Dear Pam Bondi,

I don't know if you can help my wife & me or not but I have to start somewhere.

We attended a sales meeting with Diamond Retreat International.

They have lied to us and got us in debt up to our ears.

They have a real big scam going. I hope you have heard from others about these ways of doing business. Any help on this matter would be grateful.

On August 23, 2018 I signed a contract with Diamond Resorts. My location was the Tiki Village, Orlando Florida - This organization has several locations: Florida, Las Vegas, California. I signed a contract to purchase points for family vacations for 10 years. I paid an initial deposit of $2,600.00 with a monthly obligation of $174.48 until the balance of $10,855.00 to be paid within 10 years. Upon my return home, I had been told that my points could be used immediately yet when I called I was told my points would not be available until 2020. Yet there was a maintenance fee due in January 2019. Also when I reviewed my contract there was a discrepancy in the contract. It stated that I was being charged 120 equal payments in monthly installments of $168.48 of $168.48 with no installment date for the 1st and last payment of the contract.

In actuality they withdrew $174.48 monthly ^{from my checking account.} I wrote a letter to cancel my contract on August 31st 2018 with a letter to the organization (Diamond Resorts)
I faxed that letter to this official number written in the contract which was (702)
240-1986. I followed up this letter that I had faxed with numerous calls to Diamond Resorts and I was given instructions that I would be contacted within 5 business days by Christian Evans.
He never contacted me and when I called he never answered. When I left my number and a message on his voicemail he never returned my call.
There was no attempt to refund my deposit of $2600 and my monthly payments of $174.48 for October, November and the $5000 orientation fee

I would like for Diamond Resorts to return my deposit of $2600.00 along with the monthly installment payments of $174.48 for September, October, November 2018 and the orientation fee of $50.00.

I own a timeshare at Bryan's Spanish Cove (week 9) in Kissimee, FL. I could not use my week this year because the resort was closed due to construction from 2017 hurricane damage.

Usually we deposit an unused week into our RCI bank to be used at a later date. But when we tried to do that we were told by RCI that Diamond Resorts blocked this and we could not deposit our week. Diamond Resorts will not issue a credit for the week they are not letting us use unless

I join ther Destination Xchange program for a cost of $149.00 I do not want to join diamond as I already belong to RCI; in other words I either pay diamond $ 149.00 or I lose my week after they already collected my maintenance fee of $ 1,010.40 for the year 2019. In 2018 they charged us a special assesment due to the 2017 hurricane damage on top of that year maintenance fee.

As I am an original owner I feel that diamond is taking advantage of me and is breaking florida timeshare\property owners law.

Good Afternoon Mr Oconner,

Since your resort is closing for the week that you own, Diamond resorts is providing all of our owners a credit for their lost week. In order to provide you the credit for your lost week you will need to join the Destination Xchange program. We are going to waive the enrollment fee for you, but when it comes to using your week there will be a $149 exchange fee that you will need to pay when booking online and $159 over the phone. Unfortunately we are unable to waive the exchange fee for you. If this is something you would like to take advantage of to save your week (due to resort closure) please give us a call in owner services at 1.800.463.7256.

Thank you,

Nikki

Re: Name: Claudia Hood
Address: 3025 Ems Glen Lane, Arnold, MO 63010
Owner #: 5588804
Dates Purchased: 11/29/08

Dear Ms. Gaxiola:

Our client as referenced has retained this firm in order to take issue with certain sales and business practices employed in the purchase and handling of her resort vacation interest with your company. Your records will reflect that Ms. Hood and her then-husband Guy Hood paid approximately $22,332.81 in consideration of a timeshare interest on March 15, 2009, including an initial cash deposit of $2,243.00, while financing the remaining $20,089.81.

In accordance with 15 U.S.C. § 1692c(a)(2) and/or Fla. Stat. §559.72 we must respectfully insist that all future communications regarding associated obligations be directed to this office. Issues arising from our client's purchase have to do with certain misrepresentations that were made to her during the sales presentation and the inability to access the resort network on reasonable terms and conditions.

Concerning misrepresentations made during the sales process, some background is appropriate. The Hoods were vacationing in the Orlando, Florida area and staying at a Diamond property when they were approached by a member of your marketing team offering to pay for one day of their hotel stay if they would attend a "presentation" of some kind. The nature of the meeting was defined only in vague terms; the Hoods were told that it would involve something new that might interest them. They were led to believe that the meeting would last around one hour.

The Hoods sat through an initiation process involving general information about "vacation ownership." Then, they were shown marketing literature depicting luxurious resort destinations in exotic places all around the world. Our client was led to believe that investment in this opportunity was like membership in an exclusive club, allowing access to all of these resorts and other destinations throughout the network. Ms. Patricia Truelove of the sales staff and manager Mr. Gregory Danner stated that this purchase would appreciate in value similar to an investment in real estate. Mr. Danner and Ms. Truelove led the Hoods to believe that member owners were the only people that would be granted access to the resorts within the network. They also promised a free cruise with a purchase as a "special offer" available for one day only.

After sitting through over three hours of heavy-handed sales pitching, the Hoods wilted under the stress and signed the closing documents. Throughout the closing phase our client was not given adequate time to review the documents. Rather, the closing agent merely flipped through the pages, only stopping to point to where the documents needed to be signed and dated. Our client was ensured that the contract reflected what the sales time presented. However, important disclosures and executions were not properly handled, it now appears, including a review of the public offering statement, and even the conveyance itself.

The sales staff did not explain that many if not most of the destinations depicted in the marketing literature are not accessible except through an exchange network involving additional costs. Also, our client has now come to understand that membership in the resort network does not grant exclusive access to resort accommodations. In fact, it has come to light that she actually has to compete with non-members in order to book reservations. The sales staff did not properly disclose the lack of a re-sale market. And it is clear now that membership in the network is not a financial "investment."

And in spite of all the expense, the Hoods have not been able to access the resort network as promised. In fact, they were only able to use their timeshare on two occasions since they purchased it. The Hoods were most disappointed when they attempted to use their timeshare and upon arrival to the resort, they either were placed in a pest infested room or there was no room at all available for them. Furthermore, the free cruise they received turned out to be far less luxurious than the promotional materials implied.

Mr. and Ms. Hood recently went through a divorce, and the divorce decree contains specific language stating that the timeshare must be sold. Ms. Hood is now a single mother to a sixteen-year-old daughter that requires several lifesaving surgeries. Ms. Hood is now burdened with extensive medical bills and income restrictions. To ask her to continue sacrificing basic needs in order to pay for a luxury good such as a timeshare would be unconscionable.

We hope and trust that this dispute can be resolved. In this regard, our clients are willing to relinquish their vacation ownership interest in exchange for a full refund of all amounts paid thus far. We regret that this proposal will not be extended if we are forced to resort to formal dispute resolution. Thank you for your kind attention to the issues addressed in this correspondence.

Sincerely,

Lucas E. Schwellenbach, Esq.

Re: Name: George and Diana Mendoza
Address: 3214 Doroteo Way Sacramento, CA 95833
Date of Purchase: November 6, 2018

Dear Ms. or Gaxiola:

Our law firm has been hired to contest the validity of the referenced transaction on behalf of our client. This sale occurred on November 6, 2018 when our clients paid $30,755.00 in order to upgrade their account within your company's timeshare network.

Kindly deal exclusively with our office until advised to the contrary under U.S.C. 15 § 1692 and the equivalent state statutory provisions with respect to the issues at hand. These involve certain materially false statements and other shortcomings in the process that occurred during the course of the closing. In addition, our clients are unable to resell points in the new timeshare point marketplace as told. In fact, our clients have since learned that they purchased a package with benefits that are non-existent.

Our clients visited South Lake Tahoe Nevada where they were offered a free dinner and a $75 Visa card, in exchange for agreeing to sit through an informational meeting regarding updates. They were told that it would last 90 minutes. Joseph Bruell told our clients that, starting in 2019, your company would start to charge an assessment fee on Club Combo points and that they had the opportunity to invest in your company's new point system to upgrade; that this was the only way to avoid being assessed a fee on Club Combo points.

Initially, Joseph Bruell stated the only way to avoid this new assessment would be to get rid of Club Combo. During this meeting our clients wrote a hand-written request to your company, requesting an exclusion from the Club Combo upgrade, because of this new point assessment. Mr. Bruell then took our clients request stating the company had accepted this request. However, to accomplish this Mr. Bruell said it would require our clients entering a new contract, a contract with an initial 10,000-point minimum purchase amount. Mr. Bruell then went on to tout the benefits of your program in a number of ways. For instance, he said that investment in this opportunity was like membership in an exclusive club, providing for members-only reservations to all of the resorts and other destinations throughout the Diamond Resort network. They were specifically shown marketing literature portraying the availability of resorts at numerous international and domestic locations. Joseph further stated that this purchase would appreciate in value similar to an investment in real estate, and that your company had a new online portal specifically designed for two-fold; the re-sale of points and an account value, thus enhancing the value of the investment.

Our client was also visibly medically distressed, wearing a shoulder/arm with pillow support and taking prescribed opioid pain medication for suffering right shoulder surgery less than a month prior to what turned out to be a sales presentation. After sitting through over six hours of heavy-handed sales pitching, our clients finally acquiesced under the pressure and signed the closing documents. Throughout the closing phase our clients simply didn't have the time to properly review the documentation, and closing agents deflected whatever questions they had. Rather, Anna Morgan peremptorily rifled through the DocuSign tablet, merely pointing out the blanks to sign off on. Mr. and Mrs. Mendoza are not savvy in real estate matters, trusted that your agent knew more than they did, and wasn't about to take advantage of them. Important disclosures and executions weren't properly handled, it now appears, including a review of the public offering statement, and even the conveyance itself.

The sales staff did not disclose that many of the resorts depicted in the glossy marketing literature are only bookable through access to an exchange network entailing additional upcharges and other fees, specifically a point fee presented as if it were a fixed charge when in fact this charge fluctuates yearly. Our clients have since come to understand that they were misled in this regard, and cannot make reservations at the opulent destinations portrayed in the literature cost effectively, if at all. Our clients are especially disappointed to have learned that non-members of your vacation club can access the resort network, often on more favorable terms and conditions than our client. It is also clear now that membership in the network is not a financial investment in any sense.

Mr. and Mrs. Mendoza are now burdened with suffocating debt, consequently they cannot access the resort network as promised due largely in part to insufficient disclosures concerning annual dues for points and maintenance. The annual dues are already high and they continue to escalate. This has to do with an inherent conflict of interest associated with captive management perpetually vested in your company's affiliate.

Given these compelling legal and equitable issues, we hope and trust that this dispute can be resolved. In this regard, our client is willing to relinquish their vacation ownership interest in exchange for a full refund of all amounts paid thus far. We regret that this proposal will not be extended if we are forced to resort to formal dispute resolution. Thank you for your kind attention to the issues addressed in this correspondence.

Sincerely,

Austin N. Aaronson, Esq.

Re: Rosario A. Rossano and Lorraine Rossano
1069 Sipp Avenue, Medford, NY 11763
Contract No. 16870968
Purchased August 6, 2013

Dear Ms. Gaxiola:

We represent the legal interests of Rosario A. Rossano and Lorraine Rossano with respect to a dispute arising from their purchase of a resort vacation interest with your company. The transaction giving rise to the Rossanos' grievances occurred on August 6, 2013, when they paid $42,830.00 in consideration of a timeshare interest, including an initial deposit of $10,725.00, and financed the remaining $32,855.00, including closing costs.

We must respectfully insist that all future communications regarding the associated obligations be directed to this office in compliance with 15 U.S.C. § 1692c(a)(2) and any analogous state statute. Certain misstatements and other irregularities occurred during the sales presentation with which our clients take issue. Moreover, they complain of problems in accessing the resort network on reasonable terms and conditions, even relative to the consuming public at large.

By way of context, the Rossanos were vacationing at the Mystic Dunes Resort in Orlando, Florida, when they were offered a discount on tickets to Universal Studios and other Walt Disney World theme parks. To claim their prize, they would be required to attend a meeting, the actual nature of which was not revealed to them. Regardless, our clients were told that it would last around 90 minutes.

During the presentation, the Rossanos and their five-year-old grandson sat through a preliminary informational session during which the merits of vacation ownership were generally touted. Our clients have since learned that some of the promises made were untrue. For example, our clients were led to believe that investment in this opportunity was like membership in an exclusive club, allowing access to all of the resorts and other destinations throughout the network. They were specifically shown marketing literature portraying the availability of resorts in domestic and international destinations. The sales representative, Donna McGrath (44300), stated that this purchase would appreciate in value similar to an investment in real estate, and that your company had a resale and rental program to enhance the value of the investment.

The Rossanos repeatedly told Diamond's sales personnel that their main purpose in purchasing a timeshare was to be able to vacation on the east coast of the United States on dates that were convenient for their children, who both work in education and are off from work during school holidays. They also told them that they were both retired, and Mrs. Rossano did not fly. Therefore, they could only go to destinations that were within driving distance. Ms. McGrath assured our clients that they would never have a problem getting the weeks they needed in order to travel with their family even during peak periods. She also told them that there were plenty of resorts that were within driving distance.

Ms. McGrath also assured our clients that Diamond had people who would assist them in booking reservations, but they later found out that these people could not help them get the dates they needed. The dates they needed were never available no matter how far in advance they asked for them. The only dates available were during off-peak times and were not dates they could use to travel with their family.

Diamond's sales personnel also told our clients that their points had monetary value and could be used to pay maintenance fees. However, when they tried to do this as gold members, they were informed that only platinum members had that privilege. When they called to complain, they were told that management had changed the rules and could do so at any time.

During the years that they owned the timeshare, Diamond continually tried to convince our clients to upgrade by buying additional points. They told our clients that this was necessary in order to get more accessibility and better vacations. Our clients responded by saying that they wanted out and that if they could not get vacations with the 15,000 points they already had, they did not think that buying more points was going to help.

It should be noted that even though our clients purchased the timeshare in August of 2013, they were told to wait to schedule their first vacation until January 2014 because their membership would not be active until then. Our clients believe this was done so that it would be too late to cancel their contract by the time they found out the truth about the lack of availability.

The marketing team failed to disclose that much of the access to international and even domestic resort destinations is only available through paying additional exchange network fees. It was not until after our clients actually tried to make reservations that they learned of this. And our clients now realize that their ability to book accommodations is restricted by competition against people booking anonymously through resort websites – non-members of your vacation club. It is also apparent now that membership in the network is not, properly speaking, a financial investment.

After a seven-hour ordeal with their restless grandson by their side, our clients finally succumbed under pressure and signed the closing documents. By this time, our clients were tired and hungry and wanted to leave to think about the purchase, but the sales representative told them that if they did not sign that day, the price would go up. During the documents signing phase, the Rossanos were not accorded a meaningful opportunity to digest the contents of the paperwork involved. Nor did the closing agent, Karina Provost, render any assistance in this respect. Instead, she simply went through the motions, pointing out the places to sign on page after page. Accordingly, certain disclosures, waivers, acknowledgments, and the like were not properly reviewed as lawfully required. Significantly, this includes the public offering statement.

And in spite of all the expense, the Rossanos have not been able to access the resort network as promised. In fact, our clients have only been able to reserve vacation intervals on a few occasions since having joined. They always stayed on the east coast so everything was within driving distance, but they always had difficulty making reservations during peak periods, which was the only time they could travel with their family. Our clients' daughter and son-in-law also tried to use the timeshare to vacation at the Dunes Village Resort in Myrtle Beach, South Carolina, and they were told that there was no availability. They paid on their own for the same place at the same time and were told when they got there that management only makes a few rooms available for timeshare owners, and the rest are for paying customers. In addition to this, they have tried to stay at resorts by the water, but they were never available to them during the summer months, which was the time period they needed.

There exist equitable concerns that we urge you to consider in this instance as well. The Rossanos have financial burdens which preclude them from using their timeshare interest and make it unaffordable for them. Specifically, they are retired and living on a fixed income. Their maintenance fees have been increasing over the years, and they are now paying close to $3,000 per year. This is in addition to their monthly mortgage payments, which are approximately $500 per month. This has placed a significant strain on our clients' financial health, and they have had to make dramatic cuts to their standard of living. Thus, without your kind consideration of our clients' offer, their essential needs will be jeopardized due to the expense of a vacation interest that they can neither use nor afford.

We hope and trust that this dispute can be resolved. In this regard, our clients are willing to relinquish their vacation ownership interest in exchange for a full refund of all amounts paid thus far. We regret that this proposal will not be extended if we are forced to resort to formal dispute resolution. Thank you for your kind attention to the issues addressed in this correspondence.

Sincerely,

Austin N. Aaronson, Esq.

Re: Name: Brian and Laurie Blank
Address: 125 Wright Avenue, Neenah, WI 54956
Account #: 41797192

Dear Ms. Gaxiola:

Our clients as referenced have retained this firm in order to take issue with certain sales and business practices employed in the purchase and handling of their resort vacation interest with your company. Your records will reflect that the Blanks paid $15,152.00 in consideration of a Diamond timeshare interest on December 3, 2012, including an initial cash deposit of $2,928.00, while financing the remaining $12,224.00.

In accordance with 15 U.S.C. § 1692c(a)(2) and/or Fla. Stat. §559.72 we must respectfully insist that all future communications regarding associated obligations be directed to this office. Issues arising from our clients' purchase have to do with certain misrepresentations that were made to them during the sales presentation and the inability to access the resort network on reasonable terms and conditions.

Concerning misrepresentations made during the sales process, some background is appropriate. The Blanks purchased their first timeshare in 1998 from Tempus Resorts. Over the intervening years, the Blanks purchased additional timeshare deeds, while the company's ownership changed multiple times. By 2012, our clients owned 4 deeds, and the property had fallen under the ownership of Diamond Resorts. Then, during a trip to Florida in December 2012, the Blanks met with sales representative Rickie Peake who told them their existing timeshare weeks had been rendered essentially worthless, and that they would be required to buy at least 4,000 Diamond points if they ever wanted to use their timeshares again. Not wishing to sacrifice their investment up to that point, they complied.

Our clients' most recent encounter with your company occurred in October 2018, when their attendance was requested at another one-hour presentation in exchange for a private Kilimanjaro tour at the Animal Kingdom park at Walt Disney World. Upon their arrival, the Blanks met with another sales agent, Shavannah Morehouse. Ms. Morehouse told them that they would be required to "upgrade" once again in order to preserve the value of their ownership. Our clients were given a substandard room in a building desperately in need of renovation during this stay, and Ms. Morehouse made it clear that would continue in the future without the upgrade. Mr. Blank had retired in the intervening years, but Ms. Morehouse simply told him he would have to return to work to be able to afford the upgrade. She took our clients' drivers licenses for the purpose of applying on their behalf for a Barclays credit card, and aggressively refused to return them for nearly four hours until they finally agreed to the upgrade under duress.

The following day, the Blanks returned to the sale site and met again with the closing agent Priscilla for the purpose of cancelling the loan they had taken out the previous day. Priscilla prepared a second loan for approximately $50,000 less, to which our clients agreed; however, they ultimately elected to cancel the purchase altogether and revert to the level of ownership they had reached in 2012.

The various salespeople that met with the Blanks over the years made numerous promises, many of which have turned out to be untrue. For example, our clients were led to believe that their purchases would be like an investment that could easily be resold at any time, or rented out to cover the maintenance fees, but that has proven not to be the case. It is clear now that membership in the network is not an "investment" in any sense of the word. This combined with our clients' repeated distasteful encounters with your company's salespeople have led them to the conclusion that the membership simply is not worth the trouble.

There exist equitable concerns that we urge you to consider in this instance as well. As mentioned above, Mr. Blank recently retired. Additionally, Mrs. Blank has suffered an involuntary income reduction of around $30,000. Meanwhile, both Mr. and Mrs. Blank are required to take prescription medication for various long-term health issues at their own expense. In short, our clients will be sacrificing essential financial and medical needs endeavoring to pay for a vacation interest that they can no longer afford and that does not live up to its description. If you require verification with respect to any of these components of the family's hardship, we can supply the documentation in confidence upon execution of an appropriate HIPAA release.

We hope and trust that this dispute can be resolved. In this regard, our clients are willing to relinquish their vacation ownership interest in exchange for a full refund of all amounts paid thus far. We regret that this proposal will not be extended if we are forced to resort to formal dispute resolution. Thank you for your kind attention to the issues addressed in this correspondence.

Sincerely,

Lucas E. Schwellenbach, Esq.

Date of Purchase: October 10, 2015

Dear Ms. Gaxiola:

Our client as referenced has retained this firm in order to take issue with certain sales and business practices employed in the purchase and handling of his resort vacation interest with your company. Your records will reflect that Mr. Canty paid $13,630.00 in consideration of a timeshare interest on October 10, 2015, including an initial cash deposit of $2,336.00, while financing the remaining $11,294.00 plus closing costs of $477.00.

In accordance with 15 U.S.C. § 1692c(a)(2) and/or Fla. Stat. § 559.72, we must respectfully insist that all future communications regarding associated obligations be directed to this office. Issues arising from our client's purchase have to do with certain misrepresentations that were made to him during the sales presentation and the inability to access the resort network on reasonable terms and conditions.

Concerning misrepresentations made during the sales process, some background is appropriate. Mr. Canty was vacationing at Mystic Dunes Resort and Golf Club in Orlando, Florida, when he was approached by a member of your marketing team offering a gift card and discount amusement park tickets if he would attend a "presentation" of some kind. The nature of the meeting was not well defined, but our client was told that it would last approximately 45 minutes, and that he was being given an opportunity to invest in property.

Mr. Canty sat through an initiation process involving general information about “vacation ownership.” Then, he was shown marketing literature depicting luxurious resort destinations in domestic and international locations and was specifically told that he would be able to use his timeshare interest to go to Hawaii. Our client was led to believe that investment in this opportunity was like membership in an exclusive club, allowing access to all of the resorts and other destinations throughout the network.

Diamond’s sales agents, Maria Alcaraz and Elza Dias, stated that this purchase would appreciate in value similar to an investment in real estate. They also told him that he could sell the timeshare later if he decided he no longer wanted it. In addition, they told him that he could rent it to others or bank his points if he did not use them. Finally, they told him that the cost of the timeshare could be offset by renting it, and his monthly maintenance fees would not increase over time.

The sales team did not explain that many if not most of the destinations depicted in the marketing literature are not accessible to him except through an exchange network involving additional costs. Also, he has now come to understand that membership in the resort network does not grant exclusive access to resort accommodations. In fact, it has come to light that Mr. Canty actually has to compete with non-members in order to book reservations. And it is clear now that membership in the network is not a financial “investment.”

Diamond’s sales staff promised Mr. Canty that he would have a variety of dates and destinations to choose from where he could use his points, but it turned out that he did not have enough points to take the vacations he wanted to take during the times that he wanted to go. For instance, he was told that he could use his timeshare interest to vacation in Hawaii, but when he tried to make reservations, he learned that he would have to pay additional fees.

And in spite of all the expense, Mr. Canty has only been able to reserve vacation intervals on two occasions since having joined. He went to Hawaii in June of 2016 and stayed at the Aqua Kauai Beach Resort. He paid a reduced rate in exchange for attending an owner’s update meeting where he was pressured to purchase a sampler package that he never used. He also went to Mystic Dunes in Orlando for two days, but the resort was in disrepair. He had to change rooms twice as one of the rooms was not in working order, and management was indifferent when he complained.

During the sales pitch, Mr. Canty expressed concern about how this purchase would affect his credit rating as he was getting ready to buy his own home. The sales representative assured him that the credit line for the timeshare would be helpful in that it would show a good payment history when he was ready to buy. What the sales representative failed to mention was that the additional debt would increase Mr. Canty’s debt to income ratio, which could possibly cause him to be denied for a mortgage.

After many hours of sitting through the sales meeting, our client finally capitulated under duress and signed the closing documents. During the documents signing phase, Mr. Canty was not able to review the paperwork. Nor did the closing agent, P. Cedillo, explain the content of the documents. Rather, the closing agent merely flipped through the pages, pointing to the signature blocks and soliciting the signing of page after page. Thus, certain acknowledgements and disclosures, including the public offering statement, were never reviewed as required by law.

We hope and trust that this dispute can be resolved. In this regard, our client is willing to relinquish his vacation ownership interest in exchange for a full refund of all amounts paid thus far. We regret that this proposal will not be extended if we are forced to resort to formal dispute resolution. Thank you for your kind attention to the issues addressed in this correspondence.

Sincerely,

Austin N. Aaronson, Esq.

Re: Carmelita and Cesar Esquig

Contract Number: 17775132
Purchased September 15, 2018

Florida
Attorney's General Office

Citizen Services

Dear Ms. Gaxiola:

We represent the legal interests of Carmelita and Cesar Esquig with respect to a dispute arising from their purchase of a resort vacation interest with your company. The transaction giving rise to the Esquigs' grievances occurred on September 15, 2018 when they paid $52,500 and $750 for closing cost to retire their previous interests at the Mystic Dunes resort and the 2,000 points US Collection will be transitioned into a new contract. Hence, the Esquigs would not have any more liability on the Mystic Dunes condo/resort and the US Collection for future maintenance and HOA fees. The Mystic Dunes timeshare and the 2,000 points invested in your US collections network were both fully paid. The sales team member, Mrs. Catherine Sharpe Davis told them that the offer was only available that day. Mrs. Davis helped them apply for the Diamond Resorts International Mastercard on behalf of both Cesar and Carmelita Esquig. Carmelita Esquig only used her newly approved card and paid $10,500 as down payment resulting in a balance of $42,750.00.

We must respectfully insist that all future communications regarding the associated obligations be directed to this office in compliance with 15 U.S.C. § 1692c(a)(2) and any analogous state statute. Certain misstatements and other irregularities occurred during the sales presentation with which our clients take issue.

By way of context, the Esquigs were asked to attend the Diamond Resorts homeowners meeting when they were assigned by a member of your sales team, Ms. Catherine Davis, to assist them with their timeshare. The Esquigs, who had been current on their maintenance fees, and have fully paid off their timeshares, informed Ms. Catherine Davis that they wanted to get rid of their timeshares due to the escalating maintenance fees and HOA fees. Ms. Davis told our clients that Diamond Resorts does not buyback timeshares and that the Esquigs could eliminate their maintenance fees by upgrading their timeshare. Ms. Davis then advised our clients that by upgrading their current timeshare, they would be able to sell it on the stock market at a profit in the next five years.

Our clients have since learned that some of the promises made by Ms. Davis were untrue. For example, Ms. Davis assured our clients that upgrading their timeshare would be a real estate 'investment' and that they could resell their timeshare at a profit in the next five years using the stock market. In point of fact, it has come to light that there exists no meaningful secondary market associated with this timeshare ownership. And in spite of promises to the contrary, the annual dues are already high, and they continue to escalate. This has to do with an inherent conflict of interest associated with captive management perpetually vested in your company's affiliate.

After over four hours of sitting through the sales meeting our clients finally succumbed under pressure and signed the closing documents. During the documents signing phase the Esquigs were not accorded a meaningful opportunity to digest the contents of the paperwork involved. Nor did the closing agent render any assistance in this respect. Instead, the closing agent simply went through the motions, pointing out the places to sign on page after page. Accordingly, certain disclosures, waivers, acknowledgments, and the like were not properly reviewed as lawfully required. Significantly, this includes the public offering statement.

There exist equitable concerns that we urge you to consider in this instance as well. Mr. Cesar has chronic pain in both his knees and shoulder. Last December Mr. Cesar underwent knee surgery in order to improve the mobility in his leg. As the result of Mr. Cesar's condition, he requires monitoring, medication, and rehab. Mr. Cesar also has Kidney stones and had occasions of Acute Gout. Mrs. Carmelita, eighty years old, suffers from severe osteoporosis, sciatica, and stenosis. She is being treated for High Blood Pressure, Lipid Disorder and Multiple Thyroid Disorder. Mrs. Carmelita is a cancer survivor from Uterine and Breast Cancer. Mrs. Carmelita can hardly walk a block without suffering hip and knee pains, yet alone travel to different Diamond Resorts. These ailments require many medications to manage, and our clients are now afraid to travel long distances from their doctors, in case of any acute management or emergency medical situations. Thus, without your kind consideration in this regard, our clients' essential needs will be jeopardized due to the expense of a vacation interest that they can neither use nor afford. If you require verification with respect to any of these components of the family's hardship, we can supply the documentation in confidence upon execution of an appropriate HIPAA release.

We hope and trust that this dispute can be resolved. In this regard, our clients are willing to relinquish their vacation ownership interest in exchange for a full refund of all amounts paid thus far. We regret that this proposal will not be extended if we are forced to resort to formal dispute resolution. Thank you for your kind attention to the issues addressed in this correspondence.

Sincerely,

Austin N. Aaronson, Esq.

In November 2017, Diamond Resort International wanted my wife and I to upgrade our time to the point system. To do this we had to sale back our original contract and they were to apply the resale value to the new system. Please review page 1 of my contract line 17. You will see that my wife and I are only responsible for the total finance amount of $13740 but yet DRI has made a claim that we are responsible for over $31100.

Our contract clearly shows what the buy back price of our original time which was subtracted from the overall cost of the new contract. The contract even shows what our monthly mortgage payments are to be.

When you get DRI to provide you a copy of our contract it will be different then what we are providing you because they send a total different copy our contract to the Las Vegas BBB which was forward to my email.

It seems that DRI are changing people contract thus defrauding people. If they are doing this to us, then I like to know as to how many other people they are doing this to.

I have been trying since 2017 to get DRI to correct my whole account but they refuse so you are my last hope!!!

FURTHER TERMS AND CONDITIONS

1. DEFINITIONS:

Unless the context suggests otherwise, capitalized terms shall have the meanings set forth in the Amended and Restated Declaration for Diamond Resorts U.S. Collection ("Declaration"), as may be amended or modified from time to time.

2. PAYMENT OF PURCHASE PRICE:

(a) Purchaser may pay for the Membership in cash or through credit from Seller, subject to Seller's credit approval ("Financing"). If Purchaser receives Financing from Seller, then Purchaser will be required to execute and deliver an installment Promissory Note (the "Note") payable to the order of Seller in the amount of the Unpaid Balance, and grant the first priority Seller Security Interest (defined below) that secures the payment of the Note and encumbers Purchaser's Membership, as well as certain other documents and instruments which Seller, in its sole discretion, deems reasonably necessary or appropriate to secure Purchaser's payment of the Note. Purchaser will be subject to all of the terms, provisions, and conditions described and set forth in all such documents and instruments.

(b) If Purchaser requests Financing, Seller may, but is not required to, agree to finance Purchaser's purchase. Purchaser promises that all personal financial and other information submitted to Seller is and will be accurate, and Purchaser authorizes Seller to make credit inquiries regarding Purchaser, whether through a consumer reporting agency or other means. Purchaser agrees to provide immediate written notice to Seller of any material adverse change in Purchaser's financial condition that occurs prior to Closing (as defined below). If Purchaser makes good faith efforts to obtain purchase money financing but is unable to qualify for Financing within 10 days following Seller's acceptance of this Agreement, Purchaser shall be entitled to terminate this Agreement and receive a refund of any and all payments made by Purchaser hereunder (without interest) or, at Purchaser's option, to consummate the transaction contemplated hereby by paying the entire Unpaid Balance in cash at Closing. If Purchaser is unable to qualify for Financing within such 10 day period, Seller shall provide written notice thereof to Purchaser, whereupon Purchaser shall promptly notify Seller whether Purchaser elects to terminate this Agreement or consummate the transaction as provided in the preceding sentence. If Purchaser fails to give any notice to Seller within 20 days after Purchaser's receipt of Seller's notice that Purchaser does not qualify for Financing, Seller may at any time thereafter terminate this Agreement and refund to Purchaser all payments made by Purchaser. Seller reserves the right, in its sole discretion, to sell or assign the Note and the Seller Security Interest to another person or entity, whether or not such person or entity is affiliated with Seller.

(c) If Purchaser is exchanging a fee simple timeshare interest in a timeshare resort ("Fee Timeshare Interest") as full or partial payment for the Membership, Purchaser agrees to execute and deliver to Seller, on the date hereof, (i) a deed or other appropriate instrument in form and substance satisfactory to Seller, in its sole discretion, pursuant to which all of Purchaser's right, title, and interest in and to the Fee Timeshare Interest is conveyed to Seller or a party designated by Seller, free and clear of any liens or encumbrances not expressly approved by Seller ("Deed-back"), and (ii) if Seller so requests, a declaration of annexation or other similar type of document subjecting the Fee Timeshare Interest to the Declaration ("Annexation Instrument"). Such Deed-back and Annexation Instrument may be recorded by Seller upon Closing. Pending Closing, Purchaser shall remain fully liable for all costs, expenses, and other obligations of any and every kind related to the Fee Timeshare Interest ("Fee Timeshare Interest Obligations"). If the transaction contemplated hereby fails to close for any reason whatsoever, the Deed-back and Annexation Instrument will be cancelled and returned to Purchaser, and Purchaser will remain fully liable for the Fee Timeshare Interest Obligations.

(d) In the event that the Note, this Agreement, or the Deed-back and Annexation Instrument (if applicable), or any other document or instrument which evidences or secures payment of the Purchase Price, is misplaced or has not been completely and validly executed by Purchaser for any reason whatsoever, Seller shall have the option, in its sole discretion, (i) to cancel this Agreement at any time prior to Closing; or (ii) to send Purchaser whatever document(s) and/or instrument(s) that Seller needs Purchaser to re-execute, along with instructions on how to do so. In the event that Seller elects to cancel this Agreement, Seller shall provide written notice thereof to Purchaser and cause any funds held on Purchaser's behalf, without interest, to be refunded by Escrow Agent (defined below), to Purchaser, in which event this Agreement shall be deemed terminated and of no further force or legal effect. In the event Seller sends Purchaser any document or instrument for re-execution, Purchaser shall promptly re-execute same, cause his or her signature to be notarized (to the extent indicated), and return such document(s) and/or instrument(s) to Seller in accordance with Seller's written instructions. Purchaser's failure to do so for any reason within 10 calendar days following Purchaser's receipt thereof shall constitute a default hereunder, entitling Seller to exercise its available rights and remedies pursuant to Section 14 below.

NOTICE

ANY HOLDER OF THIS CONSUMER CREDIT CONTRACT IS SUBJECT TO ALL CLAIMS AND DEFENSES WHICH THE DEBTOR COULD ASSERT AGAINST THE SELLER OF GOODS OR SERVICES OBTAINED PURSUANT HERETO OR WITH THE PROCEEDS HEREOF. RECOVERY HEREUNDER BY THE DEBTOR SHALL NOT EXCEED AMOUNTS PAID BY THE DEBTOR.

3. SELLER'S RIGHT TO ACCEPT OR REJECT THIS AGREEMENT:

It is understood that Seller can accept or reject this Agreement. If Seller rejects this Agreement, Purchaser is only entitled to a refund of any payments made by Purchaser, without interest. This Agreement becomes effective and legally binding only when executed by both Parties. If Seller accepts this Agreement, then Seller, subject to Section 2 above, agrees to sell the Membership to Purchaser, and Purchaser agrees to make all of the payments required to be made under this Agreement when due and otherwise to comply fully with all of the terms, provisions, and conditions hereof and of the Collection Instruments.

4. DEPOSITS:

Purchaser's initial deposit and any subsequent payments made by Purchaser to Seller prior to Closing shall be delivered to and held in escrow by First American Title Insurance Company, the address of which is 400 S Rampart Blvd, Ste 290, Las Vegas, NV 89145 ("Escrow Agent"), pursuant to a Master Escrow Agreement by and between Seller and Escrow Agent, the terms, provisions, and conditions of which are incorporated by this reference. Any and all interest that accrues on Purchaser's deposit and subsequent payments shall, except to the extent prohibited by law, be payable to and inure to the sole benefit of Seller and not be credited toward the Purchase Price. Escrow Agent shall hold all such deposits and other amounts until presentation by Seller of written instructions to the effect that Closing has occurred. Seller shall have no right to use any of the funds held by Escrow Agent until such funds have been delivered to Seller in accordance with the provisions hereof.

5. VACATION OWNERSHIP PLAN:

(a) The Membership is a form of a "right-to-use" timeshare interest, and Purchaser will not receive a deed to any interest in real property.

(b) Purchaser acknowledges that notwithstanding any provision of this Agreement or the Collection Instruments, unless Purchaser is purchasing Specific Use Points, Purchaser will not have the guaranteed exclusive right to reserve, use, and occupy any particular Collection Accommodation. Purchase acknowledges that the Membership is subject to the Collection Instruments as amended and/or supplemented from time to time.

(c) The Collection shall be perpetual unless terminated by the Members in the manner described in the Collection Instruments.

(d) Purchaser may be prohibited from making a reservation or using and occupying a Collection Accommodation unless Purchaser has timely paid any and all Assessments, Personal Charges and other amounts levied pursuant to the Collection Instruments and otherwise fully complied with all of the terms, provisions, and conditions of the Collection Instruments.

6. ASSOCIATION MEMBERSHIP AND TRANSFER:

Upon Closing, Purchaser will automatically become a Member of the Association. Purchaser agrees to be subject to and to comply fully with the Collection Instruments. If the number of a Member's annual allotment of Points falls below the Minimum Points

Threshold for any reason, such as the partial transfer of Points or expiration of Term Points, the affected Membership will cease to be a valid Membership unless sufficient additional Points are acquired to meet the Minimum Points Threshold. The current Minimum Points Threshold for a valid Membership is 2,000 Points. Any purchase of additional Points will be governed by prices in effect at the time of purchase. Purchaser's right to sell or otherwise transfer his or her Membership and the resulting update to the Register of Members is subject to prior approval by the Association and certain other applicable requirements set forth in the Collection Instruments.

7. ASSESSMENTS:

(a) Purchaser understands and agrees that in accordance with the provisions of the Collection Instruments, the Association is empowered to levy and collect Assessments against each Membership for management and maintenance expenses. In addition to Assessments, Purchaser understands and agrees that he or she will be responsible for the timely payment to the Association of any Personal Charges or other charges that he or she incurs, all in accordance with the provisions of the Collection Instruments. Assessments shall be due and payable to the Association prior to Purchaser's use and occupancy of a Collection Accommodation in Purchaser's Initial Use Year, as set forth on Page 1 hereof. The amount of the Assessments each year may vary and will be determined as outlined in the Collection Instruments.

(b) The Association may enforce Purchaser's obligation to pay Assessments and Personal Charges in the manner set forth in this Agreement and in the Collection Instruments or as otherwise permitted by law. Purchaser may be prohibited from reserving, using, or occupying any Collection Accommodation or exercising any other rights, benefits, or privileges to which Purchaser would otherwise be entitled pursuant to the Collection Instruments, unless all Assessments and other amounts that Purchaser owes the Association or Seller have first been paid in full. Purchaser's failure for any reason to pay on a timely basis any and all Assessments could result in the enforcement of the Association Security Interest (defined below) by the Association and the loss of Purchaser's Membership. Purchaser's failure for any reason to use and occupy a Collection Accommodation shall not exempt Purchaser from his or her obligation to pay in full all Assessments levied against his or her Membership.

8. EXCHANGE PROGRAMS:

The Association has entered into an Affiliation Agreement (the "Affiliation Agreement") with Diamond Resorts International Club, Inc. ("DRIC"). Under the Affiliation Agreement, the Association and the Collection are affiliated with THE Club. Purchaser's membership in THE Club is automatic and is subject to the annual payment of fees that are imposed by DRIC, and are subject to change in DRIC's sole discretion. The Affiliation Agreement permits the annual membership fee for THE Club to be collected by the Association along with the Assessments. Purchaser should refer to the Association budget for more details. Under the Affiliation Agreement, membership in THE Club may not be transferred without the consent of DRIC and transfer by Purchaser of the Membership in the Collection does not, without the consent of DRIC, have the effect of transferring membership in THE Club. THE Club may, but is not obligated to, have a relationship with an external exchange program. At the current time, THE Club is affiliated with Interval International, Inc. ("Interval International") under which Interval International has agreed to offer its reciprocal-exchange services to members of THE Club. Exchanges through external exchange programs may be subject to certain terms, conditions and the payment of fees that are imposed by the external exchange program. Seller makes no representations concerning THE Club, Interval International, or any other exchange programs that may become affiliated with the Collection, including but not limited to current or future services to be provided, the cost, continued availability, or success of exchange programs. Any representations made regarding THE Club or Interval International by DRIC or its agents or employees or within the literature, brochures, or videos prepared or provided by DRIC or Interval International are solely the representations of DRIC or Interval International, respectively, and should not be relied upon as being the representations of Seller.

9. CLOSING:

Except as otherwise provided by applicable law, for purposes of this Agreement, the term "Closing" shall mean that date when all of the following have occurred: (i) the cancellation period set forth in Section 21 has expired without Purchaser having exercised his or her rescission right; (ii) Purchaser and Seller have executed, as applicable, all documents necessary to effect transfer of the Membership to Purchaser including, but not limited to, this Agreement, and if applicable, the Note; (iii) Seller has received from Purchaser either (a) an executed Note for the Unpaid Balance, or (b) the Unpaid Balance in immediately available funds; and (iv) the Purchaser has been entered into the Register of Members. Except as otherwise expressly provided in any of the Collection Instruments to the contrary, Purchaser may not reserve, use, or occupy any Collection Accommodation or exercise any other rights, benefits, or privileges appurtenant to his or her Membership until Closing occurs. If Closing has not occurred within one year following the date of this Agreement because Purchaser has elected to rescind this Agreement pursuant to Section 21 below, then Seller will within 20 days thereof, order any funds held on Purchaser's behalf, without interest, to be refunded by Escrow Agent to Purchaser, in which event this Agreement shall be deemed terminated and of no further force or legal effect. Escrow Agent shall act as the closing agent for the purposes of collecting and disbursing all applicable funds and distributing and filing all applicable documents and instruments. Upon Closing, Seller shall deliver to Purchaser a Points Certificate evidencing the Purchaser's Membership and a fully executed copy of this Agreement.

10. TITLE AND TITLE INSURANCE:

All Collection Accommodations have been constructed and are available for use by Members pursuant to the Collection Instruments. Purchaser understands and acknowledges that the basis for the Membership is certain real property interests (called "Resort Interests") in various resorts, hotels and other vacation properties and that title to those interests is held in a trust (the "Trust") for the benefit of the Association and Members pursuant to a recorded Trust Agreement with First American Trust, FSB, a federal savings bank or another independent trustee ("Trustee"). Resort Interests are conveyed to the Trust subject to the Trust Agreement and Declaration and are otherwise not encumbered with blanket liens of any lender or lienholder or have a nondisturbance agreement in place which fully protects the use and enjoyment rights of each Member in the event of foreclosure. Further, in connection with each conveyance of Resort Interests to the Trust, Seller has caused First American Title Insurance Company to issue in favor of the Association, where available, an ALTA Owners Title Insurance Policy insuring the Trustee's ownership of the Resort Interests. Copies of such Owners Title Insurance Policies are available for inspection by Members at the offices of the Association.

11. SECURITY INTERESTS:

(a) Seller's Security Interest. If Seller is providing Financing to Purchaser in connection with the purchase of the Membership, then Purchaser, as debtor, hereby grants to Seller, as secured party, effective as of Closing, a purchase money security interest (the "Seller Security Interest") in the Membership and in all rights, benefits and privileges appurtenant thereto as established in the Collection Instruments and all rights, benefits and privileges accruing thereto in the future, all replacements and additions to the foregoing, and all proceeds thereof (collectively, the "Collateral") to secure Purchaser's performance under the Note, this Agreement, and the Collection Instruments. No waiver by Seller or any holder of this Agreement of any default or breach by Purchaser shall operate as a waiver of any other default or breach, whether of the same type or not, by Purchaser.

(b) Association's Security Interest. Purchaser, as debtor, hereby grants to Association, as secured party, effective as of Closing, a security interest (the "Association Security Interest") in the Collateral to secure Purchaser's timely payment of Assessments and Personal Charges and Purchaser's performance under the Collection Instruments. The Association Security Interest shall, at all times, be junior and subordinate to the Seller Security Interest.

(c) Financing Statements. Purchaser irrevocably authorizes Seller and the Association, at any time and from time to time, to file in any Uniform Commercial Code ("UCC") jurisdiction initial financing statements and any amendments thereto that provide any other information required by Part 5 of Article 9 of the UCC of the applicable jurisdiction for the sufficiency, or filing office acceptance of, any financing statement or amendment, including (i) Purchaser's name and address, and (ii) if Purchaser is not an individual, Purchaser's type of organization and any organizational identification number issued to Purchaser. Purchaser shall furnish any such information in writing to Seller or the Association, as the case may be, within five (5) days after Seller's or Association's request. Each person identified as Purchaser in this Agreement represents and warrants to Seller and the Association that on the date of this Agreement he or she is domiciled in the state identified below his or her signature on this Agreement. Each person identified as a Purchaser in this Agreement shall notify Seller and the Association in writing if he or she changes his or her state of domicile within 30 days after such change. Such notice shall identify the state of such person's new domicile and his or her residential address therein.

(d) Association as Third-Party Beneficiary. Solely for purposes of this Section 11, the Association is an intended third-party beneficiary of this Agreement and is entitled to enforce the Association Security Interest granted by Purchaser hereunder.

12. PURCHASER'S REPRESENTATIONS, WARRANTIES, AND ACKNOWLEDGMENTS:

(a) Purchaser represents and warrants that the persons signing this Agreement have the legal capacity and are duly authorized to do so. Purchaser represents and warrants that Purchaser is not, and shall not become, a person with whom Seller is restricted from doing business with under the regulations of the Department of Treasury Office of Foreign Asset Control ("OFAC"). Such representation shall include, but not be limited to, a the representation that Purchaser is not a person or entity and is not acting on behalf of a person or entity named on OFAC's Specifically Designated Nationals and Blocked Persons list and Purchaser is not a resident or national of any Embargoed Country, as defined by OFAC. Purchaser acknowledges that prior to signing this Agreement, Purchaser received the state timeshare disclosure documents, together with the attached exhibits, all of which are hereby incorporated by this reference, and Purchaser agrees to be strictly bound by, and to comply fully with, the terms, provisions, and conditions of such documents, as each may properly be amended or supplemented from time to time. In the event of any conflict between this Agreement and the state timeshare disclosures, the state timeshare disclosures shall control. Purchaser further acknowledges and represents that the Membership is being purchased for Purchaser's personal use and not for its investment potential or any possible rent returns, tax advantages, depreciation, or other financial advantages and that no representations of any nature whatsoever have been made by Seller or any of its salespersons or other agents to Purchaser concerning investment potential, rent returns, tax advantages, depreciation, or other financial advantages. Purchaser, including any person or entity related to Purchaser, does not own an interest in more than 10 Memberships in the Collection. Purchaser understands that Seller has no resale or rental program for non-Seller owned Memberships and acknowledges that neither Seller nor any of its sales agents, employees, or other representatives has indicated that Purchaser will be assisted in the resale or rental of his or her Membership in the future. Purchaser represents that Purchaser does not intend to use any Collection Accommodation as his or her principal residence. If Purchaser has received Financing, then Purchaser acknowledges receipt of a completed Truth-in-Lending Disclosure Statement prior to executing this Agreement. Purchaser hereby agrees to indemnify and hold Seller harmless from and against any and all loss, threat of loss, suits, claims, actions, liabilities, damages, obligations, demands, costs and expenses (including attorney's fees) arising out of or in connection with any breach by Purchaser's representations and warranties. All of Purchaser's acknowledgments, representations and warranties set forth herein shall survive Closing.

(b) Purchaser acknowledges and agrees that immediately following Closing, Seller shall have no further obligations or liabilities of any kind under this Agreement, or under any other document or instrument referred to in this Agreement, and Purchaser shall look solely to the Association and the Manager, together with any other entities that from time to time become obligated to Purchaser as provided in the Collection Instruments, for the fulfillment and satisfaction of any of Purchaser's rights, benefits, and privileges as a Member of the Collection, and not to Seller.

13. NO WARRANTIES:

EXCEPT AS OTHERWISE EXPRESSLY PROVIDED HEREIN, OR BY APPLICABLE LAW, SELLER MAKES NO WARRANTIES, EXPRESS OR IMPLIED, OF ANY TYPE WHATSOEVER REGARDING THE COLLECTION OR THE COLLECTION ACCOMMODATIONS, INCLUDING BUT NOT LIMITED TO WARRANTIES OF HABITABILITY, MERCHANTABILITY, OR FITNESS FOR A PARTICULAR PURPOSE. SELLER EXPRESSLY DISCLAIMS, AND PURCHASER IRREVOCABLY WAIVES, EACH OF THE FOREGOING WARRANTIES.

14. DEFAULT:

(a) Subject to any notice and right to cure provided below, Purchaser shall be in default under this Agreement if Purchaser fails to pay on time, keep any promise, or fulfill any agreement or obligation contained in the Note, this Agreement or any of the Collection Instruments. In the event of a default by Purchaser, Purchaser shall not be entitled to reserve, use, or occupy any Collection Accommodation, or to exercise any other rights, benefits, or privileges appurtenant to his or her Membership.

(b) Subject to any notice and right to cure provided below, Purchaser and Seller agree that: Purchaser's default on or before Closing shall entitle Seller to immediately terminate this Agreement and all of Purchaser's rights, benefits, and privileges hereunder. Upon such termination, Seller shall retain or cause Escrow Agent to deliver to Seller all sums of money previously paid by Purchaser hereunder as liquidated damages and not as a penalty.

(c) Upon Purchaser's failure to timely perform any of Purchaser's obligations under the Note, this Agreement or any of the Collection Instruments after Closing, Purchaser shall be in default hereunder, whereupon Seller (or its successor or assign) may enforce the Seller Security Interest against the Collateral in accordance with this Subparagraph. Upon the occurrence of any such failure, including the non-payment of any amounts due and owing by Purchaser under the Collection Instruments, Seller shall give Purchaser written notice and if Purchaser has not cured the applicable failure within 10 days after Seller gives such notice if Purchaser has failed to pay money, or within 30 days after Seller gives such notice if Purchaser has failed to perform or observe any other term of the Note, this Agreement or any of the Collection Instruments, Purchaser shall be in default under this Agreement and Seller (or its successor or assign) may (a) enforce the Seller Security Interest in accordance with Article 9 of the UCC; (b) provide written notice of termination of the Membership and terminate the Membership within 60 days of the date of the notice of termination and retain all amounts previously paid by Purchaser as liquidated damages and not as a penalty; or (c) pursue any other remedy available to Seller, at law or in equity, however, Seller hereby confirms that it will not seek any deficiency judgment against defaulting Purchaser beyond the forfeiture of the Membership.

(d) Notwithstanding the foregoing provisions of this Section 10 to the contrary, if, for any reason, Seller is unable or fails to comply with the material provisions of this Agreement, then the sole obligation of Seller shall be to refund or cause Escrow Agent to refund (whichever is applicable) to Purchaser all payments previously made by Purchaser hereunder, without interest. Upon such refunds being made, this Agreement shall be deemed canceled, and all rights and obligations hereunder shall immediately terminate. TO THE EXTENT PERMITTED BY APPLICABLE LAW, PURCHASER HEREBY WAIVES ANY AND ALL RIGHTS AND REMEDIES THAT MIGHT OTHERWISE BE AVAILABLE TO PURCHASER, AT LAW OR IN EQUITY.

15. NO OTHER AGREEMENTS OR REPRESENTATIONS:

Seller and Purchaser agree that this Agreement (including the documents and instruments incorporated by reference) embodies the entire agreement between them related to Purchaser's purchase and financing (if applicable) of the Membership and supersedes and replaces any and all prior negotiations, representations, agreements, and understandings, both oral and written, in connection therewith. No amendment to or modification of the terms of this Agreement shall be valid without the written approval of the legal counsel of Seller. Oral representations of Seller or Seller's agents should not be relied upon by Purchaser as correctly stating the representations of Seller. For correct representations, Purchaser should rely entirely on this Agreement and the documents and instruments contained by reference.

16. ASSIGNMENT AND SEVERABILITY:

This Agreement shall be binding upon and inure to the benefit of the Parties, their respective heirs, successors, assigns, and personal representatives. Purchaser's Membership cannot be sold, assigned, transferred, conveyed, or encumbered except in accordance with the terms, provisions, and conditions hereof and the Collection Instruments. Purchaser acknowledges that Seller has the right, in its sole discretion, to assign some or all of its rights and interests hereunder and, if applicable, under the Note. Purchaser may not assign any of his or her rights or interests hereunder, without the written consent of Seller, which consent may be withheld in Seller's sole and absolute discretion. The terms and provisions hereof shall be deemed independent and severable, and the invalidity of any one provision or portion thereof shall not affect the validity or enforceability of any other provision hereof.

17. CHOICE OF STATE LAW AND FORUM; WAIVER OF JURY TRIAL:

Except to the extent preempted by federal law, this Agreement shall be exclusively governed by and construed in accordance with the laws of Nevada without regard to its choice of law rules. Subject to Section 14 hereof, any legal action or proceeding arising out of or in any way relating to this Agreement which is not subject to the Arbitration provisions outlined below, shall only be brought in an appropriate court of competent jurisdiction on behalf of the Parties and their respective successors and assigns, hereby irrevocably submit to the jurisdiction of any such court and agree that venue properly lies solely in such courts to the exclusion of all other judicial and non-judicial forums. EXCEPT AS OTHERWISE PROVIDED BY APPLICABLE LAW, THE PARTIES, AND ANY OTHER PERSON CLAIMING RIGHTS OR OBLIGATIONS BY, THROUGH, OR UNDER THIS AGREEMENT SHALL BE DEEMED TO HAVE WAIVED ANY RIGHT THEY MAY HAVE UNDER ANY APPLICABLE LAW TO A TRIAL BY JURY IN CONNECTION WITH ANY SUIT OR LEGAL PROCEEDING THAT MAY BE COMMENCED BY OR AGAINST ANY OF THE FOREGOING PERSONS CONCERNING THE INTERPRETATION, CONSTRUCTION, VALIDITY, ENFORCEMENT, OR PERFORMANCE OF THIS AGREEMENT OR ANY OF THE COLLECTION INSTRUMENTS.

18. ARBITRATION PROVISION

(a) Opt-Out Right. IF PURCHASER DOES NOT WANT THIS ARBITRATION PROVISION TO APPLY, WITHIN 30 DAYS PURCHASER MUST SEND A SIGNED LETTER TO SELLER STATING THAT THE ARBITRATION PROVISION DOES NOT APPLY. OPTING OUT OF ARBITRATION WILL NOT AFFECT ANY OTHER PROVISION OF THIS AGREEMENT.

(b) Arbitration Terms Defined. In this Arbitration Provision, the term "Company Party" means Seller and/or the Association, their affiliates and the agents, representatives, members, employees, officers and/or directors of such entities, if and to the extent that any Claim is asserted by or against such entity or person. "Bound Parties" means each Company Party and Purchaser. "Claim" means any legal claim, dispute or controversy between any Company Party and Purchaser, including statutory, contract and tort disputes of all kinds and disputes involving requests for declaratory relief, injunctions or other equitable relief. However, "Claim" does not include any individual action brought by a Purchaser in small claims court or an equivalent court, unless such action is transferred, removed, or appealed to a different court, and does not include any dispute concerning the validity and effect of Section 18(h) below, the ban on class actions and certain other proceedings (the "Class Action Ban"). "Administrator" means the American Arbitration Association ("AAA"), 1633 Broadway, 10th Floor, New York, NY 10019, <http://www.adr.org>, or if Purchaser so elects in a notice given to Seller (which will serve as notice to each Company Party) within 20 days after a demand for arbitration, the National Arbitration Forum ("NAF"), P.O. Box 50191, Minneapolis, MN 55405, <http://www.arb-forum.com>.

(c) Arbitration of Claims. Unless Purchaser has exercised his or her opt-out right pursuant to Section 18(a), upon the election of Purchaser or any Company Party, any Claim between Purchaser and such Company Party shall be resolved by binding individual (and not class) arbitration. Any arbitration will be conducted in accordance with this Arbitration Provision and, to the extent consistent with this Arbitration Provision, the rules of the Administrator in effect at the time the Claim is filed. The neutral arbitrator shall be appointed within a specified period of time, which in no event shall be more than 60 days from the administrator's receipt of a written request from a Bound Party to arbitrate the Claim. To the extent this Arbitration Provision conflicts with any other agreement binding the Bound Parties, this Arbitration Provision shall govern.

(d) Fees; Location. Any Company Party to a Claim asserted by Purchaser in good faith or to any Claim asserted by such Company Party will bear all fees of the Administrator or arbitrator in connection with such Claim. The Company Party will also bear the reasonable fees and expenses of Purchaser's attorneys if any Claim initiated by Purchaser is resolved in Purchaser's favor. If a participatory arbitration hearing is requested, it will take place in the county where this Agreement was signed or, if the Administrator determines that such location would be unfair to Purchaser, at a location reasonably convenient to Purchaser.

(e) Governing Law. This Arbitration Provision shall be governed by the Federal Arbitration Act (the "FAA") and not state arbitration laws, provided that Nevada law shall govern to the extent that state law is relevant under the FAA in determining the enforceability of this Arbitration Provision. The arbitrator shall follow applicable substantive laws, statutes of limitations and privilege rules related to any Claim. The arbitrator shall award the remedies, if any, that would be available in an individual court proceeding if arbitration had not been elected. Upon the timely request of any Bound Party, the arbitrator shall write a brief explanation of the grounds for his or her decision.

(f) Appeal of Arbitrator's Decision. Any court with jurisdiction may enter judgment upon the arbitrator's award. The arbitrator's decision will be final and binding, except for any appeal right under the FAA.

(g) Jury Trial Waiver. IF A BOUND PARTY ELECTS TO ARBITRATE A CLAIM, NO BOUND PARTY WILL HAVE THE RIGHT TO PURSUE THAT CLAIM IN COURT OR HAVE A JURY DECIDE THE CLAIM.

(h) Class Action Ban. NO BOUND PARTY MAY PARTICIPATE IN A CLASS ACTION IN COURT OR IN CLASS-WIDE ARBITRATION, EITHER AS A REPRESENTATIVE, CLASS MEMBER OR OTHERWISE, WITH RESPECT TO ANY CLAIM. NO BOUND PARTY MAY PARTICIPATE IN A PRIVATE ATTORNEY GENERAL PROCEEDING IN COURT OR IN ARBITRATION, WITH RESPECT TO ANY CLAIM. NO CLAIMS INVOLVING THE BOUND PARTIES MAY BE JOINED OR CONSOLIDATED WITH CLAIMS BY OR AGAINST ANY OTHER PERSON. Notwithstanding any language in this Arbitration Provision to the contrary, any dispute about the validity or effect of the above Class Action Ban shall be resolved by a court and not an arbitrator or the Administrator.

(i) Survival; Severability. This Arbitration Provision shall survive repayment of all amounts owed under this Agreement or the Note, the cancellation of this Agreement, any bankruptcy and any assignment of Seller's rights under this Agreement and/or the Note. If any part of this Arbitration Provision is unenforceable (other than the Class Action Ban), the remainder of this Arbitration Provision shall still apply. If the Class Action Ban is held to be unenforceable, this Arbitration Provision (other than this sentence) and any other arbitration provision between the Bound Parties shall be null and void in such proceeding, provided that the Company Party shall have the right to appeal any holding that the Class Action Ban is unenforceable.

19. NOTICES:

November 18th, 2016

Note No.: 25203426

PROMISSORY NOTE

This Promissory Note ("Note") is given in connection with that certain Purchase and Security Agreement of even date herewith between the undersigned, ROBERT LEE MCCOY, JR. and ALICE KEGLER MCCOY (hereinafter, whether one or more, referred to as "Maker"), whose address is 152 Derwent Ln NW Huntsville, Alabama 358106202, and Diamond Resorts U.S. Collection Development, LLC, a Delaware limited liability company ("Diamond Resorts"), whose address and principal place of business is c/o Customer Service, Diamond Resorts Financial Services, Inc., 10600 West Charleston Boulevard, Las Vegas, Nevada 89135 (the "Agreement"). This Note will become effective upon the lapse of the cancellation period provided in the Agreement (provided that Maker does not exercise Maker's cancellation right) or, if later, the Closing described in the Agreement (the "Effective Date").

FOR VALUE RECEIVED, Maker promises to pay to the order of Diamond Resorts and any successor or assign thereof, including, without limitation, any subsequent holder hereof ("Holder"), at the address for Diamond Resorts set forth above or at such other place as Holder may from time to time designate in writing, in lawful money of the United States, the principal amount of Thirteen Thousand Seven Hundred Forty and 00/100 ($13,740.00); together with a monthly collection fee of Six ($6.00) and a monthly finance charge computed in the manner set forth below at a fixed annual rate of Sixteen and 99/100 (16.99%) (the "Annual Rate"). As set forth in the Truth in Lending Disclosure Statement provided to you, both the collection fee and the monthly finance charge are treated as finance charges, included in the computation of the Annual Percentage Rate, under the federal Truth in Lending Act. Maker shall pay Holder in 120 equal monthly installments of Two Hundred Thirty-Eight and 71/100 Dollars ($238.71) each, with the first such installment being due and payable on _____ (the "First Payment Date"), and a like installment to be due and payable on or before the same day of each calendar month thereafter (the "Payment Date"). (Notwithstanding the foregoing: (1) if the First Payment Date is in the last three days of a calendar month and there is no day in a particular calendar month that corresponds to the First Payment Date, the Payment Date for such calendar month will be the first day of the subsequent month; and (2) if any Payment Date falls on a day that is not a business day, the Payment Date will be the next business day thereafter.) On the final Payment Date _____ (the "Maturity Date"), the entire principal balance due hereunder, together with any finance charges and other fees and charges, shall be immediately due and payable. Time is of the essence with respect to all of Maker's obligations hereunder.

If Maker has separately agreed to the terms of Holder's "SurePay Plan," an automatic payment plan whereby scheduled payments of principal and interest payments on this Promissory Note and the collection fee are automatically deducted from Maker's bank account on each Payment Date, then immediately upon the occurrence of any of the following described events, Maker's participation in the SurePay Plan will terminate: (i) at any time prior to the Maturity Date, Maker elects to terminate his or her participation in the SurePay Plan; (ii) Maker closes the designated bank account; or (iii) on more than one occasion, a SurePay payment is not made when due for any reason (including Maker's failure to maintain a sufficient balance in the designated bank account to cover any required payment). In such event, the Interest Rate shall increase by Zero percent (0.00%) per annum and the monthly payment will increase to the level sufficient to repay all principal, interest and collection fees by the Maturity Date through equal monthly payments on each Payment Date. The increase in the Interest Rate shall be effective retroactively to the date of the last payment made under the SurePay Plan, and the increase in payment amount shall apply to the next payment due after the last such SurePay payment.

Each monthly installment shall be applied first to late charges, then to the collection fee, then to monthly finance charges and finally to unpaid principal. Each month, the monthly finance charge will be based on the scheduled principal balance (regardless of exactly when payments are actually received) and a monthly rate of finance charge equal to the Annual Rate divided by twelve (12). Maker may prepay the outstanding principal balance hereof, in whole or in part, at any time without premium or penalty. However, partial prepayments will not reduce finance charges and will not postpone the due date of any subsequent monthly installments or change the amount of such installments unless Holder otherwise agrees in writing. In the event this Note is prepaid in full, Holder will charge a monthly finance charge for that month equal to the scheduled principal balance at the beginning of the month, times the Annual Rate, times a fraction equal to the number of days from the immediately preceding Payment Date through the date of prepayment divided by the number of days in the year. Holder will not charge any collection fee for the month of prepayment and Holder will not charge any collection fees and monthly finance charges attributable to months following any prepayment in full.

This Promissory Note is given in partial payment for a membership in the Diamond Resorts U.S. Collection (the "Membership"). Payment of principal, finance charges and other charges hereunder is secured by a security interest established under the Purchase and Security Agreement (the "Agreement") of even date herewith by and between Diamond Resorts, as seller, and Maker, as purchaser. The terms and provisions of the Agreement are hereby fully incorporated herein by this reference.

If all or any part of the Membership or an interest therein is sold or otherwise transferred by Maker (whether such interest is legal or equitable, present or future, vested or contingent) without Holder's prior written consent (which consent may be withheld for any reason whatsoever), excluding (i) the creation of a lien or encumbrance subordinate to the Agreement; (ii) a transfer by devise, descent, or operation of law upon the death of a joint tenant; or (iii) the grant of any leasehold interest of one (1) week or less not containing an option to purchase the Membership, then Holder may, at Holder's option, except to the extent prohibited by law, declare all of the amounts secured by the Agreement to be immediately due and payable.

Upon the failure of Maker to make any payment required under this Promissory Note in accordance with the terms hereof or Maker's breach of any of the other covenants or agreements contained herein or in the Agreement, then and in such event, Holder, at Holder's option, subject to any right of reinstatement to which Maker is entitled under applicable law, may (i) declare, without further demand, all of the amounts owed hereunder to be immediately due and payable; and (ii) pursue all rights and remedies available to Holder under this Promissory Note and the Agreement by appropriate proceedings. To the extent permitted by law, Holder shall be entitled to collect in such proceedings all expenses of enforcement, including but not limited to reasonable attorneys' fees, publication costs, costs of judgment and other searches, and court costs. Failure of Holder to exercise its available rights and remedies hereunder or as provided by law with respect to any default by Maker shall not be deemed to constitute a waiver of such rights or remedies with respect to any subsequent default, whether the same or different in nature.

In the event that any amount due under this Promissory Note is paid more than ten (10) days after the date upon which such amount is due, then Holder shall be entitled to collect a late charge from Maker in an amount equal to the lesser of (i) Twenty-Five Dollars ($25.00) or (ii) ten percent (10%) of the overdue installment, provided that such amount does not exceed the maximum late charge permitted to be charged under the laws of the State of Nevada. To the extent permitted by law, Maker shall further be liable to Holder for any out-of-pocket costs incurred by Holder in the event that a check issued by Maker is dishonored for any reason.

During any time in which Maker is in default under this Promissory Note, finance charges may, at Holder's option, accrue on the actual outstanding balance on a simple interest basis at a default rate equal to the maximum lawful rate permitted to be charged by Holder under the laws of the State of Nevada. In the event that there is no such maximum lawful rate, then finance charges shall accrue on the actual outstanding balance on a simple interest basis during such period at a default rate of twenty-five percent (25%) per annum.

In the event that counsel is employed to collect all or any part of the indebtedness evidenced hereby, whether at maturity or following acceleration, to the extent permitted by law Maker agrees to pay Holder's reasonable attorneys' fees, whether suit be brought or not (including any fees associated with appeals or bankruptcy proceedings), and all other costs and expenses reasonably incurred in connection with Holder's collection efforts.

Maker and any endorser, guarantor, or surety, jointly and severally, hereby waive presentment, protest, demand, notice of protest, and dishonor of this Promissory Note, and expressly agree that this Promissory Note, or any payment hereunder, may be extended from time to time without in any way affecting the liability of Maker or any endorser, guarantor, or surety hereof. To the extent not prohibited by applicable law, Maker also waives any rights to any stay of execution and the benefit of all homestead and/or other exemption laws now or hereafter in effect.

This Promissory Note shall be the joint and several obligation of each person signing below and shall apply to and bind each of them and each of their respective heirs, successors, personal representatives, and assigns.

The validity, construction, and enforceability of, and the rights and obligations of Maker and Holder under, this Promissory Note shall be governed by, construed, and enforced in accordance with the laws of the State of Nevada.

In the event that any one or more of the provisions of this Promissory Note shall for any reason be held to be invalid or unenforceable, in whole or in part or in any respect, then such provision or provisions only shall be disregarded as though not contained herein and shall not affect any other provision of this Promissory Note, and the remaining provisions of this Promissory Note shall remain operative and in full force and effect and shall in no way be affected, prejudiced, or disturbed thereby.

It is the intent of Holder to comply fully with all interest and usury laws of the State of Nevada, as currently enacted or hereafter in effect. Notwithstanding any provision hereof to the contrary, in no event shall this Promissory Note require the payment or permit the collection of interest in excess of the maximum amount of interest permitted under the laws of the State of Nevada. In the event that the amount of interest contracted for, charged, or received under this Promissory Note exceeds the maximum amount of interest permitted under the laws of the State of Nevada, then the provisions of this paragraph shall govern and control, and neither

Maker nor any other person or entity now or hereafter liable for the payment hereof shall be obligated to pay the amount of such interest to the extent that it exceeds the maximum amount of interest permitted under the laws of the State of Nevada. Any such excess interest which may have been collected by Holder shall, at the option of Holder, either be applied as a credit against the unpaid principal balance hereof or be refunded to Maker, and the effective rate of interest shall be reduced to the maximum rate of interest permitted to be charged under the laws of the State of Nevada.

Except for any notice required under applicable law to be given in another manner, any notice that either party desires or is required to give the other party under this Promissory Note shall be in writing and shall be deemed to have been duly given upon the earlier to occur of (a) its actual receipt; (b) three (3) business days after being deposited in the United States mail as first class mail, postage prepaid; or (c) one (1) business day after being sent via overnight courier service such as Federal Express, addressed to the applicable party at the address therefor stated herein or at such other address as the receiving party has previously notified the giving party in the manner prescribed in this paragraph. If Maker consists of more than one (1) person, then notice to any of them shall be deemed to constitute notice to all of them.

ANY HOLDER OF THIS CONSUMER CREDIT CONTRACT IS SUBJECT TO ALL CLAIMS AND DEFENSES WHICH THE DEBTOR COULD ASSERT AGAINST THE SELLER OF GOODS OR SERVICES OBTAINED PURSUANT HERETO OR WITH THE PROCEEDS HEREOF. RECOVERY HEREUNDER BY THE DEBTOR SHALL NOT EXCEED AMOUNTS PAID BY THE DEBTOR HEREUNDER.

Re: Mr. José Zarate and Ms. Miriam Maldonado
Address: 1513 Orchid St., Lompoc, CA 93436
Account Number: 0027057398

Dear Ms. Gaxiola:

Our law firm has been hired to contest the lawfulness of the referenced transactions on behalf of our clients. The original sale occurred on October 16, 2018, when our clients paid $52,453.20 in order to join your company's timeshare network, including an initial deposit of $7,500.00, while financing the remaining $44,953.20. Our clients purchased an upgrade on December 15, 2018, when they paid $63,255.00, including an initial deposit of $3,165.00, while financing the remaining $60,090.00. Both assets have a combined purchase total of $115,708.20.

Kindly deal exclusively with our office until advised to the contrary under Title 15 and the analogous Nevada statute concerning the issues at hand. These issues include certain false promises and flaws in the closing process that occurred during the transaction. In addition, our clients are unable to access the resort network as promised, even by comparison to one booking anonymously through individual resort websites or internet booking services.

Mr. José Zarate and Ms. Miriam Maldonado first met with your sales team during their vacation on October 16, 2018 in Las Vegas, Nevada at the Excalibur Hotel. They were approached by a stand worker at the Excalibur Hotel, and were offered two free tickets to Las Vegas shows and a $50.00 debit card if they attended a presentation at a new hotel. Our clients were told that it would last approximately 90 minutes. They were not told that this was going to be a sales presentation or a timeshare presentation. During the presentation they were given a tour of a room located in the Polo Towers and were shown pictures of more worldwide properties.

At the outset of this process, our clients sat through a preliminary informational session that generally went over the benefits of "vacation ownership." Afterward, our clients were assigned to Giovanni Santana (License #3916) as their personal sales agent. Mr. Santana made a number of very specific promises during this segment of the process. For example, our clients were led to believe that investment in this opportunity was like membership in an exclusive club, allowing access to all of the resorts and other destinations throughout the network. They were specifically told that they could travel to Australia, Bora Bora and Italy and stay at international resort destinations. Our clients were told that members have priority on booking any reservations for hotels rooms, cruises or flights.

Mr. Santana stated that the purchase was a onetime deal, and mentioned that it would appreciate in value similar to an investment in real estate. He also mentioned that your company had a resale and rental program to enhance the value of the investment. Our clients were advised too that they could offset the cost of the timeshare through rentals or by participating in certain exchange programs. In addition to this, they were told that if for some reason they did not like the timeshare, or no longer wanted it anymore, they could easily sell it back to Diamond Resort at any time. After a few hours into the presentation, our clients expressed their desire to leave due to the high price of the deal they were being offered on the timeshare. Mr. Santana asked our clients to stay longer and said he could improve the deal by talking to his sales manager. While Mr. Zarate and Ms. Maldonado waited for the sales manager to return, Mr. Santana showed our clients pictures on his cell phone of Diamond resort destinations, as well as pictures of himself with his fiancée at destinations that he claimed belonged to Diamond Resorts.

During the entire presentation process maintenance fees were never mentioned or discussed. It was only at the end of the process when our clients were about to sign the paperwork that they noticed that there were in fact maintenance fees. According to Mr. Santana, maintenance fees were going to be covered by a rewards program that was included in the contract. Our clients were told that the loan interest rate, which was 14.4083%, was going to transition to 4.9%. This was allegedly due to the fact that they had very good credit, and that this lower interest rate was going to be reflected on the paperwork by the following payment. This specific promise of a lower interest rate for our clients never came to fruition. Our clients later found out that they had to pay $1,684.00 in maintenance fees annually, which were subject to increases of 25% or more per year. None of this information was fully disclosed to Mr. Zarate and Ms. Maldonado at the time that they signed the contract.

After over 8 long hours of high-pressure sales pitching, our clients finally yielded under the stress and signed the closing documents. Throughout the closing phase, our clients were never given the chance to actually review the paperwork, and Mr. James Martinez, the quality assurance agent offered no assistance. Rather, he offhandedly flipped through the pages, merely pointing out the blanks to sign off on. He stated that the contract had the same information that was verbally discussed with the salesperson. The paperwork was signed electronically and with their signatures and initials duplicated throughout the contract. Our clients did not receive a public offering statement and neither was it mentioned at any time. Thus, it appears that the presentation and execution of certain documents necessary to close the transaction never occurred.

After Mr. Zarate and Ms. Maldonado arrived home, they attempted to reach Mr. Santana multiple times by phone and text messages in order to cancel the timeshare purchase. Their repeated attempts were ignored, and they received no replies whatsoever. This was all within the 5-day recession period pursuant to Nev. Rev. Stat. § 119A.410(1).

Our clients trusted that the closing documents accurately reflected the statements of the sales representatives. The marketing team failed to disclose that much of the access to international and even domestic resort destinations is only available through paying additional exchange network fees. It was not until after our clients actually tried to make reservations that they learned of this. Our clients have also since learned that they have to compete with non-members of your vacation club to book reservations. It is clear now that membership in the network is not a financial investment in any sense.

On December 15th, 2018 our clients met with a second salesperson Mr. Mario Montalbo (License #6447). Mr. Montalbo filled out all the paperwork for our clients in order to "fix" their loan, as he told them. Mr. Montalbo mentioned to our clients that they did not have enough points and would never be able to book anything with it. So he concluded that it would be better to add 2,000 points to the 7,500 points that our clients had previously purchased in October. Mr. Montalbo did not review the contract with our clients.

After 6 additional hours of intense sales pitching, our clients finally succumbed again to the same reckless tactics and signed the closing documents. Throughout their second timeshare closing phase, our clients were not given the chance to actually review the paperwork with Brandi Hughes, the quality assurance agent. Once again, the closing agent simply pointed to the dotted lines and told our clients to sign.

Thereafter, our clients have become heavily indebted, but have not been able to access the resort network as led to believe. Specifically, our clients have only been able to reserve a vacation interval once since having joined. They had a tremendous amount of difficulty making the reservation, and had to accept accommodations that were smaller in size and in a different resort than what they originally wanted.

Given these compelling legal and equitable issues, we hope and trust that this dispute can be resolved. In this regard, our clients are willing to relinquish their vacation ownership interest in exchange for a full refund of all amounts paid thus far. We regret that this proposal will not be extended if we are forced to resort to formal dispute resolution. Thank you for your kind attention to the issues addressed in this correspondence.

Sincerely,

Austin N. Aaronson, Esq.

Re:

Names: Marieta Bohulano Jacob
Address: 22 Canterbury Ct. Petaluma, CA 94954
Contract #: 17807534
Date of Purchase: November 18, 2018

Dear Ms. Gaxiola:

Our law firm has been hired to contest the lawfulness of the referenced transaction on behalf of our client. This sale occurred on November 18, 2018 when our client paid $13,067.00 in order to join your company's timeshare network.

Kindly deal exclusively with our office until advised to the contrary under Title 15 and the analogous state provision concerning the issues at hand. These issues include certain false promises and flaws in the closing process that occurred during the transaction. In addition, our client is unable to sell her timeshare as promised, even after upgrading her account with Diamond resorts in reliance on the explicit promises made by sales agent Anna Montalbo.

Mrs. Jacob first met with your sales team while visiting Las Vegas, Nevada where she was encouraged by Diamond VIP front desk agents to sit through a brief presentation of some kind. Our client was told that this presentation would involve information on conveying her timeshare interest and that she would have the opportunity to invest in your company.

At the outset of this process, Mrs. Jacob sat through a preliminary informational session while a key note speaker generally went over the benefits of "vacation ownership". Afterward, Mrs. Jacob together with others attending the event broke out into couples, in this case involving Anna Morgan, who was assigned as her personal sales agent. Mrs. Morgan made a number of very specific promises during this segment of the process. For example, our client was led to believe that investment in this opportunity was like membership in an exclusive club, allowing access to all of these resorts and other destinations throughout the network. Anna Morgan also promised our client she would be able to offset her maintenance fees by depositing 3000 points before December 14, 2018. Anna specifically offered to combine her maintenance fees and club dues into one payment to make the transactions much smoother, while further assuring our client she would walk her through the process as long as she called before the December 14th cutoff date. Our client and her guests were also shown marketing literature portraying the availability of resorts at numerous domestic and international locations. Anna Morgan of the sales staff and manager Matthew Gutierrez stated that this purchase would appreciate in value similar to an investment in real estate, and that your company had a re-sale and rental program to enhance the value of the investment. This resale program was the primary factor in our client's decision to upgrade her account, in reality this promise was merely illusory.

The marketing team failed to disclose that much of the access to international and even domestic resort destinations is only available through paying additional exchange network fees. It was not until after our client actually tried to make reservations that she learned of this. Mrs. Jacob has also since learned that she has to compete with non-members of your vacation club to book reservations. It is also clear now that membership in the network is not a financial investment in any sense.

Similarly, our client returned the called Anna Montalbo to claim her credit for points before December 14, 2018, as instructed, yet Ms. Montalbo never responded, even after multiple voicemails and text messages. It was not until our client finally spoke to Anna Morgan after expiration of the statutory rescission period that she received the correct information and realized Ms. Montalbo had willfully misrepresented the nature and characteristics of the reward points program.

After five hours of high-pressure sales pitching, our client finally folded/gave in/wilted under the stress and signed the closing documents. Throughout the closing phase Mrs. Jacob was never given the chance to actually review the paperwork, as evidenced by multiple missing signatures on the latter pages which pertain to closing disclosures. Mr. Matthew Gutierrez, the quality assurance manager, rendered no assistance. Rather, Matthew offhandedly flipped through the pages, merely pointing out the blanks to sign off on and even reading some portions of the contract to Mrs. Jacobs due to the language barriers. Mrs. Jacobs trusted that the closing documents accurately reflected the statements of the sales representatives. It appears that the presentation and execution of certain documents necessary to close the transaction never occurred, including a review of the public offering statement.

Thereafter, Mrs. Jacobs has become heavily indebted, and has not been able to access the resort network as led to believe. Specifically, our client has not been able to make a single reservation within the network despite the liberal access promised while also being burdened with a maintenance fee she was promised would be waived.

There exist equitable concerns that we urge you to consider in this instance as well. Initially, Mrs. Jacob has recently been diagnosed with type 2 diabetes involving daily monitoring and medication, including frequent time off from work. She also suffers from paroxysmal atrial fibrillation, gastrointestinal bleeding, and iron deficiency anemia requiring extensive medication involving routine hospital visits. Thus, without your kind consideration in this regard, our clients' essential needs will be jeopardized due to the expense of a vacation interest that she can neither use nor afford. If you require verification with respect to any of these components of Mrs. Jacobs hardship, we can supply the documentation in confidence upon execution of an appropriate HIPAA release.

Given these compelling legal and equitable issues, we hope and trust that this dispute can be resolved. In this regard, our client is willing to relinquish her vacation ownership interest in exchange for a release from any continuing obligations under the contract. We regret that this proposal will not be extended if we are forced to resort to formal dispute resolution. Thank you for your kind attention to the issues addressed in this correspondence.

Sincerely,

Austin N. Aaronson, Esq.

Date of Purchase: October 9, 2017

Dear Ms. Gaxiola:

We represent the legal interests of the referenced individuals with respect to a dispute that has arisen concerning their purchase of a resort vacation interest with your company. The first transaction giving rise to their grievances occurred on December 8, 2016, when our clients paid $31,220.00 in order to join your company's timeshare network, including an initial deposit of $4,684.00, while financing the remaining $26,536.00. Our clients purchased an upgrade on April 21, 2017, when they paid $20,900.00, including an initial deposit of $4,280.00, while financing the remaining $16,620.00. Our clients purchased a second upgrade on October 9, 2017, when they paid $21,550.00, including an initial deposit of $4,400.00, while financing the remaining $17,150.00. All assets have a combined total purchase price of $73,670.00.

We must respectfully insist that all future communications regarding the associated obligations be directed to this office in compliance with 15 U.S.C. § 1692c(a)(2) and the Nevada Fair Debt Collection Practices Act. Certain misstatements and other irregularities occurred during the sales presentation with which our clients take issue. Moreover, they complain of problems in accessing the resort network on reasonable terms and conditions, even relative to the consuming public at large.

In terms of context, our clients were vacationing in Orlando, Florida when they were approached by your company and offered six free tickets to a theme park as inducements to take a tour and attend a presentation at Tempus Palms Resort. Our clients were told that it would last 60 minutes and that investment opportunities would be discussed. Our clients were placed in a room, given name tags, and offered coffee and breakfast. About fifteen minutes later, a salesperson approached their table and sat with them until they completed their breakfast. Then, our clients were taken into another room where they sat through a preliminary informational session during which the merits of becoming members of your company's resort network were touted.

During this session, a number of promises were made, some of which our clients have since learned to be false. For example, our clients were led to believe that investment in this opportunity was like membership in an exclusive club, allowing access to all of the resorts and other destinations throughout the network. They were specifically shown marketing literature portraying the availability of resort destinations around the globe, and were told that they could use their timeshare interest to go to these destinations. Our clients were told directly that their maintenance fees would never under any circumstances increase. Our clients were also under the impression that the allotted points which were offered were more than enough to go anywhere that they wished.

The sales representative, Mr. Trent Galloway, stated that this purchase would appreciate in value similar to an investment in real estate, and that your company had a resale and rental program to enhance the value of the investment. He also told our clients that the timeshare would pay for itself through income from rent and bookings made by other parties under their timeshare member ID. He further told our clients that this was a one-time offer that had to be decided upon immediately. When they told Mr. Galloway that they could not afford the cost, he invited his manager, Mr. Jose Gutierrez, into the discussion.

Our clients were offered an arrangement which would effectively "eliminate" the cost of the maintenance fees. The method involved applying for and opening a new Barclay's credit card account. Our clients were told that enrolling in the new credit card would help them accumulate enough points to be redeemed to entirely cover all maintenance fees. Our clients were told several times by Mr. Galloway that if they enrolled for the Barclay's card, they would never have to worry about paying maintenance fees because the points would entirely zero-out the cost. Mr. Galloway also reiterated that he himself, as well as his mother (who also works for Diamond Resorts), have used this tried and true method for many years. Mr. Galloway even touted the effectiveness of the card by frequently revealing his own Barclay's card to our clients throughout the presentation. Our clients were given such little information regarding the terms and conditions of the Barclay's credit card, that they were shocked to find out that they would have to charge egregious sums of money on the card in order to cover a small portion of the maintenance fees. Our clients subsequently discovered that they were signed up for not one, but three Barclay's credit card accounts, one of which was used for the most recent down payment. When our clients called Mr. Galloway to alert him of this error, he advised them to just cancel one card if they did not want it. Our clients never agreed to have two additional credit cards enrolled in their names.

Our clients were specifically told that if a scenario arose where they could not maintain the payments for the timeshare and were compelled to end the arrangement, Diamond Resorts would gladly assist in renting the unit, or would purchase the timeshare from our clients. Mr. Galloway explained that if the timeshare had to be sold, Diamond Resorts would take care of it. Our clients were not told that Diamond Resorts severely limited their resale rights, as well as the purchaser's ability to make reservations.

The marketing team failed to disclose that much of the access to international and even domestic resort destinations is only available through paying additional exchange network fees. It was not until after our clients actually tried to make reservations that they learned of this. And our clients now realize that they are forced to compete with outsiders who are booking publicly through individual resort websites even though Mr. Galloway explicitly stated that the timeshare owner always had priority. He also told our clients that if a non-owner booked the room, the booking would be cancelled in order to accommodate the owner. It has become clear that membership in the network is not, properly speaking, a financial investment.

After over six hours of sitting through a strenuous, high-pressure sales presentation, our clients finally capitulated under the intense stress and signed the closing documents. During the closing phase, our clients were never provided a chance to thoroughly read the contents of the paperwork involved, and the manager, Mr. Gutierrez, offered no explanations. Rather, he perfunctorily pointed out the signature blocks on page after page. Accordingly, certain disclosures, waivers, acknowledgments, and even the public offering statement were not properly presented. Our clients trusted that the closing documents were true to the statements made by your sales staff.

There exist equitable concerns that we urge you to consider in this instance as well. Mr. Lewis and Ms. Lewis were married when the timeshare was bought, but are now divorced. Now that they are divorced, Ms. Lewis is burdened with the entire cost of the maintenance fees. Ms. Lewis has even attempted to sell the timeshare on her own, after your company refused to cooperate with her in selling or buying back the timeshare as previously promised. Ms. Lewis has paid off the original timeshare loan, and is seeking to relinquish her timeshare because she simply can no longer afford the timeshare interest. Currently, her spouse and she are dealing with a tax obligation from the IRS totaling upwards of $250,000.00. The financial burden created by this tax obligation has made it financially untenable for our client to maintain their ownership interests with Diamond Resorts.

Our clients have made a good-faith effort to reach out to your company over the course of many months in order to resolve this dispute, to the point where their case has a ticket number. They specifically asked to be released from this contract due to their unique and unfortunate circumstances. In direct response to this genuine expression of concern, our clients have been met with repeated stonewalling and run arounds, without any degree of cooperation by Diamond Resorts. When our clients called your company in an attempt to seek assistance, Mr. Galloway cut them off and said he would call him back. Our clients tried to call again on the same day, they still received no response. This same scenario repeated itself many times over the span of several months.

Given these compelling legal and equitable issues, we hope and trust that this dispute can be resolved. In this regard, our clients are willing to relinquish their vacation ownership interest in exchange for a full refund of all amounts paid thus far. We regret that this proposal will not be extended if we are forced to resort to formal dispute resolution. We hope that you will work with us to bring this matter to a reasonable and timely close. Thank you for your kind attention to the issues addressed in this correspondence.

Sincerely,

Austin N. Aaronson, Esq.

Dear Attorney General Ashley Moody:

We would like to relinquish our Time Share with Diamond International. We have had it several years, but now our life style is changing :

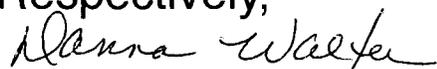

- We are older.
- My husband has Multiple Sclerosis that is now advancing.
- We are limited to a few places, most of which are long distances. This requires additional costs for each vacation, as we need to fly, rent a car, and usually need hotel stay/s. Driving is no longer an option.
- Due to health issues, all of the above have presented problems; making our trips less desirable.
- There are too many rules as to when we can travel and time restraints as to when we can make arrangements.
- Maintenance costs and Taxes continue to rise
- When we asked about selling or giving it back, we were told we could not.
- We have tried renting it. This was a waste of money.
- We thought we would be able to have our children and grandchildren enjoy it. It proved to be too expensive and easier to use a vacation rental in our area.
- When Diamond took over we went for their "update" presentation. We were treated horribly as the updates are really only high pitched sales. I believe that was in 2014 at Williamsburg.

- Due to our distrust of Diamond, we eventually went with an outside company to help us.

We are now Senior Citizens with advancing medical issues, limited income, and difficulties traveling. We would greatly appreciate any assistance.

Respectively,

Loan ID No.: 0023073110
Date of Purchase: May 29, 2007

Dear Ms. Gaxiola:

Our law firm has been hired to contest the lawfulness of the referenced transaction on behalf of our client, Michael West, who cosigned the contract with Ramona Beasley. This sale occurred on May 29, 2007, when our client paid $9,750.00 in order to join your company's timeshare network, including an initial deposit of $1,290.00, while financing the remaining $8,460.00.

Kindly deal exclusively with our office until advised to the contrary under Title 15 and the analogous state provision concerning the issues at hand. These issues include certain false promises and flaws in the closing process that occurred during the transaction. In addition, our client is unable to access the resort network as promised, even by comparison to one booking anonymously through individual resort websites or internet booking services.

Mr. West and Ms. Beasley first met with your sales team while vacationing in Miami Beach, Florida. They were approached on the beach and offered a free hotel stay on their next visit in exchange for agreeing to watch a brief video presentation of some kind at a nearby hotel. Our client was told that it would last about an hour, and that he would have the opportunity to invest in your company.

At the outset of this process, Mr. West and Ms. Beasley sat through a video presentation of the Diamond resort in Orlando, Florida, while a key note speaker generally went over the benefits of "vacation ownership." Afterward, our clients were assigned to a sales agent, who made a number of very specific promises. For example, our client was led to believe that investment in this opportunity was like membership in an exclusive club, allowing access to all of the resorts and other destinations throughout the network. He was specifically shown marketing literature portraying the availability of cruise lines and domestic and international resort destinations. The sales staff stated that this purchase would appreciate in value similar to an investment in real estate, and that your company had a resale and rental program to enhance the value of the investment. The sales agent also told our client that the cost of the timeshare could be offset by renting the timeshare and that maintenance fees and monthly payments would not increase over time. Finally, the sales agent told him that he would get a deed to the timeshare, which he never received.

The marketing team failed to disclose that much of the access to international and even domestic resort destinations is only available through paying additional exchange network fees. It was not until after our client actually tried to make reservations that he learned of this. Mr. West has also since learned that he has to compete with non-members of your vacation club to book reservations. Diamond's sales staff never told our client that the resort rented rooms to the public. Nor did they tell him that timeshare or other accommodations were available on a first come, first serve basis. It is clear now that membership in the network is not a financial investment in any sense.

After many hours of high-pressure sales pitching, our client finally gave in under the stress and signed the closing documents. Throughout the closing phase, Mr. West was never given the chance to actually review the paperwork, and the closing agent, Deborah J. Moon, rendered no assistance. Rather, she offhandedly flipped through the pages, merely pointing out the blanks to sign off on. Mr. West trusted that the closing documents accurately reflected the statements of the sales representatives. It appears that the presentation and execution of certain documents necessary to close the transaction never occurred, including a review of the public offering statement, which he never received. Our client did not have enough time to read or understand the contract before he signed it. When he started asking questions and asked for additional time, they told him to sign because it was a standard contract that contained the same information that was covered in the sales presentation.

Thereafter, Mr. West has become heavily indebted, but has not been able to access the resort network as led to believe. Specifically, our client has not been able to make a single reservation within the network despite the liberal access promised. He has no idea whether Ms. Beasley ever used the timeshare since he has not been in contact with her for years, but when he tried to use it, he discovered there was limited availability, and he had no access due to late payments.

There exist equitable concerns that we urge you to consider in this instance as well. Our client has financial burdens which preclude him from using his timeshare interest and make it unaffordable for him. Specifically, the beginning loan balance at the time of purchase in 2007 was $8,460.00. The interest rate on the loan is 17.75%. By February of 2009, the principal balance had only dropped to $7,937.05. The co-owner of the timeshare, Ramona Beasley, took responsibility for making the payments and was paying fairly consistently until the end of 2011. In June of 2012, the principal balance on the loan was $6,192.35, and it stayed at that amount for the next five years while the co-owner of the timeshare made sporadic payments that were obviously not being applied to the principal balance.

Before they stopped communicating, Ms. Beasley told Mr. West that she sold the timeshare. Mr. West had no reason to believe that the timeshare was still his financial responsibility. He was not getting billing statements for the loan or maintenance fees and was never contacted by Diamond or its finance company during this time. In fact, our client did not receive an invoice for the timeshare until the summer of 2017 when he discovered that he had a principal balance of $6,192.35. At the beginning of 2018, Mr. West spoke with Diamond and authorized a one-time payment of $226.62, which they told him would resolve his outstanding balance. They did not indicate how much of this was going to interest or late fees and whether any of it was being paid to principal. A loan payment history statement that was sent to him during that time showed the principal balance on the account was still $6,192.35. The interest that had been paid to date was $6,181.05 and the late charges paid were $297.09. When he spoke to the developer in August of 2018, he was told that his balance had increased to $9,541.42, even though, according to his records, he had paid a total of $9,375.77.

In addition, Mr. West was told that the payments he was making were inclusive of all fees. However, he received a final notice in April of 2018 that told him that he owed an additional $5,807.08 in maintenance fees. At that point, he was given the option to pay the outstanding maintenance fees or allow the account to remain delinquent and have a lien filed in his name against the interval. Diamond also threatened to turn the account over to a collection agency and initiate foreclosure proceedings.

Not only is the client having difficulty making payments on top of his other expenses, but the balance continues to increase. The developer has sent negative reports to the credit reporting agencies, and our client was denied a loan when he attempted to purchase his first home. This has placed a significant strain on our client's financial health, and he has had to make dramatic cuts to his standard of living. Thus, without your kind consideration of our client's offer, his essential needs will be jeopardized due to the expense of a vacation interest that he can neither use nor afford.

Given these compelling legal and equitable issues, we hope and trust that this dispute can be resolved. In this regard, our client is willing to relinquish his vacation ownership interest in exchange for a full refund of all amounts paid thus far. We regret that this proposal will not be extended if we are forced to resort to formal dispute resolution. Thank you for your kind attention to the issues addressed in this correspondence.

Sincerely,

Austin N. Aaronson, Esq.

Re: Names: Sally L. Cole and Ken Stone
Address: 39236 Stayton-Scio Road, Apt. 542C, Scio, Or 97374
Unit/Week Number: Villa 542C, Scio, Or 97374
Dates of Purchase: January 15, 1997

Dear Ms. Gaxiola:

We represent the legal interests of the referenced individual, Sally L. Cole, Ken Stone being now deceased and having bequeathed his interests to the aforementioned, with respect to a dispute that has arisen concerning her purchase of a resort vacation interest with your company. The transaction giving rise to Ms. Cole's grievances occurred on January 15, 1997 when she paid $9,495.00 in consideration of a timeshare interest, including an initial cash deposit of $1,001.89 and financed the remaining $8,923.91.

We must respectfully insist that all future communications regarding the associated obligations be directed to this office in compliance with 15 U.S.C. § 1692c(a)(2) and/or Fla. Stat. §559.72. Certain misstatements and other irregularities occurred during the sales presentation with which our client takes issue. Moreover, they complain of problems in accessing the resort network on reasonable terms and conditions, even relative to the consuming public at large.

During the presentation, the Ms. Cole sat through a preliminary informational session during which the merits of becoming a member of your company's resort network were touted. During this session a number of promises were made, some of which our client has since learned to be false. For example; our client was led to believe that investment in this opportunity was like membership in an exclusive club, allowing access to all of these resorts and other destinations throughout the network.

The marketing team failed to disclose that much of the access to domestic resort destinations is only available through paying additional exchange network fees. It was not until after our client actually tried to make reservations that they learned of this. And our client now realizes that they are forced to compete with outsiders who are booking publicly through individual resort websites. It has also become clear that membership in the network is not, properly speaking, a financial investment.

Initially, in 1997 our client paid a nominal maintenance fee of $293.21, which at the time was true as advertised, or competitive with market value of a modest-sized room in the area. Since that time, however, by April 4, 2018 the maintenance fee has ballooned to the amount of $1,142.78, with a separate fee of $1,098.41 assessed by October of that same year, both owing to hurricane maintenance. In sum, all amounts owed under the auspices of maintenance have proved to involve various hidden fees making for an unfavorable investment, given market conditions. Furthermore, amenities offered did not materialize as expected. One of these was a jacuzzi which turned out not to be included in the unit, in which it was soon discovered that other accommodations are not on par with the original model shown.

After many hours of sitting through the sales meeting our client finally gave in under the pressure and signed the closing documents. During the closing phase, Ms. Cole was never provided a chance to read the contents of the paperwork involved and the closing agent offered no explanations. Rather, the agent perfunctorily pointed out the signature blocks on page after page. Accordingly, certain disclosures, waivers, acknowledgments, and even the public offering statement were not properly presented. Ms. Cole trusted that the closing documents were true to the statements made by your sales staff.

There exist equitable concerns that we urge you to consider in this instance as well. Initially, Ms. Cole, who will be 70 years old later this year, is retired and relies upon social security payments as her chief source of income. Ms. Cole has recently undergone knee replacement surgery, which allows her only limited mobility, such that her knee cannot bend beyond ninety degrees, making her unable to climb stairs. In addition, her younger son makes us aware of deteriorating cognitive abilities, evidenced by diminishing short-term memory. Due to these extenuating circumstances, she is unable to travel as much as she has in the past. Thus, without your kind consideration in this regard, our client's essential needs will be jeopardized due to the expense of a vacation interest that she can neither use nor afford. If you require verification with respect to any of these components of the family's hardship, we can supply the documentation in confidence upon execution of an appropriate HIPAA release.

Given these compelling legal and equitable issues, we hope and trust that this dispute can be resolved. In this regard, our client is willing to relinquish her vacation ownership interest in exchange for a rescission of her original contract. We regret that this proposal will not be extended if we are forced to resort to formal dispute resolution. Thank you for your kind attention to the issues addressed in this correspondence.

Sincerely,

Austin N. Aaronson, Esq.

Re: Carmelita and Cesar Esquig
Address: 554 Crane Prairie Way Osprey, FL 34229
Contract Number: 17775132

Dear Ms. Gaxiola:

We represent the legal interests of Carmelita and Cesar Esquig with respect to a dispute arising from their purchase of a resort vacation interest with your company. The transaction giving rise to the Esquigs' grievances occurred on September 15, 2018 when they paid $52,500 and $750 for closing cost to retire their previous interests at the Mystic Dunes resort and the 2,000 points US Collection will be transitioned into a new contract. Hence, the Esquigs would not have any more liability on the Mystic Dunes condo/resort and the US Collection for future maintenance and HOA fees. The Mystic Dunes timeshare and the 2,000 points invested in your US collections network were both fully paid. The sales team member, Mrs. Catherine Sharpe Davis told them that the offer was only available that day. Mrs. Davis helped them apply for the Diamond Resorts International Mastercard on behalf of both Cesar and Carmelita Esquig. Carmelita Esquig only used her newly approved card and paid $10,500 as down payment resulting in a balance of $42,750.00.

We must respectfully insist that all future communications regarding the associated obligations be directed to this office in compliance with 15 U.S.C. § 1692c(a)(2) and any analogous state statute. Certain misstatements and other irregularities occurred during the sales presentation with which our clients take issue.

By way of context, the Esquigs were asked to attend the Diamond Resorts homeowners meeting when they were assigned by a member of your sales team, Ms. Catherine Davis, to assist them with their timeshare. The Esquigs, who had been current on their maintenance fees, and have fully paid off their timeshares, informed Ms. Catherine Davis that they wanted to get rid of their timeshares due to the escalating maintenance fees and HOA fees. Ms. Davis told our clients that Diamond Resorts does not buyback timeshares and that the Esquigs could eliminate their maintenance fees by upgrading their timeshare. Ms. Davis then advised our clients that by upgrading their current timeshare, they would be able to sell it on the stock market at a profit in the next five years.

Our clients have since learned that some of the promises made by Ms. Davis were untrue. For example, Ms. Davis assured our clients that upgrading their timeshare would be a real estate 'investment' and that they could resell their timeshare at a profit in the next five years using the stock market. In point of fact, it has come to light that there exists no meaningful secondary market associated with this timeshare ownership. And in spite of promises to the contrary, the annual dues are already high, and they continue to escalate. This has to do with an inherent conflict of interest associated with captive management perpetually vested in your company's affiliate.

After over four hours of sitting through the sales meeting our clients finally succumbed under pressure and signed the closing documents. During the documents signing phase the Esquigs were not accorded a meaningful opportunity to digest the contents of the paperwork involved. Nor did the closing agent render any assistance in this respect. Instead, the closing agent simply went through the motions, pointing out the places to sign on page after page. Accordingly, certain disclosures, waivers, acknowledgments, and the like were not properly reviewed as lawfully required. Significantly, this includes the public offering statement.

There exist equitable concerns that we urge you to consider in this instance as well. Mr. Cesar has chronic pain in both his knees and shoulder. Last December Mr. Cesar underwent knee surgery in order to improve the mobility in his leg. As the result of Mr. Cesar's condition, he requires monitoring, medication, and rehab. Mr. Cesar also has Kidney stones and had occasions of Acute Gout. Mrs. Carmelita, eighty years old, suffers from severe osteoporosis, sciatica, and stenosis. She is being treated for High Blood Pressure, Lipid Disorder and Multiple Thyroid Disorder. Mrs. Carmelita is a cancer survivor from Uterine and Breast Cancer. Mrs. Carmelita can hardly walk a block without suffering hip and knee pains, yet alone travel to different Diamond Resorts. These ailments require many medications to manage, and our clients are now afraid to travel long distances from their doctors, in case of any acute management or emergency medical situations. Thus, without your kind consideration in this regard, our clients' essential needs will be jeopardized due to the expense of a vacation interest that they can neither use nor afford. If you require verification with respect to any of these components of the family's hardship, we can supply the documentation in confidence upon execution of an appropriate HIPAA release.

We hope and trust that this dispute can be resolved. In this regard, our clients are willing to relinquish their vacation ownership interest in exchange for a full refund of all amounts paid thus far. We regret that this proposal will not be extended if we are forced to resort to formal dispute resolution. Thank you for your kind attention to the issues addressed in this correspondence.

Re: Name: Timothy and Dolor Dillon

Contract Number: #17775138
Date of Purchase: September 15, 2018

Dear Ms. Gaxiola:

We represent the legal interests of Timothy and Dolor Dillon with respect to a dispute arising from their purchase of a resort vacation interest with your company. The transaction giving rise to the Dillons' grievances occurred on September 15, 2018, when they paid $28,578.00 in consideration of a timeshare interest, including an initial deposit of $6,500.00 and financed the remaining $22,078.00.

We must respectfully insist that all future communications regarding the associated obligations be directed to this office in compliance with 15 U.S.C. § 1692c(a)(2) and any analogous state statute. Certain misstatements and other irregularities occurred during the sales presentation with which our clients take issue. Moreover, they complain of problems in accessing the resort network on reasonable terms and conditions, even relative to the consuming public at large.

By way of context, the Dillons were vacationing in Las Vegas, Nevada when they were approached by a member of your sales staff offering dinner and show tickets. To claim their prize, they would be required to attend a meeting, the actual nature of which was not revealed to them. Regardless, our clients were told that it would last around 120 minutes.

During the presentation, the Dillons sat through a preliminary informational session during which the merits of vacation ownership were generally touted. Our clients have since learned that some of the promises made were untrue. For example, our clients were led to believe that investment in this opportunity was like membership in an exclusive club, allowing access to all of these resorts and other destinations throughout the network. They were specifically told they could access their dream vacation in the Philippines, and the sales staff stated that this purchase was similar to an investment in real estate. Your sales staff stated that the Dillons would only owe maintenance fees for the entirety of the loan payments. Once they paid the principal on the loan, they were led to believe that the maintenance fees ceased. Our clients now know this to be false.

Moreover, the Dillons were led to believe that $189.00 was the full amount of what they would have to pay every month. Your staff knew the Dillons could not afford anything greater. Despite this, one of your sales staff lied to the Dillons, telling them that the $348.00 was a one-time amount for a "perk." Moreover, the sales agent told the Dillons to ignore the $348.00 in the contract, and all they needed to do was simply call customer service, well after the rescission period, to have the payment changed back to the actual $189.00. Of course, this was a complete misrepresentation by your staff; in fact, the $348.00 was what they were being billed for every month, and this was substantially greater than the Dillons had agreed to and could afford.

The marketing team failed to disclose that much of the access to international and even domestic resort destinations is only available through paying additional exchange network fees. It was not until after our clients actually tried to make reservations that they learned of this. And our clients now realize that their ability to book accommodations is restricted by competition against people booking anonymously through resort websites – non-members of your vacation club. It is also apparent now that membership in the network is not, properly speaking, a financial investment. The Dillons never were told that the obligation to pay maintenance fees would continue for their heirs, should it be transferred or devised to their children. Additionally, your sales staff said the Dillons could easily transfer the timeshare back to Diamond should they need to for any reason.

After many hours of sitting through the sales meeting our clients finally succumbed under pressure and signed the closing documents. During the documents signing phase the Dillons were not accorded a meaningful opportunity to digest the contents of the paperwork involved. Nor did the closing agent render any assistance in this respect. Instead, Ms. Cleveland simply went through the motions, pointing out the places to sign on page after page. Accordingly, certain disclosures, waivers, acknowledgments, and the like were not properly reviewed as lawfully required. Significantly, this includes the public offering statement.

And in spite of all the expense, the Dillons have not been able to access the resort network as promised. In fact, our clients have not been able to make a single reservation within the network despite the liberal access promised. As our clients were misled into spending well beyond what they had anticipated, without your kind consideration in this regard, the Dillon family's essential needs will be jeopardized due to the expense of a vacation interest that they can neither use nor afford.

We hope and trust that this dispute can be resolved. In this regard, our clients are willing to relinquish their vacation ownership interest in exchange for a full refund of all amounts paid thus far. We regret that this proposal will not be extended if we are forced to resort to formal dispute resolution. Thank you for your kind attention to the issues addressed in this correspondence.

Sincerely,

Re: Name: Eugene Szantyr and Irene Toth
Diamond Contract No.: 17634263 – Mystic Dunes

Dear Ms. Gaxiola:

We represent the legal interests of the referenced individuals with respect to a dispute that has arisen concerning their purchase of a resort vacation interest with your company. The transaction giving rise to Eugene Szantyr and Irene Toth's grievances occurred on October 10, 2016 when they paid $168,900.00 in consideration of a timeshare interest, including an initial cash deposit of $27,607.00 and trade-in equity valued at $101,400.00, and financing the remaining $39,893.00.

We must respectfully insist that all future communications regarding the associated obligations be directed to this office in compliance with 15 U.S.C. § 1692c(a)(2) and/or Fla. Stat. §559.72. Certain misstatements and other irregularities occurred during the sales presentation with which our clients take issue. Moreover, they complain of problems in accessing the resort network on reasonable terms and conditions, even relative to the consuming public at large.

In terms of background, Eugene Szantyr and Irene Toth were vacationing in Florida where they were offered inducements to sit through a short presentation of some kind with your company. Regardless, our clients were told that it would last ninety (90) minutes and that investment opportunities would be discussed.

During the presentation, Eugene Szantyr and Irene Toth sat through a preliminary informational session during which the merits of upgrading their membership with your company's resort network. During this session a number of promises were made, some of which our clients have since learned to be false. For example, our clients were led to believe that investment in this opportunity was like membership in an exclusive club, allowing access to all of these resorts and other destinations throughout the network. They were specifically told they would have access to resorts in Italy and Australia. Angie Sanchez, of the sales staff, and manager Chris Loftis stated that this purchase would appreciate in value similar to an investment in real estate, and that your company had a rental program to enhance the value of the investment.

The marketing team failed to disclose that much of the access to international and even domestic resort destinations is only available through paying additional exchange network fees. It was not until after our clients actually tried to make reservations that they learned of this. And our clients now realize now that they are forced to compete with outsiders who are booking publicly through individual resort websites. It has also become clear that membership in the network is not, properly speaking, a financial investment.

After many hours of sitting through the sales meeting our clients finally gave in under the pressure and signed the closing documents. During the closing phase, Eugene Szantyr and Irene Toth were never provided a chance to read the contents of the paperwork involved, and the closing agent offered no explanations. Rather, the closing agent perfunctorily pointed out the signature blocks on page after page. Accordingly, certain disclosures, waivers, acknowledgments, and even the public offering statement were not properly presented. Eugene Szantyr and Irene Toth trusted that the closing documents were true to the statements made by your sales staff.

And in spite of all the expense, Eugene Szantyr and Irene Toth have not been able to access the resort network as promised. In fact, our clients have not been able to make a single reservation within the network despite the liberal access promised.

Given these compelling legal and equitable issues, we hope and trust that this dispute can be resolved. In this regard, our clients are willing to relinquish their dispute with your company in exchange for a full refund of all amounts paid thus far. We regret that this proposal will not be extended if we are forced to resort to formal dispute resolution. Thank you for your kind attention to the issues addressed in this correspondence.

Sincerely,

Austin N. Aaronson, Esq.

Dear Ms. Gaxiola:

Our law firm has been hired to contest the lawfulness of the referenced transactions on behalf of our clients. The original sale occurred on December 19, 2005, when our clients paid $10,320.00 for 3,000 Diamond Resorts Points in order to join your company's timeshare network, including an initial deposit of $1,032.00, while financing the remaining $9,288.00. Our clients also purchased an upgrade on July 1, 2007, when they paid $12,880.00 for 4,000 Diamond Resorts Points.

Kindly deal exclusively with our office until advised to the contrary under Title 15 and the analogous state statute concerning the issues at hand. These issues include certain false promises and flaws in the closing process that occurred during the transaction. In addition, our clients are unable to access the resort network as promised, even by comparison to one booking anonymously through individual resort websites or internet booking services.

Mr. Christopher Keyser and Ms. Jennifer Morgan first met with your sales team while staying at the Grand Beach Resort in Orlando, Florida, where they were offered vouchers to Walt Disney World in exchange for agreeing to sit through a brief presentation of some kind. Our clients were told that it would last approximately 90 minutes, and that they would have the opportunity to invest in your company.

At the outset of this process, our clients sat through a preliminary informational session while a keynote speaker generally went over the benefits of “vacation ownership.” Afterward, our clients were assigned to a personal sales agent. The salesperson, who failed to sign the initial contract, made a number of very specific promises during this segment of the process. For example, our clients were led to believe that investment in this opportunity was like membership in an exclusive club, allowing access to all of the resorts and other destinations throughout the network. They were specifically told that they could travel to a variety of different resort destinations around the world, including hotel chains outside the Diamond Resort network.

During the presentations, our clients attempted to leave multiple times. Our clients denote the very aggressive nature of the unnamed Diamond sales manager, and strongly affirm that they were being held against their wills to the point of extreme duress. The sales manager explicitly mentioned to our clients that they would “never have to worry about paying for another hotel again.” The allure of such a patently false promise was used to coerce our clients into signing, and further pushed our clients to ignore any apprehensions they may have been experiencing.

The Diamond salesperson stated that this purchase would appreciate in value similar to an investment in real estate, and that your company had a resale and rental program to enhance the value of the investment. He also advised our clients that they could offset the cost of the timeshare through rentals or by participating in certain exchange programs. In addition to this, your salesperson explained to our clients that the timeshare purchase was to be understood as real property, and its purchase as an investment in real estate. The salesman also intimated that the purchase was akin to buying a second home.

