed that once again I caved in.

When I got home, I took out a home equity loan at 4% for the remainder of this purchase. For the year of 2016 I paid $1,364 in interest. The $10,000 down payment I transferred to a no interest credit card and then eventually paid it off.

In the fall of 2015 I had planned to fly to Minneapolis to visit my son and family for Thanksgiving and then planned to rent a car. I called DRI to clarify the instructions for a car rental. At that time DRI told me they no longer offered that service. What was I to believe? Is this company honest or a bunch of scam artists? Within 2 months of Kim telling me about the car rental, it was no longer available.

In January 2016 I went to Mystic Dunes in Celebration, FL to vacation. Once again I was told that there was an "Update". I told them that I just bought 21,000 points in July 2015 and that I did not need an update. I told them that I had a golf tee time at 10AM and needed to be out of there so I could play golf. Of course, that did not happen. I missed the tee time completely. Once again I was getting pressure to buy 10,000 more points so that I could truly get all the amazing benefits. This was a big well-muscled swarthy young man who was not going to take no for an answer. I kept telling him no....finally, he brought in an older heavier set man to continue to pressure me to buy. Probably more than anything I just wanted to get out of there because I had heard this all before. I finally agreed to the purchase of 10,000 points at $27,100 with a $3500 down payment knowing that I just had to get out of there. It was so uncomfortable because I did not feel that these 2 men would let me say no. When I got back to my room, I was shaking. On January 6, 2016 I sent a letter to the DRI Financial Services cancelling the contract.

In January 2016 I was making reservations for our family reunion in Hannibal, MO for the 4th of July. I called DRI using the Platinum Line to clarify the instructions that Kim Wilson gave me for the reimbursement for a motel rental on a non-DRI property. The woman on the line admitted that DRI does that and asked me the name of the motel which was the Sleep Inn. Then she asked me to wait a minute so that she could check on something. When she returned, she said "I am sorry but it is not on our list for reimbursement." I told her that the sales rep in Branson did not tell me about a list but that any motel would be reimbursed. Then she said "well, I am so sorry". End of conversation. Unbelievable but not considering what I had experienced.

On May 16, 2016 a girlfriend and I went to Polo Towers in Las Vegas. Another update! Once again another male representative. We went through the same discussions that I had previously had with other sales reps. I really did not feel that I was getting my money's worth from DRI because I was a widow who did not like to travel alone; I still worked and did not have the flexibility to travel, etc. Finally, I told him that I just wasn't going to buy any more points. Then he said that he would be right back, and then in comes his manager. They said they knew I had cancelled my contract in January and they could offer me a much better deal. Instead of $27,100 for 10,000 points, they would offer me the 10,000 points for $22,745 - $5,000 less. He then told me how important it was for me to get to 40,000 points in order to gain access to the places where I wanted to vacation. I was beaten down and said yes but for $5000 less than in Mystic Dunes. I knew I had been taken so many times but somehow I thought if I would just buy more like they suggested that I would finally have opportunities for wonderful vacations.

In July 2016 I returned to Sedona so I could visit my sister. This time I stayed at another DRI property – Sedona Summit. Of course, another update! I spent hours at this update but this time I decided that I would say yes and just cancel it. It was easier to cancel than to tell these people NO. They would not accept no and would just start in again from another angle. So on July 31, 2016 I cancelled the contract.

In October 2016 I called the DRI Platinum line to find out how to make flight reservations that DRI would reimburse. I was planning to go to Charlotte, NC for Christmas and also make reservations for a DRI property in Daytona Beach, FL for July 2017. The woman said that I could only make reservations in the reservation flight window which is January to June. Unbelievable! I just quit questioning because I was fed up with how I have been treated. DRI makes all their services either difficult or impossible to utilize. I had also looked at cruises that I might want to go on and I could not find a single available cruise that did not require additional money such as $3000 to $4000 in addition to the points. That prompted me to look for cruises on my own. I found a 7-night Eastern Caribbean Cruise from Miami on the Norwegian cruise line for $709 in May 2017. In December 2016 I got a maintenance fee bill for $6,900. That was it. I was done.

Currently, I have 98,400 points for 2017 and 40,000 points for 2018. If DRI had been the least bit ethical they would have realized that I could not use all these points because of my situation. Someone might ask "how could you throw away all these points?" It is simply not worth the depression and anxiety that it has created trying to use them. All I really wanted to do was to take my family on a nice vacation once a year. Even with the many points I have, I would still have to pay additional dollars which I do not have because I have spent it all buying these worthless points. I am sad, frustrated and depressed. I want out of this scam operation. Two weeks ago I booked a condo using my own money – no points - in July 2017 at Gulf Shores, AL where I have always wanted to take my family. My son, daughter-in-law, granddaughters and I will be staying at a nice condo right on the beach for 7 days/nights at $1500.

End of Statement

Also, when your representative signed me up for the Barclay's credit card to finance the purchase, you violated the Truth in Lending Act by not informing me of pertinent details of the cost of such credit. We are in the process of disputing the entire Barclay's account, as we also disputing our contract with you.

In summary, during each and every presentation, I was subjected to coercion and your representatives' stubborn refusal to take no for an answer. I felt abused, extremely anxious and, at times frightened. Ultimately, I based my decision to buy your service on the oral representations of your salespeople who acted with scienter. They told me a variety of lies and misrepresentations in order to entice and to unduly convince me to make these purchases; therefore, there could never have been any meeting of the minds, and, as you must know, mutual assent is vitiated by such actions as fraud, undue influence, duress, coercion, misrepresentation, and/or other prohibited practices in violation of the FTC's Unfair and Deceptive Trade Practices Act.

Fla. Stat. Ann. §§ 501.204 broadly prohibits unfair or unconscionable acts, as well as prohibiting deceptive acts.

Fla. Stat. Ann. §§ 501.204 (1) (b) grants equitable relief.

Fla. Stat. Ann. §§ 501.204 (1) (b) grants restitution for consumers.

Fla. Stat. Ann. §§ 501.2075 allows awards for civil penalty.

Mo. Ann Sta. § 407.025 (1) grant punitive damages and attorney's fees.

I have suffered injury or loss of money in the amount of $95,000.

This letter serves as my request for the following relief:

Pending dispute resolution, I demand an immediate suspension of my account so that there is no accrual of interest, and no late payment charges, or any other penalties are assessed related to nonpayment, and that there should be no negative credit bureau reports issued during the pendency of this dispute. I am also demanding the full and complete cancellation of my contracts with your company, and expect a reasonable refund of monies paid less the cost of goods and services used thus far.

Under the provisions of Florida Deceptive and Unfair Practices Act, Stat. §§ 501.201 through 501.213, and Nevada Deceptive Trade Practices N.R.S. § 598.0903, I am providing you with the opportunity to make a written offer of settlement of this claim within 30 days. If you fail to make a good faith offer of settlement in response to this request, and I institute legal action, under Fla. Stat. Ann. § 501.207(1)(b)/(c) a court may grant me equitable relief and restitution, and your company may face civil penalties under Fla. Stat. Ann. § § 501-2075 ($10,000 per violation if willful). Under NV § 598.0973, a court may assess civil and punitive penalties if directed against the elderly, in addition to attorneys' Fees. Under Missouri statutes for elder abuse, your company could face criminal prosecution.

If an equitable and fair resolution cannot be obtained through this correspondence, I will be seeking to file a civil action against your company under Missouri Revised Statutes, Chapter 565. Offenses Against the Person, Section 565.184, as follows:

Abuse of an elderly person, a person with disability, or a vulnerable person--penalty.

565.184. 1. A person commits the offense of abuse of an elderly person, a person with a disability, or a vulnerable person if he or she:

(1) Purposely engages in conduct involving more than one incident that causes emotional distress to an elderly person, a person with a disability, or a vulnerable person. The course of conduct shall be such as would cause a reasonable elderly person, person with a disability, or vulnerable person to suffer substantial emotional distress; or

(2) Intentionally fails to provide care, goods or services to an elderly person, a person with a disability, or a vulnerable person. The result of the conduct shall be such as would cause a reasonable elderly person, person with a disability, or vulnerable person to suffer physical or emotional distress; or

(3) Knowingly acts or knowingly fails to act in a manner which results in a substantial risk to the life, body or health of an elderly person, a person with a disability, or a vulnerable person.

2. The offense of abuse of an elderly person, a person with a disability, or a vulnerable person is a class A misdemeanor. Nothing in this section shall be construed to mean that an elderly person, a person with a disability, or a vulnerable person is abused solely because such person chooses to rely on spiritual means through prayer, in lieu of medical care, for his or her health care, as evidence by such person's explicit consent, advance directive for health care, or practice.

I may be reached at the address written above. I look forward to hearing from you.

RE: Contract Dispute

To Whom It May Concern,

I am writing to you under the provisions of Florida Deceptive and Unfair Practices Act, Stat. §§ 501.201 through 501.213, the Nevada Deceptive Trade Practices N.R.S. 598.0903, and Missouri Merchandising Practices Act Mo. Ann. Sta. § 407.020, each of which define and prohibit a wide scope of consumer fraud to include misrepresentation.

I am writing to request relief as outlined in these statutes.

The following is a summary of my involvement with DRI and a recounting of the unfair and deceptive trade practices used by representatives of your organization to entice me further and further into debt.

Statement of Wendelin J. Evans:

I have such remorse for ever getting involved with Diamond Resorts International (DRI). Life could have been so much simpler, so much less stressful and so much less financially devastating. My single goal to get involved with DRI was to be able to take my adult children and grandchildren on vacations and be able to enjoy these vacations with them. It certainly has not worked out as I had hoped or envisioned or, more importantly, had been promised by DRI.

Let me first digress. In November 2010 - my first DRI purchase - I was 62 yrs. old, a widow and working at University of Missouri Sinclair School of Nursing as a clinical instructor. In 2007 when my husband went into congestive heart failure and subsequently died, I was unable to sleep and did not want to even get up out of bed. I started seeing a psychiatrist and due to depression, he prescribed Lexapro (escitalopram) 20mg daily – an anti-depressant. I have tried to quit taking this medication but have found that due to persistent depression, I must continue taking. In the fall of 2014 my primary care physician prescribed Klonopin (clonazepam) .5mg to take twice a day as needed for anxiety. This is in addition to the anti-depressant.

In the fall of 2015 I again talked with my primary care physician because of my increased depression and anxiety and difficulty sleeping. He started me on Deplin (L-methylfolate) which is a derivative of folate (vitamin B9) that is used in the treatment of depression. All three of these medications I continue taking to this day.

In November 2010 I was visiting my sister over Thanksgiving break from the University of Missouri. My sister lives in Sedona, AZ. We were planning to go hiking and stopped in a snack shop in Village of Oak Creek (VOC). VOC also happens to be where the Ridge on Sedona Golf Resort is located – a DRI property. There was a young man in the snack shop who asked us if we wanted to take a ride in a Pink Jeep – an off-road tour into Sedona’s outback. I had always wanted to do this so I asked how much it would cost. He responded that “it would cost me nothing” because all I had to do was listen to a short presentation – “no pressure and that was it.” This would be my first timeshare presentation so I had no idea what to expect.

The next day following the Pink Jeep Ride we met in a large conference room at the Golf Resort. I absolutely had no intentions of buying a timeshare but, of course, I was committed to the presentation only. The salesperson was a pleasant woman that my sister had previously met in Sedona so it did not feel as contentious as the other sales presentations that I would soon experience. I still didn’t have any plans to buy but she continued to tell me all the amazing benefits, vacations opportunities while showing me glossy pictures of beautiful beaches I could visit. That is when I started thinking how nice it would be if I could take my adult children and grandchildren on vacations and DRI seemed like the way I could do it. I was quite nervous at the thought of spending $15,000 but I thought I could make it work. In addition, I was still working and lacked flexibility in my schedule to take off whenever I wanted. Little did I know till later when I started trying to book vacations that I realized that I did not even have enough points to go to these places I most wanted to visit.

Prior to the next time that I bought points, I took my son, my daughter-in-law and the 2 granddaughters to Disney World in Orlando by way of the Dream Holiday which was given as a “gift” for buying the points. This was in January 2012 and was during Christmas break. We had a wonderful time and this was the only time that I was not required to attend an Update. As you can see it was over a year before I could get away on a trip. As a working widow, I did not have the flexibility to just leave anytime. In addition, I did not want to travel by myself. In fact, I lost points in 2012 because I could not find the time or/and the place to vacation. That is why I went to Cabo St. Lucas with Interval International.

The next time I went to a DRI property was July 2014. Once again I scheduled my vacation in Sedona and stayed at the Ridge on Sedona Golf Resort. By then I realized how limited my travels would be with only 4000 points. The need for a certain number of points to provide choices was never shared with me during the initial presentation. I simply thought that spending $15,000 would get me and my family where I wanted to go. Because I knew that I did not have enough points to travel where I wanted and really didn’t have the time and flexibility to travel, I decided I must not purchase any more points because they did not work with my situation. Upon arrival at the Ridge I was told that I must attend an “Update”. I was told this would be a short meeting but instead it lasted for 4 hrs. And I missed my golf tee time.

When I got to the conference room, I was assigned to a male customer representative from Iran. During this presentation I was by myself and the pressure was much greater than the first time around because from the get-go I had decided not to purchase any additional points and I made that clear. For that reason I believe they pushed harder. I began to feel more anxious as the pressure from the salesman increased. There was a second man involved who backed him up and told me how I needed to buy more points and how much it would increase my benefits. Finally, I agreed but this time I only purchased 2500 points. I was so exhausted from this grilling that I went back to my room and went to bed. I experienced a great deal of anxiety and knew that I should not have agreed to buy the points but even more important was for me to get out of the situation.

In January 2015 during my Christmas break from the University of Missouri I checked in to the Scottsdale Villa Mirage - Diamond Resorts located in Scottsdale, AZ. I was once again by myself. Again, I was told that I had to go to another "Update". I was determined not to buy points and felt angry that I even had to attend. During the presentation I had successfully said "no" to the first female saleswoman and she left but apparently sent the second salesperson – a male – to talk with me. I explained to him how unhappy I was with DRI. I had not been able to schedule a vacation with my kids to Wolf Lodge in Kansas City, Missouri or Traverse City Michigan or Orange Beach, in Alabama. In addition, I explained I was a widow and didn't want to travel alone and was still working making it difficult to plan trips especially when DRI never had availability for the places I wanted to go. The salesman continued to push and finally convinced me to purchase the Sampler. This was described as a trial program that allowed you 15,000 points for a designated period to experience what it is like being a Gold or Platinum owner. He said that this would allow me access to these places and I would be able to see the great benefits of additional points. That has never happened but he did convince me it would. So I paid $2,695 for the Sampler. When I left the conference room, I had an absolutely sinking feeling. Immediately, I went back into the conference room and told them I didn't want the Sampler. They told me there was no right of rescission, cancellation or refund for the Sampler and showed me where it was on the contract I had signed. At the time of purchase, this was not explained to me. I had no idea this was in the contract and much of my effort was just trying to hold myself together during their push to get me to buy. I really didn't want to buy it but I was so anxious that all I wanted to do was get out of the uncomfortable situation. However, they assured me I wouldn't lose the money but rather it would be rolled into a future purchase of DRI points. Oh, great. So to keep from losing this money I would need to buy more points.

On March 3, 2015 I made another purchase via phone. Why would I do this? Now I realized that I could not get my $2,695 back. So instead of just losing the $2695, I ended up using it as the down payment for 5000 additional points at a total cost of $10,825. Obviously, I did not understand the Sampler from the get-go. Of course, I had not had time to use my Sampler points because I was back teaching so the Sampler did me no good. Since I had not used the Sampler, Thomas Kwok from the DRI home office called to see if I wanted to convert my Sampler into 5000 points. I really wanted to cry and was in a panic. Lose $2,695 or spend an additional $8,130 for 5000 points.

No, I did not want to do that and I explained once again all the reasons why not – I was a widow and did not want to travel alone, I was working and could not leave during the school year, I had been unable to get into any of the resorts I wanted. In the end I purchased the points to keep from losing the money. I was overwhelmed with anxiety and wondered how I could ever find value in what I had purchased.

In July 2015 I took my son, daughter-in-law and 2 granddaughters to Branson, MO. We stayed at the Suites of Fall Creek which was the least desirable DRI property I had stayed in to date. Once again I was required to attend an "Update". I told them I had no interest in going to an update but, of course, I had no choice. They put me in a room with a male sales rep and I told him I did not want an update. I told him I was angry because he was only going to try to sell me more points and I had as many points as I was going to purchase. He left the room and in a few minutes a woman by the name of Kim Wilson entered and asked me to follow her to her office. She seemed kind and interested in my complaints. I explained to her about my concerns. Then she told me that she used to work at Wyndham Timeshares and that DRI was a better company. She spent part of her time reassuring me that I had made a good purchase buying DRI points. She also explained to me all the ways I could use my points that I had never heard of before. She said I could stay at any hotel of my choosing. It did not have to be a DRI property and I was only to turn in the receipt for my stay and DRI would reimburse me. I could also schedule flights and it need not be to a DRI property. I would only need to submit my bill and this, too, would be reimbursed. She also said that car rental would also be reimbursed. She seemed kind, sincere and informative which made me really start trusting her. I had never heard about any of this. Finally, I thought that I might really be able to use my points. She explained that unless I had at least 30,000 points, I really didn't have much opportunity to go to the places I was most interested. Then she explained that the real goal was to have 50,000 points. It finally dawned on me that what she was saying was that the most popular properties were not even available unless you had a certain level of points. At that point I had only 9,000 points. She convinced me that I needed 21,000 more points to open opportunities and gain the amazing benefits I was looking for. All of a sudden I was agreeing to spend $55,750 which would give me a total of 30,000 points. Because of the benefits she promised me, I was not as anxious as I had been during previous purchases. She gave me her number and told me to call her anytime I had problems getting anything done. (She did call me a week later to see how I was doing but, of course, I was getting ready to begin teaching again in August so I did not have time to try out all the benefits. I tried to call her 2 times but was never able to get ahold of her.) One thing she did that was very odd is without even asking my permission, she opened a Diamond Resorts International® MasterCard® - BarclayCard for me. I know she didn't ask me because I always put everything on my Southwest cards to accumulate air miles. She left the room and brought out a receipt charging my new credit card with $10,000 which was the down payment for the $55,750 purchase. Was that even legal? Also, when your representative signed me up for the Barclay's credit card to finance the purchase, you violated the Truth in Lending Act by not informing me of pertinent details of the cost of such credit. We are in the process of disputing the entire Barclay's account, as we also disputing our contract with you. I should have asked about it at the time but I didn't. The anxious feeling was beginning to return. Was everything she told me really true? I was so depressed that once again I caved in.

When I got home, I took out a home equity loan at 4% for the remainder of this purchase. For the year of 2016 I paid $1,364 in interest. The $10,000 down payment I transferred to a no interest credit card and then eventually paid it off.

In the fall of 2015 I had planned to fly to Minneapolis to visit my son and family for Thanksgiving and then planned to rent a car. I called DRI to clarify the instructions for a car rental. At that time DRI told me they no longer offered that service. What was I to believe? Is this company honest or a bunch of scam artists? Within 2 months of Kim telling me about the car rental, it was no longer available.

In January 2016 I went to Mystic Dunes in Celebration, FL to vacation. Once again I was told that there was an "Update". I told them that I just bought 21,000 points in July 2015 and that I did not need an update. I told them that I had a golf tee time at 10AM and needed to be out of there so I could play golf. Of course, that did not happen. I missed the tee time completely. Once again I was getting pressure to buy 10,000 more points so that I could truly get all the amazing benefits. This was a big well-muscled swarthy young man who was not going to take no for an answer. I kept telling him no....finally, he brought in an older heavier set man to continue to pressure me to buy. Probably more than anything I just wanted to get out of there because I had heard this all before. I finally agreed to the purchase of 10,000 points at $27,100 with a $3500 down payment knowing that I just had to get out of there. It was so uncomfortable because I did not feel that these 2 men would let me say no. When I got back to my room, I was shaking. On January 6, 2016 I sent a letter to the DRI Financial Services cancelling the contract.

In January 2016 I was making reservations for our family reunion in Hannibal, MO for the 4th of July. I called DRI using the Platinum Line to clarify the instructions that Kim Wilson gave me for the reimbursement for a motel rental on a non-DRI property. The woman on the line admitted that DRI does that and asked me the name of the motel which was the Sleep Inn. Then she asked me to wait a minute so that she could check on something. When she returned, she said "I am sorry but it is not on our list for reimbursement." I told her that the sales rep in Branson did not tell me about a list but that any motel would be reimbursed. Then she said "well, I am so sorry". End of conversation. Unbelievable but not considering what I had experienced.

On May 16, 2016 a girlfriend and I went to Polo Towers in Las Vegas. Another update! Once again another male representative. We went through the same discussions that I had previously had with other sales reps. I really did not feel that I was getting my money's worth from DRI because I was a widow who did not like to travel alone; I still worked and did not have the flexibility to travel, etc. Finally, I told him that I just wasn't going to buy any more points. Then he said that he would be right back, and then in comes his manager. They said they knew I had cancelled my contract in January and they could offer me a much better deal. Instead of $27,100 for 10,000 points, they would offer me the 10,000 points for $22,745 - $5,000 less. He then told me how important it was for me to get to 40,000 points in order to gain access to the places where I wanted to vacation. I was beaten down and said yes but for $5000 less than in Mystic Dunes. I knew I had been taken so many times but somehow I thought if I would just buy more like they suggested that I would finally have opportunities for wonderful vacations.

In July 2016 I returned to Sedona so I could visit my sister. This time I stayed at another DRI property – Sedona Summit. Of course, another update! I spent hours at this update but this time I decided that I would say yes and just cancel it. It was easier to cancel than to tell these people NO. They would not accept no and would just start in again from another angle. So on July 31, 2016 I cancelled the contract.

In October 2016 I called the DRI Platinum line to find out how to make flight reservations that DRI would reimburse. I was planning to go to Charlotte, NC for Christmas and also make reservations for a DRI property in Daytona Beach, FL for July 2017. The woman said that I could only make reservations in the reservation flight window which is January to June. Unbelievable! I just quit questioning because I was fed up with how I have been treated. DRI makes all their services either difficult or impossible to utilize. I had also looked at cruises that I might want to go on and I could not find a single available cruise that did not require additional money such as $3000 to $4000 in addition to the points. That prompted me to look for cruises on my own. I found a 7-night Eastern Caribbean Cruise from Miami on the Norwegian cruise line for $709 in May 2017. In December 2016 I got a maintenance fee bill for $6,900. That was it. I was done.

Currently, I have 98,400 points for 2017 and 40,000 points for 2018. If DRI had been the least bit ethical they would have realized that I could not use all these points because of my situation. Someone might ask “how could you throw away all these points?” It is simply not worth the depression and anxiety that it has created trying to use them. All I really wanted to do was to take my family on a nice vacation once a year. Even with the many points I have, I would still have to pay additional dollars which I do not have because I have spent it all buying these worthless points. I am sad, frustrated and depressed. I want out of this scam operation. Two weeks ago I booked a condo using my own money – no points - in July 2017 at Gulf Shores, AL. My son, daughter-in-law, granddaughters and I will be staying at a nice condo right on the beach for 7 days/nights at $1500.

End of Statement

Also, when your representative signed me up for the Barclay’s credit card to finance the purchase, you violated the Truth in Lending Act by not informing me of pertinent details of the cost of such credit. I am in the process of disputing the entire Barclay’s account, as I am also disputing my contract with you.

In summary, during each and every presentation, I was subjected to coercion and your representatives’ stubborn refusal to take no for an answer. I felt abused, anxious and, at times frightened. Ultimately, I based my decision to buy your service on the oral representations of your salespeople who acted with scienter. They told me a variety of lies and misrepresentations in order to entice and to unduly convince me to make these purchases; therefore, there could never have been any meeting of the minds, and, as you must know, mutual assent is vitiated by such actions as fraud, undue influence, duress, coercion, misrepresentation, and/or other prohibited practices in violation of the FTC’s Unfair and Deceptive Trade Practices Act.

Fla. Stat. Ann. §§ 501.204 broadly prohibits unfair or unconscionable acts, as well as prohibiting deceptive acts.

Fla. Stat. Ann. §§ 501.204 (1) (b) grants equitable relief.

Fla. Stat. Ann. §§ 501.204 (1) (b) grants restitution for consumers.

Fla. Stat. Ann. §§ 501.2075 allows awards for civil penalty.

Mo. Ann Sta. § 407.025 (1) grant punitive damages and attorney's fees.

I have suffered injury or loss of money $95,000.00.

This letter serves as my request for the following relief:

Pending dispute resolution, I demand an immediate suspension of my account so that there is no accrual of interest, and no late payment charges, or any other penalties are assessed related to nonpayment, and that there should be no negative credit bureau reports issued during the pendency of this dispute. I am also demanding the full and complete cancellation of my contracts with your company, and expect a reasonable refund of monies paid less the cost of goods and services used thus far.

Under the provisions of Florida Deceptive and Unfair Practices Act, Stat. §§ 501.201 through 501.213, and Nevada Deceptive Trade Practices N.R.S. § 598.0903, I am providing you with the opportunity to make a written offer of settlement of this claim within 30 days. If you fail to make a good faith offer of settlement in response to this request, and I institute legal action, under Fla. Stat. Ann. § 501.207(1)(b)/(c) a court may grant me equitable relief and restitution, and your company may face civil penalties under Fla. Stat. Ann. § § 501-2075 ($10,000 per violation if willful). Under NV § 598.0973, a court may assess civil and punitive penalties if directed against the elderly, in addition to attorneys' Fees. Under Missouri statutes for elder abuse, your company could face criminal prosecution.

If an equitable and fair resolution cannot be obtained through this correspondence, I will be seeking to file a civil action against your company under Missouri Revised Statutes, Chapter 565. Offenses Against the Person, Section 565.184, as follows:

Abuse of an elderly person, a person with disability, or a vulnerable person--penalty.

565.184. 1. A person commits the offense of abuse of an elderly person, a person with a disability, or a vulnerable person if he or she:

(1) Purposely engages in conduct involving more than one incident that causes emotional distress to an elderly person, a person with a disability, or a vulnerable person. The course of conduct shall be such as would cause a reasonable elderly person, person with a disability, or vulnerable person to suffer substantial emotional distress; or

(2) Intentionally fails to provide care, goods or services to an elderly person, a person with a disability, or a vulnerable person. The result of the conduct shall be such as would cause a reasonable elderly person, person with a disability, or vulnerable person to suffer physical or emotional distress; or

(3) Knowingly acts or knowingly fails to act in a manner which results in a substantial risk to the life, body or health of an elderly person, a person with a disability, or a vulnerable person.

2. The offense of abuse of an elderly person, a person with a disability, or a vulnerable person is a class A misdemeanor. Nothing in this section shall be construed to mean that an elderly person, a person with a disability, or a vulnerable person is abused solely because such person chooses to rely on spiritual means through prayer, in lieu of medical care, for his or her health care, as evidence by such person's explicit consent, advance directive for health care, or practice.

I may be reached at the address written above. I look forward to hearing from you.

To Whom It May Concern:

Enclosed you will find a copy of a letter I sent certified to the DRI office in Orlando, FL that was received at 1:12PM February 6, 2017. In addition, I sent a certified copy to the DRI office in Las Vegas, NV that was received at 10:41AM February 7, 2017. To date I have not received a response to any of my disputes.

The purpose of this cover letter is to request a response to my enclosed letter that was received in both the FL and NV DRI offices in February, 2017. In brief, it is my belief that at each point of sales I experienced fraud and/or extreme coercion. Each time I took a DRI vacation I was told I had to attend an "update". But it was not an update. It was another opportunity for DRI to victimize me and commit fraud in the inducement to buy more points. I paid all the contract prices as required and on time. But DRI did not follow through or make good on their promises. In fact, if DRI had told the truth, I would never have purchased. I am emotionally and physically ill over this entire situation and must continue to take anti-depressants and anti-anxiety medications to manage day to day.

In the "Suspension Notice" you are offering me two options neither of which are acceptable to me. Option 1 is to pay the delinquent amount of $9,036.65 thus reinstating my membership. Just the idea of this choice makes me ill. I want nothing further to do with DRI. Option 2 is that DRI will recover the points and terminate the membership. It is absolutely unacceptable for DRI to recover my 138,400 points without monetary restitution.

It is my belief that there should be restitution in the amount of $95,000. (See the enclosed letter.) This is the money I believe I am owed based on my limited ability to use the DRI facilities. I also believe it is inappropriate and unethical to use extreme coercion especially on a widow who is almost 70 years old. It is my request that we can come to an amicable resolution. I would rather not have to sue and/or go to the Attorney General's offices in MO, FL and NV.

I look forward to a full and prompt response to this letter within 14 days.

Sincerely,

Wendelin Joan Evans

Dear Brandi Alexander:

What do you mean by an "active contract"? I have never heard of such terminology.

When my initial letters "requesting relief with a reasonable refund" were sent to your FL and NV offices on February 3, 2017, I had not received a "February 15 – Suspension Notice" and, in fact, I did not receive a "Suspension Notice" until April 14, 2017 via USPS certified mail that was, in fact, dated March 29, 2017. Attached to my email are the 3 mailings I sent to the DRI offices with demands that have never been addressed.

My position is that DRI's violations of Consumer Fair Practice Law by their false representations and deceitful sales tactics voids any purported contracts. If I do not receive a response within 10 days addressing my previous requests, I intend to involve the NV, FL and MO State Attorneys in complaints against the Company – Diamond Resorts International.

Thank you.

To whom it may concern:

Since Brandi Alexander, DRI Senior Specialist located NV, is out of the office until May 30, 2017, I would recommend that someone address my email (see below) or you make Ms. Alexander aware of this email so she will respond by Friday June 3, 2017. If I do not hear from someone by Friday June 3, 2017 in writing making an honest effort to resolve my issues with DRI, I will proceed with notifying attorney generals in NV, FL and MO about the unethical practices for which I was the subject

Re.: Citizen Complaint-Scam – Timeshare Points misrepresentation

To Whom It May Concern:

On April 29, 2017 we (Richard and Donna Stone) met with Diamond Resorts Representative Kim Salerno and from time to time during the meeting her Sales Manager Joaquin Boadella at Mystic Dunes Resort and Golf Club where we have a 1 week ownership (member # 7976417). The purpose of the meeting was to bring us up to date about all the benefits we have with Diamonds new program. Also present were our 2 daughters Ranae O'Neil and Ronna Reedstrom. We ask them to sit in on meetings to take notes/ask question etc. as we are seniors in our seventies.

We were told that one of the great new benefits was the ability to use our points to pay yearly fees, to purchase cash cards to use as we wish or give as gifts. They could be used to pay for food, gas etc. All we needed to do was call Las Vegas Customer Services Dept. and request the use. They stated we should never loose points to always use them for such if we are unable to travel. We were told the cash value of the 8,500 points we considered exchanging to a cash card is $1,700. We planned to do this in June.

On June 29, 2017 I called Las Vegas Customer Services to exchange the points. I spoke with ALEXA and explained to her we wanted to do the exchange of the 8500 points to the $1,700. I asked her to please apply $1,000 as a payment on our yearly fees and to send us a cash card of $700. Alexa told me she has never heard of such a program. I explained our meeting on April 29 at Mystic Dunes and that I was told to just call Las Vegas Customer Services and would have no problems, Customer Services would send the cash cards out right away. She continued to say she never heard of such a program and needed to forward me to the Hospitality Dept. maybe they could help me.

I then spoke with CARINA in the Hospitality Dept. (extension # 12736). I explained again our information meeting at Mystic Dunes and the benefit of cashing in the points. She also had never heard of this benefit. Carina said she would send my information to a "specialist" to investigate and the specialist would contact us. She was not sure when as they get a lot of concerns to follow up on. I then told her if I did not hear from the specialist by the following Friday I would be contacting the AG's office.

I also reminded her that when I call Diamond there is a message telling callers the conversation is being recorded. The specialist can hear me tell my side of the issue several times.

We believe this is another of the on going practices of Timeshare Scamming and needs to be investigated.

Very truly yours,

Richard Stone

Affidavit Of Claudia Morgan

STATE OF FLORIDA

(COUNTY OF Polk)

I, Claudia Morgan, being first duly sworn, do hereby state under oath and under penalty of perjury, that the following facts are true:

I am over 18 years old and a resident of the County of Polk, State of Florida.

I have personal knowledge of the facts stated herein, and if called upon as a witness, I could testify competently thereto.

1. In November 2016, I was approached by a Diamond Resorts sales representative, who gave me a $100 dollar deal to stay for a long weekend. They make you go to a meeting where they give you a tour of different timeshare layouts and of the Disney parks in the area nearby. Finally, I was back to an office area where tables were set up for each person returning from the same option I had just used. The Sales Rep gave me an offer that was far out of my price range, and I definitely said no multiple times, "we cannot afford that".

2. All this did was brought in the "heavy hitters" aka Sales Manager. He just came back with different offers and he told us how it would be very smart for us to "invest now" that it would be good for our credit, because owning a timeshare is just like owning property. They kept lowering the price until we said "yes". He also told me that I would be able to rent the timeshare weeks out and actually use the timeshare as a source of income to pay off the maintenance fees and taxes.

3. Everything the sales manager told us made us believe that it would be extremely easy to rent out our time and make money. He specifically mentioned people trading their weeks for a place near where a big event would happen, like the super bowl or the Olympics, and renting it to someone who would pay a lot of money. I told the sales manager that we wanted time to think about whether or not we wanted to make this commitment, but they told me that we had to decide before we left that day.

4. It turned out that we were not given any chance to learn about the timeshare we had purchased, but instead Diamond Resort employees said we needed to upgrade.

The Diamond Resort sales representatives who sat down with us said that we had purchased a timeshare using the outdated "Weeks System" and that we would need to upgrade to the "Points System". I had never heard these terms before, so I was very upset. Of course, this upgrade was going to cost more money and I did not want to do that. We kept telling them that we did not want to spend more money, but again, they said that we had to accept the offer that day, or it would no longer be available

5. After the sale of the property I called to find out about getting out of the property , due to life finances. And the finance lady that I talked to said that I had 10 days after the sale to change things. That is the Florida law. I was there the week before Thanksgiving. You have longer than that with a house. So, for them to say that it is like buying a house is a lie. The finance lady from Diamond said that if I lived in a different state that I would have had twice as long.

6. I live in Florida. It is hard to find vacations during spring break because the rest of the US want to be in Florida also. They told me that as an owner I would have first option for getting a place to stay. I can rarely find a place to stay when I am looking, in Florida. I don't want to have to fly to Denver or Hawaii to get a room

7. Last time I stayed in one of their condos, it was full of roaches. And not dead. I complained the whole week that I was there and not one maintenance guy came to spray the condo that I was in. I know that this is Florida and bugs can be an issue but, I have lived here for over 20 years and have never had a problem like this. And no one called me back to let me even know that they received my message. I am extremely unhappy with my experience and I would like to cancel this timeshare based on the reasons stated above.

Further affiant sayeth not.

To whom it may concern,

I am writing to you today regarding the timeshare with the Orbit One Vacation Villas. They sold me this contract under false terms. When I purchased, I specifically said that buying a timeshare was something that I could not afford.

The sales reps that I worked with were aggressive, to put it lightly. Regardless of how many times I told them that I didn't want to purchase a timeshare, or that I couldn't afford it, and that I just wanted to leave, they wouldn't take no for an answer. They pressured me until they got me to sign the contract. Their aggressive sales tactics and false facts are the reason that I am in this predicament today. I don't think that it is too much of their company to ask to release me from this contract considering how much false information that I have found out that they gave me. They sent me a Release agreement for one of the two contracts I have, but they will not cancel the remaining contract I have.

Cancellation is the only option that I see fit for my contract considering that I am not able to sell it as I was told I could. I was told that I would be able to sell it very easily and probably even profit from it. How am I supposed to do that when people are giving their timeshares away online? It is quite clear to me that I am not the only one trying to end my timeshare ownership.

This timeshare is not worth the stress. One of their sales pitches had to do with affordability, but I have found that I would be able to book my vacation with less stress and less money. This timeshare is nothing like they said it would be, and for that reason, I want Orbit One Vacation Villas to release me from my contract. I've made every attempt to reach out to Diamond Resorts to cancel the Orbit One contract, and they will not assist me. It is quite disheartening that I've had to send countless letters to Diamond Resorts International to cancel my contract. Their unwillingness to assist me led me to contact your office. I truly cannot afford this timeshare anymore.

I look forward to hearing from you soon.

Sincerely,

Lois B. Baskin

SECOND NOTICE OF THE PURCHASERS' DEMAND FOR THE CANCELLATION OF THIS CONTRACT EFFECTIVE IMMEDIATELY!

HARDSHIP REQUEST

THIS IS A HARDSHIP SITUATION BECAUSE THE PURCHASERS CANNOT AFFORD THE PAYMENTS. The Purchasers can no longer afford the cost to maintain ownership in this Timeshare property. The Purchasers are not able to obtain refinancing of this "worthless" asset, as bank(s) will not approve any loan on this property. Since your Organization has increased all expenses associated with the ownership of these "Disguised Timeshares", the Purchasers are no longer able to maintain the payments and will be forced to stop making payments. The continued increase in the maintenance fees and other costs has made it impossible for the Purchasers to afford the payments and/or to take a vacation. This will reduce the Purchasers' ability to meet their other regular financial responsibilities as a result in the Purchasers' financial status decreasing. This change will continue with the only result of the Purchasers' outstanding liability continuing to grow with your organization. A debt the Resort may never collect.

FINDINGS TO DATE

A VALID CLOSING MAY HAVE NEVER OCCURRED! PURCHASERS DEMAND IMMEDIATE CANCELLATION OF CONTRACT!

Preliminary Finding No. One: You have failed and/or are intentionally not responding to and/or are ignoring a valid Durable Power of Attorney. This action could support your acceptance that the findings and statements are true and correct. Therefore, please terminate the financial responsibilities of the Purchasers with your organization immediately.

Preliminary Finding No. Two: I cannot locate that an actual Original Sale Certificate and/or Public Offering Statement was presented and given to the Purchasers. I did find a vague receipt for the document and other documents that were supposed to be presented and given to the Purchasers in either with a CD-ROM or the standard paper format (Unclear as to what was supposed to be given to the Purchasers). Therefore, I cannot locate the Original Sale Certificate and/or Public Offering Statement to verify if such statements as contained within these documents are true and complete. Nor can I verify that the receipt was given and is a true document or just a receipt and the Purchasers did not receive anything. Purchasers did advise TRC that the Purchasers provided all paperwork to TRC.

THEREFORE, PLEASE ACCEPT THIS LETTER AS THE OFFICAL NOTIFICATION OF CANCELLATION OF THIS TIMESHARE CONTRACT EFFECTIVE IMMEDIATELY.

Preliminary Finding No. Three: Predatory Lending Practices may have been involved with this transaction, thus affecting the legality of this contract.

Preliminary Finding No. Four: Your organization and related parties seem to be continuing pursuing the collection of a debt that is in dispute. The Purchasers should consider the application of provisions of the Racketeer Influenced and Corrupt Organizations Act¹ (RICO) as an additional remedial strategy against debt collectors who engage in unfair or deceptive debt collection practices/acts in addition to the Fair Debt Collection Practices Act (FDCPA) and the Fair Credit Reporting Act (FCRA) Namely, an action under 18 U.S.C. § 1962(c), which makes it unlawful for any person, through a pattern of racketeering activity or through collection of an unlawful debt, to conduct or participate in the conduct of the affairs of an enterprise engaged in or affecting interstate commerce.

Preliminary Finding No. Five: Statements made by the Resort's Representative may have been false and purposely misleading in violation of the Lanham Act and other business practices and requirements. The statements that were told to the Purchasers before, during and after the signing of the contract may be false.

Preliminary Finding No. Six: Based upon the statements from the Purchasers as compared to the overall paperwork as provided, the seller may have purposely misled the Purchasers into purchasing an item that was different than that which they thought they were purchasing. This technique is known as the "Bait and Switch Scheme."

Preliminary Finding No. Seven: A fully completed contract may not have been properly delivered to the Purchasers as required at closing (No budgets, etc.).

Preliminary Finding No. Eight: Other possible defenses against your contract at this point:
False Advertising; Unfair Business Practices; Rescission; Common Law Fraud; Fraud In The Inducement; Civil Conspiracy To Defraud; Negligence; Gross Negligence; Negligent Misrepresentation; Grossly Negligent Misrepresentation.

Preliminary Finding No. Nine: As stated above, the Purchasers certified that the Purchasers have provided all documents given to the Purchasers at closing and afterward to TRC. Obviously, there was very little information provided to the Purchasers and the Purchasers could not have made a sound financial decision based upon such limited documents.

Preliminary Finding No. Ten: All the states prohibit timeshare developers or salespeople from engaging in unfair or deceptive acts in a timeshare transaction. The following acts, among others, constitute deceptive practices under the law: misrepresenting or failing to disclose any material fact concerning a timeshare; including a provision in a timeshare agreement that purports to waive any right or benefit provided for Purchasers in the timeshare agreement; receiving any money or other valuable consideration from a prospective Purchasers before the Purchasers has received a public offering statement; misrepresenting the amount of time or period of time the unit will be available to a Purchasers; misrepresenting the size, nature, extent, qualities, or characteristics of the unit; misrepresenting the conditions under which a Purchasers may exchange occupancy rights to a unit in one location for occupancy rights to a unit in another location; failing to disclose initially that any promised entertainment, food, or other inducements are being offered to solicit the sale of a timeshare, and conducting or participating in any type of lottery or contest, or offering prizes or gifts to induce or encourage a person to visit a project, attend a meeting at which a timeshare will be discussed, attend a presentation or purchase a timeshare without prior approval by the State. This is supported by the statements as contained within the Purchasers' Testimonial.

Preliminary Finding No. Eleven: Your entire contract may be unconscionable.

Preliminary Finding No. Twelve: Based upon the Purchasers' Testimonial and the statements made within, Undue Influence seems to be the real motivating factor in convincing them to purchase this worthless asset. Over persuasion is generally accompanied by certain characteristics which tend to create a pattern. This pattern usually involves several of the following elements: (1) Discussion of the transaction at an unusual or inappropriate time; (2) Consummation of the transaction is an unusual place; (3) Insistent demand that the business be finished at once; (4) Extreme emphasis on untoward consequences of delay; (5) The use of multiple persuaders by the dominant side against a single opposing and contracting party; (6) Absence of third-party advisers to the opposing and contracting party; (7) Statements that there is no time to consult financial advisers or attorneys. All of which seem to be present in this situation.

Preliminary Finding No. Thirteen: Contract may be unenforceable because of the Resort's action not to honor the promises and representations by denying access to the Resort's resources as promised. The statute of frauds makes contracts falling within its provisions voidable. A contract procured by fraud is not enforceable. The elements of fraud are: (1) a representation; (2) its falsity; (3) its materiality; (4) the speaker's knowledge of its falsity or his ignorance of its truth; (5) the speaker's intent that the representation should be acted on by the person and in the manner reasonably contemplated; (6) the hearer's ignorance of the falsity of the representation; (7) the hearer's reliance on the representation being true; (8) the hearer's right to rely thereon; and (9) the hearer's consequent and proximately caused injury. A contract procured by duress is also unenforceable.

Preliminary Finding No. Fourteen: If your organization decides to foreclose or pursue the activity of trying to collect this debt, especially by destroying the Purchasers' credit, the Courts are no longer looking the other way on intentionally sloppy foreclosures that cover up a larger fraud on investors. I feel that the Courts would have enough of a feel of the situation to see that there is something fundamentally wrong with the mortgage origination and foreclosure practices. At this point, if the foreclosing parties don't have it right, it is viewed as an intentional or grossly negligent act, giving rise to compensatory damages, attorney fees, costs, and punitive damages.

Preliminary Finding No. Fifteen: Based upon the statements per the Purchasers' Testimonial, statements made by the Resort's representatives may have been false. The act, use or employment by any person of any deception, fraud, false pretense, false promise, misrepresentation, unfair practice or the concealment, suppression, or omission of any material fact in connection with the sale or advertisement of any merchandise in trade or commerce is declared to be an unlawful practice.

Preliminary Finding No. Sixteen: I cannot locate any notices of any general meetings by the association was ever given to the Purchasers. A meeting of the association shall be held at least once each year. Special meetings of the association may be called by the president or by twenty percent, or any lower percentage specified in the bylaws, of either the executive board or the unit owners. Not less than ten nor more than sixty days in advance of any meeting, the secretary or other officer specified in the bylaws shall cause notice to be hand-delivered or sent prepaid by United States mail to the mailing address of each unit or to any other mailing address designated in writing by the unit owner. The notice of any meeting shall state the time and place of the meeting and the items on the agenda, including the general nature of any proposed amendment to the declaration or bylaws, any budget changes, and any proposal to remove a director or officer.

Preliminary Finding No. Seventeen: I also took the liberty to do some research on various states' Law concerning foreclosure Real estate and timeshare foreclosures in several states may be judicial or non-judicial. The Purchasers does live in another state. Without being an expert in Law, but based upon what attorneys have said: "Another state would likely not permit a deficiency judgment after a non-judicial timeshare foreclosure". Therefore, any costs to sue this individual and the costs of foreclosure may never be recovered. You can always resale it at another gathering of customers, and in my financial opinion, both your organization and Purchasers would be both better off financially.

Preliminary Finding No. Eighteen: The Purchasers are considered Senior Citizens. Your organization may have preyed upon the Purchasers because of the Purchasers' age. This could be considered Financial Exploitation of the Elderly. Please refer to the related penalties that may be levied against all parties involved. Please refer to the ages of the Purchasers. This is in addition to the misleading, deceptive, intimidation, undue influence, and misrepresentations as per the Purchasers' Testimonial, the high pressure tactics and the length of the sales pitch, the environment of the meeting, should support and immediate release of the Purchasers from the Purchasers' financial obligations with your organization. This would save both parties, the expenses to defend against this claim to VOID your contract. Plus the publicity would not be favorable to your organization for taking advantage of them due to their age. In addition, your organization will save the expense of a foreclosure action, which could later be challenged by the Purchasers as a wrongful foreclosure. In addition, Robbery, Stealing and Related Offenses could be involved which states: "A person commits the offense of financial exploitation of an elderly person or a person with a disability if such person knowingly obtains control over the property of the elderly person or person with a disability with the intent to permanently deprive the person of the use, benefit or possession of his or her property thereby benefitting the offender or detrimentally affecting the elderly person or person with a disability by... (etc.).

Based upon the above, your contract should be cancelled immediately.

Sincerely,

Bernard Long

I am NOT here to quote laws of guilt or innocence which MAY or may NOT apply in various states. I try to obtain a fair market value of the asset at the time of purchase and as of the most current date available.

This is not an all-inclusive summary of the various questionable activities or any question or matter involving doubt, uncertainty, or difficulty. I have only included those findings that could be of major concern. I want to save both the seller and Purchasers unneeded time to reach a settlement. 17180961-Promissory Note Multisite Collection

July 8th, 2015

Note No.: 23668660

PROMISSORY NOTE

This Promissory Note ("Note") is given in connection with that certain Purchase and Security Agreement of even date herewith between the undersigned, BRIAN THURMAN ANDERSON and KIMBERLY JEAN ANDERSON (hereinafter, whether one or more, referred to as "Maker"), whose address is 2020 13th Street North St. Cloud, Minnesota 56303, and Diamond Resorts U.S. Collection Development, LLC, a Delaware limited liability company ("Diamond Resorts"), whose address and principal place of business is c/o Customer Service, Diamond Resorts Financial Services, Inc., 10600 West Charleston Boulevard, Las Vegas, Nevada 89135 (the "Agreement"). This Note will become effective upon the lapse of the cancellation period provided in the Agreement (provided that Maker does not exercise Maker's cancellation right) or, if later, the Closing described in the Agreement (the "Effective Date").

FOR VALUE RECEIVED, Maker promises to pay to the order of Diamond Resorts and any successor or assign thereof, including, without limitation, any subsequent holder hereof ("Holder"), at the address for Diamond Resorts set forth above or at such other place as Holder may from time to time designate in writing, in lawful money of the United States, the principal amount of Twenty-Five Thousand Eight Hundred Eight and 76/100 ($25,808.76), together with a monthly collection fee of Six ($6.00) and a monthly finance charge computed in the manner set forth below at a fixed annual rate of Seventeen and 99/100 (17.99%) (the "Annual Rate"). As set forth in the Truth in Lending Disclosure Statement provided to you, both the collection fee and the monthly finance charge are treated as finance charges, included in the computation of the Annual Percentage Rate, under the federal Truth in Lending Act.

Maker shall pay Holder in 120 equal monthly installments of Four Hundred Sixty-Four and 87/100 Dollars ($464.87) each, with the first such installment being due and payable on _____ (the "First Payment Date"), and a like installment to be due and payable on or before the same day of each calendar month thereafter (the "Payment Date"). (Notwithstanding the foregoing: (1) if the First Payment Date is in the last three days of a calendar month and there is no day in a particular calendar month that corresponds to the First Payment Date, the Payment Date for such calendar month will be the first day of the subsequent month; and (2) if any Payment Date falls on a day that is not a business day, the Payment Date will be the next business day thereafter.) On the final Payment Date _____ (the "Maturity Date"), the entire principal balance due hereunder, together with any finance charges and other fees and charges, shall be immediately due and payable. Time is of the essence with respect to all of Maker's obligations hereunder.

If Maker has separately agreed to the terms of Holder's "SurePay Plan," an automatic payment plan whereby scheduled monthly payments of principal and interest payments on this Promissory Note and the collection fee are automatically deducted from Maker's bank account on each Payment Date, then immediately upon the occurrence of any of the following described events, Maker's participation in the SurePay Plan will terminate: (i) at any time prior to the Maturity Date, Maker elects to terminate his or her participation in the SurePay Plan; (ii) Maker closes the designated bank account; or (iii) on more than one occasion, a SurePay payment is not made when due for any reason (including Maker's failure to maintain a sufficient balance in the designated bank account to cover any required payment). In such event, the Interest Rate shall increase by Zero percent (0.00%) per annum and the monthly payment will increase to the level sufficient to repay all principal, interest and collection fees by the Maturity Date through equal monthly payments on each Payment Date. The increase in the Interest Rate shall be effective retroactively to the date of the last payment made under the SurePay Plan, and the increase in payment amount shall apply to the next payment due after the last such SurePay payment.

Each monthly installment shall be applied first to late charges, then to the collection fee, then to monthly finance charges and finally to unpaid principal. Each month, the monthly finance charge will be based on the scheduled principal balance (regardless of exactly when payments are actually received) and a monthly rate of finance charge equal to the Annual Rate divided by twelve (12). Maker may prepay the outstanding principal balance hereof, in whole or in part, at any time without premium or penalty. However, partial prepayments will not reduce finance charges and will not postpone the due date of any subsequent monthly installments or change the amount of such installments unless Holder otherwise agrees in writing. In the event this Note is prepaid in full, Holder will charge a monthly finance charge for that month equal to the scheduled principal balance at the beginning of the month, times the Annual Rate, times a fraction equal to the number of days from the immediately preceding Payment Date through the date of prepayment divided by the number of days in the year. Holder will not charge any collection fee for the month of prepayment and Holder will not charge any collection fees and monthly finance charges attributable to months following any prepayment in full.

This Promissory Note is given in partial payment for a membership in the Diamond Resorts U.S. Collection (the "Membership"). Payment of principal, finance charges and other charges hereunder is secured by a security interest established under the Purchase and Security Agreement (the "Agreement") of even date herewith by and between Diamond Resorts, as seller, and Maker, as purchaser. The terms and provisions of the Agreement are hereby fully incorporated herein by this reference.

If all or any part of the Membership or an interest therein is sold or otherwise transferred by Maker (whether such interest is legal or equitable, present or future, vested or contingent) without Holder's prior written consent (which consent may be withheld for any reason whatsoever), excluding (i) the creation of a lien or encumbrance subordinate to the Agreement; (ii) a transfer by devise, descent, or operation of law upon the death of a joint tenant; or (iii) the grant of any leasehold interest of one (1) week or less not containing an option to purchase the Membership, then Holder may, at Holder's option, except to the extent prohibited by law, declare all of the amounts secured by the Agreement to be immediately due and payable.

Upon the failure of Maker to make any payment required under this Promissory Note in accordance with the terms hereof or Maker's breach of any of the other covenants or agreements contained herein or in the Agreement, then and in such event, Holder, at Holder's option, subject to any right of reinstatement to which Maker is entitled under applicable law, may (i) declare, without further demand, all of the amounts owed hereunder to be immediately due and payable; and (ii) pursue all rights and remedies available to Holder under this Promissory Note and the Agreement by appropriate proceedings. To the extent permitted by law, Holder shall be entitled to collect in such proceedings all expenses of enforcement, including but not limited to reasonable attorneys' fees, publication costs, costs of judgment and other searches, and court costs. Failure of Holder to exercise its available rights and remedies hereunder or as provided by law with respect to any default by Maker shall not be deemed to constitute a waiver of such rights or remedies with respect to any subsequent default, whether the same or different in nature.

In the event that any amount due under this Promissory Note is paid more than ten (10) days after the date upon which such amount is due, then Holder shall be entitled to collect a late charge from Maker in an amount equal to the lesser of (i) Twenty-Five Dollars ($25.00) or (ii) ten percent (10%) of the overdue installment, provided that such amount does not exceed the maximum late charge permitted to be charged under the laws of the State of Nevada. To the extent permitted by law, Maker shall further be liable to Holder for any out-of-pocket costs incurred by Holder in the event that a check issued by Maker is dishonored for any reason.

During any time in which Maker is in default under this Promissory Note, finance charges may, at Holder's option, accrue on the actual outstanding balance on a simple interest basis at a default rate equal to the maximum lawful rate permitted to be charged by Holder under the laws of the State of Nevada. In the event that there is no such maximum lawful rate, then finance charges shall accrue on the actual outstanding balance on a simple interest basis during such period at a default rate of twenty-five percent (25%) per annum.

In the event that counsel is employed to collect all or any part of the indebtedness evidenced hereby, whether at maturity or following acceleration, to the extent permitted by law Maker agrees to pay Holder's reasonable attorneys' fees, whether suit be brought or not (including any fees associated with appeals or bankruptcy proceedings), and all other costs and expenses reasonably incurred in connection with Holder's collection efforts.

Maker and any endorser, guarantor, or surety, jointly and severally, hereby waive presentment, protest, demand, notice of protest, and dishonor of this Promissory Note, and expressly agree that this Promissory Note, or any payment hereunder, may be extended from time to time without in any way affecting the liability of Maker or any endorser, guarantor, or surety hereof. To the extent not prohibited by applicable law, Maker also waives any rights to any stay of execution and the benefit of all homestead and/or other exemption laws now or hereafter in effect.

This Promissory Note shall be the joint and several obligation of each person signing below and shall apply to and bind each of them and each of their respective heirs, successors, personal representatives, and assigns.

The validity, construction, and enforceability of, and the rights and obligations of Maker and Holder under, this Promissory Note shall be governed by, construed, and enforced in accordance with the laws of the State of Nevada.

In the event that any one or more of the provisions of this Promissory Note shall for any reason be held to be invalid or unenforceable, in whole or in part or in any respect, then such provision or provisions only shall be disregarded as though not contained herein and shall not affect any other provision of this Promissory Note, and the remaining provisions of this Promissory Note shall remain operative and in full force and effect and shall in no way be affected, prejudiced, or disturbed thereby.

It is the intent of Holder to comply fully with all interest and usury laws of the State of Nevada, as currently enacted or hereafter in effect. Notwithstanding any provision hereof to the contrary, in no event shall this Promissory Note require the payment or permit the collection of interest in excess of the maximum amount of interest permitted under the laws of the State of Nevada. In the event that the amount of interest contracted for, charged, or received under this Promissory Note exceeds the maximum amount of interest permitted under the laws of the State of Nevada, then the provisions of this paragraph shall govern and control, and neither

Maker nor any other person or entity now or hereafter liable for the payment hereof shall be obligated to pay the amount of such interest to the extent that it exceeds the maximum amount of interest permitted under the laws of the State of Nevada. Any such excess interest which may have been collected by Holder shall, at the option of Holder, either be applied as a credit against the unpaid principal balance hereof or be refunded to Maker, and the effective rate of interest shall be reduced to the maximum rate of interest permitted to be charged under the laws of the State of Nevada.

Except for any notice required under applicable law to be given in another manner, any notice that either party desires or is required to give the other party under this Promissory Note shall be in writing and shall be deemed to have been duly given upon the earlier to occur of (a) its actual receipt; (b) three (3) business days after being deposited in the United States mail as first class mail, postage prepaid; or (c) one (1) business day after being sent via overnight courier service such as Federal Express, addressed to the applicable party at the address therefor stated herein or at such other address as the receiving party has previously notified the giving party in the manner prescribed in this paragraph. If Maker consists of more than one (1) person, then notice to any of them shall be deemed to constitute notice to all of them.

ANY HOLDER OF THIS CONSUMER CREDIT CONTRACT IS SUBJECT TO ALL CLAIMS AND DEFENSES WHICH THE DEBTOR COULD ASSERT AGAINST THE SELLER OF GOODS OR SERVICES OBTAINED PURSUANT HERETO OR WITH THE PROCEEDS HEREOF. RECOVERY HEREUNDER BY THE DEBTOR SHALL NOT EXCEED AMOUNTS PAID BY THE DEBTOR HEREUNDER.

In March of 2005, my wife and I visited a timeshare resort in ~~Florida~~ Kissimmee, Florida and bought into a timeshare. Later the resort change its name to Mystic Dunes Resort. Our maintenance fees were $550.⁰⁰ a year. For a 2 Bedroom unit. Vacation International.

We went back to the resort for a week in 2006 & 2008. Both those years we had upgrade meetings that lasted to least 4 hrs. In 2006 or 08 we upgraded to a 3 bedroom unit, which up our maintenance fee another $200 or so. Mahomed was our sales rep. He is retired now.

In 2012 we used our timeshare at Mystic Dunes. Again we had another upgrade meeting. And they switched to Diamond Resorts.

It was later change to Diamond Resorts maybe in 2014, I don't remember what year and our maintenance fees went way up. We can't spend that much money to go on vacation. In 2016 we spent $2,988.¹⁰ in maintenance fees plus 13,000 points.

On Aug. 15-18, 2016, we stayed at The Suites at Falls Creek in Branson, MO. On 8-16-16 we met with the sales representatives and we didn't remember their names and didn't get a card.

But they said we needed to upgrade again, which would have cost us $2,000 to $3,000, because Diamond Resorts was bought by Global or Alliance. They said we were limited ~~on~~ with our vacation dates and places where we could go unless we upgraded. They would not work with us. Finally we just walked out, because we can't afford all the fees and upgrades.

Dear Sir/Madam:

We are reaching out to your agency, because this company is allowing their agents to use deceitful in regards to their sales agents.

The sales force very well knows that such falsehoods won't unravel within the time to cancel, and therefore their commission is always safe to not be cancelled. There is no way possible for us to have discovered such things until much later into the ownership.

If these fabrications were not told, we would not have purchased this, and that is why the agent told them! The motive for these sales associates was to simply achieve personal profit gain, via any means necessary to acquire our signatures for this contract. We have written several times now, and they just want to deny it all.

Upon reviewing UNLAWFUL ACTS under the FALSE OR MISLEADING ADVERTISING and UNFAIR METHODS OF COMPETITION; DECEPTIVE OR UNFAIR ACTS, we have found that the representing agents of this resort have in fact violated these specific and strict rules and regulations.

Unfair methods of competition; deceptive or unfair acts.

It is unlawful to engage in unfair methods of competition or deceptive or unfair acts in the offer to sell or sale of a time share including, without limitation:

1. Misrepresenting or failing to disclose any material fact concerning a time share.

Why should we not allow anyone from this company to take advantage of us any longer, so we hope you can see something of concern in our attached letter. Also, per the guidelines of each of the 50 Real Estate Commission's in United States, "legal contracts can be canceled or rescinded upon if fraud, failure to comply with legal procedures, or misrepresentation occurred".

There were unlawful misrepresentations in our presentation. Upon studying my consumer rights, we find that legally, this does in fact constitute a cancellation of this misrepresented contract, and plausible reason for your agency to look into this. Please see our letter that explains the background of this complaint, and contact us with further instructions.

Thank you,

Dear Sir/Madam:

We first engaged ourselves with your company approximately ten years ago, by way of a timeshare contract through Sunterra. As a result of business acquisitions, you are now responsible for the administration of that contract. In Dec 2016, we purchased a contract directly through your company. This letter is to initiate the cancellation of both for reasons we will disclose within this communication, and to also recover the nearly $50,000 purchase price for that second contract, for the same reasons.

The primary basis for our request is deception, in that we were grossly misled on 17 Dec 2016. We were not provided with honest and transparent information and the misleading statements directly contributed to our purchase of the second timeshare. The deceptions were so well-crafted that it took some time for us to begin unraveling them. We reached out to the sales representative, Ms. Palermo, but she evaded our attempts to speak with her. We called your hospitality department and asked to speak to a manager, but our request to be transferred was denied. We were told someone would call at the beginning of the week following our Friday call, but that call never arrived. A second call to hospitality revealed that it could be 10-20 days before we heard from anyone. That second conversation took place on 3 Mar, and still, we've heard nothing.

We are not interested in continuing a business arrangement with your company in any capacity. We've lost all trust in your company to operate in an entirely honest and ethical manner and we will not align ourselves with anyone about whom we have serious concerns in terms of integrity. That is why we must cancel both contracts and why we are expecting a full return of payments made for the December acquisition.

When we purchased the Sunterra timeshare, we never imagined we would find ourselves to be in this position only ten years later. In fact, we never expected to have the issues with the Sunterra timeshare that we saw over the years, which resulted in us being a prime target for the Diamond representatives in December. We were not naïve about timeshares and in fact, owned a timeshare prior to the one with Sunterra. We used that timeshare to book a trip to Scottsdale and Sedona, Arizona ten years ago. While in Sedona, we were asked to sit through a presentation where we were told about a point system that was available through Sunterra. This concept was new to us, as our previous lifetime contract was based in Puerto Rico and provided us with a vacation from 19 Jan to 2 Feb every year. We liked the idea of a point system, but informed them we were not interested because we already owned a timeshare.

The salespeople posed a scenario wherein they would purchase the Puerto Rico timeshare from us, and in turn, we would purchase their timeshare. They told us more about the program, including the ability to double the spending power of the points by booking all vacations within 59 days of departure, thereby granting us twice as many vacations per year. As we were facing retirement in two years, this described benefit was vital. We predicted that upon retirement, the flexibility of our lifestyle would always provide the ability to book within 59 days. This was the major selling point for us, and we agreed to purchase 15,000 points in exchange for our Puerto Rico unit being purchased from us.

We used the points every year, but could never get the places we wanted, regardless of whether we were booking within 59 days or farther out. We wanted to go to Europe, but were not able to book any of the locations we desired. Our every usage required a compromise on our part, and we often found we had to book our fourth or fifth choice in order to book anything at all.

We were fed up with the function of our Sunterra timeshare when, roughly three years ago, we received a phone call from a company offering to sell our timeshare. We paid them approximately $1,000.00 after they promised they would successfully sell our timeshare, especially if we agreed to a discounted price. We would have been happy to earn $15,000.00-25,000.00 on the timeshare, although we'd paid approximately $40,000.00, but after paying the required fees, we did not receive a single offer.

Evidence shows that we've had an interest in ridding ourselves of the Sunterra timeshare for the past three years. We used our program because we had the points, but we were never able to book the times or destinations we wanted. The concept of the timeshare was very favorable, but the reality of it was a completely different story. In the ten years we've owned the timeshare, we've never been able to book within 59 days and pay only half the normal amount of points for vacations. Yet this was the single most important reason we agreed to buy the Sunterra timeshare.

Last Dec, we had 8,000 points remaining. We called to ask if we could use the points to book a stay in Arizona this September, but we were informed the points had to be used by 31 Dec or they would be forfeited. I asked what the points could be used for and the agent suggested we spend eight days at Mystic Dunes Resort in Orlando, from 16 Dec to 24 Dec so our points would not be lost. We really did not want to go to Orlando since we've been there quite a few times. The only reason we booked the stay is to avoid the loss of points, even if we did not plan on staying the entire eight days.

When we arrived at the resort, we asked a concierge about tickets to Animal Kingdom and mentioned that we were only there because we were going to lose our points otherwise. She immediately said nobody loses their points anymore, because they can be used for vacations, to shop in the online store, or they can be applied to the annual fees. She alluded to there being other usage options as well and heavily suggested we attend a 55-minute presentation that would explain all of the various ways we could use our points each year and prevent any loss. She said there would be no sales pitch, only information, and we would receive a hefty discount on tickets to Animal Kingdom. We went because we wanted to understand exactly how we could use our points without losing any and we wanted to gain a better understanding of the changes to our timeshare since Sunterra was taken over by Diamond.

The next morning, 17 Dec, we were introduced to Ms. Kimberly Salerno. She took us into her office and we commented that we were happy to finally learn what we could do with our points. She started to explain the options and commented on the Diamond system's flexibility. After she carried on for quite some time with no signs of letting up, we informed her we needed to be done within 20 minutes because our shuttle to Animal Kingdom would be departing the resort at 9:10. She immediately replied that it would take at least two hours to go through all of the information. We were surprised at the required length of time and she offered to reschedule us, but we informed her we had no other time available during our stay. She brought in her boss, Mr. Joaquin Boadella, and he offered to drive us to Animal Kingdom after the presentation, as he commented it was important for us to learn of all the possibilities that were available through Diamond's system. We decided to stay because we desperately wanted that information ourselves.

Ms. Palermo started explaining the benefits we had, like buying airfare with our points, purchasing cruises, and applying unused points to our annual fees, among others. We commented that while it was nice to have those benefits in theory, we'd found that in order to use them, we had to be Gold or Platinum level members and we were only at the Silver level. We were already surpassing the 55 minutes that had been promised by the concierge the day before when the information session transitioned into a sales effort, although we'd been assured there would be no sales attempt involved.

In order to have access to all five-star resorts and hotels, cruises, and nice vacation homes around the world, we had to purchase 17,500 additional points. Otherwise, we would not be entitled to any of the benefits. Ms. Palermo had the audacity to say she was not putting pressure on us, but if we wanted the extra benefits, we had to pay to reach Gold or Platinum level. She claimed that once we reached those levels, we would not pay anything extra for our vacations because everything would be included. We would have priority access to all booking options, would always stay in five-star resorts, and would be able to travel anywhere of our choosing, at the exact times we wanted to travel. She named off several high-end resort options, such as the Four Seasons, Hyatt, and Hilton, and made it seem as if the additional points would grant us immediate and easy access to those resorts, but we later determined that is not the case at all.

Kim's boss returned to brag on the program and tell us how great of a program it really was. To buy the additional 17,500 points, the cost would be $48,825.00 and if we signed up, we would be upgraded to Platinum for the first two years. The maintenance fees, they said, would be $3,232.00 annually. After her boss left, Ms. Palermo stressed that we should not miss out on this great offer because we would not incur any additional costs related to our vacations, they would handle all of our travel arrangements for us, and the entire process would be completely hassle-free. Mr. Boadella returned after a short period of time and told us he had good news for us, he'd been able to reduce our maintenance fees to $2,948.00 annually. What he failed to disclose was that $2,948.00 was the cost for only the additional points, and our total annual fee would be approximately twice that amount.

We'd been there for more than four hours. We were missing out on our planned day at Animal Kingdom and we were overwhelmed by the volume of information presented. We told Ms. Palermo we'd take the information with us, think it over, and let them know our decision after a good night's sleep. She insisted that was not possible because the offer was good for only that day, and the following day, it would be something different. She stressed the importance of deciding that day and commented that if one day we were unable to travel, we could transfer the contract to our children or anyone else of our choosing. She even stated we could CANCEL the contract at any time, without penalty. This caught our attention. We asked Ms. Palermo if we were to cancel, would our money be returned? She asked Mr. Boadella to respond and he stated the full amount would not be returned, but we would receive a portion of our paid total back as a refund. The actual amount would depend on how long we'd owned and used the timeshare.

Mr. Boadella then commented that in addition to being granted Platinum status for two years, we would receive a free cruise or an allotment of 17,500 additional points to be used in 2017. Everything looked and sounded great, and it seemed as if this new addition of points would clear up a lot of the issues we'd had in the past. However, because the deal would supposedly not be the same the following day, we were pressured to decide immediately. We signed the contract and paid the down payment of $9765.00 with our credit card. Ms. Palermo told us, since we were now Gold members (Platinum for two years), she would give us a tablet that would allow us to see all the booking options around the world, and would give us access to book hotel rooms while traveling, from the comfort of our car. She said the tablet did not require internet, which we felt was a very strange scenario.

After Orlando, we were headed to Argentina. Ms. Salerno promised to call us on February 8th, after our return, to walk us through using the tablet and to answer any questions that we might have at that point. She never called. We tried to book a condo at the Four Seasons in Scottsdale, Arizona. This is one of the destinations we specifically mentioned to Ms. Salerno and she claimed booking there would be no problem. She reminded us that we were entitled to go anywhere at any time wanted to go. We were disappointed to find we could not book one of the condos and had access only to the hotel rooms at the resort, which we did not want. We tried to reach Ms. Salerno, since she'd said we could call her at any time and she would always be available to us. We texted her and left numerous messages. Finally, eight days later, we were able to speak to her. She said she was currently in her car and rushed us off the call in only about five minutes. We did have time to explain the issues with the Four Seasons. She asked exactly what we wanted as a resolution and after we provided an explanation, she said she would take care of it and we would speak at 10:30 the next day, after she finished with her first client. She did not call.