The salesperson further advised that once the contract papers were signed, our clients could not change their minds at all. In fact, the state of Florida allows for timeshare consumers to cancel any signed contract with a timeshare developer, reseller, or advertiser within a 10-day period of time. During this recession period, if a purchaser decides to cancel their contract, the timeshare developer must provide a full refund to the timeshare owner within 20 days. Your company never explained to our clients that they had the right to cancel the contract within this period of time.

Our clients were also informed by your staff that if, in the off chance, they could not find reservations within the Diamond Resort Network, they could instead deposit their week into the Interval International exchange network. Our clients were not advised that using this exchange network required exorbitant fees paid upfront, yearly membership dues via Basic, Gold, or Platinum memberships, significant blackout dates, highly limited international offerings, an unreasonable cancellation policy, and severe restrictions and limitations on week usage. Furthermore, when depositing into Interval International, the trading power of our client's week is substantially weakened, resulting in a lower tier of accommodations. This leaves our clients incapable of accessing virtually any Elite, Premier, or Select room accommodations. Because the power of the week becomes devalued, it is not under any scenario worthwhile for our clients to deposit their week into the program.

The marketing team failed to disclose that much of the access to international and even domestic resort destinations is only available through paying additional exchange network fees. It was not until after our clients actually tried to make reservations that they learned of this. Our clients have also since learned that they have to compete with non-members of your vacation club to book reservations. It is clear now that membership in the network is not a financial investment in any sense. It was stated by your salesperson that our clients would have a home resort advantage, access to the Interval International exchange network, and that between those two options it would never be a problem for our clients to book whichever resort they desired.

During a subsequent upgrade presentation on July 1, 2007, our clients were in the process of getting married. Two days before their Las Vegas wedding ceremony, they were required to attend a Diamond Owner Update presentation. In this mandatory sales presentation, our clients were told that their 3,000 Diamond Resort Points were not enough to access the full range of what Diamond had to offer. Our clients were precisely told that after upgrading, they would have no problem of availability. It is absurd to think that our clients, two days before the most important moments of their lives, were compelled to attend a timeshare sales presentation. Our clients reportedly spoke with Diamond at the time, telling the manager that they could not in any capacity make time to attend a lengthy sales presentation, as their priority was their wedding in two days and also had family flying in to attend. Even as they were obliged to go, your company would not let our clients leave, and kept throwing in more offers such as tickets to Vegas shows and waiving more fees. During this sales pitch, our clients realized a very serious issue with regards to your company's timeshare strategy: every year your company keeps raising the amount of points it costs to go to your resorts, and owners must keep purchasing more points if they wanted to be able to continue to use their timeshares.

After five long hours of high-intensity sales pitching, our clients grew weary from the pressure and signed the closing documents. Throughout the closing phase, our clients were never given the chance to actually review the paperwork, and the quality assurance agent offered no assistance. Rather, he offhandedly flipped through the pages, merely pointing out the blanks to sign off on. Our clients trusted that the closing documents accurately reflected the statements of the sales representatives. It appears that the presentation and execution of certain documents necessary to close the transaction never occurred, including a review of the public offering statement. Our clients went through a similar experience when they purchased the upgrade.

There exist equitable concerns that we urge you to consider in this instance as well. Mr. Keyser lost his job, and is now forced to take another job with a 50% pay cut. As a consequence, our clients had to sell their house, as they could not afford to pay the mortgage. This occurred only a few short months after purchasing the second timeshare from Diamond Resorts, as they were about to get married. This financial hardship has caused our clients to live paycheck to paycheck. They even hired a marketing company in an attempt to rent out their timeshare, but quickly found out that the market was flooded with timeshares that no one wanted to purchase.

Our clients have worked diligently over many years of financial difficulties to fully pay off both the original timeshare and the upgrade. They have been loyal to your company, and in return your company has repeatedly harassed our clients to no end. Our clients attempted to ask for assistance in paying their maintenance fees during their financial hardship, but your company refused to cooperate. As soon as one becomes late on the maintenance fees, your company adds on thousands of dollars in late fees to them every year, making it difficult or impossible to afford. In addition to the escalating late fees, your company adds on special assessments and club fees which were never discussed during either of the presentations. A fee to ARDA, a political lobbying organization, is also automatically added to every maintenance fee bill our clients have received.

Our clients, who have both their timeshares completely paid off, are in effect not allowed to use their timeshares as escalating maintenance fees have made this cost-prohibitive. Our clients have paid an estimated $45,000.00 for these two timeshares, yet cannot book a simple vacation.

It is meaningful to note that your salesperson exclaimed to our clients during the original presentation that their purchase was a generational investment which they could pass down to their children; something that could be given to their heirs to enjoy for their lifetimes. It is fair to say at this point that our clients would be remiss if they were to burden their children with such a suffocating obligation, particularly one that so greatly outweighs any benefits that they could have derived.

Given these compelling legal and equitable issues, we hope and trust that this dispute can be resolved. In this regard, our clients are willing to relinquish their vacation ownership interest in exchange for a full refund of all amounts paid thus far. We regret that this proposal will not be extended if we are forced to resort to formal dispute resolution. Thank you for your kind attention to the issues addressed in this correspondence.

Sincerely,

Austin N. Aaronson, Esq.

Re: Names: Lorena Escalante and Jose Escalante
Address: 1211 Davis Street, Woodbridge, Virginia 22191
Account Number: 16831600
Date of Purchase: 1995

Dear Ms. Gaxiola:

Our law firm has been hired to contest the lawfulness of the referenced transaction on behalf of our clients, Mrs. Lorena and Mr. Jose Escalante. This sale dates back to the year of 1995, payment records indicating an outstanding balance of $11,088.79 on September 11, 2018, with regards to Maintenance Fees, though the balance on the original mortgage is in good standing, regarding our clients' timeshare interest with your company.

Kindly deal exclusively with our office until advised to the contrary under Title 15 and the analogous state provision concerning the issues at hand. These issues include certain false promises and flaws in the closing process that occurred during the transaction. In addition, our clients are unable to access the resort network as promised, even by comparison to one booking anonymously through individual resort websites or internet booking services.

While our clients were visiting south Florida they were approached at a local Seven-Eleven store, with an offer of discount Disney tickets in exchange for agreeing to sit through a brief presentation of some kind. Our clients were told that it would last 60 minutes, and that they would have the opportunity to invest in your company.

At the outset of this process, the Escalantes sat through a preliminary informational session while a key note speaker generally went over the benefits of "vacation ownership". Your sales staff then made a number of very specific promises during this segment of the process. For example, our clients were led to believe that investment in this opportunity was like membership in an exclusive club, allowing access to all of these resorts and other destinations throughout the network. They were specifically shown marketing literature portraying the availability of resorts in national as well as international destinations. Individuals of your staff stated that this purchase would appreciate in value similar to an investment in real estate, and that your company had a resale and rental program to enhance the value of the investment. No mention was ever made of the accrual of maintenance, energy, and tax fees to coincide with an already significant mortgage obligation.

The marketing team failed to disclose that much of the access to international and even domestic resort destinations is only available through paying additional exchange network fees. It was not until after our clients actually tried to make reservations that they learned of this. The Escalantes have also since learned that they have to compete with non-members of your vacation club to book reservations. It is also clear now that membership in the network is not a financial investment in any sense. In addition, maintenance fees, which were never discussed, alone have more than doubled from a monthly payment of $500.00, up to $1,300.

After many hours of high-pressure sales pitching, our clients finally gave in under the stress and signed the closing documents. Throughout the closing phase the Escalantes were never given the chance to actually review the paperwork, and the closing manager offered no assistance. Rather, he offhandedly flipped through the pages, merely pointing out the blanks to sign off on. The Escalantes trusted that the closing documents accurately reflected the statements of the sales representatives. It appears that the presentation and execution of certain documents necessary to close the transaction never occurred, including a review of the public offering statement.

Thereafter, the Escalantes have become heavily indebted, but have not been able to access the resort network as led to believe. Specifically, our clients have not been able to make a single reservation in over 10 years, being told that they would be unable to do so until all maintenance and other fees were paid up.

There exist equitable concerns that we urge you to consider in this instance as well. Since the Escalantes rely on Mr. Escalante's income and he is self-employed with seasonal work, they are unprepared to meet costs of runaway fees that continue to mount, with no benefit to themselves. In addition, on their modest income the Escalantes support three children, including one whom they are helping through college. Thus, without your kind consideration in this regard, our clients' essential needs will be jeopardized due to the expense of a vacation interest that they can neither use nor afford.

Given these compelling legal and equitable issues, we hope and trust that this dispute can be resolved. In this regard, our clients are willing to relinquish their vacation ownership interest in exchange for a rescission of contract and cancellation of all remaining maintenance and associated fees. We regret that this proposal will not be extended if we are forced to resort to formal dispute resolution. Thank you for your kind attention to the issues addressed in this correspondence.

Sincerely,

Austin N. Aaronson, Esq.

Dear Ms. Moody:

I sending you copies of my recent correspondence with Diamond Resorts. I've been a customer with them for over 25 years and in 2017 encountered an extremely deceptive sales agent. He misrepresented information, well let's be blunt he lied to me, in order to get a sale while I was in staying in Daytona Beach, FL. I have copies of the correspondence between the agent my recent dealings with the "hospitality" representative.

As they are doing business in your state and the misrepresentations were made in Florida, I'm hoping you can help me.

All I'm asking is for them to void the contract, made based on lies told at the time of sale, and return my money.

Thank you for your help.

Sincerely,

Subject: Re: Diamond Resorts Account Inquiry (CID:qpnq$N$$hc1xf1y3kc)

I want this case escalated to a higher authority, this is a formal grievance.

Mr. Loman, while in your employ, made assurances and guarantees that were not fulfilled. I'm sure he was well compensated for his deceptive actions and whether he left the company or not after our initial meeting has no bearing on the facts of the case. But, it begs the question why he would continue to work with me about my diamond property over this entire time if he didn't work for you the entire time? He had incentive to keep me happy until enough time passed and I had no ability under the contract to rescind and so he could continue to use his deceitful yet apparently successful sales approach.

The facts are that he gave me his personal email and phone number the day I met with him, he said so that I could easily get in touch with him. It was not the email of another company. That same day, he gave me, albeit verbally, a multi-step plan to:

- review all the benefits of Silver ownership and later meet to review
- he wanted me to know and understand the value of my purchase,
- how to donate the timeshare week to charity to claim on my tax return,
- how to rent the time share to pay down the loan, and to pay maintenance fees thereafter,
- suggested the name of a refinance company I could work with to lower payments,
- information on working with him to vet renters, where to advertise the timeshare, and more.

He reiterated the ability to rent the timeshare on multiple occasions over the course of 18 months. If I wasn't permitted to rent the timeshare, why did he work with me to so?

You say you weren't there but it remains, Mr. Loman represented your company in this sales transaction. You have asked if I have proof of the actual conversation. Not having expected Mr. Loman to misrepresent the terms of the sale, no I did not keep all of the actual conversation - do you expect all clients to record conversations to make sure sales agents don't lie? The text and email conversations absolutely confirm my assertions that he was working with me after the sale based on his guarantees to be my "personal" Diamond representative. He went so far as to say not to meet with anyone else while staying at other resorts, saying I could always contact him because he was on call for his clients.

I am sure Mr. Loman did not single me out with this deceptive sales practice. It was a smooth, well-rehearsed pitch. Have you checked if other clients have rented multiple weeks around the time of the Daytona 500? I think it would be easy enough to track down.

I'm really trying to handle this in a civilized manner without taking legal action and request your immediate reconsideration. The money we're dealing with here is, I'm sure, a drop in the bucket for a multi-million dollar company such as Apollo Global but not to a widowed mother of three children. I trusted what Mr. Loman, your company representative, presented to me and relied on it to make a purchasing decision, one which has now put me at financial risk. I would not have purchased this upgrade had I been told that I could not rent it.

There is no option of cancellation outside of the rescission period; however, should your circumstances change, please reach back out to Hospitality Management for further consideration. If there is anything of a different matter we can assist you with, please let us know.

Respectfully,

Our United Culture. The way forward.

Dawn,

Now that you have your unit reserved here are a few tips to rent them out.

Enclosed in this letter is the ad you will use along with the contact information. Place it once a month for a seven day period of time preferably the 14th - 21st of each month in the Sports Page edition of the USA Today newspaper.

Your contact person at USA Today Sport's Page is Casandra, phone 727-431-0858. Ten million + readers will see it daily. The cost for the four line ad is $43.00 which can be billed via your credit card. You can place this ad with your local paper at least once a month. Red week.com is a great place to advertise, you can place the same ad on line with them. You can also advertise on Craigslist.com if you wish. The more you advertise the faster the units move. In fact, you want to place an ad on www.VRBO.com. It is a great place to find clients. Call me if you have any questions.

Daytona 500: Feb, 11-18, 2018
Ocean Front: 1 Bedroom, Sleeps 4
Price: Negotiable
Contact: 000-000-0000

Now with the ad placed, just sit back and answer the phone.
Any questions just call.

Sincerely,
Richard Loman

FIELDING INCOMING CALLS

Once the ad has been placed in USA Today, Red Week.com, and your local paper you must field each call and forward them to me by giving them my cell phone number.

I, in turn, will help you qualify each of your clients. Once the client has been qualified as a renter, I will instruct them to overnight a cashier's check to pay for the condo to you along with a copy of their driver's license, phone number and email address. All of this should be done by Federal Express Overnight.

The renter will contact you the following day after you have received his check for clarification and guest confirmation which YOU must do at that time. You will contact Blue Green and inform them that you cannot make it to the special event, that you are doing a GUEST CONFIRMATION for a friend.

You must give Blue Green all of the renter's information including the name, address, phone number, and email address. Once the guest confirmation has been completed, Blue Green will issue a new confirmation within 24 hours to you and the new renter, via email.

ALL TRANSACTIONS ARE FINAL AND NON-REFUNDABLE.

If you have any questions please contact me on my cell 386-846-2843.

Thank you.

Dear Carmalita,

This is a follow-up to our conversation yesterday in reference to my February 25th letter. Attached, please find various pieces of proof/documentation that supports my request, including:

- emails & texts between Mr. Loman and myself,
- rental information, and
- attempted loan refinance (suggested by Mr. Loman),

I look forward to hearing from you once you've reviewed this information. I am available after 4:30 EST today or tomorrow at 12pm EST or after 4pm EST.

RE: Account Number 80498

Dear Mr. Flasky:

I have been a time share owner for 20-25 years and during that time I've upgraded multiple times paying thousands and thousands of dollars. I have enjoyed my time share ownership even as the company has changed hands. However, I'm extremely unhappy with Diamond and my upgrade experience from 2017. The sales rep, Richard Loman, didn't just stretch the truth or exaggerate or do a hard sell, he outright lied.

In August of 2017, while staying at the Daytona Beach Regency, I met with Richard. Like other sales reps, he was aggressive but there was a new twist. He said I could rent weeks at the Daytona location and because of the proximity to the Daytona 500, pay off the upgrade loan quickly and then just rent to pay the annual maintenance fees. I thought "Wow" no other sales person had ever made this offer. He said he was going to be my personal contact and although I was initially skeptical, he shared a plan that actually made sense. It outlined a 2 -3 year approach where I would "give him" 4 weeks a year to rent out so I could get the loan paid off. He gave me a step by step plan, that included where to advertise, how to refinance the load with a lower rate, what to say to people, etc. He also gave me his personal cell number and email. When all the papers were signed, it ended up that I would do the advertising (I guess that should have been my first clue) and he would help me vet applicants to ensure they were suitable/could pay. I spent hours and hundreds of dollars listing the 4 reserved units on rental sites (e.g., VRBO) and advertising in magazines. At the end of December, I was understandably worried with the lack of response but with all I had going on, I didn't call Richard until January 2nd. He advised me to lower the asking prices and so I did. However, the 2019 Daytona 500 came and went and none of the 4 units were rented.

Now, eighteen months later, I've wasted countless hours, 4 rental weeks, gave a $10,000 deposit, made over $10,500 in loan payments and paid over $4000 in 2020 maintenance fees.

[REDACTED]

[REDACTED]

[REDACTED] I am still angry and very disillusioned with your company, not just with the customer service, but with the predatory and deceitful sales practices of certain Diamond employees. I never really bought into all the negative press about time shares but with con men like Mr. Loman working for you, I get it. I wonder if this is something new under Apollo Global's management, or is this really how all timeshare companies operate.

I would like you to make it right. Richard Loman lied to me and who knows how many others for his personal and Diamond's gain. At this point, I really don't want to continue to be a timeshare owner anymore. I would like Diamond to be accountable and allow me to relinquish the timeshare and return the $24,000+ I've paid out in since August of 2017. I am willing to forfeit the 2020 maintenance fees and all that I have put into the time share prior to 2017. If that is not possible, at least return me to the status I had prior to my unfortunate encounter with Mr. Loman and return my deposit and loan payments ($20,542.75).

Angry and disappointed,

Dawn Burrell

I know with diamond its 12.34 interest but the loan payment is $702. Still really high but better. I don't think I can swing almost a thousand a month for two years until we pay it off. I think I should forget the loan if Diamond allows me to pay off early.

After attending a long sales presentation at The Luxor hotel, Las Vegas, my wife and I acquired a timeshare right under the contract dated on the 23rd of November 2015 in Las Vegas, USA, under reference 4066484, the time share interest being a floating week (unit 3, 1 bedroom type) for the purchase price of $15,490.

At the same time we paid a deposit of $1,549.

We requested to take information away to read through but this was declined. We had no real time to review any details on the day, everything was so pressured into signing. No hard copy documents were handed out at the meeting. We were not told the implications of perpetuity.

We were informed it would be a wonderful valuable investment and would grow in value over the years and would also be easy to resell as they had lists of clients waiting to purchase these apartments.

After paying the deposit by Master Card that day I took out their own in-house finance agreement to repay the remaining monies monthly. They informed us we would be able to cancel this finance agreement and use our own when we were turned to the UK. Not True. No finance representative was present any any time.

We have never used our timeshare or the so call wonders of RCI.

We were informed (nothing in writing) that we would have until the end of December 2015 to cancel if we so wished.

We wrote sending a Special Registered Delivery letter to revoke the contract within the time scale they had verbally informed us. We received a letter, informing us we could not cancel and if we tried to they would take us to court and our UK house would be sold to cover the costs.

Please find attached our Statement of Misrepresentation which details our case and why we want Diamond Resorts International to release us from any future liability with the timeshare contract and for complete release, termination and cancellation of our timeshare interests.

Statement

(Misrepresentation or unfulfilled promises during the sales presentation)

Mr. Gerwyn Henry Thomas and Mrs. Ruth Thomas declare:

We purchased a timeshare interest at Grandview Las Vegas the contract for purchase having been signed on 23rd of November 2015 in Las Vegas, USA under reference 4066484 the timeshare interest being a floating week (unit 3, 1 bedroom type) for the purchase price of $15,490USD. A down payment of $1,549USD was paid on the day.

We were approached in our hotel The Luxor, Las Vegas to listen to a short meeting (about one hour) about timeshare apartments and there would be no inducement to purchase at all and we would be free to leave anytime we wanted.

We were there for about 4-5 hours in total. They did not seem to understand what the word 'NO' meant.

We were both so tired as we had arrived from the UK the previous day. We requested to take information away to read through but this was declined. I do not think we were given any true facts just the opinions the representatives wanted us to hear. We had no real time to review any details on the day, everything was so pressurised into signing.

There were about 30 people in the first meeting where they were eulogising in their opinion, not the facts, about the wonders and benefits as they interpreted of these Timeshares. No hard copy documents were handed out at the meeting.

We were not told the implications of perpetuity.

We were then taken to a much larger room and a young woman Dianne or Dianna spoke to us, she also called her manager who said because Gerwyn had been in the Armed Forces he was entitled to an extra discount. Speaking to others afterwards we discovered this statement to be yet another lie. We were bamboozled with figures and were completely confused.

We were informed it would be a wonderful valuable investment and would grow in value over the years [to them I think] and would also be easy to resell as they had lists of Clients waiting to purchase these apartments.

From the time we arrived we were not left alone, I even had a representative stand outside the toilet door, presumably so I could not or would not be allowed to run away.

My husband made a 'Deposit' payment by Master Cardon that day and he took out their own in-house finance agreement to repay the remaining monies monthly. They informed us we would be able to cancel this finance agreement and use our own when were turned to the UK. Not True. No finance representative was present at any time.

We have now paid two sets of management fees.

We have never used our timeshare or the so call wonders of RCI.

We were informed [nothing in writing] that as were going on a 14 days' cruise commencing the following day, we would have until the end of December 2015 to cancel if we so wished. We wrote sending a Special Registered Delivery letter to revoke the contract within the time scale they had verbally informed us. We received a letter, informing us we could not cancel and if we tried to they would take us to court and our UK house would be sold to cover the costs.

This statement is true to the best of my knowledge, information and belief.

Re: Names: Marc and Alicia Villeneuve
Address: 5055 Jetsail Drive, Orlando, Florida 32812
Contract Number: BAL 188261
Date of Purchase: August 17, 2011

Dear Ms. Gaxiola:

We represent the legal interests of the referenced individuals, Mr. and Mrs. Marc Villeneuve, with respect to a dispute that has arisen concerning their purchase of a resort vacation interest with your company. The transaction giving rise to Mr. and Mrs. Villeneuve's grievances occurred on August 17, 2011 when they paid $22,097.00 in consideration of a timeshare interest, including an initial cash deposit of $4,017.00, and financed the remaining $18,080.00.

We must respectfully insist that all future communications regarding the associated obligations be directed to this office in compliance with 15 U.S.C. § 1692c(a)(2) and/or Fla. Stat. §559.72. Certain misstatements and other irregularities occurred during the sales presentation with which our clients take issue. Moreover, they complain of problems in accessing the resort network on reasonable terms and conditions, even relative to the consuming public at large.

In terms of background, the Villeneuves were vacationing in Orlando, Florida where they were offered a free cruise vacation to sit through a short presentation of some kind with your company. Regardless, our clients were told that it would last 60 minutes, and that investment opportunities would be discussed.

During the presentation, which ended up lasting 3-4 hours, the Villeneuves sat through a preliminary informational session during which the merits of becoming members of your company's resort network were touted. During this session a number of promises were made, some of which our clients have since learned to be false. For example, our clients were led to believe that investment in this opportunity was like membership in an exclusive club, allowing access to all of these resorts and other destinations throughout the network. Ms. Dawn Ellingwood of the sales staff stated that this purchase would appreciate in value similar to an investment in real estate, and that your company had a re-sale and rental program to enhance the value of the investment. Ms. Ellingwood boasted of versatile flexibility in terms of booking and ample bonus points, as a way to offset fees, above and beyond the option to rent out the property, in the event they could not use it. Finally, Ms. Ellington then assured our clients that she could be reached at any time to offer assistance should reservations pose any unexpected difficulty.

The marketing team failed to disclose that much of the access to international and even domestic resort destinations is only available through paying additional exchange network fees. It was not until after our clients actually tried to make reservations that they learned of this. And our clients now realize that they are forced to compete with outsiders who are booking publicly through individual resort websites. It has also become clear that membership in the network is not, properly speaking, a financial investment. In spite of Diamond's claim of flexibility, both quality and availability proved elusive, whereas customer service seemed at pains to find solutions, and Ms. Ellingwood was never easy to locate. Flexibility was also lacking in terms of payment, when the Villeneuves became overwhelmed with accumulating bills and saw their requests for more installments denied. For example, at one point, over two months, they found themselves responsible for a number of fees, many of which they had been unaware, adding up to $2,000.00, all of which were due within that short period. Only after some effort to shine a light on various, steadily increasing hidden fees, did the Villeneuves discover that much of the increase they were seeing in recent years was attributed to assessments for "hurricane damage" that Diamond Resorts was presumably aware of but did not disclose.

After many hours of sitting through the sales meeting our clients finally gave in under the pressure and signed the closing documents. During the closing phase the Villeneuves were never provided a chance to read the contents of the paperwork involved, and Ms. Ellingwood offered no explanations. Rather, she perfunctorily pointed out the signature blocks on page after page. Accordingly, certain disclosures, waivers, acknowledgments, and even the public offering statement were not properly presented. The Villeneuves trusted that the closing documents were true to the statements made by your sales staff.

And in spite of all the expense, the Villeneuves have not been able to access the resort network as promised. In fact, our clients, in 8 year's time, have only been able to reserve vacation intervals on few occasions since having joined, and those always ending in compromise, far from their first choice.

There exist equitable concerns that we urge you to consider in this instance as well. Initially, Mr. Villeneuve has recently been diagnosed with eye cancer involving daily monitoring and medication, including frequent trips to his ophthalmologist in Miami to receive injections. Thus, without your kind consideration in this regard, our clients' essential needs will be jeopardized due to the expense of a vacation interest that they can neither use nor afford. If you require verification with respect to any of these components of the family's hardship, we can supply the documentation in confidence upon execution of an appropriate HIPAA release.

Given these compelling legal and equitable issues, we hope and trust that this dispute can be resolved. In this regard, our clients are willing to relinquish their vacation ownership and forfeit all monies paid over the past decade, for a rescission of contract and relief from any future obligation, as stipulated therein. We regret that this proposal will not be extended if we are forced to resort to formal dispute resolution. Thank you for your kind attention to the issues addressed in this correspondence.

Sincerely,

Austin N. Aaronson, Esq.

Dear Attorneys General Frosh and Moody:

We are writing to you in the hopes that you will be able to reign in the dishonest practices of Diamond Resorts International, who have moved from unpleasant arm twisting to blatant lies and misrepresentation concerning the purchase of vacation points. We have been members of Diamond Resorts since August 2010 and have been subjected regularly to "presentations" billed as bringing us up to date, lasting one hour. After the first hour badgering us to increase our vacation points has passed, they bring in reinforcements to pressure us often for an additional hour or more.

Our last presentation, held at Diamonds' offices at the Daytona Regency, Daytona Beach, Florida, we complained to one of their Vice Presidents, Jeremy and a representative, Jason, that we were sick of the presentation pressures and that our primary concern was that we did not want our children to be held responsible for our yearly maintenance fees. We wanted out of the program. We didn't want to continue with Diamond Resorts.

We were told no problem, that there were a lot of people, elderly like ourselves, that just wanted out. They informed us there was an insurance policy that they offered that would do just that. All we had to do was sign up for one more "Sampler Package", information attached, for $4,000. and we would not need to worry any longer about our children being held responsible for the yearly maintenance fees. They also said we would not need to attend any other presentations even though they had us to initial the contract that said we would attend. We asked about this and we were told not to worry, they would fix it. They said the insurance forms would arrive in several weeks, (conveniently after the contract could be voided by us).

After a few weeks passed and we didn't receive anything from them, we immediately called Diamond Resorts and we were told they didn't know anything about an insurance policy, we were just signed up for another Sampler Package. We contacted DRI Sampler Department, read them the line in our Sampler package that said we could cash out within 30 days if we had paid what was due. We confirmed with AmEx that payment was scheduled within 30 days. We sent a registered letter to the DRI Sampler Dept. requesting full payment be returned. Now, a month later they have not responded, except to have an agent call to schedule vacations using the Sampler Package which we are disputing and not using.

This is a large American Company. Are they held accountable in any way for the verbal promises made by their employees? When we called and talked to them, no one seemed shocked. We were told we would be called back, we were not. My husband sent them a letter, for which we have confirmed receipt, we haven't heard anything from them. This large company is behaving no better than the phone scammers who target the elderly. I hope you will be able to do something to change the atmosphere in which they operate. WE WOULD LOVE TO GET OUR MONEY BACK, BUT MORE IMPORTANTLY WE WOULD LIKE TO BE OUT OF THEIR SYSTEM SO THAT THEY WILL NOT BE ABLE TO HARASS US AND OUR CHILDREN AFTER OUR DEATHS. I AM 76 YEARS OLD AND MY HUSBAND IS 80.

Any help you can render us would be much appreciated, not just for us, but for many people who are in this same position.

Sincerely,

Dear Sirs,

Attached please find a copy of The Sampler Membership Agreement that my wife and I signed on March 4th, 2019 at the Daytona Regency Hotel. This agreement was fraudulently offered to us as the FINAL point purchase required to terminate our membership with Diamond Resorts provided we pay our annual Maintenance fee for the two years duration of this agreement. Salesperson Jason and agent Jeremy told us to wait two or three weeks for the final paperwork from Diamond Resorts. When that did not come, we called the Las Vegas headquarters and they denied that there was any such agreement forthcoming. By that time our ten day cancellation option had expired.

Please note the The Agreement states that the "Seller agrees to grant the option to cashout THE Sampler purchase with 0% interest if paid in full by April 03, 2019." I have confirmed that American Express will pay Diamond Resorts the full amount on April 2, 2019, of $3,995 USD.

Therefore, having fully met that requirement, I respectfully request a cashout of the full amount refunded to me and release from THE Agreement. Contact information is provided on the attachment.

Re: Joyce E. Stemple

Dear Ms. Moody,

Please be advised this office represents Joyce E. Stemple, a recent widow, who purchased a Virginia Beach timeshare from Diamond Resorts International, as referenced in the enclosed correspondence.

My client is still liable for and paying the fee for a prior timeshare she tried to cancel herself, unsuccessfully. She is paying over $2500.00 per year for timeshares that she wishes to cancel. She has, in fact, been trying to reach the original sales person at Diamond Resorts but has constantly been rebuffed, ignored and otherwise prevented from terminating the Agreements. She has even been told that the Company has no knowledge of the Seller of either Timeshare, Mr. Craig Thrift, at 404-983-7440, even though, he is, in fact, their authorized Agent and Representative who sold her the timeshare and did not cancel the previous ownership of a different timeshare at Virginia Beach. She signed Promissory Note #25112615, a copy of which is enclosed, despite the fact that she is unable to afford the payment for one and certainly not for two timeshares, since she was confused and grief-stricken and preyed upon by the Timeshare salespeople. She believes she had cancelled her ownership of the first Virginia Beach Timeshare, but Diamond Resorts never terminated the Contract and she is being billed for two timeshares. This is a grave hardship to her since she cannot afford them and is in senior housing in Pennsylvania, has never used either Timeshare and is unable to do so in the future, due to her advanced age, poor health and impoverished circumstances.

Our correspondence is enclosed requesting immediate termination of the Timeshares and cancellation of any and all agreements, billing and refund of the previous fees she paid since May 17, 2016, as indicated on the enclosed Truth and Lending Disclosure Statement.

Thank you for your assistance in this matter. We are requesting assistance due to my client's inability to extricate herself and terminate the Agreements despite her consistent efforts to do so. She has been trying for years, ever since she realized she erroneously signed documents that she was unable to pay for again, since she is an impoverished senior citizen. The continuation of the Agreements poses an immediate and dire effect on her ability to pay for her senior housing and healthcare in Pennsylvania.

Thank you for your assistance.

Very truly yours,

#357628-Gold Key Resorts Assignment Agreement with Diamond Resorts International Club, Inc., a Florida Corporation
No. 175661370DRUSC

Dear Mr. Morris,

Please be advised that this office represents Mrs. Joyce E. Stemple with regard to her right to terminate the Club Assignment Agreement dated May 17, 2016 with Diamond Resorts, US Collection. Our Authorization is enclosed herein.

Mrs. Stemple is an elderly, impoverished senior citizen in senior housing. She cannot afford the annual fees to maintain what she believed was the purchase of one time share at Virginia Beach on May 17, 2016.

In addition to terminating her prior ownership of a different timeshare with your Company in Virginia Beach and purchasing a different timeshare in Virginia Beach, she advises she is still being billed and is paying $2,788.00 per year as well as $1,200.00 per year for a prior timeshare. Please cancel both Timeshares.

The timeshares were sold to my client, immediately after her husband's death when her thinking was quite confused, due to her grief. Pursuant to paragraph 17 of the terms of the Assignment Agreement and Diamond Resorts, US Collection Purchase and Security Agreement, she is hereby terminating any and all fees due and right to use the timeshare for the Beach Quarters Resort Deeded – Week owner in Virginia Beach. Further, pursuant to paragraph G. Termination of Assignment Agreement, she is terminating her property owner's membership in THE CLUB in accordance with the terms and conditions of THE CLUB legal documents.

Although the initial fee per the Association Standard Assessment was estimated and originally contracted for in the amount of $1,288.00 on May 17, 2016 at 11:00 a.m., under No. 175661370DRUSC, Buyers Acknowledgement – Virginia, the fees have exponentially increased and my client is being billed for two units. A copy of the Buyer's Acknowledgment and Resort's Assignment Agreement are also enclosed.

My client is on a fixed income since she is a senior citizen. She cannot afford the fees that pose a serious and grave hardship. Additionally, the contract was signed following the death of my client's husband, when she was confused by grief and she is in eminent danger of being unable to pay for her senior housing in Pennsylvania.

Please provide us with the appropriate agreements to immediately terminate my client, the property owner's withdraw of qualifying interest from any and all timeshares in Virginia Beach. May we hear from you immediately in that we have notified the Florida Attorney General and others.

Demand is made for refund of the fees paid for the prior Virginia Beach timeshare that my client cancelled with you previously.

A copy of the Truth and Lending Disclosure statement signed May 17, 2016 is also enclosed for your information.

ADDITIONAL COMMENTS

(Please be BRIEF and ONLY provide FACTS, DATES, and NAMES of people involved. If you need more space use the BACK OF THIS PAGE)

On August 17, 2011 we attended a sales presentation given by Diamond and presided over by sales person, Dawn Ellingwood. Ms. Ellingwood made several misrepresentations. Quality and availability were elusive. Fees went up substantially and hidden fees were discovered, such as "hurricane damage." Diamond would not work with us to make payment more feasible. We feel we have been defrauded and want a rescission. (see affidavit for more detail.)

GENERAL AFFIDAVIT

County of Orange

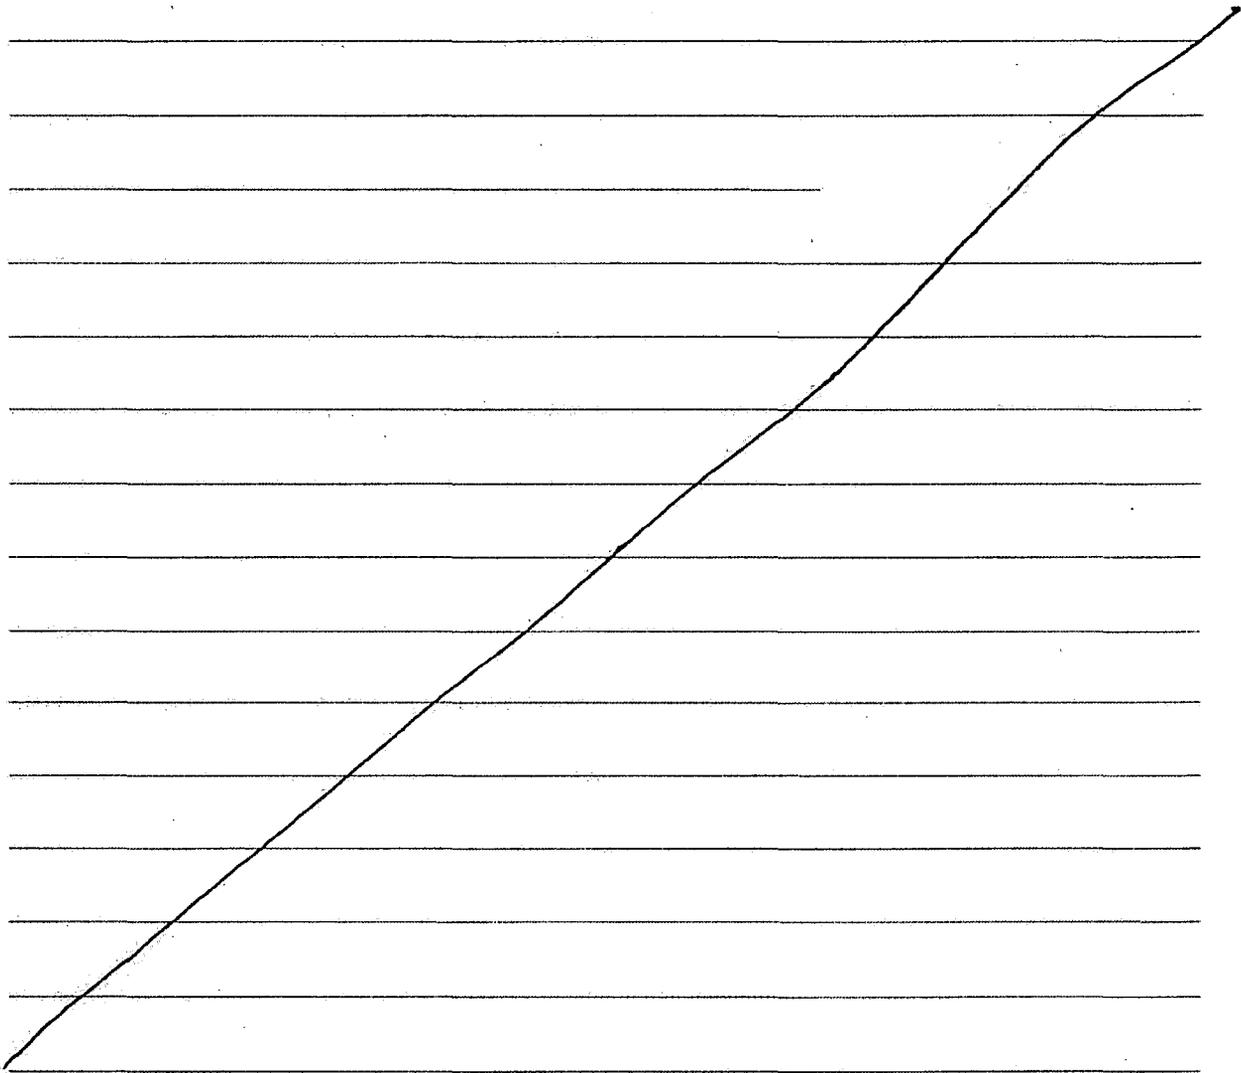

On 23 May 2019, before me, the undersigned Notary, the within named, Marc Villeneuve, who is a resident of Orange County, State of Florida, being first duly sworn, under oath, makes this his/her statement and General Affidavit of belief and personal knowledge that the following matters, facts, and things set forth are true and correct to the best of his/her knowledge:

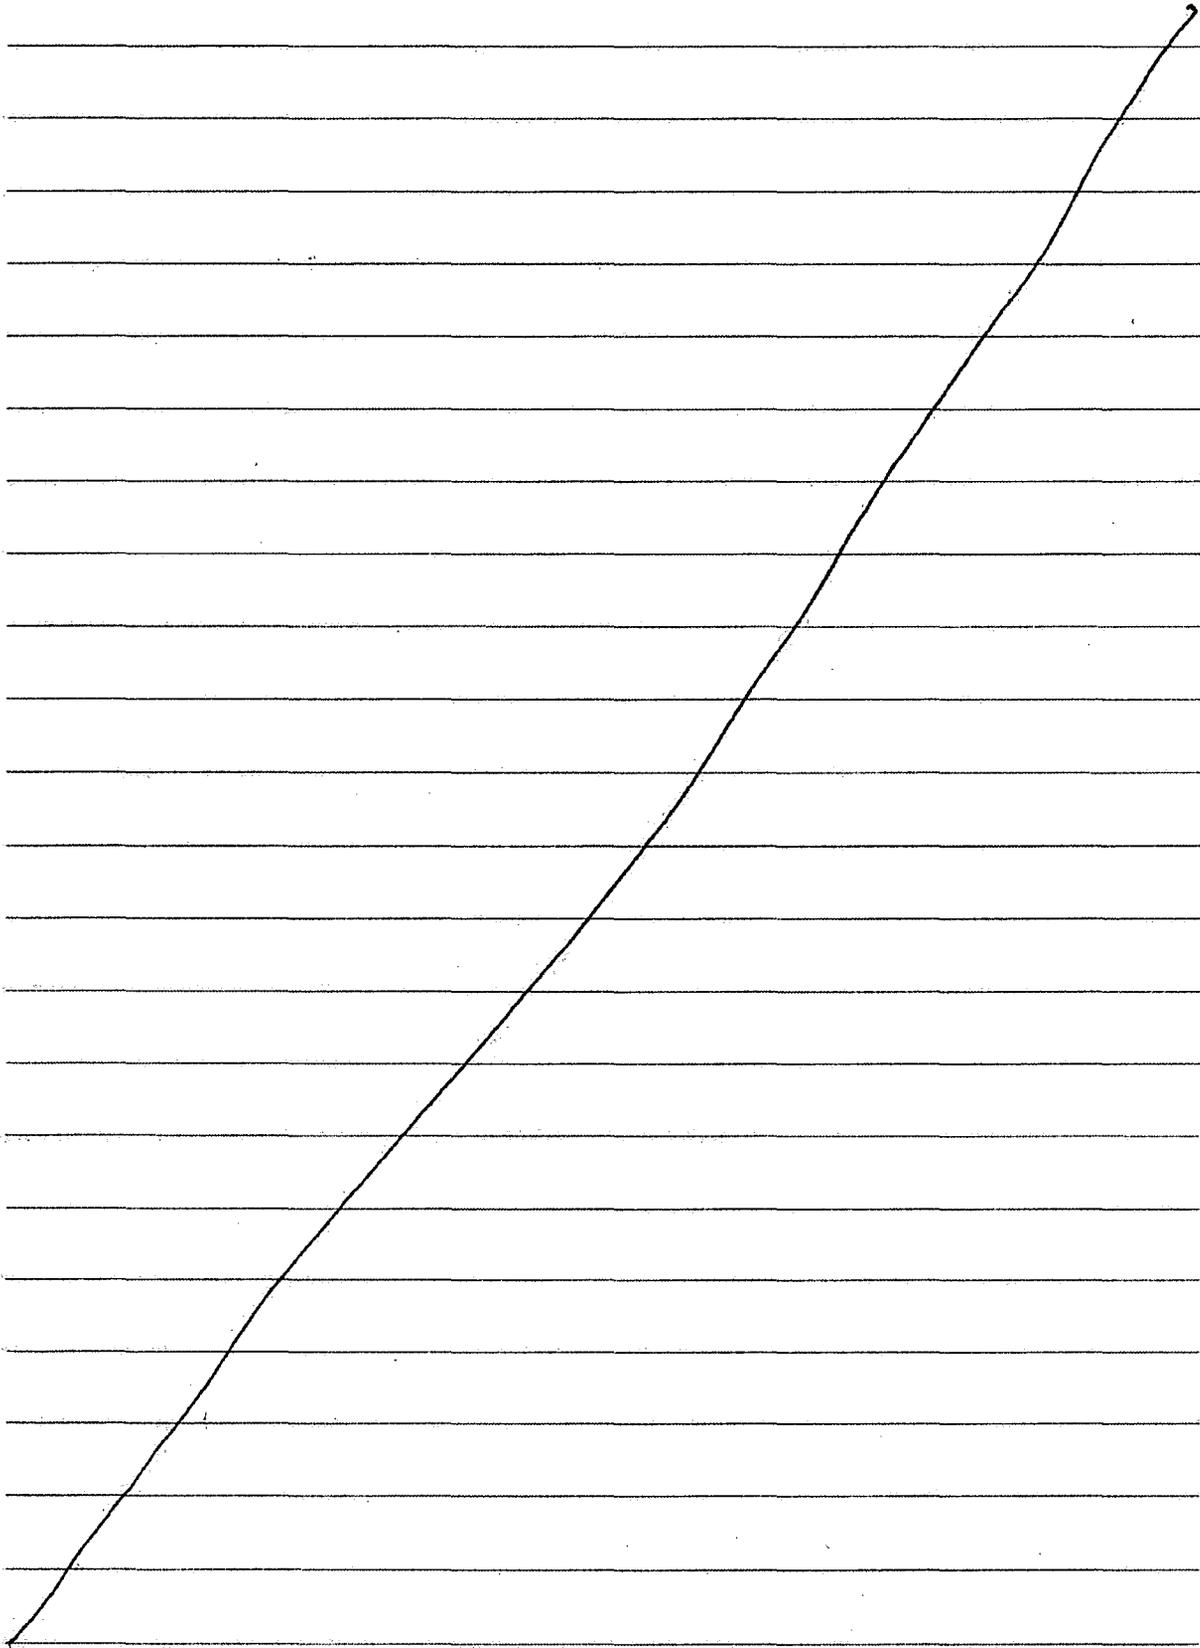

On August 17, 2011, I, Marc Villeneuve, and my wife, Alicia Villeneuve, were offered some inducements by Diamond Resorts International, Inc., through Club Navigo, Liki Tiki Village, to attend a sales presentation. At that time, sales person Dawn Ellingwood made some promises that seemed too good to be true, and that turned out in fact to be untrue, after we had signed the contract, which we were assured would reflect the impressive benefits she had showcased to us. Among them, she had offered us versatile flexibility and ample bonus points, which could be used to offset maintenance fees. We also had the option, she informed us, to rent out our property as an additional option to keep fees down.

In reality, quality and availability were elusive and much less than fees being offset in any such way as described, they began on a steady incline since the time of purchase. Upon closer examination of our bills, were various hidden fees, some large part of their inflated quantity apparently attributable to "hurricane damage." Not only was flexibility absent in terms of booking, but also in Diamond's willingness to work out a plan that suited our needs as customers. For example, when our monthly fees began to exceed $2,000 in the short span of two months, Diamond showed no willingness to work with us by spreading out payments into separate installments, thereby leaving us with precious few options.

We now find ourselves unfairly and heavily indebted with a timeshare, to which we are unable to derive any benefit, after putting down substantial funds, including years of maintenance fees, in addition to a $4017.00 deposit. We feel like we have been sorely misled by Diamond and appreciate your help in further investigating this matter. We have since acquired legal representation with Aaronson Law Firm, so that in the event we are unable to recover any of the funds, we may at least achieve a rescission of contract.

Contract Number: BAL 188261

Dear Ms. Gaxiola:

We represent the legal interests of the referenced individuals, Mr. and Mrs. Marc Villeneuve, with respect to a dispute that has arisen concerning their purchase of a resort vacation interest with your company. The transaction giving rise to Mr. and Mrs. Villeneuve's grievances occurred on August 17, 2011 when they paid $22,097.00 in consideration of a timeshare interest, including an initial cash deposit of $4,017.00, and financed the remaining $18,080.00.

We must respectfully insist that all future communications regarding the associated obligations be directed to this office in compliance with 15 U.S.C. § 1692c(a)(2) and/or Fla. Stat. § 559.72. Certain misstatements and other irregularities occurred during the sales presentation with which our clients take issue. Moreover, they complain of problems in accessing the resort network on reasonable terms and conditions, even relative to the consuming public at large.

In terms of background, the Villeneuves were vacationing in Orlando, Florida where they were offered a free cruise vacation to sit through a short presentation of some kind with your company. Regardless, our clients were told that it would last 60 minutes, and that investment opportunities would be discussed.

During the presentation, which ended up lasting 3-4 hours, the Villeneuves sat through a preliminary informational session during which the merits of becoming members of your company's resort network were touted. During this session a number of promises were made, some of which our clients have since learned to be false. For example, our clients were led to believe that investment in this opportunity was like membership in an exclusive club, allowing access to all of these resorts and other destinations throughout the network. Ms. Dawn Ellingwood of the sales staff stated that this purchase would appreciate in value similar to an investment in real estate, and that your company had a re-sale and rental program to enhance the value of the investment. Ms. Ellingwood boasted of versatile flexibility in terms of booking and ample bonus points, as a way to offset fees, above and beyond the option to rent out the property, in the event they could not use it. Finally, Ms. Ellington then assured our clients that she could be reached at any time to offer assistance should reservations pose any unexpected difficulty.

The marketing team failed to disclose that much of the access to international and even domestic resort destinations is only available through paying additional exchange network fees. It was not until after our clients actually tried to make reservations that they learned of this. And our clients now realize that they are forced to compete with outsiders who are booking publicly through individual resort websites. It has also become clear that membership in the network is not, properly speaking, a financial investment. In spite of Diamond's claim of flexibility, both quality and availability proved elusive, whereas customer service seemed at pains to find solutions, and Ms. Ellingwood was never easy to locate. Flexibility was also lacking in terms of payment, when the Villeneuves became overwhelmed with accumulating bills and saw their requests for more installments denied. For example, at one point, over two months, they found themselves responsible for a number of fees, many of which they had been unaware, adding up to $2,000.00, all of which were due within that short period. Only after some effort to shine a light on various, steadily increasing hidden fees, did the Villeneuves discover that much of the increase they were seeing in recent years was attributed to assessments for "hurricane damage" that Diamond Resorts was presumably aware of but did not disclose.

After many hours of sitting through the sales meeting our clients finally gave in under the pressure and signed the closing documents. During the closing phase the Villeneuves were never provided a chance to read the contents of the paperwork involved, and Ms. Ellingwood offered no explanations. Rather, she perfunctorily pointed out the signature blocks on page after page. Accordingly, certain disclosures, waivers, acknowledgments, and even the public offering statement were not properly presented. The Villeneuves trusted that the closing documents were true to the statements made by your sales staff.

And in spite of all the expense, the Villeneuves have not been able to access the resort network as promised. In fact, our clients, in 8 year's time, have only been able to reserve vacation intervals on few occasions since having joined, and those always ending in compromise, far from their first choice.

There exist equitable concerns that we urge you to consider in this instance as well. Initially, Mr. Villeneuve has recently been diagnosed with eye cancer involving daily monitoring and medication, including frequent trips to his ophthalmologist in Miami to receive injections. Thus, without your kind consideration in this regard, our clients' essential needs will be jeopardized due to the expense of a vacation interest that they can neither use nor afford. If you require verification with respect to any of these components of the family's hardship, we can supply the documentation in confidence upon execution of an appropriate HIPAA release.

Given these compelling legal and equitable issues, we hope and trust that this dispute can be resolved. In this regard, our clients are willing to relinquish their vacation ownership and forfeit all monies paid over the past decade, for a rescission of contract and relief from any future obligation, as stipulated therein. We regret that this proposal will not be extended if we are forced to resort to formal dispute resolution. Thank you for your kind attention to the issues addressed in this correspondence.

Sincerely,

Austin N. Aaronson, Esq.

Letter of Complaint

March 26, 2019

To Diamond Customer Service/ Michelle Gonzalez:

We currently have a loan with Diamond International (loan # 26863720) with an outstanding balance of $56,863.46, as of March 15th, 2019. This dollar amount ($56,863.46) represents the balance remaining for the purchase of points at Scottsdale AZ and Virginia Beach VA, after subtracting down payments of approximately $10,300 and $5600 for these last two purchases from Diamond. The most recent purchase of additional points was in Virginia Beach, VA on October 16, 2018 and as stated, the previous point purchase was in Scottsdale, AZ on May 24, 2018. We would like to cancel out of both these purchases and end the outstanding loan we have with Diamond. We would also like to get back the monies we already paid for these last two, point purchases. The reasons behind this request are laid out in this letter.

We feel we were misled by your sales personnel, both at Virginia Beach and at Scottsdale. In Virginia Beach we were approached (Diamond Concierge) to go to an owner update meeting with a Diamond representative who would help us better utilize our existing points as well as discuss additional benefits we were entitled to. The Diamond person (Ashley Hall), at this meeting, indicated she was not a 'sales' person but only worked with Diamond Platinum owners to help them better understand how to utilize their points. In the course of the conversation with Ashley, we indicated we were going to try to utilize the Transition program to help lower our maintenance costs. Lowering our maintenance costs was our primary objective. She informed us, that the Transitions program was very hard to use and was a very long process that could take up to 2 years to complete. She also brought in her manager who said, it was rare that Diamond releases a member's obligations through that program. He said there were not any successful return of points to Diamond, by any owner using this transition program, that they were aware of. They strongly suggested, we make a purchase of additional points, that would allow us to utilize a new program that does work and would enable us to return points to Diamond, at a future date, and thereby reduce our Maintenance fee obligation. They suggested we could claim financial hardship and relinquish a portion of, or even all our points. We have not been able to find any information concerning this program and feel that we were misled by these Diamond employees for the sole purpose of getting us to purchase more points. They also told us we need to wait a year before we could use this new program.

In Scottsdale AZ, we were on a Diamond Dream Holiday and had to attend a meeting, that was not supposed to be a sales presentation. When we went to the meeting, we realized, it was in fact, a sales presentation. We pointed out that we already were double Platinum owners and did not want to purchase any more points. The Diamond representative (Christine Sutton), told us our points were all in the Hawaii collection and because of recent events (Beach erosion, Hurricanes), the Hawaii collection maintenance fees would be greatly increased this next year and into the future. She suggested we transfer into the US collection and to do it now. She brought her manager into the conversation and they said if we purchased a minimum number of points, at the reduced price, which was only available during our stay in Scottsdale, they could transfer all our points into the US collection with no additional charge for this transfer. We also note that instead of charging us a standard 10% down payment, Scottsdale charged us a 30% down payment, probably to get a lower monthly interest rate (13.99%), that was later rescinded after the Virginia Beach purchase of more points. The Scottsdale loan number was 27063687 and was for $24,405.00 at 13.99% interest after my down payment of $10,300. This was an expenditure of $33,955 for 8500 points plus $750 in closing charges.

We observed that in order to get the Diamond Dream Holiday trips we had to attend these sales presentations, where you are subjected to these sale tactics, with the sole purpose is getting you to purchase more points you don't really need. Diamond was just using these Dream Holiday trips, as a way, to sell existing owners more points.

In the Virginia Beach purchase of additional points, we were not made aware of the fact that, the interest rate for the existing loan from the previous Scottsdale purchase, would be combined with the new points purchase at Virginia Beach at a new higher interest rate. The interest rate from the Scottsdale purchase was at 13.99% and the new interest rate at Virginia Beach was at 15.312%. We should have been able to keep the purchase from Scottsdale (about $33,955 - 8500 points) at the 13.99% interest rate and just add the new purchase of $37,438 (7500 points) at Virginia Beach with a second loan at 15.312%. By combining the two loans we ended up paying more in interest on the amount owed from the Scottsdale point purchase, increasing our monthly payments even more, and raising our Maintenance costs to over $20,000 per year paid in advance for the entire year. We were also charged more for this Virginia Beach purchase of points than was charged at Scottsdale. We were only 5 months later in this Virginia Beach purchase, and the cost per point went up notably. We should have been charged $29982 for these 7500 points (at the Scottsdale rate) and instead we were charged $37,438, an increase of about 25% ($7456 more) for this purchase.

The expense of the Diamond timeshare has become a critical financial burden for us. We are in our late 70's, becoming frail, and with our medical expenses increasing. We can no longer travel as much as before. Our maintenance fees have jumped to over $20,000 per year in addition to the current monthly loan payout of about $925 per month for 10 more years. We are taking money out of our retirement IRA to make these payments, which is jeopardizing the assets we will need to live out our remaining retirement years in reasonable comfort.

We need to and must stop these monthly payments for these additional points purchased in Scottsdale and Virginia Beach, and by returning these points reduce our overall yearly maintenance fees. We need to get back to where we originally were, prior to our Scottsdale purchase. That is, when we owned 102,500 points and had no outstanding loans to payoff for our Diamond points. Realize, we were already double platinum owners and we were pressured into buying more points by Diamond individuals (sales people) at no real apparent benefit to us. We were lied to.

I would like to point out that these experiences we had with Diamond sales people at Scottsdale and Virginia Beach are not isolated incidents. We were also misled by the sales people at Hawaii, in getting us to purchase more points and transferring (with a considerable fee involved) all our existing points to the Hawaii collection. While we are not looking at this time to return those points purchased in Hawaii, it is meaningful to observe that these sales misrepresentations occur everywhere throughout the Diamond network. The sole purpose of these "educational" meetings is to sell more points and say whatever is necessary to make the owner purchase additional points, whether they need them or not.

17786436-Promissory Note Multisite Collection

PROMISSORY NOTE

This Promissory Note ("Note") is given in connection with that certain Purchase and Security Agreement of even date herewith between the undersigned, ROBERT BRUCE ZORNETZER and SHEILA KLOPPING ZORNETZER (hereinafter, whether one or more, referred to as "Maker"), whose address is 102 Saunton Links Williamsburg, Virginia 23188, and Diamond Resorts U.S. Collection Development, LLC, a Delaware limited liability company ("Diamond Resorts"), whose address and principal place of business is c/o Customer Service, Diamond Resorts Financial Services, Inc., 10600 West Charleston Boulevard, Las Vegas, Nevada 89135 (the "Agreement"). This Note will become effective upon the lapse of the cancellation period provided in the Agreement (provided that Maker does not exercise Maker's cancellation right) or, if later, the Closing described in the Agreement (the "Effective Date").

FOR VALUE RECEIVED, Maker promises to pay to the order of Diamond Resorts and any successor or assign thereof, including, without limitation, any subsequent holder hereof ("Holder"), at the address for Diamond Resorts set forth above or at such other place as Holder may from time to time designate in writing, in lawful money of the United States, the principal amount of Fifty-Six Thousand Six Hundred Ninety-Six and 06/100 ($56,696.06), together with a monthly collection fee of Six ($6.00) and a monthly finance charge computed in the manner set forth below at a fixed annual rate of Fifteen and 14/100 (15.14%) (the "Annual Rate"). As set forth in the Truth in Lending Disclosure Statement provided to you, both the collection fee and the monthly finance charge are treated as finance charges included in the computation of the Annual Percentage Rate under the federal Truth in Lending Act. Maker shall pay Holder in 120 equal monthly installments of Nine Hundred Nineteen and 57/100 Dollars ($919.57) each, with the first such installment being due and payable on

(the "First Payment Date"), and a like installment to be due and payable on or before the same day of each calendar month thereafter (the "Payment Date"). (Notwithstanding the foregoing: (1) if the First Payment Date is in the last three days of a calendar month and there is no day in a particular calendar month that corresponds to the First Payment Date, the Payment Date for such calendar month will be the first day of the subsequent month; and (2) if any Payment Date falls on a day that is not a business day, the Payment Date will be the next business day thereafter.) On the final Payment Date

(the "Maturity Date"), the entire principal balance due hereunder, together with any finance charges and other fees and charges, shall be immediately due and payable. Time is of the essence with respect to all of Maker's obligations hereunder.

If Maker has separately agreed to the terms of Holder's "SurePay Plan," an automatic payment plan whereby scheduled monthly payments of principal and interest payments on this Promissory Note and the collection fee are automatically deducted from Maker's bank account on each Payment Date, then immediately upon the occurrence of any of the following described events, Maker's participation in the SurePay Plan will terminate: (i) at any time prior to the Maturity Date, Maker elects to terminate his or her participation in the SurePay Plan; (ii) Maker closes the designated bank account; or (iii) on more than one occasion, a SurePay payment is not made when due for any reason (including Maker's failure to maintain a sufficient balance in the designated bank account to cover any required payment). In such event, the Interest Rate shall increase by Two percent (2%) per annum and the monthly payment will increase to the level sufficient to repay all principal, interest and collection fees by the Maturity Date through equal monthly payments on each Payment Date. The increase in the Interest Rate shall be effective retroactively to the date of the last payment made under the SurePay Plan, and the increase in payment amount shall apply to the next payment due after the last such SurePay payment.

Each monthly installment shall be applied first to late charges, then to the collection fee, then to monthly finance charges and finally to unpaid principal. Each month, the monthly finance charge will be based on the scheduled principal balance (regardless of exactly when payments are actually received) and a monthly rate of finance charge equal to the Annual Rate divided by twelve (12). Maker may prepay the outstanding principal balance hereof, in whole or in part, at any time without premium or penalty. However, partial prepayments will not reduce finance charges and will not postpone the due date of any subsequent monthly installments or change the amount of such installments unless Holder otherwise agrees in writing. In the event this Note is prepaid in full, Holder will charge a monthly finance charge for that month equal to the scheduled principal

Diamond Resorts U.S. Collection—VA

17786436-DRUSC Purchaser Understanding and Acknowledgement

PURCHASER'S UNDERSTANDING AND ACKNOWLEDGMENT

Diamond Resorts® thanks you and welcomes you to one of the most flexible and enjoyable vacation plans in the world! Please review and initial the following summary items. Capitalized terms are defined in your Purchase Agreement. We look forward to exceeding your expectations.

I understand and acknowledge the following:

1. RS SE Membership. This purchase is for 7500 Points for the purchase price of $37,438.00.

The Developer of the U.S. Collection is Diamond Resorts U.S. Collection Development, LLC, a Delaware limited liability company. The address for the Developer and U.S. Collection is 10600 W. Charleston Blvd., Las Vegas, NV 89135.

2. RS SE Points. Title to the Resort Interests is held in the U.S. Collection Trust by an independent Trustee for the benefit of the Members. In approximately 6-8 weeks a Collection Membership Certificate with an Eagle 9 UCC Vacation Interest Insurance policy will be mailed to my home and my Points will be available at that time or at the beginning of my first Use Year on 2019.

3. RS SE Annual Fees. Enrollment in The Club exchange program is automatic. My Club Dues are billed annually along with my Maintenance Fees. My first year's Maintenance Fees and Club Dues are estimated to be $1,273.00 and are subject to annual increases not to exceed 25% per year under governing law. My Maintenance Fees must be current to make reservations. The purchase of additional Points will not decrease my Maintenance Fees. If my Points are available during the current calendar year, my Maintenance Fees will be billed within 45 days. Otherwise, my Maintenance Fees will be billed in the fourth quarter of every year.

4. RS SE Saving and Borrowing Points. I must be current on all payments to make reservations and use save, borrow, or exchange my Points. I must pay the Maintenance Fees for the upcoming Use Year to borrow Points. Points do not roll over to the next year and they will expire on December 31st unless I save them. I can save a percentage of Points for use in the following year according to this schedule:

If I save by this date:	I can save the following Points:
June 30	100% of my Points
August 31	50% of my Points
October 31	25% of my Points
After October 31	None of my Points

5. RS SE Reservations. I may make a reservation up to 13 months before check-in at any of my Home Collection Resorts. I may make a reservation up to 10 months before check-in at any of THE Club affiliated resorts. All reservations for the Collection and The Club are confirmed on a first-come, first-served, space-available basis. Reservations at specific accommodations are not guaranteed. I will lose some or all of my Points used to make a reservation if I cancel that reservation fewer than 91 days before my scheduled arrival date unless I purchase a Reservation Protection Plan at the time of booking.

6. RS SE Personal Use. This purchase is for personal use and enjoyment and it does not create an undue financial burden for me. I am not purchasing a Membership as a financial investment or for financial returns of any kind, including through resale, rental, or tax advantages. Diamond does not offer a rental, resale or buyback program and makes no representation regarding tax deductions, refinancing opportunities, or that there will be a secondary market for the sale of Points. Points do not typically appreciate in value. I may not engage in any commercial rental activities to rent out Points for cash through online or print advertising to the general public and understand that my membership may be suspended or terminated if I do.

7. RS SE Transferring Membership. In the event I transfer my membership, the Association may deny a transfer if the buyer is a known or suspected fraudulent entity or person or is delinquent in the payment of any fees. A transfer fee of $250 will apply for approved transfers. My Membership is perpetual.

8. R Z SE

The Club. Copies of The Club Documents that I received describe the current benefits available through The Club, instructions for making a reservation, calculating the number of Points that I will need for each of my vacations and any other point redemption benefits. Redeeming Points for reimbursement of travel services does not provide the best monetary value for my Points and is typically not lower in cost than spending cash for the same arrangements. All of The Club benefits and affiliated resorts are subject to change or termination at any time. Some of The Club benefits are only available to certain loyalty members.

9. R Z SE

Platinum Only Benefits. ONLY Platinum Loyalty members can redeem up to 50,000 Points to pay part of their annual Maintenance Fees, but that is not the highest and best use of Points. There is a $100 transaction fee and the redemption value is currently $0.04 per Point. Borrowed or saved Points cannot be redeemed to offset the cost of Maintenance Fees, and Points must be redeemed between Nov. 1 and Dec. 31 for the following year's payment.

10. R Z SE

Interval International. As part of my membership in The Club, I will automatically become a member of the Interval International exchange program ("Interval") at no extra cost to me for at least the first year. THE Club may change or cancel its affiliation with Interval at any time. Interval membership allows me to request an exchange through Interval using Points, subject to an exchange fee paid to Interval.

11. R Z SE

Marketing Consent. By initialing here, I authorize Diamond Resorts International and/or its affiliates and successors to contact me regarding promotional offers at the address, email address and telephone numbers provided below, including autodialed calls, texts and prerecorded messages, regardless of any prior election to the contrary. I understand that I am not required to give consent as a condition of purchasing any goods or services. Explanation of Complaint:

I purchased a timeshare from Casa Del Mar Joint Venture, A Florida General Partnership on August 5, 1998.

The timeshare was a Odd Year Biennial Unit Week Number 2 Unit 324 at Casa Del Mar Beach Resort, a Condominium, and at the same time I signed an Avatar Vacation Club Resort Agreement which is a separate Club fees added to maintenance fees and etc. If I didn't called to used my deeded week, Avatar Vacation Club would converse my Bi-Yearly week to points. Avatar Vacation Club was also called the Amber Vacation Club.

I have been paying my yearly Maintenance, Real Estate Tax, and Amber Club fees and other fees over 21 years On-Time, even when there were special Assessments. I were trying to sale the TimeShare in the past but I still paid my yearly TimeShare bill received from Bluegreen/Casa Del Mar Resort.

Through the years the Casa Del Mar Resort has been remodeled and changed ownership. The resort rooms are smaller. The Resort is currently own by BlueGreen Vacations and Last year (2018) Diamond Resort sent me a letter stating that Diamond Resorts has acquired the Amber Vacation Club and related assets.

Now that I have given you a brief history, I will tell you the reason for my complaint. I called Diamond Resorts a few weeks ago to reserve a few days at Casa Del Mar in Ormond Beach Florida using some of the points. I were told that I didn't have any points because Blugreen Resorts said that I didn't pay my maintenance fees until March '2019 (which was late) and do not have any points to use. I knew that the maintenance fees bill was paid as soon as I received it. After finding my copy of the bill, check, and bank statement (see attachments), I called Blugreen Resorts and inform them what Diamond Resorts told me. I inform Bluegreen Resorts that my check copy shows the check was written December 23, 2018 and paid by my bank on January 2, 2019 and you're had to received it in December to be paid January 2, 2019 by my bank. I was then told that the bill was due January 1, 2019 and it was still late and you need to work with Diamond Resorts. It was Diamond resorts that inform me that Bluegreens Resorts told them that my maintenance fees were late and that I would not received any points to use for 2019.

Looking at my owner statements for the last two years (2017 and 2018 enclosed) I were billed $334.76 (2018) and $510.05 (2017) I paid (505.05) the bill for 2017 except the voluntary ARDA ($5) And paid $334.76 for 2018.

I then was bill again for the voluntary ARDA on the 2018 bill and another ARDA charge which I paid the whole bill.

I have Paid a total of $839.81 for the last two years and can't use my Timeshare for this odd year (2019).

The Amber Club have been receiving club fees from me yearly and my timeshare is Biyearly. I'm retired and on Social Security and Medicare. I'm tired of the rising fees and paying so much money to be told that I don't have points to use at my timeshare resort this year. I would like to exit out the timeshare and get my money back. I have been treated unfairly, and the resort I purchased my timeshare from have changed. Bluegreen Resorts didn't even offer to research the problem to make sure they haven't made a mistake. Bluegreen just wanted my money and didn't want to give me any customer services. And Diamond didn't want to give me any points and they have received two years of club fees.

Please check these two Resorts out, there's something not right.

I would appreciate any help you can give me.

DEEDING INSTRUCTION ADDENDUM

NAME Helen G James

Control No.: 39981.0

There are various designations by which you may elect to take title to your Florida Real Estate. Please remember, that the laws of the State of Florida will govern your Title no matter where you may presently live. You should give careful consideration to the exact manner which you wish to take Title, because in event of your death, the rights to your spouse, children and other heirs will depend on how your Deed is prepared now.

The following lettered paragraphs indicate some of the basic ways in which Title may be taken. Please read these carefully and then indicate your choice below:

(A)
Helen G James

You may wish to take Title individually, i.e., your name alone.
[MARITAL STATUS REQUIRED]

B)

HUSBAND AND WIFE: A Deed to a husband and wife creates what is known under Florida law as an Estate by the Entireties. This means that both spouses are co-owners of the property during their respective life-times. Upon death of either spouse, the survivor automatically takes full title to the property. This feature is known as the "Right of Survivorship."

C)

JOINT TENANCY WITH RIGHTS OF SURVIVORSHIP: This designation is similar to Tenancy by the Entireties as outlined above, except that the joint tenants are not husband and wife, and there may be 2 or 3 or even more such joint tenants who desire to have mutual rights of survivorship. Each is a co-owner of the entire property and has the same automatic right of survivorship as Tenancy by Entireties. Thus, if a Deed reads to A and B under this designation, on A's death B will automatically become the sole owner of the property, and, of course, the reverse is also true. [MARITAL STATUS OF EACH PURCHASER REQUIRED]

D)

TENANTS IN COMMON: Where two or more persons take title as Tenants in Common, it means that each has an undivided interest in the property. Each can hold an undivided one-half interest or some different percentage. The distinguishing feature in a Tenancy in Common is that there is no right of survivorship upon the death of one of the co-tenants. Thus, if A and B take title as Tenants in Common, then upon A's death, his share of the property goes to his heirs or to whomever he designates in his

Dear Casa Del Mar Beach Resort Condominium Association Owner:

621 South Atlantic Ave, Ormond Beach, FL

Enclosed is the billing statement for your 2019 Maintenance Fees. Your 2019 billing covers the projected operational cost for the following fiscal year. Please note your maintenance fee billing is broken down as follows: The Maintenance Fee is used to pay for day to day costs such as administration, pool care, landscaping, etc. The Reserve Fee is used for costs incurred for the replacement of furniture, appliances, painting, etc. The Real Estate Tax represents your portion of the total tax charged to the Association. The ARDA Fee is voluntary and goes to protect your ownership rights on an industry wide level. If you elect not to contribute to this fund please deduct $5 per account from your billing statement.

Please be sure to read the Assessment Billing and Collection Policy that outlines the policy on late payment penalties. If you have any questions regarding your maintenance fees, go online at www.bluegreenowner.com or contact us at 877-688-9889. Our hours of operation are Monday through Friday from 8:00 a.m. to 9:00 p.m. and Saturday 9:00 a.m. to 5:30 p.m. EST. Remember, the continued success of your resort depends upon the timely payment of your annual fees.

VOLUNTARY ARDA-ROC-PAC CONTRIBUTION

ARDA (American Resort Development Association) is a 40-year-old Washington, D.C. based industry trade association representing the resort industry through lobbying, consumer advocacy, and a unique organization called ARDA-Resort Owners Coalition-Political Action Committee (ARDA-ROC-PAC). This is the first line of defense against legislation that may negatively impact timeshare owners and their well-being. ARDA-ROC-PAC contributions are political contributions not deductible for federal income tax purposes. You may refuse to contribute more or less without reprisal or otherwise affecting our membership. Only U.S. citizens or permanent resident aliens (green card holders) may contribute to ARDA-ROC-PAC.

The ARDA-ROC-PAC concept is simple – owners across the country join together to gain collectively what they are unable to achieve individually. The ARDA-ROC-PAC coalition is comprised of hundreds and thousands of timeshare owners. The organization is funded solely through voluntary contributions. The funds are collected by your Association in conjunction with your annual maintenance fee assessment and sent to ARDA-ROC-PAC headquarters in Washington, D.C. ARDA-ROC-PAC utilizes its contributions to hire consultants and experts to work with ARDA staff to track and follow legislative and regulatory activity in the White House, regulatory agencies, the U.S Congress, and on state and local levels.

Year after year, federal, state and local lawmakers search for various ways to raise revenue by taxing owners at resort properties. One state's actions can set dangerous precedent and spread to other states if not dealt with effectively. ARDA-ROC-PAC strives to safeguard and improve vacation ownership for the future by defending owners on so many issues.

Funds contributed to ARDA-ROC-PAC possess maximum flexibility. They can be used to engage attorneys and lobbyists to pay for research to defend owners' legislative positions, and contribute to elected officials at the state and federal levels who are supportive of owners' legislative positions. For more information please visit their website: www.arda.org.

Please join your fellow timeshare owners by contributing only $5.00 a year (42 cents a month). Your support will enable ARDA-ROC-PAC to protect your interests as a timeshare owner.

Dear Attorneys Generals Frosh and Moody and Ms. Russell,

Attached you will find a copy of the brief and insincere letter we received from Diamond Resorts. The Company did return our money after we contacted your offices. And we are extremely thankful for the services provided by your office.

However, this Company did not respond to any of our calls and letter prior to our writing to the Attorneys Generals' Offices. There is no mention in the letter of any action being taken to discuss the matter with the salesmen who lied to us. Their treatment of many of their clients is nothing short of dishonest and demeaning. The Internet has many listings of lawsuits against Diamond Resorts International, This is a large American Company which shouldn't be growing their business with lies and brow beating. If there is any further action you can do to determine how many people are being scammed in this way, you might be able to persuade Diamond Resorts to mend their ways and become the dynamic company they say they are now.

Again, we are very thankful for your kind assistance.

Sincerely,

We're unhappy with them for all of the lies and pressure we received from the reps. Not one thing they've explained was true, which is disappointing since we were counting on it. First off we were told we could use our points for multiple things like hotel stays, rental cars, and airline tickets. This was not true. When looking into using our points for hotel stays we were told that, that wasn't available but we could use them to get 30% off. When calculating the price, we could have gotten the same price through the hotel without using any points. Then when looking into rental cars we were told that option wasn't available. Also told with the Barclay Credit Card it would take care of maintenance fees, which it hasn't. Every time we're asked to go to an update meeting they try pressuring us into more upgrades. Each time they promise our payments won't go up yet that is a lie. We feel taken advantage of.

My signature authorizes the Attorney General's Office to take any action deemed necessary for purposes of investigation or enforcement. I understand that the Attorney General does not represent private citizens seeking the return of their money or other personal remedies. I am filing this complaint to notify your office of the activities of this company so that it may be determined if law enforcement or legal action is warranted.

To Whom It May Concern:

I am reaching out to your agency, because you should be aware of what this company has done is in violation of your Timeshare Laws. I was solicited and then sold timeshare under false pretenses. You will find the attached letter, that is a copy of what I first sent them outlining the malpractice. I have sent the company many letters and gone to the BBB in the effort to work this out amicably. They refuse to hold any responsibility for the way their agents falsified the information to sell their deeded property. I ask that you review the attached letter and contact me if you can or can't help. My credit card has even charged them back for my deposit due to the fraud, but they still won't let me out. I have attached that too.

This letter is a formal written request that contract #17728084, signed April 4, 2018, be canceled and terminated. We (my husband and I) are also requesting a full refund of any monies paid to Diamond Resorts in regard to said contract. The product we were given was not the product sold to us by the Diamond Resorts sales staff. We were told lies and the product was grossly misrepresented, and therefore sold under false pretense. The following will be evidence of these claims and give the reasons for these requests.

In the month of November 2017, I was staying at a Diamond-owned hotel in Orlando, Florida. During this stay, I was approached by a Diamond Resorts representative and offered a Sampler package after I refused to purchase a full timeshare. As a part of accepting the Sampler package, I would be required to attend a 60 to 90 minute presentation about Diamond Resorts anytime I booked a stay using the Sampler points. I accepted the deal and booked a stay for the Diamond Resort in Williamsburg, Virginia for the month of April 2018. On April 4, I attended the presentation with my husband. We quickly discovered that it wasn't an informative presentation so much as a sales pitch. After the initial group presentation, a man named George Lewellyn greeted us and started talking to us about Diamond Resorts memberships.

From the start, we told George that we weren't interested in a membership because we had no use for staying in a resort, the reason being we almost always strictly use hotels for travel. We had a lengthy discussion with George about our two sons who are on soccer teams that travel frequently. Their soccer clubs require numerous stays in hotels per season. George's manager overheard this and stopped to join the conversation. He told us we could use membership points for hotel stays. We still said we still weren't interested, but he ignored that and continued talking about the membership. George then told us that we could use the points to cover the full cost of hotel stays. He asked us how often we stay in hotels, and then he worked out calculations with us that displayed the costs of staying in hotels versus how we could use our points to pay for the full cost of those stays instead. The calculations displayed how quickly we could make up the costs of membership by using our points to pay for the full cost of hotel stays, therefore making the cost of membership worth it. I have included a copy of them with this letter.

On more than one occasion, we asked George if one point equals one dollar with regards to hotel stays, and he replied yes, they do. I asked if a hotel in New York City would cost $450 for one night, then could I use 450 points to cover that stay. George answered yes, and said that New York City would probably be the most expensive city and require the most points. We asked again if one Diamond membership point equaled to one US dollar in regard to hotel stays, and again George said yes, they do. George and his manager then added that all hotels were eligible as long as they were 3.5 stars and above. We were then offered a membership plan of 3000 points per year. We were told this offer was a special deal and that it was only good during this meeting. After all of this, according to what we had been shown with the written calculations and the assurance that we could use our points to pay for the full cost of any hotel stays, we agreed to purchase. At this point we had been there many hours, well over the agreed to 90 minute presentation. Our sons were waiting for us this entire time, and we had plans to go out together that afternoon that we already wouldn't make. We had to wait another four hours for the final closing paperwork to be brought out to us. By that time we were tired and very hungry and ready to leave. When the paperwork was given to us to sign, we were given short summaries of the documents we were signing and asked to sign each one very quickly. The whole actual signing process took ten to fifteen minutes. We were approved for a Barclay credit card, which we used to pay $12,500 towards the loan. One important note, I was the only one who signed the contract, my husband was curiously left off the paperwork with no explanation as to why and was not asked to sign the documents along with me. However, he was very much involved with the process of purchasing and can attest to the details shared with us that day.

Later that same month of April 2018, I used my Chase Visa credit card to pay the rest of the loan in the amount of $4,129. Then, in early May of 2018, we called Diamond to make reservations for our next hotel stay. The Diamond reservations staff told us that we could only use our points to pay for 20% of the cost of a hotel stay. We were shocked and stunned to find that we had been so clearly lied to and manipulated by the Diamond Resorts sales staff. George had told us that he would be our personal contact for our membership. I called him several times to get an answer for this, and he never returned my calls. I then called Diamond customer service a few times, and two different Diamond representatives advised me to fill out the contact form on the Diamond website, and I did so, but still received no reply. On May 21, I called Diamond again and was advised differently. This time the Diamond representative opened a case with hospitality management and advised me to send a letter. I immediately sent Diamond a letter explaining the situation and requesting cancellation of the contract. Additional letters, emails, and phone conversations took place over the summer and early Fall of 2018, and I was repeatedly denied cancellation of the membership. I worked with Diamond hospitality staff members Stacey Lanphar, Cesar Cotera, and Elizabeth Moore. The last time I spoke with Cesar and Elizabeth was in mid to late October of 2018, and I received a letter from Elizabeth denying my contract cancellation. Every time I spoke to someone, they said I signed the contract and therefore I cannot cancel my membership based on fraud and misrepresentation. This was also repeated in the letter Elizabeth sent me.

I fully disagree with Diamond's stance that I cannot cancel my membership for those reasons. I was sold the membership and signed the contract under the explicit agreement that I could use the points to pay for 100% of hotel stays, and that each point equaled to one US dollar. The contract I signed says nothing that negates what we were told from the sales staff regarding hotel stays. The contract mentions "Travel Services," "Travel Benefits" and the "Diamond Luxury Program" but does not define them. The contract doesn't address hotel stay reimbursement explicitly at all. The only language the contract refers to regarding using points to pay 20% for a service is the phrase on page 4 of the contract: "...The Club offers a valuable cruise, hotel, and shopping benefit that allows a member to cover 20 percent of the cost of cruise, hotel and shopping benefits." In reading this contract, I assumed this 20% of "hotel benefits" referred to benefits such as gifts from the hotel shop or perhaps a massage at the hotel or other amenities. It does not explicitly state 20% of the cost of a hotel stay. In addition, the table on page 6 describes the benefit for Diamond luxury hotels for the Standard membership as "Coming Soon." The contract is completely unclear with regard to hotel stay reimbursement. Nothing in the contract goes against the statements that the Diamond sales staff told us.

We have already won a dispute with Barclay for the $12,500 payment we made on our Diamond Barclay credit card. As soon as I learned that we were lied to, I placed a Merchant Dispute on that card. Barclay accepted that dispute and refunded our money based on the fact that they agreed with us that we were sold the membership based on misrepresentation. My credit card balance with Barclay is zero and my account with them has been closed. I am including documents that illustrate these things. You have apparently not yet realized that $12,500 of the purchase price has been revoked from you and we essentially paid only $4,129 for a timeshare you believe we paid in excess of $16,000 to own. By allowing us to fully cancel and refunding the $4,129 to us, you will then be able to resell the timeshare to someone else and recover the lost $12,500. If you insist on holding us to this ill-gotten and immorally-obtained contract, you will never recover the lost funds. Cancelling and refunding the contract is the only option that makes sense.

We were sold the membership and we signed the contract with the explicit verbal agreements with the Diamond sales staff that we would be able to use our points to pay for 100% of hotel stays, and that each point equaled to one US dollar. These statements have proven to be lies and misrepresentations of the actual product being sold, and this point has already been agreed upon by Barclays Bank. We are requesting that Diamond cancel and terminate contract # 17728084 and refund any monies paid to in regard to said contract. We want to have an amicable and quick resolution to this matter and are requesting that Diamond respond to this request in writing within 30 days.

Sincerely,

Bridget Donaldson

Mr. Jim Reil and Mrs. Joyce Nicole made 3 purchases with Diamond Resorts. Mr. Reil, who is now deceased, was a veteran of the U.S. Army and he was legally deaf and blind when he signed these contracts.

1. September 2016 – Mr. Reil and Mrs. Nicole accepted a telephone solicitation offer for a 3-day trip to Daytona Beach. They met with Ms. Deborah West, a licensed Florida Sales Associate. Mr. Reil and Mrs. Nicole were told they were purchasing a Gold membership package at $30,000. Instead, they purchased a contract for $64,400 in which 2 Barclay credit cards were opened and charged a total of $26,000 without their knowledge and consent. The terms of the financing was never discussed or disclosed to them. Mrs. Nicole later took out a home equity loan to pay off this high interest debt. She is still paying on her HELOC loan. Required documents were not given to them on the day of sale. At the time of this purchase, Mr. Reil was 81 and Mrs. Nicole was 83.

Shortly after this purchase, Mrs. Nicole mailed a letter to Diamond stating she had recently been diagnosed with Fibromyalgia and was requesting a reduced vacation package. No response by Diamond was given, only invitations to attend future events where they would be hassled and pressured for upgrades.

2. On March 7, 2018 Mr. Reil and Mrs. Nicole were invited to Ormond Beach to attend an owners meeting. They met with Celestia Clark, a Florida licensed Sales Associate. Ms. Clark informed them they were not Gold members but instead Silver and have limited benefits as Silver members. She told Mr. Reil and Mrs. Nicole that with a Gold membership, it would be easier for them to sell. They signed a second contact for 10,000 points for $34,300 and put a deposit of $3,430 on their credit cards. Required documents were not given to them on the day of sale. Mr. Reil was 82 and Mrs. Nicole was 85 at this time.
3. On September 30, 2018, Mr. Reil and Mrs. Nicole were invited by Diamond to have dinner at a local restaurant. This dinner turned into high-pressure sales to upgrade their membership to Platinum level for $16,000. They were eventually convinced to purchase a smaller, Sampler Package for $3,995. Mr. Reil put $349 on his credit card. Mr. Reil was 83 and Mrs. Nicole was 85 at this time.

Mr. Reil and Mrs. Nicole hired legal counsel on March 16, 2019. Mr. Reil passed away on April 1, 2019. Their attorney sent Diamond Resorts a detailed letter explaining the events of each purchase on May 28, 2019 but Diamond has not responded. They have ignored the letter along with subsequent calls and emails.

Sworn Affidavit

AFFIDAVIT of JOYCE SHIELDS NICOLE

STATE OF Florida

COUNTY OF Broward

PERSONALLY, came and appeared before me, the undersigned Notary, the within named Joyce Shields Nicole who is a resident of Broward County, State of Florida, and makes this her statement and Affidavit upon oath and affirmation of belief and personal knowledge that the following matters, facts and things set forth are true and correct to the best of her knowledge:

My husband and I were solicited on the telephone by Diamond Resorts for a vacation package in exchange for attending a timeshare presentation in Florida.

We attended the presentation and we were told we could travel to the Caribbean and take cruises whenever and wherever we wanted to.

On September 15, 2016 we agreed to a purchase of 200,000 points. The salesperson opened up two Barclay credit cards without our consent and charged $13,000.00 on each credit card.

It was our understanding that the price of our package was $30,000 but it was really $64,400.

Diamond representatives did not review the financial terms of the contract with us.

They failed to provide us with the Multisite Public Offering Statement.

Ms. West, one of the sale representatives told us she would come to our home and show us how to use the Kindle that was given to us so we could understand our ownership. Ms. West never came to our home.

My husband was age 81 at the time and was legally blind and deaf.
I was age 83 at the time.

I refinanced my home to pay Diamond Resorts $39,150.00.

Shortly after this purchase, I was diagnosed with Fibromyalgia and informed Diamond Resorts about this and asked for a reduced vacation package due to my limited ability to travel. They ignored this letter.

On March 7, 2018 my husband and I stayed at a hotel in Ormond Beach, Florida and Diamond Resorts representatives invited us to an owners update at Daytona Beach Regency.

The sales representative, Celestia Clark, told us that our 20,000 points were inferior with limited benefits.

We thought we were Gold, but Ms. Clark told us we were Silver.

Ms. Clark told us it would be easier to sell our ownership if we were Gold, so we agreed to a second contract of 10,000 points which cost $34,300 so that we would be Gold and more benefits with the intent to give these to our children.

All the signing of the documents was done electronically so my husband struggled to see the computer screen without his magnifying glass.

The signing went very quickly where the representative just said where to sign but did not review any of the documents with us.

I refinanced my home to pay Diamond Resorts $31,620.00.

My husband was age 82 and I was age 85 at the time this contract was signed.

They failed to provide us with the Multisite Public Offering Statement.

Anthony Williams, the closing representative had us sign a document called "Purchaser's Acknowledgment of Additional Benefits in Connection with First Day Timeshare Membership Purchase" and added an additional $3,074.70 to our financing. He did not explain this to us.

On September 30, 2018 my husband and I were invited by Diamond Resorts to a dinner at a local restaurant. They told it us it was not for a sales presentation but to update us on new benefits.

They became aggressive with their sales tactics and tried to get us to sign a third contract for another $16,000.00.

We found out that our other two contracts are perpetual which we never knew.

Shavannah Morehouse convinced us to sign a Sampler package for $3,995.00 with an interest rate of 12.99%.

They charged $349.00 to my husband's credit card but did not put him on the contract.

At the time of this purchase, my husband was age 83 and I was age 85.

We used our points one time for the duration of our ownership.

As a result of the money we lost with Diamond Resorts, my husband was suffering from severe stress and his mental health was declining.

In February 2019, my husband's son came to check on him and found out everything that happened with Diamond Resorts and about all three contracts we signed.

Up until December 2018, my husband had poor quality hearing aids that did not aid in his hearing like they should have so in December 2018 my husband purchased better hearing aids, so he was able to hear things better.

On March 16, 2019, we hired a lawyer to help us get out of these contracts.

My husband passed away on April 1, 2019.

To date, Diamond Resorts has failed to respond to my attorney's letter that was sent to their legal department.

I stopped paying on the Sampler package and now Diamond is threatening to accelerate the mortgage.

DATED this the 7 day of September, 2019.

RE: Joyce Shields Nicole and James (Jim) Wallace Reil
Contract Numbers: 17620707, 17847283 and 17781354S

Dear Ms. Gaxiola,

I have been retained by Mrs. Nicole to cancel these timeshare contracts with Diamond based on deceptive business practices, elderly exploitation and violations of Florida Statutes. The following are their purchases:

- September 15, 2016 for 20,000 points with a purchase price of $64,400. A deposit of $26,000 was put on two separate Barclay credit cards;
- The second contract was signed on March 7, 2018 for 10,000 points with a purchase price of $34,300 and a deposit of $3,430;
- Six months later, a Sampler Package was signed on September 30, 2018 for 20,000 points for $3,995.

Sadly, Mr. Reil passed away on April 1, 2019. Mr. Reil has been legally deaf since he was a child. He was also legally blind. Further discussion and medical documentation will be addressed later in my letter.

My clients received a solicitation on the phone to come to the Daytona Beach Regency for a 3 day trip and they decided to use it for their honeymoon in September 2016. Their Diamond sales representative, Deborah West, said they could travel to the Caribbean and take cruises and travel where ever and whenever they wanted. Ms. West applied for two Barclay credit cards in each of their names without their consent and knowledge. The Truth in Lending Act requires full disclosure of interest rates and payments neither of which were disclosed to my clients. It was their understanding they purchased a Gold package for $30,000. They were unaware of the Barclay credit cards until they received Barclay statements in the mail. To date, the two Barclay credit applications have yet to be produced. The purchase price for this contract was $64,400, and financing was $39,150.00. Again, Diamond representatives failed to review and disclose the terms of their financing, violating the TILA and taking advantage of their advanced age and vulnerabilities. Mrs. Nicole had to take out a home equity line of credit to pay for this high interest loan with Diamond. She is still paying back her HELOC. At the time of this purchase Jim was age 81 and Joyce was age 83 and they both live on a fixed income. They could not afford this purchase and there is no way they would live long enough to pay off this debt.

- Privacy Policy
- Declaration for Multisite Timeshare Plan
- Schedule for Reservation Rates
- Interval International Document

See Receipt for Timeshare Documents attached and marked as "A". Pursuant to Florida Statute 721.551 Delivery of multisite timeshare plan purchaser public offering statement, it states, (1) The division is authorized to prescribe by rule the form of the approved multisite timeshare plan public offering statement that must be furnished by a seller to each purchaser pursuant to this section. The form of the public offering statement that is furnished to purchasers must provide fair, meaningful, and effective disclosure of all aspects of the multisite timeshare plan. (2) The developer shall furnish each purchaser with the following: (a) A copy of the approved multisite timeshare plan public offering statement text containing the information required by s. 721.55(1)-(6).

My clients were not provided the required POS in paper format and if they were provided this in electronic format please provide proof of doing so. Ms. West, giving false promises in a position of trust, and acting like she cared but taking advantage of their age and vulnerabilities, promised she would come to their home and show them how to use the Kindle so they could book their Diamond vacations. After the purchase, they never heard from Ms. West again so on October 27, 2016, they returned to the Daytona Beach Regency sales office to seek Ms. West's assistance, as promised, and no one was there. See notes attached and marked as "B".

Shortly after this purchase, they mailed a letter to Hospitality Management informing them that Joyce had recently been diagnosed with Fibromyalgia, a painful condition that affects fibrous tissues, muscles, tendons and ligaments and this condition limits her ability to travel. They requested a reduced vacation package. See letter attached and marked as "C". This letter should have flagged their account. But instead, Diamond representatives continued to invite them to events so that they could hassle, pressure them and coerce them into more purchases.

On March 7, 2018 they were staying at a resort in Ormond Beach. They were invited to an owners update at Daytona Beach Regency. Celestia Clark who was their salesperson informed them that the current package they had of 20,000 points was inferior with limited benefits. They thought they were Gold but were told no, they were only Silver. They thought since their children would one day own their membership they agreed to the purchase because they did not want to leave them with an inferior package. They were also told that it would be easier to sell their membership if they were at the Gold level. They signed a second contract for 10,000 points US Collection points (contract 17847283) with a purchase price of $34,300. They put a deposit of $3430 on their credit cards and they financed $31,620 with an interest rate of 13.99%. This purchase was done with electronic signatures. The signing went late into the day and there was no time for them to read what was in front of them and the font was not even large enough for Mr. Reil to read any of the documents he signed; they were just told where to sign and initial with no explanation as to what they were signing. This purchase put them at the Gold level of which they already thought they owned. Mrs. Nicole had to take out a home equity line of credit to pay for this high interest loan with Diamond. She is still paying back her HELOC. At the time of this purchase, Jim was 82 and Joyce was 85. They could not afford this purchase and there is no way they would live long enough to pay this debt.

(1) The division is authorized to prescribe by rule the form of the approved multisite timeshare plan public offering statement that must be furnished by a seller to each purchaser pursuant to this section. - (2) The developer shall furnish each purchaser with the following:
- (a) A copy of the approved multisite timeshare plan public offering statement text containing the information required by s. 721.55(1)-(6).

My clients were not provided this in paper format and if they were provided this in electronic format please provide proof of doing so. The Diamond closing representative, Anthonie Williams had my clients sign a document named "Purchaser's Acknowledgment of Additional Benefits in Connection with First-Day Timeshare Membership Purchase and added an additional amount of $3,074.70 to their Diamond financial obligation in addition to Club fees for the time period in which they may be used. It has an expiration date of March 7, 2019. Mr. Williams engaged in deceptive business practices by having my clients sign this document and failing to review it with them. Had they read and understood this, they never would have agreed to it. See sheet attached and marked as "E".

Six months later, on September 30, 2018, Jim and Joyce were invited by Diamond to a dinner at a restaurant. They made it clear that if it was for a sales presentation they did not want to attend. They were assured that it just a dinner and they would learn about new resorts and cruises that Diamond offers. My clients state that it was by far the most high-pressure sales tactics by Diamond employees. They discussed using points to pay their maintenance fees but said they had to be at the Platinum level. The focus of the meeting was to convince them to upgrade to Platinum for $16,000. They also discovered at this meeting that they are members for life; they had no knowledge that the two contracts they currently had were in perpetuity. Although several employees tried to pressure them into a large purchase, it was Shavannah Morehouse who convinced them to purchase a Sampler Package for 20,000 points which cost $3,995 with an interest rate of 12.99%. She had Mr. Reil put $349.00 on his credit card but did not put him on the contract. Their hospitality representative, Randy Siegel, provided a "Welcome to the Sampler Program" sheet with his personal cell phone number on it stating, "please contact the following number if you have any questions within the next 14 days 773-501-6101". This is deceptive and implies that they had 14 days to cancel this package. See sheet attached and marked as "F". My clients already had 30,000 points, and could not afford or ever use a Sampler Package of 20,000 points. They are also missing pages 2-4 of this contract. At the time of this third contract, 6 months after they just purchased 10,000 additional points, Jim was 83 and Joyce was 85.

For unknown reasons, in March 2019, someone from Diamond called my clients at their home. Mrs. Nicole was so upset she said, "you're the ones who screwed up our lives". They called a second time, and no one was home and the rep left a message on their voicemail and they called a third time and Mr. Reil hung up on them. Mr. Reil died shortly after this.

Mr. Reil is legally blind. In order to read, he had to use a magnifying glass which he did not have at the times he signed these Diamond contracts. Add this handicap on top of small print and a quick closing process, there was no way that he could have read what the closing rep was having him sign. Mr. Reil is also legally deaf. He had a childhood injury which permanently damaged his hearing. It wasn't until January 2019 that he purchased high end hearing aids and could finally hear what people were saying to him. Before this time, he was wearing cheap brand hearing aids that barely assisted his hearing. See Audiologist's letter and Ophthalmologists' report attached and marked as "G".

Because of Diamond, for the last several years, Jim had been suffering from severe stress and his mental health was declining. He was not paying his bills so one of his children came to check on him in January 2019 and it was at this visit their family found out about the three Diamond contracts, the $102,695.00 in debt to Diamond and all the points they had that they could not afford and they would never and could never use. Upon discovering this abuse against his dad, Mr. Reil's son called Diamond several times to help them get out of their contracts and no one was willing to help him. He even shared with the reps that his dad cannot see and cannot hear but there was no resolution.

Mr. Reil was almost 84 when he passed away on April 1, 2019. He was also a veteran of the United States Army. Mr. Reil's two main life activities, seeing and hearing, and his inability to do both, didn't matter to Diamond employees/agents when they induced him to sign these contracts. These contracts which were signed under duress and coercion have caused my clients severe mental anguish and financial ruin. Mrs. Nicole had to refinance her home to pay for the September 2016 and March 2018 contracts. They both had to take money out of their limited savings to pay off the two Barclay cards totaling $26,000 that they had no knowledge of until they received Barclay statements in the mail. Sadly, the stress related to Diamond Resorts and the three purchases worsened Mr. Reil's health and his family believes contributed to and expedited his death.

Now, Joyce is a widow in the last years of her life. Since the 2016 purchase she has suffered from Fibromyalgia (as indicated in their letter to Diamond shortly after the September 2016 purchase, attachment "C"). She is unable to do normal household chores and has difficulty walking and getting in and out of her bed, chairs and car. She loves attending Church and has been unable to do so. She takes strong steroids to manage her pain. Joyce also suffers from neurological issues that include memory loss and the inability to grasp the words she wants to say and there is no way she could have understood the Diamond contracts that the Diamond representatives quickly had her sign and initial.

Florida has laws in place to protect our elderly citizens and veterans of the United States Armed Forces. Each of the Diamond employees/agents involved with the sales of these three contracts preyed on my clients and used high pressure sales tactics together with deceptive business practices to induce them to sign these three contracts.

Diamond employees/agents' conduct was deceptive and their statements misleading. My clients were induced into purchasing these contracts based on material misrepresentations and omissions. Diamond employees/agents are in violation of Florida's Vacation and Timeshare Plans, Florida Statute Chapter

721.11, specifically, section (4) which states No advertising or oral statement made by any seller shall:

- (a) Misrepresent a fact or create a false or misleading impression regarding the timeshare plan or promotion thereof.
- (f) Misrepresent the size, nature, extent, qualities, or characteristics of the offered accommodations or facilities.
- (g) Misrepresent the amount or period of time during which the accommodations or facilities will be available to any purchaser.
- (i) Make any misleading or deceptive representation with respect to the contents of the public offering statement and the contract or the rights, privileges, benefits, or obligations of the purchaser under the contract or this chapter.

Ms. West, Ms. Clark and Ms. Morehouse are all licensed Real Estate Sales Associates in Florida and are governed by Florida Statute Chapter 475 section 475.25 Discipline which states (1) The commission may deny an application for licensure, registration, or permit, or renewal thereof; may place a licensee, registrant, or permittee on probation; may suspend a license, registration, or permit for a period not exceeding 10 years; may revoke a license, registration, or permit may impose an administrative fine not to exceed $5,000 for each count or separate offense; if it finds that the licensee, registrant, permittee, or applicant: (b) Has been guilty of fraud, misrepresentation, concealment, false promises, false pretenses, dishonest dealing by trick, scheme, or device, culpable negligence, or breach of trust in any business transaction in this state or any other state, nation, or territory; has violated a duty imposed upon her or him by law or by the terms of a listing contract, written, oral, express, or implied, in a real estate transaction; has aided, assisted, or conspired with any other person engaged in any such misconduct and in furtherance thereof; or has formed an intent, design, or scheme to engage in any such misconduct and committed an overt act in furtherance of such intent, design, or scheme. It is immaterial to the guilt of the licensee that the victim or intended victim of the misconduct has sustained no damage or loss; that the damage or loss has been settled and paid after discovery of the misconduct; or that such victim or intended victim was a customer or a person in confidential relation with the licensee or was an identified member of the general public.

(c) Has advertised property or services in a manner which is fraudulent, false, deceptive, or misleading in form or content.

As senior citizens, Jim's handicap of being deaf and blind and as a veteran of the United States Armed Forces, my clients are protected by Florida Statute 501.2077, Violations involving senior citizen, person who has a disability, military servicemember, or the spouse or dependent child of a military servicemember; civil penalties; presumption.

(1) As used in this section, the term:

(a) "Major life activities" means functions associated with the normal activities of independent daily living, such as caring for one's self, performing manual tasks, walking, seeing, hearing, speaking, breathing, learning, and working.

(c) "Military servicemember" means a person who is on active duty in, or a veteran of, the United States Armed Forces.

(e) "Senior citizen" means a person who is 60 years of age or older.

(2) A person who is willfully using, or has willfully used, a method, act, or practice in violation of this part which victimizes or attempts to victimize a senior citizen or a person who has a disability is liable for a civil penalty of not more than $15,000 for each such violation if she or he knew or should have known that her or his conduct was unfair or deceptive.

(3) A person who is willfully using, or has willfully used, a method, act, or practice in violation of this part directed at a military servicemember or the spouse or dependent child of a military servicemember is liable for a civil penalty of not more than $15,000 for each such violation if she or he knew or should have known that her or his conduct was unfair or deceptive.

Jim and Joyce used their points one time at a place in New Smyrna Beach. They expected an ocean front unit but instead were sent across the street down a dirt road to a one star location. They went on a cruise but were unable to use their points for this, as promised.

My clients have suffered financial damages and need to be made whole. Joyce and Jim were preyed on and fraudulently induced into signing 3 contracts. Now Joyce is a widow and she had to see her husband die knowing this was a battle she'd be fighting on her own. These contracts need to be refunded and the Diamond ownership terminated. Further, this is notice to preserve all documents, tangible things and electronically stored information potentially relevant to the issues related to these owners and this cause.

In the event these contracts are not cancelled with a refund we are prepared to file a complaint with the DBPR for failure to provide the required POS on the day of the sales, the Florida Attorney General for elderly exploitation and complaints with the Florida Real Estate Commission against all Diamond sales personnel who were involved with the sale of these contracts.

Govern Yourselves Accordingly.

Sincerely,

Hospitality Management
Diamond Resorts
10600 West Charleston Boulevard
Las Vegas, Nevada 89133

Dear Sir:

On September 15, 2016 we (James and Joyce) purchased one of your 20,000 points vacation packages while we were on our honeymoon in Daytona Beach. We took advantage of your free 3 day hotel stay in exchange for attending a Diamond Resorts sales presentation. We were favorably impressed with the sales presentation and the hospitality shown to us by your employees.

We looked forward to some pleasant travel experiences both foreign and domestic. Joyce had long desired to visit Spain and James wanted to visit relatives in Ireland and revisit the places he was in Germany where he served in the U.S. Army. We were also interested in river cruises in both the U.S and Europe.

While we were in Daytona, Joyce had discomfort in her legs while walking. When we returned to Margate, the discomfort changed into severe pain, and Joyce found it difficult to do her household chores. It was hard for her to walk, needed help to sit down in a chair and needed help to get up out of the chair. Someone had to help her in and out of an automobile and in and out of bed. She was unable to bend down to pick up an object. Her pain was so severe she couldn't attend her regular church services for several weeks.

Over the weekend of September 25, 2016 she was diagnosed by Doctor Michael Greenberg as having Fibromyalgia, a painful condition that affects the fibrous tissues, muscles, tendons and ligaments. Joyce is 83 years old and this condition greatly limits her ability to travel. Joyce is now under Dr. Greenberg's care and is taking a strong steroid prescription to manage the pain.

In consideration of Joyce's past business with Diamond Resorts which included 2 family vacations at Liki Tiki Resort in Florida; each vacation included 3 of her children and 4 grandchildren including all their spouses, and 4 great grandchildren, we are requesting permission to reduce the size and value of our vacation package. We are sorry circumstances cause us to alter our travel plans

Very truly yours,

James Wallace Reil

Joyce Shields Nicole

RE: James Reil

To Whom This May Concern;

I am writing on behalf of patient James Reil. His hearing test showed a moderate to severe hearing loss in the left ear, and a severe to profound hearing loss in the right ear. With his hearing loss, he had extreme difficulty understanding speech and hearing sounds/noises around him. If he did not wear his hearing aids, he would have been unable to understand or comprehend what people were saying to him.

FURTHER TERMS AND CONDITIONS

1. DEFINITIONS:

Unless the context suggests otherwise, capitalized terms shall have the meanings set forth in the Amended and Restated Declaration for Diamond Resorts U.S. Collection ("Declaration"), as may be amended or modified from time to time.

2. PAYMENT OF PURCHASE PRICE:

(a) Purchaser may pay for the Membership in cash or through credit from Seller, subject to Seller's credit approval ("Financing"). If Purchaser receives Financing from Seller, then Purchaser will be required to execute and deliver an installment Promissory Note (the "Note") payable to the order of Seller in the amount of the Unpaid Balance, and grant the first priority Seller Security Interest (defined below) that secures the payment of the Note and encumbers Purchaser's Membership, as well as certain other documents and Instruments which Seller, in its sole discretion, deems reasonably necessary or appropriate to secure Purchaser's payment of the Note. Purchaser will be subject to all of the terms, provisions, and conditions described and set forth in all such documents and instruments.

(b) If Purchaser requests Financing, Seller may, but is not required to, agree to finance Purchaser's purchase. Purchaser promises that all personal financial and other information submitted to Seller is and will be accurate, and Purchaser authorizes Seller to make credit inquiries regarding Purchaser, whether through a consumer reporting agency or other means. Purchaser agrees to provide immediate written notice to Seller of any material adverse change in Purchaser's financial condition that occurs prior to Closing (as defined below). If Purchaser makes good faith efforts to obtain purchase money financing but is unable to qualify for Financing within 10 days following Seller's acceptance of this Agreement, Purchaser shall be entitled to terminate this Agreement and receive a refund of any and all payments made by Purchaser hereunder (without interest) or, at Purchaser's option, to consummate the transaction contemplated hereby by paying the entire Unpaid Balance in cash at Closing. If Purchaser is unable to qualify for Financing within such 10 day period, Seller shall provide written notice thereof to Purchaser, whereupon Purchaser shall promptly notify Seller whether Purchaser elects to terminate this Agreement or consummate the transaction as provided in the preceding sentence. If Purchaser fails to give any notice to Seller within 20 days after Purchaser's receipt of Seller's notice that Purchaser does not qualify for Financing, Seller may at any time thereafter terminate this Agreement and refund to Purchaser all payments made by Purchaser. Seller reserves the right, in its sole discretion, to sell or assign the Note and the Seller Security Interest to another person or entity, whether or not such person or entity is affiliated with Seller.

(c) If Purchaser is exchanging a fee simple timeshare interest in a timeshare resort ("Fee Timeshare Interest") as full or partial payment for the Membership, Purchaser agrees to execute and deliver to Seller, on the date hereof, (i) a deed or other appropriate instrument in form and substance satisfactory to Seller, in its sole discretion, pursuant to which all of Purchaser's right, title, and interest in and to the Fee Timeshare Interest is conveyed to Seller or a party designated by Seller, free and clear of any liens or encumbrances not expressly approved by Seller ("Deed-back"), and (ii) if Seller so requests, a declaration of annexation or other similar type of document subjecting the Fee Timeshare Interest to the Declaration ("Annexation Instrument"). Such Deed-back and Annexation Instrument may be recorded by Seller upon Closing. Pending Closing, Purchaser shall remain fully liable for all costs, expenses, and other obligations of any and every kind related to the Fee Timeshare Interest ("Fee Timeshare Interest Obligations"). If the transaction contemplated hereby fails to close for any reason whatsoever, the Deed-back and Annexation Instrument will be cancelled and returned to Purchaser, and Purchaser will remain fully liable for the Fee Timeshare Interest Obligations.

(d) In the event that the Note, this Agreement, or the Deed-back and Annexation Instrument (if applicable), or any other document or instrument which evidences or secures payment of the Purchase Price, is misplaced or has not been completely and validly executed by Purchaser for any reason whatsoever, Seller shall have the option, in its sole discretion, (i) to cancel this Agreement at any time prior to Closing; or (ii) to send Purchaser whatever document(s) and/or instrument(s) that Seller needs Purchaser to re-execute, along with instructions on how to do so. In the event that Seller elects to cancel this Agreement, Seller shall provide written notice thereof to Purchaser and cause any funds held on Purchaser's behalf, without interest, to be refunded by Escrow Agent (defined below), to Purchaser, in which event this Agreement shall be deemed terminated and of no further force or legal effect. In the event Seller sends Purchaser any document or instrument for re-execution, Purchaser shall promptly re-execute same, cause his or her signature to be notarized (to the extent indicated), and return such document(s) and/or instrument(s) to Seller in accordance with Seller's written instructions. Purchaser's failure to do so for any reason within 10 calendar days following Purchaser's receipt thereof shall constitute a default hereunder, entitling Seller to exercise its available rights and remedies pursuant to Section 14 below.

ANY HOLDER OF THIS CONSUMER CREDIT CONTRACT IS SUBJECT TO ALL CLAIMS AND DEFENSES WHICH THE DEBTOR COULD ASSERT AGAINST THE SELLER OF GOODS OR SERVICES OBTAINED PURSUANT HERETO OR WITH THE PROCEEDS HEREOF. RECOVERY HEREUNDER BY THE DEBTOR SHALL NOT EXCEED AMOUNTS PAID BY THE DEBTOR.

3. SELLER'S RIGHT TO ACCEPT OR REJECT THIS AGREEMENT:

It is understood that Seller can accept or reject this Agreement. If Seller rejects this Agreement, Purchaser is only entitled to a refund of any payments made by Purchaser, without interest. This Agreement becomes effective and legally binding only when executed by both Parties. If Seller accepts this Agreement, then Seller, subject to Section 2 above, agrees to sell the Membership to Purchaser, and Purchaser agrees to make all of the payments required to be made under this Agreement when due and otherwise to comply fully with all of the terms, provisions, and conditions hereof and of the Collection Instruments.

4. DEPOSITS:

Purchaser's initial deposit and any subsequent payments made by Purchaser to Seller prior to Closing shall be delivered to and held in escrow by First American Title Insurance Company, the address of which is 400 S Rampart Blvd, Ste 290, Las Vegas, NV 89145 ("Escrow Agent"), pursuant to a Master Escrow Agreement by and between Seller and Escrow Agent, the terms, provisions, and conditions of which are incorporated by this reference. Any and all interest that accrues on Purchaser's deposit and subsequent payments shall, except to the extent prohibited by law, be payable to and inure to the sole benefit of Seller and not be credited toward the Purchase Price. Escrow Agent shall hold all such deposits and other amounts until presentation by Seller of written instructions to the effect that Closing has occurred. Seller shall have no right to use any of the funds held by Escrow Agent until such funds have been delivered to Seller in accordance with the provisions hereof.

5. VACATION OWNERSHIP PLAN:

(a) The Membership is a form of a "right-to-use" timeshare interest, and Purchaser will not receive a deed to any interest in real property.

(b) Purchaser acknowledges that notwithstanding any provision of this Agreement or the Collection Instruments, unless Purchaser is purchasing Specific Use Points, Purchaser will not have the guaranteed exclusive right to reserve, use, and occupy any particular Collection Accommodation. Purchaser acknowledges that the Membership is subject to the Collection Instruments as amended and/or supplemented from time to time.

(c) The Collection shall be perpetual unless terminated by the Members in the manner described in the Collection Instruments.

(d) Purchaser may be prohibited from making a reservation or using and occupying a Collection Accommodation unless Purchaser has timely paid any and all Assessments, Personal Charges and other amounts levied pursuant to the Collection Instruments and otherwise fully complied with all of the terms, provisions, and conditions of the Collection Instruments.

6. ASSOCIATION MEMBERSHIP AND TRANSFER:

Upon Closing, Purchaser will automatically become a Member of the Association. Purchaser agrees to be subject to and to comply fully with the Collection Instruments. If the number of a Member's annual allotment of Points falls below the Minimum Points

Threshold for any reason, such as the partial transfer of Points or expiration of Term Points, the affected Membership will cease to be a valid Membership unless sufficient additional Points are acquired to meet the Minimum Points Threshold. The current Minimum Points Threshold for a valid Membership is 2,000 Points. Any purchase of additional Points will be governed by prices in effect at the time of purchase. Purchaser's right to sell or otherwise transfer his or her Membership and the resulting update to the Register of Members is subject to prior approval by the Association and certain other applicable requirements set forth in the Collection Instruments.

7. ASSESSMENTS:

(a) Purchaser understands and agrees that in accordance with the provisions of the Collection Instruments, the Association is empowered to levy and collect Assessments against each Membership for management and maintenance expenses. In addition to Assessments, Purchaser understands and agrees that he or she will be responsible for the timely payment to the Association of any Personal Charges or other charges that he or she incurs, all in accordance with the provisions of the Collection Instruments. Assessments shall be due and payable to the Association prior to Purchaser's use and occupancy of a Collection Accommodation in Purchaser's Initial Use Year, as set forth on Page 1 hereof. The amount of the Assessments each year may vary and will be determined as outlined in the Collection Instruments.

(b) The Association may enforce Purchaser's obligation to pay Assessments and Personal Charges in the manner set forth in this Agreement and in the Collection Instruments or as otherwise permitted by law. Purchaser may be prohibited from reserving, using, or occupying any Collection Accommodation or exercising any other rights, benefits, or privileges to which Purchaser would otherwise be entitled pursuant to the Collection Instruments, unless all Assessments and other amounts that Purchaser owes the Association or Seller have first been paid in full. Purchaser's failure for any reason to pay on a timely basis any and all Assessments could result in the enforcement of the Association Security Interest (defined below) by the Association and the loss of Purchaser's Membership. Purchaser's failure for any reason to use and occupy a Collection Accommodation shall not exempt Purchaser from his or her obligation to pay in full all Assessments levied against his or her Membership.

8. EXCHANGE PROGRAMS:

The Association has entered into an Affiliation Agreement (the "Affiliation Agreement") with Diamond Resorts International Club, Inc. ("DRIC"). Under the Affiliation Agreement, the Association and the Collection are affiliated with THE Club. Purchaser's membership in THE Club is automatic and is subject to the annual payment of fees that are imposed by DRIC, and are subject to change in DRIC's sole discretion. The Affiliation Agreement permits the annual membership fee for THE Club to be collected by the Association along with the Assessments. Purchaser should refer to the Association budget for more details. Under the Affiliation Agreement, membership in THE Club may not be transferred without the consent of DRIC and transfer by Purchaser of the Membership in the Collection does not, without the consent of DRIC, have the effect of transferring membership in THE Club. THE Club may, but is not obligated to, have a relationship with an external exchange program. At the current time, THE Club is affiliated with Interval International, Inc. ("Interval International") under which Interval International has agreed to offer its reciprocal exchange services to members of THE Club. Exchanges through external exchange programs may be subject to certain terms, conditions and the payment of fees that are imposed by the external exchange program. Seller makes no representations concerning THE Club, Interval International, or any other exchange programs that may become affiliated with the Collection, including but not limited to current or future services to be provided, the cost, continued availability, or success of exchange programs. Any representations made regarding THE Club or Interval International by DRIC or its agents or employees or within the literature, brochures, or videos prepared or provided by DRIC or Interval International are solely the representations of DRIC or Interval International, respectively, and should not be relied upon as being the representations of Seller.

9. CLOSING:

Except as otherwise provided by applicable law, for purposes of this Agreement, the term "Closing" shall mean that date when all of the following have occurred: (i) the cancellation period set forth in Section 21 has expired without Purchaser having exercised his or her rescission right; (ii) Purchaser and Seller have executed, as applicable, all documents necessary to effect transfer of the Membership to Purchaser including, but not limited to, this Agreement, and if applicable, the Note; (iii) Seller has received from Purchaser either (a) an executed Note for the Unpaid Balance, or (b) the Unpaid Balance in immediately available funds; and (iv) the Purchaser has been entered into the Register of Members. Except as otherwise expressly provided in any of the Collection Instruments to the contrary, Purchaser may not reserve, use, or occupy any Collection Accommodation or exercise any other rights, benefits, or privileges appurtenant to his or her Membership until Closing occurs. If Closing has not occurred within one year following the date of this Agreement because Purchaser has elected to rescind this Agreement pursuant to Section 21 below, then Seller will within 20 days thereof, order any funds held on Purchaser's behalf, without interest, to be refunded by Escrow Agent to Purchaser, in which event this Agreement shall be deemed terminated and of no further force or legal effect. Escrow Agent shall act as the closing agent for the purposes of collecting and disbursing all applicable funds and distributing and filing all applicable documents and instruments. Upon Closing, Seller shall deliver to Purchaser a Points Certificate evidencing the Purchaser's Membership and a fully executed copy of this Agreement.

10. TITLE AND TITLE INSURANCE:

All Collection Accommodations have been constructed and are available for use by Members pursuant to the Collection Instruments. Purchaser understands and acknowledges that the basis for the Membership is certain real property interests (called "Resort Interests") in various resorts, hotels and other vacation properties and that title to those interests is held in a trust (the "Trust") for the benefit of the Association and Members pursuant to a recorded Trust Agreement with First American Trust, FSB, a federal savings bank or another independent trustee ("Trustee"). Resort Interests are conveyed to the Trust subject to the Trust Agreement and Declaration and are otherwise not encumbered with blanket liens of any lender or lienholder or have a nondisturbance agreement in place which fully protects the use and enjoyment rights of each Member in the event of foreclosure. Further, in connection with each conveyance of Resort Interests to the Trust, Seller has caused First American Title Insurance Company to issue in favor of the Association, where available, an ALTA Owners Title Insurance Policy insuring the Trustee's ownership of the Resort Interests. Copies of such Owners Title Insurance Policies are available for inspection by Members at the offices of the Association.

11. SECURITY INTERESTS:

(a) Seller's Security Interest. If Seller is providing Financing to Purchaser in connection with the purchase of the Membership, then Purchaser, as debtor, hereby grants to Seller, as secured party, effective as of Closing, a purchase money security interest (the "Seller Security Interest") in the Membership and in all rights, benefits and privileges appurtenant thereto as established in the Collection Instruments and all rights, benefits and privileges accruing thereto in the future, all replacements and additions to the foregoing, and all proceeds thereof (collectively, the "Collateral") to secure Purchaser's performance under the Note, this Agreement, and the Collection Instruments. No waiver by Seller or any holder of this Agreement of any default or breach by Purchaser shall operate as a waiver of any other default or breach, whether of the same type or not, by Purchaser.

(b) Association's Security Interest. Purchaser, as debtor, hereby grants to Association, as secured party, effective as of Closing, a security interest (the "Association Security Interest") in the Collateral to secure Purchaser's timely payment of Assessments and Personal Charges and Purchaser's performance under the Collection Instruments. The Association Security Interest shall, at all times, be junior and subordinate to the Seller Security Interest.

(c) Financing Statements. Purchaser irrevocably authorizes Seller and the Association, at any time and from time to time, to file in any Uniform Commercial Code ("UCC") jurisdiction initial financing statements and any amendments thereto that provide any other information required by Part 5 of Article 9 of the UCC of the applicable jurisdiction for the sufficiency, or filing office acceptance of, any financing statement or amendment, including (i) Purchaser's name and address, and (ii) if Purchaser is not an individual, Purchaser's type of organization and any organizational identification number issued to Purchaser. Purchaser shall furnish any such information in writing to Seller or the Association, as the case may be, within five (5) days after Seller's or Association's request. Each person identified as Purchaser in this Agreement represents and warrants to Seller and the Association that on the date of this Agreement he or she is domiciled in the state identified below his or her signature on this Agreement. Each person identified as a Purchaser in this Agreement shall notify Seller and the Association in writing if he or she changes his or her state of domicile within 30 days after such change. Such notice shall identify the state of such person's new domicile and his or her residential address therein.

(d) Association as Third-Party Beneficiary. Solely for purposes of this Section 11, the Association is an intended third-party beneficiary of this Agreement and is entitled to enforce the Association Security Interest granted by Purchaser hereunder.

12. PURCHASER'S REPRESENTATIONS, WARRANTIES, AND ACKNOWLEDGMENTS:

(a) Purchaser represents and warrants that the persons signing this Agreement have the legal capacity and are duly authorized to do so. Purchaser represents and warrants that Purchaser is not, and shall not become, a person with whom Seller is restricted from doing business with under the regulations of the Department of Treasury Office of Foreign Asset Control ("OFAC"). Such representation shall include, but not be limited to, a representation that Purchaser is not a person or entity and is not acting on behalf of a person or entity named on OFAC's Specifically Designated Nationals and Blocked Persons list and Purchaser is not a resident or national of any Embargoed Country, as defined by OFAC. Purchaser acknowledges that prior to signing this Agreement, Purchaser received the state timeshare disclosure documents, together with the attached exhibits, all of which are hereby incorporated by this reference, and Purchaser agrees to be strictly bound by, and to comply fully with, the terms, provisions, and conditions of such documents, as each may properly be amended or supplemented from time to time. In the event of any conflict between this Agreement and the state timeshare disclosures, the state timeshare disclosures shall control. Purchaser further acknowledges and represents that the Membership is being purchased for Purchaser's personal use and not for its investment potential or any possible rent returns, tax advantages, depreciation, or other financial advantages and that no representations of any nature whatsoever have been made by Seller or any of its salespersons or other agents to Purchaser concerning investment potential, rent returns, tax advantages, depreciation, or other financial advantages. Purchaser, including any person or entity related to Purchaser, does not own an interest in more than 10 Memberships in the Collection. Purchaser understands that Seller has no resale or rental program for non-Seller owned Memberships and acknowledges that neither Seller nor any of its sales agents, employees, or other representatives has indicated that Purchaser will be assisted in the resale or rental of his or her Membership in the future. Purchaser represents that Purchaser does not intend to use any Collection Accommodation as his or her principal residence. If Purchaser has received Financing, then Purchaser acknowledges receipt of a completed Truth-in-Lending Disclosure Statement prior to executing this Agreement. Purchaser hereby agrees to indemnify and hold Seller harmless from and against any and all loss, threat of loss, suits, claims, actions, liabilities, damages, obligations, demands, costs and expenses (including attorney's fees) arising out of or in connection with any breach by Purchaser's representations and warranties. All of Purchaser's acknowledgments, representations and warranties set forth herein shall survive Closing.

(b) Purchaser acknowledges and agrees that immediately following Closing, Seller shall have no further obligations or liabilities of any kind under this Agreement, or under any other document or instrument referred to in this Agreement, and Purchaser shall look solely to the Association and the Manager, together with any other entities that from time to time become obligated to Purchaser as provided in the Collection Instruments, for the fulfillment and satisfaction of any of Purchaser's rights, benefits, and privileges as a Member of the Collection, and not to Seller.

13. NO WARRANTIES:

EXCEPT AS OTHERWISE EXPRESSLY PROVIDED HEREIN, OR BY APPLICABLE LAW, SELLER MAKES NO WARRANTIES, EXPRESS OR IMPLIED, OF ANY TYPE WHATSOEVER REGARDING THE COLLECTION OR THE COLLECTION ACCOMMODATIONS, INCLUDING BUT NOT LIMITED TO WARRANTIES OF HABITABILITY, MERCHANTABILITY, OR FITNESS FOR A PARTICULAR PURPOSE. SELLER EXPRESSLY DISCLAIMS, AND PURCHASER IRREVOCABLY WAIVES, EACH OF THE FOREGOING WARRANTIES.

14. DEFAULT:

(a) Subject to any notice and right to cure provided below, Purchaser shall be in default under this Agreement if Purchaser fails to pay on time, keep any promise, or fulfill any agreement or obligation contained in the Note, this Agreement or any of the Collection Instruments. In the event of a default by Purchaser, Purchaser shall not be entitled to reserve, use, or occupy any Collection Accommodation, or to exercise any other rights, benefits, or privileges appurtenant to his or her Membership.

(b) Subject to any notice and right to cure provided below, Purchaser and Seller agree that: Purchaser's default on or before Closing shall entitle Seller to immediately terminate this Agreement and all of Purchaser's rights, benefits, and privileges hereunder. Upon such termination, Seller shall retain or cause Escrow Agent to deliver to Seller all sums of money previously paid by Purchaser hereunder as liquidated damages and not as a penalty.

(c) Upon Purchaser's failure to timely perform any of Purchaser's obligations under the Note, this Agreement or any of the Collection Instruments after Closing, Purchaser shall be in default hereunder, whereupon Seller (or its successor or assign) may enforce the Seller Security Interest against the Collateral in accordance with this Subparagraph. Upon the occurrence of any such failure, including the non-payment of any amounts due and owing by Purchaser under the Collection Instruments, Seller shall give Purchaser written notice and if Purchaser has not cured the applicable failure within 10 days after Seller gives such notice if Purchaser has failed to pay money, or within 30 days after Seller gives such notice if Purchaser has failed to perform or observe any other term of the Note, this Agreement or any of the Collection Instruments, Purchaser shall be in default under this Agreement and Seller (or its successor or assign) may (a) enforce the Seller Security Interest in accordance with Article 9 of the UCC; (b) provide written notice of termination of the Membership and terminate the Membership within 60 days of the date of the notice of termination and retain all amounts previously paid by Purchaser as liquidated damages and not as a penalty; or (c) pursue any other remedy available to Seller, at law or in equity, however, Seller hereby confirms that it will not seek any deficiency judgment against defaulting Purchaser beyond the forfeiture of the Membership.

(d) Notwithstanding the foregoing provisions of this Section 10 to the contrary, if, for any reason, Seller is unable or fails to comply with the material provisions of this Agreement, then the sole obligation of Seller shall be to refund or cause Escrow Agent to refund (whichever is applicable) to Purchaser all payments previously made by Purchaser hereunder, without interest. Upon such refunds being made, this Agreement shall be deemed canceled, and all rights and obligations hereunder shall immediately terminate. TO THE EXTENT PERMITTED BY APPLICABLE LAW, PURCHASER HEREBY WAIVES ANY AND ALL RIGHTS AND REMEDIES THAT MIGHT OTHERWISE BE AVAILABLE TO PURCHASER, AT LAW OR IN EQUITY.

15. NO OTHER AGREEMENTS OR REPRESENTATIONS:

Seller and Purchaser agree that this Agreement (including the documents and instruments incorporated by reference) embodies the entire agreement between them related to Purchaser's purchase and financing (if applicable) of the Membership and supersedes and replaces any and all prior negotiations, representations, agreements, and understandings, both oral and written, in connection therewith. No amendment to or modification of the terms of this Agreement shall be valid without the written approval of the legal counsel of Seller. Oral representations of Seller or Seller's agents should not be relied upon by Purchaser as correctly stating the representations of Seller. For correct representations, Purchaser should rely entirely on this Agreement and the documents and instruments contained by reference.

16. ASSIGNMENT AND SEVERABILITY:

This Agreement shall be binding upon and inure to the benefit of the Parties, their respective heirs, successors, assigns, and personal representatives. Purchaser's Membership cannot be sold, assigned, transferred, conveyed, or encumbered except in accordance with the terms, provisions, and conditions hereof and the Collection Instruments. Purchaser acknowledges that Seller has the right, in its sole discretion, to assign some or all of its rights and interests hereunder and, if applicable, under the Note. Purchaser may not assign any of his or her rights or interests hereunder, without the written consent of Seller, which consent may be withheld in Seller's sole and absolute discretion. The terms and provisions hereof shall be deemed independent and severable, and the invalidity of any one provision or portion thereof shall not affect the validity or enforceability of any other provision hereof.

17. CHOICE OF STATE LAW AND FORUM; WAIVER OF JURY TRIAL:

Except to the extent preempted by federal law, this Agreement shall be exclusively governed by and construed in accordance with the laws of Nevada without regard to its choice of law rules. Subject to Section 14 hereof, any legal action or proceeding arising out of or in any way relating to this Agreement which is not subject to the Arbitration provisions outlined below, shall only be brought in an appropriate court of competent jurisdiction on behalf of the Parties and their respective successors and assigns, hereby irrevocably submit to the jurisdiction of any such court and agree that venue properly lies solely in such courts to the exclusion of all other judicial and non-judicial forums. EXCEPT AS OTHERWISE PROVIDED BY APPLICABLE LAW, THE PARTIES, AND ANY OTHER PERSON CLAIMING RIGHTS OR OBLIGATIONS BY, THROUGH, OR UNDER THIS AGREEMENT SHALL BE DEEMED TO HAVE WAIVED ANY RIGHT THEY MAY HAVE UNDER ANY APPLICABLE LAW TO A TRIAL BY JURY IN CONNECTION WITH ANY SUIT OR LEGAL PROCEEDING THAT MAY BE COMMENCED BY OR AGAINST ANY OF THE FOREGOING PERSONS CONCERNING THE INTERPRETATION, CONSTRUCTION, VALIDITY, ENFORCEMENT, OR PERFORMANCE OF THIS AGREEMENT OR ANY OF THE COLLECTION INSTRUMENTS.

18. ARBITRATION PROVISION

(a) Opt-Out Right. IF PURCHASER DOES NOT WANT THIS ARBITRATION PROVISION TO APPLY, WITHIN 30 DAYS PURCHASER MUST SEND A SIGNED LETTER TO SELLER STATING THAT THE ARBITRATION PROVISION DOES NOT APPLY. OPTING OUT OF ARBITRATION WILL NOT AFFECT ANY OTHER PROVISION OF THIS AGREEMENT.

(b) Arbitration Terms Defined. In this Arbitration Provision, the term "Company Party" means Seller and/or the Association, their affiliates and the agents, representatives, members, employees, officers and/or directors of such entities, if and to the extent that any Claim is asserted by or against such entity or person. "Bound Parties" means each Company Party and Purchaser. "Claim" means any legal claim, dispute or controversy between any Company Party and Purchaser, including statutory, contract and tort disputes of all kinds and disputes involving requests for declaratory relief, injunctions or other equitable relief. However, "Claim" does not include any individual action brought by a Purchaser in small claims court or an equivalent court, unless such action is transferred, removed, or appealed to a different court, and does not include any dispute concerning the validity and effect of Section 18(h) below, the ban on class actions and certain other proceedings (the "Class Action Ban"). "Administrator" means the American Arbitration Association ("AAA"), 1633 Broadway, 10th Floor, New York, NY 10019, <http://www.adr.org>, or if Purchaser so elects in a notice given to Seller (which will serve as notice to each Company Party) within 20 days after a demand for arbitration, the National Arbitration Forum ("NAF"), P.O. Box 50191, Minneapolis, MN 55405, <http://www.arb-forum.com>.

(c) Arbitration of Claims. Unless Purchaser has exercised his or her opt-out right pursuant to Section 18(a), upon the election of Purchaser or any Company Party, any Claim between Purchaser and such Company Party shall be resolved by binding individual (and not class) arbitration. Any arbitration will be conducted in accordance with this Arbitration Provision and, to the extent consistent with this Arbitration Provision, the rules of the Administrator in effect at the time the Claim is filed. The neutral arbitrator shall be appointed within a specified period of time, which in no event shall be more than 60 days from the administrator's receipt of a written request from a Bound Party to arbitrate the Claim. To the extent this Arbitration Provision conflicts with any other agreement binding the Bound Parties, this Arbitration Provision shall govern.

(d) Fees; Location. Any Company Party to a Claim asserted by Purchaser in good faith or to any Claim asserted by such Company Party will bear all fees of the Administrator or arbitrator in connection with such Claim. The Company Party will also bear the reasonable fees and expenses of Purchaser's attorneys if any Claim initiated by Purchaser is resolved in Purchaser's favor. If a participatory arbitration hearing is requested, it will take place in the county where this Agreement was signed or, if the Administrator determines that such location is unfair to Purchaser, at a location reasonably convenient to Purchaser.

(e) Governing Law. This Arbitration Provision shall be governed by the Federal Arbitration Act (the "FAA") and not state arbitration laws, provided that Nevada law shall govern to the extent that state law is relevant under the FAA in determining the enforceability of this Arbitration Provision. The arbitrator shall follow applicable substantive laws, statutes of limitations and privilege rules related to any Claim. The arbitrator shall employ the remedies, if any, that would be available in an individual court proceeding if arbitration had not been elected. Upon the timely request of any Bound Party, the arbitrator shall write a brief explanation of the grounds for his or her decision.

(f) Appeal of Arbitrator's Decision. Any court with jurisdiction may enter judgment upon the arbitrator's award. The arbitrator's decision will be final and binding, except for any appeal right under the FAA.

(g) Jury Trial Waiver. IF A BOUND PARTY ELECTS TO ARBITRATE A CLAIM, NO BOUND PARTY WILL HAVE THE RIGHT TO PURSUE THAT CLAIM IN COURT OR HAVE A JURY DECIDE THE CLAIM.

(h) Class Action Ban. NO BOUND PARTY MAY PARTICIPATE IN A CLASS ACTION IN COURT OR IN CLASS-WIDE ARBITRATION, EITHER AS A REPRESENTATIVE, CLASS MEMBER OR OTHERWISE, WITH RESPECT TO ANY CLAIM. NO BOUND PARTY MAY PARTICIPATE IN A PRIVATE ATTORNEY GENERAL PROCEEDING IN COURT OR IN ARBITRATION, WITH RESPECT TO ANY CLAIM. NO CLAIMS INVOLVING THE BOUND PARTIES MAY BE JOINED OR CONSOLIDATED WITH CLAIMS BY OR AGAINST ANY OTHER PERSON. 17620707-Promissory Note Multisite Collection

September 15th, 2016

PROMISSORY NOTE

This Promissory Note ("Note") is given in connection with that certain Purchase and Security Agreement of even date herewith between the undersigned, JOYCE SHIELDS NICOLE and JAMES WALLACE REIL (hereinafter, whether one or more, referred to as "Maker"), whose address is 7541 Northwest 21st Street Margate, Florida 33063, and Diamond Resorts U.S. Collection Development, LLC, a Delaware limited liability company ("Diamond Resorts"), whose address and principal place of business is c/o Customer Service, Diamond Resorts Financial Services, Inc., 10600 West Charleston Boulevard, Las Vegas, Nevada 89135 (the "Agreement"). This Note will become effective upon the lapse of the cancellation period provided in the Agreement (provided that Maker does not exercise Maker's cancellation right) or, if later, the Closing described in the Agreement (the "Effective Date").

FOR VALUE RECEIVED, Maker promises to pay to the order of Diamond Resorts and any successor or assign thereof, including, without limitation, any subsequent holder hereof ("Holder"), at the address for Diamond Resorts set forth above or at such other place as Holder may from time to time designate in writing, in lawful money of the United States, the principal amount of Thirty-Nine Thousand One Hundred Fifty and 00/100 ($39,150.00), together with a monthly collection fee of Six ($6.00) and a monthly finance charge computed in the manner set forth below at a fixed annual rate of Eleven and 99/100 (11.99%) (the "Annual Rate"). As set forth in the Truth in Lending Disclosure Statement provided to you, both the collection fee and the monthly finance charge are treated as finance charges, included in the computation of the Annual Percentage Rate, under the federal Truth in Lending Act. Maker shall pay Holder in 120 equal monthly installments of Five Hundred Sixty-One and 46/100 Dollars ($561.46) each, with the first such installment being due and payable on _____ (the "First Payment Date"), and a like installment to be due and payable on or before the same day of each calendar month thereafter (the "Payment Date"). (Notwithstanding the foregoing: (1) if the First Payment Date is in the last three days of a calendar month and there is no day in a particular calendar month that corresponds to the First Payment Date, the Payment Date for such calendar month will be the first day of the subsequent month; and (2) if any Payment Date falls on a day that is not a business day, the Payment Date will be the next business day thereafter.) On the final Payment Date

_____ (the "Maturity Date"), the entire principal balance due hereunder, together with any finance charges and other fees and charges, shall be immediately due and payable. Time is of the essence with respect to all of Maker's obligations hereunder.

If Maker has separately agreed to the terms of Holder's "SurePay Plan," an automatic payment plan whereby scheduled monthly payments of principal and interest payments on this Promissory Note and the collection fee are automatically deducted from Maker's bank account on each Payment Date, then immediately upon the occurrence of any of the following described events, Maker's participation in the SurePay Plan will terminate: (i) at any time prior to the Maturity Date, Maker elects to terminate his or her participation in the SurePay Plan; (ii) Maker closes the designated bank account; or (iii) on more than one occasion, a SurePay payment is not made when due for any reason (including Maker's failure to maintain a sufficient balance in the designated bank account to cover any required payment). In such event, the Interest Rate shall increase by Zero percent (0.00%) per annum and the monthly payment will increase to the level sufficient to repay all principal, interest and collection fees by the Maturity Date through equal monthly payments on each Payment Date. The increase in the Interest Rate shall be effective retroactively to the date of the last payment made under the SurePay Plan, and the increase in payment amount shall apply to the next payment due after the last such SurePay payment.

Each monthly installment shall be applied first to late charges, then to the collection fee, then to monthly finance charges and finally to unpaid principal. Each month, the monthly finance charge will be based on the scheduled principal balance (regardless of exactly when payments are actually received) and a monthly rate of finance charge equal to the Annual Rate divided by twelve (12). Maker may prepay the outstanding principal balance hereof, in whole or in part, at any time without premium or penalty. However, partial prepayments will not reduce finance charges and will not postpone the due date of any subsequent monthly installments or change the amount of such installments unless Holder otherwise agrees in writing. In the event this Note is prepaid in full, Holder will charge a monthly finance charge for that month equal to the scheduled principal balance at the beginning of the month, times the Annual Rate, times a fraction equal to the number of days from the immediately preceding Payment Date through the date of prepayment divided by the number of days in the year. Holder will not charge any collection fee for the month of prepayment and Holder will not charge any collection fees and monthly finance charges attributable to months following any prepayment in full.

This Promissory Note is given in partial payment for a membership in the Diamond Resorts U.S. Collection (the "Membership"). Payment of principal, finance charges and other charges hereunder is secured by a security interest established under the Purchase and Security Agreement (the "Agreement") of even date herewith by and between Diamond Resorts, as seller, and Maker, as purchaser. The terms and provisions of the Agreement are hereby fully incorporated herein by this reference.

If all or any part of the Membership or an interest therein is sold or otherwise transferred by Maker (whether such interest is legal or equitable, present or future, vested or contingent) without Holder's prior written consent (which consent may be withheld for any reason whatsoever), excluding (i) the creation of a lien or encumbrance subordinate to the Agreement; (ii) a transfer by devise, descent, or operation of law upon the death of a joint tenant; or (iii) the grant of any leasehold interest of one (1) week or less not containing an option to purchase the Membership, then Holder may, at Holder's option, except to the extent prohibited by law, declare all of the amounts secured by the Agreement to be immediately due and payable.

Upon the failure of Maker to make any payment required under this Promissory Note in accordance with the terms hereof or Maker's breach of any of the other covenants or agreements contained herein or in the Agreement, then and in such event, Holder, at Holder's option, subject to any right of reinstatement to which Maker is entitled under applicable law, may (i) declare, without further demand, all of the amounts owed hereunder to be immediately due and payable; and (ii) pursue all rights and remedies available to Holder under this Promissory Note and the Agreement by appropriate proceedings. To the extent permitted by law, Holder shall be entitled to collect in such proceedings all expenses of enforcement, including but not limited to reasonable attorneys' fees, publication costs, costs of judgment and other searches, and court costs. Failure of Holder to exercise its available rights and remedies hereunder or as provided by law with respect to any default by Maker shall not be deemed to constitute a waiver of such rights or remedies with respect to any subsequent default, whether the same or different in nature.

In the event that any amount due under this Promissory Note is paid more than ten (10) days after the date upon which such amount is due, then Holder shall be entitled to collect a late charge from Maker in an amount equal to the lesser of (i) Twenty-Five Dollars ($25.00) or (ii) ten percent (10%) of the overdue installment, provided that such amount does not exceed the maximum late charge permitted to be charged under the laws of the State of Nevada. To the extent permitted by law, Maker shall further be liable to Holder for any out-of-pocket costs incurred by Holder in the event that a check issued by Maker is dishonored for any reason.

During any time in which Maker is in default under this Promissory Note, finance charges may, at Holder's option, accrue on the actual outstanding balance on a simple interest basis at a default rate equal to the maximum lawful rate permitted to be charged by Holder under the laws of the State of Nevada. In the event that there is no such maximum lawful rate, then finance charges shall accrue on the actual outstanding balance on a simple interest basis during such period at a default rate of twenty-five percent (25%) per annum.

In the event that counsel is employed to collect all or any part of the indebtedness evidenced hereby, whether at maturity or following acceleration, to the extent permitted by law Maker agrees to pay Holder's reasonable attorneys' fees, whether suit be brought or not (including any fees associated with appeals or bankruptcy proceedings), and all other costs and expenses reasonably incurred in connection with Holder's collection efforts.

Maker and any endorser, guarantor, or surety, jointly and severally, hereby waive presentment, protest, demand, notice of protest, and dishonor of this Promissory Note, and expressly agree that this Promissory Note, or any payment hereunder, may be extended from time to time without in any way affecting the liability of Maker or any endorser, guarantor, or surety hereof. To the extent not prohibited by applicable law, Maker also waives any rights to any stay of execution and the benefit of all homestead and/or other exemption laws now or hereafter in effect.

This Promissory Note shall be the joint and several obligation of each person signing below and shall apply to and bind each of them and each of their respective heirs, successors, personal representatives, and assigns.

The validity, construction, and enforceability of, and the rights and obligations of Maker and Holder under, this Promissory Note shall be governed by, construed, and enforced in accordance with the laws of the State of Nevada.

In the event that any one or more of the provisions of this Promissory Note shall for any reason be held to be invalid or unenforceable, in whole or in part or in any respect, then such provision or provisions only shall be disregarded as though not contained herein and shall not affect any other provision of this Promissory Note, and the remaining provisions of this Promissory Note shall remain operative and in full force and effect and shall in no way be affected, prejudiced, or disturbed thereby.

It is the intent of Holder to comply fully with all interest and usury laws of the State of Nevada, as currently enacted or hereafter in effect. Notwithstanding any provision hereof to the contrary, in no event shall this Promissory Note require the payment or permit the collection of interest in excess of the maximum amount of interest permitted under the laws of the State of Nevada. In the event that the amount of interest contracted for, charged, or received under this Promissory Note exceeds the maximum amount of interest permitted under the laws of the State of Nevada, then the provisions of this paragraph shall govern and control, and neither

Maker nor any other person or entity now or hereafter liable for the payment hereof shall be obligated to pay the amount of such interest to the extent that it exceeds the maximum amount of interest permitted under the laws of the State of Nevada. Any such excess interest which may have been collected by Holder shall, at the option of Holder, either be applied as a credit against the unpaid principal balance hereof or be refunded to Maker, and the effective rate of interest shall be reduced to the maximum rate of interest permitted to be charged under the laws of the State of Nevada.

Except for any notice required under applicable law to be given in another manner, any notice that either party desires or is required to give the other party under this Promissory Note shall be in writing and shall be deemed to have been duly given upon the earlier to occur of (a) its actual receipt; (b) three (3) business days after being deposited in the United States mail as first class mail, postage prepaid; or (c) one (1) business day after being sent via overnight courier service such as Federal Express, addressed to the applicable party at the address therefor stated herein or at such other address as the receiving party has previously notified the giving party in the manner prescribed in this paragraph. If Maker consists of more than one (1) person, then notice to any of them shall be deemed to constitute notice to all of them.

ANY HOLDER OF THIS CONSUMER CREDIT CONTRACT IS SUBJECT TO ALL CLAIMS AND DEFENSES WHICH THE DEBTOR COULD ASSERT AGAINST THE SELLER OF GOODS OR SERVICES OBTAINED PURSUANT HERETO OR WITH THE PROCEEDS HEREOF. RECOVERY HEREUNDER BY THE DEBTOR SHALL NOT EXCEED AMOUNTS PAID BY THE DEBTOR HEREUNDER.

My first year's maintenance fees on these Points is estimated to be 3,636.00 and if my first use year is within the current calendar year, it is estimated that I will be billed within 45 days of this purchase. My first use year begins 2017, when I will receive my first allocation of timeshare points ("Points").

JAN JAR 3. I may use my Points to reserve, use and occupy any available Collection Accommodation, up to my available Points allocation, according to the then-current Regulations. I may make a reservation at any Collection resort, in different-sized units, for different lengths of stays, for any time during the year. Unless indicated otherwise in THE Club® Points Directory, the minimum stay is 2 nights within the Collection and all reservations are subject to availability.

JAN JAR 4. Points are valid only in the year they are allotted, and if not used (or saved), will expire on December 31st of that year. I understand that if I do not use my Points, I may save them for use in the upcoming year by calling the reservation office. The earlier in the current year that I call, the higher number of Points I may save for the next year. If I call prior to June 30th, I can save up to 100% of them. If I call by August 31st, I can save up to 50%. If I call by October 31st, I can save up to 25%. If I call after October 31st, I cannot save any Points.

JAN JAR 5. I understand that I may also borrow Points from the upcoming year to use in the current year by calling the reservation office at any time. When I call, I must be current in my annual assessments (described below in paragraph 14) and I must pay all or a portion of my annual assessments for the upcoming year.

JAN JAR 6. I understand that my Collection Membership entitles me to an allotment on January 1st each year of that number of Points that I have purchased today.

2411 JMR 7. Diamond Resorts International Club, Inc. ("DRIC") has agreed to include Members of the Diamond Resorts U.S. Collection Members Association ("Association") in THE Club exchange program ("THE Club"). If I enroll as a member of THE Club®, I can use part or all of my annual allotment of Collection Points to reserve accommodations in any THE Club exchange resort.

2411 JMR 8. I have received and reviewed copies of THE Club Points Directory and THE Club Benefits Directory (together referenced "THE Club® Directory"), which describe THE Club current exchange resort destinations and their Points values. It also includes instructions for making a reservation and calculating the number of Points that I will need for each of my vacations. I understand that THE Club® Directory will be updated periodically, and that the resorts included in THE Club exchange may change without notice.

2411 JMR 9. As described in THE Club Directory, I may make a reservation as early as 13 months in advance of my desired vacation check-in date at any of the Home Collection resorts. I may make a reservation at any other THE Club® exchange resort as early as 10 months in advance of my desired vacation check-in date.

2411 JMR 10. I have received THE Club Benefits Directory, which describes the various types of Club member benefits such as travel, home and lifestyle, money matters and, depending on the number of points purchased, Loyalty tier benefits. These benefits currently include, but are not limited to, airline flights, cruises, discount cards, legal protection plans, and for Gold and Platinum members, access to Diamond Luxury Selection. I understand that these are incidental benefits, and their terms, may be changed, substituted, or terminated at any time without notice. Some benefits may not be available to all membership types.

2411 JMR 11. When I occupy the accommodations at THE Club exchange resorts, I will abide by THE Club exchange resorts rules and regulations, including the occupancy limits and check-in and check-out times set for the unit.

2411 JMR 12. If I cancel a confirmed reservation less than 91 days before my scheduled arrival date, I will lose some or all of the Points used to make that reservation. If I fail to occupy a unit that I reserved, I will not be refunded my Points used to make that reservation, unless I have also purchased the optional Reservation Protection Plan (RPP) service.

2411 JMR 13. I understand that all Collection resorts and THE Club exchange resort reservations are confirmed pursuant to the Collection and/or exchange rules on a "first-come, first-served" space-available basis and are not guaranteed.

2411 JMR 14. I understand that if I become a member of THE Club, I will automatically become a member of the Interval International exchange program ("II") at no extra cost to me. This membership is exclusively for the purpose of requesting an II exchange using Points and if I request an exchange through II, I will pay an exchange fee to II. I understand that THE Club® may change or cancel its affiliation agreement with II at any time.

24N JWR 15. I acknowledge that I will be billed annually by the Association an assessment fee, which may be collected together with the membership fee and dues for THE Club. These fees are related to the operation of THE Club and the Collection and cover my share of the resort operation, maintenance and property taxes, which may be modified annually as determined DRIC or by the Association. I understand that I must be current on all fees in order to make reservations, to stay at either a Collection resort, THE Club exchange resort or Interval International resort, to save or borrow Points or to conduct any other transaction relating to my Points.

24N JWR 16. I have acquired a Collection Membership for my own personal use and enjoyment. No representations of any nature concerning investment potential, refinancing, rental returns, tax advantages, appreciation/depreciation, or other possible financial benefits have been made by Seller or any of its agents. I understand that I may periodically rent or allow others to use my use rights, but that I may not use the Collection Accommodations for any commercial purposes, including but not limited to commercial renting activities. I understand that public advertising in print or online to seek renters is deemed a prohibited commercial use.

24N JWR 17. I may sell my Membership rights, subject to a transfer fee. I acknowledge, however, that my membership in THE Club will terminate upon any transfer and the new owner will be obligated to purchase either a THE Club exchange membership from DRIC, or a Collection membership. No transfer fee or exchange purchase requirement will apply if my Membership passes to my heir upon my death.

24N JWR 18. I understand that currently, the Seller nor the Developer offer a resale, buyback or rental program.

24N JWR 19. I understand my Purchase and Security Agreement contains the entire agreement between Seller and me. I have not relied and may not rely upon any representations, whether oral or written, which are not set forth in the Purchase and Security Agreement. I further understand that if permitted by controlling state law, the Collection Instruments, THE Club Directory, THE Club Exchange Documents, the Interval International Document, the Regulations and the Privacy Policy may be delivered to me electronically in CD form. I understand that hard copies of such documents are available to me upon request.

24N JWR 20. I understand that, if I fail for any reason to satisfy all of my financial obligations to Seller and the Association on a timely basis, I will be in default under my Purchase and Security Agreement and the Collection Instruments. If such default is not promptly cured, my Membership (ownership) may be terminated, whereupon I will forfeit all amounts previously paid to Seller and to the Association.

24N JWR 21. By initialing here, I authorize Diamond Resorts International Marketing, Inc., and/or its affiliates and successors to text me or call my cell/telephone number listed below with a telephone dialing system regarding promotional offers, regardless of any prior election to the contrary. I understand that I am not required to give consent as a condition of purchasing any goods or services.

The Company shall be subrogated and entitled to all rights and remedies which an Insured Claimant would have had against any person or property in respect to the claim had this policy not been issued. If requested by the Company, an Insured Claimant shall transfer to the Company, in a form satisfactory to the Company, all rights and remedies against any person or property necessary in order to perfect this right of subrogation. An Insured Claimant shall permit the Company to sue, compromise or settle in the name of an Insured Claimant and to use the name of an Insured Claimant in any transaction, litigation or other proceeding involving these rights or remedies.
3. If a payment on account of a claim does not fully cover the loss of an Insured Claimant, the Company shall be subrogated to all rights and remedies of an Insured Claimant after such Insured Claimant shall have recovered the amount by which the Value of the Vacation Ownership Interests is reduced by an Adverse Interest.
4. The Insured will not take any action that unreasonably impairs the Company's rights of subrogation.

L. Liability Limited to This Policy; Policy Entire Contract.

1. This policy together with all endorsements, if any, attached to this policy by the Company is the entire policy and contract between the Insured and the Insured Lender and the Company. Without limiting the foregoing, all prior or contemporaneous oral agreements, understandings, representations and statements are merged into this policy and shall be of no further force or effect. In interpreting any provision of this policy, this policy shall be construed as a whole.
2. Any modification, amendment or alteration of the terms of this policy shall be effective only if made by a written endorsement attached to this policy and signed by any President, Vice President, Secretary, Assistant Secretary, validating officer or other authorized signatory of the Company.
3. Each endorsement attached to this policy at any time is made a part of this policy and is subject to all of the terms and provisions of this policy. Unless otherwise expressly set forth in the endorsement, it shall not (i) modify any of the terms and provisions of this policy or other endorsements, (ii) extend Date of Policy or the date of any endorsements, or (iii) increase the Maximum Amount of Insurance.

4. Any claim of loss or damage, whether or not based on negligence or any other theory in tort, and which arises out of an Adverse Interest or by any action or proceeding asserting any such claim, shall be restricted to the provisions of this policy.

YOUR PROMISES AND ACKNOWLEDGMENTS

You make the following promises and acknowledgments by signing this Agreement:

1. You received the Collection Instruments and state timeshare disclosure documents and attached exhibits, which are all considered part of this Agreement. You will be bound by, and comply with, the terms of these documents.
2. You received a completed Truth-in-Lending Disclosure Statement before signing this Agreement.
3. All information You submit to Diamond to receive Financing is accurate.
4. You are purchasing the Membership for your personal use and enjoyment. You are not purchasing the Membership as a financial investment or for financial returns of any kind, including through resale, refinancing, tax advantages, or appreciation or depreciation. Diamond has not made any promises about such benefits.
5. Neither You nor your relatives own more than 10 Memberships in the Collection.
6. You may not use the Collection Accommodations for any commercial purpose, including commercial rental activities. Commercial rental activities include using the Internet or other media to advertise rental opportunities.
7. The persons signing this Agreement are legally capable and authorized to do so.

TERMS AND CONDITIONS

1. Timeshare Program. Points are the currency of use in the Collection. Points are allotted annually and allow you to reserve Use Periods in available Collection Accommodations. Your Membership is a "right-to-use" timeshare interest and does not expire. You will not receive a deed to real property. To use your Points You must make reservations according to the Rules and Regulations, which along with the other Collection Instruments, Diamond has the right to modify. Reservations are granted on a "first-come, first-served," space-available basis. You will not have the guaranteed right to reserve or use any particular Use Period or Collection Accommodation.
2. Maintenance Fees. You must pay Assessments (also known as "Maintenance Fees") annually to the Association for as long as you own your Membership. The amount of the Maintenance Fees will increase annually to maintain the quality of the Collection's resorts. These annual increases are subject to the limits described in the Collection Instruments. If You do not timely pay all Maintenance Fees and any other amounts owed, You may be prohibited from making a reservation, using a Collection Accommodation, or exercising any other rights of Membership. Continued failure to pay Maintenance Fees will also result in the loss of your Membership. You must pay Maintenance Fees even if you do not use the Collection Accommodations.
3. Transfers and Resale of Membership. You must receive approval from the Association and pay a transfer fee before you sell or transfer your Membership. The Association may deny a transfer of Your Membership to another if the buyer is a known or suspected fraudulent Person or is delinquent in the payment of any fees to Diamond or the Association. A transfer fee will apply for approved transfers. Diamond does not currently offer a resale, buyback or rental program. No transfer fee will apply if your Membership passes to an heir or beneficiary upon your death.
4. Exchange Companies. You may voluntarily elect to enroll in THE Club exchange program, at which time You are required to pay THE Club fees. THE Club is operated by Diamond Resorts International Club, Inc. ("DRIC"). Dues for THE Club may be collected together with your Maintenance Fees. DRIC must consent to any transfer of membership in THE Club. Transfer of your Collection Membership does not transfer your membership in THE Club without the written consent of DRIC. THE Club is currently affiliated with Interval International, Inc. ("Interval") and as a member of THE Club You currently have access to Interval's exchange services. Exchanges through Interval are subject to Interval's conditions and fees. Diamond does not control or make any representations about Interval, or any other exchange programs, including current or future exchange services and the cost, or availability of any exchange program. If You elect not to join THE Club, You will not have access to the additional resorts that are or may become affiliated with THE Club and with Interval, and will be limited to use of only the component sites included in the Collection.

5. Financing of Purchase Price. Subject to Diamond's approval, You may pay for your Membership through credit from Diamond ("Financing"). You must sign and deliver an installment Promissory Note (the "Note") payable to Diamond for the Unpaid Balance. If requesting Financing, You authorize Diamond to check your credit, including through a consumer reporting agency. You may be prohibited from making a reservation or using a Collection Accommodation, or exercising any other rights you would otherwise have, unless You timely pay all amounts due under the Note.
6. Third-Party Timeshare. If You relinquish a timeshare interest in another timeshare resort ("Third-Party Timeshare") as partial payment for your Membership, You agree to sign and deliver a deed or other Instrument acceptable to Diamond, conveying all of your interest in the Third-Party Timeshare to Diamond or a party designated by Diamond, free and clear of any debt not expressly approved by Diamond ("Deed-transfer"). Diamond may record the Deed-transfer at Closing (described in Section 18 below). Until Closing occurs, You are responsible for all obligations related to the Third-Party Timeshare, including paying assessments and fees ("Third-Party Timeshare Obligations"). If the Closing doesn't happen, the Deed-transfer will be canceled and returned to You, and You will remain responsible for the Third-Party Timeshare Obligations.
7. Escrow. All payments made to Diamond before Closing will be held in escrow in a non-interest bearing account by First American Title Insurance Company ("Escrow Agent") according to a Master Escrow Agreement. You expressly waive any right to earn interest on the escrow account. Escrow Agent's address is 400 S. Rampart Boulevard, Suite 290, Las Vegas, Nevada 89145. Escrow Agent will hold all funds until Closing or this Agreement is canceled.
8. Closing. "Closing" is the date when all of the following have occurred: (i) any cancellation period has expired and You have not exercised your right to cancel in writing; (ii) You and Diamond have signed all documents needed to transfer the Membership to You; and (iii) Diamond has received from You either (a) a signed Note for the Unpaid Balance, or (b) the Unpaid Balance in immediately available funds. You agree to execute any further documents necessary and to otherwise cooperate to effectuate the Closing and fulfill the purposes of this Agreement, the Note, and the Deed-Transfer (as applicable). Upon Closing, the Association will place your name in the Register of Members and give You a Points Certificate. If Closing has not happened within one year after this Agreement is signed or You have exercised your right to cancel this Agreement, Diamond will order Escrow Agent to refund any funds held on Agreement your behalf, without interest, to You. Cancellation terminates this Agreement in its entirety.
9. Security Interests. You grant to Diamond a security interest and lien on all of your interest and rights in the Membership (the "Security Interest"). This Security Interest is granted to secure your performance under the Note, this Agreement, and the Collection Instruments. You irrevocably authorize Diamond, as a secured party, to file any financing statement, continuations, or amendments necessary or desirable to perfect, preserve, and protect the Security Interest.
10. Jointly and Severally Liable. If two or more individuals purchase a Membership together, then ownership is as joint tenants with rights of survivorship, and not as tenants-in-common. Everyone who purchases a Membership must keep all of the obligations made in this Agreement. Diamond can enforce its rights against each purchaser separately.
11. Diamond's Obligations. You agree that immediately after Closing, Diamond will have no obligations or liabilities under this Agreement. After Closing, you must look to the Association and the Manager to fulfill or maintain your rights as a Member of the Collection.
12. Indemnity. You agree to indemnify and hold Diamond harmless from and against all loss, threat of loss, suits, claims, actions, liabilities, damages, obligations, demands, costs and expenses (including attorney's fees) connected to You defaulting in any of the obligations of this Agreement, the Note, or the Collection Instruments.
13. NO WARRANTIES. DIAMOND MAKES NO WARRANTIES, EXPRESS OR IMPLIED, OF ANY TYPE WHATSOEVER REGARDING THE COLLECTION OR THE COLLECTION ACCOMMODATIONS, INCLUDING BUT NOT LIMITED TO WARRANTIES OF HABITABILITY, MERCHANTABILITY, OR FITNESS FOR A PARTICULAR PURPOSE. DIAMOND EXPRESSLY DISCLAIMS, AND YOU IRREVOCABLY WAIVE, EACH OF THE FOREGOING WARRANTIES.
14. Default by You.
 - 14.1 Event of Default. You are in default if any of these things happen:
 - (i) You do not pay Diamond any amounts due under this Agreement, the Note or the Collection Instruments and You do not cure this failure within 10 days after You receive written notice of nonpayment.
 - (ii) You do not fulfill any other obligation in the Note, this Agreement or any of the Collection Instruments and You do not cure this failure within 30 days after You receive written notice about your failure; or
 - (iii) any information You have provided in the Note, this Agreement or any written statement given to Diamond or the Association is false or misleading.

14.2 Your Default before Closing. If You default prior to Closing and do not cure such default on or before Closing, Diamond can immediately terminate this Agreement and all of your rights in this Agreement. After termination, Diamond will keep (or cause Escrow Agent to give to Diamond) all money You paid under this Agreement as liquidated damages and not as a penalty.

14.3 Your Default after Closing. If You default after Closing and do not cure the default within the applicable time period, Diamond (or its successor or assign) may

(i) give you written notice that your Membership will be terminated and then terminate your Membership; (including any existing reservations) within 60 days of the date of the notice and keep all amounts paid as liquidated damages and not as a penalty;

(ii) declare all amounts due under the Note and this Agreement immediately due and payable;

(iii) enforce the Security Interest against your Membership according to Article 9 of the UCC and applicable law; and

(iv) pursue any other remedy available. Diamond may pursue any or all of these remedies; the exercise of one right or remedy does not exclude any other rights or remedies available.

15. Default by Diamond. If Diamond does not comply with the material provisions of this Agreement, then Diamond's only obligation is to refund or cause Escrow Agent to refund to You all payments previously made under this Agreement, without interest. After such refund is made, this Agreement is automatically canceled, and all rights and obligations in this Agreement immediately terminate. TO THE EXTENT PERMITTED BY APPLICABLE LAW, YOU WAIVE ALL RIGHTS AND REMEDIES THAT MIGHT OTHERWISE BE AVAILABLE TO YOU, AT LAW OR IN EQUITY.

16. ARBITRATION PROVISION ("Provision").

16.1 Arbitration of Claims. Any Claim (defined in Section 26.2 below) between You and Diamond, whether preexisting, present or future, arising from or relating to this Agreement or the Collection shall, at the election of either party, be arbitrated on an individual basis before JAMS (www.jamsadr.org, 1-800-352-5267) pursuant to its Streamlined Rules. If JAMS cannot serve and the parties cannot agree on a substitute, the American Arbitration Association ("AAA," www.adr.org) shall serve as the arbitration body for the Claim. The Federal Arbitration Act ("FAA"), 9 U.S.C. § 1, et seq., shall govern the interpretation and enforcement of this Provision. A single neutral arbitrator shall be appointed. The arbitrator shall follow applicable substantive law consistent with the FAA, apply applicable statutes of limitations, honor valid claims of privilege, and issue a written reasoned decision which will be final and binding except for any review under the FAA. The arbitrator may award all remedies that would apply in an individual court action (subject to constitutional limits that would apply in court). Any in-person hearing will be held in Clark County, Nevada unless otherwise agreed. If you initiate an individual arbitration, Diamond will pay all administrative and arbitrator fees exceeding $250. Solely for purposes of this Provision, "Diamond" also means Diamond's parent companies, subsidiaries and affiliates; Diamond's and their employees, officers and directors; and any other person or entity named as a defendant or respondent in a Claim by You against Diamond. "You" also means your heirs, successors and assigns.

16.2 Claims. "Claim" shall be broadly construed and includes, without limitation, disputes concerning: purchase, financing, ownership or occupancy; breach, termination, cancellation or default; condition of any Collection Accommodation; THE Club or other exchange programs; reservations, points or rewards programs; applications and personal information; marketing or sales solicitations, representations, advertisements, promotions or disclosures; and collection of delinquent amounts and the manner of collection. "Claim" also includes disputes based upon contract, tort, consumer rights, fraud and other intentional torts, constitution, statute, Uniform Commercial Code, regulation, ordinance, common law and equity. "Claim" does not include: (i) disputes about the validity, enforceability, coverage or scope of this Provision or any part thereof, which are for a court to decide, provided that disputes about the validity or enforceability of this Agreement as a whole are for the arbitrator to decide; (ii) any individual action by You in small claims or an equivalent court, unless that action is transferred, removed or appealed to a different court; or (iii) Diamond's use of judicial or non-judicial relief to enforce a security agreement, relating to the Membership. The institution and maintenance of any such action shall not waive any party's right to compel arbitration of any other Claim subject to arbitration, including, without limitation, the filing of a counterclaim in a suit brought by Diamond. In any such action commenced by Diamond, you may assert any cognizable defense permitted by applicable law which does not seek any form of affirmative relief from Diamond, including, without limitation, damages.

16.3 Class Action Waiver. If a Claim is arbitrated or would be arbitrable under section 16.2, neither You nor Diamond will have the right to (i) participate in a class action in court or in arbitration, either as a class representative or class member, (ii) act as a private attorney general in court or in arbitration, or (iii) join or consolidate Claim(s) with claims of any other person or entity. The arbitrator shall have no authority to conduct any class, private attorney general or multiple-party proceeding or to issue any relief that applies to any person or entity except You and Diamond individually.

16.4 Application of the Provision. An arbitration award may be enforced in any court with jurisdiction. This Provision shall survive the breach, cancellation, termination or rescission of this Agreement, and any bankruptcy to the extent permitted by law. This Provision governs if it conflicts with the Agreement or the arbitration rules. If any part of this Provision other than the Class Action Waiver is declared unenforceable, the remainder shall be enforceable. If the Class Action Waiver is declared unenforceable in a proceeding between You and Diamond, without impairing the right to appeal such decision, this entire Provision (except for this sentence) shall be null and void in such proceeding.

16.5 Right to Reject Arbitration Provision. You may reject this Provision by sending Diamond a written notice which gives your name and Agreement number with a statement that you reject the Arbitration Provision. The rejection notice must be sent by certified mail, return receipt requested, to 10600 West Charleston Blvd., Las Vegas, Nevada 89135, Attn: Arbitration Rejection Notice. A rejection notice must be signed by you and received by Diamond within thirty (30) days after the date of this Agreement. Rejection of arbitration will not affect any other term of this Agreement.

16.6 Your Acknowledgment. You have read, understand and voluntarily agree to this Arbitration Provision and acknowledge that if a Claim is arbitrated or is arbitrable, You will have no right to have a court or jury trial or participate in a class action.

17. Additional Important Information.

No Other Agreements	This Agreement is the only agreement that governs the purchase of your Membership, and supersedes and replaces all prior negotiations, agreements, and understandings, both oral and written. No amendment to or modification of this Agreement is valid without the written approval of Diamond's legal counsel.
Notices	You must give all notices in writing. Notices to you may be made either in person, by telephone, electronic mail, or writing. Written notices may be delivered, emailed or mailed, to each party at its address shown in this Agreement, or other address provided. A written notice is considered given and received when delivered, or emailed, or 3 business days after it is deposited into the mail, properly addressed. If multiple individuals own this Membership, notice to one of you is considered notice to all of you. If you are a corporation or entity, notice to you may be made to any corporate officer or general partner.
Governing Law; Waiver of Jury Trial	This Agreement is governed by Nevada law without regard to Nevada's choice of law rules. You must bring any legal action in Clark County, Nevada. EXCEPT AS OTHERWISE PROVIDED BY APPLICABLE LAW, YOU WAIVE YOUR RIGHT TO A TRIAL BY JURY FOR A LEGAL ACTION ARISING UNDER THIS AGREEMENT.
Assignment	Your Membership cannot be sold, assigned, transferred, conveyed, or encumbered except as this Agreement allows. You cannot assign your rights under this Agreement and Note without Diamond's written consent, which Diamond may withhold. Diamond may assign its rights under this Agreement.
Severability	The terms of this Agreement are severable. The invalidity of any term of this Agreement does not affect any other term of this Agreement.
Credit Reporting	We may report information about your account to credit bureaus. Late payments, missed payments, or other defaults on your account may be reflected in your credit report.
Miscellaneous	This Agreement is effective as of the date You sign and any cancellation period begins on the date you sign. This Agreement may be signed in counterparts. No provision is waived by failure of a party to enforce it. You give Diamond the right to correct any clerical or other non-material errors in this Agreement or related documents. The captions in this Agreement are for informational purposes only.

18. Electronic Transactions.

18.1 Electronic Signatures and Copies. This Agreement, together with all related documents and instruments to be signed You and Diamond, may be executed electronically or manually. Execution may be completed in counterparts (including both counterparts that are executed on paper and counterparts that are electronic records and executed electronically), which together constitute a single agreement. As between You and Diamond, any copy of this Agreement (including a copy printed from an image of this Agreement that has been stored electronically) shall have the same legal effect as an original.

18.2 Transferable Record. If Diamond is providing Financing to You and You sign an electronically created Note (the "eNote") using an electronic signature, You agree that the eNote will be a "transferable record" under the Uniform Electronic Transactions Act and the Electronic Signatures in Global and National Commerce Act.

18.3 Provenance. Diamond shall upload all applicable electronically executed documents or instruments, including without limitation this Agreement and any eNote, to Diamond's electronic vault hosted by eOriginal, Inc. or a similar vendor (the "Original Vault"). If any document or instrument is manually executed, Diamond may, in its discretion, convert the tangible record of the document or instrument into electronic form and cause the electronic version to be uploaded to the Original Vault. Collectively, any document or instrument uploaded to the Original Vault shall be referred to as a "Vaulted Document." For purposes of establishing security interests or rights in, or title to, any Vaulted Document, You and Diamond agree as follows

- (a) no original, tangible, or manually executed Vaulted Document will be the authoritative copy, original, or transferable record of the Vaulted Document;
- (b) except as expressly provided in subsection (e) below, possession of a tangible, manually executed original, transferable record or copy of the Vaulted Document will not perfect or prove any security interest, or establish title to or any other right;
- (c) the sole authoritative copy and transferable record of any Vaulted Document will be the one uploaded into the Original Vault (the "Authoritative Copy");
- (d) at Diamond's or its successor's discretion, the Authoritative Copy of any Vaulted Document may be printed and marked or designated by Diamond or such successor as the tangible Authoritative Copy of the Vaulted Document; and
- (e) no person or entity (including, without limitation, any lender, subsequent assignee or purchaser, custodian or trustee of any Vaulted Document) will have rights in, title to or a security interest in such Vaulted Document, unless such person or entity can demonstrate that it has possession or control of the Authoritative Copy of the Vaulted Document (whether in tangible or electronic form) whose provenance can be established to the initial authoritative copy first uploaded to the Original Vault.

18.4 Rights to Vaulted Documents. Any person who asserts or attempts to gain title to or a security interest or rights in, any Vaulted Document by any procedure except as provided above, including by possession of a tangible, manually executed original or copy or an electronic, non-authoritative copy of such Vaulted Document, violates the rights of Diamond and any subsequent assignee.

Security: You are giving a security interest in the property being purchased in this transaction.

Late Charge: If a payment is more than ten (10) days late, you will be charged a late charge equal to the lesser of: (i) Twenty-Five Dollars ($25.00) or (ii) ten percent (10%) of the overdue installment. In addition, we may, at our option, increase the rate of finance charge to the maximum lawful rate under applicable law or, if there is no such rate, twenty-five percent (25%) per annum.

Default Rate: _____

Variable Rate: (This paragraph applies only if checked.) You have agreed to the terms of our "Pre-Authorized Draft Plan" (the "SurePay Plan"). Your participation in the SurePay Plan will terminate immediately upon the occurrence of any of the following events: (i) at any time prior to the Maturity Date, you elect to terminate your participation in the SurePay Plan; (ii) you close the designated bank account; or (iii) on more than one occasion, a SurePay payment is not made when due for any reason (including your failure to maintain a sufficient balance in the designated bank account to cover any required payment). Your participation in the SurePay plan will also terminate upon ten (10) days written notice from us. In such event, your interest rate will increase by Two percent (2%) per annum and your monthly payment will increase to the level sufficient to repay all principal, interest and collection fees by your final payment date through equal monthly payments on each payment date. The increase in the interest rate will be effective retroactively to the date of the last payment made under the SurePay Plan, and the increase in payment amount will apply to the next payment due after the last such SurePay payment. If you were to make a single payment under the SurePay Plan and one of the above events were then to occur, your total monthly payment of principal and interest would increase from $496.76 to $535.48.

Prepayment: If you pay off early, you will not have to pay a penalty.

Contract Reference: See your contract documents for any additional information about non-payment, default, any required repayment in full before the scheduled date, and prepayment rebates and penalties.

PROMISSORY NOTE

This Promissory Note ("Note") is given in connection with that certain Purchase and Security Agreement of even date herewith between the undersigned, JOYCE SHIELDS NICOLE and JAMES WALLACE REIL (hereinafter, whether one or more, referred to as "Maker"), whose address is 7541 North West 21st Street Margate, Florida 33063, and Diamond Resorts U.S. Collection Development, LLC, a Delaware limited liability company ("Diamond Resorts"), whose address and principal place of business is c/o Customer Service, Diamond Resorts Financial Services, Inc., 10600 West Charleston Boulevard, Las Vegas, Nevada 89135 (the "Agreement"). This Note will become effective upon the lapse of the cancellation period provided in the Agreement (provided that Maker does not exercise Maker's cancellation right) or, if later, the Closing described in the Agreement (the "Effective Date").

FOR VALUE RECEIVED, Maker promises to pay to the order of Diamond Resorts and any successor or assign thereof, including, without limitation, any subsequent holder hereof ("Holder"), at the address for Diamond Resorts set forth above or at such other place as Holder may from time to time designate in writing, in lawful money of the United States, the principal amount of Thirty-One Thousand Six Hundred Twenty and 00/100 ($31,620.00), together with a monthly collection fee of Six ($6.00) and a monthly finance charge computed in the manner set forth below at a fixed annual rate of Thirteen and 99/100 (13.99%) (the "Annual Rate"). As set forth in the Truth in Lending Disclosure Statement provided to you, both the collection fee and the monthly finance charge are treated as finance charges, included in the computation of the Annual Percentage Rate, under the federal Truth in Lending Act. Maker shall pay Holder in 120 equal monthly installments of Four Hundred Ninety and 76/100 Dollars ($490.76) each, with the first such installment being due and payable on _____ (the "First Payment Date"), and a like installment to be due and payable on or before the same day of each calendar month thereafter (the "Payment Date"). (Notwithstanding the foregoing: (1) if the First Payment Date is in the last three days of a calendar month and there is no day in a particular calendar month that corresponds to the First Payment Date, the Payment Date for such calendar month will be the first day of the subsequent month; and (2) if any Payment Date falls on a day that is not a business day, the Payment Date will be the next business day thereafter.) On the final Payment Date _____ (the "Maturity Date"), the entire principal balance due hereunder, together with any finance charges and other fees and charges, shall be immediately due and payable. Time is of the essence with respect to all of Maker's obligations hereunder.

If Maker has separately agreed to the terms of Holder's "SurePay Plan," an automatic payment plan whereby scheduled monthly payments of principal and interest payments on this Promissory Note and the collection fee are automatically deducted from Maker's bank account on each Payment Date, then immediately upon the occurrence of any of the following described events, Maker's participation in the SurePay Plan will terminate: (i) at any time prior to the Maturity Date, Maker elects to terminate his or her participation in the SurePay Plan; (ii) Maker closes the designated bank account; or (iii) on more than one occasion, a SurePay payment is not made when due for any reason (including Maker's failure to maintain a sufficient balance in the designated bank account to cover any required payment). In such event, the Interest Rate shall increase by Two percent (2%) per annum and the monthly payment will increase to the level sufficient to repay all principal, interest and collection fees by the Maturity Date through equal monthly payments on each Payment Date. The increase in the Interest Rate shall be effective retroactively to the date of the last payment made under the SurePay Plan, and the increase in payment amount shall apply to the next payment due after the last such SurePay payment.

Each monthly installment shall be applied first to late charges, then to the collection fee, then to monthly finance charges and finally to unpaid principal. Each month, the monthly finance charge will be based on the scheduled principal balance (regardless of exactly when payments are actually received) and a monthly rate of finance charge equal to the Annual Rate divided by twelve (12). Maker may prepay the outstanding principal balance hereof, in whole or in part, at any time without premium or penalty. However, partial prepayments will not reduce finance charges and will not postpone the due date of any subsequent monthly installments or change the amount of such installments unless Holder otherwise agrees in writing. In the event this Note is prepaid in full, Holder will charge a monthly finance charge for that month equal to the scheduled principal balance at the beginning of the month, times the Annual Rate, times a fraction equal to the number of days from the immediately preceding Payment Date through the date of prepayment divided by the number of days in the year. Holder will not charge any collection fee for the month of prepayment and Holder will not charge any collection fees and monthly finance charges attributable to months following any prepayment in full.

This Promissory Note is given in partial payment for a membership in the Diamond Resorts U.S. Collection (the "Membership"). Payment of principal, finance charges and other charges hereunder is secured by a security interest established under the Purchase and Security Agreement (the "Agreement") of even date herewith by and between Diamond Resorts, as seller, and Maker, as purchaser. The terms and provisions of the Agreement are hereby fully incorporated herein by this reference.

If all or any part of the Membership or an interest therein is sold or otherwise transferred by Maker (whether such interest is legal or equitable, present or future, vested or contingent) without Holder's prior written consent (which consent may be withheld for any reason whatsoever), excluding (i) the creation of a lien or encumbrance subordinate to the Agreement; (ii) a transfer by devise, descent, or operation of law upon the death of a joint tenant; or (iii) the grant of any leasehold interest of one (1) week or less not containing an option to purchase the Membership, then Holder may, at Holder's option, except to the extent prohibited by law, declare all of the amounts secured by the Agreement to be immediately due and payable.

Upon the failure of Maker to make any payment required under this Promissory Note in accordance with the terms hereof or Maker's breach of any of the other covenants or agreements contained herein or in the Agreement, then and in such event, Holder, at Holder's option, subject to any right of reinstatement to which Maker is entitled under applicable law, may (i) declare, without further demand, all of the amounts owed hereunder to be immediately due and payable; and (ii) pursue all rights and remedies available to Holder under this Promissory Note and the Agreement by appropriate proceedings. To the extent permitted by law, Holder shall be entitled to collect in such proceedings all expenses of enforcement, including but not limited to reasonable attorneys' fees, publication costs, costs of judgment and other searches, and court costs. Failure of Holder to exercise its available rights and remedies hereunder or as provided by law with respect to any default by Maker shall not be deemed to constitute a waiver of such rights or remedies with respect to any subsequent default, whether the same or different in nature.

In the event that any amount due under this Promissory Note is paid more than ten (10) days after the date upon which such amount is due, then Holder shall be entitled to collect a late charge from Maker in an amount equal to the lesser of (i) Twenty-Five Dollars ($25.00) or (ii) ten percent (10%) of the overdue installment, provided that such amount does not exceed the maximum late charge permitted to be charged under the laws of the State of Nevada. To the extent permitted by law, Maker shall further be liable to Holder for any out-of-pocket costs incurred by Holder in the event that a check issued by Maker is dishonored for any reason.

During any time in which Maker is in default under this Promissory Note, finance charges may, at Holder's option, accrue on the actual outstanding balance on a simple interest basis at a default rate equal to the maximum lawful rate permitted to be charged by Holder under the laws of the State of Nevada. In the event that there is no such maximum lawful rate, then finance charges shall accrue on the actual outstanding balance on a simple interest basis during such period at a default rate of twenty-five percent (25%) per annum.

In the event that counsel is employed to collect all or any part of the indebtedness evidenced hereby, whether at maturity or following acceleration, to the extent permitted by law Maker agrees to pay Holder's reasonable attorneys' fees, whether suit be brought or not (including any fees associated with appeals or bankruptcy proceedings), and all other costs and expenses reasonably incurred in connection with Holder's collection efforts.

Maker and any endorser, guarantor, or surety, jointly and severally, hereby waive presentment, protest, demand, notice of protest, and dishonor of this Promissory Note, and expressly agree that this Promissory Note, or any payment hereunder, may be extended from time to time without in any way affecting the liability of Maker or any endorser, guarantor, or surety hereof. To the extent not prohibited by applicable law, Maker also waives any rights to any stay of execution and the benefit of all homestead and/or other exemption laws now or hereafter in effect.

This Promissory Note shall be the joint and several obligation of each person signing below and shall apply to and bind each of them and each of their respective heirs, successors, personal representatives, and assigns.

The validity, construction, and enforceability of, and the rights and obligations of Maker and Holder under, this Promissory Note shall be governed by, construed, and enforced in accordance with the laws of the State of Nevada.

In the event that any one or more of the provisions of this Promissory Note shall for any reason be held to be invalid or unenforceable, in whole or in part or in any respect, then such provision or provisions only shall be disregarded as though not contained herein and shall not affect any other provision of this Promissory Note, and the remaining provisions of this Promissory Note shall remain operative and in full force and effect and shall in no way be affected, prejudiced, or disturbed thereby.

It is the intent of Holder to comply fully with all interest and usury laws of the State of Nevada, as currently enacted or hereafter in effect. Notwithstanding any provision hereof to the contrary, in no event shall this Promissory Note require the payment or permit the collection of interest in excess of the maximum amount of interest permitted under the laws of the State of Nevada. In the event that the amount of interest contracted for, charged, or received under this Promissory Note exceeds the maximum amount of interest permitted under the laws of the State of Nevada, then the provisions of this paragraph shall govern and control, and neither

Maker nor any other person or entity now or hereafter liable for the payment hereof shall be obligated to pay the amount of such interest to the extent that it exceeds the maximum amount of interest permitted under the laws of the State of Nevada. Any such excess interest which may have been collected by Holder shall, at the option of Holder, either be applied as a credit against the unpaid principal balance hereof or be refunded to Maker, and the effective rate of interest shall be reduced to the maximum rate of interest permitted to be charged under the laws of the State of Nevada.

Except for any notice required under applicable law to be given in another manner, any notice that either party desires or is required to give the other party under this Promissory Note shall be in writing and shall be deemed to have been duly given upon the earlier to occur of (a) its actual receipt; (b) three (3) business days after being deposited in the United States mail as first class mail, postage prepaid; or (c) one (1) business day after being sent via overnight courier service such as Federal Express, addressed to the applicable party at the address therefor stated herein or at such other address as the receiving party has previously notified the giving party in the manner prescribed in this paragraph. If Maker consists of more than one (1) person, then notice to any of them shall be deemed to constitute notice to all of them.

ANY HOLDER OF THIS CONSUMER CREDIT CONTRACT IS SUBJECT TO ALL CLAIMS AND DEFENSES WHICH THE DEBTOR COULD ASSERT AGAINST THE SELLER OF GOODS OR SERVICES OBTAINED PURSUANT HERETO OR WITH THE PROCEEDS HEREOF. RECOVERY HEREUNDER BY THE DEBTOR SHALL NOT EXCEED AMOUNTS PAID BY THE DEBTOR HEREUNDER.

Understanding your Credit Score

What you should know about credit scores

Your credit score is number that reflects the information in your credit report.

Your credit report is a record of your credit history.

It includes information about whether you pay your bills on time and how much you owe to creditors.

Your credit score can change, depending on how your credit history changes.

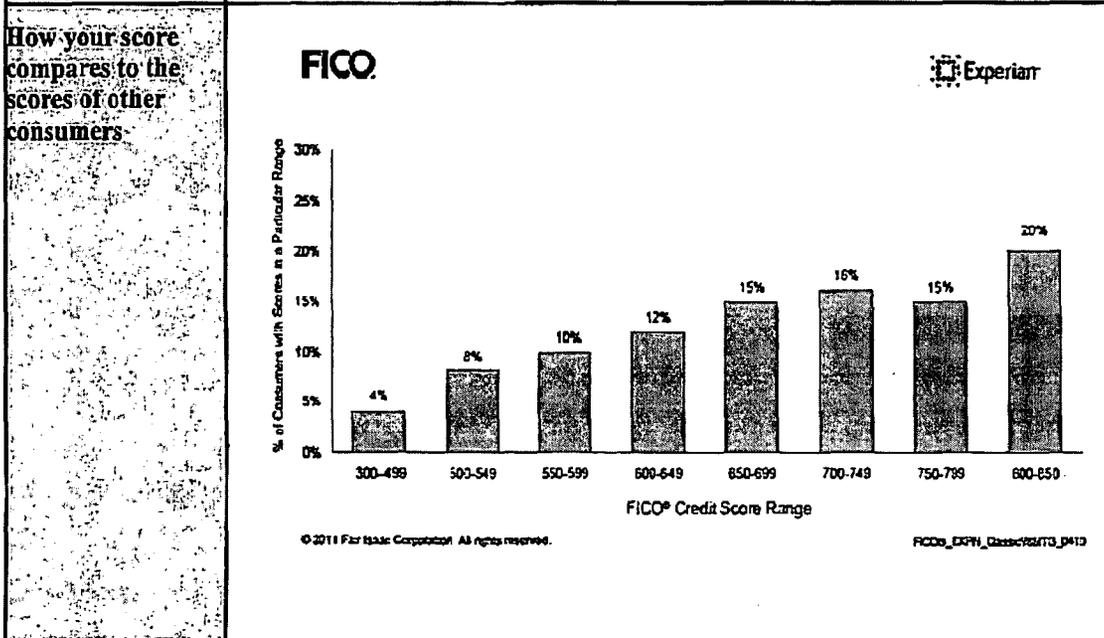

How we use your credit score

Your credit score can affect whether you can get a loan and how much you will have to pay for that loan.

The range of scores

Scores range from a low of 300 to a high of 850.

Generally, the higher your score, the more likely you are to be offered better credit terms.

CONTRACT NUMBER

JHN JWR

I understand The Club® Annual Global Reservations Directory is available online at DiamondResorts.com and it contains all of the points values for every resort within The Club. I also understand that the average points value for a one-week stay within my Collection is approximately: 4,000 for a studio; 5,500 for a one-bedroom; 7,500 for a two-bedroom; and 8,500 for a three-bedroom.

JHN JWR

I understand for some resorts, when there is availability 59 days or less prior to arrival, then the standard check-in day weekly points values are discounted by 50%. Discounted offers are subject to change as demand dictates and may not apply to the same resorts each month. For short stay points values, a 50% discount will apply to all reservations made within 30 days of arrival. These reservations offer exceptional value for those with flexible travel plans and are offered on a first-come, first-served basis and are subject to availability. Holiday, summer and other highly demanded weeks/resorts are not typically available.

JHN JWR

You will be billed annually for your Club dues and Association maintenance fees. You must be current on all of your Club dues and fees to use the system. The maintenance fee on this purchase of Collection Points is approximately $ 1698 this year and is subject to change each subsequent year. You will receive your new maintenance fee invoice in approximately 45 days. You will still be responsible for any maintenance fee(s) on any other property you may own outside of this purchase.

JHN JWR

I understand the minimum number of points required for each Loyalty level is:
Silver - 15,000 points; Gold - 30,000 points; Platinum - 50,000 points. There are no other Loyalty levels in The Club.

JHN JWR

ONLY Platinum members can redeem up to 50,000 points to pay part of their annual maintenance fees, but that does not represent the best use of points. There is a $100 transaction fee and the redemption value is currently $0.04 per point. Borrowed or saved points cannot be redeemed to offset the cost of maintenance fees, and points must be redeemed between November 1 and December 31 for the following year's payment.

JHN JWR

I understand that if I elect to use my points for reimbursement for Travel Services, the following rules apply:

1. Points redemption values are $0.07 per point for Standard members, $0.08 for Silver members for up to 20% of the cost of the service booked.
2. Points redemption values are $0.09 for Gold members and $0.10 for Platinum members for up to 100% of the cost of the service booked.
3. There is a $47 transaction fee, discounted for Loyalty members, which is subject to change.

JHN JWR

Diamond Dream Holiday Bonus Points cannot be redeemed for Member Benefits; only points that have been purchased may be used for Member Benefits. Bonus points are available 10 months before check-in and do not qualify for the 13-month Home Collection Advantage.

JHN JWR

I understand The Club offers a valuable cruise, hotel and shopping benefit that allows a member to cover 20 percent of the cost of cruise, hotel and shopping benefits that are part of the Diamond Luxury Program at 20 cents per point for Standard and Silver members. Gold and Platinum members can cover 30 percent of the cost for up to 30 cents per point. I also understand that when using these cruise, hotel, and shopping benefits, the points will automatically be redeemed against the purchase price and that no money will be sent to me.

JHN JWR

I understand that my membership is perpetual and can be passed on to my heirs, if my heirs elect to receive my membership, but there is no obligation for them to accept the membership.

JHN JWR

I am purchasing this for personal use and enjoyment and it does not create an undue financial burden for me. I am not purchasing a membership as a financial investment or for financial returns of any kind, including through resale, rental, or tax advantages. Diamond Resorts does not offer a resale or buyback program and makes no representation regarding tax deductions, refinancing opportunities, or that there will be a secondary market for the sale of points. Points do not typically appreciate in value. I may not engage in any commercial rental activities to rent out points for cash through online or print advertising to the general public and understand that my membership may be suspended or terminated if I do.

JHN JWR

I have been given as much time as I want and need to review all of the documents provided to me by my Vacation Counselor and I acknowledge that I have been given the opportunity to ask my Vacation Counselor any questions I may have.

To whom it may concern:

My wife and my daughter's family went to Orlando in March 2019 for the start of a three week vacation. At this time we attended a presentation in which we were coerced into buying into a point system time share, which we thought we were actually trading for our existing time share week. We have owned the existing week for appx. 25 yrs.

After returning home 3 weeks later we had a chance to read the sales agreement and realized we had missed the 10 day cancellation period. We immediately sent a certified letter to cancel the contract. We were notified soon after that we had signed a contract and that we didn't cancel within the allotted time frame. Therefore there wasn't anything they could do and that the case was closed.

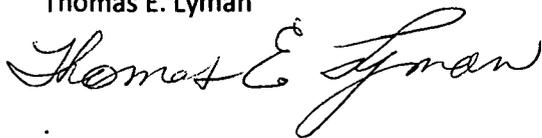

Enclosed is a copy of the letter sent to Diamond Resorts. Please note the bullet points in this letter. The wife and I have been faithful owners at Cypress point resorts in Lake Buena Vista for over 25yrs and have invested appx. 50 K in investment and maintenance fees over the past 25 years. At this point all we are asking is to be able to trade our existing deed in exchange for cancelling the new contract and all charges incurred.

The wife and I are both in the latter half of our seventies and living on a fixed income. I have recently had a heart attack and had five stents inserted. This has been very stressful and trying to deal with. We haven't heard anything from anyone at Diamond resorts since they received the letter we sent--except notices and copies of past due monies and interest charges. When they responded, they said there wasn't anything they could do and felt the case was closed.

We are very concerned about this matter. Is there's anything you can do to help us resolve the situation? Please don't hesitate to contact us! We desperately need help. Thanking you in advance for anything you can do.

To whom it may concern:

My wife and I and family were on vacation at Cypress point Grande Villas, where we have been owners for approximately 25 years. This was the beginning of our three week vacation.

We agreed to a 1 hour presentation with Diamond resorts, for that we were offered a $75 gift card.

We attended this meeting. After approximately a two-hour presentation, we expressed some interest; however, we said we had to leave to attend a baseball game in Lakeland. They said quickly fill out these forms and see if you qualify for a credit card, and they could do a credit check. We had to return the next day to sign another form for the credit card approval. Then we had to return a third day for the remaining information concerning the Trading of our time share for points for the Diamond Resorts vacation club. Most of the questions we had went unanswered. We expressed interest in taking a river cruise to visit Poland. We were told that Diamond resorts owned the Norwegian cruise lines, and they were sure, we would be able to work out something. We again said we were on vacation and had plans for the day. They said they could hurry the closing and get us finished quickly. We agreed and did the electronic signing for closing.

We did some research and found we were misled on several areas. We were also told we would have all of our questions and concerns answered when we got home and attended our new owner's orientation meeting in our area. After checking this out when we got home, we found we would have to travel another 550 miles to the nearest location for this orientation.

The wife and I are in the latter stages of our 70's and don't see the advantages of all of these points for vacations in the next 10 or so years.

-  refused to answer our questions and concerns.
-  The presentation was much longer than promised.
-  We were led to believe we were trading our existing time share for the point system.
-  The wife and I are in our late 70s and are on a fixed income and can't afford these costs.
-  I have had a recent heart attack and had 5 stents inserted.
-  Diamond resorts doesn't own Norwegian cruise lines.

We read this contract after we returned home from our three week vacation to find out there was a clause in this very lengthy contract stating we had 10 days to object to this contract. We feel that since we were out of town for that period of time we didn't realize that deadline on cancelation. We immediately responded (in writing) when we got home.

At this point we would be willing to trade our existing time share deed in exchange for a complete cancellation of this new contract. We have not taken advantage of any of these perks or opportunities offered through this new point arrangement.

At this point we feel we have to respectfully cancel this contract. Thanking you in advance, but we desperately need help in this matter!

To Whom It Concerns,

We are writing you to ask for any assistance or guidance you can give on helping us get our most recent purchase with Diamond canceled and refunded. When I made the purchase, I was told I was merely upgrading by adding more points. What actually happened was they sold me a completely new and separate contract, # 17048041, causing us to have two contracts instead of one. I would like to give the details of how this ended up happening so you can give the best assistance and advice possible.

I, Michael, have been a member with Diamond Resorts since 2012 when I purchased a "trial vacation package" while vacationing at Little Tiki Village in Winter Garden, FL. My girlfriend at the time, who is now my wife, was going through many financial struggles so I thought it would be a way for us to vacation and ease some of the stress. I paid $1875 which afforded us one week at The Cove at Ormond Beach in 2013. During that trip, I was told there was a requirement for new members and that we must attend an owner's presentation about the package I purchased in 2012. We attended the presentation that lasted hours and we were given the same sales pitch as before. This time I was being asked to "upgrade" to an annual points package. I was told this would allow even more access to specific locations and I would have "priority" booking over other guests. I was again told how easy it would be to book whatever location I desired whenever I wanted to travel. I decided to make the purchase and agreed to the upgraded package. My girlfriend and I had gotten married before that purchase. We were looking forward to these new travel opportunities that we were told would be so easy and affordable.

In 2014 we wanted to begin booking our summer vacation. I am a teacher, so I have summers off, but my wife Mandy is a nurse and her vacation requests are never guaranteed. We searched for something on the beach and wanted to visit a resort other than The Cove which we had visited already. After weeks of searching, we finally settled on Mystic Dunes in Orlando. This was a huge disappointment as we had been told the upgrade would allow us to travel wherever and whenever we wanted with priority booking and this is not where we wanted to visit. We did not get what we had been told we were purchasing, which was the ability to book wherever we wanted without restrictions. My wife became skeptical. This began causing problems in our marriage as we were struggling to pay the monthly loan amount and the fees associated with the timeshare.

We booked our trip for June of 2014 and when we arrived at the Mystic Dunes resort, I was again told I MUST attend another owner's presentation. At this point, my wife was frustrated with Diamond and had no interest in attending the presentation, so I went alone. I was met by a sales representative named Ron Allen. He began telling me that I must purchase more points because the booking we had just made at The Mystic used 4200 of our purchased 4500 points. He insisted that if we wanted "nicer" vacations at more "desired locations" the only way that was possible was to purchase more points. I told him no and I told him that we could not afford it and that my wife was already extremely unhappy with Diamond, so much so that she refused to come to the presentation. I told him that my wife had filed for bankruptcy a few years before and it would not be a smart purchase for us. He continued to pressure me stating that he would make it affordable for us. He said that if we wanted to travel to the beach or locations like Disney World, we must have more points to do so. I was told it would be a "good investment and worth my money." After hours of pressure and Mr. Allen not accepting my refusal, I agreed to purchase 5500 points. This is the purchase I am disputing. Instead of merely upgrading me, they created an entirely new contract and I was not aware of it until later. I now have 2 open contracts with Diamond and am paying maintenance fees in excess of $1800 a year. On top of that I am paying monthly loan payments and fees that total over $600. Although we have utilized the timeshare throughout the years, it has not been without a great deal of stress and anxiety. There is NO EASE IN BOOKING. Nothing that was presented to me has proved itself true. It has become nothing more than a money pit that we cannot afford. I was greatly misinformed and maliciously lied to. At this point I felt stuck and continued to try and make the best of a horrible situation.

We had our 4th child in November of 2014. It became much harder to book vacations especially when you had to book everything so far in advance just to get the leftovers. We basically had to stalk the website in hopes of finding something closer to home. The cost of airfare for all 6 of us was not an option. We would have to drive wherever we vacationed. Once again, we tried finding places in the Carolinas and Virginia Beach. Nothing was available. We were left booking again at the Ormond Beach/Daytona Beach area although we had been to this same location twice before. We would now be going again because there was nothing else available to us. When we arrived, we had to attend the "owner update" meeting just as before and my wife voiced her frustration to the sales rep about the entire process. The solution we were given each time was to buy more points. The rep told us that in order to book at any location, we would need to do so AT LEAST 13 months in advance! This is something that was never divulged at any point in the sales presentation. With this information, we had to book our summer 2017 vacation in June of 2016. Even in doing this, we were still unable to reserve the resorts we wanted and ended up in Myrtle Beach where it was overcrowded and dirty. It was not a good experience. After this vacation, we realized that this contract and the money we pay IS NOT WORTH the headache or the stress involved. We can easily book the same vacations through any online travel site for less than what we pay in monthly fees and maintenance costs. Anyone in the general public and not a member with DRI could book the same resorts and accommodations for less than what we pay. The vacations we have taken since this purchase have been subpar at best. We cannot afford to fly to our vacation destinations but nothing is ever available closer to home. In 2018 we were unable to book a vacation because of prior commitments so we lost all of our 10,000 points! This is not something that was shared with me during the sales presentation. If you purchase the points, how can you lose them? We were told points could be used for flights, but I found out that the points we had would cover at most is 1 airline ticket!

This entire situation has caused so much strife in my marriage. It has caused us to fight and even discussing it leads to frustration. It has brought a great deal of financial distress and is a horrible financial burden to us. We struggle to make ends meet and pay our day to day bills. We now have 4 children and have spent over $40,000 for this timeshare with not much to show for it. Diamond has robbed us of our peace and our enjoyment. In total we have taken 6 vacations through DRI, and each time we have experienced the same issues. Limited or no availability, dates of travel not available, and being left to settle has been the common factors each time. EVERY YEAR the maintenance fees have increased and not by just a small fraction. From 2018-2019, my maintenance fees increased by $188 and over $300 in the past 3 years! I have been pressured to upgrade yet again to "Silver status" so we could enjoy better vacations. It's all just a racket! I was told we could enjoy 2 vacations a year but that's only if I upgrade to a more expensive premium package. This is nothing but a scam presented by very manipulative people. I thought I was doing something good for my family in trusting Diamond Resorts. I could not have been more wrong!

We believe Diamond committed fraud by selling me an entirely new contract without ever informing me that was what was taking place. I signed the documents thinking I was merely adding more points to my first contract. We hope you are able to help us any in way possible so we will be able to get that second contract cancelled. Thank you for any advice or assistance you can offer.

Signed,

Michael Dyal

Re: Names: Alma Gail Boorman
Address: 11786 Quail Village Way Naples, FL 34119
Contract Number: 17775062

Dear Ms. Gaxiola:

We represent the legal interests of the referenced individual with respect to a dispute that has arisen concerning her purchase of a resort vacation interest with your company. The transaction giving rise to Mrs. Boorman's grievances occurred on September 15, 2018, when she paid $26,250.00 in consideration of a timeshare upgrade interest, including an initial cash deposit of $5,500.00. Mrs. Boorman consolidated her existing loan of $40,795.25 and re-adjusted her payments to finance the inclusive $62,295.25 amount in monthly installments of $966.49 at a 13.98% interest rate.

We must respectfully insist that all future communications regarding the associated obligations be directed to this office in compliance with 15 U.S.C. § 1692c(a)(2) and/or Fla. Stat. §559.72, and/or analogous state provision concerning the issues at hand. Certain misstatements and other irregularities occurred during the sales presentation with which our client take issue. Moreover, she complains of problems in accessing the resort network on reasonable terms and conditions, even relative to the consuming public at large.

In terms of background, Ms. Boorman was notified by phone from a Diamond Resort representative she needed to attend a 1-hour informational meeting at Coconut Point Hyatt, in Estero, Florida to let members know about new benefits being added to new memberships. Our client was informed that investment opportunities and benefits would be discussed along with enhancements for owners.

During the presentation, Ms. Boorman sat through a preliminary informational session during which the merits of becoming continued members of your company's resort network were touted. During this session a number of promises were made, some of which our client has since learned to be false. For example, our client was led to believe that the informative meeting for existing members was more of a new sale presentation and investment in this opportunity was like membership in an exclusive club, allowing access to all of these resorts and other destinations throughout the network. She was specifically shown marketing literature portraying the availability of cruises, international resorts throughout South America, Europe, and various locations around the United States. Ms. Boorman repeatedly informed the sales staff that she was not interested in purchasing more points and because of her Parkinson's Disease disability, it was difficult for her to travel and use the points she already had. Ms. Boorman even advised she wanted to leave but was pressured to stay in order to obtain a courtesy trip or cruise. The sales staff stated that this purchase would appreciate in value similar to an investment in real estate, and that your company had a re-sale and rental program to enhance the value of the investment.

Additionally, during the presentation Ms. Boorman was told that her maintenance fees were in arrears and she could not use her membership until the account was brought current. Ms. Boorman was under the impression that the down payment that she made was to pay the arrears and that she was just re-financing her existing membership at a lower interest rate. Ms. Boorman later realized they had actually sold her more points. She was informed by the sales staff she could later sell the points back to Diamond Resorts International since she bought them at a low price as compared to the current price per point.

The marketing team failed to disclose that much of the access to international and even domestic resort destinations is only available through paying additional exchange network fees. It was not until after our client actually tried to make reservations that she learned of this. During the sales presentation she was informed she would specifically be assigned a person to manage her account and help her make reservations and advise of points usage. Our client now realize that she was forced to compete with outsiders who are booking publicly through individual resort websites. It has also become clear that membership in the network is not, properly speaking, a financial investment.

After many hours of sitting through the sales meeting our client finally gave in under the pressure and signed the closing documents. During the closing phase Ms. Boorman informed the closing agent she was feeling very tired and shaky making it difficult for her to write due to her Parkinson's Disease which affects her mobility, memory, and emotional stability. The closing agent never provided Ms. Boorman a meaningful chance to read the contents of the paperwork involved, and the closing agent, offered no explanations. Rather, the closing agent perfunctorily pointed out the signature blocks on page after page.

Moreover, Florida prohibits deceptive or unfair commercial practices involving the elderly or disabled. Ms. Boorman is Disabled and 66 years old, respectively. Accordingly, she is deemed 'disabled, and elderly' under, FL. Stat FL. Stat §§825.103 at all times material to the allegations of this letter. Sales representatives and closing agents stood in a position of trust and confidence with respect to our client while also having a business relationship with her. In this respect, sales agents exploited the vulnerability and medical condition of Ms. Boorman for their own financial advantage and that of your company. As a direct result of this exploitation, our client has suffered financial loss, and in line with the provisions of Florida Statue §772.11, our client may have a private right of action for three-fold the foregoing loss, as well as exemplary damages, attorney fees, and the costs of any subsequent legal action.

There exist equitable concerns that we urge you to consider in this instance as well. Ms. Boorman has had Parkinson's Disease for over 15 years, and is currently supporting herself along with assisting her son's living expenses while he is attending college. Ms. Boorman currently works as a landscape architect however, but is being forced to leave the profession on or about the end of 2019 due to the advanced issues she has with her disability. Ms. Boorman also pays up to $18,000.00 a year in out of pocket expenses for her daily monitoring and medication not covered by any health plans. Thus, without your kind consideration in this regard, our clients' essential needs will be jeopardized due to the expense of a vacation interest that she can neither use nor afford. If you require verification with respect to any of these components of the family's hardship, we can supply the documentation in confidence upon execution of an appropriate HIPAA release.

Given these compelling legal and equitable issues, we hope and trust that this dispute can be resolved. In this regard, our clients are willing to relinquish their vacation ownership interest in exchange for a full refund of all amounts paid thus far. We regret that this proposal will not be extended if we are forced to resort to formal dispute resolution. Thank you for your kind attention to the issues addressed in this correspondence.

Sincerely,

Austin N. Aaronson, Esq.

Re: Consumer: Thomas and Suzanne Lyman
Diamond Resorts Account # 9-41592

To whom it may concern:

This is in response to a letter to you from Shelby Knapp of Diamond resorts.
We disagree with the facts stated in the letter to you dated November 8, 2019 The wife and I both agree that Diamond Resorts sales manager Tamera West told us that Diamond resorts owned Norwegian Cruise Lines and it wouldn't be any problem to secure a trip on a riverboat cruise to see Poland and other sites in that region !

We were also contacted via a phone call before we arrived at the resort. The person said we would be able to attend a meeting at the resort. (Not for a sales presentation) at which time I mentioned I wanted to complain to someone that I wasn't happy with the fact that we had been owners for appx. 25 years at that resort, and RCI couldn't secure the week we wanted with our banked points. We were told they would set that up for us and that it wouldn't take more than one hour.

As we presented in our letter to Diamond Resorts Dated September 3rd. 2019. We showed some interest and had to attend meetings 3 different days. We were assured by Sales rep. Tamera West, that the transfer of our existing time share would be traded for the new point system and it would be an even trade. We feel that enclosed assignment agreement, which Shelby included in the rebuttal letter confirms that arrangement! When we agreed to this arrangement, we had several question that weren't yet answered. She kept mentioning she didn't have time to discuss all our concerns at this time and would get to that later. Since we were there to enjoy our vacation with our family, we agreed. We were told it would only take a few more minutes to close this arrangements and initial and sign a few documents. We were told not to ask any questions at this meeting, because we would only slow things down and we might have to return to the meeting room to review the presentation. All our questions and concerns would be answered at our new owner's orientation meeting when we returned home. We later found (when we returned home and tried to set-up an orientation meeting), that the closest place to our home was St Louis Mo. Appx. 550 miles away ! We would be required to provide our own transportation to this meeting.

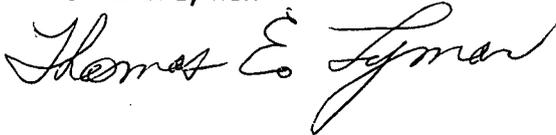

Again I would like to mention that the wife and I are in our late 70's and have had various health issues and I had a recent heart attack and five stents inserted. We've been under stress and anxiety because of this situation, which we feel wasn't presented properly and that it exploited the elderly!

Please review the letters we included in our original complaint and we are willing to totally give up our interest in our original paid time share deed for cancellation of this new misunderstanding.

Thanking you in advance, but we feel we have been taken advantage of and desperately need help in this matter!

Sincerely,

Thomas E. Lyman

Re: Gish Timeshare
Fairway Forest Resort
Building 14, Unit 1346, Week 43

Dear Mr. Wade:

This letter will confirm your telephone call to my wife and I on November 15, 2019. In a very lengthy telephone conversation, the following items were discussed and we qualified under the following conditions to return the referenced timeshare week confirmed by you verbally under the following conditions:

1. That we owned the timeshare for over six months.
2. The timeshare was paid in full.
3. The deed was free and clear.
4. The maintenance fees for 2018 and 2019 must be paid in full at an additional cost of the Gish family in the amount of approximately $2000.00. Agreed to extra cost under duress. We verbally protested the additional costs of the maintenance fees for 2018 and 2019 as we made the same arrangements in 2017. We paid the maintenance fees as requested in 2017 but the title was never transferred. You acknowledged our follow up contact in 2018 but indicated that your files had no record of the 2017 arrangements.
5. Not retained an attorney to be involved in the transfer as one of your firm conditions.

In our discussions the basis for the returned timeshare explained by the Gish family included:

1. We have not been able to use the timeshare for several years.
2. We purchased the premium week of timeshare.
3. Limited travel due to our age and physical conditions.
4. Breach of contract by Fairfield.
5. We refused additional costs to transfer our contracted week for the points system.
6. Unable to trade our weeks for other premium weeks even trying years in advance.
7. Diamond Resorts is renting our timeshare week for revenue.
8. The timeshare has zero resale value.
9. Loss of our investment in the amount of $11,800.00

Transferring the title to our children is not a reasonable option as you suggested. The time share has no value as the maintenance fees, RCI fees and transfer fees exceed the reasonable cost for similar accommodations paid by cash for a week.

You told us you would immediately email the paperwork confirmation of the title transfer and send me a written copy of the confirmation in the mail under the Diamond Resorts letterhead. You have our home address on our registered mail and we gave you verbally our email address. We refused to pay the maintenance fees in advance until we received the confirmation in writing.

To date, since our conversation on November 15, 2019 including today's mail some 18 days ago, we have not received an email, letter from you or Diamond Resorts nor a phone call. The email has not been received in our spam folder. What is the status of our verbal agreement and your approval over the phone? We have not received a reply from the Fairway Forest Homeowners Association, lawyer Philip Richardson who is threatening us with legal action for delinquent maintenance fees or Wyndham Resorts from our registered mail to each of them on November 8, 2019.

We do not need the emotional stress that this issue has caused us for the last several years. We want this resolved and placing Diamond Resorts, Wyndham Resorts and Fairway Forest Townhouse Association on notice that we refuse to pay additional maintenance fees for 2020 per copy of this letter to all.

Please explain your complaint. Attach additional sheets, if necessary.

Diamond has sold me a number of properties, all of which turned out to be nothing more than financial burdens. I have made every effort to lessen the load with and without Diamond's help, and their recommendations that I purchase more points to leverage lower payments have resulted in no significant change in this situation. I tried working 6 days a week at least 2 weeks out of every month to keep up with my payments in addition to the expenses for sending the second of my four children to college. I also tried to pay off a portion of this debt by refinancing our home but the when the mortgage agent talked to the loan department they said I could put some toward the principal balance, but they would not renegotiate the loan. The interest rate of over 12% would stand on the original loan.

Later on, I got a call about some new programs that Diamond was offering which hinted at being able to sell back some of points or use them in a different manner which would save in the Association fees. I went to the presentation at a location I can't vividly recall—potentially Marriott. Diamond must not have realized I still owed on my points, which meant I was not eligible for this program to begin with. One last time I was convinced to re-do the points and trade into the US collection because they said the Hawaii Association fees were going up and my fees would be even higher next year. They apologized for some people being "less than honest," and getting me into this situation. One of them even told me about a bank that would re-finance timeshare loans but I had to be under $100,000,00 for this bank to consider this (I was also told not to let anyone know they told me about the bank that did these loans). They said they understood I was overextended, but to help decrease the future costs and correct what happened with the last purchase I made in attempt to get out of this debt, I would have to pay for some more points. They said this was to switch the collection, which would save me some money on monthly payment and the expected increase in fees. I had to put down $23,925,00 to make this switch. In the end, my monthly payment went down only $20.00 per month. The amount financed dropped by a small amount, but the Association fee has remained the same. The women who did this transaction made me promise not to speak to anyone about any changes to the timeshare as I had spent more than enough money and I needed to work toward getting to point I could refinance this debt.

In conclusion, I am at the end of my rope with Diamond Resorts. I have been purposefully misled time and time again throughout the course of my ownership. I would have never purchased if the sales reps would have told me the full truth about what I was buying. I have "invested" a lot of money into this company with nothing in return. Please allow me to retire in peace. The only fair solution here is a cancellation of my contracts and letting me walk with my dignity.

Dear Diamond Resorts,

I have been a member of your organization since the summer of 2015. I was at your property in Maui, and I met with a representative. I loved the concept of consolidating my multiple timeshares into one spot to make them easier to keep track of and use with ease. Each time I met with one of your representatives to learn about improvements to your program, I had to always purchase more to fix different problems. Sadly enough, I still cannot get what I want or when I want despite being a "platinum member". Oddly, there's always a mistake that was made prior and the new representative has to "fix" their mistake. This entire experience with Diamond is NOT what I expected it to be NOR is it what I was led to believe by your sales representatives. I have invested a large amount of money into your company with hardly NO return.

It began in the summer of 2015 when I decided to take my first vacation with the kids after the death of my husband. Allan (my husband) and I had bought some timeshares in Hawaii when we were stationed in San Diego (We are both US Navy veterans). At this Maui property, I attended the presentation. I met with a woman at this location who told me how buying at Diamond Resorts would solve all of my problems. She knew I was trying to juggle 3 properties along with having 4 kids in elementary school through college. She promised me that the costs would be comparable to the payments I was already making yearly. She stated that I could easily return to the Hawaiian property. She also touted how she owned there as well. The sales rep also told me that I could roll over all of my other timeshares to increase my bargaining power. I didn't realize until recently that I was paying money every year for the "privilege of possibly allowing them" to use the weeks I had already paid for! What a rip off! I never once turned in a week, but I know I have paid over $1000 for this "privilege".

I've also been told that I could EASILY rent out a week to pay for my Association fee and also make a little money on the side. I don't know how this would have actually worked since I couldn't even get a reservation at any of the locations I wanted to travel to. ALSO, I turned in three properties that were ENTIRELY PAID OFF and still picked up an additional debt. I ended up having to use some of my insurance money to pay this off.

In 2016, I decided to take a cruise which a bonus I "earned" as a part of my previous Hawaii purchase. I ended up having to pay for an additional cabin for my other family members since the points I had didn't cover my family. Before the cruise, I met with a sales rep in Las Vegas.

The rep immediately told me that I needed "a few more points" to be able to access the resorts and hotels easier. He stated that the cost for the additional points would NOT be significant since I had paid off my first purchase. They issued me a new credit card and told me that by using the credit card and/or points, it would basically pay for the Association fee. This was NOT true at all.

I heard the same sales pitch the next I visited a Diamond resort as well. I was never able to do this because the down payment put on the credit card ($18,000) didn't earn the points needed or the down payment money couldn't be used for this benefit(I never figured out which)for this. I had 6 months to pay this off with no interest, but of course I also had to pay on the rest of the $65,810 in loans along with saving for the Association fee due at the end of the year. After unrelenting pressure from the sales rep, I reluctantly agreed to the purchase. Before leaving on the cruise the following day, I began doing some rough calculations on the amount of debt I was taking on and knew I didn't want to be apart of anymore debt. I wanted to cancel the contract while I was within the recession period, but I couldn't because I was on a cruise to Mexico which means I had an extreme lack of resources. I was hoping this purchase would broaden the resorts I could go to in the area, but that didn't happen. It turned out that all of my upcoming required trips for continued education had ZERO resorts that I could go to. The main reason I purchased was to be able to bring my family with me during my required classes. I was told that there was a "new program" that would allow us to use points for some hotels and it was supposed to fix this problem. This also turned out NOT to be true.

The fall of 2017, I was attending a conference when I decided to go to an update because I didn't know how to access my benefits properly(generally these were advertised as a owner update) The sales rep I had at this location was completely appalled to hear that I was paying out of pocket for hotels and airfare when I had so many points. He began to explain to me that there was a new program which would allow me to utilize my points for airfare and hotels. He also stated that I would be able to easily book them too. What he failed to mention was to get a 100% point value on the airlines, you had to your flight in the first few months of the year. This would have been important information to know while purchasing, don't you think? Along with the airline lies, there was a catch on the luxury hotels too. He failed to mention the value of points that needed to go towards these. The sales rep used several techniques to entice me to purchase like making me feel like I HAD to make a quick decision on the new program (he said it was like a Christmas Club Savings Account for that yearly vacation would now have the money set aside for the air fare And the place to stay without worrying about it) or I would lose out on the offer. The sales rep assured me that I would be at the Platinum level and he would personally help me make reservations with no hassle. Somehow he convinced me that I would be saving money in the long run and I would be able to enjoy more time with my family. I really thought that all of the savings on the airfare and hotels would be beneficial too. Little did I know, he was pulling the wool over my eyes to achieve that sale. The lies continued when he told me that I would be able to refinance the loan (no local bank will refinance a timeshare loan) and somehow claim the cost of the upgrade as a business expense. Of course, this turned out to be something that wasn't possible legally.

The sales rep continued to assure me by telling me how he knew how it felt to lose a close family member and how we needed to protect our veterans. He assured me that this "investment" would be beneficial for my family in the long run. I truly felt like he had my best interest at heart. This improvement in ability to make the reservations I wanted, book airline tickets, cruises and hotels in almost every local in the world ended up costing me a down payment of 29,100.00 and an added 145,500.00 added to my current loan of 80924.00. I was again told that he would show me how to utilize the points from Master card and points to cover the Association fees in years when I could not use all the points. He also told me that I could make reservations and rent out my units and this would more then pays for the fees. I know that was also told that assuring points were in US collection versus the Hawaii collection I would protect myself for the Association fees going higher. The increase in my payments was to be minimal and savings on planes and hotels maximized but the payments were climbing, as were the Association fees. I had been promised that I would be re-reimbursed for some of the airline reservations I had already made...and he would help me to make reservations for a honeymoon trip for a nephew that I was planning on paying for. The travel reimbursement took forever, as did any help with making the reservations. I eventually had to slog through it all on my own. We still hadn't used our points for the promised vacations except for the ones that were given as a reward for upgrading your ownership. They did book the cruises or trip earned by points but in reality this is done by a travel agency that works with Diamond. They did at least help with booking the rest of the family since these trips were generally only for 2 people.

In June of 2018, I was able to find a place on line in Hawaii to book for my second child's graduation from High school. I went to the update during the stay at what is a beautiful resort on the Big Island. I met with a woman who was surprised I was able to get into this resort since we did not own in Hawaii any more and she could not believe I had been told by others that the cost of the Association fees was more OR that as a platinum plus member I would be able to get a desirable unit during peak times in Hawaii. She talked about being single Mom's and providing this legacy to our children. We "discovered" while I was there that some how they had not closed the ability for me to add to my Hawaii holdings that I had initially bought in 2015. This meant that I could but some additional points at the cost they were 3 yrs. earlier and basically would be able to stay in Hawaii for 4 weeks each year of possibly more for only a small increase in my monthly payment...it sounded do-able . I would also be able to give this to my children through the legacy program. Each of them could return to Hawaii year after year in the future without problem. I was at this point exhausted from the negotiations in the small room and worried about getting kids dinner. They finally let me go down to room and take kids to dinner at the pool snack bar before it closed for the evening while they finished the paper work. I was worried about the down payment as I had to put on several credit cards and knew I would have to pay it off quickly. The sales person talked about taking money out of some of my savings accounts, as this was a good investment for the future. I would be able to rent these units easily if I was not able to use them and pay off the debt easily. She was so sincere and really had me believing that leaving the children this gift would be something that I would regret if I did not do it now and since I was nearing retirement I would be able to enjoy it myself spending most of the winter there if I learned how to make the most of my points. I worried about putting all that money on credit cards that would have steep interest if I did not pay off right away but I agreed and my down payment was 82,775.00. I was off to travel to see the volcano the next day and we flew out a day or two later without really looking at papers, I asked them to mail the bulk of the materials to my home because I could not carry all that paper work. Once home I was really able to look at what I had been talked into for the sake of my children and real regret set in... I had agreed to pay 3,376.00 per month for this privilege and I was going to have to pay 20,000,000 in Association fees. I felt sick as I realized this was more then my house payment and I had hoped to retire

I began working 6 days a week at least 2 weeks out of every month to keep up with these payments along with the payments for sending second child to college (2 still in school at home) This meant less time at home with children for whom all this was done. My husband would have killed me for this poor management of our finances. I tried to pay off a portion of this debt by refinancing our home but when the mortgage agent talked to the loan department they said I could put some toward principle but they would not renegotiate the loan. The interest rate of over 12% would stand on the original loan. I got a call about some new programs that Diamond was offering which hinted at being able to sell back some of points or use them in a different manner which would save in the Association fees. I went to the presentation but somehow they must not have realized I still owed on my points so I was not eligible for this program. One last time I was convinced to re-do the points and trade into the US collection as they said that the Hawaii Association fees were going up and my fees would be even higher the next year. They apologized for some people being less than honest. One of them even told me about a bank that would re-finance timeshare loans but I have to be under 100,000,00 for this bank to consider this. (too late a revelation as I used the other money to pay off other loans...I was told not to let anyone know they told me of the Bank that did these loans). They told me they understood I was over extended and to help decrease the future costs and correct what was done in the summer I would have to pay for some points in order to switch the collection and it would save me some money on monthly payment and would save some money in the expected increase in fees. I had to put down 23,925,00 to make this switch. In the end my monthly payment went down only 20.00 per month and the amount financed dropped by a small amount but the Association fee has remained the same. The women who did this transaction made me promise not to speak to anyone about any changes to the timeshare as I had spent more than enough money and I needed to work toward getting to point I could refinance this debt.

Fast forward to this spring when I again tried to get some benefit out of this huge debt. I have paid it every month and put money monthly into payment of the usage fees. I have not been able to get hotel rooms in the cities I need to visit because they are not available in those cities or the few rooms assigned to whatever code the use are booked. The person booking the points only cruise had wrong information and after I booked the cruises I had to rebook additional rooms because she had the wrong information about how old the person needed to be to be in the room with a sibling under 18. I spent many more hours on trying to book this vacation for my extended family and I am know that if I just put all those down payments and the mortgage money into an account for vacations I could have paid for the trips and gone where I wanted and when I wanted to go without all the restrictions that were to have gone away as I increased my ownership. I certainly do not need to continue to pay a monthly fee for something that is difficult to use. I feel that the tactics that were used were deceitful and manipulative and that all my inadequacies relating to calculating how much all this would cost me were targeted to get me to purchase these timeshares. The sales people all seemed very sincere and really tried to make me feel that they would not take advantage of me as each had either been in my shoes or had family members who had been. I was commended for taking care of the four children after the death of my husband after his final deployment with the Navy; it was sold to me as well earned time to get away and be together and something to be passed down. I unfortunately was generally too fatigued by the time we got to the numbers during these presentations to make even rudimentary sense of how little financial sense this made. I need to end this craziness so I can consider retiring. I will be 65 my next birthday but with this debt I will be working till I am 90!

In conclusion, I am at the end of my rope with Diamond Resorts. Please consider completely releasing from all of this financial stress that was brought onto me by the unethical and highly unmoral tactics of your sales reps. I would have never purchased if your sales reps would have told me the full truth and not lied to me repeatedly over the years. I have "invested" a lot of money into your product with nothing in return. Please allow me to retire in peace. The only fair solution here is a cancellation of my contracts and letting me walk with my dignity.

Sincerely,

On September 23, 2015 I signed a contract with Club Elite - Exchange Points Club for membership to exchange my time share for rental income, not points. The time share is located at a Diamond Resort on the strip in Las Vegas. (A copy of pertinent pages of Agreement are attached) After nothing had been done on this contract for rental for over a year I made numerous attempts to contact them by phone and letters with no response. Eventually, I was able to make contact with someone who told me that the time share was not the type that could be used in their plans even though before I brought into this contract I was assured that it was fine. Their Company told me they were no longer able to process Diamond properties and they said they would refund my payment of $3,495. Every time I attempted to make contact after this, a new person responded and I had to relate the same story as it seemed like every week or two they told me the persons handling my account had left. Finally, I was able after many numerous and frustrating calls to get someone to listen and research my account. Thus, on April 15, 2016, I received my first payment of $280 (copy attached). Subsequently I have received over a long period of time additional checks which brings the amount still owed to me $1,370.00. I am also enclosing a letter I sent to them in August, 2019 which has been returned as unable to be found in November. I have called and again get no response and written with no response. I fulfilled my end of the contract but they have failed to honor their side.

Re: Membership #: EP - 0354

Dear Sir/ Madam:

I have called your office numerous times for the past few months, have left a message on your voice mail with no return calls. Needless to say, I am disgusted since I paid $3,495 in September, 2015 and your company was unable to fulfill its obligations under the Agreement.

I agreed to receive monthly repayments of that amount to be paid to me. You still owe me $1,370. The last payment was made on December 21, 2018 for $300.

This is not acceptable that I have not received any monies for over six months nor a response to my calls.

Very truly yours,

Susan A. Nawrocki

RE: ROBERT AND MARY GISH

FAIRFIELD SAPPHIRE VALLEY TIMESHARE OWNERSHIP

FAIRWAY FOREST WEEK 43 UNIT 1346 NOV 8, 1986

ALL,

We purchased a week of timeshare ownership on the 8th of November 1986 some 33 years ago. Over the last several years we have been paying for something we can not use for health issues, age and financial reasons.