We called her, but she did not answer. She did eventually text to say she was busy with clients. We texted her back to ask about the arrangements for Arizona and she answered there was no availability. We sent another text to ask how that was when September was the slow and low demand season in Arizona, but she did not respond. She ceased all texts and did not answer when we tried to contact her by phone. We definitely exited the situation with the understanding that Ms. Salerno was not honest in her portrayal of the program, and that she'd deliberately avoided our attempts to speak to her after we began to realize there were continuing and substantial issues, even after we purchased the additional points.

We phoned your hospitality group to complain about the service and were assured the complaint would be transferred to the appropriate person. We called Diamond Resorts again to inquire about using our points to purchase airfare. We were informed the equivalency was 10 cents per point. Two tickets to Europe valued at $3,000.00 points had a point value of 30,000 points, leaving us with only 2,500 points to pay for accommodations at a resort in Europe. We asked about applying points to the maintenance fees and were advised that equivalency was 4 cents per point, or $1,300.00 for the full amount of our 32,500 points. We looked at booking a home in Europe, but found the only ones available were quite large, eight bedrooms or more, and had a value of 10,000 points PER DAY.

We concluded that we were sold a bunch of lies and opted to terminate the contract we purchased on 17 Dec and the timeshare that had been carried over from Sunterra. We called the Platinum desk and informed the woman who answered that we wanted to terminate our contracts. She commented that on our account was a note regarding our complaints against Ms. Palermo and Mr. Boadella. We pointed out that we'd heard from no one regarding our complaint, and so we wanted to cancel. She said the information would be transferred to the appropriate department and someone would call us at the beginning of the next week. The call was on Friday.

We did not hear from anyone, and so the following Friday, we called again. The call was not answered by the same person, it was never answered by the same person. This second person said she could see on the computer that our termination request had been transferred. After we informed her we were expecting a call at the beginning of the week that did not arrive, this woman said it would take much longer than a couple of days, and we should expect a call in approximately 10-20 days. In frustration, we commented that if they were like Ms. Palermo and Mr. Boadella, who never return their calls, we could expect to never hear from them, and we ended the call. True to point, no one has called us, despite it being more than six weeks since we made our last call.

We were misled about the benefits of the timeshare program, and talked into purchasing points that are no more usable than the points we'd purchased through Sunterra. The originally timeshare was a great disappointment, but this second timeshare has been an abject violation of our trust. We paid the full price in good faith, only to find Ms. Salerno and Mr. Boadella were dishonest in their representations of the new contract.

Moreover, because of the violations regarding the 2016 contract, we are also not interested in continuing with the earlier Sunterra contract. We are, as we've stated numerous times in the past, seeking a full termination of both contracts and a 100% refund of the purchase price for the 2016 contract. We maintain that had Ms. Palermo and Mr. Boadella been honest with us, we would not have signed the second contract and would have only the Sunterra contract to deal with at this point. Please confirm that both have been cancelled and advise on when and how the money will be refunded. Also forward any paperwork we need to sign as soon as possible so we may close out this matter without delay and move on.

Thank you,

Aug. 10 - bank wired $2500.00 to honor luxury taxes. They requested another $4,000.00 because they had made an error on the check.

Aug 11 - they received $2500.00 which honored the luxury taxes + said our check was scheduled to be delivered by FedEx from 10 to 5 & only me or my husband could sign for it + show proper ID.

Aug. 15 - they received from us $2500.00 for error on check + John Smith was contributing $1500.00 to help us get to the $4000.00 luxury tax. He played on my sympathy + using Thank the Lord through the whole conversation.

Aug. 17 - got a call from Ted DAVIS 407-255-1476 requesting $3,000.00 on error in check. SAID John Smith was taken off of this He was now handling us. Then said when he found out we didn't have any more money - said he would take $950.00 instead of $3000.00. My husband has had a STROKE + WE HAVE NO MONEY

Good Morning Brandon,
Hope you had a great weekend.

I would appreciate some clarification on what John Smith is telling us about a check. That it was written for too much money and he is actually asking us for more money. Unbelievable!

I have run myself to death to meet yours and Johns dead line and I believed in him and you guys – now he is saying that they stopped Fed. Ex from delivering the check and want us to pay $4000.00 difference. Are you kidding me?

What's going on?

The last I heard from you that the check was to be delivered to us between the hours of 8:00 am and 5pm today.

I expect to hear from you as I have been hearing from you during this transaction – within the day!

Good Morning,

Mrs. Harvey we apologize for any delays, however at this moment your legal closing documents and check are in the hands of Fed Ex. The issue with the error on the check is that it may take up to 72 hours to issue a new check with the correct amount. Unfortunately the buyers are leaving Wednesday, therefore we do not have enough time to void your check and issue a new one. Our apologies once again for any inconveniences but as soon as this issue is resolved Fed Ex will be delivering your package immediately. Please be advised that we are not charging you any additional fees, but the $4,000 is required because the check was issued with an additional 2 weeks rental for a total amount of $31,000. Timeshare Closing Services will be assisting you with a 35% refund on all payments made to Diamond Resorts International. Please contact us and let us know if you want to move forward or go into the cancellation process. With the cancellation process the company will charge you for all the legal documents prepared to this point and give you a refund in 14 business days. Please contact sales manager Mr. John Smith at (702)-472-7074 and let him know.

Thank You,

Request formal assistance with business:

Contract: 17085571 bought in Fla.

Diamond Resorts International

We are reaching out to your agency, because this company is allowing their agents to use deceitful tactics when selling their real estate timeshare program. They apparently feel no culpability is warranted in regards to what their sales agents practice.

The sales force very well knows that such falsehoods won't unravel within the time to cancel, and therefore their commission is always safe to not be cancelled. There is no way possible for us to have discovered such things until much later into the ownership.

If these fabrications were not told, we would not have purchased this, and that is why the agent told them! The motive for these sales associates was to simply achieve personal profit gain, via any means necessary to acquire our signatures for this contract.

Upon reviewing UNLAWFUL ACTS under the FALSE OR MISLEADING ADVERTISING as UNFAIR METHODS OF COMPETITION; DECEPTIVE OR UNFAIR ACTS, we have found that the representing agents of this resort have in fact violated these specific and strict rules and regulations.

Unfair methods of competition; deceptive or unfair acts.

It is unlawful to engage in unfair methods of competition or deceptive or unfair acts in the offer to sell or sale of a time share including, without limitation:

1. Misrepresenting or failing to disclose any material fact concerning a time share.

No longer will we allow anyone from this company to take advantage of us any longer. We hope you can see something of concern in our attached letter. Also, per the guidelines of each of the 50 Real Estate Commission's in United States, "legal contracts can be canceled or rescinded upon if fraud, failure to comply with legal procedures, or misrepresentation occurred".

There were unlawful misrepresentations in our presentation. Upon studying my consumer rights, we find that legally, this does in fact constitute a cancellation of this misrepresented contract, and plausible reason for your agency to look into this. Please see our letter that explains the background of this complaint, and contact us with further instructions.

COPY OF THE LETTER WE SENT TO DIAMOND

Contract: 17085571

Diamond Resorts International

10600 West Charleston Blvd

Las Vegas, NV 89135

We have requested to cancel in the past but our request was denied without compassion or full understanding of our situation. We understand that we were just short of the rescission period, but it must be understood that we were never told about this rescission period! In fact, we were told our membership was not active to be used until much later. How can we be expected to know we want to cancel if we cannot even experience the program?

From our short time owning, we have never once used the timeshare because there is no availability. In addition, we cannot afford this timeshare; our income has decreased more than 50% since May 2014. Yet our finances have revolved around this horrendous program. We ask you to reconsider your decision to deny us and want you to understand; we cannot afford to stop requesting our release from this contract. Please make this easier on us and on you, and TERMINATE our membership! We also ask that we receive a REFUND of the money paid under a deceitful sale and lies. We have not used the program and that money needs to go towards our family and rebuilding what was lost during these years. We have written this letter to explain why we must cancel. We urge you to FULLY READ and reconsider our request. You have taken up a great deal of our time, it is only fair that we have a portion of yours.

During the weekend of Friday, September 26, 2014 we had made a reservation at Liki Tiki Village in Winter Garden, FL for a short family getaway. Upon arriving we were told we could receive $100 by attending a 90 minute presentation. We signed up to attend the presentation at the end of our weekend stay. We had time for 90 minutes but no more because it was the end of our stay and my husband needed to attend to business matters. On the morning of Sunday, September 28, 2014 my husband and I, along with our three children, went to the presentation. Our sales representative was Paul Darnell. Paul was very adamant to sell us a timeshare contract with Diamond Resorts. He showed us how to make reservations on their website, bragging on the great availability and low point cost of the stay. At the time, I was working as a teacher and informed Paul of this. He claimed that we would have no problem making reservations around my schedule.

However, when we returned home, I tried to make reservations through their website for dates around Thanksgiving break. After selecting numerous locations with no availability, I became worried. I started to try other dates for school breaks, also in several different locations but there was nothing! I began looking into the next year, nothing, and the following year, nothing. I couldn't find anything available at reasonable locations for our family. There was availability in other countries but the cost in points was beyond my contract. This was totally contradictory to what Paul had showed and told us! He specifically stated the best way for us to get the most use out of our points was to make last minute reservations, but we came to learn too late, the only real way to make a reservation was to book a minimum of 3 years out. In hindsight, I can see that all Paul showed us on the computer were resorts in Florida during the off seasons. However, he was well aware that I was a teacher with three school aged children so we obviously could only vacation when school was out. He also was fully aware that we live in central Florida and we certainly were not interested in vacationing in our own state. In fact, the first place I told him I would like to go was New York but he failed to mention they do NOT have any locations there.

During the presentation, Paul continued to lie his way into convincing us to buy the timeshare. I asked if I could think it over but was told the offer would no longer be available to us. I was even told a story of another gentlemen who decided the next morning after attending a presentation that he wanted to sign up but the same offer was no longer there. I also recall trying to use my cell phone to research Diamond Resorts to see if I could find any reviews. However, there was no reception in the building. At the time I didn't see this as part of Diamond's tactics but now I most definitely think it was intended. Paul told me I could rent the timeshare to make money and pay for maintenance fees, but this bares untrue when there is no availability to actually rent the timeshare. I was also told Diamond Resorts had an exchange program so timeshares could be exchanged and we could travel anywhere, unfortunately this program seemed impossible with no availability.

At this point in the presentation, we had been pitched for well past 90 minutes. My kids were growing restless and my husband would have to leave for moments at a time to get the kids situated as well as leave to take business calls. We should have been home by this point and there was no reception in the building, so he was forced to take his business matters over the phone, outside of the building. This is where the confusion escalated; loads of information was being thrown at me as my husband had to leave on and off, the children grew antsy, and I was greatly bombarded by many salespersons. I remember specifically saying I was not interested in buying at this time because we were currently trying to prepare for our first home purchase. That was when another woman was brought over to me. She lied and falsely assured me that the loan companies would see I had purchased real estate, which would make our credit look more favorable and responsible. The lie was uncovered only after we returned; all the timeshare did was increase my debt to income ratio and add a new line of credit which is what the banks saw.

Another man came to talk to me about loans and down payments. He claimed that we could get the loan refinanced through our own bank at a lower interest rate and pay even less this way. This was a lie as well! Every time I said I was not interested, more salespeople were brought to speak to me, feeding more lies and false promises. I was still hesitant when they brought the lady back over, she offered to give me an extra 4,000 point vacation for signing up. She pushed how this offer was so good that we couldn't turn it down; we were getting 4,000 points for free. Even though we received this when we purchased, we have never been able to use it because the points were only valid for one year and there was NEVER any availability.

By this time at the resort, I was mentally worn out from all the information thrown at me, the various people coming to the table, worrying over my children, my husband going in and out and the 6 grueling hours I had been sitting there. It felt as if I was a hostage being tortured until I gave in. I felt I had to agree to be free of the bullying. When I agreed to buy, I was then asked complete a referral form. Each referral supposedly gave me $100 off our maintenance fee. So I completed all of them. But nothing was ever taken off my maintenance fee. Instead my coworkers were called repeatedly, hassled and told that I was the one that referred them and gave Diamond Resorts their phone number! Thanks Diamond.

When it was time to sign the paperwork, the kids were still restless. Paul suggested they go to the pool and offered to supply towels and such. We went by the poolside to sign paperwork but this was another deceptive tactic by Diamond Resorts. The paperwork needed my undivided attention but instead my mind was focused on my kids' safety at the pool with so many others in the water. And my husband was signing paperwork for something he missed half of because he was in and out for work and because we should have been home hours ago! We were lied to by the many salespeople, deceived and distracted by Diamond Resort's sales tactics. During this time, we were NEVER told anything about a 10 day rescission period. In fact, I had called Paul a week or so after signing the contract to find out why I could not find any available reservations. He told me I should not even have access to their website and did not believe I had really looked at their list. It was a few days after this that we tried to cancel, seeing that there was nothing available for us. We were denied because of the cancellation window. But how is it my cancellation period is 10 days, but the resort does not allow us time to see what the resort offers (more like what it does not offer) in that time?! Begrudgingly, we tried to make the timeshare work but we were never able to make any reservations.

Later that year, my husband suffered a back injury that made it difficult to go to work regularly. He experienced healing at church in January of 2015 but in the spring, he began suffering with pain again to the point where he could not walk or work. He went on a medical leave of absence and eventually had surgery in June, followed by recovery time. Our income dropped and he did not work until August. He was no longer getting a full time wage or overtime. We went without pay for a while before the short term disability began, which was still only a third of his income for three months. We had to take care of medical bills during this time as well. When he returned to work, he was on orders of light duty until he was laid off in March of 2016. I was the only source of income during that time. I became pregnant and had to let my job go in November of 2016 due to the high stress and my ill state due to pregnancy.

We took a great loss in our income and we are blessed by my husbands new job as of December 2016. However we have to prepare for the additional expenses of having a new member of the family. For a better picture of how financially unable we are, in 2014, when we were pressured into our contract, we earned about $80,000. That income plummeted to $60,000 in 2015 and in 2016 we earned around $43,000. Now, with my husband being the only one working, we will only earn an estimate of $35,000 this year. This is 50% less than what we earned in 2014. During these hard times, we have barely been able to pay for our timeshare. We have had to use our savings for the home we wanted to buy, income tax refunds, borrowed money from parents, borrowed money from kids, birthday and Christmas gift money and credit. We delayed paying bills and have moved two times, each time into a smaller, cheaper residence.

This is why we desperately need to cancel our contract. Our income has drastically declined since our purchase and we cannot afford to pay any dues. Our family finances have suffered greatly since 2014 and we did not need the additional hardship of a timeshare. Diamond Resorts has greedily pestered and pressured us into buying the timeshare but offers nothing for us. My family and I were unable to leave until 6 hours later; well past 90 minutes! I felt trapped and tortured during the presentation since every time I declined, someone new was sent to talk to me or another offer was presented to me. We were never told about the cancelation period and we were lied to about most, if not all, the qualities of Diamond's program. Again, I will remind you that we cannot afford to stay in this program any longer and we ask that our timeshare be TERMINATED and a REFUND be given to us!

Dear Sir:

On April 1, 2016, while my wife and I were vacationing in Florida, we attended a meeting at the Spanish Cove, a Diamond Resorts International timeshare we belong to in Florida. The meeting was to provide new information to members as to any new developments. At this meeting we were provided information advising us to upgrade to platinum which is the highest level of ownership at Diamond Resorts. We were told that if we double upgraded there were many financial advantages that would help us avoid some of the impending cost increases that were coming. We were told that their attorney would conference call us and provide us with information to manage our timeshare to be able to rent some of our assets to generate income to offset future expenses. We were also given a bonus trip to Hawaii. In order to upgrade, we would have pay a down-payment of $13,000 and a payment a month for so many years. We decided with the aid of renting our assets, that we could manage the cost.

After we arrived back home, we waited for Diamond to call and set up our conference call but we never received it. So, we called them. We asked when we could receive our training regarding managing our assets. They told us that the home office had not completed our transaction yet and as soon as that happened they would call.

In the meantime we receive calls from Diamond trying to set up our Hawaii trip, but because of my wife's chemo treatments we were not sure when we could get away so we told them that we would let them know. They continued to call every week of two telling us that we only had so long to book our reservations or it would expire. My wife talked to her chemo doctor and received clearance to go in January, 2017. So, we called to book our trip. We were then told we had to pay our 2016 maintenance fees of $7200 so we would be up-to-date, of which we did and had no outstanding fees. There was a $99 nonrefundable fee which we paid and all hotel reservations, flights to Hawaii and all inter-island flights were scheduled and our itinerary was set. We had confirmation, WE WERE ALL SET TO FLY OUT January 29, 2017 for 11 days.

Three or four weeks after we were all set to leave we received a bill for $12,000 plus, for next years' (2017) maintenance fees.

Three days before we were to leave we received a call stating that we had an outstanding balance and we would not be able to take the trip. It would have to be cancelled. Needless to say, all was cancelled. We called Diamond Financial Services and tried to resolve the conflict but to no avail.

We then decided to take a short vacation to Florida in hopes of talking to the people that we had originally talked to. We called Diamond to schedule time at the Spanish Cove and was told that until we paid the 2017 maintenance fees we would be denied any us of our timeshare. We have over 85,000 points, we have already paid for, so we are entitled to services.

Since then we have stopped any further payments to Diamond Resorts. As a result, we have been telephone harassed multiple times per day, both on my phone and also on my wife's phone from various numbers and states. They apparently have turned the matter over to a collection company who continues to do more of the same kind of telephone harassment.

This kind of juvenile and unprofessional behavior has brought me to this consumer complaint.

I seek to terminate my relationship with Diamond Resorts International and I am requesting a refund of all the money I placed down on the platinum deal as well as reimbursement of money spent on the Hawaii trip which has not been reimbursed, all lost services I paid for and did not receive. I am requesting to know the perceived value of our timeshare that we have been paying since 1999.

I further seek an immediate stop to all telephone harassment from Diamond and/or their associates regarding this matter.

Regards

Larry Templeton

To Whom It May Concern:

I have been disputing my membership and have requested all contracts with Diamond Resorts International be cancelled since July. I have sought a cancellation of my contracts as I was misled and deceived when purchasing the timeshare. I have included my initial letter of complaint requesting cancellation and a refund for my 2016 contract.

I was told false information in the sales presentations as I was only given some information concerning points, resale values, renting options, reservations and availability. The lies and high-pressured sales tactics used during these presentations affected the decision to purchase. I was told I must upgrade or purchase to have reservations, to continue using the timeshare and that if I didn't, I would be stuck paying for increasing costs from the timeshare Diamond purchased. This information given to me was false and was only given to generate sales.

I have stopped all payments on the contract and maintenance fees as I have made it very clear that I would like a resolution. I believe I am a victim of timeshare fraud and am being harassed by the sales and financial departments within this company by phone for payment. I have made my statements very clear.

Since I submitted these letters by mail to the corporate offices in Las Vegas, NV, I have received several denials from Russell, a representative from Diamond, by email which I have also included. I have not received any help or resolution to the issues I presented concerning the sales staff or the lies I was told. I am asking that your agency aid me in resolving these issues. I have requested that Diamond 1) cancel my membership/ownership, 2) void all contracts and debts old, 3) and refund my mortgage, maintenance and down payment fees. I feel this is borderline extortion considering they advertise travel anytime anywhere and I have not been able to do so. Please contact me with any further questions, as I can provide further details concerning the sales presentations, lies I was told, and the salesmen involved if needed.

Dear Sirs:

My family purchased a deeded week from Club Navigo in 2001. We had no real issues in using and had no real problems until Club Navigo was purchased or bought out by Diamond in 2015. Once purchased, Diamond informed me that if I did not purchase points, abandoning the previous contract with Club Navigo, that I along with all other Club Navigo owners would be stuck paying for increasing costs of any natural disasters, law suits, etc. This fear of being burdened with enormous fees if I did not become a Diamond owner perpetuated a purchase to upgrade to Diamond.

When I and my family returned to vacation in 2016 we attended a meeting and the salesman told us that basically we were stuck with the timeshare but that we could get our money back and of course he was going to show us how!

The entire pitch was based on making money with a point purchase of at least 2500 points. The program he was talking of was a check reimbursement program. How it worked was if we bought extra points (the 2500) we could offset the maintenance fees and taxes by NOT USING our vacation time. He also encouraged me to take open a line of credit with Barclay credit cards and promised 12 months of free interest which turned out to be completely false. $11,000.00 was placed on that card and I have since spoken to countless people at Diamond and Barclay and neither have done anything about the fees and interest I am being charged that I was told I would not have to pay for 12 months! This purchase did not change our status and it did not help us in any way to offset fees.

We feel very misled and feel as if we had not purchased the 2500 points, we could have still offset fees without this program. It seems that we were told false information and given information that would only cause our account to increase in points and fees without actual additional benefits. We are trusting people and we relied on this information given to us by Brian Porter and Brad Leslie in that they were "helping" us escape fees and making a return on the investment we were stuck in.

We ask that Diamond consider our case and the information we were told and honor our request to receive a complete termination of our contracts and return of our monies paid for the 2016 contract that was not necessary.

Dear Mrs Hartert,

I am writing in relation to your recent contact with Diamond Resorts International in which you request the termination and refund of your most recent contract purchase. Unfortunately, we are unable to acquiesce to this request on the grounds presented and I have presented the reasoning for this below.

Whilst it is stated that you were presented a way of getting out of a timeshare by upgrading I cannot see how this would have been a viable solution. By buying more points you are adding to rather than reducing your membership and each contract is expressly non-cancellable and Diamond Resorts do not have any kind of buyback or giveback program as illustrated below.

Whilst it is stated that you believed that you could offset your maintenance fees and taxes by not utilising your vacation time this is simply not possible and is expressly ruled out as part of your purchaser acknowledgement contained within your initial paperwork. Each contract is purchased based upon its value as a means of accessing vacations and not for any commercial gain.

I would also highlight that it is clearly expressed that each contract is subject to maintenance fees which are billed on a price per point basis, therefore additional points would always necessitate additional fees. I would finally advise that the interest free period on the Barclaycard utilised to purchase this contract is 6 months and not 12 months as stated in your communication. As such we would be unable to remove or alter any interest applied to this balance.

In light of the above and as previously advised we are unable to assist with the cancellation of this account. I hope that this helps to clarify this matter.

Kind regards
Russell Elliot

Mr. Elliott, You have our initials and signatures, however, you do not have anything in writing that we were not told the false statements we relied upon when signing the paperwork. In fact, you have only pointed out a very minuscule few things we contested. You have no proof that the salesman and or staff told us direct lies and rushed us through signing without a chance to review and or contest what was happening. We know what we were told, we know what was said, and we do not accept two initials as proof we had the understanding of what we were signing for. You will have to produce more than a few initials to prove your case is valid and ours is not. We await your validation.

Sincerely,
Mrs. Hartert

Dear Mrs Hartert,

Unfortunately, we are only able to refer to the paperwork, which is signed for more than 10 times and initialled in acknowledgement almost 100 times. I would argue that an assertion of ignorance over the details of this contract simply does not stand up to the extent and concision of the paperwork presented and signed. In light of this, we are unable to effect any kind of change or cancellation on your account.

Kind regards
Russell Elliot

Mr Elliott,

Unfortunately we aren't accepting your response as final. We will contact your superiors and those above your superiors if needed. You say you can only go back to the paperwork. This is terrible customer relations and we are not the only ones with this kind of complaint, and I am sure we will not be the last. We will progress our case and requests to the top, but we will get a resolution.

Dear Mrs Hartert,

Whilst I understand that you are frustrated and not accepting my response, on the evidence presented we are unable to conclude this matter in a differing manner. As previously advised the contract is clear in its stipulations and is clearly acknowledged and signed by yourself. Unfortunately without any substantiating evidence of your claim there is no path of escalation for this complaint. I hope that this helps to resolve this matter.

Kind regards
Russell Elliot

Dear Office of the Attorney General:

This letter is to complain about Diamond Resorts International doing business in Florida as a Timeshare company. We contacted them on numerous occasions for over a year now and they refuse to be honest in dealing with our complaint. After purchasing a timeshare from them we found that they totally misrepresented what they were selling and its benefits. They resort back to the document we signed regarding knowledge of what "they claimed we were purchasing". They fail to recognize the fact that the document was signed after hours of their sales pitch and the false statements made by their representatives. We feel it is the same as false confessions signed under duress just to get away from the constant ongoing sales presentation. We are quite frustrated and we know that since the Timeshare industry is such a formidable force here in Florida and tourism reliant states, we feel we can get no help. We must make a statement about the severe pressure tactics used by Diamond Resorts representatives to get you to sign a document that they later use as a legal means to deny any redress. They give a cancellation period on the sale but then when you try to access the online site to use the benefits they so adamantly told us, about without results. The ploy is you need to upgrade to a higher level of benefits. Ultimately, we found that the recession period has passed and we had no way out of the contract; which is exactly, what happened to us.

I hope by contacting your office at the very least someone will relate to our story and maybe help us get some of our hard-earned retirements funds back.

I have enclosed copies several of the many letters to Diamond Resorts to show how long I have been in dispute with them and how soon after the sales were made.

Sincerely,

David & Olive Brindle

- Vacation Consultant. Personal Vacation Planner. Vacation Counselor. Business Associate. Business Supervisor. Business Consultant. Dream Vacation Associate.

These are all the titles substituted by sales agents within your employ.

- Upgrade. Exchange. Superior Quality. Exclusive. Supreme. Prime. Silver. Platinum. Dream Vacation.

These words were used to tempt my wife and me when we were cajoled into making purchases we couldn't afford.

- Bonus Points. Dream Points. Holiday Points. Reimburse.

These words were used to placate us each time we complained about the lack of real benefit to your program.

- Change of policy. Funding allocation. Points allocation timeline. Protocols.

Words used to absolve your company of its obligations to our contract.

- Fraud. Farce. Bogus. Worthless. Swindlers. Con Artists.

We now use these words when we describe your "product" to anyone who will listen.

It is important that you know that Ollie and I are patient, caring people. We believe in the capacity of the human individual for good, and honest, behavior. In hindsight, we perhaps gave your employees a little more "benefit of the doubt" than was merited. Our dreams of being able to travel in luxury, at an affordable price, skewed our judgment of the moral ambiguity surrounding us and now we have paid the price.

We no longer wish to continue business with your company, or its affiliates. We want our contract cancelled, and our money refunded within 30 days from the date of this letter. We are not interested in negotiations of any kind. From this moment forward, we require all communication be by e-mail or postal mail. Below is our account of the events that unfolded in our business transactions with Diamond International that led to this nightmare. We were pressured with a persistent, aggressive ambush and felt we genuinely had no choice but to sign the dotted line.

On April 21, 2015, we attended a presentation at Mystic Dunes Resort in Celebration, FL. The presentation was at 11:30 a.m. and was due to last no more than 90 minutes. We made plans with friends for that evening, as we assumed we'd be done by then. Our sales agent, David Loor, introduced himself as a Vacation Counselor. He began to describe the many advantages of "advanced vacation ownership" such as being able to travel anywhere, anytime using the online booking system. He asked about our travel goals, and I shared my desire to travel to Australia. Another employee chimed in that he'd only had to use 3,500 points for air tickets and hotels. This had our attention.

We told Mr. Loor that we weren't sure we could afford a Vacation Plan, as we already had two timeshares in New Hampshire. We are both retired, and our budget was established and at a limit with which we felt comfortable. Mr. Loor outlined the benefits of vacation packages over timeshares. He mused that we could probably trade both timeshares in for an "upgrade" and we gave him permission to pursue the option. Mr. Loor confirmed that his supervisor, Mr. Carlos Rodriguez, had given clearance for an exchange. We would later learn that only one of the timeshares could be exchanged for an upgrade. The other contract had to remain in our names and points "banked" through the RCI exchange program.

Three hours later, we signed a contract relinquishing ownership of our two timeshares in New Hampshire for 4,500 points to use towards travel and accommodations through Diamond Resorts International. Though it was late and our plans with friends had been canceled, Mr. Rodriguez told us we could come back at another date to cover our benefits and learn how to navigate the online booking system in the New Owners Orientation.

A month later, we came back to the resort for our New Owners Orientation as instructed. Mr. Rodriguez once again met with us, and we voiced our dissatisfaction not being able to book a single trip to our preferences. He informed us that we had not purchased enough points for the level of travel that we'd wanted. Frustrated, but determined, we agreed to an upgrade of an additional 4,500 points with promises from Mr. Rodriguez that the new allotment would surely be more than sufficient to secure proper travel arrangements. As a consolation for the misunderstanding, Mr. Rodriguez provided us with Dream Holiday bonus points to put towards one of three options in a 3-dream-holiday package promotion.

On December 12, 2015, we visited The Polynesian Isle Resort for a brief weekend break. With the holidays arriving, we wanted to get away to just breathe for a weekend. Once there, the receptionist scheduled us for a mandatory Owners Update meeting. With apprehension, we agreed to meet with a Mr. John Smith shortly before returning home. We left our friends in the room to attend the meeting, with the understanding that we would leave soon. When we met with Mr. Smith, we shared our absolute acrimony with our contract. We had tried numerous times to make reservations, only to find that our preferences were booked solid for the timelines we required (as well as any other timelines that we'd suggested to the booking agent, for that matter) or were told by the booking agents that we still did not have enough points.

We also shared our grief at having to pay out of pocket, despite having points, for a car rental and resort fees because I followed the suggestions of the booking agent for reimbursement that wound up being "not to protocol." Mr. Smith took several notes, and left to report the incident to his manager. Ultimately he said that because I had not followed the instructions outlined in our online manual, his hands were tied. It did not matter that we were misled. The responsibility was ours, and the consequence was additional charges for an already expensive trip.

Mr. Smith sympathized with us and offered additional bonus points for a trip to Hawaii. However, it would require attendance to yet another presentation while there. He also suggested that if we upgraded from Silver to Platinum Membership, we would overcome the hurdles with travel that we'd experienced. Yet again, we found ourselves feeling trapped by a worthless contract and trying to dig our way out with more upgrades.

We called to book our "Dream Vacation" in Hawaii for February of 2016. The bonus points Mr. Smith gave would cover 4 days accommodations. We used our own points to extend the stay to 10-days. For once, everything seemed to go to plan. We arrived and were scheduled for our mandatory meeting with a woman named Debra Pestak. At first, we were seated in an open area where other vacationers were milling about. Then Ms. Pestak moved us to her office for "more privacy."

Wary from all the previous "meetings," we informed Ms. Pestak immediately that we would not be making any purchases that day. She claimed that she understood, but then promptly launched into a sales pitch for the value of Hawaiian resorts over Florida resorts. She used the same tactics as the previous sales representatives: Identifying herself as anything but a sales agent, claiming that she merely wanted to discuss our benefits package and clarify any misunderstandings or misgivings we may have about our purchases to date, exulting the Hawaii resort's values over all of her predecessors', and whittling down the package price until she found an amount that we would agree to.

At 6 p.m., we were still in negotiations. Ms. Pestak was due to be off work, and handed us off to a man by the name of Greg Kostanoski. When she left, Ms. Pestak had arranged for our upgrade to be for approximately $26,000 with annual maintenance fees of $4,700. However, the paperwork that Mr. Kostanoski brought listed a much larger sum of $56,000. We were astounded! Right away, we informed Mr. Kostanoski that the paperwork was incorrect and told him of the agreed-upon amounts Ms. Pestak had provided. He responded that the exchanges and upgrades would all be deducted from that total in closing.

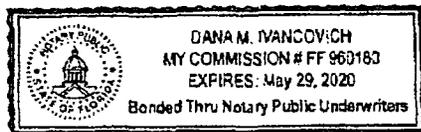

Exhausted and confused, we signed our paperwork and returned to our room. Upon our return home, we signed in to view our contract and see what the final balance was. To our horror, the contract was for $93,775 with an exchange balance of $56,000. The maintenance fees would climb to over $8,000. There is absolutely no way we can afford that amount, as we have stated multiple times over the last year. Every time, it fell on deaf ears.

We can bear this no more. We are retired, and on a fixed income. To assume that a couple in their 70s could afford, or make worthy use, of such an outrageously-priced package is unintelligible. We are left to believe that their intent was nothing more than to receive a commission regardless of how it would affect us. To this day, we cannot understand how we landed in this situation. Had we known that we were being led into a vast well of debt for little-to-no return, we never would have agreed to the first purchase, much less subsequent purchases. This arrangement will not work, and we will not move forward with your company. We demand our contract be cancelled, and all of our money be returned at once. We have been gravely mistreated, and will not stand for it any longer.

Signed,

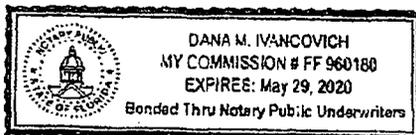

David Brindle

Dear Ms. Gross,

Thank you for taking the time to reach out and respond to our letter. We do appreciate you outlining the terms already outlined in our contract, which we were not given ample enough time to review. While we agree that the terms are listed within, we were not able to review the contract until we returned home and signed into our Diamond Account. We were absolutely astounded!

We are in our 70's and we were already timeshare owners. Your representatives had no business deceiving us into a contract that would put us in financial ruins. We have already initiated credit card disputes and we are currently waiting on a response.

Ms. Gross, with all due respect, you were not there during this presentation and you cannot speak on what occurred. We also suggest that you do not try and justify the lies that were told to us as your representatives are responsible and they should be reprimanded for the lies and deceit they subjected us to. Again, we do expect for Diamond Resorts to cancel our contract and refund all monies paid to date.

Signed,

David and Olive Brindle

Subject: Diamond Resorts International
10600 West Charleston Blvd.
Las Vegas, NV 89135

To whom this may concern,

We would like to thank you in advance for taking time out of your busy schedule to read this letter. We wish that we didn't have to waste our time, or yours, making this formal complaint, but we are eager to find resolution and put this mess behind us. With that said, you are receiving this letter about Diamond Resorts International, the company in which we own a timeshare with. We are completely dissatisfied with our timeshare ownership, as it has turned out to be nothing like the way in which the sales reps said that it would be. We have had our fair share of problems with this timeshare that have led us to the point where we want nothing more than to be released from our contract.

One of our complaints has to do with the interest rate on our loan. When we agreed to this purchase, we were apprehensive because of the high interest rate. Their sales reps said that it would be no problem to refinance the 14.9% interest rate that we originally had because our credit was so good. Oddly enough, as soon as we purchased this timeshare though, our credit scores dropped, and we could not refinance our loan or home mortgage to cover paying off our loan. We made it clear that our good credit was important to us and then we were led into this mess.

Something even more important to us, and much more near and dear to us, would be our daughter-in-law. We almost lost her because of the lack of care from Diamond's staff. We were on the deck at Mystic Dunes Resorts on July 1, 2012, and our daughter-in-law went unconscious after being bitten by several fire ants. We asked the concession stand cashier who was on duty to call 9-1-1, and she refused because she said that we had to go through Diamond's security department. We argued and said that we needed to call 9-1-1, but again, we were told that we had to wait. Lucky enough, there was another owner who was a nurse and came to assist us. She informed us that our daughter-in-law was not going to make it if we waited any longer. The lady went to her bag, got an Epi Pen and injected our daughter-in-law to help her gain consciousness. We are so thankful that woman was there to help, unlike Diamond's staff.

After that visit, we were told that we would be reimbursed for our daughter-in-law's medical expenses. As you can guess, we still haven't received any compensation! We even wrote to the CEO there, Stephen Cloobek and he said the same thing, that we would get reimbursed, but we still haven't received anything. That "experience" put us over the edge with Diamond, and we want nothing to do with their company now. Our daughter-in-law's life was on the line, and they couldn't even make one simple phone call to help us out. That paired with all of the false information we were given at the time of purchase, has left us wanting nothing to do with their company.

It has been seven months since we informed Diamond that we want to be released from this contract yet they have done nothing about it. Contacting you is our next step in an effort to get released from this contract, but more importantly, released from Diamond, a company who doesn't care about their customers, at all. Please help us get released from this contract and their company.

Respectfully,

Anthony F. Reindl and Mary M. Reindl

Affidavit Of Aaron Cheeks

STATE OF NORTH CAROLINA

(COUNTY OF _____)

I, Aaron Cheeks being first duly sworn, do hereby state under oath and under penalty of perjury, that the following facts are true:

I am over 18 years old and a resident of the County of _____, State of North Carolina.

I have personal knowledge of the facts stated herein, and if called upon as a witness, I could testify competently thereto.

1. Last June, myself and my then fiancé and her family took a trip to Orlando on a 4 day 3-night promo offer that I received from Diamond. As a part of the promo I had to attend an owner update presentation. When I sat down to meet with the representative from Diamond he immediately had a puzzled look on his face. He indicated to me that I was not actually a member of Diamond Resorts but just an owner at Mystic Dunes. He advised that they had bought out Tempus Resorts, the previous owner of Mystic Dunes a few years back and that I should have been contacted to see if I wanted to sign up with Diamond during the buyout. I informed him that I had received no such notification.

2. He continued to look puzzled and then left to go speak with his manager. He came back about 10 or 15 minutes later and apologized and then proceeded to explain to me how I could become a member of Diamond and that his manager agreed to allow me to buy in at the same prices they were offering at the time of the initial buyout a few years earlier. He explained that if I kept things as they were that I would only be a member at Mystic Dunes and that all the exchange opportunities, points accrual and member benefits that Diamond offers would not be available to me. In addition, I would be subject to much greater annual maintenance fees staying with Mystic since there were less people that remained with Mystic versus the thousands of worldwide members Diamond had, that would allow them to disperse the maintenance fee.

3. We went back and forth for a couple of hours until we finally arrived at a price that I felt comfortable with. I asked at the time of the purchase would this fulfill my financial obligation to them minus my monthly payments and yearly maintenance fees. He said yes. I left and enjoyed the rest of my stay.

4. At the end of July of last year, I took my then fiancé to Las Vegas for her birthday. I went to an owner update meeting there as well. I was again told by the representative that something wasn't right with my account and that I needed to purchase more points to get to silver level, something that the gentlemen in Orlando had said I had already paid for. The Vegas representative then proceeded to explain something to me about promotional points that weren't permanent points and that didn't get me to silver level. He gave me a price as to what it would take to fix the misunderstanding. We went back and forth and 2 hours later and after about $100 a month was added onto my monthly bill, I gave in and paid ANOTHER down payment to gain access to the silver level I was previously told that I already achieved. They talked me into opening a Diamond credit card to help pay for the down payment. Very frustrated and annoyed at the point, I again asked them if I fulfilled my financial obligation to them minus my monthly payment and maintenance fees at the silver level. They emphatically said yes.

5. In October of last year, I was driving home from work and received a phone call from a Washington State area code from a gentleman that represented himself as something like a Diamond concierge where he could personally show me the best ways to fully utilize my Diamond membership BUT first I needed to upgrade my membership to silver level to be able to take full advantage of the privileges. I was highly upset at the point. I had been misled/lied to twice now. Of course, this guy needed more money from me to upgrade me and he even indicated that the previous guy from Vegas had mislead me by trying to get me to think that promotional points he gave me were permanent. The guy in Vegas also told me that since my parents owned a timeshare that I could benefit points from them even though they weren't members of Diamond through a special offer they had. This turned out NOT to be true. After 30 minutes of going back and forth with this new Diamond representative I agreed to make ANOTHER down payment to upgrade and he also assisted me with getting the paperwork started to get the name of a young lady from a previous relationship off my account. I am now up to about $150 extra a month on my monthly payments from where I was back in June. This guy gave me the same assurance that the previous two had, that I was not definitely at silver level and that my account should be straight now.

6. Fast forward to March of this year. I decided to take a trip back to Vegas for my birthday. I figured with all the money that I had given Diamond over the past 9 months that I should try to reap some of the benefits of membership. Prior, to my arrival in Vegas a Diamond representative contacted me by phone to see if I would be interested in being a part of an offer to go see a NASCAR race. I had never been, it included a gift card and dinner so I agreed. Of course, the invitation also, included an owner update meeting. I was fine with that because I knew everything was finally good with my account, so it would just be a free meal and me telling them no a few times if they asked me to upgrade. WRONG.

7. The meeting with my representative started off well. He discussed with me the details of the changeover in ownership and the wonderful new benefits that Diamond owners will have access to because of it. Then he looks at my account and the puzzled look that I had seen two time previously comes to his face. Once again, there is something wrong with my account. Even though I had been told on three separate occasions and literally thousands of dollars ago to the contrary. My account was still at standard and probationary status. Not silver. The rep began the spiel of what I would need to do to upgrade up silver level and this one even tried to talk me into upgrading to a level above that.

8. I had no words to describe how upset and conned I felt. They led me to believe AGAIN that I had no choice but to upgrade again or I would not be able to get full use of my membership. Two hours later and several thousand dollars more I gave in and upgraded. My new monthly payment is now over $200 a month more than it was a year ago, they also gave me another hollow assurance that they had REALLY fixed the problem this time. He even said that if I wasn't happy that he would assist me in selling the timeshare to someone else. That wasn't true either. When I contacted him a few weeks later to discuss it the representative barely remembered who I was or at least he acted that way. He said it was against company policy to do that. That brings me to where I am today. Feeling lied to and misled and about $10k poorer for listening to false statements and promises.

Further affiant sayeth not.

TESTIMONY REFERENCE PURCHASE OF 4500 DIAMOND POINTS

I was offered a special owner package for my wife, my eight-year-old grandson and myself to attend a spring training baseball game with transportation to and from the game and lunch at the game and breakfast the next day in exchange for my attending an "Owner Update". I agreed and my wife and I attended on 14 March 2017 what we thought was going to be an update to be explained the changes to the Diamond Resort operation after being sold to a new owner. The update ended up being a sales presentation.

My wife and I repeatedly told the Diamond sales agent that we did not want or need any additional Diamond points and he proceeded to explain why the few number of points I had in the Diamond program would not enable me to fully utilize my vacation time. He stressed that Diamond only sells a minimum of 8500 points and I only owned 7000 (I was sold 3000 on 29 May 14 and 4000 on 3 Mar 16). Both amounts were less than the 8500-minimum noted by the agent. He could not explain why this was done at those dates, but that I needed additional points. He offered a new program to me which was called Club Combination which Diamond would give me 8500 Diamond points if I would provide them a 2-bedroom Bluegreen unit. To qualify for this I would need to purchase 4500 additional Diamond points. He also stressed that this would make me Silver Rated in Diamond and provide me with additional advantages.

After 5 hours of continuous discussions I was worn out and my wife was as well. My 8-year-old grandson was with us and wanted to go to the pool. I agreed and after another hour I was on my way the owner of 4500 additional points.

It was stressed to me that if I did not purchase at this offering the cost per point would go up significantly in the near future and if I wanted in on this deal it had to be made today and this price point. I was shown a lot of hand drawn charts with huge price spikes and huge savings to me if I purchased today. I was convinced and agreed and after 6 hours in the negotiations I departed.

I was told the points could be used for other than condo stays and thus if I acquired more points via purchase of Club Combination I would have much greater travel flexibility. They told me I should have already been apprised of this when I purchased previously, but because of the oversight they would "Make It Right" with their offer. When I mentioned the high cost, they said I could go home and get a better financing rate than they offered. They set me up with a new Diamond Credit Card with 6 months zero interest and I could put the cost on that card – which I did.

My wife and I realize we agreed to the purchase and signed all the papers, but now feel we were pressured to purchase these 4500 points or we would fail be able to fully utilize what Diamond Resorts had to offer.

I certify to the best of my knowledge, beliefs and under possible penalties of perjury, the answers as stated above are true, correct and an actual representation of facts.

NOTICE OF THE PURCHASERS' DEMAND FOR THE CANCELLATION OF THIS CONTRACT EFFECTIVE IMMEDIATELY!

INTRODUCTION

I would like to begin by introducing myself. My name is Bernard T. Long and I am a Certified Fraud and Forensic Examiner. I am recognized as an "Expert Witness" at the Court level(s) in matters of Fraud and/or Forensic Accounting and Trade Practices. I have been asked to review the above Contract(s) to determine a proper valuation of a questionable asset and the circumstances associated with the purchase of said asset. Timeshare Relief Consultants, Inc. (hereafter referred as "TRC") has previously submitted to the Resort a Durable Limited Power of Attorney granted by the Purchaser(s). This should assure your organization to recognize me as an Independent Agent retained by TRC.

At this level, I rely upon what is available; which is: (l/TRC will be happy to provide copies of any of the following):

- 1.) The documents that the Purchaser(s) have provided to TRC as being a complete set of all closing documents and/or any other documents received since the closing.
- 2.) A testimonial in the Purchaser(s)' own words concerning the contact, purchase, and after events of the closing.
- 3.) A Questionnaire provide by TRC which the Purchaser(s) often include in a testimonial or answer separately. There are about 16 Pages or more.

ONE OF THE PURCHASERS IS A DISABLED VETERAN

The Americans with Disabilities Act of 1990 (42 U.S.C. 12181), which prohibits discrimination on the basis of disability by public accommodations and requires places of public accommodation and commercial facilities to be designed, constructed, and altered in compliance with the accessibility standards became effective in January 1992. The ADA provides people with disabilities with basic public accommodation rights and the means to enforce those rights. Hotels, motels, timeshare resorts and other places accommodating the general public must meet specific technical requirements in providing lodging and services to meet the needs of the disabled. Alterations and new construction after Jan 23, 1993 must comply with the accessibility laws. Upon reviewing the documents and statements as provided by the Purchasers, I cannot verify that this mandatory requirement was satisfied, considered prior to, during, or even after the closing of the contract.

FULLY COMPLETED COPY OF EVERY CONTRACT MUST BE DELIVERED.

A fully completed copy of every contract shall be delivered to the member at the time the contract is signed. Every contract shall constitute the entire agreement between seller and the Purchasers, shall be in writing, and shall be signed by the seller and the Purchasers. Based upon my review of the contracts as given by the Purchasers, there seems to be critical documents missing. Without such documents, the contract remains incomplete and the steps to finalize the agreement(s) never occurred because of the missing documents.

THE PURCHASERS STATED THEY WERE CONSTANTLY LIED TO BY THE SALES REPRESENTATIVES. YOUR REPRESENTATIVE MAY HAVE MISLED THE PURCHASERS INTO INVESTING INTO THE ORGANIZATION, AND NOT THE VACATION AS PROMISED.

Per the Purchasers' own words, your representatives went through great effort(s) to mislead the Purchasers into believing the Purchasers were not buying a Timeshare, but instead an investment of ownership.

STATUTORY DEFINITION - §2(1) of the Securities Act of 1933 defines a "security" as: Any note, stock, treasurer stock, bond, debenture, evidence of indebtedness, certificate of interest or participation in any profit-sharing agreement, . . . investment contract, . . . fractional undivided interest in oil, gas, or other mineral rights, any put, call, straddle, option, or privilege or any security, . . . or, in general, any interest or instrument, commonly known as a "security", or any certificate of interest or participation in, temporary or interim certificate for, receipt for, guarantee of, or warrant or right to subscribe to or purchase, any of the foregoing.

INVESTMENT CONTRACT - An interest is an "investment contract", and thus a security, if the following elements are present: (1) an investment, (2) a common venture, (3) a reasonable expectation of profit and (4) profits are derived primarily from the entrepreneurial or managerial efforts of others. SEC v. W.J. Howey, 328 U.S. 293, 301 (1946).

Fraud is malfeasance, a positive act resulting from a willful intent to deceive. Fraud may consist of words, acts, or the suppression of material facts, with the intent to mislead or deceive. There has to be intent, and that intent has to be put into practice, either directly or through an agent.

Fraud, Deceit, and Willful Defined. The third prohibited act set out under the statute, to engage in any act, practice, or course of business that operates or would operate as a fraud or deceit on any person, sets out the words "fraud" or "deceit." I charge you that a fraud is a false representation of a material fact, whether by words or by conduct, by false or misleading allegations or by concealment of that which should have been disclosed, which deceives and is intended to deceive another so that he shall act upon it to his legal injury. Fraud is misrepresentation of a material fact made willfully to deceive, or recklessly without knowledge, where the misrepresented fact is acted on by the opposite party; a misrepresentation made by mistake and innocently, and acted on by the opposite party, would constitute legal fraud. The word "deceit" means a fraudulent and cheating misrepresentation, artifice, or device, used by one or more persons to deceive or trick another who is ignorant of the true facts, to the prejudice and damage of the party imposed upon. A deceit is either the suggestion, as a fact, of that which is not true by one who does not believe it to be true, or an assertion, as a fact, of that which is not true by one who has no reasonable ground for believing it to be true; or the suppression of a fact by one who is bound to disclose it, or who gives information of other facts that are likely to mislead for want of communication of that fact. Deceit could also be a promise made without any intention of performing it. The elements of deceit are the willful misrepresentation of a material fact, made to induce another to act, and upon which he does act to his injury. Mere concealment of such a fact, unless done in such a manner as to deceive and mislead, would not be deceit. In all cases of deceit, knowledge of a falsehood constitutes an essential element. A fraudulent or reckless representation of facts as true, which the party may not know to be false, if intended to deceive is equivalent to knowledge of falsehood.

False Statement Defined. False means "not true, erroneous, incorrect." A written statement is made false not only by reason of what it stated but also by reason of what it omitted to state, or by what is concealed or implied.

The term "untrue statement" as used herein means a statement of fact which is not in fact true. This term may also include statements of judgment or opinion if the same are intended to be accepted as statements of fact by the person making the statement, and the judgment or opinion is not honestly believed to be true by the maker and is made by the maker for the purpose of deception and is accepted by the person to whom it is communicated as fact.

Theft by False Pretenses. The crime of theft by false pretenses requires proof of the following things: 1. That the defendant knowingly and intentionally made a false statement to another person; and 2. That the statement concerned a past or present fact, rather than an opinion or promise to be performed in the future; and 3. That the statement was made before the other person parted with his or her money in reliance on the statement; and 4. That defendant intended to defraud the other person.

All of the above would hold true if brought into any state.

Sale of Unregistered Securities
The Sale Of Any Investment Requires Registration With The State Before It Can Be Legally Sold.
All Individuals Involved With Such A Sale Could Be Held Liable.

I cannot locate where the security was properly registered.

Please reference the following Statutes, all of which but not limited to, seems to be involved with the Purchasers' transaction:

Florida Statute Definitions 517.021— 20) "Sale" or "sell" means any contract of sale or disposition of any investment, security, or interest in a security, for value. With respect to a security or interest in a security, the term defined in this subsection does not include preliminary negotiations or agreements between an issuer or any person on whose behalf an offering is to be made and any underwriter or among underwriters who are or are to be in privity of contract with an issuer. Any security given or delivered with, or as a bonus on account of, any purchase of securities or any other thing shall be conclusively presumed to constitute a part of the subject of such purchase and to have been offered and sold for value. Every sale or offer of a warrant or right to purchase or subscribe to another security of the same or another issuer, as well as every sale or offer of a security which gives the holder a present or future right or privilege to convert into another security or another issuer, is considered to include an offer of the other security.

Florida Statute Definitions 517.07 Registration of securities.— (1) It is unlawful and a violation of this chapter for any person to sell or offer to sell a security within this state unless the security is exempt under s. 517.051, is sold in a transaction exempt under s. 517.061, is a federal covered security, or is registered pursuant to this chapter; (2) No securities that are required to be registered under this chapter shall be sold or offered for sale within this state unless such securities have been registered pursuant to this chapter and unless prior to each sale the purchaser(s) is furnished with a prospectus meeting the requirements of rules adopted by the commission...

Florida Statute 517.301 Fraudulent transactions; falsification or concealment of facts.— (1) It is unlawful and a violation of the provisions of this chapter for a person: (a) In connection with the rendering of any investment advice or in connection with the offer, sale, or purchase of any investment or security, including any security exempted under the provisions of s. 517.051 and including any security sold in a transaction exempted under the provisions of s. 517.061, directly or indirectly: 1. To employ any device, scheme, or artifice to defraud; 2. To obtain money or property by means of any untrue statement of a material fact or any omission to state a material fact necessary in order to make the statements made, in the light of the circumstances under which they were made, not misleading; or 3. To engage in any transaction, practice, or course of business which operates or would operate as a fraud or deceit upon a person. (b) To publish, give publicity to, or circulate any notice, circular, advertisement, newspaper, article, letter, investment service, communication, or broadcast which, though not purporting to offer a security for sale, describes such security for a consideration received or to be received directly or indirectly from an issuer, underwriter, or dealer, or from an agent or employee of an issuer, underwriter, or dealer, without fully disclosing the receipt, whether past or prospective, of such consideration and the amount of the consideration. (c) In any matter within the jurisdiction of the office, to knowingly and willfully falsify, conceal, or cover up, by any trick, scheme, or device, a material fact, make any false, fictitious, or fraudulent statement or representation, or make or use any false writing or document, knowing the same to contain any false, fictitious, or fraudulent statement or entry. (2) For purposes of ss. 517.311 and 517.312 and this section, the term "investment" means any commitment of money or property principally induced by a representation that an economic benefit may be derived from such commitment, except that the term does not include a commitment of money or property for...

Florida Statute 517.302 Criminal penalties; alternative fine; Anti-Fraud Trust Fund; time limitation for criminal prosecution.—(1) Whoever violates any of the provisions of this chapter is guilty of a felony of the third degree, punishable as provided in s. 775.082, s. 775.083, or s. 775.084. (2) Any person who violates the provisions of s. 517.312(1) by obtaining money or property of an aggregate value exceeding $50,000 from five or more persons is guilty of a felony of the first degree, punishable as provided in s. 775.082, s. 775.083, or s. 775.084. (3) In lieu of a fine otherwise authorized by law, a person who has been convicted of or who has pleaded guilty or no contest to having engaged in conduct in violation of this chapter may be sentenced to pay a fine that does not exceed the greater of three times the gross value gained or three times the gross loss caused by such conduct, plus court costs and the costs of investigation and prosecution reasonably incurred.

Florida Statute 517.311 False representations; deceptive words; enforcement.— (1) It is unlawful for any person in issuing or selling any security within the state, including any security exempted under the provisions of s. 517.051 and including any transaction exempted under the provisions of s. 517.061, to misrepresent that such security or company has been guaranteed, sponsored, recommended, or approved by the state or any agency or officer of the state or by the United States or any agency or officer of the United States. (2) It is unlawful for any person registered or required to be registered, or subject to the notice requirements, under any section of this chapter, including such persons and issuers within the purview of ss. 517.051 and 517.061, to misrepresent that such person has been sponsored, recommended, or approved, or that her or his abilities or qualifications have in any respect been passed upon, by the state or any agency or officer of the state or by the United States or any agency or officer of the United States. (3) It is unlawful and a violation of this chapter for a person in connection with the offer or sale of any investment to obtain money or property by means of: (a) A misrepresentation that the investment offered or sold is guaranteed, sponsored, recommended, or approved by the state or any agency or officer of the state or by the United States or any agency or officer of the United States; or (b) A misrepresentation that such person is sponsored, recommended, or approved, or that such person's abilities or qualifications have in any respect been passed upon, by the state or any agency or officer of the state or by the United States or any agency or officer of the United States.

Florida Rescission Rights To The Sale Of Unregistered Securities

Florida allows for a civil remedy if an unregistered security is sold. The short answer is that the Purchasers can return the security (if the Purchasers still own it, which they do) or get money damages (if the Purchasers have already sold it).

Rescission: If the Purchasers still have the security, Florida allows you to return it for a full refund, just like that ugly sweater you received over the holidays. This includes the interest that accumulated while the broker held onto your money. Of course, if the security generated income for the Purchasers, that amount is deducted from the damage calculation. And, once the seller returns the money, the seller gets the security back. See § 517.211(3), Fla. Stat. (2014).

Damages: If the Purchasers have already sold the security, you are entitled to money damages. The amount of damages the Purchasers are entitled to is calculated by taking the amount of money the Purchasers paid including interest, minus the value of the security when the Purchasers sold it, including any income received by the Purchasers. § 517.211(4), Fla. Stat. (2014). Violation of Florida's securities laws allows the prevailing party to receive reasonable attorney's fees unless the court finds that the award of such fees would be unjust. § 517.211(6), Fla. Stat. (2014)

All of which seem to be present in this situation. All of the above would hold true if brought into any state.

Timeshare Contract may be unenforceable. (Legality would be in question).

An agreement, even after an offer and acceptance, is not necessarily a legally binding contract. One cannot contract for an illegal or impossible act. If the sale of this timeshare would be considered an unregistered security, the contract cannot be enforced.

FINDINGS TO DATE

A VALID CLOSING MAY HAVE NEVER OCCURRED! PURCHASERS DEMAND IMMEDIATE CANCELLATION OF CONTRACT!

Preliminary Finding No. One: You have failed and/or are intentionally not responding to and/or are ignoring a valid Durable Power of Attorney. This action could support your acceptance that the findings and statements are true and correct. Therefore, please terminate the financial responsibilities of the Purchasers with your organization immediately.

Preliminary Finding No. Two: I cannot locate that an actual Original Sale Certificate and/or Public Offering Statement was presented and given to the Purchasers. I did find a vague receipt for the document and other documents that were supposed to be presented and given to the Purchasers in either with a CD-ROM or the standard paper format (Unclear as to what was supposed to be given to the Purchasers). Therefore, I cannot locate the Original Sale Certificate and/or Public Offering Statement to verify if such statements as contained within these documents are true and complete. Nor can I verify that the receipt was given and is a true document or just a receipt and the Purchasers did not receive anything. Purchasers did advise TRC that the Purchasers provided all paperwork to TRC. In addition, I cannot find the various documents as required by this Statute.

In Florida (the home state of the main corporation), the Purchasers can cancel the timeshare contract up until midnight of the 10th calendar day following: the date the Purchasers signed the contract, or the day on which the Purchasers received the last of all required documents, whichever occurs later (Fla. Stat. Ann. § 721.10 (1)). This right of cancellation may not be waived. Based upon the documents received and those not received, and your organization failure to provide proof to the contrary, the Purchasers still has the right to terminate this contract.

None of the above state's requirements have been satisfied; therefore the Purchasers desire to exercise the Purchasers' right to terminate the contract effective immediately.

THEREFORE, PLEASE ACCEPT THIS LETTER AS THE OFFICAL NOTIFICATION OF CANCELLATION OF THIS TIMESHARE CONTRACT EFFECTIVE IMMEIDATELY.

Preliminary Finding No. Three: Predatory Lending Practices may have been involved with this transaction, thus affecting the legality of this contract.

Preliminary Finding No. Four: Your organization and related parties seem to be continuing pursuing the collection of a debt that is in dispute. The Purchasers should consider the application of provisions of the Racketeer Influenced and Corrupt Organizations Act1 (RICO) as an additional remedial strategy against debt collectors who engage in unfair or deceptive debt collection practices/acts in addition to the Fair Debt Collection Practices Act (FDCPA) and the Fair Credit Reporting Act (FCRA) Namely, an action under 18 U.S.C. § 1962(c), which makes it unlawful for any person, through a pattern of racketeering activity or through collection of an unlawful debt, to conduct or participate in the conduct of the affairs of an enterprise engaged in or affecting interstate commerce.

Preliminary Finding No. Five: Statements made by the Resort's Representative may have been false and purposely misleading in violation of the Lanham Act and other business practices and requirements. The statements that were told to the Purchasers before, during and after the signing of the contract may be false.

Preliminary Finding No. Six: Based upon the statements from the Purchasers as compared to the overall paperwork as provided, the seller may have purposely misled the Purchasers into purchasing an item that was different than that which they thought they were purchasing. This technique is known as the "Bait and Switch Scheme."

Preliminary Finding No. Seven: A fully completed contract may not have been properly delivered to the Purchasers as required at closing (No budgets, etc.).

Preliminary Finding No. Eight: Other possible defenses against your contract at this point: False Advertising; Unfair Business Practices; Rescission; Common Law Fraud; Fraud In The Inducement; Civil Conspiracy To Defraud; Negligence; Gross Negligence; Negligent Misrepresentation; Grossly Negligent Misrepresentation.

Preliminary Finding No. Nine: As stated above, the Purchasers certified that the Purchasers have provided all documents given to them at closing and afterward to TRC. Obviously, there was very little information provided to the Purchasers and the Purchasers could not have made a sound financial decision based upon such limited documents. From what I have reviewed from the paperwork, I could not establish a value for what appears to be a worthless investment.

Preliminary Finding No. Ten: All the states prohibit timeshare developers or salespeople from engaging in unfair or deceptive acts in a timeshare transaction. The following acts, among others, constitute deceptive practices under the law: misrepresenting or failing to disclose any material fact concerning a timeshare; including a provision in a timeshare agreement that purports to waive any right or benefit provided for Purchasers in the timeshare agreement; receiving any money or other valuable consideration from a prospective Purchasers before the Purchasers has received a public offering statement; misrepresenting the amount of time or period of time the unit will be available to a Purchasers; misrepresenting the size, nature, extent, qualities, or characteristics of the unit; misrepresenting the conditions under which a Purchasers may exchange occupancy rights to a unit in one location for occupancy rights to a unit in another location; failing to disclose initially that any promised entertainment, food, or other inducements are being offered to solicit the sale of a timeshare, and conducting or participating in any type of lottery or contest, or offering prizes or gifts to induce or encourage a person to visit a project, attend a meeting at which a timeshare will be discussed, attend a presentation or purchase a timeshare without prior approval by the State. This is supported by the statements as contained within the Purchasers' Testimonial.

Preliminary Finding No. Eleven: Your entire contract may be unconscionable.

Preliminary Finding No. Twelve: Based upon the Purchasers' Testimonial and the statements made within, Undue Influence seems to be the real motivating factor in convincing them to purchase this worthless asset. Over persuasion is generally accompanied by certain characteristics which tend to create a pattern. This pattern usually involves several of the following elements: (1) Discussion of the transaction at an unusual or inappropriate time; (2) Consummation of the transaction is an unusual place; (3) Insistent demand that the business be finished at once; (4) Extreme emphasis on untoward consequences of delay; (5) The use of multiple persuaders by the dominant side against a single opposing and contracting party; (6) Absence of third-party advisers to the opposing and contracting party; (7) Statements that there is no time to consult financial advisers or attorneys. All of which seem to be present in this situation.

Preliminary Finding No. Thirteen: Contract may be unenforceable because of the Resort's action not to honor the promises and representations by denying access to the Resort's resources as promised. The statute of frauds makes contracts falling within its provisions voidable. A contract procured by fraud is not enforceable. The elements of fraud are: (1) a representation; (2) its falsity; (3) its materiality; (4) the speaker's knowledge of its falsity or his ignorance of its truth; (5) the speaker's intent that the representation should be acted on by the person and in the manner reasonably contemplated; (6) the hearer's ignorance of the falsity of the representation; (7) the hearer's reliance on the representation being true; (8) the hearer's right to rely thereon; and (9) the hearer's consequent and proximately caused injury. A contract procured by duress is also unenforceable.

Preliminary Finding No. Fourteen: If your organization decides to foreclose or pursue the activity of trying to collect this debt, especially by destroying the Purchasers' credit, the Courts are no longer looking the other way on intentionally sloppy foreclosures that cover up a larger fraud on investors. I feel that the Courts would have enough of a feel of the situation to see that there is something fundamentally wrong with the mortgage origination and foreclosure practices. At this point, if the foreclosing parties don't have it right, it is viewed as an intentional or grossly negligent act, giving rise to compensatory damages, attorney fees, costs, and punitive damages.

Preliminary Finding No. Fifteen: Based upon the statements per the Purchasers' Testimonial, statements made by the Resort's representatives may have been false. The act, use or employment by any person of any deception, fraud, false pretense, false promise, misrepresentation, unfair practice or the concealment, suppression, or omission of any material fact in connection with the sale or advertisement of any merchandise in trade or commerce is declared to be an unlawful practice.

Preliminary Finding No. Sixteen: I cannot locate that any notices of any general meetings by the association was ever given to the Purchasers. A meeting of the association shall be held at least once each year. Special meetings of the association may be called by the president or by twenty percent, or any lower percentage specified in the bylaws, of either the executive board or the unit owners. Not less than ten nor more than sixty days in advance of any meeting, the secretary or other officer specified in the bylaws shall cause notice to be hand-delivered or sent prepaid by United States mail to the mailing address of each unit or to any other mailing address designated in writing by the unit owner. The notice of any meeting shall state the time and place of the meeting and the items on the agenda, including the general nature of any proposed amendment to the declaration or bylaws, any budget changes, and any proposal to remove a director or officer.

Preliminary Finding No. Seventeen: I also took the liberty to do some research on various states' Law concerning foreclosure Real estate and timeshare foreclosures in several states may be judicial or non-judicial. The Purchasers do live in another state. Without being an expert in Law, but based upon what attorneys have said: "Another state would likely not permit a deficiency judgment after a non-judicial timeshare foreclosure". Therefore, any costs to sue this individual and the costs of foreclosure may never be recovered. You can always resale it at another gathering of customers, and in my financial opinion, both your organization and Purchasers would be better off financially.

Preliminary Finding No. Eighteen: The Purchasers are considered Senior Citizens. Your organization may have preyed upon the Purchasers because of the Purchasers' age. This could be considered Financial Exploitation of the Elderly. Please refer to the related penalties that may be levied against all parties involved. Please refer to the ages of the Purchasers. This is in addition to the misleading, deceptive, intimidation, undue influence, and misrepresentations as per the Purchasers' Testimonial, the high pressure tactics and the length of the sales pitch, the environment of the meeting, should support and immediate release of the Purchasers from the Purchasers' financial obligations with your organization. This would save both parties, the expenses to defend against this claim to VOID your contract. Plus the publicity would not be favorable to your organization for taking advantage of them due to Purchasers' age. In addition, your organization will save the expense of a foreclosure action, which could later be challenged by the Purchasers as a wrongful foreclosure. In addition, Robbery, Stealing and Related Offenses could be involved which states: "A person commits the offense of financial exploitation of an elderly person or a person with a disability if such person knowingly obtains control over the property of the elderly person or person with a disability with the intent to permanently deprive the person of the use, benefit or possession of his or her property thereby benefitting the offender or detrimentally affecting the elderly person or person with a disability by... (etc.).

A CONTRACT PROCURED BY FRAUD IS NOT ENFORCEABLE

The elements of fraud (all of which seems to be present in this situation and performed by the Resort's representative before, during and after the sale) are: (1) a representation; (2) its falsity; (3) its materiality; (4) the speaker's knowledge of its falsity or his ignorance of its truth; (5) the speaker's intent that the representation should be acted on by the person and in the manner reasonably contemplated; (6) the hearer's ignorance of the falsity of the representation; (7) the hearer's reliance on the representation being true; (8) the hearer's right to rely thereon; and (9) the hearer's consequent and proximately caused injury.

THE PURCHASERS MAY HAVE A CLAIM AGAINST ALL THIRD PARTIES TO THE CONTRACT. Sellers who knowingly accept the fruits of the fraud are liable to the same extent as the perpetrator of the fraud. The sellers and all other individuals involved with the closing have a Duty to Disclose important information prior to the signing of the contract.

Duty to Disclose: Briefly stated, fraud by omission is common law fraud based on failing to disclose a material fact that a party has a duty to disclose. (1) the defendant concealed or failed to disclose a material fact within its knowledge to the plaintiff; (2) the defendant had a duty to disclose that fact; (3) the defendant knew the plaintiff was ignorant of the fact and the plaintiff did not have an equal opportunity to discover the truth; (4) the defendant intended to induce the plaintiff to take some action by concealing or failing to disclose the fact; (5) the plaintiff relied on the defendant's nondisclosure; and (6) the plaintiff was injured as a result of acting without that knowledge. Disclosure is necessary to prevent a previous assertion from being a misrepresentation or from being fraudulent or material: Disclosure would correct a mistake of the other party as to a basic assumption on which that party is making the contract and if nondisclosure amounts to a failure to act in good faith and in accordance with reasonable standards of fair dealing; Disclosure would correct a mistake of the other party as to the contents or effect of a writing, evidencing, or embodying an agreement in whole or in part; The other person is entitled to know the fact because of a relationship of trust and confidence between them.

Based upon the above, your contract should be cancelled immediately.

Request No. 1:

PLEASE TERMINATE THIS CONTRACT IMMEDIATELY AND RELEASE THE PURCHASERS FROM ANY FURTHER FINANCIAL RESPONSIBILITIES OR OTHERWISE ASSOCIATED WITH THIS CONTRACT.

The value of this contract and in my opinion is a lot less than the possible costs of the legal defenses for your Resorts if the Purchasers decide to proceed with a legal action. In fact, based upon my research, the value of this investment is zero, and in fact, less than zero since no one wants it or is willing to buy it, not even for $1.00. It is the demand of the Purchasers that the resort/developer either provides the information to establish this is a valid contract and/or cancels the contract to avoid further costs by immediate termination of the contract with a just refund to be made whole again. In an attempt to reach a compromise, any offer from the Resort will also be considered favorably.

If you need any more material, references, cases, or otherwise, but most of all, anything that will facilitate the resolution of this matter, always feel free to notify us immediately, and we will furnish and provided whatever documents you require, and without hesitation. However, as stated above, the contact is, and remains between TRC and the Purchasers. So, any information or correspondence should be directed to those parties. TRC does hold the Power Of Attorney to represent the Purchasers.

Please respond within 30 days from receipt of this notice.

Please govern yourselves accordingly,

Sincerely,

Bernard Long

I am not an Attorney and I am not providing any legal advice and I am not a law firm and I cannot nor will render or offer legal advice, or practice law or render legal services. I am NOT here to quote laws of guilt or innocence which MAY or may NOT apply in various states. I have simply been retained to conduct an independent analysis of the above-mentioned contract(s) to identify if fraudulent or other related elements or activities occurred or existed whether written or verbal. I try to obtain a fair market value of the asset at the time of purchase and as of the most current date available.