We gave the week of timeshare to the Fairway Forest

Townhouse Association in 2017 after paying the fees.

MY WIFE AND I WERE PRESSURED INTO PURCHASING A TIMESHARE WEEK IN A FOUR HOUR TOUR, PRESENTATION AND MY TEAM HIGH PRESSURE SALES TACTICS. WE PAID $9,000.00 FOR THE TIMESHARE REQUIRING AN IMMEDIATE $1,800.00 DOWNPAYMENT AND PAYMENTS OF $119.16 PER MONTH FOR SEVEN YEARS. WE PAID $11,809.03 FOR A TIMESHARE WITH A CURRENT VALUE OF "0". WE HAVE ALSO PAID MAINTENANCE FEES FOR 30 YEARS STARTING AT $190.00 PER MONTH IN 1986 TO ESCALATING HIGH NUMBERS.

AS OF THE DATE WE PURCHASED OUR TIMESHARE, FAIRFIELD LOST OVER 17 MILLION DOLLARS IN 1986 WE WERE TOLD BY AN ASSOCIATE, FAIRFIELD FILED FOR BANKRUPTCY WITH A BREACH OF CONTRACT. IN ABOUT 1990 WE WERE PRESSURED TO BUY INTO A NEW POINTS SYSTEM WHICH WE REFUSED TO PAY MORE MONEY. THAT LEFT US WITH NO REAL WAY TO EXCHANGE WEEKS TO OTHER RESORTS, WE OFTEN TRIED TO BOOK PEAK WEEKS WITH RCI YEARS IN ADVANCE AND ALWAYS DENIED BECAUSE OUR FLOATING WEEK HAD NO TRADING VALUE.

FAIRFIELD ELIMINATED THE FAIRFIELD EXCHANGE PROGRAM (FAP) ALLOWING EXCHANGES AT NO COST WITHIN THE FAIRFIELD SYSTEM.

THE LAST TIME WE SPENT A WEEK AT OUR OWNED WEEK AT SAPPHIRE VALLEY THE UNIT WAS A MESS. THE FURNITURE WAS WORN, THE UNIT WAS NOT MAINTAINED, MISSING PLATES, GLASSES, SILVERWARE AND THE FRYPAN WAS NOT USABLE. WE NEVER RETURNED AND ONLY USED EXCHANGES WITH RCI.

WE HAVE TRIED TO GIVE THE TIMESHARE BACK TO THE ASSOCIATION. OUR MARCH 11, 2017 LETTER AND OTHER LETTERS TO THE ASSOCIATION HAVE NOT BEEN ANSWERED. OUR JUNE 21, 2009 LETTER TO DIAMOND RESORTS CONTINUES TO BE UNANSWERED. OUR LETTERS RETURNING MAIL HAVE NOT BEEN ANSWERED. WE DID RECEIVE A

RESPONSE TO ONE OF OUR LETTERS FROM JAYSHAWNA OF DIAMOND^{to} RESORTS^{to} ELLIS DATED JUNE 13, 2018. HOWEVER SHE NEVER RESPONDED TO MY RETURN LETTER TO HER DATED JUNE 20, 2018.

OUR TELEPHONE CALL TO WYNDHAM RESORTS VACATION PROGRAM YIELDED NOTHING. OUR TIME SHARE DID NOT QUALIFY FOR THE PROGRAM. I WAS ON HOLD WAITING FOR AN AGENT A LONG TIME.

OUR TELEPHONE CALL TO PHILIP W. RICHARDSON LEAVING A MESSAGE ON HIS RECORDING MACHINE REMAINS UNANSWERED BUT DID YIELD HIM SENDING TWO MORE "NOTICE OF INTENT TO LIEN LETTERS" MAILED TO OUR HOUSE. THE LETTERS ARE A "CANNED" LETTER AND PHILIP RICHARDSON DOES NOT KNOW ANY DETAILS ABOUT OUR TIME SHARE, APPARENTLY TOO BUSY TO GIVE A COURTESY CALL BACK TO DISCUSS. (LETTER ATTACHED)

WE HAVE NO INTENTIONS OF PAYING FOR SOMETHING THAT WE CAN NO LONGER USE. WE HAVE OFFERED TO GIVE THE TIMESHARE BACK BUT NO INTEREST FROM ANYONE. WE HAVE ACCEPTED OUR LOSS SEVERAL YEARS AGO. WE WILL NOT BE PAYING FOR ANY FEES AFTER OUR 2017 MAINTENANCE FEES. WE DID AGREE TO PAY FOR THE TITLE TRANSFER FEES.

WE WANT A RESOLUTION TO THE RETURN OF THE TIME SHARE. UNSURE OF OUR RIGHTS AT THIS TIME, WOULD WELCOME AN OPPORTUNITY IN THE COURT SYSTEM TO RESOLVE. OUR OFFER REMAINS. I WOULD BE EXTREMELY DISSAPPOINTED IF ACTION BY WYNDHAM DAMAGED OUR CREDIT HISTORY WHICH HAS TAKEN A LIFETIME TO ESTABLISH AN EXCELLENT CREDIT HISTORY INCLUDING FAIRFIELD.

FOR 33 YEARS WE HAVE ENDURED AND CONTINUE TO ENDURE THE HIGH PRESSURES OF A QUESTIONABLE TIME SHARE

BUSINESS THAT CONTINUES TO PUSH AND PUSH, SURELY
SOMEONE ADDRESSED ON THIS LETTER WILL HAVE SOME COMPASSION TO FIND A WAY TO TAKE BACK THE TIMESHARE.
ON THIS END WE DO NOT HAVE THE FINANCIAL RESOURCES
TO CONTINUE PAYING AND PAYING FOR SOMETHING WE CAN NOT PHYSICALLY USE, THIS IS NOT SOMETHING WE WOULD EVEN CONSIDER GIVING TO SOMEONE ELSE, ONE
OF YOUR AGENTS TOLD ME THAT YOU ARE USING MY TIME
SHARE WEEK TO RENT BY THE WEEK BRINGING IN
REVENUE TO YOUR COMPANY. WE LOST SEVERAL BANKED
WEEKS WITH RCI ALSO. YOU CONTINUE TO MAKE MONEY,

I AM REQUESTING A WRITTEN REPLY FROM EACH OF
YOU ADDRESSED ON THIS LETTER. I WOULD REALLY LIKE TO KNOW WHY YOU CANT DO IT. I DO NOT NEED YOUR CONTINUAL HARASSMENT WHICH CAUSES A LOT OF ANXIETY.
I WILL KNOW NEXT MONTH ON DECEMBER 7, 2014 IF MY CANCER HAS SPREAD OR THE LUPROID SHOT IS CONTROLLING IT.

I AM ASKING TO LIVE THE REST OF MY LIFE WITH
THE "BEST QUALITY OF LIFE POSSIBLE," WHY DO YOU
CONTINUE TO EXPLOIT THE ELDERLY?

Dear Owner of Record:

This firm has been retained by Fairway Forest Townhouses Association, Inc. ("Association").

You have failed to bring your maintenance fees and taxes current or otherwise respond to the demand letters sent to you. As of June 25, 2019, the total assessments, taxes, lockout fees, interest, and late fees due as applicable are $ 1,909.43. Additional amounts may be due for interest, administrative fees, and/or attorneys' fees and costs accrued which must also be paid.

If you do not pay the full amount within fifteen (15) days, we will, on behalf of our client, docket a lien against you in Jackson County for the full amount due. Once the lien is docketed, we may commence legal proceedings to foreclose on this lien and may also bring an action against you to recover a money judgment for the amount due. Be aware that you may be responsible for the additional attorneys' fees and costs that will be incurred if we are required to commence such legal proceedings.

Until your account is brought current, you will continue to be prohibited from using your timeshare period, you will also be prohibited from making a reservation in the timeshare plan's reservation system, and any confirmed reservation may be canceled, as applicable, until the delinquency no longer exists.

To make payment or to inquire about other options available to you, including a Deed in Lieu of Foreclosure, please contact Eck, Collins and Richardson at (407) 373-7454, Monday-Friday (10:00 am to 5:00 pm EST).

PURCHASER'S AFFIDAVIT

THIS DECLARATION is made with reference to my/our purchase from Fairfield Communities, Inc. of a/an Interval Week(s) in FAIRWAY FOREST at Fairfield Sapphire Valley, Sapphire, North Carolina.

Prior to signing the contract for the purchase of Interval Week(s) 43 in Unit Number 1346, I/we reviewed and understood the terms and conditions of the installment contract and were advised and understood the concept of timeshare or Interval Ownership.

I/We acknowledge that as an Interval Owner, a maintenance fee shall be assessed annually and shall be payable on January 1st of each year. I/We acknowledge receipt of a proposed budget reflecting the maintenance fee for my/our Interval Week(s).

I/We acknowledge that the purchase of an Interval Week was NOT made for investment purposes but to use for pleasure and vacations.

I/We acknowledge that my/our use of the above described shelter unit as well as the use of the recreational facilities are limited to the Interval Week(s) purchased.

I/We acknowledge that prior to signing the installment contract, I/we personally inspected the property and understood that the unit inspected may not be the actual unit to be purchased; however, the unit, including the furniture, appliances, equipment and all accent furnishings within the unit, are substantially similar to, or of equal quality to, the models shown.

I/We acknowledge that this timeshare regime is exempt from the Interstate Land Sales Act because the Developer is legally obligated to complete the units within two years from the date of first sale, and that any HUD (OILSR) Property Report we may have seen or received is not applicable to this purchase.

I/We acknowledge that Fairfield Sapphire Valley will NOT rent our interval week(s) for us. Should we decide to rent our weeks it will be solely our responsibility.

I/We acknowledge that Fairfield has represented that the subdivision is presently acceptable to an international trade network company, known as Resort Condominiums International, the purpose of which is to allow me/us the option of exchanging occupancy of my/our interval week(s) for occupancy at other resorts acceptable to the trade network company. I/We understand and agree that my/our participation and membership is optional therein and is subject to the rules, regulations, terms, membership dues and other charges to the trading network company as same exists from time to time and Fairfield does not guarantee the availability of an exchange or the continuation of said program. Fairfield does not have any control or financial interest in the trading network company and Fairfield does hereby disclaim and shall not be responsible for any assurances or representations set forth within the brochures and information of the trading network company, same being representations of the trading network only.

I/We acknowledge receipt of the FAX Members Directory and understand that I/we should not rely on any representations other than those contained therein.

I/We hereby certify that in our negotiations with Fairfield Communities, Inc. for the purchase of the above described property, I/we were in no way influenced or induced to purchase such property by reason of guarantees, whether written or oral, on the part of a person or persons affiliated with Fairfield Communities, Inc., that the property above described would appreciate in value, or that either Fairfield Communities, Inc. or any of its agents or agencies would at a later date guarantee to either repurchase the said property or sell the said property for us.

Re: Timeshare - Fairway Forest, N.C.
Lot 43 Townhouse 1346 Building 14

Sirs:

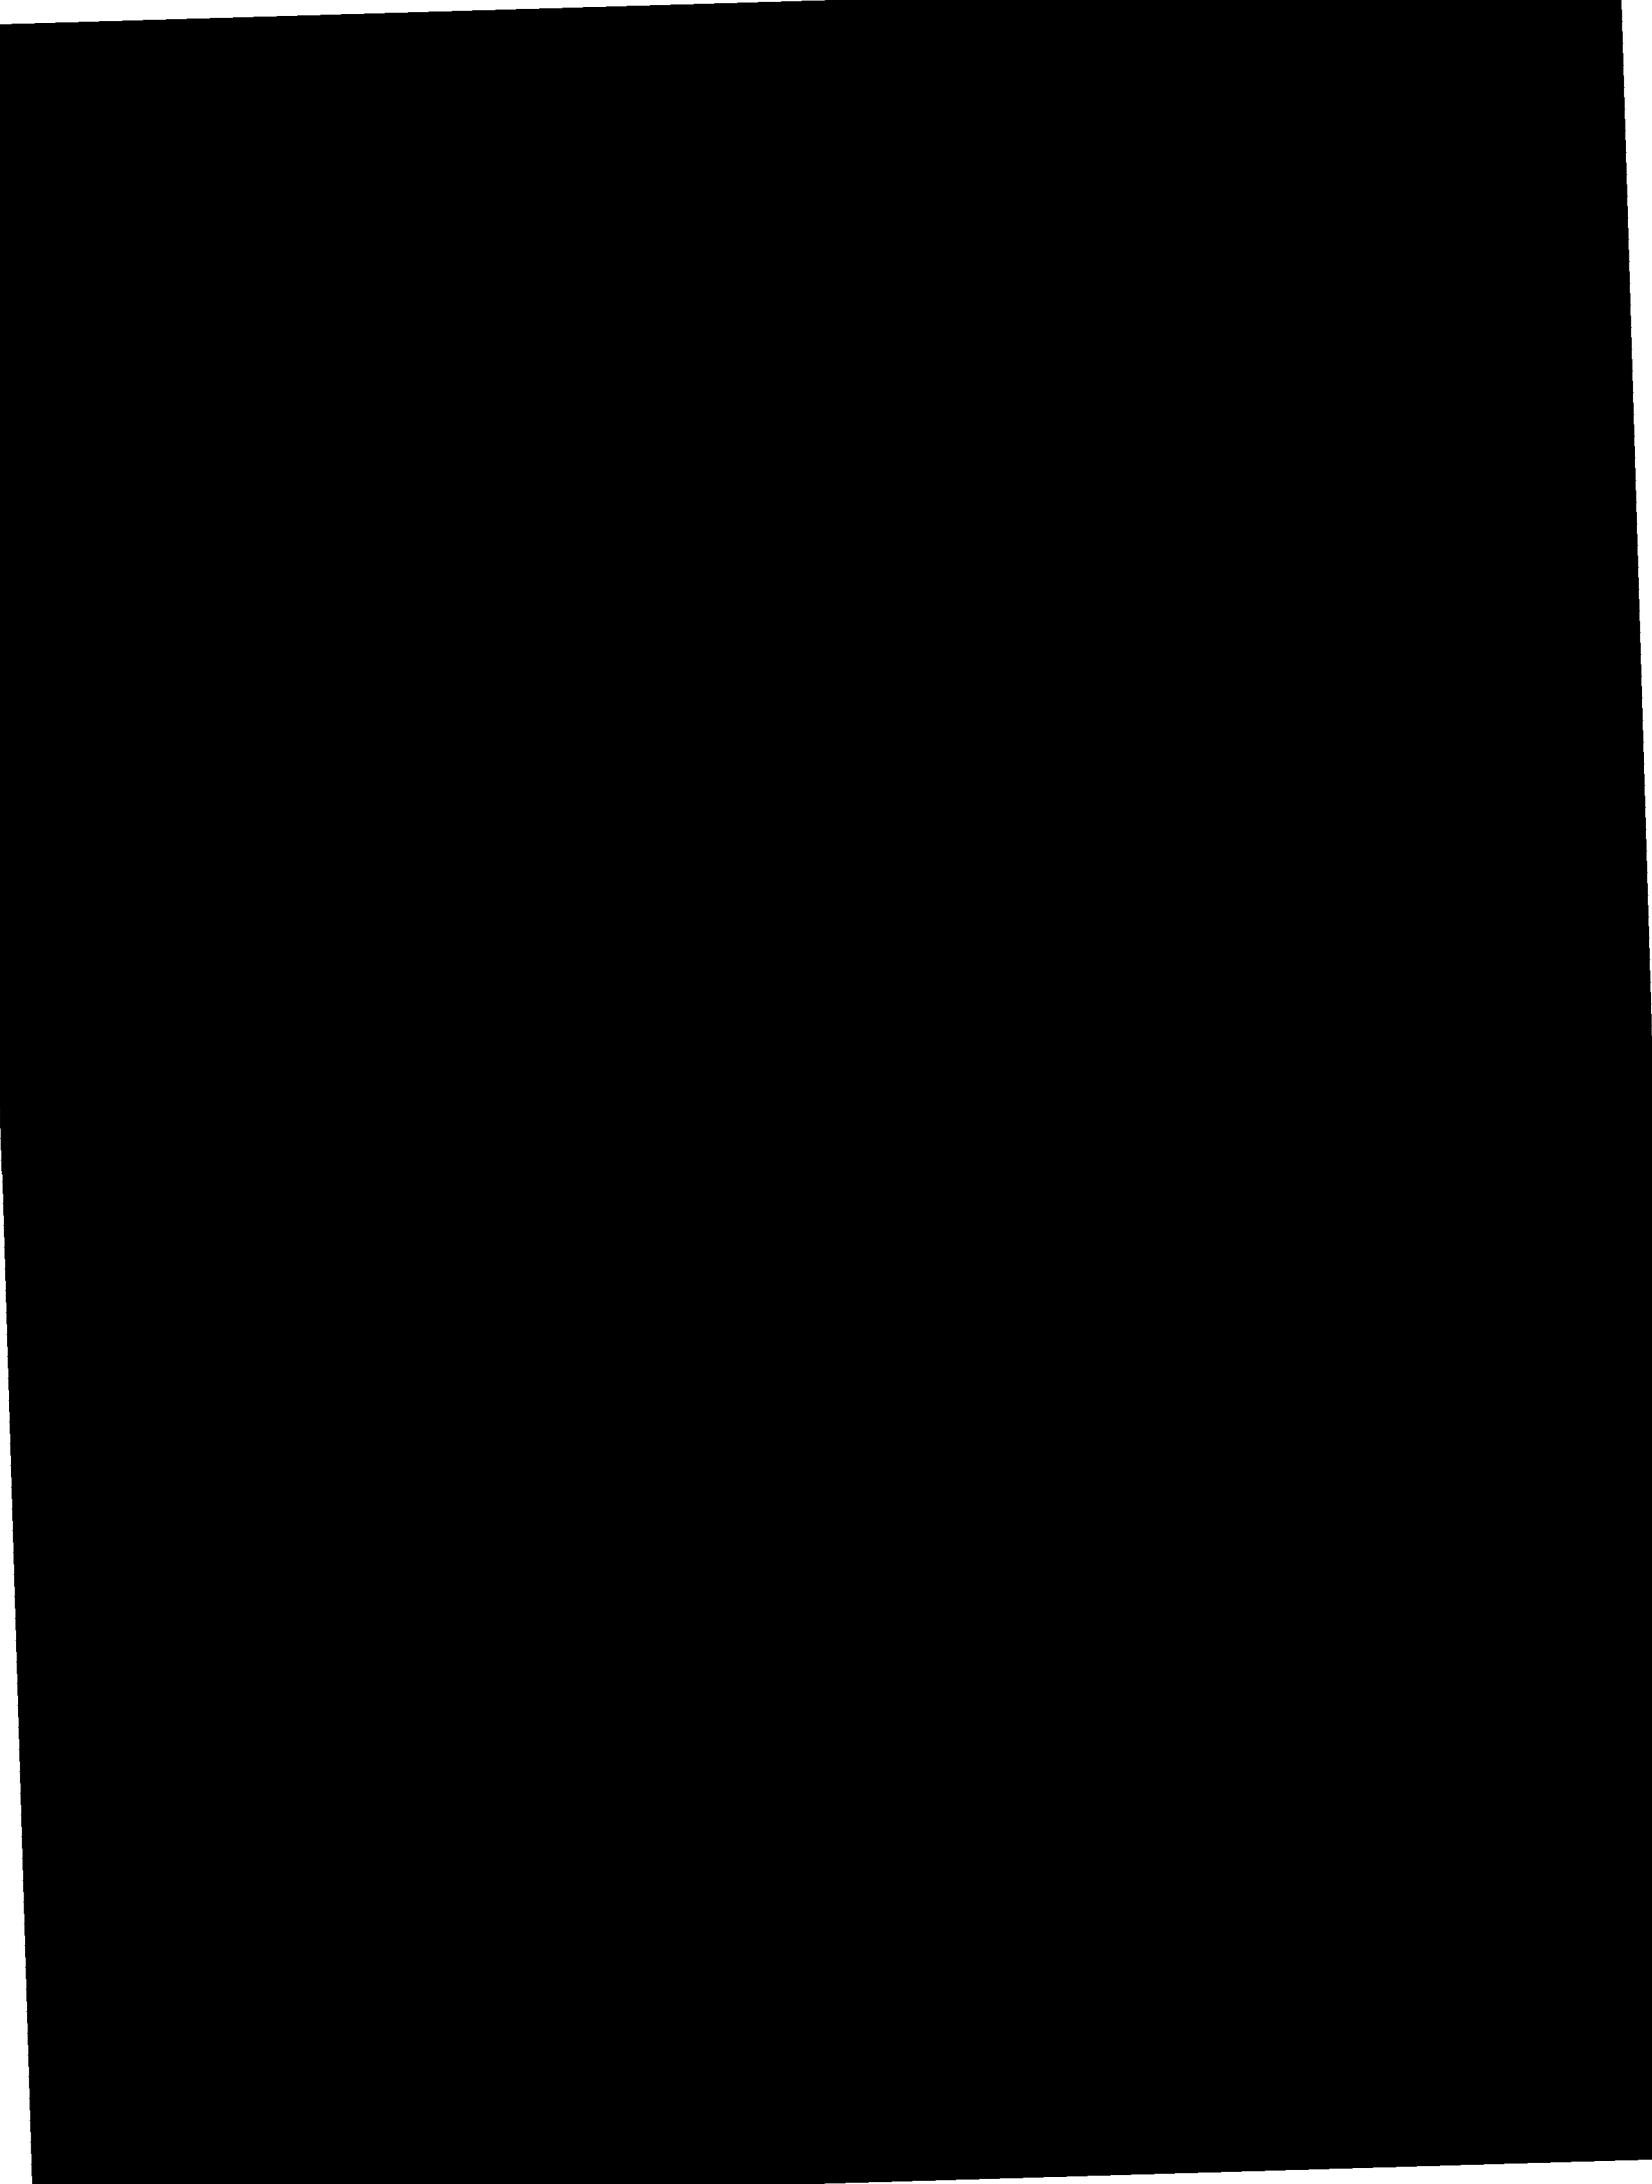

I do not understand why you are harassing me. We do not own the timeshare any more. The timeshare was given to the association in 2017. We made an arrangement with one of your agents to pay the current year maintenance fees to return it to you. We did that and you continue to send us a bill. We have not used the timeshare for the last several years due to health and age issues.

You have not responded to any of my many letters returning the mail I get from Fairway Forest Owners Association.

Fairfield went bankrupt and the terms of our purchase were in breach of the amenities we used. The condition of the property was not maintained.

I refuse to pay for any maintenance fees after we paid them in full in 2017. Respectfully requested that you remove us from the billings and harassing threats. The timeshare had no value and we paid over $10,000.00 for it.

TIME SHARE COMPLAINT

Dear Ms. Moody:

We are Diamond Resorts International (Platinum) time share members and wish to inform you that this company and its representatives have been deceptive in their updates (sales presentations) to us and most assuredly to other members. In October we went to a presentation at the Daytona Beach Regency and we immediately informed the representative that we were considering giving our timeshare back to Diamond because of financial and medical issues. During this discussion we were informed that Diamond had a new program for Platinum members like us who had invested substantially in their timeshare but could no longer afford the maintenance fees. Brad Leslie told us we could use our yearly allotment of points and turn them over as a credit on our Barclay Diamond master card at .30cents per point, at anytime in the year. The credit could then be used to pay our maintenance fees or any other purchases. After four hours of questions and answers we felt this was to our benefit and would help relieve some of our financial burden. Mr. Leslie told us we should call him in December and he would guide us through the process verbally described.

To our understanding this program would allow us to financially keep our timeshare without further financial burden, so we signed the contract and the 10-day rescission period passed. We went to our bank and took out a small home equity line to secure payment of this purchase and consolidate some personal bills. In December we called to schedule the redemption of points to a credit on the credit card and were informed that Diamond had no such program and that it was only a 30% redemption of points. Therefore we were scammed into this purchase. This has financially burdened our family with the home equity loan and we were forced to request transition out of our time share investment back to Diamond on December 29th. We spoke with another representative regarding this purchase and requested a return of the funds without any success. He basically stated we had signed the contract and nothing could be done.

A few weeks later we attended another update at Cypress Pointe and a manager there told us about the exact same program. In fact, he even said we could buy 20,000 points every year for .19 cents per point and turn them back in at .30 cents per point. On January 2nd we forwarded a letter of complaint to the CEO Mr. Michael Flasky at Diamond Resorts in Las Vegas, NV. We outlined how this sales pitch with us was deceptive and filled with downright lies, and requested a reimbursement of our funds. This purchase is but a very small drop in their large financial holdings; however, it would be my feeling that they will stand on the contract we signed, and no further action will be taken. We have been reading on a Diamond Resorts Owner Advocacy site and apparently many other owners are facing the exact same situation.

If your office could assist in a return of our funds it would be greatly appreciated. If not, I sincerely hope our situation and this letter may assist in stopping these deceptive sales by Diamond Resorts. in the future.

Sincerely yours;

James Catlin

During our Orlando, FL visit to Cypress Pointe in October 25, 2016, we were part of the surprise announcement to Sven Eklof (Erikas' father) and his wife Jean Eklof that Vacations International was purchased by Diamond Resorts. He was to attend a meeting to review the purchase of Vacations International by Diamond Resorts. Erika and I attended a meeting where we watched a video, where the theme was "Stay Vacationed." We discussed the option of traveling after having lost twin babies, and lost the chance to have any additional children. We were at a vulnerable point and Diamond Resorts seemed like our international travel agency that would streamline traveling and make it much easier to travel internationally at all the destinations shown on their wall map. We met with a salesman to find out the price and it seemed too high to justify. When we acted disinterested in the offer, we were then joined with Sven and Jean because Erika qualified for the "family" discount rate that Sven had because she is family. With Sven and Jean's good experience with Vacations International, we decided to proceed in purchasing half of the 7,500 points with them. Total, together we purchased 7,500 points to be shared between families. I paid $3,571.00 (Half of $7,141.00 total Down Payment amount) on a personal credit card and financed the rest with Diamond under Sven Eklof. Erika had begun a new job in January, 2018 and only had one week of vacation available, which was already booked for something else, so we were unable to use the remaining points from 2017, used zero points in 2018 AND lost our "Dream Vacation" because it expired 3 days into the new year. We now pay nearly $650 per month for the Diamond Resorts that we have barely used, because of the pressure and the lack of availability at the places we travel to. Erika now works two jobs to cover these expenses. Behind all the deception, lies, outrageous amount of money spent with no return on our investment and unkept promises, we entrusted our future of "Stay Vacationed" with Diamond Resorts. Instead the mistrust, dishonesty and pressure tactics used to get us into buying more points at every stay is unacceptable and was used to take advantage of us at a vulnerable time.

Re: Consumer: Thomas and Suzanne Lyman

Thank you for sending us a copy of the letter dated January 13th 2020 from Shelbey Knapp, Legal assistant for Diamond Resorts. We were very happy and relieved to read that the dispute had been resolved and our points contract had been cancelled, and that there is no further financial obligation for this.

I have tried several times to contact Shelbey Knapp and have left messages for a return call without any luck.

I have recently received a statement from Diamond Resorts World Mastercard. This shows a balance of $3901.61 including interest and late fees.

I have objected to this total contract and credit card situation since I returned home from our three-week vacation to Florida almost a year ago this March. I stated several bullet points as to where we felt we were misled. The one main objection was that we were asked to sign some paperwork to see if we qualified for a credit card! We discovered, several weeks later, that that actually became an application for a new credit card!

I called the credit card company as soon as I realized what happened and cancelled this card. I was later informed that Diamond Resorts sent a copy of this paperwork to Barclay's credit card company and they reinstated the card based on that paperwork.

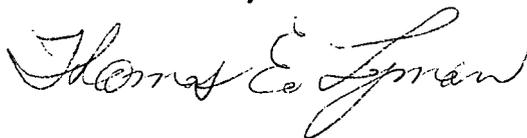

We have not received any of the rewards offered by this point system, other than a $75 gift card to attend the presentation meeting and a cup of coffee and a donut at this presentation.

This has been a very stressful year and has been very tough on our health and wellbeing. I have recently paid our 2020 maintenance fees and have offered to give up our existing timeshare in exchange for total cancellation of this new point system and costs involved. We have owned this timeshare and paid all dues and assessments for the past 25 years!

Thanks again for your help and understanding in this matter !

Sincerely,

Thomas E. Lyman

My husband, ~~the~~ Juan D. Villarreal, who was original owner of the time share, passed away Dec 29, 2019.

Before his passing, we were trying to get rid of the time share.

It did not work for us at all w/ money we paid and inability to use it. We tried to get rid of time share, but Diamond Resorts Int. refused to take it back or would do it for some insane fee.

As the wife of my late husband I am ~~an~~ owner by default. My financial situation has changed. I lost my husband who was also my travel partner.

I no longer wish to carry on the burden of having something we could not use when he was alive and more over, now when he is no longer here.

I am filing a legal complaint against Dimond Resorts/ The Palms Country Club and Resort Condominium Association, Inc.

20 years ago, on July 2000 I went on vacation with my then 7- and 9-years old daughters. I was a single mom and I was looking for a way to save some money on Disney tickets. This is how I was lured into a timeshare presentation that turned out to be close to 5 hours presentation and ended up being my journey into Timeshare ownership with a yearly week of a 3-bedroom lockout unit.

I was promised that this was going to be a great investment if I ever wanted to vacation with my daughters at a better cost to anywhere in the world.

With great effort I finished paying my contract only to experience over the years a lot of frustration because I was never able to vacation to the destinations I really wanted to go to and for the past 8 years I have even lost the opportunity to travel because there is actually no availability through the exchange program.

About more than 5 years ago Diamond International change from weeks to Points ownership, I didn't want to change because I felt I was going to lose my little piece of "real state", but it turned out we were told we didn't own anything specific on our home resort. Even though from the very beginning I was told I had a specific unit in a specific building but all that changed, and I couldn't do anything about it.

Moreover, it seems that I was punished for not changing to points. If I ever wanted to use my weeks, I only had the option to do it through Interval international. I was not allowed to use the resorts available to the other timeshare owners that had points with Dimond Resorts, even though I was a Dimond Resort Member.

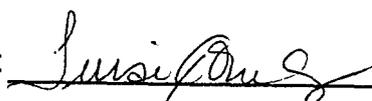

I have made a great investment of more than $20,000.00. The maintenance fees keep going up and I cannot use my timeshare the way they told me 20 years ago.

On top of everything Diamond Resorts wants me to pay them to give up on my investment, which they can later sell to an unguarded individual like me.

I don't want Diamond Resorts to keep sending me emails and notification, I want to be detached from this relationship I started 20 year ago and I want to be compensated for all this year of misrepresentation and misinformation.

Please can anyone advise me on how to break this bind even if I lose all the time and money I had put into this Timeshare?

Hello I'm Forwarding my last email. I have not received a phone call from the service department in the transitions program. The end of the year is coming and before I can finish setting up my transition process I need to speak to someone. Please call me at 954-854-7000

From: Luisa Echeverry <lsecheverry@hotmail.com>Sent: Monday, December 3, 2018 12:39 PMTo: Transitions@diamondresorts.comSubject: Transitions Questions

To whom it may concern

I have tried contacting someone to talk personally about my transition process, and it has been impossible to get someone on the phone. I have waited in my numerous attempts as much as 45 minutes and still nobody picks up the phone, I keep listening avor and over again to the recording and people's experiences.

I really would like to talk to someone, maybe if I can get a direct number that would be great. I want to talk to someone because I have a question regarding the option you can offer in this transition process. My cell Phone number is 954-854-7000. Because of work I'm not always available but I'll return a phone call as soon as I can.

Attention: Shelby Knapp:

Re: Fairfield Sapphire Valley
Townhouse 1346, Blue Week 43, Building 014A
Diamond Resorts contact number 68-102715

Dear Ms. Knapp:

DEAR JARID,
THANK YOU FOR NICE
RESPONSE LETTER. THE TIMESHARE INDUSTRY IS VERY QUESTIONABLE.
YOUR RESPONSE GAVE ME THE COURAGE TO CONTINUE TO PUSH BACK AT DIAMOND
RESORTS.
Robert Fgish

I am in receipt of your registered letter dated February 3, 2020. I found it amusing when you stated that Diamond Resorts prides itself with exceptional customer service. Diamond Resort is a continuation of the time share industry and cares very little about individuals. Diamond Resorts only wants economic gain;

It is obvious that your letter declares "Corporate or legal philosophy and policy" that is not reflected in your day by day operations. Diamond Resorts staff practices deceptive and unfair (to the consumer) trade practices.

Due to health issues we have not been able to use our timeshare week for several years and lost several unused weeks in the banking process through RCI. A Diamond Resort representative indicated to us that Diamond Resorts rents our timeshare unit week for revenue because the maintenance fees have not been paid. That is revenue for Diamond Resorts.

Over the years hundreds of timeshare weeks have been returned to the Townhouse Association. On the date that we purchased our timeshare, Fairfield was proceeding with bankruptcy. That information was not disclosed to us when we purchased the timeshare. The verbal representations of the salesman at the time of the sale were not kept. Our unit was not maintained for several years with missing kitchen plates, silverware and worn furniture and bed coverings. The last time we stayed in our unit, we elected to never return.

Our timeshare was returned to the Fairway Forest Townhouse Association in our letter dated March 11, 2017. The maintenance fees were paid in full through 2017 with the understanding that the week of timeshare would be transitioned to the Association or Diamond Resorts. The Association and Diamond Resorts did nothing except receive the maintenance fees. We were guaranteed as told over the phone, that if the maintenance fees were current then our week would be transitioned. Diamond Resorts failed to live up to their verbal representations. I agreed to pay a fee as I recall of $395.00 for the transfer.

In 2018, I made a return call to Diamond Resorts and they stated that we had to pay the 2018 maintenance fees to be considered for a transition. I refused to pay additional maintenance fees for weeks we would never use. I explained my situation over the phone that fell on deaf ears and received a letter in the mail that our request could not be considered until the maintenance fees were paid in full.

In 2019, we wanted to get our legal affairs in order and again tried to transition the week to Diamond Resorts under our 2017 agreement. Diamond Resorts now wanted another year of maintenance fees paid before they would consider our transition. Diamond Resorts refused to give us written confirmation that if the arrear maintenance fees were paid they would "consider" the transition. We met all of the other conditions of the transition program mainly:

- * The loan has been paid in full in 1993.
- * The title is free and clear.
- * We have no plans or reservations for using our timeshare weeks.

Dialog continued in 2020 in which Jazmonique Ellis has promised a contact to continue my request for a transition. Reference the attached copies of emails for background information. No return contact was ever made by Jaden as of today's date.

The other major concern that I have is the implied threat in Jazmonique Ellis's December 9, 2019 email quoting "Working with a third-party company can affect your Transition request negatively." She made it clear verbally that it included attorney's or third-party representatives who would do the coordination with Diamond Resorts.

Attached is also a copy of my registered letter and received by Diamond Resorts addressed to Jaden Wade dated December 2, 2019. I have not even had the courtesy of a response from Jaden Wade or even heard from him again. Ms. Knapp do you agree that this is Diamond Resorts customer service at its best indicated in your February 3, 2020 letter.

You also very clearly state, and I quote in your second paragraph of your February 3, 2020 letter, "Diamond is not, however obligated to accept a voluntary surrender of Mr. Gish's interest – he remains responsible for his annual maintenance fee obligation." My comeback to this common theme is the only thing that Diamond Resorts wants is paid maintenance fees and not no assurances that they will accept the transitions. There is "Zero consumer protection" from a program that refuses to confirm in writing that the transition program will be honored upon payment of the maintenance fees and that the title is free and clear.

The other concern that I have is that Diamond Resorts Management, Inc. appear to control the Fairway Forest Townhouse Association. My letter dated March 11, 2017 and at least eight or nine other pieces of correspondence to the Association have never been acknowledged or a return response received. I have repeatedly requested a copy of my contract, including asking Ms. Ellis which has never been provided or acknowledged. We were never notified that Fairfield sold or transferred the property to Diamond Resorts. The Fairfield timeshare was purchased in 1986 for $13,609.00 including principal and interest. The title is free and clear since it was paid in full in 1993. The timeshare is worthless and has "Zero Value." Ms. Knapp, you suggest that it be sold or given to a family member. You very well know that it has no value and you can not even give this timeshare away. Why would I want to burden a family member with the liability of inflated annual maintenance fees? The annual maintenance fees exceed the value that Diamond Resorts charges renting the identical unit the identical week at Fairfield. I would certainly give you Ms. Knapp the clear title to the timeshare week at no cost to you. Please let me know by return mail if you would like to accept my offer.

My family situation has changed considerably as I have advised Ms. Ellis. My wife Mary has been diagnosed with stage three ovarian cancer in January 2020. We have limited resources and primarily live on our social security income. As I have previously advised Diamond Resorts, I am taking a Lupron shot for my returning Prostate Cancer, replacement of my right hip, left ankle fused and right ankle has two each four-inch screws up the heel. I have pain with each step I take. I have forwarded to Diamond Resorts copies of the Titanium holding my ankles together and hip replacement and proof of the Lupron shot. Our income is low and we have not paid any federal or state tax in the last several years. We have no use for the timeshare. Attached for your review is a copy of my wife's Stage 3 Ovarian Cancer biopsy. Our future financial resources will be paying medical expenses for numerous tests, medicine, CT's, three chemo treatments, surgery in March then possible additional radiation or chemo.

Our offer of the transition program that we accepted in 2017 still stands. We will transfer ownership of the week to Diamond Resorts at the program cost in 2017 of approximately $395.00 and refuse to pay additional maintenance fees after 2017. We have also received a registered letter from Philip W. Richardson of the Law Firm Eck, Collins and Richardson dated October 10, 2019 demanding arrear maintenance fees and intent to lien. I have not received a response to my rebuttal letter.

This letter will be my final attempt to try to resolve our transition with Diamond Resorts. I am now a full-time care giver for my wife of 62 years.

Very truly yours,

Robert F. Gish

Re: Consumer: Robert Gish

To Whom It May Concern:

This is in response to your letter from the Office of the Florida Attorney General regarding the above-referenced matter. The Diamond Resorts family of companies ("Diamond") values its customers and prides itself on exceptional customer service. Please note that Diamond is committed to investigating all allegations and resolving complaints whenever possible.

Mr. Gish's complaint includes statements about his desire to relinquish his timeshare interest to Diamond. Diamond understands that financial and health circumstances may change for members over time. Diamond is not, however, obligated to accept a voluntary surrender of Mr. Gish's timeshare interest—he remains responsible for his annual maintenance fee obligations

That being said, if Mr. Gish is interested in pursuing Transitions, he will need to adhere to the requirements for surrender through this program, including the $1000 per contract processing fee and that there can be no balance owed on his timeshare interest. There is no obligation for Mr. Gish to go through Transitions to divest himself of his Diamond ownership, and he is welcome to pursue other options, such as selling to another individual or gifting his ownership to family or friends.

However, on a case-by-case basis, Diamond does consider requests to surrender memberships due to financial hardship. If Mr. Gish wishes to submit verifiable documentation of a change in financial circumstances since his purchase that would impact his ability to pay his loan, please send such documentation to assistance@diamondresorts.com.

Sincerely,

Shelbey Knapp

Re: Gish Timeshare
Fairway Forest Resort

Dear Mr. Wade:

This letter will confirm your telephone call to my wife and I on November 15, 2019. In a very lengthy telephone conversation, the following items were discussed and we qualified under the following conditions to return the referenced timeshare week confirmed by you verbally under the following conditions:

1. That we owned the timeshare for over six months.
2. The timeshare was paid in full.
3. The deed was free and clear.
4. The maintenance fees for 2018 and 2019 must be paid in full at an additional cost of the Gish family in the amount of approximately $2000.00. Agreed to extra cost under duress. We verbally protested the additional costs of the maintenance fees for 2018 and 2019 as we made the same arrangements in 2017. We paid the maintenance fees as requested in 2017 but the title was never transferred. You acknowledged our follow up contact in 2018 but indicated that your files had no record of the 2017 arrangements.
5. Not retained an attorney to be involved in the transfer as one of your firm conditions.

In our discussions the basis for the returned timeshare explained by the Gish family included:

1. We have not been able to use the timeshare for several years.
2. We purchased the premium week of timeshare.
3. Limited travel due to our age and physical conditions.
4. Breach of contract by Fairfield.
5. We refused additional costs to transfer our contracted week for the points system.
6. Unable to trade our weeks for other premium weeks even trying years in advance.
7. Diamond Resorts is renting our timeshare week for revenue.
8. The timeshare has zero resale value.
9. Loss of our investment in the amount of $11,800.00

Transferring the title to our children is not a reasonable option as you suggested. The time share has no value as the maintenance fees, RCI fees and transfer fees exceed the reasonable cost for similar accommodations paid by cash for a week.

You told us you would immediately email the paperwork confirmation of the title transfer and send me a written copy of the confirmation in the mail under the Diamond Resorts letterhead. You have our home address on our registered mail and we gave you verbally our email address. We refused to pay the maintenance fees in advance until we received the confirmation in writing.

To date, since our conversation on November 15, 2019 including today's mail some 18 days ago, we have not received an email, letter from you or Diamond Resorts nor a phone call. The email has not been received in our spam folder. What is the status of our verbal agreement and your approval over the phone? We have not received a reply from the Fairway Forest Homeowners Association, lawyer Philip Richardson who is threatening us with legal action for delinquent maintenance fees or Wyndham Resorts from our registered mail to each of them on November 8, 2019.

We do not need the emotional stress that this issue has caused us for the last several years. We want this resolved and placing Diamond Resorts, Wyndham Resorts and Fairway Forest Townhouse Association on notice that we refuse to pay additional maintenance fees for 2020 per copy of this letter to all.

Hello Mr. Gish,

Thank you for your response. I can only provide you with the guidelines of the program. As I stated over our call and all of my email correspondences we can only truly guarantee in writing we will take back your contract once we have performed a title search and we only perform title searches for members who meet the filing conditions.

I do understand where you are coming from, as I explained on our phone call we cannot provide such assurances. We have to follow the program guidelines. If you would like to submit your claim/request to our Hospitality Department for a solution reviewing your account independently. Please let me know.

Dear Ms. Ellis,

Please look at the situation from our shoes. We agreed to the identical arrangement in 2017 as you again proposed in 2019. We paid the maintenance fees in 2017 and Diamond Resorts did not transfer title. The title has been free and clear since it was paid off 20 years ago. Do you expect me as an elderly consumer to put up an additional $1900 without assurances again? We need written assurances not verbal assurances.

Please confirm the following:

In pursuant to our conversation, Diamond Resort guarantees a full surrender of the Gish timeshare with no additional compensation to the Gish family after the title search has been performed and comes up paid in full and clear. The Gish family confirms that they will lose their entire vacation time timeshare investment of over $12,000. The Gish family will be required to pay all delinquent maintenance fees as a condition too the final transition program. There will be no additional maintenance fees for 2020. There are no additional conditions for the transfer. The Gish family has not used the timeshare for several years and all past, current or future vacation weeks can never be used.

It was very clear from our first telephone conversation with your representative that we were told by name "attorney" that we could not hire an attorney as part of the transition program or it would be at additional cost to us. It came across as a subtle threat to us. We took notes of that conversation. My wife and I were both on the phone when the remark was made. You personally have used the term "third party."

I would welcome a telephone call from you on January 2, 2020 as we currently have a household of family members for the Christmas Holidays until after the first of the year. I would rather keep this matter private.

Dear Mr. Gish,

Thank you again for your response. In pursuant to our conversation we cannot guarantee a surrender until a title search has been performed. We perform the Title search only once all the filing conditions have been meet, this would include your past due balance.

I have never advised seeking assistance from a third party attorney would incur additional cost, in fact I cannot advise whom you can and cannot do business with. We have never exercised as a company influencing members regarding whom they wish to do business with via third party. A part of the Transitions Program does confirm if you have/are working with a third party company but this does not cost anything.

I feel as if we are going in circles since communicating via email. If you would like I can arrange time to call you.

We have accepted all of the terms of the timeshare transition program as you personally confirmed over the telephone representing Diamond Resorts. Our title has been clear for nearly 20 years. We have not used the timeshare for the last several years due to age and health issues. We need your written confirmation that the timeshare will be transferred if we pay all past due maintenance fees.

I feel that your verbal representations for Diamond Resorts are unethical and offer no protection for me the consumer. You stated verbally over the phone that if we pay the maintenance fees and the deed comes back free and clear that our timeshare will be transferred to Diamond Resorts. Why won't you confirm that in writing? Why have you also stated that if we get a third party attorney involved we will incur additional costs?

Diamond Resorts made us the identical proposal in 2017 and we paid the maintenance fees. However Diamond Resorts did not transfer the deed. In 2018 we refused to pay additional maintenance fees. We want the transition completed in 2019 and do not agree to pay additional maintenance fees for 2020.

We are requesting that you confirm your verbal approval guarantee in writing to continue our agreement. We are requesting that we receive your confirmation by December 27, 2019 or we will refer your business practices to the Nevada Attorney Generals office or appropriate state agency.

Thank you for your timely response and confirmation of our agreement.

Hello Mr. Gish,

While I appreciate your response and thank you for your time in this matter. We are not able to make any promises regarding the cancellation of your contract until a title search has been performed. In pursuant to our conversation a part of the approval process requires a clear and free title, this can only be confirmed once the title search is complete.

At this time I can only simply reconfirm the conditions of the program.

Please let me know if you have any further questions or concerns.

Thank you,

Dear Ms. Ellis,

Thanks for your time on the phone and response.

This is the same verbal agreement we made in 2017. We paid the maintenance fees in 2017 and the title was not transferred.

We have no assurances from you that if we pay the current maintenance and late fees, that you and Diamond Resorts will approve the transition. We are not comfortable paying the fees without a 100% guarantee that the transition will be approved.

I consider this business practice of no guarantee to be deceptive and not considered reasonable accepted business practices. It does not protect me as a consumer. We need assurances from Diamond Resorts to protect our payment in advance without possible additional conditions and that the timeshare title will be transferred out of our name. We meet all of the conditions you have stated below with the exception of the maintenance fees. We accept your conditions for the transfer in 2019.

Please provide us with written assurances that our payment of maintenance and late fees will guarantee the transition if we meet all the conditions stated in your email below.

Confirming conditions data:

The loan has been paid in full for over 20 years.

Maintenance fees will be paid upon above assurances.

The title is free and clear for over 20 years.

We do not have reservations and not used our weeks for the last several years.

A third party attorney has not been hired.

We are waiting for a written confirmation from Diamond Resorts that a title transfer will be guaranteed prior to making the maintenance fees payment. We are putting Diamond Resorts on notice that we will not pay additional maintenance fees for the calendar year 2020.

Would it be possible to get a copy of our contract with Fairfield mailed to my house?

Thank you.

Robert and Mary Gish

Subject: Transitions Program Conditions | 68-102715

Dear Mr. and Mrs. Gish,

Thank you for taking time to speak with me today. We are sorry to hear that you are wanting to relinquish your membership with us. While we passionately believe in the value of vacations, we also understand that life's circumstances can change. For those who are eligible, Transitions program may offer members and owners a way to relinquish all or part of your vacation ownership, providing you with the opportunity to transition out of vacation ownership.

The following conditions must be met in order to be approved for the Transitions program:

- You must have no existing loan balance or other lien encumbering the vacation ownership
- You must be current on the payment of all maintenance fees up to the year for which you are relinquishing
- You must have a clear and free title to the vacation ownership [title searches are performed after approval and can take up to 90 days]
- All future reservations must be cancelled or traveled on prior to submitting a request

 Working with a third party company can affect your Transitions request negatively.

I have reviewed your account and I do see that you have a balance on your account. Once your account is current feel free to contact us and we will be able to submit your request for you. Your account will be evaluated based on the above filling conditions.

Please let us know if we can assist further.

Just to let you know that we have received no emails from Jaden. It does not surprise me. Diamond Resorts has never intended to transition my timeshare.

You expect me to believe and trust you that if we pay the maintenance fees that Diamond Resorts will accept the transition. You refuse to give me the assurances in writing before the maintenance fees are paid.

Are you looking to utilize Transitions now or seek assistance from Hospitality? Your email may cause confusion. From what I remember you did not want to pay your 2019 fees to qualify for Transitions without a written guarantee, this is still something we are not able to do for you because of the title search.

I will have a new case opened with your case manager I just want to make sure I still understand your concerns.

FAIRFIELD SAPPHIRE VALLEY TIMESHARE OWNERSHIP

FAIRWAY FOREST WEEK 43 UNIT 1346 NOV 8, 1986

ALL,

We purchased a week of timeshare ownership on the 8th of November 1986 some 33 years ago. Over the last several years we have been paying for something we can not use for health issues, age and financial reasons.

We gave the week of timeshare to the Fairway Forest

MY WIFE AND I WERE PRESSURED INTO PURCHASING A TIMESHARE WEEK IN A FOUR HOUR TOUR, PRESENTATION AND TAG TEAM HIGH PRESSURE SALES TACTICS. WE PAID $9,000.00 FOR THE TIMESHARE REQUIRING AN IMMEDIATE $1,800.00 DOWNPAYMENT AND PAYMENTS OF $119.16 PER MONTH FOR SEVEN YEARS. WE PAID $11,809.03 FOR A TIMESHARE WITH A CURRENT VALUE OF "0". WE HAVE ALSO PAID MAINTENANCE FEES FOR 30 YEARS STARTING AT $190.00 PER MONTH IN 1986 TO ESCALATING HIGH NUMBERS.

AS OF THE DATE WE PURCHASED OUR TIMESHARE, FAIRFIELD LOST OVER 17 MILLION DOLLARS IN 1986 WE WERE TOLD BY AN ASSOCIATE FAIRFIELD FILED FOR BANKRUPTCY WITH A BREACH OF CONTRACT. IN ABOUT 1990 WE WERE PRESSURED TO BUY INTO A NEW POINTS SYSTEM WHICH WE REFUSED TO PAY MORE MONEY. THAT LEFT US WITH NO REAL WAY TO EXCHANGE WEEKS TO OTHER RESORTS. WE OFTEN TRIED TO BOOK PEAK WEEKS WITH RCI YEARS IN ADVANCE AND ALWAYS DENIED BECAUSE OUR FLOATING WEEK HAD NO TRADING VALUE.

FAIRFIELD ELIMINATED THE FAIRFIELD EXCHANGE PROGRAM (FAP) ALLOWING EXCHANGES AT NO COST WITHIN THE FAIRFIELD SYSTEM.

THE LAST TIME WE SPENT A WEEK AT OUR OWNED WEEK AT SAPPHIRE VALLEY THE UNIT WAS A MESS. THE FURNITURE WAS WORN, THE UNIT WAS NOT MAINTAINED, MISSING PLATES, GLASSES, SILVERWARE AND THE FRYPAN WAS NOT USABLE, WE NEVER RETURNED AND ONLY USED EXCHANGES WITH RCI.

WE HAVE TRIED TO GIVE THE TIMESHARE BACK TO THE ASSOCIATION. OUR MARCH 11, 2017 LETTER AND OTHER LETTERS TO THE ASSOCIATION HAVE NOT BEEN ANSWERED. OUR JUNE 21, 2009 LETTER TO DIAMOND RESORTS CONTINUE TO BE UNANSWERED. OUR LETTERS RETURNING MAIL HAVE NOT BEEN ANSWERED. WE DID RECEIVE A

RESPONSE TO ONE OF OUR LETTERS FROM JAYSHAWNA SE DIAM¹⁰
ELLIS DATED JUNE 13, 2018. HOWEVER SHE NEVER RESPONDED
TO MY RETURN LETTER TO HER DATED JUNE 20, 2018.

OUR TELEPHONE CALL TO WYNDHAM RESORTS EVATION PROGRAM YIELDED NOTHING, OUR TIME SHARE DID NOT QUALIFY FOR THE PROGRAM. I WAS ON HOLD WAITING FOR AN AGENT A LONG TIME.

OUR TELEPHONE CALL TO PHILIP W. RICHARDSON LEAVING A MESSAGE ON HIS RECORDING MACHINE REMAINS UNANSWERED
BUT DID YIELD HIM SENDING TWO MORE "NOTICE OF INTENT TO LIEN LETTERS" MAILED TO OUR HOUSE. THE LETTERS ARE A "CANNED" LETTER AND PHILIP RICHARDSON DOES NOT KNOW ANY DETAILS ABOUT OUR TIME SHARE, APPARANTLY TOO BUSY TO GIVE A COURTESY CALL BACK TO DISCUSS. (LETTER ATTACHED)

WE HAVE NO INTENTIONS OF PAYING FOR SOMETHING THAT WE CAN NO LONGER USE. WE HAVE OFFERED TO GIVE THE TIMESHARE BACK
BUT NO INTEREST FROM ANYONE. WE HAVE ACCEPTED OUR LOSS
SEVERAL YEARS AGO. WE WILL NOT BE PAYING FOR ANY FEES AFTER OUR 2017 MAINTENANCE FEES. WE DID AGREE TO PAY FOR THE TITLE TRANSFER FEES.

WE WANT A RESOLUTION TO THE RETURN OF THE TIME SHARE.
UNSURE OF OUR RIGHTS AT THIS TIME, WOULD WELCOME AN OPPORTUNITY IN THE COURT SYSTEM TO RESOLVE. OUR OFFER REMAINS. I WOULD BE EXTREMELY DISSAPPOINTED IF ACTION BY WYNDHAM DAMAGED OUR CREDIT HISTORY WHICH HAS TAKEN A LIFETIME TO ESTABLISH AN EXCELLENT CREDIT HISTORY INCLUDING FAIRFIELD.

FOR 33 YEARS WE HAVE ENDURED AND CONTINUE TO ENDURE
THE HIGH PRESSURES OF A QUESTIONABLE TIME SHARE

BUSINESS THAT CONTINUES TO PUSH AND PUSH, SURELY
SOMEONE ADDRESSED ON THIS LETTER WILL HAVE SOME COMPASSION TO FIND A WAY TO TAKE BACK THE TIMESHARE.
ON THIS END WE DO NOT HAVE THE FINANCIAL RESOURCES
TO CONTINUE PAYING AND PAYING FOR SOMETHING WE CAN NOT PHYSICALLY USE. THIS IS NOT SOMETHING WE WOULD EVEN CONSIDER GIVING TO SOMEONE ELSE. ONE
OF YOUR AGENTS TOLD ME THAT YOU ARE USING MY TIME
SHARE WEEK TO RENT BY THE WEEK BRINGING IN
REVENUE TO YOUR COMPANY. WE LOST SEVERAL BANKED
WEEKS WITH RCI ALSO. YOU CONTINUE TO MAKE MONEY.

I AM REQUESTING A WRITTEN REPLY FROM EACH OF
YOU ADDRESSED ON THIS LETTER. I WOULD REALLY LIKE TO KNOW WHY YOU CANT DO IT. I DO NOT NEED YOUR CONTINUAL HARASSMENT WHICH CAUSES A LOT OF ANXIETY.
I WILL KNOW NEXT MONTH ON DECEMBER 7, 2014 IF MY CANCER HAS SPREAD OR THE LUPROD SHOT IS CONTROLLING IT.

I AM ASKING TO LIVE THE REST OF MY LIFE WITH
THE "BEST QUALITY OF LIFE POSSIBLE," WHY DO YOU
CONTINUE TO EXPLOIT THE ELDERLY?

RESPECTFULLY WRITTEN,

Robert F Gish

To Whom It May Concern,

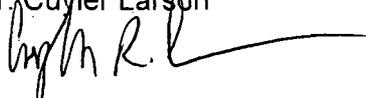

We have received Diamond Resorts' certified letter regarding our Florida Attorney General complaint, and I utterly resent the continuing lies Diamond is telling. I feel that my very character has been attacked by this letter. Erika and I have been in continual contact with Diamond Resorts representatives since 2018 regarding our concerns. These representatives have never even asked for documentation to support our claims, so how would you all know if our claims are true or false?

Also, have you looked online lately? If you take just one glance at any website, you can see from customer posts and complaints that Diamond clearly does not value its customers in the slightest.

If you would like to legitimately review our case, we are more than happy to provide documentation of our correspondence with Diamond representatives and how Erika has had to work two jobs just to pay for the outrageous fees Diamond Resorts has charged us. Denying that your employees have lied or committed wrongs does not clear your company's name of wrongdoing. Instead, it simply shows how no one in your company appears capable of telling the truth.

We are hopeful that Ms. Knapp's insulting letter does not mark the end of our case, as we are still awaiting any form of resolution that will not result in us losing our livelihood. We will await more correspondence and hopefully a more positive response. We would prefer, if possible, to speak by email so that hopefully we can speed up a resolution.

Thank you,
Mr. Cuyler Larson

In the spring of 1996, I, Paul Barker, and my late wife attended a three-and-a-half-hour presentation at the Club Navago Liki Tiki Resort in Orlando and purchased a deeded week timeshare. Over the years, we upgraded several times, and the management of the resort changed many times. Eventually our three-bedroom unit was allocated as 7,500 points. Eventually, Diamond Resorts acquired the Club Navago property, which increased the number of resorts we could visit using Diamond points.

In early December 2016, we visited Branson, Missouri and were informed that we had to attend an owners' update, which was supposed to last an hour. At this update, we were talked into converting our deeded ownership to points and becoming full members of Diamond Resorts. According to the salesperson, being a full member of Diamond would give us priority over the deeded members for scheduling. We were told that the reason a full membership would provide better access was that the number of deeded owners was shrinking and soon they would only be able to schedule and exchange with other deeded owners. Further, we were told that we needed to make the conversion as quickly as possible because there was an expected jump in the price per point that coming January. Also, if we converted our children would not be forced to inherit the timeshare. Based on the information provided by the sales staff, we converted our ownership to points. To facilitate the down payment, we also signed up for a Diamond Rewards Credit Card. At the end of 2016, my wife of forty-two (42) years tragically passed away after a short illness.

In June of 2018, I took my daughter's family and in-laws on a trip back to the Liki Tiki in Orlando. When we arrived at the property, I was told that I needed to attend an owners' update meeting. On June 13, 2018, at 9:00 a.m., I went with my daughter to Mystic Dunes for the presentation. When we arrived, we met Mr. Ray Peters. Mr. Peters informed us that he was a Diamond owner himself and then provided some background information about himself, explaining that he had worked for Diamond Resorts in the past, but now is semi-retired and only works part-time to provide updates to Diamond owners. Mr. Peters reviewed my account and saw that I have been an owner since 1996. Mr. Peters asked about my experience with Diamond over the years, and I told him that I enjoyed vacationing with my family but did not like the high-pressure sales meetings. Mr. Peters disclosed that Diamond Resorts had been taken over by another larger company that specialized in the leisure industry and was determining what improvements needed to be made, and these improvements would begin soon. He said that because of these changes, now was the perfect time for me upgrade to VIP Silver status, and if I bought today, Diamond would give me temporary Gold status for a year, which would also offer me room upgrades.

Mr. Peters discussed the benefits of VIP Silver status and the improvements Diamond will be making to improve the membership experience, as well as several new properties I would be able to reserve with points. Mr. Peters told me that if I became a Silver level member that I would have greater booking priority which would make it easier for me to get reservations, and I would also be able to use points to obtain airline tickets, which would reduce my out-of-pocket costs for vacations. These changes would make the value of the points go up.

Mr. Peters then exclaimed that he had discovered that I had not signed all the proper paperwork during my last upgrade and that he could offer me points at the old price, which significantly less than the current market price, but he had to check with management to make sure he could extend the offer. Mr. Peters claimed that this lower price was massive benefit because the price of points would be going up because of the new ownership. Mr. Peters then left for nearly forty-five (45) minutes and when he returned, he told me that management would honor reduced price of $4.50 per point as opposed to the current price of $9.00 per point. However, this was a one-time offer that was only good that day and this would be my only opportunity to get the deal. Based on the information Mr. Peters conveyed, I thought this offer sounded like a good deal, and since I had the money to pay for it at the time, I agreed. My understanding of the purchase was that it would like me into Silver level membership and give me temporary Gold level membership for a year. I was also under the impression that I was receiving a significant discount on the price per point that I was paying. This low price per point was one of the primary reasons that I agreed to purchase that day, which is the reason that I noted it on the "Tell us more about you" form, which is attached as Exhibit "1".

I bought points over the phone from Diamond several times following this meeting and on each occasion the salesperson misrepresented material information to me in order to induce me to purchase. During this process and following my purchases, I discovered that Mr. Peters had made several misrepresentations to me that I relied upon when making my purchase. First, Mr. Peters told me I would get booking priority as a Silver member, but Diamond's booking policy is on a first come first serve basis so my Silver level membership did not provide booking priority. Second, Mr. Peters advised me that I could get airline tickets using points which would save me money. While I was able to get airline tickets with points, the cost of the airline tickets was more expensive than if I got them from a travel website. Third, Mr. Peters claimed that the value of the points would go up. The amount Diamond charges for points may go up, but points do not increase in value for members. In fact, if you want to get rid of points through Diamond's "Transitions" program which is the only way you can get rid of points that is approved by Diamond you have to pay them to take them back. Lastly, Mr. Peters stressed that I was getting a deal on points at what was apparently a huge discount, this was not true as points were not selling for $9.00 per point. I relied on this information when I purchased and would not have purchased these points had Mr. Peters provided me with accurate information.

1. You received the Collection Instruments and state timeshare disclosure documents and attached exhibits, which are all considered part of this Agreement. You will be bound by, and comply with, the terms of these documents.
2. You received a completed Truth-in-Lending Disclosure Statement before signing this Agreement.
3. All information You submit to Diamond to receive Financing is accurate.
4. You are purchasing the Membership for your personal use and enjoyment. You are not purchasing the Membership as a financial investment or for financial returns of any kind, including through resale, refinancing, tax advantages, or appreciation or depreciation. Diamond has not made any promises about such benefits.
5. Neither You nor your relatives own more than 10 Memberships in the Collection.
6. You may not use the Collection Accommodations for any commercial purpose, including commercial rental activities. Commercial rental activities include using the Internet or other media to advertise rental opportunities.
7. The persons signing this Agreement are legally capable and authorized to do so.

TERMS AND CONDITIONS

1. Timeshare Program. Points are the currency of use in the Collection. Points are allotted annually and allow You to reserve Use Periods in available Collection Accommodations. Your Membership is a perpetual "right-to-use" timeshare interest and does not expire. You will not receive a deed to real property. To use your Points You must make reservations according to the Rules and Regulations, which along with the other Collection Instruments, Diamond has the right to modify. Reservations are granted on a "first-come, first-served," space-available basis. You will not have the guaranteed right to reserve or use any particular Use Period or Collection Accommodation.
2. Maintenance Fees. You must pay Assessments (also known as "Maintenance Fees") annually to the Association for as long as you own your Membership. The amount of the Maintenance Fees will increase annually to maintain the quality of the Collection's resorts. These annual increases are subject to the limits described in the Collection Instruments. If You do not timely pay all Maintenance Fees and any other amounts owed or if You are otherwise in default under the terms of this Agreement, You may be prohibited from making a reservation, using a Collection Accommodation, or exercising any other rights of Membership. Continued failure to pay Maintenance Fees will also result in the loss of your Membership. You must pay Maintenance Fees even if You do not use the Collection Accommodations. Your obligation to pay Maintenance Fees includes the obligation to pay any Special Assessment levied by the Association pursuant to the governing documents. Any applicable state and real estate taxes are included in your annual Maintenance Fees.
3. Transfers and Resale of Membership. You must receive approval from the Association and pay a transfer fee before you sell or transfer your Membership. The Association may deny a transfer of your Membership to another if the buyer is a known or suspected fraudulent Person or is delinquent in the payment of any fees to Diamond or the Association. A transfer fee will apply for approved transfers. Diamond does not currently offer a resale, buyback or rental program. No transfer fee will apply if your Membership passes to an heir or beneficiary upon your death. Diamond does not currently offer a resale, buyback or rental program and does not assist with third party transfers.
4. Exchange Companies. You may voluntarily elect to enroll in The Club exchange program, at which time You are required to pay The Club fees. The Club is operated by Diamond Resorts International Club, Inc. ("DRIC"). Dues for The Club may be collected together with your Maintenance Fees. DRIC must consent to any transfer of membership in The Club. Transfer of your Collection Membership does not transfer your membership in The Club without the written consent of DRIC. The Club is currently affiliated with Interval International, Inc. ("Interval") and as a member of The Club You currently have access to Interval's exchange services. Exchanges through Interval are subject to Interval's conditions and fees. Diamond does not control or make any representations about Interval, or any other exchange programs, including current or future exchange services and the cost, or availability of any exchange program. If You elect not to join The Club, You will not have access to the additional resorts that are or may become affiliated with The Club and with Interval, and will be limited to use of only the component sites included in the Collection.

5. Financing of Purchase Price. Subject to Diamond's approval in Diamond's sole discretion, You may pay for your Membership through credit from Diamond ("Financing"). You must sign and deliver an installment Promissory Note (the "Note") payable to Diamond for the Unpaid Balance. If requesting Financing, You authorize Diamond to check your credit, including through a consumer reporting agency. You may be prohibited from making a reservation or using a Collection Accommodation, or exercising any Membership rights You would otherwise have, unless You timely pay all amounts due under the Note. If You already own a timeshare interest (the "Existing Timeshare Interest") that You acquired from Diamond or an affiliate of Diamond (collectively, "Diamond Resorts"), and Diamond Resorts financed part of the purchase price of the Existing Timeshare Interest, then Diamond may (but does not have to) cause Diamond Resorts to cancel the promissory note made by You to the order of Diamond Resorts when You purchased the Existing Timeshare Interest. If this occurs, then the outstanding principal balance of that promissory note, together with any accrued but unpaid interest that is due on that promissory note, will be added to the original principal amount of the Note, subject to all of the terms of this Section. In addition, if Diamond so requests, You agree to sign and deliver to Diamond, on the date of this Agreement, a declaration of annexation or other similar type of document, by which the Existing Timeshare Interest is subjected to the Declaration (the "Diamond Resorts Annexation Instrument"). Diamond may record this Diamond Resorts Annexation Instrument upon Closing. If your purchase of a Membership does not close for any reason, the Diamond Resorts Annexation Instrument will be returned to You. Whether or not your purchase closes, You will remain responsible for all costs, expenses, and other obligations related to the Existing Timeshare Interest.
6. Third-Party Timeshare. If You relinquish a timeshare interest in another timeshare resort ("Third-Party Timeshare") as partial payment for your Membership, You agree to sign and deliver a deed or other instrument acceptable to Diamond, conveying all of your interest in the Third-Party Timeshare to Diamond or a party designated by Diamond, free and clear of any debt not expressly approved by Diamond ("Deed-transfer"). Diamond may record the Deed-transfer at Closing (described in Section 18 below). Until Closing occurs, You are responsible for all obligations related to the Third-Party Timeshare, including paying assessments and fees ("Third-Party Timeshare Obligations"). If the Closing does not happen, the Deed-transfer will be cancelled and returned to You, and You will remain responsible for the Third-Party Timeshare Obligations.
7. Escrow. All payments made to Diamond before Closing will be held in escrow in a non-interest bearing account by First American Title Insurance Company ("Escrow Agent") according to a Master Escrow Agreement. You expressly waive any right to earn interest on the escrow account. Escrow Agent's address is 400 S. Rampart Boulevard, Suite 290, Las Vegas, Nevada 89145. Escrow Agent will hold all funds until Closing or this Agreement is cancelled.
8. Closing. "Closing" is the date when all of the following have occurred: (i) any cancellation period has expired and You have not exercised your right to cancel in writing; (ii) You and Diamond have signed all documents needed to transfer the Membership to You; and (iii) Diamond has received from You either (a) a signed Note for the Unpaid Balance, or (b) the Unpaid Balance in immediately available funds. You agree to execute any other documents Diamond deems necessary and to otherwise cooperate to effectuate the Closing and fulfill the purposes of this Agreement, the Note, and the Deed-Transfer (as applicable). Upon Closing, the Association will place your name in the Register of Members and give You a Points Certificate. If Closing has not happened within one year after this Agreement is signed or You have exercised your right to cancel this Agreement, Diamond will order Escrow Agent to refund any funds held on your behalf, without interest, to You within 20 days. Cancellation terminates this Agreement in its entirety.
9. Security Interests. You grant to Diamond a security interest and lien on all of your interest and rights in the Membership (the "Security Interest"). This Security Interest is granted to secure your performance under the Note, this Agreement, and the Collection Instruments. You irrevocably authorize Diamond, as a secured party, to file any financing statement, continuations, or amendments necessary or desirable to perfect, preserve, and protect the Security Interest.
10. Jointly and Severally Liable. If two or more individuals purchase a Membership together, then ownership is as joint tenants with rights of survivorship, and not as tenants-in-common. Everyone who purchases a Membership must keep all of the obligations made in this Agreement. Diamond can enforce its rights against each purchaser separately.
11. Diamond's Obligations. You agree that immediately after Closing, Diamond will have no obligations or liabilities under this Agreement. After Closing, You must look to the Association and the Manager to fulfill or maintain your rights as a Member of the Collection.
12. Indemnity. You agree to indemnify and hold Diamond harmless from and against all loss, threat of loss, suits, claims, actions, liabilities, damages, obligations, demands, costs and expenses (including attorney's fees) connected to You defaulting in any of the obligations of this Agreement, the Note, or the Collection Instruments.
13. NO WARRANTIES. DIAMOND MAKES NO WARRANTIES, EXPRESS OR IMPLIED, OF ANY TYPE WHATSOEVER REGARDING THE COLLECTION OR THE COLLECTION ACCOMMODATIONS, INCLUDING BUT NOT LIMITED TO WARRANTIES OF HABITABILITY, MERCHANTABILITY, OR FITNESS FOR A PARTICULAR PURPOSE. DIAMOND EXPRESSLY DISCLAIMS, AND YOU IRREVOCABLY WAIVE, EACH OF THE FOREGOING WARRANTIES.

14. Default by You.

14.1 Event of Default. You are in default if any of these things happen:

- (i) You do not pay Diamond any amounts due under this Agreement, the Note or the Collection Instruments and You do not cure this failure within 10 days after You receive written notice of nonpayment.
- (ii) You do not fulfill any other obligation in the Note, this Agreement or any of the Collection Instruments and You do not cure this failure within 30 days after You receive written notice about your failure; or
- (iii) any information You have provided in the Note, this Agreement or any written statement given to Diamond or the Association is false or misleading.

14.2 Your Default before Closing. If You default prior to Closing and do not cure such default on or before Closing, Diamond can immediately terminate this Agreement and all of your rights in this Agreement. After termination, Diamond will keep (or cause Escrow Agent to give to Diamond) all money You paid under this Agreement as liquidated damages and not as a penalty.

14.3 Your Default after Closing. If You default after Closing and do not cure the default within the applicable time period, Diamond (or its successor or assign) may

- (i) give you written notice that your Membership will be terminated and then terminate your Membership; (including any existing reservations) within 60 days of the date of the notice and keep all amounts paid as liquidated damages and not as a penalty;
- (ii) declare all amounts due under the Note and this Agreement immediately due and payable;
- (iii) enforce the Security Interest against your Membership according to Article 9 of the UCC and applicable law; and
- (iv) pursue any other remedy available. Diamond may pursue any or all of these remedies; the exercise of one right or remedy does not exclude any other rights or remedies available.

15. Default by Diamond. If Diamond does not comply with the material provisions of this Agreement, then Diamond's only obligation is to refund or cause Escrow Agent to refund to You all payments previously made under this Agreement, without interest. After such refund is made, this Agreement is automatically cancelled, and all rights and obligations in this Agreement immediately terminate. TO THE EXTENT PERMITTED BY APPLICABLE LAW, YOU WAIVE ALL RIGHTS AND REMEDIES THAT MIGHT OTHERWISE BE AVAILABLE TO YOU, AT LAW OR IN EQUITY.

16. ARBITRATION PROVISION ("Provision").

16.1 Arbitration of Claims. Any Claim (defined in Section 16.2 below) between You and Diamond, whether preexisting, present or future, arising from or relating to this Agreement or the Collection shall, at the election of either party, be arbitrated on an individual basis before JAMS (www.jamsadr.com, 1-800-352-5267) pursuant to its Streamlined Rules. If JAMS cannot serve and the parties cannot agree on a substitute, the American Arbitration Association ("AAA," www.adr.org) shall serve as the arbitration body for the Claim. If the AAA cannot serve, a court with jurisdiction shall select the arbitration body or arbitrator. The Federal Arbitration Act ("FAA"), 9 U.S.C. § 1, et seq., shall govern the interpretation and enforcement of this Provision. A single neutral arbitrator shall be appointed. The arbitrator shall follow applicable substantive law consistent with the FAA, apply applicable statutes of limitations, honor valid claims of privilege, and issue a written reasoned decision which will be final and binding except for any review under the FAA. The arbitrator may award all remedies that would apply in an individual court action (subject to constitutional limits that would apply in court). Any in-person hearing will be held in the county where this Agreement was signed, unless otherwise agreed. If You initiate an individual arbitration, Diamond will pay all administrative and arbitrator fees exceeding $250. Solely for purposes of this Provision, "Diamond" also means Diamond's parent companies, subsidiaries and affiliates; the officers and directors of Diamond and its parent companies, subsidiaries and affiliates; and any other person or entity named as a defendant or respondent in a Claim by You against Diamond. "You" also means your heirs, successors and assigns.

16.2 Claims. "Claim" shall be broadly construed and includes, without limitation, disputes concerning: purchase, financing, ownership or occupancy; breach, termination, cancellation or default; condition of any Collection Accommodation; The Club or other exchange programs; reservations, points or rewards programs; applications and personal information; marketing or sales solicitations, representations, advertisements, promotions or disclosures; and collection of delinquent amounts and the manner of collection. "Claim" also includes disputes based upon contract, tort, consumer rights, fraud and other intentional torts, constitution, statute, Uniform Commercial Code, regulation, ordinance, common law and equity. "Claim" does not include: (i) disputes about the validity, enforceability, coverage or scope of this Provision or any part thereof, which are for a court to decide, provided that disputes about the validity or enforceability of this Agreement as a whole are for the arbitrator to decide; (ii) any individual action by You in small claims or an equivalent court, unless that action is transferred, removed or appealed to a different court; or (iii) Diamond's use of judicial or non-judicial relief to enforce a security agreement, relating to the Membership. The institution and maintenance of any such action shall not waive any party's right to compel arbitration of any other Claim subject to arbitration, including, without limitation, the filing of a counterclaim in a suit brought by Diamond. In any such action commenced by Diamond,

You may assert any cognizable defense permitted by applicable law which does not seek any form of affirmative relief from Diamond, including, without limitation, damages.

16.3 Class Action Waiver. If a Claim is arbitrated, neither You nor Diamond will have the right to (i) participate in a class action in court or in arbitration, either as a class representative or class member, (ii) act as a private attorney general in court or in arbitration, or (iii) join or consolidate Claim(s) with claims of any other person or entity. The arbitrator shall have no authority to conduct any class, private attorney general or multiple-party proceeding or to issue any relief that applies to any person or entity except You and Diamond individually.

16.4 Application of the Provision. An arbitration award may be enforced in any court with jurisdiction. This Provision shall survive the breach, cancellation, termination or rescission of this Agreement, and any bankruptcy to the extent permitted by law. This Provision governs if it conflicts with the Agreement or the arbitration rules. If any part of this Provision is declared unenforceable, the remainder shall be enforceable, except that: (A) If the Class Action Waiver is declared unenforceable in a proceeding between You and Diamond, without impairing the right to appeal such decision, this entire Provision (except for this sentence) shall be null and void in such proceeding; and (B) If a Claim is brought seeking public injunctive relief and a court determines that the restrictions in Section 16.3 prohibiting the arbitrator from awarding relief on behalf of third parties are unenforceable with respect to such Claim (and that determination becomes final after all appeals have been exhausted), the Claim for public injunctive relief will be determined in court and any individual Claims seeking monetary relief will be arbitrated. In such a case the parties will request that the court stay the Claim for public injunctive relief until the arbitration award pertaining to individual relief has been entered in court. In no event will a Claim for public injunctive relief be arbitrated.

16.5 Right to Reject Arbitration Provision. You may reject this Provision by sending Diamond a written notice which gives your name and Agreement number with a statement that You reject the Arbitration Provision. The rejection notice must be sent by certified mail, return receipt requested, to 10600 West Charleston Blvd., Las Vegas, Nevada 89135, Attn: Arbitration Rejection Notice. A rejection notice must be signed by You and received by Diamond within thirty (30) days after You sign this Agreement. Rejection of arbitration will not affect any other term of this Agreement.

16.6 Your Acknowledgement. You have read, understand and voluntarily agree to this Arbitration Provision and acknowledge that if a Claim is arbitrated, You will have no right to have a court or jury trial or participate in a class action.

17. Additional Important Information.

No Other Agreements	This Agreement is the only agreement that governs the purchase of your Membership, and supersedes and replaces all prior negotiations, agreements, and understandings, both oral and written. No amendment to or modification of this Agreement is valid without the written approval of Diamond's legal counsel.
Notices	You must give all notices in writing. Notices to You may be made either in person, by telephone, electronic mail, or writing. Written notices may be delivered, emailed or mailed, to each party at its address shown in this Agreement, or other address provided. A written notice is considered given and received when delivered, or emailed, or 3 business days after it is deposited into the mail, properly addressed. If multiple individuals own this Membership, notice to one of You is considered notice to all of You. If You are a corporation or entity, notice to You may be made to any corporate officer or general partner.
Governing Law; Waiver of Jury Trial	This Agreement is governed by Nevada law without regard to Nevada's choice of law rules. You must bring any legal action in an appropriate court of competent jurisdiction. EXCEPT AS OTHERWISE PROVIDED BY APPLICABLE LAW, YOU WAIVE YOUR RIGHT TO A TRIAL BY JURY FOR A LEGAL ACTION ARISING UNDER THIS AGREEMENT.
Assignment	Your Membership cannot be sold, assigned, transferred, conveyed, or encumbered except as this Agreement allows. You cannot assign your rights under this Agreement and Note without Diamond's written consent, which Diamond may withhold. Diamond may assign its rights under this Agreement.
Severability	The terms of this Agreement are severable. The invalidity of any term of this Agreement does not affect any other term of this Agreement.

Miscellaneous	This Agreement is effective as of the date You sign and any cancellation period begins on the date you sign. This Agreement may be signed in counterparts. No provision is waived by failure of a party to enforce it. You give Diamond the right to correct any clerical or other non-material errors in this Agreement or related documents. The captions in this Agreement are for informational purposes only. You are advised to read each and every paragraph carefully and not just the captions.

Execution may be completed in counterparts (including both counterparts that are executed on paper and counterparts that are electronic records and executed electronically), which together constitute a single agreement. As between You and Diamond, any copy of this Agreement (including a copy printed from an image of this Agreement that has been stored electronically) shall have the same legal effect as an original.

18.2 Transferable Record. Collectively, any document or instrument uploaded to the Original Vault shall be referred to as a "Vaulted Document." For purposes of establishing security interests or rights in, or title to, any Vaulted Document, You and Diamond agree as follows

- (a) no original, tangible, or manually executed Vaulted Document will be the authoritative copy, original, or transferable record of the Vaulted Document;
- (b) except as expressly provided in subsection (e) below, possession of a tangible, manually executed original, transferable record or copy of the Vaulted Document will not perfect or prove any security interest, or establish title to or any other right;
- (c) the sole authoritative copy and transferable record of any Vaulted Document will be the one uploaded into the Original Vault (the "Authoritative Copy");
- (d) at Diamond's or its successor's discretion, the Authoritative Copy of any Vaulted Document may be printed and marked or designated by Diamond or such successor as the tangible Authoritative Copy of the Vaulted Document; and
- (e) no person or entity (including, without limitation, any lender, subsequent assignee or purchaser, custodian or trustee of any Vaulted Document) will have rights in, title to or a security interest in such Vaulted Document, unless such person or entity can demonstrate that it has possession or control of the Authoritative Copy of the Vaulted Document (whether in tangible or electronic form) whose provenance can be established to the initial authoritative copy first uploaded to the Original Vault.

PROMISSORY NOTE

This Promissory Note ("Note") is given in connection with that certain Purchase and Security Agreement of even date herewith between the undersigned, PAUL G BARKER (hereinafter, whether one or more, referred to as "Maker"), whose address is 1908 Cypress Wood Drive Baker, Louisiana 70714, and Diamond Resorts U.S. Collection Development, LLC, a Delaware limited liability company ("Diamond Resorts"), whose address and principal place of business is c/o Customer Service, Diamond Resorts Financial Services, Inc., 10600 West Charleston Boulevard, Las Vegas, Nevada 89135 (the "Agreement"). This Note will become effective upon the lapse of the cancellation period provided in the Agreement (provided that Maker does not exercise Maker's cancellation right) or, if later, the Closing described in the Agreement (the "Effective Date").

FOR VALUE RECEIVED, Maker promises to pay to the order of Diamond Resorts and any successor or assign thereof, including, without limitation, any subsequent holder hereof ("Holder"), at the address for Diamond Resorts set forth above or at such other place as Holder may from time to time designate in writing, in lawful money of the United States, the principal amount of Twenty-One Thousand Five Hundred Seventy and 00/100 ($21,570.00), together with a monthly collection fee of Six ($6.00) and a monthly finance charge computed in the manner set forth below at a fixed annual rate of Eleven and 99/100 (11.99%) (the "Annual Rate"). As set forth in the Truth in Lending Disclosure Statement provided to you, both the collection fee and the monthly finance charge are treated as finance charges, included in the computation of the Annual Percentage Rate, under the federal Truth in Lending Act. Maker shall pay Holder in 120 equal monthly installments of Three Hundred Nine and 34/100 Dollars ($309.34) each, with the first such installment being due and payable on _____ (the "First Payment Date"), and a like installment to be due and payable on or before the same day of each calendar month thereafter (the "Payment Date"). (Notwithstanding the foregoing: (1) if the First Payment Date is in the last three days of a calendar month and there is no day in a particular calendar month that corresponds to the First Payment Date, the Payment Date for such calendar month will be the first day of the subsequent month; and (2) if any Payment Date falls on a day that is not a business day, the Payment Date will be the next business day thereafter.) On the final Payment Date _____ (the "Maturity Date"), the entire principal balance due hereunder, together with any finance charges and other fees and charges, shall be immediately due and payable. Time is of the essence with respect to all of Maker's obligations hereunder.

If Maker has separately agreed to the terms of Holder's "SurePay Plan," an automatic payment plan whereby scheduled monthly payments of principal and interest payments on this Promissory Note and the collection fee are automatically deducted from Maker's bank account on each Payment Date, then immediately upon the occurrence of any of the following described events, Maker's participation in the SurePay Plan will terminate: (i) at any time prior to the Maturity Date, Maker elects to terminate his or her participation in the SurePay Plan; (ii) Maker closes the designated bank account; or (iii) on more than one occasion, a SurePay payment is not made when due for any reason (including Maker's failure to maintain a sufficient balance in the designated bank account to cover any required payment). In such event, the Interest Rate shall increase by Two percent (2%) per annum and the monthly payment will increase to the level sufficient to repay all principal, interest and collection fees by the Maturity Date through equal monthly payments on each Payment Date. The increase in the Interest Rate shall be effective retroactively to the date of the last payment made under the SurePay Plan, and the increase in payment amount shall apply to the next payment due after the last such SurePay payment.

Each monthly installment shall be applied first to late charges, then to the collection fee, then to monthly finance charges and finally to unpaid principal. Each month, the monthly finance charge will be based on the scheduled principal balance (regardless of exactly when payments are actually received) and a monthly rate of finance charge equal to the Annual Rate divided by twelve (12). Maker may prepay the outstanding principal balance hereof, in whole or in part, at any time without premium or penalty. However, partial prepayments will not reduce finance charges and will not postpone the due date of any subsequent monthly installments or change the amount of such installments unless Holder otherwise agrees in writing. In the event this Note is prepaid in full, Holder will charge a monthly finance charge for that month equal to the scheduled principal balance at the beginning of the month, times the Annual Rate, times a fraction equal to the number of days from the immediately preceding Payment Date through the date of prepayment divided by the number of days in the year. Holder will not charge any collection fee for the month of prepayment and Holder will not charge any collection fees and monthly finance charges attributable to months following any prepayment in full.

This Promissory Note is given in partial payment for a membership in the Diamond Resorts U.S. Collection (the "Membership"). Payment of principal, finance charges and other charges hereunder is secured by a security interest established under the Purchase and Security Agreement (the "Agreement") of even date herewith by and between Diamond Resorts, as seller, and Maker, as purchaser. The terms and provisions of the Agreement are hereby fully incorporated herein by this reference.

If all or any part of the Membership or an interest therein is sold or otherwise transferred by Maker (whether such interest is legal or equitable, present or future, vested or contingent) without Holder's prior written consent (which consent may be withheld for any reason whatsoever), excluding (i) the creation of a lien or encumbrance subordinate to the Agreement; (ii) a transfer by devise, descent, or operation of law upon the death of a joint tenant; or (iii) the grant of any leasehold interest of one (1) week or less not containing an option to purchase the Membership, then Holder may, at Holder's option, except to the extent prohibited by law, declare all of the amounts secured by the Agreement to be immediately due and payable.

Upon the failure of Maker to make any payment required under this Promissory Note in accordance with the terms hereof or Maker's breach of any of the other covenants or agreements contained herein or in the Agreement, then and in such event, Holder, at Holder's option, subject to any right of reinstatement to which Maker is entitled under applicable law, may (i) declare, without further demand, all of the amounts owed hereunder to be immediately due and payable; and (ii) pursue all rights and remedies available to Holder under this Promissory Note and the Agreement by appropriate proceedings. To the extent permitted by law, Holder shall be entitled to collect in such proceedings all expenses of enforcement, including but not limited to reasonable attorneys' fees, publication costs, costs of judgment and other searches, and court costs. Failure of Holder to exercise its available rights and remedies hereunder or as provided by law with respect to any default by Maker shall not be deemed to constitute a waiver of such rights or remedies with respect to any subsequent default, whether the same or different in nature.

In the event that any amount due under this Promissory Note is paid more than ten (10) days after the date upon which such amount is due, then Holder shall be entitled to collect a late charge from Maker in an amount equal to the lesser of (i) Twenty-Five Dollars ($25.00) or (ii) ten percent (10%) of the overdue installment, provided that such amount does not exceed the maximum late charge permitted to be charged under the laws of the State of Nevada. To the extent permitted by law, Maker shall further be liable to Holder for any out-of-pocket costs incurred by Holder in the event that a check issued by Maker is dishonored for any reason.

During any time in which Maker is in default under this Promissory Note, finance charges may, at Holder's option, accrue on the actual outstanding balance on a simple interest basis at a default rate equal to the maximum lawful rate permitted to be charged by Holder under the laws of the State of Nevada. In the event that there is no such maximum lawful rate, then finance charges shall accrue on the actual outstanding balance on a simple interest basis during such period at a default rate of twenty-five percent (25%) per annum.

In the event that counsel is employed to collect all or any part of the indebtedness evidenced hereby, whether at maturity or following acceleration, to the extent permitted by law Maker agrees to pay Holder's reasonable attorneys' fees, whether suit be brought or not (including any fees associated with appeals or bankruptcy proceedings), and all other costs and expenses reasonably incurred in connection with Holder's collection efforts.

Maker and any endorser, guarantor, or surety, jointly and severally, hereby waive presentment, protest, demand, notice of protest, and dishonor of this Promissory Note, and expressly agree that this Promissory Note, or any payment hereunder, may be extended from time to time without in any way affecting the liability of Maker or any endorser, guarantor, or surety hereof. To the extent not prohibited by applicable law, Maker also waives any rights to any stay of execution and the benefit of all homestead and/or other exemption laws now or hereafter in effect.

This Promissory Note shall be the joint and several obligation of each person signing below and shall apply to and bind each of them and each of their respective heirs, successors, personal representatives, and assigns.

The validity, construction, and enforceability of, and the rights and obligations of Maker and Holder under, this Promissory Note shall be governed by, construed, and enforced in accordance with the laws of the State of Nevada.

In the event that any one or more of the provisions of this Promissory Note shall for any reason be held to be invalid or unenforceable, in whole or in part or in any respect, then such provision or provisions only shall be disregarded as though not contained herein and shall not affect any other provision of this Promissory Note, and the remaining provisions of this Promissory Note shall remain operative and in full force and effect and shall in no way be affected, prejudiced, or disturbed thereby.

It is the intent of Holder to comply fully with all interest and usury laws of the State of Nevada, as currently enacted or hereafter in effect. Notwithstanding any provision hereof to the contrary, in no event shall this Promissory Note require the payment or permit the collection of interest in excess of the maximum amount of interest permitted under the laws of the State of Nevada. In the event that the amount of interest contracted for, charged, or received under this Promissory Note exceeds the maximum amount of interest permitted under the laws of the State of Nevada, then the provisions of this paragraph shall govern and control, and neither

Maker nor any other person or entity now or hereafter liable for the payment hereof shall be obligated to pay the amount of such interest to the extent that it exceeds the maximum amount of interest permitted under the laws of the State of Nevada. Any such excess interest which may have been collected by Holder shall, at the option of Holder, either be applied as a credit against the unpaid principal balance hereof or be refunded to Maker, and the effective rate of interest shall be reduced to the maximum rate of interest permitted to be charged under the laws of the State of Nevada.

Except for any notice required under applicable law to be given in another manner, any notice that either party desires or is required to give the other party under this Promissory Note shall be in writing and shall be deemed to have been duly given upon the earlier to occur of (a) its actual receipt; (b) three (3) business days after being deposited in the United States mail as first class mail, postage prepaid; or (c) one (1) business day after being sent via overnight courier service such as Federal Express, addressed to the applicable party at the address therefor stated herein or at such other address as the receiving party has previously notified the giving party in the manner prescribed in this paragraph. If Maker consists of more than one (1) person, then notice to any of them shall be deemed to constitute notice to all of them.

ANY HOLDER OF THIS CONSUMER CREDIT CONTRACT IS SUBJECT TO ALL CLAIMS AND DEFENSES WHICH THE DEBTOR COULD ASSERT AGAINST THE SELLER OF GOODS OR SERVICES OBTAINED PURSUANT HERETO OR WITH THE PROCEEDS HEREOF. RECOVERY HEREUNDER BY THE DEBTOR SHALL NOT EXCEED AMOUNTS PAID BY THE DEBTOR HEREUNDER.

Diamond Resorts U.S. Collection—FL

PURCHASER'S UNDERSTANDING AND ACKNOWLEDGMENT (Florida)

Diamond Resorts® thanks you and welcomes you to one of the most flexible and enjoyable vacation plans in the world! Please review and initial the following summary items. Capitalized terms are defined in your Purchase Agreement. We look forward to exceeding your expectations.

I understand and acknowledge the following:

- 1. PAB Membership. This purchase is for 7500 Points for the purchase price of $26,025.00
2. PAB Points. Title to the Resort Interests is held in the U.S. Collection Trust by an independent Trustee for the benefit of the Members. In approximately 6-8 weeks a Collection Membership Certificate with an Eagle 9 UCC Vacation Interest Insurance policy will be mailed to my home and my Points will be available at that time or at the beginning of my first Use Year on 2018.
3. PAB Annual Fees. I may choose to enroll in The Club® exchange program. My Club Dues are billed annually along with my Maintenance Fees. My first year's Maintenance Fees and Club Dues are estimated to be 1,273.00, and are subject to annual increases not to exceed 25% per year under governing law. My Maintenance Fees must be current to make reservations. The purchase of additional Points will not decrease my Maintenance Fees. If my Points are available during the current calendar year, my Maintenance Fees will be billed within 45 days. Otherwise, my Maintenance Fees will be billed in the fourth quarter of every year.
4. PAB Saving and Borrowing Points. I must be current on all payments to make reservations and use save, borrow, or exchange my Points. I must pay the Maintenance Fees for the upcoming Use Year to borrow Points. Points do not roll over to the next year and they will expire on December 31st unless I save them. I can save a percentage of Points for use in the following year according to this schedule:

Table with 2 columns: 'If I save by this date:' and 'I can save the following Points:'. Rows include dates: June 30, August 31, October 31, After October 31 and corresponding point percentages: 100%, 50%, 25%, None.

- 5. PAB Reservations. I may make a reservation up to 13 months before check-in at any of my Home Collection Resorts. I may make a reservation up to 10 months before check-in at any of The Club affiliated resorts. All reservations for the Collection and The Club are confirmed on a first-come, first-served, space-available basis. Reservations at specific accommodations are not guaranteed. I will lose some or all of my Points used to make a reservation if I cancel that reservation fewer than 91 days before my scheduled arrival date unless I purchase a Reservation Protection Plan at the time of booking.
6. PAB Personal Use. This purchase is for personal use and enjoyment and it does not create an undue financial burden for me. I am not purchasing a Membership as a financial investment or for financial returns of any kind, including through resale, rental, or tax advantages. Diamond does not offer a rental, resale or buyback program and makes no representation regarding tax deductions, refinancing opportunities, or that there will be a secondary market for the sale of Points. Points do not typically appreciate in value. I may not engage in any commercial rental activities to rent out Points for cash through online or print advertising to the general public and understand that my membership may be suspended or terminated if I do.
7. PAB Transferring Membership. In the event I transfer my membership, the Association may deny a transfer if the buyer is a known or suspected fraudulent entity or person or is delinquent in the payment of any fees. A transfer fee of $250 will apply for approved transfers. My Membership is perpetual.

ASB I understand The Club® Annual Global Reservations Directory is available online at DiamondResorts.com and it contains all of the points values for every resort within The Club. I also understand that the average points value for a one-week stay within my Collection is approximately: 4,000 for a studio; 5,500 for a one-bedroom; 7,500 for a two-bedroom; and 8,500 for a three-bedroom.

ASB I understand for some resorts, when there is availability 59 days or less prior to arrival, then the standard check-in day weekly points values are discounted by 50%. Discounted offers are subject to change as demand dictates and may not apply to the same resorts each month. For short stay points values, a 50% discount will apply to all reservations made within 30 days of arrival. These reservations offer exceptional value for those with flexible travel plans and are offered on a first-come, first-served basis and are subject to availability. Holiday, summer and other highly demanded weeks/resorts are not typically available.

ASB You will be billed annually for your Club dues and Association maintenance fees. You must be current on all of your Club dues and fees to use the system. The maintenance fee on this purchase of Collection Points is approximately $ 1,273 this year and is subject to change each subsequent year. You will receive your new maintenance fee invoice in approximately 45 days. You will still be responsible for any maintenance fee(s) on any other property you may own outside of this purchase.

ASB I understand the minimum number of points required for each Loyalty level is:
Silver – 15,000 points; Gold – 30,000 points; Platinum – 50,000 points. There are no other Loyalty levels in The Club.

ASB ONLY Platinum members can redeem up to 50,000 points to pay part of their annual maintenance fees, but that does not represent the best use of points. There is a $100 transaction fee and the redemption value is currently $0.04 per point. Borrowed or saved points cannot be redeemed to offset the cost of maintenance fees, and points must be redeemed between November 1 and December 31 for the following year's payment.

ASB I understand that if I elect to use my points for reimbursement for Travel Services, the following rules apply:

1. Points redemption values are $0.07 per point for Standard members, $0.08 for Silver members for up to 20% of the cost of the service booked.
2. Points redemption values are $0.09 for Gold members and $0.10 for Platinum members for up to 100% of the cost of the service booked.
3. There is a $47 transaction fee, discounted for Loyalty members, which is subject to change.

ASB Diamond Dream Holiday Bonus Points cannot be redeemed for Member Benefits; only points that have been purchased may be used for Member Benefits. Bonus points are available 10 months before check-in and do not qualify for the 13-month Home Collection Advantage.

ASB I understand The Club offers a valuable cruise, hotel and shopping benefit that allows a member to cover 20 percent of the cost of cruise, hotel and shopping benefits that are part of the Diamond Luxury Program at 20 cents per point for Standard and Silver members. Gold and Platinum members can cover 30 percent of the cost for up to 30 cents per point. I also understand that when using these cruise, hotel, and shopping benefits, the points will automatically be redeemed against the purchase price and that no money will be sent to me.

ASB I understand that my membership is perpetual and can be passed on to my heirs, if my heirs elect to receive my membership, but there is no obligation for them to accept the membership.

ASB I am purchasing this for personal use and enjoyment and it does not create an undue financial burden for me. I am not purchasing a membership as a financial investment or for financial returns of any kind, including through resale, rental, or tax advantages. Diamond Resorts does not offer a resale or buyback program and makes no representation regarding tax deductions, refinancing opportunities, or that there will be a secondary market for the sale of points. Points do not typically appreciate in value. I may not engage in any commercial rental activities to rent out points for cash through online or print advertising to the general public and understand that my membership may be suspended or terminated if I do.

ASB I have been given as much time as I want and need to review all of the documents provided to me by my Vacation Counselor and I acknowledge that I have been given the opportunity to ask my Vacation Counselor any questions I may have.

SALES FRAUD:

Diamond Resorts U.S. Collection Development, LLC

RE: SALE IN ORLANDO FOR Contract number 18060473B

To whom it concerns:

Since your division has the authority to attempt mediation in a mutually accepted settlement I am reaching out for your formal assistance. I am writing as consumer who have been defrauded by DIAMOND RESORTS. I have tried numerous times to amicably resolve my current issues with this company. I have a declaration of facts I sent to them, and several letters trying to negotiate for assistance.

I have explained to the Corporate office's that this request to cancel is not due to my change of mind, it's risen out of the fact that my ownership benefits are nothing like the plan I was verbally explained when I was led to buy the timeshare.

There is a plethora of complaints about DIAMONDS sales tactics on the web. It's clear that these types of unethical practices go on often within this company. I ask that my case to be analyzed, and for the protection of future owners DIAMOND RESORTS needs to be investigated and audited. Please see the letter that accompanies this, as it shows what I sent to them, and covers the history behind this.

I ask that you reply to me within 30 days.

Contract number 18060473B

To whom it concerns:

Taking advantage of the elderly for company profit is considered elder financial abuse. The fact I was intentionally targeted and lured into a sales presentation and then pushed into buying a timeshare contract I do not need or want and cannot afford is proof of this allegation. Therefore, I am demanding to cancel contract number 18060473B and receive a full refund of all monies paid. The following information contained in this letter will act as evidence Diamond Resorts is a willing participant in unconscionable, deceptive and unfair business practices against the elderly.

In addition, due to the seriousness of these allegations I am requesting further communications be strictly done in writing only. I want a dated copy of contact for my records. Phone calls will no longer be accepted or tolerated before a resolution has been determined.

It should be noted right away I was 74 years old and living on limited financial resources at the time of this purchase. That being said, while on vacation in Orlando with my family last July we stayed at the Orbit One Resort for the week of July 21 through July 28. Upon our arrival, we were directed to the concierge desk to pick up discount coupons and entertainment tickets. There was also detailed information regarding a mandatory 90-minute Diamond Resort sales presentation which was scheduled for the morning of July 23, 2019.

On the day of the presentation we were picked up and transported by shuttle to Mystic Dunes Resort for the sales presentation. According to the contract, our sales representative was Derik Alers Blanco. He was very personable and engaging while he took us on a tour of the facilities and showed us much of the premises, including beautiful buildings, condos, and the club house my family and I would have access to as owners of Diamond Resorts. Once we returned to the assembly room, Mr. Blanco's demeanor changed immediately when I told him of having no interest in purchasing because I already owned a timeshare. It didn't seem to deter him in any way and he started pressing me for answers to questions regarding my travel habits as well as how much I spend on a vacations. I did answer all his questions truthfully, but still wasn't interested mainly because of other bills that were a priority. Despite this setback, Mr. Blanco began writing numbers on a piece of paper I wasn't allowed to keep which showed significant savings if I purchased a Diamond Resort timeshare. In addition, he told me it could be passed on to family members to enjoy at no additional cost. I'd heard this before and found out it wasn't true, so I told him again I wasn't interested.

At this point, Mr. Blanco excused himself to confer with his manager, who according to the paperwork was Robert Gonzalez. I was getting very fatigued because this supposed 90-minute presentation was now hours old when he returned to the table with Mr. Gonzalez. He offered to take my Vacation Village timeshare in trade, but I said no. He then offered to pay my maintenance fees for a year and gave me a purchase price I couldn't refuse. In addition, my points could be rolled over at no additional cost and Interval International was included in the purchase price. Finally, he said he could enroll me in a program that would give me additional points equivalent to the value of my Vacation Village timeshare to be used for vacations if needed.

The signing process was a blur of paperwork done electronically without the slightest explanation about anything. I was kept for six grueling hours and now they couldn't get me out the door fast enough. Finally, this whirlwind of confusion ended and they took me back to where I was staying at the Orbit One Resort. After a few days I began to feel uneasy that I'd agreed because of all the insistent pressure without clear explanation of what I purchased. I remember thinking my buyer's remorse period was probably only three days and it had passed, when in fact I found out later it was ten days in the state of Florida. This was cleverly omitted in any conversations throughout this six hour ordeal. However, the worst was yet to come.

I did know the "Club Combination Program" was only a registration with Diamond simply giving me usage of point's equivalent to my timeshare's fair market value. I did not know I would have to pay fees to Diamond for the privilege of this option, even if I never used it, and I would still owe maintenance fees to Vacation Village. As a result, the overall cost of the timeshare was much higher than original perceived. This was a complete shock and it dawned on me Mr. Gonzales had taken advantage of my age to fraudulently promote this program.

In addition, I have no recollection of giving SurePay authorization to charge my checking account for maintenance fees in September and October of this year. When I called Diamond and asked for an explanation, they told me "It was done as a convenience for me that saved me from later paying a year end fee." I then found a page buried in the other documents that apparently gave Diamond authorization to charge the fees. This form was never explained and was lumped in with everything else I was told to sign without explanation. The point is it was done without known authorization and considered an "unauthorized debit." Furthermore, I was led to believe I would be receiving full credit for the first year of maintenance fees when in fact I only received partial credit for the first two years. Even if I had knowingly signed the debit form, it would have been with the understanding that maintenance fees would not begin until the second year, when they were in fact charged only weeks after the purchase was made. My records indicate the maintenance fees were paid in advance and I sent an email to Diamond Resorts Financial Services on October 28, 2019 requesting cancellation of SurePay due to unauthorized charges made to my banking account.

The evidence contained in this letter is proof of elder financial abuse which includes unauthorized debit charges made to my personal bank account. Furthermore, there is an argument that can be made whether I even qualified for this purchase based on my age and finances. The fact your company has a continual pattern of conducting business in this matter only makes my case stronger. It would certainly be in your company's best interest to send me cancellation papers within the next 30-days to avoid other actions being taken which could result in consequences with a different outcome. It was your decision to allow Diamond Resort employees to target and lure this vulnerable senior citizen into a sales presentation where gross misrepresentation and intentional deceit was the key benefit and feature.

Sincerely,

They informed us that we were already paying Presidential Reserve-caliber bills, but did not own Presidential Reserve. After more than ten hours of salesmanship and arm twisting, we signed on the dotted line. Did we read and understand everything in the sales contract? Of course not, because we were being unduly pressured. However, before the hard sell, the sales team again went above and beyond to ensure we had the financial wherewithal to afford this transaction. After hours of discussions and extreme pressure, we agreed to the deal. When I point blank asked a rep who called our room what we should do that day if we had changed our minds and wanted out, her tone of voice immediately changed she stated she was "not going to tell us anything along those lines."

So now, not only are we handcuffed to this contract, but Wyndham also sold part of our ownership off to Diamond Resorts without our consent or so much as a courtesy notification. Now Diamond is demanding that we pay them maintenance fees?! Absolutely not. Despite never having bought a Diamond ownership, we now have a Diamond contract number: 118610864. It still generates debt, fees, and bothersome correspondence, with no benefit to us. Why are we being charged as though a valid transaction occurred between two willing parties? This contract is the result of fraud, plain and simple.

RE: Member No. 00010525893

To Whom It May Concern,

Having been an owner for more than twenty years, we have reached the conclusion we no longer want to be a part of Wyndham based on many facts, most of which are articulated below. In thinking this situation through, we have concluded that our primary culpability in this relationship was believing what we were being told by Wyndham representatives along the way to include they were truly looking out for our best interests as it related to our ownership portfolio. This tactic was employed at least three times (Crossville, and Sevierville twice) with the bottom line being that for a "few" more dollars they would not only correct the discrepancies, but add value to our ownership. In summary, we have spent thousands of additional dollars only to be told at our next stop of similar deficiencies and a proposed bogus fix.

The final straw came in late 2017 when we were talked into upgrading to Presidential Reserve which again was supposed to be full of additional benefits and value. To date, we have seen none when compared to the platinum level for which we were previously paying. To add insult to injury, the financial transaction ($14,000+) credit card payment for that upgrade was double posted which took us well over 60 days - with no help from Wyndham - to get straightened out, even though the posting error was blatantly obvious. To this day, Wyndham has never acknowledged they made a mistake, let alone apologized for the unnecessary stress it caused our family since we had now exceeded our credit limit and were being told by the credit card company we needed to correct the situation immediately. Every time we attempted to contact Wyndham regarding this dilemma we were either talking into a recorder or with someone who had no authority to help us. We did not receive one single return call for the financial nightmare Wyndham had created for us!

Digressing, our true disdain for Wyndham begins about four years ago when in Tennessee and after a full day was talked into Platinum ownership for similar reasons described above. In addition to straightening out our portfolio, the sales pitch was also focused on being able to book further out and have access to presidential units at certain locations. The latter did work on at least one occasion, however the only real thing that came with this "upgrade" from gold to platinum was a much higher price tag and a few more points. We were later advised at another stop that Wyndham was planning to increase the minimum point total to be considered platinum which to our knowledge never happened.

We were also starting to notice a deterioration in the level of maintenance/cleanliness of the units which we were told by more than one front desk clerk that they had similar complaints from other guests. They attributed this condition to Wyndham having contracted these services out. Wyndham having to contract out housekeeping should not be our problem. We pay maintenance fees each month as we expect a clean room at check-in. On multiple occasions we had to ask housekeeping to come back on check-in day to do additional cleaning such as removing mold from a shower, cobwebs, dirty deck and sticky/greasy counters and stovetops, etc. This continues to be a problem!

Back to late 2017, when we went back to Nashville for what we thought would be a quick three-day vacation and we're first very disappointed in the accommodations which amounted to a unit which I think was carved out of a janitor's closet! We were talked into attending an owner's update presentation which turned once again into a sales pitch. Imagine again being told we were paying for things that could be combined into a new ownership level! They informed us that we were already paying for Presidential Reserve, but did not own Presidential Reserve. After more than ten hours of salesmanship and arm twisting, we signed on the dotted line. Did we read and understand everything in the sales contract? Of course not, because we were being unduly pressured. However, before the hard sell, the sales team again went above and beyond to ensure we had the financial wherewithal to afford this transaction which besides the $14,000 down payment mentioned above, we are now paying an additional $789.60/month. That equates to almost $9,500.00 annually. In retrospect, we now believe that once they ran our credit report and whatever else they do to verify financial stability, they were laser-focused on not letting us go without a sale. We continued to ask what was so wrong with the ownership package we had at the time and never did get a straight answer despite the fact that the products we owned were all sold to us by Wyndham.

During the sales presentation, the sales team ask many personal questions about our travel habits and we made them aware that we did a lot of traveling together as a family which can be a real challenge given the dynamics and schedules of eight adults and six grandchildren. I believe they used that information to help convince us that traveling as a family would be so much easier as Presidential Reserve owners because of value-added upgrades. Examples given were we would have a travel agent/concierge assigned to our account and he/she would contact us shortly after we became members. Almost two years later we're still waiting for that call! Among other things, this person would also supposedly book and help coordinate our stays including having selected groceries brought to our unit if we so desired. Of course, we understood that we would have to pay any out of pocket expenses, but what a benefit when you are traveling to places like New York City which was about to become our new home base! We were also told we would now have access to all Wyndham products which might be true, but certainly not on any priority basis. I know this first hand from having tried to book a Worldmark resort for the summer of 2020 and was told to call no earlier than eight months out and there would be a booking fee associated with the transaction. My take away from that conversation was them telling us to get in line! This slap in the face came after being told by your sales associates that as Presidential owners we would get just about any booking we wanted so long as we didn't wait until the last minute. This request was just short of twelve months out.

After hours of discussions and extreme pressure, we agreed to the deal. Wyndham was going to restructure our ownership including buying back one of our fixed weeks and we would end up with 1,297,000 points annually which were more than the 1,000,000 plus points we were accruing under Platinum ownership. The sales emphasis was priority and value-added services, not points. What we really got was a separate telephone number and nothing more for $25,000.00! Worldmark was already accessible to Platinum members for a fee up to eight months out just as it is for Presidential Reserve owners. It just seems to us that Wyndham has resorted to sales tactics that our offensive, deceitful, and bottom line dishonest, especially to their long term owners who have in some cases spent a good part of their life savings on promises that simply do not come to fruition. I believe Wyndham at one time was the Cadillac of the timeshare industry offering a fair value for a reasonable price, but that reputation is now long gone.

I also want to point out that less than fifteen hours after signing the Presidential Reserve contract, we received a call from one of the sales representatives asking if she could stop by our unit. I am confident the visit was a result of our obvious reluctance expressed continually the day before, and I'm sure her mission was to reassure us of our purchase and protect the teams' commissions. After exchanging small talk I point blank asked her what steps we would need to take that day if we had changed our minds and wanted out. Her tone of voice immediately changed and her answer to my question was that she was "not going to tell us anything along those lines." While that may sound funny on the surface, it is a very serious comment given that we are talking about a real estate transaction that occurred just hours before her comment.

We have a $91,000+ investment with Wyndham. We still owe over $110,000 over the next 10 years. For the grand total of $200,000+ when all said and done, we should be able to call book and go!!! No extra fees should be included for anything! This is all very upsetting to us as when you research Wyndham online, our $200,000+ investment is worth pennies! We combed over our contracts and there are some questions that we have for you when someone reaches out.

1. The Salepoint Owner Information sheet is not signed by us.
2. The Quality Assurance Checklist is not filled out by the QA.
3. The Warranty Deed has no stamp or seal from the notary.

4. 3 Reasons page is not in our handwriting.

Should all of these things be filled out? One would think that we should be leaving with a completed contract. We would like some clarification on these items. We did not include them as we believe you would have access to those contracts. If not, we would gladly supply them to you.

In current events, they speak of collusion and Wyndham demonstrates that behavior. The pattern of behavior from your sales team is clear and screams of collusion. This is what we expected from the company. Similar to getting your car fixed. You take it in with a problem, they fix it, and you drive off with a fixed car. Each time we have left a meeting, the timeshare was still dysfunctional. This was backed up by our experiences and YOUR sales team telling us that something was wrong at the next meeting. We will ask that our contracts are signed back over to you and our money be refunded to our account. There is no way you can come back and tell us any differently. If you have any questions please direct them to our email johnlitton32746@gmail.com. We will gladly clarify anything but do require everything in writing going forward.

We hope to hear from someone in a timely manner as we would like this cleared up by years end.

CLOSING DISCLOSURE

Additional Information About This Loan

Loan Disclosures

Assumption

- If you sell or transfer this property to another person, your lender
- will allow, under certain conditions, this person to assume this loan on the original terms.
- will not allow assumption of this loan on the original terms.

Demand Feature

Your loan

- has a demand feature, which permits your lender to require early repayment of the loan. You should review your note for details.
- does not have a demand feature.

Late Payment

If your payment is more than 10 days late, your lender will charge a late fee of $10.00 or 1% of the amount that is late, whichever is greater.

Negative Amortization (Increase in Loan Amount)

Under your loan terms, you

- are scheduled to make monthly payments that do not pay all of the interest due that month. As a result, your loan amount will increase (negatively amortize), and your loan amount will likely become larger than your original loan amount. Increases in your loan amount lower the equity you have in this property.
- may have monthly payments that do not pay all of the interest due that month. If you do, your loan amount will increase (negatively amortize), and, as a result, your loan amount may become larger than your original loan amount. Increases in your loan amount lower the equity you have in this property.
- do not have a negative amortization feature.

Partial Payments

Your lender

- may accept payments that are less than the full amount due (partial payments) and apply them to your loan.
- may hold them in a separate account until you pay the rest of the payment, and then apply the full payment to your loan.
- does not accept any partial payments.
- If this loan is sold, your new lender may have a different policy.

Security Interest

You are granting a security interest in MIDTOWN 45 CONDOMINIUM, located at 733 3rd Ave, 2nd Floor, New York, NY 100170000.

You may lose this property if you do not make your payments or satisfy other obligations for this loan.

Escrow Account

For now, your loan

- will have an escrow account (also called an "impound" or "trust" account) to pay the property costs listed below. Without an escrow account, you would pay them directly, possibly in one or two large payments a year. Your lender may be liable for penalties and interest for failing to make a payment.

Escrow
Escrowed Property Costs over Year 1		Estimated total amount over year 1 for your escrowed property costs:
Non-Escrowed Property Costs over Year 1		Estimated total amount over year 1 for your non-escrowed property costs: You may have other property costs.
Initial Escrow Payment		A cushion for the escrow account you pay at closing. See Section G on page 2.
Monthly Escrow Payment		The amount included in your total monthly payment.

- will not have an escrow account because you declined it your lender does not offer one. You must directly pay your property costs, such as taxes and homeowner's insurance. Contact your lender to ask if your loan can have an escrow account.

No Escrow
Estimated Property Costs over Year 1	$5,086.35	Estimated total amount over year 1. You must pay these costs directly, possibly in one or two large payments a year.
Escrow Waiver Fee

In the future,

Your property costs may change and, as a result, your escrow payment may change. You may be able to cancel your escrow account, but if you do, you must pay your property costs directly. If you fail to pay your property taxes, your state or local government may (1) impose fines and penalties or (2) place a tax lien on this property. If you fail to pay any of your property costs, your lender may (1) add the amounts to your loan balance, (2) add an escrow account to your loan, or (3) require you to pay for property insurance that the lender buys on your behalf, which likely would cost more and provide fewer benefits than what you could buy on your own.

En el año 2009 adquirimos una propiedad en el Likitiki Resort ubicado en Kisimnee, Florida, de una semana en tiempo compartido a través de ISLAND ONE de un programa que se llamaba Navigo Explorer transacción que fue financiada por la entidad KORSHAK Y ASSOCIATES, P.A. , comprometiéndonos a realizar pagos mensuales por $126 dólares aproximadamente por 8 años, los cuales realizamos a cabalidad hasta el año 2019, es decir 10 años después y no 8 como en principio nos dijeron y faltando unos cuantos meses para supuestamente terminar de pagar, empezamos a recibir llamadas del Diamond Resort informándonos que ahora ellos eran propietarios del Likitiki y que tenían una propuesta para nosotros si quisiéramos hacer un upgrade y así poder acceder a todos los hoteles de ellos a lo que dijimos que no varias veces. Ellos siguieron insistiendo en sus llamadas y una de esas llamadas yo pregunté si realmente eso era un upgrade que tuviéramos mas oportunidad de realmente usar esa inversión que hasta la fecha casi no habíamos usado pues siempre que tratábamos de reservar no había disponibilidad y al año siguiente entonces ya se habían vencido las fechas y perdíamos la opción de reservar y la respuesta fue siempre SÍ, y bueno, finalmente accedimos a ir a la reunión, la cual se realizó en el MYSTIC DUNES RESORT en Celebration. Al llegar nos recibió un señor americano quien nos dijeron era uno de los jefes de Diamond Resort y no hablaba español. Nosotros en nuestro Inglés que no es muy bueno le dijimos que no podíamos quedarnos en una reunión en ingles pues no íbamos a entender el 100% a lo que nos dijeron que no había problema y unos 20 minutos después llegó una señora que hablaba español perfectamente y nos quedamos a la reunión. Durante el transcurso de la reunión preguntamos constantemente si lo que nos ofrecían correspondía a un upgrade o que si estaban intentando vendernos algo y la respuesta en todo tiempo fue que era un upgrade a lo que ya teníamos.

La reunión duró más o menos 4 horas las cuales transcurrieron en medio de ofrecimientos como cruceros gratis, descuentos aquí y allá que al final no eran ciertos pues posteriormente intentamos reservar el famoso crucero gratis y nos tocaba pagar $400.00 por supuestos taxes.

La señora que nos atendió nos empezó a hablar de puntos y que el upgrade consistía en tener más puntos y siempre le preguntamos si era un mejoramiento de lo que teníamos y la respuesta siempre fue SÍ Y QUE EL OTRO CONTRATO QUEDARÍA SIN VALIDEZ y empezaría a regir lo nuevo que firmáramos ese día si nos decidíamos, y nos hizo un estimado de lo que cambiaría la mensualidad y nos dio un valor de $167 dolares aproximadamente, lo que ella pensaba que era muy bueno pues en vez de pagar $126 íbamos a pagar un poco más pero con muchos beneficios más también como poder reservar en cualquier hotel de Diamond Resort y simplemente escoger cualquier Resort y pasar el día en las instalaciones sin ningún inconveniente, lo que posteriormente resultó ser mentira.

Ante tantas maravillas decidimos firmar, sin antes volver a preguntar a la señora, al Jefe americano y al señor que nos trajo los documentos para firmar si eso era un Upgrade al contrato que teníamos y los tres nos dijeron que sí.

Al pasar el primer mes después de firmar el nuevo contrato nos descontaron automáticamente el nuevo monto incluido el upgrade, es decir $167 dólares y con gran sorpresa también nos descontaron los $126 del pago del anterior contrato. Inmediatamente intenté comunicarme con el departamento de finanzas de Diamond Resort hasta que finalmente me contestaron y me dijeron que teníamos dos deudas con ellos la del Likitiki que teníamos que terminar de pagar pues había un saldo vigente y la nueva deuda adquirida por la suma de $10.033 Equivalente a los 2.000 puntos que habíamos comprado recientemente y que eso no tenía nada que ver con el Likitiki ni tampoco había sido un Upgrade, es decir, nos mintieron todo el tiempo y nos vendieron unos puntos que no sirven para nada pues nunca hay disponibilidad y nos dicen que es muy poquito para reservar y fue cuando nos dimos cuenta que nos habían engañado vilmente y que el famoso upgrade no existía, simplemente nos hicieron firmar un contrato en un idioma que no entendemos y que significó una compra nueva a base de engaños y falta de honestidad por parte de ellos.

De acuerdo a lo anterior les pedimos nos ayuden a cancelar ese segundo contrato, pues fue hecho de una manera tramposa y deshonesto y que al menos el dinero que les dimos a ellos sea aplicado al contrato anterior que teníamos en el momento en que ellos nos contactaron.

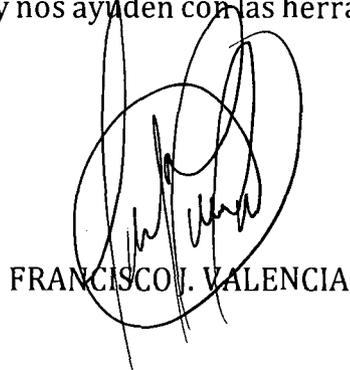

Nosotros no somos una familia con ingresos altos como para ponernos a pagar cosas que ni siquiera existen, como puntos, simplemente queríamos tener un lugar de vacaciones a donde por lo menos una vez al año pudiéramos llevar a nuestros nietos y compartir con ellos.

Por esta situación vivida y también por la difícil situación que vive el mundo entero en este momento, acudimos a su buena voluntad y buen juicio para que nos extiendan sus manos de ayuda y asesoría y nos ayuden con las herramientas necesarias para nuestro caso.

Respetuosamente,

JANETH REYES

TERMS AND CONDITIONS

1. Timeshare Program. Points are the currency of use in the Collection. Points are allotted annually and allow you to reserve Use Periods in available Collection Accommodations. Your Membership is a "right-to-use" timeshare interest and does not expire. You will not receive a deed to real property. To use your Points You must make reservations according to the Rules and Regulations, which along with the other Collection Instruments, Diamond has the right to modify. Reservations are granted on a "first-come, first-served," space-available basis. You will not have the guaranteed right to reserve or use any particular Use Period or Collection Accommodation.
2. Maintenance Fees. You must pay Assessments (also known as "Maintenance Fees") annually to the Association for as long as you own your Membership. The amount of the Maintenance Fees will increase annually to maintain the quality of the Collection's resorts. These annual increases are subject to the limits described in the Collection Instruments. If You do not timely pay all Maintenance Fees and any other amounts owed, You may be prohibited from making a reservation, using a Collection Accommodation, or exercising any other rights of Membership. Continued failure to pay Maintenance Fees will also result in the loss of your Membership. You must pay Maintenance Fees even if you do not use the Collection Accommodations.
3. Transfers and Resale of Membership. You must receive approval from the Association and pay a transfer fee before you sell or transfer your Membership. The Association may deny a transfer of Your Membership to another if the buyer is a known or suspected fraudulent Person or is delinquent in the payment of any fees to Diamond or the Association. No transfer fee will apply if your Membership passes to an heir or beneficiary upon your death.
4. Exchange Companies. You may voluntarily elect to enroll in THE Club exchange program, at which time You are required to pay THE Club fees. THE Club is operated by Diamond Resorts International Club, Inc. ("DRIC"). Dues for THE Club may be collected together with your Maintenance Fees. THE Club is currently affiliated with Interval International, Inc. ("Interval") and as a member of THE Club You currently have access to Interval's exchange services. Exchanges through Interval are subject to Interval's conditions and fees. Diamond does not control or make any representations about Interval, or any other exchange programs, including current or future exchange services and the cost, or availability of any exchange program. If You elect not to join THE Club, You will not have access to the additional resorts that are or may become affiliated with THE Club and with Interval, and will be limited to use of only the component sites included in the Collection.

5. Financing of Purchase Price. Subject to Diamond's approval, You may pay for your Membership through credit from Diamond ("Financing"). You must sign and deliver an installment Promissory Note (the "Note") payable to Diamond for the Unpaid Balance. If requesting Financing, You authorize Diamond to check your credit, including through a consumer reporting agency. You may be prohibited from making a reservation or using a Collection Accommodation, or exercising any other rights you would otherwise have, unless You timely pay all amounts due under the Note.
6. Third-Party Timeshare. If You relinquish a timeshare interest in another timeshare resort ("Third-Party Timeshare") as partial payment for your Membership, You agree to sign and deliver a deed or other instrument acceptable to Diamond, conveying all of your interest in the Third-Party Timeshare to Diamond or a party designated by Diamond, free and clear of any debt not expressly approved by Diamond ("Deed-transfer"). Diamond may record the Deed-transfer at Closing (described in Section 18 below). Until Closing occurs, You are responsible for all obligations related to the Third-Party Timeshare, including paying assessments and fees ("Third-Party Timeshare Obligations"). If the Closing doesn't happen, the Deed-transfer will be cancelled and returned to You, and You will remain responsible for the Third-Party Timeshare Obligations.
7. Escrow. All payments made to Diamond before Closing will be held in escrow in a non-interest bearing account by First American Title Insurance Company ("Escrow Agent") according to a Master Escrow Agreement. You expressly waive any right to earn interest on the escrow account. Escrow Agent's address is 400 S. Rampart Boulevard, Suite 290, Las Vegas, Nevada 89145. 8. Closing. "Closing" is the date when all of the following have occurred: (i) any cancellation period has expired and You have not exercised your right to cancel in writing; (ii) You and Diamond have signed all documents needed to transfer the Membership to You; and (iii) Diamond has received from You either (a) a signed Note for the Unpaid Balance, or (b) the Unpaid Balance in immediately available funds. You agree to execute any further documents necessary and to otherwise cooperate to effectuate the Closing and fulfill the purposes of this Agreement, the Note, and the Deed-Transfer (as applicable). Upon Closing, the Association will place your name in the Register of Members and give You a Points Certificate. If Closing has not happened within one year after this Agreement is signed or You have exercised your right to cancel this Agreement, Diamond will order Escrow Agent to refund any funds held on Agreement your behalf, without interest, to You. Cancellation terminates this Agreement in its entirety.
9. Security Interests. You grant to Diamond a security interest and lien on all of your interest and rights in the Membership (the "Security Interest"). This Security Interest is granted to secure your performance under the Note, this Agreement, and the Collection Instruments. You irrevocably authorize Diamond, as a secured party, to file any financing statement, continuations, or amendments necessary or desirable to perfect, preserve, and protect the Security Interest.
10. Jointly and Severally Liable. If two or more individuals purchase a Membership together, then ownership is as joint tenants with rights of survivorship, and not as tenants-in-common. Everyone who purchases a Membership must keep all of the obligations made in this Agreement. Diamond can enforce its rights against each purchaser separately.
11. Diamond's Obligations. You agree that immediately after Closing, Diamond will have no obligations or liabilities under this Agreement. After Closing, you must look to the Association and the Manager to fulfill or maintain your rights as a Member of the Collection.
12. Indemnity. You agree to indemnify and hold Diamond harmless from and against all loss, threat of loss, suits, claims, actions, liabilities, damages, obligations, demands, costs and expenses (including attorney's fees) connected to You defaulting in any of the obligations of this Agreement, the Note, or the Collection Instruments.
13. NO WARRANTIES. DIAMOND MAKES NO WARRANTIES, EXPRESS OR IMPLIED, OF ANY TYPE WHATSOEVER REGARDING THE COLLECTION OR THE COLLECTION ACCOMMODATIONS, INCLUDING BUT NOT LIMITED TO WARRANTIES OF HABITABILITY, MERCHANTABILITY, OR FITNESS FOR A PARTICULAR PURPOSE. DIAMOND EXPRESSLY DISCLAIMS, AND YOU IRREVOCABLY WAIVE, EACH OF THE FOREGOING WARRANTIES.
14. Default by You.
 - 14.1 Event of Default. You are in default if any of these things happen:
 - (i) You do not pay Diamond any amounts due under this Agreement, the Note or the Collection Instruments and You do not cure this failure within 10 days after You receive written notice of nonpayment.
 - (ii) You do not fulfill any other obligation in the Note, this Agreement or any of the Collection Instruments and You do not cure this failure within 30 days after You receive written notice about your failure; or
 - (iii) any information You have provided in the Note, this Agreement or any written statement given to Diamond or the Association is false or misleading.

14.2 Your Default before Closing. If You default prior to Closing and do not cure such default on or before Closing, Diamond can immediately terminate this Agreement and all of your rights in this Agreement. After termination, Diamond will keep (or cause Escrow Agent to give to Diamond) all money You paid under this Agreement as liquidated damages and not as a penalty.

14.3 Your Default after Closing. If You default after Closing and do not cure the default within the applicable time period, Diamond (or its successor or assign) may

(i) give you written notice that your Membership will be terminated and then terminate your Membership; (including any existing reservations) within 60 days of the date of the notice and keep all amounts paid as liquidated damages and not as a penalty;

(ii) declare all amounts due under the Note and this Agreement immediately due and payable;

(iii) enforce the Security Interest against your Membership according to Article 9 of the UCC and applicable law; and

(iv) pursue any other remedy available. Diamond may pursue any or all of these remedies; the exercise of one right or remedy does not exclude any other rights or remedies available.

15. Default by Diamond. If Diamond does not comply with the material provisions of this Agreement, then Diamond's only obligation is to refund or cause Escrow Agent to refund to You all payments previously made under this Agreement, without interest. After such refund is made, this Agreement is automatically cancelled, and all rights and obligations in this Agreement immediately terminate. TO THE EXTENT PERMITTED BY APPLICABLE LAW, YOU WAIVE ALL RIGHTS AND REMEDIES THAT MIGHT OTHERWISE BE AVAILABLE TO YOU, AT LAW OR IN EQUITY.

16. ARBITRATION PROVISION ("Provision").

16.1 Arbitration of Claims. Any Claim (defined in Section 26.2 below) between You and Diamond, whether preexisting, present or future, arising from or relating to this Agreement or the Collection shall, at the election of either party, be arbitrated on an individual basis before JAMS (www.jamsadr.org, 1-800-352-5267) pursuant to its Streamlined Rules. If JAMS cannot serve and the parties cannot agree on a substitute, the American Arbitration Association ("AAA," www.adr.org) shall serve as the arbitration body for the Claim. The Federal Arbitration Act ("FAA"), 9 U.S.C. § 1, et seq., shall govern the interpretation and enforcement of this Provision. A single neutral arbitrator shall be appointed. The arbitrator shall follow applicable substantive law consistent with the FAA, apply applicable statutes of limitations, honor valid claims of privilege, and issue a written reasoned decision which will be final and binding except for any review under the FAA. The arbitrator may award all remedies that would apply in an individual court action (subject to constitutional limits that would apply in court). Any in-person hearing will be held in Clark County, Nevada unless otherwise agreed. If you initiate an individual arbitration, Diamond will pay all administrative and arbitrator fees exceeding $250. Solely for purposes of this Provision, "Diamond" also means Diamond's parent companies, subsidiaries and affiliates; Diamond's and their employees, officers and directors; and any other person or entity named as a defendant or respondent in a Claim by You against Diamond. "You" also means your heirs, successors and assigns.

16.2 Claims. "Claim" shall be broadly construed and includes, without limitation, disputes concerning: purchase, financing, ownership or occupancy; breach, termination, cancellation or default; condition of any Collection Accommodation; THE Club or other exchange programs; reservations, points or rewards programs; applications and personal information; marketing or sales solicitations, representations, advertisements, promotions or disclosures; and collection of delinquent amounts and the manner of collection. "Claim" also includes disputes based upon contract, tort, consumer rights, fraud and other intentional torts, constitution, statute, Uniform Commercial Code, regulation, ordinance, common law and equity. "Claim" does not include: (i) disputes about the validity, enforceability, coverage or scope of this Provision or any part thereof, which are for a court to decide, provided that disputes about the validity or enforceability of this Agreement as a whole are for the arbitrator to decide; (ii) any individual action by You in small claims or an equivalent court, unless that action is transferred, removed or appealed to a different court; or (iii) Diamond's use of judicial or non-judicial relief to enforce a security agreement, relating to the Membership. The institution and maintenance of any such action shall not waive any party's right to compel arbitration of any other Claim subject to arbitration, including, without limitation, the filing of a counterclaim in a suit brought by Diamond. In any such action commenced by Diamond, you may assert any cognizable defense permitted by applicable law which does not seek any form of affirmative relief from Diamond, including, without limitation, damages.

16.3 Class Action Waiver. If a Claim is arbitrated or would be arbitrable under section 16.2, neither You nor Diamond will have the right to (i) participate in a class action in court or in arbitration, either as a class representative or class member, (ii) act as a private attorney general in court or in arbitration, or (iii) join or consolidate Claim(s) with claims of any other person or entity. The arbitrator shall have no authority to conduct any class, private attorney general or multiple-party proceeding or to issue any relief that applies to any person or entity except You and Diamond individually.

16.4 Application of the Provision. An arbitration award may be enforced in any court with jurisdiction. This Provision shall survive the breach, cancellation, termination or rescission of this Agreement, and any bankruptcy to the extent permitted by law. This Provision governs if it conflicts with the Agreement or the arbitration rules. If any part of this Provision other than the Class Action Waiver is declared unenforceable, the remainder shall be enforceable. If the Class Action Waiver is declared unenforceable in a proceeding between You and Diamond, without impairing the right to appeal such decision, this entire Provision (except for this sentence) shall be null and void in such proceeding.

16.5 Right to Reject Arbitration Provision. You may reject this Provision by sending Diamond a written notice which gives your name and Agreement number with a statement that you reject the Arbitration Provision. The rejection notice must be sent by certified mail, return receipt requested, to 10600 West Charleston Blvd., Las Vegas, Nevada 89135, Attn: Arbitration Rejection Notice. 17664290C-Promissory Note Multisite Collection

January 28th, 2018

PROMISSORY NOTE

This Promissory Note ("Note") is given in connection with that certain Purchase and Security Agreement of even date herewith between the undersigned, FRANCISCO JAVIER VALENCIA PLAZA and JANETH REYES (hereinafter, whether one or more, referred to as "Maker"), whose address is 14086 Avenue Of The Groves Winter Garden, Florida 34787, and Diamond Resorts U.S. Collection Development, LLC, a Delaware limited liability company ("Diamond Resorts"), whose address and principal place of business is c/o Customer Service, Diamond Resorts Financial Services, Inc., 10600 West Charleston Boulevard, Las Vegas, Nevada 89135 (the "Agreement"). This Note will become effective upon the lapse of the cancellation period provided in the Agreement (provided that Maker does not exercise Maker's cancellation right) or, if later, the Closing described in the Agreement (the "Effective Date").

FOR VALUE RECEIVED, Maker promises to pay to the order of Diamond Resorts and any successor or assign thereof, including, without limitation, any subsequent holder hereof ("Holder"), at the address for Diamond Resorts set forth above or at such other place as Holder may from time to time designate in writing, in lawful money of the United States, the principal amount of Eight Thousand Seven Hundred Eighty-Four and 00/100 ($8,784.00), together with a monthly collection fee of Six ($6.00) and a monthly finance charge computed in the manner set forth below at a fixed annual rate of Seventeen and 99/100 (17.99%) (the "Annual Rate"). As set forth in the Truth in Lending Disclosure Statement provided to you, both the collection fee and the monthly finance charge are treated as finance charges, included in the computation of the Annual Percentage Rate, under the federal Truth in Lending Act. Maker shall pay Holder in 120 equal monthly installments of One Hundred Fifty-Eight and 22/100 Dollars ($158.22) each, with the first such installment being due and payable on _____ (the "First Payment Date"), and a like installment to be due and payable on or before the same day of each calendar month thereafter (the "Payment Date"). (Notwithstanding the foregoing: (1) if the First Payment Date is in the last three days of a calendar month and there is no day in a particular calendar month that corresponds to the First Payment Date, the Payment Date for such calendar month will be the first day of the subsequent month; and (2) if any Payment Date falls on a day that is not a business day, the Payment Date will be the next business day thereafter.) On the final Payment Date _____ (the "Maturity Date"), the entire principal balance due hereunder, together with any finance charges and other fees and charges, shall be immediately due and payable. Time is of the essence with respect to all of Maker's obligations hereunder.

If Maker has separately agreed to the terms of Holder's "SurePay Plan," an automatic payment plan whereby scheduled monthly payments of principal and interest payments on this Promissory Note and the collection fee are automatically deducted from Maker's bank account on each Payment Date, then immediately upon the occurrence of any of the following described events, Maker's participation in the SurePay Plan will terminate: (i) at any time prior to the Maturity Date, Maker elects to terminate his or her participation in the SurePay Plan; (ii) Maker closes the designated bank account; or (iii) on more than one occasion, a SurePay payment is not made when due for any reason (including Maker's failure to maintain a sufficient balance in the designated bank account to cover any required payment). In such event, the Interest Rate shall increase by Two percent (2%) per annum and the monthly payment will increase to the level sufficient to repay all principal, interest and collection fees by the Maturity Date through equal monthly payments on each Payment Date. The increase in the Interest Rate shall be effective retroactively to the date of the last payment made under the SurePay Plan, and the increase in payment amount shall apply to the next payment due after the last such SurePay payment.

Each monthly installment shall be applied first to late charges, then to the collection fee, then to monthly finance charges and finally to unpaid principal. Each month, the monthly finance charge will be based on the scheduled principal balance (regardless of exactly when payments are actually received) and a monthly rate of finance charge equal to the Annual Rate divided by twelve (12). Maker may prepay the outstanding principal balance hereof, in whole or in part, at any time without premium or penalty. However, partial prepayments will not reduce finance charges and will not postpone the due date of any subsequent monthly installments or change the amount of such installments unless Holder otherwise agrees in writing. In the event this Note is prepaid in full, Holder will charge a monthly finance charge for that month equal to the scheduled principal balance at the beginning of the month, times the Annual Rate, times a fraction equal to the number of days from the immediately preceding Payment Date through the date of prepayment divided by the number of days in the year. Holder will not charge any collection fee for the month of prepayment and Holder will not charge any collection fees and monthly finance charges attributable to months following any prepayment in full.

This Promissory Note is given in partial payment for a membership in the Diamond Resorts U.S. Collection (the "Membership"). Payment of principal, finance charges and other charges hereunder is secured by a security interest established under the Purchase and Security Agreement (the "Agreement") of even date herewith by and between Diamond Resorts, as seller, and Maker, as purchaser. The terms and provisions of the Agreement are hereby fully incorporated herein by this reference.

If all or any part of the Membership or an interest therein is sold or otherwise transferred by Maker (whether such interest is legal or equitable, present or future, vested or contingent) without Holder's prior written consent (which consent may be withheld for any reason whatsoever), excluding (i) the creation of a lien or encumbrance subordinate to the Agreement; (ii) a transfer by devise, descent, or operation of law upon the death of a joint tenant; or (iii) the grant of any leasehold interest of one (1) week or less not containing an option to purchase the Membership, then Holder may, at Holder's option, except to the extent prohibited by law, declare all of the amounts secured by the Agreement to be immediately due and payable.

Upon the failure of Maker to make any payment required under this Promissory Note in accordance with the terms hereof or Maker's breach of any of the other covenants or agreements contained herein or in the Agreement, then and in such event, Holder, at Holder's option, subject to any right of reinstatement to which Maker is entitled under applicable law, may (i) declare, without further demand, all of the amounts owed hereunder to be immediately due and payable; and (ii) pursue all rights and remedies available to Holder under this Promissory Note and the Agreement by appropriate proceedings. To the extent permitted by law, Holder shall be entitled to collect in such proceedings all expenses of enforcement, including but not limited to reasonable attorneys' fees, publication costs, costs of judgment and other searches, and court costs. Failure of Holder to exercise its available rights and remedies hereunder or as provided by law with respect to any default by Maker shall not be deemed to constitute a waiver of such rights or remedies with respect to any subsequent default, whether the same or different in nature.

In the event that any amount due under this Promissory Note is paid more than ten (10) days after the date upon which such amount is due, then Holder shall be entitled to collect a late charge from Maker in an amount equal to the lesser of (i) Twenty-Five Dollars ($25.00) or (ii) ten percent (10%) of the overdue installment, provided that such amount does not exceed the maximum late charge permitted to be charged under the laws of the State of Nevada. To the extent permitted by law, Maker shall further be liable to Holder for any out-of-pocket costs incurred by Holder in the event that a check issued by Maker is dishonored for any reason.

During any time in which Maker is in default under this Promissory Note, finance charges may, at Holder's option, accrue on the actual outstanding balance on a simple interest basis at a default rate equal to the maximum lawful rate permitted to be charged by Holder under the laws of the State of Nevada. In the event that there is no such maximum lawful rate, then finance charges shall accrue on the actual outstanding balance on a simple interest basis during such period at a default rate of twenty-five percent (25%) per annum.

In the event that counsel is employed to collect all or any part of the indebtedness evidenced hereby, whether at maturity or following acceleration, to the extent permitted by law Maker agrees to pay Holder's reasonable attorneys' fees, whether suit be brought or not (including any fees associated with appeals or bankruptcy proceedings), and all other costs and expenses reasonably incurred in connection with Holder's collection efforts.

Maker and any endorser, guarantor, or surety, jointly and severally, hereby waive presentment, protest, demand, notice of protest, and dishonor of this Promissory Note, and expressly agree that this Promissory Note, or any payment hereunder, may be extended from time to time without in any way affecting the liability of Maker or any endorser, guarantor, or surety hereof. To the extent not prohibited by applicable law, Maker also waives any rights to any stay of execution and the benefit of all homestead and/or other exemption laws now or hereafter in effect.

This Promissory Note shall be the joint and several obligation of each person signing below and shall apply to and bind each of them and each of their respective heirs, successors, personal representatives, and assigns.

The validity, construction, and enforceability of, and the rights and obligations of Maker and Holder under, this Promissory Note shall be governed by, construed, and enforced in accordance with the laws of the State of Nevada.

In the event that any one or more of the provisions of this Promissory Note shall for any reason be held to be invalid or unenforceable, in whole or in part or in any respect, then such provision or provisions only shall be disregarded as though not contained herein and shall not affect any other provision of this Promissory Note, and the remaining provisions of this Promissory Note shall remain operative and in full force and effect and shall in no way be affected, prejudiced, or disturbed thereby.

It is the intent of Holder to comply fully with all interest and usury laws of the State of Nevada, as currently enacted or hereafter in effect. Notwithstanding any provision hereof to the contrary, in no event shall this Promissory Note require the payment or permit the collection of interest in excess of the maximum amount of interest permitted under the laws of the State of Nevada. In the event that the amount of interest contracted for, charged, or received under this Promissory Note exceeds the maximum amount of interest permitted under the laws of the State of Nevada, then the provisions of this paragraph shall govern and control, and neither

Maker nor any other person or entity now or hereafter liable for the payment hereof shall be obligated to pay the amount of such interest to the extent that it exceeds the maximum amount of interest permitted under the laws of the State of Nevada. Any such excess interest which may have been collected by Holder shall, at the option of Holder, either be applied as a credit against the unpaid principal balance hereof or be refunded to Maker, and the effective rate of interest shall be reduced to the maximum rate of interest permitted to be charged under the laws of the State of Nevada.

Except for any notice required under applicable law to be given in another manner, any notice that either party desires or is required to give the other party under this Promissory Note shall be in writing and shall be deemed to have been duly given upon the earlier to occur of (a) its actual receipt; (b) three (3) business days after being deposited in the United States mail as first class mail, postage prepaid; or (c) one (1) business day after being sent via overnight courier service such as Federal Express, addressed to the applicable party at the address therefor stated herein or at such other address as the receiving party has previously notified the giving party in the manner prescribed in this paragraph. If Maker consists of more than one (1) person, then notice to any of them shall be deemed to constitute notice to all of them.

ANY HOLDER OF THIS CONSUMER CREDIT CONTRACT IS SUBJECT TO ALL CLAIMS AND DEFENSES WHICH THE DEBTOR COULD ASSERT AGAINST THE SELLER OF GOODS OR SERVICES OBTAINED PURSUANT HERETO OR WITH THE PROCEEDS HEREOF. RECOVERY HEREUNDER BY THE DEBTOR SHALL NOT EXCEED AMOUNTS PAID BY THE DEBTOR HEREUNDER.

BII60639.1-DRI Conversion Assignment Agreement

TERMS OF ASSIGNMENT AGREEMENT

A. Club Documents. Property Owner has executed THE Club Membership Agreement and Enrollment Application ("Membership Agreement"), which provides for the participation and membership in THE Club as described therein. THE Club provides certain services and benefits to the Property Owner and further provides that Property Owner shall execute this Assignment Agreement. The Membership Agreement also provides for the terms of membership in THE Club and incorporates by reference the Disclosure Guide for THE Club, THE Club Articles, THE Club Rules and Regulations, THE Club Member Benefits Directory and THE Club Global Reservations Directory which together are called "THE Club Legal Documents" in the Membership Agreement. Property Owner acknowledges receipt of THE Club Legal Documents and the terms and conditions of THE Club Legal Documents are incorporated herein by this reference.

B. The Qualifying Interest. Property Owner represents and warrants that Property Owner owns the Qualifying Interest identified on the front side of this form and that the Qualifying Interest is subject to no liens other than a first mortgage lien, the lien rights of the resort's property owners association ("POA"), and property taxes not yet due and payable. By executing this Assignment Agreement, Property Owner represents and warrants that Property Owner is in good standing at his or her Home Resort and is not delinquent in the payment of any mortgages, assessments, , maintenance fees, taxes and/or personal charges. Property Owner covenants to continue to pay any mortgage payments, assessments, maintenance fees, taxes and/or personal charges in a timely fashion.

C. Club Dues. Property Owner acknowledges that THE Club membership provides a wide variety of reservation opportunities and that the Club Dues, which consist of a Club Fee, a Property and Services Fee and Other Charges, are in addition to Property Owner's POA fees. The POA fees are NOT included in the Club Dues and Property Owner is liable for both the Club Dues and all POA charges throughout the term of this assignment. THE Club Dues are subject to change from time to time at the discretion of THE Club Operating Company.

D. Assignment. Property Owner hereby assigns to THE Club Operating Company all the rights Property Owner has to use, occupy and possess the Qualifying Interest pursuant to the governing documents for the Affiliated Resort or Affiliated Collection where the Qualifying Interest is located. Property Owner voluntarily makes this assignment and subjects the Qualifying Interest to the terms, restrictions and conditions of THE Club Articles in satisfaction of a requirement for membership in THE Club. This assignment does not affect Property Owner's ownership of the Qualifying Interest, but is intended to constitute a conditional relinquishment of Use Rights in the Qualifying Interest to THE Club Operating Company and the conditions are that such assignment will terminate as provided below and shall not be effective during such other times as may be specifically provided in THE Club Legal Documents. In the event a Club Affiliation Agreement for Property Owner's Home Resort is suspended or terminated for any reason, Property Owner will no longer be eligible to receive an allocation of Points with respect to Property Owner's Qualifying Interest and this Agreement shall automatically terminate.

E. Effect of Assignment. Property Owner acknowledges that the assignment of Use Rights made herein to THE Club Operating Company shall enable THE Club Operating Company to control such Use Rights in managing an exchange membership program in accordance with the terms, restrictions and conditions of THE Club Legal Documents. Accordingly, Property Owner shall not be entitled to further assign, exchange or otherwise use such Use Rights during the time this Assignment Agreement shall be in effect, but rather shall utilize the Points received from this Assignment Agreement to reserve THE Club Resort Use Periods, or to effect an exchange through an External Exchange Company that provides services to Members of THE Club.

F. Points. Prior to the beginning of each calendar year during the term of this Assignment Agreement, Property Owner shall be allocated the number of Points authorized by THE Club Operating Company in consideration of this Assignment Agreement. If the Qualifying Interest's Use Rights do not recur annually, as is the case with biennial interests, an equal portion of Points will be allocated each year on a prorated basis. Additional Points relating to other property interests may also be assigned to Property Owner through other THE Club Assignment Agreements. Annual Point allocations will be made as long as Property Owner shall have paid the appropriate Club Dues, POA fees and otherwise remains a Property Owner in good standing. The Points shall be used to reserve Use Periods in Accommodations from the Exchange Pool on a space available basis and in accordance with THE Club Rules and Regulations.

G. Termination. This Assignment Agreement will automatically terminate upon Property Owner's withdrawal of the Qualifying Interest from THE Club, or upon a termination of the Property Owner's membership in THE Club in accordance with the terms and conditions of THE Club Legal Documents.

PURCHASER'S UNDERSTANDING AND ACKNOWLEDGMENT

Diamond Resorts International® thanks you and welcomes you to one of the most flexible and enjoyable vacation plans in the world! Please review and initial the following summary items. Capitalized terms are defined in your Purchase Agreement. We look forward to exceeding your expectations.

I understand and acknowledge the following:

1. FV AD Membership. This purchase is for 2000 Points for the purchase price of $10,033.00

2. FV AD Points. Title to the Resort Interests is held in the U.S. Collection Trust by an independent Trustee for the benefit of the Members. In approximately 6-8 weeks a Collection Membership Certificate with an Eagle 9 UCC Vacation Interest Insurance policy will be mailed to my home and my Points will be available at that time or at the beginning of my first Use Year on 2018.

3. FV AD Annual Fees. Enrollment in THE Club exchange program is voluntary. My Club Dues are billed annually along with my Maintenance Fees. My first year's Maintenance Fees and Club Dues are estimated to be 858.00, and are subject to annual increases not to exceed 25% per year under governing law. My Maintenance Fees must be current to make reservations. The purchase of additional Points will not decrease my Maintenance Fees. If my Points are available during the current calendar year, my Maintenance Fees will be billed within 45 days. Otherwise, my Maintenance Fees will be billed in the fourth quarter of every year.

4. FV AD Saving and Borrowing Points. I must be current on all payments to make reservations and use save, borrow, or exchange my Points. I must pay the Maintenance Fees for the upcoming Use Year to borrow Points. Points do not roll over to the next year and they will expire on December 31st unless I save them. I can save a percentage of Points for use in the following year according to this schedule:

If I save by this date:	I can save the following Points:
June 30	100% of my Points
August 31	50% of my Points
October 31	25% of my Points
After October 31	None of my Points

5. FV AD Reservations. I may make a reservation up to 13 months before check-in at any of my Home Collection Resorts. I may make a reservation up to 10 months before check-in at any of THE Club affiliated resorts. All reservations for the Collection and THE Club are confirmed on a first-come, first-served, space-available basis. Reservations at specific accommodations are not guaranteed. I will lose some or all of my Points used to make a reservation if I cancel that reservation fewer than 91 days before my scheduled arrival date unless I purchase a Reservation Protection Plan at the time of booking.

6. FV AD Personal Use. This purchase is for personal use and enjoyment and it does not create an undue financial burden for me. I am not purchasing a Membership as a financial investment or for financial returns of any kind, including through resale, rental, or tax advantages. Diamond does not offer a rental, resale or buyback program and makes no representation regarding tax deductions, refinancing opportunities, or that there will be a secondary market for the sale of Points. Points do not typically appreciate in value. I may not engage in any commercial rental activities to rent out Points for cash through online or print advertising to the general public and understand that my membership may be suspended or terminated if I do.

7. FV AD Transferring Membership. In the event I transfer my membership, the Association may deny a transfer if the buyer is a known or suspected fraudulent entity or person or is delinquent in the payment of any fees. A transfer fee of $250 will apply for approved transfers. My Membership is perpetual.

8. F V YMD THE Club. If I elected to enroll in THE Club, copies of THE Club Documents that I received describe the current benefits available through THE Club, instructions for making a reservation, calculating the number of Points that I will need for each of my vacations and any other point redemption benefits. Redeeming Points for reimbursement of travel services does not provide the best monetary value for my Points and is typically not lower in cost than spending cash for the same arrangements. All of THE Club benefits and affiliated resorts are subject to change or termination at any time. Some of THE Club benefits are only available to certain loyalty members.

9. F V YMD Platinum Only Benefits. ONLY Platinum Loyalty members can redeem up to 50,000 Points to pay part of their annual Maintenance Fees, but that is not the highest and best use of Points. There is a $100 transaction fee and the redemption value is currently $0.04 per Point. Borrowed or saved Points cannot be redeemed to offset the cost of Maintenance Fees, and Points must be redeemed between Nov. 1 and Dec. 31 for the following year's payment.

10. F V YMD Interval International. As part of my membership in THE Club, I will automatically become a member of the Interval International exchange program ("Interval") at no extra cost to me for at least the first year. THE Club may change or cancel its affiliation with Interval at any time. Interval membership allows me to request an exchange through Interval using Points, subject to an exchange fee paid to Interval.

By initialing here, I authorize Diamond Resorts International and/or its affiliates and successors to contact me regarding promotional offers at the address, email address and telephone numbers provided below, including autodialed calls, texts and prerecorded messages, regardless of any prior election to the contrary. CONDITIONS AND STIPULATIONS

1. DEFINITION OF TERMS

The following terms when used in this policy mean:

(a) "insured": the insured named in Schedule A, and, subject to any rights or defenses the Company would have had against the named insured, those who succeed to the interest of the named insured by operation of law as distinguished from purchase including, but not limited to, heirs, distributees, devisees, survivors, personal representatives, next of kin, or corporate or fiduciary successors.

(b) "insured claimant": an insured claiming loss or damage.

(c) "knowledge" or "known": actual knowledge, not constructive knowledge or notice which may be imputed to an insured by reason of the public records as defined in this policy or any other records which impart constructive notice of matters affecting the land.

(d) "land": the land described or referred to in Schedule [A], and improvements affixed thereto which by law constitute real property. The term "land" does not include any property beyond the lines of the area described or referred to in Schedule [A], nor any right, title, interest, estate or easement in abutting streets, roads, avenues, alleys, lanes, ways or waterways, but nothing herein shall modify or limit the extent to which a right of access to and from the land is insured by this policy.

(e) "mortgage": mortgage, deed of trust, trust deed, or other security instrument.

(f) "public records": records established under state statutes at Date of Policy for the purpose of imparting constructive notice of matters relating to real property to purchasers for value and without knowledge. With respect to Section 1 (a)(iv) of the Exclusions From Coverage, "public records" shall also include environmental protection liens filed in the records of the clerk of the United States district court for the district in which the land is located.

(g) "unmarketability of the title": an alleged or apparent matter affecting the title to the land, not excluded or excepted from coverage, which would entitle a purchaser of the estate or interest described in Schedule A to be released from the obligation to purchase by virtue of a contractual condition requiring the delivery of marketable title.

2. CONTINUATION OF INSURANCE AFTER CONVEYANCE OF TITLE

The coverage of this policy shall continue in force as of Date of Policy in favor of an insured only so long as the insured retains an estate or interest in the land, or holds an indebtedness secured by a purchase money mortgage given by a purchaser from the insured, or only so long as the insured shall have liability by reason of covenants of warranty made by the insured in any transfer or conveyance of the estate or interest. This policy shall not continue in force in favor of any purchaser from the insured of either (i) an estate or interest in the land, or (ii) an indebtedness secured by a purchase money mortgage given to the insured.

3. NOTICE OF CLAIM TO BE GIVEN BY INSURED CLAIMANT

The insured shall notify the Company promptly in writing (i) in case of any litigations as set forth in Section 4(a) below, (ii) in case knowledge shall come to an insured hereunder of any claim of title or interest which is adverse to the title to the estate or interest, as insured, and which might cause loss or damage for which the Company may be liable by virtue of this policy, or (iii) if title to the estate or interest, as insured, is rejected as unmarketable. If prompt notice shall not be given to the Company, then as to the insured all liability of the Company shall terminate with regard to the matter or matters for which prompt notice is required; provided, however, that failure to notify the Company shall in no case prejudice the rights of any insured under this policy unless the Company shall be prejudiced by the failure and then only to the extent of the prejudice.

If the Company is prejudiced by the failure of the insured claimant to provide the required proof of loss or damage, the Company's obligations to the insured under the policy shall terminate, including any liability or obligation to defend, prosecute, or continue any litigation, with regard to the matter or matters requiring such proof of loss or damage.

In addition, the Insured claimant may reasonably be required to submit to examination under oath by any authorized representative of the Company and shall produce for examination, inspection and copying, at such reasonable times and places as may be designated by any authorized representative of the Company, all records, books, ledgers, checks, correspondence and memoranda, whether bearing a date before or after Date of Policy, which reasonably pertain to the loss or damage. Further, if requested by any authorized representative of the Company, the insured claimant shall grant its permission, in writing, for any authorized representative of the Company to examine, inspect and copy all records, books, ledgers, checks, correspondence and memoranda in the custody or control of a third party, which reasonably pertain to the loss or damage. All information designated as confidential by the insured claimant provided to the Company pursuant to this Section shall not be disclosed to others unless, in the reasonable judgment of the Company, it is necessary in the administration of the claim. Failure of the insured claimant to submit for examination under oath, produce other reasonably requested information or grant permission to secure reasonably necessary information from third parties as required in this paragraph shall terminate any liability of the Company under this policy as to that claim.

6. OPTIONS TO PAY OR OTHERWISE SETTLE CLAIMS; TERMINATION OF LIABILITY

In case of a claim under this policy, the Company shall have the following additional options:

(a) To Pay or Tender Payment of the Amount of Insurance.

To pay or tender payment of the amount of Insurance under this policy together with any costs, attorneys' fees and expenses incurred by the insured claimant, which were authorized by the Company, up to the time of payment or tender of payment and which the Company is obligated to pay.

Upon the exercise by the Company of this option, all liability and obligations to the insured under this policy, other than to make the payment required, shall terminate, including any liability or obligation to defend, prosecute, or continue any litigation, and the policy shall be surrendered to the Company for cancellation.

(b) To Pay or Otherwise Settle With Parties Other than the Insured or With the Insured Claimant.

(i) to pay or otherwise settle with other parties for or in the name of an insured claimant any claim insured against under this policy, together with any costs, attorneys' fees and expenses incurred by the insured claimant which were authorized by the Company up to the time of payment and which the Company is obligated to pay; or

(ii) to pay or otherwise settle with the insured claimant the loss or damage provided for under this policy, together with any costs, attorneys' fees and expenses incurred by the insured claimant which were authorized by the Company up to the time of payment and which the Company is obligated to pay.

Upon the exercise by the Company of either of the options provided for in paragraphs (b)(i) or (ii), the Company's obligations to the insured under this policy for the claimed loss or damage, other than the payments required to be made, shall terminate, including any liability or obligation to defend, prosecute or continue any litigation.

7. DETERMINATION, EXTENT OF LIABILITY AND COINSURANCE

This policy is a contract of indemnity against actual monetary loss or damage sustained or incurred by the insured claimant who has suffered loss or damage by reason of matters insured against by this policy and only to the extent herein described.

(a) The liability of the Company under this policy shall not exceed the least of:

(i) the Amount of Insurance stated in Schedule A; or,

(ii) the difference between the value of the insured estate or interest as insured and the value of the insured estate or interest subject to the defect, lien or encumbrance insured against by this policy.

(b) (This paragraph dealing with Coinsurance was removed from Florida policies.)

(c) The Company will pay only those costs, attorneys' fees and expenses incurred in accordance with Section 4 of these Conditions and Stipulations.

8. APPORTIONMENT

If the land described in Schedule [A] consists of two or more parcels which are not used as a single site, and a loss is established affecting one or more of the parcels but not all, the loss shall be computed and settled on a pro rata basis as if the amount of insurance under this policy was divided pro rata as to the value on Date of Policy of each separate parcel to the whole, exclusive of any improvements made subsequent to Date of Policy, unless a liability or value has otherwise been agreed upon as to each parcel by the Company and the insured at the time of the issuance of this policy and shown by an express statement or by an endorsement attached to this policy.

9. LIMITATION OF LIABILITY

(a) If the Company establishes the title, or removes the alleged defect, lien or encumbrance, or cures the lack of a right of access to or from the land, or cures the claim of unmarketability of title, all as insured, in a reasonably diligent manner by any method, including litigation and the completion of any appeals there from, it shall have fully performed its obligations with respect to that matter and shall not be liable for any loss or damage caused thereby.

(b) In the event of any litigation, including litigation by the Company or with the Company's consent, the Company shall have no liability for loss or damage until there has been a final determination by a court of competent jurisdiction, and disposition of all appeals there from, adverse to the title as insured.

(c) The Company shall not be liable for loss or damage to any insured for liability voluntarily assumed by the insured in settling any claim or suit without the prior written consent of the Company.

10. REDUCTION OF INSURANCE; REDUCTION OR TERMINATION OF LIABILITY

All payments under this policy, except payments made for costs, attorneys' fees and expenses, shall reduce the amount of the insurance pro tanto.

11. LIABILITY NONCUMULATIVE

It is expressly understood that the amount of insurance under this policy shall be reduced by any amount the Company may pay under any policy insuring a mortgage to which exception is taken in Schedule B or to which the insured has agreed, assumed, or taken subject, or which is hereafter executed by an insured and which is a charge or lien on the estate or interest described or referred to in Schedule A, and the amount so paid shall be deemed a payment under this policy to the insured owner.

12. PAYMENT OF LOSS

(a) No payment shall be made without producing this policy for endorsement of the payment unless the policy has been lost or destroyed, in which case proof of loss or destruction shall be furnished to the satisfaction of the Company.

(b) When liability and the extent of loss or damage has been definitely fixed in accordance with these Conditions and Stipulations, the loss or damage shall be payable within 30 days thereafter.

13. SUBROGATION UPON PAYMENT OR SETTLEMENT

(a) The Company's Right of Subrogation.

Whenever the Company shall have settled and paid a claim under this policy, all right of subrogation shall vest in the Company unaffected by any act of the insured claimant. The Company shall be subrogated to and be entitled to all rights and remedies which the insured claimant would have had against any person or property in respect to the claim had this policy not been issued. If requested by the Company, the insured claimant shall transfer to the Company all rights and remedies against any person or property necessary in order to perfect this right of subrogation. The insured claimant shall permit the Company to sue, compromise or settle in the name of the insured claimant and to use the name of the insured claimant in any transaction or litigation involving these rights or remedies.⁸

If a payment on account of a claim does not fully cover the loss of the insured claimant, the Company shall be subrogated to these rights and remedies in the proportion which the Company's payment bears to the whole amount of the loss.

If loss should result from any act of the insured claimant, as stated above, that act shall not void this policy. but the Company, in that event, shall be required to pay only that part of any losses insured against by this policy which shall exceed the amount, if any, lost to the Company by reason of the impairment by the insured claimant of the Company's right of subrogation.

(b) The Company's Rights Against Non-insured Obligors.

The Company's right of subrogation against non-insured obligors shall exist and shall include, without limitation, the rights of the insured to indemnities, guaranties, other policies of insurance or bonds, notwithstanding any terms or conditions contained in those instruments which provide for subrogation rights by reason of this policy.

14. ARBITRATION (This paragraph was modified for Florida Policies.)

Unless prohibited by applicable law, arbitration pursuant to the Title Insurance Arbitration Rules of the American Arbitration Association may be demanded if agreed to by both Company and the insured. Arbitrable matters may include, but are not limited to, any controversy or claim between Company and the insured arising out of or relating to this policy, and service of Company in connection with its issuance or the breach of a policy provision or other obligation. Arbitration pursuant to this policy and under the Rules in effect on the date the demand for arbitration is made or, at the option of the insured, the rules in effect at Date of Policy shall be binding upon the parties. The award may include attorneys' fees only if the laws of the state in which the land is located permit a court to award attorneys' fees to a prevailing party. Judgment upon the award rendered by the Arbitrator(s) may be entered in any court having jurisdiction thereof.

The law of the situs of the land shall apply to an arbitration under the Title Insurance Arbitration Rules.

A copy of the Rules may be obtained from the Company upon request.

15. LIABILITY LIMITED TO THIS POLICY; POLICY ENTIRE CONTRACT

(a) This policy together with all endorsements, if any, attached hereto by the Company is the entire policy and contract between the Insured and the Company. In interpreting any provision of this policy, this policy shall be construed as a whole.

(b) Any claim of loss or damage, whether or not based on negligence, and which arises out of the status of the title to the estate or interest covered hereby or by any action asserting such claim, shall be restricted to this policy.

(c) No amendment of or endorsement to this policy can be made except by a writing endorsed hereon or attached hereto signed by either the President, Vice President, the Secretary, an Assistant Secretary, or validating officer or authorized signatory of the Company.

16. SEVERABILITY

In the event any provision of the policy is held invalid or unenforceable under applicable law, the policy shall be deemed not to include that provision and all other provisions shall remain in full force and effect.

17. NOTICES, WHERE SENT

All notices required to be given the Company and any statement in writing required to be furnished the Company shall include the number of this policy and shall be addressed to the Company at Ticor Title Insurance Company of Florida, Claims Administration, P.O. Box 45023, Jacksonville, FL 32232-5023.

Questions/Comments:

I met with Alan Lauficella at the Mystic Dunes Resort in Orlando, Florida on Feb. 1, 2016. Alan represents the Diamond Resorts Sales Dept. After a two hour sales presentation I declined to participate in the program. At which time I was approached by another sales person named Randy who represented the Hospitality Department of Diamond Resorts. Randy spent another hour trying to convince me to purchase a sampler program with Diamond Resorts. I finally agreed to purchase a sampler program at the cost of $2,995.00, only because I was told that I could use it to vacation on Hilton Head Island. I was told I would have the same opportunities as someone who was a regular member of Diamond Resorts. In order to become familiar with Diamond Resorts and their programs. I agreed to pay the down payment for this program of $349.00 and to finance the rest on my VISA card. I was not allowed access to the Diamond Resort program until 14 days following my initial meeting. I was in the process of planning my vacations using the sampler program. On March 6, 2016 I was contacted by Justin of Diamond Resorts (866-203-5153, ext.13731). Justin informed me that I could not use my sampler program to visit areas that I was lead to believe I had access to, instead I was only allowed to visit within the Diamond Resorts community. I decided at that time that I no longer wanted to participate and they would not let me out of my commitment. My major complaint is that I was lead to believe that I was purchasing a product that had benefits that would allow me to visit areas that it did not actual include. Also, I was denied access to the website until after the ten day cancellation period, which did not allow me an opportunity to cancel my product purchase. Sincerely, William H. Burrow

I wanted to make your office aware that I had signed a Diamond Resort Vacation time share agreement in Florida at the Liki Tiki resort in Winter Garden, FL on 11/23/2016. I have subsequently decided to cancel the agreement and with Diamond Resorts within the 10 days and have sent a letter today 11/28/16 to the Rescission Coordinator for Diamond resorts At the address listed in the contract requesting cancellation and refund of all deposits paid. Letter was sent certified return receipt USPS. I also sent a copy of the letter to Sandra Colon the QA manager of the Liki Tiki resort certified return receipt USPS. I am unsure of the time Diamond Resorts will take to respond but wanted to make your office aware of this request so that there are hopefully no problems or delays from them and if there were to be you would have advance notice of the cancellation request.

Questions/Comments:

The below is what I sent to Diamond Resorts on June 4, 2016. Diamond Resort International 10600 West Charleston Blvd Las Vegas, Nevada 89134 Contract#: 16872605 I hereby demand that Diamond Resort International takes ownership of the deed that was sold to me under contract number 16872605. This contract was a fraudulent sale where I was told that it was an investment and the value of the points would always go up in value. During the high pressure sales tour I was assured that I could use the points to pay for annual dues, fees and property taxes - which is not true. The sales representative told me that the price of the points would go up the next day and that the offer they gave me was only good for that day. I was told that since I was buying more points, they would make rooms available with short notice - which was also not true. The sales representative signed me up for a credit card and told me that it would be easy to pay for the annual fees because my everyday purchases would allow me to pay for all my points. Yet, in order to accumulate enough points to pay for the fees, I would have to spend in excess of $270,000 per year in everyday purchases with the credit card. But my everyday credit card purchases do not add up to a tenth of that amount. Hence it would be impossible to build enough points to pay for any significant portion of the annual fees. I was also never told that the fees would go up every year. In short, I was lied to and sold an asset that has negative value. The availability of rooms is poor at best, and the annual fees far exceed the value of the sparsely available rooms. Your company has committed theft and I demand that Diamond Resorts takes back the deed for Contract# 16872605.

Next day, 4/12/16, 8:30 am, tried to cancel (within 10 day limit). Was explained that needed to notify Diamond Resorts Financial Services, 10600 W. Charleston, Las Vegas, NV 89135. We mailed Certified Return Receipt 11:21 am 4/12/16. Cert letter was delivered 11 am 4/15/16. Called Diamond Resorts (sampler program) 4/19/16 @ 866.854.2369. Because refund had not yet been posted on our AMEX accounts. Was told that the cancelation had been forwarded to First American Title. A response from 1st Amer

Title should be by Friday 4/20 that they received it. At that point, Diamond Resorts would start a 20 day wait period for 1st Amer to refund our refund into our AMEX accounts. The payment was not a partial payment on a loan. It was the full price paid of the vacation plan # 17403816S. Since there were no loan papers, no financial info, no payments set up, - just name & credit cards, like buying a pair of shoes; seems like returning said shoes and refund to credit card would be instant...NOT Four to Five weeks later !

Questions/Comments:

I own a fixed week timeshare at Liki Tiki Resort in Kissimmee, Florida. The unit is under contract number 16808766. My ownership is for unit 204C during week 30 every year. My membership number is: 61-173141. As part of a divorce settlement, the deeded ownership of my timeshare was transferred solely to me, removing my former wife, Vicki L. Driscoll, from the deed. This process was handled by Erin Walker of Korshak & Associates of 950 S. Winter Park Drive, Suite 320, Casselberry, FL. The signed and notarized deed changes were recorded with Orange County on October 21, 2013. Diamond Resorts International acquired Island One Resorts on July 24th, 2013. Liki Tiki Resort was part of the deal. I've been to two "owners updates" since then where the salesmen for Diamond Resorts acknowledged Diamond's possession of a copy of the recorded deed. I also spoke to a customer service representative who similarly acknowledged that Diamond Resorts had a copy of the deed. Diamond Resorts is refusing to remove my ex-wife's name from the account that is connected to this timeshare unless I send them a copy of the deed, which I'm fine with, and send them $100, which I'm not fine with. Without the $100 they are refusing to acknowledge the change in the deed. Is this legal for a timeshare resort to ignore an ownership change in this fashion and demand a payment to acknowledge a duly executed and recorded deed? Secondly, in an attempt to force fixed week owners to convert their timeshare ownership to a floating, point system, Diamond International is not allowing fixed week owners to reserve any available space in the former Island One Resorts (Liki Tiki, The Cove At Ormond, Brian's Spanish Cove, Orbit One, Parkway Resort, Charter Club and Barefoot Inn). Instead they are insisting that fixed week owners can only exchange internally, through the Galaxy/Florida Club Connection, for other fixed week timeshares, excluding all other timeshares at these properties that were converted to the point system. I was notified of this issue at an owner update held in Daytona Beach in December of 2014. In that meeting the company representatives threatened me with the possibility that my fixed week ownership would become worthless if I did not convert my fixed week to points at a cost of, as I recall, $72,000 Diamond Resorts accepted my internal exchange reservation payment ($119) in July of 2014 without mentioning that I might not be able to exchange my deposited week due to the new policy blocking exchange access to any converted unit in the Island One system. As a result, my repeated attempts to make a reservation to use my deposited week have been unsuccessful. I have been informed that my reservation will expire in July and I will have lost the exchange deposit fee of $119 and the annual HOA fee of $872.48. Can Diamond block access by fixed week owners, through internal exchanges, to other available properties in the Island One system that once were available as part of timeshare ownership benefits before Diamond Resorts International acquired Island One? Shouldn't they have to forfeit the reservation and annual fees since they rendered my ownership and exchange null and void? Additionally, doesn't Diamond Resorts International have a fiduciary responsibility to not take actions that take away deeded ownership benefits or otherwise purposely devalue an owner's timeshare ownership? I'm sure there are many other Island One owners in the same situation as me. Thank you for considering this matter.

Questions/Comments:

I bought a time share at Mystic Dunes Resort & Golf club in Orland, FL back on 2005. The resort got bought out by Diamond Resorts a few years ago. Diamond Resorts is aggressively trying to upsale points to the current owners in Mystic Dunes Resorts like that bought time share directly from Mystic Dunes. The annual maintenance fees has been going every year and it's almost double now. They told me if I do not spend extra money with them to change to the Club points or whatever I will have to pay more (expect to have 12%-13% increase for the next 10 years) because a lot of members have changed as they recommended. I will be the very few people that still have the time share at Mystic Dunes Resort and expect to pay a lot more maintenance fees. Or, I have to pay $6000.00 to move me to the Trust so they can help me to keep the increase of annual maintenance fees at 3% early and if I decide I cannot afford to pay the annual maintenance fees I can surrender my 1 week time share to them free of charge. Is it legal for Diamond Resorts to practice business like this? I live in MA. We went down to Orland, FL years ago and love Orlando a lot and thought it would be a good place for family vacation. It's becoming a burden for us now. My husband bought the time share. Diamond Resorts constantly has different promotions and want us to spend more money with them or they will make changes to my current time share week. The simple easy way is to continue increasing yearly maintenance fees at larger path. Thanks for reading this and let me know what's my right. Appreciate! Have a good day. Jenny

Questions/Comments:

I am writing to describe my experience with Diamond Resorts. Last summer (August, 2015) while vacationing in Orlando in our Interval International time share (traded), we were asked to go to a sales meeting with Diamond Resort, who owned properties in Orlando. After 4 hours of a very aggressive and insistent sales pitch, we agreed to purchase a Diamond Resorts sampler at a cost of $3000. We used the sample this past August, 2016 for a trip to South Beach, Miami, Florida. This is what happened: We arrived at President Villa hotel before 1:00, and the room was not ready. We left our luggage and went to get some lunch. Arriving back at the hotel, the room still not ready. We went out for a walk and when we came back, the room was still not ready. The front desk staff offered us a complimentary drink at the small restaurant bar. Each time we asked if the room was ready, they kept telling us there is a room for us, giving us a room number starting on third floor, then second floor, then first floor in next building, but each time "the room was not ready". Finally, after 4 pm, they gave us a room key to the building next door. We had to walk through an alleyway, which was under construction. The bell -hop took our luggage and walked with us to the room. As we walked, he said that he's embarrassed to take anyone to this room. We opened the door and could see why. It's a tiny little "box" of a room, with painted-over windows and barely even room to walk. The queen-sized bed barely fit between the two walls and a person had to hold the wall to get in and out of the bed. The TV didn't work, but there was a microwave, coffeepot and refrigerator, the last of which was in a tiny walk in closet. It was so narrow that only held with one small bar about 2 feet long that held only a few garments. There was a small plastic chair and table. We went back to front desk to complain and they told us to go to another hotel if we didn't like it! We decided to stay but contacted Diamond Resorts and complained. We were told that they could show us their lovely rooms, but we couldn't stay in one of those-we had to stay where they put us. We stayed for the week, and it took 3 days for them to figure out how to connect the TV. Each day we had to walk through the alley, where homeless people now slept. We were also subject to constant construction noise and dust. Each day there would be either wall panels or ceilings missing in the hallway, ladders in front of the door, etc. Pictures are enclosed. We still have points left on our $3000 purchase, for one more vacation, but are quite hesitant to use them, knowing that we may have horrendous conditions to stay in. We decided to report Diamond Resorts to the Federal Trade Commission for their unethical (unfair business practices) and potentially illegal policies (staying in an unsafe building under construction). Please advise. Thank you in advance for your consideration. I can be reached at 201-486-5607 or mhavens523@aol.com for further information.

Questions/Comments:

Diamond never called me to make arrangements and they sent me a certified letter in April 2016 for default date February 26, 2016 Deceitful should have current date. Diamond Resort International has also gotten rid of deceitful agents from Palms Country Club and Golf Resort and replaced with New Agents. Diamond Resort International has not called or offered me a reinstatement or payment arrangement when I was Not in Foreclosure yet when I made $100 payments a week and called Diamond to ask can we set up payment arrangement for $100 weekly and Thomas who I last talked to in May 2016 before transferred to foreclosure department, when I made $100 payment said no I have to pay in full. Thomas at the time said I only owed $1000 and to call financial area and try to get payment arrangement gave number for foreclosure department but never got thru. I also contacted the title company First American Title and talked to Sonia Hernandez 702-304-7515 and explained I have been making payments and asking for payment arrangements and Diamond Resort not willing to work with me keep saying they want payment in full and would email and send response to Sonia who told me to keep her informed of my situation because Diamond Resort 702-804-8600 should be willing to work with me since I am trying to pay and want to keep my property. Sonia said she will send email to foreclosure department at Diamond Resort International and ask them to call me and emailed me Diamond email and number but Diamond never called me. Sonia Hernandez from title company would try and help me and try to contact Diamond and be intercessor but Diamond not willing to work with me. Then Diamond Resort International send me a letter like they want to make payment arrangements with me and the phone number listed on the letter is disconnected and I told Sonia Hernandez at the Title company First American who also tried the number and found it to be disconnected also and I emailed Sonia Hernandez all information I would send to Diamond Resort International showing I am trying to make payments and asked for payment arrangements to no avail. Diamond Resort International did set up a payment arrangement with a friend of mine who owed $1500 and she pays $200.00 a month 2016. So why is Diamond not trying work with me? June 20, 2016 I sent in a certified check for #200 for maintenance bill and Diamond sent check back to me and I enclosed a letter asking Diamond Resort International who bought Palms Country Club and Golf Resort in Kissmmee FL to apply payments I have been making on my loan I finance with Palms Country Club and Gold Resort to my maintenance payments since they are past due but would not. I purchased a one bedroom with Mystic Dunes November 2006 Agent Pam Parker, Helen, and man from financial service told me they would take money I had previously paid when I had 3 bedroom lockout Unit with the Palm Country Club and Golf Resort 2001 and put towards one bedroom I just purchased at Mystic Dunes Resort in same New building I previously owned at Palms Country Club and Golf Resort otherwise I don't want to purchase one bedroom at Mystic Dunes Resort. Agents Pam Parker, Helen and man in financial services said the one bedroom I will purchase with them will be in the same unit I had previously owned as a 3 bedroom lockout in the In New Building. Agents Deceived and Mislead me to believe Unit I purchased in November 2006 was going to be the same unit when I purchased one bedroom in 3 bedroom lock out it was not. Unit Agents sold me one bedroom was in the old building which is Much Smaller . I found this out when I went to stay for my week in 2006 with my mom elderly and sister and it was not enough room for us to comfortably fit into one bedroom Unit and small frig so nowhere to put all the food we bought and small bed very uncomfortable and my taxes were paid up to date and current. I complained and talked to Agents and they did nothing. Agents Mislead and Deceived me I didn't give me fair amount of money from previous 3 bedroom lock out unit to transfer funds to New Purchase of one bedroom with Mystic Dunes Resort who purchased Palms Country Club and Golf Resort in November 2006 Even years. I also called Diamond Resort International and asked for name of company I financed loan with and representative would not give me information said they don't have anymore. Diamond bought property and got rid of fired Deceitful Agents that were deceiving/ misleading customer fraudulent deals. Palms purchased by Mystic Dunes then bought by Diamon Resort International in Las Vegas NV. Where does Palms Country Club come into play? I am not on new point system they have been trying to force old customers to get on. I was never told loan going into foreclosures until I called. Notice received in April about default but has February date in it? Fraudulent and Deceitful business practice in deceiving me as customer. I asked that payments I made on loan Be credited to maintenance bill that is more delinquent in letter I wrote but Diamond has not done so and sent $200 certified check back. Is sent several emails and made calls to Sonia Hernandez at First American Title telling her Diamond won't answer my calls transfer me several time. Diamond does not call me when I finally get thru your someone asking several times for payment arrangement Diamond representative say no Only payment in full when .I called in May and made $100 payment with girl told her I want to make payments she transferred me to Thomas said Not in Foreclosure yet in May 2016 said I only owe $1000. Gave me 800 number representative said wring areas kept getting wrong around. Diamond even sent me a letter regarding arrangement with wrong number listed told Sonia I need some help. and deceive me property I purchased one bedroom should have been in same unit I owned previously as told by agents when I purchased it would be But Deceitful Fraude company unit was in Old Building out dated furniture much smaller. Please help me foreclosures Sale Date is soon and I have tried everything I know to do. I only fell behind due to being laid off in Decemeber 2013 then car accident but still sent in what money I could.

Questions/Comments:

We attended a Diamond Resort presentation in Orlando, FL, on 12/15/15. It was a bait-and-switch scheme, which we unfortunately fell for. They promised us verbally a great deal, but what we signed for in no way matches what was promised. In fact, what we received was not worth to us the amount we paid for it. We would like our money refunded.

I attended a meeting with several other timeshare owners in Rio Rancho, NM. We signed a "Mortgage Relief Advocacy Contract". The contract states that the process will take 12-18 months and I have contacted Saby Shanabrook at (Saby@help4tso.com), my personal contact, several times; at first she responded by sending me letters to forward to Diamond Resorts, but has not answered my e-mails the past two times. In the meantime, I am being constantly called by Diamond Resorts because I was told by my personal "helper" at the meeting not to make any payments so I have not paid.

Questions/Comments:

I would like to file a complaint against Diamond Resorts International and how one of their sales reps miss led us in purchasing a $2,995.00 sampler package. The rep assured us that they could transfer $2,595.00 from a previous sampler package in 2013 (that was not used but has since expired) to cover part of the current sampler package. Instead the full amount of $2,995.00 was charged to a newly opened Diamond Resort credit card. The miss leading part was that we were not credited the amount they promised and they added the full amount to the new credit card we received in the mail. The credit card is financed by another company. So Diamond has their money already paid in full while we were led to think we would be making installments of $29.99 for the next 18 months. When asked if we could cancel the sampler package, we were told it was too late. There was only a 10-day period to cancel. I explained that we were out of town and just returned home to find the new credit card and the statement in the mail.

Until recently, when my daughter made a reservation, it showed the information on my account sight, Diamond Resorts recently changed their system giving my associate members their own account numbers and not posting to my primary member account any information as to number of points used, or reservations made. I question the legality of this new practice. I asked them if they would at least cc me the reservations made, and was told no.

I stayed at a diamond resort hotel (Orbit One Vacation Villas) in Orlando for a few nights to visit Disney World I never signed up for time share marketing or attended their sales pitch seminars. And I have been continually harassed by diamond international on my cell phone and emails since I stayed months ago I have made several phone calls to tell them I am not interested and please stop calling and emailing, tonight I got another email and went to the contact page of the website I provided you and in order to contact them by email you must check a disclaimer stating they may contact you regardless of any previous requests not to contact, so I can not contact them by email to ask them to stop without giving them permission to continue to harass me. The phone calls have done absolutely nothing to stop them from contacting me and wasting my cell phone minutes please help if this is covered in the areas you serve and if this is not something you can help with can you suggest the proper agency to contact this company contacts to the point of harassment, they call and hang up AND call continually to market every time they do speak I ask them to put me on a do not call list as well as the calls I have made to the number listed on the website

So when I home, to maryland checked the papers, they deceived me and kept them. I tried from July to December 2015, they have not addressed this matter. Because of my age, I now believe this is what they've planed.

Questions/Comments:

I have asked Diamond Resorts on December 29 TO CANCEL A CONTRACT (signed in December 14) before using any of their services. They refused to fulfill my request because their cancellation period is 10 calendar days after signing but as I stated on my letter their seller told me that I needed to wait 14 days after the signing for using their system. How could I know what I was going to get before those 14 days if I did not have any information nor online nor on the phone on how their timeshare system worked? The timeshare seller hid important information from me and engaged in deceptive and unfair practices taking advantage of the lack of knowledge that I had at the moment of the contract signing. Once I had the complete information before my eyes, I realized it was a rip off. I am a Cuban widow and don't have money to hire an attorney. Could you help me, please? I would appreciate any kind of help! Thank you, Maria Cecilia Alegria

After paying $1114.00 for my weekly ownership rental for the year, Diamond Resorts and Grand Beach have given up my week. They didn't deposit the week into RCI for several weeks after they were supposed to and kept telling me they deposited our week into RCI. RCI kept telling me there was no deposit. On 12/08/16, after trying to resolve this with both Grand Beach and Diamond International, they deposited two weeks from a lesser value resort into RCI explaining that they already gave up the week I own and have paid for. In order to use these lesser weeks, I am expected to pay $119.00 to combine the deposits to make the value of what they did equal or greater trading power to the week I own and have paid for at Grand Beach in Orlando. This is fraudulent and what can I do to resolve this and leave ownership. We have owned at this resort for over twenty years.

Kenneth R. Hurst

Peekskill, NY 10566 November 7, 2016

[Reference: 9-6926566] Dear Sir or Madam: I refer to the misrepresentations in which Diamond Resorts International's, located at 10600 W Charleston Blvd, Las Vegas, NV 89135, sales agents stated it was a great investment and something that would increase in value as years went on. I eventually learned this was untrue by some internet research. Timeshare ownership with Diamond is worth nothing. So renting and/or selling is virtually impossible. They used the resale/rental potential as a way to convince me to purchase. Brandi Alexander has answered my correspondence and although, I have clearly stated my situation, she insists there was no misrepresentation because coverage was provided regarding the agreement. I consider that the terms are unfair and unattainable for the following reasons: contract was signed relying on sales agents' verbal disclosures, but it turns out that what is written on the agreement is not even close to what they said; there is never any availability no matter how soon or later you decide to book, and they recommend that you do so 10-13 months in advance, even so, there's nothing; selling and renting is not possible because according to Diamond, this was only for "personal use and enjoyment" and not for investment purposes, had I known this beforehand, I would have not agreed as I would have continued to use normal hotel/vacation planning. The sales agents did not disclose true information and for the reasons stated above, these term are not enforceable against me and should be voided. Since this is a violation in consumer protection laws, I feel I am entitled to some money back. I look forward to hearing from you soon. Sincerely, Kenneth Hurst

Questions/Comments:

I attended update meeting and was misinformed by sales rep Billy Rodrigues. He told me Diamond was listening to their members and addressing their issues..said they had a 'Freeze Program' where I could freeze my timeshare usage for a year and not pay my membership fee that year. The only reason I did this is I saw this a chance to fall back a year to save so I could make payments for new contract. BUT in order to do this, I had to purchase an additional 3000 points .My loan from Diamond was $23,228 @15.69%

I went to my home bank and applied for home equity loan at 3.5%. I had to have my home, a small condo appraised (addition $385) My appraisal was not enough for my bank to cover my total Diamond loan. I made a payment to Diamond Financial Services for $17000, Plus I had to pay a downpayment on a Diamond Credit Card of $4030. My bank insisted they would pay off the credit card, so I have paid a total of $21,030 to Diamond Resorts. I call their Financial Services and requested to put a [Freeze' on my timeshare for the year, They had NO clue what I was talking about... NO 'freeze program[existed ! I texted the sales rep Billy and he responded 'its not in place yet[He lied and misinformed me. I do not need the extra points. I am not getting what I thought I was investing in. I called Diamond Financial Services again and said I have paid $17,000, explained my situation, and asked if they would lower my monthly % rate. I still owe Diamond $6535.69. and my monthly payment is $390.59 a month. Even with me paying that amount, they offered no help. I now have an increased Membership/maintenance yearly fee of $3356. because I now have more points. Under my old contract, I was paying $2750 a year. I am ashamed, embarrassed, and scared that I let myself be fooled. I cannot afford this. My total monthly income of Social Security and pension is $4333. I am 68 years old single, a diabetic.and on Medicare. At this moment, I pay Insulin $60, Invokana $19 and Victoza $25. But by end of February, I am in the Medicare donut hole. Those same medicines per month cost... Insulin $424, Invokana $175 and Victoza $206. My decision was based on this ' Freeze' to allow me to fall back and save money for the following year. I cannot do this, contacted Billy and he said 'sorry about your situation and I should consider declaring hardship'. Again, I was misled and was told untruths. These promises are not written down on paper. No, Billy did not twist my arm. But I am not getting what was promised for my investment .I hope you can help me out. Thank you, Barb Yenchik

Questions/Comments:

I am writing to complain about the business practices of DRI, Inc. They are impossible to work with when inquiring about owners' rights, responsibilities and ability to transfer title to someone else. I want to transfer title to a family member and have not received any assistance after several attempts. Their customer service center refused to give me a phone number of someone to speak with in the title transfer department, but instead insisted that I email inventory@diamondresorts.com and wait for an answer. Of course, I have not received one. Diamond Resorts bought out what was Island One and Club Navigo when they were, unbeknownst to me, in bankruptcy. As owners, we should have had the opportunity to decline the membership in DRI or otherwise surrender or sell our timeshare to the incoming company. We were given no such notice or option at any time. Instead, they sent us to a three hour high pressure sales pitch to get us to buy more points! (at $60,000 no less!) I finally found someone who would benefit from the timeshare ownership and even now I am receiving no customer service for the outrageous (and ever increasing) maintenance fees that they charge every year. Something must be done. Sincerely,
Theresa Yong

Questions/Comments:

In November 2013, we were going to purchase a Diamonds international time share, but changed our minds before the transaction was completed. They did a hard sale and advised us to just "try" a sampler for 18 months. We never took advantage of the 18 month deal, but found out just recently that they did not void the contract that was started and now we are responsible for the contract. There is an inconsistency because why did we have a sampler if it was not a trial period ;and why did we receive a call last year as the trial period was about to end asking us to choose a package. I believe this company uses illegal tactics to ensure a sale. They kept us all day, so we may not have been as vigilant as we should have been , But there are so many inconsistencies that the Company can not explain. I think many people are victimized this way and never say anything because they have signed the contract or the company did a bait and switch on the contract. We recognize our stupidity will cost us, but their tactics should be investigated so that it does not happen to others. We only found out when they sent another yearly assessment. The agent said the payment was delinquent and we explained we were only trying out the offering. She admitted we had a sampler but could not explain why we were still responsible for another assessment or why we received a call from David advising that our promotional period was ending. Please. Please investigate their practices. I understand we signed the contract, but this company does not operate in integrity. A hard hard lesson,

Questions/Comments:

We attended a timeshare presentation at Mystic Dunes Resort, Orlando, Florida, on May 20, 2015. The salesman, John Pineda, lied from the beginning about the features, benefits, and advantages of timeshare ownership. He assured us that the process would last 90 minutes at the most and instead he held us there for 6.5 hours; this included a trip to a second, private location on the property. That was the first deception and the lies snowballed from there. During the agonizing hours-long presentation, we declined several times; all told, he lied about several things - things that would finally convince us to purchase a large number of points with Diamond Resorts International. John Pineda told us that timeshare properties appreciate like real estate. He told us about yearly price increases (that part could be true) and that we were buying at a great time. Each time we told him we weren't interested he countered with reasons why we should be interested. He told us that we'd never get the low rate he was offering ever again. He said that if we walked away now and returned at a later date we'd pay triple for the same type of unit. He also lied about using the timeshare as a form of passive income by renting it out for a profit. John looked at us conspiratorially and told us he wasn't supposed to tell us about renting so not to tell anyone at Diamond International Resorts he had said that. Such theatrics. And it is impossible to rent timeshares anyway. He also said that in a few years we could "make a ton on money" by selling it. When we had refused a purchase and balked at the price one too many times, Mr. Pineda spoke with the finance department. He came back with a "buy-back option", a unit that someone had sold back to Diamond; the maintenance fees were already paid. This was yet another deception solely presented to close the sale. How do we know that - now? When we called the customer service line inquiring about how to get into the buy-back program, customer service informed us they have never offered such a service. John also told us that by buying a pre-owned membership we'd be given additional points, points we could use for airfare and car rentals. We called to use the points and were told we did not qualify. A line of credit was opened in John's name - without knowledge or consent. Most offensively, John Pineda told us to refinance the timeshare immediately through a bank, specifically Bank of America, to get a lower interest rate. We contacted Bank of America and several other banks - none has ever heard of refinancing a timeshare. We called Diamond Resorts International soon after to simply cancel the contract and found we had missed the rescission period at that point in time. But had we been advised of this rescission period, we may have been able to cancel then.

On 1/9/16 me & my wife were invited to the Marriott @ WPB, for them to help us understand our contract and how to use it. On that date (we were there 6hrs) we signed a contract to pay for better value of our plan. They also took my property in Sedona on a quick claim deed. (we paid $19,000.00 10 yrs ago) My total amount for this is $39,170.00. Over the weekend we rethought it I DID not like the deal and read articles just written in NYTime how unscrupulous Diamond is. On 1/12/16 we e-mailed and by mail Diamond Resorts of Change of mind. Also called MCard they said to wait they will try and straighten this out. sending attachments

Attention Client Relations,

Please be aware that the purpose of this letter is inform your company of my desire to have this contract with Barefoot N Mortgage cancelled. I have not been in happy with this purchase for many years and find it to have been a complete waste of money. As I responsible individual, I have kept payments but can no longer afford to do so. Especially with the increasing maintenance fees and taxes each year and the lack of availability. Having to pay so much money and never having used this timeshare is not rational and I cannot nor will not pay for this any longer.

On March 2nd of 2007, I entered into contract with your company and purchased in with the Barefoot'N in the Keys at Old Town during a visit to Englewood, Co. I was contacted by Great Escapes, a travel club I am a member of, and informed of this presentation. Once I arrived, I was greeted and assisted by Janis L. Condit, a sales representative of your organization. She informed me that I would enjoy being an owner of a timeshare. She began by informing me of all the many benefits and savings that I would receive with owning this timeshare. I attended this presentation with my partner. I was advised we would be able to take vacations all over the world any time we choose. We were informed that we would need to simply contact RCI and they would make all the arrangements for us. This was not true! Although we have never made any attempts to make reservations, we have tried to do a trade with RCI as we were advised we could and have never been successful. We were also informed that we could sell this timeshare for a profit. This was definitely presented as a potential selling point.

I informed Mrs. Condit that I could not afford nor were we interested in making this purchase. All our denials were ignored as they continued to apply more and more pressure into persuading our decision. She would continue to leave and return with more and more offers for lesser and lesser prices. I felt that there was no other choice but for me to purchase or I would not be able to leave and enjoy our vacation. Each time I informed your sales staff that I could not afford it they continued to reply with the many ways that they felt I could. As I stated, I felt forced to comply.

I have never been to the resort in the many years I have owned it. I have also never been able to trade it for other vacation destinations in Texas and/or in Florida. I have tried to book a trade for years with RCI and have not been able to. I was also hoping to leave the timeshares to my daughters but due to the rising cost of associated fees it has become a huge financial burden for me and would be an even bigger financial burden on my daughters. As the cost of maintenance fees and taxes continue to rise it has become more apparent and rational that I would be cheaper to just book a vacation package by other means and not be burdened with all the expenses and complications of owning a timeshare.

I am 69 years old and have never missed a payment or financial obligation in my life. I will soon be on affixed income and will not be able to afford this timeshare. I feel like I was taken advantage of and forced to make a decision and sign my name on the line with all the obligations that go with it. I would gladly give back the timeshare to have this contract cancelled immediately. I would appreciate any assistance your office can provide with this matter.

Cordially,

Connie Blocker

Questions/Comments:

We have been a timeshare holder for a long while -since 2008- and have upgraded points several times - most recently 2014. From the initial presentation to the last upgrade to purchase points, the sales staff have all told us that the timeshare was a real estate investment. They all said that our purchase would build equity as real estate does. The company denies that the sales reps would say that and of course they cannot verify what they would call hearsay. These have been lies upon lies in this regard. It does not appreciate in value. There is no equity as these all have said it would have. They told us we could make extra money by renting it out or even sell it if we wanted to. And sell it we have tried to do. We listed it with Sell my Timeshare. Diamond Resorts International does not have a buyback program or we would have tried that, too. And yes, we had tried to rescind the contract by calling the office. The sales presentations were always promoted as 90 minutes. They have routinely run upwards of 4 hours. It was routine for the salesmen to talk in circles when we asked questions. They wouldn't answer questions and rather got ramped up about another subject. We at that point would just be nodding as the information that was given went right over our heads. At one signing the person had a booklet "Read before signing anything" to be given to us. They gave it to us after all the signing was done. We received an email as a response for one letter saying that we signed everything, therefore we are responsible. We don't deny that we signed the contracts. We are saying that the salesmen misled us about the features of the timeshare and misrepresented the benefits or advantages. We restate that the sales presentations were long drawn-out affairs and yet the signing of the contracts proceeded quite quickly. We thought the contract held everything that was verbally told by the sales people. We were not given ample opportunity to thoroughly read and digest the contracts. There was always some reason why we needed additional points or we had to upgrade to bigger/better.

Questions/Comments:

I am an owner at Mystic Dunes Resort managed by Diamond Resorts. The property has been paid off but we are still responsible for a maintenance fee on the years we have access to a week (every other year). I realized recently that my maintenance fee (we get bills from The Palms Country Club and Resort Condominium Association, Inc.) is higher than the cost of that same week on the internet, available to anyone without being owners. Our bill is $1,303 and the cost on internet is $980. I would like to get some guidance as to how I can resolve this. It seems as I get absolutely no benefits from being an owner if I could get a cheaper rate over the internet free market. I talked to them but they refuse to adjust my payments. Any advice or assistance would be greatly appreciated. Thanks

Questions/Comments:

This complaint is regarding The Palms Country Club and Condominium Association, Inc. We are owners of a membership at Mystic Dunes Resort and Golf Club through Diamond Resorts International. Contract number is 2214289. We have been assigned week number 32, Unit 21-303 every other year. As I searched the internet for the property prices, I realized that the price for that week on Mystic Dunes via the internet was $980. The maintenance fee that we have been asked to pay for that same week is $1,303.75. It seems unreasonable that we, as owners, are been asked to pay a higher rate that what it would cost for a regular person to make an online booking. I called the property and talked to agent Teri Brady who put me in contact with another management person. They refused to make any adjustments to our maintenance fee. If we wanted to change to a different week we would have to pay an even higher price. I would like some assistance to resolve this issue and for our fees to be lower that internet rates available to non-owners. Thank you for your time. Mercedes Ruiz

Many misleading sales tactics, of course made verbally, and resort has refused to cancel purchase. Months of going around and around with no resolution is not acceptable. We have no intent of doing business with a company that will not own up to their mistakes and lacks integrity. They need to be investigated for the manipulation that takes place.

Questions/Comments:

In late December of last year, my family and I went on vacation to Mystic Dunes Resort in Celebration, Florida. Upon check-in, the front desk clerk invited us to attend a 90-minute presentation. For our time, we would receive a $100 Visa gift card with no obligation to purchase. We were asked to attend the presentation during our stay; however, we opted to attend on the morning of checkout so this meeting did not disrupt our plans. Following checkout, we were escorted into a lounge room and told to wait. It was there that we met Mr. José Valez, a salesman for Diamond Resort International. I made a point to warn Mr. Valez that we were short for time. We had a rental car that we needed to return, in Georgia, by 6 p.m. He assured us we would be done within the aforementioned 90-minute timeframe. There was no real presentation that day. Mr. Valez immediately launched into a sales attempt and began to providing information such as prices for the varying levels of ownership. I use the term "ownership" loosely, because I have since learned that we are not part owner of any property. A few months after our purchase, I called to inquire about the deed I was promised during closing. I was informed that I was not going to receive a deed because I was on a point system. Mr. Valez manager, Mr. Robert Gonzalez, eventually joined us. He claimed he would provide the best deal possible, and proceeded to write down a starting price of $60,000. I scoffed at that and responded that we would never spend that kind of money for a vacation home. It was clear that we were not interested, but they would not take "no" for an answer. Mr. Gonzalez came back with an offer of $47,000. Again, we refused the offer. Repeatedly, Mr. Valez and Mr. Gonzalez excused themselves to converse with a third party. By the time they returned with a third offer, we had been there for three hours. They acted as if they had a big surprise for us when they returned. Mr. Gonzalez said, "This deal is only available today." Their final offer settled around $28,000. They insisted that ownership would be cheaper than paying for a vacation every year. However, with the monthly payments plus maintenance fees (which we have discovered will increase annually); there is no real basis for comparison. They estimated that we would have a monthly payment of $350.71. They never mentioned that maintenance fees were separate from this amount. It was only after I received a bill for over $1,600 in maintenance fees that I learned that maintenance fees were not included in the club dues. The club dues plus the maintenance fees for 10 years come to more than $58,000; and that is only if the maintenance fees remained the same during that time. We would have been better off saving our money in an interest-yielding bank account and paying for a vacation out of pocket! We were told that upgrading from a one-bedroom unit to a two-bedroom suite would guarantee more points toward our vacations and increase the value of our ownership and exchange power. However, none of the vacations we researched came close to the point's range we purchased. We cannot understand from where Mr. Valez and Mr. Gonzalez based their estimates, but the information was grossly overrated. By the time we settled on a contract deal, we were late in returning the rental. Mr. Gonzalez promised to cover the late fees associated with the rental car. To date, I have received no compensation for this, nor are there any indications in the contract that we were reimbursed until recently when Diamond Resorts employee, Ms. Shelly Knapp sent us a REVISED/FRAUDULENTLY revised contract. This was done AFTER our purchase and AFTER we signed this so called legally binding contract. In April of 2016, we called Diamond to cancel our contract and were denied. They literally suggested we pay for something, and then give it back to sell again. We refuse to sit by and allow ourselves to be cheated by this contract. We will not allow another dime to fall from our hands. Clearly we have been subjected to deceit and fraudulent activity. This is not acceptable. Had the sales agents been forthcoming with details surrounding the timeshare, we never would have agreed to a purchase. We demand that our contract is cancelled, and we do require a full refund of all money paid to date, penalty free.

Questions/Comments:

I have learned that legitimate timeshare re-sellers who are licensed with the state of Florida, will not accept Diamond Resorts, domiciled in Nevada, points to resell, but will accept Diamond's competitor's points for resale. My husband and I are only one owner, but consider the following journalists who have all written articles about improper sales practices at Diamond: Gretchen Morganson, Pulitzer Prize winner, "The Timeshare Hard Sell Comes Roaring Back" New York Times January 22, 2016 Roddy Boyd, "Diamond Resorts and Its Perpetual Mortgage Machine" Southern Investigative Reporting Foundation, March 7, 2016 Clarion Johnson's reports written for The Capital Forum, August 2014 and January 2016 - His most appalling example of deception being a woman with terminal brain cancer at the time of purchase being promised she would be able to stay at a NY City Diamond resort to see a Macys Day parade; when Diamond did not own property in New York City. She and her husband paid Diamond $100,000. Matthey Zeitlin of BuzzFeed just reported on the Consumer Financial Protection Bureau's investigation of Westgate timeshare. His report speculates that Diamond is probably on the radar. March 18, 2016 We are senior citizens held hostage by Diamond. We refuse to allow the company to take back the $50,000 in points we have invested, only to see Diamond resell our points at full value, while restricting us from using a re-seller. The two brokers I talked to said they do not know of a licensed broker who will sell Diamond points due to the restrictions Diamond has placed on points purchased on a secondary market. Below is an article I wrote that has been reviewed by Mike Finn, an attorney whose firm employs five lawyers devoted to timeshare. My jaw dropped when he told me his 400 to 500 cases would make a diagnosis of cancer look like head cold. The timeshare companies tell him hardship is not a legal defense. We were told Diamond would take back points in the case of hardship at the time of our purchase. We are not hardship, but as a former financial planner, I would never have bought something I could not resell. With the aging baby boomer population, and the cost of long term care, this is only going to get worse. Diamond reported 25% of 2015 point sales have been set aside as noncollectable. The figure for 2015 was $80 million set aside as noncollectable for all of Diamond's 2015 revenue. I have attached an article I wrote which has been reviewed by Mr. Finn, David Cortese of Magical Realty and two of the journalists mentioned above. Please read the articles listed above. If the Consumer Financial Protection Bureau is investigating, why aren't the AGs? One person I interviewed said he has received death threats as a consequence of his efforts to change timeshare. He is an industry insider. My best friend lived with me for the last two months of her life, afraid of her husband. He murdered her, so I take death threats seriously. It's another reason I am sending this email. 270-303-7572

Diamond Resorts Predatory Marketing Practices

Diamond's Unfair Trade Practices Restricting the sale of Diamond Points

Front Four Capital Group and ADW Capital Partners, venture capital firms owning large blocks of Diamond stock wrote a letter to CEO David Palmer demanding "the exploration of strategic alternatives to maximize shareholder value”, recommending a leveraged buyout to take Diamond private. They are seeking a 30% internal rate of return. Mr. Palmer heeded their advice, as mentioned in Diamond’s 2015 annual report to shareholders. If this happens, Diamond owners will be left at their mercy. We did not know Diamond timeshare was a lifetime commitment. When my husband and I purchased points in 2012, we did so unwillingly. In 2008 we purchased a week from a company called ILX, at Los Abrigados in Sedona, Arizona. ILX failed and Diamond Resorts entered into our life. In 2012, the price of a Diamond “point” averaged about $4.50. By 2014, the price of a point trended down to the $2 range. We were given 4200 Diamond points for our ILX unit, which equated to $8.00 per point compared to what we had paid for it. We initialed a “Point’s Usage Acknowledgement” form as part of our contract documents. Paragraph 4 states: “I/we understand the average Point value to stay 1 week in THE Club is approximately 5500 points for a 1 bedroom”. The bold and underline type are in the actual document. In other words, existing owners are given less than the average number of points for a week stay as a means to coerce existing owners to upgrade. After our first 2012 meeting with Christine Dargon, a Diamond “counselor”, we purchased 2500 points in order to have an adequate number of points. She explained the necessity of joining the Diamond system. The 2500 points were purchased for $3.00 per point. I asked Christine, “What happens if we can no longer travel?” She explained that Diamond has a “hardship” department that would take back our points should the need arise. I do not believe Christine is a dishonest person. She was, at the time, a Diamond owner. She told us she was a former psychologist with no sales background. I believe Christine really believed Diamond would take back points automatically if we suffered a hardship. She did tell us our points would revert back to Diamond at no value. At the time, I did not think about the fact that Diamond could then turn around and resell the points for full value. The transaction is not subject to local real estate laws, so it is an easy and a highly profitable outcome for Diamond. Fixed weeks can be sold, although at a dramatically reduced value. Not so with Diamond points. Although Marriott Vacation Worldwide and Wyndham points can be bought and sold through legitimate timeshare re-sellers, like Magical Realty and Island Consulting Realty; Diamond has done everything in its power to restrict the use and sale of secondary points. An “organized and fluid secondary market” is listed as a potential risk in Diamond’s annual report to shareholders. After consulting Finn Law Group, a law firm specializing in timeshare relief, we learned that, according to timeshare defendants, “hardship” is not considered a legal defense. We learned that developers fall back on the clause: “we did not rely on oral representation to make our purchase” claiming anything a sales agent said is null and void once a contract is signed. Illness, divorce, Alzheimer’s, loss of a spouse, or disappointment with limited resort availability does not matter. Mr. Michael D. Finn, the attorney we spoke with, told us his firm represents 400 to 500 clients struggling to be released from timeshare contracts. When I mentioned the hardship example of a cancer diagnosis, he said his hardship cases make a cancer diagnosis look like a head cold. An owner really does not understand the program at point of sale. It’s not until you attempt to book a vacation, you learn the limits of availability. The program bears some resemblance to multi-level marketing. Consumers, who can only afford one week for an average price of $26,007, and an annual maintenance fee of $1460, allow Platinum members spending $100,000 or more, the program perks and better availability. If the purchase is financed by Diamond (banks will not finance timeshare purchases), an average interest rate of 14% applies, despite an average credit score of around 750. In 2015, Diamond reported a 17.3% increase in Vacation Ownership Interest (VOI) sales to $624 million. Total sales were $954 million. The 2015 $624 million VOI sales figure represents an increase of $115.9 million over 2014, offset by $23.6 million in Diamond’s provision for uncollectible vacation interests, resulting in a net increase of $92.3 million. In other words, a whopping 25% of the sales increase is predicted to be uncollectible. This $23.6 million, or $80 million for all of 2015 revenue, is just a number on an annual report to Diamond, and to the analysts who follow and recommend Diamond stock. Current CEO David Palmer earned $19 million in compensation for the last two years, while people falling on hard times are forced to own an asset they can’t sell, obligated to pay maintenance fees increasing at about 10% per year. An 18% interest rate begins the day the maintenance fee is due. Diamond increased 2015 sales by 12% and doubled net income. On the other side of these glowing numbers are people who are hurting, people who walk away from $26,007 or more, only to have their points flipped to the next unsuspecting consumer at full price. Most people are so glad to get out from under the burden of rising maintenance fees, 18% late fees, collection calls, unwanted solicitations, and limited availability; they don’t even think about the money lost. We were told the collection agencies even call your neighbors. We have made the program work for us by booking stays during discount periods. However, if we wanted to use our points to stay in New York City to visit our daughter, it would require 24,000 to 45,000 points, equivalent to over $4,000 in our maintenance fee dollars. The same hotel could be booked online for $1,100 per week, including taxes.

The high level of points required is also true for San Francisco and all the resorts in England. Diamond offers airline rewards in exchange for points. If we exchanged 10,000 points, equivalent to $2,000 in maintenance fees, we would earn one domestic airline ticket. Not a great deal. The high point properties are often Diamond "affiliate resorts". We hesitate to stay at a property "out of network" after a bad experience we had at Great Wolf Lodge in Kansas City. We booked a weekend family suite for 8,000 points to spend with our daughter and grandson the last week of 2013. When we arrived, Great Wolf had no record of our reservation. We produced our hard copy Diamond confirmation. They explained that Great Wolf is an "affiliate" resort, meaning they were not owned or staffed by Diamond employees. They said things are frequently confused, but the confusion usually turns out to be a misspelled name. Not in our case. We stood at the reception desk for two hours while Diamond blamed Great Wolf and Great Wolf blamed Diamond. By this time I was crying, which was causing a scene. The last week of a year is the busiest week for Great Wolf. Instead of the family suite, they offered us a hotel room with two double beds. Angry, we left our daughter and grandson in Kansas City and drove back home to St. Louis with Christmas presents in the trunk. We were in no mood for Christmas. The Diamond representative seemed proud of himself for convincing a supervisor to return our 8,000 points. Lisa and Brian stayed the weekend at Great Wolf for free. Mr. Palmer stated in his SEC K-8 rebuttal to Gretchen. Morgenson's New York Times article about Diamond, "I wear the fact that 60% of sales comes from existing owners as a badge of honor." Many existing owners, who are frustrated with lack of availability, are assured by Diamond sales agents that the purchase of additional points will solve their dilemma of limited availability. We fell for this twice. We bought an additional 3500 points in 2012, the same year we bought our first 2500 points. Our second purchase cost $10,745 or $2.92 per point. We do not fault the sales agents. They were professional and we understood the program. However, we have enough points. As of our most recent August 2015 stay; we were still being hounded to buy additional points, despite my husband's age of 77, now 78. After one subsequent and agonizing sales presentation disguised as an "owner update", we vowed never to attend another presentation. Deceptive sales and marketing practices are another area of concern. In July of 2015, we were persuaded to attend a 55 minute Grand Beach, Orlando presentation for owners. Three times I asked if we would be paired with a commissioned sales person and three times we were told no, only if we had questions in the last ten minutes. Again, the young lady we talked to really believed this, as we learned later. We refused to sign the appointment form because the fine print at the bottom said we would be robo called if we signed it. They called us anyway, almost daily. When we arrived at the reception area for the "non-sales" presentation, we were greeted by a commissioned sales person. She came and got us after the presentation and we were tortured by three increasingly sophisticated and aggressive sales agents for an additional three hours. I repeatedly told them my husband was 77 and I will soon be Medicare eligible, so we are more interested in long term care plans. There is no upper age limit when it comes to Diamond solicitations. There needs to be a legitimate secondary market. Diamond tells prospects to think of their points as a second home. Who, in their right mind, would purchase a second home knowing it could not be sold. If Diamond is reporting increased profits with doubled net income, and reselling points taken back at full value, consumers should be able to be released from their contracts if they are unhappy with the service, or suffer a hardship. Consumers should be refunded a nominal, prorated amount for their purchase of a service they did not have an opportunity to use prior to purchase. Even owners, happy with their Diamond points, should have sympathy for owners who have hit hard times. There needs to be greater disclosure. If a solicitation is emailed, or in a magazine ad, it clearly states the offer is a time share sales presentation. At a Diamond hospitality desk, efforts to "upgrade" an owner by selling them more points are disguised as an "owner update" or an informational presentation. While I'm encouraged by the CFPB Westgate investigation, I hope the Attorney Generals of all nine states Westgate operates in will initiate their own inquiries. I hope the CFPB expands the scope of their investigation to include Diamond Resorts, because many of the issues that are likely to be uncovered in the Westgate investigation are also issues at Diamond. Diamond places an additional burden on the backs of consumers by preventing the sale of points on the secondary market. In effect, the consumer is held hostage, not able to unload their timeshare. The owners of Westgate timeshare are building a 90,000 square foot home. Diamond CEO David Palmer earned $19 million in compensation in the last two years. I read the stories of hurting people complaining to the Better Business Bureau, Complaints List, Trip Advisor, Red Week, and other internet portals. None of the timeshare firms are BBB accredited, but there are many complaints. DRIP is a website started by over 1000 British Diamond owners trying to get out of their contracts. It stands for Diamond Resorts International Protestors. The number one complaint filed with the Attorney General of Florida is about Timeshare resales. Last year, the Miami court charged 13 people with a double scam. Those charged had drug-related, violent crime backgrounds. The perpetrators responded to timeshare sales ads by promising to sell the timeshare. After taking the money and disappearing, they reappeared as timeshare recovery fraud experts. The same people! Although Florida legislation, making it illegal to accept upfront fees, has reduced complaints by 57%; it still has been the number one complaint filed with the Florida Attorney General's office for the past two years. There are legitimate timeshare resellers. David Cortese at Magical Realty in Orlando is one. His firm will not market Diamond points due to the restrictions Diamond has placed on the use of secondary points. Mr. Cortese referred me to Tom Tubbs at Island Consulting Realty, describing Mr. Tubbs as a person who can sell any timeshare if he can. Mr. Cortese specializes in Marriott Vacation Worldwide properties. Mr. Tubbs told me he would not market Diamond points either. While Diamond competitors, Marriott Vacations Worldwide and Wyndham allow point resales, Diamond does not. If an owner resells points in a secondary market transaction, the buyer may receive a small proceed from the sale, and the broker receives a commission. In the case of Diamond points, Diamond takes back the points at no value to the consumer, and resells the points at full value. The Attorney Generals will go after resale companies, but they seem to leave the developers alone. Developers are able to rest their case with the clause, "I did not rely on oral representation to make my purchase", and on the five to ten day recession clause, while the consumer is on vacation, possibly with the kids, traveling by car or plane to their destination and home again, not having the opportunity to use the service until the next vacation. Sadly, the recent Diamond acquisition of Gold Key and Intrawest starts the whole process over again. Despite all this, my husband and I are not unhappy with our Diamond ownership. . Since Diamond took over ILX in 2012, we have stayed 181 days at an average cost of $53.37 per night, not including the $34,000 we paid to ILX and the $15,000 we paid to Diamond. Diamond did us a favor by selling us 2500 points for $5,305 plus our Holiday Shores Ozark fixed week that was a liability. This saved us $500 a year in maintenance fees, plus significant special assessments. We have stayed at mostly nice Diamond resorts in a one bedroom, or one bedroom deluxe unit. Our original intent in 2008 was to be able to spend a week in Sedona. In 2016, we used 6000 of our 10,200 points to stay two weeks in a one bedroom deluxe unit at Los Abrigados, leaving us with 4200 points remaining for the year. Our Diamond maintenance fees are $2,211 for 2016. This means our two week stay cost 58 percent of our $2,211 maintenance fee or $1,276 for a two week stay, not taking into account the principal amount of $50,240 invested. We overpaid for the ILX unit, prior to Diamond's involvement, purchasing little by little until we owned an every year one bedroom unit for $34,000. As a retired stockbroker, I remember what happened to TWA shareholders and what they were left with after the TWA bankruptcy. ILX went bankrupt. That does not excuse Diamond for treating less distressed acquired owners, the way they feel they have been treated and been taken advantage of. We can only speak of our situation and experience. Yes, we were deceived into thinking availability was greater than we were led to believe. Diamond should account for that. On the positive side, we like not having to pay an exchange fee when we stay at Diamond properties. RCI charges $199 for an exchange in addition to an annual subscription. We no longer need RCI. What we don't like is the relentless attempts to sell us more points, battling off hospitality agents who are measured by how many couples they manage to get in front of a sales agent. We can afford our $2,200 annual maintenance fee. We are not in a hardship situation, but we would have never bought into something we could not get out of. Diamond's contract only states that they have the right of first refusal if we want to sell our points. We did not know they put up barriers to prevent a secondary market. Diamond will continue to recite the party line about how happy their owners are and how they do not tolerate improper sales practices, until the Consumer Financial Protection Bureau looks into their practices. Hopefully, the CFPB's investigation of Westgate will reveal predatory sales practices that will lead to the investigation of timeshare developers with similar predatory practices. My goal is to make Diamond a better company. My suggestions for an owner friendly, kinder and gentler Diamond Resorts International, are as follows: 1. Implement a 14 day recession clause instead of the 5 - 10 day period. I believe this has been implemented in England. 2. Remove restriction on use of secondary points. This would allow consumers who own Diamond points to have the same rights as Wyndham and Marriott Vacations Worldwide point owners. Wyndham and Marriott also have restrictions, but they are not as severe. 3. Notify prospects in writing prior to a presentation or tour that an "Owner's update", or other misleading name, is a timeshare sales presentations like in magazine ads. 4. Provide owners with a larger print disclosure form, informing them that their points cannot be resold, or severely restricted; and deeding them back to Diamond is not guaranteed, even in cases of hardship. 5. Disclose in writing a five year history of maintenance fee increases and the assignment of an 18% interest rate, beginning on the due date and lasting until the maintenance fee is paid in full. 6. Allow the buyer a "hands on" trial demonstration booking a Diamond week so that consumers understand limited availability - unless they are flexible to travel in discount periods. Many of the internet complaints are about limited availability. Most people test drive a car before buying. 7. Do not offer gifts to prospects over 75 years of age. A resort around the corner from Diamond's Mystic Dunes in Orlando has this stipulation as an internal policy. After retiring from the brokerage business, I worked as a CASA supervisor, writing and editing court reports on behalf of children in foster care and teens aging out. I go by my husband's name of Irene Parker, but legal name is Peggy I Steckert

Questions/Comments:

this is a complaint and i have questions.. i purchased a resort under Wyndam Resort in 2005.without any notification to get out of a contract, it was sold to several times to other parties Mystic Dumes, Diamond Resorts,etc. and now its Appollo. The maintenance fees have sky rocket extremely with no explanation of why. I have paid the resort off and haven't been able to utilize the resort. I have requested to be paid for the resort and opened to sell to another consumer. I have paid a Florida agency to post information to sell the resort. i don't believe they are trying to do so. My concern is that they will continue to sky market me financially with maintenance fees and allow the PUBLIC to also RENT out the resort that I own and is paying maintenance to keep up. I believe that my age have help me to become more vulnerable to mishaps along with the fact that i don't currently live in Florida. Please help me resolve this issue. I want someone to look into my original contract that i signed in 2005. I did not sign for an increase maintenance charge. I believe they are price gouging.i was only paying 523.55 a year, not they are charging me 1300.00 a year. i believe there are double dipping involved in the transferred transaction/contracts and rental to the public. I am on a fix income now. Please help me to resolve these issues. I can be reached at the information listed .Thank You, Concerned Senior Citizen,Mary Richardson 225-773-6381 or 225-772-4922.

Questions/Comments:

This firm is ruthless and intimidating. They mislead you into buying points that you can do anything with, until you try. They pressure you until you are in tears and finally give in. Presentations last up to 4 or more hours with new people continually trying to get you to say yes. They talk you into opening more Credit cards to come up with the down payment. Nothing is explained fully. After signing your salesperson is no longer available to help. The full paperwork is not given until you sign, so you don't have time to review in private.

We Purchased Time Share at Diamond Int'l
in Kissimmee FL 10/25/16.

I was under the impression that I could go home and refinance the balance of the loan, over and above the 6378.80 they took as a deposit on a new Diamond Credit Card.

I didn't get back home until NOV 5th.

I went to my credit union, they said noon will refinance a timeshare. I then contacted Diamond for options to cancel my contract.

At that time they told me, I had a 10 Day time limit and I couldn't do anything as it was past 10 days.

I feel I was misled about Refinance and noon pointed out the 10 Day limit.
The contract was a rush/rush deal and my wife and I didn't really have time to read the material.

We would like your help to cancel this contract, as we don't have the financial capabilities to pay the fee at the 14.999% they want to put the mortgage on.

Tim retired, 71 yrs of age and I have a fixed income of Social Security and my wife is still working and she is 63 yrs of age.

CSE BWC 6. I understand that my Collection Membership entitles me to an allotment on January 1st each year of that number of Points that I have purchased today.

CSE BWC 7. Diamond Resorts International Club, Inc. ("DRIC") has agreed to include Members of the Diamond Resorts U.S. Collection Members Association ("Association") in THE Club exchange program ("THE Club"). If I enroll as a member of THE Club®, I can use part or all of my annual allotment of Collection Points to reserve accommodations in any THE Club exchange resort.

CSE BWC 8. I have received and reviewed copies of THE Club Points Directory and THE Club Benefits Directory (together referenced "THE Club® Directory"), which describe THE Club current exchange resort destinations and their Points values. It also includes instructions for making a reservation and calculating the number of Points that I will need for each of my vacations. I understand that THE Club® Directory will be updated periodically, and that the resorts included in THE Club exchange may change without notice.

CSE BWC 9. As described in THE Club Directory, I may make a reservation as early as 13 months in advance of my desired vacation check-in date at any of the Home Collection resorts. I may make a reservation at any other THE Club® exchange resort as early as 10 months in advance of my desired vacation check-in date.

CSE BWC 10. I have received THE Club Benefits Directory, which describes the various types of Club member benefits such as travel, home and lifestyle, money matters and, depending on the number of points purchased, Loyalty tier benefits. These benefits currently include, but are not limited to, airline flights, cruises, discount cards, legal protection plans, and for Gold and Platinum members, access to Diamond Luxury Selection. I understand that these are incidental benefits, and their terms, may be changed, substituted, or terminated at any time without notice. Some benefits may not be available to all membership types.

CSE BWC 11. When I occupy the accommodations at THE Club exchange resorts, I will abide by THE Club exchange resorts rules and regulations, including the occupancy limits and check-in and check-out times set for the unit.

CSE BWC 12. If I cancel a confirmed reservation less than 91 days before my scheduled arrival date, I will lose some or all of the Points used to make that reservation. If I fail to occupy a unit that I reserved, I will not be refunded my Points used to make that reservation, unless I have also purchased the optional Reservation Protection Plan (RPP) service.

CSE BWC 13. I understand that all Collection resorts and THE Club exchange resort reservations are confirmed pursuant to the Collection and/or exchange rules on a "first-come, first-served" space-available basis and are not guaranteed.

CSE BWC 14. I understand that if I become a member of THE Club, I will automatically become a member of the Interval International exchange program ("II") at no extra cost to me. This membership is exclusively for the purpose of requesting an II exchange using Points and if I request an exchange through II, I will pay an exchange fee to II. I understand that THE Club® may change or cancel its affiliation agreement with II at any time.

CEBWL ___ 15. I acknowledge that I will be billed annually by the Association an assessment fee, which may be collected together with the membership fee and dues for THE Club. These fees are related to the operation of THE Club and the Collection and cover my share of the resort operation, maintenance and property taxes, which may be modified annually as determined DRIC or by the Association. I understand that I must be current on all fees in order to make reservations, to stay at either a Collection resort, THE Club exchange resort or Interval International resort, to save or borrow Points or to conduct any other transaction relating to my Points.

CEBWL ___ 16. I have acquired a Collection Membership for my own personal use and enjoyment. No representations of any nature concerning investment potential, refinancing, rental returns, tax advantages, appreciation/depreciation, or other possible financial benefits have been made by Seller or any of its agents. I understand that I may periodically rent or allow others to use my use rights, but that I may not use the Collection Accommodations for any commercial purposes, including but not limited to commercial renting activities. I understand that public advertising in print or online to seek renters is deemed a prohibited commercial use.

CEBWL ___ 17. I may sell my Membership rights, subject to a transfer fee. I acknowledge, however, that my membership in THE Club will terminate upon any transfer and the new owner will be obligated to purchase either a THE Club exchange membership from DRIC, or a Collection membership. No transfer fee or exchange purchase requirement will apply if my Membership passes to my heir upon my death.

CEBWL ___ 18. I understand that currently, the Seller nor the Developer offer a resale, buyback or rental program.