This is not an all-inclusive summary of the various questionable activities or any question or matter involving doubt, uncertainty, or difficulty. I have only included those findings that could be of major concern. I want to save both the seller and Purchasers unneeded time to reach a settlement. I feel anyone of the findings will result in the contract not being able to be enforced and thus the contract will be invalid, discredit and nullified, and to deprive the contract of legal force or efficacy, However, I am capable of furnishing a more involved report including all items if requested.

FURTHER TERMS AND CONDITIONS

1. DEFINITIONS:

Unless the context suggests otherwise, capitalized terms shall have the meanings set forth in the Amended and Restated Declaration for Diamond Resorts U.S. Collection ("Declaration"), as may be amended or modified from time to time.

2. PAYMENT OF PURCHASE PRICE:

(a) Purchaser may pay for the Membership in cash or through credit from Seller, subject to Seller's credit approval ("Financing"). If Purchaser receives Financing from Seller, then Purchaser will be required to execute and deliver an installment Promissory Note (the "Note") payable to the order of Seller in the amount of the Unpaid Balance, and grant the first priority Seller Security Interest (defined below) that secures the payment of the Note and encumbers Purchaser's Membership, as well as certain other documents and instruments which Seller, in its sole discretion, deems reasonably necessary or appropriate to secure Purchaser's payment of the Note. Purchaser will be subject to all of the terms, provisions, and conditions described and set forth in all such documents and instruments.

(b) If Purchaser requests Financing, Seller may, but is not required to, agree to finance Purchaser's purchase. Purchaser promises that all personal financial and other information submitted to Seller is and will be accurate, and Purchaser authorizes Seller to make credit inquiries regarding Purchaser, whether through a consumer reporting agency or other means. Purchaser agrees to provide immediate written notice to Seller of any material adverse change in Purchaser's financial condition that occurs prior to Closing (as defined below). If Purchaser makes good faith efforts to obtain purchase money financing but is unable to qualify for Financing within 10 days following Seller's acceptance of this Agreement, Purchaser shall be entitled to terminate this Agreement and receive a refund of any and all payments made by Purchaser hereunder (without interest) or, at Purchaser's option, to consummate the transaction contemplated hereby by paying the entire Unpaid Balance in cash at Closing. If Purchaser is unable to qualify for Financing within such 10 day period, Seller shall provide written notice thereof to Purchaser, whereupon Purchaser shall promptly notify Seller whether Purchaser elects to terminate this Agreement or consummate the transaction as provided in the preceding sentence. If Purchaser fails to give any notice to Seller within 20 days after Purchaser's receipt of Seller's notice that Purchaser does not qualify for Financing, Seller may at any time thereafter terminate this Agreement and refund to Purchaser all payments made by Purchaser. Seller reserves the right, in its sole discretion, to sell or assign the Note and the Seller Security Interest to another person or entity, whether or not such person or entity is affiliated with Seller.

(c) If Purchaser is exchanging a fee simple timeshare interest in a timeshare resort ("Fee Timeshare Interest") as full or partial payment for the Membership, Purchaser agrees to execute and deliver to Seller, on the date hereof, (i) a deed or other appropriate instrument in form and substance satisfactory to Seller, in its sole discretion, pursuant to which all of Purchaser's right, title, and interest in and to the Fee Timeshare Interest is conveyed to Seller or a party designated by Seller, free and clear of any liens or encumbrances not expressly approved by Seller ("Deed-back"), and (ii) if Seller so requests, a declaration of annexation or other similar type of document subjecting the Fee Timeshare Interest to the Declaration ("Annexation Instrument"). Such Deed-back and Annexation Instrument may be recorded by Seller upon Closing. Pending Closing, Purchaser shall remain fully liable for all costs, expenses, and other obligations of any and every kind related to the Fee Timeshare Interest ("Fee Timeshare Interest Obligations"). If the transaction contemplated hereby fails to close for any reason whatsoever, the Deed-back and Annexation Instrument will be cancelled and returned to Purchaser, and Purchaser will remain fully liable for the Fee Timeshare Interest Obligations.

(d) In the event that the Note, this Agreement, or the Deed-back and Annexation Instrument (if applicable), or any other document or instrument which evidences or secures payment of the Purchase Price, is misplaced or has not been completely and validly executed by Purchaser for any reason whatsoever, Seller shall have the option, in its sole discretion, (i) to cancel this Agreement at any time prior to Closing; or (ii) to send Purchaser whatever document(s) and/or instrument(s) that Seller needs Purchaser to re-execute, along with instructions on how to do so. In the event Seller sends Purchaser any document or instrument for re-execution, Purchaser shall promptly re-execute same, cause his or her signature to be notarized (to the extent indicated), and return such document(s) and/or instrument(s) to Seller in accordance with Seller's written instructions. Purchaser's failure to do so for any reason within 10 calendar days following Purchaser's receipt thereof shall constitute a default hereunder, entitling Seller to exercise its available rights and remedies pursuant to Section 14 below.

NOTICE

ANY HOLDER OF THIS CONSUMER CREDIT CONTRACT IS SUBJECT TO ALL CLAIMS AND DEFENSES WHICH THE DEBTOR COULD ASSERT AGAINST THE SELLER OF GOODS OR SERVICES OBTAINED PURSUANT HERETO OR WITH THE PROCEEDS HEREOF. RECOVERY HEREUNDER BY THE DEBTOR SHALL NOT EXCEED AMOUNTS PAID BY THE DEBTOR.

3. SELLER'S RIGHT TO ACCEPT OR REJECT THIS AGREEMENT:

It is understood that Seller can accept or reject this Agreement. If Seller rejects this Agreement, Purchaser is only entitled to a refund of any payments made by Purchaser, without interest. This Agreement becomes effective and legally binding only when executed by both Parties. If Seller accepts this Agreement, then Seller, subject to Section 2 above, agrees to sell the Membership to Purchaser, and Purchaser agrees to make all of the payments required to be made under this Agreement when due and otherwise to comply fully with all of the terms, provisions, and conditions hereof and of the Collection Instruments.

4. DEPOSITS:

Purchaser's initial deposit and any subsequent payments made by Purchaser to Seller prior to Closing shall be delivered to and held in escrow by First American Title Insurance Company, the address of which is 400 S Rampart Blvd, Ste 290, Las Vegas, NV 89145 ("Escrow Agent"), pursuant to a Master Escrow Agreement by and between Seller and Escrow Agent, the terms, provisions, and conditions of which are incorporated by this reference. Any and all interest that accrues on Purchaser's deposit and subsequent payments shall, except to the extent prohibited by law, be payable to and inure to the sole benefit of Seller and not be credited toward the Purchase Price. Escrow Agent shall hold all such deposits and other amounts until presentation by Seller of written instructions to the effect that Closing has occurred. Seller shall have no right to use any of the funds held by Escrow Agent until such funds have been delivered to Seller in accordance with the provisions hereof.

5. VACATION OWNERSHIP PLAN:

(a) The Membership is a form of a "right-to-use" timeshare interest, and Purchaser will not receive a deed to any interest in real property.

(b) Purchaser acknowledges that notwithstanding any provision of this Agreement or the Collection Instruments, unless Purchaser is purchasing Specific Use Points, Purchaser will not have the guaranteed exclusive right to reserve, use, and occupy any particular Collection Accommodation. Purchaser acknowledges that the Membership is subject to the Collection Instruments as amended and/or supplemented from time to time.

(c) The Collection shall be perpetual unless terminated by the Members in the manner described in the Collection Instruments.

(d) Purchaser may be prohibited from making a reservation or using and occupying a Collection Accommodation unless Purchaser has timely paid any and all Assessments, Personal Charges and other amounts levied pursuant to the Collection Instruments and otherwise fully complied with all of the terms, provisions, and conditions of the Collection Instruments.

6. ASSOCIATION MEMBERSHIP AND TRANSFER:

Upon Closing, Purchaser will automatically become a Member of the Association. Purchaser agrees to be subject to and to comply fully with the Collection Instruments. If the number of a Member's annual allotment of Points falls below the Minimum Points

Threshold for any reason, such as the partial transfer of Points or expiration of Term Points, the affected Membership will cease to be a valid Membership unless sufficient additional Points are acquired to meet the Minimum Points Threshold. The current Minimum Points Threshold for a valid Membership is 2,000 Points. Any purchase of additional Points will be governed by prices in effect at the time of purchase. Purchaser's right to sell or otherwise transfer his or her Membership and the resulting update to the Register of Members is subject to prior approval by the Association and certain other applicable requirements set forth in the Collection Instruments.

7. ASSESSMENTS:

(a) Purchaser understands and agrees that in accordance with the provisions of the Collection Instruments, the Association is empowered to levy and collect Assessments against each Membership for management and maintenance expenses. In addition to Assessments, Purchaser understands and agrees that he or she will be responsible for the timely payment to the Association of any Personal Charges or other charges that he or she incurs, all in accordance with the provisions of the Collection Instruments. Assessments shall be due and payable to the Association prior to Purchaser's use and occupancy of a Collection Accommodation in Purchaser's Initial Use Year, as set forth on Page 1 hereof. The amount of the Assessments each year may vary and will be determined as outlined in the Collection Instruments.

(b) The Association may enforce Purchaser's obligation to pay Assessments and Personal Charges in the manner set forth in this Agreement and in the Collection Instruments or as otherwise permitted by law. Purchaser may be prohibited from reserving, using, or occupying any Collection Accommodation or exercising any other rights, benefits, or privileges to which Purchaser would otherwise be entitled pursuant to the Collection Instruments, unless all Assessments and other amounts that Purchaser owes the Association or Seller have first been paid in full. Purchaser's failure for any reason to pay on a timely basis any and all Assessments could result in the enforcement of the Association Security Interest (defined below) by the Association and the loss of Purchaser's Membership. Purchaser's failure for any reason to use and occupy a Collection Accommodation shall not exempt Purchaser from his or her obligation to pay in full all Assessments levied against his or her Membership.

8. EXCHANGE PROGRAMS:

The Association has entered into an Affiliation Agreement (the "Affiliation Agreement") with Diamond Resorts International Club, Inc. ("DRIC"). Under the Affiliation Agreement, the Association and the Collection are affiliated with THE Club. Purchaser's membership in THE Club is automatic and is subject to the annual payment of fees that are imposed by DRIC, and are subject to change in DRIC's sole discretion. The Affiliation Agreement permits the annual membership fee for THE Club to be collected by the Association along with the Assessments. Purchaser should refer to the Association budget for more details. Under the Affiliation Agreement, membership in THE Club may not be transferred without the consent of DRIC and transfer by Purchaser of the Membership in the Collection does not, without the consent of DRIC, have the effect of transferring membership in THE Club. THE Club may, but is not obligated to, have a relationship with an external exchange program. At the current time, THE Club is affiliated with Interval International, Inc. ("Interval International") under which Interval International has agreed to offer its reciprocal exchange services to members of THE Club. Exchanges through external exchange programs may be subject to certain terms, conditions and the payment of fees that are imposed by the external exchange program. Seller makes no representations concerning THE Club, Interval International, or any other exchange programs that may become affiliated with the Collection, including but not limited to current or future services to be provided, the cost, continued availability, or success of exchange programs. Any representations made regarding THE Club or Interval International by DRIC or its agents or employees or within the literature, brochures, or videos prepared or provided by DRIC or Interval International are solely the representations of DRIC or Interval International, respectively, and should not be relied upon as being the representations of Seller.

9. CLOSING:

Except as otherwise provided by applicable law, for purposes of this Agreement, the term "Closing" shall mean that date when all of the following have occurred: (i) the cancellation period set forth in Section 21 has expired without Purchaser having exercised his or her rescission right; (ii) Purchaser and Seller have executed, as applicable, all documents necessary to effect transfer of the Membership to Purchaser including, but not limited to, this Agreement, and if applicable, the Note; (iii) Seller has received from Purchaser either (a) an executed Note for the Unpaid Balance, or (b) the Unpaid Balance in immediately available funds; and (iv) the Purchaser has been entered into the Register of Members. Except as otherwise expressly provided in any of the Collection Instruments to the contrary, Purchaser may not reserve, use, or occupy any Collection Accommodation or exercise any other rights, benefits, or privileges appurtenant to his or her Membership until Closing occurs. If Closing has not occurred within one year following the date of this Agreement because Purchaser has elected to rescind this Agreement pursuant to Section 21 below, then Seller will within 20 days thereof, order any funds held on Purchaser's behalf, without interest, to be refunded by Escrow Agent to Purchaser, in which event this Agreement shall be deemed terminated and of no further force or legal effect. Escrow Agent shall act as the closing agent for the purposes of collecting and disbursing all applicable funds and distributing and filing all applicable documents and instruments. Upon Closing, Seller shall deliver to Purchaser a Points Certificate evidencing the Purchaser's Membership and a fully executed copy of this Agreement.

10. TITLE AND TITLE INSURANCE:

All Collection Accommodations have been constructed and are available for use by Members pursuant to the Collection Instruments. Purchaser understands and acknowledges that the basis for the Membership is certain real property interests (called "Resort Interests") in various resorts, hotels and other vacation properties and that title to those interests is held in a trust (the "Trust") for the benefit of the Association and Members pursuant to a recorded Trust Agreement with First American Trust, FSB, a federal savings bank or another independent trustee ("Trustee"). Resort Interests are conveyed to the Trust subject to the Trust Agreement and Declaration and are otherwise not encumbered with blanket liens of any lender or lienholder or have a nondisturbance agreement in place which fully protects the use and enjoyment rights of each Member in the event of foreclosure. Further, in connection with each conveyance of Resort Interests to the Trust, Seller has caused First American Title Insurance Company to issue in favor of the Association, where available, an ALTA Owners Title Insurance Policy insuring the Trustee's ownership of the Resort Interests. Copies of such Owners Title Insurance Policies are available for inspection by Members at the offices of the Association.

11. SECURITY INTERESTS:

(a) Seller's Security Interest. If Seller is providing Financing to Purchaser in connection with the purchase of the Membership, then Purchaser, as debtor, hereby grants to Seller, as secured party, effective as of Closing, a purchase money security interest (the "Seller Security Interest") in the Membership and in all rights, benefits and privileges appurtenant thereto as established in the Collection Instruments and all rights, benefits and privileges accruing thereto in the future, all replacements and additions to the foregoing, and all proceeds thereof (collectively, the "Collateral") to secure Purchaser's performance under the Note, this Agreement, and the Collection Instruments. No waiver by Seller or any holder of this Agreement of any default or breach by Purchaser shall operate as a waiver of any other default or breach, whether of the same type or not, by Purchaser.

(b) Association's Security Interest. Purchaser, as debtor, hereby grants to Association, as secured party, effective as of Closing, a security interest (the "Association Security Interest") in the Collateral to secure Purchaser's timely payment of Assessments and Personal Charges and Purchaser's performance under the Collection Instruments. The Association Security Interest shall, at all times, be junior and subordinate to the Seller Security Interest.

(c) Financing Statements. Purchaser irrevocably authorizes Seller and the Association, at any time and from time to time, to file in any Uniform Commercial Code ("UCC") jurisdiction initial financing statements and any amendments thereto that provide any other information required by Part 5 of Article 9 of the UCC of the applicable jurisdiction for the sufficiency, or filing office acceptance of, any financing statement or amendment, including (i) Purchaser's name and address, and (ii) if Purchaser is not an individual, Purchaser's type of organization and any organizational identification number issued to Purchaser. Purchaser shall furnish any such information in writing to Seller or the Association, as the case may be, within five (5) days after Seller's or Association's request. Each person identified as Purchaser in this Agreement represents and warrants to Seller and the Association that on the date of this Agreement he or she is domiciled in the state identified below his or her signature on this Agreement. Each person identified as a Purchaser in this Agreement shall notify Seller and the Association in writing if he or she changes his or her state of domicile within 30 days after such change. Such notice shall identify the state of such person's new domicile and his or her residential address therein.

(d) Association as Third-Party Beneficiary. Solely for purposes of this Section 11, the Association is an intended third-party beneficiary of this Agreement and is entitled to enforce the Association Security Interest granted by Purchaser hereunder.

12. PURCHASER'S REPRESENTATIONS, WARRANTIES, AND ACKNOWLEDGMENTS:

(a) Purchaser represents and warrants that the persons signing this Agreement have the legal capacity and are duly authorized to do so. Purchaser represents and warrants that Purchaser is not, and shall not become, a person with whom Seller is restricted from doing business with under the regulations of the Department of Treasury Office of Foreign Asset Control ("OFAC"). Such representation shall include, but not be limited to, a the representation that Purchaser is not a person or entity and is not acting on behalf of a person or entity named on OFAC's Specifically Designated Nationals and Blocked Persons list and Purchaser is not a resident or national of any Embargoed Country, as defined by OFAC. Purchaser acknowledges that prior to signing this Agreement, Purchaser received the state timeshare disclosure documents, together with the attached exhibits, all of which are hereby incorporated by this reference, and Purchaser agrees to be strictly bound by, and to comply fully with, the terms, provisions, and conditions of such documents, as each may properly be amended or supplemented from time to time. In the event of any conflict between this Agreement and the state timeshare disclosures, the state timeshare disclosures shall control. Purchaser further acknowledges and represents that the Membership is being purchased for Purchaser's personal use and not for its investment potential or any possible rent returns, tax advantages, depreciation, or other financial advantages and that no representations of any nature whatsoever have been made by Seller or any of its salespersons or other agents to Purchaser concerning investment potential, rent returns, tax advantages, depreciation, or other financial advantages. Purchaser, including any person or entity related to Purchaser, does not own an interest in more than 10 Memberships in the Collection. Purchaser understands that Seller has no resale or rental program for non-Seller owned Memberships and acknowledges that neither Seller nor any of its sales agents, employees, or other representatives has indicated that Purchaser will be assisted in the resale or rental of his or her Membership in the future. Purchaser represents that Purchaser does not intend to use any Collection Accommodation as his or her principal residence. If Purchaser has received Financing, then Purchaser acknowledges receipt of a completed Truth-in-Lending Disclosure Statement prior to executing this Agreement. Purchaser hereby agrees to indemnify and hold Seller harmless from and against any and all loss, threat of loss, suits, claims, actions, liabilities, damages, obligations, demands, costs and expenses (including attorney's fees) arising out of or in connection with any breach by Purchaser's representations and warranties. All of Purchaser's acknowledgments, representations and warranties set forth herein shall survive Closing.

(b) Purchaser acknowledges and agrees that immediately following Closing, Seller shall have no further obligations or liabilities of any kind under this Agreement, or under any other document or instrument referred to in this Agreement, and Purchaser shall look solely to the Association and the Manager, together with any other entities that from time to time become obligated to Purchaser as provided in the Collection Instruments, for the fulfillment and satisfaction of any of Purchaser's rights, benefits, and privileges as a Member of the Collection, and not to Seller.

13. NO WARRANTIES:

14. DEFAULT:

(a) Subject to any notice and right to cure provided below, Purchaser shall be in default under this Agreement if Purchaser fails to pay on time, keep any promise, or fulfill any agreement or obligation contained in the Note, this Agreement or any of the Collection Instruments. In the event of a default by Purchaser, Purchaser shall not be entitled to reserve, use, or occupy any Collection Accommodation, or to exercise any other rights, benefits, or privileges appurtenant to his or her Membership.

(b) Subject to any notice and right to cure provided below, Purchaser and Seller agree that: Purchaser's default on or before Closing shall entitle Seller to immediately terminate this Agreement and all of Purchaser's rights, benefits, and privileges hereunder. Upon such termination, Seller shall retain or cause Escrow Agent to deliver to Seller all sums of money previously paid by Purchaser hereunder as liquidated damages and not as a penalty.

(c) Upon Purchaser's failure to timely perform any of Purchaser's obligations under the Note, this Agreement or any of the Collection Instruments after Closing, Purchaser shall be in default hereunder, whereupon Seller (or its successor or assign) may enforce the Seller Security Interest against the Collateral in accordance with this Subparagraph. Upon the occurrence of any such failure, including the non-payment of any amounts due and owing by Purchaser under the Collection Instruments, Seller shall give Purchaser written notice and if Purchaser has not cured the applicable failure within 10 days after Seller gives such notice if Purchaser has failed to pay money, or within 30 days after Seller gives such notice if Purchaser has failed to perform or observe any other term of the Note, this Agreement or any of the Collection Instruments, Purchaser shall be in default under this Agreement and Seller (or its successor or assign) may (a) enforce the Seller Security Interest in accordance with Article 9 of the UCC; (b) provide written notice of termination of the Membership and terminate the Membership within 60 days of the date of the notice of termination and retain all amounts previously paid by Purchaser as liquidated damages and not as a penalty; or (c) pursue any other remedy available to Seller, at law or in equity, however, Seller hereby confirms that it will not seek any deficiency judgment against defaulting Purchaser beyond the forfeiture of the Membership.

(d) Notwithstanding the foregoing provisions of this Section 10 to the contrary, if, for any reason, Seller is unable or fails to comply with the material provisions of this Agreement, then the sole obligation of Seller shall be to refund or cause Escrow Agent to refund (whichever is applicable) to Purchaser all payments previously made by Purchaser hereunder, without interest. Upon such refunds being made, this Agreement shall be deemed canceled, and all rights and obligations hereunder shall immediately terminate. TO THE EXTENT PERMITTED BY APPLICABLE LAW, PURCHASER HEREBY WAIVES ANY AND ALL RIGHTS AND REMEDIES THAT MIGHT OTHERWISE BE AVAILABLE TO PURCHASER, AT LAW OR IN EQUITY.

15. NO OTHER AGREEMENTS OR REPRESENTATIONS:

Seller and Purchaser agree that this Agreement (including the documents and instruments incorporated by reference) embodies the entire agreement between them related to Purchaser's purchase and financing (if applicable) of the Membership and supersedes and replaces any and all prior negotiations, representations, agreements, and understandings, both oral and written, in connection therewith. No amendment to or modification of the terms of this Agreement shall be valid without the written approval of the legal counsel of Seller. Oral representations of Seller or Seller's agents should not be relied upon by Purchaser as correctly stating the representations of Seller. For correct representations, Purchaser should rely entirely on this Agreement and the documents and instruments contained by reference.

16. ASSIGNMENT AND SEVERABILITY:

This Agreement shall be binding upon and inure to the benefit of the Parties, their respective heirs, successors, assigns, and personal representatives. Purchaser's Membership cannot be sold, assigned, transferred, conveyed, or encumbered except in accordance with the terms, provisions, and conditions hereof and the Collection Instruments. Purchaser acknowledges that Seller has the right, in its sole discretion, to assign some or all of its rights and interests hereunder and, if applicable, under the Note. Purchaser may not assign any of his or her rights or interests hereunder, without the written consent of Seller, which consent may be withheld in Seller's sole and absolute discretion. The terms and provisions hereof shall be deemed independent and severable, and the invalidity of any one provision or portion thereof shall not affect the validity or enforceability of any other provision hereof.

17. CHOICE OF STATE LAW AND FORUM; WAIVER OF JURY TRIAL:

Except to the extent preempted by federal law, this Agreement shall be exclusively governed by and construed in accordance with the laws of Nevada without regard to its choice of law rules. Subject to Section 14 hereof, any legal action or proceeding arising out of or in any way relating to this Agreement which is not subject to the Arbitration provisions outlined below, shall only be brought in an appropriate court of competent jurisdiction on behalf of the Parties and their respective successors and assigns, hereby irrevocably submit to the jurisdiction of any such court and agree that venue properly lies solely in such courts to the exclusion of all other judicial and non-judicial forums. EXCEPT AS OTHERWISE PROVIDED BY APPLICABLE LAW, THE PARTIES, AND ANY OTHER PERSON CLAIMING RIGHTS OR OBLIGATIONS BY, THROUGH, OR UNDER THIS AGREEMENT SHALL BE DEEMED TO HAVE WAIVED ANY RIGHT THEY MAY HAVE UNDER ANY APPLICABLE LAW TO A TRIAL BY JURY IN CONNECTION WITH ANY SUIT OR LEGAL PROCEEDING THAT MAY BE COMMENCED BY OR AGAINST ANY OF THE FOREGOING PERSONS CONCERNING THE INTERPRETATION, CONSTRUCTION, VALIDITY, ENFORCEMENT, OR PERFORMANCE OF THIS AGREEMENT OR ANY OF THE COLLECTION INSTRUMENTS.

18. ARBITRATION PROVISION

(a) Opt-Out Right. IF PURCHASER DOES NOT WANT THIS ARBITRATION PROVISION TO APPLY, WITHIN 30 DAYS PURCHASER MUST SEND A SIGNED LETTER TO SELLER STATING THAT THE ARBITRATION PROVISION DOES NOT APPLY. OPTING OUT OF ARBITRATION WILL NOT AFFECT ANY OTHER PROVISION OF THIS AGREEMENT.

(b) Arbitration Terms Defined. In this Arbitration Provision, the term "Company Party" means Seller and/or the Association, their affiliates and the agents, representatives, members, employees, officers and/or directors of such entities, if and to the extent that any Claim is asserted by or against such entity or person. "Bound Parties" means each Company Party and Purchaser. "Claim" means any legal claim, dispute or controversy between any Company Party and Purchaser, including statutory, contract and tort disputes of all kinds and disputes involving requests for declaratory relief, injunctions or other equitable relief. However, "Claim" does not include any individual action brought by a Purchaser in small claims court or an equivalent court, unless such action is transferred, removed, or appealed to a different court, and does not include any dispute concerning the validity and effect of Section 18(h) below, the ban on class actions and certain other proceedings (the "Class Action Ban"). "Administrator" means the American Arbitration Association ("AAA"), 1633 Broadway, 10th Floor, New York, NY 10019, <http://www.adr.org>, or if Purchaser so elects in a notice given to Seller (which will serve as notice to each Company Party) within 20 days after a demand for arbitration, the National Arbitration Forum ("NAF"), P.O. Box 50191, Minneapolis, MN 55405, <http://www.arb-forum.com>.

(c) Arbitration of Claims. Unless Purchaser has exercised his or her opt-out right pursuant to Section 18(a), upon the election of Purchaser or any Company Party, any Claim between Purchaser and such Company Party shall be resolved by binding individual (and not class) arbitration. Any arbitration will be conducted in accordance with this Arbitration Provision and, to the extent consistent with this Arbitration Provision, the rules of the Administrator in effect at the time the Claim is filed. The neutral arbitrator shall be appointed within a specified period of time, which in no event shall be more than 60 days from the administrator's receipt of a written request from a Bound Party to arbitrate the Claim. To the extent this Arbitration Provision conflicts with any other agreement binding the Bound Parties, this Arbitration Provision shall govern.

(d) Fees: Location. Any Company Party to a Claim asserted by Purchaser in good faith or to any Claim asserted by such Company Party will bear all fees of the Administrator or arbitrator in connection with such Claim. The Company Party will also bear the reasonable fees and expenses of Purchaser's attorneys if any Claim initiated by Purchaser is resolved in Purchaser's favor. If a participatory arbitration hearing is requested, it will take place in the county where this Agreement was signed or, if the Administrator determines that such location would be unfair to Purchaser, at a location reasonably convenient to Purchaser.

(e) Governing Law. This Arbitration Provision shall be governed by the Federal Arbitration Act (the "FAA") and not state arbitration laws, provided that Nevada law shall govern to the extent that state law is relevant under the FAA in determining the enforceability of this Arbitration Provision. The arbitrator shall follow applicable substantive laws, statutes of limitations and privilege rules related to any Claim. The arbitrator shall award the remedies, if any, that would be available in an individual court proceeding if arbitration had not been elected. Upon the timely request of any Bound Party, the arbitrator shall write a brief explanation of the grounds for his or her decision.

(f) Appeal of Arbitrator's Decision. Any court with jurisdiction may enter judgment upon the arbitrator's award. The arbitrator's decision will be final and binding, except for any appeal right under the FAA.

(g) Jury Trial Waiver. IF A BOUND PARTY ELECTS TO ARBITRATE A CLAIM, NO BOUND PARTY WILL HAVE THE RIGHT TO PURSUE THAT CLAIM IN COURT OR HAVE A JURY DECIDE THE CLAIM.

(h) Class Action Ban. NO BOUND PARTY MAY PARTICIPATE IN A CLASS ACTION IN COURT OR IN CLASS-WIDE ARBITRATION, EITHER AS A REPRESENTATIVE, CLASS MEMBER OR OTHERWISE, WITH RESPECT TO ANY CLAIM. NO BOUND PARTY MAY PARTICIPATE IN A PRIVATE ATTORNEY GENERAL PROCEEDING IN COURT OR IN ARBITRATION, WITH RESPECT TO ANY CLAIM. NO CLAIMS INVOLVING THE BOUND PARTIES MAY BE JOINED OR CONSOLIDATED WITH CLAIMS BY OR AGAINST ANY OTHER PERSON. Notwithstanding any language in this Arbitration Provision to the contrary, any dispute about the validity or effect of the above Class Action Ban shall be resolved by a court and not an arbitrator or the Administrator.

(i) Survival: Severability. This Arbitration Provision shall survive repayment of all amounts owed under this Agreement or the Note, the cancellation of this Agreement, any bankruptcy and any assignment of Seller's rights under this Agreement and/or the Note. If any part of this Arbitration Provision is unenforceable (other than the Class Action Ban), the remainder of this Arbitration Provision shall still apply. If the Class Action Ban is held to be unenforceable, this Arbitration Provision (other than this sentence) and any other arbitration provision between the Bound Parties shall be null and void in such proceeding, provided that the Company Party shall have the right to appeal any holding that the Class Action Ban is unenforceable.

20. MISCELLANEOUS:

Purchaser is advised to read each and every paragraph very carefully. No term, provision, condition, restriction, agreement, covenant, or obligation contained herein shall be deemed to have been abrogated or waived by reason of any failure by a party hereto to enforce the same, irrespective of the number of violations or breaches thereof that may occur. The exercise of any right or remedy provided by law and/or the provisions of this Agreement shall not preclude the exercise of other consistent rights or remedies unless they are expressly precluded hereby. Purchaser hereby grants Seller the right, in its sole discretion, to correct any scrivener's, typographic, or clerical errors in connection with this Agreement or any documents or instruments related hereto, provided that no such correction adversely affects any rights, benefits, or privileges afforded to Purchaser or materially alters any duties or obligations of Purchaser. To Whom It May Concern,

We have been disputing a membership and contracts with Diamond Resorts International and have attempted to contact them to resolve and cancel our contracts as they misrepresented the service and details of the timeshare during the presentations we attended which lead to the purchase of the timeshare. We acquired this timeshare relying upon the details given to us during the presentation. We have stopped payment on the contract and maintenance fees. We have contacted the company and have included the letter and copies of any other correspondences we feel applicable. We have received little to no response.

I am asking that your agency aid in obtaining a mutual agreement or release. We are willing to submit any and all communications we have received or sent and work with your offices to find a resolution as the timeshare company does not seem to be interested in doing so. Please contact me with any further questions and or suggestions.

Sincerely,

Drexel Collins, Jr.

We, Drexel Collins Jr and Allison Collins, are writing this letter to request cancellation of our contract number 1960058 & 2034207. We feel the information conveyed by your sales representatives, particularly during the follow-up conferences after our initial purchase had been made, were very misleading and have resulted in our dissatisfaction with our ownership.

The initial experience with Diamond was in Williamsburg, VA in which we were told by Chris Grant and almost another twelve salesmen. This was the longest three hour experience that we wish to never experience again. All of the information given to us seemed good but it was a short time before we discovered that it was not as it should be.

The problems really started when we were invited to attend additional conferences to keep us abreast of our ownership. Instead of making us aware of our property, we were pushed to purchase more points and more property in order to get more out of what we already had. We were told that our current point level would not or could not provide for us maximum usage of the resorts and were told that with only 5500 points we could remain "locked out" of the places we really wanted to go.

The first follow-up conference took place in Orlando in 2010. We voiced our concerns, but could never get anyone knowledgeable enough to answer our questions. The salesmen discussed with us our desire to visit more and better resorts at the times we wanted to vacation and told us how we could fix the problems we were experiencing. He explained to us that an upgraded purchase would be a financial investment for us as a family, as we would be able to travel whenever we needed and if we would take out a credit card would be able to offset our maintenance fees.

Following our purchase we continued to experience difficulty making reservations for the resorts we wanted, when we wanted to go. It seemed the upgraded purchase gave us no new benefits, as had been discussed, meaning it was just a waste of money.

Five years later we contacted Diamond asking to do something to lower the fees and or at least work out monthly installments. Sadly, our request fell on deaf ears as we were told flat NO.

Today we have a debt of more than $19,000.00, which is excessive considering the subpar service and vacation experience we received. We were told we could stay anywhere at any time...this did not happen. We have used the timeshare approximately 18 times since owning and have not been able to get reservations at the Royal Palm Beach Resort, St. Martin, or Hilton Head Island, SC.

We have tried, in vain, to get Diamond to assist us with these problems but the Resort has either lied to us about to fix the problems or avoided our requests altogether. Also, no representative who is knowledgeable about these procedures has been assigned to help us.

In addition to contract cancellation, we are seeking some type of financial refund.

Therefore, effective this date June 14, 2017, we are suspending all timeshare payments to Diamond. We are requesting an answer from Diamond within 30 days of this letter.

Sincerely,

Drexel Collins Jr.

Dear Mr and Mrs Collins,

I am writing in response to your recent communication with Diamond Resorts in which you request the cancellation of your account on the grounds that the contract was in some way misrepresented at the time of sale. Unfortunately, we are unable to grant this request for cancellation and I have explained the reasoning for this below. Whilst it is stated that you were 'locked out' of certain locations prior to your upgrade this is simply not the case and all members of Diamond Resorts have access to each and every one of our resorts. This is clearly acknowledged within your initial purchase documentation and there is no reservation preference based on membership level. Whilst more points do not give you access to different resorts they do of course give you more access as you have more points to spend, this therefore gives access to higher points value resorts. It is further stated that you have been unable to attain a reservation at the Royal Palm Beach Resort up until this point. I would though highlight that (at the time of writing) there are reservations available as soon as August 19th at this resort as evidenced below. In light of the above evidence and indeed the time between the purchase of this contract and your contact requesting relinquishment I would reiterate that we are unable to cancel this contract.

I hope that this helps to resolve this matter.

Kind regards
Russell Elliot

RE: 2034207

We would like to clarify our previous letter as it seems Diamond Resorts has again taken information and turned it to their advantage and not ours. We did not state that all communications should stop, rather that we demanded the phone calls stop and ALL communications further come in writing by mail or email. Please reference the letter again and read it carefully.

Mr. Elliott, Thank you for your response, BUT, let me get this straight. I send Diamond a letter notating that we were "locked out" of certain resorts. You state "Whilst it is stated that you were 'locked out' of certain locations prior to your upgrade this is simply not the case and all members of Diamond Resorts have access to each and every one of our resorts" then you go on to say "Whilst more points do not give you access to different resorts they do of course give you more access as you have more points to spend, this therefore gives access to higher points value resorts." This is completely contradicting what you just stated! And based on the sole fact that you say and show availability for one location.... you are denying our request? Perhaps the process in which you can see and book reservations is not the same as the one I, the owner, sees and endures. We have attempted to book there and MANY other places. My guess would be I could try to do so and would be told there is no availability. However I would also guess if I called in as a non member I could get any reservation I wanted and when I wanted. Please advise as to which story I am supposed to believe.

Sincerely Drexel & Allison Collins

Dear Mr and Mrs Collins,

I apologise that my email caused some confusion and can see how this would be construed to be contradictory but please allow me to clarify this. As we have literally hundreds of resorts available to our members, there is of course a vast spread of weekly and indeed nightly values attributed to them. There are also resorts that due to the location or other factors demand a high points value and are significantly higher than the average of our resorts. Whilst all of our members have the ability to book at each resort and in each unit type this is of course dependent on having the requisite points available. Therefore should a member not have the requisite points available for the minimum unit size in a given resort they would be unable to book but would not be actually locked out, just not able to provide the necessary points. I would advise that the availability that I checked was done utilising the same reservation screen as our members use to ensure that the availability is accurate. If you have any problems finding availability with specific resorts and believe this to be a system issue then we would always recommend contacting us so that we may remedy this and assist. With regards to rental bookings being made by non-members, please be assured that this inventory is owned and maintained by our developer and used in order to market Diamond Resorts and to increase our member base. This inventory is held entirely separately from that available to Club members and rental guests are not able to book Club Inventory.

I hope that this helps to clarify this issue.

Kind regards
Russell Elliot

To Whom It May Concern:

This letter is to inform you of my immediate request to cancel my timeshare with Diamond Resorts. I must admit, my experience has been truly disappointing and not at all what I was initially promised.

When we actually get to take advantage of a vacation, we always receive a phone call the morning after check in inviting us to an owner's update regarding newly acquired properties and features regarding our ownership status with the promise of a $100 gift card and discounted tickets to any nearby attractions. Then the upgrade conversations begin and it always focuses on purchasing more points. It has never been an information session only (as promised).

We believed our first upgrade with Diamond didn't sound too bad because at the time, we already owned 3000 points through our purchase with Sunterra, which had been newly acquired by Diamond. Because of this, they invited us to an owner's update so we scheduled a vacation. We increased our number of points at this time based on the promises made by your sales reps.

In 2010, we decided to take a vacation to the Grand Canyon using our Diamond points. The accommodations were beautiful, but we weren't too interested in upgrading until we went to the sales presentation and started talking about how we might be able to upgrade if Diamond acquired our paid off Westgate timeshare from us. Of course the rep was able to work something out, and of course, as a result of the new contract and more points, our monthly payments and maintenance fees increased. Then we were told that we would be able to use our points for items other than just lodging, such as car rentals, air fares, hotel stays, etc. We told the sales rep we never really had any need at that time to use our points for those items because my husband worked for United and we already received discounted airfare. But he promised he could do more.

In 2015, we upgraded to get closer to Gold status so that more benefits would become available to us, as promised by your sales rep. During that presentation, in order to "help" us with the down payment, we were offered a Barclays card with a low interest rate, an interest free promotion period, and the fact that points would build on that card which we could use to offset our maintenance fees. That card ended up having a 24% APR and the interest free period was only three months. There is no way I would use that card to build points AND offset our maintenance fees at 24%.

All of the promises made through these years with Diamond are all bogus. We were told we could pass this on to our children, but we don't want to straddle them with the annual maintenance fees. The value received when exchanging points for other items is non-existent. For example, I attempted to book a room for a weekend stay in Ocean City, Maryland earlier this year. Diamond wanted close to 10,000 points for a three night stay in a 4-star hotel. That number of points is close to half our annual point allotment! There is definitely no value and I don't see this getting any better for us.

Overall, each encounter with the Diamond's sales reps have left me wanting to run out of the room because they are very determined and aggressive when attempting to get us to purchase more points to "improve" our membership. We've always received promises that we would be able to travel to any Diamond resort and would have preferential treatment when requesting an exchange through Interval because of the power that Diamond owners have behind them in the system. I have tried to exchange into resorts in Ocean City, Maryland, but have never been successful. Another sales pitch used on us is the fact we live in New Jersey, retirement is around the corner, and we could "become snowbirds by using our points to stay in a timeshare during the winter months." The sales reps do not leave any stone unturned in their sales pitches!

Again, I am requesting a full refund and immediate cancellation of my timeshare contract. Please respond to my request within 30 days of receiving this letter.

Best regards,

Michael Mullins

Dear Michael L. Mullins and Winifred L. Howard-Mullins,

We here at hospitality management have been passed your details with regards to your concerns over your membership with us.

We are sorry to note your disappointment with your membership and this is certainly not what we want to hear from our members. With this being said we must advise that with every purchase you do make with us, you are provided with full purchase documentation which does detail every term and condition attached to your ownership - I have attached the documentation from your most recent purchase.

It also must be noted that upon your initial contact with our representatives you do have a meeting with our quality assurance team, who will go over the documentation with you and answer any questions you may have. From looking at your documentation from the date of purchase, we can see that you were happy with everything that was advised to you at the time of purchase and there was no questions relating to this purchase. With this being said if there was any specific points to your purchase that you relied on and they were not listed in the documentation- this was the opportunity to bring this up and the Quality Assurance team would ensure this is covered with the representatives.

Also attached to this purchase is a rescission period which allows you the time to study and ensure that this purchase is correct for you. With your purchase you did have a 10 day rescission period, which did give you the time to make contact with our teams at Diamond is there was any questions relating to your purchase.

With this being said we must advise that we are not in a position to cancel or amend your recent purchase with us due to the documentation being clear at the point of sale.

We are sorry that this may not be the response you were hoping for, however we trust this clarifies our position on this matter.

With Kind Regards

Ben

Attn: Ben Overfield

While I appreciate your speedy response to my letter dated August 28, 2017 requesting to cancel my contract, I feel as if I need to press the issue more. Your reason for denial does not cover any of my concerns I had listed.

Yes, we may be provided with full service documentation at the time of purchase, but you must know that while in these high-pressured meetings, the sales reps are pointing at where to sign and moving so fast they don't even give you time to read the documentation. And yes, there is a rescission period of 10 days but what we are unhappy with and the reason we want to cancel could not be determined within those 10 days – we weren't made aware of these problems and lies until we attempted to vacation or was actually able to vacation.

Please allow me to reiterate the reasons (the broken promises and lies) why we insist on cancelling this contract:

1. When we do get to take advantage of a vacation, we always receive a phone call the morning after check in inviting us to an owner's update regarding newly acquired properties and features regarding our ownership status with the promise of a $100 gift card and discounted tickets to any nearby attractions. Then the upgrade conversations begin and it always focuses on purchasing more points. It has never been an information session only (as promised).
2. We were told that we would be able to use our points for items other than just lodging, such as car rentals, air fares, hotel stays, etc. We told the sales rep we never really had any need at that time to use our points for most of those items because my husband worked for United and we already received discounted airfare. But he promised he could do more. This never happened.
3. In 2015, we upgraded to get closer to Gold status so that more benefits would become available to us, as promised by your sales rep. During that presentation, in order to "help" us with the down payment, we were offered a Barclays card with a low interest rate, an interest free promotion period, and the fact that points would build on that card which we could use to offset our maintenance fees. That card ended up having a 24% APR and the interest free period was only three months. There is no way I would use that card to build points AND offset our maintenance fees at 24%.
4. We were told we could pass this on to our children, but we don't want to straddle them with the annual maintenance fees – that part was never mentioned.
5. The value received when exchanging points for other items is non-existent. Diamond wants close to 10,000 points for a three-night stay in a 4-star hotel. That number of points is close to half our annual point allotment! There is definitely no value.

6. We've always received promises that we would be able to travel to any Diamond resort and would have preferential treatment when requesting an exchange through Interval because of the power that Diamond owners have behind them in the system. I have tried several times but have never been successful.

Your sales reps are very determined and aggressive during the upgrade process and will go to any lengths and promise anything to get a sale.

So I say again, I am requesting a full refund and immediate cancellation of my timeshare contract. If you can't do that, then we will seek a remedy elsewhere. We are hoping you will rescind your denial and see that we wouldn't have been under the impression that this was a financial investment and we would get what was promised if we hadn't been instructed that way by multiple Diamond reps.

Sincerely,

Michael Mullins

We are requesting immediate cancellation of our timeshare contract and mortgage loan. Janine and I feel as if we have been misled into upgrading several times with promises of more availability, more points and more opportunities – all of which has been a lie. The only thing we've received "more" of has been more maintenance fees.

Our initial purchase was into Grand Beach Resort in Florida. With this investment, we received dinner and passes at Disney World. This presentation was promised at 90 minutes and lasted about 5 hours.

In 1999, we added Cypress Point Property Resort in Florida because they told us we had to upgrade to fully use the system. This presentation lasted 6 hours.

In 2002, we rolled over into a points program at both resorts. We were told we had to move to fully use the system (again). This ended up being a 4 hour presentation.

In 2003, we upgraded into Sunterra Points. We had to buy more points to keep the program running since Embassy no longer had property. This upgrade took 7 hours!

In 2013, we upgraded to Diamond Resorts US Collection. We had to buy more points to move us into a higher level which promised us cruises, airfare, vacations, houseboats and help on maintenance dues. This meeting was very high-pressured and stressful. I was made to believe that I wasn't using the program we had to its full potential but, with some upgrades, and more money, this problem could be solved. In order to upgrade, we were told special permission was given to be able to take in what we currently had to upgrade. We were offered a Bank of America credit card to finance the down payment for the upgrade. We were promised they would show us how to use these new points so that we would never have to pay for travel expenses again! We were in this presentation for 7 – 8 hours. We were given extra bonus weeks which were never used. All the property was now in an international trust that could be passed on to our children. With this, we immediately had higher maintenance fees that we could never pay. Our 'Assessment per Point' is now over $4700 a year for the 19,000 points we have currently.

We are demanding that the monies paid for these upgrades be refunded and that you have not provided the terms and "perks" and or benefits promised. Instead, the few vacations we have been able to book have been booked with much difficulty and once we arrive we have been told we have to upgrade to continue using. This is a scam that is never ending as the level and usability are unreachable. Our contracts are to be terminated and our monies returned.

Thank you,

Adam & Janine Krachman, Member # 390738

Dear Mr and Mrs Krachman,

I am writing in relation to your recent contact with Diamond Resorts International in which you request the cancellation and refund of your contracts and membership. Unfortunately, these contracts are non-cancellable and we are unable to grant a cancellation or refund on the grounds presented. Whilst it is stated that the contracts were misrepresented, the only claims that are stated are that you would be subject to more availability and more points. As with any upgrade, increasing your points amount naturally increases the amount of inventory that you are able to book as you have more points at your disposal. You have stated that we have not honoured the 'benefits and perks' that were offered but there are no mentions of any specific benefits that were offered and as such we are unable to comment on this. In light of this, we are unable to grant a cancellation on your account. I hope that this helps to clarify this matter.

Kind regards
Russell Elliot

Dear Russell:

Thank you for reaching out to me with regards to my letter of complaint sent to your company earlier this month. I am very disappointed to see that you are not willing to fulfill my request for cancellation and refund of my ownership.

You mentioned in your response that my stated claims were that we were subject to more availability and more points. My stated claims were actually that the promises given by your sales staff were unkept as they were promised only to get me to upgrade and purchase more points. And in fact, the level and usability are quite unreachable. I was made to believe that I wasn't using the program we had to its full potential but, with some upgrades, and more money, this problem could be solved. The problem has yet to be solved. Each time we went on a trip, once we arrive we have been told we have to upgrade to continue using. We know this is unfair and untrue and a ridiculous sales tactic in order to make the sale. We were told countless times we had to purchase more points in order to keep the program running. It seemed as if we never had enough points!

All in all, I feel as if I was swindled. Had it not been for the lies and pressure put on by your staff, I never would have purchased the upgrades to begin with.

I don't want to waste any more time hashing this out with you if you're unwilling to look further into the problem and provide a favorable outcome. We are simply asking that because of the way we were coerced and lied to, that we can have our contracts cancelled and retrieve some of the money that we've paid into it. It doesn't seem like a good business practice to have your salesmen pushing a false idea onto people and then locking them into it forever. We aren't going to pay more money to get out of it, we just hope that in talking to Diamond that you will have some understanding and let us cut ties with the timeshare.

If you all can't do that, then we will seek a remedy elsewhere, but hopefully in your investigation you can see that we wouldn't have been under the impression that this was a financial investment and that we needed to continuously upgrade to be able to use if we hadn't been instructed that way by multiple Diamond sales staff.

Thank you,

Adam & Janine Krachman, Member # 390738

Dera Mr and Mrs Krachman,

As previously advised we remain unable to cancel your contract on the grounds presented. Whilst it is stated that you were promised further availability and are unable to achieve this there is no use of your account since your upgrade purchase. Had you contacted our reservations team in the meantime you would likely have benefitted from your membership far more. Unfortunately, your choice not to utilise this membership does not invalidate the signed contracts. I hope that this helps to clarify our position on this matter.

Kind regards
Russell Elliot

Mr Elliot: It clearly seems we are having a breakdown of communication. You are missing the reasons we are demanding cancellation. I'll summarize one last time in easier terms: We haven't been able to use - we can't get in touch with your sales staff for help and/or nothing is ever available. We never have enough points to go anywhere that is available - we are always told we must upgrade. When we do, the same cycle occurs. Your promised extra perks, benefits and promises are nowhere to be seen. My next step will be to send this over to the Attorney General and the BBB.

Dear Mr Krachman,

Please be advised that whilst one of the reasons that you have stipulated for you requesting cancellation is the benefits that were offered but not fulfilled, these benefits have not been specified. In order for me to investigate this further I would require that these are specified. In light of the other reasoning we would be more than happy to assist you in further utilising your membership and taking full advantage of the points that you have purchased. Should you require further help with this please don't hesitate to contact us again.

Kind regards
Russell Elliot

As stated, we will be contacting the BBB and Attorney General regarding this matter, along with anyone else we feel can help. We are no longer interested in continuing with this broken relationship. I stated my claims in my original letter of complaint as well as both disputes and you are failing to see our reason for requesting cancellation.

Dear Florida AG Pam Bondi,

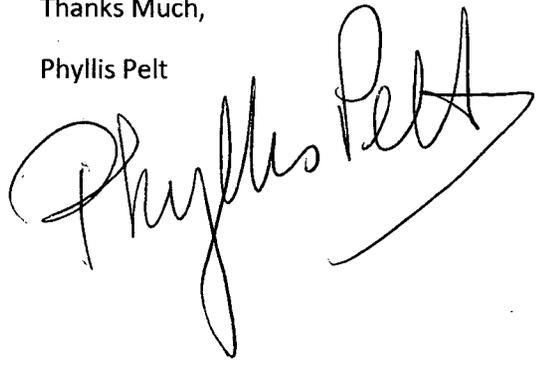

I apologize in advance for my attempts to send you information that describes a situation that has caused me and my husband much frustration. Since our situation covers 3 states – the one we live in – Illinois, the one where we made our latest attempt to “ exit” of time share, Missouri and the one where we own the time share – Florida, I have completed forms to the Attorney Generals of all three states.

We have been trying for the past several years to exit the Orlando Florida, Diamond resorts Time Share (AKA. Palms, Mystic Dunes) that we purchased and completely paid for in 1996. The maintenance fee which started at $150 per year, is currently 1,300 . AT the time of purchase I was actively involved in respite care for my elderly parents who are now deceased. Due to our health issues, family issues and well as our finances we can no longer use this time share. WE have even tried to give it away – but there is a cost to US to do that also.

In August of 2016, we tried to use Sum Day 3rd party exit team recommended Forever Grand Vacations in Branson Missouri but due to in appropriate requests from them we filed (but lost) a dispute for $2,361.00 we charged to Amerian Express. We are still stuck with the Orlando Time share and now we also have a FGV account that we nor our family members can use at the additional cost of $2,361.00 (LONG Story)

What do you recommend that senior citizens do in this situation? Can you recommend a way for us to exit this time share that cost us $17,000 – without paying any money up front? Please advise at your earliest convenience.

Thanks Much,
Phyllis Pelt

Please close this dispute against Forever Grand Vacation in our favor. FGV has sent you lots of ads showing the possibilities they offer their members. We were NOT members when the Branson vacation people offered us the discounted tickets and rates to local restaurants. We were already in Branson looking for something to do during a final attempt to get some benefit from our Diamond Resorts timeshare. So we followed up on one of many emails received after we had reserved our Branson vacation. The Branson vacation emails suggested ways to enjoy Branson at a savings – only a couple who had timeshares and certain incomes were eligible to use these perks. WE had no idea that these perks were conditions connected to purchasing a vacation package at FGV. The Branson vacation people that had their advertisements at the time share hotel we were staying in did say that we HAD to talk to the vacation planners BEFORE we could use any of the Branson perks – so when you see the dates and times of our use it seems as though these events were connected. They are NOT. We have NOT used anything FGV as offered since we charged the $2,361.00. They have bombarded us with almost daily emails from Aug 23,2016 until they learned that we were involved in the American Express dispute. The time share exit service that they verbally promised would help us exit seems to be a “bait and switch” activity. In hind sight we realize that almost every promise and discussion about helping us get rid of the time share was verbal and all of the stuff about ownership of FGV was written. We were not even given the name of the third party transfer company until we signed off on the FGV perks.

We clearly told everyone that we talked to at FGV that we were not healthy enough to use any of their services. They had that response covered by telling us to use 4 other people so that we could take advantage of their getting rid of our time share – so we came up with the names of 4 people (our adult children) in order to qualify for use of the time share exit service. The four people we listed also can not use FGV. We put their names down so we could qualify for the FGV third party time share exit plan.

When Danny Price called us on Dec 16, 2016 he said that the SunDay vacation time share exit team did not work for every one and that he was not aware that we would need to sign a blank form. He wanted to give us the name of another exit team that MIGHT work out. This again was a verbal promise. Extra fees would be involved with this other company- Time Share Cures of Branson. We googled this company and they sell time shares for $1 with a start fee of $850.00 to us with more closing and other costs involved. These extra fees were never part of the FGV conversation about exiting Time Share. We thought that the $2,361.00 paid to them would cover all of the timeshare related fees.

Since we did not use any of the FGV services we asked if we could cancel them and if necessary pay the $394 that FGV indicated was the cost of the restaurant and show tickets we used while in Branson. We paid the $55 for these package of tickets and thought that this was it – but apparently not. Mr. Price said – too late- there was pro- rating process and we would have to go through their Vacations Services international to liquidate the FGV contract. There would be a start fee of $400 and then we may get our money back – no promises. All of these agencies seem to be connected and the processing fees connected to them add up. Now we need money to pay the $1,400 maintenance fee to Diamond Resorts because this is required even if we want to donate the time share to a charity. This time share which has had names of Palm, Mystic Dunes and now Diamond Resorts had a maintenance fee of $150 when we bought the Palms Resort time share in 1996 in order to help us with caregiving of our parents who then lived in Orlando, Florida. Our parents are now dead and we have mental and physical challenges that keep us close to home. So there is no reason for us to be buying any kind of vacation pkg. We were truly “tricked.” If you look at our American Express record over the years we have paid our bills faithfully and on time. We are not trying to scam anyone. We are senior citizens who clearly need to STOP making certain types of financial decisions. This is what we have learned from this situation. We have filed a complaint with the Missouri Attorney General’s office and they were well aware of FGV and SumDay and have been investigating them for over 2 years because of what seems to be twisted information and lack of follow through on promises.

We can get documentation from our Memory Specialists doctor at Rush university with their recommendations for us to stay on regular schedules close to home. We tried to give our time share to our children but they did not want it. That is why we connected to the FGV in order to get rid of our Diamond Resort Time share as they indicated they could do for us – in a timely, seamless manner once we joined their program. As things progress after Aug 23rd we could see that this was not going to happen. Please, please settle this dispute in our favor.

Pelt, American Express dispute #L5y1583

In August of 2016, in an attempt to exit a Diamond Resort Timeshare we bought in Orlando Florida in 1996 to facilitate caregiving of my elderly parents who are now deceased, we responded to an email from "Save on Branson", 877-395-3085, that indicated that if we attended a 30 minute "preview" from (???) we would not only have a plan to exit out time share, but we would qualify for 3 shows while in Branson, at the low cost of $55. We agreed, the talk lasted over 2 hrs; We returned within the 3 days to cancel the "contract" but they lowered the original cost of adding a vacation plan and insisted that we were making a BIG mistake not to take advantage of their "nameless" exit time share services.

We did not get a copy of the form that shows the charge of $750 that had to be paid to "nameless" 3rd party exit team. The $750 charge for this process has not shown up on any of the paper work that FGV submitted to American Express when we participated in a LONG process to try to dispute what was promised from what we received. We later learned that the things that we signed and initialed did not match what the reps at Forever Grand Vacations told us. The real "deal breaker" was when Sun Day Vacations, the 3rd-party exit team that FGV connected us to ONLY after we joined their vacation club, sent us forms - 10 days or so after we returned home, that included an Enforceable Payment agreement that was totally blank. We called and they said if we did not want to sign this - the deal was "off". We FGV was able to win the dispute with AE because all the paper work they submitted looked like we have used their services. We could not prove that we did not. WE could not prove that the $750 that was to go to the 3rd party exit team was NOT returned to us from the $2,361.00 that FGV charged us for their vacation plan etc - that we only signed up for in order to "qualify" to exit our Diamond Resort Time Share. This 2 bedroom time share in Orlando is completely paid for and our assessments which rose from $150, to $1,300 are also paid for - until Jan 2018. WE hope we can at least get the $750 back from FGV - we know we have lost the other money. Add us to the senior citizens that have learned another lesson the hard way.

To Whom It May Concern,

We have been disputing our ownership with Diamond Resorts and have requested all contracts be canceled, that we no longer be held to any future obligations, and that the money we have paid for this useless ownership be refunded. We have attempted to resolve this issue with the Timeshare company directly by sending a letter of complaint but have had no response.

What had started out as a hope to find a vacation/housing spot has become an expensive mistake. We were offered multiple gifts to lure us into these presentations that lasted longer than advertised and later these presentations became mandatory. Several times we had said "No" to an upgrade and to going from our deeded week into the point system but the salesmen would draw out the meetings and bring out their "supervisor" to offer us something better. This was really just a tactic to pressure us further into a purchase. We have had no advantage in our booking power to get more desirable accommodations as was promised. Even when we voiced our disappointment with our accommodation or with the overall Timeshare we were simply told we needed to upgrade.

We are asking that your agency aid us in resolving these issues. We are wanting to fully cancel our contract and ownership with Diamond Resorts based on the high-pressure sales tactics, misinformation we were given and their complete lack of customer service. This ownership has given us no benefits to traveling as they had promised. We are including the original letter of complaint that we sent to Diamond and please feel free to get in touch with us for any further questions.

Sincerely,

To Whom It May concern:

We are Mark and Deborah Lewis and we are writing this letter as a formal complaint with Diamond Resorts ownership. Below is an account of our experience.

During a getaway in Virginia Beach, we were looking for available vacation/housing spots. We entered an information stand on the Boardwalk. The clerk asked us what we were interested in and we told him we were looking for information on vacation spots. He recommended and gave us a voucher for us to visit Gold Key. On 2/24/14, we went to the Gold Key office and we were informed that we would have to sit through a 90-minute presentation and would receive a total of $150 in gift cards. Ron Herrod, our sales rep went through the presentation, asking how much money we spent on vacations, the top 3 vacation places that we would like to go and showed us a catalog of various destinations. He asked if we had children/grandchildren and that we could leave it to them. He stated that this was an excellent investment and would save us money for vacations and would not have any trouble scheduling our vacations. He used various trips as examples. Based on our answers, he gave us a price for a 1BR and 2BR. The benefits of the 2BR he claimed, that we would be able to use one side of the 2BR and rent out the other side since there was a connecting door that would allow us to use the rooms separately. After the comparison and almost 2 ½ -hours later, we were told the purchase price of $16,995, with $1,700 down and then we were taken to fill out the paperwork.

During check-in in May 2016 at Mystic Dunes in Florida, we were offered discount coupons for Disney/Universal Studios to sit through a 90-minute presentation, which we accepted. The saleslady discussed the advantages of switching from our Deeded week to the Point system. We explained we did not want to convert and wanted to remain at our Deeded Week. She left the room and returned with her supervisor and he presented us two different options regarding the new Point system. Both options were Sampler packages of different prices and points. The Sampler would allow us to sample(experience) how the point system worked and see the benefits without totally revising our contract. It was strongly expressed to us the advantage of the Point system would give us more booking power/access which we felt we needed due to the non-availability of several destination request.

The offer that was deemed appropriate for us was the 6,900 points for $3,000. It was not told to us during the presentation that every time we booked a stay using the Sampler, We would have to sit through another presentation. At a required presentation at our May 2017 vacation in Daytona, we expressed our displeasure in our Timeshare and wanted to know what our options were, specifically if we could sell/give back the timeshare? I informed him that our current hotel room was not desirable (beside 1st floor trash room and main entrance) and asked the Hotel clerk for a room change, which we were not accommodated. Our salesman, Rick stated that we would not receive "Prime" rooms or locations because we were still on/a part of the old plan and not the point system. We needed to let our Timeshare work for us. It could pay for itself and our maintenance fees. We were promised primary booking dates. This could happen by renting it out. He gave us different scenarios with him managing this for us as our personal advisor. This was a tempting; however, we did not accept the offer.

We have been pressured with overly long sales pitches, told that this would be an investment, and come to realize that Diamond Resorts and their sales people grossly over promise and underdeliver. We are requesting that you send us the appropriate forms to cancel our ownership, any further obligation and that the amount paid be refunded. Our contract number is 383144 and our member number is 1013777.

To Whom It May Concern:

We have sent a letter requesting cancellation of our contracts and membership with Diamond Resorts International and received little response. The response we did receive was not favorable. I have attached the correspondence between us so you may see the reasoning behind our request. We feel there may have been some deceptive trade practices done to coerce us into purchasing with Diamond. We are asking your agency to help us in cancelling our membership. We have stopped all payments as we have made it very clear we'd like a resolution in this matter.

We hope that with your help, we'll be able to come to a favorable solution.

Cordially,

Rita Pledger Lane

To Whom It May Concern

My name is Rita Lane and I would like to terminate my membership number 561600140092 with Diamond Resorts International. I feel there was misrepresentation when I was approached to sign up with your company. I was misled in believing that the opportunity offered to me would be in my best interest. It has become an unaffordable luxury I cannot continue to enjoy. I have become disenchanted with using the properties you offer. I feel there might have been some deceptive trade practices done.

Sincerely,

Rita Lane

We are in receipt of your letter regarding your request for a cancelation of your account. Our account records indicate that your most recent purchase was for 12500 points in the US Collection on December 8th, 2015.

We regret to hear of your dissatisfaction regarding your account. The letter that you wrote us did not provide sufficient information to address your claims and we would not be able to approve your request for a cancelation. If you would like to provide additional information, we would be happy to review your request at a later time.

We appreciate your time and patience.

Respectfully yours,

Dear Diamond:

Sirs,

We are writing in regards to our ownership. We have a contract that we upgraded to in 2008 and 2013. Previously we obtained our ownership and were Silver members but we were told we couldn't use it unless we upgraded to Diamond due to the lack of points we needed to use the ownership. When we tried to use the timeshare we couldn't. When we tried to book a room after becoming Diamond members we were told there was nothing available.

The reps, Jerry Hill and Eric Rivera both never mentioned the increases in maintenance fees or that they would be almost as much as the monthly payments. They told us we were grandfathered into the point system and that the sell-out had changed the system to points. The sell-out happened in 2011 and we received an email from Steven Cloobek about it. I wrote a letter earlier this year and sent it to Diamond. A Shelby Knapp sent a reply that we did not provide enough details.

The details are that we are not interested in remaining owners with Diamond. We demand that the ~~upgrades be terminated and the first timeshare be terminated as well. We demand our money be~~ returned as well for the mortgage and maintenance fees for the upgrade. The reps were not truthful with us and made us think this was a good investment but it isn't. We have only used the ownership a handful of times and most of those times was before Diamond was involved. Now that Diamond is involved there is never anything available and the fees only increase every year.

Regards,

Rita Pledger Lane

Adria,

You state that "In every interaction you have with us the continued service will always remain to provide all Members, Owners and Guests with a memorable vacation experience... HOWEVER, Diamond CANNOT provide me the dates, locations, and experiences I was told I could have. FURTHERMORE, you state "Failure to use the Vacation Ownership Points will not relieve you from your obligation to the Association" which again leads me to my point that I have not used the points because Diamond cannot provide the dates, locations, and experiences that I was promised I could have. Diamond has breached its contract. Diamond has failed to uphold its obligations. And in light of this Diamond expects ME to pay for and be obligated to Diamond regardless of NOT being able to use what I have already paid for, MANY TIMES OVER! Please explain how this makes sense.

Best Regards, *****

Good Morning,

Please note that the purchase made December 08, 2015 for 12,500 points did alleviate the obligation of having to pay for the Mystic Dunes maintenance fees also. In essence, you are paying for less since you only have points now. Respectfully, we must remain firm with the contractual agreement as there was no infraction. We hope this correspondence provides you with the clarification you are seeking. In every interaction you have with us the continued service will always remain to provide all Members, Owners and Guests with a memorable vacation experience so that you may continue to Stay Vacated.™ Failure to use the Vacation Ownership Points will not relieve you from your obligation to the Association. As such, you are obligated to pay the dues each year. Failure to pay the Loan may result in an increased rate of finance charges to the maximum lawful rate under applicable law, as noted in the Truth In Lending Disclosure. Refusal to pay the fees assessed with this agreement will result in Default. Per the Fair Debt Collection Policy Act Diamond Resort International® must report accurate information to your Credit Bureau.

Dear Sirs/Madam:

I am requesting your agency assist in my dispute and cancellation with Diamond Resorts. I have attached correspondence showing the back and forth between myself and their representatives. I have asked for my contract and membership to be cancelled due to the many untruths and empty promises and I have gotten nowhere. It seems they do not want to address my concerns or even the main issue at hand. At this point, I just want out. If they can't keep their word, or help me to fix the issue, I no longer want to be a part of this crooked organization.

Please contact me if you need anything else from me.

Dear Sirs,

In 2013 I attended a meeting at a resort in Branson, MO and purchased a sampler package that I was happy with and used. In 2015 I attended a 60 minute presentation that involved three agents and two hours of my time. I wanted to purchase my father in law's timeshare that once I made the purchase of 7500 points, was to be added to my account. I went back to Mystic Dunes a few weeks later and took the papers for my father in law's contract. There were several people involved during this meeting as well and I had to obtain Silver status to have my father in law's timeshare added to my account, meaning another 5000 points. In October 2015 I went to a dinner for Diamond Holders in which it was another sales pitch. This time they told me I needed Gold status and somehow played with the financing enough to qualify me to purchase. This was another 10,000 points.

I attended another two meetings during trips taken and the reps used the same verbage to try to induce more purchases. Even though I explained many times that I did not want to purchase, that I could not afford to purchase and that I did not wish to have more fees incurred, they pushed and at one meeting made me so angry I walked out. They advised me to abandon my Welk ownership and accept a hardship and refinance with Diamond to make my payments lower. This was ridiculous! I was told that upon my death my heir would be able to take this ownership at no cost to them. At this point and time, I have yet to obtain my father in law's timeshare as I intended and so I cannot believe that anything I have been told is true.

I feel stuck and somewhat perturbed as I was misled by Diamond. These update meetings your company asks people to attend are a farce and last for hours with the sole intent of making a sale rather than informing owners of new resorts etc.

I will not be continuing with your company and further more demand a full refund of my money totaling almost $72,000.00 and that my contracts be cancelled on the basis of misrepresentation and fraud. I am tired of the lies and deception your company so arrogantly displays. I will be awaiting your response and want an investigation launched within your company as I have read online that there are many claims against Diamond at this time as well as lawsuits found favorably for the consumers.

Subject: Regarding your letter dated June 30, 2017

Dear Mrs. Ruggles:

We thank you for contacting Diamond Resorts International® (Diamond). This email is in response to your letter dated June 30, 2017. AS we are unable to reach you by phone, we are replying via email. First and foremost, we regret to hear that you wish to cancel your Membership. We have reviewed your contracts and we do not show where we advised that your father's account would be transferred and placed into your account. In addition, we have reviewed the notes and there is no indication that this was supposed to take place. Have you mentioned this prior to now? If so, who did you speak with directly? Please let us know. You would have to complete a transfer document for this to happen. As this is a family transfer, you would be able to add your father's contract into your account. We would just need to be certain that your father's account was paid in full, the maintenance fees up to date and any other verification processes. There is a $250.00 transfer fee, as well. In your letter, you mentioned that your heirs would inherit your ownership and this is true; however, there is paperwork that would need to be completed. Please let us know how we can be of assistance. We understand that the presentation can be lengthy and there is an immense amount of information provided; however, we cannot cancel based on the information you have provided, as we do not have any documentation that this was to take place. If you can provide us with documentation, we will review this further for you. In the contract, there is a document that asks why you purchased the contract today and you did not mention the transfer of your father's account as a reason for the purchase. Your reasons for purchasing on the most recent contract was to visit Australia, Cruise, nice accommodations, worldwide and helpful. Please understand that you are not obligated to make a purchase. This was solely your decision, as you are able to leave at any time. Diamond does not wish to place our members in a financial situation that would hinder them. We would not be aware of any circumstances that would stop you from being able to afford this, unless you decided not to purchase. We were unable to reach you by either numbers on your account, as the voicemails are both full. If you would like to provide any additional information, you can simply respond to this email, or contact me at 1-702-473-7645 Ext. 77907 and I am happy to assist you further.

Respectfully,

I do not wish to be contacted by phone as I already am receiving an excess of calls from Diamond as it is demanding payment.

You further state that you do not show where the accounts would be transferred to one account. Please refer to the notes that should be on and in your files as all of this was discussed and was made very clear as already indicated above. Furthermore, you indicate it was my father, which obviously you misread as it was my father-in-law. As you also misread or didn't read at all, I did indicate this at consecutive meetings and brought the papers to Diamond. Furthermore, you want me to pay additional fees to transfer the accounts? What part of the letter I already sent did you read? I have already paid for this to happen and it didn't. You indicate that the reasons above are not enough to offer a cancellation. Please do inform me of what justifies a cancellation. Had I recorded the conversations myself or taken a video of what I have already endured I wouldn't be corresponding with you.

August 3, 2017

I will not be continuing with your company and further more demand a full refund of my money totaling almost $72,000.00 and that my contracts be cancelled on the basis of misrepresentation and fraud. Dear Mrs Ruggles,

I am writing in relation to your recent contact with Diamond Resorts International in which you again request the surrender of your account on the grounds that it was misrepresented at point of sale. I would refer you to previous communication with my Colleague Jessica Levine who has addressed the issues raised and advised that we would not be able to cancel your account on the grounds presented. I would also highlight that subsequently you have only reiterated your request and not provided any further reasoning for this cancellation request. In light of this our position on the matter remains the same and we consider this matter closed.

Dear Sirs:

Please find enclosed my letter to cancel a time share deal that was beyond misleading and just full of lies.