CEBWL ___ 19. I understand my Purchase and Security Agreement contains the entire agreement between Seller and me. I have not relied and may not rely upon any representations, whether oral or written, which are not set forth in the Purchase and Security Agreement. I further understand that if permitted by controlling state law, the Collection Instruments, THE Club Directory, THE Club Exchange Documents, the Interval International Document, the Regulations and the Privacy Policy may be delivered to me electronically in CD form. I understand that hard copies of such documents are available to me upon request.

CEBWL ___ 20. I understand that, if I fail for any reason to satisfy all of my financial obligations to Seller and the Association on a timely basis, I will be in default under my Purchase and Security Agreement and the Collection Instruments. If such default is not promptly cured, my Membership (ownership) may be terminated, whereupon I will forfeit all amounts previously paid to Seller and to the Association.

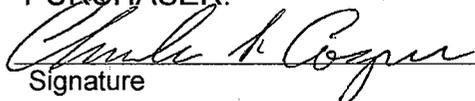

CEBWL ___ 21. By initialing here, I authorize Diamond Resorts International Marketing, Inc., and/or its affiliates and successors to text me or call my cell/telephone number listed below with a telephone dialing system regarding promotional offers,

PROMISSORY NOTE

This Promissory Note ("Note") is given in connection with that certain Purchase and Security Agreement of even date herewith between the undersigned, CHARLES STEVEN COOPER and BRENDA WEBB COOPER (hereinafter, whether one or more, referred to as "Maker"), whose address is Post Office Box 5495 Cleveland, Tennessee 37320, and Diamond Resorts U.S. Collection Development, LLC, a Delaware limited liability company ("Diamond Resorts"), whose address and principal place of business is c/o Customer Service, Diamond Resorts Financial Services, Inc., 10600 West Charleston Boulevard, Las Vegas, Nevada 89135 (the "Agreement"). This Note will become effective upon the lapse of the cancellation period provided in the Agreement (provided that Maker does not exercise Maker's cancellation right) or, if later, the Closing described in the Agreement (the "Effective Date").

FOR VALUE RECEIVED, Maker promises to pay to the order of Diamond Resorts and any successor or assign thereof, including, without limitation, any subsequent holder hereof ("Holder"), at the address for Diamond Resorts set forth above or at such other place as Holder may from time to time designate in writing, in lawful money of the United States, the principal amount of Twenty-Six Thousand Two Hundred Fifty-Four and 00/100 ($26,254.00), together with a monthly collection fee of Six ($6.00) and a monthly finance charge computed in the manner set forth below at a fixed annual rate of Thirteen and 99/100 (13.99%) (the "Annual Rate"). As set forth in the Truth in Lending Disclosure Statement provided to you, both the collection fee and the monthly finance charge are treated as finance charges, included in the computation of the Annual Percentage Rate, under the federal Truth in Lending Act. Maker shall pay Holder in 120 equal monthly installments of Four Hundred Seven and 48/100 Dollars ($407.48) each, with the first such installment being due and payable on _____ (the "First Payment Date"), and a like installment to be due and payable on or before the same day of each calendar month thereafter (the "Payment Date"). (Notwithstanding the foregoing: (1) if the First Payment Date is in the last three days of a calendar month and there is no day in a particular calendar month that corresponds to the First Payment Date, the Payment Date for such calendar month will be the first day of the subsequent month; and (2) if any Payment Date falls on a day that is not a business day, the Payment Date will be the next business day thereafter.) On the final Payment Date _____ (the "Maturity Date"), the entire principal balance due hereunder, together with any finance charges and other fees and charges, shall be immediately due and payable. Time is of the essence with respect to all of Maker's obligations hereunder.

If Maker has separately agreed to the terms of Holder's "SurePay Plan," an automatic payment plan whereby scheduled monthly payments of principal and interest payments on this Promissory Note and the collection fee are automatically deducted from Maker's bank account on each Payment Date, then immediately upon the occurrence of any of the following described events, Maker's participation in the SurePay Plan will terminate: (i) at any time prior to the Maturity Date, Maker elects to terminate his or her participation in the SurePay Plan; (ii) Maker closes the designated bank account; or (iii) on more than one occasion, a SurePay payment is not made when due for any reason (including Maker's failure to maintain a sufficient balance in the designated bank account to cover any required payment). In such event, the Interest Rate shall increase by Zero percent (0.00%) per annum and the monthly payment will increase to the level sufficient to repay all principal, interest and collection fees by the Maturity Date through equal monthly payments on each Payment Date. The increase in the Interest Rate shall be effective retroactively to the date of the last payment made under the SurePay Plan, and the increase in payment amount shall apply to the next payment due after the last such SurePay payment.

Each monthly installment shall be applied first to late charges, then to the collection fee, then to monthly finance charges and finally to unpaid principal. Each month, the monthly finance charge will be based on the scheduled principal balance (regardless of exactly when payments are actually received) and a monthly rate of finance charge equal to the Annual Rate divided by twelve (12). Maker may prepay the outstanding principal balance hereof, in whole or in part, at any time without premium or penalty. However, partial prepayments will not reduce finance charges and will not postpone the due date of any subsequent monthly installments or change the amount of such installments unless Holder otherwise agrees in writing. In the event this Note is prepaid in full, Holder will charge a monthly finance charge for that month equal to the scheduled principal balance at the beginning of the month, times the Annual Rate, times a fraction equal to the number of days from the immediately

Purchaser desires to pay the Unpaid Balance in lawful currency of the United States, by using the following method (check one), subject to the Terms and Conditions contained herein:

Cash Payment or Third Party Financing Seller Financing

Credit Card Type: _____ Number: _____ Expiration Date: _____

If Purchaser obtains purchase money financing from Seller, Purchaser will also be responsible for the payment of all charges incident to the extension of credit, which charges are specified in the Truth-in-Lending Disclosure Statement furnished to Purchaser, including but not limited to monthly installments of principal and interest, late charges (if applicable), and a monthly collection fee of Six dollars ($6.00). Finally, Purchaser will be required to pay the Closing Costs to Seller and Other Costs specified above. Such closing costs are the same for cash and credit sales hereunder.

FURTHER TERMS AND CONDITIONS

1. DEFINITIONS:

Unless the context suggests otherwise, capitalized terms shall have the meanings set forth in the Amended and Restated Declaration for Diamond Resorts U.S. Collection ("Declaration"), as may be amended or modified from time to time.

2. PAYMENT OF PURCHASE PRICE:

(a) Purchaser may pay for the Membership in cash or through credit from Seller, subject to Seller's credit approval ("Financing"). If Purchaser receives Financing from Seller, then Purchaser will be required to execute and deliver an installment Promissory Note (the "Note") payable to the order of Seller in the amount of the Unpaid Balance, and grant the first priority Seller Security Interest (defined below) that secures the payment of the Note and encumbers Purchaser's Membership, as well as certain other documents and instruments which Seller, in its sole discretion, deems reasonably necessary or appropriate to secure Purchaser's payment of the Note. Purchaser will be subject to all of the terms, provisions, and conditions described and set forth in all such documents and instruments.

(b) If Purchaser requests Financing, Seller may, but is not required to, agree to finance Purchaser's purchase. Purchaser promises that all personal financial and other information submitted to Seller is and will be accurate, and Purchaser authorizes Seller to make credit inquiries regarding Purchaser, whether through a consumer reporting agency or other means. Purchaser agrees to provide immediate written notice to Seller of any material adverse change in Purchaser's financial condition that occurs prior to Closing (as defined below). If Purchaser makes good faith efforts to obtain purchase money financing but is unable to qualify for Financing within 10 days following Seller's acceptance of this Agreement, Purchaser shall be entitled to terminate this Agreement and receive a refund of any and all payments made by Purchaser hereunder (without interest) or, at Purchaser's option, to consummate the transaction contemplated hereby by paying the entire Unpaid Balance in cash at Closing. If Purchaser is unable to qualify for Financing within such 10 day period, Seller shall provide written notice thereof to Purchaser, whereupon Purchaser shall promptly notify Seller whether Purchaser elects to terminate this Agreement or consummate the transaction as provided in the preceding sentence. If Purchaser fails to give any notice to Seller within 20 days after Purchaser's receipt of Seller's notice that Purchaser does not qualify for Financing, Seller may at any time thereafter terminate this Agreement and refund to Purchaser all payments made by Purchaser. Seller reserves the right, in its sole discretion, to sell or assign the Note and the Seller Security Interest to another person or entity, whether or not such person or entity is affiliated with Seller.

(c) If Purchaser is exchanging a fee simple timeshare interest in a timeshare resort ("Fee Timeshare Interest") as full or partial payment for the Membership, Purchaser agrees to execute and deliver to Seller, on the date hereof, (i) a deed or other appropriate instrument in form and substance satisfactory to Seller, in its sole discretion, pursuant to which all of Purchaser's right, title, and interest in and to the Fee Timeshare Interest is conveyed to Seller or a party designated by Seller, free and clear of any liens or encumbrances not expressly approved by Seller ("Deed-back"), and (ii) if Seller so requests, a declaration of annexation or other similar type of document subjecting the Fee Timeshare Interest to the Declaration ("Annexation Instrument"). Such Deed-back and Annexation Instrument may be recorded by Seller upon Closing. Pending Closing, Purchaser shall remain fully liable for all costs, expenses, and other obligations of any and every kind related to the Fee Timeshare Interest ("Fee Timeshare Interest Obligations"). If the transaction contemplated hereby fails to close for any reason whatsoever, the Deed-back and Annexation Instrument will be cancelled and returned to Purchaser, and Purchaser will remain fully liable for the Fee Timeshare Interest Obligations.

(d) In the event that the Note, this Agreement, or the Deed-back and Annexation Instrument (if applicable), or any other document or instrument which evidences or secures payment of the Purchase Price, is misplaced or has not been completely and validly executed by Purchaser for any reason whatsoever, Seller shall have the option, in its sole discretion, (i) to cancel this Agreement at any time prior to Closing; or (ii) to send Purchaser whatever document(s) and/or instrument(s) that Seller needs Purchaser to re-execute, along with instructions on how to do so. In the event that Seller elects to cancel this Agreement, Seller shall provide written notice thereof to Purchaser and cause any funds held on Purchaser's behalf, without interest, to be refunded by Escrow Agent (defined below), to Purchaser, in which event this Agreement shall be deemed terminated and of no further force or legal effect. In the event Seller sends Purchaser any document or instrument for re-execution, Purchaser shall promptly re-execute same, cause his or her signature to be notarized (to the extent indicated), and return such document(s) and/or instrument(s) to Seller in accordance with Seller's written instructions. Purchaser's failure to do so for any reason within 10 calendar days following Purchaser's receipt thereof shall constitute a default hereunder, entitling Seller to exercise its available rights and remedies pursuant to Section 14 below.

ANY HOLDER OF THIS CONSUMER CREDIT CONTRACT IS SUBJECT TO ALL CLAIMS AND DEFENSES WHICH THE DEBTOR COULD ASSERT AGAINST THE SELLER OF GOODS OR SERVICES OBTAINED PURSUANT HERETO OR WITH THE PROCEEDS HEREOF. RECOVERY HEREUNDER BY THE DEBTOR SHALL NOT EXCEED AMOUNTS PAID BY THE DEBTOR.

3. SELLER'S RIGHT TO ACCEPT OR REJECT THIS AGREEMENT:

It is understood that Seller can accept or reject this Agreement. If Seller rejects this Agreement, Purchaser is only entitled to a refund of any payments made by Purchaser, without interest. This Agreement becomes effective and legally binding only when executed by both Parties. If Seller accepts this Agreement, then Seller, subject to Section 2 above, agrees to sell the Membership to Purchaser, and Purchaser agrees to make all of the payments required to be made under this Agreement when due and otherwise to comply fully with all of the terms, provisions, and conditions hereof and of the Collection Instruments.

4. DEPOSITS:

Purchaser's initial deposit and any subsequent payments made by Purchaser to Seller prior to Closing shall be delivered to and held in escrow by First American Title Insurance Company, the address of which is 400 S Rampart Blvd, Ste 290, Las Vegas, NV 89145 ("Escrow Agent"), pursuant to a Master Escrow Agreement by and between Seller and Escrow Agent, the terms, provisions, and conditions of which are incorporated by this reference. Any and all interest that accrues on Purchaser's deposit and subsequent payments shall, except to the extent prohibited by law, be payable to and inure to the sole benefit of Seller and not be credited toward the Purchase Price. Escrow Agent shall hold all such deposits and other amounts until presentation by Seller of written instructions to the effect that Closing has occurred. Seller shall have no right to use any of the funds held by Escrow Agent until such funds have been delivered to Seller in accordance with the provisions hereof.

5. VACATION OWNERSHIP PLAN:

(a) The Membership is a form of a "right-to-use" timeshare interest, and Purchaser will not receive a deed to any interest in real property.

(b) Purchaser acknowledges that notwithstanding any provision of this Agreement or the Collection Instruments, unless Purchaser is purchasing Specific Use Points, Purchaser will not have the guaranteed exclusive right to reserve, use, and occupy any particular Collection Accommodation. Purchaser acknowledges that the Membership is subject to the Collection Instruments as amended and/or supplemented from time to time.

(c) The Collection shall be perpetual unless terminated by the Members in the manner described in the Collection Instruments.

(d) Purchaser may be prohibited from making a reservation or using and occupying a Collection Accommodation unless Purchaser has timely paid any and all Assessments, Personal Charges and other amounts levied pursuant to the Collection Instruments and otherwise fully complied with all of the terms, provisions, and conditions of the Collection Instruments.

6. ASSOCIATION MEMBERSHIP AND TRANSFER:

Upon Closing, Purchaser will automatically become a Member of the Association. Purchaser agrees to be subject to and to comply fully with the Collection Instruments. If the number of a Member's annual allotment of Points falls below the Minimum Points

Threshold for any reason, such as the partial transfer of Points or expiration of Term Points, the affected Membership will cease to be a valid Membership unless sufficient additional Points are acquired to meet the Minimum Points Threshold. The current Minimum Points Threshold for a valid Membership is 2,000 Points. Any purchase of additional Points will be governed by prices in effect at the time of purchase. Purchaser's right to sell or otherwise transfer his or her Membership and the resulting update to the Register of Members is subject to prior approval by the Association and certain other applicable requirements set forth in the Collection Instruments.

7. ASSESSMENTS:

(a) Purchaser understands and agrees that in accordance with the provisions of the Collection Instruments, the Association is empowered to levy and collect Assessments against each Membership for management and maintenance expenses. In addition to Assessments, Purchaser understands and agrees that he or she will be responsible for the timely payment to the Association of any Personal Charges or other charges that he or she incurs, all in accordance with the provisions of the Collection Instruments. Assessments shall be due and payable to the Association prior to Purchaser's use and occupancy of a Collection Accommodation in Purchaser's Initial Use Year, as set forth on Page 1 hereof. The amount of the Assessments each year may vary and will be determined as outlined in the Collection Instruments.

(b) The Association may enforce Purchaser's obligation to pay Assessments and Personal Charges in the manner set forth in this Agreement and in the Collection Instruments or as otherwise permitted by law. Purchaser may be prohibited from reserving, using, or occupying any Collection Accommodation or exercising any other rights, benefits, or privileges to which Purchaser would otherwise be entitled pursuant to the Collection Instruments, unless all Assessments and other amounts that Purchaser owes the Association or Seller have first been paid in full. Purchaser's failure for any reason to pay on a timely basis any and all Assessments could result in the enforcement of the Association Security Interest (defined below) by the Association and the loss of Purchaser's Membership. Purchaser's failure for any reason to use and occupy a Collection Accommodation shall not exempt Purchaser from his or her obligation to pay in full all Assessments levied against his or her Membership.

8. EXCHANGE PROGRAMS:

The Association has entered into an Affiliation Agreement (the "Affiliation Agreement") with Diamond Resorts International Club, Inc. ("DRIC"). Under the Affiliation Agreement, the Association and the Collection are affiliated with THE Club. Purchaser's membership in THE Club is automatic and is subject to the annual payment of fees that are imposed by DRIC, and are subject to change in DRIC's sole discretion. The Affiliation Agreement permits the annual membership fee for THE Club to be collected by the Association along with the Assessments. Purchaser should refer to the Association budget for more details. Under the Affiliation Agreement, membership in THE Club may not be transferred without the consent of DRIC and transfer by Purchaser of the Membership in the Collection does not, without the consent of DRIC, have the effect of transferring membership in THE Club. THE Club may, but is not obligated to, have a relationship with an external exchange program. At the current time, THE Club is affiliated with Interval International, Inc. ("Interval International") under which Interval International has agreed to offer its reciprocal exchange services to members of THE Club. Exchanges through external exchange programs may be subject to certain terms, conditions and the payment of fees that are imposed by the external exchange program. Seller makes no representations concerning THE Club, Interval International, or any other exchange programs that may become affiliated with the Collection, including but not limited to current or future services to be provided, the cost, continued availability, or success of exchange programs. Any representations made regarding THE Club or Interval International by DRIC or its agents or employees or within the literature, brochures, or videos prepared or provided by DRIC or Interval International are solely the representations of DRIC or Interval International, respectively, and should not be relied upon as being the representations of Seller.

9. CLOSING:

Except as otherwise provided by applicable law, for purposes of this Agreement, the term "Closing" shall mean that date when all of the following have occurred: (i) the cancellation period set forth in Section 21 has expired without Purchaser having exercised his or her rescission right; (ii) Purchaser and Seller have executed, as applicable, all documents necessary to effect transfer of the Membership to Purchaser including, but not limited to, this Agreement, and if applicable, the Note; (iii) Seller has received from Purchaser either, (a) an executed Note for the Unpaid Balance, or (b) the Unpaid Balance in immediately available funds; and (iv) the Purchaser has been entered into the Register of Members. Except as otherwise expressly provided in any of the Collection Instruments to the contrary, Purchaser may not reserve, use, or occupy any Collection Accommodation or exercise any other rights, benefits, or privileges appurtenant to his or her Membership until Closing occurs. If Closing has not occurred within one year following the date of this Agreement because Purchaser has elected to rescind this Agreement pursuant to Section 21 below, then Seller will within 20 days thereof, order any funds held on Purchaser's behalf, without interest, to be refunded by Escrow Agent to Purchaser, in which event this Agreement shall be deemed terminated and of no further force or legal effect. Escrow Agent shall act as the closing agent for the purposes of collecting and disbursing all applicable funds and distributing and filing all applicable documents and instruments. Upon Closing, Seller shall deliver to Purchaser a Points Certificate evidencing the Purchaser's Membership and a fully executed copy of this Agreement.

10. TITLE AND TITLE INSURANCE:

All Collection Accommodations have been constructed and are available for use by Members pursuant to the Collection Instruments. Purchaser understands and acknowledges that the basis for the Membership is certain real property interests (called "Resort Interests") in various resorts, hotels and other vacation properties and that title to those interests is held in a trust (the "Trust") for the benefit of the Association and Members pursuant to a recorded Trust Agreement with First American Trust, FSB, a federal savings bank or another independent trustee ("Trustee"). Resort Interests are conveyed to the Trust subject to the Trust Agreement and Declaration and are otherwise not encumbered with blanket liens of any lender or lienholder or have a nondisturbance agreement in place which fully protects the use and enjoyment rights of each Member in the event of foreclosure. Further, in connection with each conveyance of Resort Interests to the Trust, Seller has caused First American Title Insurance Company to issue in favor of the Association, where available, an ALTA Owners Title Insurance Policy insuring the Trustee's ownership of the Resort Interests. Copies of such Owners Title Insurance Policies are available for inspection by Members at the offices of the Association.

11. SECURITY INTERESTS:

(a) Seller's Security Interest. If Seller is providing Financing to Purchaser in connection with the purchase of the Membership, then Purchaser, as debtor, hereby grants to Seller, as secured party, effective as of Closing, a purchase money security interest (the "Seller Security Interest") in the Membership and in all rights, benefits and privileges appurtenant thereto as established in the Collection Instruments and all rights, benefits and privileges accruing thereto in the future, all replacements and additions to the foregoing, and all proceeds thereof (collectively, the "Collateral") to secure Purchaser's performance under the Note, this Agreement, and the Collection Instruments. No waiver by Seller or any holder of this Agreement of any default or breach by Purchaser shall operate as a waiver of any other default or breach, whether of the same type or not, by Purchaser.

(b) Association's Security Interest. Purchaser, as debtor, hereby grants to Association, as secured party, effective as of Closing, a security interest (the "Association Security Interest") in the Collateral to secure Purchaser's timely payment of Assessments and Personal Charges and Purchaser's performance under the Collection Instruments. The Association Security Interest shall, at all times, be junior and subordinate to the Seller Security Interest.

(c) Financing Statements. Purchaser irrevocably authorizes Seller and the Association, at any time and from time to time, to file in any Uniform Commercial Code ("UCC") jurisdiction initial financing statements and any amendments thereto that provide any other information required by Part 5 of Article 9 of the UCC of the applicable jurisdiction for the sufficiency, or filing office acceptance of, any financing statement or amendment, including (i) Purchaser's name and address, and (ii) if Purchaser is not an individual, Purchaser's type of organization and any organizational identification number issued to Purchaser. Purchaser shall furnish any such information in writing to Seller or the Association, as the case may be, within five (5) days after Seller's or Association's request. Each person identified as Purchaser in this Agreement represents and warrants to Seller and the Association that on the date of this Agreement he or she is domiciled in the state identified below his or her signature on this Agreement. Each person identified as a Purchaser in this Agreement shall notify Seller and the Association in writing if he or she changes his or her state of domicile within 30 days after such change. Such notice shall identify the state of such person's new domicile and his or her residential address therein.

(d) Association as Third-Party Beneficiary. Solely for purposes of this Section 11, the Association is an intended third-party beneficiary of this Agreement and is entitled to enforce the Association Security Interest granted by Purchaser hereunder.

12. PURCHASER'S REPRESENTATIONS, WARRANTIES, AND ACKNOWLEDGMENTS:

(a) Purchaser represents and warrants that the persons signing this Agreement have the legal capacity and are duly authorized to do so. Purchaser represents and warrants that Purchaser is not, and shall not become, a person with whom Seller is restricted from doing business with under the regulations of the Department of Treasury Office of Foreign Asset Control ("OFAC"). Such representation shall include, but not be limited to, a representation that Purchaser is not a person or entity and is not acting on behalf of a person or entity named on OFAC's Specifically Designated Nationals and Blocked Persons list and Purchaser is not a resident or national of any Embargoed Country, as defined by OFAC. Purchaser acknowledges that prior to signing this Agreement, Purchaser received the state timeshare disclosure documents, together with the attached exhibits, all of which are hereby incorporated by this reference, and Purchaser agrees to be strictly bound by, and to comply fully with, the terms, provisions, and conditions of such documents, as each may properly be amended or supplemented from time to time. In the event of any conflict between this Agreement and the state timeshare disclosures, the state timeshare disclosures shall control. Purchaser further acknowledges and represents that the Membership is being purchased for Purchaser's personal use and not for its investment potential or any possible rent returns, tax advantages, depreciation, or other financial advantages and that no representations of any nature whatsoever have been made by Seller or any of its salespersons or other agents to Purchaser concerning investment potential, rent returns, tax advantages, depreciation, or other financial advantages. Purchaser, including any person or entity related to Purchaser, does not own an interest in more than 10 Memberships in the Collection. Purchaser understands that Seller has no resale or rental program for non-Seller owned Memberships and acknowledges that neither Seller nor any of its sales agents, employees, or other representatives has indicated that Purchaser will be assisted in the resale or rental of his or her Membership in the future. Purchaser represents that Purchaser does not intend to use any Collection Accommodation as his or her principal residence. If Purchaser has received Financing, then Purchaser acknowledges receipt of a completed Truth-in-Lending Disclosure Statement prior to executing this Agreement. Purchaser hereby agrees to indemnify and hold Seller harmless from and against any and all loss, threat of loss, suits, claims, actions, liabilities, damages, obligations, demands, costs and expenses (including attorney's fees) arising out of or in connection with any breach by Purchaser's representations and warranties. All of Purchaser's acknowledgments, representations and warranties set forth herein shall survive Closing.

(b) Purchaser acknowledges and agrees that immediately following Closing, Seller shall have no further obligations or liabilities of any kind under this Agreement, or under any other document or instrument referred to in this Agreement, and Purchaser shall look solely to the Association and the Manager, together with any other entities that from time to time become obligated to Purchaser as provided in the Collection Instruments, for the fulfillment and satisfaction of any of Purchaser's rights, benefits, and privileges as a Member of the Collection, and not to Seller.

13. NO WARRANTIES:

EXCEPT AS OTHERWISE EXPRESSLY PROVIDED HEREIN, OR BY APPLICABLE LAW, SELLER MAKES NO WARRANTIES, EXPRESS OR IMPLIED, OF ANY TYPE WHATSOEVER REGARDING THE COLLECTION OR THE COLLECTION ACCOMMODATIONS, INCLUDING BUT NOT LIMITED TO WARRANTIES OF HABITABILITY, MERCHANTABILITY, OR FITNESS FOR A PARTICULAR PURPOSE. SELLER EXPRESSLY DISCLAIMS, AND PURCHASER IRREVOCABLY WAIVES, EACH OF THE FOREGOING WARRANTIES.

14. DEFAULT:

(a) Subject to any notice and right to cure provided below, Purchaser shall be in default under this Agreement if Purchaser fails to pay on time, keep any promise, or fulfill any agreement or obligation contained in the Note, this Agreement or any of the Collection Instruments. In the event of a default by Purchaser, Purchaser shall not be entitled to reserve, use, or occupy any Collection Accommodation, or to exercise any other rights, benefits, or privileges appurtenant to his or her Membership.

(b) Subject to any notice and right to cure provided below, Purchaser and Seller agree that: Purchaser's default on or before Closing shall entitle Seller to immediately terminate this Agreement and all of Purchaser's rights, benefits, and privileges hereunder. Upon such termination, Seller shall retain or cause Escrow Agent to deliver to Seller all sums of money previously paid by Purchaser hereunder as liquidated damages and not as a penalty.

(c) Upon Purchaser's failure to timely perform any of Purchaser's obligations under the Note, this Agreement or any of the Collection Instruments after Closing, Purchaser shall be in default hereunder, whereupon Seller (or its successor or assign) may enforce the Seller Security Interest against the Collateral in accordance with this Subparagraph. Upon the occurrence of any such failure, including the non-payment of any amounts due and owing by Purchaser under the Collection Instruments, Seller shall give Purchaser written notice and if Purchaser has not cured the applicable failure within 10 days after Seller gives such notice if Purchaser has failed to pay money, or within 30 days after Seller gives such notice if Purchaser has failed to perform or observe any other term of the Note, this Agreement or any of the Collection Instruments, Purchaser shall be in default under this Agreement and Seller (or its successor or assign) may (a) enforce the Seller Security Interest in accordance with Article 9 of the UCC; (b) provide written notice of termination of the Membership and terminate the Membership within 60 days of the date of the notice of termination and retain all amounts previously paid by Purchaser as liquidated damages and not as a penalty; or (c) pursue any other remedy available to Seller, at law or in equity, however, Seller hereby confirms that it will not seek any deficiency judgment against defaulting Purchaser beyond the forfeiture of the Membership.

(d) Notwithstanding the foregoing provisions of this Section 10 to the contrary, if, for any reason, Seller is unable or fails to comply with the material provisions of this Agreement, then the sole obligation of Seller shall be to refund or cause Escrow Agent to refund (whichever is applicable) to Purchaser all payments previously made by Purchaser hereunder, without interest. Upon such refunds being made, this Agreement shall be deemed canceled, and all rights and obligations hereunder shall immediately terminate. TO THE EXTENT PERMITTED BY APPLICABLE LAW, PURCHASER HEREBY WAIVES ANY AND ALL RIGHTS AND REMEDIES THAT MIGHT OTHERWISE BE AVAILABLE TO PURCHASER, AT LAW OR IN EQUITY.

15. NO OTHER AGREEMENTS OR REPRESENTATIONS:

Seller and Purchaser agree that this Agreement (including the documents and instruments incorporated by reference) embodies the entire agreement between them related to Purchaser's purchase and financing (if applicable) of the Membership and supersedes and replaces any and all prior negotiations, representations, agreements, and understandings, both oral and written, in connection therewith. No amendment to or modification of the terms of this Agreement shall be valid without the written approval of the legal counsel of Seller. Oral representations of Seller or Seller's agents should not be relied upon by Purchaser as correctly stating the representations of Seller. For correct representations, Purchaser should rely entirely on this Agreement and the documents and instruments contained by reference.

16. ASSIGNMENT AND SEVERABILITY:

This Agreement shall be binding upon and inure to the benefit of the Parties, their respective heirs, successors, assigns, and personal representatives. Purchaser's Membership cannot be sold, assigned, transferred, conveyed, or encumbered except in accordance with the terms, provisions, and conditions hereof and the Collection Instruments. Purchaser acknowledges that Seller has the right, in its sole discretion, to assign some or all of its rights and interests hereunder and, if applicable, under the Note. Purchaser may not assign any of his or her rights or interests hereunder, without the written consent of Seller, which consent may be withheld in Seller's sole and absolute discretion. The terms and provisions hereof shall be deemed independent and severable, and the invalidity of any one provision or portion thereof shall not affect the validity or enforceability of any other provision hereof.

17. CHOICE OF STATE LAW AND FORUM; WAIVER OF JURY TRIAL:

Except to the extent preempted by federal law, this Agreement shall be exclusively governed by and construed in accordance with the laws of Nevada without regard to its choice of law rules. Subject to Section 14 hereof, any legal action or proceeding arising out of or in any way relating to this Agreement which is not subject to the Arbitration provisions outlined below, shall only be brought in an appropriate court of competent jurisdiction on behalf of the Parties and their respective successors and assigns, hereby irrevocably preceding Payment Date through the date of prepayment divided by the number of days in the year. Holder will not charge any collection fee for the month of prepayment and Holder will not charge any collection fees and monthly finance charges attributable to months following any prepayment in full.

This Promissory Note is given in partial payment for a membership in the Diamond Resorts U.S. Collection (the "Membership"). Payment of principal, finance charges and other charges hereunder is secured by a security interest established under the Purchase and Security Agreement (the "Agreement") of even date herewith by and between Diamond Resorts, as seller, and Maker, as purchaser. The terms and provisions of the Agreement are hereby fully incorporated herein by this reference.

If all or any part of the Membership or an interest therein is sold or otherwise transferred by Maker (whether such interest is legal or equitable, present or future, vested or contingent) without Holder's prior written consent (which consent may be withheld for any reason whatsoever), excluding (i) the creation of a lien or encumbrance subordinate to the Agreement; (ii) a transfer by devise, descent, or operation of law upon the death of a joint tenant; or (iii) the grant of any leasehold interest of one (1) week or less not containing an option to purchase the Membership, then Holder may, at Holder's option, except to the extent prohibited by law, declare all of the amounts secured by the Agreement to be immediately due and payable.

Upon the failure of Maker to make any payment required under this Promissory Note in accordance with the terms hereof or Maker's breach of any of the other covenants or agreements contained herein or in the Agreement, then and in such event, Holder, at Holder's option, subject to any right of reinstatement to which Maker is entitled under applicable law, may (i) declare, without further demand, all of the amounts owed hereunder to be immediately due and payable; and (ii) pursue all rights and remedies available to Holder under this Promissory Note and the Agreement by appropriate proceedings. To the extent permitted by law, Holder shall be entitled to collect in such proceedings all expenses of enforcement, including but not limited to reasonable attorneys' fees, publication costs, costs of judgment and other searches, and court costs. Failure of Holder to exercise its available rights and remedies hereunder or as provided by law with respect to any default by Maker shall not be deemed to constitute a waiver of such rights or remedies with respect to any subsequent default, whether the same or different in nature.

In the event that any amount due under this Promissory Note is paid more than ten (10) days after the date upon which such amount is due, then Holder shall be entitled to collect a late charge from Maker in an amount equal to the lesser of (i) Twenty-Five Dollars ($25.00) or (ii) ten percent (10%) of the overdue installment, provided that such amount does not exceed the maximum late charge permitted to be charged under the laws of the State of Nevada. To the extent permitted by law, Maker shall further be liable to Holder for any out-of-pocket costs incurred by Holder in the event that a check issued by Maker is dishonored for any reason.

During any time in which Maker is in default under this Promissory Note, finance charges may, at Holder's option, accrue on the actual outstanding balance on a simple interest basis at a default rate equal to the maximum lawful rate permitted to be charged by Holder under the laws of the State of Nevada. In the event that there is no such maximum lawful rate, then finance charges shall accrue on the actual outstanding balance on a simple interest basis during such period at a default rate of twenty-five percent (25%) per annum.

In the event that counsel is employed to collect all or any part of the indebtedness evidenced hereby, whether at maturity or following acceleration, to the extent permitted by law Maker agrees to pay Holder's reasonable attorneys' fees, whether suit be brought or not (including any fees associated with appeals or bankruptcy proceedings), and all other costs and expenses reasonably incurred in connection with Holder's collection efforts.

Maker and any endorser, guarantor, or surety, jointly and severally, hereby waive presentment, protest, demand, notice of protest, and dishonor of this Promissory Note, and expressly agree that this Promissory Note, or any payment hereunder, may be extended from time to time without in any way affecting the liability of Maker or any endorser, guarantor, or surety hereof. To the extent not prohibited by applicable law, Maker also waives any rights to any stay of execution and the benefit of all homestead and/or other exemption laws now or hereafter in effect.

This Promissory Note shall be the joint and several obligation of each person signing below and shall apply to and bind each of them and each of their respective heirs, successors, personal representatives, and assigns.

The validity, construction, and enforceability of, and the rights and obligations of Maker and Holder under, this Promissory Note shall be governed by, construed, and enforced in accordance with the laws of the State of Nevada.

In the event that any one or more of the provisions of this Promissory Note shall for any reason be held to be invalid or unenforceable, in whole or in part or in any respect, then such provision or provisions only shall be disregarded as though not contained herein and shall not affect any other provision of this Promissory Note, and the remaining provisions of this Promissory Note shall remain operative and in full force and effect and shall in no way be affected, prejudiced, or disturbed thereby.

It is the intent of Holder to comply fully with all interest and usury laws of the State of Nevada, as currently enacted or hereafter in effect. Notwithstanding any provision hereof to the contrary, in no event shall this Promissory Note require the payment or permit the collection of interest in excess of the maximum amount of interest permitted under the laws of the State of Nevada. In the event that the amount of interest contracted for, charged, or received under this Promissory Note exceeds the maximum amount of interest permitted under the laws of the State of Nevada, then the provisions of this paragraph shall govern and control, and neither

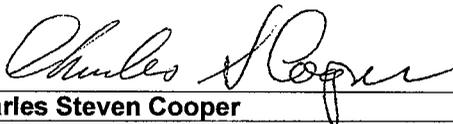

Maker nor any other person or entity now or hereafter liable for the payment hereof shall be obligated to pay the amount of such interest to the extent that it exceeds the maximum amount of interest permitted under the laws of the State of Nevada. Any such excess interest which may have been collected by Holder shall, at the option of Holder, either be applied as a credit against the unpaid principal balance hereof or be refunded to Maker, and the effective rate of interest shall be reduced to the maximum rate of interest permitted to be charged under the laws of the State of Nevada.

Except for any notice required under applicable law to be given in another manner, any notice that either party desires or is required to give the other party under this Promissory Note shall be in writing and shall be deemed to have been duly given upon the earlier to occur of (a) its actual receipt; (b) three (3) business days after being deposited in the United States mail as first class mail, postage prepaid; or (c) one (1) business day after being sent via overnight courier service such as Federal Express, addressed to the applicable party at the address therefor stated herein or at such other address as the receiving party has previously notified the giving party in the manner prescribed in this paragraph. If Maker consists of more than one (1) person, then notice to any of them shall be deemed to constitute notice to all of them.

ANY HOLDER OF THIS CONSUMER CREDIT CONTRACT IS SUBJECT TO ALL CLAIMS AND DEFENSES WHICH THE DEBTOR COULD ASSERT AGAINST THE SELLER OF GOODS OR SERVICES OBTAINED PURSUANT HERETO OR WITH THE PROCEEDS HEREOF. RECOVERY HEREUNDER BY THE DEBTOR SHALL NOT EXCEED AMOUNTS PAID BY THE DEBTOR HEREUNDER.

submit to the jurisdiction of any such court and agree that venue properly lies solely in such courts to the exclusion of all other judicial and non-judicial forums. EXCEPT AS OTHERWISE PROVIDED BY APPLICABLE LAW, THE PARTIES, AND ANY OTHER PERSON CLAIMING RIGHTS OR OBLIGATIONS BY, THROUGH, OR UNDER THIS AGREEMENT SHALL BE DEEMED TO HAVE WAIVED ANY RIGHT THEY MAY HAVE UNDER ANY APPLICABLE LAW TO A TRIAL BY JURY IN CONNECTION WITH ANY SUIT OR LEGAL PROCEEDING THAT MAY BE COMMENCED BY OR AGAINST ANY OF THE FOREGOING PERSONS CONCERNING THE INTERPRETATION, CONSTRUCTION, VALIDITY, ENFORCEMENT, OR PERFORMANCE OF THIS AGREEMENT OR ANY OF THE COLLECTION INSTRUMENTS.

18. ARBITRATION PROVISION

(a) Opt-Out Right. IF PURCHASER DOES NOT WANT THIS ARBITRATION PROVISION TO APPLY, WITHIN 30 DAYS PURCHASER MUST SEND A SIGNED LETTER TO SELLER STATING THAT THE ARBITRATION PROVISION DOES NOT APPLY. OPTING OUT OF ARBITRATION WILL NOT AFFECT ANY OTHER PROVISION OF THIS AGREEMENT.

(b) Arbitration Terms Defined. In this Arbitration Provision, the term "Company Party" means Seller and/or the Association, their affiliates and the agents, representatives, members, employees, officers and/or directors of such entities, if and to the extent that any Claim is asserted by or against such entity or person. "Bound Parties" means each Company Party and Purchaser. "Claim" means any legal claim, dispute or controversy between any Company Party and Purchaser, including statutory, contract and tort disputes of all kinds and disputes involving requests for declaratory relief, injunctions or other equitable relief. However, "Claim" does not include any individual action brought by a Purchaser in small claims court or an equivalent court, unless such action is transferred, removed, or appealed to a different court, and does not include any dispute concerning the validity and effect of Section 18(h) below, the ban on class actions and certain other proceedings (the "Class Action Ban"). "Administrator" means the American Arbitration Association ("AAA"), 1633 Broadway, 10th Floor, New York, NY 10019, <http://www.adr.org>, or if Purchaser so elects in a notice given to Seller (which will serve as notice to each Company Party) within 20 days after a demand for arbitration, the National Arbitration Forum ("NAF"), P.O. Box 50191, Minneapolis, MN 55405, <http://www.arb-forum.com>.

(c) Arbitration of Claims. Unless Purchaser has exercised his or her opt-out right pursuant to Section 18(a), upon the election of Purchaser or any Company Party, any Claim between Purchaser and such Company Party shall be resolved by binding individual (and not class) arbitration. Any arbitration will be conducted in accordance with this Arbitration Provision and, to the extent consistent with this Arbitration Provision, the rules of the Administrator in effect at the time the Claim is filed. The neutral arbitrator shall be appointed within a specified period of time, which in no event shall be more than 60 days from the administrator's receipt of a written request from a Bound Party to arbitrate the Claim. To the extent this Arbitration Provision conflicts with any other agreement binding the Bound Parties, this Arbitration Provision shall govern.

(d) Fees; Location. Any Company Party to a Claim asserted by Purchaser in good faith or to any Claim asserted by such Company Party will bear all fees of the Administrator or arbitrator in connection with such Claim. The Company Party will also bear the reasonable fees and expenses of Purchaser's attorneys if any Claim initiated by Purchaser is resolved in Purchaser's favor. If a participatory arbitration hearing is requested, it will take place in the county where this Agreement was signed or, if the Administrator determines that such location would be unfair to Purchaser, at a location reasonably convenient to Purchaser.

(e) Governing Law. This Arbitration Provision shall be governed by the Federal Arbitration Act (the "FAA") and not state arbitration laws, provided that Nevada law shall govern to the extent that state law is relevant under the FAA in determining the enforceability of this Arbitration Provision. The arbitrator shall follow applicable substantive laws, statutes of limitations and privilege rules related to any Claim. The arbitrator shall award the remedies, if any, that would be available in an individual court proceeding if arbitration had not been elected. Upon the timely request of any Bound Party, the arbitrator shall write a brief explanation of the grounds for his or her decision.

(f) Appeal of Arbitrator's Decision. Any court with jurisdiction may enter judgment upon the arbitrator's award. The arbitrator's decision will be final and binding, except for any appeal right under the FAA.

(g) Jury Trial Waiver. IF A BOUND PARTY ELECTS TO ARBITRATE A CLAIM, NO BOUND PARTY WILL HAVE THE RIGHT TO PURSUE THAT CLAIM IN COURT OR HAVE A JURY DECIDE THE CLAIM.

(h) Class Action Ban. NO BOUND PARTY MAY PARTICIPATE IN A CLASS ACTION IN COURT OR IN CLASS-WIDE ARBITRATION, EITHER AS A REPRESENTATIVE, CLASS MEMBER OR OTHERWISE, WITH RESPECT TO ANY CLAIM. NO BOUND PARTY MAY PARTICIPATE IN A PRIVATE ATTORNEY GENERAL PROCEEDING IN COURT OR IN ARBITRATION, WITH RESPECT TO ANY CLAIM. NO CLAIMS INVOLVING THE BOUND PARTIES MAY BE JOINED OR CONSOLIDATED WITH CLAIMS BY OR AGAINST ANY OTHER PERSON. Notwithstanding any language in this Arbitration Provision to the contrary, any dispute about the validity or effect of the above Class Action Ban shall be resolved by a court and not an arbitrator or the Administrator.

(i) Survival; Severability. This Arbitration Provision shall survive repayment of all amounts owed under this Agreement or the Note, the cancellation of this Agreement, any bankruptcy and any assignment of Seller's rights under this Agreement and/or the Note. If any part of this Arbitration Provision is unenforceable (other than the Class Action Ban), the remainder of this Arbitration Provision shall still apply. If the Class Action Ban is held to be unenforceable, this Arbitration Provision (other than this sentence) and any other arbitration provision between the Bound Parties shall be null and void in such proceeding, provided that the Company Party shall have the right to appeal any holding that the Class Action Ban is unenforceable.

19. NOTICES:

Any notice that either party hereto desires or is required to give the other party under this Agreement shall be in writing and shall be deemed to have been duly given upon the earlier to occur of (a) its actual receipt; (b) 3 business days after being deposited in the United States mail as first class mail, postage prepaid; or (c) 1 business day after being sent via overnight courier service addressed to the applicable party at its address stated herein or at such other address as the receiving party has previously notified the giving party in the manner prescribed in this Section. If Purchaser consists of more than 1 person, then notice to any of them shall be deemed to constitute notice to all of them. Unless and until written notice of an alternative addressee and address is received by the other party, the last addressee and address as stated by written notice or as provided herein, shall be deemed to continue in effect for all purposes hereunder.

20. MISCELLANEOUS:

Purchaser is advised to read each and every paragraph very carefully. No term, provision, condition, restriction, agreement, covenant, or obligation contained herein shall be deemed to have been abrogated or waived by reason of any failure by a party hereto to enforce the same, irrespective of the number of violations or breaches thereof that may occur. The exercise of any right or remedy provided by law and/or the provisions of this Agreement shall not preclude the exercise of other consistent rights or remedies unless they are expressly precluded hereby. Purchaser hereby grants Seller the right, in its sole discretion, to correct any scrivener's, typographic, or clerical errors in connection with this Agreement or any documents or instruments related hereto, provided that no such correction adversely affects any rights, benefits, or privileges afforded to Purchaser or materially alters any duties or obligations of Purchaser. Any such corrections shall be initialed by an authorized representative of Seller and shall be legally binding upon Purchaser, together with its successors and assigns, even though not initialed or otherwise acknowledged by Purchaser. All Collection Accommodations have been constructed and are available for use by Members pursuant to the Collection Instruments. Under no circumstances whatsoever shall this Agreement or any portion hereof be recorded in the public records of any county or other jurisdiction. The captions used in this Agreement are for informational purposes only and do not amplify or limit in any way the provisions hereof.

21. STATE SPECIFIC PROVISIONS:

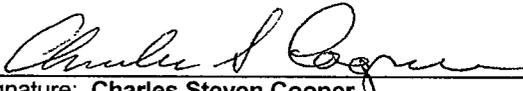

(a) Refund Upon Cancellation. In the event that Purchaser cancels this Agreement during the Cancellation Period, Seller will refund or cause Escrow Agent to refund (whichever is applicable) to Purchaser the total amount of any and all payments made by Purchaser under this Agreement and such refund shall be made by Seller or Escrow Agent within twenty (20) calendar days after Seller's actual receipt of Purchaser's written notice of cancellation, or within five (5) calendar days after Seller's or Escrow Agent's receipt of funds from Purchaser's cleared check, whichever is later.

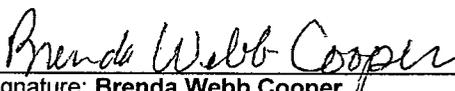

(b) Resale of Membership. Any resale of this timeshare interest must be accompanied by certain disclosures in accordance with section 721.065, Florida Statutes.

(c) Public Offering Statement. Seller is required to provide the Association with a copy of the approved Public Offering Statement Text and Exhibits filed with the Division of Florida Condominiums, Timeshares, and Mobile Homes and any approved amendments thereto, and any other Component Site documents as described in Section 721.07 or Section 721.55, Florida Statutes, that are not required to be filed with the Division, to be maintained by the Association for inspection as part of the books and records of the Association.

(d) Rescission Rights. You may cancel this Agreement without any penalty or obligation within 10 calendar days after the date you sign this Agreement, or the date on which you receive the last of all documents required to be given to you pursuant to § 721.07(6), Florida Statutes, whichever is later. If you decide to cancel this Agreement, you must notify Seller in writing of your intent to cancel. Your notice of cancellation shall be effective upon the date sent and shall be sent to Diamond Resorts U.S. Collection c/o Rescission Coordinator, Diamond Resorts Financial Services, 10600 West Charleston Blvd., Las Vegas, NV 89135. Any attempt to obtain a waiver of your cancellation right is void and of no effect. While you may execute all closing documents in advance, the closing, as evidenced by entry of your name in the Register of Members of the Association, before expiration of your 10-day cancellation period, is prohibited.

IN WITNESS WHEREOF, Purchaser has executed this Agreement on the day and year first written above.

I was asked to do an owners update as DRI has acquired Tempus Resorts. I was told by DRI that a deal was made the Tempus owners would have a one time offer to convert into the DRI system of points. No proof was shown to confirm this when I asked was told it was public information. Can this be confirm. The had assigned me 5250 points to each of my contracts. However I could not just convert my points I would have to purchase an additional 4,000-4,500 points. Even through they have lower level points in there system. I am not sure how legal and or ethic that would be. I am hoping you can confirm what the told me. I didn't take the deal, and had to decline their offer in writing which in hide sight I should have not signed. There were many other questionable sales tactics that I can get into at another time. I did take a sampler program which I cancelled in writing the next day and was received my DRI

I purchased a timeshare from this company after going to a three hour meeting the saleswomen told my family we would benefit from timeshare because we have a large family and we would be able to travel to various locations she gave us a book of destinations we would be able to go to and I asked her numerous times would we be able to travel to various locations as I didn't want a vacation timeshare for just one location she reassured me and my husband and five small children that we would have many good times and fun memories on all the vacations we can take it was a budget for what we were getting and that we can leave it to our children at the time we we thought it was a great idea I got home tried to book our next vacation as excited as we were nothing available I thought ok I'll try for a year later nothing the only availability they had was for Florida and Virginia and Vegas every single time I called none of the locations we were looking for were available. I called and called to get an answer nothing I then went to a meeting in Missouri were they said to upgrade and that has been the problem we problem didn't have enough points so the since kicks us out we upgraded and went home again nothing. I called got no one decided to use my points and take a vacation to Virginia since that's all they had available got to Virginia they told me I would need to upgrade or lose my points I currently have because I had to buy so many points by a certain time we were de aster to have to purchase again but didn't want to lose the money we already spent they reassured us that at a silver level we would have more priority and more availability I have used credit cards and savings to pay this off and we can't even use it. There is never any availability no one ever answers our calls and when I call the main number to book they can't help me please help so these people don't get away with taking innocent families money.

Questions/Comments:

3/6/16 was the initial transaction & the company opened this c/c to get me to make this 5,500. to hold purchase until I returned on June 1, 2016 for "Orientation" and to hand over a deed from a property (purchased in 1995), I was using as a trade in. When I received the deed, the title was not only under my name - I immediately called Diamond & was told to still bring the title for Orientation & to finalized the purchase. In the meantime I paid the balance due of almost $15,000.00. Upon my return I realized I was not there for an Orientation but for an extremely intimidating hard sell to get me to buy more points. I was kept in an office for Five hours with 3 different people trying to pressure me to purchase more. All the while I refused, I signed the remaining documents to finalize my original contract. When they finally gave up they announced that my deed was not acceptable and I needed to get a quit claim deed. When I returned home the next day, June 2, 2016. I called & immediately cancelled my contract. I was told to put it in writing which I did (I have copies of EVERYTHING). None of my calls, emails or faxes were returned. By June 15, I contacted my original salesperson. When a manager did finally call back after my repeated attempts, it was not until July 21st & I was told it was too late - I was out of the rescission period. I went all the way to the corporate office I was was asked to send them copies of all my documents which I did. Then I was told they are counting my rescission from my initial deposit date of 3/6. I adv the manager that is absolutely NOT the contract I was told I was signing. - I went into deep depth with my salesperson regarding my purchase as for my parents who are both senior citizens. My salesperson lied to me about what I was signing and why. I complained to the Better Business to know avail. I received a final email from Shelly Knapp of Diamond saying that I can't prove what was or was not said in my sales meeting. I also gave her copies of the many call I made to the company & adv her because they are recorded (according to Diamond) there will be more evidence on those recordings of their dishonesty. Last email from her said there is no point in me pursuing anything further. They have over $20,000.00 of my money and they refuse to return it. I can not imagine how many other people they have done this too. Please help me!!!!

Questions/Comments:

Ten years ago we signed our first timeshare contract with Sunterra Properties. I believe Diamond acquired Sunterra around 2007-2008. Since then, we have purchased 4 times through Diamond. Other than the "freebies" they gave you, they told us we had to attend these "updates" at almost every vacation we went on. They'd offer amenities and free shows, excursions, etc. They'd always tell us it is an investment. We did not feel we needed to upgrade our membership. But after many hours of pressure we gave in to each one of the purchases. Things like you can rent and you can sell really did sway us to buy. As time went by I had no luck finding anyone who would rent or buy our timeshare. We have learned that there's no profitable market for consumers. The only ones who profit from these are these timeshare companies. Things like the more points you have, the better ease and range of bookings we would have. We came to find out that making reservations was difficult. Everything always was full. But they said, I need to go to the next level - "Silver," "Gold," "Platinum." Our fees have definitely gone to the next level each time because nothing else has improved or gotten easier for us. We have already reached out to Diamond so that they can cancel and refund us entirely. They feel like they don't have options for us because we still have a balance on this invisible property mortgage. Our argument is that we would have never signed had they not led us to believe that we were entering a financial investment that would yield profits for us. It is also the reason why we do not want to continue this "mortgage" agreement because it has not been beneficial to us in any way. They have played us. This is our purchase record and the persons involved in this scam: 05/31/08 Sedona, AZ - Danielle Glunn: Cost $24,948 Fees: $585 03/19/14 Orlando, FL - Reginald Buck #TS.0039473-AGEN: Cost $53,267 Fees: $2,100 03/6/15 Las Vegas, NV - David Dunn #TS.0042663-AGEN: Cost $3,275.44 (Silver Sampler) 06/20/15 Las Vegas, NV - Reginald Buck #TS.0039473-AGEN Cost $43,637 Fees: $4,100 We would like someone's input and assistance. They are not cooperating and only want our money. Thank you, Earle & Tonya Baker

Questions/Comments:

We were pulled into these contracts due to unethical and unprofessional business practices, blatant lies, and deceptions and misrepresentations. The timeshare in 2001 was presented as "an investment". The sales reps insisted that the value of the timeshare would appreciate or increase like real estate and would not depreciate or plateau. They told we could profit by renting out the timeshare with their help and could later make money or at the very least earn our money back by selling the timeshare, also with their help. All these statements are not true. (We had tried to sell the timeshare deeded week with the help of several companies in Florida. All of these companies were scams. The final scam was turned over to the Attorney General's office and our money was returned.) The presentations and owner updates were only to last 90 minutes, but they lasted far longer. Hours. There were several unmentioned fees associated with the timeshare as well. They told us that we could eliminate maintenance fees with owner referrals - this turned out to be untrue. The sales reps (we dealt primarily with Elgin Davis and Adam Updike the first time, Louie Pedersen and Mike Verrone the second time, John Chia and Tiffany Higgins the third time) told us that the offers would expire if we did not purchase that day and that the price was by "special permission of the corporate office". Another false statement was that we could refinance the timeshare with our own bank for a lower interest rate. They told us (the second time) that we would be attending an update meeting to discuss questions. It turned out to be yet another sales presentation (despite the fact that we already owned a timeshare) and the sales reps wanted us to buy more and more points. They lied to us when they said that the amount of points that we had purchased would give us more amenities than it actually did. They told us that we could use the points to purchase airfare, cruises, car rentals, and other amenities. Not true. The points system itself is impossible to understand and to ever be able to use. We didn't have enough points. So we had to buy points to be able to use the points we had. We couldn't get on to the website to redeem points because we didn't have enough points to access that website. In October 2015 we spoke with Tiffany Higgins about giving back the week but she said that Diamond does not take back weeks or buy back the timeshare deed or points. After a long conversation and many out-of-the-room phone calls, she said that Diamond would take back the deed for points (it was worth about 6500 points) but I had to buy 4,000 additional points to effect this. Good money after bad? Yes. Furthermore, we were subjected to high pressure sales tactics and could not leave the room without purchasing - either the timeshare itself or the additional points. The bottom line is that the salesmen over the years have made promises and misrepresentations about the timeshare and additional points that did not prove to be true. The company is not willing to resolve these complaints. Their most recent letter stated basically that we signed the documents, which we do not deny, and are therefore responsible for the contents.

Questions/Comments:

Owners' Care Department,

Due to the fact that we have completed more than one purchase with Diamond as we were led to believe your vacation company would be our "home away from home", we have both seen and spent enough to know that both this contract and membership are virtually useless!! Having been members of your vacation company since 1998 and having been pushed to complete an additional upgrade in 2012, we have been loyal members to Diamond long enough to now discover that your vacation company does not provide the affordable travel opportunities as told by your persistent, aggressive sales reps. Our initial experience with Diamond came about after we were offered four Disney World tickets in exchange for our attendance to one of the 90 minute presentations that were being held at the resort we were visiting. While speaking with your representative, we were told our attendance to the presentation would only be an opportunity for us to learn more about Diamond and the services it offered. Unfortunately, this was not the case. Not only did the presentation last hours on end, taking away much needed time from our vacation, but by the end of the presentation, we were swindled into completing a purchase that was not properly nor truthfully explained to us. To make matters worse, we were contacted shortly after and told we needed to attend a second presentation as it was said to be the "last opportunity" we would have to change over to Diamond's new points system. With each presentation we attended, we never had the intentions of buying, but apparently, your annoying sales reps and their relentless efforts had a different plan in mind... a SCAM! At this point, because we have now seen the way Diamond handles members like ourselves, the way your sales reps have no problem in misrepresenting your contracts and services, we are well within our rights to demand that this contract be cancelled!! With each purchase made, your sales reps never wasted any time in leading us to believe that the purchase of our membership with Diamond could easily be looked at as an "investment". In stating this, your sales reps explained to us that our "property" would accrue in value over time and that because our unit was located in Orlando which was said to be a "hot spot" location for tourist activity. Your sales reps explained this claim to us in attempts to also lead us to believe that we could earn additional income by either renting out our unit to other vacationers or either selling to interested buyers. In addition, it was also stated that in the event of us being able to rent out our unit, we could use whatever money was made from our rental process to pay for our maintenance fees and other membership dues associated with our purchase. In seeing that we were not yet sold on the idea of completing such an expensive purchase so fast, your sales reps assured us that Diamond would be there to assist us with the renting and selling process as we were told Diamond could bring in tenants to come in as our guests. Concerning this claim, we have yet to find this to be true. In our efforts to sell, not only have we found out that this is nearly impossible to do as the current timeshare market is oversaturated with other owners who are also trying to get rid of their property. After finding out about the timeshare market's status, we then called up to Diamond in hopes of receiving some of the promised assistance, but we were then completely caught off guard after finding out that we'd need to hire a third-party advertising company to find tenants to pay for the usage of our unit which was extremely hard to do as we were given the week of Thanksgiving! At the time we completed our purchase, however, we were given the impression that our availability was for anytime throughout year. As an added benefit our purchase, while our first purchase only allowed us to travel during Week 47, with our second purchase which allowed us to now operate off Diamond's new points system. With the way things were explained to us with our second purchase, we were told that we'd be able to travel anytime throughout the year and that we'd never have to worry about issues such as availability due to the fact that we were told we had purchased enough points to secure our travel reservations. Unfortunately, this claim only proved to be yet another misrepresentation regarding the travel aspect of our purchase. In fact, after completing our second purchase that was said to provide us enough points to travel, we were deeply disappointed and began to feel taken advantage of after constantly being told there was never any availability for the destinations we were requesting. In addition, rather than assisting us or providing us with other options to choose from, your pushy sales reps used each and every opportunity to try and sell us on the higher, more expensive point packages which was neither what we wanted nor could afford. Needless to say, the disappointment and inconvenience of us not being able to travel to the places we desired such as Myrtle Beach, finally caused us to stop making any more efforts to travel as it was becoming more of a headache than a pleasant experience. After our second purchase was made, even though we were given the assurance that our maintenance fees would not increase, this was not the case. To date, our fees have dramatically increased, sending us into a whirlwind of unnecessary and unwanted debt that we can no longer afford to bear. Regardless of the hundreds of dollars we have spent on this fraudulent timeshare purchase, the fact is, Diamond simply does not have the open availability as promised by your lying sales reps. Aside from that, because of all the constant pressure we have endured to get us to purchase more and more points, we have now come to the conclusion that it is a common, deceptive sales practice to keep even loyal members, like ourselves, on a constant chase for points as clearly, one can never have "enough" points. All in all, this purchase and membership has proven to be nothing more than a headache, an endless money pit and most of all, A SCAM!!! With that being said, on account of your sales reps' lies, inconsistencies, misrepresentations and willful omission of information as they also never made us aware of any of the cancellation policies for our contracts, we are demanding that this contract be cancelled and that our money be refunded. It is both unadmirable and unfair for Diamond to treat us in such an impersonal and harsh way when we have been nothing but loyal to your company. Our demands have been made clear, our reasons have been made known. We will not rest on this matter until this contract is closed and we have finally rid ourselves of Diamond and its unethical business practices. *These are our complaint with Diamond. We have written numerous letters requesting out of our contract but they are refusing to help us reach a favorable outcome.

Questions/Comments:

I wanted to bring to your attention that Attorney General Mark Brnovich settled a case with Diamond Resorts International. Consumers complained that Diamond Resorts used deceptive sales practices and made numerous oral misrepresentations and false statements during timeshare sales presentations. I contacted the Office of Attorney General Brnovich and sent the following information to them: On April 26 2016, at a required meeting with our Salesperson, Douglas Jessup, he spent approximately 5 hours trying the big sell. We had already said no, repeatedly, and told him we really just wanted to get out of Diamond altogether, when he said "Come with me, let's go for a walk, I don't want the reviewers to listen in". So we went to another room away from anyone else. He told us that since we had purchased originally so long ago (in the 90's), our "Points" were available for purchase at the original price, or $3.65, for points that were now worth $11.00. He said it was something about them not doing what they were supposed to do when Diamond bought out our original owner, Sunterra, that had allowed this to happen. With that said, he told us that Hawaii allowed only a fixed amount of Commercial Resort Properties to exist on the Island, and that the currently being built, Marriot Property nearby, was the last one. So, since there would be no more property available after that, within a year, two at max, Diamond would be coming back to us wanting to buy our Property back. I told you about the "points" information in the previous paragraph because he used this to sell us that in the "year or two at max" the "points" that were now worth $11.00 each, would be worth at least $15.00 each. And since we would be purchasing them now at $3.65, we would be "sitting on a fortune". He recommended if we could afford it, we should buy up to Platinum, prefacing the above "sitting on a fortune". He told us that he was a Double Platinum Owner and had no trouble at all renting out enough of his time to cover the annual fees. He even shared his phone number saying he would be happy to help us out with that, and even inviting us to visit him at his home in Cabo San Lucas, Mexico. So now, 18 months later, when we contacted Diamond Resorts for information on a "Buy Back" we are told Diamond Resorts has no intention of buying back our Property. Attorney General Brnovich's Office said we do not meet the criteria of their Settlement, as we are not residents of Arizona. They advised that I contact My Florida Attorney General, as that is where we live. I have hired an Attorney locally and stopped all future payments to Diamond Resorts. I can send my Attorneys information to your Office as well as the string of emails regarding the contact with Diamond Resorts buying back, Financial records and any thing else you may need. Thank you for your time and attention to this matter. Carol Conrad

I owned at Mystic Dunes every other year/even years. My time share was paid in full. I was told that because Mystic Dunes was purchased by Diamond resorts, my maintenance fees will continue to increase. I was told that could purchase additional points to combine with the point value of Mystic Dunes and I would own a silver membership with Diamond resorts and my maintenance fees will be canceled with Mystic Dunes. I received invoices in November for 1294.32 Mystic Dunes and 1348.86 Diamond resorts for 2018 maintenance fees. After 5 telephone calls, I was told that i still own at Mystic Dunes.

Questions/Comments:

I would like to file a complaint with the appropriate Attorney General division based on a fraudulent transaction with Diamond Resorts at an Orlando, Florida property. Diamond Resorts Representative in Orlando, Florida are attempting to bind me in a timeshare contract that I had no intention of being obligated. The discussion was dubbed Owners' Update and centered on converting a deeded timeshare to Diamond's point system. This transaction was described as an enhancement to the original timeshare which was bought and paid for years ago. The enhancement was to take place only if other owners, not present in Florida at the time, signed a release. I was provided a form and FedEx envelope to return the other owners' release. The other owners did not sign the release, but Diamond now states that I am liable for a new separate $14,000 contract. A down payment via a credit card opened by Diamond Resorts of $3,411 was made and one protested payment of $241.03 in order to protect my good credit rating. Never during the interaction with the sales representatives was I informed that I was entering into a separate personal contract with Diamond Resorts. It was supposed to be a timeshare enhancement binding all owners, should all owners agreed to the conversion from deeded timeshare to the point system. I have had many communications with the corporate office in Las Vegas, Nevada and am more than happy to share the correspondence.

Questions/Comments:

I have owned a timeshare at Bryan's Spanish Cove in Kissimmee for over 30 years. This week, I received an email from them saying "Your Vacation is Confirmed!" which stated that my husband and I were "confirmed" for a vacation at Bryan's Spanish Cove for the week beginning Feb. 19, 2018. We never booked this vacation. I emailed Florida Club Connection and asked them to never send me an email like this again. This was the second time they had done this. The first time, I ignored the email and lost all my timeshare "points" for the year since they considered us no-shows and we forfeited all our points. We straightened that affair out, but to get this notice again, after I had asked them over the phone not to send such notices, really irked me. There is no way to opt out of the "Your Vacation Is Confirmed" emails. I checked the fine print. I want to bring this to your attention. As I said, I have owned a timeshare for 30+ years and have enjoyed it. Since Diamond Resorts took over Club Navigo and Island One, it's been nothing but a giant pain. Could you ask Diamond Resorts International to cease and desist with these mailings? Thank you. If someone will send me their email address, I can email you the exact Diamond Resorts sent to me. Best regards,
Kate Nelson

Questions/Comments:

My wife Margaret and I were scammed by a Ms. Lisa Plante and Mr. Najid Ganna, Orlando, FL based employees of Diamond Resorts International. We were invited to a luncheon meeting on November 11, 2017 at the Hyatt Regency Hotel in Sarasota, Fl. to hear about new favorable timeshare owner policies and over a 4-hour period we were repeatedly told that Diamond Resorts had a new policy allowing liberal use of our timeshare points that, after "qualifying" would allow us to spend our 6000 annual points on hotel rooms, air fares, retail merchandise and even pay our annual timeshare maintenance fees. The only requirement to "qualify" was to purchase either a higher status for $14,550, which we rejected or a $3995 "Sampler" package that would also add 20,000 extra points to our existing 12,000 unused point bank. We were told that we would have to sign an agreement requiring resort visits and future sales meetings but that these requirements "would be waived since we were already long standing Diamond Resorts Timeshare owners." Also, we would only have to wait 2 weeks for the new plan to be activated on our existing account and 32,000 points would be worth $.20 each (total value $6400) to be used for resort vacations or as we see fit without having to add any additional cash. This also included unused existing 6000 points scheduled to expire at the end of 2017. Two weeks later we found out that none of the claims were true; there was no new liberal point usage plan and we now have 32,000 points that we will likely not be able to use and are out $3995. On November 26, we verbally reported this scam to Diamond Resorts' Las Vegas headquarters and was promised a reply within one week. Nothing happened, On December 12, I talked to them again and sent in a detailed written accounting of the scam perpetrated by their employees. I was promised an investigation, but so far nothing. On December 11, my American Express credit card began incurring fraudulent charges to the tune of over $1700 in Internet purchases. That card was cancelled the same day. Mr Ganna was the only person that has had private access to my credit card and would have been able to view the 4 number code required for Internet usage. While so far, I have no proof, I can't help but believe everything is tied together, as I have never had a problem with any of my credit cards in the past. and I am 79 years old. So far, my complaint is against Diamond Resorts, who seem to ignoring the fraudulant behavior of their employees treating it as business as usual.

Questions/Comments:

I am returning my fully paid timeshare back to Diamond Resorts because of age, health, and hardship. I started the process at the end of last year. Maintenance fees and taxes were due on Jan. 1, 2017. I had not heard anything from the company about my request. I paid the charges....over a thousand dollars because I always pay my bills on time even though that was really difficult for me. I received a letter and the papers to turn over the time share to Diamond resorts shortly after the first of the year. I called and asked if I would be getting any part of the maintenance and taxes returned to me. They said no. That does not seem right. That is over three months of grocery money for me. How can they keep money for something that I get nothing in return for? They can resell it for about 18,000 or rent it to vacationers. On top of that I have to pay $250.00 for the paper work to give it back to them. Is it legal for them to keep the entire amount of maintenance fees. I understand having to pay some of it until the transaction is complete. Thanks for any help you can give me. I do appreciate it.

I am filing a complaint against Diamond resort for selling us a product that does not exist. Despite all efforts of not buying into timeshare they were somehow able to coerced myself and my husband into buying into their product. on this last transaction we were promised that if we become GOLD OWNERS, we would be in a positon where we would be able to get free airline tickets, and that Diamond will provide us with a card that can pay half-the association fee and much more.the representative gave us may reasons why buying into this product would be beneficial to us. after what seemed to be hrs. of persuasion we we sucumb to her demands.The total transaction amounted to $95, 000, downpayment of $17,000 was required, Mthly payment of $1,100, and association fee of $ 4,000 not to mention that booking fee was an addition of $100. on our inital visit we were told that because we were there for that event that the previous contract which was contracted for 2yrs. The previous contract was signed 2 months earlier and that contract was for 5yrs. we were told that because we were there the contract is null and that we were being offered the best price for that day only, if we agree to buy points at a later time it would cost 4x the Amt.that was offereded. Because of the uncertainty we were subjected to sign a contract. initally we were told that as a member we will the receiving a title in the mail. couple months later we received a certification of membership.if we are not owners way are we sujected to pay a monthly mortgage,We then learned that we are only members not owners. If we wre only why are we sujected to pay a yearly association fee. If my husband and I knew from the very begining that we were only members not owners we certainly would not havebeing subjected to this fraud.

Questions/Comments:

After request for a refund after, what I considered a fraudulent contract practice, Diamond Resorts International (DRI) told me I had to provide a police report documenting that I am ACCUSING/CHARGING MY WIFE WITH FRAUD in order to ask for a refund for a fraudulent contract with DRI. DRI fraudulently charged me $3,995.00 by telling my wife she could sign on my behalf on a contract that included required initials on twenty (20) detailed paragraphs for a 24 month timeshare contract. DRI denied my request for a refund and told me; in order to move forward with the refund process I must provide a police report that shows I am charging my wife with fraud. In hopes of providing some type of credibility and record of integrity: I am a retired US Marine Corps Officer and a current First Officer with American Airlines. I am the father of three amazing children and the husband of a wonderful wife. - On 19 Oct, 2017, I paid $3,995.00 with my USAA Visa Card for a 24 month timeshare Sampler package from Diamond Resorts International (DRI) at the Cypress Point Sales office, Orlando, Florida, . -We were there over 3 hours for the advertised 90 minute sales presentation. We declined the full time share but they did talk us into the Sampler. I told them I had to leave right away to pick up my kids immediately after we agreed to move forward with the Sampler. The sales rep said that my wife could stay and wrap up the paperwork and when I returned. I was unaware of a contract style document (4 pages with 20 locations for initials for both my wife and I plus each of our signatures at the end) they wanted us to sign. I thought I had just signed the "contract" (Purchase Proposal - 1 page document) and all that was left for them to put some things together for us to take and pay for the Sampler. Approximately one hour later I returned and my wife said we are done and could resume our day. -The sales agent told her she could sign the paperwork for me. (I never saw the Membership Agreement that my wife signed for both of us) -I did not look at the Membership Agreement document until nearly one month later when they called to "review" the contract and get me started on my vacations. I am a very busy person and I didn't have any reason to be suspicious. -Upon review, I quickly saw many restrictions and additional requirements that were not discussed in the presentation. The Sampler restrictions do not work well with my job and interests. I would not have signed the Agreement had I had the opportunity to review it. They quickly reviewed this with my wife (I was not present) as they had her sign the document for both of us. Within a couple of days reviewing the Sampler Agreement, I called DRI to ask for a refund. -After nearly 3 weeks of phone calls and many voicemail messages to DRI in effort to obtain a refund, I finally received an official response from Ashley Francis, Senior Specialist with DRI: Ashley told my wife and I that I must provide a police report that shows I am accusing/charging my wife with fraud in order to move forward with the refund process! - I asked Ashley to send an email with that request in writing (Early this afternoon- 7 December 2017). She said she would send it. I have not yet received the email - 11 December 2017. I have called twice this afternoon and again on 11 December. I left a voicemail on her machine each time. - I called the Orlando County Sheriff's department. They tell me that this is not even something they would do. They said I would have to take my wife to civil court.

I went on vacation to Disney World in Orlando in the summer of 2015, with my niece and two grandchildren. We stayed at a time share for which I own shares. I was strongly coerced into purchasing additional shares and was told that I could use money from my 401K to pay for it. I did and now I am having difficulty paying this monthly amount of $557.93 for which seems like the remainder of my life. My son recently lost one of his jobs and I have been helping him to pay his bills. My daughter recently got laid off from her job in New York and I am also helping her with her bills. I called and told them that I was no longer able to make these payments and that they should relinquish the shares (including the ones I own). I sent proof of this hardship along to them and now I am receiving harassing phone calls. Please assist me in getting this resolved in my favor. Thank you very much. Respectfully submitted Complaint discription: The Ormond Beach sales center of Diamond Resort International sold us the sampler package of 20,000 points for $ 960,00 on 4/6/2017. It is what my wife Irina and I agreed and signed for. At the same time they also offered to finance the purchase with New credit card application, which we applied for at the same time. They never provided the copies of any signed documents at the time to us and so we could not review them and take advantage of the FL ten days right of recession law. We left the resort back to Atlanta on 4/7/2017 and newer got the promised copies. On May 4, 2017 we received the first new CC bill, which stated that that we were charged $ 3,995.00. We contacted the sales office and the head quarters of the company.. The sales office emailed the document that stated that we signed for the amount of $ 3,995.00 .However, Irina's signature is alike but we never signed for this amount and my signature is completely off. I called to the Vice President Jason Abdela of the Daytona location and talked reasons to him and emailed. He sent me some more docs. We tried to ask them to make the business as they promised, but they refused. This price we never agreed upon. I would like for the US and International consumers to know how dirty Diamond resort International runs the sale business! I am asking for the full refund of the money and for them to take this fraudulently sold $ 3,995.00 package back:

A letter is also going to the Florida Attorney General, Pam Bondi. I will share my experience with as many people as I possibly can with my Facebook, Twitter, and LinkedIn as well. I can't believe DRI's response to my request for a refund.

UNBELIEVABLE! I have read many review of DRI. All I can find is negative. I will see if you can show me otherwise. You told me I must file a police report that charges my wife with fraud in order to move forward with a refund on my Sampler package for the dollar amount of $3,995.00. my problem is fraudulent statements made to me about use of my time share. Induced to buy more points with getting a credit card to make my maintenance fees. This is a complete lie. Getting a personal concierge to arrange travel that never happened. These statements were made each time I was invited to an "Owners update". A conflict of interest where Diamond owns or have some ownership in maintenance company. Induced to buy more points with promises of travel and other perks to urge you to buy. additional points. maintenance fees so high now I cant afford to pay such fees .over $14000 a year. being on Social Security I cannot afford to keep making these kinds of payment. Currently because of inducements I now have an $85,000 mortgage on my home. Thank you for your time and consideration in this matter

Questions/Comments:

We received a letter from Diamond Resorts International in February stating that the Mystic Dunes timeshare was paid off. That represents a lot of time and investment on our part. Now that it is paid off, we don't want it any longer. We want to utilize the "give back" option or the "buy back" option the sales people told us about so long ago. We want to sign the deed in hand over to DRI. We don't want to have the burden of the maintenance fees any more or any other fees we might incur. We contacted DRI in June about this "giveback" and received no answer to date. It is a small and simple thing: it's paid off so take it back. We don't want it any more. Just take it back.

Questions/Comments:

Our experiences with Diamond Resorts International get worse and worse. In January of 2017 we received an IRS form 1099 C from the company. We took it to our tax preparer and told him this is not what happened: we didn't realize any income from this timeshare. He told us we should have received a 1099 A instead. We called and wrote to DRI telling them that this was the wrong form. We told them that we should have gotten the 1099 A instead. THEY HAVE REFUSED TO ISSUE THE CORRECT FORM. We called the IRS (per the websites we found online). They have told us that they would not be involved and that we had to go to DRI directly and have them issue the correct IRS tax form. There is nothing that they can do. It is the company's responsibility to correct THEIR error. WE CONTACTED DRI. To date Diamond Resorts International is refusing to send us the correct form. We go on record stating DRI's unwillingness to play by any rules except their own. Some agency somewhere must be able to tell timeshare companies in general and DRI in particular that they must abide by some code or some set of rules when it concerns the public and consumers. We don't have money to finance lawyers to fight this corporation. We have made complaints about the business dealings of the salesmen and the company. We have made complaints over the years to Diamond but last April we finally said this is it. No more! We have been in earnest about complaints to and about DRI. DRI sent us a letter that our vacation ownership was paid off. When? How? Which contracts? We cannot get any REAL information out of this company. WE WANT THE CORRECT 1099 FORM SENT TO US!!! 1099 A!! If we are totally paid off - then they can have everything BACK! They can send us the paperwork to do just that! SEND US THE CORRECT FORM 1099 A.

Questions/Comments:

Diamond Resorts International and Wyndham Vacation Resorts, Inc. et al has failed to provide me proof that 1) I do not owe 2017 maintenance fees to Fairway Forest 2) they have not and are not going to report an invalidated debt to any credit reporting agency 3) to correctly record the transfer of ownership date to 10/17/16. I feel that these companies are in violation of Unfair, Deceptive or Abusive Acts and Practices. Since September 2016 I have been trying to resolve this simple problem and Diamond/Wyndham has failed to correct their records and failed to provide me confirmation that I do not owe the 2017 maintenance fees. Every time I speak to someone they tell me they have to forward this to the "correct" department. I am asking that Diamond Resorts International and Wyndham Vacation Resorts practices, policies and procedures be investigated for possible violations of any applicable state Timeshare Acts, FACTA violations and UDAAP violations. An acceptable resolution is to receive a letter on letterhead of the legal entity stating that I do not owe the 2017 maintenance fees, transfer of ownership was as of 10/17/16, they have not and will not report this account to any credit reporting agency and apologize for their unfair practices, errors and inept customer service.

Questions/Comments:

We went to a timeshare presentation with no intention to buy but ended up being talked into a "sampler program" purchase. We purchased 15,000 points to use towards stays at their properties to get a "feel" for the Diamond Resorts so they can "wow us" to buying a full timeshare. Our price was $3000. We were told at this presentation that someone would call us in a couple of days to welcome us and we would also receive another call from someone to get us set up on the website and to give us our log-in and password so we could start booking our next vacation. We walked away with our contract in an envelope along with a double printed page with colour photos of some of their properties. They told us a book would be sent to us. They knew from our discussion that we needed a 3 bedroom unit. The envelope said we could not make any reservations for 10 days. We did not worry since we would not be back home in Canada for several more days. 10 days, 14 days, 3 weeks passed and no one called and we did not have a book. I had to track them down and told them we were not happy with them because they failed to keep any promises they made. We had no faith in them and wanted to cancel the contract. I spoke to someone in their corporate office who seemed very happy to tell me that "by law I was bound to the contract" and informed me that Florida law only allowed 10 days to cancel a contract. I brought to his attention that we were not given access to the website and told we could not make reservations for 10 days, thereby not giving us the information needed to cancel within the legally allowed 10 days. He didn't care. I have been trying to make the best of the situation by looking for something we can use but nothing seems to work. There are only a couple locations that have 3 bedroom units. 14 of the 32 properties are non-Diamond Resort properties and of those 14, 9 of them are standard hotel rooms. We feel we have been tricked into something great and now have no way out. We have continued to make the monthly payments to avoid negative credit ratings but I can't see how they should be allowed to do this. None of what I've seen on their website is worth the $3000 price we are paying. I was given Pam Bondi's name by a reservation agent at Sea World when I told him of what happened. He suggested I reach out to you to see if there is an ongoing investigation into this company. I travel to Florida just about every year with my kids. I am going again in August but will be staying at the Wyndham Bonnet Creek instead of Diamond Resorts. Is there anything you can do to help us get out of this mess? Any information or direction would so much appreciated. Thank you, Kristen Bordignon

Questions/Comments:

In 1999, I purchased and signed a timeshare contract with Mystic Dunes which enabled me to utilize the resort one week every other year. During the entire time that Mystic Dunes had ownership of the resort, I never had any major issues or concerns with reserving and use of my weeks. The first initial inkling of any problems was after I received notice from DR purchased the Mystic Dunes property that problems started arising. We went to an annual review of timeshare in 2013 in which they informed us that they bought out Mystic Dunes and that they are not into timeshares they are about Points. They asked us to sign over our deed which was worth 6500 point and they would give us 1100 points in 2014 (we bought 5500 additional points). Diamond Resorts personnel informed me that they, "were not in the timeshare business but points business." I was very hesitant about transferring over to their points system. They informed me that they would lock me in to the rate (6500 pionts) for two years and then at that time a decision must be made. In 2015 after receiving a notice again from DR and while on vacation in Las Vegas, I along with now a co-owner attended a meeting with DR personnel in which supposedly they went over the details of the transfer of points. I state supposedly because now it is very apparent that DR not only used bait and switch tactics, under estimated the cost and fees, exaggerated the added benefits and did not inform us that payment would be for two maintenance fees (Mystic Dunes and DR) and not one as we were told. I was not aware of this company's unscrupulous business practices until about a week ago after receiving a bill with an outrageous amount listed as being due. It was to my surprise and disbelief that I received a bill for over $3,000. We honestly feel that we were lied to in turning in our deed for Mystic Dunes to Diamond Resorts and transferring to points. We originally bought the timeshare interest in Mystic Dunes because of the affordability but after receipt of this bill, it is impossible that we can afford this. It is plain to see that DR purpose is not to enhance the conditions of the resort but to drive out the old owners by causing financial hardship so that the owners would have no choice but to forfeit their property over to them and then they can increase the price dramatically for new unsuspecting consumers. We was under the impression that we would no longer have any ties to Mystic Dunes after releasing the deed. But, to our dismay we have accumulated two maintenance fees that we can not afford and the fees are increasing every year. We request that this company be investigated for how they are ripping us off and other Florida and nationwide consumers. We can not afford to pay the fees and we may have to walk away from our timeshare. We are requesting that we be let out of Mystic Dunes maintenance fees and be under the points system only.

I and a Mrs. Cona were in a timeshare meeting on Aug 5, 2015 looked in a room for about 6 hours. I signed papers under duress for the purchase of 4500 points but I was under the assumption that I had 10 days to cancel the contract. I was also told that the transaction would not be finalized until they received a copy of Mrs Cona's late husbands death certificate. We faxed a cancellation request of the contract 10 days business days later on Aug 19, 2015. We were told it should have been 10 calendar days not 10 business days. I just read that Florida law states 20 days! Is that correct. Please advise if we can take action on this. I was also told after we were home that the copy of the death certificate had nothing to do with the purchase of the timeshare points. We were very mislead on this also. I am an unemployed man in my 60's and this has been very stressful.

During the sales pitch we were told that information that we discovered later was not true: 1- We were told that we could use the Timeshare as tax deductible and that we could later sale for a profit. 2- We could rent the Timeshare for additional income or help offset the Maintenance fees. 3-We would be able to refinance at a lower interest rate with any financial institution. 4-The sales agent would act on our behalf as a personal representative and help rent out timeshare. 5- We were told that we could use the timeshare in the capacity that we were seeking which was last minute vacations due to husbands job not being able to plan weeks or months in advance. 6- That this time share was a INVESTMENT! 7- In December of in Jacksonville, FL we were called and invited to a dinner of owners to discuss our accounts and give insight to how better use our points. At this time I informed them we were wanting to opt out, they said a representative would be there with our account and could help us start this process. When we got to the dinner it was another high pressure sales tactic to get us to buy more points with Apollo. We discussed with them that we had a life change and could no longer afford their rates and increases and we wanted to relinquish our ownership per the buy back program that they said they had. At the meeting the accounts representative said they did not have this program

Questions/Comments:

Good evening,

My husband and I are Diamond Resorts members of "The Club". We are hoping to relinquish our Diamond Resorts Club Membership and all associated points for multiple reasons. First of all is deception. We signed on to Diamond in July of 2016 because we were told that the points would build cash value and by 2018, that value was projected to be over $12/point. We planned to use the timeshare for vacations - but the main draw, and what they sold us on, was the return on investment. We signed on at a little under $4/point, so that would have given us a double return on our money. We were also told that there was no risk because they would take back our contract at anytime if our circumstances changed and we could no longer pay our bill, maintenance fees or if we could no longer use the points due to health reasons or other personal circumstances. Eventually, I began to question the value of what we were paying for, because honestly, with the maintenance fees and monthly payments, we could've afforded to pay for these vacations anyway.

A part of the purchased was an agreement that we would stay at one of their locations for a "training" session on the program and its benefits. We did this in October of 2016. There was no training - only more sales pitch. They tried to pitch us on all the great benefits of the program - the free legal advice, luggage delivery service, etc, but, lo and behold this was only for "Silver" members. Our measly 3,000 points wasn't even close to the 15,000 points needed for Silver status - another fact that wasn't clear from our original presentation. So, they offered us a Sampler package to sell us on the benefits on the Silver program. At our Member Update Meeting in July 2017, they owned up to the fact that their shares were not projected to increase to the level originally stated. However, they also said that while that wasn't true, Diamond would offer us at least $6/point to buy-back our timeshare after we made at least 4 monthly payments. We were at least looking at over $40K in potential profit if we would sell after exercising the first right of refusal. We purchased 6,000 additional points at that time to get an even bigger return. Not only is there nothing in the contract about a first right of refusal, but there is no secondary market for these points and no buy-back option to be heard of.

I would've never signed on for either contract had they been truthful. We planned to sell as soon as possible - but we are quickly learning that there is little chance of that happening. We were also told that we could use our points to pay for stays at other hotels which is also a joke. I've tried on multiple occasions to find hotels in their "network" but couldn't. The maintenance fees and monthly bills are making it difficult for us to keep up with our other financial obligations - let alone think about being able to afford a vacation. Not only that, I have rheumatoid arthritis and may not be able to travel much in the future anyway. I contacted Diamond's Loss Mitigation department to relinquish the timeshare and they refused. I am sick to death that I was suckered into this sham and I don't know how they sleep at night conning people out of their money. Thanks,

Questions/Comments:

This company used misrepresentation, and false statements to illicit sales from us multiple times. We purchased in 2015 a sampler package only to be told there were only a select locations we could travel to. We then purchased 4,000 points in 2016 with the understanding that we could use our points for our vacation stay in the VIP rooms they had us tour, as well as airfare, theme park tickets, cruises, etc. We were under the understanding that they were "as good as cash" when it came to using the points. We were also misled when it came to the Diamond Resorts MasterCard. We were told our purchases would equal $1 for 1 point only these points are not the same points that DRI uses for vacations and cannot be used. We were told to use this MasterCard for our down payment and we would gain points faster only to find out that down payments will not receive points. We feel as though they used lies and deceptive tactics to get us to purchase from them.

Purchased an additional package because the sales person said it would make my yearly maintenance cheaper, I could use points to pay for maintenance and I would be able to buy a Disney cruise with my total points for concierge suite for my grandsons birthday that is the entire and only reason I decided to agree to purchase. I was told I would have to wait until I owned it a month and then I could book the cruise, every time I tried to book there was an excuse and a date that I would have to wait to tr, then finally when I got a hold of someone it was an additional 6k to get a cruise and not the dates I wanted. I can not use my points to pay for maintenance either. I was even told since diamond was bought out there would be a different site t login to which is a LIE. The person that sold me the package did nothing but lie I guess she saw an old woman in a wheel chair wanting to take her grandson on a cruise and said whatever she needed to make me sign. After finding out that the cruise wouldn't be able to be used with the package I tried contacting them after 4 months they finally told me they cant do anything because I signed the paperwork. Questions/Comments:

We purchased a timeshare from Diamond Resorts International which was presented to us with bogus information for the sole purpose of making us think they were meeting our vacation needs. When confronting them about the bogus information they led us on until the rescission period had expired and then dropped us like a hot potato

When I complained and asked to speak to a Corporate rep. they had us meet with several different people who said that they were Corporate people who could fix our problem. It turns out that they were all high pressure closers who only attempted to get us to purchase an upgrade. I am a 76year old veteran with PTSD and am 100% permanently and totally disabled. The high pressure and run around was so extreme that in one situation I had to take medication because I thought I was going to have a panic attack and possibly a nervous breakdown but the representative continued even after I informed him that I was having an anxiety attack.. Our winter trip to Florida was totally destroyed and I am still having emotional problems because of the high pressure abuse. I have not been able to see my psychiatrist because he retired while I was a way and I have to wait until he is replaced in June. I have a written statement to all of the events along with emails that were exchanged during this ordeal. Thank you, Robert Bratt

Questions/Comments:

Please disregard the first one. Thanks Dear Attorney General: Our main concern is with time share practices. When we bought the Time Share promises of quality services were made however, very deceptive results! Our original contract states maintenance fee to be charge every other year. Since 2012 we are charge every year which, started with $400.00 every other year is now $1,383.19 (the fee increases every year). Which right does this condominium or Time Share Resort has to change our original contract without having our agreement or signature or drawn new contract? Why are they allowed to increase fees in short period of time tripling or quadrupling the initial amount? We own this time share for almost 10 years and used it only twice. The quality in the exchange program is absolutely not the promised. Besides, paying for high maintenance fee there is more fees charged if you want to use. Has an owner we pay more to use it than someone just renting the same unit per week. When does some authority in the state of Florida will do something about this fraudulence practices. It is a deceptive business. I try to sell the unit nobody wants to buy it. I try to talk with management in the condominium and management hide behind the operators and do not talk to you. So what do we supposed to do? Just pay loose more money and have nothing in return? We just received a threatening letter given us 30 days to pay for $1,383.19 or they will ruin our credit, foreclose and placed a lien. Meaning they will acquired the purchased price of $11,400 and all the fees not counting that they already overcharged us breeching our contract. In the end we are the victim and loose everything! For the Time Share which in this case is Diamonds Resort is a win, win situation they will put the same property for sale again. Diamonds Resort should buy back the Time Share from the owners that completed paid for it and do not desired the Time Share no longer. Please when will someone do something about this thievery! Please respond if we have any rights at all in this dispute. We would appreciate input from The Attorney General. Sincerely,
William & Lilian Chew

Questions/Comments:

Traded timeshare points in to Diamond Resorts, now Westgate says we owe a delinquent balance which they have turned over to a collection agency. Westgate has had no contact with us for over seven years. We discovered this after it was put on our credit report. Westgate has not contacted us directly, but has turned this over to a collector. We have proof that we paid the timeshare off and traded it in. Our credit is being damaged by this and we cannot get a straight answer from Westgate and the collection agency.

Questions/Comments:

On 31 Oct 17, I contacted Diamond Resorts at 1-800-463-7256 in Orlando to voluntarily relinquish our rights to our time share as directed by our lawyer. At 11:00, I talked with a person by the name of Kay and she redirected me to Francis at 11:20 and she stated that she would forward the documents to relinquish our property. It would take 1-2 weeks for me to receive them. After completion then we would have to contact owner services to complete the process. The documents never came. I called the same number and talked with a person by the name of Leon on 20 Nov 17 at 10:30, who then transfer me to Gladys Gonzales at 1035, and she mentioned something by saying that she would have to close out the CAP or GAP (not sure). By doing so, she would have to reinitiate the paperwork and this was supposedly accomplished on 20 Nov 17. Nothing was received once again. On 5 Dec 17; at 9:08, I called again the same number and talked with a Ms. Allen or JoeAllen (again not sure due to background noise). She forwarded me the Club staff and I was able to talk with a Jasmine Villanar at 9:09. She promised us that she would look into the matter and call us back. She fully understood that all we wanted was to relinquish our ownership. I called back later to see what they found out and I talked with Shay Sparrow at 11:06 who then placed me on hold until 11:15, and then again put me in contact with Ms. Jenkins at 11:54. She informed me that the documents would possibly be delayed until I paid our club dues of $309.70 and our maintenance dues of $514.79. She said it was because; there records would that we would be delinquent as of 1 Jan 18. She suggested that we go ahead and pay it. I told her that I was trying again to relinquish our rights to our property with Diamond Resorts since 31 Oct 17 and have gotten no where. We can't keep paying their rates no longer; plus we're not as young as we once were. Thanks for whatever assistance you all can provide.

Questions/Comments:

Florida Timeshare Division dismissed our case. Senators and media contacts, Today's Inside Timeshare Article "Florida Attorney General Pam Bondi and Timeshare Disclosure" - I hope Ms. Bondi will take the time to read the accounts linked at the end of the article, especially one written by Florida detective Lela Renea (not her real name). I question whether the timeshare industry could exist without selling by deception except for a few companies like Disney. I have interviewed ten current and former timeshare agents, managers and a former executive. They call it called "Pitching Heat" or "No Heat No Eat" as describe by a former agent in the article. Sometimes just weeks after purchase, alleging deceit, the buyer realizes they have signed a perpetual contract with no secondary market. Not one of our 144 readers asking for timeshare advice realized they signed a perpetual contract with no secondary market. I have an MBA and a CFP certificate and did not realize I could not sell our Diamond Resort points because the contract states, "You can sell your points, but we will not assist you." The contract does not stipulate 64 members of the Licensed Timeshare Resale Broker Association will not accept a listing for Diamond Resorts points feeling secondary market restrictions are so onerous the points are worthless, should a member need to sell. I was deceived by reading the contract. <http://insidetimeshare.com/fridays-letter-america-20/> We hope legislators and regulators will one day recognize the harm perpetrated on the front end of the timeshare sale causes consumers like the reader who posted the comment below today. In all likelihood, she cannot sell for pennies. They end up contacting fraudulent resale companies after the resort denies their release, if they do not reach us first. A copy of this article will be sent to FL AG. "I am in the same situation. My fees are $6,000 for 30,000 points. I am retired and have paid close to $85,000. And, yes, my retirement savings have shrunk considerably. I can't continue to pay these maintenance fees and dues, as they are increasing to a point of being outrageous and unmanageable, and would like to know how to deal with this. My children cannot to pay these high fees either so will want to sell. I am told that we cannot sell points, only for pennies, of course." Rhana Jipson

Questions/Comments:

Very frustrated with Club Navigo/Crescent Resorts- Diamond Resorts- as I purchased a timeshare over 10 years ago to learn each year what was promised was misrepresentation. I was given a yearly tax number of 1,000 prox per year to now be sitting at 2,200 per year - as well as I bought a 1 bedroom condo for my time to be sitting in a room that is a standard hotel. I have tried to talk to company & was told I should of read my contract better. In Dec 2016 The Attorney State General sued & spoke to them today & they asked me to reach out here since I purchased this in Florida and this needs to be rectified. I really could use some help and not sure what to do - I plan to hire a lawyer as my next step.

Questions/Comments:

the purchase date is approximate as is the total amount paid Diamond Resorts International salesmen lied to us and used high pressure sales tactics doing so. We bought in October 2016. The salesmen told us that the presentation would be very short and ended up taking hours out of our vacation time. They put intense pressure on us to buy that day because family would love it and we could rent it out to friends, too. Several months later we got a letter - a bill really - about maintenance fees. The salesmen never told us about the maintenance fees! These fees are on top of the mortgage we have to pay. Jonathan Pineda the salesman never told us that we would have maintenance fees! He did tell us that the timeshare was a good financial investment not only because it would increase in value but because we would have years of affordable vacations. He told us we would be saving money in the long run. That is not true. We find that we are paying a lot more for a vacation than we would by booking one ourselves. The sales reps drew bubbles and lines on the papers at the sales presentations, demonstrating the ways we could save and use the timeshare. We couldn't take the drawings with us, but they probably wouldn't have been much help anyway. It is almost like the notes were written in code. We received a "free" trip to Maui when we signed up. When we were there, we got a call that we were invited to an appreciation breakfast IF we signed up for snorkeling. We did and we went and we found out that the breakfast was another sales presentation. We were so annoyed that they had caught us like that! We wanted to enjoy the vacation time together. The sales people in Hawaii were completely rude. One guy was mocking my wife and trying to talk in her voice when she expressed great concern about paying all the bills. They basically forced us to buy our original points back or risk losing the points we had. We don't understand about the points and buying them back or using them. There are many unanswered questions. When we talked to the sales reps they raised so many more questions than they answered. They presented things in a confusing way, no matter which sales presentation we attended. They told us that we had enough points to take a vacation two or three times a year. They told us that we could use points for flights and rentals and that the points would roll over every year. We do not have enough points to take two or three vacations a year and they didn't tell us it would cost anything to roll them over. The points expire anyway! There are great differences between what the sales reps promised us and what we found out to be true when we started to use the timeshare in real life. The timeshare experience we bought into is definitely not what we actually received. They recently sent us a debt validation letter as answer to our complaints. They didn't address any of the points we raised! They just send us copies of the paperwork.

Questions/Comments:

We contacted Diamond Resorts International several times by phone and told them we wanted to cancel the timeshare and wanted them to take it back. We won't be paying for this any longer and want our money back. We tried to get in touch with the reps at the Liki Tiki Resorts, Orlando, during the rescission period. They should have had a record that we called; we have just received an email that DRI has no record of the call. Oh, but we do. The problem is that they ignored all the calls and messages. The sales reps pressured us into buying when we did but when we had tons of questions and wanted to get out, they suddenly were nowhere around and not available. And most recently we called and asked them to just take it back. They of course refused. We called to complain that we could not book a vacation where we wanted to go. They told us that we should have had a personal representative to help us - we never got one. They told us that the points they sold us were not enough. Then DRI tricked us into buying a Sampler so that we could see how great more points would be. Somehow that Sampler got converted to more permanent points for us and added on to what we already were paying. This was very confusing and not made clear to us! It was not our intention to purchase a permanent increase! Janet Hadley and Carl Lundquist purposely presented the timeshare in a confusing way. They wrote down facts and figures and math "formulas" to prove to us that the timeshare was a great financial investment. They showed us a chart of calculations of what we would spend on yearly vacations and the timeshare; the timeshare won hands down. How is this possible? DRI sold us something we could not use and then conned us into buying additional points. Unfair and deceitful business, that. We listened and made the purchase because the sales reps told us that the timeshare would save us money in the long run and give us more opportunity to travel. It does not and has not saved us money. The sales reps misrepresented the places we could go and the resorts available to us on the plan that we purchased. The sales rep logged into the system and showed us places all over the world. These places were all available to us, they said. That is not true. Nothing is available in our point range. We tried several times last year and then gave up. They told us that we had tax breaks associated with the timeshare - also not true. They told us they would be there to assist us when we had questions. Then they ignored us. The entire presentation and ownership has been based on misrepresentation and lies and deceitfulness of the sales people. The great deal Diamond had for us was only a marketing tool and a way to get us to buy. The timeshare they sold us is worthless and was done by the reps using high-pressure sales and lies. Their answer to all our complaints is that we signed the contract. According to their email, the paperwork is in order. We are saying that the verbal promises made by the salesmen are very different than what we signed for. The closing was done hurriedly and there was no time to scrutinize the sections. The sales reps told us a certain paragraph said this or that and initial here. They have treated us dishonestly and made promises that they knew would never be fulfilled, just to get the sale.  The amount paid so far is an estimate **

I am a victim of timeshare scam because I was on vacation at the Mystic Dunes in Kissimmee, FL and was asked to hear the updates that Apollo had for the owners. The update would take about 30 min. I immediately told Jonathan Pineda, my concierge that I could not afford to purchase anymore timeshare. I was diagnosed with CA last year and had my 21 radiation treatments and needed to start working. I told him about the vitamins I was taking and he immediately told me he was sent to talk to me because his mother was just diagnosed with CA. He led me into another room where he assure me that he could get me sales for the vitamins and show me how advantages it would be to have the Gold status (I could make money with it). I had to borrow from credit cards for the down payment. At 9:27 am 5/11/2017, I contacted him with buyers remorse. He talked on the phone and on 5/12/2017, I asked to meet with him because I could not go through with the contract. I have all the messages on my phone and I downloaded them. He assure me I had nothing to worry about that he will show me how to use the timeshare to my advantage but I had to wait until it was recorded. By the time it was recorded, June 7, 7:00 pm his "wife" responded to my text telling me he was in an accident and required surgery. I never heard from him again. I continue to write letters to Diamond and send verification of my income, no savings and bank accounts asking to be released from the Gold Status and they will not release me. Please help me. I can't afford anymore charges. I am in Freedom Debt Relief because I can't pay my bills.

No response from Diamond Int'l...they don't take back/pay-back...told to to to Craiglist but ultimate responsibility if new owner/when sold not compliant is Jesse/Michael (2014/2015 quick claim deed from Michael to Jesses since Michael bankruptcy). I have contacted several resellers....all seem scams, want fees and no guarantees. Lots of blogs bad about Diamond and these resellers. State Attorneys will only do something when enough file complaints..... Sept. 2007 purchased 1 week / floating (1/52 weeks) or 1.9% of 1 BR / Ocean View 800 SF for $32,821 x 52 weeks is $1.7M fractional ownership of unit 316 at Kaanapali Beach Club, Kaanapali Shores Pl., Lahaina Hawaii (Maui) 96761 ...was Sunterra.com / West Maui Resorts Partners LP later acquired under Diamondresorts.com/investor-relations ... Diamond Resort International 10600 W. Charleston Blvd., 10600 W. Charleston Blvd., Las Vegas NV 89135 High Pressure sales, overpromised/oversold and underdelivered...Jesse did not receive the documents until 4 hours later at signing with no time to review after hours of high pressure sales and alcoholic drinks and promises never kept of what a great investment and ROI in just years. First few years I was able to book my weeks but later time slots not available and resort alternatives not up to standard or 5 star accommodation as promised--but older worn down units. I was told as a member I would get the best deals yet when searching Hotels.com/VRBO and other sites nights were cheaper for same resort/room type than my member price---yet I paid over $32,000 in September 2007 and now $2000 month in dues/maintenance/club fees for 1/52 ownership of a 1 bedroom unit far above market rates. Now I find it nearly impossible to book the week/resort preference and have to settle for far less or lose my accrued weeks/points--use it or lose it, even though not available and still have to pay $2000 dues/fees each December? I have researched many blogs noting all the scams/complaints against Diamond and other timeshare management companies. Same people who sold these timeshares are now charging outrageous fees to get rid of these liabilities--scams on buying then selling. The last "Report of Independent Certified Public Accountants" conducted in accordance with attestation standards...purpose of complying with the rules and regulations of the Time-Sharing Acts of states of...Floridas, Hawaii, Texas..." was from 2005. Back then # purchasers enrolled in the exchange program was over 98,000 / % of confirmed exchanges under 76% ... even back then units oversold and under-available for member rentals yet they sell these to non-members as well at discounted prices? Should there be a revenue share to offset our costs as investors/owners? Is there any protection for consumers....

Questions/Comments:

We want to cancel the timeshare we have with Diamond Resorts International. We won't go into the dates and places we purchased and upgraded. We won't go into the times and places we have used it. The story of why we want to cancel at this point in time is short: there have been too many broken promises, lack of availability, constant high-pressure selling at each vacation location, and fees that are constantly going up. We have paid over $49,000 at this point and we realize it is a never-ending spiral - downward financially for us and upward as promoted by DRI to attain higher and higher levels for better and better service, amenities, benefits, and features. From the first sales presentation to the last the routine has been basically the same. There is always high-pressure sales rhetoric. Buy now! Offers expire! Foolish to leave a great deal! Think of the memories! From the first time in Lake Tahoe after my (Beth) surgery and health issues, which we told the salesmen about, there was no stopping the deals that we presented just for us. We refused a number of deals but at the end we were the last in the room. We were tired and hungry and just wanted it to be done. We were desperate and bought the cheapest package we could so we could get out and get on with the much-needed vacation. My wife was anxiety-ridden from the beginning and many days later at 3 AM she finally had a chance to read the paperwork. She found the rescission period of 7 days. We called to cancel but by then it was too late. The stays in Sedona, Hawaii, and Florida, where we attended presentations and made upgrades, followed the same format. We had stays elsewhere and attended sales presentations where we did not make purchases. The sales presentations lasted between two and five hours. It wasn't easy to refuse the offers. The salesmen were incredulous that we would fail to take advantage of the low price-per-point offerings and it took everything we had to refuse. We have mentioned broken promises, lack of availability, high-pressure sales, rising fees. At one owner update meeting we expressed our disappointment and frustration the lack of availability at numerous locations and the thousands of points that were about to expire. He told us that we were not in a high enough status to get priority booking AND all the benefits they told us we had the past 18 months. Joaquin Boadell told us he would fix all that. He told us that he would be our personal travel agent and personally put his number in our phone. He bragged about the hundreds of people he had helped in this manner: booking vacations and maximizing points usage. Again we upgraded and left with regrets but at the same time hopeful that we could make this work. We found out from him that we were never upgraded to Gold as we had been told. This was another deception. Our interactions with him: 7/11/2016 - called and left msg. No return call. 7/21 - spoke with him briefly. 7/21 - texted for assistance. He texted back to call the next day. 7/22 - called and left msg - no response. 7/25 - called and spoke briefly. Said he would call in the afternoon. No call. 7/28 - called and left msg. No response. 8/5 called and texted and no response. We then decided we wanted no more to do with DRI. The maintenance fees have risen from $772 to $3506 - PER YEAR. This is too much. There have been special fees assessed since 2014 for approximately $9500. These fees include U.S. Point Standard Assessments, whatever that is. We want the timeshare canceled and money refunded. The timeshare we supposedly bought did not have the benefits they told us to expect and they did not disclose the costs to us either.

Questions/Comments:

I was staying at a resort in Orlando for the holidays and went to a 90 minute presentation that turned into 4/12 hours with much pressure and ended up purchasing a timeshare with much regret. I was taking advantage of by the salesman and his team. I have contacted the resort and of course I was told I have no recourse. I am now in contact with an attorney to try and get out of this timeshare. What are my options here?

Questions/Comments:

My wife Bethany and I were in Florida for our honeymoon trip in early May 2016. We made the poor decision of agreeing to a timeshare contract. We realized the mistake in the following months, but it was too late to cancel our membership. The sales representatives were very aggressive and kept us in our presentation for nearly four hours, while originally they indicated the presentation would be 90 minutes. Our intention in going to the presentation was to listen to their offer, but decline and accept the 2 days/3 nights offer of a free stay at various places, for listening to their presentation. As stated, the presentation exceeded the reasonable time frame, and we declined their offers. Several times we declined, expressing the monthly payment is not something we wanted to enter into, being recently married, and we want to pay on our student loans before entering into this commitment. However, the sales representatives were extremely aggressive and would not take no for an answer. I understand that we accepted the offer, but in order to get the monthly payment to that lower figure, they slid in a $5,500 down payment on a Barclay credit card. This was a big mistake. We should have caught the fine print and said no and walked away. The difficult part was how draining of an experience the presentation was. It was a serious misrepresentation and I am angered that such a fraudulent practice can take place. But it does. Day after day these scammers take people's money. Is there some way this company can be held accountable for this deception? We have read many reports online for others who have been lied to and scammed by Diamond Resorts International as well. We have paid off the credit card because there was no way of ridding that. Once it went onto a credit card as a charge, it is firm. We were stuck with it. But we paid it off. The mortgage, however, is a lifetime thing. And our children would inherit it. What a terrible thing to have to inherit. The misrepresentation of the monthly payment being all we would have to pay, is a problem. It is unacceptable, but it will continue. These people are crooks. We currently owe approximately $6,500 on the mortgage, but we just can't afford to pay it with our student loans, but more importantly, we did not want the timeshare to begin with. If we had been told the time we had to officially cancel the timeshare, it would have been cancelled immediately. Unfortunately, but conveniently, this was not expressed in our the sales presentation. Is there any hope for us getting out of the timeshare? These are probably the most aggressive and worst timeshare people to deal with.

We got into this timeshare 1 year ago and it's not what the sales person said it would be. It is so much money, maintenance fees and deed payment. They are not helpful at all. I can't get any answers from them. They are telling my husband and I we have to pay them, there is no way out. I don't know what to do? We have paid over $6,000 up to date. Our "mortgage", is $224.00 monthly and maintenance fee is 1695.00 yearly. We don't want any money back, we just want to get out of this obligation. The company is telling us we have to pay or we will be sued.

I am a Time Share Owner at this location. I am concerned that due to Hurricane Irma, the management will increase the maintenance Fee that I am required to pay to continue ownership. Recently, I was required to attend a sales presentation at a different resort where it was stated that there would be an assessment due to the hurricane in Florida. What can I do to make sure that the fees are correct and not inflated. I have very little faith in this organization. Thanks. William . Garcia Jr.

A $100 deposit was demanded at check-in yet no notice was given of this practice when the reservation was pre-paid. I booked my stay at Bryan's Spanish Cove in Orlando, FL, a Diamond Resorts International property. Upon booking, I received an email from Hotwire.com listing the information pertaining to my upcoming trip. The only charge listed as being due at the property is the resort fee. When I confronted the front desk and subsequently confronted the general manager about this practice, their only reply was that it was company policy and it "should have" been listed in my confirmation and on the website when I booked the room. The "General Manager," Sagine Delly, said that she would accept a $50 deposit instead of the $100 deposit. I finally yielded to this after the front desk representative also offered that they would make sure to contact the bank and expedite the removal of such an authorization from my account. It is now 2 days after checking out of the "hotel" and the charge is still pending on my account. I have contacted American Express, who told me Sagine Delly would have the authority to call and release or reverse that charge immediately. I have contacted Sagine Delly twice via email requesting that the promise to contact my bank and have the charge reversed be honored. After the first email, her response was that the hold had been released, which is untrue according to American Express. I have yet to receive a reply to the second email that was submitted.