I can see on this business gets the black eye it has; they are very dishonest and just wanted to copy you to see what can of business is operating in your state.

It seems under Fl. Law I do have a right to cancel.

Thank you.

To Whom It May Concern:

This is to inform you of my cancellation of Plan# 17816763S.

This whole process was based on lies and dishonesty. During the presentation Joshua was not pressing a hard sell at all; at the end I said we were in the area because I will be retiring and we were looking for a home and didn't wish to commit funds to anything until we found a home. At this point another guy comes over and the price is reduced and the package explained, I still was not interested. Finally, at this time Charlie comes over and says I can give you an opportunity to try us out for 24 months for $936.00 or $39.00 per month. I said this sounded too good to be true and was told no this was something he could do to let us try it out and if we liked we could buy at the end of the 24 months. I again said this sounded too good to be true but for that price we would give it a try. At this point in time Charlie comes back with a credit card application I asked why that was needed because I didn't need another credit card nor did I want anything to impact my credit score. I was told that this was the only way to get the deal done. So, after all this Charlie comes back with all kinds of paperwork and says sign here and here and here reads some of the stuff to me and then gives me copies in an envelope

I had appointments all afternoon with real estate folks so didn't get an opportunity until later that night to read everything. Upon doing so I find out that I signed for $3,995.00.

I truly don't know how Diamond can stay in business conducting itself in an environment of lies and having staff present dishonest information.

This is way I'm copying the Florida State Attorney General on this letter.

So, again, I'm writing you to inform you of my cancellation of Plan# 17816763S which I have included a copy of the cover sheet along with the receipt of the credit card for $3,995.00. I also do not need your Diamond Resorts MasterCard!

Sincerely yours,

Dear Madam Attorney General:

I have had a continual problem with Diamond Resorts International Diamond Resorts Holdings LLC. 3865 W. Cheyenne Ave. North Las Vegas NV 89032, for over a year now. There has been considerable difference between what was represented and what was reality. Even after E-Mail complaints and written complaints were registered with the company, marketing representatives continued to call and send text messages. Whenever we book a stay we are literally coerced into attending a sales presentation misrepresented as "Owner Updates" and are treated rudely if we decline. We were given what was referred to as reward stays and were told there was no requirements to use them. However when we scheduled one the reservation representative misrepresented the addition of a day added due to a special sale. It was in fact an extra day for promotions that required attendance in a sales presentation. The sales representative was extremely rude and belittling when we declined purchase. We could not leave until another agent got us "checked out" or we would have to pay for the extra "free" night. That agent also gave us another sales presentation. Each time we were told the presentations would be 45 minutes, however, one time we were in the meeting for 5 hours.

I have enclosed a separate list of the things that were misrepresented to us in order to sell the time share. However the one that bothers us the most is that the time share was represented as "Real Estate" and would be legally equal to any other Real Estate. When we attempted to sell or refinance we learned that no bank or credit union will consider a time share as Real Estate. Thank you for your attention and any assistance you may be able to offer.

Sincerely

Dear Stephen J. Cloobek CEO:

Even after my letter (see copy) we continually get harassed to attend sales meetings. Every time we book a stay or redeem our rewards stays we get phone calls and text messages as well as intimidating responses at the resort itself. We have written a number of times only to have the SALES department call and attempt to sell us more points. This is beyond unacceptable. We have now started to consider legal action. Every time we have been called, we had to agree to the call being recorded so perhaps you and your staff should review them. Partial list of calls to me. November 20 –November 21—Text message 10/23/17 Plus every time we have booked a stay.

Lies we were told by sales representatives.

September 2015, Daytona Sales was the first. Literally after over 5 hours of pressure by one of the sales staff we agreed to purchase a sampler package. This was the first in a line of misrepresentations. We were told that Diamond would finance the purchase. I told the representative I did not want another credit card. He told me we would not get a credit card. About 2 weeks after we arrived back home we received a Diamond Credit Card with the purchase of the introductory package. At the same time it was explained to us that the points we received were restricted to limited resorts and good for only 18 months, however, if at a later date we decided to purchase standard points the introductory points would be converted and would be used just like standard points.

May 25, 2016, During a trip to Mystic Dunes we were given what was a special deal to purchase 2500 points which would not only save the unused introductory points but allow us to postpone using the points until the following year. We agreed to this but during that year I had major surgery and was unable to travel during recovery. However when we attempted to book a trip we found that the points had not been forwarded to the following year but were about to expire counter to what we were told. After a lot of hassle we contacted Diamond Hospitality Management.

Again when we booked a trip to Mystic Dunes and was dragged into a mandatory sales meeting, in August 18 2016 we were considering using our points toward a cruise with Norwegian Cruise Line as during the May meeting we were told that Diamond was partnered with them, however the representative told us it was not possible to do so. The sales representative offered a discounted purchase of 6000 points, and as an incentive offered a Dream Holiday however, failed to explain that we had to wait until $2500 was paid into the system and then we had a window of only 3 month's so we went in April. Not the best time for us.

January 23, 2017 Dawn had extensive medical procedures in St. Petersburg so we decided to stay at Mystic Dunes to cut travel time and was "offered a Luau" which turned out to be a Membership Meeting.

February 27, 2017, when we booked a trip to Beachwoods Resort at Kitty Hawk North Carolina again we told the desk clerk we did not want to go to a sales meeting. However, we were told it was not a sales meeting but that they wanted an evaluation of their approach. That was an outright prevarication and worse yet the sales representative attempted to have us buy now, and then get our contract refinanced by our bank or credit union when I told him that we did not have the monthly income for the purchase. When we got home we contacted both of our credit unions and a few banks and learned they would not finance the timeshare unless we put a home up for collateral. Had we done what he suggested we would have been stuck with payments that we would not have been able to pay.

To Whom It May Concern,

We, Pamela & Kevin Delehanty are reaching out to your agencies regarding our current dispute with Diamond Resorts. We have been disputing our case with Diamond since December 7th, 2017 and have had no response from them. We know that typically their offices take about 30 days to respond and that we just had two major Holidays that may have delayed their response, however we would like to settle this matter as soon as is possible. We have sent a formal letter of complaint that outlines our issues and desire to cancel our ownership with them(We have included a copy of this letter). Our account is considered paid in full and we are simply wanting to do the right thing, by surrendering our ownership and contract(s) with them. Based on the grounds that this ownership was not as advertised to us at the point of sale and that we have been harassed by them almost every step of the way with this ownership. Any assistance your agency can offer will be of great help. Our contact information is below, should you need to reach out to us with advice and or further questions.

Sincerely,

Pamela A. & Kevin M. Delehanty

To Whom It May Concern,

We are Pamela and Kevin Delehanty this letter is to act as our formal complaint regarding our Diamond Resort International membership. In this letter we have included a summary of how we came to purchase Timeshare and about our experiences with Diamond and their salespeople.

In September of 2009 we had responded to an ad on eBay that included a 2009 banked week with Interval International. We won the auction for $1.00 and then proceeded faxing and emailing documents back and forth to DSP Consulting Services, LLC. The property address was listed as Liki Tiki Village, Unit 306C, Week 35. The Compliance Agreement was done through Title Outlet, Inc. 2710 Rew Circle, Suite 300, Ocoee, Florida 34761 (407) 877-9295; Fax (407) 877-9728. The Property Description: 2 Bedroom, 2 Bath, Fixed, Week, Every Year, Buyers Occupancy is for 2009 and is available to buyer via free 2009 Interval International banked week available to new owner. The Purchase and Closing Costs: Purchase Price: $1.00 Closing Costs paid by-BUYER-$250.00, Transfer fee paid by-BUYER-$125.00, 2009 Maintenance Fee Due-$0, Total amount due including all costs to be sent to Title Outlet, Inc.: $376.00. Amounts paid by on in Behalf of Buyer: $385.00. Cash at Settlement from/to Buyer: Cash to buyer $9.00. We enjoyed using this timeshare beginning in April 2010, and thereafter. Then due to us looking into moving out of state we had banked 2012 and 2013, which we then used in June of 2014. We enjoyed paying about $700.00 for a vacation for 4 in a 2-bedroom, 2-bathroom Condo/Apt. It was a God send being with my husband and two boys and having a full kitchen to help with our family budget. It was a win, at least a win while it lasted. We really liked the whole timeshare idea. It was very easy to navigate back then.

To start from the beginning, we were first contacted via email by Susan Moratelli from Diamond Resorts on 6/15/2014, about our future arrival at the Cove at Ormond Beach. In the emails, she stated, that she was our family's personal concierge for our entire stay, etc. She then asked if we had any special requests, etc. I responded with my request to have rooms with an ocean view and that a welcome basket be placed in our friend's room. They were meeting us there, but were arriving the day before. Apparently, this email communication was pointless because we only got one room with an ocean view and no welcome basket was ever given to our friends. So, we ended up treating them for dinner instead!

Before heading to Daytona, we used one of our bank weeks for Bryan's Spanish Cove Resort in Orlando, Florida. The saleswomen at this resort tracked us down every morning and evening, wanting us to hear all the great stuff that was happening with our timeshare. We had explained to her that we were looking forward to hearing about the great news, but had already purchased Disney Park Hopper Passes for 7 days, and we just didn't have the time to attend the meeting. We finally told her that we will certainly check it out when we would be at The Cove in Ormond Beach in Daytona the following week. When we arrived at The Cove at Ormond Beach in Daytona we had to wait in line to check in and were then approached by someone other than Susan. She asked us to join in a designated area for some punch and some afternoon snacks. At first, I was thinking that our room was not ready and that they were feeling bad that we had waited in line for some time to check in. Plus, there was several maintenance people working and making a lot of noise in and around the lobby area as well. We overheard others talking with her about all the new renovations that have been happening with all the Resorts and when she came back over to us, she said that she wanted to get us on the schedule to hear about all the exciting news with the resorts. Plus, we would be entitled to gift, a $100 gift card, just for attending the presentation! She claimed it would most definitely be worth our while. After spending a week in Disney, the $100.00 sounded good to us. We arrived at the newly remodeled Daytona Beach Regency at 9am on Monday, June 23rd, 2014 (which was so much nicer than the Cove) where we were escorted up to a presentation room full of gorgeous vacation photos and were offered coffee and breakfast items. Our two boys were then taken into a playroom across the hall, while we took a tour of a suite with a lock-out room. It was stunning. Decorated to the max. Nothing like the 70's and 80's decor we were used to in the other timeshare resorts we had been staying at the past few years. We then headed back to the high-pressure presentation room.

This is where things started to turn. We were seated at a small table and then greeted by Jason Abdela. Behind Mr. Abdela was a map on the wall, with thousands of colorful pins all over the different continent's. He first asked, "where would you love to go on vacation?" He also asked where we had been in the past. We told him about Tahiti, St. Lucia and The Atlantis in the Bahamas and that we would love to go back there. He then pointed to the Bahamas and said, that's one of our properties! (Which we later learned was a complete lie) He kept pointing at all the areas on the map, telling us that we could go to without having to try and reserve it on Interval International(II) and save on exchange fees. We were then advised that Diamond Resorts International had obtained our timeshare company with the Liki Tiki Resort back in January of 2013. And that selected owners had received a buy-in offer from Diamond at that time via email. He asked us if we remembered getting one and my husband and I didn't recall receiving such information. This was brand new information to us. We then told Mr. Abdela that we had only just learned that something was going on, while we had been in Orlando. He then told us that Diamond Resorts had obtained all the Island One and Club Navigo properties and will oversee it from now on. Mr. Abdela then called someone over to consider seeing if we could be offered the buy-in deal. This was making us believe that it was only for a very select few, or that only the VIP's were offered a buy-in. (We knew we were not VIP, living paycheck to paycheck). We were then given a brief story about the founder of Diamond Resorts, Steven Cloobek. About how he buys small timeshare companies and completely remodels them. We were then asked if we had seen him on the show, Undercover Boss. At this point we were thinking that this was great! We had spent $1.00 plus closing cost (purchased through eBay) combined with an average of under $500.00 of annual maintenance, that we had hit the jackpot! But, then we soon learned it was no jackpot. In order to continue enjoying our timeshare, we would have to sell them our week with the Liki Tiki and become members of Diamond Resorts. They explained that we would no longer have a fixed week, that they work on a points system and the lowest membership is the silver membership which is 15,000 points. They, then went on to explain how we didn't have to use all the points at once, we could do a weekend or two, plus a week's vacations, etc. They then continued to boast about having our own personal travel agent at our fingertips and that all we had to do was go on the website or give them a call to tell them what we were planning to do or needed, such as hotel, airline tickets, car rental, etc. and they will find it for us... etc.

This sounded great, since our boys are year-round swimmers and we must travel a lot. Finally, after getting a very lengthy explanation on how the point system worked vs. fixed, floating, bi-annually, etc. My husband and I were getting a bit anxious that we hadn't found out anything about the buy-in, knowing that we most likely couldn't afford the membership anyway. At this point, we had been there for well over 2 hours, and we were sure that our boys were probably wanting to head to the beach. Our sales representative finally advised us that the smallest membership was in and around $50,000.00. This was completely unbelievable, something that we had enjoyed once a year with our boys for about $700(which was about half of the going weekly rate at most of the properties), with Liki Tiki timeshare. But, then he stopped and said, that we are forgetting that they will be buying our current timeshare from us, etc. At one point a woman came over and said, that we were offered the buy in, but they can't seem to find the number that we were offered. She then handed me a plain piece of paper with their logo on top and asked that I write a letter to them so that she can fax it to corporate. I then proceeded to write the letter, I gave it to her. She returned saying she just faxed it and handed me back the letter with a stamped FAXED on it. She asked us to sit tight and offered us some coffee or water, while they waited to get a response. We proceeded to tell Mr. Abdela, that we are never going to be able to afford it, since we just purchased a home in North Carolina, and would be closing on it on June 29th. That we just borrowed the down payment from my mother and was only putting down 10%. We were taking on a pretty large mortgage and probably wouldn't even qualify even if they were to offer us financing. He then called over Ms. Miranda, who really brought her A game, with her high-pressure sales tactics, and then began pulling on heart strings about being forced to take family vacations, about our boys only being young for so long. And then telling us that down the road we could upgrade the membership, that the boys could use it and so on and so on. Well, they finally came back with an offer saying that they understood our situation but then asked us if we really wanted to lose out on this opportunity.

Our previous Timeshare was now basically obsolete and if we didn't take this offer we would have nothing. Then our representatives talked about how many timeshare companies had done away with weeks and had converted to points. This would allow us to use the points in many ways, etc. Mr. Abdela excused himself for a minute. We took this time to discuss the offer. Everything sounded great and all, but we just can't do it. Upon his return he claimed that he had to pull some strings to get us this offer and that they never do this. He told us that he completely understood that the smallest membership was a reach for us and that he had worked out something so that we didn't lose our timeshare. At this point, we are all over drained of thought and energy. He had come up with us buying 9,000 points just so that we could keep vacationing, that they can deeply discount that with the release of our Liki Tiki week. We really didn't want to lose what we had come to love. (2 bedrooms, 2 bathrooms, living room, kitchen with a full-size refrigerator, stovetop, oven, microwave, toaster, blender, all the necessary utensils like forks, knives, corkscrew and bottle opener. Always more than one TV, and sometimes a screened in porch, patio or deck!) That sure beat any 4+ star hotel in my MOMMY BOOK. The thought of us having to spend our vacations in a regular hotel room, with all of us having to share a bathroom, bedroom and a TV for a week. After about 5 hours of this presentation we just had to figure out a way to not lose this! But it truly wasn't easy by far!!!!

After making this purchase into Diamond we have gone on to the website and called customer service since 2014, and could never find something available worth vacationing at. Especially since we have two school aged boys, who are both year-round swimmer and have limited time to take vacations. Back in 2014/2015 their website was difficult and confusing to navigate. Finally, we had opted to call their customer service to speak to a live representative and would wait on hold for sometimes up to a 1/2 hour. Sometimes we would even get disconnected once reaching someone and had to call back all over again. We would let the representative know what our availability was, and they would offer us places like Blue Ridge Village in Banner Elk, NC, Peppertree in NC or SC, Polynesian Isles FL, Cypress Point, FL to name a few. Many of these hotels on average are $150/$199 a night, so why if we were paying maintenance of over $2,500 a year, would we want to stay somewhere that we could reserve for a lot less. We had invested well over $32k in charges and fees to be a part of Diamond Resorts, so what was the point of this ownership? They would tell us about St. Maarten, that would cost us about $3600-$4000 in airfare and travel expenses for a family of four, just to get there. That's why we were excited to receive a call letting us know that they will be having a Diamond Dinner VIP Event in Charlotte North Carolina. We were informed that while we would be enjoying our dinner, a membership specialist will host a two-hour Owner Updated timeshare presentation during which we will have an opportunity to ask questions regarding our vacation ownership. That the specialist will also explain all the new and exciting things happening with DRI. For attending this meeting, we would receive a Diamond Relaxation Reward Certificate, for the following Diamond Dream Holiday destinations, Branson, Missouri, Las Vegas, NV, Lake Tahoe, California, Williamsburg Virginia, Scottsdale, Arizona, and Sedona, Arizona. We arrived on time, and were greeted, handed name tags and escorted to a table for just us, with one chair on the opposite side. We listened to the specialist for about 15 to 20 minutes, there was a slideshow presentation as well. She talked about points costing $8.28 each, and that the prices go up every 90 days. If anyone wanted to upgrade their membership today, they will be given an 18-month protection and would receive a free tablet loaded with all the material you will need to plan your vacations! They then opened the floor for questions and several of us asked many. But, they were very brief and told us that we will be able to ask these questions to our individual trained DRI vacation specialist that would be joining us at our tables.

From that point on it was a high-pressure sales pitch all the way. We stayed strong and voiced our many concerns about the amount of money we had already spent, that we had yet to find a property we would like to vacation at and that there was always little to no availability.

We explained that most of the places that are available were cheaper and all we had to go was go through Expedia, TripAdvisor, or any other free vacation website. We could also call the resort directly and book with our credit card. This representative really seemed new to the job, and kept going over to Matthew Brandt for answers and suggestions. Finally, he decided to just join us at our table. At this point we were telling him that we just didn't see the value in their membership. That we had booked a trip for spring break on our own. Then he excused himself and came back over with our file. He then said to us that he knew why we never saw anything worthwhile. We were so curious to hear what he had to say, and he went on to tell us the reason is that we were only a points member, that we weren't at a good enough level yet. He asked why we only had 9000 points. So, we explained our situation from 2014 and that we didn't want to lose out on the opportunity to take vacations, so we made the best possible purchase we could. He then went on telling us we would have to upgrade to at least a silver membership and that the good news was that it would only be 6,000 more points. (So, we quickly figured that it would be about $50,000.00). We told him that we had gotten a call from someone at Diamond about a year ago offering us the same deal per point that we paid in 2014 to upgrade the membership. We had declined and explained that we had too much going on financially and could not afford 1,000 Points. Again, the representative, went on and on about this being his final offer and that rates were going up and up, etc. We kept our composure and thanked her for contacting us, but we had to go. He then called someone over to the table, he was the finance guy and seemed to come from nowhere. Now we had the both of them explaining to us that we would fall in love with Diamond if we just bought a few more points. Then we would really see the value in the membership. Matthew Brandt then came over and gave us an additional folder for a free trip to Hawaii, his gift to us if we upgraded that day.

On top of the other destinations we could pick from in the previous folder given to us by Kelly, they explained to us that the only out of pocket expense for both free trips would be $99.00 as a service fee for the reservation along with the cost of transportation to the resorts. These were both bonus point vacations that we would be given to us on top of the already 9,000 points we had and the additional 6,000 points they wanted us to purchase. The only catch for the dream vacations was that the travel had to be completed by March 19, 2017. We asked them if we could have a few minutes to talk amongst ourselves and we finally decided to ask them if they would be willing to offer us the same price per point that we paid for back in 2014. Especially since at this point we had already invested so much. Matthew returned to the table and said after speaking with his colleagues that he couldn't believe that we had purchased 9,000 points for only $2,600 back in 2014. That was unheard of and that we must be great at negotiating. So, he sat down again, with a pen and paper and just started writing a bunch of numbers, saying that the cost per point today is $8.28 per point. We need at least 6000 points to become a silver membership. Writing then the total $49,680.00, then asked how much it was costing me to take the cruise that were going on shortly. I advised him that it was $3800.00 or so. So, he then crossed out the number and said, let me deduct the cost of your trip, your transportation to the port, and some spending money. Bringing the cost down to $40,000.00. Telling us we are now only going to have to pay $6.66 per point. We both responded that is just way too much. We appreciate him trying to help and all. But we just can't do it. He then walked away again, and came back about 15 minutes later. At this point we were done, it had to be after 10pm by then and when he came back we told him that we had just realized what time it was and that we had left our boys home alone. We had been there since 4:30pm and couldn't see this working out. To this he asked us if he could make a few more calls before we left. He then came back with the absolute best deal he could do and that he had never seen anyone be offered this before. He went on saying how terrible he felt that we had so many points banked, and that we hadn't been able to use our membership, etc., etc. The best he could do for us was $3.00 a point, costing us $18,000. Which is almost half of the price of the points today. At this point we wanted to be done, we wanted to go home and, so we said yes. We were then escorted up to a hotel room, that have a few people in it working out all the paperwork, one of them being the guy who came to our table earlier. Everyone was congratulating us, welcoming us to the Diamond Family, etc. We quickly signed all the papers and went on our merry way. The whole way home we both promised each other we weren't going to spend any more money and that we hope we didn't just make another big mistake. We were wrong.

Over the past year we have received several calls from Diamond offering us assistance in booking a vacation. Everything they offer us is not what we want, nothing is available for the dates we are available and/or the cost to fly is too high.

We have also gotten a call from a representative named Ryan, saying that he wanted to offer his help in booking our next vacation. We told him as we had told the others that we had been looking but nothing was available during the times we would like to travel. He asked us where we would like to go, and other questions and we told him that nothing ever worked out. He then insisted that it was our lucky day, because he is not a representative but the manager of all the representatives, and that previously, when the representatives would put on hold to check something, he was the one they contacted. He then went on to tell us that his family has a Diamond Resorts membership and they love it, that's why he decided to work for them and so on. He went on to tell us about his childhood and all the great experiences he had while vacationing with them. Then he asked us what our dream family vacation would be, and we told him it would be to go to Hawaii with the family. He then started giving us some dates for the following year, but they were always during school time. He then asked us for a second choice and gave him a few suggestions but of course he had to go and couldn't talk further. He then gave us his personal extension and we called back the next day, but we ended up playing phone tag a few times. When we finally did get to speak with him we were able to discuss with him our past experiences and he told us that he would do whatever it took to help get us vacationed. Suddenly, he started to explain to us that he had looked into our account and that maybe the reason we were having a hard time was because we were not Gold or Platinum members.

We began to laugh. Really, is this all about another sales pitch to scam more money out of my family or do you really want to see me vacationed. We had already been scammed with that when we were convinced that we needed to be at least Silver members. As we found out being Silver members didn't do anything for us and now we needed to pay more money to upgrade. Finally we asked him "If you were in our shoes... and you paid over 30k for a membership and maintenance fees for something you haven't yet used or experienced, why would you even consider the option of upgrading?"

After all, originally in 2014, the basis of the sales for Diamond was all about family vacations while our children are young. We could have shown them a lot of great vacations over the past 3 years while booking them myself with the $32,000.00 I have wasted on this scam. We then asked him "why not we do this? You send my family and I on a dream vacation and use our banked 30,000 points to Hawaii on the dates we are available. Once we get to finally experience one of your resorts, we will then consider upgrading but not a day sooner. Further we told him that until that happens we will just stay Silver members and hope for the best. We spoke a few times after, but nothing ever transpired. And we refused to give them another dollar, except of course the yearly maintenance, plus an additional $400 for an assessment, for what we have no idea.

We have been overly pressured in every sales pitch we have attended to the point of outright harassment. This so called "Investment" has been nothing more than an elaborate scam complete with arm-twisting sales tactics by the sales people. We are therefore requesting that our membership and all contracts with Diamond Resorts International be terminated and canceled. Please send us the proper paperwork to accomplish this and further we request that the monies we have invested be refunded. After a resolution is found we wish to cut all future ties with Diamond Resort International.

Sincerely,
Pamela A. & Kevin M. Delehanty

To Whom It May Concern,

We are Connie and Jeffrey Lodde. We are owners with Diamond Resorts/International and have recently sent them a letter of complaint, asking for the termination of our ownership and contracts. Our letter outlined: our experiences with Diamond, the meetings we have attended, the salesman we encounter, the accommodations we received, and a overall review of our unhappiness with the ownership that we learned was not as advertised. We are [REDACTED] contacting your agency along with a few others to aid us in this dispute and to hopefully get the resolution we are wanting. We have included our original letter of complaint along with the responses we have received from Diamond. Please let us know if there is anything your agency can do to assist us further and if there is anything further you will need from us. Our contact information is listed below. Have a wonderful day.

To Whom It May Concern,

This letter is to act as our formal complaint regarding our ownership with Diamond Resorts. We have been owners of Diamond for some time and now know that Diamond and its representatives have one goal in mind, and that is to scam people out of their money and vacations. They do this with the promise that purchasing with them will be an investment and will save you time and money. This, we also now know is 100% untrue. We have been misled, lied to and treated terribly.

Our original purchase was in March of 1999 prior to Jeff and I being married. We bought into a 2 bedroom for 1 week every other year. This was at Liki Tiki Resort owned by Island One at the time. We were told that buying in Orland gave us the highest trading power in the world because everyone wanted to see the mouse! Unfortunately, we soon realized the only reservations ever available were at Liki Tiki in Orlando where we originally purchased.

Once again, in May 2006, we visited Liki Tiki resorts as it was the only place we could secure a reservation. We were told by the reservations department that it was because we had bought into a biennial agreement and we needed to reserve a year in advance. As soon as we checked in, the phone began ringing. The representative on the phone was insisting that we set a time to attend the required owners meeting. We were told that everyone needs to attend the 1-hour owners meeting to hear about the changes that had been made, which turned out to be a new partnership that supposedly allowed us to visit additional resorts. The arrangement was, we would get breakfast, have a short presentation and be given a gift (tourist tickets) for our time and be out in about an hour. We agreed to an early appointment so that we could be finished and back before everyone got up and still have the day with our family. Unfortunately, the meeting did not end until the afternoon. The pressure to upgrade into an annual contract was intense and they got obviously angry with us when we would say no. We had several layers of management speak to us to continually sweeten the deal. We were the last people to leave and they went so far as to popping a bottle of champagne to celebrate the upgrade. Liz Morrow was our rep and she along with another guy tried to explain how we could maximize our time and rent it out a week to help pay for maintenance and taxes. We were assured it was a great deal!

One month later, my husband Jeff suffered a severe stroke leaving him completely paralyzed on half of his body. After things settled down from his illness and reality set in, I called the timeshare office to explain what had happened and asked to be released from the contract. Not only were we in a difficult financial position and using credit cards to make ends meet, but I knew that travel may be out of the question. They basically said we were committed by contract and they did not help owners sell their timeshares. Then they went on to assure me that their resorts are handicap accessible and accommodations for Jeff's situation could be requested when making the reservation. What they didn't tell me is that reservations may type in the request, but it is up to the resort to decide and accommodate the request. There are no guarantees. I have been told that over and over.... How is this even possible and allowable by law?

Our first attempt at traveling after Jeff's stroke was back to Liki Tiki in May 2007. We were aware that the resort was trying to switch everyone to a point system and had been for a few years. When we arrived, our room was NOT handicap accessible and attempts to schedule a time to attend an owners meeting started at check in. No accommodations for my husband was a big ordeal and I threw a fit. Not having a handicap accessible shower means he is unable to bathe for the week. Once again, just like every meeting, we attended an extremely long owners meeting, told them about the problems we were experiencing both with availability to vacation anywhere other than Orlando and the handicap situation. We were basically told that unless we were in the point system, our ownership was worthless, and we would have difficulty getting what we requested. After a lot of debate and pressure we agreed to upgrade to the point system with the reassurance from them that this would resolve our problems. What we didn't realize until writing this letter was that we were actually cheated out of equity. We were only given credit for $7808.07 trade in equity on the paperwork, yet the equity value was $15,900.

The upgrade didn't help with availability or handicap accessibility. Our only option was to continue to visit Liki Tiki year after year and go through a big ordeal upon arrival about accessibility. The only option we found available to visit another resort was to bank points for a cost and then pay again when the points were utilized through Interval International which also had an annual membership fee. However, the costs grew, and availability became even more challenging. I even lost points at one point because I refused to pay to save them. Maintenance and taxes had gone up so much that between paying the mortgage payment and maintenance fees, we were paying far more than any vacation should cost with no change in where we could go. The expansion plans shown to us for the resort had been put on hold or stopped and the property deteriorated. Meanwhile the only reservations we were able to secure was in Orlando.

Over the next few years we received several notices that the resort was in financial trouble and finally in 2011 we received notice that Diamond Resorts was taking over. The initial rollout of Diamond seemed like an improvement; however, it didn't take long to figure out that it was just a larger company and even more difficult to secure availability and special needs accommodations. During this time, the maintenance and taxes had increased making monthly payments difficult to afford and we knew from previous attempts that we had to continue to pay so we determined the best way to cut costs was to dip into our retirement account and pay off the mortgage. Then in June 2011 we again visited Liki Tiki since it was the only available and Diamond tried to explain the new system. They pushed very hard for us to upgrade even more into a system that we didn't understand. Again, it was a very long meeting with high pressure about how we could rent out points and generate revenue. They were upset that they spent so much time with us and we didn't understand how to manipulate the points to turn the ownership into a way to earn revenue and that we declined to purchase more. We spent the next several years fighting with Diamond representatives about why we could not vacation anywhere except Orlando and why we did not have proper accommodations upon arrival.

During our June 2014 visit, during yet another high-pressure meeting with Diamond and a weak moment for us, we were convinced that an upgrade would guarantee us an annual family vacation with our children and grandchildren and be in our best interest. We immediately had buyer's remorse and realized that this decision was made under pressure but was told nothing could be done. Diamond is relentless with the pressure to upgrade, attend high-pressure meetings and collection efforts if you become even 1-day delinquent but very unwilling to help otherwise. Switching from our 2 bdrm annual ownership to the point systems was a huge mistake on our part because the whole system seemed to have changed and we were no better off in addition to owing more money. Our timeshare was paid in full prior and because of all the change in owners at the resort we felt forced to upgrade because we were told what we did have no longer had any value in their new system. The points for a 2 bdrm changed along with the number of points it took to secure a reservation. Every time I called it was a problem and I even had a representative hang up on me when getting into a discussion about the necessity of handicap facilities.

In July 2016 after much frustration trying to book I ended up speaking to someone in management who suggested that even though Orlando was the only destination available that we should try booking at Mystic Dunes instead of Like Tiki so we did. I was assured that this was their premier resort and all of Jeff's accommodations would be taken care. When we checked in, this was NOT the case. After a big ordeal and a huge fit on my part, the gal I spoke with did get us handicap accessibility and even involved her manager John Chia. Mr. Chia did everything in his power to correct the issue and even gave me his personal cell number in case anything else went wrong during the trip. He even suggested that we visit Mystic Dunes annually so that Jeff's needs are always taken care of. While he was trying to be considerate, it defeats the purpose of having a timeshare. No one wants to spend every vacation in Orlando, especially when you have been promised the opportunity to travel elsewhere.

Diamond seems to think that the normal vacationer has all the time in the world to dedicate to figuring out their ever-changing complicated system when all most people want is an annual stress-free vacation to various locations that is guaranteed year after year because they have paid off their timeshare. Vacations with family are very important to us but the rising costs of taxes and maintenance along with mortgage payments have become impossible. Additionally, it is inhumane to expect a person to stay in a vacation resort without the ability to shower for a week. Therefore, we are requesting the following:

1. That Diamond fully cancel our ownership
2. Fully Terminate our contracts with them
3. Refund us the countless monies we have invested into this scam
4. That we have no further ties or obligations to Diamond once all is said and done
5. Finally, that Diamond send us the paperwork to be released from this nightmare as soon as possible.

Sincerely,

Connie D. & Jeffrey Lodde

To Whom It May Concern,

We have received your letter and unfortunately our position to cancel remains the same. We cannot "Stay Happy," when we have come to you with our issues with our ownership and you do nothing. We cannot "Stay Healthy," when we know that with this continued ownership that we will be met with high-pressure situations, manipulation, and poor accommodations. We cannot "Stay Vacationed," when we know the system gets more and more complicated, more expensive and that we will be denied family/vacation time, Thanks to meetings and stress. Since it is obvious to us that you will not offer a reasonable resolution to us we will be contacting the Regulatory Agencies to assist us in this dispute. If you would like to make us an offer to surrender our ownership and cancel our contracts at any time we will be happy to review the offer.

Sincerely,

Dear Sirs:

I am writing to your agency in hopes you will assist us in our endeavors to get our contracts and membership cancelled with Diamond Resorts International. We have been going back and forth with them and have had no luck. We have been members for several years and have been bamboozled, ran over and manipulated countless times. We've finally had enough. We've brought concerns to them on several occasions and we've received little to no resolution. I have attached several documents supporting our case:

1. Our initial letter of complaint detailing our experience and concerns
2. A copy from our contracts showing where we did not approve of them and/or their affiliates to text or call regarding promotional offers. They disregarded and called anyway.
3. Email chain from Randy regarding our sampler package
4. Incident report re: washer and dryer mishap
5. Response to our initial letter of complaint (#1 above)
6. Rebuttal to Michelle's denial
7. Response from Mary Bini re: sampler refund (the only concern they addressed)
8. Back and forth between Russell Elliot and ourselves re: the remaining contracts and paperwork

As you can see, Diamond is only concerned about referring us to the contracts and not the issues at hand. They refuse to help us come to a favorable resolution. We believe our case has plenty of merit and warrants a resolution.

Please contact us if there is anything else you may need to help in your investigation.

Respectfully,

Linda and Ron

Dear Sirs:

After being members of Diamond Resorts International for a little over 3 years, we have decided to terminate our contracts with you. We feel we no longer want to be scammed to buy more points and led to believe you can deliver what you promise.

Our experience is as follows:

In 2014, we visited Mystic Dunes. We were invited to attend a special presentation about timeshare ownership. David, our sales rep, started by asking how much we pay to vacation each year, which we said around $10,000 (cruises). He then got into how much Diamond would "save" us by buying points to use over several years. Once paid for, it would just be the maintenance fee so it would be cheaper owning Diamond than not. He also spoke about comfort, quality, location, stability, equity in investment, etc. versus other vacation options of unexpected issues with accommodations, etc. We remember David saying he owns points and he and his family vacation on islands. He said this could easily happen once you know how to "use the system". He also said he would be our "go to" guy once we bought from him. We said no, but then Nick was brought in along with one other person. They went back and forth and we started at $7.66/point and "negotiated" down to our "special price" of $3.03. They called it "1st visit pricing". We were shown a printout with purchase prices of $57,450 and $114,900 then the "deal" of $21,229. They also showed us a "staged" unit so we could see what the accommodations as Diamond owners would be. It was "VERY" nice. The units have NEVER lived up to what they showed during the presentations. David is no longer with Diamond.

In March of 2014, we were offered 3 days/2 nights free at Grand Beach to attend a "new owner orientation" since we had just purchased. We were still in Orlando as "snowbirds" so we decided to do it to get it out of the way. We asked for a water view, extra pillows and extra coffee when we agreed to attend the orientation. We got none of it. They served a breakfast at the orientation and a retired Alaska trooper gave the presentation, talking about how Diamond "pays" you to travel. He told us your points can be used as cash and you get a check in the mail at some point. The time we actually tried to use this for travel, we found out you have to do it by the end of July for any "travel" planning vs just booking Diamond accommodations, which can be done throughout the year. We were given the "special" point price of $3.13/point for 7,500 points instead of the current $7.66/point. The salesman was "surprised" that we were able to get such a good deal since the price we got was from point prices 2 years ago. We were told owning 15,000 points gets us to Silver status, which has benefits that 7,500 point owners don't get. Kevin also said he would help us to use the system as we needed it - he is no longer with Diamond.

In 2015, we were invited to another owner's update. During the meetings, we declined several times but as usual, different people come in and out of the meetings. We were told that if we don't buy additional points at this update we would lose our price protection. We had price protection for 12 months but if you attend a presentation at any time and don't purchase, it voids the price protection or "your deal" on that great price/point. What we have since realized is that this is a ploy to get us to buy! We were also told DRI was going public and the goal was to get point prices somewhere around the $12-15 range to match other time shares like Wyndham.

In October of 2015, we received a phone call from your Seattle office. We ended up getting talked into buying 1,500 points to get us on our way to being Gold members. The caller would only do phone calls, though we sent an email confirming the conversation. And now we understand why he would only do phone calls – so there's no record of the lies and empty promises they sell! Afterwards, we received a letter from Diamond dated 12/6/15 congratulating us on our decision to become a Gold member. We didn't actually have enough points for Gold until our purchase in 2016.

In February of 2016, we were invited to a "survey of current owners" meeting. We even questioned them and they said it would only be a survey. It ended up being another sales presentation with several people trying to talk us into permanent gold status. We purchased 6,000 points which got us to permanent gold and now we had 30,000 points. We were told before that with our Gold status, we could use our points to pay maintenance fees at a certain value per point. In calls to corporate financial, we were told that is only available for Platinum members.

In February of 2017, we were invited to another owner update meeting to review the program since Diamond was no longer public and bought out by Apollo. We were told there were some "really positive" things happening!" After hours of sales pressure, we were sent to "hospitality" for a survey. It ended up being yet another sales pitch. We were told by Randy if we bought a Sampler package of 15,000 points we would have Platinum membership for 18 months from the time we paid the cost in full, which we did in April. Our account was not changed to Platinum so we called and in talking with the Sampler group we were told that is not possible. It is two separate accounts – Gold and the Sampler and they cannot be used together, let alone give us the promised temporary Platinum membership. We contacted Randy to clear this up and since it wasn't cleared, we requested a refund. I have enclosed the email chain. (3)

It's a shame if you don't take the deal at the meeting, the offer becomes null & void, with you losing the great price on points. All of the hard sale tactics used by your sales reps are a shame.

We no longer want to be a part of a company that has to scam to get a sale. We don't want to feel pressured and lied to. We demand cancellation of our contracts and a refund of our investment thus far of over $65,000, especially the refund on the sampler that we were just bulldozed into purchasing. We will not be making any more payments and we would appreciate it if you wouldn't report to the credit bureaus during our dispute. We hope to receive the paperwork to move this along within 30 days.

Regards,

Linda & Ron Belsky

Randy,

Per our last discussion we were to hear from your manager in a week. That was July 14 and it is now Aug 4 with still no resolution to our issue! Our only option is to get legal help if we don't get a satisfactory resolution to the problem. I think we have been VERY patient, probably giving you the impression that we will let the issue drop. That will not happen.

As my earlier email says, and I told you during our conversation in June, your sales pitch promises will not happen based on my phone calls with the people we tried to work with in the vacation planning area. We were told the Sampler and our Gold points CANNOT be combined or used together which directly contradicts what you told us when you sold us the Sampler package. The ONLY reason we purchased the Sampler was so we could experience the Platinum membership for 18 months from the time the contract was paid in full. That was in March and obviously nothing has gone as we had anticipated. Otherwise, if you think of it logically, why in the world would anyone buy the sampler when we are already Gold members?!

We look forward to getting the reimbursement from Diamond for the Sampler - quickly.

Hi Randy,

Confirming our conversation.

You will follow up with a manager early next week regarding our concern that we haven't been given the 18 month Platinum member status we were to receive when we purchased the 15,000 sampler package in March.

That means our account will be upgraded to Platinum and the 15,000 points transferred to our main account instead of having 2 separate accounts to deal with.

We look forward to your call early next week confirming that this will happen.

As I indicated, if this is not confirmed we will be asking for a refund for the purchase.

We appreciate your help.

We are enclosing a missing/damaged property description form for an issue we had at Mystic Dunes in March. I've been corresponding with Anthony Davis at Mystic Dunes regarding the issue.

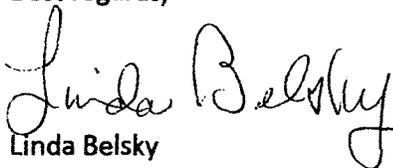

We stayed in unit 31315 while there and used the washer & dryer. There were several pieces of clothing that had what looked like rust stains on them after doing laundry. From what we could tell it seemed to come from the dryer but couldn't find the exact area in the dryer.

We do not know the exact original price but I think what we put on the form is, if anything, a little low but without receipts I didn't know what else to do. We have estimated a total of $180 for the clothing.

Please contact us using the below information if you need anything further.

Your help in resolving our issue is appreciated.

RE: Request to cancel account

Dear Ronald R. Belsky and Linda L. Belsky,

We received your letter dated October 16, 2017 requesting to cancel your membership with Diamond Resorts International®. You state you were pressured to purchase each contract associated with your membership and lied during each purchase. You have requested we cancel and refund all monies you have paid to date.

We appreciate you contacting us and allowing us to review your concerns and respond. We have reviewed your account and each purchase. You state you were pressured to purchase and lied to regarding your purchase, but, your claims are vague. You have not addressed any issues that are not contained in the Purchase Agreement.

Furthermore, our records indicate that you have been in contact with our customer service department on several occasions since your first purchase in 2014, never making any complaint regarding your sales experience. You did continue to purchase additional points in the US Collection.

Currently you own 5 active contracts in the Us Collection totaling 30,000 points. Each contract has an active loan associated with it.

After a full review of your account and claims, we cannot approve your request to cancel and refund monies you have paid towards your vacation ownership. You did not submit your requests to cancel within the state mandated rescission period and you have an active loan associated with each contract. We cannot cancel a contract outside the state mandated rescission period or a contract that has an active loan associated with it.

Lastly, you have not provided any information that would lead us to believe you were pressured to purchase any of the contracts associated with your account or that you were not provided any and all information to make a sound decision to purchase. You remain responsible for each contract you purchased as agreed to at the time of sale. If you are having any issues with your account or need further clarification, please contact us for assistance.

Diamond Resorts International® recognizes the importance of vacations to our lives, our relationships, and to our overall health and well-being. Design your own dream vacation with endless choice and flexibility. Stay happy. Stay healthy. Stay Vacated.TM

Re: Response to Belsky Request to Cancel Account Denial

December 11, 2017

Michelle,

We received your letter dated October 26 denying our request to cancel our membership and contracts. We feel your response is not satisfactory and would like you to reconsider.

You state our claims were vague – we disagree. Our experience was clearly laid out – we were bulldozed and coerced into purchasing.

We were told we would have a special “go to guy” at each meeting; this has not happened because that person is no longer with Diamond or we can’t get them to answer the phone or return our calls or emails. Do your members really even get their own personal advisor or is this just a lie to make us feel better when purchasing?

The units NEVER live up to what is promised – in fact, we had quite an issue with the washer and dryer in one unit and after proving it ruined our clothes, we were denied that claim, as well (see attached)! But, oddly enough, we received a voicemail from Reynoldo Hernandez letting us know you had replaced the washer and dryer and he was sorry about our clothes. So, you disregard our claim as if it’s not your fault, but then someone called and apologized for it?

The “special” pricing for “that day only” is a scam – we could get that pricing at any time and we now know this to be true.

The finer details were never disclosed in the meetings; they knew if they did, no one would purchase!

When we declined and showed no interest, they continued to badger us.

In 2015, we were told we could purchase 1,500 points to get us to Gold – we then received a letter congratulating us saying we were Gold members and then in our next meeting in February of 2016, we were once again told we needed to purchase points to get to Gold status – didn’t we just do that? How does this happen? Then we were also told now that we were Gold, we could use our points to pay maintenance fees at a certain value per point – we found out later this was untrue and only available for Platinum members. This is the only reason we purchased more points.

You also state we have been in contact with customer service and no complaints have been made – this is not true. We have complained about several different issues. You may need to check and/or update your records.

We know you have ways of cancelling our membership – we've seen it happen. We would like to see you say "yes" for us. How can we "stay happy" with all the problems we've had?

Again, we no longer want to be a part of a company that has to scam, lie, coerce, badger, etc. to get a sale. We don't want to feel pressured and lied to. We demand cancellation of our 5 contracts. We'd also like some sort of restitution due to our problems. We hope you reconsider your denial and that we are able to come to an amicable resolution.

Regards,

Linda and Ron Belsky

Dear Mr and Mrs Belsky,

I am writing in response to your recent reiteration of your request to cancel your account and have endeavoured to address the points raised below.

Whilst it is stated that you have been repeatedly bulldozed and coerced into purchasing I would highlight that at no point have you chosen to utilise the rescission period on your contracts which allows you to cancel any purchase with no penalty.

I would advise that the 'finer details' of each and every contract are provided and acknowledged by yourselves at the point of sale. Each contract requires more than 12 signatures and over 100 initialled acknowledgements which are clear evidence of the full details being provided.

Any statement that you repeatedly advised that you had no interest in purchasing is undone by the fact that you then subsequently signed purchase paperwork for each contract. Whilst our sales staff will of course extoll the benefits of increased membership you are under no obligation to stay in a presentation and should you truly have no interest in purchasing more points you can leave at any point.

Your membership tier is stated as a point of contention and I would advise that the purchase of 1500 points did indeed increase your membership tier to Gold but this was only temporary due to it being based on bonus points. The Gold status was then made permanent with the purchase of 6000 further points.

The ability to utilise your points to pay your fees is indeed only available to Platinum members but we would advise that the rate at which you can redeem these points would debunk any statement that this was the sole reason for purchase. The redemption rate for this is only $0.04 per point whereas the maintenance fees are billed at a total of roughly $0.177 per point. As such, even were you to utilise your full allotment of points against your fees this would only constitute $1,200 against your fees.

In light of this evidence we remain unable to cancel or refund any of the contracts that you have purchased on the grounds presented.

I trust that this helps to clarify our position on this matter.

Kind regards
Russell Elliot

[This message was received from an external sender. Please use caution when opening any attachments or links within this e-mail.]

Mr. Elliot:

We didn't know we would have the problems we've had during the rescission period – it doesn't work like that and you know it.

Yes, we remember signing 12 times and initialing over 100 times – it was quite exhausting. Which is probably why this process was so rushed and no point was ever explained to us. How were we supposed to know what was told to us wouldn't transfer (or was supposed to) to the contracts? The "finer details" were not entirely included.

It was stated previously they would only continue to persist if we showed interest – we didn't show interest and they continued badgering us. Only after we were completely wore down, felt defeated and trapped did we sign. So no, our statement is not "undone." We weren't interested – they continued. If the attendees can leave at any point, we would ask that you share this information with not only the attendees at these meetings, but your sales staff, too.

"The ability to utilise you points to pay your fees is indeed only available to Platinum members but we would advise that the rate at which you can redeem these points would debunk any statement that this was the sole reason for purchase. The redemption rate for this is only $0.04 per point whereas the maintenance fees are billed at a total of roughly $0.177 per point. As such, even were you to utilise your full allotment of points against your fees this would only constitute $1,200 against your fees."

Now allow us to discredit your statement - we were not told this wasn't available to Gold members. We were sold on the promise that the value would be well worth it. So absolutely, we upgraded because of this. Wouldn't you? Then later we find out it's only for Platinum members and now we're hearing it's not enough to really make a difference?!? You can't necessarily debunk something that was told to us, or not told to us, for that matter. How would we have known any difference? Your reps are there to teach us, but instead they lie to us. Furthermore, if each point in the contract was to be reviewed with us in detail, would this minor detail be included? We highly doubt it.

You also skipped the first half of our rebuttal –

We were told we would have a special "go to guy" at each meeting; this has not happened because that person is no longer with Diamond or we can't get them to answer the phone or return our calls or emails. Do your members really even get their own personal advisor or is this just a lie to make us feel better when purchasing?

The units NEVER live up to what is promised – in fact, we had quite an issue with the washer and dryer in one unit and after proving it ruined our clothes, we were denied that claim, as well (attached in previous letter)! But, oddly enough, we received a voicemail from Reynaldo Hernandez letting us know you had replaced the washer and dryer and he was sorry about our clothes. So, you disregard our claim as if it's not your fault, but then someone called and apologized for it?

The "special" pricing for "that day only" is a scam – we could get that pricing at any time and we now know this to be true.

You can't comment on those issues? Heck, at the VERY least, you could reimburse us for our clothes. (#4)

Bottom line is this - the problems we've experienced with your organization comes down to the misleading information, the outright lies and the empty promises – you say one thing, but later we find out there's a lot more to it. Or you tell us one thing, and it's not the entire truth. You downplay your shortcomings by creating false expectations. In our total experience, we've seen that your sales reps (and the organization, as a whole) consistently over promise and under deliver. Shouldn't a company with your reputation do the opposite?

Again, please reconsider your decision. We will not stop until we come to a favorable resolution. If we have to involve every regulatory agency in the country, we will. We're asking that we don't go that far. Diamond has enough complaints on every agency board there is...

Wishing you a very Merry Christmas and a blessed New Year,
Linda & Ron Belsky

Dear Mr and Mrs Belsky,

I thank you for your response and I have again endeavoured to address the complaints raised in my below response.

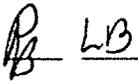

It is again stated that the finer details of the agreement were not presented to you but we would again highlight the purchase documentation, which stipulates the exact limits of your membership. It is even stipulated within the contract that everything is set forth and no other warranties will be honoured.

I/We understand that if I/we elect to use my/our points to pay part of my/our annual maintenance fees, the following rules apply:

1. Only Platinum Diamond Loyalty members will be able to use their points for this benefit.
2. Redemption value for 2015 fees was $0.04 per point, but this is subject to change yearly.
3. Saved points or borrowed points cannot be used toward the payment of maintenance fees.
4. Points for fee payments must be redeemed November 1 - December 31 for the following year's fees before the due date of the bill. This benefit is only available to Platinum members.
5. After January 1, points may not be exchanged for fee payments for that year's fees.
6. There is a $100 transaction fee, which is subject to change.

I apologise that you feel that I skipped over the issue of having a single employee responsible for your account and any benefits and bookings made. Whilst many of our sales agent continue to assist members this is not something that we recommend members to use. Rather than a single member of staff to assist, our club members have a team of thousands of staff on hand to assist with each aspect of their membership.

The issue of the clothes being damaged by the resort was not documented on your account and was handled by the resort. Should we have been provided details and evidence of this directly to our Hospitality department we would have been able to investigate this matter further.

In light of the clear documentation repeatedly issued at the point of sale and your clear acknowledgement of your understanding of this we remain unable to acquiesce to your request to cancel.

I trust that this clarifies our enduring position on this matter.

Kind regards
Russell Elliot

Mr. Elliot:

You continue to refer to the documentation and as I've already stated, this documentation was NEVER PROPERLY REVIEWED with us. We realize we signed lots of paperwork, but you also know that most people aren't given the time to read everything or they feel extremely rushed to get through the whole ordeal.

And though you state we cannot be held against our will, the sales reps at these meetings need to state OUT LOUD that the attendees can leave at any time. And yes, you need to let your reps know this little fact – the attendees feel like hostages! This is not verbalized and you have to pretty much make the reps mad to get to leave! And maybe, just maybe, the sales reps are telling us we have to upgrade in order to utilize so we stay to get details on that. It's all a game with your company. It's all manipulation. I understand how sales work, but this is taking things a little too far.

We depended on your sales reps – we depended on what was being told to us. You preyed on us, manipulated and deceived us.

As far as you apologizing for "skipping over the single employee (sales person) telling us they will be our 'go to' for planning vacations" – this really gets my blood boiling. If the "company" doesn't recommend it then you should tell your sales people to stop saying it as they push people to buy! This is definitely lying & misleading.

Then.....to say we should have gone to the hospitality department for resolution regarding the clothing damage is absolutely preposterous!! We did exactly what we were told to do by the resort management. That included sending a letter to the risk management group in Vegas. I shared that correspondence with you. It's not my fault it wasn't documented on our account – this is Diamond's responsibility. You're way off base here.

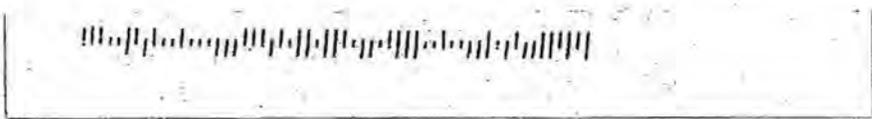

Please reconsider your decision or we'll be forced to take our complaints to the Attorney General, Better Business Bureau, ARDA, the FTC, the CFPB and anyone else who will listen.

Dear Pam Bondi et al:

I am writing to as a tourist and a consumer of Florida who was recently defrauded of $3995.00 by the Diamond Resorts International Company. I know that this might not rise to the level of a major crime, but this appears to be a pattern of fraud that has been perpetrated upon visitors and residents of your beautiful state.

I have been a long time traveler and Time-share owner of over 20 years and was invited to attend a "presentation" while on a family vacation to the Orlando area from December 29, 2017 through January 5th 2018. I have been through no less than 15 presentations over the years and know exactly what to expect. I let the initial salesman know that we were here to look at their property but were not interested in purchasing additional time due to the increase in maintenance fees. Everything was amicable and prior to leaving the presentation a Mr. Michael Monlux approached us and said that he had a product that would allow us to utilize our current Time-share that we owned with another company, within their system as long as we purchased a "Sampler" plan that would allow us access into the Diamond Resorts System. This was something that we had never heard in 20 years of Time-share ownership and would save us a significant amount of money over time. The only catch was that we needed to book an initial stay at one of 33 specific resorts in order to "activate" our membership. This stay needed to be a minimum of three days. So, we purchased the plan with an initial payment of $500 and was told that we needed to wait 14 days before contacting them to book.

At 14 days, I called to book this initial trip and found out from the agent that what I had purchased was something completely different than what I had been told. This membership was not a membership and only allowed me to stay at the 33 resorts, no others. They also informed me that I could not deposit my current Time-share points into the Diamond Resorts system. I immediately filed a claim with Diamond Resorts to have the contract annulled.

First I was contacted by staff at the sales site in Florida on January 17th regarding the issue. I explained to them what had happened and they said I would be contacted by their contract department to proceed. Then on January 25, 2018 I was contacted by a Mary Bini, a Senior Specialist and was told in no uncertain terms that she had a contract in hand and that I was just out of luck. She claimed that regardless of what I had been told, they had in writing that I was responsible for paying and had no other recourse but to pursue it legally. She explained that there was a 10 day period to reverse the contract and that had expired. The catch was that I didn't find out that I had been sold a lie until I tried to book a stay 14 days after signing.

After this happened, I did some more research online regarding Diamond Resorts and their conduct and found that this is a common occurrence and they do it without recourse. I am writing to you, in hopes that you would take up this matter that if left unchecked will continue to breed a disregard for the law and continue to affect future consumers and tourists of Florida.

Sincerely,

Kevin Greenway

To Whom it May Concern:

I am a member of Diamond Resorts International, 10600 West Charleston Blvd., Las Vegas, NV 89135-1014, a timeshare resort company with home offices in Nevada. As a member, I trusted that Diamond would deal fairly with me in regard to the law specifically in dealings with the IRS. We purchased "points based membership" with Diamond at the Daytona Beach Regency in Florida and subsequently at Bent Tree Resort in Branson, MO and Greensprings Resort in Williamsburg, VA. At sales presentations, we were told that vacation ownership mortgage interest was tax deductible. After purchasing, Diamond issued IRS Form 1098s to me for the tax years 2013, 2014 and 2015. While getting my tax documents together for the 2016 tax year, I did not have one from Diamond. After emailing them they said that tax documents would be forthcoming within the next few weeks. When I received a letter from Diamond, expecting the 1098, it was a statement of account not a 1098. Therefore, I was reluctant to take the deduction. When I inquired of Diamond why the change from issuing 1098s to a statement of account I was given the following explanation:

"Please be advised, mortgage interest on a personal, vacation timeshare is deductible. However, mortgage interest is interest secured by an interest in the property. Much timeshare debt is consumer interest, not mortgage interest, and would not be deductible. Therefore, in adherence to the tax regulations presented, if you possess consumer interest; i.e. point-based membership; the 1098 will not be required, nor Diamond Resorts International® will forward any documentation associated."

After doing additional research of IRS tax rules for the 2013-15 in regard to mortgage deductions, I found that it was not allowed in any of those years. Diamond did correct the problem for the 2016 tax year but did not take responsibility for its deceptive practice of telling prospective customers of the ability to deduct the interest while issuing fraudulent 1098s during those tax years. I have been in a contract dispute with Diamond over this issue since the end of October 2017. As stated above, Diamond has taken no responsibility for its deceptive sales practices or its unlawful issuance of the 1098s while knowing such was not allowed. This may have put me and other customers of Diamond in jeopardy with the IRS. I have filed a complaint against Diamond with the IRS by filling out IRS Form 3949-A.

As a taxpayer, I am expected to lawfully abide by IRS tax rules or am subject to prosecution with possible fines. The contracts I signed with Diamond compel me to pay or be hounded by calls and letters threatening my credit. I do believe that a corporation should be held responsible to follow the same rules and laws that individuals are expected to follow. I believe that Diamond is in breach of contract by not dealing with me in good faith by deceiving me with this issue.

Re: Loan 002340158 CSV

Mr. La Luzerne:

Please be advised that I have reluctantly paid the outstanding loan amount and maintenance fees for the current year. While I still maintain that Diamond fraudulently issued IRS Form 1098s for tax years 2013 through 2015, I committed to paying when I signed the contract and my honor is important to me. I thought that by pointing this out, Diamond would take responsibility for its deceptive practices, and we could part company with no hard feelings on either side. It is apparent to me that that is not the case. I am expected to honor my contract while Diamond does not share those values.

Please be aware that while I have paid Diamond and am currently up to date, I am not through with this issue that you deemed closed. I am filing a complaint with the Attorney Generals of Nevada, Florida, Missouri and Virginia about the deceptive practices of Diamond in claiming that the "mortgage interest" was tax deductible and following it up by issuing fraudulent 1098s while knowing full well that points based memberships is consumer debt thus not deductible under IRS rules. I have also filed Form 3949-A with the IRS showing that Diamond issued 1098s to me during the years mentioned above. While Diamond did change this practice in the tax year 2016 by issuing a statement instead of the 1098, it never informed me about this change or taken responsibility for its deception.

I hope that the casual way that you blew off my concern and complaint by deeming it a closed issue while not even addressing it, causes you to take it more seriously in the future. Anytime an individual or corporation doesn't lawfully take its obligation to fairly pay taxes it hurts us all. Diamond is not above the law, and I believe you put your costumers in a real bad position with the IRS by your deceptive practices.

To Whom It May Concern:

We have been disputing my membership and contracts with Diamond Resorts International and wish bring it to a final close. We have asked that they cancel our contracts as I was completely misled and deceived. We acquired this timeshare believing it to be a sound investment and believing we could use when and how I wished as that was what was promised. I was told false information in each sales presentation and I believe we are victims of timeshare fraud.

We sent a letter to them back on October 24, 2017 and again on December 4, 2017 and have not heard anything from Diamond Resorts International. I have attached the letter sent both times for your convenience. They have no issue ignoring my concerns and issues. I have since received calls and billing statements threatening the foreclosure of our account and/or credit damage that will begin due to my delinquency.

I am asking that your agency aid in resolving this issue. I am willing to give written statements to help in this matter. I simply want the ownership and any debt cancelled with a refund of my money. Please contact me with any further questions and or suggestions.

Thank you,

Attn: Cancellation Department

In June 2000, we were visiting the Plantation at Fall Creek, a Sunterra Resort timeshare, with relatives who owned a timeshare with Sunterra (they have subsequently assigned their timeshare back to Sunterra/Diamond Resorts because of their dissatisfaction with the organization). We were there because we accepted an invitation to attend a presentation by another timeshare company. After attending the presentation for a couple of hours, we signed a contract to purchase the timeshare for $10,000. After our return to our relatives, we discussed the purchase and our relatives took us to talk with their Sunterra representative. The rep discussed benefits of their company and told us we had not made a good purchase with the company. We finally decided to purchase with the Club of Sunterra. We purchased 1 week at the Branson, MO site. Sunterra did all the work cancelling the first purchase.

In early 2016, we decided to go to Florida for a week. When we arrived, we attended the obligatory owner's update meeting. We were told the meeting would last no more than 90 minutes. The presentation ended up lasting almost 3 hours. We were assured that by upgrading to Silver status, we would receive preference at our time of booking – this has proven to be untrue. We were also told this would be an excellent reward for our children at our death or disability. We were promised we would be assigned a personal advisor to help with any issues that arose. We felt extremely pressured and it got worse when we declined. It seemed that when we declined, they were able to come up with better deals for us.

During the initial conversations, the representative shared a story about a couple who had not gotten the upgrade notifications and the company was obligated to give the upgrade to them since they had not been informed. We asked the sales representative, Peter Bagnato, to show us what this would cost. He came back with an offer that was very expensive and we declined. He asked to be excused to go speak with his manager. Upon his return, he indicated that they had reviewed our case since our initial purchase with the Club at Sunterra and found that several "special" offers had been extended to us to upgrade at a "special" lower rate and asked if we remember receiving these offers. We indicated that neither of us had received the offers. He then left again to talk with his manager. Upon his return this time, he indicated his manager approved him reissuing these offers and that we must decide on upgrading during this meeting. After speaking with other couples, we learned they were offered the exact same thing so in actuality, there was no special offer created just for us.

This last meeting was quite exhaustive. We were offered a DR credit card and were told that by using this card, we would accumulate resort points that could be used in paying annual costs – this was an outright lie. We were continually guaranteed this was an excellent investment. We asked about the annual fees associated with the upgrade and were told the fees had not gone up in several years and they did not expect them to increase anytime soon. One of the reasons we chose to upgrade was they stated Diamond Resorts was in the process of purchasing a number of resorts in New England and Canada. These were places we were very interested in traveling. They did not follow through with this promise.

After investing over $60,000, not being able to book the resorts we are interested in and our "personal advisor" never being available, we are requesting immediate termination of our contracts and a refund on our investment thus far. I am seeking a resolution to this matter within 30 days.

Thank you,

Thomas Blankenship

The purchase Price was $14,100.00.

That included a $2,951.00 charged to a Barclay card issued the same day.

The remaining $11,643.00 was financed through Diamond Financial Services.

Maintenance fees are $960.00 annually.

On January 15, 2017 my wife and I agreed to pay $14,100 to purchase 3000 points in a Diamond Resorts' Timeshare. After about a month, we realized things were not quite right. After a year, I was realizing just how bad of a mistake we had made. It's true, we had agreed to make this purchase. It's true we had signed a contract. The thing is though, almost everything we were told at the sales pitch was NOT TRUE.

And we are not alone. In January and February of 2018 alone, there have been 31 similar complaints filed by Active Duty Military or our Military Veterans. Some of their stories are chilling. All of their stories should be a major concern as some of our older veterans are tricked into losing most, if not all, of their retirement income. Some Active Duty members are in or near to being in foreclosure, affecting their Security Clearances and careers. Many of their stories can be found on insidetimeshare.com such as this one by former Navy member, Scotty Black. In it, he also links several more. Note that the number of complaints he refers to has gone up since.

<http://insidetimeshare.com/fridays-letter-america-36/>

These 31 complaints are just the ones I know about, and are just the Military or Veteran complaints. Many more have fallen victim to aggressive Diamond timeshare sales tactics. If you have been reading insidetimeshare.com articles, then you probably know that there was a lawsuit against Diamond Resorts International in Arizona in which a settlement was reached.

<https://www.azag.gov/press-release/attorney-general-brnovich-announces-800000-settlement-diamond-resorts>

It was for the same sales misrepresentation that I experienced in Jan 2017. Now there is another class action lawsuit being filed against Diamond, this one in Nevada, where the Diamond headquarters is located.

What Happened to Us!

<https://www.youtube.com/watch?v=zAkBlfyhVYQ&feature=youtu.be>

On January 15, 2017, we went to Grand Beach Resorts in Orlando Florida where we met with sales agent Sofiane Mannai. We told him that our biggest complaint about our Liki Tiki Time Share was the rising maintenance fees, which are over $700 a year for points we rarely ever used.

Mr. Mannai told us that we could lower or even eliminate our maintenance fees if we bought 3000 more points. He told us that with 3000 more points, we would become Platinum Members because we would then be over 5000 points (because we already owned 2250 points bought at Liki Tiki). As Platinum members, we would be able to sell back unused points at a rate of $.50 per points. This money could then be used to pay on our maintenance fees, or whatever we wanted to do with it. Mr. Mannai told us that this was a new program being implemented by Apollo Global Management who had recently purchased Diamond Resorts International. He said Apollo wants Diamond members to feel that their Diamond points are more of an investment then a prepaid vacation that you may or may not use. He went on to say that Apollo (or Diamond) loves to buy back points at this price because they can turn around and resell them for $8 or $9, it is “free money for them”.

We asked him how much our maintenance fees would go up if bought more points. He said, “With 3000 more points, your fees would likely double, but think about it, if you sell back all 5000 of your points for 50 cents a point, that is $2500. You’ll be able to pay all of your fees with that and still have some leftover. Where else could you get such a good return on your investment, but you have to be at platinum to use this program ”

Let me back up at this point and say that we enjoyed our Liki Tiki timeshare when we used it. Problem was, we rarely used it, so we always had points left over. This was a way for us to keep our Liki Tiki time share and use it if we wanted too. Then, during the years that we didn’t use it, we could sell back the points and avoid the maintenance fees. This would be perfect for us.

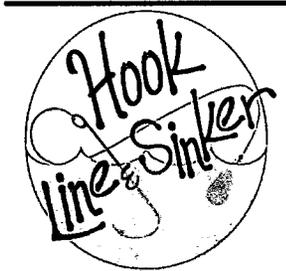

However, Mr. Mannai wasn’t done, he went on to tell us that if we were not happy come January 2018, DRI will buy back our points. This was another Apollo initiative because Apollo wants happy investors. They would rather take back the points and sell them to someone else who would be happy to have them. Also, Diamond points are going to be easier to use because Apollo is so big, travel sites are going to start using them like currency. All the major travel sites will have an option to pay for their services using Diamond points instead of something like a credit card.

He also gave us a timeline that Apollo would be rolling out these changes. This was done verbally of course; he did not put this in writing. I only remember it because I wrote it down at that meeting so I would remember it. I now suspect that this timeline was just a way to ensure that we waited past the rescission period before we tried to complain. The points as currency program was scheduled to begin March, 2017, the $.50 per point buyback option would be launched in June 2017, and of course there was the buy-back program coming in January 2018. "These programs are still being implemented by Apollo, so it will not be in your paperwork," Mr. Mannai explained. He also said we were lucky to be receiving this offer now, before Apollo's new benefits come out, because the price will certainly go up once that happens.

Yeah, we fell for it. We fell hard. We spent $14,100 on an additional 3000 points.

Our first surprise came about a month later when the additional points showed up in our account. To our surprise, we were not Platinum members. We did not have one account with 5250 points. Instead, we now had two accounts. The original bought at Liki Tiki with 2250 points and the additional 3000 points became a second account.

And so the phone calls began. Since then we have learned that 5000 points will not get you Platinum even if they were all in one account. It requires 50,000 points to be platinum. The accounts cannot be merged because they are vastly different, one being a deeded account and the other being a US Collections account. You cannot combine the points even to use on the same vacation, I have tried.

There is no program to buy back points at 50 cents a point. There is no program to buy back timeshares from unhappy owners. There is no travel site that takes Diamond points as currency. The only honest thing Sofiane Mannai told us was that our Maintenance fees would double. They actually more than doubled. He even introduced himself as an Apollo Customer Service Representative. Pretty sure that was not true either. Furthermore, there is absolutely zero resale value for a diamond timeshare, so we can't even unload it.

And the hits kept coming... Since we bought the 3000 points while it was early in 2017, we had to pay the 2017 maintenance fees. So in March we got a bill for $956.

In November 2017 we received a bill for $960 for the 2018 maintenance fees on the 3000 points and course the $747 for the timeshare bought at Liki Tiki.

Alas, there was good news coming our way. In January 2018 I began talking to Diamond employee, Amanda Rody. She said we could finally merge our accounts. All I had to do was purchase 2500 more points. If I didn't, our accounts would stay separate, I would have them FOREVER, and at least of them would be passed on to my children along with the maintenance fees. We did not do this, but we still have her offer in an email.

"Thank you for calling Customer Service.
If you're calm and rational, press 1.
If you're a whiner, press 2.
If you're a hot head, press 3...."

So, what do we do?

I started doing a lot of research and like I said, we are not alone. Eventually, I found this Facebook group.

<https://www.facebook.com/groups/DiamondResortsOwnersAdvocacy/>

There are literally hundreds of members in this group with similar stories. If you are reading this and have an experience with Diamond, this group is worth a look.

We have gained the interest and support of Whistleblowers of America, an organization that seeks justice for military and government employees.

<https://whistleblowersofamerica.org/>

On January 27, 2018 we filed a complaint with Diamond. We asked for a refund of our down payment, the monies paid thus far on the loan, and the 2017, 2018 Maintenance fees. It was immediately shot down with the typical "Sorry, but you signed a contract" response. They even scanned in little pieces of the contract I signed to show me what I signed. Diamond is hiding behind the fine print of the contract to side-step the true issue of their sales agent's misrepresentation.

A little more research and it turns out that what we experienced meets the FBI's definition of white-collar crime, Financial Institution Fraud, defined as "deceit, concealment, violation of trust and bait and switch." The FBI has advised timeshare buyers who feel they were a victim of bait and switch of a serious nature, to file a complaint at IC3.gov and to file a complaint orally by contacting their local FBI field office (prompt #4, then prompt #3 white-collar crimes).

We have filed a complaint with the Better Business Bureau.

If we had known about the Arizona Lawsuit linked above, we may have been able to file for the relinquishment program that was part of the settlement. Our timeshare was purchased just within the window to qualify, but we did not find out about it until after the deadline to file.

We will however, be filing a complaint with the Arizona Attorney General's Office, as well as the Florida State Attorney General's Office since that is where we purchased the timeshare. Since the Nevada lawsuit has also come to light and Diamond's headquarters are located in Nevada, we will be filing with the state of Nevada also.

We are looking into how to file with the Military Complaints Board because there are protections that can and should be put into place to protect our Military and Veterans from predatory companies like Diamond Resorts International.

		These sales agents spend hours making their pitch. Then when you are good and tired of being there, they push the closing documents through you as fast as they can. There is no time to read it, it's being rapidly force fed to you. You don't get to call a financial advisor, you don't get to call a lawyer. They make you feel like you don't need to anyway because all the while the sales agent is right there reassuring you that what you are signing is exactly what they have been preaching for the last 4 hours.
02/22/2018	More info received from the consumer	As I stated in the original BBB complaint, our sales agent told us that the programs were being changed by Apollo who had just taken over Diamond. As we were signing an initialing, he was assuring us that we would be notified as the changes were implemented.
		The Quality Assurance representative just has you initial stuff saying it was basically the same as the documents you already signed. At least that is what ours did. He didn't ask anything about what the sales agent told us.
		Diamond did contact me directly, but I am far from satisfied. Now Diamond is hiding behind the fine print of the contract to side step the true issue of their sales agent's misrepresentation.

Prior Monarch Owner

March 6, 2018

Florida Attorney General

My husband and I have been victims of elder abuse and fraud by Diamond Resorts, headquartered in Las Vegas, NV. This began in 2013 when our original deeded timeshare, Monarch was bought by Diamond.

At that time we visited the Capistrano Beach Resort and were told our deeded Monarch week was worthless unless we bought Diamond points. We were never told of the option to deed back the week to DRI.

Their fraud continued later in 2013 and again in 2016 as summarized below.

This was the 1st contract that was executed based on their fraudulent claim that Monarch was worthless:

June 24, 2013
Member #2354116
Contract Number: 17445162
3500 points purchased
Location: Riviera Beach & Shores Resort, Capistrano Beach, CA 92624
Sales agent: Michael Dubio
Sales agent: Karen - 38060 Gordon Bender
Purchase price: $12,740
Maintenance fee $2,001
Loan: $10,516

The 2nd Contract in August 2013 was based on another fraud!!!!

At first Capistrano visit, Diamond advised us to return for "new member orientation" to learn how to use the Diamond points.

At this meeting I told Damon I wanted to sell our timeshare points online to pay for the maintenance fees and loan payment. He said it wasn't allowed but he would privately show me how to do this and gave me his cell number. I called numerous times and he never answered. Damon told us when we upgraded we would have access to multi-million dollar homes. We could rent those for a week @ $10,000 and he would show me how when I called his cell.

 Member #2354116
 Contract number: 17706119
 7000 points purchased

Location: Riviera Beach & Shores Resort, Capistrano Beach, CA 92624
 Sales agent: Steven T. Ginsburg, VP of sales
 Sales agent: Damon Thomas phone: 818-472-6449
 Promissory note #24991794
 Purchase price: $22,975.20
 Loan: $20,305
 Maintenance fees $1,115.52

At a visit to Las Vegas we purchased contract #3. Which was another bait and switch. We were repeatedly told we could sell our vacation points and rent our points. At this point my husband was diagnosed with a serious heart condition and we needed to sell points to make payments. We learned we have been lied to over several presentations now knowing Diamond vacation points are worthless if a member needs to sell.

February 11, 2017
 Member #2354116
 10,000 points purchased
 Location: Polo Towers, Las Vegas, NV
 Sales agent: Rebecca Zullo phone: 702-715-5898 rebecca.zullo@diamondresorts.com
 Sales manager: Matthew Gutierre
 Purchase price: $31,000

 Maintenance fees: $1,685

Contracts were wrapped to:
 New loan amount: $24,650
 Existing loan: $28,714.64L
 Total financed: $54,114.64
 Monthly payment: $793.38

We were told at this presentation if we left early we would be charged for our stay. I told them emphatically Ed's health was fragile and we couldn't afford this upgrade. If he died I'd never be able to pay for any of this and was afraid I'd lose my home. The result was more pressure.

Contract #4 was the result of being defrauded based on Adrian Moen assuring us our heirs would not be responsible for all of our timeshare points if we upgraded and that Diamond would sell it for us. This benefit was already available. We were told to put the contracts in Ed's name and I would not be responsible for anything upon his death.

Dear Ms. Bindi:

My husband and I are writing about our membership experience as Diamond Resorts, International vacation club members. This has been the worst decision we have made in our lifetime. We are retirees that have worked very hard all our life. We have never been wealthy and now we live on fixed incomes. Throughout our life, we have always paid our bills. To date, we have used much of our retirement savings, bank savings and credit cards to make ends meet. We are on the brink of financial ruin! We want out of this financial obligation and want our contracts deemed void. Others must be warned about the perils of vacation ownership with this company. Diamond Resorts, International, operates with deception and high-pressure sales tactics to lure families with the promise of affordable vacations. The company sustains itself by badgering, harassing, and scamming owners to purchase increasingly expensive levels at unreasonable yearly maintenance fees. It is a lucrative business at the expense of wrecking the financial status of many moderate income individuals.

We joined the Hawaii Collection of Diamond Resorts in 2014 after friends gifted the trip to my husband in celebration of his retirement. Our friends knew that my husband had been stationed on Oahu during his US Air Force military service during the 1960's.

Timeline: July, 2014- Ka'anapali Shores/ Beach Resort-Lahaina, Maui – We purchased 7,500 points for $30,375.00 from salesman, Tyler.Sullivan@diamondresorts.com - 808.661.2000 X402. In August, 2015, I received a call from Dennis, 1-888-822-8262 X10296 at Financial Services to inform me that we purchased at about $4.05 a point and that we were not at a full ownership level and that the 18 month price freeze was coming to a close. In Lahaina, there was no information given about a price freeze and it is nowhere in the contract. Dennis stated that there would be no guarantee that the price would not rise to $6.00 a point. My response was that we have set payments at this level and signed a contract. He stated that if we didn't pay in full at the point level that when we do book a vacation, we will have to pay the difference in point value. I didn't know what to do with this information. I felt sucker-punched and didn't dare tell my husband.

January 16, 2016 – Invitation to a Members Update- Dinner Meeting at the Hilton, Hasbrouck Heights, NJ – Again, we were told that full Silver status was 15,000 points and since Dennis (Aug 2015) from Financial Services did not send a new contract or a letter to decline the offer, we would be given a chance to purchase Silver level at a reduced price before the price per point doubled. We wanted to honor the investment already made although the company was not fully transparent and truthful about our initial purchase. I poured over the initial paperwork to see if we were at fault for not understanding the information. We were not at fault. It was deception on the part of the company.

We met with salesman, Michael.Minkoff@diamondresorts.com 757-768-3160, cell or 757-220-1200
Although we had transferred our Hawaiian collection to the US mainland, the maintenance fees remained high. We told Mr. Minkoff of our concerns. He then stated, "Why are you spending money to purchase a vacation?" "You can save your own money for vacations." "You can sell your points but you need to get to Gold status at a cost of $86,057.42 for this benefit. He later said that "we should have been given this option and that it wasn't fair that it is given to some owners and not others." He asked if we could pay approximately $1300.00 a month for six months and to call him in October, November to remind him to send the paperwork for the buy-back of our points. He said the paper work would be submitted in December. Finally, he asked that we "keep this information to ourselves and to not tell anyone." Needless to say, he never answered our phone calls to his cell phone or my written note to him in the mail. Looking back, he had perfected this scam and we were his victims. We were stuck!

 The salesmen and saleswomen at both Greensprings and Powhatan Resort in Williamsburg, Va. use this untruth of a buy-back to make sales to the next level of points. Other evidence of this scam is on websites such as <http://www.insidetimeshare.com> and <https://www.trustpilot.com>. The salespeople seem to act with impunity. If this is so, shame on the corporate leadership at DRI. At the least, DRI is complicit with the actions of its sales staff and at its worst, criminally wrong in defrauding people out of their hard earned money.

September, 2016 – Polo Towers, Las Vegas, NV.

During vacation with our son and daughter-in-law, my husband and I attended an owner's meeting where I walked out leaving my husband. The salesman continued to pressure us to purchase at a higher level. The salesman followed me to the elevator and I screamed that no matter how he configured payments, we could not afford any more debt. Later, he and my husband agreed to a Sampler package to experience vacations at the Platinum level. We never used this package at an additional cost of approximately $4,000.00

March, 2017 – Diamond Dream Holiday –Mystic Dunes Resort & Cruise -Celebration, Florida During most of 2016, my husband was diagnosed and treated for cancer. Also, during this time, my sister became totally dependent on us after she was diagnosed and continues to battle stage 3 cancer. We are both retired, living on a fixed income and in spite of these revelations, saleswoman, Shewanah Morehouse, cell phone; 407-485-8106 or 407-396-1311; Shewanah.Morehouse@diamondresorts.com was intent on making the sale to get us to the Platinum level. We were in this meeting for more than five hours! We relented because she stated that we could use our points to pay the maintenance fees among other benefits like “contract forgiveness “ if one of us should die.” We cannot afford the Platinum level. The specifics for the contract forgiveness are so stringent that for this to happen, it is nearly impossible. The salespeople play on your emotions and fears. They are sharks that use deception and half-truths. It appears that some Diamond Resorts personnel operate with little or no conscience and without accountability. After paying the monthly “mortgage” loan amount and yearly maintenance fee of $8,637.96, there is no money left to take a vacation.

Perhaps there are many other Florida residents that have been trapped or have fallen prey to the business predatory tactics of Diamond Resorts International. It may be too late for my husband and me. Please blast an alarm throughout our state and country to prevent others from being deceived into purchase of such timeshare vacation plans from DRI. Thank you.

Sincerely,

Sarah Moody

Attached is some of the evidence we have.

Feb. 4, 2017 My husband Thomas Brust age 71 and I age 68 attended updates for Diamond Resorts because it was to inform us of new things happening with the company since Apple's purchase. It ended up as a sales pitch and con. We were told by our salesman Brad Leslie he had just come back from Orlando training on new program. I have attached his drawings. He explained after a period of 10 years we would pay $86,310.00 in maintenance fees so we could take the money we save each month and purchase more points. First pitch was 25,000 points and then 15,000 points. That would give us 65,000 points and company would match that with another 65,000 points. If we did not use the 15,000 points we bought we would not pay fees on them. He would keep in background. Attached is copy of bill for those fees $2620.51 and a copy of check that was sent to pay us for those 15,000 points.

After many times asking him to go over all this again before the 10 days to cancel was up I guess we chose to believe him. (By mistake) He had $26,000 put on new Barclay Cards before he even told us he did that. We did fill out credit form but thought it was to see how much credit Barclay would give us. We had never discussed a down payment and was shocked when he came and told us Barclay loves you guys. I don't understand why Barclay would open new cards in that amount for people who already had open credit of over $65,000.00. We only have income of around $60,000.00 a year. A few months later we were back in Florida and met with Brad and he said things have changed we had told him in the beginning what he was telling us better be true because we could not afford any more bills. Everything was a con and lie.

Contract 1770321
Purchase price: $55,989
Down Payment: $26,000 Barclay Card
DRI Loan: approximately $30,000 @ 11.99% for 121 months
Salesperson: Brad Leslie
February 4, 2017
Maintenance fee: $2621

Member Number: 9-256675

We had been happy and loyal Diamond Resorts Platinum members for years. On February 4, 2017 we were fraudulently upsold by Brad Leslie in Daytona Beach, FL. I am including evidence of this crime.

Prior to this trip to Daytona Beach we had accumulated 50,000 Diamond Resort Points through previous timeshare trade-ins, enough to become Platinum Diamond members. Our annual maintenance fees were $8631.

It is this last contract for 15000 points $55,989, fraudulently sold by Brad Leslie that needs to be cancelled and all our monies must be refunded.

We went into an "update" meeting on February 4, 2017, which turned out to be an "upsell". Our salesperson, Brad Leslie, said there were big changes due to Apollo owning Diamond Resorts. Brad said he had just learned about a new program while training in Orlando.

We expressed concern about increasing our maintenance fees but Brad showed us how we could purchase 15,000 additional points, not be billed for the maintenance on them ($2621) and still have enough points to cover $8,000 for maintenance as well as significant travel.

He started by proposing we purchase an additional 25,000 points which we rejected, and so he worked the numbers with 15,000 additional points (see penciled notes included). As you can see on the penciled notes, we were promised that our new total of 65,000 would be doubled to 130,000 points. The plan he wrote out shows we could redeem 80,000 points at $.10 to cover $8,000 of maintenance fees. This would leave us with 50,000 points to travel. SEE PENCILED NOTES FROM BRAD LESLIE.

Further, he stated that the new 15,000 points would be in the background of our account and we would only be charged a maintenance fee of $2621 if we used the points!!!!

The plan that he outlined on paper was easy to understand but turned out to be a lie.

Brad originally said the double points (65,000) would appear on a split screen on our dashboard. In May, 2017 when we met again he told us they were still working on the split screen.

Here is what actually happened after he closed the sale:

- Even though we didn't use the new 15,000 points we were billed for the maintenance fees! Brad told us to pay and that he would arrange for reimbursement. After contacting Brad a second time we did receive a Diamond check around March, 2017 for about $2,621 overnight FEDEX. COPY OF CHECK ENCLOSED AS EVIDENCE OF HIS SCAM
- Looking at our account now, these 15,000 points are not "in the background". And so, we received a maintenance fee bill for 2018 in the amount of $11,263.85 for 65,000 points.
- We do not have 130,000 points in our account.

We complained to Diamond Resorts about the fraudulent sale and received the response I have included. They go to great lengths to try to explain away his promises.

Affidavit Of Claudia Morgan

STATE OF FLORIDA

(COUNTY OF Polk)

I, Claudia Morgan, being first duly sworn, do hereby state under oath and under penalty of perjury, that the following facts are true:

I am over 18 years old and a resident of the County of Polk, State of Florida.

I have personal knowledge of the facts stated herein, and if called upon as a witness, I could testify competently thereto.

1. In November 2016, I was approached by a Diamond Resorts sales representative, who gave me a $100 dollar deal to stay for a long weekend. They make you go to a meeting where they give you a tour of different timeshare layouts and of the Disney parks in the area nearby. Finally, I was back to an office area where tables were set up for each person returning from the same option I had just used. The Sales Rep gave me an offer that was far out of my price range, and I definitely said no multiple times, "we cannot afford that".

2. All this did was brought in the "heavy hitters" aka Sales Manager. He just came back with different offers and he told us how it would be very smart for us to "invest now" that it would be good for our credit, because owning a timeshare is just like owning property. They kept lowering the price until we said "yes". He also told me that I would be able to rent the timeshare weeks out and actually use the timeshare as a source of income to pay off the maintenance fees and taxes.

3. Everything the sales manager told us made us believe that it would be extremely easy to rent out our time and make money. He specifically mentioned people trading their weeks for a place near where a big event would happen, like the super bowl or the Olympics, and renting it to someone who would pay a lot of money. I told the sales manager that we wanted time to think about whether or not we wanted to make this commitment, but they told me that we had to decide before we left that day.

4. It turned out that we were not given any chance to learn about the timeshare we had purchased, but instead Diamond Resort employees said we needed to upgrade.

The Diamond Resort sales representatives who sat down with us said that we had purchased a timeshare using the outdated "Weeks System" and that we would need to upgrade to the "Points System". I had never heard these terms before, so I was very upset. Of course, this upgrade was going to cost more money and I did not want to do that. We kept telling them that we did not want to spend more money, but again, they said that we had to accept the offer that day, or it would no longer be available

5. After the sale of the property I called to find out about getting out of the property, due to life finances. And the finance lady that I talked to said that I had 10 days after the sale to change things. That is the Florida law. I was there the week before Thanksgiving. You have longer than that with a house. So, for them to say that it is like buying a house is a lie. The finance lady from Diamond said that if I lived in a different state that I would have had twice as long.

6. I live in Florida. It is hard to find vacations during spring break because the rest of the US want to be in Florida also. They told me that as an owner I would have first option for getting a place to stay. I can rarely find a place to stay when I am looking, in Florida. I don't want to have to fly to Denver or Hawaii to get a room

7. Last time I stayed in one of their condos, it was full of roaches. And not dead. I complained the whole week that I was there and not one maintenance guy came to spray the condo that I was in. I know that this is Florida and bugs can be an issue but, I have lived here for over 20 years and have never had a problem like this. And no one called me back to let me even know that they received my message. I am extremely unhappy with my experience and I would like to cancel this timeshare based on the reasons stated above.

Further affiant sayeth not.

We are reaching out to your agencies regarding our current dispute with Diamond Resorts. We have written to them since January and have receive limited responses. At one time we were communicating with a representative Aaliah Moore, but she has stopped responding to us. We have now sent them a follow up letter asking to have someone get in contact with us so that we can finish with dispute and settle with the resolution we have asked from them. We have included the communication we have had with Diamond and hope that your agencies can assist us. We greatly appreciate your assistance whether it is helping us reach out to them to get a response or advice on how to continue with our dispute. Please let us know if there is anything further you need from us to our email or mailing address listed above.

We would like to relinquish all ownership for the total amount invested of $52,147.19 to Diamond Resorts International. To Whom It May Concern and Aaliah Moore,

We thank you for your response, however we would like to take this time to bring a few things to your attention. As we outlined in our first letter, we are not wanting to relinquish our ownership because of a "hardship." We have not received the services we were promised from Diamond and have found it more and more difficult to utilize this purchase, therefore we are wanting to relinquish our ownership because we were lied to, we were pressured to make additional purchases and have yet to see a return on this so diligently promised "investment." We reached out to your offices with our desire to cancel in December of 2017, our fees/account at that time were paid in full and yet you purposefully waited to respond to our letter until the New Year, which would require us to pay another year of fees for something we no longer wish to own. This further proves to us that we can no longer be owners with Diamond and of the lengths your offices will stoop to just to keep owners under your thumb. Again, Please send the documents required to return the membership, in full, without any future obligations or future ownership.

We have sent out a letter disputing our membership and to a response we received from Aaliah Moore. It has now been some time and we have received no further communication. We would like to have this dispute resolved and soon so please have someone reach out to us with a status update as soon as possible. To Whom It May Concern,

We have been reaching out to your corporate offices since January and have had some response from Aaliah Moore, but she has not responded to us further. We have recently received a notice from Diamond entitled the U.S Collection Members Association- Suspension Notice and we are concerned that no one has been reviewing our case and that Aaliah Moore is ignoring us. We have been writing to your offices because we would like to terminate our ownership and contract with Diamond Resorts. We have requested this because of the misrepresentations and pressures we experienced during this ownership and at the point of sale. Our account has been in good standing until recently when we began this dispute. We had hoped that we would have a resolution before receiving notice like this and we had hoped that Diamond would be more on top of their game when it comes to customer relations. Especially since we are owners and so much attention was given to us when we were buying, apparently that kind of attention doesn't carry over once you have become an owner. We would greatly appreciate a response from someone concerning our current request. Please feel free to email us and we hope to hear from someone soon.

Sincerely,

Affidavit Of Linda Jackson

STATE OF MICHIGAN

(COUNTY OF Wayne)

I, Linda Jackson, being first duly sworn, do hereby state under oath and under penalty of perjury, that the following facts are true:

I am over 18 years old and a resident of the County of Wayne, State of Michigan.

I have personal knowledge of the facts stated herein, and if called upon as a witness, I could testify competently thereto.

1. I found out about Diamond Resorts through a free vacation I was offered and all I would have to do is sit through a 1 hour meeting. The 1 hour meeting turned in to a meeting of several hours. They offered me a package of 5000 points, deeded property in Orlando Florida. I was also told that anyone in my family could use it and I would be able to will it to my children. They presented it as a loan which I was able to deduct interest on my taxes.

2. I was told when my loan would be due and never received an invoice to pay. I called Diamond Customer Service and after having to answer 20 security questions when I inquired about my invoice they stated that invoicing is done by an outside company and they had no control over that and of course I was to pay on time even if I did not get an invoice. I then did what I had to do to pay the loan even when I did not get an invoice until sometimes a month after it was due.

3. This is how it went for years.. I did try and use the timeshare but I work alot and when I asked about my family using it I was told that I would have to go on all vacations with them. How unrealistic is that I have grown children with different schedules than mine. In 2015 I had a vacation scheduled for April in Las Vegas , NV there were 3 other people going. My mother came very ill and when I reached out to Diamond to advise them of my situation and asked if it would be ok if I did not go they said if I was not there the others would not be able to stay. So I did go they made me sit through a meeting and when I explained to the salesperson my situation and did not want to buy any more points he said ok. Thought all was good.

4. When I went to Las Vegas again in October of 2017 I had to go to another meeting, Jeff the salesperson advised me that in my last meeting with them the sales rep told me I agreed to waive my rights to be able to ever sell or will to my children. Needless to say I was very upset and stated that is not what went down and that does not make much sense if I can't have family use without me being there. So he gave me the sales pitch and told me if I became a silver member I would be able to have family use my unit without me there. He also stated that timeshares were a great investment and I was getting a once and a lifetime deal and it would increase in value so I would be able to sell it for a profit later on if I wanted to.

5. He showed me a bunch of numbers showing that the timeshare would reduce my current cost and would roll in the maintenance fees, and I would save tons of money which was not true. They brought out the papers for me to sign and rushed me through the signing process, I was not aware until after I signed that the documents stated that part of the loan would be paid to Diamond as an automatic withdrawal and the other part of the loan would go through Barclay, this was not mentioned prior. I did not know Barclay was a charge card how would I ever pay that cost off of a charge card. With the other loan it never changed and had an end date. I was not aware that they were

Dear Ms./Mrs. Pam Bondi:

Please allow this correspondence to serve as a formal Complaint for Fraudulent Business Practices against:

Ocean Beach Club
P.O. Box 8526
Coral Springs, FL 33075-8526

At the time, we purchased our timeshare with Ocean Beach Club we were in good health. As we have aged, we have a multitude of health issues and can no longer afford to maintain the timeshare. We didn't really understand that this contract was perpetual at the time, we signed it, that it would last forever even into our older years when now we have to spend the majority of our income on healthcare and prescriptions. We contacted Ocean Beach Club and requested that they terminate our contract with them however they refuse to do so. An Affidavit specifically setting forth the facts is also enclosed.

Ocean Beach Club has failed and refused to acknowledge our attempts to resolve this matter amicably. We have formally disputed the validity of this contract via Certified Mail to Ocean Beach Club, yet Ocean Beach Club continues to harass us with threatening collection phone calls. We have asked Ocean Beach Club to stop calling and they refuse to do so.

Because Ocean Beach Club refuses to discuss an amicable resolution of this matter and continues to harass us, we are left with no alternative but to request that your office conduct an investigation.

Please contact us as set forth above.

Thank you for your time and attention to this matter.

To Whom It May Concern,

We have decided to reach out to the State and Federal Regulatory Agencies regarding our ownership and dispute with Diamond Resorts. We have written to Diamond with a formal letter asking that our ownership and contracts be cancelled due to the misleading information and pressure we experienced during the sales presentations we attended and throughout our ownership. We have had some communication with them, however we are no closer to the resolution we have requested. We are hoping that your agencies may be able help us with our dispute. At this point we are just wanting to be finished with this ownership and with Diamond all together. Please let us know if there is anything further you need from us and we will be happy to oblige. We are best reached by email or letter by mail.

To Whom It May Concern:

We are Diane and Mike Olson and we are writing this letter as a formal complaint with our Diamond Resorts International ownership. Since the beginning of our ownership we have been badgered by the salespeople of Diamond and dramatically misled about what an investment this would be. We first bought timeshare through Sunterra at Cypress Pointe before all the buildings were constructed in about 1989. We were encouraged to attend a SHORT presentation with tickets to a park. Our sons were 7 and 3 years-old at the time and we were told that one of the benefits we could get from this purchase would be that we could pass it on to our kids and make memories of vacations for years to come. That we would be investing in our family's future, that we could rent the unit when we were not able to go and that they would help us find renters.

We also bought a timeshare in Minnesota on Lake Mille Lacs. Diamond and its salespeople encouraged us to trade in with them to get more points and that this would give us better booking power with a "Gold status." We were also told that it would be easier to upgrade with more points but we soon discovered that instead we were limited to where we could find a unit even with trying to book several months ahead of time. During the presentation we attended, when we said "No" or that we "were not interested" to the last salesman he would go get his boss, then the district manager who would pressure us over and over for many hours to buy more points. They told us that the best way to get to Hawaii was to be a member with more points but it did not make any difference!

In March of 2014 we were at the Suites at Fall Creek (again) and were told that for us get up the "point ladder" we could buy a "Sampler Package" which was only to be sold to new customers. We were in the office for 6 hours, nearly half a day of our vacation! Just to get paperwork done. Michael Jordan another one of the salespeople we spoke to told us about his divorce, children and his new romance. Too much personal stuff!! Many of the salespeople told us how they were Christian and would not tell us anything that was not true. Very phony and asked about our family, grandkids etc. One of our many representatives McKenzie Wescott (again at Suits of Fall Creek) told us that he would be our personal representative going forward. However, we could never reach him by phone and he never returned our phone calls. Michael Jordan also told us that if we bought the "Sampler program" we would be eligible for the "Guaranteed buyback program" so we could sell our points back to Diamond at our next sales presentation. We found out later that there is no such program. More Lies!

The final straw for us was when we were at the Liki Tiki Resort in Orlando and found out people could rent the units we were staying in for a week for much less than the fees we were paying! We also ran into issues in late March when we told Diamond to pull our maintenance fees out of our Wells Fargo checking account. We didn't verify the account number with the employee on the phone and within 5 minutes of hanging up the phone we called back and spoke with a Ken Murray in the Finance Department. We told him that we had a new checking account number as our checkbook was lost the previous fall. We gave him the correct account number and he said, "No Problem." The problem continued as they kept trying to take the payment from the old account number and racked up several dollars in fees and they never used the correct account for the maintenance fee bill. I used to work for Wells Fargo and U.S. Bank so I know how auto debit work.

We have come to realize that Diamond Resorts International is company that lies and cheats their customers. All the while making good people get into a bad business deal. We have been overly pressured and misled by their salespeople and no longer wish to be owners. We request that you send us the correct paperwork to cancel our ownership. We ask that the money we have invested be refunded and that we not be held to any future obligations as well as no further meetings with corrupt salespeople.

Sincerely,

Diane M. & Michael L. Olson

Reporting: Diamond Resorts For Misrepresentation, Sales Deception, Unfair Business Practices And Timeshare Fraud.

Good morning,

I am a resident of Delaware and I'm writing to ask for your assistance, regarding my experience in purchasing a vacation timeshare at Mystic Dunes Resort 7600 Mystic Dunes Ln Celebration FL 34747. When I purchased the timeshare, I was in Florida. The timeshare company's corporate office is Diamond Resorts 10600 West Charleston Blvd. Las Vegas Nevada 89135.

I have been victimized by timeshare fraud and deceptive sales practices, I have no legal counsel regarding this complaint, and I am not asking your office to be my private attorney, but I would appreciate your assistance in getting this fraudulent contract canceled and my money returned.

Below you will find a copy of the letter I sent to both parties above, and as of this date, there has been no resolution. Help from your office would be greatly appreciated. As you read the letter I sent to them, you will understand that the entire Mystic Dunes Resort sales process and experience was full of high-pressure, fraudulent and deceptive sales tactics.

However, even worse, later I discovered the sales presentation included lots of misrepresentation, sales deception, untruths, partial truths, and outright lies, all of which, were cleverly presented in such a way, that they could not be exposed or discovered until much later than the rescission period.

Diamond Resorts sells timeshare to consumers who reside in all fifty states and in filing this complaint with your office, I state that my complaint is a truthful account of my experience and I am the individual that entered into a marketplace relationship with Diamond Resorts.

I authorize your office to send my complaint and supporting documents to all of the above businesses identified in this complaint and to receive confidential financial information about me from these companies. In case you need to know, there is NO court action pending, and I have NOT lost a lawsuit regarding this matter.

Please Communicate With Me By My Email. The above complaint is true and accurate to the best of my knowledge. Thank you in advance for your help.

Sincerely,

Jose Mojica

Dear Diamond Resorts,

In December 2013 my family and I were on vacation in Orlando FL. We were staying at Rosen Inn and pass by a booth that we thought was an information booth, from the booth a lady asked us if we would like to get ticket to Disney for free.

She said all we had to do was to go to one of their resort timeshare presentations for 90 minutes. She told us that we did not have to buy anything, but just for going, we would get ticket to Disney for free.

I told the lady that we were on vacation and the time we had was limited, she said that the presentation only lasted for 90-minutes, and we could go early in the morning and for just 90 minutes of our time, we would leave with Disney tickets (pass). Just because it only lasted 90-minutes we decided to do it and left the kids in the room.

Before we went even on vacation we express to one another that we will not buy anything that was not necessary. We had agreed each other that we could not afford to buy anything that the budget was tight. We agreed just going to look, listen and get Disney tickets (pass).

When we went to the timeshare presentation we were in Mystic Dunes in Orlando FL. The person at the checked in counter assured us that we could leave after the 90-minutes.

At the beginning of the presentation we were emphatic to the sales person that we will not buy anything and we expressed the same at the end of the 90-minutes, we told our sales person that we really had to go because we were on a very tight schedule. He asked if we could just stay a few more minutes, so he could show us the prices.

He said if he didn't show us the prices, it would count against him with his supervisor and asked if we would please stay just 15 more minutes.

At this moment a gentleman had approach his desk a couple of time and I assumed it was his supervisor. We told him were not interested in buying and that the budget for our vacation was tight, but to help him with his supervisor we would stay just 15 more minutes.

After he showed us the prices we said, thanks for showing us around, but we can't buy and really have to go now. He said okay, but my sales manager has to sign off on this paper so you can get your Disney tickets (pass). I'll go get my sales manager and be right back.

After the sales manager had introduced himself, he ask where we were from and started a conversation with us knowing that we had our kids at the hotel waiting for us. He asks us if we liked what we saw today and we said, it was very nice and he said well if it was free today, you would get it right now?

We said yes, why not we would if it was free, but it's not and we can't afford it and then we told him we really had to go because we have stayed much longer that what we thought we were going to. At this time it was almost 11:30 am.

He then said please stay just a little bit longer and I'm going to show you something that will just maybe make your life a lot better. We said we really couldn't stay any longer, and we can't afford to add anything else to our budget.

Then he said he had a special deal that he could give us as a sale manager, but only if we bought today at the price he was giving us, he then lowered the price of the timeshare down payment and monthly payments and asked us if we would like to buy it at this lower price.

We said we still can't afford it and then we told him we have really got to go because we have stayed much, much longer the agreed. At this time, I had received already two (2) calls from my son telling me that they were hungry and that where we have been for so long.

He said, he felt that we should really be timeshare owners, and he was going to go and talk to the general sales manager and see if there was anything they could do make it affordable to us.

When he returned, we meet the general sales manager he said hi folks, please come with me. We felt so relieved that we were finally leaving and getting out of there, but before we know it, we were now setting in the general sales manager's office.

We had now been there for over 4 Hours at this point the general sales manager said he was going to help us with our exit survey so we could get our Disney tickets (pass) like promised.

However, what happened was we found ourselves being the recipients of another one-hour high-pressure sales presentation by someone who was very dominant in their nature. It was like being the main characters in a bad movie about high-pressure sales.

During his sales pitch he, once again, lowers the price and told us if we buy today, they will give us a lot more points so we could trade our timeshare for anytime, anywhere, we found out later, that this was not true.

He also told us that these points would give us more amenities, which again, we found out later, that this also was not true.

He also told us that the resort would resell our timeshare in the future if we so desired and we could make a great profit because timesharing is real estate and it goes up in value. Again, we found out later, that this also was not true.

He said one of the greatest things about time sharing is, we could write off the timeshare payments on our taxes. He said that we would have lots of tax advantages of becoming a timeshare owner. Once again, we found out later, that this also was not true.

Buying this timeshare from your company has been the worst thing we have ever done because of the high-pressure, intimidation and the misrepresentation, deception and flat out lies that were told to us.

We are cancelling this fraudulent transaction that you tricked us into.

We will not be a part of the scam that your company is running on unsuspecting people. It is illegal to lied to people the way that your company is doing by tricking people into buying your worthless timeshares!

We will not be one of your many victims!!!!!!!!!!

Whatever we have paid you people, in the course of your deception we want back!

Again! We are canceling and we want our money back!

Reporting: Diamond Resorts For Misrepresentation, Sales Deception, Unfair Business Practices And Timeshare Fraud.

Good morning,

I am a resident of Delaware and I'm writing to ask for your assistance, regarding my experience in purchasing a vacation timeshare at Mystic Dunes Resort 7600 Mystic Dunes Ln Celebration FL 34747. When I purchased the timeshare, I was in Florida. The timeshare company's corporate office is Diamond Resorts 10600 West Charleston Blvd. Las Vegas Nevada 89135.

I have been victimized by timeshare fraud and deceptive sales practices, I have no legal counsel regarding this complaint, and I am not asking your office to be my private attorney, but I would appreciate your assistance in getting this fraudulent contract canceled and my money returned.

Below you will find a copy of the letter I sent to both parties above, and as of this date, there has been no resolution. Help from your office would be greatly appreciated. As you read the letter I sent to them, you will understand that the entire Mystic Dunes Resort sales process and experience was full of high-pressure, fraudulent and deceptive sales tactics.

However, even worse, later I discovered the sales presentation included lots of misrepresentation, sales deception, untruths, partial truths, and outright lies, all of which, were cleverly presented in such a way, that they could not be exposed or discovered until much later than the rescission period.

Diamond Resorts sells timeshare to consumers who reside in all fifty states and in filing this complaint with your office, I state that my complaint is a truthful account of my experience and I am the individual that entered into a marketplace relationship with Diamond Resorts.

I authorize your office to send my complaint and supporting documents to all of the above businesses identified in this complaint and to receive confidential financial information about me from these companies. In case you need to know, there is NO court action pending, and I have NOT lost a lawsuit regarding this matter.

Please Communicate With Me By My Email. The above complaint is true and accurate to the best of my knowledge. Thank you in advance for your help.

Dear Diamond Resorts,

In December 2013 my family and I were on vacation in Orlando FL. We were staying at Rosen Inn and pass by a booth that we thought was an information booth, from the booth a lady asked us if we would like to get ticket to Disney for free.

She said all we had to do was to go to one of their resort timeshare presentations for 90 minutes. She told us that we did not have to buy anything, but just for going, we would get ticket to Disney for free.

I told the lady that we were on vacation and the time we had was limited, she said that the presentation only lasted for 90-minutes, and we could go early in the morning and for just 90 minutes of our time, we would leave with Disney tickets (pass). Just because it only lasted 90-minutes we decided to do it and left the kids in the room.

Before we went even on vacation we express to one another that we will not buy anything that was not necessary. We had agreed each other that we could not afford to buy anything that the budget was tight. We agreed just going to look, listen and get Disney tickets (pass).

When we went to the timeshare presentation we were in Mystic Dunes in Orlando FL. The person at the checked in counter assured us that we could leave after the 90-minutes.

At the beginning of the presentation we were emphatic to the sales person that we will not buy anything and we expressed the same at the end of the 90-minutes, we told our sales person that we really had to go because we were on a very tight schedule. He asked if we could just stay a few more minutes, so he could show us the prices.

He said if he didn't show us the prices, it would count against him with his supervisor and asked if we would please stay just 15 more minutes.

At this moment a gentleman had approach his desk a couple of time and I assumed it was his supervisor. We told him were not interested in buying and that the budget for our vacation was tight, but to help him with his supervisor we would stay just 15 more minutes.

After he showed us the prices we said, thanks for showing us around, but we can't buy and really have to go now. He said okay, but my sales manager has to sign off on this paper so you can get your Disney tickets (pass). I'll go get my sales manager and be right back.

After the sales manager had introduced himself, he ask where we were from and started a conversation with us knowing that we had our kids at the hotel waiting for us. He asks us if we liked what we saw today and we said, it was very nice and he said well if it was free today, you would get it right now?

We said yes, why not we would if it was free, but it's not and we can't afford it and then we told him we really had to go because we have stayed much longer that what we thought we were going to. At this time it was almost 11:30 am.

He then said please stay just a little bit longer and I'm going to show you something that will just maybe make your life a lot better. We said we really couldn't stay any longer, and we can't afford to add anything else to our budget.

Then he said he had a special deal that he could give us as a sale manager, but only if we bought today at the price he was giving us, he then lowered the price of the timeshare down payment and monthly payments and asked us if we would like to buy it at this lower price.

(S/Timeshare AE
(From Ft. Laud))

We are seeking your assistance in our timeshare cancellation with Diamond Resorts International. I have included our initial letter which was sent to Diamond in which our experience was detailed. I have also including their subsequent denial of our request and our rebuttals. As you will see from our correspondence, Diamond continues to disregard our concerns and will not bend to our request. I feel confident Diamond is quite aware of their sales representatives' fraudulent tactics and am appalled at their lack of attention. I understand we signed and initialed several times on contract paperwork, however we purchased based on what was told to us. We had no time to review the contract documentation during the signing session and the rescission period offered was nowhere near long enough to realize we were scammed.

We ask that your agency assist us in getting us a resolution we deserve – a cancellation of our contracts and membership. Should you need anything else for your investigation, please don't hesitate to contact me.

Respectfully,

Attn: Diamond Resorts Hospitality

December 11, 2017

We would like to bring our concerns to your attention and request a cancellation of our membership based on the fact that we were given false information that effected our decision to buy. And after countless emails back and forth, it seems our problems are only getting worse.

We joined in 2010 with Monarch Grand Vacations. I don't recall the sales pitch being excessive or particularly aggressive. We were promised some freebies for purchasing, one of which we managed to jump through the hoops and use, a cruise in late 2011. Until Diamond took over, our membership was usable and enjoyable.

Here's where things start to get ugly. Somewhere along the line, perhaps in 2012 or so, Monarch Grand Vacations went under and the assets were purchased by Diamond Resorts International. I was actually kind of curious about this because I had been wondering how the Diamond acquisition affected our ownership, what we could now do with it, etc.

In 2014, we visited Palm Canyon in Palm Springs. We were asked upon check-in to attend an "Owner Update Meeting". We were first, of course, shown all the "benefits" of a Diamond ownership, which didn't make a whole lot of sense to me because at that point we didn't own Diamond. I just wanted to know if we could still use all our original benefits. Sure, we could, but now our priority was lowered behind Diamond owners. Thus, properties we could never get into in the first place, like the Capistrano Beach properties, were now utterly impossible for an MGV owner to get into – and they were "ours" to begin with! I hollered loud and long about that via email (attached) and actually got a call back from Stephen J. Cloobek, then CEO of Diamond Resorts International. He verbally told me that we were lucky that Diamond had come along, otherwise, we'd have nothing (which of course now I realize would have been a better deal) and that "his" owners came first because they owned "his" product. He also made the comment that "some people shouldn't be owners". Struck me as quite elitist; but I couldn't agree more. And naturally, if I wanted Diamond benefits, I needed to become a Diamond owner. And, of course, I couldn't become an owner for some sort of reasonable "upgrade fee", I had to buy an entirely new timeshare and they would gracefully give me some "credit" for my MGV ownership.

Mari Herre at Palm Canyon kept after me about upgrading via email, phone, etc., and finally we were told we HAD to at least buy something called a "Sampler Package" to guarantee our right to upgrade, otherwise we were going to be faced with naked HOA assessments of $5000 or more on our MGV ownership because the "properties were in bad shape and needed repairs and upgrades" and why should Diamond owners pay for it, it wasn't "their" property (but they had first priority to USE it). I have some of this email thread (attached), but I am sure you can pull this from your records. So, finally in 2014, since my budget never could accommodate a "naked assessment", I was scared into the "Sampler Package" to "guarantee" our upgrade path and point price. At that point, we had 18 months to upgrade or we'd lose the upgrade path AND we could not USE any of the sampler package's 15,000 points we bought otherwise we couldn't be credited that on the down payment towards the so-called "final" upgrade. We didn't use it, but of course we continued to be hammered on about "completing" the upgrade which we finally did in August 2015. Somewhere in either 2014 or 2015, we were arm-twisted into each of us opening affiliated credit cards, so we could offset our maintenance fees. We were getting impatient about the length of one of the meetings and Mari actually had the audacity to say, "you're being paid to be here".

We didn't use the timeshare in 2016 because we moved to Texas and nothing is near enough to use, but I had a business trip in 2017 that gave me the "opportunity" to use some in California. Naturally, the moment we show up, the concierge starts hammering me that we "HAVE TO" attend an Owner Update Meeting and now they are completely different than they were before, but we'd still get our two $75 gift cards and some other lovely parting gifts. So, we agreed to see if the leopard had changed its spots. We were again shown the lovely benefits of the Silver level of ownership at 15,000 points (9000 was already twice as much as I could ever use in a year, by the way). We could 'buy down' our maintenance dollars by selling some of the points back to the company for that year and we could offset our maintenance in half a dozen other ways (because using the credit cards for it was chump change, so they said). But it was "not about points" (they repeated this over and over again) – so why did I have to buy another $22,000 or whatever it was to get these magic benefits (after first showing some ridiculous $80,000 price for them)? Oh, and here the threat was that the maintenance fees would grow at an exponential rate, they tried to scare us with a number WAAAY over what we pay now that no comprehensible per year rate increase would ever get to. The supervisor guy actually got very angry that we didn't accept his offer extortion. The girl was nice enough, but didn't have anything to say that we were interested in hearing. She was frantic that we weren't accepting the offer. And yet here we were again, spending our "vacation" time fuming over some over-the-top sales pitch instead of enjoying the "benefits" of ownership. We have only had ONE multi-day trip during Diamond's tenure where we weren't abused in this fashion, and quite frankly I think it is because I bought that week on the open market (because, of course, I couldn't actually get it using my membership).

We collected our $75x2 VISA gift cards for our 3 hours of time or whatever it was and left. Some months later, I got a call from Diamond to see if they could reserve us for our other "free gift" of a 3-day stay (presumably in Branson, MO, the only location within an 8-hour drive of us). I asked if it required an "Owner Update"? She said yes, and I said 'No, my wife and I are never attending another one of those. Your company's sales tactics suck.' I perhaps less-than-politely declined their offer.

As you can see, our time with Diamond has been quite tumultuous, to say the least. In every meeting, we were never allowed to just buy to the next level of membership, it was always some arbitrary (and naturally much more expensive) number of points we had to buy. So, we frankly put in a lot more money for no more benefits than we would have had at the minimum point level.

At this point, we are demanding cancellation and a refund of what we've paid in. Please send the proper paperwork to make this happen.

Respectfully,

Lyle & Freda Kimball

Dear Mr. & Mrs. Kimball,

We are in receipt of your letter regarding your request for a cancelation of your contract. Our account records indicate that your most recent purchase for THE Club® full membership points was on 03-Aug-2015.

We regret to hear of your dissatisfaction regarding your purchase. We certainly hope those feelings dissipate and you will allow us to assist you in staying vacationed now and in the future.

After fully researching your concerns, regretfully, we must decline to cancel your purchase at this time as you are outside of the rescission period. We have reviewed the documents that we feel support this sale, the use of these points and the reasons why you purchased with us that day. We feel you may have reported to us a case of buyer's remorse. I understand, it was perceived by you, that our team pressured you into making a purchase you were not interested in making. We do not advocate high pressure sales approaches and it is a part of our ethos to always treat everyone we encounter with the upmost courtesy and respect. In fact, we encourage all guests who feel inconvenienced to contact our team immediately. Our teams try not to apply pressure but they are really passionate about helping our members reach their full membership potential and receive the best value we can offer. Ultimately, it was your choice to purchase, if upgrading was not what you wanted to do, you could have left the presentation or rescinded the purchased contract.

As such, we do not feel there was any intentional pressure applied. With that said, Diamond Resorts does not have any reason to consider a cancellation of contract.

We are always available to assist you with making reservations, to answer any questions or address any concerns that you may have. If you should have further questions or concerns regarding your account or would like to discuss how to make your membership work for you, please contact 702-473-7645.

If you find yourself in a position of hardship, we may consider relinquishment requests on a case by case basis due to medical hardship, or other extenuating circumstances. You may send an email or letter with the details of your hardship and documentation that will substantiate your claim (s) and I will submit it for review for consideration to cancel your ownership even with the active loan. I make no guarantees as to if this can be approved or not.

Kind Regards,

Ms. Donnell,

Thank you for your response to our letter, however, I highly doubt our feelings will dissipate. It truly perturbs me that your only response or reasoning for denying my cancellation is because we are outside of the rescission period and you claim I have buyer's remorse. Not only that, but sadly, your response seems "canned". Did you actually read my letter and supporting emails?

Firstly, allow me to comment on being outside of the rescission period – our problems didn't develop during your 5-day rescission period. Nor did we know we had been completely bamboozled yet. Only over time did we learn the things they told us weren't really accurate or even true.

As for having "buyer's remorse" – the audacity of that statement leaves me speechless. Each "decision" we made to purchase and upgrade was because of what your sales reps scared us into – purely TO DEFEND OURSELVES from whatever Diamond's latest threat was, not because we were truly interested in the product, particularly on the offered terms. The sales tactics you use are ridiculous! Again, we've only had ONE trip during your tenure where we weren't abused. And yes, it is abuse. Which leads me into your next point –

Of course no one advocates high pressured sales tactics – they aren't ethical. This abuse, as we both know, happens. Diamond is quite notorious for it – anyone that has been to your meetings can confirm this and you can read about thousands more incidences with any Google search! There is a clear difference between having passion for one's job and pressuring someone to purchase by telling them lies or misleading information and making them feel as if they are being held hostage until they agree to sign on the dotted line – we've felt held hostage by the concierges to even get our room keys! And we have shared our concerns with you – you should have copies of those emails.

Telling us misleading information and multiple lies, making us feel like we have no other choice other than to upgrade, and then finding out we've put in a lot more money for no more benefits than we would have had at the minimum point level is enough to make anyone want out - and on top of that then finding out last June (2017) that even though we had complied with all of Diamond's ridiculous requests, the abuse hasn't ended. Always a new threat from Diamond to defend ourselves from. Enough is enough.

I believe those are valid reasons to consider our request. If you don't have the authority, I give you my permission to share my letters with someone that does.

Dear Mr. & Mrs. Kimball,

I have received your response to my email and I did read your letter. I have reviewed your account again and come to the same conclusion. If you felt you were pressured into this contract that is where the rescission period comes in. It gives you a chance to look over your purchase and how to cancel it if you were not happy with it or you didn't like how it was sold to you.

Sales presentations are not mandatory, you have the right to refuse to attend. If you do attend you can stand up and walk out after the 90 minutes to receive your gift.

I do see that you have used your points in 2017 and have banked some points into 2018. That's good you should use them. And being a Diamond member gives you access to many more resorts and the special discounts for resorts throughout the year, much more than being a Monarch member and you still have access to the Monarch properties. If you need help in utilizing your points or going over your account, we are always here to assist you.

Respectfully,

Cindy,

Again you bring up the rescission period and as I've stated, our problems didn't develop during your 5 day rescission period! We didn't know we had been lied to and deceived into purchasing!

You state you can get up and leave – have you been to one of these meetings personally? Before you worked for Diamond? Then you have no idea how much pressure is put on you to stay and buy!

We've shared our concerns with you before and now again, and yet here you are, again, doing nothing about it. Yes, we used some in 2017 and found out again there is no end to your pressure. So we've had enough. We purchased due to being deceived, and you continue to try and do that the same to us on every vacation we try to take. So we are no longer interested in being a part of the Diamond network. We won't be sending another payment. And we will continue this fight.

CSI Timeshare AR
(From Ft. Lauderdale)

To whom it may concern:

I have been disputing our membership and contracts with Diamond Resorts International since January of this year and wish bring it to a final close. I have asked that they cancel all my contracts as I was misled and deceived when purchasing the timeshare and then again with the subsequent upgrades. I initially purchased because I was led to believe this would be a sound investment. I have been subjected to high-pressure, aggressive sales tactics and told many lies that ultimately affected my decision to purchase. I sent a letter of concern to Diamond in January and since then we have been going back and forth trying to reach an amicable solution. I was able to get one contract cancelled and refunded but only because my wife wasn't present at the meeting. Though I appreciate the cancellation and refund, their reasoning for the cancellation and refund seems minor compared to how I was lied to and taken advantage of in the first meeting. I have included all the correspondence regarding this dispute for your convenience.

I have stopped payment on the contract and maintenance fees in efforts to get the attention of the company since they seem to only care about our payments. I truly believe I am a victim of timeshare fraud. I am still being harassed by the sales and financial departments within this company on a frequent basis.

I am asking that your agency aid me in resolving this issue. I am willing to give written statements to help in this matter. I simply want the ownership and any debt cancelled with a refund of all of my investment.

Please contact me with any further questions and or suggestions.

Dear Diamond:

As my time with Diamond has been riddled with empty promises, lies and misleading information, I am demanding you cancel my contracts and membership. I refuse to be a part of an organization that practices hard-sell, shady sales practices and will no longer be a victim of your fraudulent ways. Please allow me to share my experience that will validate my request.

My first meeting was initially scheduled for July 27th, and I was at the Mystic Dunes office early. Approximately 20 minutes after the scheduled time, they informed me that they would have to reschedule me until the next day and they offered a $25 meal voucher for my trouble. The reservation form specified the conditions that if married, the spouse also had to be in attendance, but she was not vacationing with me, so they ignored this matter entirely.

July 28th, I arrived early for the meeting with Sales Representative, Elmira Mullaeva. After an initial 20-minute explanation of my current fee simple Mystic Dunes 1 week ownership, she then said that "nobody sells timeshares that way anymore" and "they are all done with points now". She said the big advantage of changing my membership to points was I would no longer be at risk of special assessments and the annual maintenance fees would not increase. She said as there are fewer and fewer fee simple owners, there would be fewer owners to spread those maintenance fees to, and their fees would continue to escalate, whereas point ownership avoided this problem. She also explained that I wouldn't have to pay fees to travel to other Diamond Resorts, unlike I would have to do if I kept my fee simple membership and wanted to exchange my week for someplace else. She said the points ownership would make such reservations easier and with more certainty. She went on to also say that my son could inherit the points/DR membership, but it was totally up to him to accept or not, and if not accepted then it was just finished upon my demise.

Elmira also mentioned a couple of times that some members actually set up a business and rent out the vacations to others, and make money at doing so. I was intrigued by this opportunity, which I later discovered to be more hype than fact, to say the least. She did say, though, that the membership is primarily for personal use.

She then went on to explain the points, levels of membership, Diamond Resort locations, and the ability to defer points and maintenance fees until 2018, and that the down payment amount could be paid by their Diamond Resorts Barclay's credit card which when used for other expenses, could help pay for maintenance fees to a large degree, if not completely.

My 2017 Mystic Dunes maintenance fees had already been paid, as I was using that 1 week and that is why I was there. She also offered 2 free round-trip air fares to Maui and a 1-week stay at the Diamond Resort facility in Ka'anapali. I was also given a 3-day, 2-night Relaxation Reward, redeemable at approximately 1 of 6 locations. The Mystic Dunes ownership was quit claimed to Diamond Resorts supposedly in exchange for 8,500 points and 6,500 bonus points, plus full Silver Loyalty Benefits.

The meeting that was supposed to be 50 minutes, went beyond 4 hours before it was all finished and I'd been deceived, duped, pressured to the point of signing. As I am a 65 year old senior citizen, I felt as if they used this to their advantage and I was easy prey.

After this purchase, I tried to make a reservation for my 3-day 2-night Relaxation Reward at the Daytona Regency in Daytona Beach. No matter the dates in 2017, they had no availability, BUT they did offer a special event at the same facility for the Epcot Food & Wine Festival for $150. They had multiple 4-day, 3-night dates available at the Daytona Regency.....go figure. This set the stage for my next purchase on October 11, 2017.

My meeting was scheduled for 90 minutes. Once again, it had the same requirements for attendance.....spouse if married, but once again that was ignored as she was not vacationing with me, and the penalty for not attending the meeting in keeping with their written requirements was to pay the full price of my stay, which I believe was in the neighborhood of $1500. The Sales Representative I met with was Brad Leslie.

Initially Brad checked off a list of 8-10 items he had, saying we would cover all those items....another "review of benefits and how to maximize one's membership". Within the first 30 minutes, that list was pretty much being ignored by him, as he started in on the annual maintenance fees of $2894. I thought this was the total for what I already had and for the "solution" he was proposing by purchasing more points, so I could then qualify to sell back points to offset much of the $2,894 in January each year. He never verbally indicated there was actually another $834 in annual maintenance fees that would be incurred. I said I was concerned about these fees and worried I had bitten off more than I should have, plus it disturbed me how the Relaxation Reward was not available, but the Event was for another $150. Also, I had not yet received any news about my 2 free airline tickets and Maui trip. I have enclosed his presentation notes on the maintenance fee and selling of points to offset most of it. He never presented or reviewed anything on the cost of the mortgage and those payments, just hammered on the maintenance fees, and how he would personally help me with everything since I was local, too. The meeting lasted about 4 hours all told, and signing documents was rushed. The inheritance by my son was confirmed in the same manner as the July 28 purchase/sales rep.

After the meeting, I noted the $210 "Reservation Equity" had not been applied. I texted Brad a picture of the certificate and he said he would apply the credit and Diamond would send a check in about 2 weeks.....after the "free look" period conveniently enough. When I hadn't heard back, I texted Brad on November 6 and he said he would check on the status. On November 14, I still hadn't seen a check or heard from Brad so I texted him again. He responded "No worries. You should (have) it within a week or so." On November 22, I received a cashier's check from Brad himself, not Diamond Resorts. I texted him that this gave me more concerns about DR "not living up to their offers yet again" and reminded him about the issue not being able to book the Relaxation Reward. He responded "do you have a couple of minutes to talk? I have a couple of quick things to go over with you and a question to ask." I have attached screen shots of these text exchanges. I told him maybe we could talk in December, and left it at that because I don't want to give him the opportunity to try and explain it away and make a bigger sucker out of me than I already am.

Every time I turn around DR is trying to sell special event trips for more money, and get more opportunities to schedule "reviews" under duress to sell more and more, regardless of anything else. I'm embarrassed that I didn't see through your deceitful practices and total lack of regard for the client financially, as well.

As you can clearly see, both purchases have been based on lies. I expect a full refund of what I have paid in and an immediate cancellation of my contracts and membership. If you do not comply, I will contact the Attorney General, the BBB, FTC, ARDA, CFPB, and any other agency I can to assist in my endeavor. My case has merit, and you should be able to accommodate my request.

Randy Freitas

Subject: Cancellation Request

Hello Mr. Frietas,

I am contacting you today in receipt of your request to cancel your most recent purchase of 15000 points in the US collection for contract #17594074 and 5000 points in the US collection for contract #17629592.

After careful review of your account I have determined that your contract purchase for 15000 points in the US collection will be denied cancellation as I have determined there are no grounds for cancellation nor enough information to substantiate your claims of sales misrepresentation for the following reasons:

1. You stated you were told verbally that your maintenance fees would not increase. – You have signed a contract that clearly states in your purchase agreement the estimated cost of your annual fees which was $2894.00. This information is also backed up in your purchaser's acknowledgement:
2. You stated you were told you could use Barclay Card points to offset maintenance fees -. This information is also signed and acknowledged in your contract by you to :
3. You stated your wife did not travel with you. - Due to the fact that you were staying on a fixed week and checked into your presentation as a single man, your wife is not required to tour with you. The only time we require you to travel and tour together is if you are staying on a marketing stay.

That being said, we will not be processing a cancelation of your contract #17594074. Please be advised you are still obligated for all financial responsibilities associated with your membership, including your loan and your annual membership fees. You were also given a state mandated rescission period within which you were able to review your documentation and, if you determined that the contract wasn't right for you, you were welcome to cancel within that rescission period for a full refund with no penalty.

You attended a presentation to hear information regarding our products and were provided the terms and conditions of the opportunity in full disclosure.

I regret that I was unable to provide your desired resolution.

This brings me to the topic of cancellation of your second purchase in Daytona at the Daytona Beach Regency for 5000 points in the US collection:

After reviewing your contract and circumstances stated, Diamond Resorts at this time has agreed to cancel your purchase of contract #17629592 and we will provide you with a full refund due to the fact that you were traveling on a marketing stay and you went on a presentation without your wife being present.

We will be sending you a Mutual Release Agreement for this contract which you are required to sign, notarize, and return to Diamond Resorts before your refund can be processed.

I hope that you will contact me should you require any further assistance.

Kaitlin,

Thank you so much for investigating my concerns.

You state you cannot cancel contract #17594074 – I disagree with your reasoning. I was deceived into buying points that would ensure the maintenance fees would not increase and would not be subject to assessments. As we discussed during our phone call, I was told my fee simple maintenance fees were subject to increases due to fewer fee simple owners and subject to special assessments. I was told that buying points would eliminate these problems. I knew there was a change from what I had to the higher amount. My meaning was expressed clearly to you in our phone calls - the new maintenance fee would not increase and was not subject to assessments because I purchased points, as instructed.

Yes, I was told the down payment amount could be paid by their Diamond Resorts Barclay's credit card which when used for other expenses, could help pay for maintenance fees to a large degree, if not completely. If this is not the case, then why was I told this?

And here again, the reservation form specified the conditions that if married, the spouse also had to be in attendance; this matter was ignored, just as it was in Daytona. Though you state “due to the fact you were staying on a fixed week and checked into the presentation as a single man, your wife is not required to tour with you” – the reservation form stated otherwise. Even your own people don’t know the difference or they just intentionally skirt this matter. At the July meeting, the receptionist specifically instructed me to mark single for marital status as my wife was not vacationing with me. I saw no difference in the purpose behind the meetings and how they were conducted.

The state mandated rescission period was nowhere near enough time to realize I had been lied to. You don’t realize until you tried to do whatever you were lied to about.

And no, I was not provided the terms and conditions of the opportunity in full disclosure. I was lied to and led to believe something other than what the facts were. Again, I felt taken advantage of due to my age.

I would ask you to reconsider this cancellation.

With all that being said, thank you for agreeing to cancel contract #17629592 – could you please advise me of the total amount that will be refunded as well as when I can expect to receive the paperwork for this cancellation?

Respectfully,
Randy Freitas

Subject: RE: Cancellation Request

Hello Mr. Freitas,

Thank you for allowing me the opportunity to assist you with this matter. In regards to your inquiry pertaining to contract # 17629592 that Diamond Resorts has agreed to cancel, we will be refunding you the down payment amount that was paid in the amount of $4,800.00. We have mailed you a mutual release agreement as of 01.25.2018 and once these documents are returned, we will submit for your refund which can take up to 21 days and will be refunded in the matter it was initially provided.

Your request to cancel contract #17594074 has already been escalated to our executive management team and has been denied, we have reviewed all contract information and recordings from this purchase and for these reasons, Diamond Resorts stance on this matter will not change. It is not uncommon that during an owner use week stay for current owners, that a husband or a wife may travel solo and make an additional purchase on their own and it is also not a requirement that both parties attend the presentation in these circumstances. There are separate rules, however, preventing members from purchasing additional points without the presence of their spouse if they are traveling for a marketing stay as you were in Daytona.

Please be advised you are still obligated for all financial responsibilities associated with your membership, including your loan and your annual membership fees.

I hope that you will contact me should you have any further questions.

Kaitlin,

Have you alerted the executive board of my last response to your first denial and the corrections as well as other concerns you failed to address? It's apparent from your previous response that you were under a misunderstanding about what I was told about the fee simple annual fee vs the point system. Secondly, as I seriously emphasized to you in my conversation then, I will have nothing to do with liars, and I was blatantly lied to about that matter and that was the main reason that compelled me to enter into the contract. I was misled, misinformed, coerced, and flat out lied to. I am steadfast in my resolve and will not have any further dealings with your company. You cannot be believed at all in person, or on the phone, in my experience and opinion. The Orlando/Mystic Dunes sales reps were proud they have a higher closing rate than other sales locations, purportedly because they do a "better" job. Now I know why. It's not because they do a better job, it's because they lie more, are better liars, and apparently get away with it more frequently.

I just want to be sure the proper facts are being relayed; I don't feel this matter should be closed.

Again, thank you for the cancellation and refund of contract 17629592.

Regards,
Randy Freitas

Kaitlin,

Facts from the sales site? You mean the documentation? It's a shame that's all we have to go on here. Documentation is not going to show the misinformation, the coercion, the lies and deceit I endured. You state you take into consideration all of my statements however I have repeatedly been referred to the documentation. My word means nothing with your company – what happened to me means nothing. You have made this clear. I do not feel valued in any way, shape or form.

I'm well aware I'm not the first person to bring concerns such as these to you. In fact, I may join the class action lawsuit that is being reopened against DRI. It's filing is indicative of your widespread deceptive practices. Also, here in Orlando News6 investigative reporting is very popular and perhaps I should also share my story and experience with them, as well? Though I'd prefer to settle this individually with a full cancellation, refund, and you keep fee simple mystic dunes week.

I will not need further assistance in utilizing my membership – I will have nothing further to do with your fraudulent ways!

I am willing to do whatever takes to make this happen – a refund and cancellation. Please let me know how to proceed.

Respectfully,
Randy Freitas

I have been going back and forth with Kaitlin Gray for a while now and since I sent my last response to her on March 6th, I haven't heard another word! As stated to her, I will continue expressing my concerns until a resolution is achieved. I don't think it's fair you have the documentation that protects you...but yet there is nothing for a member's protection? We deserve better!

I'm sure you can pull this from your file, but our latest communication was as follows. I'm hoping someone will be back in touch with an amicable solution.

Concerning our Ownership with Diamond Resorts:

Member #: 9-374291954 & Contract #: 0026985743

To Whom It May Concern,

We are John and Christina Aydelotte and we are currently in the middle of a dispute with Diamond Resorts. We are disputing our ownership with them based on the lies and misrepresentation given to us at the point of sale and by the sales representatives. We are also disputing our ownership based on the fact that this purchase is not at all how it was sold to us. Through the years we have come to learn that this so-called investment is nothing more than a wolf in sheep's clothing. There are an incredible amount of loop holes and hidden fees that make it next to impossible for an owner to really use this ownership as it was promised. We have asked that Diamond terminate our ownership and contracts immediately as well as refund us the full amount of money we have given them. Especially since we have paid them for something we cannot use. We have decided to reach out to your agencies in the hopes that you may be able to offer us some advice on how to conclude the dispute. We hope that you may also help us to negotiate with Diamond Resorts to get us closer to our goal. We have had some communication with them, but they stall and have not offered us any kind of option for termination. Anything that your agency can do to assist us will be greatly appreciated and please feel free to contact us should you need further information. We have included a copy of our first letter to them and the limited correspondence we have had with Diamonds representatives. Thank you and have a wonderful afternoon.

Sincerely,

John & Christina Aydelotte

Dear Diamond Resorts,

My name is Christiana Adelite, my husband and I are timeshare owners with your company. I am not pleased with my experience with Dimond Resorts thus far. Please allow this letter to suffice as a letter of complaint and a request to find a resolution to the many difficulties we are experiencing.

In April we decided a mini vacation was just what our family needed. We booked a stay at Mystic Dunes, and upon check in we were told that we were one of the chosen few to do a short 90-minute presentation while staying there and we would be compensated for our time with a $100 gift card and a cruise. The presentation was set for the next morning at 9 a.m. They held 49$ on our card just to ensure that we would show up and promised the hold would be released once we attended the presentation. Our 12-year-old daughter was with us on our vacation, and since the presentation was only supposed to last 90 minutes we sent her to the activity room while we attended the presentation. Sara was the initial representative we spoke with. She asked a lot of questions about our family, what we did for a living, how often we took vacations, what our hobbies were, and what our future were. Little did I know this information she was prying out of me would be used to take advantage of me later. I was told that they had resorts all over the world and that I wouldn't have to worry as much about the cost for hotel accommodations when traveling with my pastor, which I did frequently. It was even promised that if I happen to be staying somewhere that wasn't a part of diamond resorts, that they partnered up with various hotels and I could use my points to pay for a room. I told her the destinations that I would be traveling in the future and was told that I could be accommodated in those places no problem at all! We told her that we were trying to purchase a house and our priority was to get our credit up, she urged us that by buying a timeshare with Diamond that it would help us when the time came. Another salesman then came and asked why we were hesitant, we explained to him the same thing we had explained to our previous rep. He then confirmed what Sarah had told us about how this would be a great way to help us build our credit. Then, he threw in a Hawaiian vacation including airfare as a bonus if we signed today, which I had previously told Sarah was one of my dream vacations. Sarah insisted that she did not tell him that and that it "must be god's work, because how could he have known". Your sales team went as far as being malicious enough to use "Gods work" in a fraudulent sales pitch. Looking back now, I am appalled at the lack of ethics you allow your business to profit off of. Time was ticking by and our daughter was getting antsy, and impatient. I had a headache and was not feeling well and wanted some time to think on it, after all this was a big decision. We were extremely overwhelmed at that point, and they were not backing off. We had been there for hours, mind you this is hours of our vacation we will never get back. Time that could have been spent with my daughter, who at this point had not eaten and was hungry. They would not take "no" for an answer, we finally asked them to go away and let us pray and find some clarity. We tried to focus and pray but they kept watching us, like vultures hunting their prey. We were told that we had to decide today, and that the offer would no longer be on the table if we waited until tomorrow. We told them we could not put down what they were looking for as a down payment, so we would have to pass. He told us to wait and he was going to see what he could do to assist us, he came back with a few offers which were lower each time. He came back with the “exciting news” that they had a so called down payment assistance program and we might qualify for it. As soon as our credit check was approved, they had applied it to the purchase before giving my husband the paperwork to sign. Moments later we found out that this was a credit card through their company and it was immediately maxed out. So now we are not only paying a monthly mortgage, but also a monthly credit card we were failed to be informed we were getting. Your Quality Assurance Officer blew through our contract and did not give us time to read through anything. She quickly paraphrased everything, and in good faith we believed her. After all we thought we were buying into an honest and reputable company. We took the information they gave us to be legitimate and true. Now after what was supposed to have taken 90 minutes of our day, has now taken 8 hours. We missed out on family obligates we had made and wasted a whole day of our vacation.

John & Christina Aydellotte
8625 Lake Isle Dr.
Temple Terrace, Florida 33637

On June 17th of 2017 we attended an “orientation” to help explain how to use our timeshare. This was supposed to be informational, and educational for us as owners of a timeshare. We had some questions and just needed clarity on a few things. I asked them to please explain how to use the points, because like I had told my original sales representative, I had a trip I was going on in September and wanted to use them. After all the whole reason we chose to waste yet another 6 hours with a room full of what we now know to be deceiving scam artists, was to get our questions answered, but they couldn't do that. All we were told was that there was a error on our account and that we should have gotten more points the first time, but because of the error we were not informed. We were told that if we added them today we would get them at an extremely low price that has never been offered before and will never be offered again and was offered yet another trip to Hawaii or an Alaskan cruise. We agreed to purchase another 7500 points. In order to pay for the additional points, we were talked into getting an extra line of credit on the card they had already tricked us into. They determined it would be in our best interest to separate into two payments because we could get the interest rate of the 2nd loan cheaper than the first one. It was broken down into 4 payments. The initial payment was put on my husband's personal credit card for $925. The next three payments would be as followed: July 14th, 2017 for $1000, August 14th, 2017 for $1000, and September 14th 2017 for the remaining balance of $822². This was written up and put into a contract, when we began to sign the sales representative said there was an error and that it needed to be fixed and ripped the document up. He brought us a new one, and quickly rushed us past the areas we had already signed on the previous agreement. So just a quick recap,

John & Christina Aydellotte
8625 Lake Isle Dr.
Temple Terrace, Florida 33637

what was supposed to have been a 120 min orientation, turned into another 6-hour sales pitch that sucked us into purchasing more points.

When we left the orientation, we went back to our room to put everything up and spend time with our daughter. When we approached our door, we saw some strangers coming out of our room, where our personal belongings were. They apologized and said they had just checked in and that it was the room number and key that had been given to them at check in. We then tried to enter our room with our key, and we were locked out. We immediately went to the front desk and demanded an answer as to how this negligence behavior could come about. We were treated with horrible customer service, I could not believe how I was treated as not only a guest but an owner.

August 14th rolled around and the payment of $1000 was taken out as scheduled and agreed on, then August 30th the remaining balance of $822 was taken out of our account, which is not what we agree on in the contract that we signed. Please refer back to Footnote 22 which states that the remaining balance of $822 was to be taken out September 14th, 2017 not August 30th. They told us that the money would immediately be redeposited back into our account, however it took multiple phone calls to get that done.

When I tried to use the points to get a hotel like we had planned from the beginning, I was told I had missed the deadline to do that and that I would be charged money to book the room. So essentially, I am losing money and points to book a hotel with one of the diamond affiliated hotels. Please refer to Footnote # 1 earlier in my letter where I was told I could book "pretty much anywhere in the world, no problem at all". This turned out to be false.

In December our family needed another vacation, with all the extra points we received to appease us of the errors they made we were upgraded to VIP status. Upon check in they informed us that we had been selected again to be set up with another 90-minute presentation to let us know about the upgrades and new features that they had. Again, we were told our time would be compensated with another $100 gift card and a cruise. We already knew how this was going to go, we did it for the gift card and watched the time cautiously this time. We expressed how displeased we were with the company and if we knew what we knew now then we would have never signed up. Their only resolution was for us to buy more points, so we would have more flexibility and wouldn't be out so much cash when booking like I was before.