Questions/Comments:

Kevin Brandeburg (from this point forward will be referred to as Kevin). We will be using the collective term Hyatt to inclusively address all parties representing the developer and the association; since name changes have occurred over the years. Like most victims we blamed ourselves for our situation, and were embarrassed to think we could be taken advantage of in this manner. We tried to get resolution right from the beginning with on satisfaction, and following our last attempt, now we feel compelled to further articulate our case, and provide the AG office the details surrounding the actions and statements of Kevin and Hyatt's lack of action/resolution. To more thoroughly explain why our complaint has merit and why our desired relief is reasonable, we went back through the events of August 21, 2014 to the best of our recollection, and conducted additional research to explain to both Hyatt and now the Attorney General our position. We are hopeful after reviewing our case, the Attorney General's office can be more persuasive with Hyatt's Executive Board in taking monetary corrective action. Kevin's actions and statements in our opinion constituted deception, deceptive and unfair acts and practices, fraud, false pretenses, false promises, misrepresentations, and concealment, suppression and omission of material facts in violation of our consumer rights. To summarize our case in a succinct manner we referenced the State of Arizona Assurance of Discontinuance in the case of Diamond Resorts, Inc. in our complaint letter to Hyatt. In reviewing this document, the allegations identified by Arizona's Attorney General are appallingly indistinguishable to what we experienced on August 21, 2014. Both Kevin and Richard Wrubel had significant time as salespersons with Diamond Resort as indicated on the Arizona Department of Real Estate website. We are certain in our case Kevin specifically misrepresented, completely omitted and deviated from Hyatt's sales material and made unauthorized representations and verbal contracts during what was supposed to be a group presentation introducing us to the Hyatt program. Richard was present at times, and appeared to be functioning as a supervisor. It is unclear to us his culpability in Kevin's actions. We also learned Kevin was involved in real estate court cases; although there might be acceptable explanations, it casts doubt on his ability to honestly and fairly answer our questions, and disclose all known facts that were not readily observable to us on August 21, 2014, as he was required to do as a licensed agent in Arizona as well as operating under the HV Global Marketing Corporation Real Estate license CO543186000. We did ask the Executive Board to acknowledge the likelihood Kevin used inappropriate tactics honed while employed with Diamond Resort. Specifics pertaining to our case as presented to Hyatt include: - On 8/21/2014 we were approached by two gentleman representing Hyatt in the Shops at Hyatt Pinon Pointe. They asked us if we were interested in a tour of Hyatt. They asked us to fill out a piece of paper indicating income. We listed our annual income to the best of our recollection as 80K. The sheet indicated the starting income was 100K. We were still asked to listen to a short group presentation for Hyatt. We were adamantly opposed to timeshares and asked the gentlemen if this was a timeshare; if so we would not entertain listening to the presentation. We were specifically and directly told that Hyatt was not a timeshare. Instead of being escorted to a group presentation we were met by Kevin. - Kevin stated: • Hyatt Vacation Ownership was not a timeshare and stressed the importance that it was deeded property, and in the state of Arizona deeded property was not considered a timeshare. Kevin directly stated this was an investment in deeded real property that would appreciate in value. • We could resell our unit/week back to Hyatt; HTS-CHC (Sedona) would assist whenever we were ready. - He conveyed that Hyatt would not afford us an opportunity to take a day to discuss the purchase in private and read over the documents, per our request. As this was a one time offer only valid during this session, since units were selling quickly and inventory was limited. - Originally he told us only 214A/week 33 was available. He later told us Unit 214A/week 31 had been put back into inventory; implying the owners sold back to Hyatt correlating with his previous statements about Hyatt's buyback program. - He did not provide us a CD-ROM or hard copies of documents we had signed and initialed prior to us leaving the evening of August 21, 2014 nor the next day when we departed Sedona. We did not receive any signed documentation until a FEDEX package arrived several days after the fact. - He did not disclose or provide copies of documents explaining: • The Arizona Time-Share Disclosure Report (Public Report) (later we learned this was required by law) • The seven (7) day contract cancellation policy. • The lockout and the options for renting. These documents in our opinion were important enough that we should have received hardcopies and acknowledged receipt for them prior to signing any contract on August 21, 2014. - He briefly skimmed over only the positive aspects for reserving our week and/or rolling over points; the information was not presented in a manner which we retained nor did it discuss any of the difficulties. - He briefly touched on maintenance fees. - The Affidavit of Property Value was not dated correctly by the Notary and it did not contain the signature for Shirley A. Cerovsky a joint buyer. The numerical date was written in by someone after that fact and it appears that it was first written as 29 and then changed to 21 or vice versa. We were not present for this and are not sure how it was legally witnessed. We did not receive a hard copy of this either, and we noted the date modification in researching our deed online. We believe this may be an additional reason to nullify the entire contract. This list is not all inclusive, but represents the most egregious activities. We assumed Hyatt would not authorize these tactics as standard operating procedures nor would they condone them being used. We contacted the Forest Road Condominium HOA President, Dwight Kadar and Hyatt's Compliance and Transfer Departments regarding Hyatt's buyback program as represented during the August 21, 2014 meeting. Although all entities acknowledged and discussed an ability to resale to Hyatt; all expressed our unit and week could not be included in the program at this time. We asked Hyatt to re-address this answer based on our unofficial research within the Coconino County Deed Office. It indicates 91 sales from individuals, secondary resale market, and Forest Road Condominium Association to HTS-CHC (SEDONA), LLC dating back to 2011 through 2017 (that was the limit of the on-line database). Hyatt's policies and procedures for buying out owners and putting units back into inventory is not readily available, and there doesn't seem to be procedures in place to ensure the process is utilized equitably and consistently for all owners. In several cases HTS-CHC (Sedona) LLC bought back units put them back into inventory and successfully resold them at the original sales price. Above is an executive synopsis of our complaint and case. More data can be provided upon request. We did not initiate the activity that took place at Hyatt in Sedona on August 21, 2014 and we had no intention of staying in Sedona. We would have liked to resolve this case with Hyatt; however, we received a standard form letter from them on July 18, 2017 stating "Upon review of the documents executed by you on the date of purchase, it is clear there were no misrepresentations regarding the Interval purchased. However, HTS-CHC (Sedona), LLC (Developer) is willing to allow you to convey the ownership of your Hyatt Interval back to the Developer if and when the following conditions are met..." "By signing the Special Warranty Deed, you will hereby relinquish any and all deposits and other monies paid in connection with the contract and will waive any and all claims for refund of any such deposits or monies and any other claims you may have against HTS-CHC (Sedona), LLC in connection with the above referenced contract." This did not meet our expectations of negotiating a monetary resolution since we own the deed outright and are up-to-date on all fees. We re-contacted Hyatt and asked how the executive board arrived at their decision and why did they not address any of our specific concerns. The rep stated she could resubmit and did not provide any explanation. Following the resubmission we were asked to provide a secondary letter with expectations of settlement. We waited over 2 weeks for an email response which was identical to the first one. Again we are very dissatisfied with Hyatt not taking responsibility for what we believe were illegal actions. We appreciate the Attorney General's office looking into this case and at a minimum adding our complaint to others received.

I'm a timeshare owner, have been for years. Since my Timeshare was purchased by Diamond, my fees have been going up $100+ annually. They're trying to phase out us deed holders. Being desperate to hold on to my investment while vacating at the resort I sat down with a representative (it's mandatory for each resident to sit for the sales pitch) to determine an alternative, e.g., purchase another package. We discussed an option, reviewed the contract and I signed it. However, apparently I was lied to. When my annual bill came my fees went up $110+, and everything I was told and reviewed in the original contract were not there. I don't think the contract I signed was the contract we reviewed.

sales took place in Las Vegas, Lake Tahoe, Maui, and Orlando. It is at the same time easy and difficult to file a complaint about this company. It is easy because of the lies that the salesmen told us; the truth of the statements we found out later. They told us about the features and benefits they were including in the purchase and upgrades. They lied about them. It is difficult because of the way that the salesmen used facts about our lives to foster a sense of relationship and friendship and a kinship in the past illness of our eldest child. The last presentation we attended and where we did not buy made us physically sick. Our oldest daughter was diagnosed with cancer at age eight; we made it through that time. Now this salesman was going on and on about he himself having cancer. It was sickening to hear him talk and use that time in our lives to create a false common bond. He told us that there was problem with our account and the only way to fix it was to upgrade again. Predator! He was using this to gain sympathy from us so that we would buy. Not that time! Another salesman told us he was from our home state and visits the same lake where we go. Oh, what are the odds of that; care to guess? Predator! He lied to us - we are certain of that now - to gain our confidence. Again, he found another big problem with our account and it was only going to be fixed by upgrading. It is sad to say that we believed the salesmen that told the same thing on different occasions. We were "stupid" if we didn't upgrade and move to a higher level and bigger benefits. There was always a major problem with our account. So bad in fact one time we had to write to the corporate office to solicit approval for the special deal of the day. The biggest lie they told us was that we could roll over points and that they were ours forever. The main purpose for getting this timeshare was to save our points to take the girls to Paris after graduation. The salesmen knew this was our goal. There was no way they could not know because we told them that right up front. Much to our surprise we found out that because we didn't upgrade this year, all of our saved points were taken away. We called to ask why. The rep told us that it is in the fine print "somewhere" that points can only be carried over one year and then they expire. That is NOT what the sales reps told us. We have paid maintenance fees for four years, paid the mortgage, and in the end lost our points. The salesmen lied to us about the points -we can't use them for Paris because we can't save them for Paris. They told us we could save the points every year. They lied to us. Other lies they told us: They told us that we could refinance the timeshare with our bank to get a lower interest rate. Not true. They told us that it would be easy to rent it out to pay for the maintenance fees and even gain a profit. Not true. We tried to do that several times. The salesmen's assurances that they would help us rent? Lies also. They either didn't call us back or else they "didn't work there any more". We don't believe that either. This is a part and not the total of grievances we have against Diamond Resorts International. Our maintenance fees approach $5000 per year. In hindsight it appears to us that this money could have been put to better use by booking a Paris vacation ourselves. In response to our latest complaint letter they sent us a debt verification letter and that's it. We want out from this terrible company and we want all the money refunded.

I received a final notice to pay my maintenance fee. It was a certified letter dated 2/16/2017. The postage (first class mail) was dated 3/1/2017. The payment due date stated in the letter was March 2, 2017. If I paid in full by this date, I would incur any collection fees, or additional late charges. I called the customer service and explained that the letter was not mailed out to me until March 1st and therefore, I had no way to pay the bill by March 2nd and if they would remove the collection fee that they applied on March 2nd, I would pay the bill in full on the phone. They were rude and refused to remove the fee, even though I had the letter and postage right in my hand. I could have taken a picture and sent it to them. I fee this is not the way a big corporation should treat the people that pay them $1348 a year in maintenance fees. Yes, I was late paying the bill on time, but the final notice is the last opportunity to pay and that's what I was trying to do. I'm looking to have that collection fee removed, so I can pay my bill or it may be time to sell it after 16 yrs with them! Any help is appreciated! Thank you! Shelli Harris

Questions/Comments:

I was an owner with Premier Vacation club. Diamond International took them over. At the time they offered to stay with Premier's type of ownership or go to points. I called them to discuss the options. I called them to explain the differences and they told me that the points can be used for airfare, cruises and car rental. I have stage III heart failure and haven't been able to use the points while still paying dues amounting to several thousand dollars since the change. I finally able to travel and they told me the points can't be used for a cruise or anything what I was originally told. They told me I can transfer it or sell it. Nobody would buy it because of the high dues. Now amounting to over $1500 a year. I was told one thing and now i found out it wasn't true. I'm 74 years old is there a way I can have recourse with them? Please help,

Questions/Comments:

When we went on the tour we told them over and over we did not want to buy. The sales manager came over and gave us what we thought at the time was a good deal on a "sampler package." He told us we would be able to go where ever we want in the world with our 20,000 points, and also use them cruises, airfare, car rentals, shopping, and other things.. When we were there Sept 15th we told them we had a vacation planned to go to the Keys that we knew would be cancelled and we wanted to use the points to book a cruise for that time. He said it would be no problem. We waited the 14 days they said they needed to setup the account. (Now, I think that is to avoid the 10 day rescission period) On the 14th day we able to sign into our account and the cruises were not yet available until we go on a different vacation and go on another tour to be pressured more onto buying. We weren't happy but thought we could just stay in Ft Lauderdale since we were confirmed to fly there already for our Keys trip. When we tries to book a room in Ft Lauderdale they told us there was a limited list of places for is to choose from. A very short list. This is all so very upsetting to us because the main reason we wanted to buy this package was to use it for a cruise and to take closer to home vacations (driving distance) with our 2 children but there are no places that we are able to stay that are close for driving with our kids. The sales manger lied to us and made us believe that we would be able to get the most out of this package. We ate now finding this to be so untrue and we feel like we have been taken for. As I was searching for the internet for answers I found that there has recently been a class action against them in Arizona for the same shady practices. I wish i was aware of this. We are under contract with them for 2 years and now we dont know what we are supposed to do. Please help! Thank you.

Questions/Comments:

At our stay at Mystic Dunes Golf Resort in Celebration, FL. We went for an update on resorts, told not a sales meeting. The salesman gave great pitch although confusing, we had previous contract, he stated he would wrap the two together and then give us the numbers. Told him we were confused and husband (68 yrs) stated "I have Dementia" the salesman laughed at him proceeded with fast talk, and showed us numbers by twisting and moving pages. We both were tired after all the fast talk and They looked good BUT what I later found he DID NOT wrap the two and we could not afford payments and (astronomical maintenance fees which I only found out yesterday were double of what we were showed). I tried to stop the payment on credit card but credit card company would not do that. Called next morning asked salesman to hold contract don't send in as we couldn't afford it, he refused, with more fast talk and stated he would help us refinance with Suntrust bank. Also, On that next morning Aug 1 my mother in law was taken to ICU in Connecticut (and later passed away), we had to leave resort, Called and have been trying to work it out with Diamond Financial Services since then but they basically told us salesman did not misrepresent and its too late for us to do anything about it. We cannot afford this at all. I have cashed in my insurance to make payments. We have made 3 payments as of now and today I have asked them to stop the ACH on this loan, they would not verify if they did so, told me I would have to keep checking account. The total we gave on credit card 14,400 that day loan is $130,350.00 over 120 months and $19,000.00 maintenance fees per year. Were told $8,000.00 fees and the total was the two loans wrapped. WE ARE IN SO MUCH TROUBLE please help, advise us. There is So much more but Thank you for listening Cathy

Carol King
33151 Fort St. #68

Rockwood, MI 48173 March 10, 2017 To Whom It May Concern: I made a timeshare purchase believing everything I was told by the presenters. I even upgraded multiple times still believing their lies. They didn't care to make things right after I contacted them informing them I didn't want this anymore. They responded saying they regret to hear of my frustration and that I felt misled. They're denying it all. This is not surprising. I did not accept their response and they offered to cancel my first two contracts, conveniently for them, because they were without a loan (Jan. 4). They would charge me year 2017 maintenance fees! We're talking almost $7,000! I again, did not accept their response asking them to cancel the contracts without me having to pay a dime (Jan. 15). Instead of cancelling my contracts, they responded that my two contracts without a loan, 1978695 & 2125512, had been cancelled on Jan. 11, 2017 due to delinquency (Jan. 23). I later received a letter dated Jan. 17 stating my account was delinquent due to failure to pay installments on loan and that because of that my rights at the resorts were suspended and that if the account remained in default for 14 days, my loan would terminate and all amounts paid would be retained as damages. They asked me to bring my account current within 14 days (from Jan 17) or to allow the loan to automatically terminate. On Jan. 31, I emailed the same lady, Jessica Levine, who's been handling this, telling her that I just received this default notice and revocation of note letter. It being the 31st, 14 days later, I asked her if it had been cancelled. I emailed her boss and he emailed me back stating that 2 of the contracts had been cancelled, however she emailed me a few days later stating that was an error and they had not been cancelled as of yet. I need to find out what is going on. As this is all due to misrepresentation of facts, I am also contacting you for assistance to get refunded for the money invested into this fraudulent scheme. Let me know if you need anything from me to assist you in this complaint. Sincerely, Carol J. King

Questions/Comments:

This company is based in Las Vegas but the sale we are talking about took place in Orlando. We dispute the timeshare purchased January 7, 2014, Orlando. We refinanced the loan through LightStream/SunTrust Bank sometime after that. We have tried to make this timeshare work for us and it has not. The sales reps have lied to us about several important things. They told us that the maintenance fees were "reasonable" and would not increase. But they have. They have risen from $776 in 2014 to $1674 due January 2017. That is an outrageous increase - over 100% in three years. This is not "reasonable" and we will not be paying the maintenance fees due January 1st or any other fees associated with the timeshare. We have had difficulty from the beginning trying to book a vacation to use our purchase. The sales staff promised whenever, wherever, but they lied about that. We have only been able to book in Orlando and have done that online. There has never been availability anywhere else. There have been problems with the account since we purchased. We bought 2500 points. The sales staff told us we could vacation for a week on those points. We were NEVER able to vacation on that number of points. We always had to wait for rollover points. At the owner update meetings, they told us we could never hope to get anywhere for that number of points. In fact they told us that "they don't even sell 2500 points anymore." DRI sold us something they knew was inadequate and obsolete, something we could not use unless we upgraded to add more points. We did upgrade at one point to the Silver Level. The salesman allotted us 10,000 points for doing that. True, they never told us upgrading was mandatory BUT they told us if we didn't upgrade we would lose the opportunity to purchase points at the "locked-in" rate. They did say that the points cost would go up significantly and the discounted rate would no longer be available to us. So in essence we were forced to buy more points and upgrade in order to use what we originally purchased and were unable to use per the salesman's promises. And if we didn't upgrade, we would be in the same predicament of not being able to use the timeshare as we were sold. The last time we used the timeshare was in March of 2016 where we had to endure bedbugs and had to change units in the middle of our stay. That really was the beginning of the end for us as far as Diamond was concerned. We want the contract canceled and money refunded.

Questions/Comments:

We made this purchase in April 2017 and already have found out that the timeshare is not even close to what Tiffany (the saleswoman) told us it would be. They told us we would get gifts for attending: 1. The $70 gift card - received - but is only good at select locations. 2. The tablet they gave us a cheap one - terrible. 3. The "free" cruise we received is not free. The fees to use this "free" cruise are the same as not having a voucher at all. Tiffany was very nice, personable, and joked around with us during the hour-long sales pitch. The more questions we asked her though the more she kept repeating all she had previously said. Her boss kept coming over to us and he would tell us the same things. The longer the pitch went on the more her approach began to sound fake and pressured. They painted a picture of how much money we would save over the next 25 years. They told us about the benefits of discounted rates that our whole family could enjoy. The information they wrote down we were not allowed to take with us. The 90 -minute sales pitch went on for 4-5 hours and Tiffany's boss was pressuring us to continue. We were starving and wanted to eat. We wanted to leave and come back and he would have none of that. He told us that this was a one-time offer and we could take it or leave it. He pressured us greatly to finish up. It was like a battle. All we wanted at that point was the free cruise they promised us and the gift card but they made it clear that we couldn't leave until we paid. The pressure to buy then and there was intense. It was a nightmare. Tiffany never told us that we couldn't book anything until our maintenance fees were paid. We found that out when we tried to go online and use the site and book. They told us that points we had would allow us to go anywhere. This is not true. The places we want to go (Thailand and Hawaii) were either full or else we couldn't even afford one day. She told us anywhere. That is a lie - we got nowhere. The account was not active until after the rescission date was past and it was therefore impossible to know that the points and plan we have are worthless. Nothing like what Tiffany sold us. She told us we would have months of vacation time with the points we got. Traveling anywhere in the world is a lie. We contacted DRI about getting rid of this thing and received an email telling us to sell it. After we were done and home, Kristen (co-purchaser) would text Tiffany about the many negative reviews we found online. Tiffany told us to wait until we could log into the site and access everything. Once we were able to do that it was of course too late to exercise the rescission option (which we found out by ourselves online and not through DRI). The company lied to us about the places we could go on what we bought. They pressured us to make the purchase when we were so hungry and wanted to leave, insisting that the purchase be finalized right then. They misrepresented the benefits that we had in order to get us to sign that day. We want this canceled and all the money refunded. We have received two emails from Michelle Gross. In one she talked about failing to pay the fees that were due - nothing about the complaints we wrote about. In the 2nd email she restated the complaints and then shot them down with the "truth" of what we had purchased. This in a roundabout way validates our complaints: what the salesman sold us and told us we had is not what Michelle Gross confirmed we have and the travel possibilities. She confirmed the salesman's lies.

To the attorney General Pam Bondi, This is a formal complaint letter against the Diamond Resorts International. I have enclosed a formal letter that I had filed with them back in January 23rd of 2018. This company has fraud, manipulated, lied, cond and deceived me and many others. They have been banned in Europe in sued to paid $1 billion back to property owners and in Arizona as of last year, the state attorney general sued and won the case against Diamond resort and diamond resort will pay the customers $800,000 in return fees and is ordered to refund owners of their money. My case is the same time period as I also was lied manipulated cond and deceived by the same individuals Mark Schilling the manager for diamond resort he is the main culprit and Jeff Cash. They No longer work for the company but there is a person that does still and it's included in my letter. This people have to be stopped and the main offices are out of Las Vegas but they are huge in Orlando.

Please please let me know what I can do next. I want all my money back as I was fraud by them. I want them shut down. They are stealing from people and continue to steel.

Questions/Comments:

I have been referred to you in a circuitous manner via many government agencies in Canada by Diamond Resorts. I am wishing to sign over my deed for a one week time share owned by myself and my sister since 1991 to Diamond Resorts. I have had the deed notarized by a Canadian lawyer and now apparently the document must be authenticated by a US lawyer or the American Consulate. I prefer not to have to go to the US to do this or to Toronto to the Consulate. I've contacted the American Consulate in Toronto via email but the response was that the email address I had was for Visas. The telephone menu gave me a variety of options but none specific to my needs so I chose the commercial option and tried to leave a message but the voicemail box was full. I called the general inquiries number and they suggested I needed to get the attorney general of Florida to authenticate my deed. I live in Waterdown, Ontario Canada and would be fine going to Hamilton to have this done. Is there something you can do or recommend so that I can have this document authenticated in order to comply with the regulations? This is not a complaint, just an inquiry about how to get this florida property deed authenticated as per the regulations because I am a Canadian citizen. Thank you kindly, Denise Lucken

Questions/Comments:

During a recent trip to the Mystic Dunes Resort and Golf Club in Orlando, FL , I attended what was supposed to be an informational meeting on the Diamond Resorts brand and programs on May 1, 2018 at 8:15AM. I was told this meeting would last, at most, 2 hours. As a current Diamond Resorts owner, I saw this as a good opportunity to learn more about other offerings from Diamond Resorts and was further incentivized by the promise of a $100 Visa gift card. My experience was nothing short of horrible. The individuals I spoke with during the meeting (Geno, Kevin and others) apparently felt that the best way to sell me on Diamond Resorts was through fear and intimidation. Rather than focusing on the benefits of the programs and offering, he focused on my mortality and the fact that I would leave nothing for my children and grandchildren. He bombarded me with numbers and scenarios and hypotheticals, all tied back to some imaginary measurement of how much I care about my family. This experience was so overwhelming that it literally brought me to tears at multiple points of the ordeal. Despite all of this, after leaving for another appointment at 10:30AM, I took the information presented and considered the potential benefits of the programs described. As the gift card was still being held hostage, I returned for another meeting with Geno around 11:30AM. I informed Geno I was not interested in the original program as described. At this point, Geno aggressively sold me a different package, ultimately costing $3,995. Despite my reluctance and being unsure of whether the program was of any interest to me, Geno doubled down on his aggressive tactics and presented me with a credit card offer. At this point, I was extremely overwhelmed, unsure of what I was being asked to sign, and signed under duress. Geno returned shortly after to berate me for "not using my signature". I stated I would not re-sign anything. I was told that in order to void the payment, I would have to return at 3PM. I returned as requested and once again, I was met with bullying tactics and aggressive sales pitches. When finally giving my final answer of "No", I was treated with contempt and hostility. When I inquired about the gift card, Geno threw his hands in the air, said he was "done with me" and walked out. I still have not received the gift card. As a current Diamond Resorts owner, I am horrified to think that this is the way the company operates. I have always associated my timeshare with happy family memories. To think that others are subjected to this intimidation and bullying drastically changes my perception of the company. At this point, I feel an apology for the way I was treated is in order. Additionally, I am still waiting to receive the gift card, as promised.

Diamond Resorts International

To Whom this may concern at Diamond Resorts International; Diamond Resorts International's Branding Sales Mark "Stay Vacationed SM" ? This was a total misrepresentation of the Product that was pitched to both of us in February of 2017. February 2017, we were invited to take a trip to Miami to review the status of our original current time share which was paid in full years prior to this date. The original time share, was a week at Wyndham Palms, a conventional time share originally developed by Wyndham properties outside of Disney in Florida. Owning this time share for over 15 years, we may have used it 3 times. It was only available for use at that location, which on the surface, doesn't sound that marketable. However, when we originally purchased it, Wyndham assured us at their presentation, they were developing a large property in Puerto Rico which we would be able to utilize as well. That never came to fruition. The first major disappointment and misrepresentation with that ownership timeshare. I paid the initial timeshare in full on time, every time, in addition to all maintenance and taxes as well. This was the worst investment I have ever made. Fast forward to February 2017. We accepted the trip to Miami to review options with Diamond International, who took over the Wyndham time share. We met with your representative, Lisa Hill at the Crescent Resort, Miami Beach on February 20, 2017. We learned the week we owned, is now worth between 2-6% of its original value. For it to be viable, we needed to "upgrade" to the Diamond resorts contract which has now been converted to points so you are not isolated to a particular week or location. Sounded like a better plan. We asked many questions as to how the new point system works. For example, can we use points to spend on a weekend in Manhattan, go on a cruise etc. Can we use the points on a hotel because our son is on a sports team and we often travel one or two days on the weekend. Lisa Hill assured us we could use the points for booking a room anywhere at any time. We were told that if there is hotel, a resort etc, Diamond International is so well known and respected we could go anywhere we wanted to and use our points. If the property was not listed on Diamond's website, all we had to do was speak with a representative and they would take care of it. It really sounded too good to be true, and that's why we asked so many specific questions. All of our fears were put to rest at this time, it was as simple as going on the website, making a choice of vacation, and you're done. At this meeting, we made it clear to Lisa Hill we did not want to deal with interval international. She again assured us we wouldn't have to and just one call to Diamond would take care of our vacation planning . We would be paying for points, they would have a maintenance fee associated to them and every month and we were banking vacation time. The ease of using a web based point allocation platform made sense and we looked forward to using it. One of the most positive aspects of this contract was if you did not use the points allocated in that calendar year, they could be rolled over and banked for future use. This was not something we had with the original traditional time share, so this made the new contract more attractive. In reality, instead of going on vacation more often, it has truly prevented us from going on vacation at all. We were trying to book a vacation for the end of March 2018 for about 5 days to Aruba at an all inclusive resort. We started the research in December 2017 through your website on our own, but had to call Diamond for help. They informed us there are three different ways to book a vacation, Diamond resorts, Interval international and a travel department. All different phone numbers, not as seamless as was initially promised. We have now learned that when utilizing interval international and the travel department that points are not used for those transactions and we need to pay for any vacation reserved through those affiliates on top of the monthly fee we are paying. That simply does not make this time share cost effective nor is it what was pitched to us by Lisa Hill. In addition to that, when I called Diamond to find availability in Aruba, there was a fee of $189.00 for us to be put on a waiting list should someone cancel. Every avenue explored for a vacation had come to a dead end with additional fees required. Not to mention the time we have spent trying to navigate the website and the time spent on calls to Diamond representatives. The daily, yes daily phone calls from a variety of Diamond representatives not one dedicated representative to our account. This timeshare has been a complete sales misrepresentation and misleading by Lisa Hill and Diamond Resorts International. Since Feb 20, 2017 we have paid the following: - $6,392.00 down payment, of which $4,500.00 was placed on a new unwanted Diamond resorts master card, which currently has a balance of zero. $1,892.00 was placed on my discover card. - The assessment fees for 2017 total $3106.41 which were paid on 12/31/17. $1,860.62 for the new point system and $1,245.79 for the still untransferred conventional time share at Diamond. - Principle & interest paid for 2017, respectively : $308.51 & $916.90 - Currently $414.47 per month, which has never been missed. The total paid for this time share since issuing the new contract, which has not been utilized at all, is $10,723.82. The product that was promoted to us is in no way what we have ended up with and we are beyond disappointed. We are requesting a complete cancellation of this timeshare and this loan. Additionally, we are requesting a full refund on the total paid from the inception of the new contract signed February 2017. We are looking for a swift resolution to this matter. A copy of this letter of complaint has been sent to the NYS attorney general Eric Schneiderman, Florida State attorney general Pam Biondi as well as our local DA in Suffolk County NY Tim Sini The government action issued to Diamond Resorts International on December 23, 2016 has also been attached. Diamond Resort International used pressure tactics to dupe my husband and I into buying more points stating we would be able to pay the maintenance fees with the additional point added to our existing points without money out of our pockets. We just needed to set it up in 45 days. We waited and called the gentleman to help us. No answer. When we called the financial dept they said we'd have to be on the platinum level in order to do that. Now we are stuck with a bill for $367.89 monthly bill and a loan of $23,000 and maintenance fees of over $3,000 a year. Please warn others

Questions/Comments:

On 10/19/2017, I attended a timeshare presentation at Mystic Dunes Fla. I already had a paid in full timeshare at Mystic Dunes and because of the fabulous benefits described to me by sales agent Amela Smailbegovic I signed a contract to upgrade my timeshare which cost me $31,220 which included a down payment of $5,100. They have a 10 day cancellation period, but I didn't want to cancel and looked forward to enjoying all that was promised to me. I couldn't get on their website within those 10 days to see the full scope of the timeshare. After the 10 day period I was given permission to log on to their website and I was very upset to see that Diamond Resorts does not have property or tours of The Holy Land as they had promised, had nothing to do with shopping on Amazon in order to gain extra point for myself, had tours that were priced double occupancy and not single occupancy as promised, had many additional fees associated with their singles travel club, airline booking club, and Rv club that were not disclosed at time of purchase and their "pet assure" club was simply for purchasing pet insurance and not for purchasing products such as food, medicine or toys as promised. It became clear to me that this was not what was described to me and would become quite costly to me as a single senior citizen...I was lied to! Today is 3/7/2018 and since October I have made numerous phone calls and written numerous letters to Diamond Resorts asking for my $5,100 deposit back and to dissolve the fraudulent contract they have with me. I have also disputed the $5,100 deposit with Chase Visa citing bait and switch tactics and consumer fraud, however Diamond Resorts will not help me and Chase Visa has determined that the transaction is valid. Please, can you help?

Questions/Comments:

Over the past eight years, the maintenance charges on my timeshare have increased 200%. The time share is Mystic Dunes Diamond Resorts in Kissimee/Orlando. My first language is Spanish and they promised me if I signed to be a member they would help me to rent it out when I am unable to use it. They also promised me they would help me resell and buy the property back if I did not use it. They will not do these things and these are lies. They have kept changing the reservation time and rules so I am unable to use it. They have scammed us. We are senior citizens with medical problems our daughter who lives with us is on the contract and she has been unemployed and unable to find a job. They are threatening a suit and forcing us to foreclosure and bankruptcy on me and my daughter.

We were misled into believing that we were purchasing an investment that appreciated and would benefit our children's future. We have become aware of the truths associated with this timeshare and wish to no longer be in any contractual relationship with their company. At times, we have had to live pay check to pay check because of this timeshare, and the fact that we no longer trust Diamond Resorts makes it very difficult to pay any amount due to a company who supports harassment and dishonest sales tactics.

Questions/Comments:

Our first purchase for Timeshare was in 2014 with Diamond Resorts International being invited to Mystic Dunes for a 3 day tonight presentation. They gathered information of ownership of other Time Shares. They wined and dined us and made the presentation. We did not buy a Time Share but purchased a Sampler this gave us opportunity to look at their properties. We choose Maui HI but had to attend another presentation. During our stay we did not buy but did look at the Diamond Property with a resale company. We purchased the same property for $2,000 plus closing cost good deal since we owned the title. In 2016 we were invited back to Mystic Dunes in Orlando for a Celebrity Golf outing. We had to attend a 90 minute presentation there in Orlando we were convinced trade in our title for points mortgaging the points to belong to the Club!!! In 2017 we were contacted by a sales person in Washington State and convinced that your temporary gold was expiring and that Apollo was purchasing Diamond and we could purchase the points at $3.29 per point but would be valuable when Apollo purchase Diamond. She combined the first loan together going from $258.00 a month to $572.33 per month. Naturally both sales we had to put a down payment of 20% down this was done 08-13-17. In October of 2017 we took our grandchildren back to Mystic Dunes Orlando to visit Disney! We asked to go to a 30 minute presentation their we met Joaquin Boradello. That 30 minutes took 6.5 hours we were the last to leave. Being a Diabetic after being exposed to Agent Orange from Vietnam and Age 71 I was not really thinking well. He convinced us to buy more points and sign a pile of paper work but most important used Apollo that the points were like money!!! He told us that we could buy a gallon of milk with our point purchasing $3.49 a point and we could be reimburse for our travel to Disney. I contacted him a number of time after the purchase and he told us that he would get back with us Finally after the 15 day period he contacted me and told me to prove our points were good send he copy of the bills I did that and never heard again from him or Diamond. Please note the biggest surprise was thinking our loans were combined AGAIN WITH A PAYMENT OF $749.50 BUT DISCOVERED TWO LOANS $749.50 AND $572.33!!! THAT WAS MORE THAN MY MORTGAGE PAYMENT. I immediately contacted Diamond Finance department and told them to reimburse us for the $572.33 but they told me I had two loans???? If we couldn't Barclay's credit card an had to make our down payment with Discover and CitiBank can figure out how we qualified for such a large loan with Diamond. I asked for all our points to cashed in to repay the loans and they told me we couldn't cash in points for loan repayments, That is not how the points were sold to us!! PLEASE HELP US GET OUR MONEY BACK AND GET US FINALIZED ON THESE LOANS.

Questions/Comments:

Partial payment on Credit Card, partial held by Diamond as mortgage. Promises made were that with the additional benefits provided with this purchase would not increase my payments if we used the same amount of vacation as in the past. The "additional benefits" were already available to us. These benefits would neither cover the costs of the purchase nor provide the vacations we desire, We did not understand the issues until more than 10 days after the purchase date and Diamond resorts refused to reverse the purchase. We now have to pay the $70,000 as well as additional "Maintenance Dues" currently approximately $4,700 per year. Please see also the following: DBPR case #2018018568 and 2018013087

6 de junio de 2018

Estimado abogado general de Florida:

Yo compre una villa "time sharing" en la ciudad de Orlando, en Mystic Dunes. La misma consiste de 2 habitaciones en una semana al año. Ya es mi propiedad, toda vez que efectué todos los pagos hasta saldarla. El pasado 20 de julio de 2016, se recibió una carta por parte de foreclosure de la entidad dueña de la villa "Diamond Resort", ya que el pago por mantenimiento no se había recibido. De inmediato los contacté y hablé con varias personas para darle mi número de tarjeta de crédito para que desembolsaran el dinero de inmediato. Estos me indicaron que debía hacer una transferencia bancaria directamente a su cuenta en los Estados Unidos (la cual incluyo). Ellos me ofrecen la siguiente información:

1. Cantidad de dinero $1862.72.
2. Nombre del Banco, Bank of America, dirección
3. Número de Ruta VOSAUS3N
4. Nombre del beneficiario, Palm Country Club
5. Dirección del beneficiario, 10600 West Charleston Blvd, Las Vegas, Nevada, 83135
6. Número de cuenta de beneficiario, [REDACTED]
7. Se incluyó el en propósito de la transacción, pago de mantenimiento de time share.
8. Toda esta información fue recibida por ellos, ya que la escanee asegurándome que habían recibido la misma. Incluyo recibo de este documento abierto por foreclosure.

Como indique anteriormente. Luego de hacer ese trámite los llamé para indicarle que había realizado la transacción según solicitada por éstos, y le envíe copia a través de email de la transferencia la cual ellos recibieron y tengo el recibo. A tenor con lo anterior, entendí que todo estaba completado y entendido, ya que tenía la evidencia que habían recibido la hoja de trámite y no hicieron otra recomendación. Si le añadí a la cuenta mi número de tarjeta para que realicen el desembolso anual de pago de mantenimiento, en los próximos años.

Recientemente, les llamé, ya que no recibo comunicación con ellos. Para mi sorpresa y muy lamentable me indicaron que Foreclosure se había quedado con la propiedad por falta de pago. Ante ese escenario y tras múltiples llamadas e email, ya que nadie me atendía ya que habían cerrado el caso pude contactar a un empleado muy serio y responsable de nombre Marcos Andrade, Marcos.Andrade@diamondresorts.com. A este le expuse mi situación y me pidió que le diera tiempo para dialogarlo con su supervisora.

Luego de unas semanas me llamó para darme la lamentable noticia. A este le informaron que si yo consigo evidencia de mi banco, que indique quien cobró el dinero ellos pueden devolvérmelo, pero la villa no. Ante esa mala práctica le indique que es un robo por lo siguiente:

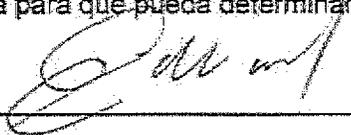

1. Originalmente, quien me da la información para hacer la transacción y el número de cuenta de su banco son ellos, ya que esa información no es conocida por mí.
2. Seguí las instrucciones al pie de la letra. Fui al banco e hice una transacción electrónica y luego los llamé y se las envié por email para confirmar que lo había recibido y tengo la confirmación como recibido. No recibí comunicación sobre el tema, pero sí tengo la evidencia de que Diamond Resort abrió el email con la copia de "Outgoing Transfer of Funds".

3. Si ellos hubieran observado alguna irregularidad el deber de los mismos fue llamarme lo cual no lo hicieron. Ellos alegan que el número de ruta es incorrecto por dos letras, lo cual le indique que la misma pertenece al mismo banco y que el número de cuenta a beneficiarse es correcto y es la de ellos. Además, la información fue suplida por ellos y los mismos tienen grabadas las conversaciones. Lo cual exhorto que vayan a ellas e identifiquen de donde surge el alegado error.
4. Me indica el Banco Popular de Puerto Rico el cual tengo mi cuenta y de esta desembolsé los $1862.72 que esto es banca norteamericana y de haber algún error, éstos inmediatamente devuelven el dinero al banco de origen. Esto no ocurrió, ya que fue cobrado y aparentemente adjudicado a otra cuenta o cualquier manejo incorrecto de Diamond.
5. Tuve que pagar $100 para solicitarle al BPPR que me investigue quien cobró el dinero. El BPPR me confirma que fueron cobrados por ellos.
6. Aparenta que el técnico o servicio al cliente no endoso la cantidad a la cuenta correcta, pero si cobró el dinero y no lo devolvió.

Llego ante ustedes para presentar una queja, ya que fue objeto de robo por parte de Diamond Resort/Mistic Dunes, por malas prácticas. La solución para este caso es: se me devuelva mi villa y todos los beneficios que me deben y me compensen por todo el tiempo perdido y los sufrimientos que he pasado al ser objeto de un robo por una mala práctica de Mistic Dunes/Diamond Resort. No he podido pagar ya que no me lo permiten. Es un robo que pone en entredicho la credibilidad de estos negocios. Confío en su intervención para corregir esta situación a la brevedad. De resultar conveniente para ustedes, puede igualmente contactar a mi hermano Jorge R. García Santiago a través del 7873142159 ya que está autorizado y autorizo para atender este asunto.

Se incluye emails, desde el caso cuanto se atiende en julio de 2016 y fue cobrado el dinero por Diamond Resort. La hoja de trámite del Banco Popular de Puerto Rico fechada julio 20, 2016. Seguimientos durante este año hasta la solicitud del referido banco donde se confirma que Diamond

Mi firma autorizada a la Oficina de la Procuradora General a tomar las medidas que estime necesarias para la investigación o el cumplimiento de la ley. Buenos días. En los pasados días me comuniqué con ustedes para que corrigieran mis cuentas, ya que esta transacción de $1862.72 ustedes no la habían resuelto atendido y ajustado en mi cuenta y producto de su error me estaban ejecutando mi propiedad en detrimento de mis intereses.

Hable con una representante de servicio y ésta me indicó que no había pagado la cantidad antes indicada. Al presentarle la evidencia me indicó que debe dialogarlo con el supervisor. Eso fue el pasado viernes y todavía ustedes no se han comunicado conmigo a través del número 7873622437.

Asimismo, le envié una forma para autorizar a mi hermano Jorge R. García Santiago en mi cuenta. Agradeceré se me llame urgentemente, para darle el número de tarjeta que en adelante se realizará el pago del mantenimiento.

Esperamos su atención en este importante caso y no vuelva ocurrir que por falta de interés de la persona que recibió el documento (transacción de pago BPPR) y no lo trabajó, pongan mi propiedad en pérdida.

Gracias.

Buenos días. En los pasados días me comuniqué con ustedes para que corrigieran mis cuentas, ya que esta transacción de $1862.72 ustedes no la habían resuelto atendido y ajustado en mi cuenta y producto de su error me estaban ejecutando mi propiedad en detrimento de mis intereses.

Hable con una representante de servicio y ésta me indicó que no había pagado la cantidad antes indicada. Al presentarle la evidencia me indicó que debe dialogarlo con el supervisor. Eso fue el pasado viernes y todavía ustedes no se han comunicado conmigo a través del número 7873622437.

Asimismo, le envié una forma para autorizar a mi hermano Jorge R. García Santiago en mi cuenta. Agradeceré se me llame urgentemente, para darle el número de tarjeta que en adelante se realizará el pago del mantenimiento.

Esperamos su atención en este importante caso y no vuelva ocurrir que por falta de interés de la persona que recibió el documento (transacción de pago BPPR) y no lo trabajó, pongan mi propiedad en pérdida.

Gracias.

Buenos tardes. Primeramente le expreso agradecimiento por la atención que usted me prestó. Ya que anteriormente llamaba y escribía, y no prestaban atención.

Hoy llegué ante usted luego de varias llamadas, ya que mi villa cayó en Floreclosure sin dame ninguna oportunidad y por error de la persona que recibió el pago (véase attach) y no lo incluyó en mi cuenta.

Sometí un pago por la cantidad de 1872.32 a la cuenta de Bank of América - Palm Country Club la cual incluyo.

He hablado con muchas personas y escrito desde el mes de marzo y no me atienden en detrimento de mis intereses. Necesito darle el número de mi tarjeta para que actualicen mis cuentas y se clarifique el error de diamond.

Espero por su ayuda. Gracias anticipadas. Puede contactarme a través de 7873622437

Buenos tardes. Primeramente le expreso agradecimiento por la atención que usted me prestó. Ya que anteriormente llamaba y escribía, y no prestaban atención.

Hoy llegué ante usted luego de varias llamadas, ya que mi villa cayó en Floreclosure sin dame ninguna oportunidad y por error de la persona que recibió el pago (véase attach) y no lo incluyó en mi cuenta.

Sometí un pago por la cantidad de 1872.32 a la cuenta de Bank of América - Palm Country Club la cual incluyo.

He hablado con muchas personas y escrito desde el mes de marzo y no me atienden en detrimento de mis intereses. Necesito darle el número de mi tarjeta para que actualicen mis cuentas y se clarifique el error de diamond.

Espero por su ayuda. Gracias anticipadas. Puede contactarme a través de 7873622437

Buenos días. En los pasados días me comuniqué con ustedes para que corrigieran mis cuentas, ya que esta transacción de $1862.72 ustedes no la habían resuelto atendido y ajustado en mi cuenta y producto de su error me estaban ejecutando mi propiedad en detrimento de mis intereses.

Hable con una representante de servicio y ésta me indicó que no había pagado la cantidad antes indicada. Al presentarle la evidencia me indicó que debe dialogarlo con el supervisor. Eso fue el pasado viernes y todavía ustedes no se han comunicado conmigo a través del número 7873622437.

Asimismo, le envié una forma para autorizar a mi hermano Jorge R. García Santiago en mi cuenta. Agradeceré se me llame urgentemente, para darle el número de tarjeta que en adelante se realizará el pago del mantenimiento.

Esperamos su atención en este importante caso y no vuelva ocurrir que por falta de interés de la persona que recibió el documento (transacción de pago BPPR) y no lo trabajó, pongan mi propiedad en pérdida.

Gracias.

Questions/Comments:

Hello, I own a time share in Kissimmee Florida and recently received a bill for a "special assessment fee" due to damage from the recent hurricane that Florida experienced. when I spoke to the person from Diamond resort international, which is the parent company of the timeshare to see if I could obtain a copy of the insurance policy, she informed me that they had no information about the company. I would like to find out what their insurance policy covers, so that I am not unfairly charged this fee. Thank you

Questions/Comments:

I am receiving repeated phone calls from "vacation resorts" in Florida, including "Diamond Resorts" at 407-545-8994. I have repeatedly asked how they received my data and they claim to be part of both RCI and Hilton and that Hilton provided all my data to them. I have confirmed with Hilton repeatedly that this is a fraudulent scam and they are not releasing my data. I have repeatedly asked these organizations to stop calling, reminded them that I am on the do not call registry, and reported them to the FCC. I'm tired of receiving unsolicited phone calls from supposed vacation timeshare sellers in the state of Florida. I want them to stop.

Questions/Comments:

My husband, mother and I were told that our existing deed of 12,000 points was worthless. Diamond told us they were obligated to give us the option to buy our existing deed but in order for them to do that we needed additional points. We were told we needed a minimum of 21,000 points in order for them to buy out our old deed. The agreement was the purchase of our original deed plus the extra points to result in a new Diamond Deed worth 21,000 points. We did not have the proper paperwork or the signatures with us for them proceed with the transaction. They knew we could not get any of that until after our vacation was over and we were back in New York. During the eight (8) hours that we were there, they were in and out of the office several times with amended paperwork. The paperwork showed one payment and one maintenance fee for the complete transaction. We asked several times while we were there, if we couldn't get the needed paperwork and signatures, then what? And we were told each and every time, don't worry about it "we will work it out", "nothing is valid until we get the paperwork back". Throughout the whole process we were misled into believing it was one contract and it was dependent on the paperwork we needed to return and the signatures we needed to provide. Not once was it ever stated by anyone that this was two different transactions. We left with the understanding that nothing was valid until they received the proper paperwork. This company took full advantage of us and totally misled us and is unwilling to even try to work with us to come to a peaceful resolution. After all of this we quite honestly don't want anything to do with them and have no interest in even keeping our current deed with them because of all the stress they have caused our family.

Questions/Comments:

This was our formal complaint sent to Diamond Resorts and we have had no response. Sent in 12/12/2017. Attn: Cancellation Department
Contract # 17799041

Member # 61-3293904 Good Afternoon, I am respectfully requesting cancellation of this agreement. I am a service connected veteran with a severe hearing disability. During this "owners update" the sales floor was full of customers, people talking, there was very loud background music and my hearing was so distorted that I was unable to hear the salesperson or to understand completely what I purchased. I did ask to move to another more quiet location several times or at least have the music turned down, after explaining my hearing disability, but the salesperson told me there was nothing that can be done. We have been a Club Owner since 2005 with Club Navigo and had paid off our timeshare. In December 2014, we received a letter that Diamond Resorts Financial Services, Inc. servicing our account, we assumed that meant maintenance fees. In July of 2015, we visited Liki Tiki and attended an owners update; there we learned that Diamond Resorts had bought Liki Tiki and was told that Diamond was a much more superior product. We were told as per protocol that we were required to Upgrade into the Diamond Program. After signing the contract and putting down a large down payment and applying for a credit card, we became temporary "Silver" owner. As a result we received a trip to anyplace we wanted to go, but ended up in Hawaii, I did not understand why, but when we arrived in Hawaii, we were told that we were require to attend another Owners Update in order to receive the vacation incentives, they again talked us into upgrading to "Gold" level and our "Silver" would be replaced with a Hawaii Collection. Again we signed another contract along with another huge down payment. We thought we made the right decision and done well until we received request for payments for Both the Silver and Gold memberships to include Two separate maintenance fees. We called the Las Vegas office for an explanation and were told there was nothing we could do, that we did not upgrade (as we were under the impression) rather we bought a separate week and due to some date had already expired we could not change anything, so for 21 months we had to pay for two properties. In September 2017 we attended another update hoping to fix this problem and at that time we were told that Diamond had been sold to Apollo. In October 2017, we vacationed at the Daytona Beach Regency and at check in, was again set up for another owners update. We actually looked forward to this one to learn more about the Gold Membership and our benefits. To our dismay, your staff again hit us with a sales presentation and told we were required to become "Platinum" members. We were told that Platinum offered a premiere rental program that would offset maintenance fees and other cost, that this program was designed specifically for "Gold" members to move into a Platinum level. We said NO! Then a manager came in and informed us of all the benefits and told us this upgrade would become a financial investment for us and our kids future. We have been lied to and scammed 3 times by your organization and are done with it. We have a bill now for two separate properties, when we were told it was only one property, we were perfectly content with our original ownership that was paid for. We went through tremendous high pressure sales tactics and promised all sorts of things that were untrue. Due to my hearing disability, I truly never understood exactly what was being said and once everything was reviewed by us and we tried to cancel, we were told something about a date being expired and we were stuck with this purchase. The nightmare ensued, the 90 minute presentation turned into a 8 hours of HIGH PRESSUE sales by staff. We continued to say "NO!" and salesperson after salesperson approached us with different offers; the final offer we were given was taking my existing timeshare in on trade. This entire purchase was made under false pretenses and total misrepresentation by your staff! We respectfully request cancellation for the following reasons: 1. Purchased under Duress, each presentation was over 5 HOURS LONG!!!!. 2. Fraudulent sales practices. 3. I was subject to extremely High Pressure Sales Tactics; after telling one salesmen and a manager after another NO many, many times, they would change personnel. 4. I was told this purchase could be used for business purposes and tax advantages, Not True! 5. Total misrepresentation of your product and its advantages. 6. Told we were required to upgrade and everything would be put into one program.

Questions/Comments:

The agent, Claudel Noel (#25224) totally misrepresented what we bought. He said we got 12 "Get Away" weeks each year. When we attended an orientation meeting in Branson, MO July 9-12, 2018 we were told by agent Ryan (don't remember last name) that there were no such things as "Get Away" weeks. Since that time we have contacted the company at their Las Vegas office and filed a disputed claim with our credit card company, Chase Bank. The only thing Chase did was determine we were billed correctly, which we already knew. I asked Diamond Resorts to cancel our contract which they refused to do. According to them we only had 10 days in which to cancel. On June 12 we were told by agent Noel that we should wait 14 days before contacting the company to set up a date for the orientation meeting. Until we attended the meeting on July 9-12 in Branson we had no way of knowing what we had actually purchased, which turned out to be nothing like we were led to believe. Until after that date we did not have log in information for the web site to see what we actually purchase. At orientation meeting which was actually nothing but another sales pitch we found out we had been deceived and began the process to cancel our contract. As of this date we have been unsuccessful in our efforts to cancel. This company and their agents needed to be thoroughly investigated. I know we will probably never get our money back, but the company should not be allowed to continue deceiving people. I have a much more detailed account of all that has transpired and how we were deceived in a statement I sent to Chase Bank on August 8. I will be glad to send you a copy. Thank you for your efforts and please do all you can go stop this deceptive practice. Respectfully, Phillip Poe

We booked one night for our niece's wedding
07/15/2018. We paid in full 7months ago. We had a confirmation number. We arrived and were told the room wasn't available that we resvered and it would not be ready and they didn't know when it would be ready. We it appeared they were over booked and offered us a handicapped room which was unacceptable, since we are not handicapped and realize that it showed be only available for the handicapped. They gave us a terrible time. A young Spanish man gave us a terrible time, the room was paid for and he asked us for an additional 100.00 dollars. Prior to this event the debit card that we paid the stay was changed because the Bank cancelled that card due to a security problem with hacks. We offered to pay cash, he would not take it, and cancelled our reservation and said we had to get in contact with the purchasing agent. Hence, we travelled two and one half hours, could not find d a hotel to stay, and could not attend our wedding. We had to drive exhausted from that resort back home and were treated as if were a nuisance. That Spanish young man smerked at us and called over a second manager then a third who treated us terribly when I said that I felt were pushed aside because we could see they were over booked. We left exhausted, and they did not return our money. Please help us.

Questions/Comments:

We own 2 timeshares in Kisseemee Florida. Recently we received notice that due to the hurricanes damaging winds, that there would be a new assessment per unit, to cover costs that the insurance would not pay. The insurance will increase the deductable by 5%, When we were there in September we noticed minimal damage at best. I am a retired home builder. If we have funds in reserve, which is stated on our yearly maintenance fee statement, why are we being asked to pay a new assessment per unit? There is a special meeting to be held at the Corporate office on January 17, 2018 at 3:00 pm. where the Board of Directors is voting to pass the special assessment and the owners are not allowed to vote. The proposed assessment of $6,354,884.00 includes $4,571,859.00 for hurricane remediation and repairs and allowance of bad debt of $1,783,025.00 (why is this our problem?). If approved the special assessment by Interval would be as follows, with a due date still to be determined, but no sooner than March 18, 2018. By my caculations they are trying to replace 16 townhouse roofs with an occupancy of 4 units times, total 52 weeks, equals 3,328 units times $190.05 equals $632,486.40. ($39,530.75 per unit) . Thank you for your attention in this matter as this seems over in flatted, to say the least. (There is over 600 units at Liki Tiki.) We would be more than happy to fax you the letters we have recieved if needed for your records.

November 29, 2017 We sent this complaint to DRI Advocacy several months ago but there was no response. Please respond by December 8th before I file a complaint with the Better Business Bureau The Florida Real Estate Division against Marvin Whitaker The Attorneys General of Florida and Maryland The Consumer Financial Protection Bureau In January 2015, I wrote a letter to then Diamond CEO, Stephen Cloobek informing him of my disappointment in being tricked by his sales people. In May of 2014, after 15 years of owing a unit at The Palms Country Club in Florida, I used my timeshare to celebrate my friend's 50th birthday. While there I was told that the traditional timeshare did not exist because the Palms went bankrupt. I was told letters were sent to all original owners to give them the opportunity to switch at a low cost to a point system. Since we did not receive the original communication (I know know is just a deceptive sale comment designed to confuse), we were being allowed to switch to points at the lower cost per point than offered originally. They pointed out that because the Palms no longer existed, it would be more costly for us to continue under the old system as the building were old and required costly maintenance. They also gave an example that if a natural disaster occurred the cost to repair would be astronomical and would be included in our assessment fees. The point system would eliminate all these risks. None of this was true. We could have kept our deeded week. Because of the conversion to a point system, we would no longer have the option of using our routine week in May (week 21) and we would not have the assessment fees associated with it. The obvious deception came in 2015 when I received bills for point maintenance fees ($2154.78 for the points) and $1155.17 annual fee for the original unit which I was told no longer existed. No one responded to my letter. I have sent several emails since with very generic responses and no answer to why I had to pay for the annual fees on the original unit. I was also told that the fees are tax deductible only to discover they are not. I was also promised that booking vacation in areas where there was never availability would not be a problem as they owned many facilities worldwide. They have also stated on several occasions that my co-purchaser is not listed on the points document. If this is the case, no conversion of the unit to points can take place as she was on the original deed. We enjoyed our traditional unit, even though we did not use it often. The Palms team appeared to have some integrity. I have friends who have timeshares with other companies and have no issues. Diamond should be ashamed of their behavior. Thanking you in advance, Ursula McClymont (AKA Cheryl Walters)

Questions/Comments:

The purchase was made in Orlando, even though the corporate office is in Las Vegas. We upgraded with Diamond Resorts International on April 5th of this year. Soon after (April 19th) we contacted them about cancellation. In an answer dated April 24th they denied us saying that we had missed the rescission date. While that may be technically true, there are extenuating circumstances. When my husband was out of the room at the sales presentation, I told the sales rep, Isaac Claudio, that he was having a hard time with forgetfulness. Instead of empathy, the sales rep went to see about alternative offers, less expensive than what he had offered. The rep went right on as though he hadn't heard me. My husband returned to the table and a full six hours later after much haggling we bought the upgrade and left the session. Isaac talked real fast and wrote lots of numbers down and tried to get us to understand but instead we got more and more confused. He gave us personal assurance that he would be there for us. The salesman pressured us greatly to get the upgrade, in spite of us telling them that we couldn't afford it this late in life. They told us that they were there just to help us get the best deal possible, and gave no heed to medical conditions or our ages. They in fact took advantage of us being senior citizens and my husband's memory loss. If he can't remember very well, how does that translate into a cognizant appreciation of the fine points of the many-page contract? The fact is that it doesn't. He understood some but then forgot some, too. The salesman pretended to be our friends, promising affordable vacations and the latest upgrade to Platinum Plus membership. They told us that we would be Platinum forever. They told us that they would be there if we had any problems. That promise lasted only until the ink dried, then they didn't know our names. The manager who came to assist Isaac was the same person who assisted in our upgrade in 2016 at Cypress Point. He was familiar with us and our struggles (financial and medical). He knew and still took advantage. We have used the timeshare about five times since we first bought it. We wanted it then and could afford it then. This upgrade got us in way over our heads. The sales reps didn't tell us about the rescission period. We never cared about it before because we hadn't wanted to cancel before. This time finding out three days too late that the sales reps lied to us about the benefits of their help meant that we got an automatic refusal. We do emphatically want this canceled. The sales reps put pressure on us to upgrade and ignored concerns we had about money and medical issues. Most recently we sent them 42 pages of medical records. They answered by demanding additional information. We refuse to kowtow to them. They have all they need from us.

Questions/Comments:

The complaint is simple. The Diamond sales team basically has figured a way to do legalized racketeering. Some of the tactics I witnessed as I have been a member for 8 months include, hostage, withholding food, following potential customers into the bathroom, lying on credit reports to extend credit, making false claims to persuade me the other way. I basically told them I was not interested in the properties in their portfolio. Good bye. The salesman countered that I could join and use the points to go to sporting events, concerts and that Diamond is acquiring new properties aggressively. He made it look like it was a good investment. I still get calls daily from the main line about new offers.

Questions/Comments:

Purchased a "5 Day 4 Night Getaway Package" for $149.00 at 10:23am Orlando FL time (7:23am Washington State time) from Sean Overmann. After reviewing and thinking about all that was included I realized it was not going to work for my family. Had to be used in 12months and had to have my husband present to attend a 2 hour timeshare presentation during the trip. I called the (855) 342-0193 number on the pamphlet located in Las Vegas Nevada (Address 10600 West Charlston Boulevard Las Vegas Nevada 89135) to cancel at 6:11am 6/15/18 Washington Time. The initial person I spoke to said I couldnt cancel I asked to speak to a manager, this person got on the line, was extremely rude and said she would not refund the money. I explained the Florida Law about the "cooling off period" and that I had 72hours to cancel and she still refused to cancel the package or refund my money. I then left a message with attorney generals office and called and left a message with Grand Villas Resort in Orlando Florida with the actual person I purchased the package from. The attorney generals office called back and I spoke with Carlos Perez, who was extremely helpful and instructed me on what I should do. I called Grand Villas Resort back at 627p 6/15/18 Orlando time and left another message for Sean Overmann, he returned my call about 30minutes later and I explained I wanted to cancel. He said he would and sent a screen shot of the refund via text message but said it might take 2-3days for it to show up on my credit card statement. If I wait that long my rights will have expired so I am filing the complaint now in case the refund does not go through as I was told. I also mailed a certified letter to both the Orlando Florida address and the Las Vegas address stating my desire to cancel the package and requesting a full refund. I have photos and copies of all the paperwork etc that I would be happy to present. I do not see a place to upload the documents on here.

Questions/Comments:

Below is the letter I wrote to Diamond Resorts asking them to cancel this last contract out because I was lied too in order to purchase. I can't believe the response they are giving me after all of the years I have been an owner with them. I am simply requesting they cancel this contract for the reasons stated below. Any help you can offer with this would be greatly appreciated. I have owned a timeshare for over 20 years! I originally purchased a week at San Luis Bay Inn through Sun Terra in 1995 for $10,000. With a great deal of hard work, I paid off this original purchase. I loved my timeshare! I would make reservations 10 months in advance and traveled every year with my family. I took my daughter to the Spanish Rivera for her High School Graduation trip. My husband, (at the time) and I traveled all over the United States and even took a trip to Australia over the years of ownership. My daughter and her husband spent their honeymoon in San Juan Capistrano at a beautiful resort. At some point, Diamond purchased Sun Terra and my ownership changed to Diamond. In 2008, I attended a ""What's New now that Diamond is taking over my resorts" meeting and was told I had to purchase points so that I could transition from my "week" to "points." It was mandatory that I switch over to your Diamond system or my Sun Terra ownership that I had worked so hard to pay off would become useless. I didn't think this was fair as I had nothing to do with the Diamond takeover. With Diamond coming in to take over, I would have thought a deal would have been in place to honor the old Sun Terra contracts. I was told Diamond had no obligations to my old contract and if I wanted to continue owning anything, I needed to convert. I felt very pressured to comply... or else. After that purchase, I no longer attended Diamond sales meetings when I visited one of the resorts. I just said no to every request to attend and I even hid a couple of times to avoid any contact with the "concierge" people. I had finally paid off my original purchases and was perfectly happy to pay my maintenance fees and book the timeshare when I wanted it or could get it! I was told that my maintenance fees would increase slightly, but I was never told how much. I didn't find out until I received my first bill. I was told later that the management of Diamond went through a major change with the CEO leaving and the new management was advertised as having less pushy and aggressive sales team. After hearing this news, I was excited to attend a meeting in January 2015 at my home resort, San Luis Bay Inn. I was pressured by Saundra Dudley to purchase an additional 2,500 points after being offered 10,000 more points. I wasn't wanting to purchase anything, but the sales team of Saundra, Michelle Tenney and Philip Bailey, Jr. told me that to add this number of points would give me "full club benefits" and "Silver loyalty" permanently. This was not true, as I already had full club benefits! In addition, the benefits of Silver status didn't change anything about how or when I booked rooms. It seemed useless., however I did get a pretty silver membership card! In April of 2016, I traveled to Las Vegas and stayed at the Polo Towers. I refused to purchase more points, but Jillian Pesce convinced me to purchase "The Sampler" package. It was 15,000 points to be used in the next 18 months. The price was $2,995 and it seemed a great way to add more vacation trips to my retirement. Jillian also talked me into applying for the Diamond Resorts MasterCard to pay for the purchase with a 0% interest rate for 6 months. Come to find out, the interest rate went up to 22.24% after that 6-month period! I was appalled because I was never given any terms and conditions of the new credit card! I was told the Sampler points could be combined with my other points. This wasn't true. When I tried to book through the Sampler program and was unable to get ANYTHING when I wanted it and was very unhappy that booking this Sampler package was a joke and I felt it was a total waste of my money! By now I am hating to go to a Diamond resort because I was not happy about the past couple of experiences in the sales department. My next trip in February 2017 was to the Daytona Beach Regency where I wasn't allowed to get checked in if I didn't first schedule a time to attend a sales meeting. I felt like I was being blackmailed into doing something I didn't want to do just to get my room keys! I was not interested in a meeting or buying more points. All I was trying to do by attending the meeting was to get out of the Sampler package and I wanted to see what they would do to make things right. I should have known that Diamond wouldn't care about what happened to me. Once seated with Judit Martin I was told how Diamond could take care of ALL my travel and vacation needs. Airfare, rental cars, resort packages, food, cruises, all could be purchased with points. She told me that all I had to do was buy more points and they would wrap the Sampler purchase price and what I owed from 2015 into the new purchase. If I purchased enough points I could book everything through them and I wouldn't have ANY out of pocket expenses when I traveled. Because I had purchased last time, I had an option on my account that was going to expire. She said I only had a few more weeks to purchase at the locked in rate of $2.89 per point when everyone else was paying much more per point and after that the price would continue to rise. I was also told that purchasing these points would put me into a temporary Gold status and how much better having Gold status would be as an owner. I refused to purchase that many points, but after much pressure from the sales rep, Judit Martin and the sales manager, Kathy Fugate, I purchased an additional 7500 points and was "given" enough points to enjoy Gold Status "temporarily." That way I could experience all that Gold Status had to offer. All I ever got out of Gold Status was a pretty Gold Card and additional charges if I chose to upgrade a room. Hardly worth $32,361.00. In May, 2017, I agreed to a sales presentation while vacationing in Las Vegas. My intention was to try to repair the damage I had done the previous couple of meetings. I waited in a lobby for my salesman to come and get me. About 20 minutes later a young Indian gentleman came and escorted me into a private office and closed the door. There was a video camera set up and I was a little concerned that they were going to film the sales pitch. Actually, I would have loved to have had it filmed and a copy for myself so I could show you how I was treated at that meeting. The sales representative kept telling me how he would encourage his mother to refinance these points, like he was comparing me to his own mother. I felt so pressured and uncomfortable and knew I didn't need, nor did I want more points. Neither should I go into debt for $86,000 for timeshare points when I don't own any other property and am living on a fixed retirement income. He told me they would roll the price of the sampler into this loan and that was the only way to get out of the sampler I had purchased in Florida. Again, I was also told that purchasing these points would put me into Gold status and how much better having Gold status would be. Just because they could finance me, doesn't mean I should do it! He pushed me to get out all of my credit cards in order to pay the down payment. I was flustered and said "no" on several occasions. At this point, feeling defeated after 3 hours and being verbally pounded for as long, I just did what he said and signed all the papers. Once I left the office I began to get very upset and angry. I had heard the finance guy say that I had 5 days to change my mind and back out of this contract. I searched through the paperwork and found the details of what I needed to do to get out of the contract. On the 4th day of my stay I sat down at the computer in the lobby and typed a letter about how I felt I was treated, how angry I was when the salesman was being congratulated by the other employees and management because he made the sale. I, literally, felt like I had been "raped" emotionally and financially. I gave the sales lobby staff the letter to cancel and hoped for the best. The cancellation was put through and my credit cards were credited within 30 days as was stated in the contract. I feel as though I have been lied to, treated poorly, taken advantage of and I would love to go back to the timeshare that brought my family and myself so much joy over the past 20+ years. I'm sorry to say that my timeshare experiences since Diamond took over have been nothing but horrible instead of fun and relaxation because of the pressure and sales tactics that were used on me. I feel that the purchase I made in February 2017 was made because of misinformation, untrue statements and complete deception on the part of your sales staff. Therefore, I am requesting that this contract be null and void. I would also ask to be reimbursed for 100% of the down payment, 100% of the payments I have made to date, as well as, 100% of the maintenance fees I have had to pay this year. Ideally, I would love to return to my original timeshare points that were paid for, but my understanding is that with rolling everything together in this last contract, that this would not be an option. You have ruined my timeshare experience! Sincerely, Shirley Stevens

We were told at Mystic Dunes in Orlando when we purchased 4000 annual points, the $4000 we paid for the Sampler would be applied to the new purchase because, since it is an investment, it would be considered equity for the purchase of annual points, and yet when we purchased the annual points, only 7,000 of the 20,000 points were transferred to the new account and they did not apply any of the $4,000 from the Sampler purchase. To Whom It May Concern,

We, Pamela & Kevin Delehanty are reaching out to your agencies regarding our current dispute with Diamond Resorts. We have been disputing our case with Diamond since December 7th, 2017 and have had no response from them. We know that typically their offices take about 30 days to respond and that we just had two major Holidays that may have delayed their response, however we would like to settle this matter as soon as is possible. We have sent a formal letter of complaint that outlines our issues and desire to cancel our ownership with them(We have included a copy of this letter). Our account is considered paid in full and we are simply wanting to do the right thing, by surrendering our ownership and contract(s) with them. Based on the grounds that this ownership was not as advertised to us at the point of sale and that we have been harassed by them almost every step of the way with this ownership. Any assistance your agency can offer will be of great help. Our contact information is below, should you need to reach out to us with advice and or further questions. Sincerely,

2719 Liberty Hall Court,
Waxhaw, NC 28173 To Whom It May Concern,

We are Pamela and Kevin Delehanty this letter is to act as our formal complaint regarding our Diamond Resort International membership. In this letter we have included a summary of how we came to purchase Timeshare and about our experiences with Diamond and their salespeople. In September of 2009 we had responded to an ad on eBay that included a 2009 banked week with Interval International. We won the auction for $1.00 and then proceeded faxing and emailing documents back and forth to DSP Consulting Services, LLC. The property address was listed as Liki Tiki Village, Unit 306C, Week 35. The Compliance Agreement was done through Title Outlet, Inc. 2710 Rew Circle, Suite 300, Ocoee, Florida 34761 (407) 877-9295; Fax (407) 877-9728. The Property Description: 2 Bedroom, 2 Bath, Fixed, Week, Every Year, Buyers Occupancy is for 2009 and is available to buyer via free 2009 Interval International banked week available to new owner. The Purchase and Closing Costs: Purchase Price: $1.00 Closing Costs paid by-BUYER-$250.00, Transfer fee paid by-BUYER-$125.00, 2009 Maintenance Fee Due-$0, Total amount due including all costs to be sent to Title Outlet, Inc.: $376.00. Amounts paid by on in Behalf of Buyer: $385.00. Cash at Settlement from/to Buyer: Cash to buyer $9.00. We enjoyed using this timeshare beginning in April 2010, and thereafter. Then due to us looking into moving out of state we had banked 2012 and 2013, which we then used in June of 2014. We enjoyed paying about $700.00 for a vacation for 4 in a 2-bedroom, 2-bathroom Condo/Apt. It was a God send being with my husband and two boys and having a full kitchen to help with our family budget. It was a win, at least a win while it lasted. We really liked the whole timeshare idea. It was very easy to navigate back then. To start from the beginning, we were first contacted via email by Susan Moratelli from Diamond Resorts on 6/15/2014, about our future arrival at the Cove at Ormond Beach. In the emails, she stated, that she was our family's personal concierge for our entire stay, etc. She then asked if we had any special requests, etc. I responded with my request to have rooms with an ocean view and that a welcome basket be placed in our friend's room. They were meeting us there, but were arriving the day before. Apparently, this email communication was pointless because we only got one room with an ocean view and no welcome basket was ever given to our friends. So, we ended up treating them for dinner instead! Before heading to Daytona, we used one of our bank weeks for Bryan's Spanish Cove Resort in Orlando, Florida. The saleswomen at this resort tracked us down every morning and evening, wanting us to hear all the great stuff that was happening with our timeshare. We had explained to her that we were looking forward to hearing about the great news, but had already purchased Disney Park Hopper Passes for 7 days, and we just didn't have the time to attend the meeting. We finally told her that we will certainly check it out when we would be at The Cove in Ormond Beach in Daytona the following week. When we arrived at The Cove at Ormond Beach in Daytona we had to wait in line to check in and were then approached by someone other than Susan. She asked us to join in a designated area for some punch and some afternoon snacks. At first, I was thinking that our room was not ready and that they were feeling bad that we had waited in line for some time to check in. Plus, there was several maintenance people working and making a lot of noise in and around the lobby area as well. We overheard others talking with her about all the new renovations that have been happening with all the Resorts and when she came back over to us, she said that she wanted to get us on the schedule to hear about all the exciting news with the resorts. Plus, we would be entitled to gift, a $100 gift card, just for attending the presentation! She claimed it would most definitely be worth our while. After spending a week in Disney, the $100.00 sounded good to us. We arrived at the newly remodeled Daytona Beach Regency at 9am on Monday, June 23rd, 2014 (which was so much nicer than the Cove) where we were escorted up to a presentation room full of gorgeous vacation photos and were offered coffee and breakfast items. Our two boys were then taken into a playroom across the hall, while we took a tour of a suite with a lock-out room. It was stunning. Decorated to the max. Nothing like the 70's and 80's decor we were used to in the other timeshare resorts we had been staying at the past few years. We then headed back to the high-pressure presentation room. This is where things started to turn. We were seated at a small table and then greeted by Jason Abdela. Behind Mr. Abdela was a map on the wall, with thousands of colorful pins all over the different continent's. He first asked, "where would you love to go on vacation?" He also asked where we had been in the past. We told him about Tahiti, St. Lucia and The Atlantis in the Bahamas and that we would love to go back there. He then pointed to the Bahamas and said, that's one of our properties! (Which we later learned was a complete lie) He kept pointing at all the areas on the map, telling us that we could go to without having to try and reserve it on Interval International(II) and save on exchange fees. We were then advised that Diamond Resorts International had obtained our timeshare company with the Liki Tiki Resort back in January of 2013. And that selected owners had received a buy-in offer from Diamond at that time via email. He asked us if we remembered getting one and my husband and I didn't recall receiving such information. This was brand new information to us. We then told Mr. Abdela that we had only just learned that something was going on, while we had been in Orlando. He then told us that Diamond Resorts had obtained all the Island One and Club Navigo properties and will oversee it from now on. Mr. Abdela then called someone over to consider seeing if we could be offered the buy-in deal. This was making us believe that it was only for a very select few, or that only the VIP's were offered a buy-in. (We knew we were not VIP, living paycheck to paycheck) . We were then given a brief story about the founder of Diamond Resorts, Steven Cloobek. About how he buys small timeshare companies and completely remodels them. We were then asked if we had seen him on the show, Undercover Boss. At this point we were thinking that this was great! We had spent $1.00 plus closing cost (purchased through eBay) combined with an average of under $500.00 of annual maintenance, that we had hit the jackpot! But, then we soon learned it was no jackpot. In order to continue enjoying our timeshare, we would have to sell them our week with the Liki Tiki and become members of Diamond Resorts. They explained that we would no longer have a fixed week, that they work on a points system and the lowest membership is the silver membership which is 15,000 points. They, then went on to explain how we didn't have to use all the points at once, we could do a weekend or two, plus a week's vacations, etc. They then continued to boast about having our own personal travel agent at our fingertips and that all we had to do was go on the website or give them a call to tell them what we were planning to do or needed, such as hotel, airline tickets, car rental, etc. and they will find it for us... etc. This sounded great, since our boys are year-round swimmers and we must travel a lot. Finally, after getting a very lengthy explanation on how the point system worked vs. fixed, floating, bi-annually, etc. My husband and I were getting a bit anxious that we hadn't found out anything about the buy-in, knowing that we most likely couldn't afford the membership anyway. At this point, we had been there for well over 2 hours, and we were sure that our boys were probably wanting to head to the beach. Our sales representative finally advised us that the smallest membership was in and around $50,000.00. This was completely unbelievable, something that we had enjoyed once a year with our boys for about $700(which was about half of the going weekly rate at most of the properties), with Liki Tiki timeshare. But, then he stopped and said, that we are forgetting that they will be buying our current timeshare from us, etc. At one point a woman came over and said, that we were offered the buy in, but they can't seem to find the number that we were offered. She then handed me a plain piece of paper with their logo on top and asked that I write a letter to them so that she can fax it to corporate. I then proceeded to write the letter, I gave it to her. She returned saying she just faxed it and handed me back the letter with a stamped FAXED on it. She asked us to sit tight and offered us some coffee or water, while they waited to get a response. We proceeded to tell Mr. Abdela, that we are never going to be able to afford it, since we just purchased a home in North Carolina, and would be closing on it on June 29th. That we just borrowed the down payment from my mother and was only putting down 10%. We were taking on a pretty large mortgage and probably wouldn't even qualify even if they were to offer us financing. He then called over Ms. Miranda, who really brought her A game, with her high-pressure sales tactics, and then began pulling on heart strings about being forced to take family vacations, about our boys only being young for so long. And then telling us that down the road we could upgrade the membership, that the boys could use it and so on and so on. Well, they finally came back with an offer saying that they understood our situation but then asked us if we really wanted to lose out on this opportunity. Our previous Timeshare was now basically obsolete and if we didn't take this offer we would have nothing. Then our representatives talked about how many timeshare companies had done away with weeks and had converted to points. This would allow us to use the points in many ways, etc. Mr. Abdela excused himself for a minute. We took this time to discuss the offer. Everything sounded great and all, but we just can't do it. Upon his return he claimed that he had to pull some strings to get us this offer and that they never do this. He told us that he completely understood that the smallest membership was a reach for us and that he had worked out something so that we didn't lose our timeshare. At this point, we are all over drained of thought and energy. He had come up with us buying 9,000 points just so that we could keep vacationing, that they can deeply discount that with the release of our Liki Tiki week. We really didn't want to lose what we had come to love. (2 bedrooms, 2 bathrooms, living room, kitchen with a full-size refrigerator, stovetop, oven, microwave, toaster, blender, all the necessary utensils like forks, knives, corkscrew and bottle opener. Always more than one TV, and sometimes a screened in porch, patio or deck!) That sure beat any 4+ star hotel in my MOMMY BOOK. The thought of us having to spend our vacations in a regular hotel room, with all of us having to share a bathroom, bedroom and a TV for a week. After about 5 hours of this presentation we just had to figure out a way to not lose this! But it truly wasn't easy by far!!!! After making this purchase into Diamond we have gone on to the website and called customer service since 2014, and could never find something available worth vacationing at. Especially since we have two school aged boys, who are both year-round swimmer and have limited time to take vacations. Back in 2014/2015 their website was difficult and confusing to navigate. Finally, we had opted to call their customer service to speak to a live representative and would wait on hold for sometimes up to a 1/2 hour. Sometimes we would even get disconnected once reaching someone and had to call back all over again. We would let the representative know what our availability was, and they would offer us places like Blue Ridge Village in Banner Elk, NC, Peppertree in NC or SC, Polynesian Isles FL, Cypress Point, FL to name a few. Many of these hotels on average are $150/$199 a night, so why if we were paying maintenance of over $2,500 a year, would we want to stay somewhere that we could reserve for a lot less. We had invested well over $32k in charges and fees to be a part of Diamond Resorts, so what was the point of this ownership? They would tell us about St. Maarten, that would cost us about $3600-$4000 in airfare and travel expenses for a family of four, just to get there. That's why we were excited to receive a call letting us know that they will be having a Diamond Dinner VIP Event in Charlotte North Carolina. We were informed that while we would be enjoying our dinner, a membership specialist will host a two-hour Owner Updated timeshare presentation during which we will have an opportunity to ask questions regarding our vacation ownership. That the specialist will also explain all the new and exciting things happening with DRI. For attending this meeting, we would receive a Diamond Relaxation Reward Certificate, for the following Diamond Dream Holiday destinations, Branson, Missouri, Las Vegas, NV, Lake Tahoe, California, Williamsburg Virginia, Scottsdale, Arizona, and Sedona, Arizona. We arrived on time, and were greeted, handed name tags and escorted to a table for just us, with one chair on the opposite side. We listened to the specialist for about 15 to 20 minutes, there was a slideshow presentation as well. She talked about points costing $8.28 each, and that the prices go up every 90 days. If anyone wanted to upgrade their membership today, they will be given an 18-month protection and would receive a free tablet loaded with all the material you will need to plan your vacations! They then opened the floor for questions and several of us asked many. But, they were very brief and told us that we will be able to ask these questions to our individual trained DRI vacation specialist that would be joining us at our tables. From that point on it was a high-pressure sales pitch all the way. We stayed strong and voiced our many concerns about the amount of money we had already spent, that we had yet to find a property we would like to vacation at and that there was always little to no availability. We explained that most of the places that are available were cheaper and all we had to do was go through Expedia, TripAdvisor, or any other free vacation website. We could also call the resort directly and book with our credit card. This representative really seemed new to the job, and kept going over to Matthew Brandt for answers and suggestions. Finally, he decided to just join us at our table. At this point we were telling him that we just didn't see the value in their membership. That we had booked a trip for spring break on our own. Then he excused himself and came back over with our file. He then said to us that he knew why we never saw anything worthwhile. We were so curious to hear what he had to say, and he went on to tell us the reason is that we were only a points member, that we weren't at a good enough level yet. He asked why we only had 9000 points. So, we explained our situation from 2014 and that we didn't want to lose out on the opportunity to take vacations, so we made the best possible purchase we could. He then went on telling us we would have to upgrade to at least a silver membership and that the good news was that it would only be 6,000 more points. (So, we quickly figured that it would be about $50,000.00) . We told him that we had gotten a call from someone at Diamond about a year ago offering us the same deal per point that we paid in 2014 to upgrade the membership. We had declined and explained that we had too much going on financially and could not afford 1,000 Points. Again, the representative, went on and on about this being his final offer and that rates were going up and up, etc. We kept our composure and thanked her for contacting us, but we had to go. He then called someone over to the table, he was the finance guy and seemed to come from nowhere. Now we had the both of them explaining to us that we would fall in love with Diamond if we just bought a few more points. Then we would really see the value in the membership. Matthew Brandt then came over and gave us an additional folder for a free trip to Hawaii, his gift to us if we upgraded that day. On top of the other destinations we could pick from in the previous folder given to us by Kelly, they explained to us that the only out of pocket expense for both free trips would be $99.00 as a service fee for the reservation along with the cost of transportation to the resorts. These were both bonus point vacations that we would be given to us on top of the already 9,000 points we had and the additional 6,000 points they wanted us to purchase. The only catch for the dream vacations was that the travel had to be completed by March 19, 2017. We asked them if we could have a few minutes to talk amongst ourselves and we finally decided to ask them if they would be willing to offer us the same price per point that we paid for back in 2014. Especially since at this point we had already invested so much. Matthew returned to the table and said after speaking with his colleagues that he couldn't believe that we had purchased 9,000 points for only 1$2,600 back in 2014. That was unheard of and that we must be great at negotiating. So, he sat down again, with a pen and paper and just started writing a bunch of numbers, saying that the cost per point today is $8.28 per point. We need at least 6000 points to become a silver membership. Writing then the total $49,680.00, then asked how much it was costing me to take the cruise that were going on shortly. I advised him that it was $3800.00 or so. So, he then crossed out the number and said, let me deduct the cost of your trip, your transportation to the port, and some spending money. Bringing the cost down to $40,000.00. Telling us we are now only going to have to pay $6.66 per point. We both responded that is just way too much. We appreciate him trying to help and all. But we just can't do it. He then walked away again, and came back about 15 minutes later. At this point we were done, it had to be after 10pm by then and when he came back we told him that we had just realized what time it was and that we had left our boys home alone. We had been there since 4:30pm and couldn't see this working out. To this he asked us if he could make a few more calls before we left. He then came back with the absolute best deal he could do and that he had never seen anyone be offered this before. He went on saying how terrible he felt that we had so many points banked, and that we hadn't been able to use our membership, etc., etc. The best he could do for us was $3.00 a point, costing us $18,000. Which is almost half of the price of the points today. At this point we wanted to be done, we wanted to go home and, so we said yes. We were then escorted up to a hotel room, that have a few people in it working out all the paperwork, one of them being the guy who came to our table earlier. Everyone was congratulating us, welcoming us to the Diamond Family, etc. We quickly signed all the papers and went on our merry way. The whole way home we both promised each other we weren't going to spend any more money and that we hope we didn't just make another big mistake. We were wrong. Over the past year we have received several calls from Diamond offering us assistance in booking a vacation. Everything they offer us is not what we want, nothing is available for the dates we are available and/or the cost to fly is too high. We have also gotten a call from a representative named Ryan, saying that he wanted to offer his help in booking our next vacation. We told him as we had told the others that we had been looking but nothing was available during the times we would like to travel. He asked us where we would like to go, and other questions and we told him that nothing ever worked out. He then insisted that it was our lucky day, because he is not a representative but the manager of all the representatives, and that previously, when the representatives would put on hold to check something, he was the one they contacted. He then went on to tell us that his family has a Diamond Resorts membership and they love it, that's why he decided to work for them and so on. He went on to tell us about his childhood and all the great experiences he had while vacationing with them. They he asked us what our dream family vacation would be, and we told him it would be to go to Hawaii with the family. He then started giving us some dates for the following year, but they were always during school time. He then asked us for a second choice and gave him a few suggestions but of course he had to go and couldn't talk further. He then gave us his personal extension and we called back the next day, but we ended up playing phone tag a few times. When we finally did get to speak with him we were able to discuss with him our past experiences and he told us that he would do whatever it took to help get us vacationed. Suddenly, he started to explain to us that he had looked into our account and that maybe the reason we were having a hard time was because we were not Gold or Platinum members. We began to laugh. Really, is this all about another sales pitch to scam more money out of my family or do you really want to see me vacationed. We had already been scammed with that when we were convinced that we needed to be at least Silver members. As we found out being Silver members didn't do anything for us and now we needed to pay more money to upgrade. Finally we asked him "If you were in our shoes... and you paid over 30k for a membership and maintenance fees for something you haven't yet used or experienced, why would you even consider the option of upgrading?" After all, originally in 2014, the basis of the sales for Diamond was all about family vacations while our children are young. We could have shown them a lot of great vacations over the past 3 years while booking them myself with the $32,000.00 I have wasted on this scam. We then asked him "why not we do this? You send my family and I on a dream vacation and use our banked 30,000 points to Hawaii on the dates we are available. Once we get to finally experience one of your resorts, we will then consider upgrading but not a day sooner. Further we told him that until that happens we will just stay Silver members and hope for the best. We spoke a few times after, but nothing ever transpired. And we refused to give them another dollar, except of course the yearly maintenance, plus an additional $400 for an assessment, for what we have no idea. We have been overly pressured in every sales pitch we have attended to the point of outright harassment. This so called "Investment" has been nothing more than an elaborate scam complete with arm-twisting sales tactics by the sales people. We are therefore requesting that our membership and all contracts with Diamond Resorts International be terminated and canceled. Please send us the proper paperwork to accomplish this and further we request that the monies we have invested be refunded. After a resolution is found we wish to cut all future ties with Diamond Resort International. Sincerely,

Pamela A. & Kevin M. Delehanty

Questions/Comments:

Stephen Cloobek himself was one of the people we dealt with at the sales presentations. Regardless, these meetings were loaded with lies and misrepresentations and omissions. We have spent over $60,000 at this point and have used the timeshare maybe three times. That makes for some expensive vacations. The sales staff told us that they weren't in sales but were only there to help owners. The only thing DRI has helped with is relieving us of our money. They told us that the timeshare purchases were good financial investments. We did some research recently about selling and found that people listed them for a dollar. That does not sound like a solid investment to us. The salesmen didn't tell us about the rescission period. We found out about it on our own later on while reading through all the paperwork. On one hand it would have been good to know that bit of information but on the other hand it wouldn't have made any difference in our attempts to book a vacation. The claims of 95% success rate of getting first choices on resorts cannot be proved by our experiences. Until this year we could not get a reservation at Oceanaire, our home resort. The sales rep told us there was nothing available. We called the resort directly and found out, yes, there was space available. When we called DRI back suddenly an opening was found. Unfortunately it was not the suite that we own but a small studio - one room with two beds with the "kitchen" being a mini-fridge and microwave. This made us very disillusioned with Diamond Resorts International. Feeding four people three times a day with a microwave is really impossible. We had to eat out much more often and that of course was a lot more money. We were looking for affordable and quality family time with the children. We looked forward to staying at a four star resort with all the amenities and introducing the children to different locales. It has been frustrating and disappointing for us, especially for the children. The discount or free admissions to certain amusements are worthless because they have to be used the day of the presentation. After spending three to four hours in a sales presentation, there wouldn't be much time to enjoy the attraction. Try explaining that to children: there were only a few hours at the attraction and not a whole day. One time we had to request a room change because the room we had was very rundown in every way. It was not worth what we are paying for, we assure you! The salesmen didn't tell us that reservations were first come first served. They stressed that we could go anywhere anytime we wanted to. We didn't find out the truth until we actually tried to use the timeshare. That is when we discovered that times and places were unavailable because they were booked up already. That is in direct contradiction to what they told us. They say that they are relying on the written contract. They are telling us that we should not have relied on what the salesmen told us and talked about for hours on end. If we were not to take all the verbal promises and assurances into consideration, why weren't we given handouts to read and take with us? We got nothing in writing and what notes they may have drawn for us, they kept and we weren't allowed to have them. At the end the signing was rushed and they told us what the paragraphs said (which matched their verbal promises, etc); there was no time to review and read everything. The sales practices make sure of that. If we had had ample opportunity to read and discover hidden or changed features and benefits, we would have known that the salesmen had lied to us and that the contract was true. We bought the timeshare expecting to get our money's worth and the features and benefits they promised us have not been received. We want the timeshare canceled and money refunded.

Questions/Comments:

I have tried to work with this company to show not only is this timeshare not affordable for me since my income is no where what it was upon first signing up and my divorce but I feel they took advantage of my distracted state and put me in line for financial ruin. Nothing is what it should be. Nothing. I trusted these people and they have done nothing but make this process more of a headache and burden. It is ridiculous and I have taken every avenue possible before addressing these issues with your offices. I would like to provide you with some of the documentation and correspondence I have had for your review. It is upsetting to say the least that they can get by treating people this way and thinking it is appropriate to handle business in such a deceitful manner. Your full cooperation and assistance is appreciated.

Questions/Comments:

hotel resort fees are misleading and not included in the advertised rates of florida hotels. these fees can be in the hundreds of dollars and you get this bill at check in. So, when you book a florida hotel you really have no idea what you are going to be charged unless you read all the little print. This is a profit center for hotels that florida should make them include in the rate. A great deal on a $90 hotel room suddenly is not that great a $110. It is stupid that florida allows this. Maybe publix should have a fee that they add on after you get done buying your groceries.

I upgraded my account in November 2017, well my new mortgage payments were not to start until January of 2018 but I started making the payments in Dec 2017 every other week. Then around Feb 2018, DRI debit from my checking account and I found out they were notified that I NEVER gave them permission to debit my account and that my bank had send my half of my mortgage payments since the date I bought into their timeshare this way I will pay off the mortgage ahead of schedule. Well with the past 5 months DRI and I have been is dispute over the fact they started charging me late fee because I refuse to allow them to debit my account when they want. I have the right of having my bank pay half of my mortgage every other week just like my home mortgage as long as I do not miss a payment which I never had. I have filed several complaint with the BBB to correct this issue but DRI refuses to even acknowledge that my payments are ahead schedule. They are stealing from my payments the late fees for their illegal act of charging me for not using their system. I need help related to this issue. For I have copy of my complaints to the BBB as to DRI billing practice and their response back.

Maintenance fee: $2621 Member Number: 9-256675

I had sent a complaint in the mail to you and it was delivered to you on April 5, 2018 and have not heard anything. In 2010 we had traded in our deeded timeshare into non-deeded Diamond vacation points and over the years had accumulated 50,000 points, enough to become Platinum Diamond members. We had hoped to leave something nice for our children and grandchildren. After experiencing fraudulent bait and switch tactics, we don't have enough money to travel. It is this last contract for 15000 points $55,989, fraudulently sold by Brad Leslie that needs to be canceled. As Diamond Platinum members with 50,000 points and annual maintenance fees of $8631 we went into an "update" meeting on February 4, 2017, which turned out to be an "upsell". Our salesperson, Brad Leslie, said there were big changes due to Apollo owning Diamond Resorts. Brad said he had just learned about a new program in while training in Orlando. Brad started by explaining that over ten years our maintenance fees would multiply tenfold to $86,310. But with this new program we could get 15,000 additional points for a total of 65000 points. And further, DRI would give us another 65,000, now totaling 130,000 points, to use towards maintenance fees and travel. We were clear with him that we wanted to be able to cover maintenance fees with these points. This was the plan that was easy to understand: • 50,000 points we owned and with the new purchase of 15000 totaled 65,000. Diamond would double this to 130,000. • Each year, Diamond would redeem 8,000 of these points at $.10 each for $8,000 to use for maintenance fees (via check or reloadable debit card) and we would have 50,000 for traveling. He also told us that we would only owe the $2621 maintenance fees on the new 15,000 points if we used them; these new points would be in the background of our account. Brad originally said the double points (65,000) would appear on a split screen on our dashboard. In May, 2017 when we met again he told us they were still working on the split screen. Here is what actually happened after he closed the sale: • Even though we didn't use the new 15,000 points we were billed for the maintenance fees! Brad told us to pay and that he would arrange for reimbursement. After contacting Brad a second time we did receive a Diamond check around March, 2017 for about $2,621 overnight. • In 2017 after the sale our account showed we only owned 50,000 points but later it showed 65,000 points. So it seems these 15,000 points were no longer "in the background". And so, we received a maintenance fee bill for 2018 in the amount of $11,263.85 for 65,000 points

- As to doubling the 65,000 points Brad later told us he did not mean we would get them outright but that if we would book our travel through Valued Getaways and we would only need half the points for a reservation with them--and if a reservation was 6,000 points we would use 3,000. He provided these instructions: Access "Travel Advantages" to book a hotel, but make sure it is a refundable one. You pay for it and you tell them how many points to use and then they will send you a check for that amount of money. Then you call and cancel the reservation. "I can't tell you that you can use the check to pay for the maintenance fees but it is your check so you can do what you want with it," Brad explained. We were also lied to as to payment for the points. The down payment of $26,000 was charged to two Barclay Cards that were opened in our names. However, Brad told us we would be able to transfer the $26,000 credit card charge to our $30,000 loan so that we could deduct the interest on the full amount of the purchase. We have since learned that the 1099s being issued by Diamond clearly state timeshare mortgage interest is only deductible on deeded properties. I have sent document to your office and they were received April 5, 2018. These are other complaint #from others: CC18-003476, CC2018013087, AND there will be more to add soon.

Questions/Comments:

Years ago I along with my wife, Margarita, were pressured into buying a timeshare. We are now stuck with high maintenance fees and costs, that just keep going up every year. I have recently had open heart surgery which resulted in the loss of my leg. I can no longer travel due to my health and mobility problems. We are finding it difficult to pay our medical expenses, while continuing to pay timeshare costs. We also recently lost our only son to Primary Sclerosing Cholangitis. We are burdened with a great deal of emotional and economic stress. We cannot afford this timeshare. When we purchased the timeshare, we were told that the fees and costs would not go up. We were also told we could get out of the timeshare at any time. We are trapped by this timeshare, we cannot sell it, we cannot give it away. We are forced to pay thousands for something we cannot even use.! Please help us!

Questions/Comments:

My 90 year old mother-in-law has owned this timeshare since 1987. She has paid the maintenance fee for 31 years. In December of 2017 I paid the fee via charge card. I do not have the bill with confirmation any longer and I did not check my bill to be sure it went through. Diamond had changed the address to send the bill as they claim they received mail return to sender. No other efforts were made to contact my mother-in-law. They were sending the foreclosure information to the address in Miami that they admit they changed. We thought we were in good standing until we received a call from the Diamond Reservation Dept on 10/16/18 that we had not banked our 2018 week and they notified my mother-in-law the property was in foreclosure. She called me that evening and I called on 10/17/18. I offered to pay and was told it was already auctioned. I asked why the reservation department was able to contact us by phone but the foreclosure department could not. I spoke with 4 different staff. Each said that the foreclosure department had followed their legal obligation. They offered no proof that they had received a return to send on a subsequent bill and why they never called to notify her that the account was delinquent and in foreclosure. Any direction on how to pursue this injustice would be greatly appreciated. I am Josephine's daughter-in-law -terri dipietro 860-918-0455

Questions/Comments:

Prior to 10/14/17 we already owned 100,000 points in Diamond for which we had gladly paid approx. $300,000. On 10/14/17, Raphael Cabrera told us: We could redeem our points at a rate of $0.30 per point for CASH. He also told us that our points would be valued at DOUBLE their stated value ANYTIME when used to create reservations due to our status within Diamond. We believed his assertions and purchased an additional 50,000 points for $145,500. We made the purchase because the additional 50,000 points made very good sense to us. We left the sales presentation feeling very good about our new relation with Diamond. When we asked Raphael to put his claims in writing, we were informed that our request was beyond the 10 day window for cancellation. We have been talking to Diamond but they will not cancel this contract even though the contract was misrepresented to us. We are very familiar with Diamond's product. Our understanding about what we were told by Raphael is clear and makes sense. What Raphael told are, however, complete LIES. Raphael told us the new "Facts" about Diamond knowing they were total lies. We could have never made up the "Facts" given us by Raphael. We are aware of the 12/23/2016 $800,000 settlement against Diamond in the state of Arizona. I feel certain that there are numerous complaints already against Diamond in Florida. We ask that Florida pursue Diamond for misleading oral and deceptive sales practices as was done in Arizona. We have a HUGE amount of data to provide about the operations of Diamond and will gladly devote all our time to punishing Diamond. Diamond has now stolen our 100,000 points and the $300,000 we paid for them and is still trying to force us to pay the balance on the $145,500 purchase from 10-14-17. Some officials at Diamond KNOW our story of what Raphael did to us is TRUE, but they are unwilling to act ethically and void our sale. We hope we can work with your office soon.

Questions/Comments:

We are active duty military dependents. We were tricked into a timeshare with the ol' bait and switch. We were given a Purchaser's Understanding and Agreement but it does not contain the pertinent information needed to make an informed decision. We were told we were purchasing a sufficient number of points for our family of 7 to vacation nicely at least once a year. Our whole family was present and held captive for over 6 hours with no meal. Our family includes 5 children under the age of 15. Our life savings has been stolen. We are no longer able to financially send our oldest child to the private school he needs. We were defrauded yet another time at our mandatory update meeting on January 15, 2018. At this point we still did not know we could not take a family vacation with the amount of points we purchased. Our salesperson in January informed us. Clearly a white collar financial crime has been committed. If we have been told we have enough points and have NOT been given actual data or facts to determine differently until 6 months later we have knowingly been defrauded out of our money and we still do not have points to vacation with our family. We have filed with Nevada, North Carolina and now Florida. I will be more than happy to give you more information on how we were defrauded in written statements. I have tried to contact our sales associates several time only to find all the numbers on their business cards are no longer in service.

Questions/Comments:

This is a timeshare membership sale, which was based on false information and blatant lies, and we were rushed through signing the contract. While we are signing, they distract and talk about each item on the contract, but are actually providing contradictory information to what is really on the contract. They also withhold membership information (such as what these points will buy, expiry dates of the points, where they can be used, access to booking website, and booking directory) for two weeks, which I believe is to intentionally circumvent the Florida Statute on timeshare cancellations. Luckily, we sent our cancellation notice signed and notarized on January 2 2018 (which is within the 10-day cancellation window specified in the contract). We sent two copies, one by Fedex and another by US priority mail. However, I am skeptical that they would honor it given their fraudulent behavior in the past, and the online reviews I have seen. I am filing this complaint as additional evidence of my wish to cancel within the 10-day period, and if they challenge me that they never received my cancellation notice, I would at least be able to point to this complaint filed with the Attorney General's office. Nevertheless, this business has to be investigated for attempting to circumvent the FL statute on purchase cancellations by intentionally withholding information for two weeks.

Questions/Comments:

We have contacted the company (several times) about canceling the timeshare purchase made in March of this year. On June 20, 2018, we sent a certified letter, an email, a copy of the letter, and a fax indicating that we wanted to cancel our contract. We got no response to any of them. On Monday June 25, we called and spoke with Keisha about our desire to cancel, and she told us it was NOT an option. We asked her a couple of pointed questions. 1. Is it true that DRI will be going public, thus increasing our fees and raising the cost of points? She stated that DRI would never go public. 2. The sales reps told us that we had to purchase additional points in order to have the option of putting the timeshare in a trust in to transfer it to our children. She stated that was untrue. She told us the salesmen had given us false information. Since the sale was fraught with lies and "false information", tell us why we would be in a hurry to keep it. Above are only two examples of the lies the salesmen told us. We were excited to make an investment in our family's future vacations. The sales presentation was supposed to last 90 minutes but dragged on for six hours. Everything sounded the same after this long. The sales reps would give us some information and/or an offer and then leave the table for about 20 minutes. They went to a different part of the room and we saw them staring at us while we talked and thought the information over. They did this again and again until we were so exhausted and confused that we just gave in. We had no intentions of buying a timeshare. We were curious about how it worked and talked about maybe someday. Becci sat down with us and she talked to us about the benefits of a timeshare. Her first offer was incredibly expensive and we told her there was no way we would consider it. She brought over two more offers and left alone to talk about them, staring at us all the while from across the room, as mentioned above. The "Orientation" in Las Vegas in June was more of the same. This time the meeting was supposed to last 120 minutes and the same methods were used, namely giving us information, leaving us to talk it over, and staring from across the room. We had had enough of this game and told Andrew to tell us what he was going to tell us so we could leave. He told us the DRI was going public and our maintenance fees were going up 24%. He told us that our current contract wouldn't have enough points for one trip. He brought up the issue of the trust again. Then he told us he was going to open another Barclaycard. He wanted us to sign a new contract and told us our payments would increase more than $600. Absolutely not! The sales reps lied about several things are we have said and Keisha confirmed that. They deceived us and intimidated us and manipulated us and coerced us into making this purchase. They used high-pressure sales tactics to get us to sign. Even the associates cannot agree with each other (ie the company going public or not) and who knows what other conflicting and false information they gave us which we haven't uncovered yet. It is clear that these people will say anything and everything they think you want to hear in order to land the sale.

Questions/Comments:

This all started in 2017 when I went to Las Vegas. I fell for the lies of Lies there but on June 17, 2018, I used the promotional stay by Diamond Resort. Prior to this visit I was told that I all I needed to do was stay for 90 mins and then walk away. What happened was the total opposite. I was there from 12:30 to 5:30 pm the representative Hector who would not allow me to leave until I agreed to his deal. Also, he told me that I had 45 days to make my decision and if I did not want it and called within the 45 days that I would return to my original contract. What happened was not so when I called the auditor Sandra Cohen who is the person you see prior to leaving about the deal and that Hector stated I have 45 days to review and cancel if I could not afford it. She ignored me for 2 weeks and then sent me to speak to their Director of Sales, a very nasty man who after I stated I could not afford it and wanted to return to the original told me I had 10 days. I asked why I was not told that after I spoke to him there, Ms. Cohen and their sale representative Hector. He did not respond and hung up on me. After I called back he refused to speak to me and sent me off to someone else. I found some attorney from Resort Release who referred me to TFDB Law office and charged me $9000 at (800) 201-4276 x7009 which I did not have to get rid of this Diamond resort thing. But now they are filing for bankruptcy which I found out weeks after it was done on May 31st. I cannot afford Diamond Resort $900 a month deal and have not used their facilities or even attempted to do so. I have tried several times to get rid of it but no one at Diamond Resort will assist it is like they are into destroying people's lives instead of just accepting the fact that someone cannot afford things and honor what was stated by Hector their representatives. I was hoping that the case would have gone to arbitration and all the lies stated by Diamond resort would be sorted out and gone. But with the attorney now filing bankruptcy I am not sure what else to do. I want them to release me from the contract and leave me alone. Please help, I can't afford to use my credit card to pay another attorney[I am still paying for this one] and pay Diamond resort and all my other debts. Please help me. I have paid Diamond over $3000 for a timeshare I have never used and cannot afford. When I bought it first it was affordable it was $331 a month but at $900 a month, I cannot afford it and want out of it. First I asked to go back to the original and that was ignored. I want out of it.

My wife and I were lied and misled to by diamond resorts. I'm over 55 and my wife is 60.these people are ruining our lives financially ,physically and mentally.they lied about the time share that they sold us.then they say well you signed the document.they say what the sales rep sold to you verbally, doesn't count now that the contract was signed. Well we didn't know that diamond sells you a package deal and they fool you into signing something different than agreed to earlier.diamond resort and Barclays credit card are both in violation of predatory lending also.this loan from diamond and the charge to Barclays for $9,804.00 should never been approved on our credit history.we also paid $2900.00 to a time exit co to help us.we would like all this returned to us and to terminate this timeshare from diamond resorts.2018 maintenance. Fee $2957.00,down payment $5168.00 first monthly payment $679.16,timeshare exit $2900.00.we didn't receive one cent in goods or services from diamond. They called us to go to Florida to get ripped off we did not ask for this.during the signing process I ask what we were signing and they didn't tell us. At this time once ask they should have told us. Thank you. Kevin & Linda fry

Questions/Comments:

Dear Madam, I am writing to you about a concern that I have, and this is what it is, Diamond Resorts have acquired Amber Vacation Club (formerly Alhambra Villas Condominium Association, Inc. I learned this fall that Diamond had bought Amber Vacation Club, and was told if I could not pay the annual fee, I could opt out. I was also told by some one, whom I thought was one of their team members that this fee over $718 was unreasonable, and they would see if something could be done about it. Evidently, that did not happen. My husband passed away, and for that reason my income is decreased tremendously, and I can't keep on paying this huge fee of over $718.00 each year. I called Diamond Resort numerous times to try to get to their so called transition dept. I finally did on Jan. 7th. The team member told me there was a trade-in dept. I was transferred to that team member and then I was transferred to another team member (via telephone) and was told that Diamond Resorts did not do trade-ins of deeded ownership weeks. The last time I spoke to one of their team members, I was also told they would not opt out weeks for owners from the former Amber Vacation Club owners. Could this also be true of trade-ins? If they do have these options at their resorts, then why not for the former Amber Vacation Club owners, which they have acquired? The same rules should apply to all of the resorts they own and now are purchasing. I feel they are giving me the shove-off. As I stated before, I was transferred from one dept to another, from one team member to another, and each team member say a different thing. Would you please research this situation and let me know what options I have about this? If that annual fee of over 718 dollars can be reduced within a reasonable amount or if I can opt out. If I can opt out, this is what I would like to do. I shall be looking forward to hear from you. Thank you so much in advance. Sincerely,
Arbutus Persinger Vacation Club, which

Questions/Comments:

We have owned a timeshare in VA Beach, VA since 1991. I am 67 and no longer use or want the timeshare. Diamond Resort wants me to pay them $1000 to give it back to them. It is a deeded week, and the annual maintenance fee is about $850. I want to ask if there is any information or assistance you might provide for me to simply give the timeshare back without any payment from me.

Questions/Comments:

My husband, John Faltay, and I, Marie Faltay, own a timeshare at Diamond Resorts. It is paid off completely. Our yearly maintenance fee is $2986.75. During our Florida vacation on November 15-25, 2019, we attended an update meeting. After the meeting, we were taken to an office where a representative suggested we pay our maintenance fees monthly. He asked for our bank account routing numbers and also suggested that we freeze our points to make it more affordable if we wanted to sell our timeshare. For $349, he had us sign a paper for a two year freeze for our points. We charged this to our Discover credit card. He handed us a packet of papers and we got back to our vacation. On Dec 11 2019, we looked at our Diamond Resorts information on line. We noticed that a Sampler Vacation was billed to us for $3995 plus $12.99 per interest to be paid over a 4 year period ($173.32/month) = $4000 plus interest. We immediately looked at the packet that was given to us at our meeting in Florida. Inside was a contract that we never saw or signed. Our signatures were computer generated. We consider this quite fraudulent and illegal. We called Diamond Resorts and the people we talked to would not consider our position in the matter. We already have 30,000 points for the upcoming year. We are 73 and 75 years old. We do NOT travel very much. We would never have agreed to buy a Sampler Vacation. We have been scammed.

Questions/Comments:

We previously had a timeshare with Club Navigo, Orlando, FL, for week 52 at resort Liki Tiki in Winter Garden, FL, which we had a Deed for. We had never had any complaints with the company or the resort, we were very happy with the setup and used it regularly. Diamond Resorts contacted us by phone to come to a meeting at Mystic Dunes in Kissimmee on 10/19/2014 regarding Liki Tiki property (Club Navigo). They explained that Club Navigo had filed bankruptcy and Diamond Resorts had bought the company. We were told we would have to convert to Diamond Resorts points or we could possibly be faced with having to pay part of Club Navigo's debit because we were deed holders. We were pressured to purchase points above and beyond what our deeded timeshare was worth. We sign a contract owing more money even though our week for Liki Tiki's deed was paid off, but it didn't convert to the equivalent of the Silver membership for Diamond Resorts. The new contract was in the amount of $21,330 plus we had to sign over our deed to Diamond Resorts. Then in October of 2016, Diamond contacted us to come to a meeting at a local hotel for dinner and to update us on "What was new at Diamond". So on 10/29/2016, they talked with us about the benefits of upgrading to Gold or Platinum level. We kept saying no and they kept trying to figure out some way to sweeten the deal for us. The salesman ended up having another person come out to talk with us, who said he was an "analyst" and not a sells person, to try to close the deal with us. The analyst said he would waive the down payment on the contract if we would sign that night. This happened after 4+ hours of talking with them. We didn't realize that he didn't honor that deal with us, until we started getting credit card bills from Barclay card company, for the down payment of $6,500. Then we had to make monthly payments on the new credit card, in addition to the mortgage that we were also responsible for. On top of all this the yearly maintenance fees also increased to $5,400, due to a new level of membership (Gold). We ended up paying off everything in order to save on interest, we used most of our savings to do this in December 2016 in the amount of $47,305.05 which included the contract for the Silver points previously purchased in 2014 and the new contract for the Gold points in 2016. This year we took a long weekend in Daytona at a Diamond property, over the Memorial day weekend, to utilize some of our points. On 5/27/2019 we went to a meeting to see what we could do to get rid of our membership or to set up maintenance payments on a monthly payment plan since it is a hardship to pay it in a lump sum. We met with the sales manager Brandon Haynes, of the Hyatt Resort, who passed us off to one of their top salesman, Brad Lesley. The salesman asked about our experience with the timeshare. Mary told him about how frustrated we were because of how we had been conned into upgraded to Gold in 2016, as previously mention above. She told Brad that we'd really like to get rid of the timeshare. We expressed how difficult it is to make a large maintenance payment in December, because of our declining health and age (89 years old) along with us having to pay off the large mortgage on the Silver and Gold points, it has causing a financial hardship. Brad said he would do us a "favor" to make up for our bad experience with the last salesman and told us about the new point buyback program called the Redemption Program. However to be part of this program, we would need to be at a Platinum level and he would give us a temporary Platinum status so we would qualify. They offered us 5,000 points to bump us up to where we needed to be for that program. They ended up doing a bait and switch telling us that we qualified for 10,000 points, our daughter who was with us, asked if the cost was the same as the 5,000 points and the finance guy said it was. They said that George was approved for $11,000 to finance and Mary was approved for $12,000 to finance. How they explained the financing was very convoluted, we understood that we would have to put a portion of the amount on one financing for George and the remainder on the other financing for Mary, for a total of $13,000. We did not realize that was not correct, that it was a credit card with Barclay Card once again. We really didn't understand what we were signing up for and all together we signed a contract for $36,000. It went on two Diamond Resort credit cards, managed by Barclay, for a total down payment of $23,000 which we are making monthly payments on. Along with that we are making monthly auto withdrawn payments for $215.30 from our checking account for the remaining mortgage balance of $13,000, plus $750 in closing cost. In addition to all of that, our maintenance fees increased by $1,713. The whole process was very confusing to all of us including our daughter. When we signed the contract they took us to a different room away from our daughter and said that she could not be there when we signed. Later on that week Mary called and talked to Brandon Haynes asking if the total monthly payment of $215.30 was all we had to pay and he said yes, yet we have to also pay Barclay and still need to pay the $1,713 for the increased maintenance fees. During this meeting it was never mentioned that they have an exit program, the Transition program, for those who need to exit their timeshare. Nor, did they say that we had so many days to cancel the contract if we chose to do so. Approximately 2 weeks later we started getting the credit card statements and we attempted to call Regional Vice President of Sales, Tom Savinio, tom.savinio@diamondresorts.com, for assistance to void the contract since we felt we had been taken advantage of again. We reached his voicemail and left a message numerous times and he has yet to return our call. In July, we received a letter from Newton Transfer Group, who helps people exit their timeshare. Not knowing if this company might be a scam, we researched prior to meeting with them on Better Business Bureau and they have an A+ rating with a few complaints which were resolved. We signed a contract with them to help us exit the timeshare and paid them $21,491 that would cover the exit for the two contracts that were paid off and the attorney's fees for the last mortgage for $36,000. Today we found out that Diamond Resorts has filed a suit against Newton Transfer Group and DC Capital Law, LLP that these companies are scamming Diamond's members to help them exit their timeshares. We have no idea what to do or who to believe. How do we get our money back and timeshare exits? We are both veterans and are on a fixed income and had to charge the fee on a credit card for Newton Transfer Group/DC Capital Law, LLP. We thought we were doing the right thing by going this route but now we don't know. Is there any way your office can advise us on this matter or help us recoup our money from Diamond Resorts and Newton Transfer Group/DC Capital Law, LLP and exit these timeshares? We will send a separate complaint regarding the Newton Transfer Group/DC Capital Law, LLP.

I want to contact your consumer protection committee as to fraud in timeshare sales to elderly. I have been in contact with DBPR many times about Diamond Resorts and at first they agreed with me then talked to the Diamond attorney and agreed with them. I do believe I have evidence To charge a developer with a violation of the Act. Mr. Kasso said we must be able to prove that the sales agents deliberately and knowingly provided false and misleading information during the sales presentation. I do have that information but they keep closing my case and I want someone other than the DBPR to look into this. I am not a resident of Florida but come to Florida many times a year. I will be back in May this year and would like to meet with someone. Thank you Sheilah Brust

Also they require us to attend another 3-4 hour sales pitch EVERY time we go to a resort or cruise. They are also charging over $250 EVERY MONTH for maintenance fees. We have written letters and called them numerous times asking them to simply cancel the membership and stop charging us maintenance fees and they refuse. Questions/Comments:

In August of 2017, I was asked to attend another meeting despite the fact that I had made an upgrade just a month earlier. After being harassed about it, I agreed to go and was told it would take no longer than an hour. I was in this meeting for 6 hours. We tried to leave to get lunch, but instead they had lunch brought to us. My assigned person, Atabak Arjomand told me the reps a month earlier had messed up and I was paying "the full amount but only getting half the service". It didn't make sense to him, and he needed to rework my contract to give me full platinum benefits. I had a feeling my maintenance fees were going to be affected and I asked, but they were very vague and gave answers like "maybe they will be a little bit more" and "you can rent out your points to pay for any increases." He gave me his card and said if I had any problems or questions to call them. No one was ever available to help us. We kept saying no time after time, and he kept bringing person after person to our table to put more pressure on us. They had even kept us past the checkout time but they "pulled some strings" with housekeeping to allow us to stay later. I called Diamond upon returning home but they never answered the phone. Even now when I call, I get transferred from person to person and am left on hold for long periods of time. I used to make good money working as a RN. About $50 an hour, and was able to comfortably afford this. Lenford had retired from his job, but then I suffered a stroke on September 10, 2016 and have been out of work since because I do not have enough strength to perform my duties. Lenford has had to go back to work at 72 years old to try and help afford our living expenses. I have been in and out of the hospital a lot lately. I have submitted all of my financial and medical documents to Diamond, but they will not work with me to help me out of this. I never sought out this August 2017 upgrade, and I was most certainly pressured into it. I am so upset that they force people into these big purchases and then will do nothing to assist them when they need genuine help. I had many good years with Diamond, but as of late my opinion of this company has completely changed.