I understand I legally entered a contract, however I did so based on the lies, and unethical behavior from your sales team. I think I have provided more than enough information to support my case. I am requesting that Diamond resorts terminate my timeshare ownership immediately, as well as full refund of the amount of monies I have paid thus far for down payments, fees, etc.

Sincerely,

John & Christina Aydellotte

Hello John Marshall Aydelotte and Christina Aydelotte:

Hope you are well. My name is Kaitlin. I am contacting you from the Hospitality Department of Diamond Resorts. We are in receipt of the letter you sent in dated February 12, 2018.

First I would like to thank you for allowing me the opportunity to assist you and apologize for any dissatisfaction you have been experiencing with your current membership.

After reviewing your letter, it appears that the main points of concern with the purchase of contract #17733623 were that you were told you can use points for hotel rooms, increase your credit score, the Barclay credit card, and the quality of your meeting with the Quality Assurance Officer.

After reviewing your contract information, I have gone over your "reasons why I purchased sheets" and it appears that your main reasons for purchasing the first contract were for the Flexibility of locations, Rolling over points, and Luxury accommodations. For the second contract, you signed that the reasons why you purchased were for the Silver Loyalty and your Diamond Dream Holiday. I certainly hope you are still happy with these benefits that you are currently receiving. Our records indicate that all of these promises were in fact fulfilled.

To address your concerns, I would like to begin by stating that you are certainly able to use your current points towards hotel rooms for reimbursement up to 20% of the cost as well as through our luxury hotel program for a 20% discount on hotel rooms to be covered by your points at 20 cents per point. You also have the option to book additional resorts through Interval International as well as Club Select. I am not sure if these products have been properly explained to you but I would be happy to review them with you so that you fully understand how to use your membership.

In regards to your point about purchasing to build your credit scores through financing of the loan, I am sure that this purchase would in fact have some sort of impact on your credit rating as long as you are making timely payment on your loan, however; your signed contract information does in fact state that you are purchasing for your own personal use and enjoyment and not for any type of financial gain.

Lastly, you stated that you were approved and charged for a Barclay Credit card without your knowledge. I have reached out to the sales team as we do take these types of allegations very seriously and I have determined that these documents were in fact signed and agreed to (please see attached.) The way the process works is this: The credit card application must be filled out in full by the guest, it is then turned into contracts and processed, if it is approved the customer has to sign a purchase proposal that states that they will be using the new Barclays card for the down payment before it is charged.

You were welcome to ask any lingering questions to the Quality Assurance officer at the time of purchase and they are required to answer them in complete honesty to make sure that you fully understand your purchase.

In order to address the concerns of your second purchase which were with the installments for the down payment of your loan and an issue you had with another guest being assigned to the same unit as you.

I have also reviewed your truth in lending act from your contract information and it appears the payments were charged accordingly as stated in the signed contract information. As far as the issue with the room, we would like to apologize for the inconvenience. According to the notes on your account, this issue has been addressed and you were given a certificate for the inconvenience.

That being said, we will not be processing a cancelation of your membership.. Please be advised you are still obligated for all financial responsibilities associated with your membership, including your loan and your annual membership fees. You were also given a state mandated rescission period within which you were able to review your documentation and, if you determined that the contract wasn't right for you, you were welcome to cancel within that rescission period for a full refund with no penalty.

I hope that you will contact me with any further concerns

Kind Regards,

Dear Diamond Resorts and Kaitlin,

We have received your email and do thank you for responding however we have further concerns and are worried that you have missed the overall message that our letter was intended to have. You continuously bring up our contract which I now understand but we are not wanting to cancel our ownership due to what is explicitly outlined in the contract. Our desire to cancel comes from the fact that your sales people use unethical and shifty sales practices and then your company does not deliver on those promises. Your sales people voluntarily leave out vital information that if we had been given would have changed our decision to purchase in the first place. Thanks to this so-called "investment" we made, due to sales representative's advisement, we are stuck with this timeshare and overly high priced maintenance fees. We are appalled that such a reputable worldwide company would allow such preposterous behavior to be conducted within your business. Before our last purchase, I wholeheartedly thought Diamond might actually be giving us something worthwhile. We have slowly but surely been awakened by the implausible and unreliable experiences we have had to go through. In truth we were clueless to the whole timeshare industry and had placed our trust in Diamond, so at the time when speaking with your sales representatives and the so called "Quality Assurance Officer" we never thought to verify the authenticity of the claims and promises we were being made. We will continue to dispute all further and future owner obligations to Diamond due to the various counts of fabrication and misrepresentation that our contracts were acquired under. Please do not waste either of our time by trying to convince us that this is just a big misunderstanding, we are aware of exactly what is going on here. We do not wish to harm the reputation of your company, and hope that we can make this process as painless as possible for the both of us. In addition to the cancelation of our ownership, were requesting that we be reimbursed every penny that we have paid to your company since our initial purchase I hope that you are willing to do what it takes to make this situation right and if you cannot, please pass on our case to someone who can. Please re-read the letter that we have sent to your offices to really understand our concerns and that we wish to have our ownership with Diamond FULLY cancelled.

Sincerely,

John & Christina Aydelotte

To whom it may concern,

I am writing to discuss a fraudulent and deceptive sales pitch, across two states (Virginia and Florida) that resulted in my wife and I purchasing a timeshare that we neither wanted nor can afford. In the following pages, I describe, the bait & switch tactics that were used.

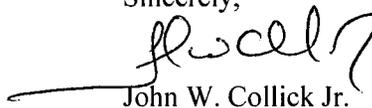

I have tried to resolve this through Diamond Resorts (DR), but their representatives state that they're not responsible for anything their sales staff says. Even though we relied on the information provided by the sales staff, DRI headquarters says that it's our problem, not theirs.

Except for the Sales Proposal, no documents provided to us have any DRI representatives names or signatures; therefore, we believe the contract may actually be void or voidable.

I am sending the same information to the FBI Field Offices responsible for Norfolk and Tampa, the U.S. Secret Service Financial Crimes Division and to the Attorney General of Virginia, where the first part of this "bait and switch" occurred.

Please see the attached information that was provided to Diamond Resorts and other parties which has an interest in this situation.

Sincerely,

John W. Collick Jr.

We have no signatures on any document provided to us
We never received mortgage documents, HUD statement
We received a folder with several documents containing only my signature and Lisa's signature; there are no signatures of Diamond Sales or Management Staff on any paperwork provided
We signed the documents using a tablet
They said we needed to initial a form with our Social Security numbers. They must have run a credit check because the Barclay card was charged for the down payment, but we were not aware the card was being charged.

I believe this follows FBI's White-Collar Crime and Bait and Switch tactics, Fraud and Credit Card Fraud. I have tried to resolve this with Diamond Resorts Headquarters in Las Vegas, but they just say you signed the contract and we are not responsible for what our sales staff say. It's our problem and we misunderstood. I am age 55 and 100% Disabled Retired Marine 1st Sgt. My wife is age 52 raises our children; one of whom is severely disabled with Down syndrome. We first heard of Diamond Resorts while in VA Beach at one of their timeshares that we traded our points to stay there. While there we were told we needed to attend a meeting because DRI was up and coming as the premier timeshare company in America. We told them we were happy with our timeshare "The Colonies in Williamsburg, VA. Stephen Kim explained DRI is buying up resort properties including acquiring "The Colonies. We could not afford the purchase because of an injury and I was out of work, so we were offered a Sampler Package Stephen Kim said they hardly ever offer. It would give us a chance to try out Diamond. After spending over 3 hours in the presentation that was to be 90 minutes with our disabled son that was very agitated at the time we gave in and bought the sampler for $2500.00. An hour later we were able to leave.

In July 2017 we were contacted to attend an "Events of a Lifetime" in VA Beach. Because we had our 13-year-old son who has an IQ and behaviorism of an 18-month-old we told them we could only go on family vacations and within a few minutes they offered an Event of Lifetime in Orlando at Mystic Dunes Resorts and we accepted. We needed to use our Sampler package anyway. This is where the real nightmare began and the most important part of our claim. We were told by Morida Ishak (aka Rida), the event coordinator, that she was NOT a member of the sales staff and these events are normally for Platinum Members but this one was to showcase Diamond Resorts and she specifically stated, it was not to sell anything. We already said we could not purchase anything at this time and she assured us the getaway was for information only.

During this event that lasted 3 days with different meetings we were taken to dinner, breakfast and third day a lunch. That is when we unwittingly participated in a sales presentation; she kept saying she was NOT trying to sell us anything but, as an owner herself, she wanted to tell us about the benefits of owning Diamond Resorts through the eyes of an owner, not a salesperson.

She asked where we would like to try to vacation and I said The Outer Banks, NC. She got out her tablet and entered the information for the Outer Banks the following week that was still in season. The results showed many available units and we should get close to where we wanted to go. During the presentation I was in a lot of pain from my accident and was going from standing to sitting all afternoon.

After 2 hours my wife had to go to our unit to get me pain medicine, also our son was getting very agitated. This put tremendous stress on all of us and Morida Ishak seemed to know this. When I asked her about Mr. Kim's statement of DRI acquiring The Colonies she confirmed but she didn't bring it up because it was not public yet.

Again, we said we didn't feel comfortable joining because of financial situations. Then, Morida Ishak focused on our 14-year-old daughter asking her if she was going to Disney World. We said it wasn't in our budget. Then she asked our daughter if she'd like to go there on her birthday and she said yes! Morida Ishak explained we could use Diamond points for theme parks tickets, air travel, hotels, and many other leisure activities. Our daughter asked could we use them for Broadway shows Morida Ishak enthusiastically said "of course!" Then she said if we became members today she would give us tickets to Disney.

She continued to explain as Platinum members, when we had enough points we could pay our maintenance fees if we wanted or use the rewards from our Barclay credit card to pay fees. We told her we did not want a credit card but later found out they applied for one on our behalf. We were asked to sign papers to see if we qualified for a down payment and later advised us we had been approved for the down payment and new credit card that we needed to pay maintenance fees. We did not know it was a credit card application. We were led to believe the down payment was included in the overall monthly payment.

Morida Ishak was trying to talk us into getting the credit card; she said if we used it for routine necessities and paid it in full each month we could easily use the reward points to pay maintenance fees. She said she uses her reward points to pay the maintenance fees and has never paid any maintenance fees out of pocket. My wife Lisa asked if we could use Diamond properties when we didn't stay overnight, Morida Ishak again said "of course, if you are owners." When asked if we could use Great Wolf Lodge in Williamsburg, VA Morida Ishak again said "yes, Diamond owns Great Wolf Lodge" but, there might be a charge for the water park.

After 2 more hours Morida Ishak asked if we would like to become members. We did not want to own 2 timeshares; The Colonies and Diamond Resorts. Morida Ishak said Diamond would take our week at The Colonies and rent them to offset the cost and increase our points to 50,000 to make us Platinum owners. Once The Colonies was paid off, she "guaranteed" Diamond would purchase from us at the fair market value. We felt if Morida Ishak was willing to ensure us Diamond bought back The Colonies from us we could safely purchase Diamond. We used the information by both Mr. Kim in VA. Beach and Morida Ishak in Orlando to make, what we believed was an informed decision and believing this purchase was in our best interest. Several months later when we attempted to start making reservations and to use Great Wolf Lodge on a day trip, we found they both lied to us to make a sale.

1. Mr. Kim lied when he told us Diamond was in the process of acquiring The Colonies. Morida Ishak lied by confirming this.
2. Morida Ishak lied by confirming we could use the amenities at Great Wolf Lodge which she said Diamond owned.
3. Morida Ishak lied when she said we could use points to purchase Broadway shows and amusement park tickets.
4. Morida Ishak lied when she said Diamond could buy back our membership at The Colonies once paid off.
5. Morida Ishak fraudulently displayed the ease of making reservations during peak season at the Outer Banks on her company tablet when she knew that we would not be able to make those same reservations using the tablet Diamond provided us.
6. Morida Ishak lied when stating that she was in no way connected to sales staff and no intent of selling anything.
7. Morida Ishak used deceit to gather personal information she used to influence our decision and manipulated our daughter by offering her Disney Tickets and telling her we could use points for Broadway Shows.
8. Morida Ishak and or Diamond staff at Mystic Dunes applied for credit card on our behalf without disclosure of such action.
9. We were told that we had to buy today in order to get best price. Price was hugely discounted because of my disabled Veteran Status.

When we received our first bill from Barclay Bank we found out the card was used for the down payment. I thought that we would have some rewards built up for maintenance fees, found out no points are given on down payments and to get enough reward points to pay maintenance fees I would have to charge over $300,000 a year on the card. We attempted to use Great Wolf Lodge amenities and were told we could not unless we were staying overnight. We contacted Diamond Headquarters who advised us that we cannot use any resort amenities unless we stay overnight, and they are not responsible for anything salespeople may have said.

CEO, Vacation Village Resorts (Owner of The Colonies of Williamsburg)

We want our purchase of 55,000 points rescinded. I will describe the bait & switch tactics that were used against us. I attempted to resolve this through Diamond Resorts, but Kaitlin Gray stated that Diamond is not responsible for anything their sales agents say.

As we requested, we were provided with hard copy sales documents, but only the purchase proposal had any names typed on it (in very small print). None of the actual sales documents provided have any DRI agents' names or signatures.

I will be filing complaints with the appropriate regulatory and law enforcement agencies. I wanted to provide you with a copy of our complaint, before initiating filings, in the event Diamond will contact us. We hope that the company be made to understand the harm Diamond sales agents are causing families by allowing Diamond sales agents to commit fraud.

We owned two weeks at both sides of The Colonies at Williamsburg VA, so four weeks. This resort was owned, and is still owned by Vacation Village. To our knowledge, Diamond is not acquiring The Colonies, as both DRI sales agents in Virginia and Florida told us to convince us to buy Diamond points.

I spoke with Vacation Village Resorts, who owns The Colonies. They were very clear that they would never sell The Colonies. When I told them what happened, they got concerned and are forwarding my information up the chain.

Please contact me at the above phone number should you care to discuss our situation. I will be reaching out to veteran organizations for help. I will be making a YouTube to warn other veterans.

We never received mortgage documents, HUD statement

We received a folder with documents with only my signature and Lisa's signature

We signed the documents using a tablet

They said we needed to initial a form with our Social Security numbers. They must have run a credit check because the Barclay card was charged for the down payment but we were not aware the card was being charged. The interest rate is now 21% for the Barclay card.

My wife and I first heard of Diamond Resorts during a weekend away at a Virginia Beach resort over Thanksgiving 2016. We were contacted by a Diamond representative advising us of a meeting that we needed to attend and that we'd get free gifts for attending. They made it sound like it was mandatory. When we arrived, we met Mr. Stephen Kim, who explained that Diamond was “up and coming” as the premier timeshare company in America. We said we were not interested.

Mr. Kim explained that DRI is buying up resort properties, and is acquiring “The Colonies” in Williamsburg, VA, where we owned four week. He stated that since DRI will own The Colonies soon, it’s best for us to move over to DRI right away to ‘get in on the ground floor’. He explained that to get the best vacations, we’ll have to add more points after DRI takes over the Colonies, so we should get points now, while they’re much cheaper than they will be after DRI purchases The Colonies. We fell for this deception. We don’t believe Diamond is in the process of buying the Colonies.

I was out of work because of an injury, so we could not afford to purchase a membership. They offered us a “Sampler Package,” which Mr. Kim said they hardly ever offer, except in exceptional circumstances like ours. We have learned anyone can buy a Sampler. This was deceptive. After spending over three hours in the presentations with our then 11-year-old son Jimmy, who is extremely intellectually disabled and was very agitated, we agreed to the Sampler. Jimmy has an IQ and behaviorisms of an 18-month-old.

In July 2017, we were contacted by DRI to attend an “Event of a Lifetime,” in Virginia Beach. We told them that we cannot participate because of Jimmy. In Virginia Beach the Event was adults only; we can only go on family vacations because of Jimmy’s disability. Instead, we were asked to attend an “Event of a Lifetime” in Orlando, Florida, at Mystic Dunes Resort, which we accepted.

Upon our arrival at Mystic Dunes, we met Morida (Rida), who was the “Event of a Lifetime” coordinator and, unbeknownst to us, was also a sales agent. From the outset, she made it very clear that she was NOT a member of the sales staff. She explained that these events are primarily for Platinum members but the event we were participating in was to showcase DRI – specifically stating it was not to sell anything. That set us at ease. Again she assured us the getaway was for information only.

We arrived at Mystic Dunes and attended a dinner. During the evening, Rida took “selfies” with everyone and made the night very personal. Throughout the evening, she asked all sorts of personal questions that she later used when explaining the benefits of owning DRI, while making it clear that she was not trying to sell us anything.

The next morning we met the group at the reception center and took the bus to Dave & Buster’s for breakfast. I was in extreme pain, requiring the use of my cane to stand and walk; I had to take pain medication all day. Dave & Buster’s was closed to the public; we had it all to ourselves. By this time, Rida was well-liked and trusted by everyone; in fact, my daughter felt she was just like any other lifelong family friend.

On the third day of the event, our appointment was scheduled for lunch. Rida began the presentation reiterating she was not trying to sell us anything but, as an owner herself, was explaining the benefits of owning DRI, through another owner’s eyes. First thing Rida did was ask us if we have ever tried to vacation at “The Colonies” but couldn’t make reservations. What she was getting at was that it would be easier to stay at the resort I already owned if I owned Diamond points instead of depositing my week with Interval International as we had done in the past. She said Diamond owns Interval International so we would have much more priority than we currently did. I have learned Diamond does not own Interval International.

My answer to Rida was the Outer Banks of North Carolina because we were not able to exchange the Colonies for the Outer Banks. She got her tablet, entered in the information for the Outer Banks – for the following week, which was still in-season. She showed us the results, which displayed many, many available units, exactly where we wanted to go, explaining that DRI has greater power than The Colonies (through Interval International which Diamond owned), so we would ALWAYS get something close to where we wanted to go if we booked at the last minute or get exactly what we wanted if we booked in advance using Diamond points through Interval.

In November 2017, when I attempted to make the exact same reservations for a week on the Outer Banks of North Carolina (and I used a wide interval as opposed to Rida requesting only one specific week), using the tablet provided by DRI, but found that there was nothing available at all for the entire summer of 2018 at the Outer Banks. I then looked to see if there was availability at the same resorts on the Outer Banks, if I was booking online; there were plenty of rooms available.

During the presentation at the Event of a Lifetime, Rida focused about half her time and comments on our 14-year-old daughter, Ann, whose birthday was within the next day or two. Once Rida found out about Ann's birthday, she pointed out many locations, asking Ann if she'd like to spend her 16th birthday at one of those places.

When I asked Rida about Mr. Kim's statement of DRI being in the process of acquiring "The Colonies," she confirmed it saying something to the effect that she didn't bring it up because it hadn't been made public yet, so she isn't really supposed to tell us about it.

We explained that we didn't feel comfortable joining at that time, because of our financial situation; I was on Leave Without Pay from USCIS and my wife had been a stay at home mom for the past 30 years and was just starting to look for a job. Rida again focused on our daughter, asking her if she's going to Disney World for her birthday, to which we said it wasn't in our budget. Then she asked our daughter if she'd like to go there for her birthday; Ann quickly said yes.

With that, she explained that we can use our points for theme park tickets, air travel, concerts, theater, and pretty much any other leisure activity we could think of. In fact, our daughter asked if she could use points to see the Broadway show, "Hamilton" and Rida said "Of course." Then she added that if we became members right then, she would give us tickets to Disney. When I contacted DRI Headquarters, explaining what we were told, Kaitlin Gray advised me that although Platinum members can use points toward air travel, they cannot use them for park tickets, concert, or theater tickets.

She continued by explaining that, as Platinum members, once we have enough points, we could use them to pay our maintenance fees if we wanted – or we could just use the rewards from their

Barclay credit card; we stated that we didn't want a credit card but later found they applied for a card on our behalf. She did not explain that Platinum members can only pay maintenance fees at $.04 per points. If points are purchased for around $3 per point, this is a terrible value. She did not explain that only 1% of charges to a Barclay card are credited towards maintenance fees.

We were asked to sign a paper to see if we qualified for a down payment and later advised that we had "been approved" for $11,000 and a new credit card in order to pay the maintenance fees. We did not know it was a credit application; we were led to believe the down payment was included in the overall monthly payments. No mention was made of $11,000 being charged.

While trying to talk us into getting the credit card, Rida told us that if we used it for routine necessities, and paid it off every month, we could easily use the rewards points for the maintenance fees. This would be helpful, she explained, particularly in our situation with me not working and not knowing if/when I'll be returning to work. Further, she stated that she uses her rewards points from her Barclay card to pay her maintenance fees and because of the credit card; she's never paid maintenance fees. The Barclay card only credits 1% toward maintenance fees so $300,000 would have to be charged in a year to pay a $3,000 maintenance fee. Rida probably charges $300,000 a year.

When we received our first bill from Barclay's, it was the first we learned the Barclay card was charged for the down payment. At this point we still declined to join. Then Lisa asked if we could use amenities on DRI properties when we don't stay overnight. Rida said "Of course, if you're owners." Then, Lisa specifically asked if we could use the amenities at Great Wolf Lodge in Williamsburg, and again, Rida said "yes" but there might be a nominal fee for use of the waterpark.

When we attempted to use Great Wolf Lodge amenities for a day trip, we were told that we could not, unless we were staying overnight. We contacted DRI Headquarters, who advised us that we cannot use any resort amenities unless we stay overnight and that they "are not responsible for anything salespeople may have said."

After another two hours, Rida asked again if we'd like to become members. Lisa and I continued to stress that we do not want timeshares with both "The Colonies" and DRI. She started "fast talking," explaining that DRI would take our weeks at "The Colonies" and rent them to offset the cost of the points we would be purchasing and that they would increase our points to 50,000 (by being temporary Platinum members). She said that once we had paid off the outstanding loan for "The Colonies", DRI could purchase the Colonies from us at the fair market value. To speed things up, she said we could take out a personal loan to pay off the Colonies, and then call her as soon as we're ready to sell the Colonies; she said this is something that most people do anyhow. She said we could take that money and use it to pay down the personal loan. We felt that if Rida was willing to ensure DRI bought back "The Colonies" from us, we could safely move forward to purchase DRI. In Kaitlin Gray's dismissal below, she said Diamond would not buy the Colonies.

We believe Diamond sales agents used bait and switch tactics because of the following reasons:

1. Their methods are based on “bait and switch” tactics - telling the potential buyer that the Sampler (trial) Package is not something that is normally provided. Anyone can purchase a Sampler.
2. We learned that both sales agents lied to us to make the sale. Mr. Kim lied when he told us that DRI was in the process of acquiring “The Colonies.” Rida lied by “confirming” this.
3. Rida lied by stating that we could use the amenities at Great Wolf Lodge, which she said DRI owned. Great Wolf Lodge is not owned by Diamond. It is an affiliate property and would be far more expensive to stay at than booking online. They do not allow day use.
4. Rida stated that we could use points to purchase Broadway Tickets and Amusement Park Tickets. This was not true. Rida manipulated our daughter with the promise of using DRI points to attend “Hamilton” and other Broadway shows.
5. Rida fraudulently displayed “the ease of making reservations,” during peak summer season, at the Outer Banks of North Carolina on her company tablet, when she knew that we would not be able to make those same reservations using the tablet DRI provided to us.
6. Rida lied to us by stating that she was in no way connected to the sales staff and had no intent of selling anything.
7. Diamond does not own Interval International making it easier for us to book the Outer Banks of North Carolina.

DRI headquarters staff states that they are not responsible for what their salespeople say. However, in my research, I have found that many of the things I have discussed here are common complaints about DRI’s sales staff in virtually every state they do business.

Diamond provides a CLARITY promise of clear, concise, accountable and transparent information. If Diamond’s official policy is that Diamond is not responsible for what their sales agents say, then they should not provide a CLARITY promise.

During a recent ARDA World Conference in Las Vegas – The Global Timeshare Event, Rhett Bolling, Senior Vice President of Diamond Resorts spoke about how to overcome objections and resistance to buying. He explained that after the potential buyer express the fear of buying, the creation of trusting relationships is imperative, along with providing a compelling value proposition. When you consider that information in the context of what I provided above, it’s clear that these illegalities are endemic within Diamond Resorts, with the knowledge and support of DRI senior management.

Also, during that ARDA World event, the “Consumer Lifecycle” (presumably, of a timeshare member) was described as “from initial contact through debt collection” (presumably through foreclosure as deception is endorsed and encouraged to make the sale). With a lifecycle described as such, mortgage fraud must play a significant role in this business.

I’m hopeful the FBI, the FTC, the US Secret Service, and all Law Enforcement entities with jurisdiction over these types of crimes in Florida and Virginia will investigate our allegations against Diamond Resorts and their employees identified herein. I will provide any and all information, documents, and correspondence I have in my possession, along with the names and contact information of many others who have been defrauded and/or deceived by employees of Diamond Resorts.

Sincerely,

Kaitlin Gray,

I hope this note finds you well. I just wanted to tell you that another person from DRI has been trying to contact my wife. That's not going to work; she recently had shoulder surgery, as well and is on some heavy duty prescription pain killers. She will not answer the phone nor return any calls to DRI.

I have not been ignoring your calls, but have been in the doctors myself when someone from DRI called yesterday. I am also taking prescription pain medication, as I have since April 2016, so I decided to seek advice about how to communicate with you since I'm often not in the frame of mind to discuss over the phone when you have called. I was advised to use written communications in order to best protect my interests. Therefore, I am politely requesting that you use either email or registered mail to contact me; email is likely easier for both of us.

I am in the process of talking to a number of people throughout the country who have experienced the same sales tactics used on me, including the issue with the credit card. Again, my perception of this being an endemic problem with DRI grows daily, as I talk to more and more people.

In fact, some of these folks are also disabled combat veterans, like myself. And others are retired, as I am retired on Social Security disability now.

In addition to speaking with attorneys about potential class action lawsuits against DRI in Florida, my goal is to draft and publish an article, that I plan to share with each of the military times newspapers, the Veterans of Foreign Wars, the American Legion, and Disabled Veterans magazines for publication.

In addition, I plan to share with any travel related publication that will accept it and with the Apollo company and their bank underwriters, as well as the Attorney Generals of Florida, Nevada, California, Arizona, Virginia, and any other state where DRI does business, absent immediate cancellation of my contact and the return of all monies paid to DRI, including the down payment.

I will be out of town and unavailable through Tuesday, attending a funeral of a family member.

I look forward to seeing your response when I return, along with the approval of an immediate cancellation of my contract and the return of all money, including down payment, paid to DRI.

Sincerely,
John

October 26, 2017

I am contacting you to request immediate cancellation of my timeshare contract with Diamond Resorts.

My daughter and I were initially approached at an IHOP parking lot after having breakfast with our family by 3 individuals. They told us to come to a "90 minute" meeting across the street by offering freebies for our family. This meeting ended up being 3 hours!!! While there, they gave the kids things to do to keep them occupied. Kim, our sales rep, wanted to know where we had been and how much it cost. Then she said we paid too much and joining DR could save us money – she said we could even pass it down to the kids and family. She told us we could gain family trust by purchasing and said it was a tax write-off and an investment. We were soon joined by a couple more reps. The amount of pressure put on us was absurd! Then we were told there would be no maintenance fees whatsoever. What a lie! We definitely have maintenance fees that increase every year with no warning! It seems we get a bill for anything - you send a bill for miscellaneous fees every time the wind blows!

The reps also said we could rent it easy to someone else and cover the cost – we tried this several times and were never able to do so. We were told we could call anytime and have availability anytime we wanted. This has not been the case! Nothing is ever available when we want it.

I feel as if we were lied to from the get-go. As stated, I am requesting immediate cancellation of my contract and a return of our investment considering the inability to use and enjoy as promised due to the lack of availability and unreasonable fee increases. I expect to hear a response from you within 30 days.

Best Regards,

James Mason

Dear James Mason,

We received your letter dated October 26, 2017 requesting to cancel and refund deeded points contract 16754379, purchased at the Accumen IOI Sales Center on June 14, 2009. You state you were advised at the time of purchase that this deed would be an investment and that you would be able to rent commercially for gain.

We appreciate you contacting us and allowing us to respond to your claims. After a full review, we cannot find any record that you have made any type of complaints until we received your letter. Our records indicate that you have been in contact with Intrawest customer service since your purchase. You have advised us through the years that you could not afford the loan payment, but, we have no indication that any sort of complaint was made regarding the purchase of this contract.

At the time of your purchase, Intrawest was still the management company of your timeshare and you purchased your property directly through them. Diamond did not facilitate this purchase, or the transactions that occurred during this purchase.

Any misrepresentation claims should have been directed to the former seller within the state mandated rescission period or while they were still in operation. We have no way of verifying any information provided to you at the sales presentation or investigating any misrepresentations claims that you bring forth.

Please refer to your original agreement or contract regarding your claims. We will continue to service you based on the contract and what you confirmed and agreed to with your signatures. Your original contract along with the terms and conditions of your purchase are clearly described and confirmed by your signatures on these documents at the time of sale. Therefore, Diamond cannot honor your request to cancel this contract. You remain responsible for this deed as agreed to at the time of sale.

If you are experiencing a financial hardship, please send documentation confirming your situation. We will review what you send us and advise if we can be of assistance in any way.

Sincerely,

Michelle Gross

Michelle,

Me telling you I could not afford the loan payment should have been looked at as a complaint. And yes, though IntraWest was the management company at the time of purchase, you have taken over these properties so now these complaints are yours. I have been sending payments to Diamond, not IntraWest. You now own my contracts - I expect what I was told to be continued on throughout your ownership or I want out! The rep at that meeting told us we could pass it down to the kids and family and we could gain family trust by purchasing. She also said it was a tax write-off and an investment. Since we've learned over time these statements were not true, we want out of our membership and contracts. We didn't sign contracts with Diamond. Nothing we were told has been honored. Again, please send paperwork needed to cancel the contracts and our membership.

Regards,

James Mason

Michelle:

Thank you for your response, though you're not giving me much to work with here. If this loan is serviced by Ansley Loan Serviced by Equiant, then shouldn't I contact them? You state you cannot cancel this contract or approve it for surrender – if you took over this ownership, then you are now responsible for this contract, correct?

Though you may not be able to verify the concerns I have brought to your attention, our disappointment still exists. We are not happy with the Diamond ownership and will never get usage out of it. Why continue to pay for something that we will never use?

Again, we are demanding cancellation of our contracts and membership. Please let us know how we can make this happen.

Thank you,

James Mason

Dear James Mason,

Thank you for your email and we are sorry to note your concerns with the response you have received from our teams so far.

Please be advised that upon receipt of your email, your account and previous correspondence has been fully reviewed by our teams.

We must advise that upon review, our position does remain the same and we have no belief that you have been misled with regards to your purchase, so we are not in a position to cancel or amend your agreement with us. With this being said, as previously advised we can certainly look to foreclose your account with us under exceptional circumstances, however for this to take place your fees and loan must be fully up to date.

As previously advised, your loan is not with Diamond Resorts so we would advise to contact the external provider and clear this before we can proceed any further with your account.

Whilst we are sorry this may not be the response you were hoping for, we trust this clarifies our position on this matter.

With Kind Regards

Ben

Ben,

While I appreciate your response, I'm rather confused. You state you can certainly look to foreclose my account but for this to take place, my fees and loan must be fully up to date - how is that considered a foreclosure? Isn't that more like a relinquishment of ownership? A foreclosure would happen if I do not agree to pay.

Furthermore, if the loan is not even with Diamond, how can you even discuss the options? I am trying diligently to get to the bottom of this and my questions still go unanswered. If this loan is owned by Equiant, then shouldn't I contact them? It was stated previously you cannot cancel this contract or approve it for surrender – if you took over this ownership, then you are now responsible for this contract and loan, correct?

Thank you for your email

I do apologise for the confusion over the wording - yes if your fees and loan were clear we could look at a voluntary relinquishment of your contract.

As previously advised once your fees and loan are fully paid then please do contact us and we will be happy to assist.

With Thanks

Ben

Dear Sir/Madam:

We are writing this letter to inform you that we want to cancel our contract for our timeshare and we expect to receive a full refund for the money that we have spent to this point. We have been misled and lied to throughout this entire process. We have been manipulated and strong armed into upgrading and buying more points and we no longer wish to do business with a company that uses these tactics to sell their timeshare investments.

My husband and I decided to visit Las Vegas, NV in February of 2017. He had never been to Vegas, so he was eager to experience it. On February 3, 2017 we were walking and exploring the Vegas strip. We were planning on seeing Zumanity and getting some food when we were approached by some guy on the strip offering us some different options to just take a 60-minute tour. I had never been approached like this before on my previous visits to Las Vegas, but he was offering us a $100 gift card and tickets to Zumanity. We declined and told him that we were not interested. This man was very persistent and kept following us offering incentive after incentive and told us it would only be 60 minutes of our time and he would have someone pick us up. After him following us and continuously talking to us we finally accepted his offer. The guy had someone pick us up and we were taken to Polo Towers for the presentation. When we arrived, we had to wait in the lounging area for another group to finish their presentation and we were offered complimentary snacks while we waited about 30 minutes for our presentation.

The group was taken into a viewing room, all the doors were closed, and we started watching a video that took about 45 minutes. The video was about Diamond Resorts and after the video was over, the Ambassador from Diamond came in and started talking to us about the resort and the different benefits that come with becoming a member. I remember how cold the room was, we were lethargic because we hadn't eaten and what was supposed to last 60 minutes was now going on 2 hours. Then we were paired with a salesperson. She was Russian and it was hard to communicate with her. She asked us about ourselves. We explained that we loved to travel and that we prefer international travels. She then took us on a tour of Polo Towers and showed us 2 different types of condos available. We toured the VIP area and this is where she tried to sell us on becoming a member and giving us information on the benefits and opportunities of being a member. We were not interested and had no interest in a timeshare that didn't allow us to travel the way we like to. The sales person told us this is not a timeshare, but a lifestyle because you travel to different places and you are not stationary to one place. We told her multiple times that we were not interested and that this is not something we want. We also told her that we were planning to buy a house this year (2017). After her trying to convince us to buy, and us resisting she then called her supervisor over to speak with us. He told us that this was a great opportunity to pass on to our children and he told us how good it would look for us trying to buy a home because of the investment and escrow. He said he knew this because he was a real estate agent. He also explained that if we didn't get in on it now the cost would be more if we decided to come back later to purchase. The sales lady also said that we didn't have to buy so many points to get discounts on booking. We were offered 2,500 points at $12,750 along with a tablet and an additional 1250 points. We were told that we could make installment payments on the maintenance fees. What they failed to mention was that we would not be able to book a trip until the maintenance fees were paid in full (we found this out later after trying to book a trip)! They also said we could earn points on the credit card to help take care of the maintenance fees. We were told that we needed to go to an owner's presentation every 6 months to get updated on how to utilize our points and any other information. They offered us 3 days in Scottsdale, AZ or to 3 other locations to go to the presentation with a deposit to reserve our spot.

After going back and forth we hesitantly made the decision to purchase. They had already marked where we should sign and initial on the contract. We didn't get 6 hours to read the contract like the 6 and a half hours they had spent of our time on the presentation - this process was rushed and hurried along.

Excited about the ability to travel abroad with the hopes of family and friends being able to join us, I rushed to browse the Diamond website for vacation resorts for weeks and weeks. Looking for destinations to vacation with the amount of points we had seemed impossible for the locations we desired. We were not able to find any accommodations to meet our schedule or the space we needed. We finally found one that we had enough points for, so we settled for it. This was our first booking since becoming members in February 2017. We had just enough points with the points they gave us as a bonus to book the condo leaving us a balance of 75 points. When we arrived at Grand Beach we were offered $200 visa card, a 7-day cruise that we can use up to one year and $100 restaurant card to go to a 55-minute owner's update presentation. We were told that we would have to do that every 6 months, not the first trip we booked since becoming members in February and this is only May 2017. Being new to the timeshare life, I was naive to think anything other than these people are making sure you are well informed about the Diamond Resorts. I did not know that this presentation was just to harass me into purchasing more points! At this presentation we didn't watch a video or tour the property, but we were just encouraged to purchase more points because there was so much more owners could do with the points. The salesman stated that we could use points to book flights, rent cars, and buy merchandise from Diamond's online luxury shopping with select brands. We stated that we didn't want anymore points and explained that this was our first time booking and we haven't had to opportunity to see if it was worth buying more points. The salesman then told us that we could upgrade to Silver Level membership and get perks and a better experience because the points we had were not enough to enjoy the full lifestyle as a Diamond owner. We still were not convinced so he called his supervisor over and he offered us more perks and points at a lower cost. He stated the price of the points were going up as they acquire more inventory. He stated that we should have gotten a call offering us more points at a lower rate, but since we didn't get the call he would offer more points plus 6,500 Dream Vacation points. After another tiring and long presentation, we were pushed into buying 6,500 more points for $24,700. We thought that we could benefit from the points in the long run because it was so new and unfamiliar.

We have only had this timeshare for a short amount of time and in that short time we have been harassed at both presentations. I, nor my husband, want to subject ourselves to the pressure and coercion that these presentations make you feel to purchase more points. We want to cancel the contract as soon as possible. We expect a full refund of the money we have spent with Diamond which adds up to about $39,597. I will not be paying anymore money to Diamond and I expect this not to affect my credit. As I stated before we are wanting to purchase a house and this timeshare will not help with that as we were led to believe by your sales person. It could actually negatively affect my credit. This was a direct lie from your sales person. These practices you continue to use are deceptive and the only option we feel is to cancel the contract and refund all the money the we have invested in this scheme. I hope to hear from someone soon regarding the cancellation and refund of our money.

Thank you,

Sherice and Kevon Hutchinson

Mr. and Mrs. Hutchinson,

We thank you for contacting Diamond Resorts, bringing your concerns to our attention and for allowing us the opportunity to respond. This letter is in response your letter regarding your claim of misrepresentation for your purchase of contract number 17703011 with the US Collection.

First and foremost, we regret to hear that you feel you were misrepresented. As we were not present during the presentation and purchase, we can only go based on the written agreement between you and the seller, the contract. After reading your assertions and reviewing the contract, we feel there has been no misrepresentation in any way.

Please allow me to refer you to the Purchaser's Understanding and Acknowledgement of Timeshare Purchase, I have attached a copy to this email for your reference, Purchaser's Understanding and Acknowledgement of Timeshare Purchase (1) MEMBERSHIP: The number of Resort interest and ?Resorts may increase. (3) MAINTENANCE FEES: In this section Maintenance Fees and Dues, this section provides estimated fees, understanding and acknowledgement of annual fee increases, also acknowledges maintenance fees must be current to make reservations, and closes with I will be billed for my maintenance fees annual, in fourth quarter starting this year.(8) DEFAULT: this section covers if I do not satisfy all my financial obligations...CANCELLATION: bottom of page 4 in attachment explains cancellation recession time frame and conditions.

During this session with the Quality Assurance Officer, you are given the opportunity to discuss any and all items or issues that have been represented by any employee or agent of Diamond that are material to your purchase and are not otherwise in writing. Our account records do not indicate any questions comments or concerns were brought up at any time during the contract signing

This can be located on the Purchase and Security Agreement, page seven (7), which states, "you may cancel this contract without the public report or after the date you sign this contract, whichever is later.

Ms. White,

Thank you for your response to our letter. It does not seem entirely fair that you can only go on the written agreement – I'm not necessarily disputing the contract, I'm disputing the fact we were deceived and misled into the purchase. How would you be able to tell this based on your review of the contract? Are you able to answer for any of the lies and deceptive info I shared? Are you able to take these concerns on to the sales teams to discuss their infractions?

- The constant harassment to attend a meeting
- When your sales reps hear "no," they need to move on
- A timeshare does NOT look good when trying to buy a house. It is NOT an investment. Points are not property; they are not deeded.
- If we don't purchase now, the price goes away
- The points earned from the credit card can't be used towards the maintenance fees
- The "phone call" scheme is just that – another scheme to make us feel like we missed out but yet they are fixing it to make us feel special. Special enough to make us think we are getting a better deal.
- The fact you have to book 13 months in advance is absurd on its own, but when you add in the fact you have to have the maintenance fees current for that vacationing year goes beyond absurdity. You're basically setting yourself up for failure here. This process should have been explained instead of spinning it and telling only half the facts of how it works.

Diamond knows how to downplay their shortcomings with every spin of the facts. You may tell us something great, but there's always a catch. And most of the time, you don't find this out until well after the rescission period. If it is included in the contract, it could be misleading. During the signing process, the places are premarked where to sign – the sales reps/quality assurance manager merely give a brief overview of the page; each section is NOT reviewed. Furthermore, we trusted what your sales reps told us. We had no reason to think they would deceive us and therefore no reason to question what we had been told.

We have only had this timeshare for a year. It only took a year to determine this was not for us. The pressure, the coercion, the deception and lies coupled with the lack of availability and the number of points you have to have to travel anywhere big is enough – we've had enough. We ask you to reconsider your decision.

Respectfully,
Sherice and Kevon Hutchinson

When no one responded, we sent the following to several email addresses we found online:

We have been disputing our membership with your company, and we have requested termination of our contract and membership, but it seems we have hit a brick wall. We have been misled and lied to throughout this entire process. We have been manipulated and strong-armed into upgrading and buying more points, and we no longer wish to do business with a company that uses these tactics to sell their timeshare investments.

We ask that you reopen our case and take our concerns and our request seriously. Your company fails to admit to any wrongdoing, and you consistently refer us to the paperwork. The paperwork was never the issue – it was what was told to us prior to that that convinced us to purchase. The paperwork was never properly reviewed with us and by the time we were able to review the documentation for ourselves, we had missed the short rescission period. Furthermore, there were several untruths that were told to us that we could not possibly have discovered to be untrue within the seven days.

We have only had this timeshare for a short amount of time, and in that short time, we have been harassed at both presentations. I, nor my husband, want to subject ourselves to the pressure and coercion that these presentations make you feel to purchase more points. We want to cancel the contract as soon as possible. We expect a full refund of the money we have spent with Diamond which adds up to about $39,597. I will not be paying any more money to Diamond, and I expect this not to affect my credit. As I stated before we want to purchase a house and this timeshare will not help with that as we were led to believe by your salesperson. It could actually negatively affect my credit. This was a direct lie from your sales person. Thank you for responding, as we here in Hospitality Management are concerned about your comments we would like to get in touch with you to discuss this matter further which is the reason for me reaching out to you. At Diamond™, we take customer reviews very seriously.

Thank you for taking the time to share your comments and feelings about our interactions. I regret that you are not pleased with our decision to deny your request to cancel based on your claims. I must refer you back to your contract documents and reiterate that if you had found any inconsistency in what you were allegedly told by your salesperson at both times of purchase and what was presented in your contracts that you were given ample opportunity to ask questions and get clarification during the Quality Assurance session.

Mrs. And Mr. Hutchinson while your reason for accepting the offer was not due to financial hardship, and the offer was more than you would have liked, you agreed to it and with that, it is important that you understand that the purchase of vacation ownership points is an investment into future of vacations; it is not sold as, nor intended to be, an investment in real estate. Please refer to your Purchaser's Understanding and Acknowledgment. Number six (6) Personal Use states, this purchase is for personal use and enjoyment and it does not create and undue financial burden for me. I am not purchasing a Membership as a financial investment or for financial returns of any kind, including through resale, rental or tax advantages. Diamond does no offer a rental, resale or buyback program and makes no representation tax deductions.....It goes on to say, "I may not engage in any commercial rental activities to rent out points for cash through online or print advertising to the general public and understand my membership may be suspended or terminated if I do. Purchasers did place their initials in the margin acknowledging and agreeing to this.

Purchase and Security Agreement in both Contracts under Other Cost (D) plain states Initial Use Years Association standard Assessment (estimated) and proceeds to disclose fees.

Purchasers Understanding and Acknowledgement covers, Reservations, Maintenance Fees, Default, last paragraph states BY INTALING AND SIGNING THIS ACKNOWLEDGMENT I ACKNOWLEDGE THAT I HAVE READ AND UNDERSTAND THAT THE CONTENT OF THIS ACKNOWLEDGEMENT AND THE PURCHASE SECURITY AGREEMENT AND I HAVE BEEN GIVEN AS MUSCH TIME AS I WANT AND NEED TO REVIEW ALL OF THE DOCUMENTS IN CONNECTION WITH MY PURCHASE. I ALSO ACKNOWLEDGE THAT I HAVE I HAVE BEEN GIVEN THE OPPORTUNITY TO ACK MY VACATION COUNSLOR AND/OR QUALITY ASSURANCE OFFICER ANY QUESTIONS I MAY HAVE PRIOR TO SIGNING ANY DOCUMENT. I UNDERSTAND I HAVE (NEVEDA PURCHASE 5 DAYS) and (FLORIDA PRUCHASE 10 DAYS) TO CANCEL THIS PURCHASE AS FURTHER EXPLAINED DIRECTLY ABOVE MY SIGNATURE ON THE PURCHASE AND SECURITY AGREEMENT. THE REFERENCES TO 'I' 'ME' AND 'MY' ABOVE INCLUDED ALL PURCHASERS NAMED BELOW. Closes with your Signature .

Regarding the 2017 purchase and your claims, we regret to hear that you feel you were misrepresented with that purchase too. As we were not present during the presentation and purchase, we can only go based on the written agreement between you and the seller, the contract. After reading your assertions and reviewing the contract, we cannot make assumptions as to what was discussed between you and the sales representative. As such, we are unable to go based on verbal representation. Your contract contains all information regarding your purchase; as such, the contract serves as the written documentation between you and the seller.

With that said, Diamond Resorts does not feel that there has been a misrepresentation with the purchase of the contracts. As such, you will remain responsible for all of the contractual obligations and the contract will remain in force.

We are always available to assist you with making reservations, to answer any questions or address any concerns that you may have. If you should have further questions or concerns regarding your account or would like to discuss how to make your membership work for you, please contact Customer Service at 1-877-374-2582 or me directly and one of our representatives or I will be happy to assist you.

Should you have further questions regarding this matter, please contact me directly at 1-702-473-7645 Ext. 12849 and I will be happy to assist you. We hope in time ahead, you find your vacation ownership with Diamond Resorts to be a seamless branded hospitality experience, every time.

I will consider this issue closed and have no further plans of contacting you unless we receive new information.

Keisha:

There WAS misrepresentation of your product. Plain and simple. You continue to miss the mark here. I clearly explained everything that happened, several times, and gave you a clear overview of our experience. You are completely disregarding our experience. As I've told you before, you cannot tell me the documentation covers every aspect of what we were told? Furthermore, what you are telling me is that it's ok for your salespeople to tell us any sort of lie and they can misrepresent your company as much as they want, and get away with it, simply because your documentation says it ok?

You pulling excerpts from your contracts doesn't clear up any misrepresentation. Many, if not most, of the details that were told (and sold) to us would not have been covered in your documentation. Furthermore, your documentation is misleading within itself, not to mention complicated as many things could be taken different ways. And yet again, we did not review the contract documents. We had no questions; we trusted your sales representatives. The pages where we were to sign and initial were flagged; there was no explanation. Even if we had questions, we were not given ample opportunity as this process was very rushed.

"While your reason for accepting the offer was not due to financial hardship..." – this statement is absurd. We agreed to upgrade because what we were told made us feel as if we had no choice. Your salesperson clearly told us an upgrade would help us purchase a house and this was a boldfaced lie. This is a prime example of something that was told to us that would not be covered in your documentation.

I understand your documentation says that it's not sold as a financial investment, the problem is this is what your reps sell it as. The financial burden came when the maintenance fees increased to levels that were not estimated, nor explained. I never said anything about commercially renting – your sales reps said we could rent; nothing was ever mentioned about commercially renting.

How would I ever be able to present evidence supporting my case? I am not allowed to take notes, nor record the event. If any notes are taken, they are taken away from us at the end. Wonder why this is? Sounds fishy to us...

It's a shame we didn't record then transcribe and insert the transcription into the documentation; perhaps if this was allowed you wouldn't make hardly any sales.

You may have not been present, but we were. The contract documentation clearly preserves your assets but how do we preserve ours? What about what we have lost?

You state you are always available to address any concerns we may have, but I have determined this attempt has proven to be useless and I am sure any other attempt would be just the same.

We will be contacting the BBB, Attorney Generals, ARDA, FTC, FBI and any other agency we can.

Regards,

To Whom It May Concern:

I am contacting your agency in hopes you can assist me with the cancellation and refund of my contracts and membership with Diamond Resorts. I have enclosed the initial letter that was sent to them outlining my request and reasoning for the request, along with their denials and my rebuttals. I feel my concerns are falling on deaf ears. I would appreciate any guidance or help this agency can provide.

Sincerely,

John W. Collick Jr.

To whom it may concern:

This is a formal letter of complaint to address the following concerns with the misrepresentations of the sales department of your company without which we would not have purchased such an unsatisfactory and intangible product. I am requesting full cancellation of my timeshare contract and I do not intend to make any more payments to DRI.

For most reasonable individuals, when you are providing customer service to a family, both typical and practical concessions are made in order to ensure success on both sides of the situation that a proper compromise can be made during the sale. When someone goes pretty much anywhere to buy something, i.e. a car, a house, a boat, shoes, etc., the salesperson tailors the sales pitch and actual value to the customer. Since that is typically true, Americans tend to be quite trusting. There is a certain standard to be met to which your sales staff at DRI obviously do not feel a conscious, moral need to adhere.

My wife and I first heard of Diamond Resorts International during a weekend away at one of their Virginia Beach, VA resorts over Thanksgiving 2016. The salesman, Mr. Stephen Kim, explained that Diamond was “up and coming” as the premier timeshare company in America. He explained that DRI is buying up resort properties, including working towards acquiring “The Colonies” in Williamsburg, VA, where we are owners. He stated that since it’s inevitable that DRI will own The Colonies soon, it’s best for us to move over to DRI and get ‘on the ground floor’ to get better opportunities.

We both fell for the sales pitch, but since I was out of work because of an injury, we could not afford to purchase a membership, so they offered us a “Sampler Package.” After spending over three hours in the presentations with our then 11-year-old son, who was extremely intellectually disabled and very agitated at the time, we decided to give it a “try,” at a cost of $2,500. An hour later, we were able to leave with some “free” gifts.

In July 2017, we were contacted by DRI to attend an “Event of a Lifetime,” in Virginia Beach. Because we had our son, who has an IQ and behaviorisms of an 18-month-old, we told them that we cannot participate; we can only go on family vacations. Within a few minutes, we were asked to attend the “Event of a Lifetime” in Orlando, Florida, at Mystic Dunes Resort. Upon our arrival in Florida, we met Rida, who was the “Event of a Lifetime” coordinator and, unbeknownst to us, would be our sales representative. Actually, she made it very clear that she was not a member of the sales staff. She explained that these events are primarily for Platinum members but the event we were participating was to showcase DRI – specifically stating it was not to sell anything. That set us at ease since, as we told Rida, we did not want to purchase with DRI at that time; again, she assured us the getaway was for information only.

We arrived at the Mystic Dunes Resort around 4:00, checked in, and returned to the Reception Center around 5:30 to catch a bus with about a dozen other families for dinner at a beautiful Greek restaurant. Everyone had lots of fun, food, and drink. Several members of our party, including my then 14-year-old daughter, danced on tables with the wait staff and everyone clapped, sang, and drank. It was just a wonderful evening. During the evening, Rida took “selfies” with everyone and made the night very personal; she also explained to Lisa and I that although not everyone can participate in every “Event of a Lifetime,” Platinum members do get invited if they want to participate. She asked all sorts of personal questions that she later used when explaining the benefits of owning DRI, again making it clear that she was not trying to sell us anything.

Rida said we’d be invited to several “Events of a Lifetime” each year and we said that, if we could afford to join, we would try to participate in at least one “Event of a Lifetime” each year – preferably when we’d get to “wine and dine” with celebrities.

The next morning, we again met the group at the reception center, and took the bus to Dave & Buster’s for breakfast and fun. I was in a lot of pain, requiring the use of my cane to stand and walk; I had to take pain medication all day. That said, it was a great time. Everyone was given plenty of tokens to play games and win prizes; each member of our family won some prizes, including Jimmy. During this timeframe, Dave & Buster’s was closed to the public; we had it all to ourselves.

By now, Rida was well-liked and trusted by everyone; in fact, my daughter felt she was just like any other lifelong family friend that we have.

After we returned from Dave & Buster’s, we spent the rest of the day having fun, as a family.

On the third day, our appointment was scheduled for lunchtime, with the promise of a nice lunch. We were told that we could not drink any alcohol prior to the appointment; we joked a little since it was too early to drink and besides, as I mentioned to Rida, because of the medication that I take for pain, I am not supposed to drink alcohol at all. Lunch was in a makeshift office, formerly a guest suite, on the top floor of a unit from where you can see the fireworks at Disney each night. Again, I was in quite a bit of pain and required my cane to participate. Lunch was ½ a sandwich, chips, and juice – had we known that, we would have brought our own lunch. After we ate, Rida took us to a private office so our son, Jimmy, could relax.

She began the presentation reiterating she was not trying to sell us anything but, as an owner herself, was explaining the benefits of owning DRI, through another owner’s eyes. First thing Rida did was ask us where we have tried to vacation with “The Colonies” but couldn’t make reservations. My answer was the Outer Banks of North Carolina. She immediately got her tablet, entered in the information for the Outer Banks – for the following week, which was still in-season. She showed us the results, which displayed many, many available units, exactly where we wanted to go, explaining that DRI has greater power than The Colonies (through Interval International), so we would ALWAYS get something close to where we want if we booked at the last minute or get exactly what we wanted if we booked in advance.

During the entire presentation I was changing from sitting to standing due to the pain in my back; I took my pain medicine just prior to lunch and Lisa had to go back to our unit to retrieve me more medicine during the presentation.

During the presentation, Rida focused about ½ of her time and comments on our then 14-year-old daughter, Ann, whose birthday was within the next day or two. Once Rida found out about Ann's birthday, she pointed out many locations, asking Ann if she'd like to spend her 16th birthday at one of those places.

As I mentioned, Rida used her tablet to show us how to make reservations. She also told us that we'd get the same tablet to use for reservations, which would make it easy for us to make our reservation for the Outer Banks, once we joined DRI.

She explained that we can use our points for theme park tickets, air travel, concerts, theater, and pretty much any other leisure activity we could think of. As Platinum members, once we have enough points, we could use them to pay our maintenance fees if we wanted – or we could just use the rewards from the Barclay credit card they applied for, on our behalf. Yes, we were asked to sign a paper for a down payment and later advised that we had "been approved" for a new credit card that we needed to pay the maintenance fees. Initially, we did not know it was a credit application; we were led to believe the down payment was included in the overall monthly payments.

Concerning the credit card, Rida told us that if we used it for routine necessities, and paid it off every month, we could easily use the rewards points for the maintenance fees. This would be helpful, she explained, particularly in our situation with me not working and not knowing if/when I'll be returning to work. Further, she stated that she uses her rewards points from her Barclay card to pay her maintenance fees and because of the credit card, she's never paid maintenance fees.

After we found the Barclay card was for the down payment, I thought that at least we'd have some points built up for the maintenance fees, which would help. Later, I found that there are no points given when applying for the card to make a down payment.

Lisa asked if we could use amenities on DRI properties when we don't stay overnight. Rida said "of course, if you're owners." Lisa specifically asked if we could use the amenities at Great Wolf Lodge in Williamsburg, and again, Rida said "yes" but there might be a nominal fee for use of the waterpark.

After over 2 hours, Rida finally asked if we'd like to become members. Lisa and I continued to stress that we do not want timeshares with both "The Colonies" and DRI. She started "fast talking," explaining that DRI would take our weeks at "The Colonies" and rent them to offset the cost and increase our points to 50,000, which would make us Platinum members. Once "The Colonies" is paid off, DRI could purchase it from us at the fair market value. To speed things up, she said we could take out a personal loan to pay it off, then give Rida a call as soon as we're ready to sell it, since we both had great credit.

Because of the difference between the monthly payments of "The Colonies" and those of DRI, Lisa would still need to get a job since we didn't know when I'll be able to start working again. She had been a stay at home mother for 30 years, at that point. We felt that if Rida was willing to ensure DRI bought back "The Colonies" from us, we could safely move forward to purchase DRI. Considering everything that Mr. Kim told us in Virginia Beach, along with what Rida explained, we felt it that to purchase from DRI was the appropriate thing for us, particularly since DRI was in the process of acquiring "The Colonies."

*Note: We applied for a personal loan through Navy Federal Credit Union, explaining that DRI will be buying the timeshare from us after it's paid off. The NFCU representative advised me that if I had not purchased DRI, they could easily fund the personal loan, given our great credit scores. However, with the DRI purchase, we had too much debt to qualify for the loan.

After we made this decision, Rida explained a few more "giveaways" that we get. They included enough points for totally free airfare and lodging for Lisa and I to travel to Arizona, where our oldest son is now stationed in the Army; 4 one day passes to Disney World, to give Jimmy a fun day while in Orlando; and extra points to take Ann and a friend to see "Hamilton," when it's in Washington, DC. As the coordinator for "Events of a Lifetime," Rida also sent us to a second "Event of a Lifetime" that evening on the Mystic Dunes property.

Further, Rida explained, because we are now Platinum members, we will always be Platinum members; even if the points are broken up between our heirs, if they choose to inherit them, each of our heirs will become Platinum members, since they'd be inheriting Platinum points. Rida also explained that we cannot force an heir to take ownership of a timeshare, so in that case, DRI would take it back.

In October 2017, following Rida's previous instructions, I attempted to make reservations for a week at the Outer Banks for ANY WEEK during the summer 2018, using the tabled DRI provided. There was no availability, whatsoever. Then I called Great Wolf Lodge to check on availability; there was nothing available. I also asked if we, as DRI Platinum members, could use their amenities during a day visit, to which the response was a resounding "no – they're only for overnight guests." This was very disappointing as we had asked this exact question and received an outright lie as a response.

We were asked several questions during our meeting like where we're from, how many kids/grandkids and if they lived with us and if not, where. We were asked what our credit score was and how much money we made. We were not asked about our current financial situation or if we could even afford it. We were asked if we wanted to vacation (obviously), how much and where. We were asked if we wanted to go anywhere in the world, where would it be.

This sale was made without courtesy of compromise or understanding. Any time a person applies for a large purchase, one of the typical questions is what their monthly bills include. Not only has this timeshare purchase wreaked havoc on our quality of life due to the stressed imposed whenever we have attempted to use it, but it has not and, I am certain, cannot live up to the amount for which it was purchased. It was not a good investment to any degree since we have not been able to glean anything other than stress and a great example on how to lie and build success off someone else's hard-earned money. I am demanding a cancellation and a full refund, to include our down payment. Any collection efforts to desist and no affect to be made to our credit score by DRI. I expect to hear from you immediately upon receipt of this letter.

Sincerely,

John W. Collick Jr.

Subject: CANCELLATION REQUEST

Hello John William Collick Jr and Lisa Marie Collick,

Hope you are well. We are in receipt of your request to cancel your membership with Diamond Resorts stated in your letter dated March 27, 2018.

We are sorry to hear of your decision to consider parting ways with your Membership since our last conversation with you in December.

In your letter you stated that you feel you were misled by our sales team into purchasing and for this reason you would like to cancel with a full refund.

To reflect back to the document you signed stating the reasons why you purchased initially you stated you were purchasing due to the exceptional staff as well as the option to go to events of a lifetime which are two options that are certainly at your disposal. If for any reason we are not able to continue to provide exceptional service, we hope you will let us know so that we may resolve the issue in the best way.

You have made the following allegations that I will list below and provide a response:

As a Platinum member you were told you may use points towards Maintenance Fees, park tickets, air travel, concerts and theater.

As a platinum member, you do in fact, have the ability to use points towards your Maintenance fee. At this time, we also have a program with allows you to use points towards air travel as well.

At this time, we do not have a program in place for Platinum members to use your points towards park tickets, concert, or theater but you may find different types of events available for you to use your points through our Great American Days program. Because member benefits are subject to change at any time and this was not listed as an exception in your contract we are unable to cancel your membership based off of this reasoning.

You would receive a Barclay card and be able to use points on card towards Maintenance fees // You were led to believe the down payment was included in the monthly payments

I would like to refer you to your "Purchase Proposal" document that is included in your contract information. This document which was signed and acknowledged by you, the purchaser clearly states the down payment amount as well as a breakdown of the monthly payments When purchasing a credit card, the way the process works is this: The credit card application must be filled out in full by the guest, it is then turned into contracts and processed, if it is approved the customer has to sign a purchase proposal that states that they will be using the new Barclays card for the down payment before it is charged. Barclay has it's own program to allow you to use your rewards points towards maintenance fee payments and you may contact them for a complete description of how the program works by calling 866.710.2687.

The sales team advised that Diamond Resorts would take over your week at The Colonies to make you Platinum and later purchase it from you when it is paid off

When you purchased your contract, the sales agent used your week at The Colonies towards a Club Combinations contract. The way this program works is by boosting your loyalty tier by valuing your membership at a specific point amount in exchange for the ability of Diamond Resorts to obtain your week with the outside vacation ownership company each year. It is entirely up to you whether or not you would like to deposit your week with Diamond Resorts each year in exchange for points, but your loyalty tier will remain boosted regardless of what you decide unless your Club Combinations contract is cancelled.

You were told you could use the amenities at an off-site property without a reservation.

Unfortunately, this is never something that we are able to promise as we do not own or manage our affiliate resorts. We do, however, in some instances, allow our members to use the amenities without a reservation at our Diamond Owned and managed properties based on availability. We cannot make an exception as it is not otherwise stated in your contract information.

You were welcome to ask any lingering questions to the Quality Assurance officer at the time of purchase and they are required to answer them in complete honesty to make sure that you fully understand your purchase.

That being said, we will not be processing a cancelation of your membership.. Please be advised you are still obligated for all financial responsibilities associated with your membership, including your loan and your annual membership fees. You were also given a state mandated rescission period within which you were able to review your documentation and, if you determined that the contract wasn't right for you, you were welcome to cancel within that rescission period for a full refund with no penalty.

I hope that you will contact me with any further concerns.

Kind Regards,

Thank you for your response to my letter of March 27, 2018. In your response to my statement that American consumers tend to be trusting of individuals providing customer service on behalf of companies, you responded that my wife and I are at fault for believing what your employees told us about DRI and the value of being a DRI member. I received the same erroneous information from two different employees in two different states; therefore, I believe that the types of misrepresentation that I experienced is endemic within your organization. I will address that at the end of my letter.

Your response indicates that either you did not read my letter in full or you don't understand what I was attempting to convey. Therefore, I will make a second attempt to explain my dissatisfaction with Diamond Resorts International (DRI) with a little more clarity.

First, let me say that I did state you had exceptional staff; at the time, I believed it. They gave us a great night on the town followed by a great day at Dave & Buster's. It was pure fun. We had as much as we wanted to eat and all the alcohol we could drink. DRI provided everything, to include transportation. Second, the salesperson assigned to my wife and I continuously told us that she was not a salesperson and knew that we weren't interested in becoming members, but simply wanted to show us a good time, so when we could join, we would. During the entire weekend, at every opportunity, she reiterated that she was not a salesperson. Not only did we really like Rida, we trusted her without question, based on the great time we had during the weekend.

Then, the sleight of hand began with lunch and the 90-minute presentation, which we were assured was NOT a sales presentation.

My wife, Lisa Collick, and I were advised that by participating in an "Event of a Lifetime," we had to attend a 90-minute meeting to learn about what DRI offers. We were told not to drink any alcohol, which neither of us can, due to pain medication that we were both taking at the time. Rida joked about it, saying as long as it's not alcohol, she doesn't care. In hindsight, the medicine I have been taking for the last two years makes me very compliant and complacent; if I hadn't been taking it, I may not have signed any contracts.

We were there for over three hours, before being asked if we like it; which, from the previous night's activities, we did. We were then promised tickets to Walt Disney World in the presence of our children, if we joined. We were given "extra points" to use for travel to Arizona, where our son was being transferred by the U.S. Army along with enough points to purchase two tickets to the Broadway Production, "Hamilton." Finally, because I retired from the military and we owned at "The Colonies," which we were previously told, by Mr. Stephen Kim in Virginia Beach and later "confirmed" by Rida in Mystic Dunes, that DRI was in the process of acquiring, we were given Platinum status.

Over a total of five hours, Rida showed us what DRI offers and told us that, as Platinum Members, we could easily get any vacation, go to nearly any concert, attend theatrical productions, or fly anywhere, using DRI points. DRI now says that this is not entirely true and that DRI is not responsible for their employees' misrepresentations, which is completely wrong since they do represent your company. Rida showed us how to make reservations. We selected a resort in the Outer Banks of North Carolina; she input the dates we wanted into her tablet and showed us that, as Platinum Members, we could have booked on that August day and had reservations for the following week, which was still 'in season.' At about the four-hour point, I finally told Rida that we could not buy into DRI while still holding a note for The Colonies. During a conversation with her and another DRI employee, they recommended that I get a Home Equity loan to pay off The Colonies and then, DRI could buy it from me at market value, which would lower my overall cost of the new DRI membership. When we did apply for a Home Equity Loan, it was denied due to having a new loan for the DRI membership. Again, I was under the impression that DRI was in the process of acquiring The Colonies and questioned it several times. Nobody at Mystic Dunes say anything to the contrary. If we had known that this was in fact, not true, there is no way we would have purchased DRI. The total time spent with your salesperson was five hours.

By about the third hour, we were worn down, tired, our disabled son was miserable, I needed additional pain medicine, which my wife had to go back to our condo to get for me, and the DRI staff's pressure to buy was increasing; especially since Rida was focusing much of the sales pitch and "goodies" toward my 14 year old daughter.

After ultimately deciding to purchase the DRI membership, I attempted to book our Outer Banks vacation for the summer of 2018 in late November or early December 2017. I tried to book the same Outer Banks vacation that Rida had shown us, using the tablet provided by DRI, using the dates starting June 15, 2018 to August 31, 2018, the results came back as nothing being available. I then tried as a non-DRI member, looking for a vacation and paying cash. Nearly every resort that we should have had access to through DRI had availability, while none had availability when we used our DRI points. I thought this was an anomaly, so I ignored it and thought we'd give it a try after the first of the new year. I now realize that it was a sales tactic and Rida likely knew that we'd have difficulty making these reservations.

Then, during my children's Christmas Break, my daughter reminded me that Rida said we have access to DRI-owned, Great Wolf Lodge, as indicated in my letter of March 27, 2018. We decided to go to Great Wolf Lodge; I called them to find the process for using our DRI membership to use amenities and the desk clerk told me that only guests staying overnight can use the amenities.

Your response infers that it's not DRI's fault that your employee, who claimed she is not part of the sales staff throughout the entire weekend, gave us misinformation on which we based our decision to join DRI, lied to us; but instead, it is my fault for believing it.

I understand how credit cards work; however, as stated in my letter of March 27, 2018, we were told we needed it to ensure we don't have to pay maintenance fees out of pocket but can use the points accumulated over the year for them. As long as we used it for necessities that we'd purchase anyhow, with cash, we'd earn enough rewards to pay our maintenance fees each year. It was when the first statement arrived when we found that it was used for a down payment.

I never said that we were told that we can use an off-site property without a reservation, as your response of April 17, 2018 states. What I did say was that Rida advised us that we can use ANY DRI OWNED amenities, on a day-use basis, if we're not staying overnight – just like we have enjoyed at The Colonies. We specifically asked if Great Wolf Lodge was a Diamond Property, as we were previously told. Rida said that we could use the amenities, although there might be a fee for use of the waterpark area. Later, we found that to be untrue; again, we relied on your employee for accurate information to help us assess whether we would purchase a membership and we were again, misled.

Other things that I didn't previously address but will now since they are deceptive practices that were used by Rida (and Stephen Kim, when we ultimately bought the Sampler Package in Virginia Beach). In addition to the deception described above, another deceptive act was using math to show us how much value we would get for our vacation dollars; however, neither included the annual maintenance fees, any amenity fees, or interest rates on the loan. The example both Rida and Stephen used was about $5,000 per year for vacations. Later I realized that we are $12,000 per year, not $5,000 while a family vacation for our family would cost about $3,000, per week.

Although I stated that I received the same information from two different DRI employees in two different states, you have stated that DRI is not responsible for their statements. You did not attempt to explain your employees' training or the Corporate views on the matters I raised. I believe these points that I have made, in addition to other issues that I have withheld, due to the length of this letter, are endemic within your organization.

Again, I am demanding a cancellation of this contract and a full refund, to include the down payment. Furthermore, I intend to provide a copy of my letter of March 27, 2018, your email of April 17, 2018, and this letter to the Attorneys' General of the Commonwealth of Virginia, as well as the states of Florida, Nevada, and any other states where DRI owns timeshare properties.

Subject: Diamond Communications

Kaitlin,

I hope this note finds you well. I just wanted to tell you that another person from DRI has been trying to contact my wife. That's not going to work; she recently had shoulder surgery, as well and is on some heavy duty prescription pain killers. She will not answer the phone nor return any calls to DRI.

I have not been ignoring your calls, but have been in the doctors myself when someone from DRI called yesterday. I am also taking prescription pain medication, as I have since April 2016, so I decided to seek advice about how to communicate with you since I'm often not in the frame of mind to discuss over the phone when you have called. I was advised to use written communications in order to best protect my interests. Therefore, I am politely requesting that you use either email or registered mail to contact me; email is likely easier for both of us.

I am in the process of talking to a number of people throughout the country who have experienced the same sales tactics used on me, including the issue with the credit card. Again, my perception of this being an endemic problem with DRI grows daily, as I talk to more and more people.

In fact, some of these folks are also disabled combat veterans, like myself. And others are retired, as I am retired on Social Security disability now.

In addition to speaking with attorneys about potential class action lawsuits against DRI in Florida, my goal is to draft and publish an article, that I plan to share with each of the military times newspapers, the Veterans of Foreign Wars, the American Legion, and Disabled Veterans magazines for publication. In addition, I plan to share with any travel related publication that will accept it and with the Apollo company and their bank underwriters, as well as the Attorney Generals of Florida, Nevada, California, Arizona, Virginia, and any other state where DRI does business, absent immediate cancellation of my contact and the return of all monies paid to DRI, including the down payment.

I will be out of town and unavailable through Tuesday, attending a funeral of a family member.

I look forward to seeing your response when I return, along with the approval of an immediate cancellation of my contract and the return of all money, including down payment, paid to DRI.

Sincerely,

John

Dear John William Collick Jr and Lisa Marie Collick

We thank you for your response to our email we sent on April 24th.
We have reviewed your initial complaint and also reviewed your response below and we do respond to your additional concerns as follows.

Firstly, we are sorry that you are unhappy with the length of presentation. A couple of hours is the period of time we normally request from presentation attendees as we feel this is the minimum time needed to explain our products in detail and in a way that most clients can fully understand. The length of presentations can vary for different reasons however we certainly do not wish to cause any participant discomfort in these circumstances and once the sales team feels that all product information has been adequately covered visitors are under no obligation to stay any longer. It is usual, however, for our presenters to pause regularly throughout the presentation for refreshment intervals and we deeply regret you seem to have felt under such pressure to remain in attendance for the whole duration. When a purchase is made it can take a longer time to ensure all the information has been provided and to ensure that you are happy to proceed with the purchase. We would advise however that each purchase is completely obligatory and you are not required to make a purchase, or stay at the meeting if you did not wish to do so.

With regards to any pressure that you were subject to, we would advise that we are of the firm belief that our products sell themselves without the need for any high-pressure tactics or disrespectful behaviour in an attempt to secure a sale. We can assure you that Diamond Resorts International® strives to have our sales representatives, as with all our employees, committed to providing our guests/members with the utmost respect and quality service that they expect and deserve. Please be assured that Diamond Resorts International® is wholly committed to a customer-centric culture, delivered at every hospitality touch.

We appreciate you're unhappy as you feel you were misinformed on what you could use your membership for however we can only refer you to the purchase documentation that you signed which confirms the usage of the points towards member benefits and we have included the relevant extract below from your purchase document and a full copy of our Member Benefits Directory has been attached to this email.

Ms. Charlton,

I appreciate your seemingly canned response, however once again, Diamond fails to see the big picture. Though the length of the presentation was much too long and that was a concern, it is not the main reason for our demands. The reasons were made quite clear – we were lied to over and over. We were told many things which in turn affected our decision to purchase. I don't understand why your company refuses to see this as an issue! Your only response has basically been to refer me to the contracts. This is ludicrous! Many, if not most, of the details that were told (and sold) to us would not have been covered in your documentation. Furthermore, your documentation is deceiving within itself, not to mention convoluted as many things could be taken different ways. If I would have known we needed to record then transcribe the meeting word for word and include it in the documentation, we would have. Sadly, it seems referring us to your documentation is your only protection – where is ours? What protection do we have against your deceitful ways? You can provide as many screenshots as you wish – the fact still remains what we were told is ultimately what led us to purchase.

You may be of the firm belief your products sell themselves, but if they truly did, your sales reps would not use 'bait and switch' as well as other ambitious, aggressive, and shady sales practices and your company would have far less complaints. You've stated that you're not responsible for what your sales reps tell customers, but when sales reps from half a dozen different resorts tell their customers the same things, your company does have to assume responsibility. So far, I have found about a dozen people from various places in North America, who have bought into Diamond Resorts International after being misled by the sales staff – each having been told by your company that it's not responsible for what the sales staff says. I'm sure this will be of interest to the Attorney Generals of Virginia, Florida, Arizona, California, and Nevada. Additionally, if this issue isn't resolved within one week, I am also providing all of the correspondence between Diamond Resorts International and myself to both the FBI and Secret Service Financial Crimes Units, explaining how we (and several others) were deceived into applying for a Barclay Credit Card. Unlike the other resort we belong to, The Colonies of Williamsburg, Diamond Resorts International is not committed to satisfying their customers; but only doing whatever you can to get other people's hard earned money.

You do not appreciate the fact we are unhappy. You have disregarded my request to communicate with me through email or mail – and to not attempt to communicate with my wife. You are disregarding our concerns as if we don't matter and our experience doesn't matter – moreover, you're making it seem as if we are lying to you. At this point, since our complaints and demands continue to fall on deaf ears, we are preparing our case for the attorney generals, along with other agencies, and I am drafting my article as we speak.

Our voices will be heard, one way or another.

John

Dear John W. Collick

We thank you for your email response.

We can confirm that the Quality Assurance meeting is your chance to verify any concerns that you had and ask for anything of importance from the meeting with your sales representative to be confirmed in writing. Our Quality Assurance team are not part of the sales team and they are there to clarify any concerns that you have regarding the purchase. In addition, this meeting is fully recorded and you do review all of the purchase documentation in full at this time.

We did fully investigate your concerns and unfortunately as there is no evidence of such misrepresentations we are not in a position to be able to review further. The purchase documentation is provided at time of purchase so that you have all of the information required and as you have a rescission period you have time to review the documentation in full.

We understand that you say you wish to take this further and you are well within your right to do so however we will also be able to review further if you can supply us with further information to allow us to investigate.

We are unsure what you are referring to when you advise we have disregarded your request to communicate by email/mail as we did respond to you by email. We can confirm that we are certainly not saying that you are lying however as we were not present at the presentation we are unable reply on may verbal misrepresentation and must rely on the written documentation which was signed at point of sale. In addition, from the information offered there is no evidence of misrepresentation and there is no actual evidence that you are able to supply to back up your claims.

We will await further communication to allow us to investigate further.

With kind regards
Jade

Jade –

I am trying very hard to control my anger here. My wife has received several voicemails from DRI representatives; one stating that your company has agreed to a resolution, but didn't describe what that resolution was. My wife has too much going on with her health right now, so please ensure your colleagues understand that the only communication with us should be in writing, preferable via email.

Now, while contacting other dissatisfied Diamond Resorts International (DRI) customers, I have identified even more breaches of trust, as well as instances of deception, fraud, misrepresentation and now, concealment or suppression of material facts – that is, the (false) information in which my wife and I relied to base our decisions upon.

You stated that my concerns were investigated; how was the investigation conducted? I would like an official copy of the investigation, along with all statements. Do you have a recording of the entire presentation? If so, I demand a copy of the recording. As I am the person in the recording, I'm sure you can acquiesce to my request.

As we discussed previously, both salespersons we interacted with in Virginia Beach and Mystic Dunes, misrepresented DRI by stating that DRI was in the process, at the time, of acquiring The Colonies of Williamsburg.

Further, at Mystic Dunes, Rida made a significant number of additional misrepresentations, which I referred to as "lies" in previous correspondence, during the sales presentation. Another misrepresentation – or outright lie – was that when I asked Rida about increases in maintenance fees, she replied that, "of course there'll be increases – but only at the inflation rate," which has been our experience in the past, so we didn't discount that comment. However, I recently found that, in the State of Florida, timeshare maintenance fees can be increased by up to 25% each year.

Both Rida and Stephen Kim (in Virginia Beach) stated that the price my wife and I were being offered was good for that day only. If we had not purchased either package on the days we were in the respective sales centers, the costs would have been dramatically higher; in fact, Rida also explained that we were being given a significant discount because of my status as a 100% Disabled Combat Veteran, which I also found was not true. Stephen said the price of the Sampler was decreased because of the hardship we were in at the time and continue to experience.

Finally, both salespersons misrepresented the overall cost of vacationing at the start of their presentations, using only the cost of membership, without including maintenance fees, to depict that purchasing points with DRI would save us money on vacations. After I could not get any reservations at the Outer Banks of North Carolina, I tried to see what it would cost to make those same reservations, using my credit card. The total cost would have been 1/3 less than the annual maintenance fees alone.

In fact, both salespersons made many notes that were shown to us in the course of the presentation but we weren't allowed to have them. Why are we not allowed to leave with notes or a recording of our own? I'll tell you why – because we would have evidence of how Mr. Stephen Kim and Rida used deception and outright fraud to get us to purchase a Platinum membership. Only with those notes can we prove what your salespeople actually told us and demonstrated. Please send me copies of all notes in our files.

Again, what protection do we have? You have yours, where is ours? You may hide behind a signature but the law states that when using deception, deceptive or unfair acts or practices, fraud, false pretenses, false promises, misrepresentations, or concealment, suppression or omission of material facts, your company is in violation of the Federal Trade Commission Act and various Deceptive Trade Practices of the various states, including the Florida Deceptive and Unfair Trade Practices Act, the Florida False Advertising Statutes, and the Virginia Consumer Protection Act. While we understand that Florida Attorney General Pam Bondi has already received a number of complaints about Diamond Resorts International's resorts in both Daytona and the Orlando areas, we are preparing to add our complaint, absent an agreement to cancel our contract.

I expect my questions to be answered and copies of recordings to be provided.

Thank you,

John W. Collick Jr

Dear Mr Collick

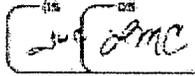

We thank you for your response and for allowing us the time to investigate further.

Firstly we can confirm that we have added a preference to your account for written communication only so this will refrain any team members from calling you regarding your case/account.

We can confirm that investigations consist of an investigation with the sales management team for feedback with the team members who were involved with the sale, it also includes looking at previous complaints we may have received with the same issues that you are mentioning and also we review all purchase documentation including the contract, other signed documents which include the member benefits and also reviewing the recording of the Quality Assurance meeting. All of the above has been done to assist us with our full response to your concerns regarding your purchase. We can confirm that the Quality Assurance meeting is recorded for quality and training purposes however we do not have any obligation to send a copy of this to yourself for legal reasons. We have reviewed the information discussed in the meeting and can see that the documents were signed by yourself and cannot see that any of the concerns below were discussed. We cannot actually see that your concerns relate to any information that was discussed during the Quality Assurance meeting and we are here to help with the issues that you have.

With the information regarding the sales team confirming that DRI were in the process of acquiring The Colonies of Williamsburg, we have no record of you being advised this however this could easily have been clarified by calling your resort following the purchase if this particular piece of information was so important to your sale.

With regards to the maintenance fees we refer you to the below extract taken from your "Purchasers Understanding and Acknowledgment" which advised you of the estimated cost and also that the annual increases are not set to exceed 25% annually. Therefore we cannot agree that you were not made aware of this prior to purchasing.

3.  Annual Fees. Enrollment in THE Club exchange program is voluntary. My Club Dues are billed annually along with my Maintenance Fees. My first year's Maintenance Fees and Club Dues are estimated to be 3,840.00, and are subject to annual increases not to exceed 25% per year under governing law. My Maintenance Fees must be current to make reservations. The purchase of additional Points will not decrease my Maintenance Fees. If my Points are available during the current calendar year, my Maintenance Fees will be billed within 45 days. Otherwise, my Maintenance Fees will be billed in the fourth quarter of every year.

We note that you were advised that the price offered was reduced and we can confirm that our sales team are able to provide discounts on purchases. We are unsure how you have found out that this information was not the case however if you can advise we will certainly look into this.

With regards to booking Beachwoods Resort externally, we can confirm that with 20,000 points a year you can book various weeks at different times of year and dependant on when you wish to book you can definitely make the most out of your points. We would ask that you advise us of the dates and unit size that you need so that we can review the accommodation that we have to offer.

We can only reiterate that you did have a rescission period which was your opportunity to verify any of the important reasons for purchase and ensure that these were verified in writing during the Quality Assurance process.

If you remain unhappy with this matter then please let us know if you wish to discuss your concerns via conference call with the Sales Management team so that your matter can be discussed further verbally. However we cannot find any evidence of misrepresentation so we would recommend reviewing your purchase documentation and sending us any further information for us to review.

With kind regards
Jade

We are contacting your agency in hopes you will assist us with our dispute against Diamond Resorts International. We have made our request (demands) to be relinquished of our contract. However, they denied us several times by means of email and phone. We have gone back and forth with them over this. They are not listening to what we need. They have no intention to resolve the issue that their employees created when they sold us a scam deal.

Enclosed is the original letter sent to them along with the entire emailed correspondence between both parties. Please review and have empathy toward our ordeal. Businesses should not be able to hold a person into a contract that was represented as a lie. Please contact me with any questions at the email address provided at the top of this letter.

February 20, 2018

We are writing to request a cancellation of our timeshare ownership and a refund of our monetary investment. We are tired of being harassed to attend an owner's update (that always turns out to be a sales pitch) at every vacation. We are tired of being told we don't have enough points or that we have to upgrade to make our ownership work for us. We are tired of the deception and empty promises. We have found this is not an investment and not something we would want to pass to our children. A summary of our experience is as follows:

4/28/03 – Initial Purchase – Palms Country Club and Resort Orlando, FL

We were staying at Wyndham Hotel in Orlando, FL for a conference when we were invited to attend a presentation on Wyndham Palms Country Club and Resort. They gave our daughter, Miranda, a Winnie the Pooh bear and tickets to Disney World for attending.

During the meeting, the sales reps said we could use the timeshare anywhere and get an equal exchange through RCI. They said the Palms was a family resort with a lot of children's activities. They said as an owner, we got free miniature golf, discounts on area attractions and golf. They wanted us to write down possible friend names and if they came and bought, we got a monetary sum. They said we could rent it out. They said it was a great investment and would only go up in value and we could sell it back at any time. They said we could pass it on to our children. They said our maintenance fees would not be very high. They promised they would help sell Lehigh Acres.

4/6/2004 – Upgrade #1 – The Palms

We went back the next year for a week on Spring Break. We did not get to stay in our unit. We were put in an older building which was not maintained. They wanted us to come to an owner's update because the resort had been bought by another company. Now we owned one week and the new owner used points and because of this, we would have to upgrade to points. We complained about not getting our unit, so they said if we upgraded to points and a 3-bedroom, we would have better booking power and get a better place. They gave us tickets to a dinner show and Miranda a Mickey and Minnie Mouse doll.

4/5/2013 – Upgrade #2

We went back to the Palms for Spring Break. The Palms had been bought out by Diamond at this point. So, we were invited to another owner's update to learn about the changes. We were told the points we owned couldn't be used except in April unless we bought into Diamond. They told us if we bought more points then we could use it at other resorts in Diamond and exchange with RCI and Interval. So, we bought 3000 points and they gave us 5500 points for Lehigh Resort to be put in the Club Select as inventory for Diamond. They gave us tickets and more money.

07/12/2014 – Update #3

We went to Bent Creek Golf Village in Gatlinburg, TN for summer vacation and were told to attend another owner's update. Now we didn't have enough points because they had changed it to Silver, Gold and Platinum membership in the club. We didn't want to buy because we still owed from 2013 and we still owned with Lehigh. So, they said they would buy the Lehigh Resort week and take over maintenance fees for it if we bought more points. So of course, we agreed. They gave us tickets to a dinner show in the area and a 3 day/4-night stay at a Diamond Resort.

In April of 2016, we used our points for Spring Break and again they wanted us to come to an owner's update and we refused. They offered us an Event of a Lifetime where we went to see the Orlando Magic play NBA basketball. They picked us up and took us to the game where we sat in a suite and had all the food and drinks we wanted. When it was over, they took us back to the resort. The next morning, we were taken to breakfast where they gave a presentation about the resort doing these Events of a Lifetime and showing us how Diamond was becoming an Elite Resort. This time we were there all day with extremely high pressured sales to buy with two salesmen playing us against each other. It was as if they were playing good cop/bad cop with us. They would take Del outside and tell him the same old promise while I would be inside with the other salesman telling me the same things. We told them we were not buying again. We got up and walked out. They cornered us and told us to meet with the sales manager and tell him how our meeting went. The manager just tried to sell us even harder. Again we got up and walked out.

In June of 2017, we were on a 3-week vacation in Arizona and they asked if we would come for an owner's update to get a discount to go on a Grand Canyon Tour. We went and told them we were not buying anything. They said they would help us get better use of our product by telling us different tricks on how to use the timeshare. Then they tried to sell us more points. We continued to deny but they were unrelenting. We had to get angry with them in order to get them to stop. Then they made us feel guilty because we were angry. They said we just didn't appreciate the good thing we had in our timeshare ownership. After we left we talked to another couple who were unhappy and at that point we decided we were done and we had had enough.

Every time we vacationed we were harassed to come to an owner's update. They always said the owner's update was for our benefit, but it was always a big sales pitch to buy more points. We were always told we didn't purchase enough at the last meeting or what we had already wasn't enough. There was always some scheme as to why we HAD to upgrade THAT DAY. We take vacations to vacation, not to be harassed. We've had enough. We know we've been lied to and deceived over and over again. We've never had better booking power and again, this is not a good investment nor is it something we'd want our children to be responsible for. We felt it was unfair to tell us we couldn't use the points we owned unless we bought with Diamond. Diamond bought our membership – it shouldn't be the other way around.

We are demanding cancellation and refund of our investment thus far. We will not make another payment. Please contact us with the proper proceedings for cancellation.

Regards,

Del and Cheryl Brookshier

Good afternoon Mr. and Mrs. Brookshier,

Thank you for your correspondence and allowing me the opportunity to assist you. In regards to your inquiry, we do not see grounds of any misrepresentation with your contract. There are many different perks in upgrading your ownership. However, please be kindly advised that member benefits can change at any time and there's no way to guarantee if maintenance fee will stay the same or how much it can change. During this session with the Quality Assurance Officer, you are given the opportunity to discuss any and all items or issues that have been represented by any employee or agent of Diamond that are material to your purchase and are not otherwise in writing. Our account records do not indicate any questions comments or concerns were brought up at any time during the contract signing. Furthermore, you were allotted time to review the contract and make certain that this was right for you and your family. You're currently outside of that rescission period. For your convenience, I can provide you with a copy of the documents upon your request. All of these documents were initialed/signed by you that you understood the purchase. While we regret that you may feel misrepresented and pressured regarding your ownership, we must deny your request for cancellation. Please be advised you are still obligated for all financial responsibilities associated with your ownership. We are not allowing cancelation, relinquishment or buyback of your contract at this time. I regret that there is a misunderstanding and/or confusion with your ownership and that I was unable to provide your desired resolution. If you have any further questions and concerns don't hesitate to reach out to us. We look forward to assisting you with making your vacation dreams a reality as that is after all what vacation ownership is all about. Please contact our expert teams in Member Services at 1-800-465-3539 and allow one of our representatives to assist you. If you are experiencing a type of hardship to where you are unable to afford your ownership, we do want to suggest sending additional documentation to support your hardship. This may be any formal documentation that substantiates your hardship claim, along with a detailed letter. We would need to specify how your income has changed since the time of the purchase agreement. This will be submitted to and reviewed by our financial advisors to cancel your ownership, even with the balance and/or loan due. Please be advised that I make no guarantees as to if this can be approved or not. You may fax your information to 702.473.7049 ATTN: Hospitality Management Dept. or email your information to ContactUs@diamondresorts.com

Kind Regards,

Ms. Centeno,

Thank you for your reply. If there's no way to guarantee the maintenance fee will stay the same then why are we given an estimated amount at all? And even that estimated amount is usually incorrect. Also, what exactly are the perks of upgrading? We have not seen better booking power, we have not been able to rent it out, we haven't been able to sell it back and it's not going up in value. These were all perks we were promised if we upgraded. The session with the Quality Assurance officer is not useful; this is not an opportunity to bring up questions and concerns. They don't want to review any details because they may blow the sale. All you get is a brief overview of each page and then they tell you where to sign and initial. This is the fastest part of the whole meeting! How would we have known what to discuss? How would we have known at that time we had been duped? Even the rescission period wouldn't have given us enough time to determine this. I don't need a copy of the documentation – I'm not disputing the documentation. I'm disputing the fact that what was told to us, that ultimately affected our decision to purchase, was either lies or extremely misleading information. We have been harassed during every vacation. We have been pressured during every meeting. We have been deceived and lied to over and over and we refuse to continue with these shenanigans! The high-pressure and hard-sell tactics used by your sales representatives are appalling - playing us against each other, making one another feel bad, playing good cop/bad cop with us. It's too much. We have been loyal members for over 15 years. We don't understand why this has to be this difficult. Cancellation should be simple; it's definitely deserved. In all these 15 years Diamond has never been able to make our vacation dreams a reality. We've had enough of the empty promises. We ask you to reconsider.

Good afternoon Mr. and Mrs. Brookshier,

Thank you for your email and allowing me the opportunity to assist you again. In regards to your inquiry, we regret that you may feel misrepresented. Please be kindly advised that during this session with Quality Assurance it is your responsibility to ask all the questions you feel you need to ask including asking them to go thru what your signing thoroughly and slowly. Also please keep in mind that the maintenance fees estimate that is provided on the day of purchase is an estimate maintenance fee for the current year you are purchasing your contract. In regards to any buy back or selling your ownership, you also did agree with your initial: "I have acquired a collection membership for my own personal use and enjoyment. No representations of any nature concerning investment potential, refinancing, rental returns, tax advantages, appreciation/depreciation, or other possible financial benefits have been made by seller or any of its agents." Although we terribly regret how unsatisfactory the experience turned out to be for you, we can add you to our do not call list which will avoid any future tour or marketing offers. However, there are many perks on upgrading your membership. If have any questions and/or concerns on your ownerships, please contact our expert teams in Member Services at 1-800-465-3539 and allow one of our representatives to assist you. I regret that there is a misunderstanding and/or confusion, we must deny your request for cancellation. Please be advised you are still obligated for all financial responsibilities associated with your ownership. We are not allowing cancelation, relinquishment or buyback of your contract at this time.

Kind regards,

Even the rescission period wouldn't have given us enough time to determine this. I don't need a copy of the documentation – I'm not disputing the documentation. I'm disputing the fact that what was told to us, that ultimately affected our decision to purchase, was either lies or extremely misleading information. I'm aware of how many times I signed and initialed but again, nothing was reviewed with us – only "sign here" or "initial here" or another person was brought in to chat it up. We were going along with it because we trusted the sales reps; we knew what they told us was true. We wouldn't have known to bring up any concerns during that time. I asked on my last reply what the perks of upgrading are and you have yet to answer – only stating once again that there are many perks to upgrading. And as I stated before, we were promised many perks if we upgraded such as better booking power, that we could rent it out or sell it, it would go up in value, we would have our very own personal advisor, we could go anywhere anytime and much more. None of this has been true! So again, what are the perks of upgrading?!? If I chose to upgrade, which I will not be doing but for this example let's say I am, then if I do, at the next meeting, I will be told to upgrade yet again because there are more perks and more points are needed! It's never enough. I just feel like our experience doesn't matter. You are not making any resolutions! What's it going to take?

Good afternoon Mr. and Mrs. Brookshier

Thank you for your email and allowing me the opportunity to assist you. I did attempt to call and left a voicemail. In regards to your inquiry, during the session with the Quality Assurance manager, you are given the opportunity to discuss any and all items or issues that have been represented by any employee or agent of Diamond that are material to your purchase and are not otherwise in writing. Our account records do not indicate any questions comments or concerns were brought up at any time during the contract signing. Please be kindly advise that you did agree and acknowledge that you purchased this for personal use not for any financial gain. Unfortunately, Diamond Resorts® does not have a repurchase or resale program, nor are we affiliated with any of the companies that assist in this process. There is no way of guaranteeing availability since it is a live inventory and it is a first come first serve basis. I have attached a form that shows the perks and benefits of each tier level. You can also find a more detail information of your benefits online. Once you log in your account under my community you would choose the option member information and you will find the member directory. While we regret that you may feel misrepresented regarding your ownership, we must deny your request for cancellation. Please be advised you are still obligated for all financial responsibilities associated with your ownership. We are not allowing cancelation, relinquishment or buyback of your contract at this time. If you have any questions, please contact our expert teams in Member Services at 1-800-465-3539 and allow one of our representatives to assist you.

Kind regards, Carmelita Centeno Hospitality Management Specialist II (702) 473-7645 Ext. 12910

Hello Carmelita!

We did attempt to return your call and left a voicemail but after further thinking, we would like to continue this discussion via email. We've learned our lesson when it comes to taking your word... Yes, the session with the QA manager would be the perfect opportunity to bring up any concerns we had but at that time, we had none and any concerns we did have, we brought up to the sales representatives who offered a solution to fix the problem (or make it worse?). We trusted your sales representatives explicitly. Of course, we purchased for personal use, that doesn't negate the fact that we were told we could rent it. We were also told if we upgraded, we would have better booking power; we were told this at each meeting. Why would we be told this if it wasn't true? This is just another lie your representatives use as a selling point. The problem is what we were told hardly ever panned out. We have been harassed on every vacation and it seems we never have enough points. We want out! We will do whatever it takes to get us out. You can't hold us hostage because YOU feel we weren't misrepresented – we were. And harassed. Why should we continue with this madness? We will not be using it anymore. You've already seen we haven't upgraded at any of the last few meetings. We will not continue to pay for something we won't use. We ask you to reconsider.

Regards,

Del and Cheryl Brookshier

Good afternoon Mr. and Mrs. Brookshier,

Thank you for your email and allowing me the opportunity to assist you again. I apologize that if I have missed your calls. I have not received any voicemails from you and/or aware that you have tried to contact. Per your request you wanted future communication thru email and we can definitely continue to do so. In regards to your inquiry, I can understand that you did not have any questions during the session with the Quality Assurance. However, you were given time during the rescission period to review your contract and cancel within that time period. Please be kindly advised that on the contract you signed does state that you can not rent reservations for commercial gain or rent to individuals not known to you. I have attached the document that explains this. All of these documents were initialed/signed by you that you understood the purchase. As far as booking power you would have to elaborate that a little bit more since I am not quite familiar with that term and/or the meaning behind it. However, you do have a 13 month booking window with any Diamond owned properties anywhere in the U.S. Also a 10 month booking window for any affiliate resorts and cruises. I do apologize for the situations you encountered at the time of your stay and feel harrassed by our sales agent. It would be up to you to let the sales agent know that you have no interest in purchasing. While we regret that you may want to cancel your ownership, we must deny your request for cancellation. Please be advised you are still obligated for all financial responsibilities associated with your ownership. We are not allowing cancelation, relinquishment or buyback of your contract at this time.

Kind regards,

Carmelita,

Do you even know that you already responded with basically the exact same thing? And I responded to your statements already! I can either assume that you did not read our response AT ALL or you are simply sending us canned responses. Neither of which we appreciate. This is a disgusting practice that needs to stop! And this is yet another reason we want to get away from Diamond. Your customer service skills are horrible! You don't care about your members at all! No new information? Heck, you haven't read ANY information we've sent – your email clearly shows us this. You can consider this case closed all you want – but I assure you we are not done. It is a crying shame that your company cares as much about its reputation as they do member satisfaction. I will be sure to include the fact that you, Carmelita, have treated us poorly and disregarded anything we have said and only responded with the same, canned response. I will also be sure to hit every message board, forum, advocacy group, social media channel, regulatory agency and complaint board I can with this information. Oh no, we are not done yet.

To whom it may concern,

We are contacting your agency in hopes you will assist us with our dispute against Diamond Resorts International. We have made our request (demands) to be relinquished of our contract. However, they denied us several times by means of email and phone. We have gone back and forth with them over this. They are not listening to what we need. They have no intention to resolve the issue that their employees created when they sold us a scam deal.

Enclosed is the original letter sent to them along with the entire emailed correspondence between both parties. Please review and have empathy toward our ordeal. Businesses should not be able to hold a person into a contract that was represented as a lie. Please contact me with any questions at the email address provided at the top of this letter.

Diamond Resorts International,

I am formally demanding a cancelation and return of all funds that I have spent on my timeshare with Diamond Resorts International, which has not provided as promised.

In January 2015, we were going on a cruise and flew into Orlando to spend a few days. In the lobby, there was advertising for free tickets to some local attractions. So, we stopped and talked with them and found out that this was the Diamond Resorts International kiosk and they asked us about buying timeshares. We told them we weren't interested as we were due to go on our cruise and had a time constraint. They informed us we didn't have to do it right then, we could have up to one year to use the promotion, so we signed up. The cost turned out to be $99 to get the tickets which were originally advertised as free – this should have been our first clue as this was the first lie.

During the following year, we were contacted several times about scheduling a time to do the presentation. We scheduled another cruise in 2016 and they gave us a room at the Holiday Inn in Orlando and set a time for the presentation. We went to the presentation and told the salesman we really weren't interested in purchasing a Florida timeshare as we owned a home in Florida. The salesman informed us that due to the fact we had stayed at the Polynesian Resort, we were entitled to special pricing - the room we stayed in was a Diamond Resort accommodation and the individual who had purchased the room we stayed in several years ago had special pricing. We told him we still weren't interested, but he said, "let me show you the figures" and proceeded to do so. He continued to impress upon us our eligibility for a very reduced rate since we stayed at the Polynesian Resort. After the presentation and after finding out the cost, we told him we still weren't interested. He then asked us to wait while he went and talked with his boss. He came back and said perhaps we could do it at a lower rate for you with a few less points. We still weren't interested. Then his boss came over and they talked a few minutes. They told us we could have a smaller amount of points and the cost would still be below what the normal cost would be. At that point, the price was low enough that we did then purchase. We figured that was sufficient for what we would use. After the presentation, which lasted over three hours, they gave us a small Android tablet, that supposedly had all the Diamond Resort information loaded onto it.

A few weeks later, we were notified we were eligible for three days at a resort in Branson, MO to help us to understand all of the benefits of our timeshare and as a way to thank us. Upon arrival we were given a time for the next day to meet with someone and go over our timeshare and show us how to use their website. After showing us all of the benefits, they proceeded to inform us that we really didn't have enough points to cover very much of a vacation. So, they proceeded to have us look at buying more points by telling us the benefits this would entail such as better booking power, better availability, minimal maintenance fee increases, a personal advisor and more. We did not know this was going to be another sales presentation; we simply thought we were there to look at the benefits of our current ownership.

Again, after some time of going over large numbers of points, we were yet again informed that we could afford to purchase additional points due to the low price we were paying. We told them we weren't interested and again the salesman went to his boss and came back with a lower rate and we informed them we still were not interested. At which time, he went back to his boss again, who came to our table and sat down and went over several things, showing us how we couldn't afford not to purchase more points. Again and again they informed us that if we purchased more points, we would have greater benefits. Knowing they wouldn't stop until we gave in, we purchased the additional points. Plus, we wanted those extra benefits – we felt they would help us get more out of this timeshare.

During that presentation, we were informed if we upgraded, we would have enough points to go to one of five destinations of our choice with free airfare. Shortly after that, they began to call us asking us where we wanted to go and urged us to set a date to do so. They said they'd take care of all the arrangements. We finally decided to go to Hawaii in January 2017. Once again, there was no mention of us having to attend a presentation until we arrived.

The morning of the sales presentation, we waited over an hour before someone met us. We informed the salesman we weren't interested in purchasing. He proceeded to walk us around showing us where they had purchased the hotel we were staying in and all of the upgrades they were doing. After the walk around, he invited us back to the offices and proceeded with the sales pitch. We continued to tell him we weren't interested, we had what we needed. He then said, let me go pull your paperwork and see what you have, and he came back and told us they were looking the paperwork over because something didn't seem right. It seemed they had made a mistake when they sold us the points in Branson, MO. He said his bosses were checking over everything and then proceeded to tell us about all of the benefits of purchasing the Hawaii collection. The points we had in the main US weren't as good as the points that Hawaii would have. If we purchased in Hawaii, we could virtually go anywhere they had property, in the world, anytime we wanted. His boss came back and informed us they had a call in to the Corporate Offices concerning our timeshare. We sat around waiting until eventually his boss came back with another man and told us everything was ok. It was just from our initial purchase that the price was below anything they could sell, and so they had to have the Corporate approve us to buy into the Hawaii collection at a reduced rate. They told us the price and we said no, because of the cost of the payments and interest rate. They informed us we could go to our bank and refinance to get our rate reduced and our payments wouldn't be any more than what we were paying then. After a while, we decided to purchase if we could keep our payments the same. We were told our maintenance fees wouldn't be much higher than what we were currently paying. No mention was ever given to us, in any of the presentation that maintenance fees and/or other fees would continually increase. We considered purchasing, but did not have the down payments with us, so they suggested we apply for a Diamond Resorts credit card. We could put the down payment on it and gain points that could be used for some of the fees for Diamond Resorts along with shopping points. We were also told it would be a good investment and we could give bookings to friends and family. We were told with the Hawaii collection, we would have priority booking dates and extended booking times. We agreed and purchased. Never did our financial situation or retirement plans become part of the discussion. For the most part, once they checked our credit scores, we could purchase whatever we wanted. The payments were high to begin with, but we figured we could refinance and lower them. It wasn't until I went to our local bank that I found out they will not refinance timeshares.

This way of selling to us and making us feel obligated to purchase is not the right way to do business. We were pushed to purchase after stating over and over that we did not want to buy a timeshare. The first one was sold with few enough points so that they know that next time, we went to use the timeshare, it would be necessary to upgrade and purchase with DRI once again. I believe if I stayed an owner with DRI that I would further be expected to continue upgrading. The pressure, the lies, the half truth...it's all too much.

I am very disappointed with the way our experience with DRI has turned out. I never want to engage in business or visit any of the other resorts again. Moreover, I want this contract canceled and a refund of my costs associated due to the fact we were lied to at each purchase and ultimately, what we were told effected our decision to purchase. We expect to hear from you in writing (via email or postal mail) within 30 days of receipt of this letter – phone calls will not be answered.

Respectfully,

Dear Mrs and Mr Whitlow

Thank you for your letter to Diamond Resorts and for giving us an opportunity to investigate and address your concerns. We are very sorry to read that you are disappointed with your Diamond Resorts membership and would like to apologize if you felt pressured into purchasing a membership, we must stress, however, that our Representatives are not able to force any of the prospective buyers to purchasing anything against their will or better judgement and this is effectively the clients' decision whether to go ahead with the transaction or refuse at the time. Please note that you were not obliged to purchase and were in a position to cancel the purchase within the cooling off period. We have reviewed your claims and would like to kindly note that we do not condone bad sales practices, however, we stress, and it is included in the contract, that all verbal representations and understandings are preceded and replaced by the written agreement. All claims of misrepresentation are followed up by an investigation and a review and should there be sufficient evidence we will of course take appropriate actions. However in the light of lack of admissible evidence and the fact that we are unable to determine with avoidance of all doubt what may or may not have been discussed during the meeting we do have to rely on written agreement, which is something you have also agreed to by placing your signature. Please also note that we have access to your purchase documentation and are able to determine that you have made your most recent purchase to take advantage of benefits, use more destinations and travel services. This suggests to us that you have made an informed decision to purchase more points as you felt this will benefit you. Please note that we have entered agreement with yourself in good faith and are prepared to offer you our services as described in the contract you signed. In return you have agreed to fulfil your financial obligations towards Diamond We expect that all clients would read their contract before purchasing or within the cooling off period as it also refers to the duration of the rescission period. Vacation ownership purchase is a serious financial decision and we must kindly advise that it is the client's responsibility to familiarize themselves with all the documentation; question any understandings and assumptions created in the presentation, as well as ensure that purchase meets their expectations. We apologies if this response is not as you may have anticipated and any disappointment this may cause. However, we disagree that this contract was misrepresented. Please do let us know if there is anything else we can assist you with and we will be happy to help.

Kind regards, Gosia Malgorzata Czyniewska

Thank you for your response to our letter. I would like to take this opportunity to offer a rebuttal. You state your representatives are not able to force any buyers into purchasing anything against their will or better judgment. I'm not sure if you understand what high-pressured sales tactics are – this happens when sales representatives won't take "no" for an answer and begin spewing lies and deceit and whatever scam they can so the potential buyer feels they have no other choice than agreeing. We say "yes" as it is the easiest way to end a stressful interaction! We know from experience your sales reps will not stop. Plus, the lies and deceit are enough to make us feel like we are making the right decision. In no form or fashion are the sales representatives cognizant of our financial situation; nor do they care. They say things like "there's no way you CANNOT afford to do this." Or "You can afford this! We've made the price so low...!" You mention the cooling off period – this is a joke. A short period of time in which you are fully aware the buyer wouldn't have enough time to find out they were sold a bunch of lies or some extremely deceitful information. Your company is notorious for downplaying your shortcomings and building grandiose ideals of the vacation experience buying a timeshare provides. Only later do we find out it's a sham...and more of a hassle than anything. A timeshare is not an investment nor is it something we would want to leave to our children. How can all verbal representations and understandings be replaced by the documentation? Several of the things we were told wasn't even covered in the documentation. There is no way you can expect the documentation to replace what was told to us. What was told to us is what got us into the signing process to begin with! And even then the details of the documentation are not properly reviewed – there would be no way to know we were duped at this time. Also, please tell me what type of investigation you would open and how this would play out – I'm curious to know. Or is that an exaggeration - would you simply pull up the signed documentation as your response? It seems to be all you have. How could we provide evidence?. We have no record of what we were told as we are not able to take any notes, and recordings are not allowed. We now know why – so you can get away with your scam. The written agreement is your safety net. We don't have one. I explained why we made more purchases – we were told to! We were promised more benefits. Plus, we knew they weren't going to take “no” for an answer. Your denial based on the documentation alone is pathetic. I've told you our experience. I've told you what lies and empty promises have been told to us. We have no reason to lie. We were sold a sham! We both entered into an agreement in good faith. The problem is the services have not been offered as promised – contract or not. The problem is more than just that though – surely you see? The lack of availability is a major concern. And if we do get in, we are pressured to upgrade on every vacation! This is not how vacations are meant to be. This does not fit into your sales representatives descriptions of timeshare ownership. We ask you to reconsider. Respectfully,

Dear Mrs and Mr Whitlow Thank you for your response. Regretfully, we must reiterate our position with regards to this issue. We appreciate your comments, however we must respectfully advise that should you indeed for any reason feel pressured into purchasing a membership, you had no obligation to keep the purchase and were able to cancel it within the cooling off period. Although we disagree that rescission period is not sufficient to revise the paperwork, should you be adamant you did not want the more points in the first place, there was necessity for you to go over the paperwork in detail. Additionally, you were an existing member at the point of sale, therefore we feel you were aware of the terms and conditions of the membership and you were through the sales process previously and also utilised your ownership in the past. Points purchase is a serious financial decision and an ongoing commitment and we must assume that our members make a well-considered conscious decision to purchase and subsequently keep the purchase. If you are in possession of any written proof of alleged representations made we would of course need to take these into consideration, address them with the sales team and should there be any evidence that the information was misrepresented to you or that you were led to purchase under false pretence we would of course look at options available including cancelling sale and contract. However should there be no such evidence and no written proof can be offered, we need to rely on the written information available to us, which is your purchase agreement and your acknowledgement that you agree that only information included in the body of your contract is legally binding and no verbal representation can be taken into consideration. We regret not being able to offer you a more satisfactory response, however at this stage we are not in a position to agree that you were mis-sold.

If you would like us to assist you at securing your reservations at your preferred destinations we will be more than happy to assist you.

Kind regards, Gosia

Gosia, I must also reiterate our reasons for continuing the fight, as well as give you a bit more insight since it seems we are failing to see eye to eye. Not to mention your response further proves you have no regard for your members and their satisfaction nor experience. After our introduction to the salesman, the first thing I said was, "I'm not interested and I don't want to purchase anything." At this point he should have said, that's fine, end of conversation. That did not happen and we told him at least 10-12 times more we weren't interested. And what can I say, after four hours, you wore us down. The "necessity" to go over the paperwork in detail is clearly overlooked. There was no proper review of the paperwork – only a rush of signatures and page flips. This was the case in every meeting. Had we been told that there was a cooling off period, rather than having to find it on our own, that would have been a help. And as stated, this cooling off period is a joke. This is NOT ENOUGH TIME to realize you have been lied to. And sadly, it happens every time. We continued to give your company a chance, thinking things would change. Sadly again, nothing changed. Had we known we should have taken notes during the process, to fact check the presentation, we would have. In fact, had we known then what we know now, I would have videoed the presentation. You stated you are relying on written information, what can we rely on? We surely can't rely on your company to be truthful. Seems in truth, we can't rely on Diamond Resorts for anything other than taking our money. I'm still confused at your term "investigation" – it seems the only "investigation" you did was pull out some signed contracts. This is NO WAY covers how we have been treated throughout our time as members. In no way, shape or form. This isn't over...

Regards, Dean Whitlow

Dear Dean E. Whitlow and Lutricia L. Whitlow Thank you for your response We of course are very sorry to read that you feel we have not offered you the response you were looking for We would like to take this opportunity to assure you that we of course strive to ensure that our members are satisfied and make the most of their memberships and so we are saddened to learn that it is not so on this occasion. We must stress however that we disagree that not agreeing to fulfil your request to cancel your contract constitutes bad service. We must reiterate that should you feel rushed or pressured you had no obligation to complete the sale. We strongly feel that it is the clients' responsibility to ensure that the product meets their expectations. The collateral is extensive, however we feel that the cooling off period is sufficient to read the paperwork. Please note that the information regarding 7 day rescission can be found directly above your final signature on your purchase agreement. We can see that you have 2 more contracts with Diamond Resorts and so we feel that you having been through the sales process twice already you were aware of the terms and conditions as well as rescission period. Unfortunately, in the light of the above we must reiterate we do not feel we are in a position to cancel this purchase If there is anything else we can assist you with please do let us know.

To whom it may concern:

I have been in a dispute with Diamond Resorts trying to get my timeshare cancelled. I have not had any luck in getting them to cancel our ownership. I have written a letter to explain what we have gone through regarding our purchases and upgrades. They responded to the letter and I have since written them back twice. They are still not wanting to cancel our timeshare. We feel that we were coerced into purchasing by the salesman lying to us and misrepresenting the timeshare purchase and the fees involved. I had an issue with my bill and it took over 5 months to get it corrected. My wife has medical issues that will prevent her from traveling in the future, so this is no longer a benefit for our family. For some reason Diamond Resorts does not understand this and so far, is refusing to cancel our ownership. Reaching out to you is the only thing we can think of to do at this point. Thanks for any help you can give us.

Sincerely,

John & Karen Stafford

Diamond Resorts

To whom it may concern:

I am sending this letter to inform Diamond Resorts International that I want to terminate my contract(s). The sales staff has flat out lied to us during upgrades. Every time we were required to attend another owner's meeting we would have several unpleasant encounters with your company. We do not wish to resolve this issue by purchasing more points or taking any more of your "free" handouts. We simply want to cancel and put this experience behind us.

My wife Karen and I visited Greensprings Resort in Williamsburg, Virginia in October 2013 through RCI. We had never heard of Diamond Resorts. We reserved a handicap accessible villa so that is what we expected would be assigned to us. On arrival, the villa was nothing close to handicap accessible. I called the front desk to complain to the manager and to my surprise there was no manager for the resort. I voiced my complaint to the person "in charge", but nothing was done to alleviate the problem at the time. We attended the owner's meeting and our sales representative was Hussein Aboul-Ezz. In the meeting we found that there would be major renovations to Powhatan. We told Hussein about our accommodations and he offered to move us to an "ADA" friendly villa which we accepted. Accommodations were slightly better. We spoke about where Diamond was going regarding the timeshare and how it would benefit us. There was no major discussion about the maintenance fees.

My wife and I were invited to spend a week at one of Diamond Resorts properties at Daytona Beach, Florida. We had never been to Daytona Beach and decided to seize the opportunity and go for the visit. We were required to attend an owner's meeting and were talked into purchasing additional points. The 100k platinum club was the "carrot" they dangled in front of us. Making us think that this was the level to achieve. Six weeks after our purchase / upgrade we received a bill in the mail (due for payment in a couple weeks) for Assessment Fees on the upgrade. I immediately called Brad Leslie the sales rep that worked with us and questioned him about the bill. He said that I should pay it now, since it would not be included in the year end maintenance bill. The bill was paid as due but was still included in the year end maintenance bill. Again, I contacted Brad, but got no- where with him. I realized that during all our previous purchases / upgrades the aspect of the Assessment fees was never fully explained to us. Diamond and their representatives withheld information and then lied to us.

My wife and I visited Green Springs Resort in Virginia in April 2018. The Diamond sales representatives were Mark Schilling and Willette Monk. Mark did most of the talking and he was pulling out all the stops trying to close the contract. We were close to the 100k plateau. When he presented the contract to us I saw that there would be an Assessment fee paid before the end of the year and then included in the year end maintenance fee bill I IMMEDIATELY told him about our experience in Daytona Beach and that upgrade. I told him how we were lied to and since we had a lot of points that would not be used this year there was no need to upgrade and purchase more points that would not be used this year. He suggested that we leave the contract as-is and when we would get the Assessment bill in a couple of weeks to send him a copy and he would take care of it. I asked him how he would do that, and he said, "don't worry, he would call and have someone in Corporate remove the bill from our account. It took almost 5 months before the situation was resolved. I had to get Mark's boss and Corporate involved. A credit was finally applied to our account. Mark lied to us!! This was a nightmare.

In closing we would just like to cancel the timeshare. My wife has medical issues and travel is going to be harder for her. This timeshare is not beneficial to our family any longer. We have been given misleading or wrong information regarding fees. I would also like all loan debt to be forgiven. We would not want this to harm our credit in any way. Thank you for any help you can give.

Keisha,

While we appreciate your attempts to contact us we prefer to speak via email. If everything is in writing, then there will be no mistaking what is being said to us. So, going forward we would request all contact is made via email.

I understand that we owe balances from amounts financed on two contracts (17734925 and 17747997) and these balances are what we are asking you to cancel. This Diamond Resorts timeshare is no longer beneficial to our family as I had stated in my first letter to Diamond Resorts. I am also not happy having money tied up in a timeshare that has no issue with misleading and lying to the customer. With each upgrade we were given incorrect information therefore leading to ill-advised decisions. We know that you have credited our account but that is something you needed to do. THIS TO ME IS AN ADMISSION OF WRONG DOING. What we were told regarding the Assessment Fees was totally wrong. We were told by our Sales Rep Mark Schilling that he would take care of the Assessment Fee and he DIDN'T. It was a very stressful experience to get that money credited to our account. Please know that it 5 months of us calling, texting, and emailing in order to get something done about the fee. It wasn't like Diamond was just so willing to help us and credit the fee. Karen and I were made to feel like "LIARS!" We had to work to get that fee credited.

Please take a moment to review and reassess our dispute with Diamond. We are simply asking for cancellation. We would like the loan debts to be at zero and not affect our credit. As I mentioned in the first letter my wife has serious medical issues and traveling is going to be hard for her now. Again, this is no longer a benefit to our family. I look forward to hearing back from you hopefully with some good news.

Sincerely,

John A. and Karen L. Stafford

To Diamond Resorts:

This letter is to inform Diamond Resorts International of my intention to discontinue payments and to demand a refund and prompt cancellation of my contracts & membership with said company.

My first experience took place in 2012, when my husband and I were in Orlando using our Westgate timeshare. A Diamond representative approached and offered a free round of golf if we would only come to a brief presentation. When asked, we were quite satisfied with our Westgate timeshare. However, the sales rep and his manager explained that there would be a way to use our Westgate timeshare to get more points on Diamond. The main concern in doing this was that I did not want to be responsible for two separate timeshares. Most importantly, I did not want two maintenance fees. I was very clear on this fact. After the discussion, the understanding was that I would sign over the Westgate timeshare to Diamond Resorts in exchange for a better deal with Diamond. Another concern had been that we had not been able to take a vacation to Hawaii with Westgate. The salesman used this as part of the pitch in getting us to sign. He extolled the virtues of Diamond and their point system and how easy it would be to get everything we wanted out of a Diamond timeshare in contrast with Westgate.

My first surprise was that my Westgate timeshare was not automatically deposited at the beginning of the year. It was clear that Diamond had no intention of making my vacation experiences easier because I had to jump through hoops and make several calls to get these points deposited with Diamond. The whole process was very complicated. To add to the disappointment, I received TWO separate maintenance fees which I had been promised would not happen. For the next five years, I lost the use of the timeshare with Diamond due to the insurmountable time and effort required to book it. I continued to use my Westgate timeshare as I had previously instead of bothering with Diamond.

In 2017, Diamond Resorts decided to contact us and lure us in with the promise to provide free dinner as we received a full explanation of our timeshare, how to use it, and what new benefits were now available. I was very thorough in describing our negative experiences and in asking questions for clarification. The presenter made many claims about services that we were not receiving. They asked if we had taken advantage of the "upgrade" offered earlier in the year when things were reorganized, and we stated we had not been contacted or heard about any upgrade or change. They said they would visit with us about that personally when the general discussion period was over. Our salesperson, Luke, explained with the help of his manager that because we had not upgraded earlier in the year we were not receiving the benefits and ease of using our Westgate timeshare toward points. Also, if we upgraded now we could take advantage of being able to both book a cruise and pay our maintenance fees totally with the use of points. We told them our priority was in booking a cruise in 2017 for our 40th wedding anniversary. We were assured that we would be able to do this easily. However, my new "CLUB" access would not begin for another 45 days so we must wait to book but Luke would be able to guide us when it was available.

The manager left the room several times and would come back stating that he was getting a special dispensation for us since we had "declined" the previous upgrade that we had NEVER been offered.

After we were approved for the special CLUB membership, the subject of cost ensued. We were very skeptical. To get us to sign, Luke told us we would have a personal concierge to help us when we started using our points. To seal the deal, he went away and would come back with a "special permission" to become our personal concierge himself although these were "usually assigned at random".

Once all was said and done, the deal we had come to understand was this:

1. This purchase of more points had been necessary in order to become part of the new "CLUB" in order to access our Westgate Resort trade-in with ease.
2. Points could easily be used toward paying maintenance fees.
3. Points could easily be used toward entire cruises before the end of the year.
4. Our personal concierge, Luke, would guide us every step of the way.

The whole meeting had taken up 3 to 4 hours of our time though they had promised 90 minutes. This was the same as our first purchase.

After the 45 days, I began obtaining info about the points usage and cruises. I was told that access into the new "CLUB" had not yet been granted as promised. Obviously, I was upset. I tried to call Bob Shirley to inquire about this several times but was simply told to call the general line for help about this situation and they would be able to offer help. This was not true. The general line did offer any answers and no one I spoke to knew anything about our situation, and accordingly could do nothing further. Our "personal concierge" was nowhere to be found and in fact, we were told he no longer worked for the company.

Sixty to seventy-five days later, the CLUB membership was finally acknowledged. My attempts to book the cruise which had been the only priority on the outset of this final purchase with Diamond were futile. I was told I would not be able to book a cruise this year because "all cruises must be booked before May!" This had not been represented truthfully. This upgrade would NEVER have come to fruition if I had know we could not book a cruise with Diamond for our anniversary. Bob Shirley did nothing to fix the situation. He merely moved all 21,000 of my points to 2018.

Diamond Resorts has fed us nothing but lie after lie after lie. The absolute final straw that set my indignation ablaze was the second maintenance fee I received, after paying the first $900 fee, for $1,600!

The two vacations I have taken using Diamond Resorts amounted to 9 days which I have now paid $25,000 for taking! That is highway robbery. I demand a full refund for this. The company has broken every promise ever made to me. Diamond Resorts has essentially stolen my money because it was paid in good faith for a product that was sorely misrepresented and has proven to hold no value whatsoever. I want these contracts cancelled immediately.

Record of Communication between myself and Diamond's rep, Russell Elliot

Dear Mrs Hightower, I am writing in response to your recent contact with Diamond Resorts in which you request a cancellation and full refund of your timeshare purchases, I have addressed the issues that you have raised below and hope that this clarifies this matter.

Whilst it is stated that you have chosen not to utilise your Diamond membership due to the difficulties in booking we would highlight that from the comments on the account there is very little evidence that we were contacted at all in order to make a booking. Whilst we are more than happy to assist you in making a booking we would first need to be contacted in order to assist and this is not a reason for cancellation.

Though it is stated that you were incorrectly billed this liability for additional maintenance fees is clearly stipulated and acknowledged by yourself below. We would advise that any additional points would always include an additional billing.

Regarding the Cruise availability we would advise that we have a significant amount of cruise availability for our members as well as benefits such as Diamond Luxury Cruises that allow members to access a huge amount of cruise options. We would be more than happy to assist in finding availability for any cruise options that you would like to utilise but would first need for your account to be up to date and specifics to be provided on where you wish to go.

In light of the above and the documentation clearly signed at the point of purchase which clearly highlights the limits and stipulations of your membership we would not be able to offer any kind of cancellation or refund on this account.

I trust that this clarifies this matter.

Kind regards
Russell Elliot

June 18

Russell, I would have been more than happy to gain access to all these possibilities of communication that you say I have been afforded. Or is it that you personally will be assisting me? Provide clarification on this please.

To be clear, however, I do not require further assistance at this time. Since Diamond Resorts has already failed on all accounts to provide accurate service, it is quite useless to try to utilize this timeshare further. So, if you are offering, it is unwanted. If you are saying that I possibly did not have the accurate points of contact, please give them to me and I will check promptly to see if this was indeed the mistake after all.

If I have, however, been provided with the numbers then it seems you have an issue keeping accurate records of the bookings that are requested. If that is the case, you must employ a better filing system. Here are some possible solutions for you since you require help in this matter due to your failings as a company:

1. Begin recording calls made by or to owners that will be uploaded in the accounts of each respective owner in their account page. In this way, you may ensure that both Diamond and the owner have access to accurate clarification. That way, you will be relieved of the very large duty of keeping record of conversations, especially since it can be a very complicated task to go back and search for things like these. I know you work very hard and I wouldn't want you to have an aneurysm while tackling so many duties.
2. Give owners more than the current avenues of contact, as well as an authority to answer to in the event that the information given in respect to what bookings are available is incorrect.
3. Provide access to online booking with the ability to print reservations for documentation. This would free up some of the personal time of your booking agents. Most reputable companies nowadays do this already and it seems Diamond is a bit behind in website capabilities. That way, you employees could get back to your lives and not have to work so hard.

It is also quite possible that you are very new to the Diamond Resorts International employee base and that you are unaware that the company for which you work is sorely inadequate at explaining everything necessary during the sales process. Let me address this issue by stating emphatically that the concerns I described in my initial letter that you answered are in fact true! You should do your research! Since this seems to be the case that you are new and do not know any better, is there a supervisor who would be better equipped at addressing my concerns? Maybe you could consult them and acquire a second opinion on our case? I don't want to get you in trouble or anything, but I do feel strongly that your information is inaccurate and this matter is very serious for us. Please take it seriously as if it were you personally who had been scammed out of tens of thousands of dollars by employees of Diamond Resorts. Please refer back to my initial letter for the complaints that should be addressed with further care taken.

Sharon Hightower

Dear Mrs Hightower, I have tried to call you to discuss this matter further but have been unable to catch you.

With regards to the correct points of contact to make reservations and utilise any other member benefits we would always point people towards our Club number which is 1877 374 2582. From your account it appears that the last call made to us regarding a booking was made in January and was not a specific booking request but a general query regarding the use of points. Should you wish to make any further bookings then we would always be happy to have a member of our reservations team contact you directly in order to arrange this but would advise that your account would first need to be brought in to good standing before any bookings could be made.

Please be advised that all of our calls are indeed recorded but due to the data protection rights of our staff members we are unable to make these available for members to listen to.

There are also several other avenues of complaint should you be unhappy with our response including forums such as the Better Business Bureau.

I would add that you are able to make bookings online and print the confirmation should you need to. We would be more than happy to offer guidance on this should you require this?

Please be advised that I am not new to the company and that this is not an issue of authority to offer a different resolution. Should this be submitted to a supervisor or manager they would review the same paperwork and come to the same resolution on this matter. The paperwork issued is clear in its stipulations and is unequivocal as it lays out the exact limits and liabilities of your membership and any attestations against this would need supporting documentation also.

I trust that this further clarifies our retained position on this matter.

Kind regards

Russell Elliot

July 10

Russell, I suppose I must go to the Better Business Bureau on this. It seems cowardly on your part to suggest this avenue. More than that, you would think that Diamond has enough complaints against them at this point.

I asked you to treat this case as though it were you who had been scammed out of this money. I take your response as a refusal. I do not want your guidance since I have been pushed around by Diamond Reps such as yourself for far too long. There is no way I will vacation with you all again.

Under your suggestion, I will be contacting a few agencies regarding this matter. I hope that Diamond is happy with you for having suggested this.

After attending a sales presentation at at the Charter Club on Naples Bay, Florida, my wife and I acquired a timeshare right under the contract dated 26 September 1995, for two "B" season weeks at the Charter Club on Naples Bay, Florida. At the same time we were asked to pay a 50% deposit whilst at the resort without being informed we were entitled to a 10 day cooling off period and that we should have been given access to a Notary Public during the process.

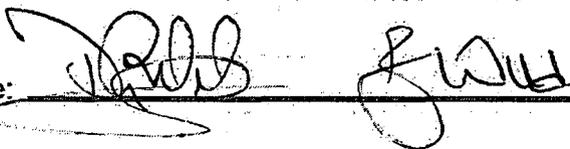

Information given in the sales presentation led us to believe we were making the purchase as an investment and that it would appreciate in value over the years. We were also told that the timeshare weeks could be easily exchanged, transferred and sold in future as well as giving us priority when booking weeks at the resort. It has become apparent in recent years that we were given misleading information.

Please find attached our Statement of Misrepresentation which details our case and why we want Diamond Resorts International to release us from any future liability with the timeshare contract and for complete release, termination and cancellation of our timeshare interests.

To Whom It May Concern:

I am writing you for assistance with my case against Diamond Resorts International as I have fallen victim to their fraudulent sales tactics. Had it not been for their misleading words and downright lies as to what my ownership would include, I never would have entered into the agreement with them in April of 2014.

I reached out to Diamond in April of 2018 requesting for my contract to be cancelled and refunded. To date I have invested $25,000.00 into this ownership. Not sure why they are taking so long to get me out. I still owe $57,122.00 to Diamond. I have reached out to them via email in May 2018 and they still have not let me out of the contract nor have they responded back with what my next step will be. Hence me reaching out to you.

Attached to this letter is the correspondence I've had with Diamond to date. Please review each item as it gives a conclusive picture of what I've gone through and why I am requesting for my ownership to be canceled and refunded.

Please also reach out to Diamond on my behalf to facilitate the cancelation and refund.

Respectfully,

Mavis White

March 27, 2018

Dear Diamond Resorts,

The following is an account of our multiple unsatisfactory and unfortunate dealings with your company because of which I am now writing to have our contracts with Diamond Resorts expunged due to fraudulent and manipulative practices along with a refund of what we have invested thus far.

In April of 2014, we received a phone call in regards to an offer of a vacation package for three of Diamond Resorts International properties in a succession of our choosing. We chose Orlando, FL to start.

Upon activation, we were advised that we had to attend a 90 minute presentation which we did. That was first red flag. This "90 minute presentation" took up our entire day! At noon, my teenage daughter escorted my four smaller children to the presentation. The staff immediately fell in love with the kids, making sure they were fed and making sweet comments such as:

We want to take care of this family. They have such lovely children!

I felt so at ease once I saw the wonderful attention and care received by our children. I was certain they were truly interested in helping us to make a great investment to give our children some incredible and lasting vacationing experiences...that we were opening a grand door of opportunity for our children to vacation with their children in the future. Believe me when I say, I really thought I was giving a great gift to my family. We work very hard for our money and a good vacation would be deserved from time to time. The sales people presented us with numerous offers demonstrating how many points would be purchased at which rates and that they were trying to help us. We ended up going with "a sampler package." Our "freebie" would be a tablet. There were multiple supervisors in the room with us along with their supervisors which we were told was necessary to close our deal. They really made us feel as though they were doing their best for us.

When we went to our new member orientation in January 2017, it took, again, an entire day. We were only there for three days so this was a large chunk of our time. On the day of our "orientation", someone came in to inform us that the package we had was impossible and they "weren't sure who could have given us something so abysmally small that was essentially not enough" and we would need to upgrade. They continued with, "Ownerships like ours just do not exist." I tried to explain that a vacation mortgage is not our only, nor one of the more important bills, that we pay. My husband tried to explain that we do not want to pay more and that we had believed the original sales people set us up for success and that is why it was on the lower end but these people wouldn't take no for an answer. They called the credit card company to increase our limits and once again, we were paying off another loan plus club dues. We were sinking, but they did not care.

In April 2017, I was trying to book a vacation and it became apparent rather quickly that my efforts were futile so I resorted to making a phone call. I was told that I did not have sufficient points to book a vacation so I had to pay for more points which totaled an extra $1,200 which included a mandatory presentation again where we were told to upgrade...again. Now I really told them that we would not be upgrading this time. I told them about the challenge I had in booking the vacation and they told us about priority booking dates and that's why I had to pay because other members start booking as soon as they finish their vacation. The earlier we book, the cheaper and we could give it up if we didn't use book it then. We were informed that we could rent our timeshare out which would offset the maintenance fees which, after this new upgrade, were raised by $600. We were told that we could use our Barclay credit card to pay maintenance fees annually.

In September, I received a phone call from someone who stated that he was my advisor and he navigated the system as I watched on my computer. He showed me all I needed to know to book and purchase points if I needed to do so. The ability to do this will give me better booking power.

In November, I got an email stating that I could spread out the maintenance fee by 12 months with the monthly mortgage payments. This I refused.

At this point, I'm overwhelmed in paying back a credit card I never wanted, along with a monthly mortgage I never wanted. In order to keep up with the payments on this timeshare that we never wanted and still plan for the future, we actually planned to skip a vacation this year. In retrospect, I am appalled at the way Diamond Resorts has treated us. We feel manipulated for having had children with us and you all used that against us as our weakness. Of course, that is our weakness. We love our children. That is a low move and not very creative on the sales team's part. Now that I know how this company operates, I would NEVER want to pass this to our children. If anything, we want to protect them from inheriting this mess. In order to allow us to protect them, we are requesting that Diamond Resorts cancel ALL THREE of our contracts and provide a full refund of the money we have poured into this complete waste of money and time.

Respectfully,

Ms. Keys:

I am not interested in any communication other than to discuss my dispute I have filed with Diamond – and I will only do this via email. I refuse to answer any calls. I am not interested in any benefits or how to utilize my membership as all discussions about this have been proven useless.

I have sent a letter and am waiting for someone to contact me regarding cancellation and a refund of my investment due to fraudulent and manipulative practices I have experienced.

Looking forward to receiving information on how to proceed!

Ms. Keys, you clearly did not read my email. I'm sure the "sensitive" information is concerning my payment and again, you will not be receiving one. I'm disputing my membership and the manner in which I was sold the timeshare ownership. I will not be discussing anything over the phone.

Subject: Diamond Resorts - White - 9-339044908 - (CID:dh90mft3hybsswgqjh)

Dear Mrs White,

I am writing in response to your recent letter and request for the cancellation of your account. I have addressed the points that you have raised below and hope that this response helps to provide clarification on this matter.

The main issue that your complaint centres around is the amount of points that you have purchased each time that you have agreed to make a purchase. Whilst you have purchased a relatively small amount of points each time, this is indeed how most of our points members choose to purchase. Small points amounts allow members to have an insight in to Diamond and then choose to purchase more should their vacation needs require this. I would advise that within the purchased documentation the average points price is included and acknowledged which make members keenly aware of the points required to make the reservations that they require.

It is also stipulated within your letter that you were informed that you could rent out your points in order to offset the cost of your ownership but this is not the case and this is repeatedly stated within the paperwork that this is not permitted. I would also highlight that the rental of a unit for commercial gain would not stand to reason as, if units could be rented for more than their points value it would stand to reason that Diamond would not sell them at this rate or would increase the points cost.

In light of the above we would of course not be able to cancel or refund your account on the grounds that you have presented as these are clearly debunked by the paperwork repeatedly signed at each sale.

In the latter part of your communication it appears that you are in fact advising that you are under financial strain due to your membership and change in circumstances and whilst we would not be able to cancel on the grounds of misrepresentation, we may be able to assist should this in fact be a matter of hardship. Should your financial situation be insufficient to a point where you would be unable to maintain your obligations to Diamond, or indeed other obligations due to your cumulative outgoings then we may be able to assess your account for a hardship surrender. We would though advise that in order to do this we would first need to receive full documentation regarding this hardship and clearly documenting the circumstances that you are under.

I hope that this is helpful.

Kind regards

Russell Elliot

.....
Mr. Elliot:

Thank you for taking the time to respond to my heartfelt letter. First and foremost, the main issue was the experience as a whole.

But in response to your statements, firstly, we purchased an amount of points that were sold to us as "enough." And then at each subsequent meeting, we were told they were not enough, along with other declarations that helped push this thought. This happened several times: In January of 2017, we tried to express to them on several occasions that we did not want more as we felt the sales reps before set us up for success. We did not want more financial responsibility. They did not care. They called the credit card company without our approval and increased our limits and once again, we were paying off another loan plus more club dues. In April of 2017, I find out that we did not have enough at all, regardless of our last purchase in January. When I called to discuss, I had to end up purchasing more points for an extra $1,200 (which much to our dismay, included a mandatory presentation where we told to upgrade...again). At this upgrade, we were again told of priority booking. At no such time were we made aware of how many points were required to make reservations.

And yes, regardless what your paperwork says, we were absolutely told we could rent this out. When the sales reps tell us things, we rely on what they tell us – this carries over to the signing process. After a full day of listening to them hammer us, when we finally get to the signing process, they summarize everything so they can get us out of there faster. They even say, "I know you are trying to get out of here so I'll just summarize this for you. It's your basic contract." We are told where to sign and where to initial. Furthermore, we have been filled with so much information, who would want to listen (or who could)

I do believe renting would stand to reason, as it would significantly help your members offset the insanely high maintenance fees, but this would NOT benefit Diamond. And that is why you are stating it is not allowed. But if this is the case, then why do your sales reps use this as a selling point? Why haven't they been banned from using this?

Your paperwork does NOT debunk anything we have brought to your attention – the fact remains that this is what we were told. This is what we relied upon. It does not reduce our concerns nor does it refute our experience. It also does not deter us from wanting to cancel and get our money back. Again, the fact remains we were LIED TO and DECEIVED and this ultimately affected our decision to purchase.

And yes, paying these credit cards, monthly mortgage and maintenance fees is very much overwhelming! We are having to sacrifice many things in order to pay for this atrocity. And we fear it's only going to get worse. What kind of documentation would you need to prove this?

Dear Sir/Madam

Complaint to the Office of the Attorney General

A complaint form was submitted to The Office of the Attorney General by our lawyers. We have received an email which states that the information has been forwarded to the Attorney General's Consumer Protection Division for review and also to the Florida Department of Business & Professional Regulation (DBPR).

However, our lawyer did not attach a copy of our full Statement of Misrepresentation which was signed before a Notary Public on 10 April 2017. This document fully outlines the background to our claim so we have enclosed a copy which we hope you can forward on to the correct department.

We have also enclosed a copy of the information already submitted to you by our lawyers.

We would appreciate it if you could send us an emailed acknowledgement of receipt of this letter and information.

Yours faithfully

STATEMENT OF MISREPRESENTATION

Mr David Graham Wild and Mrs Barbara Eileen Wild declare:

We purchased a timeshare interest at The Charter Club Resort on Naples Bay, 1000 10th Avenue South, Naples, Florida 34102, the contract for purchase having been signed at the resort on 26 September 1995 the timeshare interest being 2 Flexi 'B' Timeshare Weeks.

BACKGROUND TO PURCHASE OF TIMESHARE WEEKS AT THE CHARTER CLUB, NAPLES, FLORIDA

SEPTEMBER 1995

During a holiday in Florida we spent a few days at The Charter Club Resort on Naples Bay, Florida booked via an independent travel agent. We were approached by Judy Prater, Sales Person for Guest Services in the resort, who gave us a presentation about the resort and timeshare ownership. We decided to purchase 2 Flexi 'B' Timeshare Weeks based on what we were told during the presentation. Our choice of 2 Flexi 'B' weeks would entitle us to choose two weeks between 17 April and 17 December each year which meant we could select the most suitable time for us to take our holidays rather than be bound to some specific weeks every year.

The resort property/timeshare was at that time owned by the Trowbridge family, under the company name of Charter Club Properties LC. It was a small resort in a location we knew we would enjoy spending holidays in.

We were asked to pay 50% of the total purchase cost and $6,300.00 was paid whilst at The Charter Club Resort at the time of signing a purchase agreement on 26 September 1995, within the 10 day cooling off period. We did not sign this in the presence of a Notary Public.

We also agreed to pay the remaining balance under a mortgage agreement, over a 12 month period, and the deposit payment and other details were confirmed and acknowledged on 29 September 1995 in a letter sent to our home. We do not recall being made aware verbally that there was a 10 day 'cooling off' period. At the time of making our decision to purchase we were not offered or given any legal advice.

A Mortgage Deed was also signed on 26 September 1995, and this shows the seal of Notary Public, Nancy Carter.

A Warranty Deed signed by David Trowbridge (President) and two witnesses (one of which appears to be the Notary Public, Timothy A Phillips) who is also named on the Notary Public seal. This document was dated 18 October 1995 - we were not in Naples at that time.

A Satisfaction of Mortgage - was signed by David Trowbridge (President) and two witnesses and has seal of Notary Public, Margaret Ann Dardis. This document is dated 26 December 1996.

SALES PITCH

We had been told a number of things during the sales pitch which led us to believe that we were making an investment for our future. At the time of the sales pitch we were not made aware that the contract was in perpetuity and what the longer term implications of that would be.

This was a small, family run company, where all the units at the resort were, or would be, owned by specific people and/or families and we felt that this meant everyone using the resort would have a vested and keen interest in the resort, its management, upkeep etc. We believed we had bought into, and were happy to be part of, a small family run resort, managed by people we got to know very well.