Questions/Comments:

We have reached out to this company directly to attempt to settle a dispute with them as they falsely advertised the benefits of buying and owning a time share. The company has switched names and has attempted to contact us for the maintenance fees, however they do not have any of our personal information, as they state they have had a name change from Alahambra to Diamond, which is why our information is unavailable. the Mortgage holder themselves with Lando has informed us this could be sold, though we have found our contract states otherwise. We were pressured into buying and feel completely manipulated as they took our children to a play room for an hour. They brought them back exhausted and cranky where we were then pressured into buying this after declining the offers multiple times without our children present. We were also informed the unit could be rented out by another party, for Daytona week, however found that to be untrue in our contract as well. We were there as guests and made to feel that we would be unwelcomed on the premises if we did not sign a membership. We were also not informed of the itemized prices that come along with this though were required to pay a transfer fee, a maintenance fee, the mortgage, and the company RCI membership. This was not itemized out nor explained. We were also informed that the success rate of a Timeshare sale was incredibly high and that once people own and use their time shares they do not ever want to get out. We did get ours from a foreclosure, when asked why they stated it was due to a death.

Questions/Comments:

Hello, I was given a timeshare a few years ago, connected to Amber Vacation Clubs. When it was given to me, the only cost was the quit claim deed. Diamond Resorts acquired Amber, and I don't recall approving any changes. In attempting to give away my time share, they are now going to charge me $250 for a non-family member, less if it is family. As an owner, I pay an annual fee and taxes. And now I have to pay them to give it away. Can they impose things arbitrarily. I have never seen a contract, as the timeshare was transferred to me through a quit claim deed. It is now a burden, and I have no recourse. Does Florida Law allow them to gouge me simply for wanting to give my timeshare away? It is a good timeshare, but could service someone else more than I. And Diamond is now charging me for selling what I own. Thank you, Rodney Kelley

Questions/Comments:

I attended a time share presentation at Diamond Resort Orlando location (7600 Mystic Dunes Lane, Celebration, Florida, 34747) Representative tried to make me sign up for example package that will cost a grand total of $4,508 with monthly payments of $173. I asked them if I sign up for the example package can I cancelled if I changed my mind at any time. The agent told me yes. However, he also stated that I won't be able to call or to cancel until 14 days from 07/11/2018 since it will take that long for my account to show in their computer system. I paid a down payment of $349. I gave him my credit card and bank information. A few minutes later he gave me a recipe. But I never signed for it. After a month I never heard back any one about this example package. As per agent they were going send me documentation and information on how to use time share. However, I never heard back from them, so I called them to cancel. They told me that I could not canceled since it was over 10 days since the day that I agree to purchase the example package. I told them that I was told something complete different when I was in Florida. I explained to them that the agent told me not to call to cancel or do anything until 14 days since my it will take that long to show in their computer system. Diamond Resort refused to accept my cancellation and I disputed with their collection department. I called my bank and explained the situation and they were able to get back my deposit and cancel any transaction from Diamonds. Diamond Financial department sent me a copy of the contract that I had never saw before and even the signature does not match my signature on driver license or any legal document that I use. They put my account in collection and reported me to the credit agency. My credit score was lowered by 100 point and is affecting in multiple ways. Please help me. I do not know what to do. I have not used their time share and I not planning to. I was just want cancel something that I was lie about and I never even sign up for. Thanks, Edwin Espino

Questions/Comments:

Diamond legal; I have reviewed the attached PDF concerning the Dollar amounts, offered for refund to us, for cancelling Contract number 17786436 for 7500 points made on Oct 16, 2018. In determining this Dollar amount refund Diamond includes: a down payment of $5,691, subsequent payments of $925.57 per month from Dec 2018 till May 2019 (last payment we made) which is equal to $6 * $925.57 = \5543.22 , additional annual Maintenance Fee assessments paid of $1284.38 which results in a total reimbursement of $12,528.80. Diamond then subtracts loan payments due on pre-existing loan number 27863687 executed on May 14, 2018 of $4232.58 bringing the total reimbursement to $8296.22, for cancellation of contract number 17786436 and reinstatement of loan number 27863687. We do have some questions on these dollar amounts you are using to determine our reimbursement. First, the down payment on our copy of the purchase agreement for these additional 7500 points now being cancelled was $5616 and not $5691 even though our credit card was charged $5691. However, there were additional charges to us on this 7500 point purchase agreement (line item 8) of $750 for Financed Closing Costs payable to Diamond. Also under Closing costs Item B. - "Closing Costs to You" (us), there is shown a charge of $825. We are assuming Diamond charged us an additional $75 on top of the $750 (line item 8) to get to $825. Now Diamond is refunding us the additional $75 cost we incurred in our down payment of $5,691, but what about the $750 financed closing cost for this contract that is being cancelled. We did originally pay $750 in Financed Closing Costs to Diamond on the previous contract we made in May 2018, and now it looks like we paid a second $750 in Financed Closing Costs for this contract to be cancelled that we are not being reimbursed. You are refunding the extra $75 of the $825 Closing Cost to us but what about the other $750 Financed Closing Costs charged to us for the October, 2019 contract being cancelled. Finally you are charging us the old contract monthly payment of $384.78 for a total of 11 months for the period from December 2018 thru October 2019 for an amount of $11 * $384.78 = $4,232.58$. Why 11 months and not just 9 months thru August 2019? Why the extra 2 months (September and October) payments? Do you expect it to take 2 months to settle this cancellation? We are willing to accept this early 2 month payment charge if it means we will have no more payments due till November of 2019 and the subsequent monthly charges will remain at $384.78 till the end of the loan. We would like to know the remaining outstanding balance on loan number 27863687 after making the $4,232.58 payment and subtraction from that loan. We would also like to know the remaining number of payments of $384.78 we will have, i.e. when does that loan complete (month and year)? We would also like to know the Maintenance Fee's we will incur on our remaining Diamond points, after cancellation of these 7500 points. If you can clarify these items for us, we will sign the MRA cancellation agreement, notarize it, and mail it out as specified. As a final note, to expedite matters, we would consider applying the refund you are offering to partially payoff the existing loan number 27863687 - if this is possible (can Diamond do this?). We would like to know what would be the remaining balance on loan number 27863687, if we did apply this refund to the loan. We also might consider paying that remaining balance off as well, to eliminate the loan completely. Our only obligation then would be yearly maintenance charges for our remaining Diamond points. Please use caution when opening any attachments or links within this e-mail.] Julia Russell; We were trying to call you to discuss several questions concerning the cancellation and refund specifics Diamond is considering for the 7500 points purchase, made in Virginia Beach VA on Oct. 16, 2018. From the October 16, 2018 Diamond purchase agreement, we have identified the following dollar amount charges: they include a purchase price of $37,438 for 7500 points, charges of $825 for closing costs (to us), and an estimated maintenance fee assessment of $1273. If you add up all these charges, they total $39, 536. This $39536 does not include the loan interest we already have paid, on these 7500 points, starting in December 2018 till now. We would also need a more exact dollar amount for the maintenance fees, we have paid this year for these additional 7500 points. We would also like to get credit (a refund) for the higher interest rate (15.312% vs 13.99%) we have been charged and paying on the older (May 2018) Scottsdale 8500 point purchase since December 2018. We also would like the new interest rate for the remaining loan balance, to be reduced to at least the interest rate (13.99%) we were paying on the original Scottsdale purchase of 8500 points. It is really, not a simple task to calculate these refund amounts, but we will wait for whatever documentation you will be providing us for this cancellation and refund. However, we would like you to consider some of the purchase price details we indicated above, when providing the final dollar amount paperwork for the cancellation and refund of this most recent 7500 point purchase. We are available for discussion on this subject by phone or you can just provide the cancellation dollar information and we will review it and comment on it. Our acceptance of this offer could be expedited, if we could talk directly to the Diamond people, involved in making these dollar determinations to enable us to better understand the dollar amount refund being offered, and the loan amount particulars for the remaining balance, before we make our decision on whether or not to accept this Diamond offer. Membership Owner: Robert Bruce Zornetzer 102 Saunton Links Williamsburg, Virginia 23188	Additional Owners: Sheila Klopping Zornetzer

This Mutual Release and Termination of Purchase and Security Agreement entered into between Diamond Resorts U.S. Collection Development, LLC ("Diamond"); Diamond Resorts U.S. Collection Members Association ("The Association"); and the above named Owner(s) (collectively, "Owner"), is effective upon the date of execution by all parties below.

Whereas, this Agreement is made as a compromise and settlement between Diamond, The Association and Owner for the complete and final termination of the Membership in Diamond Resorts U.S. Collection ("Membership") held by Owner under the previously-executed Diamond Resorts U.S. Collection Purchase and Security Agreement identified above as The Contract.

In consideration of the foregoing and the mutual covenants set forth herein, the parties agree as follows:

- (1) Owner releases all right, title, interest, and claim, in and to the Membership held in Owner's name, and the timeshare points ("Points") allocated thereto;

- (4) The Association releases Owner from liability for any unpaid annual and special assessment fees.
- (5) Within 30 days upon receipt of this Agreement executed by Owner, Diamond shall refund or cause to be refunded to the Owner the sum of $8,296.22 (the amount comprise of $5,691.00 representing the down payment paid on October 16, 2018; $5,553.42 for the total amount paid on loan number 27863720 plus; $1,284.38 for the annual assessments minus; $4,232.58 to be applied towards reinstated loan number 27863687 in order to bring loan current thru October 5, 2019). This amount will be refunded in the same manner(s) in which Owner originally tendered payment. For example, payment by credit card will result in the amount being refunded to the credit card used, and payment by check will be refunded by check.
- (6) Upon cancellation of Contract number 17786436; Diamond will reinstate loan number 27863687. Owner will continue to be responsible for the reinstated loan and the related contract number 17952657 based upon the original terms and conditions included in the contract.

Owner acknowledges that by execution of this Agreement all of Owner's use rights at the Diamond Resorts U.S. Collection properties, including reservations with third party exchange companies, will be immediately terminated.

Except as necessary to enforce this Agreement, each party to this Agreement releases each of the others, as well as their respective heirs, successors, assigns, predecessors, affiliates, subsidiaries, parent and sister companies, directors, officers, shareholders, employees, and agents from any and all claims, demands, costs, contracts, liabilities, objections, grievances, complaints, actions and causes of action of every type, nature and description, whether in law or in equity, known or unknown, suspected or unsuspected, which the party ever had, or now has, against the other. Owner hereby explicitly waives California Civil Code Section 1542, or similar laws of other jurisdictions, which Section 1542 provides as follows, "A GENERAL RELEASE DOES NOT EXTEND TO CLAIMS WHICH THE CREDITOR DOES NOT KNOW OR SUSPECT TO EXIST IN HIS FAVOR AT THE TIME OF EXECUTING THIS RELEASE, WHICH IF KNOWN BY HIM, MUST HAVE MATERIALLY AFFECTED HIS SETTLEMENT WITH THE DEBTOR."

Each of the parties represents and warrants to each other party that such has the full power and authority to execute, deliver, and perform its obligations under this Agreement, and each individual signing this Agreement represents and warrants that he/she is fully empowered and authorized to do so.

The warranties and representations made herein shall be binding upon the respective heirs, trustees, executors, administrators, representatives, successors and assigns of each of the parties. Owner agrees to keep the terms of this Agreement strictly confidential from the date of its execution, and not to disclose its existence or contents to any person not a party hereto without the written consent of the Association and Diamond. Notwithstanding the foregoing sentence, either party may disclose the terms of this agreement to a legal and/or tax professional for purposes of seeking legal and/or tax advice in regards to that party's rights and obligations pursuant to this MRA.

Owner agrees not to make any statements, written or verbal, or cause or encourage others to make any statements, written or verbal, that defame, disparage, or in any way criticize the personal or business reputation, practices or conduct of Diamond or Association, their respective parent entities, sister entities and/or subsidiaries, and their respective employees, directors, and/or officers. Owner acknowledges and agrees that this prohibition extends to statements, written or verbal, made to anyone in any format whatsoever, including but not limited to those made via social media, bulletin board services, blogs, email, physical mail, or any other method to the news media, investors, potential investors, any board of directors or advisory board or individual directors, industry analysts, competitors, strategic partners, vendors, employees (past and present) and clients (past and present) or potential clients.

This Agreement is governed by, and shall be construed in accordance with, the laws of the State of Nevada. The parties irrevocably consent to the jurisdiction of the courts located within the County of Clark, State of Nevada, and it shall be the sole forum for the resolution of any disputes thereof.

Owner acknowledges that this Mutual Release and Termination of Purchase and Security Agreement shall not be deemed effective unless it is executed by all owners of record on the Membership. This Agreement may be executed in counterparts, each of which shall be deemed an original, but all of which together shall constitute the entire Agreement. An electronic signature, or a copy of a signature, shall have the same force and effect as an original signature.

The parties hereto warrant and represent that no promise or inducement has been offered or made for this Agreement except as herein set forth, that this Agreement is executed freely without reliance on any statements or any representations not contained herein, and that this Agreement reflects the entire agreement among the parties.

Since I live in Miami, I was able to return to the resort 2x after I purchased the timeshare plan. I have documented my many correspondence to Diamond Resorts thoroughly describing the many misrepresentative information I received from these sales reps that appear to be coordinated to mislead buyers.

We made a final payment on our mortgage and have proof of cashed checks. This company reported to our credit bureau that we were late which is false. We even have proof that their booking keeping is inaccurate because they even sent us a check for over payment on our account with the wrong last name. I had to resend the check so they can issue it with my correct last name. Also a representative even stated that after we made our last mortgage payment that we would receive the right to deed document which we still have not received. We have even contacted Experian (credit bureau) and provided them with our supporting documents which they still don't want to remove this false negative report from Diamond Resorts. I had great credit until this company ruined it without a legitimate reason. I feel attacked and they're using this tactic to their advantage because I want to give them back their timeshare. I've never used this so called investment and my maintenance fees have doubled. Bottom line I've been lied to with their high pressure tactics and I don't want nothing to do with this fraudulent company.

Questions/Comments:

I originally signed with Orange Lake Resorts in November 22nd of 2016. We went to a presentation of around 90 minutes or so and we listened to two highly trained salesmen tell us about this timeshare and used high pressure tactics. They never mentioned that the fees would increase to be so high. They only tell you what they want to hear and once we wanted to leave, he brought in his boss and he continued to pressure us. We had to sign that same day and we did not have time to think about this very important financial decision. The salespeople really don't tell you much before signing, they briefly go over the points from the contract that benefit them instead of giving us the time to read everything in order to fully understand the terms we were signing. I have been trying to get in contact with Orange Lake Resorts regarding my account for several months and I have not received any type of resolution to my issue. I have previously stated that both my wife and I are retired, and we are on a fixed income which makes it very difficult to continue to pay the money that this company is asking for. I have asked for any type of assistance including a mutual release and they have not been able to assist me further. All this company cares about is the money since they continue to send me bill statements knowing the situation that I am in. I am extremely disappointed in this company and I would like a resolution to my complaints immediately. I have been nothing but amicable during this process and I hope that Orange Lake Resorts will take my situation into strong consideration when formulating a response as I am eager to get this taken care of as soon as possible.

Questions/Comments:

We have reached out to Diamond to resolve a matter that we have with their sales staff and they have been unresponsive. It took us months to talk to someone and they ended up being in the financial services department. We were lied to during the meeting and it has cost my family a considerable amount of money. We are asking for your help is canceling our contracts and getting us back the amount of the deposit and loan amounts that we have paid to Diamond. We have researched the company and have found hundreds of complaints about sales and how they treat owners and coercing them to upgrade each time they visit. This is not a company that we wish to deal with and we were lied to during our visit. They took a whole day away from my kids as they sat in the room waiting for us. We didn't need the points and they filled our head with lies to make us believe that this was the best option for my family. We both work long hours and work very hard for our money. This company will not get another dime of it. We are asking for your help in getting our money back and having them cancel our contracts. Let us know if you have any questions.

Questions/Comments:

We were contacted by Exchange Points Club, disguising their company as Diamond International (the TimeShare I am a member of). The Exchange Points representative played the role of a Diamond Resort Representative offering a new program that pays members for unused points/weeks. We were told if we paid $3995.00, the company would sell our remaining units (10) at $1400, per week, guaranteeing us $14,000. We were to receive a check for this amount on 1/22/19. The company has not sent us a payment, nor are they responding to phone calls. I filed a complaint with the BBB, and that has been the only way to get a response from the company. I have been refused a refund, and not paid for the units I signed over. Nor have I been able to pay maintenance fees of my timeshare which were part of the contract. I am attaching a copy of the contract, as well as communication (email) with a Points Exchange manager, who has asked to remain anonymous; however, I am more than comfortable providing his name and email address as additional evidence. My goal is to 1) be refunded the $3995.00 and 2) for this company to be closed for fraudulent business practices. The owner also has a number of other companies that may also be fraudulent.

Sales representatives used false and misleading information into the inducement of purchasing points. Was told 30,000 points could be redeemed or transferred for $9,000 to cover entire years maintenance fees as well money left over to vacation. They have also added my friend who was with me at the time to my account as a responsible party when he never signed any documents with them. Was not provided the "full" closing documents until near 2 months after sale and was never instructed as to the 10 day rescission period. Full amount of sale as $75,900 which does not render their services as described.

Diamond received the contract cancellation on Oct 18, 2019, and we have not received our refund, which was due Nov 7th. We have called Diamond Financial services multiple times with different answers each time. We were told the refund was sent to First American Title on 10/31 and it would take 5 to 10 business days to receive the refund. Then we were told we would have it by the 7th. Today they still do not know where the refund is or how long it will take to get it to us. We just want our refund and no one seems to know where it is, or how long it will take to get it to us. Our contract said they had 20 days to return the money, but they have not honored that.

The purchase price was $29,100 on the original purchase and security agreement and only shows my down payment of $4,365. There should also be a $3,995 credit on line 3, but it is blank. On another copy of the purchase agreement the purchase price lists $33,095 on line 1, $3,995 on line 2, and $4,365 on line 4. Line 3 (adjusted purchase price) has $29,100 entered. There are a few more issues to explain, but this seemed most important.

Questions/Comments:

We have paid by credit card and mortgage and even took out a personal loan to pay for this. In December 2017 we attended a meeting at Mystic Dunes during which the salesmen told us our maintenance fees were going up and that if we didn't act and purchase a different plan that our children would be liable for any debts should anything happen to us! This tactic worked at the time but on reflection, it was a clear use of fear tactics and lies used in order to pressure us into making a decision on the spot. We came to find out that this was just the start of unscrupulous and deliberately misleading sales pitches. We attended another meeting in March 2018 where the sales reps again used high pressure sales tactics, this time trying to get us to buy more points; however we declined the offer as we were still paying off the previous points. The next meeting in September 2018 was the tipping point. At our breakfast meeting with Mr. Mathew Mitsis, he presented us with a "life-changing opportunity" which would see our "investment" in the Hawaii collection show returns within 3-5 years. Mathew told us that his points allowed him to live well in Maui and that he would help us use ours in a similar fashion. This meeting went well past lunchtime, and we were drained and worn down from the whole experience. But we were looking forward to the extra income gained from being able to rent out our newly acquired points. We were palmed off onto another company (Island rentals and real estate) and a different representative (Sarah Corbett Raunch) who has been in contact but unable to rent out our points at the returns promised. Mathew has since disappeared and we have been left feeling utterly let down, lied to, and taken advantage of, which we were. These extra costs are something that we cannot afford and would not have purchased were it not for the lies told by the salesperson. From the get-go the sales teams have used the transfer of our timeshare from Tempus to Diamond Resort to confuse us and change our deal to a more expensive one. They made a whole host of empty promises and told outright lies; those above are only the tip of the iceberg. They duped us into taking out an $11,000 credit card that we did not desire. It is because of this that we can no longer trust the company with our money and wish to sever our contracts on these grounds. We find they treat us, the customers - not as people - but as something to be used and bled dry. The whole process has been demeaning and dehumanizing.

DESCRIPTION In September 2010 I traveled to Orlando, FL. motivated by the supposedly "prize" that I had "won" in a radio advertisement that gifted a stay of 4 days and 3 nights with a free entry ticket to a Disney Park or Theme Park to those who gave the correct response to their question. In the process of claiming the prize I was told about the condition or requirement of first attending an Orlando meeting after which I would be given free entry to the Park of my choice. The reunion finished with a talk, a presentation, which was delivered in Spanish. They talked about vacations, of places, having different points which each property held in order to use it, of buying vacation properties of which I would be the owner for a week at a specific place and date "without cost" for me to incur and I could benefit by lending to other individuals this particular property or any other that I would have rights to without fee or at lower fee, depending on the acquired points and I could charge an amount that I would determine as rent (which would be very convenient because it would provide income allow me to pay my monthly fee and extra money for myself. Even though everything appeared very attractive it was all new to me and I did not feel safe but there was not much time for clarifications because there was an overload of information, they had taken extensive time during the process, around 5 hours and I was exhausted. At first, I wanted to find a consulting group and when I asked for additional time to think about it they told me that they were giving me the very special offer of the day and at any moment it would change and then I would lose a good opportunity. I felt pressured to make a decision at that moment, even though I was feeling insecure. They took me to the person who was going to explain the contract to me, [who spoke only english and the contract was also written in English]. My English is very poor. I understand very little and hardly speak it. The man who gave the presentation in Spanish was present to translate for me but I do not understand contract terms or legalities. Under these described conditions, I signed the contract. The monthly payments I made from direct debits to my checkbook account. For this reason I have been making payments on time during the first 3 years. For maintenance I sent one payment at the beginning of each year corresponding to years 2011 to 2013. In spite of this, I never used my timeshare. Those times that I requested, 6 months in advance, to use my points for another date and location they told me there was nothing available. In one occasion, I requested my week for exchange on Interval, but I did not use this one either. In 2014, I started having financial and health problems. My mother was also having health problems and my father died. Since I was living with them during that time, I could no longer afford to pay the maintenance fee. My only employment was part-time. I send letters to Diamond Resorts via e-mail and certified mail explaining my situation that I was incapable of continuing payments to the timeshare. Note that I have never used it. I requested cancellation of contract and I was denied. I decided with my bank (First Bank) to discontinue direct payments to the timeshare company. I have received emails and letters from the credit agency Equiant Financial Services. I enclose such letter. I also have received by regular mail letters of maintenance fees with the amount of actual debt. I do not have them available at the moment, but I can obtain them and send them in the near future. This has negatively affected my credit and this negative report from the Company impeded the purchase of a house July 2017. Before I stopped making payments, in 2 occasions I tried to sell it through companies that offers services of resale of timeshares which I had to pay high fees but it was not sold. These are: - Direct Media Group on 8/28/2013

I paid approx. $800 (do not remember exact amount) - Sell My Timeshare on 1/21/2014
I paid $998 I understand that the sale of timeshares in Florida before their construction; use of contracts in the English language to people who speak Spanish and for many other reasons, these contracts are illegal. For this reason, I appreciate, in advance, your assistance in helping me get rid of this such a heavy load. I hope for your prompt help to be able to end this nightmare. Thanks,

 - En atraso, sin pagar desde 2014-2017 (4 años): $4,058.03 con los recargos

e intereses. DESCRIPCION En septiembre 2010 viajé a Orlando, Florida motivada por un supuesto "premio" que me había 'ganado' en una promoción radial que regalaban una estadía de 4 días y 3 noches con entrada gratis a un parque de Disney o Parque Temático, al que diera la respuesta correcta a una pregunta que habían hecho. En el proceso de reclamar el premio me indicaron sobre la condición o requisito de asistir primero a una reunión en Orlando, luego de la cual me entregarían las entradas gratis al Parque que yo eligiera. La reunión termino por ser una charla o presentación, la cual me dieron en español. Me hablaron de vacaciones, de lugares, de unas cantidades de puntos de los cuales dependía cual propiedad pudiera usar, de comprar propiedades vacacionales en las que yo sería dueña de una semana en un lugar y fecha específicos, "sin costo" para mí y pudiera obtener ganancias prestándoles a otras personas esa propiedad o alguna otra a la que yo tuviera derecho sin costo o a bajo costo, según la cantidad de puntos que yo tuviera, y les cobraría la cantidad que yo determinara, como una especie de alquiler, [lo cual sería muy conveniente porque me generaría ganancias con la cual cubriría el pago mensual y tendría dinero para mí]. Aunque todo parecía muy atractivo era algo nuevo para mí y no me sentía segura, pero no había mucho tiempo para aclaraciones porque era mucha información, se habían tomado mucho tiempo en todo el proceso, alrededor de 5 horas y ya yo estaba agotada. Quería buscar primero alguna consultoría y cuando pedí que me dieran tiempo para pensarlo me dijeron que me estaban dando una oferta muy especial que había ese día y que en cualquier momento ésta cambiaba y entonces yo perdería tan buena oportunidad. Me sentí presionada a tomar una decisión en ese momento, aunque me sentía insegura. Me llevaron con la persona que me iba a explicar el contrato, [la cual solo hablaba inglés y el contrato también está escrito en inglés]. Mi inglés es muy malo, entiendo poco y casi no lo hablo. El que me había dado la presentación en español estaba presente para traducirme, pero yo no entiendo los términos del contrato ni legales. Estando en las condiciones descritas anteriormente firmé el contrato. Los pagos mensuales los realizaba a través de débito directo de mi cuenta de cheques, por lo cual siempre estaba al día con los pagos durante los primeros 3 años y para el mantenimiento enviaba en un solo pago a principios de año la totalidad correspondiente a cada año del 2011 al 2013. A pesar de esto nunca utilicé mi Time Share. Las veces que solicité con 6 meses de anticipación para utilizar mis puntos en otra fecha y lugar [me indicaban que no había nada disponible]. En una ocasión pedí mi semana para intercambio en Interval pero tampoco ésta la usé. En 2014 comencé a tener problemas económicos y con mi salud y la salud de mi madre y el fallecimiento de mi padre, con quienes vivía en aquel momento, y ya no pude pagar más el mantenimiento. Mi único empleo es a tiempo parcial. Envié a Diamond Resorts cartas por email y correo certificado explicando mi situación que me incapacitaba para continuar pagando el Time Share, que además jamás lo había utilizado y solicité la cancelación del contrato, lo cual me negaron. Hice gestiones en mi Banco (First Bank) para no autorizar más el cobro directo por parte de la compañía del Time Share. He recibido emails y cartas de cobro de la agencia de cobros Equiant Financial Services. Aquí le envío la carta adjunta. También he recibido por correo postal cartas de cobro del mantenimiento con el monto de la deuda actualizada. No las tengo accesibles en este momento, pero puedo conseguir las y enviarlas más adelante. Esto me ha afectado negativamente en mi informe de crédito y el reporte negativo de esa compañía impidió que yo pudiera comprar una casa en julio 2017. Antes de dejar de pagarlo, en 2 ocasiones intenté venderlo a través de compañías que dicen dedicarse a revender los Time Share y los que tuve que pagar precios altos y ninguna lo vendió. Estas son: - Direct Media Group en 8/28/2013

Pagué aprox. $800 (no recuerdo exactamente) - Sell My Time Share en 1/21/2014

Tengo entendido que, por venderse los Time Share en Florida, antes de ser construidos; por utilizar contratos en idioma inglés a personas de habla español, y por muchas razones más, estos contratos son ilegales, por lo que le agradeceré su ayuda para poder librarme de esta carga tan pesada. Gracias,

We are looking to be released from our timeshare and it's financial hardships it has caused us. We are retired and on a fixed income. We are just asking Diamond to help us out and to look at our needs. Since we are a fixed income paying for fees with no end in sight is just not plausible. We have tried several times to be released and have talked to a representative who seemed uninterested in our situations and informed us that we had to supply proof of trying to get out and they might deem it enough to get out. They had also told me I could try to sell it. Neither of these options have gotten me anywhere. We are just tired of this run around and don't think its right to make us pay for this stress and financial burden any longer. We are retired, and do not want to continue to be exhausted by this any longer.

We had reservations for 08/30 and 08/31. Confirmation number is 8070927356179. The Governor declared a State of Emergency. Orlando is in the projected path of the hurricane. News is there is a shortage of fuel and water in the Orland area and likely to get worse as the hurricane approaches. I canceled my reservation. One of our party members is 74 years old, a diabetic on dialysis with heart disease. He is treated by physicians in Tallahassee. We feared traveling to Orlando and being stranded with no fuel. The hotel said we booked a nonrefundable reservation and they have a strict policy...no refunds. I am not 60 years of age or older; however, as I stated, one of the individuals who was going with me is 74 years old.

Arizona Attorney General Mark Brnovich re CLARITY nationwide program Understand the deception we experienced perpetrated by Brad Leslie at Daytona Beach Regency. ARDA has a Code of Ethics that has clearly been violated at a sales presentation at Daytona Beach Regency December 27, 2018. We have connected with three other Diamond members who experienced the same level of deceit. Two have retained attorneys yet Diamond ignores the actions of this sales agent. Proof is highlighted below in red. We had been happy Platinum members. If this deception is not rectified, we will be another Platinum Diamond member disappointed to learn that Diamond encourages sales agents to deceive. I spoke to Sheilah Brust. Diamond responded to Sheilah stating that the company understands Brad Leslie's explanation was confusing, but not illegal. She was told that Diamond changed the way the program was presented, but here more than a year later Brad Leslie, in cooperation with his VP, continues unchecked. What happened to us also happened to the army veterans protesting outside Daytona Beach Regency. We know beyond any doubt Diamond sales agent Brad Leslie presented a Diamond program to pay maintenance fees at $.30 per point, a program that does not exist. Attached is an email (Labeled: #1 - Concerns About Diamond Purchase) we sent during the rescission period in which we asked Brad Leslie about the $.30 per point to redeem for cash to pay maintenance fees. Like the others, we were already aware of the legitimate 30/30 Luxury Program. We have never used the 30/30 program, as we never considered use of the Barclaycard, Luxury Program, and Travel Program a good value. As longstanding Platinum members, we know how to use our points and these programs. We told Brad Leslie we were not interested in the Luxury Program when he wrote it on the paper attached. We attach a copy of Brad Leslie's illustration (Labeled: #2 - Presentation Illustration). He listed on his sheet various Diamond benefits. We told Brad that we did not need or want the benefits presented. We travel approximately 4 months per year with points and don't need additional points. After we said repeatedly we were not interested in the Luxury Program, Brad asked if we would like to redeem unused points to pay maintenance fees. Of course we said yes. He said that we could redeem unused points anytime during the year at .30/point for cash value. At no time, when he explained this benefit, did he mention the Luxury

Program. He asked us about the $.30 per point to pay maintenance fees AFTER he had written Luxury Program on his attached illustration, and after we declined those benefits. Attached is what Brad proposed (referring to the illustration), 42,000 represents the points we would own if we purchased an additional 10,000 points. We use 16,000 points a year as indicated. The remaining 26,000 points x $.30 per point = $7,800. If Brad were demonstrating the 30/30 Luxury Program, you would not get cash back. The points would reduce the cost of the Luxury package. In order to demonstrate clearly the 30/30 program, you would have to use the example in The Club Member Directory - Section 13.1.2, using the numbers in Brad's presentation as shown below: Luxury Package - Cost $26,000 for two people Pay for up to 30% of this package with our points = $$26,000 \times 30\% = $7,800$, so subtracting this from the total cost means your cash purchase is now $$26,000 - $7,800 = $18,200$. $7,800 divided by $.30 per point = 26,000 points used. This package can be booked for $18,200 plus 26,000 points. There is no cash back. The annual maintenance fees that will be paid on 26,000 points is $4,940 (Our total MF on 40,500 points is $7335/year approximately @ .19/point). In summary, you would be spending over $23,000 with no way to pay maintenance fees or any other expenses we had at $.30 per point as Brad told us. Bob specifically asked Brad if there was a cost associated with this program and he said no. We do not believe this is a cost-effective way to use our points or our money. For 26,000 points based on the 3000 per week upgraded Value Getaway website that Brad told us we would be getting is 9 weeks of vacation. We could have saved the $34,340 we spent on these 8500 points and the added yearly maintenance fees of $1510/year on these points to book a "Luxury" vacation on our own every year. Again, we NEVER would have bought points based on the Luxury Program. As an additional benefit, Brad said we would be getting a "special" updated Valued Getaways website that would mirror the "Book with Simple Search" website, in that all weeks could be booked at 3,000 points if we bought the additional points that day. There is no new website in regard to Value Getaways mirroring Simple Search. He gave us the scenario describing it as, "a great benefit to have as you get older and are unable to travel due to illness or just don't want to be away from home as much. You will be able to cover your maintenance fees and still travel." This was because we would have even more points to redeem at $.30 per point. As for the "Valued Getaways", we told Brad that we never find anything in the valued getaways other than efficiencies which do not work for us. He told us, if we bought and didn't see what we were looking for on the Simple Search, or on Valued Getaways, just call him and he would make sure we got the week for the 3000 pts. We gave him the example, "If we see the penthouse here at Daytona for 10,000 points, and it is not on valued getaways, we can call you and you'll get it for us for 3000 points?" His reply, "Yes, Diamond pays me good money to help you get the most from your ownership." He told us not to look at the website for a few months as it would take that long to be rebuilt and would not look right. He told Sheila Brust in 2017 that it would take a few months and she should not look at the website. This obviously was meant to avoid the contract rescission period. We asked if we could think about it and get back to him later that day or the next day and he told us no, we had to buy right now to take advantage of these "New" benefits. After we signed the contract, we read it again. We realized that these programs were not mentioned in the contract. Brad said the website was being rebuilt. We called Brad and told him we were going to cancel and sent the email attached (Labeled: #1 - Concerns About Diamond Purchase) with our concerns. He came to our room to clear it up. He told us that Diamond doesn't advertise the $.30/point cash redemption program because they do not want members turning it into a "business" so Diamond could not put it in the contract. We were leery but trusted Brad was telling the truth. He mentioned a pending lawsuit as one of the reasons it could not be in the contract. We did not cancel. We believed him. As Platinum members, we never experienced any deceit of this magnitude. The cost for 8500 points at $4.04/point was $34,340. This contract needs to be cancelled. We did not learn until April 11, 2019 that Brad lied. We had been trying to redeem some points for cash since February 8, 2019 (email attached #3 - Redeem Points Email). Brad would call back saying that the system wasn't ready for redeeming points yet. The last call he pushed it out until November. We were so upset that Cathy sent him an email on April 11th asking him what the delay was. She stated that we wanted to use the money from the cash redemption to pay off our BARCLAY card that we used for some of the down payment. The two cards had 6 months free interest which expired in July and had an obscenely high interest rate. Brad called us in response to the April 11 email. He told us we could redeem points on-line under the "My Benefits" section, Money Matters, Fee Payments. He said points could be redeemed at $04 per point to pay maintenance fees. We asked what he was talking about because of the extensive explanation he had provided of the $.30 to pay maintenance fees or other uses of points at $.30 per point. We saw this redemption value at $.04 per point when we signed the contract, but Brad said the $.30 per point was a new benefit that would not be in the contract. There were two of us at this presentation. We clearly heard Brad say we could pay maintenance fees as well as use it for any other expenses we had at $.30 per point. On the phone call we said to Brad, "So you are telling us you sold us the "Luxury Program" (which we already knew and told him we did not like). The Valued Getaways program has not changed. It is still the same less desirable vacations with the majority being efficiencies. We spoke recently and repeatedly with Jason Abdela | Vice President of Sales Daytona Beach and The Cove on Ormond | DRI Daytona Beach Resort and twice with Tony Williams, | Area Quality Assurance Manager | DRI Grand Beach Resort. Jason Abdela offered to give us weeks for 3000 points for Valued Getaways for a period of time, but the major selling point was the maintenance fee redemption at $.30 per point. Again, Brad said they would adjust our Valued Getaways to mirror Simple Search to give us 3,000 points for all bookings, no matter what was on the Simple Search. Brad assured us that if we found any week on Simple Search, because of buying the additional points from him, today only, we could have any week available for 3,000 points. Jason had said he would make sure our dashboard would be adjusted for previous bookings. He would arrange the bookings for 3,000 points, and refund the difference in points actually used. Jason said that from this point on, he would book the vacations that needed adjusting. We purchased on December 27, 2018. Attached is a January 2, 2019 email (Labeled: #1 - Concerns About Diamond Purchase) sent to Brad, within the rescission period, mentioning the $.30 per point. We clearly understood the legitimate 30/30 program when we sent the email. Jason also told us he would pay our 1st year's maintenance fees on these points. After we spoke with Jason repeatedly, on a conference call May 24, 2019 with Jason and Tony, the QA agent, they said they are unable to do anything because we signed the contract. Tony told us that we should have contacted Donnie, our closing QA agent with our concerns and Donnie would have clarified that we were being sold benefits we already have. We then asked Tony and Jason, why didn't Brad tell us we needed to speak to Donnie about our concerns instead of saying we could talk to either of them? When Brad had taken us to the contract signing room, he told us that either he or Donnie were there to answer any questions. That was why we called Brad and sent the attached email to Brad. Jason and Tony had a bit of a disagreement on this on the conference call. Jason said either Brad or Donnie would be the one to contact about concerns. Tony did not reply when Jason asked him if he agreed. We should have never been told we could address our concerns with Brad or Donnie as obviously, we know beyond a doubt Brad lied to us. We deposited 29,000 points through Club Combination this year. The email noting 20,000 points is what we had planned to redeem @$0.30 per point. We have currently made reservations this year for 5 weeks, at a total of 42,995 points. These reservations are for years 2019 and 2020. Jason had said that he would reimburse the difference of actual points used and 3000 points per each week. This reimbursement would be 27,995 points. That number of points x $.30 per point is $8,398.50. We have discovered Diamond's Clarity Program promising respect for the customer and clear, concise, and transparent information. <https://www.diamondresorts.com/diamond-clarity> The cost for 8500 points at $4.04/point was $34,340. This contract needs to be cancelled. How could you ever promote such a program after reading this complaint and viewing Brad's illustration? We are sending this complaint as a courtesy before we seek to warn others. Cathy and Bob Boeck

Questions/Comments:

My brother passed away in January and left me his timeshare. We have sent the paperwork to the above mentioned company 3 times via email. We have called many times over the past two months to transfer title. Sometimes we are forced to leave a message which they state they will respond to within 24-48 hours. When we are lucky enough to get a human on the line, they say they will research it and get back to us within 24 hours. That NEVER happens. We will be losing out $1,500 fee with the resort as the title operations has not transferred title and does not respond to our numerous requests. I will be sending a letter to them via certified mail tomorrow. We cannot book with the resort until title has transferred and the resort has politely informed us that we are not the only ones having trouble with the title department. We need some help as the resort cannot get calls back from the title department either.

Questions/Comments:

April 7, 2019 DRI Sampler Department: RE: PLAN #178579085 On April 1, 2019 I had an update meeting with "Danny" at the Crescent Resort in Miami Beach. Danny made a number of offers, which I turned down. Subsequently a "developer's representative" came in and made the offer of a 20,000-point sampler for $3995. This individual said that the 20,000 points would be good indefinitely, that I could lock in the discounted point price that Danny had offered - 2500 points for $5.15 per point (see document included) - for 24 months and that the full $3995 would be credited to the price of the points if I decided to purchase during that time. I did question points in the contract that contradicted those statements but the "developer's representative" assured me that the 20,000 points were NOT limited to use within 24 months, that the full $3995 would be credited toward additional membership points purchase ANYTIME within the next 24 months. When I called the sampler department on returning home (April 6, 2019) the representative who I talked with said that the statements made by the "developer's representative" were in fact false and that the 20,000 points had to be used within 24 months, and that the $3995 was not able to be fully credited toward the purchase of additional membership points. This is all to say that the representative flat out LIED to me and falsely represented the terms of the contract. Admittedly, I should have believed the terms in the written contract but, unfortunately, took the word of the representative, which has now proven to be a lie. However, I was told that under Florida law I have 10 (ten) days to revoke the contract, which was confirmed by the person I spoke with in the Sampler Department on April 6. Therefore, I am exercising my right under Florida law to revoke Plan #178579085 (copy attached) and demand a full refund of the $3995 charged to my credit card. If you have any questions about this situation I can be reached on my cell phone at 716-316-0972. I will expect to see the full refund to my credit card account within the next ten days. David W. Questions/Comments:

At a presentation on Sept. 10, 2018 at Cypress Pointe, we had expressed concern about the increase in maintenance fees. Michael Minkoff told us he was not a member of the sales team but a salaried member of staff and there was no financial incentive for him. He offered us a redemption programme for which we had to upgrade from silver membership to gold membership to be eligible. We were told the redemption programme was only available until the end of September and that this would enable us to redeem our points to pay for maintenance fees, flights and concerts. We were also told that we would be able to sell any unused points to other members. We told Michael Minkoff that this would be helpful as I am 63 and my partner is 72 years old and we have both been diagnosed with cancer in the last two years. We upgraded to gold level having been told that we would receive a pack about the redemption programme within 45 days. In the days after the six hour presentation we read the contract and noted that there was no mention of any programmes or being able to redeem our points. We drew up a notice of cancellation and faxed this to DRI Financial Services in Las Vegas on Sept 17. The next morning Michael Minkoff phoned our apartment asking why we had cancelled when we needed help with maintenance fees. He came to our apartment and explained the programme again. He told us that the contract we had been given was standard format as the programmes were not always available. He answered all our questions and said that we could re-instate the Agreement by sending him an e-mail which I did there and then. The next morning I went to see him alone as my partner was unwell. I said that I was concerned about investing such a large amount of money when something could happen to me or my partner. Michael Minkoff told me that we could sell the points as there was a waiting list and he personally would help with this. He then asked me to put the request to re-instate the Agreement in writing and gave me a sheet of paper. I asked if my partner should be signing this and he told me to sign on my partner's behalf. On returning to the UK we awaited the pack but it never arrived. Michael Minkoff stopped replying to our emails and did not return our voice mail messages as we became more and more desperate to find out what was going on. I e-mailed a complaint to DRI Customer Services and was told there was no such programme and that Michael Minkoff was the Sales Manager. I was also told that DRI did not sell points for members. An internal inquiry took place and our claim was denied. As a goodwill gesture a maintenance fee credit was offered as a final resolution. We declined this saying that we had been the victims of consumer fraud and wanted the cost of the upgrade to be refunded. I then e-mailed the CEO who referred the matter to his upper sales leadership. This has not been satisfactory. I was told that there was no proof of the allegations and so the outcome remained the same. We have stressed during the investigations that we had nothing to gain by upgrading to gold level without the redemption programme offered to us. The maintenance fees (which was our initial concern) have now increased further and we have used all our savings. This situation is causing us considerable distress and anxiety. I have summarised these comments but have a full account available if required. A deposit of $10,300.00 was taken via credit card and debit card on the day, the balance of $41,950.00 was transferred to the DRI bank account at a later date. I would be most grateful for any assistance you can provide. Thank you for taking the time to read my comments.

Sheilah Brust age 69 Thomas Brust age 72 New York Platinum Member Number 9-256675 June 29, 2019 To: Michael Flaskey, CEO Diamond Hospitality Ashley Moody, Florida Attorney General Lee Anne Rounds Ahmed Kasoo Barclay's Bank Jason Gamel, ARDA President Apollo Global Management Center for Excellence on Elder Abuse, University of California Irvine Representative Katie Porter, Financial Services Committee <http://www.centeronelderabuse.org/veterans.asp> Greg Crist, AVO Brad Leslie Jason Abdula Since our experience, other Diamond members have been deceived by Brad Leslie and his manager Jason Abdula at The Cove in Ormond Beach and Daytona Beach Regency. At a Wyndham presentation near Daytona Beach Regency, my sales agent told me Brad Leslie no longer works at Wyndham because of "issues" serious enough he no longer works there. Attached are documents supporting why my husband and I, and a number of Platinum members, Diamond's most loyal members, feel targeted and deliberately sold into insolvency so our points can be taken back and resold. I will be asking the University of California, Irvine, Center for Elder Abuse to review the documentation attached. A Wall Street journalist reviewed our documentation last year. He agreed we are a victim of deceit. Wyndham has expressed concern over their loan loss provision being over 20%. I'm sure Diamond's foreclosure rate is even higher. Everyone I have had review our report but Diamond and the Florida DBPR agrees the deceit is obvious as illustrated by Brad Leslie's written pencil pitch. One need look no further than $$8631 - $8631 = 0$. Florida timeshare sales agents know they can say anything to sell points. I listened to the Florida legislative workshop as it was broadcasted March 12 of this year. The Florida Attorney General's spokesperson even stated on record Florida DBPR will do nothing to stop sales agents who lie because they only acted on 42 out of 1600 complaints, and of the 42 acted upon, most were resale's. Families are being devastated while timeshare sales agents earn a million dollars plus annually and like Brad Leslie's manager Jason, drive a Maserati. As 50% of Florida's timeshare complaints are seniors, it a business called timeshare elder abuse. <https://www.floridatrend.com/article/25726/timeshare-tussle> ARDA has a Code of Ethics (<http://www.arda.org/ethics/>) was violated at our sales presentation at The Cove on Ormond Beach, Florida February 4, 2017. Two of the Platinum members who were deceived by Brad Leslie retained attorneys yet Diamond ignores the action of this sales agent. Proof is highlighted below in red. The majority of the 93 Platinum members who have gathered together to provide proof, show a clear pattern of deception. The majority of the 93 Platinum members had been happy with the company. It was because Diamond earned our trust, we were easier deceived. We had been Diamond owners since 1994. I spoke to Brandy Alexander from corporate in NV back in 2018. Her response to me was that the company understands Brad Leslie's explanation was confusing, but not illegal. We were told that Diamond changed the way the program was presented. Recent complaints prove that Diamond has not changed the way the program is presented. Furthermore, Brad Leslie avoided the rescission period and my complaints to him by saying in 2017, "Wait a few months because the new website is being built." Recent complaints he has said the same. This is proof this agent is deceptive. I have attached our response to Brandi (#1-Letter of Rebuttal Brandi Alexander-(4-22-18). We never received a response from Brandi but did receive a denial from VP Ruth Thomas. Others have contacted me with a very similar complaint and illustration, except for the specific travel related member benefit and amount of points, from Brad Leslie more than a year after my complaint was dismissed by Diamond. Brad Leslie, in cooperation with his VP Jason Abdela, continues unchecked. What happened to us also happened to the Army veterans protesting outside the Daytona Beach Regency. We know beyond any doubt Diamond sales agent Brad Leslie presented a Diamond program with double points to pay maintenance fees at $.10 per point, a program that does not exist. Diamond prides itself on its CLARITY promise of RESPECT for the customer and clear, concise, accountable and transparent information, so to have the company respond, "We agree this is confusing, but not illegal" is something that needs to be exposed. I have contacted a US Attorney who is interested in Elder Abuse. The program Brad described was not a program for use of the luxury program or travel services. Attached is an email (#6 - Mail to Brad 2-10-17 about Rescind), sent during the rescission period in which we told Brad we do not see the program working as he explained and we were going to rescind the contract. Like others, we were already aware of the legitimate 30/30 Luxury Program benefits. We were all aware of benefits we already had. We have never used the 30/30 program, as we never considered the use of the Luxury Program, a good value. We have used the Travel Program a few times when we were going to lose points. As a longstanding Platinum member, we know how to use our points and these programs. In Brad's answer to some of the complaints we have sent to different agencies, he said he had to teach us everything (#2 - Response from Diamond and Brad to DBPR). Looking at our use of points proves otherwise. Many times, during the rescission period, we asked him if we had 130,000 points and only used 30,000 points, we would then get a check or debit card for $10,000.00 and he said YES. We could use the money for whatever we wanted. Attached is what Brad proposed (#3 - Brad 150,000 - Illustration page 1), 75,000 represents the points we would own if we purchased an additional 25,000 points. Diamond would double to 150,000 points. We actually use 50,000 points a year as indicated. The remaining 100,000 left for point redemption x $.10 per point = $10,000.00 check reimbursement. In the illustration, page 2, (#4 -Brad 130,000 - Illustration Page 2) showing the one we purchased, 15,000 points to make us have 65,000 points, and Diamond would match the 65,000 points to give us double points of 130,000 points. Brad said out of the 130,000 points we had, if we used 50,000 to travel and that would leave 80,000 to receive $8,000.00 by check or debit card. We asked why Diamond would do this and Brad said they want you to "Stay Vacationed". Brad told us this was a brand-new program. He said he just returned from training in Orlando and this was a new program for Platinum level owners. We have been through three buyouts and each time there is always some changes, so with Apollo purchasing we wanted to know what was going to change with our membership. Brad's demonstration, based on his interpretation (#2 - Diamond and Brad response to DBPR), was to represent the Travel Services Benefit, which reimburses you $0.10 per point, up to 100% of the amount you spent on flights and travel services. It also showed "Double Usage", which Brad is saying this was using "Point Saver", which gives discounts of 50%, or using upgrades to book a larger unit for the cost of a smaller unit. Let's assume that you can reserve a week for 5000 points that normally would cost 10,000 points. Now reviewing Brad's demonstration, using an additional purchase of 25,000 points, the total points owned is 75,000 points. The maintenance fee for

50,000 points is $8,631. Magically, the "Total Usage Example" starts off with 150,000 points. You use 50,000 points during the year, which leaves you a balance of 100,000 points. Using the $0.10 per point from the Travel Service Benefit, you could get a redemption of $10,000, if you had purchased a flight or travel service for $10,000. The theory was to cancel the flight or travel service and keep the $10,000. Not sure if this is legal. Since doubling the points that you own is a benefit that doesn't exist, the only explanation for the starting point of 150,000 points, is that you actually use 75,000 points to get 150,000 points of value using the Point Saver. But I don't believe that Diamond would pay you $0.10 per point on the amount you save using Point Saver. Therefore, this demonstration does not seem to follow any of the benefits explained in the "The Club Member Directory". The demonstration should have started with 75,000 points, use 50,000 points, for a balance of 25,000 points. At $0.10 per point, this results in a redemption of $2,500, assuming you had spent $2,500 on flight or travel services and were able to cancel the reservations. Only $7,500 short of what was demonstrated by Brad, and $6,131 short of paying maintenance fees for 50,000 points. We NEVER would have bought points based on Travel Services Program or Luxury Program. We did not even find out until May 2017 (#5 - Text on first try to use Travel Services 5-9-17) that we had to use the Travel Services Program, make a reservation and then cancel it to get the money back and as shown above and does not work. Brad had told us we would have a split screen with our 50,000 points and Diamonds 65,000 points when the member's page was updated. (Diamond was in the process of building the new website) The 15,000 points we purchased would be in the background and he would take care of them. If we did not use the points, we would not pay maintenance fees on them. Before signing the contract, our QA person Kathy Fugate said, she hoped before we cancel this contract that we have Brad explain it to us again. She said this because the year before we were going to purchase 4,000 points from Judit at the Daytona Beach Regency, who also lied to us and tried to sell us more points because she said we needed to in order to protect our children when we die (Legacy Program). Before they finished printing the contract, we luckily, contacted someone who informed us this was false. We did not go through with this purchase. If QA was recording our signing, you should be able to hear Kathy Fugate saying this to us. Do you think that her statement conforms to Diamonds Clarity Program statement, "You will meet with a Quality Assurance representative before signing any purchase documents. The Quality Assurance team is independent of the sales organization, and their compensation is not tied to the sale of a vacation membership?" They are not and I have heard their compensation is, in at least one state, diminished if the contract falls through! We will be protesting again, and this year others have said that they will be joining us outside Florida DBPR this fall. Brad Leslie's illustration was not transparent nor did he clearly or concisely explain what he was selling. Not only did Brad mislead us but also Quality Assurance (QA) by making it seem he was the one to go to for straight answers. This clearly violates Diamond's Clarity Program promising respect for the customer and clear, concise, and transparent information. After signing the contract, we read it again, and, some of it didn't make sense to us and none of what he told us was written in the contract. I, Sheilah, was up most of the night trying to understand this new program. As, Kathy Fugate, the QA person who we have known for years and trusted, instructed us, "if we had questions on this contract, and before we canceled, to please contact Brad to have him go over it." We emailed Brad on 2-10-17 and told him we did not see this new program in the contract. This concerned us. We asked him to explain it again before the rescission period was over. Email attached (#6 - Mail to Brad 2-10-17 about Rescind). He did see us again and went over the program again. He told us

Diamond does not advertise the double points program to get $0.10/point check/debit card reimbursement to pay maintenance fees because Diamond does not want members turning it into a "business" so Diamond could not put it into the contract. We were leery but trusted Brad was telling the truth. We did not cancel, we believed him. As Platinum members, we have never before experienced deceit of this magnitude. Families are being financially ruined. We have had to forgo our retirement and get part time jobs to pay for the Diamond Loan, the Maintenance Fees and the $26,000 that Brad Leslie had put on two new Barclay credit cards. We have asked for copies of the applications that we filled out but all we received were applications that are all blacked out. They are attached (#7- Credit Card Applications from Diamond). We did not know Brad was opening two new credit cards until he came out of the office and said "Barclay loves you guys". We were very upset with this because (1st) the amount of down payment was never discussed, (2nd) we already had over $40,000 of open credit with Barclay, and (3rd) we know the only thing you get with putting the down payment on the Barclay credit card is 6 months free interest. We would have used a different credit card with much better benefits and interest rate. I am reporting this again to the Secret Service, as advised by the FBI and refilling this with IC3.gov given additional Diamond members have experienced the same deceit. I have attached other emails and text messages (#8 Emails to Brad and his comments), (#9 Mail to Brad with his answers), (#10 Per Phone Conversation with Brad 3-10-17), (#11 text to Brad on 15,000 pts. and 65,000 pts.), (#12 Not able to use our 65,000 pts. 2018 Text Brad). There were two of us at this presentation. We clearly heard Brad say we would receive double points so we could pay maintenance fees as well as use it for any other expenses we had at $.10 per point. The cost for 15,000 points at $3.7326/point was $55,989.00 . This contract

In no way does Brad's illustration conform to

promising respect for the customer and clear, concise, and transparent information. <https://www.diamondresorts.com/diamond-clarity> As Brad Leslie continues to deceive Diamond platinum members, and the program has not changed as we were told, we are resubmitting our request for cancellation of our contract. Another member reached out to me through Social Media because what happened to them sounded so similar to my experience. This explains why Diamond's foreclosure rate is so high. We are a small group of over 3200 Diamond members, so to have 93 of Diamond's most loyal level, feel like we do is something a company who cared would take seriously. We are

We spoke a while ago on our issues with Diamond Resorts and our complaint was also sent to this office because Barclay credit cards were opened. When you got back to me after you looked into this I believe you said someone at Diamond had requested an increase in our credit. I need clarification of that. I would also like a copies of the applications that were sent to you. All I have seen from Diamond is what I have attached. My husband and I have a lot of credit with your bank and still don't understand why new cards would have been opened for $26,000 when we already had open credit with you for around $40,000.00 and we only have a combined income of $60,000. We will have to pay the maintenance fee for the 15,000 points for a total of $2621.00, but you are having a check mailed to us for @2621.00 to offset the fee. This will happen every year as long as we do not use the 15,000 points. 2. The $12,000.00 on Tom's Diamond credit card and the $14,000.00 on Sheilah's Diamond card we will have to make the payment to the credit card company (Barclay). We understood that once we got home on March 7,2017 and activated our credit cards this amount would be added to our Diamond mortgage. When we questioned you about this in Daytona you said nothing could be done until we got home and activated the credit cards. On this phone conversation 3-10-17 you said you were sorry if we misunderstood and that the payment to Diamond and payments to credit cards equal what we were paying a month in maintenance fees. Out of the 130,000 points we use up to 50,000 points and put in the rest for redemption for .10 a point (ex: 80,000 points for $8,000) that we can use for what ever we want. INTERNET COMPLAINT RECEIVED BY THE ATTORNEY GENERAL'S OFFICE ON 07/12/2019

Sheila Brust

Email: sbrust@nycap.rr.com

Name/Firm/Company: Diamond Resorts
Subject/Category: Brust - Diamond Complaint

Questions/Comments:

Sheilah Brust age 69 Thomas Brust age 72 New York Platinum Member Number 9-256675 July 11, 2019 To: Michael Flaskey, CEO Diamond Hospitality Ashley Moody, Florida Attorney General Lee Anne Rounds Ahmed Kasoo Barclay's Bank Jason Gamel, ARDA President Apollo Global Management Center for Excellence on Elder Abuse, University of California Irvine Representative Katie Porter, Financial Services Committee <http://www.centeronelderabuse.org/veterans.asp> Greg Crist, AVO Since our experience, other Diamond members have been deceived by Brad Leslie and his manager Jason Abdula at The Cove in Ormond Beach and Daytona Beach Regency. At a Wyndham presentation near Daytona Beach Regency, my sales agent told me Brad Leslie no longer works at Wyndham because of "issues" serious enough he no longer works there. Attached are documents supporting why my husband and I, and a number of Platinum members, Diamond's most loyal members, feel targeted and deliberately sold into insolvency so our points can be taken back and resold. I will be asking the University of California, Irvine, Center for Elder Abuse to review the documentation attached. A Wall Street journalist reviewed our documentation last year. He agreed we are a victim of deceit. Wyndham has expressed concern over their loan loss provision being over 20%. I'm sure Diamond's foreclosure rate is even higher. Everyone I have had review our report but Diamond and the Florida DBPR agrees the deceit is obvious as illustrated by Brad Leslie's written pencil pitch. One need look no further than $$8631 - $8631 = 0$. Florida timeshare sales agents know they can say anything to sell points. I listened to the Florida legislative workshop as it was broadcasted March 12 of this year. The Florida Attorney General's spokesperson even stated on record Florida DBPR will do nothing to stop sales agents who lie because they only acted on 42 out of 1600 complaints, and of the 42 acted upon, most were resales. Families are being devastated while timeshare sales agents earn a million dollars plus annually and like Brad Leslie's manager Jason, drive a Maserati. As 50% of Florida's timeshare complaints are seniors, it a business called timeshare elder abuse. <https://www.floridatrend.com/article/25726/timeshare-tussle> ARDA has a Code of Ethics (<http://www.arda.org/ethics/>) was violated at our sales presentation at The Cove on Ormond Beach, Florida February 4, 2017. Two of the Platinum members who were deceived by Brad Leslie retained attorneys yet Diamond ignores the action of this sales agent. Proof is highlighted below in red. The majority of the 93 Platinum members who have gathered together to provide proof, show a clear pattern of deception. The majority of the 93 Platinum members had been happy with the company. It was because Diamond earned our trust, we were easier deceived. We had been Diamond owners since 1994. I spoke to Brandy Alexander from corporate in NV back in 2018. Her response to me was that the company understands Brad Leslie's explanation was confusing, but not illegal. We were told that Diamond changed the way the program was presented. Recent complaints prove that Diamond has not changed the way the program is presented. Furthermore, Brad Leslie avoided the rescission period and my complaints to him by saying in 2017, "Wait a few months because the new website is being built." Recent complaints he has said the same. This is proof this agent is deceptive. I have attached our response to Brandi (#1-Letter of Rebuttal Brandi Alexander-(4-22-18)). We never received a response from Brandi but did receive a denial from VP Ruth Thomas. Others have contacted me with a very similar complaint and illustration, except for the specific travel related member benefit and amount of points, from Brad Leslie more than a year after my complaint was dismissed by Diamond. Brad Leslie, in cooperation with his VP Jason Abdela, continues unchecked.

What happened to us also happened to the Army veterans protesting outside the Daytona Beach Regency. We know beyond any doubt Diamond sales agent Brad Leslie presented a Diamond program with double points to pay maintenance fees at $.10 per point, a program that does not exist. Diamond prides itself on its CLARITY promise of RESPECT for the customer and clear, concise, accountable and transparent information, so to have the company respond, "We agree this is confusing, but not illegal" is something that needs to be exposed. I have contacted a US Attorney who is interested in Elder Abuse. The program Brad described was not a program for use of the luxury program or travel services. Attached is an email (#6 - Mail to Brad 2-10-17 about Rescind), sent during the rescission period in which we told Brad we do not see the program working as he explained and we were going to rescind the contract. Like others, we were already aware of the legitimate 30/30 Luxury Program benefits. We were all aware of benefits we already had. We have never used the 30/30 program, as we never considered the use of the Luxury Program, a good value. We have used the Travel Program a few times when we were going to lose points. As a longstanding Platinum member, we know how to use our points and these programs. In Brad's answer to some of the complaints we have sent to different agencies, he said he had to teach us everything (#2 - Response from Diamond and Brad to DBPR). Looking at our use of points proves otherwise. Many times, during the rescission period, we asked him if we had 130,000 points and only used 30,000 points, we would then get a check or debit card for $10,000.00 and he said YES. We could use the money for whatever we wanted. Attached is what Brad proposed (#3 - Brad 150,000 - Illustration page 1), 75,000 represents the points we would own if we purchased an additional 25,000 points. Diamond would double to 150,000 points. We actually use 50,000 points a year as indicated. The remaining 100,000 left for point redemption x $.10 per point = $10,000.00 check reimbursement. In the illustration, page 2, (#4 -Brad 130,000 - Illustration Page 2) showing the one we purchased, 15,000 points to make us have 65,000 points, and Diamond would match the 65,000 points to give us double points of 130,000 points. Brad said out of the 130,000 points we had, if we used 50,000 to travel and that would leave 80,000 to receive $8,000.00 by check or debit card. We asked why Diamond would do this and Brad said they want you to "Stay Vacationed". Brad told us this was a brand-new program. He said he just returned from training in Orlando and this was a new program for Platinum level owners. We have been through three buyouts and each time there is always some changes, so with Apollo purchasing we wanted to know what was going to change with our membership. Brad's demonstration, based on his interpretation (#2 - Diamond and Brad response to DBPR), was to represent the Travel Services Benefit, which reimburses you $0.10 per point, up to 100% of the amount you spent on flights and travel services. It also showed "Double Usage", which Brad is saying this was using "Point Saver", which gives discounts of 50%, or using upgrades to book a larger unit for the cost of a smaller unit. Let's assume that you can reserve a week for 5000 points that normally would cost 10,000 points. Now reviewing Brad's demonstration, using an additional purchase of 25,000 points, the total points owned is 75,000 points. The maintenance fee for 50,000 points is $8,631. Magically, the "Total Usage Example" starts off with 150,000 points. You use 50,000 points during the year, which leaves you a balance of 100,000 points. Using the $0.10 per point from the Travel Service Benefit, you could get a redemption of $10,000, if you had purchased a flight or travel service for $10,000. The theory was to cancel the flight or travel service and keep the $10,000. Not sure if this is legal. Since doubling the points that you own is a benefit that doesn't exist, the only explanation for the starting point of 150,000 points, is that you actually use 75,000 points to get 150,000 points of value using the Point Saver. But I don't believe that Diamond would pay you $0.10 per point on the amount you save using Point Saver. Therefore, this demonstration does not seem to follow any of the benefits explained in the "The Club Member Directory". The demonstration should have started with 75,000 points, use 50,000 points, for a balance of 25,000 points. At $0.10 per point, this results in a redemption of $2,500, assuming you had spent $2,500 on flight or travel services and were able to cancel the reservations. Only $7,500 short of what was demonstrated by Brad, and $6,131 short of paying maintenance fees for 50,000 points. We NEVER would have bought points based on Travel Services Program or Luxury Program. We did not even find out until May 2017 (#5 - Text on first try to use Travel Services 5-9-17) that we had to use the Travel Services Program, make a reservation and then cancel it to get the money back and as shown above and does not work. Brad had told us we would have a split screen with our 50,000 points and Diamonds 65,000 points when the member's page was updated. (Diamond was in the process of building the new website) The 15,000 points we purchased would be in the background and he would take care of them. If we did not use the points, we would not pay maintenance fees on them. Before signing the contract, our QA person Kathy Fugate said, "She hoped before we cancel this contract that we have Brad explain it to us again." She said this because the year before we were going to purchase 4,000 points from Judit at the Daytona Beach Regency, who also lied to us and tried to sell us more points because she said we needed to in order to protect our children when we die. Before they finished printing the contract, we luckily, contacted someone who informed us this was false. We did not go through with this purchase. If QA was recording our signing, you should be able to hear Kathy Fugate saying this to us. Do you think that her statement conforms to Diamonds Clarity Program statement, "You will meet with a Quality Assurance representative before signing any purchase documents. The Quality Assurance team is independent of the sales organization, and their compensation is not tied to the sale of a vacation membership?" They are not and I have heard their compensation is, in at least one state, diminished if the contract falls through! We will be protesting again, and this year others have said that they will be joining us outside Florida DBPR this fall. Brad Leslie's illustration was not transparent nor did he clearly or concisely explain what he was selling. Not only did Brad mislead us but also Quality Assurance (QA) by making it seem he was the one to go to for straight answers. This clearly violates Diamond's Clarity Program promising respect for the customer and clear, concise, and transparent information. After signing the contract, we read it again, and, some of it didn't make sense to us and none of what he told us was written in the contract. I, Sheilah, was up most of the night trying to understand this new program. As, Kathy Fugate, the QA person who we have known for years and trusted, instructed us, "if we had questions on this contract, and before we canceled, to please contact Brad to have him go over it." We emailed Brad on 2-10-17 and told him we did not see this new program in the contract. This concerned us. We asked him to explain it again before the rescission period was over. Email attached (#6 - Mail to Brad 2-10-17 about Rescind). He did see us again and went over the program again. He told us Diamond does not advertise the double points program to get $0.10/point check/debit card reimbursement to pay maintenance fees because Diamond does not want members turning it into a "business" so Diamond could not put it into the contract. We were leery but trusted Brad was telling the truth. We did not cancel, we believed him. As Platinum members, we have never before experienced deceit of this magnitude. Families are being financially ruined. We have had to forgo our retirement and get part time jobs to pay for the Diamond Loan, the Maintenance Fees and the $26,000 that Brad Leslie had put on two new Barclay credit cards. We have asked for copies of the applications that we filled out but all we received were applications that are all blacked out. They are attached (#7- Credit Card Applications from Diamond). To Whom it May Concern,

This in response to a telephone call we received from Diamond Resorts' Brandi Alexandra. We do not have anything in writing of Diamonds response to our rebuttal the first time because MS Alexandra was to email our conversation to us but has not done so, or was her call about our second complaint? She seemed a little confused and said you are talking about club compo and I said no we are talking about the 15,000 points. We spoke on April 5, 2018 and I have left two messages on her phone number 702-473-7645 ext. 20187 to send what she said she would. Another Diamond Resort employee who does not tell the truth.

We still believe what was done to us in Daytona Beach by Brad Leslie was considered Fraud and Financial Elder Abuse. I am again attaching proof of his deceit.

In our conversation with Ms. Alexandra even she said because of all the complaints they changed how the sold points. Her words were; MS. Alexandra: I definitely agree that your confusion of that process is warranted. I have spoken to our legal team and sales team and we agree the double point explanation is definitely something that could have been misconstrued or seen as confusing by members or purchasers.

We have made changes to the way that information is given at the time of sale but we have to say the stance we take on this is: because there may have been some confusion on how you may use those points and create a savings for yourself doesn't make the explanation illegal.

Misconstrued Definition: get a wrong or false impression

Synonyms: distort, exaggerate, misapprehend, misconceive, misinterpret, misjudge, misread, mistake, mistranslate, misunderstand, pervert, take the wrong way.

*This is a response to Ms. Alexandra had she been professional enough to send the email we requested.

MS. Alexandra—

I am not going away. I am sending your response and all the documents showing your company's fraud to the associations and law enforcement agencies.

Your response to seeing the pencil offering from Brad Leslie is the best piece of doublespeak BS that I have ever heard. Your sales agent, Brad Leslie, persuaded us to purchase the 15,000 points based on the writing that you have in your hands. We relied on his offer that the 15,000 added to the 50,000 would be doubled in this new program so that would give us 130,000 points to use. We also relied on his statement that we would not be responsible for the maintenance fees on these points if we did not use them. "The points would be in the background of your account”. The evidence I have for this lie is the copy of the repayment check for $2621 which we received from DRI after being billed for the maintenance fee!

Your response to me on April 5 after seeing the documentation:

I definitely agree that your confusion of that process is warranted. I have spoken to our legal team and sales team and we agree the double point explanation is definitely something that could have been misconstrued or seen as confusing by members or purchasers.

We have made changes to the way that information is given at the time of sale but I have to say the stance we take on this is: because there may have been some confusion on how you may use those points and creates a savings for yourself doesn't make the explanation illegal.

If Diamond agrees then why aren't they refunding members that were sold this line?

As the points you made in your response:

- YOUR CONFUSION OF THAT PROCESS IS WARRANTED. I was not confused. The pencil offering clearly shows we would be receiving 130,000 points, 80,000 of which we would use to pay maintenance fees and 50,000 which we would use for vacation. LOOK AGAIN, it's not confusing. It was so clear that we purchased based on this offer.
- DOUBLE POINT EXPLANATION IS DEFINITELY SOMETHING THAT COULD HAVE BEEN MISCONSTRUED. See above.
- WE HAVE MADE CHANGES TO THE WAY THE INFORMATION IS GIVEN AT THE TIME OF SALE. Do you mean that you will make sure the salespeople take and shred the pencil offerings that induce the sale 5 hours before the 10 minute period when customers get to sign the written contract?
- DOESN'T MAKE THE EXPLANATION ILLEGAL. We are not claiming the “explanation” is illegal. The explanation induced the sale—the sale didn't even come close to what was delivered. That is what is illegal.
- THE EXPLANATION—It wasn't an explanation. It was a clear plan for how to use the total of 130,000 points that we would own after purchasing 15,000 additional points.

You and Diamond Resorts have made this entire experience a nightmare. I will not be silent. I am resending all of these documents and your latest response to all of the relevant agencies and law enforcement. I will also be producing a new YouTube video with your hilarious response!!!!!!!!!!!!!!

Respondent: Diamond Resorts U.S. Collection Development, LLC.
Complainant: Sheilah Brust
Project: Diamond Resorts U.S. Collection
Case #: 2018018568

Dear Ms. Russell:

The Florida Vacation Plan and Timesharing Act (Chapter 721, Florida Statutes) and related rules of the Florida Administrative Code are enforced by the Division of Florida Condominiums, Timeshares, and Mobile Homes.

We have received the attached complaint from Mrs. Sheilah Brust, timeshare owner, for investigation. Following is a summary of the issues listed in the complaint:

The Complainant is claiming misrepresentations by the sales agents during a sales presentation and upgrade purchase among other issues to include:

1. The sales agents informed the Complainant about a new program and if the Complainant were to purchase more points; the Respondent will match the amount of total points the Complainant owns.

There was no new program discussed as this member was already Platinum Loyalty. What we did discuss in tremendous detail was Loyalty Benefits that the discussed specifically using Room Upgrades and booking through the Point Saver Search tool, to allow the member to get additional usage out of their points. We knew what we had. During the update we went over Price Protection and how the more points they purchase, the lower their price point becomes. We never discussed Price Protection and the more points you buy the cheaper they are. member hadn't been using and we

We originally showed and presented adding 25,000 additional points to their account to give them an annual total of 75,000. The members indicated that they do a lot of travel outside of the Diamond system so we went over the Advantages of shifting some of their additional outside monies that were being spent renting hotel room and getting plane tix and paying for cruises into more Diamond points because they were pretty well using up the current 50,000 that they had so the idea with adding 25,000 more was to give them more flexibility to cover other travel needs that may arise. We do travel outside of Diamond but with other Timeshares, RCI or Interval and if you look at our point usage and points we save to the following year show we do not pretty well using up all our 50,000 points. They were insistent on getting the "best possible deal" relating to price per point.

Because of their request and their outside travel needs we recommended 25,000 because since they were already Platinum, which means they already got "Platinum Pricing", purchasing this amount would again give them "Platinum Pricing" because 25,000 plus the 25,000 bonus Points equals 50,000. This put their price per point around $2.88 at that time. We are always insistent on getting the best price and most have been bought in the $2.50 to $3.50 dollar range. This put their price per point around $2.88 at that time. They also had 2 outside Timeshares they were very interested in bringing into The Club Combination Program. Both their Grand Seas and Wyndham timeshares were worth 18,100 Diamond Points. The overall price tag on the 25,000 points made them nervous (We said NO) so after consulting with my site leadership we dropped the package to 15,000 points which worked out to be $3.73 per point and we could still bring in their 2 outside timeshare into Club Combinations and they would still great a fantastic bonus trip, DDH as an Alaskan Cruise was on their bucket list.

- ✚ Diamond Sales ask every time where would you like to go. Alaska has been on my husband's list. Jason later brought out the Dream Vacation Pack. For 15,000 points Alaska Cruse was one of the trip. We were also told that in CA we they had not used what we paid for our sampler so they were going to use it to take off the price.

They also mentioned that the maintenance fees coming once a year around the holidays was the very difficult for them, so I suggested multiple times they want to consider setting it up on a monthly basis which they loved the idea. I told them all they needed to do when they were ready was call and pre pay 75% of the future years fees and then Diamond would set them up monthly. They told me they couldn't do that right then but would try to do it soon.

- ✚ He did mention that we could set up maintenance fees on a monthly budget but I told him I save that money every month in a savings account. This was before we bought anything. I always had the money to pay maintenance fees but I probably did say the 1st of the year is a bad time to have them due because of the Holidays. It would not have mattered if his bogus plan of double points was true. We weren't suppose to have maintenance fees and I told him up front how much I put away each month to pay the fees so his plan better be right because there is no extra money. Why would I give Diamond every month a payment for my Maintenance fees when at least I get a little interest on my savings account.

We did go into this meeting because of new ownership in the company (Apollo) to see what changes were being made. When we met Brad who was new to us he said he had just came back from a meeting in Orlando and there was a new program starting. This is the double point program and he proceeded to take a piece of Diamond stationary out and write upside down. He took the amount of what we paid in maintenance fees on 50,000 points for 2017 that was $8631/12= 719$ /monthly. He asked if you can use that money to purchase more points and not have to pay maintenance fees on them wouldn't that be better than what you have now! You can see in his drawing how he wrote 8631 over 10 years would cost us 86,310. We could pay fees or 25,000 points. On the right side it show 150,000 points use 50,000 points 100,000 left for redemption at .10 is $10,000 – Check / Debit Visa Card. Brad said we could use for Hotel/Cruise/Air/Shopping. He said he could not tell us to use to pay maintenance fees because it would be like saying it was an investment but it is our money to do what we want. We told Brad NO that 25,000 points was too much for us and that is when he pulled out another sheet of Diamond stationary and proceeded with 15,000 points that is when I took the 1st sheet and turned it over to do some math. On the second sheet we would have 65,000 points and total 130,000 point use 50,000 points to travel and have 80,000 left for redemption at .10 a point for check reimbursement of $8,000.

Brad said we mentioned we did a lot of travel outside of diamond. We do travel outside of Diamond but rarely go to hotels. We own other timeshares and use them or RCI or Interval. We don't need to do luxury travel booking and he did not have to show us that I knew about it. One time I used points that I thought were expiring to purchase Southwest points because we usually fly Southwest. We did ask about adding Grand Seas and Wyndham into club combo. We had our other timeshare in there but we have never used Club Combo. Actually I did not realize we paid each year to have them in there even if we didn't use it.

2. The sales agents also informed the Complainant that part of the program states if the Complainant has unused points at the end of the year those points may be turned in for $.10 a point and that money may be used in any manner the Complainant wishes.

During their owner update we discussed a lot of ancillary Benefits they already had with their membership but that they hadn't understood before therefore they had not been using them. The specific ones that we discussed and that were shown to them in writing off of our company collateral and closing documents include-

*As a Platinum Member they have the ability to redeem up to 50,000 and pay $100 and they get .04 per point directly toward their maintenance fees. This was explained during the presentation, initialed by both members in their pre pack documents and then explained and initialed by both of them again during their closing with the QA. This was explained that it was an option but certainly not the best use of their points.

✚ We knew you could use points for Maintenance Fees but we never do that.

*As a Platinum member they can use points their entire use year through the Diamond Luxury Program. This allows the member to use points on 30% of the cost of a hotel/cruise/etc at a rate of .30 per point. This was explained as a great way to help them with a lot of the outside travel they shared with me that they were doing and wanted to continue to do. In the US Collection they pay approximately .17 per point in maintenance so if they used they Luxury Program and got a value of .30 per point, it represents more in value for what they are paying in maintenance fees, plus it helps save them from coming out of pocket as much for their outside travel cost.

✚ He may have explained it but we don't need that option, and if we did, we knew we had it. I have looked to purchase things from there but still price was too expensive.

*As a Platinum member they can redeem points through the Travel Services Program. We did multiple examples of different locations where they can book a hotel room and use points to reimburse up to 100% of the cost at a rate of .10 per point. It was explained the booking window to use this feature is January 1-September 30th. As Platinum members the transaction fee to use points for member benefits is waived and they reimbursements are paid via check.

✚ Yes we did know we could use travel services to book hotels with our points and we have done that before and we have also a few years ago used point to pay for rental cars but they don't have that option anymore. What was explained to us in May 2017 when things started to change we needed to use Travel services to book hotels and say we want to use points to pay. You need to pay for them with a credit card and then once you get the check you call travel services to cancel, then you can use the money for whatever.

It was explained that most members will likely use the check to pay off whatever credit card they made the travel charge on but that it was up to the member what they used the check for, as the check doesn't automatically go toward anything. It is sent directly to the member and what the member chooses to do with it is up to them.

✚ Yes that is what I did before this when I booked hotel or cars.

3. The sales agents further stated if the Complainant purchased more points with them and did not use the points the sales agents would be able to keep the newly purchased points in the background of their account and they would not be charged maintenance fees for the new points.

They are confusing the 15,000 points purchased and the 15,000 bonus points they received. They thought if they did their dream vacation to Alaska they would be charged additional maintenance fees. We went over in great detail that the only charge of using the DDH would be a $99.00 processing fee. One of the things I feel may have confused her is at the top right of the DDH collateral, she saw "Total Retail Value $4,556". She kept making the comment that she is afraid that if she does the trip she'll have to pay maintenance fees and that retail value price and I tried to explain that Diamond was simply trying to disclose the Retail Value of that particular trip to show our members what a fantastic deal they are receiving by NOT having to pay that, only $99.00. I assured her many times that regardless how she using those points there would not be a maintenance fee billed on them. In addition, the new maintenance fee for the new points they purchased would be billed every year just like every other time they purchased Points previous. That amount was shown and signed, initialed for multiple times.

3. Unfortunately the 15,000 points that we purchased was at the top of a page I don't have but, I am not confused with the 15,000 Dream Vacation Points. Brad kept referring to the 15,000 points we purchase that they would be in the background of our account and we will get a bill for the $2620.51 and once we pay that let him know and he will send a check. I will be inclosing the 2017 bill and a copy of check that was sent to us to pay for it. I kept asking about the 15,000 points in the so called background and having a hard time believing if we didn't use them we didn't pay fees on them. The 1st year 2017 they sent me a check for them. If they weren't in the background then why weren't they added to my 2017 allotment, In 2017 I had 50,000 points not 65,000 points on my point usage sheet.

✚ We have had a few Dream Vacations given to us and you don't see the sheet of what they are until you are done. I know you have to pay $99 to book whatever one you choose or you don't have to choose to go anywhere they give you. You can just use the points and we have done that a couple of time, but, we did choose to use Dream Vacations on Sedona, Maui and Alaska so I think I am confused on how to use them. Like I said the 15,000 points in the background were to pay for the maintenance on them. If he says the Dream Vacation points were in the background and not my new 15,000 points then I was never credited for them on my account in 2017 they just randomly sent us a check for them. All his jibber jabber actually Brandi Alexandra said that each sales department could pay the first years maintenance if they wish to but not take away the points.

One of the things I feel may have confused her is at the top right of the DOH collateral, she saw "Total Retail Value $4,556". She kept making the comment that she is afraid that if she does the trip she'll have to pay maintenance fees and that retail value price and I tried to explain that Diamond was simply trying to disclose the Retail, Value of that particular trip to show our members what a fantastic deal they are receiving by NOT having to pay that, only $99.00. I assured her many times that regardless how she using those points there would not be a maintenance fee billed on them.

✚ We never once discussed any of this Dream Vacation Stuff at the sales pitch or on the phone. Like I said I have had a few of these trips.

In addition, the new maintenance fee for the new points they purchased would be billed every year just like every other time they purchased Points previous. That amount was shown and signed, initialed for multiple times)

✦ Yes we did initial that but we were going on his word of once we pay them then he will refund us like 2017.

4. The example of the programs the sales agents explained was that the Complainant currently owned 50,000 points and if the Complainant purchased 15,000 points their total would be 65,000 points and Diamond would give them 65,000 points for a total of 130,000 points. The Complainant would be able to use 50,000 points for vacations for a year and do not use the remaining 80,000 points and at the end of the year the Complainant could turn them in for $.10 a point for a total of $8,000. The $8,000 would be enough to pay the Complainants current maintenance fees for the 50,000 points as the sales agents were to keep the 15,000 points purchase in the background of the account and the Complainant would not be charged any additional maintenance fees for the newly purchased points.

The program they are referencing is number one, using their Platinum loyalty Benefits. They mentioned that they really didn't understand everything that was available to them, so we spent a good hour simply going through those benefits one by one and having her write notes on the items she felt they would use. She told me they normally prefer two bedrooms and if I could show her how to do an upgrade. Then I logged into the Diamond site and we did a couple mock reservations to show them how they could search to see if a two bedroom was available and also if a one bedroom was available at the same time and if it was they could book the smaller unit, use less points, then pay $7 per night and now they have a two bedroom for the amount of points they would spend on a one bedroom.

These comments to #4 would have been when we were there in May 2017 not on Feb. 4,2017. He took us to an office to talk, not out where everyone sits at a different table.

Actually we don't remember him opening any computer in February while we were there. On the phone one time he asked me to get onto my account so he could go over booking hotels and use points. (I already had used that feature, but never where I book, wait for check and then cancel)

This is a response from Julia Russell at Diamond to NV BBB: Ms.Brust is very familiar with the timeshare sales process.

Attached I will be sending our reservation usage back to 1995 and our point usage back to 2013 and you can see the number of times I booked Dream Vacations and also upgrades with my benefits. As a matter of fact I have been doing that way back to when it was 1 fee no matter how many weeks you stayed. I did not need him to explain any of that to me. We had a very good sales person for quite a few years until they both left Diamond. I am sure they taught us how to use the system well.

So it wasn't presented as a "new" program at all because they were already Platinum. They saw it as something new because they never used it before or knew how it worked. They also mentioned that they sometimes did trips spur of the moment and I showed them how to use "Point Saver" which gives discounts of 50% off so an example is if something was typically going to cost you 6,000 points, the same thing through Point Saver would only cost you 3,000 so you would have gotten additional usage out of your points without paying additional monies.

✦ No we never used the point saver before because it didn't work for our travels. You book one week at a time and we usually go for 10 days or longer, plus most of the times I upgrade to 2 bedrooms and looking at where we travel to most were efficacies so we were better off doing upgrades.

She asked me how many times a year a member could use Point Saver and I replied they have unlimited usage of it and based on when and where they go and what's available it represents an incredible value to our members. The other point is we kept discussing the multiple benefits of setting their maintenance fees up on a monthly basis.

- ✦ He did talk about monthly maintenance fees but I save money each month in a savings account. Why would I give my money to Diamond each month when I can earn a little interest on it and pay my maintenance fees on a credit card so I get points and pay the bill when it comes due.

In addition to not having a big bill due around the holidays another feature of pre paying and being set up on a monthly is that those future years points would be available for them to use should they need them and it will allow them to book further in advance on certain vacations because they had already pre paid maintenance fees.

- ✦ If you look at my point page you can see I usually bank points from year to year not need to go into the next year.

By the way, it does show TWO YEARS WORTH OF POINTS ON THE MEMBERS DASHBOARD. EXAMPLE 2018: 65,000; 2019: 65,000. 65,000 plus 65,000 equals 130,000 should they decide to set up their maintenance fees on a monthly basis and ever need to use more points or book further out.

- ✦ Look at the drawing it does not say anything about 2 years is 130,000. Two years has always showed up on our member's dashboard. Not the same thing as a split screen as he explained on Feb. 4, 2017. We were defiantly sold double points as the pencil pitch shows and even while meeting with him in May 2017 he still kept saying it was not ready.

They understood they could turn in unused points toward paying part of their maintenance fees but it was stressed to them that it doesn't represent a good or decent deal because they only receive .04 per point and have to pay $100 to do it. We discussed the best use and value for the points is staying in our resorts, using the Luxury Programs and Travel Advantages.

- ✦ This was not discussed on Feb. 4, 2017.

- ✦ Only because he said once we get home and activate them to call him and he would have it put on our Diamond Mortgage!
All I am seeing is 2 blacked out pages so I will be contacting Barclay's Presidents Office for what was sent to them. We did sign after he told us he would have them added to our Diamond Mortgage once we returned home. Where is the table sheet? And what is the table sheet?

- ✦ Again when we met with Kathy the QA person she said well you all have been through this before and yes we have many times. This time she said to us I hope if you decide to back out of this contract like the last time you will give Brad a chance to go over the program. I called him many times because I didn't understand the program.

6. After the year was up the Complainant contacted the sales agents to find out how to go about redeeming the unused points for $.10/point to pay the maintenance fees and the sales agent stated they must have misunderstood him. The Complainant did not get cash for unused points and did not receive doubled points and had to pay the maintenance fees on the 15,000 upgrade points purchase.

Diamond had a few issues with this account earlier this year. Their annual allotment is 65,000 points. When Jan 2018 came along on their dashboard it showed 2018- 50,000 and under it it showed 2019- 65,000. Sheilah was under the impression at first that Diamond was holding those points back and she wouldn't have to pay maintenance fees unless she wanted to use them (again, confused them with the 15,000 bonus points). (NOT) I explained that was an error and she owns 65,000 with Diamond and must pay for what she owns. She then asked me well I've paid my full maintenance and where are the 15,000 points. I told her I would check on it. On January 22 I called the owner helpline on her behalf. The representative told me Diamond made an error and hadn't allotted those points into their account for some reason. They assured me it would be handled ASAP and they would email Club Contact Support to have their 15,000 added to their allotment. Another issue was they wanted to redeem their 65,000 points for Member Benefits and the rep they were dealing with told them they could only redeem up to 60,000 points EVEN though their allotment is 65,000. Sheilah again calls me and informs me so I said I would check it out. On Feb 13th I called the owner helpline on the members behalf to inquire why they were being told they could only redeem 60,000 when their allotment is 65,000. I was told that there have been a few glitches that Diamond has been dealing with and I was advised to advise the member to book their transaction as a cash only transaction, then Sheilah would need to call in and connect with the Club on doing a manual deduction. I went over this with Sheilah and she was very frustrated. She also informed me that she had already done multiple redemptions through Travel Advantages and none of the points had been deducted out of their account and their credit card bills for the hotels they booked were coming due. I told her I would check into it. Upon my checking I was informed by the owner helpline that they had been seriously behind in processing the member requests so everything is taking longer than usual. I spoke again with Sheilah to explain this and she understood but was still very nervous because the credit card bills were due without a reimbursement to pay for them. I mentioned if she was that uncomfortable I would suggest cxling the existing reservations she had made, let her credit card get refunded the amount charged, and once Diamond had caught up and was back on a timely schedule rebooking her hotel she wanted. She seemed to appreciate the suggestion at that time.

✚ It is funny this year that Diamond had issues with this account and not before. I did call and canceled the reservations hoping that the system to refund my credit card was also not seriously behind! I already had an $11,263.55 credit card bill for maintenance fees 2018 that were to be paid by new program and I did not want another bill from a credit card to come due with NO refunds from Diamond and have to accrue interest fees.

The Complainant has provided written notes of the examples listed in the complaint. The hand written notes on Diamond letterhead were written by the sales agent as he explained the new programs to the Complainant.

The sales representative had a few additional notes he wanted to share with you regarding this member –

* Three major reasons why they added more points to their account were

1. Extra points to help with outside travel costs they had above and beyond their Diamond Membership
2. A low price per point and we gave them 15,000 DDH trip so they could truly do their dream vacation
3. We Club Comboed Two outside timeshares giving them a total of 18,100 points they can use through the Diamond System.

✚ These 3 reasons are something we wrote on a form that you always have to fill out. We have enough points in Diamond and our other timeshare for more than enough travel. Actually we usually bank a lot of Diamond points every year. Enclosed is our point usage from their website if you can understand it. Price per point is just to put something down because they say something needs to be on the sheet. We have purchased at a lower price per point before. Actually they said when we purchased the last 4000 points we were coned into in CA they were to use what we paid for our sampler and Brad said they never did so he was going to use that. Looking now it was never taken off the price. Club Combo we did that.

- ✦ This sheet is given to everyone every time you go to meeting and at the end of many hours you just put down anything to get out.

3/29/17, I assisted them in helping them arrange their DDH. And in The a clarity program it is notated that they called in and booked the Vegas/Alaskan trip for 8/8/17, they also purchased the dining package and upgraded to a mini suite!

- ✦ What did he have to arrange? I had asked him if he had trips for 10,000 points and he sent me what he got a few days later and there were no trips for 10,000 points. He says there is notated in Clarity program we called and booked the Vegas/Alaskan trip for 8/8/17. Well we did not book that trip we booked Scottsdale/Alaskan trip. So much for whatever their Clarity program is. Where are these notes?

12/20/17 they asked me to call on their behalf to see if they could have an extension on paying their maintenance fees. She mentioned that their work/incomes have recently changed and they've fallen on hard times. So I called the owner helpline on their behalf which is notated in the clarity system 12/20/17 asking about any sort of grace period. I was instructed to have them call Financial Services directly, which I did and Sheilah informed me late that she did call and they worked something out and she was relieved

- ✦ I have email that I asked him if he knew if there was a grace period for paying maintenance not to call on our behalf. I called and found out that we do have a grace period. There was nothing to work out with financial services, in our contract we have about 2 extra weeks to pay in full. The reason for that was because I wanted to wait until Jan. 4, 2018 the beginning of new credit card statement so that would give me time to get this mess with Diamond and Brad straightened out. As it was when we use our points for travel services you can only use some of your points for the year so on his pencil pitch where it show $10,000 or $8,000 reimbursement was a lie to begin with.

1/22/18 I called the helpline on their behalf as I mentioned above inquiring about the 15,000 points that were missing from 2018's allotment. This call was also notated in clarity.

- ✦ Can I see where this Clarity note is?

2/13/18 I called the helpline on their behalf as to why they were being told they could only redeem 60,000 points instead of the 65,000 that is their allotment. This call was also notated in Clarity.

- ✦ Again can I see this note?

During one of her conversations with me in February of this year, she mentioned how upset she was with not seeing the 15,000 points and the delay in receiving reimbursement, etc. she tells me that she is disgusted with the way Diamond seems to be operating recently and she is very much aware and active on various advisory boards and advocacy boards and she doesn't want to have to file a complaint but she been talking with other unhappy members and she just might have to go that route. I apologized for any frustration she had experienced and we issued her 18,000 Stay Free on me Points as a small token on how much we appreciate our members and we want them to have the best experiences possible.

- ✦ 3,000 of those points were from a mistake on our points and he had to give us a stay on me voucher for them. The 15,000 extra was because I had told him his program was great and because we had to use all our points to help pay the maintenance fees that were to have come from his bogus program we would not have any points to travel and he said Jason was going to make sure we had points to travel so that is why the 15,000 stay on me points.

✚ This whole transaction has been a lie from the start and even Diamonds Brandi Alexandria said; I definitely agree that your confusion of that process is warranted. I have spoken to our legal team and sales team and we agree the double point explanation is definitely something that could have been misconstrued or seen as confusing by members or purchasers. We have made changes to the way that information is given at the time of sale but we have to say the stance we take on this is: because there may have been some confusion on how you may use those points and creates a savings for yourself doesn't make the explanation illegal.

My husband and I are hard working people and were proud of what we had purchased over the years with diamond. I never said we have fallen on hard times as he stated on his 12/20/17 statement. I did tell him at the Feb. 4, 2017 meeting and probably then also that we trusted him and we did not have the maintenance of $11,263.00 because we were to have the 130,000 points to get reimbursement from.

I would like to see all his notes if he has them and If he recorded phone calls I would like to know. At this point it is a he said /she said and the drawing he did and what Brandi Alexandria said because of the way it was explained they have made changes. If they recognize they needed changes then they should make it right for the people who were sold on their previous explanation and refund all of us.

Please provide a response and supporting documents to my attention by May 8, 2018. Thank you for your assistance and cooperation regarding this matter.

Sincerely,

Lee Ann Rounds

This was in May 2017 right after Brad said we had to use travel services and I tried it and was told by Travel Services that I needed to book a refundable room if I thought I might have to cancel the reservation.

I'm sorry Brad but I am still not getting the figures on the contract. I put everything on paper as to how I am looking at it and it doesn't work out the same as yours. Guess I am real old school but I need to go over this again with you before our time is up to cancel. Not sure when you are working and have some time to sit with us before that time period is up. Please let me know.

Hi Brad,

Per Tom's and my conversation with you on 3-10-17 we just want to make sure we understand as follows:

1. We will have to pay the maintenance fee for the 15,000 points for a total of $2621.00, but you are having a check mailed to us for @2621.00 to offset the fee. This will happen every year as long as we do not use the 15,000 points.
2. The $12,000.00 on Tom's Diamond credit card and the $14,000.00 on Sheilah's Diamond card we will have to make the payment to the credit card company (Barclay). We understood that once we got home on March 7, 2017 and activated our credit cards this amount would be added to our Diamond mortgage. When we questioned you about this in Daytona you said nothing could be done until we got home and activated the credit cards. On this phone conversation 3-10-17 you said you were sorry if we misunderstood and that the payment to Diamond and payments to credit cards equal what we were paying a month in maintenance fees. (Our issue with that is the interest on the $26,000, on the credit cards is not tax deductible and the interest rate after 6 months is 15.49%. Had we known that we would not have put that much on the cards and let Diamond finance more).
3. Debit cards are not ready yet so we will get checks and that will take longer.
4. New program is not ready where we have 65,000 points and Diamond gives us 65,000 points for a total of 130,000 points a year. (during our sales updates we weren't told this had not started). This will probably not be ready by the time we come down to Daytona on May 1, 2017.
5. We can't turn in our points for redemption until we do all our bookings for the year. Out of the 130,000 points we use up to 50,000 points and put in the rest for redemption for .10 a point (ex: 80,000 points for $8,000) that we can use for what ever we want.

Please respond to this by email so we have a clear understanding.

Thank you,
Tom and Sheilah Brust

Subject: Fwd: Extra Points usage

Received phone call from Brad 2-18-17 at 9:09 am. Per conversation to below email:

I told him I was still having issues with how we were not going to have to pay maintenance fees on the 15,000 and 65,000 points if we turned them in for cash...told him it is because we have been told so many things that aren't true. He said he was sorry we still feel that way. He told me we will get a bill for the maintenance fee for the 15,000 points but behind the scenes our account is set to take some of the platinum benefits we have like upgrades to offset the fees. Either a check or debit card will be loaded with the amount of the fee and we can then pay the fee. If we do not hear from him by the time we get the bill we are to contact him. He said he usually gets a notice a week before we get the bill...

I told him I want to believe him but we will see what happens and I hope it happens to be good for us. He said he is here for us and to never be afraid to contact him and hopefully restore our trust in Diamond...

Subject: Extra Points usage

Hi Brad,

I have another question.

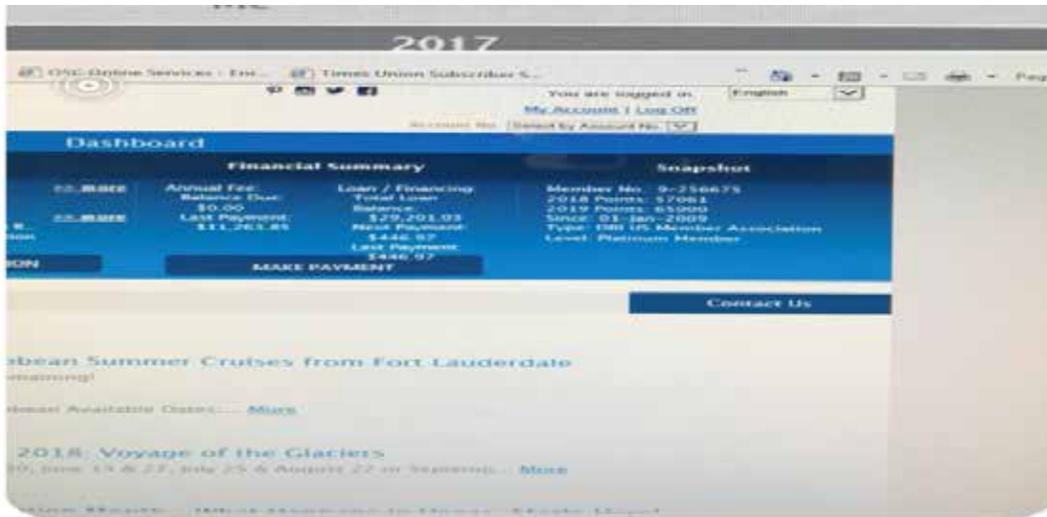

When we turn in our extra points (the extra 65,000 Diamond gives us each year and the 15,000 we bought) that equal 80,000 points, for a check or debit card for the amount of $8,000.00, isn't that the same as using the extra points? Wouldn't we have to pay maintenance on those points then?

We have been burnt to many times for me not to ask these questions.

This is a lot of money for us to take on at this stage of our lives and I am still not sure about it.

Sheilah

Good afternoon Brad, our fees have been paid for the 65,000 points and the 15,000 that did not go on our account for 2018 you still have so that you can send us a check for the maintenance fees for them. Will need to find out from you how we will get the balance paid back to us and how they are adding the additional 65,000 points they are giving us so we would have the 130,000 points you said. Thanks, Sheilah

Wed, Feb 7, 7:32 PM

Ok here is the scoop. Can only use this years allotment of 65,000 points to book anything on travel services. 😞 they did 2 of the hotels I booked for 54,259 points and they are supposed to be sending 2 checks. 3rd reservation I had to cancel through travel services. Long way from maintenance fee of $11,263.85. Is there anyway you know of to get out of this program for the 15,000 points since it is not what we signed up for last year? I know there is an advisory board out there but don't want to do that unless have to. Please don't call me tonight because I am not a happy person right now.

Wed, Feb 7, 8:37 PM

On Feb 7, 2018 I tried to uses all the points I had through Travel Services but they told me I was not allowed to use more than 60,000 points so even if I had 100,00o points to use for reimbursement like Brad said I could I would not have been able to do that!

Hi Brad,

I just went into my account and the last travel services we made to get us to the 60,000 points has not been deducted. We have not received any checks and credit card bill for the $11,263.85 is due on February 28th.
What now?

Website: <http://www.myfloridalegal.com> I received the letter by registered mail. The issue has not been solved, after 25 +/- participation in Parkway International Kisseme Florida, the original group had multiple locations to use as an owner and were flexible on dates. This was the same with Islanone who was responsible before Diamond Resorts. Now to use my time, I have to send more money to them to use my time or lose it. Annual taxes and fees are around $900.00 +/- and I have lost usage more than once that benefits them, they rent it out to another customer that pays them. Double income. Now to break my contract with Diamond, they insist on a $1000.00 up front payment and the property goes back to them at $0.00 to me. Another loss, and it's not getting better. I would like to know what realtor, company, or whom ever in Florida could sell my annual week I have there for what they want to charge me, that won't rip me off as it has happened before in Orlando when I tried to sell it before. Please help me end this nightmare. Regards, Tim O'Brien

Questions/Comments:

During a sales presentation at Cypress Pointe Resort for a vacation package with Diamond Resorts, Mr. Witherspoon promised me and my wife, Janice Yeager Hall, a "Hawaiian Trifecta" 11 night accommodation in Hawaii, including airline tickets as a bonus gift for purchasing 20,000 points in a "Sampler" vacation package. The Hawaiian "gift" trip was freely publicized at the resort and at the sales presentation for anyone purchasing a vacation package. When I contacted the Diamond Resorts to inquire what procedure I needed to follow to schedule the Hawaiian "gift" trip, I was told there was no such trip in their records. Repeated efforts to contact Mr. Witherspoon have been in vain and he has not returned any of my calls, despite one call when He actually answered the phone and told me he was busy and would return my call. Efforts to contact the concierge who referred me to the sales presentation have also been futile. Evidently the "Hawaiian Trifecta gift" was fraudulently promised, even though it was the primary reason for purchasing the package--the "gift" being equal in value to the entire package.

Questions/Comments:

The purchase of a timeshare with Diamond Resorts is full of deception. It is a smooth, rehearsed, and well concealed fraud. It takes skill, intelligence and numerous people acting in concert to allow the sales agents to repeatedly deploy unfair and deceptive tactics. In our situation, it is a crime perpetrated against senior citizens. We relied upon strict ethical compliance required by DiamondRESPECT - Diamond Clarity Promise believing in transparency in all transactions. Having been involved in several real estate transactions, we had no reason to expect Diamond Resort (DR) interactions to be different. It took time before we realized DR's goal is to upsell unsuspecting existing customers into insolvency. We have been manipulated and taken advantage of by Diamond's unethical sales practices. Both my husband and I are over 64 and are currently burdened by a cancer diagnosis. At an "Owners Upgrade" meeting attended while on vacation in Hawaii May of 2018, the Diamond sales agent Jack and VP of Sales Brett, stated that our purchase in Orlando Florida December 2017 was both misleading and unethical. We asked that the purchase in Florida be rescinded but were told that that action was not an option. Jack explained that you can't "undo" a contract. Really? Why not replace an acknowledged "bad" contract? It didn't make sense. We asked Diamond for a refund for the purchases of what their own sales team described as wrong, but our complaint was met with a perfunctory letter which states that in essence Diamond's unethical sales practices could not be substantiated and upon review of our contracts they find no grounds for any further action based on the documents we signed and acknowledged. Essentially, Diamond is denying that any false statements were made and have foreclosed on our ownership leaving us with a significant financial hardship. Foreclosure only eliminated maintenance fees. We are still paying off the contracts which were entered into fraudulently. Total sum paid is $87,600. $29,350 was incurred in Florida at the Grand Beach resort in Orlando. Diamond has exonerated their actions which was perpetrated against Senior Citizens, patently misrepresented their product, and have not taken any responsibility for their unethical, fraudulent sales tactics. It is our hope that the exploitation we experienced can be given a voice and a financial remedy.

I received your reply stating that you had forwarded my complaint to Diamond Resorts. Can you please tell me what happens next? Are companies required to respond to your forwarded complaint? Are they free to just ignore it? This is not an individual case of fraud. There is no reason to think I am the only person they have defrauded. Surely they must be defrauding everyone who is so enticed to sign up for their program. I am requesting a formal inquiry into their sales practices, perhaps even with an exhortation for them to fulfill the promises they make during a sale. There is no question they are violating the Florida Deceptive and Unfair Trade Practices Act. Thank you for any further help you can give me in this matter.

I have been a time share holder that started in 1993. Since that time the management of the resort has been changed multiple times, and now I am subjected to additional fees to use the resort, different than what was originally agreed upon in 1993. Definitely the maintenance fees have increased, but from what I am being told, I will have to incur additional fees to now join the Diamond resort program, something I didn't agree upon when originally purchased. My question is how can a paying member be forced into joining programs that were not part of the original agreement/
The next question is how do I get out of the money sucking scheme of the time share in Florida, from what I was told, the process will cost me thousands of dollars and the property that I have ownership of will be fully forfeited. Please help me understand what can be done. Regards, Tim O'Brien

Questions/Comments:

My name is Cedric Pinnock and I would like to file a complaint against Diamond Resorts. I was rushed and given bogus information about this timeshare. I was lied to and kept hostage until I signed under duress. I would like some guidance and assistance in getting out of this situation at the earliest possible time. When I did purchase I thought I would be able to take my family and friends on a vacation. As of this date I am unable to do so. I was swindled and I think this is a scam that need to stop.

Questions/Comments:

I paid Attorney Saracco $3900 to relinquish me from a negligent timeshare with Diamond Resorts mortgage and repair my credit history, as was promised. As of today, 06/30/20, I have not received official finalized documentation that I have been released from this mortgage, nor has my credit been fixed. Following another email contact 01/05/16, I was told that the finalized terms were being processed and that the timeshare company agreed to my release and that all necessary paperwork would be sent out to my home (I have printed these emails for my own records). I have not received these documents and can no longer contact the company as they seem to have filed for bankruptcy.

Questions/Comments:

Diamond Resorts, My name is John O'Brien. I am extremely dissatisfied with the nature of my timeshare. I've been cheated, lied to, and stolen from. The amount of things that were promised to us were too good to be true. We see that now. We have had numerous issues over the years with our timeshare, maintenance fees and Diamond's customer service. The point of this message is to put Diamond on notice. You cannot run a business that scams people and lies to people, you can't mess with their finances. With that, with the ever increasing maintenance fees, and list of broken promises, we are requesting that you let us out of this horrible contract. This will severely impact our family in a profoundly negative way. I don't want my kids to have to take on the responsibility of this debt. It isn't even our fault, it surely isn't their fault. Because we were swindled into buying this timeshare, and misled on multiple occasions, I don't see how we can be held accountable, or forced to stay in this contract when you never hold up your end of the bargain. I can't tell you the amount of times that the various vacations we wanted to plan were overbooked or flat out unavailable. How many issues we've had when we were finally able to vacation. Broken appliances, broken sinks, a dishwasher that was smoking, dirty bathrooms, and a whole host of other things. With all of this in mind, please accelerate this up the chain of management to whoever can assist me and my family with getting rid of this nightmare timeshare. I would greatly appreciate a response to this message. I know it may be easy for Diamond to overlook it as I am only one person, but I need a response to this. Kindly, Austin Reed

Questions/Comments:

Can you please help me cancel this timeshare contract? High pressure sales tactics were used against me and I am just now finding the mental strength to stand up to this company. I told that maintenance fees could easily be covered through the resale market and was not made aware of policies such as potential maintenance fee increases of up to 25% yearly and the right of cancellation within 10 days. They said it would only be a 90 minute presentation which ended up lasting over 7 hours. Among many other things I was belittled by the sales person when he made it appear that passing up this opportunity would ruin the relationship I am in which has caused significant episodes of depression over the past year. Please help me get out of this. If there are an other details you need from me let me know.

Questions/Comments:

Diamond sold us more points under false pretenses. We used credit cards and $108,000 in loans from Diamond. This purchase was supposedly going to eliminate our yearly maintenance fee of over $16,000 per year by minimum use of the Diamond credit card. Therefore we could pay off the loan on a yearly basis instead of putting our money towards yearly maintenance. They lied to us about the credit card taking care of the yearly maintenance. We can not pay over $35,000 yearly for the maintenance and loan. We stopped payment on the loan and Diamond canceled all of our other 107,000 points worth over $200,000 which we bought and paid for. They can now resell those points to others. There is nothing in the contracts that allow them to do this, and we are out of over $200,000.

Questions/Comments:

Member # 56-1288920500 We are writing to you today with concerns about our timeshare with you and recent upgrade in June of 2018. At a presentation in Orlando, FL, our Diamond representative, Carlos Pereira, told us the timeshare upgrade would be a more convenient way to take a vacation and more cost-effective. We were promised a stress-free way to vacation without having to worry about the details. We were originally told we could vacation yearly, but found out after purchase that we could only vacation every other year. The expensive upgrade has not helped our situation. We feel as though we were misled into the second purchase because the upgrade is not a cost-effective way to travel. The fees are very high and keep rising without a cap. Now, we cannot take time off work to actually vacation because we have to pay for the increasing fees associated with the timeshare. Consequently, that leaves us in the position of paying for something we cannot use. Moving forward, we should be allowed a cancellation of contract for the way we were misled into a high-priced purchase, while being told we would have a low cost. We have never used the timeshare and we want to return ownership to your company with our obligation removed.

Questions/Comments:

In August of 2018 my family and I attended a sales presentation in Florida. The agents gave us numbers that were way too high. We explained that there was no way we could afford it, we were living paycheck to paycheck with 3 teenage daughters. The floor manager offered us a full membership. We said we were unsure we could afford it. They offered us a free cruise and a Dream Holiday for 2 people to go to Hawaii for free, including airfare. That trip was huge decision maker for us if we could bring our kids. They said we would just have to pay a few hundred dollars per kid. We were sold based on the Dream Vacation to Hawaii. Our purchase date was August 2, 2018. The purchase price for 7500 points/10 year product was $16,200 and the amount financed at 14.294% was $13,401. The down payment was $3,366. The monthly payment is $207.99. We didn't have the money for the $3,366 down payment so they had us apply for a Barclaycard to charge $1,959 down and finance the balance of the down payment at $214 a month for 6 months before starting loan payments. Sales: Andrew Sandler #58097

A few months later we called to book the trip to Hawaii. It was a nightmare. We could not have 5 people in the room. We would have to get 2 rooms. It would cost anywhere from $4,000 to $6,000. I felt let down and taken advantage of. The Dream Vacation was one of the main reasons we said yes to the timeshare. In December of 2018 we accepted a free weekend getaway for the Red Lion in St. Louis to supposedly learn how to use our points. We met with a consultant and asked questions about how to work the plan. Instead of teaching us, the sole purpose of the meeting was to sell us more points. We were pushed to upgrade our plan and to upgrade the Barclay credit card. It was strange. We did not upgrade. In July of 1999 we booked a trip to Mystic Dunes in Florida. One of the customer service girls said that if we met with the sales team we would get a free trip. I was angry. I wanted to cancel the membership. The Florida salesperson was Allen Dawson and the manager Kenneth Janowitz. Allen informed us that we had purchased a starter plan that needed to be upgraded to full membership. He was confused because he couldn't find us in the system. He said if we didn't upgrade we would have wasted our money. We felt like we didn't have much choice. We had paid so far about $6,000 for what Allen said was useless. The upgrade did not include extra points and was double the price for the same amount of points that we currently had. On June 13, 2019 we purchased 7500 annual points for $28,080.71. The down payment of $1,200 was charged to 2 different credit cards. The amount financed at 15.58% was $24,401.71. Payments were now double the previous amount $408.40. Maintenance fees $1856. We were planning a trip for 2020. The consultant said he would take care of us if we ever needed anything. I reached out to him to get help to figure out how to book a trip to Cancun. He told me to call the hotline number because he was busy. After upgrading the plan, the points we purchased added to the points we had not used totaled 22,500 points. If we don't use the points by the end of 2020 we will lose all but 7500 points. We have a wedding in Cancun scheduled for October of 2020. When I searched through Diamond resorts there were no rooms available. When I searched online through Priceline, there were rooms available, when I worked through the resort they had rooms available. I am sick to my stomach. I can't sleep and mentally struggle trying to figure out why we are going through this. We are honest, hard working people.

We don't deserve this. What we had before was not worthless. We could have used that program. Our loan balance as of May 2020 is $23,516. We have paid in over $12,000 in 2 years and have not been able to use our membership. These company "consultants" have been far from honest. I deleted the SurePay in December 2019 and started paying by credit card. My husband's income permanently decreased by $400 a month in December. May of 2020 the amount of $408.00 came out of my checking account unauthorized. I am fighting the charge, my bank credited our account and challenged the charge. Our rate has been raised to 17.58% and the payment amount is raising to $437.09. The craziness needs to end. It started with the free Hawaii vacation that would cost $4,000 to $6,000 and then advised what we had paid $6,000 for was worthless.