Prior to our decision to purchase:

- We were told that our purchase was an investment and would appreciate in value and resale price over time.
- We were told that the timeshare weeks could easily be exchanged, transferred and sold in future and were encouraged, and did, join RCI for timeshare exchange purposes.
- We were told that we would always be given priority booking over non-purchasing families wishing to stay at the resort owned and maintained by the owners.
- As a further enticement, the resort offered to pay for 4 extra nights' accommodation at the Resort, and gave us 2 free weeks accommodation in 1996.

Our PRIMARY REASON for purchase, based on the sales pitch, was as an investment, with the intention to realise the monetary value of what we believed to be an asset that would have accrued in value after 20 years when we retired. We believed we were investing in real estate in a prime location which would increase in value over this period. Not unreasonable as we own property in the UK. We DID NOT believe we would end up part of an organisation with worldwide timeshare properties with many thousands of members who could use our timeshare property, thereby rendering our investment to be worthless.

To this end we have been attempting to sell these weeks, for much less than we paid, since 2011, obviously with no success. We had not been made aware that if we were unable to sell our timeshare weeks, and still owned them when we died, our heirs would have to inherit all financial and legal obligations under the contract. With such facts being disclosed we would not have been interested in purchasing a timeshare which would burden our children and heirs with these financial and legal obligations.

We believe the sales information given in 1995 to constitute a gross misrepresentation and we now seek to have the contract voided.

MANAGEMENT OF THE RESORT

CHARTER CLUB 1995 - 2002

Whilst still family owned, it was always easy to book the weeks we wanted as there were a limited number of owners all of whom wanted to holiday at this one resort. We simply telephoned the resort in January each year and booked our weeks, and this process worked well, as we were dealing with people and managers we knew and who knew us. The small, family run resort we had chosen was exactly as we wanted. All was working well until the Charter Club was sold on to Island One (Club Navigo) in 2002, and then on to Diamond Resorts International in 2013, both times with no prior knowledge of the takeover, or consultation with owners, just a simple announcement of the change in management/ownership.

ISLAND ONE (CLUB NAVIGO) 2002 -2013

From 2003 we were unable able to book any weeks by phoning the resort, but had to contact the Island One office in Orlando. We had no specific contact name and over time it became more and more difficult to get the weeks we wanted. We discovered that as we did not have a fixed week or weeks, there was increasingly limited availability for 'Flexi Owners'. Often, we had to place our two weeks with RCI and then try to find alternative exchange holiday accommodation to suit. On occasion, we were unable to get anything we wanted so had to forfeit weeks we had paid maintenance on. In late 2011 we approached Island One, to ask for help in selling our timeshare weeks, but were unsuccessful.

DIAMOND RESORTS INTERNATIONAL 2013 to 2016 (now taken over by private equity firm Apollo Global Management LLC)

Since Diamond Resorts took over it has been impossible to get the weeks we want, and are entitled to, unless we book up to 18 months ahead. Again there is very limited availability for 'Flexi Owners' even though we had been promised preferential treatment as owners when we initially decided to commit to timeshare ownership with the Charter Club. We have had to 'bank' even more of our weeks with RCI and have 'lost' weeks when we have been unable to book through RCI. We believe the terms under which we purchased our timeshare weeks are not being fulfilled and have been breached. It is clearly evident that access to the Charter Club for Flexi Owners has been severely impacted by Diamond Resorts opening up membership to all its members. We have details that confirm this from a booking agent working for Diamond Resorts.

Since Diamond Resorts took over, in early 2014 we have been advertising our weeks on the Charter Club Owners web site. For the last 2 years we have been advertising the weeks for substantially less than we paid for them, with no success. Also, in January 2016, we approached Korshak & Associates, asking if they could help with the sale as they were involved in the original purchase of our weeks in 1995. Their response was also negative.

CHARTER CLUB OWNERS ASSOCIATION

In October 2015 we received a letter which stated "there is a clause in the governing document for the Charter Club of Naples that states our timeshare programme will automatically terminate in 2020 unless the majority of owners affirmatively vote before that date, and every 10 years thereafter, to continue the program."

We were completely unaware of this clause, and have no documentation referring to it on our files, and are highlighting for your reference. We are not sure if this has any relevance, but it highlights the fact the Charter Club did not disclose this at the time of our purchase.

SUMMARY OF PROMISE VS REALITY

PROMISE

After the purchase - $12,600.00 - we were entitled to take 2 Flexi B weeks and to choose two weeks between 17 April and 17 December each year, selecting the most suitable time for us to take our holidays rather than be bound to some specific annual weeks. We expected preferential treatment as owners and payers of annual maintenance fees and the guarantee of 2 weeks when we wanted them.

REALITY NOW

No guarantee we will get any weeks at all unless we book up to 18 months in advance. The sheer number of owners with Diamond Resorts International means that far too many people have access to what we bought into, ie, a small family run timeshare with luxury units. Unit weeks at the Charter Club are also advertised on a variety of holiday letting and rental websites, some of which do not appear to have any link with timeshare. The situation for us as owners is now untenable.

PROMISE

Owners would get preferential treatment when booking their annual weeks.

REALITY NOW

Flexi week owners do not get preferential treatment when attempting to book their weeks... far from it. We find weeks at the Charter Club advertised on a variety of holiday letting and rental websites. It may well be easier to book the Charter Club as a non-owner and often for far less than we have paid in annual maintenance fees!

PROMISE

We believed we were making an investment for our future. The Charter Club was a small, family run company, with all units owned by specific people and we felt that this meant everyone using the resort would have a keen interest in the resort, its management, upkeep etc. We were not interested in visiting other resorts either in Florida or in the US, nor of being part of a worldwide timeshare scheme.

REALITY NOW

With the sale of the Charter Club to Island One (Club Navigo) and then Diamond Resorts International, what we were sold and promised when we made the original purchase is no longer what we signed up to. The resort is owned by a worldwide organisation with no loyalty to, or priority given, to owners who pay annual maintenance.

PROMISE

We were told that the timeshare weeks could easily be exchanged, transferred and sold in future and were encouraged to, and did, join RCI for timeshare exchange purposes. We were told that our purchase was an investment and would appreciate in value and resale price over time.

REALITY NOW

Far from increasing in value, our weeks are worthless and have no value at all.

We have tried to sell our weeks and they have been advertised for the last few years on the Charter Club Owners website. Contact was also made with Island One (Club Navigo) whilst they managed our resort, asking about sales of these weeks or transfer of ownership, and they were unwilling to help. When approached, Diamond Resorts International also declined to help. Both companies made it clear that they would not take back our weeks but that we would have to find a new owner. We have had to 'bank' lots of our timeshare weeks with RCI but it is very difficult, and often impossible, to get holiday weeks in locations we want. We have also had to 'lose' weeks we have paid maintenance on when we have been unable to book through RCI.

We have always and consistently kept to the terms of the contract. We paid the $12,600.00 purchase price as agreed, and since then have paid our annual maintenance fee every year, on time without defaulting at any time. To date we have paid just around $30,000.00 in maintenance fees.

REALITY NOW

Diamond Resorts International has not kept to the terms of the contract. We believe that the company has breached the contract and we expect agreement from Diamond Resorts International to release us from any future liability with the timeshare contract and for complete release, termination and cancellation of our timeshare interests.

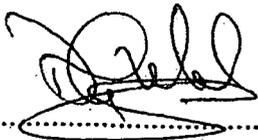

TERMINATING OUR CONTRACT

Diamond Resorts International has not kept to the terms of the contract. We believe that the company has breached the contract and we expect agreement from Diamond Resorts International to release us from any future liability with the timeshare contract and for complete release, termination and cancellation of our timeshare interests.

The companies involved in promoting timeshare ownership want owners to believe that once the right of 'rescission' expires the only way legal way to end timeshare contracts involves transfer of ownership by selling, donating or giving away . . . we do not believe this to be true.

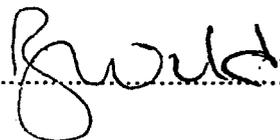

This statement is true to the best of my knowledge, information and belief.

After attending a sales presentation at at the Charter Club on Naples Bay, Florida, my wife and I acquired a timeshare right under the contract dated 26 September 1995, for two "B" season weeks at the Charter Club on Naples Bay, Florida. At the same time we were asked to pay a 50% deposit whilst at the resort without being informed we were entitled to a 10 day cooling off period and that we should have been given access to a Notary Public during the process.

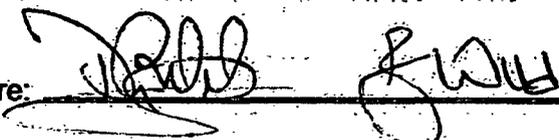

Information given in the sales presentation led us to believe we were making the purchase as an investment and that it would appreciate in value over the years. We were also told that the timeshare weeks could be easily exchanged, transferred and sold in future as well as giving us priority when booking weeks at the resort. It has become apparent in recent years that we were given misleading information.

Please find attached our Statement of Misrepresentation which details our case and why we want Diamond Resorts International to release us from any future liability with the timeshare contract and for complete release, termination and cancellation of our timeshare interests.

WE WERE NOT INFORMED ABOUT WHAT PERPETUITY MEANT AND ITS FULL LEGAL IMPLICATIONS AND IT IS FOR THIS REASON WE WISH TO TERMINATE THE AGREEMENT. WE WERE OFFERED INDUCEMENTS TO SIGN UP, IN THE FORM OF 2 WEEKS AND FREE ACCOMMODATION FOR THE LENGTH OF OUR STAY. WE HAVE USED THE TIMESHARE FOR APPROX 15 OUT OF THE 20 YEARS OF OWNERSHIP. THE OWNERSHIP HAS CHANGED TO DIAMOND RESORTS AND WE FEEL THE RESORT NO LONGER REPRESENTS WHAT WE ORIGINALLY SIGNED UP FOR.

I believe that the points of fact stated in this witness statement are true.

To whom it may concern,

This letter (following this shorter portion written to your agency) was sent to Diamond Resorts on May 12 of this year. I'm seeking a cancellation and refund of the timeshare purchase that I have made with them. The purpose of writing to you now is to gain some traction regarding this matter. If you could please send our complaint to Diamond Resorts headquarters, or to whatever department you will, that would be greatly appreciated. Basically, we need for them to provide some sort of proper response. The company believes they can ignore us and that we will go away, but we will not. I have followed up the letter with the correspondence between Diamond representatives and us since May.

To whom it may concern,

We are writing to officially demanding termination of our memberships and contracts with Diamond Resorts International. We also want a refund for all the upgrades and purchases we have made which have been useless to us. We were lied to time and time again. We thought that our purchases would be a means to an end. We thought there was some status that we could get to that would avail us in receiving some of the best vacations we could experience. Below is an account of the many times we purchased due to the many lies we were fed.

In January 2004, we were approached at a kiosk in the Planet Hollywood Casino and asked if we would like to attend a presentation about Polo Towers. We were offered show tickets and dinner if we attended. At the presentation, we were told about the great opportunity to invest in Polo Towers timeshares, "the most luxurious timeshare in the number one location in the world for timeshares." One of the things we were told were: It would be a great investment that would appreciate in value as the remaining weeks were sold. Another thing that they said would make our purchase even more lucrative included low maintenance fees, great exchange opportunities and the ability to pass it on to our kids. Our salesman was William Pehroh. During his presentation, a manager stopped by to assure us that deal was indeed too good for us to pass up. They showed us several units that were luxuriously furnished with big screen TVs and deluxe appliances. We were also shown the Polo Towers lounge on the 21st floor that had been in the movie Oceans 11. It overlooked the Las Vegas strip and had beautiful views. Due to the high-quality luxury room we were shown, we were sold. We ended up purchasing a 2-bedroom, 2-bath lockout at Polo Towers Villas. However, the next time we visited Polo Towers the lounge was closed and the room we were given did not have the large TVs and was not the luxurious suite we had been sold on. We were pretty disappointed at having been misled.

In January 2011, we vacationed at the Grand Beach Resort in Orlando, FL. We were offered an owner's update and would receive a gift card of $100 to attend. Our salesman, David Whitty told us how we could use a portion of our points to pay for our maintenance and assessment fees. He explained that we could donate a week to a charitable organization like Saint Jude Children's Hospital or Make A Wish Foundation and write off the value of the week (at $250 to $350 per day for a 1 or 2-bedroom condo). He also showed how we could advertise a week at a resort near Disney World on Craigslist and use the proceeds to pay our maintenance fees. We joined the club and were assessed 16,000 points for our week at Polo towers. This was over the 15,000 required to be Silver Members. This process cost us $4,995. After this, we were paying club dues as well as maintenance fees.

In March 2012, we vacationed at Mystic dunes in Celebration, FL. We attended an owner's update. Our salesman was Jose Feliciano. He told us we were misled by our previous salesman and could not legally deduct any donations to charities off our taxes nor would we be allowed to rent out our timeshares. I became quite annoyed. The manager heard my elevated voice and came over. To “appease us” and get us back on good terms, we would be allowed to purchase additional points at the rate of our previous meeting. I was not interested in buying more points. They then offered us a sampler package that would allow us to experience Gold Member status. They said by buying the sampler plus package, the total points would be over the Gold Member requirement of 30,000. It would be good for 18 months and we could log in and make selections from a larger collection and even get the 6 free upgrades per year that Gold Members received. We bought the sampler package because we were told we could experience the Gold Membership on a temporary basis. This turned out to be a total lie. We could not use any of the Gold Member benefits and the sampler points allowed us to visit only a limited number of resorts. We actually had fewer options than before, not an increased number of resorts as promised.

In April 2012, we visited a resort in Daytona Beach, FL. At this resort we were told that our sampler package did not give us any of the benefits that we were promised at the previous update. I was very upset and let them know it. I would not accept any of the offers and told them that we had been lied to at every presentation and update that we had attended. We took our $100 gift card and left. I’m sure they were glad to see us leave because there were other members and prospective members at the meeting that were listening to my accusations.

In November 2012, we visited Sedona, AZ (one of the resorts we could go to with our sampler points). As always, we attended an owner’s update. We did this because we were told that Diamond Resorts points value would be tied to their stock prices. If we did not buy more points we would lose the benefit of the lower cost points ($2.47 versus the current $6.77 per point). The lower points price we were given was locked in by the sampler package. We were also able to transfer our Grand Pacific Palisades ownership for points and that cost us $15,229. This gave us an additional 4,000 points per year plus 4,000 more points we could use that year. In addition, they gave us two certificates for a one week two-bedroom stay through Interval International.

In January 2014, we vacationed at Polo Towers. While there, we attended a two-day “Event of a Lifetime” function that included show tickets and dinner at the Eiffel Tower restaurant. It also included dinner prior to the presentation. Here we purchased 8,000 points and traded in our Smoky Mountain Holiday Inn Resort. We converted our 9,150 points left from the sampler to regular “use anywhere” points and were given a six-month extension to use them. These are not points that continued annually. After this purchase, we were Gold Members.

In April 2014, we visited Mystic Dunes Resort in Celebration, FL. We attended an owner’s update and based on numerous promises of benefits that Platinum Membership would bring, we purchased 10,000 points that would take us closer to that level. Gold Membership included 6 free upgrades per year, access to premium resort locations, reduced maintenance and assessment fees. There were a load of promises about the benefits of Gold status that never really panned out.

In May 2015, we visited Rivera Beach and Shores Resort in Capistrano Beach, CA. We went to the owner’s update and after purchasing 10,000 points which took us to Platinum membership. We were also told that Platinum Status was required to get the Diamond Resorts Master Card (Barclay Card) and we would be able to collect points that could be used to pay our maintenance fees. The amount of return on points turned out to be very low, usually less than $500 towards the fees that are going up very fast. More points, more assessment fees, and club dues.

In November 2016, we went to Bent Creek Resort in Gatlinburg, TN. At the owner’s update, we were told we should trade our deeded Polo Towers week for points because most owners had done this and those that had not would be liable for any assessments due to upgrades and renovation. We were also told that deeded property would automatically go to our heirs and they would be assessed the fees and could not refuse to take the property or pay the fees. If they did so, they would be liable just as if they were to default on any property. Not knowing this was a lie, we traded in our deeded Polo Towers to the US Collection for 16,000 additional points. To do this, we had to buy an additional 2,500 points.

In March 2017, we went to another “Event of a Lifetime” in Branson, MO. Here we bought a Sampler Points Advantage to keep our price per point low.

Since we had purchased a sampler a month earlier, we were able to purchase this one at lower price. We began to wonder why did we need to purchase more points since we were already Platinum Members? Once at this level, there should be nothing else to buy. We should be at the top, have the ultimate status. Why would Diamond continue to sell to us relentlessly? We were told since Apollo bought out Diamond, we needed to purchase points under the new program. The new program meant we would no longer be paid travel reimbursements with a check but only with gift cards that could be used towards maintenance fees and we could only get that option under the new program. A few months later, we were told by Travel Services that they quit that program since it did not go over very well. So, it turned out we never really needed to purchase extra points because they changed everything around after we bought into the program. Moreover, we shouldn't have been misled into purchasing more points anyway since we were already at Platinum level.

From the very beginning of our relationship with Diamond Resorts International, we have been misled and blatantly lied to, and lured with freebies to attend meetings. We have been told the timeshare was a great investment, there would be low maintenance fees that would only minimally increase over time. Higher membership-levels would give us greater booking power, free upgrades and reimbursement for airline tickets and rental cars. We were also told we could offset our maintenance by purchasing more points and that points accrued on our Diamond Resorts Barclay Card for later use. We were told we could rent out our timeshare and use the funds to pay our maintenance fees. We have been promised a personal advisor who would be assigned to us to assist in planning our vacations and we would be given priority status in booking the best locations and dates. None of this has happened. Some of the benefits we were said to receive like reimbursements for auto rental were taken away. Others like free upgrades disappeared and were replaced with paid upgrades when we ended up purchasing more points. Maintenance fees at first went up minimally each year but after Diamond Resorts took over they began to increase drastically. It seems like eventually an owner could buy into the status which should be Platinum, your highest level, and that Diamond would be quiet about getting us to purchase more, more, more all the time. Do you ever stop? If not, how can you expect anyone to be happy with the company? We definitely are not. We have played the game and have been hassled. We just wanted great experiences and for Diamond to be honest with us. The company has failed to be honest on any occasion and we have not had good experiences in dealing with Diamond employees. That is why we are demanding cancellation of any and all memberships and contracts we have ever had with Diamond Resorts International or any of the resort they took over.
Freddie M. Hegler & Dianne E. Hegler

Received May 23 from Diamond

Dear Freddie Malcolm Hegler and Dianne Eiland Hegler,

We write in response to your letter dated May 12th 2018.

We are sorry to learn that you feel you were misled when purchasing your membership with Diamond Resorts and after review of your letter we are sorry to read of your dissatisfaction however unfortunately we cannot agree that your purchase was misrepresented and will clarify this for the reasons below.

We note that in your letter you claim that Diamond Resorts lured you in to attending presentations and meetings with important updates and freebies. It concerns us greatly when members feel they have cause for complaint about the standard of service they have received and we apologise for the impression that your previous sales experiences have given you. We are of the firm belief that our products sell themselves without the need for any high-pressure tactics or disrespectful behaviour in an attempt to secure a sale. We must also reiterate that you were only required to attend presentations when using your sampler membership and at no point are members obliged to make a purchase.

From review of your account we can see that in March 2012 you purchased Sampler Contract #2781862 in which you were under the impression that this would take you to a Gold Membership tier. Please note that Sampler memberships are not connected to Collection point and subsequently your membership tier would have remained the same. From looking at your account further we have no record of you bringing this complaint to our attention back in 2012.

You state that in November 2012 you were advised that if you did not purchase additional points you would lose the benefit of a lower price per point. When purchasing your Sampler in March 2012 you will have been provided with a price per point guarantee and this is what the sales rep will have been referring to.

With regards to the Barclay Card please be advised that members receive 2 Diamond Plus Points for every $ spent in a Diamond Resorts and 1 Diamond Plus Point for every $ spent externally. Members are fully able to contact Barclay Card directly and redeem any Diamond Plus Points in to a monetary credit on their card, once this has been done they can then use the credit to pay for part of their management fees or any other cash purchase.

We can see that you continued to purchase additional points to take you to the Platinum membership tier and concerned about the Platinum Member Benefits such as booking power, using points for maintenance fees and reimbursement of airline tickets. We can confirm that Platinum members have a 14 month preferential booking window and can book flights or alternate accommodation through our travel services department. You are also fully able to use points towards management fees and to do this you can call your dedicated platinum team on 1.877.374.7528.

In closing we are unable to find any grounds of misrepresentation therefore please note that we are not in a position to cancel any active contracts however if you require any assistance in utilising your membership please let us know and we will be more than happy to assist you further.

With kind regards,
Sam Carradice

Responded to Sam Carradice May 30:

Dear Mr. Carradice,

For one thing, you sound just like any other crooked sales rep I ever had dealings with from Diamond. Let me pick your letter apart:

1. You are not concerned about complaints. Proof: I complained more than once within 2012. The only solution I was provided: Upgrade!
2. Your products do not sell themselves. If they did, the logical outcome would be that you would not put pressure on people to purchase/upgrade. Telling me that you believe they sell themselves means nothing. Your belief means your employees are improperly trained and therefore, ill-suited for timeshare sales.
3. Since I was required to attend presentations, I had to subsequently stay for the entirety of each one. There is no time limit for these presentations. They kept us there until they got a yes. When we had complaints, they could only be fixed if we upgraded that day. If I asked to leave, they threatened to charge us more money. Translation - Purchase is required to get out of the meeting or to fix any concerns.
4. If there is no record of my complaint from 2012, it is due to the incompetence of Diamond's staff who failed to notate it or provide proper awareness to the complaint department. Again, the solution offered: Upgrade! That doesn't leave much room for anything else.
5. The mention of a price point that I would have lost was merely a tactic designed to secure my purchase that day.
6. Redemption of points instruction is unwanted currently. Diamond has already failed on too many occasions. We know better than to take your word for it. In other words, you are lying and we're not buying it.
7. The increase in status from silver to gold in the spring of 2012 was temporary as I stated previously. I attempted to take advantage of the temporary upgrade in status as soon as possible. It's pretty asinine of you to say that it did not provide a status change because I was pretty clear that: (1) Yes, it did. That was the whole point. Why else did I pay $2,295 that day? Was that supposed to be a gift to you for all your hard work? (Hahahaha!) (2) It was temporary, like I said in the first place, so yeah, the status would stay the same overall; HOWEVER, for 18 months, on a TEMPORARY basis, we could enjoy the benefits of gold. Don't play games with me. You know what a sampler package is. That was a failure on the part of Diamond to uphold their end of the bargain.

8. Now that I have had enough experience with Diamond, I don't care about my Platinum status. It means nothing. You have proven time and again that you are dishonest. The company has zero intention of reimbursing me for airline tickets. That's a bogus line designed to SCAM ME as expected.

In closing, we feel that your inability to find grounds for misrepresentation is due to you and the entire company being one giant misrepresentation from the start. By no means do I want further assistance from you or anyone else at Diamond. I'm done. I've trusted you too many times. This one's on you. So when will you be sending my termination papers?

Received June 6 from Sam Carradice:

Dear Freddie Malcolm Hegler and Dianne Eiland Hegler,

Thank you for your response.

We must clarify that we certainly do not condone bad sales practices and all claims of misrepresentation are followed up by an investigation and a review and should there be sufficient evidence we will of course take appropriate actions. However in the light of lack of admissible evidence and the fact that we are unable to determine what may or may not have been discussed during the presentation we can only rely on the written agreement.

Unfortunately, there are no further arguments raised that have not been addressed in my initial email below and as such we would not be able to change our position on this matter and cannot offer any kind of cancellation or refund in light of this.

We are sorry that remain dissatisfied with your membership and are considering the relinquishment of your contracts however unfortunately we are unable to assist you further with this whilst you have a loan balance connected to your membership. Once you are in a position to make payment of the balance please let us know and we will be more than happy to assist you further.

With kind regards,

Sam.

Responded June 12:

To Sam,

What investigation are you referring to? I haven't been notified of any sort of investigation regarding my concerns. The sales pitches held at Diamond Resorts locations are full of fast talking reps, and busy, loud voices. It's complete and utter chaos. All I'm basically saying is that you have been made.

Your reps confiscated all of our notes from the presentations. The whole thing is badly unprofessional.

Unfortunately, this bad deal was made intentionally. You know you screw people over and you make sure to cover your backs. The evidence that I have is that I never wanted a timeshare to begin with and the only reason I upgraded was due to the promise to "fix" the situation created by the first or previous purchase.

You really don't listen. I'm getting angrier by the second. Do you really believe that your ineptitude will provide a good enough excuse to get you out of this situation? You haven't actually addressed any of my concerns. You have only argued in your favor. Get this straight: WE HAVE ALWAYS been in a position to take care of payments that we are responsible for. That is not part of your concern or your business! You have no right to question me on that subject. This is a matter of principle. We WILL NOT continue to pay for a scam! You have no other options here.

To be very clear, the MARK of a "great" (properly trained by certain expectations of the company) Diamond Resorts representative IS the practice of "bad sales practices". It seems that you all know no other way.

Freddie Hegler

Received June 14:

Dear Freddie Malcolm Hegler and Dianne Eiland Hegler,

Thank you for your response.

Please note that any claims of misrepresentation will be investigated internally and of course if there is sufficient evidence to support the members claims we will take appropriate actions.

We are sorry that you remain dissatisfied with our responses however we do feel that we have fully addressed the concerns you have highlighted in previous communication. The purchase documentation forms an entire agreement between yourself and Diamond Resorts, and we hope you can appreciate that we can only rely on this documentation which you signed to confirm you understand all terms of purchase provided within the contract. Once again, if anything was said at the point of purchase, which was of particular importance to you, but was not contained within the terms and conditions of this membership, you had two opportunities to verify the information, and go through documentation, with the Quality Assurance team after the purchase, and also during the rescission period given to you for your own benefit.

Whilst we are unable to assist you with the cancellation of your Membership if you require any further assistance in utilising your membership to its full potential please let us know and we will be more than happy to assist you further.

With kind regards,
Sam.

Received June 22:

Dear Mr. and Mrs. Hegler,

The purpose of this communication is to inform you that we have been trying to contact you regarding your vacation property with Diamond Resorts (DR). It's very important that you contact us today so that we may update you with information that will allow you to enjoy all the benefits that come along with your vacation ownership.

I look forward to speaking and assisting you; please call me today at 877.483.6787 or 800.205.7555.

On behalf of Diamond Resorts, we hope you are having a great day and please remember to Stay Vacationed®.

Stacey Wright / Financial Services Associate

As you can see, they sicked the financial department on us to get us to pay which we already stated we would not do. It was disrespectful to ignore the demand for cancellation and to inquire further for payment.

On June 22, we received a Mortgage Acceleration notice stating that our account was in default. Again, they attempted to ignore us and demand payment that we will not give.

Responded June 22:

To Sam Carradice,

No, Mr. Carradice, you have most certainly NOT addressed all of my concerns. How can YOU tell ME that YOU have addressed all of MY concerns? You, as a customer service representative in the hospitality department, must ask ME if all of my concerns have been addressed. How dare you speak of my concerns as though I were annoying you?

Is that what owners are to you? An annoyance? Is it annoying to do your job? Go get another one. That might be better for you anyway. Working for another company might allow you to be a human being.

In fact, you have not addressed even one single concern. What about the fact that David Whitty told us that we could write off the donation of one week to a charity on our taxes? What about the fact that Jose Feliciano BLATANTLY TOLD US THAT WE HAD BEEN MISLED BY WHITTY? We have played your endless mind games to the point of reaching Platinum level only to be misled into BUYING MORE POINTS! Where does it end? At what point do you say, "Congratulations! You have reached maximum potential! The timeshare and membership is yours to enjoy at your leisure!?" When will Diamond Resorts discontinue the harassment, the endless phone calls attempting to lure us into purchasing more crap from you, the aggressive salesmen who hassle us on vacation, etc.? What do you think is an appropriate amount of time to harass your owners before they feel completely unappreciated and devalued?

I don't believe Diamond will end it. I don't believe the company ever had the intention to do right by us. At this point, we must take matters into our own hands by demanding that you cancel this contract. Did you even read my letter? I don't believe you did. Raise your standards by all means. Take it upon yourself to act as the honest, honorable human that you could be and rebel against the horrendous excuse for a hospitality team for which you work. Do something good. Make up for the bad service we have received although we have put in the utmost time and money into trying to achieve the status that would allow us enjoy our vacations and just relax without being bombarded by Diamond. Please a response that is aligned to our cause. Don't tell me you have addressed concerns that you HAVEN'T EVEN ATTEMPTED TO ADDRESS. We will get this matter handled. If you feel that you must pass along our case to someone who can better handled it, then do so. We deserve more specific care and attention into addressing our needs. Be better.

Received July 9:

Dear Freddie Malcolm Hegler and Dianne Eiland Hegler,

Thank you for your response.

We note that in your communication you state that you purchased contract #2149583 in 2011 as you were under the impression that you could write off the donation of week to a charity on your taxes, we must refer you the below screenshot of the purchaser acknowledgement in which you sign to acknowledge that you have acquired a collection membership for your own person use and enjoyment. No representation of any nature concerning investments potential, rental returns, tax advantages, depreciation, or other possible financial benefits have been made by the seller of any of its agents.

We also note that in your email you state that you feel harassed by endless phone calls attempting to lure you in to purchasing more points. We are sorry that this is the impression that our marketing team have given you however we must remind you that you are under no obligation to attend any presentations or purchase additional points should you not wish to do so.

Please be assured that we have fully reviewed your complaints and looked your contracts accordingly and we are unable to find any grounds of misrepresentation and subsequently we are unable to assist with the cancellation of your membership.

If you require any further assistance please do not hesitate to contact us.
Sam.

Nancy Gines | Financial Services Associate

Received July 27:

On this date, we received a notice of "Caution" stating that we should be on alert for scammers. They do not warn that they themselves are scammers, but interestingly enough, they state this specifically: "Diamond Resorts™ has noticed a large increase in third party companies acting as fraudulent resellers, or trying to solicit our owners with false promises to provide timeshare "transfer" or "exit" services. This is a serious problem that hurts many of our members, losing them thousands of dollars and damaging their credit history. Don't become the next victim."

"These companies often falsely promise to "transfer" or "exit" owners out of their timeshares in exchange for large up-front fees, occasionally offering an alleged "money-back guarantee." Sadly, these promises are rarely fulfilled, and their victims are left without their money, still in debt, or with damaged credit history." "It is important that you know that Diamond Resorts does not work or affiliate with any such "transfer" or "exit" companies.

We strongly encourage our owners to be on high alert for red flags."

What is specifically disturbing about this is that they are asking us to be on "high alert" for red flags. This whole company is a screaming red flag. Why are they bothering to ask us to be on high alert when they are the biggest scam? It's only further proof that they want us to stay in the timeshare. It feels like they want us to believe there is no way out. They don't provide a way and they warn about other companies and basically describe that there is no hope to exit the contract. They only sound like actual live humans when they are "warning" us that there is no one who will help us.

Please help us to resolve this matter by sending this complaint to them and let them know they must pay attention!

RE: Timeshare Contract Cancellation with Diamond Resorts – Contract #17849805

Dear Sir/Madam:

I would like to file a formal complaint against Diamond Resorts/Barclays Credit Company. My husband, Richard S. Klingel, and myself were in Florida back in March 2018. We had attended a presentation by Diamond Resorts and signed a contract for a timeshare. This was the evening of March 22, 2018 after 5:00pm. After some careful thought and review of the contract we decided to cancel.

Upon our return to New York we experienced an 18 inch snow storm of which caused a tree to fall on our home. There was a second storm to hit our area the next day.

We faxed a letter to Diamond Resorts requesting to cancel the above mentioned contract. On April 4th, 2018 we received a letter from Diamond Resorts Financial Services stating that they were unable to honor our request to cancel.

There seems to be a difference of the time period allowed to cancel. The “State Specific Provisions” 19.1 – Refund upon Cancellation states that you can cancel during a 10-day cancellation period. It does not state if these ten days are business or calendar. The last page of the contract “Purchaser Cancellation Rights” states that there is a seven (7) business day cancellation period. Being the contract was finalized after 5:00pm on the 22nd the seven day time frame brings us to April 2nd. We were not able to fax the letter from the house until April 3rd due to circumstances beyond our control (Snow storm and tree fall). There is also a clause in the contract that allows for extra time for New York residents to cancel. Again there is a difference of when this time frame is.

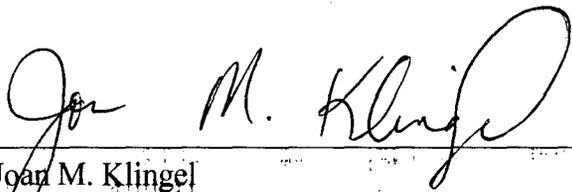

We would like to ask for your assistance in looking into this matter further as well as the business practices of Diamond Resorts/Barclays. We feel that we were told/promised things that aren't correct. Specifically we were told by other agencies that Diamond was brought out by Apollo Resorts which was confirmed by an employee of Diamond, Mr. Dale Benjamin. We feel that we were misled as to the use of points and how many points we would need to go to such destinations as Hawaii, etc. Another misleading remark was about combining our points with our current RCI timeshare.

Our letter of cancellation was denied as well as our appeal letter. I have enclosed copies of these letters as well as a copy of the contract.

Any assistance you can give us in rectifying this matter would be greatly appreciated.

Sincerely,

Joan M. Klingel

Re: Loan # 0027677679

Dear RICHARD S KLINGEL,

Please be advised that the rate and monthly payment amount of the above referenced loan has been changed to the following:

Interest Rate: 15.99%
Payment Amount: $210.74

The change reflects either no SurePay Plan enrollment or the recent termination of your SurePay Plan enrollment.

As indicated on your SurePay Authorization form, Truth in Lending Disclosure Statement and/or Promissory Note provided at the time of your timeshare purchase, the rate and possibly the amount would be subject to an increase in the event of the following reasons:

- You terminate your participation in the SurePay Plan
- Closure of the designated bank account
- Failure to maintain a sufficient balance in the designated bank account
- Stop payment on the SurePay Plan payment
- Revocation of the SurePay Plan authorization
- SurePay payments are not made when due for any other reasons

Please contact our Collections department at 800-205-7555 to request a new SurePay authorization form if your bank account has changed.

Thank you.

Sincerely,

Diamond Resorts Financial Services

DIAMOND LUXURY PROGRAM

I understand THE Club[®] at Diamond Resorts International[®] offers a valuable cruise and hotel benefit that allows a member to cover 20 to 30 percent of the cost of a cruise, hotel and shopping benefits that are part of the Diamond Luxury Program at 20 to 30 cents per point.

BELOW IS AN EXAMPLE OF HOW THIS BENEFIT WORKS FOR PLATINUM AND GOLD MEMBERS:

7-Night Southern Caribbean Cruise with Celebrity Cruises[®], March 26, 2016, on the Celebrity Summit

- Example cost for two people in a Balcony Stateroom for this cruise is $3,178.00
- You may choose to pay for up to 30% of this cruise with your points; you are provided an instant redemption rate of $.30 per point
- $$3,178.00 \times 30\% = \953.40 , so subtracting this from the total cost means your cash purchase is now $2,224.60
- $$953.40$ divided by $.30 per point = 3,178 points

This cruise can be booked for $2,224.60 and 3,178 points!

BELOW IS AN EXAMPLE OF HOW THIS BENEFIT WORKS FOR SILVER AND STANDARD MEMBERS:

7-Night Mexican Baja/Riviera Cruise with Carnival Cruise Lines[®], April 16, 2016 on the Carnival Miracle

- Example cost for two people in a Balcony Stateroom[™] for this cruise is $1,298.00
- You may choose to pay for up to 20% of this cruise with your points; you are provided an instant redemption rate of $.20 per point
- $$1,298.00 \times 20\% = \259.60 , so subtracting this from the total cost means your cash purchase is now $1,038.40
- $$259.60$ divided by $.20 per point = 1,298 points

This cruise can be booked for $1,038.40 and 1,298 points!

[Handwritten signature] I understand that when using these cruise, hotel, and shopping benefits, the points will automatically be redeemed against the purchase price and that no monetary amount will be sent to me

[Handwritten signature] I understand that the Diamond Luxury Cruise and Hotel program occasionally referred to as the 20/20 or 30/30 program cannot be applied to maintenance fees or any other benefit.

CONTRACT NUMBER _____

I understand The Club® Annual Global Reservations Directory is available online at DiamondResorts.com and it contains all of the points values for every resort within The Club. I also understand that the average points value for a one-week stay within my Collection is approximately: 4,000 for a studio; 5,500 for a one-bedroom; 7,500 for a two-bedroom; and 8,500 for a three-bedroom.

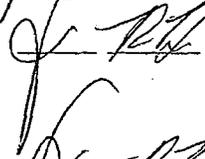

I understand for some resorts, when there is availability 59 days or less prior to arrival, then the standard check-in day weekly points values are discounted by 50%. Discounted offers are subject to change as demand dictates and may not apply to the same resorts each month. For short stay points values, a 50% discount will apply to all reservations made within 30 days of arrival. These reservations offer exceptional value for those with flexible travel plans and are offered on a first-come, first-served basis and are subject to availability. Holiday, summer and other highly demanded weeks/resorts are not typically available.

You will be billed annually for your Club dues and Association maintenance fees. You must be current on all of your Club dues and fees to use the system. The maintenance fee on this purchase of Collection Points is approximately $ _____ this year and is subject to change each subsequent year. You will receive your new maintenance fee invoice in approximately 45 days. You will still be responsible for any maintenance fee(s) on any other property you may own outside of this purchase.

I understand the minimum number of points required for each Loyalty level is:
Silver – 15,000 points; Gold – 30,000 points; Platinum – 50,000 points. There are no other Loyalty levels in The Club.

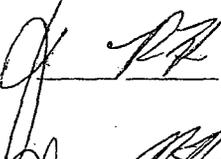

ONLY Platinum members can redeem up to 50,000 points to pay part of their annual maintenance fees, but that does not represent the best use of points. There is a $100 transaction fee and the redemption value is currently $0.04 per point. Borrowed or saved points cannot be redeemed to offset the cost of maintenance fees, and points must be redeemed between November 1 and December 31 for the following year's payment.

I understand that if I elect to use my points for reimbursement for Travel Services, the following rules apply.

1. Points redemption values are $0.07 per point for Standard members, $0.08 for Silver members for up to 20% of the cost of the service booked.
2. Points redemption values are $0.09 for Gold members and $0.10 for Platinum members for up to 100% of the cost of the service booked.
3. There is a $47 transaction fee, discounted for Loyalty members, which is subject to change.

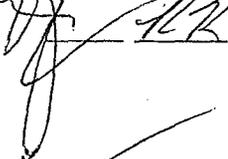

Diamond Dream Holiday Bonus Points cannot be redeemed for Member Benefits; only points that have been purchased may be used for Member Benefits. Bonus points are available 10 months before check-in and do not qualify for the 13-month Home Collection Advantage.

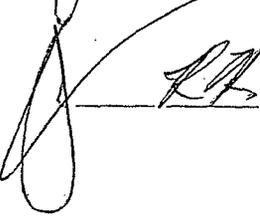

I understand The Club offers a valuable cruise, hotel and shopping benefit that allows a member to cover 20 percent of the cost of cruise, hotel and shopping benefits that are part of the Diamond Luxury Program at 20 cents per point for Standard and Silver members. Gold and Platinum members can cover 30 percent of the cost for up to 30 cents per point. I also understand that when using these cruise, hotel, and shopping benefits, the points will automatically be redeemed against the purchase price and that no money will be sent to me.

I understand that my membership is perpetual and can be passed on to my heirs, if my heirs elect to receive my membership, but there is no obligation for them to accept the membership.

I am purchasing this for personal use and enjoyment and it does not create an undue financial burden for me. I am not purchasing a membership as a financial investment or for financial returns of any kind, including through resale, rental, or tax advantages. Diamond Resorts does not offer a resale or buyback program and makes no representation regarding tax deductions, refinancing opportunities, or that there will be a secondary market for the sale of points. Points do not typically appreciate in value. I may not engage in any commercial rental activities to rent out points for cash through online or print advertising to the general public and understand that my membership may be suspended or terminated if I do.

I have been given as much time as I want and need to review all of the documents provided to me by my Vacation Counselor and I acknowledge that I have been given the opportunity to ask my Vacation Counselor any questions I may have.

Your Membership is a "right-to-use" timeshare interest and does not expire. You will not receive a deed to real property. To use your Points You must make reservations according to the Rules and Regulations, which along with the other Collection Instruments, Diamond has the right to modify. Reservations are granted on a "first-come, first-served," space-available basis. You will not have the guaranteed right to reserve or use any particular Use Period or Collection Accommodation.
2. Maintenance Fees. You must pay Assessments (also known as "Maintenance Fees") annually to the Association for as long as you own your Membership. The amount of the Maintenance Fees will increase annually to maintain the quality of the Collection's resorts. These annual increases are subject to the limits described in the Collection Instruments. If You do not timely pay all Maintenance Fees and any other amounts owed, You may be prohibited from making a reservation, using a Collection Accommodation, or exercising any other rights of Membership. Continued failure to pay Maintenance Fees will also result in the loss of your Membership. You must pay Maintenance Fees even if you do not use the Collection Accommodations.
3. Transfers and Resale of Membership. You must receive approval from the Association and pay a transfer fee before you sell or transfer your Membership. The Association may deny a transfer of Your Membership to another if the buyer is a known or suspected fraudulent Person or is delinquent in the payment of any fees to Diamond or the Association. A transfer fee will apply for approved transfers. Diamond does not currently offer a resale, buyback or rental program. No transfer fee will apply if your Membership passes to an heir or beneficiary upon your death.
4. Exchange Companies. You may voluntarily elect to enroll in THE Club exchange program, at which time You are required to pay THE Club fees. THE Club is operated by Diamond Resorts International Club, Inc. ("DRIC"). Dues for THE Club may be collected together with your Maintenance Fees. DRIC must consent to any transfer of membership in THE Club. Transfer of your Collection Membership does not transfer your membership in THE Club without the written consent of DRIC. THE Club is currently affiliated with Interval International, Inc. ("Interval") and as a member of THE Club You currently have access to Interval's exchange services. Exchanges through Interval are subject to Interval's conditions and fees. Diamond does not control or make any representations about Interval, or any other exchange programs, including current or future exchange services and the cost, or availability of any exchange program. If You elect not to join THE Club, You will not have access to the additional resorts that are or may become affiliated with THE Club and with Interval, and will be limited to use of only the component sites included in the Collection.

5. Financing of Purchase Price. Subject to Diamond's approval, You may pay for your Membership through credit from Diamond ("Financing"). You must sign and deliver an installment Promissory Note (the "Note") payable to Diamond for the Unpaid Balance. If requesting Financing, You authorize Diamond to check your credit, including through a consumer reporting agency. You may be prohibited from making a reservation or using a Collection Accommodation, or exercising any other rights you would otherwise have, unless You timely pay all amounts due under the Note.
6. Third-Party Timeshare. If You relinquish a timeshare interest in another timeshare resort ("Third-Party Timeshare") as partial payment for your Membership, You agree to sign and deliver a deed or other instrument acceptable to Diamond, conveying all of your interest in the Third-Party Timeshare to Diamond or a party designated by Diamond, free and clear of any debt not expressly approved by Diamond ("Deed-transfer"). Diamond may record the Deed-transfer at Closing (described in Section 18 below). Until Closing occurs, You are responsible for all obligations related to the Third-Party Timeshare, including paying assessments and fees ("Third-Party Timeshare Obligations"). If the Closing doesn't happen, the Deed-transfer will be canceled and returned to You, and You will remain responsible for the Third-Party Timeshare Obligations.
7. Escrow. All payments made to Diamond before Closing will be held in escrow in a non-interest bearing account by First American Title Insurance Company ("Escrow Agent") according to a Master Escrow Agreement. You expressly waive any right to earn interest on the escrow account. Escrow Agent's address is 400 S. Rampart Boulevard, Suite 290, Las Vegas, Nevada 89145. Escrow Agent will hold all funds until Closing or this Agreement is canceled.
8. Closing. "Closing" is the date when all of the following have occurred: (i) any cancellation period has expired and You have not exercised your right to cancel in writing; (ii) You and Diamond have signed all documents needed to transfer the Membership to You; and (iii) Diamond has received from You either (a) a signed Note for the Unpaid Balance, or (b) the Unpaid Balance in immediately available funds. You agree to execute any further documents necessary and to otherwise cooperate to effectuate the Closing and fulfill the purposes of this Agreement, the Note, and the Deed-Transfer (as applicable). Upon Closing, the Association will place your name in the Register of Members and give You a Points Certificate. If Closing has not happened within one year after this Agreement is signed or You have exercised your right to cancel this Agreement, Diamond will order Escrow Agent to refund any funds held on Agreement your behalf, without interest, to You. Cancellation terminates this Agreement in its entirety.
9. Security Interests. You grant to Diamond a security interest and lien on all of your interest and rights in the Membership (the "Security Interest"). This Security Interest is granted to secure your performance under the Note, this Agreement, and the Collection Instruments. You irrevocably authorize Diamond, as a secured party, to file any financing statement, continuations, or amendments necessary or desirable to perfect, preserve, and protect the Security Interest.
10. Jointly and Severally Liable. If two or more individuals purchase a Membership together, then ownership is as joint tenants with rights of survivorship, and not as tenants-in-common. Everyone who purchases a Membership must keep all of the obligations made in this Agreement. Diamond can enforce its rights against each purchaser separately.
11. Diamond's Obligations. You agree that immediately after Closing, Diamond will have no obligations or liabilities under this Agreement. After Closing, you must look to the Association and the Manager to fulfill or maintain your rights as a Member of the Collection.
12. Indemnity. You agree to indemnify and hold Diamond harmless from and against all loss, threat of loss, suits, claims, actions, liabilities, damages, obligations, demands, costs and expenses (including attorney's fees) connected to You defaulting in any of the obligations of this Agreement, the Note, or the Collection Instruments.
13. NO WARRANTIES. DIAMOND MAKES NO WARRANTIES, EXPRESS OR IMPLIED, OF ANY TYPE WHATSOEVER REGARDING THE COLLECTION OR THE COLLECTION ACCOMMODATIONS, INCLUDING BUT NOT LIMITED TO WARRANTIES OF HABITABILITY, MERCHANTABILITY, OR FITNESS FOR A PARTICULAR PURPOSE. DIAMOND EXPRESSLY DISCLAIMS, AND YOU IRREVOCABLY WAIVE, EACH OF THE FOREGOING WARRANTIES.
14. Default by You.
 - 14.1 Event of Default. You are in default if any of these things happen:
 - (i) You do not pay Diamond any amounts due under this Agreement, the Note or the Collection Instruments and You do not cure this failure within 10 days after You receive written notice of nonpayment.
 - (ii) You do not fulfill any other obligation in the Note, this Agreement or any of the Collection Instruments and You do not cure this failure within 30 days after You receive written notice about your failure; or
 - (iii) any information You have provided in the Note, this Agreement or any written statement given to Diamond or the Association is false or misleading.

14.2 Your Default before Closing. If You default prior to Closing and do not cure such default on or before Closing, Diamond can immediately terminate this Agreement and all of your rights in this Agreement. After termination, Diamond will keep (or cause Escrow Agent to give to Diamond) all money You paid under this Agreement as liquidated damages and not as a penalty.

14.3 Your Default after Closing. If You default after Closing and do not cure the default within the applicable time period, Diamond (or its successor or assign) may

- (i) give you written notice that your Membership will be terminated and then terminate your Membership; (including any existing reservations) within 60 days of the date of the notice and keep all amounts paid as liquidated damages and not as a penalty;
- (ii) declare all amounts due under the Note and this Agreement immediately due and payable;
- (iii) enforce the Security Interest against your Membership according to Article 9 of the UCC and applicable law; and
- (iv) pursue any other remedy available. Diamond may pursue any or all of these remedies; the exercise of one right or remedy does not exclude any other rights or remedies available.

15. Default by Diamond. If Diamond does not comply with the material provisions of this Agreement, then Diamond's only obligation is to refund or cause Escrow Agent to refund to You all payments previously made under this Agreement, without interest. After such refund is made, this Agreement is automatically canceled, and all rights and obligations in this Agreement immediately terminate. TO THE EXTENT PERMITTED BY APPLICABLE LAW, YOU WAIVE ALL RIGHTS AND REMEDIES THAT MIGHT OTHERWISE BE AVAILABLE TO YOU, AT LAW OR IN EQUITY.

16. ARBITRATION PROVISION ("Provision").

16.1 Arbitration of Claims. Any Claim (defined in Section 26.2 below) between You and Diamond, whether preexisting, present or future, arising from or relating to this Agreement or the Collection shall, at the election of either party, be arbitrated on an individual basis before JAMS (www.jamsadr.org, 1-800-352-5267) pursuant to its Streamlined Rules. If JAMS cannot serve and the parties cannot agree on a substitute, the American Arbitration Association ("AAA," www.adr.org) shall serve as the arbitration body for the Claim. The Federal Arbitration Act ("FAA"), 9 U.S.C. § 1 et seq., shall govern the interpretation and enforcement of this Provision. A single neutral arbitrator shall be appointed. The arbitrator shall follow applicable substantive law consistent with the FAA, apply applicable statutes of limitations, honor valid claims of privilege, and issue a written reasoned decision which will be final and binding except for any review under the FAA. The arbitrator may award all remedies that would apply in an individual court action (subject to constitutional limits that would apply in court). Any in-person hearing will be held in Clark County, Nevada unless otherwise agreed. If you initiate an individual arbitration, Diamond will pay all administrative and arbitrator fees exceeding $250. Solely for purposes of this Provision, "Diamond" also means Diamond's parent companies, subsidiaries and affiliates; Diamond's and their employees, officers and directors; and any other person or entity named as a defendant or respondent in a Claim by You against Diamond. "You" also means your heirs, successors and assigns.

16.2 Claims. "Claim" shall be broadly construed and includes, without limitation, disputes concerning: purchase, financing, ownership or occupancy; breach, termination, cancellation or default; condition of any Collection Accommodation; THE Club or other exchange programs; reservations, points or rewards programs; applications and personal information; marketing or sales solicitations, representations, advertisements, promotions or disclosures; and collection of delinquent amounts and the manner of collection. "Claim" also includes disputes based upon contract, tort, consumer rights, fraud and other intentional torts, constitution, statute, Uniform Commercial Code, regulation, ordinance, common law and equity. "Claim" does not include: (i) disputes about the validity, enforceability, coverage or scope of this Provision or any part thereof, which are for a court to decide, provided that disputes about the validity or enforceability of this Agreement as a whole are for the arbitrator to decide; (ii) any individual action by You in small claims or an equivalent court, unless that action is transferred, removed or appealed to a different court; or (iii) Diamond's use of judicial or non-judicial relief to enforce a security agreement, relating to the Membership. The institution and maintenance of any such action shall not waive any party's right to compel arbitration of any other Claim subject to arbitration, including, without limitation, the filing of a counterclaim in a suit brought by Diamond. In any such action commenced by Diamond, you may assert any cognizable defense permitted by applicable law which does not seek any form of affirmative relief from Diamond, including, without limitation, damages.

16.3 Class Action Waiver. If a Claim is arbitrated or would be arbitrable under section 16.2, neither You nor Diamond will have the right to (i) participate in a class action in court or in arbitration, either as a class representative or class member, (ii) act as a private attorney general in court or in arbitration, or (iii) join or consolidate Claim(s) with claims of any other person or entity. The arbitrator shall have no authority to conduct any class, private attorney general or multiple-party proceeding or to issue any relief that applies to any person or entity except You and Diamond individually.

16.4 Application of the Provision. An arbitration award may be enforced in any court with jurisdiction. This Provision shall survive the breach, cancellation, termination or rescission of this Agreement, and any bankruptcy to the extent permitted by law. This Provision governs if it conflicts with the Agreement or the arbitration rules. If any part of this Provision other than the Class Action Waiver is declared unenforceable, the remainder shall be enforceable. If the Class Action Waiver is declared unenforceable in a proceeding between You and Diamond, without impairing the right to appeal such decision, this entire Provision (except for this sentence) shall be null and void in such proceeding.

16.5 Right to Reject Arbitration Provision. You may reject this Provision by sending Diamond a written notice which gives your name and Agreement number with a statement that you reject the Arbitration Provision. The rejection notice must be sent by certified mail, return receipt requested, to 10600 West Charleston Blvd., Las Vegas, Nevada 89135, Attn: Arbitration Rejection Notice. A rejection notice must be signed by you and received by Diamond within thirty (30) days after the date of this Agreement. Rejection of arbitration will not affect any other term of this Agreement.

16.6 Your Acknowledgment. You have read, understand and voluntarily agree to this Arbitration Provision and acknowledge that if a Claim is arbitrated or is arbitrable, You will have no right to have a court or jury trial or participate in a class action.

17. Additional Important Information.

No Other Agreements	This Agreement is the only agreement that governs the purchase of your Membership, and supersedes and replaces all prior negotiations, agreements, and understandings, both oral and written. No amendment to or modification of this Agreement is valid without the written approval of Diamond's legal counsel.
Notices	You must give all notices in writing. Notices to you may be made either in person, by telephone, electronic mail, or writing. Written notices may be delivered, emailed or mailed, to each party at its address shown in this Agreement, or other address provided. A written notice is considered given and received when delivered, or emailed, or 3 business days after it is deposited into the mail, properly addressed. If multiple individuals own this Membership, notice to one of you is considered notice to all of you. If you are a corporation or entity, notice to you may be made to any corporate officer or general partner.
Governing Law; Waiver of Jury Trial	This Agreement is governed by Nevada law without regard to Nevada's choice of law rules. You must bring any legal action in Clark County, Nevada. EXCEPT AS OTHERWISE PROVIDED BY APPLICABLE LAW, YOU WAIVE YOUR RIGHT TO A TRIAL BY JURY FOR A LEGAL ACTION ARISING UNDER THIS AGREEMENT.
Assignment	Your Membership cannot be sold, assigned, transferred, conveyed, or encumbered except as this Agreement allows. You cannot assign your rights under this Agreement and Note without Diamond's written consent, which Diamond may withhold. Diamond may assign its rights under this Agreement.
Severability	The terms of this Agreement are severable. The invalidity of any term of this Agreement does not affect any other term of this Agreement.
Credit Reporting	We may report information about your account to credit bureaus. Late payments, missed payments, or other defaults on your account may be reflected in your credit report.
Miscellaneous	This Agreement is effective as of the date You sign and any cancellation period begins on the date you sign. This Agreement may be signed in counterparts. No provision is waived by failure of a party to enforce it. You give Diamond the right to correct any clerical or other non-material errors in this Agreement or related documents. The captions in this Agreement are for informational purposes only.

18. Electronic Transactions.

18.1 Electronic Signatures and Copies. This Agreement, together with all related documents and instruments to be signed You and Diamond, may be executed electronically or manually. Execution may be completed in counterparts (including both counterparts that are executed on paper and counterparts that are electronic records and executed electronically), which together constitute a single agreement. As between You and Diamond, any copy of this Agreement (including a copy printed from an image of this Agreement that has been stored electronically) shall have the same legal effect as an original.

18.2 Transferable Record. If Diamond is providing Financing to You and You sign an electronically created Note (the "eNote") using an electronic signature, You agree that the eNote will be a "transferable record" under the Uniform Electronic Transactions Act and the Electronic Signatures in Global and National Commerce Act.

18.3 Provenance. Diamond shall upload all applicable electronically executed documents or instruments, including without limitation this Agreement and any eNote, to Diamond's electronic vault hosted by eOriginal, Inc. or a similar vendor (the "Original Vault"). If any document or instrument is manually executed, Diamond may, in its discretion, convert the tangible record of the document or instrument into electronic form and cause the electronic version to be uploaded to the Original Vault. Collectively, any document or instrument uploaded to the Original Vault shall be referred to as a "Vaulted Document." For purposes of establishing security interests or rights in, or title to, any Vaulted Document, You and Diamond agree as follows

- (a) no original, tangible, or manually executed Vaulted Document will be the authoritative copy, original, or transferable record of the Vaulted Document;
- (b) except as expressly provided in subsection (e) below, possession of a tangible, manually executed original, transferable record or copy of the Vaulted Document will not perfect or prove any security interest, or establish title to or any other right;
- (c) the sole authoritative copy and transferable record of any Vaulted Document will be the one uploaded into the Original Vault (the "Authoritative Copy");
- (d) at Diamond's or its successor's discretion, the Authoritative Copy of any Vaulted Document may be printed and marked or designated by Diamond or such successor as the tangible Authoritative Copy of the Vaulted Document; and
- (e) no person or entity (including, without limitation, any lender, subsequent assignee or purchaser, custodian or trustee of any Vaulted Document) will have rights in, title to or a security interest in such Vaulted Document, unless such person or entity can demonstrate that it has possession or control of the Authoritative Copy of the Vaulted Document (whether in tangible or electronic form) whose provenance can be established to the initial authoritative copy first uploaded to the Original Vault.

18.4 Rights to Vaulted Documents. Any person who asserts or attempts to gain title to or a security interest or rights in, any Vaulted Document by any procedure except as provided above, including by possession of a tangible, manually executed original or copy or an electronic, non-authoritative copy of such Vaulted Document, violates the rights of Diamond and any subsequent assignee.

KLINGEL (hereinafter, whether one or more, referred to as "Maker"), whose address is 43 Empress Pines Drive Nesconset, New York 11767, and Diamond Resorts U.S. Collection Development, LLC, a Delaware limited liability company ("Diamond Resorts"), whose address and principal place of business is c/o Customer Service, Diamond Resorts Financial Services, Inc., 10600 West Charleston Boulevard, Las Vegas, Nevada 89135 (the "Agreement"). This Note will become effective upon the lapse of the cancellation period provided in the Agreement (provided that Maker does not exercise Maker's cancellation right) or, if later, the Closing described in the Agreement (the "Effective Date").

FOR VALUE RECEIVED, Maker promises to pay to the order of Diamond Resorts and any successor or assign thereof, including, without limitation, any subsequent holder hereof ("Holder"), at the address for Diamond Resorts set forth above or at such other place as Holder may from time to time designate in writing, in lawful money of the United States, the principal amount of Twelve Thousand Two Hundred Twenty-Seven and 00/100 ($12,227.00), together with a monthly collection fee of Six ($6.00) and a monthly finance charge computed in the manner set forth below at a fixed annual rate of Thirteen and 99/100 (13.99%) (the "Annual Rate"). As set forth in the Truth in Lending Disclosure Statement provided to you, both the collection fee and the monthly finance charge are treated as finance charges included in the computation of the Annual Percentage Rate under the federal Truth in Lending Act. Maker shall pay Holder in 120 equal monthly installments of One Hundred Eighty-Nine and 77/100 Dollars ($189.77) each, with the first such installment being due and payable on _____ (the "First Payment Date"), and a like installment to be due and payable on or before the same day of each calendar month thereafter (the "Payment Date"). (Notwithstanding the foregoing: (1) if the First Payment Date is in the last three days of a calendar month and there is no day in a particular calendar month that corresponds to the First Payment Date, the Payment Date for such calendar month will be the first day of the subsequent month; and (2) if any Payment Date falls on a day that is not a business day, the Payment Date will be the next business day thereafter.) On the final Payment Date _____ (the "Maturity Date"), the entire principal balance due hereunder, together with any finance charges and other fees and charges, shall be immediately due and payable. Time is of the essence with respect to all of Maker's obligations hereunder.

If Maker has separately agreed to the terms of Holder's "SurePay Plan," an automatic payment plan whereby scheduled monthly payments of principal and interest payments on this Promissory Note and the collection fee are automatically deducted from Maker's bank account on each Payment Date, then immediately upon the occurrence of any of the following described events, Maker's participation in the SurePay Plan will terminate: (i) at any time prior to the Maturity Date, Maker elects to terminate his or her participation in the SurePay Plan; (ii) Maker closes the designated bank account; or (iii) on more than one occasion, a SurePay payment is not made when due for any reason (including Maker's failure to maintain a sufficient balance in the designated bank account to cover any required payment). In such event, the Interest Rate shall increase by Two percent (2%) per annum and the monthly payment will increase to the level sufficient to repay all principal, interest and collection fees by the Maturity Date through equal monthly payments on each Payment Date. The increase in the Interest Rate shall be effective retroactively to the date of the last payment made under the SurePay Plan, and the increase in payment amount shall apply to the next payment due after the last such SurePay payment.

Each monthly installment shall be applied first to late charges, then to the collection fee, then to monthly finance charges and finally to unpaid principal. Each month, the monthly finance charge will be based on the scheduled principal balance (regardless of exactly when payments are actually received) and a monthly rate of finance charge equal to the Annual Rate divided by twelve (12). Maker may prepay the outstanding principal balance hereof, in whole or in part, at any time without premium or penalty. However, partial prepayments will not reduce finance charges and will not postpone the due date of any subsequent monthly installments or change the amount of such installments unless Holder otherwise agrees in writing. In the event this Note is prepaid in full, Holder will charge a monthly finance charge for that month equal to the scheduled principal balance at the beginning of the month, times the Annual Rate, times a fraction equal to the number of days from the immediately preceding Payment Date through the date of prepayment divided by the number of days in the year. Holder will not charge any collection fee for the month of prepayment and Holder will not charge any collection fees and monthly finance charges attributable to months following any prepayment in full.

This Promissory Note is given in partial payment for a membership in the Diamond Resorts U.S. Collection (the "Membership"). Payment of principal, finance charges and other charges hereunder is secured by a security interest established under the Purchase and Security Agreement (the "Agreement") of even date herewith by and between Diamond Resorts, as seller, and Maker, as purchaser. The terms and provisions of the Agreement are hereby fully incorporated herein by this reference.

If all or any part of the Membership or an interest therein is sold or otherwise transferred by Maker (whether such interest is legal or equitable, present or future, vested or contingent) without Holder's prior written consent (which consent may be withheld for any reason whatsoever), excluding (i) the creation of a lien or encumbrance subordinate to the Agreement; (ii) a transfer by devise, descent, or operation of law upon the death of a joint tenant; or (iii) the grant of any leasehold interest of one (1) week or less not containing an option to purchase the Membership, then Holder may, at Holder's option, except to the extent prohibited by law, declare all of the amounts secured by the Agreement to be immediately due and payable.

Upon the failure of Maker to make any payment required under this Promissory Note in accordance with the terms hereof or Maker's breach of any of the other covenants or agreements contained herein or in the Agreement, then and in such event, Holder, at Holder's option, subject to any right of reinstatement to which Maker is entitled under applicable law, may (i) declare, without further demand, all of the amounts owed hereunder to be immediately due and payable; and (ii) pursue all rights and remedies available to Holder under this Promissory Note and the Agreement by appropriate proceedings. To the extent permitted by law, Holder shall be entitled to collect in such proceedings all expenses of enforcement, including but not limited to reasonable attorneys' fees, publication costs, costs of judgment and other searches, and court costs. Failure of Holder to exercise its available rights and remedies hereunder or as provided by law with respect to any default by Maker shall not be deemed to constitute a waiver of such rights or remedies with respect to any subsequent default, whether the same or different in nature.

In the event that any amount due under this Promissory Note is paid more than ten (10) days after the date upon which such amount is due, then Holder shall be entitled to collect a late charge from Maker in an amount equal to the lesser of (i) Twenty-Five Dollars ($25.00) or (ii) ten percent (10%) of the overdue installment, provided that such amount does not exceed the maximum late charge permitted to be charged under the laws of the State of Nevada. To the extent permitted by law, Maker shall further be liable to Holder for any out-of-pocket costs incurred by Holder in the event that a check issued by Maker is dishonored for any reason.

During any time in which Maker is in default under this Promissory Note, finance charges may, at Holder's option, accrue on the actual outstanding balance on a simple interest basis at a default rate equal to the maximum lawful rate permitted to be charged by Holder under the laws of the State of Nevada. In the event that there is no such maximum lawful rate, then finance charges shall accrue on the actual outstanding balance on a simple interest basis during such period at a default rate of twenty-five percent (25%) per annum.

In the event that counsel is employed to collect all or any part of the indebtedness evidenced hereby, whether at maturity or following acceleration, to the extent permitted by law Maker agrees to pay Holder's reasonable attorneys' fees, whether suit be brought or not (including any fees associated with appeals or bankruptcy proceedings), and all other costs and expenses reasonably incurred in connection with Holder's collection efforts.

Maker and any endorser, guarantor, or surety, jointly and severally, hereby waive presentment, protest, demand, notice of protest, and dishonor of this Promissory Note, and expressly agree that this Promissory Note, or any payment hereunder, may be extended from time to time without in any way affecting the liability of Maker or any endorser, guarantor, or surety hereof. To the extent not prohibited by applicable law, Maker also waives any rights to any stay of execution and the benefit of all homestead and/or other exemption laws now or hereafter in effect.

This Promissory Note shall be the joint and several obligation of each person signing below and shall apply to and bind each of them and each of their respective heirs, successors, personal representatives, and assigns.

The validity, construction, and enforceability of, and the rights and obligations of Maker and Holder under, this Promissory Note shall be governed by, construed, and enforced in accordance with the laws of the State of Nevada.

In the event that any one or more of the provisions of this Promissory Note shall for any reason be held to be invalid or unenforceable, in whole or in part or in any respect, then such provision or provisions only shall be disregarded as though not contained herein and shall not affect any other provision of this Promissory Note, and the remaining provisions of this Promissory Note shall remain operative and in full force and effect and shall in no way be affected, prejudiced, or disturbed thereby.

It is the intent of Holder to comply fully with all interest and usury laws of the State of Nevada, as currently enacted or hereafter in effect. Notwithstanding any provision hereof to the contrary, in no event shall this Promissory Note require the payment or permit the collection of interest in excess of the maximum amount of interest permitted under the laws of the State of Nevada. In the event that the amount of interest contracted for, charged, or received under this Promissory Note exceeds the maximum amount of interest permitted under the laws of the State of Nevada, then the provisions of this paragraph shall govern and control, and neither

Maker nor any other person or entity now or hereafter liable for the payment hereof shall be obligated to pay the amount of such interest to the extent that it exceeds the maximum amount of interest permitted under the laws of the State of Nevada. Any such excess interest which may have been collected by Holder shall, at the option of Holder, either be applied as a credit against the unpaid principal balance hereof or be refunded to Maker, and the effective rate of interest shall be reduced to the maximum rate of interest permitted to be charged under the laws of the State of Nevada.

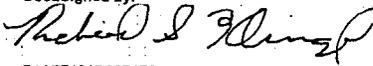

Except for any notice required under applicable law to be given in another manner, any notice that either party desires or is required to give the other party under this Promissory Note shall be in writing and shall be deemed to have been duly given upon the earlier to occur of (a) its actual receipt; (b) three (3) business days after being deposited in the United States mail as first class mail, postage prepaid; or (c) one (1) business day after being sent via overnight courier service such as Federal Express, addressed to the applicable party at the address therefor stated herein or at such other address as the receiving party has previously notified the giving party in the manner prescribed in this paragraph. If Maker consists of more than one (1) person, then notice to any of them shall be deemed to constitute notice to all of them.

To be eligible for the Program, you must purchase at least 50% of the declared amount of Points which you intend to deposit into the Program today and you must qualify (or have purchased enough Points, including your assigned Club Combination Points to qualify) for loyalty level status in The Club. Because you have purchased 5000 Collection Points today, each Use Year you will be allowed to assign to The Club the use and occupancy rights you own associated with 10005 timeshare ownership interest ("Qualifying Interest") located within a resort property, that is not a boat or campground, which is affiliated with II or RCI ("Qualifying Resort") in exchange for Points in The Club. A Qualifying Interest is a timeshare interest you own in a Qualifying Resort and which falls into one or more of the following three categories ("Participation Categories"): (i) an independent resort property or multisite vacation ownership plan that is not affiliated with The Club through an affiliation agreement or otherwise; (ii) a resort property which may be affiliated with The Club but does not allow owners within such resort to convert their timeshare interests into The Club pursuant to restrictions set forth in the controlling affiliation agreement or other document governing such resort, or (iii) is not managed by Diamond Resorts Management, Inc. or Resort Management International, Inc. Each use year, you remain liable for the ownership of your Qualifying Interest, as well as any and all maintenance fees due, taxes, assessments and/or loan obligations related to it.

Points Valuations

The Club is not responsible for the actions of your Qualifying Resort should your Qualifying Resort refuse to participate with the Program and not exchange with The Club.

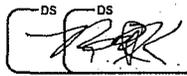

Use of Points

Points associated with the Program count toward your Club loyalty level status regardless of whether your Qualifying Interest is assigned to The Club or not. Points are only eligible for reservations if the Qualifying Interest is assigned and deposited with The Club. You must make a reservation for your Qualifying Interest in the name of the Program and reservations deposited with The Club must only be for seven (7) consecutive nights. The qualifying reservation must be deposited with The Club at least 6 months prior to the first date of occupancy and not more than 2 years in advance. The reservation must be confirmed by the Qualifying Resort and The Club or partner company of The Club. There shall be no cost to The Club or the in-bound guest, for reservation or other fees by the Qualifying Resort, this includes all-inclusive Qualifying Resorts, based on double occupancy. Points will be made available the same Use Year as the Use Year in which your qualifying reservation arrival date occurs. Points based on the deposit of a Qualifying Interest with The Club may only be used for reservations at Club Resorts. Points may also be used for Club Benefits such as travel services, home and lifestyle, money matters, etc. You must use your Points in accordance with the Club Documents, which entitle you to make reservations at Club Resorts 10 months or less from the arrival date. If you cease to own your Qualifying Interest, points in this Program will no longer count towards loyalty status.

Fees

You will retain ownership of your Qualifying Interest and you will remain liable for any and all maintenance fees due, taxes, assessments and/or loan obligations for points associated with the Qualifying Interest whether deposited with the Program or not, and ensure there are no encumbrances affecting your use rights.
